

Club Is Formed Here Monday Night Backing Small

Enthusiastic Meeting Held at Courthouse Declares For Panhandle Man

Believing that the candidate for the highest office in the state whose slogan is "Let's adjourn politics and develop Texas," offers the state the best material in the present contest, a "Small for Governor Club" with fifty charter members composed of both women and men was organized at an enthusiastic meeting held at the courthouse in this city Monday night.

J. C. Estlack, editor of the Donley County Leader acted as temporary chairman while leading citizens discussed the needs of the state and the assistance that might be rendered by the local club.

The following permanent officers were elected by unanimous consent of the meeting: President, Odos Caraway; Vice President, W. P. Cagle; Secretary-Treasurer, Holman Kennedy.

Talks were made by W. P. Cagle, H. Mulkey, A. L. Chase, Holman Kennedy and others touching upon the record of the candidate who was once a schoolboy attending the local college some years ago.

Although a favorite of both student body and faculty, little did our older citizens realize that within a few years the opportunity would come when they might espouse the candidacy of Clint Small for the highest office within the gift of the people of our great state, but such is the case all over the Panhandle.

Not only west Texas but other sections of Texas are boosting the man who is intensely Texan and who has made a record in many positions of public life. Old politicians declare that Senator Small is making the race on the most sensible platform evolved in the history of the state.

His declaration of "Let's adjourn politics and develop Texas" has been heralded over the entire United States as being one of the most apt phrases of any candidate for any office. Senator Small's popularity is growing daily if the papers over the state are any criterion by which one may judge, and his backers believe that Texas has an excellent opportunity of electing a man who will reflect great credit upon the judgment of her people.

Best Wishes Received From Nine Grand-Parents

Seldom is a young lady so fortunate as to have nine grand-parents catering to her wants, but such is the case with arrival of Miss Lafon Beville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Harwood Beville of Dalhart born May 21st.

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Beville of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lafon of Clarendon. The great-grandparents are Mr. A. M. Beville of Clarendon and Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Ross of Amarillo. The great-great-grandparents are Col. and Mrs. R. S. Kimberlin of Santa Anna, California.

All of these grand-parents are numbered among the leading citizens of their sections, and have been pioneers aiding in the development of the west, some of them for a period of over a half century.

Blinding Sun Causes Car Collision

A car being driven by Mrs. H. Eddington was damaged as to running board and fenders and one driven by Dewey Heath was jammed in front and received fender damage Friday evening on west second near the Episcopal church. Blinding sun was said to have caused the collision when Mrs. Eddington could not see the approaching car of Heath.

Mrs. W. H. Patrick, Mrs. Kate A. Carroll and Misses Lois Alexander, and Elgin Patrick were Amalillo shoppers Saturday.

Public Schools Close With Program Friday Night

Majority of Graduates Will Continue Their Studies in Local College

Clarendon's public schools came to a close with the program rendered Friday night at the Methodist church. This is said to be the most successful term in the history of the local schools and the largest graduating class.

Miss Eunice Johnson and Joe Noble were each presented with many scholarships for having made highest grades averages. While these scholarships represent many schools of highest merit, each of them will continue their studies next year in Clarendon Junior College.

Practically all of the graduating class wishing to continue school work, will also matriculate in the local college because of the fact that the same credits may be made here as in any other like institution of the state.

The program rendered is as follows:

Processional—Grand March, Tannhauser—Wagner—Miss Fray Stallings.

Organ Solo—Marche aux Flambeaux—Clark—Miss Fray Stallings.

Invocation—Rev. B. N. Shepherd. Piano Solo—Marche Carnavalesque—Friml—Lois Strawn.

County Council Met Saturday With Good Attendance

Rally Day And Marketing Problems Come in For More Attention

Rally Day, the one big annual event in H. D. club work was definitely determined for July 18th in a meeting of the County Council of H. D. clubs here Saturday.

The place of meeting was not definitely decided upon. It was held at the Cottingham camp ground at Lelia Lake last year.

The home marketing idea was given official recognition at this meeting for the first time. The idea is being sponsored by the local banks, Chamber of Commerce and H. D. County Agents.

The home marketing project will include a standard pack of fruits and vegetables which are to be sold to local merchants and individuals, orders having already received by the Chamber of Commerce secretary, G. L. Boykin, and by Mrs. J. E. Ware of the Gold-ston community.

If properly carried out, it is believed that a market for Donley county products may be found at home. The plan has been tried out successfully in a number of other sections and the local proposition will be watched with interest.

Mrs. J. M. Acord was elected as delegate to the A & M Short Course in July with Mrs. H. M. Reid of Chamberlain as alternate.

T. R. Brown, County Agent, met with the club members Saturday afternoon and outlined the plans for a county-wide celebration here on July 4th. The various clubs of the county are to take a prominent part in the day's entertainment according to plans as now formulated, and early action is necessary to carry them to a successful conclusion.

Plans for a girls' encampment to be held about the 20th of July came in for a share of attention at the meeting. Place of meeting to be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. John Humphrey spent the weekend in Canyon visiting with the lady's sister, Mrs. Geo. McKee and family.

Chamberlain School Closing Exercises Friday Night

Chamberlain closed her best school term in its history Friday night according to statements of a number of patrons who were among the large throng that gathered for the graduating exercises. The program as published in the Leader of last week was carried out with instrumental music added at the beginning of the exercises to add pep to the audience.

Tenth grade pupils graduating this term included Loma Ayres, Marie May, Gertrude Dingler and Woodrow Millsap. Seventh grade pupils to receive certificates were Melba Johnston, Granville McAnear, Louise Hughes, Elsie May and Doyle Brazillie.

Cleo Foster was honor pupil for the girls and Maon Johnston for the boys, each having made the highest general average in all grades. The Leader editor delivered the class address.

