A Common Paper For Common People

Small Welcomed By Laboring Classes Of West Texas

Beginning at El Paso, Small Visits Oil Field, Ranches Over Large Area

El Paso, June 7.—Carrying out his promise to discuss his candidacy with voters in every section of the state, Clint C. Small, in the race for governor, completed his far Western swing here Wednesday. Thursday he starts on the long trek toward Dallas, from where he will again go into East Texas for a concerted campaign.

Into the oil fields, making his bouts from spattered rigs, into the speeches to drillers and roustabout country, where he discusses politics with sombered cowpunchers on corral fences and into the more urbane communities of the progressive Far West, Small is building up his voting strength. As he moves into the farming country he finds the plow handle and Ford truck running boards excellent places for prolific discussions of state politics.

Long jumps become part of the daily program in the ranch country with the result that the number of speeches to be made in the daylight hours are of necessity cut down. Usually, however, at least two scheduled addresses are made.

The candidate announced here today that his expectations of support throughout the state are more than reassuring and he anticipates his support to be cumulative as his campaign is carried on between now and election day.

Wherever he has gone spontaneous reference has been made to the benefits accrued from his now famous "land bill", which protects owners in their claims to creek bed properties. This bill became particularly valuable with the discovery of oil in the various sections of Texas.

In all of his addresses Mr. Small has adhered more or less closely to his platform. One point in particular which seems to meet with favor is his criticism of professional politicians attempting to manipulate our state government. He has stated consistently that Texas has suffered immeasurably as the result of certain men, some of them his opponents in the race for governor, using the state government in an effort to build up personal political fortunes.

The candidate is planning to return to Dallas Sunday morning to confer with his East Texas managers. From there he will go to Gainesville and Denton Monday.

Monty Garrison Makes Free Trip to Dayton

Talking of traveling lots and seeing things, that's Monty Garrison, former resident of our city where he was manager of the Utilities company. While in town Friday, Monty was interviewed for a story of his trip to Dayton recently as a guest of his company for having sold his quota of products.

Two pullmans were necessary to carry the number going from Texas after meeting at Dallas. In addition to attending the classes in Dayton, Ohio, headquarters company of the Frigidaire manufacturers, Monty took in the national auto races where he saw a youth of 23 knock down $52,000 as winner in a race, the same fellow having had a Chrysler car stolen the night before announced that he would give the thief the car if he would come before him an acknowledge his guilt.

Among the many things seen on the trip, the one thing that appealed to our friend was the Lindberg exhibit at St. Louis. Of all the gifts to the flier, Monty was surprised to learn that it was a pastboard model airplane of the 'Spirit of St. Louis, made by a lad of eleven years, the model being prominently displayed in the Lindberg collection.

Mr. W. A. Clark, Jr. and Mr. C. E. Batton returned Sunday from Glacier Park where they were seeking to encounter 'ole mister bear' in person, but they had to be contented with seeing the tracks where 'ole mister bear' had been. The weather was very unfavorable for hunting. It rained, sleeted and snowed during their limited stay and as Mr. Clark said bears are like people they like to stay inside during such weather. Five days were spent in making the 1755 miles to the hunting grounds.

The main camp was pitched across the river from Glacier Park and two miles south of the Canadian boundary. One day was spent resting and establishing themselves in their main camp. On the second day seven horses were used to move the camp eighteen miles back into the mountains. Only two days were spent in actual hunting, as Mr. Clark had to be back in Clarendon for the opening of the summer session, the 9th.

Mr. Clark stated that he did not go over into Canada, but that Mr. Batton did step across to enjoy the cooler climate of Canada. Although no bear was taken, the men reported that a great time was enjoyed and that they would pay mister bear another visit later.

Tallest Man Is Center Of Attraction Here Thursday

Man Seven Feet Six Inches in Height Represents an
Enid Drug Firm

Accustomed to attracting the attention of people of all ages, Ray Williams, who represents an Enid, Oklahoma drug firm, joked with a large crowd here Thursday while visiting drug stores.

He gives his height as seven feet and six inches and claims to be the tallest man living. His nearest competitor in height is Tarver of El Paso who is only seven feet four. His age is 23 having been born at Chickasha, Oklahoma November 1, 1907.

He wears a 13 1-4 shoe which is one and a half sizes below regulation size in proportion to his height. His trousers have a waist measure of 42 inches. His hat is a seven and one fourth and gloves take a width of nine and a half inches with a length of eleven and a half inches. His weight is 220 pounds.

His family history throws some light on his extreme height. His grandfather stood 7 feet 2 inches in his socks but his father was 'only' 6 feet five and three-fourths. His grandmother was slightly under height measuring only 6 feet and 8 inches. His mother was the pigmy of the family being 6 feet and a fourth of an inch in height.

