BROWNWOOD, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1938

NUMBER 35

NEW NATIONAL MARKS WILL BE ESTABLISHED AT LAKE BROWNWOOD REGATTA SUNDAY, ACCORDING TO BELIEF OF NUMBER OF RACERS ENTERING MEET

In addition to the ten speed boat races for the Divisional Championship to be held at Lake Brownwood September 4, arrangements have been completed by the Brownwood Regatta Association to conduct a series of time trials over a one-mile straight-away course. These will be held in connection with the Southern Divisional Regatta, which will bring to Lake Brownwood the largest field of professional and amateur speed boat racers ever entered in any similar event in the South.

The speed trials will be under the sanction and direction of the National Outboard Association, and any records established in the Brownwood trials will be recognized as national marks. The National Outboard Association is sending Racing Commissioner Charles G. Steele from Chicago to conduct the speed trials at Lake Brownwood.

Announcements of the speed trials has resulted in receipt of additional entries for the Brownwood meet. Southern racers who have participated in speed boat races at Lake Brownwood in the past have been anxious to compete in official speed trials in the Brownwood waters, since Lake Brownwood is ideally suited to fast racing. Several racers have expressed the opinion that new national marks would be established in the Brownwood event next Sunday. The official trials also will provide a more spectacular event for spectators.

Interest in the annual races was heightened this week with the definite announcement that Gar Wood Jr., of Detroit had definitely decided to enter the Brownwood divisional championship event. The young member of America's royal family of boat racing will be here with a string of high-speed boats and expert drivers. He is expected to have at least two boats entered in each of the major contests. Gar Wood Jr., himself will drive in most of the races and will place an additional entry driven by Worth Boggsman, veteran boat racer who is now with the Gar Wood organization.

In addition, Mrs. Gar Wood, Sr., who accompanies her son on his racing trips, has announced that she will sponsor and donate trophies for a special consolation race in Classes A and B for those who do not place in the Divisional contests. The consolation races will be staged immediately after the official championship races and the time trials.

Some 25 entries for the races already have been received from well known drivers from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and other states, with indications that the number will reach 50 by Saturday.

The races will start promptly at 2 o'clock at the Lake Brownwood Boat Docks. Admission to the lake events is 25c and 15c. The annual Regatta Dance will be held at Hotel Brownwood roof, with Eddie Fitzpatrick and his orchestra, $2.10 to 2.

The Regatta Association has received definite confirmation from Frank Boggsman, Fort Worth racer and official, that he will announce the events. Boggsman will speak through a public address system furnished by the Gulf Oil Corporation, Houston.

New permanent racing equipment will be used at this year's event. Included in the equipment are new buoys and a huge time clock.

Regatta tickets are on sale at Peerless Drug Store, Reunro-McMinn Drug Co., Gilmore's, Citizens Pharmacy, Hotel Brownwood Drug, Renro No. 3 Store, and Southern Hotel Drug.

There is a light visible in southern latitudes called the Aurora Australis.

Host to G. O. P. 'Cornfield' Fete

Peanut Producers Invited to Join Cooperative Here

For the purpose of further acquainting producers with the benefits which members of the Brown County Peanut Growers have found possible, the Association has organized community membership teams throughout the county.

The association expects a membership of 150 farmers this year. It has been estimated that the 55 members last year derived a 30-cent increase in the market price for peanuts as a result of the work of the organization. Membership dues amount to 7 and one-half cents per acre planted in peanuts, with a minimum of 50 cents and a maximum of $5.

Teams named by the organization are: Union Grove, G. G. Goss and G. W. Boyd; May, Arla Angel, Day Harrell; Williams, Albert N. Lancaster and J. M. Moore; Owens-Clio, C. B. Brannon and Abe Nelson; Salt Creek, Charles Baker and George Dykes. Two Eastland county communities, Pioneer and Amity, are participating in the program.

Officers of the Brown county group are J. H. Buzbee, president; W. D. Pierce, vice president; and O. L. Pierce, secretary.

GAME PRESERVE MEETING
A proposed game preserve comprising approximately 6,000 acres in the Mukewater community area will be discussed with land owners and other interested citizens by County Agent C. W. Lehmgren and Game Warden John Wood at 8 o'clock Friday night at Mukewater.

A number of property holders already have indicated their willingness to cooperate in establishing and maintaining a game preserve.

FACULTY OF CITY SCHOOLS LISTED AS BOARD ANNOUNCES OPENING OF SCHOOL NEXT TUESDAY

Brownwood public schools will open Tuesday morning and arrangements have been completed to care for an anticipated record enrollment, according to E. J. Woodward, superintendent. Seniors in high school are reporting this week for consultation with the faculty on courses to be taken during the coming year. A general faculty meeting of all public school teachers in the city has been called to meet at the high school Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when announcements and general organization for the year's school program will be made.

A department of speech has been added to Brownwood high school this year. The school also has enlarged its mathematics department with the employment of an additional teacher. Most of the interior of the high school building has been repainted and furniture and equipment replaced. The other school buildings also have undergone renovation.

Metcalfe Winner In Senate Contest
Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo was nominated for State Senator from the 25th Senatorial District in Saturday's election. With Kinble county unreported, the final vote was: Metcalfe, 18,881; Ross Prescott of Brownwood, 16,770.

As it became apparent that Metcalfe was the nominee Saturday night, Prescott sent the victor the following telegram of congratulations:
"Congratulations upon your splendid victory. May success and happiness be yours throughout your administration."

Metcalfe answered Prescott's telegram with the following:
"I highly appreciate your telegram of congratulations and good wishes. As senator from this district I shall represent fairly and sincerely those who did not vote for me and also those who supported me so effectively."

DISTRICT LETS UNIT THREE CONTRACT TO CAGE BROS. & TURNER

Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1 Monday night awarded a contract for Unit 3 of the million-dollar Lake Brownwood irrigation project to Cage Brothers and L. A. Turner, Bishop, Texas. The firm agreed to have the work completed in 275 days.

Unit 3 calls for construction of steel and concrete conduits, the installation of gates and construction of two relief pumps, which are the three principal provisions in Unit 3.

All three units of the irrigation project, including the construction of outlets from the Lake Brownwood dam into the main canal, the construction of the canal, a water storage system and filtration plant at Round Mountain, and the lateral distribution system for irrigation is scheduled to be completed by June 1, 1939, and placed before the water district directors for acceptance.

