Wheat Growers Advised Cut Acreage Amarillo Meet

More Than Legge And Hyde Needed to Place Grain On Feet Again

A number of local people from Donley county attended the grain meeting at Amarillo Friday, among them was County Agent T. R. Brown. In all the speeches made, it was clearly shown that overproduction was causing most of the grain grower's trouble. "Organize. Conduct your own businesslike efficient industrial concerns; control your markets; fight your own battles" was the suggestion of Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of the U. S. department of Agriculture. The speaker compared the production of this nation with that of other nations and asked his hearers if they wanted to be placed on a parity with the Russian peasant. He also made it plain that government loans could not be made to individuals, but must be made to associations or groups of dirt farmers. The remarks of Chairman Legge of the Farm Board and O. B. Martin of the A & M Extension Board were practically along the lines given by Mr. Hyde. Grain growers learned nothing new most of them already having made up their minds that a curtailment of production was necessary. Growers of other commodities were present to learn of the government plan of action.

Compensation Blanks Ready For Disabled Soldiers

Veterans of the World War who think they are entitled to compensation under the new law, may secure blanks by applying to their Post Commander. The old act was amended July 23rd of last year and hundreds of veterans are taking advantage of the opportunity to make filings at this time.

Negro Murders White Woman Friday Near Shamrock

Attacks Lone Woman With Gas Pipe Crushing Her Head Causing Death

Word reached Clarendon late Friday evening that a mob was gathering in Collingsworth and Wheeler counties to wreak vengeance on a negro charged with the murder of a white woman, Mrs. Henry Vaughan by name. It is said that about ten o'clock Friday morning a negro on horseback appeared at the Vaughan home. Mrs. Vaughan with her daughter of three years was in the yard. When the negro made the attack the little tot was sent by her mother to tell Mr. Vaughan working in the field a half mile distant. Another child was coming to the house at this time for water and found his mother lying in a pool of blood. The husband rushed the injured woman to a Shamrock hospital where she died about three o'clock without regaining consciousness. Sheriff Claud McKinney had been notified at Wellington and after a short time arrested a young negro hidden in a shack about a mile from the Vaughan home. The negro bore marks of an encounter but explained the matter by saying that he had been thrown into the wire fence by the horse he was riding. A large crowd soon gathered intent on taking the life of the negro and it was only by a mere chance that the sheriff eluded the posse and escaped with the negro into Oklahoma. It was later learned that the negro was taken to Granite and placed in the state penal institution there for safe keeping. There is an aroused sentiment against negroes in that section but it is thought that cooler heads will prevail on the indignant leaders to permit the matter to be settled in the courts.

Railroad Companies Reduce Tax Valuations

In looking over the County Assessor's roll it is noted that the valuations rendered by both the Rock Island and Denver are some what lower than last year, or $90,121.00 less to be exact. These valuations were received here by the Assessor after the County Commissioners had met as an Equalization Board, evidently for the purpose to avoid the valuations that might have been set by the Board. It is said that local authorities expected no change in the valuations. County reditions for 1929 totaled $7,866,213. This year the total is slightly less, being $7,811,513. Property valuations for the Clarendon Independent school district amounts to $3,392,743 with the new districts added to date. This does not include the property value of the holdings of the West Texas Utilities company now pending.

Graves Will Speak Here Friday For Young

Hon. Harry N. Graves of Williamson county, one of Texas' most gifted orators and well versed in politics of the state, will speak in Clarendon Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in behalf of the candidacy of Jim Young, candidate for the governorship. He will speak at Tulia the 16th, Amarillo the 17th, Memphis the 18th in his tour of the Plains, he having covered the South Plains section the past week. While here Monday of this week, Mr. Graves stated that he realized that he was in a small territory, but felt that his candidacy was entitled to all the votes not cast for Small.