He has led a normal life attending school much as any other boy. It was not until 1928 that he saw fit to make the season with the Miller Brothers 101 show. This idea of show life was not especially to his liking and he turned traveling man. Though a young man of excellent character and a good looker, he remains single.

W. P. Cagle and Mrs. and Mrs. Van Kennedy and little daughter attended the Confederate reunion at Biloxi, Mississippi the past week.

On the second day seven horses were used to move the camp eighteen miles back into the mountains. Only two days were spent in actual hunting, as Mr. Clark had to be back in Clarendon for the opening of the summer session, the 9th.

Mr. Clark stated that he did not go over into Canada, but that Mr. Batton did step across to enjoy the cooler climate of Canada. Although no bear was taken, the men reported that a great time was enjoyed and that they would pay mister bear another visit later.

Mr. W. A. Clark, Jr. and Mr. C. E. Batton returned Sunday from Glacier Park where they were seeking to encounter 'ole mister bear' in person, but they had to be contented with seeing the tracks where 'ole mister bear' had been. The weather was very unfavorable for hunting. It rained, sleeted and snowed during their limited stay and as Mr. Clark said bears are like people they like to stay inside during such weather. Five days were spent in making the 1755 miles to the hunting grounds.

The main camp was pitched across the river from Glacier Park and two miles south of the Canadian boundary. One day was spent resting and establishing themselves in their main camp. Panhandle's Oldest Resident Dies Near Martin Saturday

When death came to H. B. Catlett of the Martin community Saturday, he had rounded out his ninety-second milestone, and was credited with being the oldest resident of the Panhandle.

Mr. Catlett came to Donley county more than thirty years ago identified himself with the farming interests of the Green Belt where his labors rewarded him with a competency for his old age.

It may be truthfully said of him that no needy was left unattended, and no sorrowing being but found comfort in his kindness and sympathy. Honor was his girdle and truth his guide. He was a man of strong convictions and slow to change his opinion choosing rather to adhere to the things that appealed to him in younger years.

When the mysterious messenger beckoned him long after his allotted three score and ten, he faced death without a murmur having lived a clean life he died as he had lived. Falling gently to sleep, his knightly soul flew back to the great God who gave it.

Besides his widow, only two children are living at this time. These are Mrs. Jess Davis of Clarendon and Mrs. R. H. Muir of Amarillo.

Mr. W. A. Clark, Jr. and Mr. C. E. Batton returned Sunday from Glacier Park where they were seeking to encounter 'ole mister bear' in person, but they had to be contented with seeing the tracks where 'ole mister bear' had been. SPLINTERS!

There may be splinters in the ladder to success, but you will not notice them unless you are slipping.

CONSOLATION.

In the birth of his latest grandchild, President Hoover may have one consolation. He does not have to get it ratified by the Senate.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY!

The German plumber who made gold out of a lead pipe should come to America where it isn't necessary to go to so much trouble.

BARGAIN MONTH.

This is the month when Cupid sets up his bargain counter to sell a pint of happiness which next month will probably be a peck of trouble. And many a sweet girl is building her dream-cottage without any kitchen in it.

MOODY FOR GOVERNOR.

A hack driver by the name of C. C. Moody of Ft. Worth offers himself upon the political altar of Texas as a candidate for the office of governor. Moody, Moody. Let's see where in the dickens have we heard that name before?

INSTRUCTING ENGLAND.

England might try our plan of robbing their Indians of what they have and parking them on a reservation.

Scandalizing Henry Ford

Reports that Henry Ford has been buying in Wall Street is being denied. His purchases are said to be limited to old fiddles, oxcarts, bum cabs, spinning wheels and baby cribs.

BOOSTING BIRTH COSTS.

A Missouri medical society have decreed that obstretical cases will henceforth be cash. The price has been raised also. It costs a lot to get into the world and more to get out of it. Then if the doctor fails to file a birth certificate, a fellow in after years may not be able to prove that he was ever born.

GONE HAYWIRE!

Of all the fool things that may be expected of a fellow, a Texas democrat seems to be able to cop all the prizes. The latest fad is to "draft" a candidate into the running. From the number being drafted, the candidates so drafted will no doubt wonder what the drafters have got it in for them for, anyhow.

VAULTING THE POLES.

Now since both the north and south poles have been found intact, what are we to do with them? It would seem that all that money could have been far better spent in the establishment of hospitals with an endowment fund for the care of victims resulting from an advanced civilisation.

AUTO DRIVERS' LICENSE.