The first two units, contracts for which were let to Briggs-Darby, Pharr, and to Carrouthes and Crouch, Kansas City, and Faibic and Sidener, San Antonio, are due to be completed about February 1.

Expected within a week is a work order for beginning operations on the third unit. This program calls for the laying of approximately 30 miles of concrete and steel lateral canal pipe, ranging in size from ten to 34 inches.

The lateral conduits will serve the agricultural regions in the water district. There will be no later construction within the Brownwood city limits. Some of the principal conduits may be laid directly through parts of the city, but there will be no distribution from the water district's lines in town. The city water distribution will be connected with the new reservoirs and the filtration plant at Round Mountain.

Two relief pumps, to provide additional pressure for the distribution of water through the irrigation system, will be constructed. Location of the site for the pump in the northern half of the district has been made near the Early school building. The south pump location has not been definitely determined.

Captain Returns
Captain Morris U. Lively, chaplain at the Veterans' Soil Conservation Camp on Fourth Street, returned this week from a ten-day vacation trip to various Texas cities.

Fast Travel In Poland
Poland has some of the fastest streamlined trains on the continent, travelling at the rate of 93 miles per hour.

City Tax Levy to Remain Unchanged
Under terms of an ordinance recently adopted by the City Council, the city tax levy of $1.80 on each $100 valuation will remain unchanged during the 1938 tax year.

The general expense fund of the city will receive 70 cents, the school maintenance fund will receive 70 cents, and the special fund for interest and sinking funds for street, municipal auditorium and school bonds will receive 40 cents.

Total property rendition for the city in the new rolls is $9,300,000 as compared with the 1937 figure of $9,550,000.

The council agreed that the 1938 taxes will be payable in two installments, the first due from October 1 to January 31, and the second payment due from February 1 to July 31.

The throne in England is in the House of Lords. It is a Gothic chair made of oak, and is occupied by the king when he opens parliament.

Sign Their Names, Lose Their Jewels

The show of course must go on, and here exotic Tallulah Bankhead and actor-husband John Henry prepare for the next performance of "I Am Different," after reporting to Los Angeles police that an autograph seeker who got their signatures also got $900 worth of their jewels.

Public Health to Be Discussed at Angelo Meeting

To devise a program for improving public health conditions in the 48 counties of this area, a public health convention will be held in San Angelo September 20, according to Dr. Thomas L. Waggoner, District 6 director. The public is invited to attend the convention.

Speakers on the program will include Congressman Charles L. South of Coleman, Thomas H. Taylor and Dr. O. N. Mayo of Brownwood. A luncheon will be served at noon and in the afternoon the community leaders of the 48 counties will reconvene to organize the district public health association.

"Recent revelations of the ravages of venereal diseases," Dr. Waggoner declared, "emphasize the necessity for an unceasing activity in the protection of the public health. The cost of treatment and hospitalization is becoming very heavy, and the obvious course for Texas is to set up a campaign of prevention designed to reduce the number of victims of preventable diseases. The state and federal health departments are actively cooperating with local communities and it is hoped that a great many local leaders may attend the San Angelo conference to acquaint themselves with the plan for intensive work."

Mrs. Awbrey Dies
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Awbrey and daughter, Mrs. Winnie Mae English, left Wednesday morning for Homer, La., upon receiving word of the death of Mr. Awbrey's mother, Mrs. J. A. Awbrey. Mrs. Awbrey died there Wednesday morning at the age of 84. She was at one time a resident of Brown county, making this her home during the years from 1885 to 1887. She has nine living children in addition to the son here.

Moisture penetrated to a depth

Recent moisture penetration tests at San Angelo, for instance, showed that water penetrated to a depth of 24 inches on the contour ridged and listed pasture of D. T. Jones and only saturated the sub-soil to a depth of 17 inches on an adjoining pasture not ridged or furrowed to impound rainfall. "My pastures have 50 per cent more vegetative cover and forage value and are producing 25 per cent more livestock than they did before I contoured them," Mr. Jones declared.

ON TEXAS FARMS

1939 AAA Program

The general plans for the 1939 governmental agricultural adjustment program are the same as those now in effect.

This information was welcomed by more than 190 farmer-state committeemen, state AAA officials and agricultural workers who met in Washington, D. C., recently to discuss 1939 plans.

Texas representatives at the meeting were George Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, and G. E. Gates, Laredo, a member of the committee; E. N. Holmgren, administrative officer in charge of the state AAA office; and Jack Shelton, vice-director and state agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace told the group that no new agricultural legislation, with the exception of possible amendments, is expected for 1939. With machinery and procedure already set up to handle the provisions of the farm act of 1938, AAA workers will be enabled to bring the 1939 program to farmers without the delay experienced this year, when the legislation was enacted by Congress in middle February.

Soil depleting allotments for wheat, cotton and rice are to be set up in Texas while peanuts may not be given a special allotment but will likely be considered in the list of general crops, Slaughter said.

Consideration is being given to the proposal that special provision be made for commercial vegetable crops.

Poultry

Aims of poultrymen have probably changed more in past 20 years than in all previous history since the fowl was domesticated, according to Geo. P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service.

Poultrymen are now concerned most with number and size of the eggs and the viability of birds, he said. More attention will be paid in the next three decades to extending the productive life of the hens beyond the first laying year which now ends the commercial usefulness of most birds.

"Poultrymen will continue to consider breed standards, but more stress will be laid to the economic angles of poultry," McCarthy predicted.

Research has discovered that certain characters are associated with the various breeds, the poultryman pointed out.

The hen of the future, McCarthy believes, will not only have higher productive ability but will be able to continue production longer, in addition to being able to resist diseases more readily than the present stock.

Fall Potatoes
"In the southern portion of the state it is usually possible to grow a fall crop of Irish potatoes for harvest in late November. The Bliss Triumph variety will mature in 70 to 80 days and where plantings are made during September the crop can be expected to mature before frost," states J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

All weeds and grass on the plot to be planted should be cut and raked off, for if this material is turned under it will heat and dry out the soil. The plot should be plowed to a depth of 4 or 5 inches, Rosborough said, and fertilized with 5-12-8 commercial fertilizer at the rate of 2 to 4 pounds per 100 feet of row.