Negroes Leave Shamrock Hurriedly After Warning

Stirring scenes in Shamrock Saturday are related by visitors from Clarendon who had gone over to learn of the tragedy first hand. At the time when the church was filled with friends of the stricken family of the woman murdered the day before cars were circulating over "the flats" posting placards warning negroes to leave before another sunrise. Men were seen to leave the Methodist church where Rev. R. N. Huckabee, the pastor, was speaking comforting words in the presence of the body of Mrs. Vaughan, going direct to the negro section. It was feared for a time that mob rule would break at any moment. Sheriff W. K. McLemore of Wheeler county counseled with leading citizens and asked that their better judgment prevail. Deputies in number mingled with their neighbors and friends and counseled against an outbreak, and especially since the negroes were leaving hastily. Some of the blacks threw their belongings on autos, others did not wait to see any of their effects and others walked out of town for the want of any better method of getting into Oklahoma. Negro quarters was almost depopulated by mid-afternoon. Those not leaving were making hasty preparations. White men in number were present to demand an exodus in plain determined language. There were no boisterous outcries. The blacks showed no resentment asking only for time to make preparations to leave. When the news of a confession made by the negro, Washington, charged with the crime, to District Attorney Mahan during Friday night, reached the town, cars hurried to the scene of the murder believing that the negro had been returned there to explain details of the crime. These men found Sheriff McKinney of Collingsworth county at the seat of the crime collecting evidence including bloody clothing

Clarendon Motorcade Will Visit Martin Next

Secretary G. L. Boykin of the local Chamber of Commerce announces that the next community visit of Clarendon citizens will be made to the Martin schoolhouse Thursday evening of this week. No statement is forthcoming as to the character of program that has been planned for this meeting, but it is to be presumed that it will be along the line of what has been offered at a number of other places, and that the H. D. club ladies will serve refreshments.

Congressman Marvin Jones Visits Donley Voters

The voters of Donley county were again paid a visit Monday of this week by Congressman Marvin Jones of this district, who is a nephew of R. H. (Bob) Jones of Hedley, his only relative in the district. Mr. Jones has become known as one of the leading men of the nation by reason of his sincere efforts in behalf of the agricultural producers in finding more methods of manufacture thus increasing a bigger demand for cotton. As a member of the Agricultural Committee, Mr. Jones has made speeches on that subject repeatedly in the national house, has written articles and otherwise passed out helpful information to farmers over the nation. Congressman Jones has a large number of appreciative friends in Donley county who will take pleasure in seeing that he is again returned to Washington

Civic Bodies Back City Park Idea At Meet Friday

Number of Citizens Request City Property be Used for Park Purposes

At a meeting held at the City Hall Friday afternoon, a number of representative citizens met with the City fathers pledging support of their organizations in an effort to raise funds for the creation of a park on the two blocks of land owned by the City on the ditch east and northeast of the South Ward school building. Representatives from the Business Women's, Lions and Rotary clubs were present as well as a representative from the Legion and Chamber of Commerce. Those present were enthusiastic in their belief that a plan can be worked out whereby a public playground is possible for Clarendon. It is planned to terrace down the hill at the northeast corner of the ground, concrete and straighten out the ditch, build rustic bridges and two large bathing pools. The Parent-Teacher, Pathfinder and other clubs have pledged their support it is reported and with this backing, the city officials believe that the matter can become one of the cities chief assets within the near future. The location was inspected by Mayor Taylor and John T. Sims in company with a number of citizens, and tentative plans outlined. The matter will be brought to the attention of the various civic bodies next week and further plans made.

Farmer Sells Variety Cash Products Past Week

W. F. Shannon, enterprising farmer of the Goldston community the past week marketed wild plums and chickens at Groom. He received $1.25 per bushel for the plums and 17 cents for the friers. He has also been supplying local merchants with snap peas of the black eye variety at five cents per pound. The peas are paying handsomely and our farmer friend regrets that he did not plant more as he had no idea of planting for market and has only a fraction of an acre. His apple crop is a failure this season due to the extremely cold weather in January. He sold large quantities in the oil field last season and also sold a large quantity of sweet cider made from the wind falls.

Slower Brings Salary Suit Against Estate of Bivins

Claims Salary as Promised Is Never Paid in Effort to Establish School

According to a news item appearing in the Sunday issue of the Amarillo News, Dr. Geo. S. Slover has brought suit against the Bivins estate alleging a non-payment of back salary to the amount of $1500. It is alleged in the article that Dr. Slover made a deal with Mr. Bivins to use his best efforts in securing a Methodist college at Amarillo following the abandonment of the old Clarendon college here. It is alleged that Dr. Slover is contending that the salary of $500 was to be paid him monthly, and that nothing was ever paid him, Mr. Bivins dying a few months after the agreement was made. Miles and Julian Bivins are said to be executors of the estate with Mrs. Bivins, the estate amounting to several million dollars including property in Amarillo, ranch lands, bank stock, etc. Dr. Slover was for some 28 years president of Clarendon college. Going from here to Amarillo, he spent many months in an effort to secure a Methodist college in the Panhandle. Despite ill health and serious handicaps, he is said to have continued his efforts until all hope had been abandoned for the establishment of the school.