During Maryland's first year of experience in enforcing her auto drivers' law from January up to June the first, 994 had their licenses suspended; 761 were revoked; 1282 were refused license.

If that law should be enacted in Texas, hot-footers will be so thick on our highways there wouldn't be room to roll a wheelbarrow.

HARD TO PLEASE.

The fact that he was fined for illegal operation of a car without proper license did not so incense the Graham of the State Line Tribune of Farwell, Texas. But the mere fact that the arresting officer was himself a violator of the same law and in addition to that, was not a legally qualified officer, just simply gets Hop's goat.

Are the so-called peace officers members of the ex-judges association?

FIGHTING THE FARM BOARD.

Page ad layouts are being received by many country weeklies signed by "Mr. R. Rawlings, farmer and stockman, Archer, Nebraska," with the suggestion that the paper man get some local responsible farmer sign his name for "Rawlings" and run the page ad.

The advertisement is a savage attack upon the Federal Farm Board accusing them of trying to force agriculture into a class of socialism, etc. Such a statement is wholly misleading and these tricksters should be hunted down and exposed if not prosecuted.

The federal government is seeking to do on a national scale what the farmers have been trying to do on a small scale for years—marketing cooperatively.

FEDERAL FARM BOARD.

Among the many good things endorsed by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at their Abilene meeting recently, was the endorsement of the Federal Farm Board. This probably came by hearing a public talk by Carl Williams of the cotton division who addressed the gathering.

Since the West Texas Chamber as well as a number of local Chambers are aligned with the United States Chamber of Commerce which has carried on a bitter fight against the Farm Board since its inception, we are placed in a position of contributing to a body that sees fit to use our money to fight our interests.

It would appear only fair to the agricultural class to sever connection with the national body until such time as they see fit to give the agricultural interests a square deal. We cannot serve the agricultural interests and their enemies at the same time. Besides, this action upon the part of the national body seriously handicaps the influence of the local chambers in co-operating with those to whom we look for our business.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS.

"There is lawlessness everywhere. Children no longer obey their parents. It is evident that the end of the age is at hand."

That expression was used by one of the leading divines Sunday in preaching to a large congregation of one of the leading churches of Trenton, New Jersey. The pastor was extremely fair with his hearers when he went on to explain that the statement was not original with him. It was taken from the inscription on a brick found in the ruins of ancient Assyria dating back before the time of Abraham.

While present conditions perhaps, are not what they should be, there is more thought being given for the relief of suffering, to the betterment of industrial conditions, to mutual helpfulness and like matters of benefit to humanity than at any period in the history of the world.

The world war gave civilization a severe set-back, but this has been true since history began. War has its mark on the history of mankind in every instance requiring years to overcome its evil influence. Such conditions will obtain so long as good and evil struggle for mastery in the hearts and minds of men.

FREE PUBLICITY.

The political pot in Texas has hardly begun to boil and yet the waste paper baskets of the country weeklies are filled to overflowing already.

Yes, and there is an advertising agency in Cleveland, Ohio that sends out free pictorial dope even without your asking. Most of it carries free advertising under a veil of explanation that is hardly noticeable. Some of the boys cut out the explanation and run the pictures. You would hardly expect it of them, but the New York stock exchange is sending out free publicity dope in stapled pad form up to 128 pages five and a half by eight and a half inches. We might swap them space for a seat on the stock exchange.

Oh my gosh! Here is the Messenger and Bulletin, the medium of gossip of the Texas Press Association carrying an ad for a Texas house that proposes "to furnish a colored supplement made up expressly for the gullible publishers of weeklies adding greatly to the reading value of any home town paper."

The ad says nothing of the fifty percent of ad space contained in the "goat hide" or colored supplement. Who circulates the ads? The weekly paper man. Who gets the pay? The agency that sold him the stuff. Is that all? Not by a dang sight! The 'weakly' paper man pays for the privilege of circulating the sheet in order that the promoter may collect.

Can the supplement be purchased without the advertising? Yes! Why does the 'weakly' paper man persist in buying supplements carrying the "space pirate" dope? Because in giving away forty dollars worth of space he can save five dollars. Is that good business logic? No, he ought to run for governor.

The colored supplement carrying advertising is the most insidious evil confronting the weekly papers of Texas for the simple reason that most of such advertising was formerly carried in the regular country weekly columns at standard rates. If the weeklies will carry the message to the readers free of charge, why should the advertisers use our columns at a cost of several times what they are now paying the colored supplement producer?

MOB INFORMATION.

While all the newspapers of Texas that took occasion to express their views on the actions of recent mob activities condemned it in the severest tones, a number of papers from afar where information is meager and prejudice rampant, have seen fit to jump on Texas with all four feet.