Ed Wheeler is Planting Truck Crop

Ed Wheeler of the Brice Flat country and Mrs. Wheeler were in town Saturday and Ed came around to the Leader office to kill time and make a most welcome visit. Ed first came into prominence last year when he raised an immense lot of okra and cantaloupe seed which he marketed here and at Memphis.

He is planting a melon patch this season from which he proposes to sell some of the choicest varieties, the vines already in a good way having been uninjured by the recent sandstorms. As an all-round diversificationist, Ed Wheeler is hard to beat.

Joe Humphrey, Jr. Receives Painful Injury

While cutting wood at the fishing lake near Lelia shortly after midnight Saturday night, Joe Humphrey in some manner allowed the ax blade to slip painfully cutting his left leg below the knee.

He has been under the care of a physician since, and though no bones were severed, the wound is quite painful forcing him to sit or lie down.

Claude Miller Dies After Short Illness

Claude Miller, formerly of Clarendon and brother of Clarence E. Miller of the firm of Bryan-Miller, died at Hereford, Texas this (Tuesday) morning at four o'clock.

Mr. Miller was taken seriously ill Saturday and C. E. Miller of this city immediately went to be with him. He continued in a serious condition until death relieved his misery as above stated. Physicians were unable to determine the nature of his illness it is said.

Mr. Miller leaves a wife whom he married at Blair, Oklahoma at which place he will be buried today. While in Clarendon, he was in the employ of Gasoline Alley filling station and the Kemper lumber yard.

Bert Smith Trial Fails to Materialize

Although he had his attorney from Wichita Falls present as well as a number of witnesses from a wide section of the Panhandle, the trial of Bert Smith called at Stinnett Wednesday was continued to the October term upon motion of the District Attorney it is said.

Friends of Smith and general public sentiment in Donley county is regarding the matter now more as persecution rather than prosecution feeling that if the State has enough evidence upon which to base an indictment, the accused should be given a prompt trial that he might have a right and opportunity to remove from his name a cloud that has seriously handicapped his reputation for the past several weeks.

Rowe Cemetery Working Called Off on Friday

All those interested are requested to be at the Rowe cemetery at 8 a. m. Friday of this week and bring tools and shovels and such other tools as they may have that the cemetery may receive a general working.

Attractions In Variety Planned For Big Celebration

Baseball, Races, Singing And Basket Dinner For Big Day July 4th

A committee composed of U. J. Boston, T. D. Nored and Allen J. Bryan will arrange for a county-wide baseball game between a nine selected from over the county north of the Denver track and a like team from south of the track. A prize will be given the winners and free picture show ticket to each player.

The local Chamber of Commerce will furnish the players with balls, bats and other necessary equipment. No admission will be charged. All free to any one who feels like they are a ball fan and want to see a real game.

The program begins at 10 a. m. Those who care to sing can hold a county singing convention all day if they wish. There will be a basket dinner at noon for which all are invited to bring a basket. The Chamber of Commerce will furnish free ice water, ice tea and coffee. All citizens of the county are expected to spread their dinner and mix in neighborly fashion.

Free horse races with premiums will be in charge of Frank Whitlock, Wesley Knorpp and Clyde Douglas. Some fine race stock is said to exist near here and the races and prizes will no doubt prove a big attraction. No admission charge either.

The grounds committee is composed of Eddie Teer and C. C. Powell who will see that a band stand is erected near the old grammar school building which is to be general headquarters. These men will also see that there is plenty of seating room insuring the comfort of the visitors.

A band concert is scheduled for 3:45 in the afternoon at which time those of our state and county candidates may have an opportunity to expound their platforms. No admittance charge to this either so far as we can ascertain.

In the meantime, tickets entitling the holder to see the picture show free that day, will be passed out to the women's and girls' clubs by Miss Nora Smith and to the boys' clubs by T. R. Brown. Only club members will receive the free tickets in addition to the ball players.

G. G. Kemp, master of ceremonies and big squeeze for this celebration, is working out plans with his numerous committees each day to that there will be no hitch and that every one will say on July 4th that it was the best time ever experienced in old Donley county. Other attractions will be announced later.

Money Is Raised To Resume Drilling On Marine Test

Will Begin Drilling In Virgin Territory At Depth Below 4000

At a meeting held here Monday night, funds were raised with which to resume drilling on the Marine Company test on the river which was stopped at a depth of 4,000 feet a few weeks ago.

No test in Donley county has ever extended to a greater depth than this and the resumption of drilling in what is known as "virgin territory" will be watched with interest by oil scouts as well as those locally interested in a financial way.

The funds already in hand insures a depth of 4,300 feet, and if the formation is favorable at that depth, and oil or gas has not been encountered, plans are already made to continue to a depth of 5,000 feet.

Drilling is to be resumed Thursday with the same crew in charge directed by Mr. Downey, who has been on the job since the beginning.

Miss Nadine Haile, who has been attending school at El Paso, returned home Saturday.

Giles Community Celebrates School Closing

Responding to a special invitation, a number of county candidates and others attended a school play at Giles Friday night. Among those to make the trip were C. M. Peabody, Guy Pierce, J. H. Hurn, A. N. Wood and Frank Kendall of Hedley. For some reason, there was a miscue in arrangements and the candidates did not get an opportunity to present their claims.

Those attending report an excellent play by the senior girls in which Miss Opal Sanders starred by assuming the roles of both a handsome young lady and a dapper young man, playing both parts in a most excellent manner.

Standing room was at a premium, many of the visitors being forced to lean against the wall or sit on the floor for want of seating room.

Lelia Lake Growers Are Har- vesting Alfalfa

While alfalfa has been grown in Donley county for a quarter of a century, it has never been grown to any great extent except in the more favored localities and mostly on subirrigated ground.