Two Seriously Injured Sunday In Car Collision

Cars Come Together With Great Force Pinning On Beneath

Two fatalities were narrowly averted late Sunday evening when a Chevrolet driven by Cecil Dyer collided with Ford coupe driven by Hollis Leathers at the intersection of the streets at the Cal Merchant home in the southwest part of town. The Ford was occupied by Hollis Leathers as driver, and John Blocker and Hum Halle, was completely overturned and demolished pinning Hollis beneath the other boys in the car. Hollis received a blow on the head said to have produced a concussion besides serious injuries to his stomach. He was otherwise badly bruised and was taken to Adair hospital an unconscious condition. The other boys in the car escaped with minor cuts and bruises. He is improving at this time and is said to be in a fair way to recover. The Chevrolet was badly wrecked and the lone occupant received a broken collar bone. His other arm had been paralyzed since falling from a tree several months ago. He was taken to the Vestal Smith home where he is slowly improving.

Sterling Visits Clarendon Making Speech

R. S. Sterling, candidate for the office of governor and a resident of Houston, came down from Amarillo this morning (Tuesday) and met several local voters on the street.

James Kimbell Died at Home of Parents in California

James Kimbell, manager of the local Kimbell gin in the east edge of town died Tuesday at the home of his parents in California, where he had gone with a brother from Groesbeck after doctors had warned him that death was but a matter of a short time. His trouble started from a bruise on a mole on his leg some months ago. The wound was promptly treated and when it did not heal, the mole was removed. Septic poisoning resulted and as it spread over his body, physicians saw no hope for him. Realizing that death was near, he journeyed to where his parents lived and there spent the few remaining days of his life. His death will be learned here with much regret by his legion of friends.

Bishop Boaz Preaches Here Thursday Evening

Rev. Sam E. Allison, pastor of the Methodist church, announces that Bishop H. A. Boaz will arrive here Thursday morning from Amarillo and will confer with the ministers of this district followed by a luncheon at noon. He will also preach at the Methodist church that evening at 8:15. Bishop Boaz has charge of the episcopal districts of North Texas, Texas and Northwest Texas, was formerly president of S. M. U. and is one of the outstanding ministers of Methodism.

Former Hedley Poetess Gets Recognition Abroad

A poem written by Mrs. Marguerite Adamson Gibson of Amarillo appears in the last issue of the Mitre Press, a magazine of poetry published in London, England. Mrs. Gibson formerly lived at Hedley and has devoted much of her spare moments the past few years to writing verse. A number of her best poems have appeared in poetry magazines in Texas and other states the past few months.

Children Enjoy Story Hour Tuesday

New Officers Are Elected Hedley Commercial Club

Organization Composed of Men Who Contribute Time, Money For Improvement

Although less than a year has elapsed since the organization of the Hedley Commercial Club, much has been accomplished to cement the friendship of her citizens and solidify energy. In the last meeting of the Club a new set of officers were elected to serve the remainder of the year. Chas. M. Lowry assumes the responsibility of president being advanced from the position of secretary of the organization. Edd Mosley is the new vice president and Ansil Adamson is the new secretary and also will perform the offices of treasurer. Of the Board of Directors, R. E. Mann, J. W. Noel, Zeb Mitchell and L. E. Thompson will direct the destinies of the Club. It will be noted that the official family is composed of leading citizens engaged in a wide variety of endeavor including many trades and professions. This fact will enable the Club to exercise a broad viewpoint and to properly judge of the needs and problems of the town and country it is said. The membership has received the cooperation of surrounding sections in their effort to secure a highway from Lakeview to Hedley, the biggest task yet undertaken by the Club and which it is claimed will be of great benefit to both towns and the surrounding country affected.

Sick Man's Neighbors Hoe Out His Crop Friday

Once again the public learns of an act of applied Christianity when the neighbors of A. A. Smith of the Ashtola community gathered Friday and hoed out 57 acres of crop. Twenty-one worked until noon and 18 in the afternoon until the job was complete saving the owner about $60 in hoeing expense had he hired the work done. Mr. Smith was knocked down by a traveling auto some weeks ago and received a broken leg. Since that time he has been confined to a Memphis hospital where it has been necessary to reset the bones the third time. Terry Smith came into the Ledger office Saturday and stated that his father would no doubt recover much sooner when he learned of the kind act of his friends. It is believed that he can be removed to the home of his son during the week.