In speaking of the mob action at Sherman, the London Evening Standard said: "Many women removed their dresses to add fuel to the flames that burned the negro while they danced in the streets."

Another article appearing in "Sam Clark's Column" of the Bottineau, N. D. Courant under the heading "Bound for the Promised Land" we find the following:

"Two recent lynchings in Texas have terrorized the colored populace of the Lone Star State and the Jim Crow migration northward is the greatest in history according to the railroads. The segregated colored sections of many Texas towns are almost depopulated; farms and plantations are operating shorthanded and there is real alarm over the migration of colored families northward and westward. If you ask any of the weary travelers on the highways headed north from Texas just where they are going, they'll quickly tell you, "We don't know, we're just getting out of hell and are trying to make our way to God's country, the home of the free." That seems to be the spirit of those who have packed their belongings—all they could not dispose of—and have turned their faces to the north and west. Ask they why they are leaving and they will inform you that they will no longer stay in a state where the government is either indifferent about protecting them or powerless to do so. The fact is, that the colored people are absolutely terrorized by the mob destruction of blacks and they are deserting the "Sunny South" for the "Cold North."

The allegations in the above are too ridiculous to be worthy of attention. As a matter of fact, the better element of negroes condemn the acts of this nature on the part of their own race and frequently aid in their capture.

Negroes pay little attention to such flares of outlawry, and certainly less than the whites. The better element of negroes in the south have nothing to fear and knowing it, merely go ahead with their affairs.

Texas provides a system of schools for the negroes on a par with those of the whites. Some of the largest banks, mercantile houses, factories and farms are owned by negroes. The race is also represented in all trades and professions.

Court delays, incompetent juries and a careless social custom are the cause of mob violence. The fact that the mob victim at Sherman had a copper-colored skin bore unmistakable evidence of a white man's crime almost as hideous as the one for which the victim paid with his life.

BILLIE NELLE PIRTLE BECOMES THE BRIDE OF VESTAL H. LOTT

A wedding of interest throughout the Panhandle and South Plains took place Sunday at 8 o'clock when Miss Billie Nelle Pirtle of Lubbock became the bride of Vestal Lott, also of that city. Both the bride and the groom formerly lived in Amarillo.

The ceremony was read at the home of the bride's sister, Miss Ruth Pirtle, with her father Rev. Z. B. Pirtle officiating.

An altar was improvised of palms and ferns, interspersed with large fan shaped baskets of roses and gladioli. White tapers burned on either side.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Beulah Dunn accompanied on the piano by Miss Mary Dunn, sang "I Love You Truly." Miss Dunn played softly during the ceremony.

The couple entered together and were unattended.

The bride was lovely, in a handsome gown of orchid chiffon, made bouffant style, reaching the floor in the back. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses, showed with lilies of the valley.

A lovely wedding breakfast followed the ceremony after which the young people left on a honeymoon trip to El Paso and Cloudcroft. Mrs. Lott's going away costume was of brown flat crepe with all accessories of tan.

The bride is well known in the Panhandle, having lived in Amarillo for a number of years. She attended Clarendon College, T. W. C. Texas Technological College and received her degree from Boulder University last summer.

Mr. Lott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lott, 1309 Monroe Street, of this city. He attended Clarendon College and the University of Missouri. He is night editor of the Avalanche-Journal at Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Lott, will be at home 2104 1-4 28th Street, Lubbock-Amarillo News.

SPLINTERS!

There may be splinters in the ladder to success, but you will not notice them unless you are slipping.

CONSOLATION.

In the birth of his latest grandchild, President Hoover may have one consolation. He does not have to get it ratified by the Senate.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY!

The German plumber who made gold out of a lead pipe should come to America where it isn't necessary to go to so much trouble.

BARGAIN MONTH.

This is the month when Cupid sets up his bargain counter to sell a pint of happiness which next month will probably be a peck of trouble. And many a sweet girl is building her dream-cottage without any kitchen in it.

MOODY FOR GOVERNOR.

A hack driver by the name of C. C. Moody of Ft. Worth offers himself upon the political altar of Texas as a candidate for the office of governor. Moody, Moody. Let's see where in the dickens have we heard that name before?

INSTRUCTING ENGLAND.

England might try our plan of robbing their Indians of what they have and parking them on a reservation.

Scandalizing Henry Ford

Reports that Henry Ford has been buying in Wall Street is being denied. His purchases are said to be limited to old fiddles, ox-carts, bum cabs, spinning wheels and baby cribs.

BOOSTING BIRTH COSTS.