More alfalfa is grown in the Lelia Lake section than any other part of the county because of the adaptability of the soil. The largest acreages are to be found on the farms of W. L. Butler, E. H. Kennedy, M. G. Cottingham, W. A. Bullard and Guy Taylor.

The hay grown is of excellent quality and finds a ready market. None has been offered for sale this season but it is expected to bring around twenty-five dollars a ton.

Men Captured Here Given Sentence at Amarillo

Ernest Lee and Sam Thomas of Los Angeles, California, each received a sentence in Federal court at Amarillo Monday on a charge of having transported a stolen car from California to Texas.

These men were picked up by members of the local sheriff's force last fall when they acted in a suspicious manner. A search of their car revealed information that led to their identification and the charge against them as tried at Amarillo. The sentence is said to have been two years in Leavenworth for each of them.

Glenwood Community Sings Every Sunday Night

When it comes to a community get-together, few of the smaller communities can boast of the hospitality of the Glenwood folks on the river north of Hedley. A. N. Wood, who learned to sing in Jack county years ago, and seems to get an unusual amount of enjoyment out of it, took his folks over Sunday night to help out.

W. H. Morrow and family and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Connor and Mrs. T. J. Connor were other Clarendon folks to attend the singing. A. B. Long led the singing and Mrs. Hall accompanied on the piano. L. E. Strain also takes a hand in seeing that all the folks have a good time, feel at home and want to come back again.

Holland Home Completed Now Occupied

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holland, Sr. and the sons Joe and Lee moved into their new home the last of the week. Practically all of the work on the residence is completed but the garage will be constructed within the next few days.

This is one of the nicest homes in Clarendon being of brick veneer, hardwood floors, every modern plumbing convenience, basement nicely fitted up making two rooms and storage space giving the family nine rooms and bath. The windows are so arranged that plenty of light and ventilation is assured.

Wilford Hott Has Excellent School Record

One of the best school records of the county was made this past term by Wilford Hott, aged 12, of the Chamberlain school. He was neither absent nor tardy during the entire term and was exempt in all subjects.

Rural Program Over Several Weeks Begins Today

Six Community Program To Be Sponsored by Local Chamber of Commerce

In order to more thoroughly acquaint the general public with the aims and objects of the big Fourth of July celebration that is to be staged in Clarendon, citizens of the town will visit a number of communities beginning with Ashtola Tuesday evening.

The motorcade will be accompanied by the High School band insuring plenty of music. Quartette singing, black face comedy and dancing will also be a part of the programs. Other numbers will be added as occasion demands.

The schedule as worked out together with dates is as follows: Ashtola, June 27th; Lelia Lake, June 5th; Hedley, June 12th; Brice, June 19th; Jericho, June 26th; Naylor, July 2nd. It is possible that other points will be visited upon special invitation.

It is expected that club members of the communities will have an ample supply of drinks, hot dogs and such other commodities as might appease the appetites of the visitor on sale on each of these occasions.

Clarendon has been divided into two districts for this stunt. All those on the west side of the main street will be captained by Allen J. Bryan. Those on the east side of the main street will be under the supervision of Homer Mulkey. The object of a friendly contest is to get out numerical strength. The side having the smallest number present, will have to pay for the 'eats' and drinks of the team having the largest number in attendance.

Decoration Day Program At Christian Church Friday

Tribute Will Be Paid All Graves of Veterans of All Wars

Plans for the observance of Memorial day in Clarendon by the local post of the American Legion are being outlined by committees recently appointed Commander E. R. Andis announced this week. The meeting is being held in cooperation with every other post of the Legion in Texas in the greatest demonstration ever undertaken by the Legion in Texas as a tribute to the memory of the departed veterans of all wars who lie at rest in the cemeteries of this city.

The observance of Memorial day this year will consist of a meeting of the Legion post to which all veterans of the World War are invited regardless of affiliation with the Legion as well as all veterans of the Spanish-American War and Confederate veterans which will be the veterans exclusive observance of the day. In addition there will be a public service at which the public will be invited to attend and participate in when the graves of all veterans will be decorated.

The program for the meeting of the Legion veterans will be as follows:

The program at 10 a. m. for the public service which will be held at the Christian church is as follows:

"America," congregation.

Invocation, Rev. W. E. Ferrell, Pastor of the First Christian Church.

"America, the Beautiful," congregation.

Address, Rev. Robt. S. McKee, Pastor First Presbyterian church.

Roll call of the Dead.

Benediction, Rev. B. N. Shepherd, Pastor First Baptist church.

Immediately following the close of the services, the Legion Post and the Legion Auxiliary will make their way to the Cemeteries where all graves of veterans of all wars will be fittingly decorated.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Rundell of Pampa visited over Sunday in the M. W. Mosley home.

Rotarians Elect Officials For Term At Last Meeting

Greetings From 3 Foreign Nations Were Read At Luncheon Friday

The Rotary club was royally entertained by excellent service rendered by the management of the Clarendon hotel at their noonday luncheon Friday. In fact the service was of such quality that the Club voted to continue meeting at the popular hotel indefinitely.

Dick Allen, proprietor of the hostelry, announced that the sun room would be especially fitted up for entertaining on just such occasions.

While the membership was busy with the gastronomic feature of the program, President E. L. Jenkins read messages of congratulation from Jugo-Slavia and Denmark, and three messages from as many different clubs in England.

The Secretary was instructed to send greetings to the new Business and Professional Women's Club recently organized here.

Since the present officials have served only a portion of the present term, practically no change was made in the personell of the official family. Dr. B. L. Jenkins will again serve the Club as president. A. T. Cole was re-elected vice president and R. E. Drennon second vice president.