If the soil is dry it is best to withhold the fertilizer until after a rain, when side dressing with the fertilizer will give good results.

Rosborough said potatoes held over for planting from the spring crop could be made to sprout by spreading them in the shade of a tree and covering them with wet sacks or straw. Potatoes of less than 1 inch in diameter should be planted whole, and others cut and planted immediately.

A solution of 1 pint of ethylene chlorhydrin in 4 gallons of water may be used to stimulate sprouting and early growth when large plantings are made. The procedure, according to Rosborough, is to cut the potatoes, place them in the solution, and allow them to stay in until they are thoroughly wet. Even the small potatoes should be cut on one side. As soon as the spuds are removed from the solution, they should be planted.

These photographs show how 4-356 farmers who operated land in the 9 project and 23 CCC camp demonstration areas in Texas are treating their pasture lands to retain moisture and increase and improve grass growth, and thereby increase livestock carrying capacity. The top row of pictures illustrate the practice of contour ridging of pastures to impound rainfall and hold it on the land so that it can soak into the ground to aid grass growth. The first picture (upper left) taken on the farm of R. O. Mathews, Brownwood, shows construction of ridges with an ordinary turning plow on a 150-acre pasture. The second photo (upper center) also taken on the farm of Mr. Mathews, shows cattle grazing between the ridges. Note the luxuriant stand of Rescue, spear, fox tail, Texas filaree, buffalo and Texas grama grasses. Note also that the ridges are beginning to settle. The third picture (upper right) taken on the farm of T. W. Oden, Brownwood, shows pasture furrowing and the complete coverage by grass. The lower pictures show how contour ridges perform during rains, holding the water until it has time to soak into the ground. The first picture (lower left) area in September 1936, shows contour furrows on the farm of B. E. Robbins, Dublin, on the farm of J. S. Wyrick, Garfield with water following a 2.8-inch rain. The principal pasture during a three-day period. The grass here is buffalo. The lower center photograph shows a ridge built in the summer of 1936, successfully held 20 inches of water to soak into the ground. The lower right photo was taken on the farm of J. S. Don't Treat Good Seed Like a Stepchild

By T. C. Richardson, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Association

At this time of the year seed for fall crops demand consideration. Whether for fall garden or field crops, it is easier and usually cheaper to buy seed ahead of the main planting season. It is just too bad, with the ground all ready and the season right, the seed are not on hand and local seed stores have sold out. One or two days difference in planting under the erratic weather and soil moisture conditions of the Southwest, often means the difference between a good stand and a poor one, and a poor stand means a poor yield. In the fall, when approaching winter limits growth, planting at the proper time and under the best possible conditions, is even more important than in spring.

Getting the land ready—making a good seed-bed is next to good seed, the best insurance of getting a good stand and giving the seedlings a healthy start in life. It is not too much to say that, of all things within the farmer's control good seed and a good seed-bed are the most important factors in production. It is too late to materially improve the condition of the soil by tillage after the crop is growing, and seed worth planting deserve something better than the treatment of a step-child.

Different crops require different seed-bed preparation, but no preparation fit for planting can be done after planting time is upon us. Crops which need a firm seed-bed must be anticipated by plowing long enough in advance to permit the soil to settle, or else extra work must be done with cultipacker or some substitute to firm the surface and pulverize the surface soil.

The fall garden is the most important piece of ground on the farm, and will amply repay all the work put into it before planting time. In a large measure the same is true of field crops, with especial emphasis on alfalfa, sweet clover, and small grass seeds which must be covered lightly by fine soil, and yet require a firm sub-soil.

The Southwest is planting more oats, barley, wheat, rye grass and clovers for winter grazing than ever before, and the earlier they are sown the more grazing may be expected. Where they are grown primarily for the grain, the small grains will often pay a profit from grazing alone. In the colder sections of the Southwest wheat and rye grass, which are more resistant to cold than oats or barley, furnish most winter grazing. Rye grass is also increasing in popularity in the Gulf Coast region where rust often shortens the grazing period of oats or barley.

The Texas Experiment Station (Bulletin No. 539) reports that barley furnished more fall and early winter grazing than other crops, but Italian rye grass supplied by far the greatest amount of grazing in March, April and May. The two on the same farm give a much longer grazing season than any one crop, and the rye grass is at its best after livestock must be removed from fields which are expected to produce a grain crop.

Green winter pastures supply the all-important vitamins which dry feed lacks, and contribute greatly to the health and growth on livestock and poultry. The time is fast approaching when every good farmer will sow his winter pastures as regularly as the seasons come around.

It is already a common practice to graze wheat, oats and barley where they are grown for grain, and if judiciously practiced, does not reduce the grain crop. In fact under some conditions the yield of grain is increased by grazing.

Dairy cows, sheep and laying hens probably respond most profitably to green winter pastures, but all kinds of livestock thrive better and cost less to produce through the use of pastures, winter or summer.

Opponents of President Roosevelt and those not quite satisfied with the New Deal and particularly its activity in the current "purge" of unwanted officials, will view with a great deal of satisfaction the re-election of "Cotton Ed" Smith in South Carolina and the defeat of Senator McAdoo in California. From this point, about half way between the two states that held primary elections this week, the feeling is about equally divided. Most people were inclined to favor both of the veteran United States Senators, Smith and McAdoo, and there was a general feeling that both should be retained in the Senate.

There is no definite indication of a weakening of the popularity of President Roosevelt in the defeat of the two Senatorial candidates that he endorsed, although that endorsement probably gave some weight to the opposition arguments. The situation is somewhat similar to that in Texas, where two congressmen, Maverick and McFarlane, who ran with the endorsement of the President, were defeated in their efforts to gain re-nomination.

Most significant fact of the defeat of endorsed candidates is that Presidential influence is not sufficient to swing State elections, regardless of the popularity of the President. There can be little doubt of the personal popularity of President Roosevelt in either South Carolina or California, in which states he has received heavy majorities in his two presidential elections. Various polls attest to that popularity. But there are numerous internal problems which affect all State races, and to the individual voter, these problems and issues are of greater significance than the desire of a President to see a friend rewarded or an enemy punished.