A Missouri medical society have decreed that obstretical cases will henceforth be cash. The price has been raised also. It costs a lot to get into the world and more to get out of it. Then if the doctor fails to file a birth certificate, a fellow in after years may not be able to prove that he was ever born.

GONE HAYWIRE!

Of all the fool things that may be expected of a fellow, a Texas democrat seems to be able to cop all the prizes. The latest fad is to "draft" a candidate into the running. From the number being drafted, the candidates so drafted will no doubt wonder what the drafters have got it in for them for, anyhow.

VAULTING THE POLES.

Now since both the north and south poles have been found intact, what are we to do with them? It would seem that all that money could have been far better spent in the establishment of hospitals with an endowment fund for the care of victims resulting from an advanced civilization.

AUTO DRIVERS' LICENSE.

During Maryland's first year of experience in enforcing her auto drivers' law from January up to June the first, 994 had their license suspended; 761 were revoked; 1262 were refused license.

If that law should be enacted in Texas, hot-footers will be so thick on our highways there wouldn't be room to roll a wheelbarrow.

HARD TO PLEASE.

The fact that he was fined for illegal operation of a car without proper license did not so incense Hop Graham of the State Line Tribune of Farwell, Texas. But the mere fact that the arresting officer was himself a violator of the same law and in addition to that, was not a legally qualified officer, just simply gets Hop's goat.

Are the so-called peace officers members of the ex-judges association?

FIGHTING THE FARM BOARD.

Page ad layouts are being received by many country weeklies signed by "Mr. R. Rawlings, farmer and stockman, Archer, Nebraska," with the suggestion that the paper man get some local responsible farmer sign his name for "Rawlings" and run the page ad.

The advertisement is a savage attack upon the Federal Farm Board accusing them of trying to force agriculture into a class of socialism, etc. Such a statement is wholly misleading and these tricksters should be hunted down and exposed if not prosecuted.

The federal government is seeking to do on a national scale what the farmers have been trying to do on a small scale for years—marketing cooperatively.

FEDERAL FARM BOARD.

Among the many good things endorsed by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at their Abilene meeting recently, was the endorsement of the Federal Farm Board. This probably came by hearing a public talk by Carl Williams of the cotton division who addressed the gathering.

Since the West Texas Chamber as well as a number of local Chambers are aligned with the United States Chamber of Commerce which has carried on a bitter fight against the Farm Board since its inception, we are placed in a position of contributing to a body that sees fit to use our money to fight our interests.

It would appear only fair to the agricultural class to sever connection with the national body until such time as they see fit to give the agricultural interests a square deal. We cannot serve the agricultural interests and their enemies at the same time. Besides, this action upon the part of the national body seriously handicaps the influence of the local chambers in co-operating with those to whom we look for our business.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS.

"There is lawlessness everywhere. Children no longer obey their parents. It is evident that the end of the age is at hand."

That expression was used by one of the leading divines Sunday in preaching to a large congregation of one of the leading churches of Trenton, New Jersey. The pastor was extremely fair with his hearers when he went on to explain that the statement was not original with him. It was taken from the inscription on a brick found in the ruins of ancient Assyria dating back before the time of Abraham.

While present conditions perhaps, are not what they should be, there is more thought being given for the relief of suffering, to the betterment of industrial conditions, to mutual helpfulness and like matters of benefit to humanity than at any period in the history of the world.

The world war gave civilization a severe set-back, but this has been true since history began. War has set its mark on the history of mankind in every instance requiring years to overcome its evil influence. Such conditions will obtain so long as good and evil struggle for mastery in the hearts and minds of men.

FREE PUBLICITY.

The political pot in Texas has hardly begun to boil and yet the waste paper baskets of the country weeklies are filled to overflowing already.

Yes, and there is an advertising agency in Cleveland, Ohio that sends out free pictorial dope even without your asking. Most of it carries free advertising under a veil of explanation that is hardly noticeable. Some of the boys cut out the explanation and run the pictures. You would hardly expect it of them, but the New York stock exchange is sending out free publicity dope in stapled pad form up to 128 pages five and a half by eight and a half inches. We might swap them space for a seat on the stock exchange.

Oh my gosh! Here is the Messenger and Bulletin, the medium of gossip of the Texas Press Association carrying an ad for a Texas house that proposes "to furnish a colored supplement made up expressly for the gullible publishers of weeklies adding greatly to the reading value of any home town paper."

The ad says nothing of the fifty percent of ad space contained in the "goat hide" or colored supplement. Who circulates the ads? The weekly paper man. Who gets the pay? The agency that sold him the stuff. Is that all? Not by a dang sight! The 'weakly' paper man pays for the privilege of circulating the sheet in order that the promoter may collect.