As a reward for faithful and efficient service, C. C. Powell was permitted to continue as secretary by unanimous vote and C. W. Bennett received like honors in performing the duties of treasurer.

W. S. Bagby and Allen J. Bryan were elected to a seat on the directorate board to act in conjunction with the official family which is automatically a Board of Directors for the Club. J. C. Estlack was elected to represent the Club at the 25th or Silver Anniversary convention of Rotary International which meets in Chicago on June 23rd. Robert S. Cope was elected alternate for the same purpose.

Rotarian Allen J. Bryan called attention to the community trips that are to be made, citing the trip to Ashtola Tuesday night of this week as being the first.

Rotarian Ben Anderson of the Amarillo Club dropped in to make up his attendance and received a warm welcome. Judge J. J. Alexander was a guest of President Jenkins and expressed appreciation of the opportunity of meeting with the membership.

Miss Elon Aiken will attend C. I. A. at Denton this summer.

Baptists Associational En- largement Campaign

The Baptists of Donley and Hall Counties are engaged this week in an Association wide Sunday school enlargement campaign.

The book, "Building a Standard Sunday School" or a similar one, will be taught in each church in the Association. The classes are to meet each night this week through Friday. The program also includes the taking of a census, where that has not been done recently, and the taking of definite steps to endeavor to enlist in Sunday school all the prospects thus revealed. The Sunday school will be checked by the standard and work begun toward making each of them standard.

This is one of the most forward looking steps that has been made in the work of the Association in years.

The Campaign was begun with a picnic at Eli Monday. Clarendon was represented at this meeting by Rev. B. N. Shepherd, Mrs. Mary Colvin, Miss Francis Tatum. Mrs. Geo. Reed, Gertrude Reed, Mrs. J. T. Warren, Ruth Warren, Mrs. T. L. Kimbriel.

There will be three other general meetings; at Windy Valley, Tuesday, at Harrell's Chapel Wednesday, and at Hedley Thursday.

Mr. Chisholm, of Temple, Educational Director of Bell County, is directing the forces during this campaign. Mr. Chisholm has a south wide reputation as a leader in this kind of work.

NEED MISSIONARIES.

That Iceland is badly in need of missionaries may be found in the fact that only three murders have been committed there in sixty years.

PUNKIN' PALATES.

The area planted to pumpkins is to be enlarged in Idaho and other western states this season due to the fact that pumpkin ice cream found a big demand last season.

COTTON GRADER.

It is not too soon to begin agitating the idea that Clarendon will need a government grader this fall. Other towns have them and more are making such arrangements looking well to the fact that a government grader's grades will stand up from here to the spinning mills.

CHAIN STORE MENACE.

It is pretty well conceded by the more intelligent independent merchants that the only way to fight the chain store idea is by adopting their tactics of selling on a small margin on a quick turnover, and by keeping a clean stock nicely displayed.

Advertising has largely made the chain stores a success, and the chain store is the largest advertiser in most every town be there one or a dozen. The independent merchant was not an advertiser until the chain store came along and taught him the value of newspaper space.

COURTESY

An Irishman burst into the office of the president of a big city bank. He had a check in his hand. "Me name's Casey," he said, "O' work out here in th' yards. An' this here check—"

The president interrupted him. "You should take off your hat and wipe off your shoes. You should take the check to a teller and not bother me. And you'll have to be identified. How do we know your name is Casey? How do I know you didn't steal the check?"

The Irishman withdrew. A few minutes later there was a knock at the door of the president's office. Irishman came in again, hat in hand, with a professional looking man who said,

"This is Patrick Casey. He has been working out in the railroad yards. I am his attorney. His attorney. His brother just died and left him $100,000."

"You can't do nawthin for me," returned the Irishman, "O'm on me way to the Brotherhood bank."

SMALL TOWN BUYERS.

According to a speech made to the convention of the Advertising Federation in Washington the past week, Dr. C. J. Galpin, U. S. Agricultural Department expert stated that American farmers continue to buy the bulk of their necessities in the smaller towns.

This is a direct challenge to the often repeated statement that the small towns are rapidly passing from the stage of action, and that buyers are patronizing the stores in the larger cities.

Rural people will continue to patronize the local merchant if he will operate on a basis in keeping with modern merchandising ideas of keeping a clean store, being content with a reasonable profit and advertising his wares and his prices for their information.

BUILDING TOWNS.

Towns do not build of themselves alone. The size of the town is largely governed by the value of developed resources of the surrounding country. The towns of Donley county depend for the most part on farm production.

If the producers of farm products prosper, the towns will continue to build. The task of providing a better market for dairy and poultry products, and farm products in general, is the biggest thing facing the Chamber of Commerce of Clarendon and the Commercial Club of Hedley.

Is squarely up to these two civic bodies to perform the task if the country is to prosper. We may talk of better seeds and better breeds for a thousand years, but unless the producer can get a fair price for his products, we will never accomplish anything worth while.

COMMUNITY ADVISORS.

The idea of asking each community to select a man to represent them on an Advisory Board to represent their interests in the Chamber of Commerce work of Donley county appears to be a good plan.

It is a good plan at least for two reasons. First: It will give the producer a chance to let his needs be known. Second: It will give him an opportunity to help remedy conditions that are not to his liking.

This plan will, to some extent, bring the producer and consumer on a small scale, closer together to study out plans for the benefit of each. The idea of cooperative planning will also materially assist in the 'home market' program being put on by the banks here this season acting in conjunction with the County Agent and the County H. D. Agent.

This advisory board composed of rural men would have more problems than roads, schools and finding a better market for their products, but no matter what might show up, there is far more likelihood of finding a remedy through a system of closer cooperation, than an individual working by himself.

GOLD STAR MOTHERS.