Added to this is the fact that President Roosevelt has a large Democratic majority with which to work in both houses of Congress. If the New Deal should be in danger of going down in defeat should one of the candidates of Mr. Roosevelt's choice be defeated, there would be an issue projected into the local campaign which would be of prime importance. In such a case, voters would be more inclined to rally to the President, for then he would be in real danger. A situation at point was in Kentucky, where "Happy" Chandler, decidedly the more popular individual, was defeated by Senator Barkley, largely because Barkley is floor leader in the Senate for President Roosevelt, and it was felt that his defeat would be a direct slap at the President.

American voters are an independent lot, and the man closest to them naturally has the most influence. While it may be a bit of disappointment to the President to see his friends defeated, he is well enough versed in politics to expect an occasional defeat, and, when there are no greater reasons than those advanced in South Carolina and California for the individual not expressing his personal choice at the polls, the results of the week constitute a healthy attitude.

The time has come around again for the annual Brownwood Speed Boat races at the lake, and this year the regatta will be held at least at a more comfortable time—on September 4. Given the cloudy weather of the past few days, the big crowd which is expected at the lake for the races will have a very pleasant afternoon, indeed. The races this year are to be of greater interest than those of the past, too, in that the Southern Divisional Championships will be held here, which will bring to Brownwood the speediest field of entries ever assembled on Southern waters.

Regatta Time

This, together with the added one-mile speed tests for national records, should make the boat races decidedly attractive to the 10,000 or more people who attend them annually. The Regatta Association is due congratulations for the efforts to bring to Brownwood the most spectacular event of its kind ever to be held in this section.

Boat racing has become, in the four years that it has been held here, the most popular sports event in Central West Texas. There are many reasons why this is true. Unlike other events, Brownwood for the time being has a virtual monopoly on boat racing in West Texas, for there are no other lakes of sufficient size to stage races of the magnitude that can be held here. Then, water still is a novelty in West Texas, and a lake such as Lake Brownwood is an attraction in itself. Given the colorful and spectacular regatta such as is held here, and you have a perfect event for West Texans to enjoy.

Plan now for an enjoyable Sunday afternoon at Lake Brownwood, and see the Southern Divisional Championships. It will be the most interesting boat racing event in this section for many years to come.

The average motorist is an unconscious hypocrite. That's a strong characterization—but a little impersonal analysis will substantiate it.

Are You A Hypocrite?

How often have you roundly criticized some driver for an offense which you commit periodically yourself? How often have you taken comfort in the thought that accidents are caused by some reckless breed of motorists with whom you have nothing in common, thus dodging the fact that only pure fool's luck has saved you from a crash on a dozen occasions? Have you ever attempted to get a ticket "fixed"—even though you pay lip service to the cause of aggressive, impartial law enforcement?

It is a fact that a large proportion of accidents are caused by the reckless ten per cent, but the other ninety per cent periodically take chances and are responsible for many of our annual auto deaths.

Who, for example, doesn't sometimes pass a car when the stretch of empty road that can be seen is too short for safety? Who doesn't occasionally succumb to the lure of excessive speed—even though he has little or nothing to do when his destination is reached? Who doesn't periodically neglect necessary repairs to brakes, lights or steering mechanisms, on the theory that he will get around to it when more convenient?

We'll go a good way toward reducing accidents when the average driver begins asking himself such questions and returning honest answers. Accident prevention, so far as it concerns the human element, is a personal, individual matter—and each individual has to really want to drive safely at all times before he can analyze his driving errors and correct them.

New Axis? . . .

WASHINGTON—Historians may well look back upon last week as a turning point in U. S. foreign policy. Europe's bitter had communicated themselves to Washington so forcefully that President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull issued another warning to Herr Hitler. In a radio speech, short-waved to Europe, Secretary Hull elaborated his thesis of international "order under law," said: "In a smaller and smaller world it will soon no longer be possible for some nations to choose and follow the way of force and for other nations at the same time to choose and follow the way of reason. All will have to go in one direction and by one way."

At Queen's University in Kingston, Ont., Canada, where he went to receive an honorary degree before dedicating a new international bridge across the St. Lawrence River, Franklin Roosevelt declared: "We can assure ourselves that this hemisphere at least shall remain a strong citadel wherein civilization can flourish unimpeded. The Dominion of Canada is part of the sisterhood of the British Empire. I give to you assurance that the people of the United States will not stand idly by if domination of Canadian soil is threatened by any other empire!"

Although it expressed only an obvious truth about a remote contingency, the President's statement did cause chatter abroad. Britain and France loudly applauded the acknowledgment of a "Washington-London-Paris" axis. Germany officially laughed it off as electioneering talk by Mr. Roosevelt. Italy sneered at the idea of a Canadian invasion "by whom? Polar Bears?"

In their anonymous references to "disintegration of the structure of world order," "international law-democratic regimentation," "misery inflicted on helpless peoples," President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull clearly and purposefully ranged Germany, Italy and Japan—where these inhumanities are practiced—as nations to whose policies the U. S. is opposed. U. S. foreign policy is at present expressed in a rigid Neutrality Act which suggests that the U. S. is neutral in any and all wars (except those of American republics when attacked from abroad), and that the U. S. will sell sub-munitions of war to all-comers on a cash and carry basis at its home ports. If President Roosevelt and Mr. Hull now create a popular mandate to ally the U. S. against autarchies, revision of the Neutrality Act must be their next move.

Zero Bid . . .

WASHINGTON—Long the concern of an assortment of Federal agencies, U. S. aviation last week came completely under control of the new Civil Aeronautics Authority. But just before CAA took over, the Post Office Department had to award contracts for several new airmail lines.

Average Government Subsidy for carrying the mail, during the four years since airmail contracts have been subject to competitive bidding, has been about 17c a mile. But because successful bidders for the new routes were to get their franchises confirmed for "as long as public convenience and necessity" demanded, and might therefore be in line for further subsidies in future, bids last week reached new lows.

Branch Airways ciphered out the infinitesimal figure of $6001907378 per mile, put that in as their bid. Eastern Airlines, coveting some of neighbor Braniff's exclusive shuttle trade, offered the decisively low bid of $6.00.

The Post Office department sniffed these bargain figures cautiously. Allowing that Eastern's zero bid might be quite legal, it hemmed and hawed, then announced that it would leave the decision up to the incoming CAA.

But last week, just before CAA came in, the Post Office decided that $6,000,000,000 saved is that much earned, awarded the Brownwood-Houston-San Antonio link to zero-bidding Eastern.