Can the supplement be purchased without the advertising? Yes! Why does the 'weakly' paper man persist in buying supplements carrying the "space pirate" dope? Because in giving away forty dollars worth of space he can save five dollars. Is that good business logic? No, he ought to run for governor.

The colored supplement carrying advertising is the most insidious evil confronting the weekly papers of Texas for the simple reason that most of such advertising was formerly carried in the regular country weekly columns at standard rates. If the weeklies will carry the message to the readers free of charge, why should the advertisers use our columns at a cost of several times what they are now paying the colored supplement producer?

MOB INFORMATION.

While all the newspapers of Texas that took occasion to express their views on the actions of recent mob activities condemned it in the severest tones, a number of papers from afar where information is meager and prejudice rampant, have seen fit to jump on Texas with all four feet.

In speaking of the mob action at Sherman, the London Evening Standard said: "Many women removed their dresses to add fuel to the flames that burned the negro while they danced in the streets."

Another article appearing in "Sam Clark's Column" of the Bottineau, N. D. Courant under the heading "Bound for the Promised Land" we find the following:

"Two recent lynchings in Texas have terrorized the colored populace of the Lone Star State and the Jim Crow migration northward is the greatest in history according to the railroads. The segregated colored sections of many Texas towns are almost depopulated; farms and plantations are operating shorthanded and there is real alarm over the migration of colored families northward and westward. If you ask any of the weary travelers on the highways headed north from Texas just where they are going, they'll quickly tell you, 'We don't know, we're just getting out of hell and are trying to make our way to God's country, the home of the free.' That seems to be the spirit of those who have packed their belongings—all they could not dispose of—and have turned their faces to the north and west. Ask them why they are leaving and they will inform you that they will no longer stay in a state where the government is either indifferent about protecting them or powerless to do so. The fact is, that the colored people are absolutely terrorized by the mob destruction of blacks and they are deserting the "Sunny South" for the Cold North."

The allegations in the above are too ridiculous to be worthy of attention. As a matter of fact, the better element of negroes condemn the acts of this nature on the part of their own race and frequently aid in their capture.

Negroes pay little attention to such flares of outlawry, and certainly less than the whites. The better element of negroes in the south have nothing to fear and knowing it, merely go ahead with their affairs.

Texas provides a system of schools for the negroes on a par with those of the whites. Some of the largest banks, mercantile houses, factories and farms are owned by negroes. The race is also represented in all trades and professions.

Court delays, incompetent juries and a careless social custom are the cause of mob violence. The fact that the mob victim at Sherman had a copper-colored skin bore unmistakable evidence of a white man's crime almost as hideous as the one for which the victim paid with his life.

BILLIE NELLE PIRTLE BECOMES THE BRIDE OF VESTAL H. LOTT

A wedding of interest throughout the Panhandle and South Plains took place Sunday at 8 o'clock when Miss Billie Nelle Pirtle of Lubbock became the bride of Vestal Lott, also of that city. Both the bride and the groom formerly lived in Amarillo.

The ceremony was read at the home of the bride's sister, Miss Ruth Pirtle, with her father Rev. Z. B. Pirtle officiating.

An altar was improvised of palms and ferns, interspersed with large fan shaped baskets of roses and gladioli. White tapers burned on either side.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Beulah Dunn accompanied on the piano by Miss Mary Dunn, sang "I Love You Truly." Miss Dunn played softly during the ceremony.

The couple entered together and were unattended.

The bride was lovely, in a handsome gown of orchid chiffon, made bouffant style, reaching the floor in the back. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses, showered with lilies of the valley.

THE ALL DAY PROGRAM A SUCCESS

The First Christian church celebrated the Nineteen hundredth birthday of the church with an all day program. The morning service was carried out according to a program that was being used by churches all around the world. Dinner was served in the basement of the church and at this session several of the ladies brought messages on Pentecostal themes. The afternoon session was well attended and the evening service proved to be the greatest of the day. In the evening sermon, The Church of the First Century" Rev. W. E. Ferrell, the pastor of the church, gave the history of the Church as revealed in the New Testament and showed how many people today are following tradition and not the Divinely give plan of the church and its program. He made a strong plea for Christians, followers of God, to return to the teachings of the early church and to give up all human doctrines for the sake of Christ and His church.