Dame nature mingled her tears in raindrops with those of our Gold Star Mothers Wednesday when they visited the cemeteries of France where fourteen thousand bodies of the flower of American manhood consecrated the soil of a foreign nation.

After twelve long dreary years mothers are permitted to pay final tribute to their heroic dead who paid the supreme sacrifice. Accompanying them to the cemetery were thousands of widows and orphans of France who, though they speak a language unknown to the Gold Star Mothers, knelt in kindred sympathy because they too, had been compelled to make a similar sacrifice to commercial greed.

If the soldier in action paid the supreme sacrifice with his life, what is the price being paid by the mother who must live on through the years with but the hallowed memory of a face as her only comfort? How many mothers of any nation today would vote to send their sons to war? Mothers pay the price after all, and should be permitted to say how and when that price should be paid.

When we become civilized to the point that those who declare war are put in the front lines first, wars will cease. If property is conscripted the same as manhood, there will be fewer wars and still fewer wartime millionaires.

In speaking before her class of women recently, Mrs. Clara Witt, (a very appropriate name, too) instructor of psychology and eugenics at the Kansas City Athletic club, after a period of 15 years' study and observation, declares:

"I seldom blame the husband for any unhappiness in the home. Too many women expect too much and are willing to give too little. Women expect to find in marriage happiness known only to the old-time fiction heroine."

"The average woman will never make a success of her marriage until she realizes that she must be three-fourths the mother and one-fourth the wife or sweetheart and that she must do more giving than taking."

Had she stopped at that point all would be well, but she then proceeds to throw a monkey wrench into the mental machinery by saying, "what women resent most in men is their lack of 'finesse' in manners, their deficiencies in social graces."

When it comes to 'finesse' of manner, how would a farmer look in his field with a shoe polishing outfit stuck in his hip pocket? What would be his mental attitude toward the public if he put gobs of 'almageezum' on his hair to make her lay flat and that got tangled up with sand and gravel?

When it comes to social graces, the average man knows about as much about social graces as a hog does a side-saddle. How could a fellow maintain a graceful poise while being chased down a jack alley by a high-jacker?

What is to be done with a he-man who persists in calling 'dinner' supper, seats himself at the table, grabs the first implement handy and warehouses anything within reach that he can chew?

Clara may reform the women folks, but so far as the men are concerned, her method of suggestion is a howling failure.

SMALL AND EAST TEXAS.

Senator Small, candidate for the office of governor, seems to have made a hit in east Texas the past week judging from the comments found in our exchange papers from that section. He scored a hit when he said:

"Any thinking person knows that taxes we will have with us always. Our problem is not to find a way of making the other fellow

The Senator announced in his address that he had no panacea or cureall for the political or economic ills that may be affecting Texas.

"Sound business principles, the same as those applied to his establishment by any successful business man or banker, should replace the political machinery which has motivated the state capitol during the past few years," he said.

The candidate declared himself firmly against any state road bond issue; any modification of the prohibition laws; politics in state government and exploitation of state labor. He announced that he was shop.

in favor of intelligent as well as fearless law enforcement; aiding the farmer, among other means, by state encouragement of consumption of more Texas products; bringing to Texas more industries; creation of utilities commission; protection of professional men and woman by laws demanding high standards of efficiency and character, and the utilization of Texas flood waters and rivers for irrigation purposes.

Private Ownership of Utilities

Capital for the development of electric companies comes, after all, from the public.

These companies may be owned either by public investors or by local governments. The chief difference between the two is that ownership by the investors means working on a business basis, while municipal ownership too often results in political operation.

Private ownership keeps them out of politics, puts a premium on efficient operation and encourages service satisfactory to you.

The West Texas Utilities Company, with its three major generating stations, fifteen auxiliary plants and more than 2,500 miles of transmission lines, insures you dependable service, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Donley County Man Writes From State Prison

Richmond, Texas May 21st: To Whom It May Concern: Take warning from one who is having experience of being away from his home and loved ones on account of failing to obey the laws of man and of God.

Husbands and fathers, if you have wives and children looking to you for a living, and you have any love for them or respect for yourselves, take advice and do not go to a distillery or deal in whiskey in any way for it will surely get you into trouble. You can live without it and it is causing most of the trouble today it has broken up homes and separated loved ones and caused deaths.

If I had heeded the good advice of my old father now gone on, I would not be in prison now. I used to try to live right and drifted away into bad company and into sin and am now paying the penalty in prison. When I get out of here, I intend to live right the rest of my life and want the prayers of the christian people that I may spend the rest of my days in doing good. I want to lead a better life and be with my family. From a prisoner,

W. O. Philley, Richmond, Texas
(Editor's Note—Mr. Philley was sent up on a bootlegging charge at the last term of District Court here, and is now on Harlem State Farm No. 1 having received a sentence of one year. OUR WEEKLY CHURCH CHAT

"Worship"
Nothing in all of life's experiences can take the place of worship, which is indeed an inexhaustible source of life and power. It is the vision hour of the soul when one climbs to the heights of God and looks out upon a better and a nobler world. If worship is to have its deepest and fullest meaning for the worshiper, some preparation must be made for it.

The Church deserves our loyalty not only because it organizes religion and makes it effective, but because it energizes men and women and youth for finer and nobler living. The Church calls people together for common worship and in that worship they attain together what none could attain alone. The Church calls people to a common service for others—preaching, healing, teaching. Revolutionary changes may sweep the fields of political government in the future as in the past, revolutionary changes may sweep the fields of industry and commerce and the laboratories of science, but so long as man is man—with a sense of eternity planted in his soul, aware of the presence of divinity everywhere, and cherishing a hope that lights heaven's distant lamp—the preaching, teaching, and healing of religion must go on. The church stands for the best things. Line up. Religion creates joy, loyalty, piety, goodness, high thinking, motive for service, cooperation, peace and worship.