Federal Postal Building Possible in Clarendon

Some mention has been made during the past few years of a federal postoffice building in Clarendon. This fact may be realized sooner than we think since postal receipts at the local office are steadily increasing. When receipts have reached eighteen thousand, we are in line for making a request for an appropriation. We lack only a few hundred dollars of that amount for the past year. Could we get the cooperation of merchants, tire dealers and others in spending the direct-by-mail postage money here instead of in some eastern city, the federal building would be possible. Until we have that cooperation, the public will have to wait until the natural receipts grow to the required amount.

Five Thousand Attend Small Rally Friday Night

"All for Small" Cries Are Heard as Bands Played Patriotic Airs

Senators Pink Parrish of Lubbock and Senator Carl Hardin of Dallas were the speakers at the Small rally held on the courthouse lawn at Amarillo Friday night. Grover Hill presided over the gathering. Wellington, McLean and Shamrock bands began playing a round robin concert on the lawn round seven o'clock. The Clarendon band had just finished a tour of the city playing as they marched over the streets headed by bandmaster Gus E. Stephenson and Homer Mulkey. The Wellington band broadcast over station KGRS after ten o'clock and was plainly heard by many local citizens eager to keep up with the big doings of the Argonne of the Plains. Odos Caraway, president of the Clarendon Small for Governor club and Mulkey, Jay, Nobles and others led out their enthusiasm and cheered for their favorite candidate. Wellington's delegation of 150 from Small's home town started a "jamboree" over the streets that caused the police to disperse with efforts of enforcing traffic regulations. Others joined in and the thousands from over the Panhandle joined with Wellington in marching and cheering. Telegrams were read from Small and Lynch Davidson. There seemed little doubt in the estimation of the leaders that Small would not lead by odds in the first primary. At the time this meeting was being held, seven similar meetings were being held in widely separated sections of the state. It is the candid opinion of Senator Pink Parrish, that with the support being given Small by his colleagues over the state, that his vote in East Texas will be as great as West Texas. Among the other men from here accompanying the band were C. G. Speed, Buel Sanford, G. A. McCleskey, Jack Killough and I. O. Noble.

Demonstration Clubs Donley County Pic-Nic Friday

Annual Event Includes All Clubs in All-Day Program And Various Contests

The annual pic-nic of all the Home Demonstration clubs of the county including both women and girls will again be held at Lella Lake Friday of this week. Efforts are being put forth to induce all clubs to send representatives with a view of breaking all attendance records of previous years. Most all of the clubs have already announced their intention of being present with a full membership. The program will begin about ten o'clock in the morning with various clothing contests which will consume the time up to the noon hour. A number of tables will be made ready to accommodate the bounteous culinary skill that has always proven to be the most interesting part of these programs. Husbands and sons are also privileged to attend. The men folks take some interest in other parts of the programs, but are said to be especially enthusiastic when the "cats" are spread. Each lady is expected to take a well-filled basket. There is plenty of shade and ice water will be provided as in years past. All candidates are invited to be present at this meeting which is to be held at the Cottingham camp grounds. Republicans Primary Will be Held July 26th

Republicans Primary Will be Held July 26th

The Republicans of Donley county will vote on state candidates of their party July 26th in compliance with the state primary law. The voting place is designated as the Director's Room of the Donley County State Bank. Republicans from over the entire county are asked to vote at this place as voting boxes will be by precinct.