OUR WEEKLY CHURCH CHAT
 "The Omnipotent God."
 The Christian world does not talk enough about God. If our conversation were analyzed, it would be discovered that we talk about almost everything under the sun but our relation to the Creator. In this our day, we are getting away from this form of testimony. The dumb spirit or demon seems to have taken possession of many of our churches and their members. Some one has said, "many are like the rivers that flow into the North Sea, they are frozen at the mouth." In spiritual matters they are frozen, or tongue-tied; upon other things their tongues seem to be tied, but tied in the middle, wagging both ways. A person can always talk upon the things or subjects in which they are interested. That will be upon their lips which is uppermost in the mind. If the men of the world, and of the church as well believed that the words, "Thou God seest me," are really true, this generation would experience the greatest moral and spiritual awakening of all time. What a sobering thought it is that is impossible to escape from the presence of God. You may go into the valleys and you will see the fingerprints of God upon the petals of the lilies. You may go down into the very depths of the earth, and the very stones cry aloud and proclaim His presence. You may go into the mountains, and the giant trees of the forest whisper of the greatness of His power. You may make your way out into space and even there, "The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth His handiwork." "Whither shall I go from thy spirit? Or whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold thou art there. If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me. If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me; even the night shall be a light about me. Yea the darkness hideth not from thee; but the night shineth as day, the darkness and the light are both alike to thee, Pra. 139:7-12. Knowing and realizing the Omnipotence and Omnipresence of God, we feel that our Sunday morning sermon, "Serving God With What We Have" and the Sunday evening sermon on, "Five Fatal Mistakes a Business Man Made," will be of benefit to you. We feel these sermons, will set you to thinking and talking about God and the important questions of life. Come, study and worship with us Sunday. W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

 G. L. Boykin, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, attended a state convention of secretaries at Plainview Friday. Sixty three Texas and New Mexico towns were represented at the gathering.

SERVING MANY BUSINESSES

Experience of large fleet owners reveals the unusual reliability and economy of the new Ford

A SIGNIFICANT TRIBUTE to the value of the new Ford is found in its increasing use by Federal, state and city governments and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most instances, the Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests of every factor that contributes to good performance—speed, power, safety, comfort, low cost of operation and up-keep, reliability and long life.

Prominent among the companies using the Ford are the Associated Companies of the Bell System, Armour and Company, The Borden Company, Continental Baking Corporation, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, General Electric Company, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Kellogg Company, Knickerbocker Ice Company, Morton Salt Company, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, The Procter and Gamble Company, and Swift & Company.

Each of these companies uses a large number of Ford cars and trucks. The Associated Companies of the Bell System use more than eight thousand.

Modern business moves at a fast pace and it needs the Ford. Daily, in countless ways and places, it helps to speed the production and delivery of the world's goods and extend the useful service of men and companies.

Constant, steady operation over many thousands of miles emphasizes the advantages of the sound design of the Ford car, its high quality of materials, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing. Beneath its graceful lines and beautiful colors there is a high degree of mechanical excellence.

An example of the value built into the Ford is the use of more than twenty ball and roller bearings. They are hidden within the car and you may never see them. Yet they play an important part in satisfactory, economical performance. Their function is similar to the jewels of a fine watch.

Throughout the Ford chassis, a ball or roller bearing is used at every place where it is needed to reduce friction and wear and give smooth, reliable mechanical operation.

At many points, as on the transmission counter-shaft, clutch release fan and pump shaft, and front drive shaft, these ball and roller bearings are used where less costly types of bearings might be considered adequate.

Additional instances of the high quality built into the Ford are the extensive use of steel forgings, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, Rustless Steel, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, and the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield.

The Ford policy has always been to use the best possible material for each part and then, through large production, give it to the public at low cost.

THE DYING COWBOY.

"Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie!"
 These words came low and mournfully
 From the pallid lips of a youth who lay
 On his dying bed at the close of the day.
 He had walled in pain till o'er his brow
 Death's shadows fast were gathering now;
 He thought of his home and his loved ones nigh.
 As the cowboys gathered to see him die.
 "Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie,
 Where the wild coyotes will howl o'er me.
 In a narrow grave just six by three,
 Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie."
 "In fancy I listen to the well-known words
 Of the free, wild winds and the song of the birds;
 I think of the cottage home in the bower
 And the scenes I loved in my childhood's hour.
 "It matters not, I've oft been told,
 Where the body lies when the heart grows cold;
 Yet grant, oh, grant, this wish to me.
 Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie."
 "Then bury me not on the lone prairie,
 In a narrow grave six foot by three.
 Where the buffalo paws o'er the prairie sea,
 Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie."
 "I've always wished to be laid when I died
 In a little churchyard on the green hillside;
 By my father's grave there let mine be
 And bury me not on the lone prairie."
 "Let my death slumber be where my mother's prayer
 And a sister's tear will mingle there.
 Where my friends can come and weep o'er me;
 And bury me not on the lone prairie."
 "Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie,
 In a narrow grave just six by three,
 Where the blizzard waits and the wind blows free.
 Then bury me not on the lone prairie."
 "There is another whose tears may be shed
 For one who lies on a prairie bed;
 It pained me then and it pains me now—
 She has curled these locks and she has kissed this brow.
 "These locks she has curled, shall the rattlesnake kiss?
 This brow she has kissed, shall the cold grave press?
 For the sake of the loved one that will weep for me,
 Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie."
 "Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie,
 Where the wild coyotes will howl o'er me.
 Where the blizzard beats and the wind goes free,
 Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie."