"The Christian's Unseen Allies" or "A Mountain Full of Horses," is the subject of our Sunday morning message. We want to study about some of the allies upon whom the Christian can count for support both in his personal fight in building Christian character and the building up of the Kingdom. Sunday evening we will consider the subject, "Where art Thou?" This was the first question ever ask man and today it is a personal question directed to you. Where art thou? This message is for four classes of people, the professed christian, the backslider, the hypocrite, and the ungodly or sinner. This message contains lessons that you will enjoy, arrange to be present.

 CHAMBERLAIN ***

7 past week of examinations exercises closed the 1929-1930 school term, an enjoyable entertainment was staged by the primary department Monday night, Friday night diplomas were delivered to the tenth and seventh grades, in part the program consisted of the valedictorian address by Woodrow Millsap, roll call by Maree May, president of the class, the Chamberlain poem composed and read by Loma Ayers. Class prophecy read by Gertrude Dingler. Song by the school quartett sang by Howard Hughes, Maree May. Good poems were read by Maon Johnston and Cleo Foster.

Mr. J. C. Estlack, editor of the Donley County Leader delivered the class address, and judging from what we saw and comments we heard after the address we would conclude that the kiddies may forget the color of the suit he wore on that occasion, or just how his hair was parted, or the flower in the lapel of his coat may slip their memory, but we feel sure the young life of Chamberlain community will never forget his words of council to strive to secure an education and to have confidence in their ability to secure the things they go after, showing them in his earnest and able way that the business world is in need of such men and women as he hoped they would make.

In his own way Jimmie Millsap briefly spoke of the merits of each member of the class as he delivered diplomas to the following of the seventh grade, Granville Meanara, ouise Hughes, Melba Johnston, Doyle Brazille, Elsie May. Those of the tenth grade were: Maree May, Lena Ayers, Gertrude Dingler, Woodrow Millsap. Certificates of reward for extra ordinary work were delivered to Maon Johnston and Cleo Foster of the 8th grade, Vernon Reed, Bud die Blackman and Woodrow Cash each received a premium for the best work done in the fifth grade.

The program was concluded when the school sang the eyes of Texas are upon you. If the eating is proof of the pudding in school work we think the term has been par excellent. We understand there was only one failure in promotion above the fourth grade and almost that good a record in the primary department.

The cooperation of parents was so splendid that five absent and a very small amount of tardiness have been reported. The very high estimation of pupils and teachers for each other is something out of the ordinary. Then the team work of the boys and girls on the play ground was in keeping with their splendid work in the local school room.

Take for example a visiting team is playing a closely contested game of base ball on the home diamond, its the ninth inning and the score is three to four in favor of the visitors, the home boys are at the bat for their chance to win the game, there are two men out and a man on first, Howard Hughes, the Babe Ruth of the bunch comes to the bat, the excitement is intense, but each Chamberlain—it feels that Howard will run true to form and knock a home run and win the game. The pitcher is wise to the situation and throws the 1st ball a little high, the batter swings with all his might and misses the ball by inches, the next one is hurled with lightning speed and a little low yet the batter makes a tremendous effort to lift it over the left field fence but as before the ball passes to the receiver untouched, the odds are now with the pitcher, who throws a slow ball straight over the plate, the batter misjudges it for a ball and makes no offer to connect, the pitcher has fooled him and the game is lost. This stage the boys gather around the batter not to nag him but with slap on the shoulder they say that's all right Howard we will beat 'em next time.

They have lost only a few ball games and the spirit of one for all and all for one is what turns the trick. With the passing of the seniors to other institutions of learning the expression is heard from each one, I regret to leave dear old Chamberlain. Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Rampy gave a community party Saturday night every one, both old and young report a nice time. Mrs. C. C. Murphy of Vernon is visiting in the home of her father N. Dingler. Dan Brazille who has a position at Amarillo visited homefolks for the week end. Lonnie Smith who makes his home with his brother-in-law Homer Newton, returned from an extended visit to Crane City, Lonnie says its pretty good place over, but Chamberlain is the best of all.

Miss Bettie Baker has returned to her home at Memphis. J. B. Mill sap will attend school at Lubbock. Miss Maud Crawford returned home at Clarendon.

 Pioneer Melodies ***

The old-time melodies of our beloved pioneers have a peculiarity redolent of the great Southwest in that the tunes depict the feelings of the people who were forced to spend much of their time alone.

Each week a copy of one of these songs will appear in this column. Save them in your scrap book. Radio stations now broadcast these old songs that bring back sweet memories of ranch life and faces of the most loyal friends that ever lived in all history.

The songs are taken from the collection of I. B. Pierce.

When The Work's All Done This Fall.

A group of jolly cowboys, discussing plans at ease, Said one, I'll tell you something, boys, if you will listen, please. I am an old cowpuncher, and here I'm dressed in rags, fused to be a tough one and go on great, big jags. But I've got a home, boys—a good one, you all know— Although I have not seen it since a long, long time ago. I'm going back to Dixie once more to see them all, Yes, I'm going to see my mother when the work's all done this fall.

After the round-up's over and after the shipping's done, I'm going home, boys, 'ere my money is gone; For I have changed my way, boys; no more the tempters call; And I'm going to see my mother when the work's all done this fall. When I left my home, boys, my mother for me cried. Begged me not to go, boys, for me she would have died; My mother's heart is breaking, breaking for me, that's 'all. And with God's help I'll see her when the work's all done this fall.

That very night this cowboy went out to stand his guard, The night was dark and cloudy and storming very hard;

The cattle they got frightened and rushed in wild stampede; The cowboy tried to head them and turn the herd about,

His saddle horse did stumble and on him he did fall. The boy won't see his mother when the work's all done this fall.