Surplus Problems . . .

WASHINGTON—On July 31, carry-over of U. S. cotton was 11,653,000 bales, an almost three-fold increase over a year ago. Since U. S. cotton consumption and exports last year totaled 11,432,000 bales, only 556,000 more than the estimated 1935-36 crop, prospects for a sizable reduction of this tremendous carryover are dim indeed.

When cotton prices tumbled last week, making loans mandatory under the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1935, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace pointed to cotton as "perhaps the most difficult single situation with which we are faced."

But scarcely less acute was the wheat problem, for which Secretary Wallace is seeking a partial solution in a subsidy scheme under which he hopes to export 100,000,000 bushels about one-fourth the present U. S. surplus. To dump only 25,000,000 bushels abroad in 1934, the U. S. spent $6,500,000. However ingeniously conceived, a similar program now would not only add a neat expense item to AAA's bulging budget but would almost certainly bring a squawk from Secretary of State Hull, champion of reciprocal trade treaties. In addition, subsidized U. S. wheat would have to compete in the world market against wheat subsidized this year by Canada, Poland and Rumania—with other overproducers expected to follow suit.

Whether or not this year's surplus problems can be solved, the AAA last week fixed 1936 benefit payments at 26 to 36c a bushel—14-18c above the 1935 rate—for U. S. wheat farmers who reduce their acreage 31%. Otherwise, next year's crop-control program is substantially the same as this year's. Total amount earmarked for 1936 benefit payments: $712,000,000.

"Get Busy" . . .

LOUISVILLE, Kentucky—President Patrick Henry Callahan of Louisville Varnish Co., a Democratic letter-writer almost as assiduous as National Chairman Jim Farley, last week wrote the letter saying: ". . . Get busy on some sort of a plan to get the Roosevelt philosophy to the traveling men and salesmen of the country."

Most of Louisville Varnish salesmen, said Colonel Callahan, had become infected by the anti-Roosevelt where among their customers. "This . . . reactionary line of thinking is thrown into our salesmen five or six times every day and it is having its effect. . . Salesmen, as you know, do a great deal of talking themselves and if properly handled they can be of a great deal of help to the Party."

Inspection . . .

SALT LAKE CITY—On a mountain ridge in Summit County, Utah, newshawks last week discovered a granite tombstone erected several years ago by Federal Emergency Relief Administration workers. Inscription: "In memory of Franklin D. Roosevelt, 1932-36." Explained a local county commissioner: "What the stonemasons really meant was, 'In Appreciation of Franklin D. Roosevelt.'"

Der Tag . . .

NEW YORK—Many a foreign news dispatch to the U. S. is about one-tenth fact and nine-tenths rumor and conjecture. Working in a murky subterranean world of censorship, rumor-mongering and diplomatic duplicity, an honest reporter must search every shelf of rumor for the nugget of fact, assay each fact for the elusive motive that gives it value. On the basis of a single such fact, not necessarily important in itself, an impressive and vaguely portentous flow of dispatches can be written from the capitals of Europe, recounting rumored reactions and reactions to reactions.

Most fearsome of all rumors in the rumor of war, living in an atmosphere heavy with war talk the foreign correspondent is usually immune to war hysteria. Yet more than once the foreign correspondents have marched the people of Europe to the brink of panic and then marched them back again.

This time, war was to begin on August 15. The rumor was based on a fact: for that day, Hitler had ordered the beginning of the most extensive war games since the World War. This fact, combined with Hitler's known aims in Czechoslovakia, bred mutterings in the capitals of Europe which correspondents duly reported. U. S. papers trotted out a familiar headline: Europe Tense.

But The Day came and went, and U. S. headlines were again reassuring. Next day, in an editorial entitled "Der Tag," the New York "Times" suggested that publicity was good for war scares: "Never before have Governments and peoples been so alert to danger as they are today. That explains the constant alarm signals. Perhaps it also explains why 'the Day' is always postponed."

From Paris, writer Walter Lippmann set the next deadline: September 15.

Innocent Abroad . . .

LONDON—Hugo Loeser, 57-year-old Chicago liquor importer went sight seeing in London's City (financial district) last week, came upon what he took to be a busy broker's office, stepped in to have a look at stock quotations. The hubbub of voices steadily increased, so did shouts of "1401!" Puzzled and amused by this chant, Mr. Loeser suddenly noticed that he was surrounded. Someone jostled him. His hat was knocked off. Next thing he knew he was in the street, straightening his rumpled clothes, looking up into the red face of a bobber.

Mr. Loeser had walked into the London Stock Exchange, which brooks no intrusion. The Exchange was once limited to 1400 members. Now, whenever a stranger is seen on the floor, members shout "1401," throw him out. Mr. Loeser was lucky not to have been "debaggged" (pants taken off). Afterwards, he said somewhat sourly: "The experience was funny."

Sports . . .

GEHMENTOWN, Pennsylvania—When 26-year-old Robert Riggs of Los Angeles makes his Davis Cup debut this week in Germantown, international tennis will witness a display of court histrionics reminiscent of the days of Tilden. Riggs' mannerisms include a Charlie Chaplin walk, laughter after a good shot, clenched fists after a bad one. Because he often moves his lips when in a tight spot, a sportswriter asked him if he prayed or he played. "Heck no," he answered. "When I find myself letting down, I give myself a pep talk. I say 'come on now, for cripes sake, snap out of it. Quit playing like a dope.'"

CLEVELAND, Ohio—A top Cleveland's 52-story Terminal Tower last week stood Ken Keltner, Indian rookie. One by one he tossed a dozen baseballs down to the public square 708 feet below. Ten of them missed their mark. Two of them dropped into the mitts of his teammates Henry Helf and Frank Pytlak. Catchers Helf and Pytlak wiped their brows and stuck out their chests. They had broken the altitude catching record set 30 years ago when Gabby Street caught a ball thrown from the top of the 550-foot Washington Monument. Mathematicians estimated the balls' speed at 135 miles an hour. The balls that missed the mitts bounced six stories into the air.