prairie.
 "Oh, bury me not," and his voice failed there,
 But took no heed of his dying prayer;
 In a narrow grave just six by three
 We buried him there on the lone prairie.
 Where the dewdrops glow and the butterflies rest,
 And the low flowers bloom o'er the prairie's crest;
 Where the wild coyote and the winds sport free
 On a wet saddle blanket lay a cowboy-ee.
 "Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie,
 Where the wild coyotes will howl o'er me
 Where the rattlesnakes hiss and the crow flies free.
 Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie."
 Oh, we buried him there on the lone prairie,
 Where the wild rose blooms and the wind blows free.
 Oh, his young face never more to see,
 For we buried him there on the lone prairie.
 Yes we buried him there on the lone prairie,
 Where the owl at night hoots mournfully,
 And the blizzard beats and the winds blow free.
 O'er his lowly grave on the lone prairie.
 And the cowboys now as they roam the plain—
 For they marked the spot where his bones were lain—
 Flung a handful of roses o'er his grave,
 With a prayer to Him who his soul will save.
 Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie,
 Where the wolves can howl and growl o'er me;
 Flung a handful of roses o'er my grave
 With a prayer to Him who my soul will save."

 Someone has advanced the opinion that the letter "e" is the most unfortunate character in the English alphabet, because it is always out of cash, forever in debt, never out of danger, and in hell all the time. But we call his attention to the fact that "e" is never in war and always in peace. It is the beginning of existence, the commencement of ease and the end of trouble. Without it there would be no meat, no life, and no heaven. It is the center of honesty, makes love perfect, and without it there would be no editors, devils nor news. It gets in Chevrolet twice, once in the Dodge, but never in a Ford.

 —Union County Leader.

Kenneth Riley is Buried Here Friday

After a short illness of pneumonia, Kenneth, the twenty year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Riley residing on the Forrest Sawyer place north of town, died Thursday and was buried in the Citizens cemetery Friday.

Services were conducted by Rev. W. E. Ferrell, at the Christian church at eleven o'clock. The deceased was a young man of industrious habits and was well liked by all those who knew him. The sorrowing family has the sincere sympathy of the entire neighborhood in their sad bereavement.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

The services Sunday were marked by evidences of the Spirit working in the hearts of the congregation. The pastor brought two messages designed to challenge the Christian to a higher plane of Christian living, to more effective service for Christ. The subject for the morning was "The Harvest Fields", that for the evening "The Easy Way", the way of obedience to the will of God, and therefore of fellowship with Him.

The special aim for the B. Y. P. U.'s for June is growing through Christian Fellowship. Groups have been putting that aim into practice by visitation in the interest of the S. S. and B. Y. P. U., the Church as a whole. And they have been finding real adventures in Christian fellowship. There were 90 of these enthusiastic young people present Sunday evening.

Tuesday, with the Martin Baptist Church as hostess, the Monthly Workers Meeting was held. The program centered around making permanent the forward steps taken during the recent Associational S. S. enlargement Campaign.

AN AGED COAT

An aged coat hang behind the door
For time has changed they wear me no more.
My vest and trousers more popular than I
I'll hang here for days before I will sigh.
I was made from the best wool at all
The sheep were raised and my master call.
Me serge of the best navy blue
And when I went out was dressed up to.
I don't see why I hang here in shame
I've done not a thing to spoil my name.
My button holes good my buttons
in place
As for trousers and vest I have not a trace.
The Mrs. has planned to make a comfort or quilt
Out of old wool rags is the warmest built.
In gathering the rags all for the call
I hang there silently on the wall.
Please kind lady move me around
Or give me to the poor of the town.
Shake me, sun me turn me about
I'm as good as new to keep the wind out.
I'd rather be worn or sold at a sale
Than to hang here and my color
turn pale.
Or make me into a rug warm and rare
And enter me in at the county fair.
So the aged coat looked worried
and wild
For he was burned in a rubbish
pile.
His troubles all ended he grieves
there no more
As when hung by himself behind the door.
Composed by Mrs. W. A. Hughes.