His body was so mangled the boys all thought him dead. They picked him up so gently and laid him on a bed;

He opened wide his blue eyes, and, looking all around, He motioned to his comrades to sit near him on the ground.

Boys, send my mother my wages—steer I've turned, the wages I have earned— For I am afraid, boys, that my last I'm going to a new range, I hear my Master's call.

And I'll not see my mother when the work's all done this fall. Bill, you take my saddle; George, you take my bed;

Jack may have my pistol after I am dead. And please think of me kindly when you look upon them all, For I'll not see my mother when the work's all done this fall.

So Charlie was buried at sunrise, no tombstone for his head, Nothing but a little board, and this is what is said:

"Charlie died at daybreak; he died from a fall. The boy won't see his mother when the work's all done this fall."

Donley County Club Women Taking More Interest

Living Room Contestants Named-District Winner Decision Soon

Following the judging carried on over Donley county's several communities the past week by Mrs. M. T. Crabtree, Mrs. J. D. Stocking and Miss Nora Smith, winners in the annual Improved Living Room Contest are announced.

Contestants in First Class are permitted to spend up to fifty dollars for improvement. In this class Miss Mary Lovell won first place and a prize of a free trip to the A & M Short Course the last week in July. Miss Mayme Dingler won second in the same class.

In the Second Class, Mrs. W. V. McCauley of Lelia Lake won first and the prize of the free trip to A & M. Mrs. John Gerner of the same community took second in this class.

Contestants in Second Class are permitted to spend over fifty dollars for furniture and material if they choose in competing for the prize. "Making living rooms more livable" is a slogan of countless thousands of club women over the state at this time.

Winners over the district will likely be announced during the coming month if the judging can be completed by that time.

Clarendon Has Epidemic of Petty Thefts

Covering a period of some two weeks, a gang of petty thieves have been operating in Clarendon territory. The actions of the gang is not limited to any one article in variety as it includes spare casings and wheels off autos, chickens and various other lines of articles.

The auto thieving was persisted in exclusively for some two weeks, seven tires being taken from cars here in one night. Three casings were stolen at Chamberlain and one at Goldston the same night.

Wednesday night, a number of chickens were stolen from several farms near town. In some instances the entire flock was stolen, while some were left a remnant. Shotguns, rifles and sixshooters have been oiled up and loaded for the next visit of the marauders. Several are keeping watch and it is expected that visible results in the form of blood and broken bones will be on exhibit soon if the rascals do not take a tip from a public that does not propose to be bothered further.

Tidwell Show Date Changed Account Cold Weather

The Tidwell carnival show scheduled to arrive here Monday was delayed on account of cold weather encountered at Tucumcari. The show will open here Wednesday night of this week on the Smith Brothers gin lot.

Combust Car is Stolen Saturday Night

While attending a party at the Strawn home southwest of town Saturday night, some one stole the A. Combust Plymouth car. The matter was reported to the sheriff's office and the car was located without a driver at Canyon Monday morning. Mr. Combust brought it home the same day.

Woman Uses Poison With Which to Suicide

Mrs. Emma Riley, aged 58, who recently moved to a farm about four miles south of Shamrock, is alleged to have taken poison and then plunged into a tank of water ending her life Friday night.

Members of the family did not miss her until morning when they found a note telling them that her body would be found in the tank. Mrs. Riley had been a sufferer from a chronic malady is said, for several years, and this is supposed to have been the cause of the lamentable act of self-destruction.

The four cent gasoline tax law netted the State a total of $20,819,388.23 in the first ten months of its operation, according to State Comptroller George H. Sheppard. Of this amount the sum of $14,656,451.16 went into the State Highway Fund, and the remainder of $4,885,483.71 was paid into the Available School Fund.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Kemp and Miss Elizabeth visited friends in Pampa Sunday.

New Mexico Has First Potash Mine in U. S.

The location of the first actual attempt to mine potash salts in the United States is located in the Horse Camp sand area southwest of Lovington, New Mexico. The shaft is 8x22 feet and now has a depth of better than 400 feet.

The location is the bed of prehistoric lake formed ages ago when the mountains to the west rose and formed a chain of lakes now drained by the Pecos river. In drilling for oil in this area, a bed of pure salt is encountered from about 600 to the 1800 foot depths. The same formation extends over millions of acres.

Indications of silvite were found in largest quantities from the 1100 to the 1300 foot levels in the salt bed. Petrified wood and marine animals have been found in that section at a depth of over 2000 feet, which will give one some idea of the depth of the lake which was some 80 miles in width and 150 miles in length.

Geologists claim that the formations in Carlsbad Cavern have been building fifty million years, and that this lake was formed by the rising of the mountains under which the cavern extends which would indicate that the lake existed for millions of years. The Pecos river is said to have formed by the lake breaking over during the last ice age of about fifty thousand years ago.

Such other teachers as is required will be added to the list in the term beginning June 9th and extending to July 18th. Students may avail themselves of either high school or college courses.

Christian Church Making Broadcast Preparation

An invitation is extended the public to attend the national hook-up service at the Christian church Sunday afternoon beginning at one o'clock. This sermon is to be heard all over the world in world-wide celebration.

H. C. Kerbow & Sons have installed radio equipment for the special service and should the static prevent a clear hearing, the minister will preach a sermon on the same subject as the one being broadcast.

CARLSBAD CAVERN

Hidden beneath the cactus covered foot hills of the Guadalupe mountains 29 miles southwest of Carlsbad is the most spectacular of subterranean marvels, the Carlsbad Cavern. It is owned by the United States Government and administered by the National Park Service.