DULUTH, Minnesota—Clinton Russell, totally blind Duluth businessman, last week won an 18-hole golf match against W. H. J. Oxenham, totally blind London osteopath. They played before 10,000 spectators at Duluth's Ridgeview Golf Club. Mr. Russell's home course. Both golfers took up the game after losing their sight usually place in the 80s, have their caddies place the club head in the proper direction, describe the lie

CLEVELAND, Ohio—In 1936 a Russian-born Cleveland oilman and war veteran put in a long distance call for Japanese Ambassador Saito in Washington, got him on the line, pleaded with him to keep the peace, was assured there would be no Japanese-Russian war. Since then Cleveland's Abraham ("Abe") Pickus has been busy telephoning world diplomats, dictators and statesmen in a vigorous one-man campaign to bring about international amity. Although Chamberlain, Mussolini, Emperor Hirohito of Japan and many another bigwig refused to talk, Veteran Pickus once was put through to Spain's Franco, another time to Hitler whom he promptly bewildered by shouting: "Hello, Hello! Is this A. Hitler? This is A. Pickus of Cleveland, Ohio, U. S. A." Last week Mr. Pickus announced he had decided to make a personal trip to Europe, have it out in heart-to-hearts with Hitler and Mussolini.

John Scott . . .

NEW YORK—Negro John Scott arraigned in a Manhattan court last week on a charge of first-degree murder, looked up in surprise and said: "Judge, I didn't even know that man I stabbed died." Said Judge William Allen: "This man was shot." Said John Scott: "No, Judge, I stabbed him." Judge Allen checked up. The man wanted for the shooting was another Harlem Negro, also in Tombs prison, also named John Scott. First John Scott was then arraigned for second-degree assault. Both John Scotts pleaded not guilty.

of 42 inches on the conservation treated J. B. Nail farm in Tom Green county and only 20 inches on an adjoining farm not supplied with such conservation measures as contouring, strip cropping, terracing and pasture development.

Ira Ratliff, also of the Upper Concho River project demonstration area of the Soil Conservation Service said that contour listing and ridging of his pastures had brought a 100 per cent increase in available forage for his stock.

Brown County Increases

Similar increases have been reported on the E. M. Killian, T. W. Oden, T. M. Hurlison and other farms near Brownwood. In West Central and West Texas the problem of supplying crops with sufficient water is extremely acute and the use of contouring systems provides a means for retaining most of the water that falls on the land. In the Western sections water rationing devices and systems for diverting roadside water onto cultivated fields and pastures are used to obtain extra water which can be backed up behind terraces and contour ridges and furrows and then distributed evenly over entire fields or pastures.

Controlled grazing is being relied upon to a great extent to insure a continuous grass cover on Texas pastures for erosion control as well as a means of providing a reliable source of grass for stock. Mowing and mixed grazing keeps down weeds and permit better grass growth.

Young America's falling for plaids—Scotland's gayest tartans furnish the designs for scores of this year's school frocks. It's the biggest plaid season the juvenile fashion world has known in years. Such combinations as lightweight wool frock plaid in red, brown and yellow and made on the bias except for the front panel is good. Other plaid frocks are designed of cottons as well as wools and appear in such lively color combinations as blue, red and green, or brown, green and gold. Both simple dresses with white "school collars" and shoulder-strap skirts worn over pullover-sweaters or washable blouses are shown.

EXTENSION OF SIX MONTHS GIVEN TO LOCAL SCS CAMP

Welcome news to Brown county agriculture this week was the announcement that the CCC Soil Conservation camp 3818-V, located on Fourth street in Brownwood, will remain here for an extended six months period beginning October 1. The camp is run on a six months basis and the present extension will expire September 30.

The veterans' camp on August 19 celebrated the third anniversary of its existence here. On August 15, 1935, twelve enrollees arrived from Canyon by truck. Four days later the main body of men was enrolled. Three of the original twelve still are at the camp. They are Grady L. Nelson, Floyd D. Overby and George Vaughn. During the three years, eight officers and about 450 men were assigned for duty at the camp. Charter members of the technical staff still on duty at the camp are McWesley Ledbetter, camp superintendent; Zech C. Dameron, soils expert; Charles Hagood and Elmer S. Rothe, senior operating foremen; and Emil Stuter, engineering aide.

Since establishment of the camp here, 128 farms, comprising more than 40,000 acres, have been signed under agreement by the camp. A large number of requests for improvement work has been filed at the camp by residents of the section. More requests have been made by farmers during the past month than in any other month in the history of the camp, according to D. C. Larner, technician in charge of the soil work at the camp.

Staff personnel at the camp includes 1st Lieut. H. R. Hays, commanding officer; Lt. Jack K. Walker, second in command; Captain Morris U. Lively, educational advisor; Dr. Ned Snyder, camp physician; McWesley Ledbetter, camp superintendent; Don C. Larner, technician in charge; Emil Stuter, engineering aide; Zech C. Dameron, soils; Maurice E. Mahan, agronomist; John W. Arm, technical assistant; Steve Borders, mechanical foreman; Charles L. Hagood, Elmer S. Rothe, Frank E. Ellis, senior operating foremen.

What's In a Name? History in Those Of SCS Enrollees

By Captain Morris U. Lively
A most interesting study can be made of names by running through the personnel cards of Company 3818-V. One will find there many names which figure prominently in history and literature, both sacred and profane.

For Biblical names one finds: James "The Just," 12; Jesse, father of David, 2; Adam, the progenitor of the human race, 1; Benjamin, from which tribe came St. Paul, 2; Thomas, the doubter, 4; John, on the Isle of Patmos, 8; Caleb, the military intelligence man, 1; Daniel, in the lion's den, 1; Hiram, the architect employed by Solomon, 1; David, sweet singer of Israel, 2; Joseph, who wore the beautiful coat, 5; Isaac, father of Jacob, 1; Jacob, son of Isaac, 1; Reuben, the first born, the "might" of Jacob, 1; Marlan (a form of Miriam, sister of Moses), 1; Arron, brother of Moses and founder of the Priesthood, 1; Samule, who heard a call in early childhood, 1; Ezekiel, who sat by the River Chebar, 1; Paul, the beloved apostle, 1. Akin to the Biblical group would come Martin Luther. We find one Luther.

In the realm of profane literature and history one finds Faust, Doeter Faustus, who sold his soul for much erudition to Mephistopheles; Aquilla, the ecbantful northern constellation of the Milky Way; Herman (Hermes) the messenger of the gods; Julius, most renowned of all the Caesars of ancient Rome.