R. E. Drennon Presides At Rotary Luncheon Friday

President Jenkins Makes Ex- pression Seeking Out Latent Talent

President B. L. Jenkins has decided upon a novel method of testing out and training the membership of the Rotary club by entrusting his duties to various individuals during luncheon hour. The first to fall a victim of the new regime was R. E. Drennon who presided at Friday's luncheon. It so happened that Mr. Drennon was also forced to assume leadership in the song service during the absence of Robt. S. Cope, since Mr. Drennon is assistant song leader. He was saved some embarrassment in his multiple of duties because of the absence of several critical members: J. C. Estlack as chairman of the Club Service committee assisted with the program. Dr. Harter was present as a guest of Dr. Oscar L. Jenkins and expressed his pleasure at meeting with the Rotarians. Judge W. T. Link was also present as a guest of Dr. B. L. Jenkins and enlivened the membership with a number of harmless jokes and witty remarks. Secretary Curry C. Powell gave a few pointers on the recent meeting of presidents and secretaries at Abilene which he and President Jenkins attended returning Tuesday previous. President Jenkins has promised a full report of the Abilene meeting next Friday which will be looked forward to with much interest. The matter of a city park was discussed by several since civic clubs of the town are asked to cooperate with the City in the establishment of such a playground. Mr. Powell met with the City Dads Friday and will give a report on the matter next Friday during the luncheon hour.

EATING WATERMELON
Does one eat watermelon or drink it? Some one helpfully suggests that it is inhaled with a 'stir-r-p' which probably accounts for the fact that many a kid has been strangled on it while watching both ends of the lane.

BILLBOARD SCENERY.
Billboards are read only by slow-poke drivers. How many have you seen on the highway? Billboards mar the scenery and in some instances at corners obstruct the view of the driver causing wrecks. Why not tax billboards just the same as any other property?

TOURIST ATTRACTION.
The tourist boosters of the Black Hills of Dakota invited Al Capone to spend the summer with them. He refused on account of peeing business in Florida it is said. Amos 'n Andy were next invited. Should they be unwilling to attract tourists for these enterprising gentlemen, we just wonder if Will Rogers will be invited.

YOUR HOME MERCHANT.
In order to unload and meet changing conditions, the larger mailorder houses will soon be on the installment plan drygoods and every other commodity offered by them in their general catalogs. The home merchant who does not tell the public about his bargains will be overlooked in the mad scramble for business. Conditions are changing rapidly these days. Prices are going down. The merchant must clear his shelves and do it now—tomorrow may be too late. The home merchant has better bargains in the main than the mail order houses but the public may never know it. It just depends on how much space he uses in telling them about it. The people never have quit buying necessities and some luxuries, and it is a mere matter of telling them where it may be had.

HOW COME?
Recently a citizen of Clarendon had occasion to move out of his home while temporary repairs were being made. Along with his household effects, the gas man moved the gas meter. The electric light man moved the light meter. The telephone company's outside man moved the telephone. All good and well.

When it came to time to move back home, the process of moving meters and phone box was repeated. When the first of the month rolled around, this citizen received a bill from the phone company for $2.00 for the cost of moving the phone. Neither of the other companies asked pay for moving the meters.

Our good citizen not wishing to "short-pot" even a corporation, asked the electric and gas office managers if they had not overlooked charging him for the service rendered. He was informed that no charges were made for such service.

Since it is the telephone company's policy to "gig" a customer to the tune of $2 for a slight service, we are wondering just why it was not $4 for having moved the phone box twice. No wonder our citizens refuse to buy stock in a corporation that "bleeds" the home folks for every penny possible giving nothing but bum service in return because of bum equipment and a shortage of operators.

POLITICAL IGNORANCE.
It is amusing to note how far behind the times some of our present state candidates are in attempting to prejudice voters against men and principles and to vilify that which they are unable to explain.

They are assuming that the average voter is so ignorant that he may readily be misled with wild promises and vague explanations. He is often asked to do the impossible in believing the candidate to be honest. Political illiteracy is practically extinct.

The voter has access to both daily and weekly papers without an ax to grind. The radio brings the news of the world to his home. His auto takes him places where he can see and hear things worth while. His education has been improved upon in many ways enabling him to judge impartially without prejudice.

The varied language of business is known today by men in all walks of life. The rural dweller has access to his & M college extension service, banker or financial advisor at his newspaper. Four-fifths of the population of Texas is benefited directly by mechanical or agricultural industry.

The business man the rural districts city or town wants to know more about transportation industries, crops and markets. He has modern methods of gathering information require. No politician can fool him with wild promises or by attempting to impose upon his prejudice because he has none—he wants facts.

THE CHANGING ORDER.
City folks and the folks of the smaller towns have learned the art of working things out together. Twenty years from now, and it is hoped in less time than that, rural people will learn to do the same thing. Town folks had to for the same reason that the rural dwellers will have to get the idea if they do not already have such a plan.

The man or woman of today who cannot work with others is out of luck again because we will never find them in any considerable number. We must not only learn how to do things, but we must also learn how to do things with others. The bigger the job the more team work is required. Men and women are rapidly learning how to pull together and are getting more out of life.