The Cavern is open daily the year round. The entrance fee, with Government guide service, is $2.00; children under 16 are admitted free when accompanied by parents or guardians. You enter the Cavern at 10:30 a. m. and spend nearly six hours beneath mother earth on a clean, comfortable and safe trails over six of the known 21 miles of rooms, tunnels and passage ways. New electric light systems recently installed reveal many new and wonderful scenes.

Any kind of clothing may be worn. You do not have to stoop, slide or crawl at any place in the Cavern. The average temperature is 56 degrees, with cool fresh air and good drinking water.

Jim White, Texas cowboy, was one of the first persons to explore the Cave, and to him credit for the discovery of the Cavern is deservedly given. Mr. White's attention was first attracted to the Cave by the huge swarm of bats that left the cave in the evening. During the spring and summer months visitors tarry at the mouth of the Cave to watch the bats leave for their nocturnal feeding grounds in the evenings. Early each morning the bats return and disappear for the day in the recesses of the cave. These bats are not to be found in any part of the Cavern open to tourists, but can be found by the millions in the tunnel leading east from the main entrance.

With the artificial shaft as a base, Mr. White and a Mexican boy worked steadily deeper into the underground labyrinth, returning from each trip by the guiding strings laid down on the outward journey. The spare time of years

Senator Vests "Tribute To A Dog"

The best friend a man has in the world may turn against him, and become his enemy. His son or daughter that he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us, those whom we trust with our happiness and our good name may become traitors to their faith. The money that a man has he may lose. It flies away from him, perhaps, when he needs it most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill-considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honor when success is with us may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads. The one absolutely unselfish friend that man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him, the one that never proves ungrateful or treacherous, is his dog. A man's dog stands by him in prosperity and poverty, in health and sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground where the wintry winds blow and the snow drives fiercely, if only he may be near his master's side. He will kiss the hand that has no food to offer; he will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounter with roughness of the world. He guards the sleep of his master as if he were a prince. When all other friends desert he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces, he is constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens.

"If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying him, to guard against his enemies, and when death takes the master in its embrace, and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by the graveside will the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad, but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even in death."

was devoted to his slow and hazardous explorations. Few cared to accompany him and often he went alone, equipped with food and camp pass, a crude miner's lamp, a rope and wire ladder and balls of twine.

In this manner miles of intricate galleries and passages were covered. Vast chambers were traversed where the light of his lamp was more futile than would be the flame of a single match in the biggest cathedral in the world. Other series of rooms and passages were found above and below. It became apparent that the deeper and farther one went, the more extraordinary and indescribably beautiful became the formations in stalactite and stalagmite, in flowstone and dripstone and cave marble.

The Cave is entered through a natural entrance. You first follow a path for several hundred feet and then begin the descent into the cave on stairs consisting of some six or seven hundred steps.

It is impossible to describe with words the hundreds of scenes in this underground fairyland. Frank Ernest Nicholson, nationally known explorer, who is now exploring the Carlsbad Cavern, stated that the Cavern is more like an underground country, as it all seems to be far apart from this universe. Mr. Nicholson and his party have recently reached a new level at a depth of 1350 feet below the surface. The main level is 750 feet and the lower level is 900 feet. Recently a large lake of water has been found at a depth of 1220 feet. The lake is of such size that a boat could be used on it to advantage.

The Cavern was visited during 1929 by 80,000 tourists from 43 states and seven foreign countries. There are excellent hotel accommodations at Carlsbad and at Washington's Camp, which is only a few miles from the Cavern.

A vacation trip to the Cavern will be long remembered. Carlsbad is on the Santa Fe Railway line, and is the center for a number of splendid state and Federal highways. Visitors also come to the Cave via the Trans-Continental Airways route.—Mouth Piece.

PARKER REJECTED—WELL DONE

The rejection of Judge Parker for a seat on the U. S. supreme court will be hailed with approval by all citizens who have the best interests of their country at heart. Evidence that Parker is of the hard-shell, reactionary, money-worshipping class of men was a weighty reason why he should be barred from a tribunal now controlled by a majority to whom property and wealth is God.

By increasing usurpation of authority our United States supreme court has become the citadel of power in this country. Its nine judges are greater than congress and the president. They can choose to interpret a law passed by congress unanimously and signed by the president as "unconstitutional" and void any legislation, notwithstanding congress has many lawyers of equal ability and judgment. Furthermore, five of the nine judges may override the other four of equal ability and good judgment. And in at least four out of five of the nation's greatest controversial decisions affecting the very life of the country, the court has handed down five to four decrees. Rather ridiculous, but such is the system of ultimate governmental authority we have set up.

This country can congratulate itself we now have a coalition of senators who do not bend the knee to mammon. So long as wealth controls the U. S. supreme court it is entrenched in ultimate power. At present the court is composed of six reactionary and three progressive judges if another progressive is added will give the "property-minded" judges a bare majority, with Hughes said to be a problem on the basis of early performance.

If the coalition senators accept Mr. Hoover's second choice, Lawyer Roberts of Philadelphia, prosecutor of the Teapot Dome grafters, the people of this country will place reliance in their judgment. Beyond the fact Roberts was selected to probe the Teapot Dome scandal, little is known of him as to antecedents, associations and inclinations. If these make appeal to the Progressive senators, the rest of us will accept him on faith.—Boutineau, N. D. Courant.

THE MONEY CHANGERS
Cohen and his family sat down to dinner on Sunday. To his three boys Cohen said: "Now children, which of you would want it a nickel instead of meat for dinner?"

Each of the three decided in favor of the cash settlement, so Mrs. Cohen put the meat away. Then she brought in the pie and put it on the table.

"Now children, inquired Cohen" "how many of you want a nickel's worth of pie?"

Silas: "Say, Hiram, did it give you a headache when you learned to ride horseback?"
Hiram: "No. Just the opposite."