Examinations Announced

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced open competitive examinations for the positions listed below:

Senior medical technician, assistant medical technician, medical technician, Public Health Service. Optional subjects for the senior and assistant grades are: bacteriology, roentgenology and bacteriology and roentgenology combined. A high school education is required except that persons unable to meet this requirement, but otherwise qualified, may be given a mental test instead; and the high school requirement and mental test will be waived in the case of trainees of the Veterans' Administration who are otherwise qualified. Certain experience also is required. Applicants must not have passed their 53rd birthday.

Land appraiser, associate land appraiser, assistant land appraiser, Bureau of Agricultural Engineering. Land appraisal experience, differing in degree of responsibility according to the grade of the position, is required. Applicants for the land appraiser position must not have passed their 53rd birthday, and those for the associate and assistant grades must not have passed their 50th birthday.

Closing dates for receipt of applications for these examinations are: September 26 if applications are received from states east of Colorado, and September 29, if received from Colorado and states westward.

Full information may be obtained from C. E. Woods at the post-office.

BANK TELLER ADMITS SHORTAGE IN ACCOUNT

Fred Andrews, teller of the Citizens National Bank at Brownwood, early Thursday admitted shortages totaling $4,846.49, and left for Dallas to surrender to Federal authorities. He was accompanied to Dallas by his attorney, J. Edward Johnson. Disclosure of the shortage was made in an early morning interview with F. S. Abney, executive vice president of the bank.

Andrews stated that the shortage had occurred since August, 1936. A complete itemized list of the shortages was made to Mr. Abney. Mr. Abney stated today that the bank is fully covered by bonded protection, and that no customers' accounts are affected by the matter.

Andrews has been an employee of the Citizens National Bank for more than 12 years. He had been chief teller for a number of years.

New Tip for Tipsters

An American tourist in Europe abolished perplexity regarding how much to tip by giving away American safety razor blades and American cigarettes. He reports they were accepted more gratefully than the coin of the realm.

Ask the First Kid You Meet

English is taught as the chief foreign language in all the secondary schools of Germany, which explains why American tourists can enquire information from young people they meet.

Wayside Telephones for Motorists

Motorists in England, when in trouble on lonely country roads remote from towns, can call help by using the wayside telephone system which has been installed everywhere by the automobile association.

American Boy Magazine Companion to Thousands
Teachers, librarians, parents, leaders of boys' clubs and hundreds of thousands of boys, themselves, enthusiastically recommend THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine for all boys over twelve.
"It's more like a companion than a magazine," remarked one high school student. "It gives advice and entertainment on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. I made our school basketball team solely because of playing tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY."
Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists, and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce, in THE AMERICAN BOY, just the sort of stories and articles boys like best.
THE AMERICAN BOY sells on all newsstands at 15c a copy. Subscription prices are $1.50 for one year or $3.00 for three years. To subscribe, simply send your name address and remittance direct to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich.

STEPHENS—Death came Friday morning to Mrs. Charles Stephens, 33, in Winters. Mrs. Stephens was a sister of Mrs. H. W. Sawyer of Brownwood. Interment was in the Midway cemetery near Toke, following services held at the Content Methodist church near Winters. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gray, pioneer citizens in the Crews and Content communities in Rannels county, Mrs. Stephens was born July 16, 1905. Survivors include her husband, two daughters one son, her mother, two sisters and three brothers.

NEEB—Last rites for C. C. Neeb, 63, were held Sunday afternoon in the Cross Plains cemetery by the Rev. P. P. Collins. Mr. Neeb died early Sunday morning at his home here. A resident of Brownwood for about a year, Mr. Neeb was born September 14, 1884. Surviving him are his wife; two sons, Courtney Neeb, San Angelo, and Harry Neeb, Brownwood; one daughter, Mrs. Hugh Peterson, Dallas; two brothers, Edwin and Martin Neeb, Cross Plains; one sister, Mrs. Austin Payne, Cross Plains, and his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neeb, also of Cross Plains. Pallbearers were Clive Callaway, Tom Bryant, Jack Scott, Edwin Vaum, C. C. Dodson, V. W. Webb and Russell McGowan.

STEELE—Following an illness of 25 days, Mrs. Rachel Sullivan Steele, 86, died Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home near Sidney. She was the last surviving member of the Sidney Missionary Baptist church. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Baptist church in Sidney. Interment was in the Cox cemetery. Mrs. Steele was born in Franklin county, Alabama, August 2, 1852, and in November, 1869, was married to Alfred N. Steele, moving to Texas in 1873. Twelve children were born to the union. Surviving children are Rev. L. E. Steele, Sidney; J. W. Steele, Sidney; W. M. Steele, Chandler, Okla.; Ernest Steele, Brownwood; Rev. Frank Steele, Levelland; John W. Steele, Levelland; Mrs. W. T. Huff, O'Donnell; Mrs. C. H. White, Friona; and Mrs. Emmett Smith, Brownwood. Children who preceded her in death were J. W. Steele, Mrs. C. P. Cooper and Mrs. J. S. Cox. Her husband died in 1936. Mrs. Steele is also survived by a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Pallbearers included Driskol Smith, Harrell Steele, Ben Steele, Orville Cox, Arthur Steele and Felton Steele.

New TP&L "Family" Is Described by Manager Murphey
A new "family" of quadruplets known as the Electric Penny Family has just been announced by the Texas Power & Light Company and W. P. Murphey, district manager for the company, is beaming with fatherly pride these days as he tells about the antics of the quartet.

"These Electric Pennies, Coolsy, Hotsy, Glow and Tidy, are already at work," Mr. Murphey said, serving our residential customers in a way that will soon make them even more popular than the Watts Family, their predecessors, or the well known Dionne Quintuplets.

"It's really not quite fair to refer to these interesting characters as quadruplets," Mr. Murphey pointed out, "because they are not all of the same age. Glow Penny is about 60 years old. He has been looking after electric lighting all that time and has added other tasks to his line of work in the home in recent years... such as the clock and the radio. Other members of the 'family' are from 15 to 25 years younger than Glow."

An interesting bit of history about each of these characters is given in the Electric Penny Family Coloring Book, which has been made available to the kiddies thru local stores which sell electrical things. These booklets are free for the asking.

The Electric Penny Family was introduced in connection with the company's fall advertising program, which will appear from time to time in this newspaper.

Council to Meet
Brown County Home Demonstration Council will meet in the office of Miss Mayes Malone, county home demonstration agent, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

gram. When questioned as to how people could identify the various members of the Penny Family in their homes, Mr. Murphey laid down this rule: Glow Penny does the lighting and operates the radio and clocks; Hotsy Penny looks after the operation of all cooking and heating appliances, such as cookers, toasters, percolators, waffle irons; Coolsy Penny takes care of home cooling, refrigeration, attic ventilation, and Tidy Penny holds sway over the laundry, the vacuum cleaner, the food mixer, the dish washer and sewing machine. The Electric Penny Family will give news and information about the various types of residential electric service; counsel and suggestions about better ways of using electric energy in advertisements that will appear from time to time in this newspaper.

Proving F. D. R. Can Really Angle

New Rayon Fabric Is Being Used in Tube Manufacture

Use of a new material in passenger car tire construction has made possible production of a deluxe casing that far surpasses anything previously offered motorists, according to D. C. Pratt, local dealer for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

"Goodyear has just announced a new Double Eagle tire built of Rayotwist instead of the conventional fabric used in other casings," Mr. Pratt explained. "Rayotwist is a silk-type cord spun from rayon filaments, and is considerably different from ordinary commercial rayon fabric.

4-H Club Activities

Grosvenor 4-H

The Grosvenor 4-H club met at 10:30 Tuesday, August 9, at the club house. Mrs. A. E. Hallford the Grosvenor 4-H club sponsor gave a talk on the poem in our year book. We made arrangements for encampment.

During the business meeting we elected Patsy Hallford as our new song leader. We selected and practiced our stunt for encampment.

Those that were present were Betty Joe and June Chastain, Pauline and Billie Jean Williams, Patsy and Dorothy Joe Hallford, Ruth and Dorothy Mae Furry, Johnnie Purkie, Lela Watton, Calleen and Hazel Moore and sponsor, Mrs. Hallford.

The Grosvenor members who have reached their goals will meet at Mrs. Hallford's house at 9:00 August 15th to leave for encampment.

Zephyr 4-H

The Zephyr 4-H Club girls met at the school house August 15, with their sponsor, Mrs. L. V. Kimmons in charge.

There was an election of new officers at this meeting. The officers elected are: Imogene Powell, president; Mary Ella Cobb, vice president; Mary Frances Glass secretary; Bernice Mills, assistant secretary, and Mrs. Triplett, sponsor.

The club girls are having a party at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. L. V. Kimmons, August 28. There were 12 members and sponsor present at this meeting. The next meeting will be September 7 at the school house.

COMPLETE RETURNS FOR COUNTY GIVEN

Clive Pierce was nominated county superintendent in the only county contest in the August runoff primary, defeating Leslie Griffin. E. S. Thompson was re-nominated county commissioner in precinct 1, and Mayfield Gibbs was nominated in precinct 4. Wayne Weems defeated W. B. Kilgore for constable, precinct 1.

In the new voting box at Early, L. W. Garmon was elected precinct chairman. The new box is a consolidation of Ricker and Jones Chapel.

Brown county voters favored Coke Stevenson for Lieutenant Governor; Gerald Mann for Attorney General; Richard Critz for the Supreme Court; Harry Graves for the Court of Criminal Appeals; C. V. Terrell for Railroad Commissioner; W. H. McDonald for Land Commissioner and Ross Prescott for State Senator. Mann and McDonald were running without the endorsement of W. Lee O'Daniel, gubernatorial nominee.

Following is the complete official returns for Brown county: For Lieutenant Governor: Coke Stevenson, 2893; Pierce Brooks, 2542. For Attorney General: Walter Woodul, 2631; Gerald C. Mann, 2796.

"Clear the Decks" Sale of Used Cars At Weatherby's

Plans for a special "Clear the Decks" sale of used cars and trucks during September were announced today by Weatherby Motor Company, local Ford dealers. "To get ready for fall new car

Fifty Years of Locomotive Development

(Above)—Santa Fe Railway's new 5001-class of freight locomotives is illustrated here in contrast to the modern automobile which appears small enough to fit easily into the engine's firebox. Ten of these mammoth power units capable of 70-mile-per-hour speeds are being placed in service. Their tenders carry 20,000 gallons of water and 23 tons of coal or 7,000 gallons of fuel oil. Nickle-plated steel boilers enable these locomotives to carry a steam pressure of 310 pounds. The engine weighs 440 tons.

Fifty years ago, No. 684 was the latest thing in Santa Fe freight power. She served her heyday when freight train speeds averaged 10 miles per hour and 30 cars made a big train. Today, she is the last survivor of her class. At the Topeka shops she puffs mightily as she shoves her modern sisters, as shown above, around the locomotive shop yards. She came from the Baldwin locomotive works in 1888 just 50 years ahead of No. 5004, which represents the latest engineering developments in steam freight engines.

business we must move as much of our used car and used truck stock as possible," said Mr. Weatherby, Ford dealer, "and to this end we are offering price reductions on all units. Our past used car sales have moved out much of our stock at a definite advantage to used car buyers, and we are confident this sale will be no exception.

"Many of the cars to be offered in the Clear the Decks Sale," said Mr. Weatherby, "will carry the Ford R&G (Renewed and Guaranteed) insignia. A car sold under this nationally known symbol has been renewed, where necessary, to meet strict factory specifications and carries a written, money-back guarantee. R&G applies only to cars up to three years old, which represents the cream of our stock.

MAKE IT A "TRIPLE-SAFE" HOLIDAY

A Happy Trip MEANS A SAFE TRIP WITH Firestone TRIPLE-SAFE TIRES

1 BLOWOUT PROTECTION

Every fiber in every cord in every ply is saturated and coated with liquid rubber by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping which counteracts tire-destroying internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

2 PUNCTURE PROTECTION

Firestone Triple-Safe Tires have two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread which give protection against punctures.

3 NON-SKID SAFETY

The scientifically designed tread of Firestone Triple-Safe Tires stops your car up to 25% quicker which gives protection against skidding.

Before starting your Labor Day trip, come in. Let us show you how inexpensive it is to equip your car with Firestone Triple-Safe Tires.