Life in any town or community today has ceased to be a complex problem because of this better understanding. Your neighbor has the same joys, sorrows and disappointments as you. If you are not afflicted at the same time, there is an excellent chance to do good—to bear each other's burdens.

We must learn the art of cooperation. Cooperation simply means to learn to conduct one's self so that others may work with you. "No man can live to himself alone" is just as true today as at any time in past history. It takes team work to win.

LIVING AT HOME.

Next to smelling the breakfast ham all over the house, there is no more pleasing odor unless it be that of the dinner pie. As a boy, father made a specialty of raising milk fed little bone Berkshires for the fancy trade. We always had plenty of this milk fed ham and on frosty mornings while persuading old Brin to kick in with the milk, the scent of frying ham was wafted down to hungry boys.

Those were great times. We also had sausage put up in shuck. All through the years the sausage and ham was an inspiration to a fellow to make speed toward the table. As boys of the family, we never had a quarrel, but those animated discussions were something awful and generally came up in the mad scramble in getting to the table.

Many is the boy with a family of his own who delights in again poking his feet under Pa's table and eating Ma's cooking. That is one reason why we are building highways—to enable the boys to go back home.

There is no more disgusting sight or discouraging scene of a boy than to see a flock of company, candidates or preachers wade in on his favorite dish while he is waiting until the second table. At times it became "third" table and the pain and suspense was something akin to real agony.

Neighbors visited unannounced in those days and came without an invitation and were doubly welcome. The first table, when dinner was announced, stood piled high with the best the land afforded cooked up by the best cooks in the whole country. Often fifteen or twenty hungry boys dropped in at the last minute. This meant nothing to the "Queen of the Kitchen," for she always had plenty.

Father made more clear money off his hogs than he did his crops. We milked a large number of cows—some of the range stuff—and the writer was often kicked across the corral while the bucket went in the opposite direction and the milk was spilled all over the milker. The milk was necessary for the Berkshires and it was immaterial to Father as to where it came from.

Some folks still live that way. Raise most of their living at home, visit the sick, spend whole days with their neighbors and get something out of life. There should be more of it. The present depression has put neighbors on speaking terms, and if it holds out another year, they will be shaking hands as sure as you are a foot high.

Rugged Cross, Rock of Ages Pictured on a Rock

A small rock picked up in Mills county recently has pictured on a flat broken surface a sea and a rock. Upon this rock picture appears a plain cross, thus picturing the sea of life, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Rock of Ages" two of the most beautiful songs of Christendom.

Were one given to belief in the super-natural, or in the least inclined to believe in omens, this mute evidence of the works of Providence would elicit veneration and produce mental disturbances lest it be a warning of the approach of the "end of the earth."

In it the more intelligent merely see a verification of the assurance and solace Christianity brings to the faithful. In this natural picture they see only a verification of the truthfulness taught in the scriptures.

This stone is the property of Mrs. A. Estlack, the lady who found it and is but one of many in her collection in which she finds pleasure in viewing the artistic nature—pictures not made with hands.

The stone is on exhibit at the Goldston brothers jewelry store.

MOSLEY MAKES STATEMENT TO ALL VOTERS

Feeling that it is important for me to reach and see all the voters in Donley County before the Primary on July 26th, I take this means of reaching those whom I have not seen. I am as you know your sheriff and tax-collector combined. I feel that it is my duty to see that the tasks of my present office are handled for the benefit of the county, this being the greatest reason for my inability to reach and speak to every one of you.

I shall be more than pleased to have you go fully into my past record. Make any investigation you like and I shall be pleased to stand by the results. I have felt that the interests of the county and its citizens have come first and for that reason I have met the issues as they have arisen and have handled them with this idea in view. As a candidate for election for the second time for the office of Tax-Collector, I am offering my past record as evidence of the man in which this portion of my business will be handled.

When you have looked the record square in the face, consider my candidacy and cast your ballot and influence for me in the primary on July 26th. I assure you that anything done will be more than appreciated.

I regret my inability to reach everyone but trust that my candidacy will be given due consideration when you reach the polls.

M. W. MOSLEY. (Political Adv.)

Miss Frances McKenzie Dies Sunday

Following an illness of several days at the home of her uncle, Mr. Conda Jones, Miss Frances McKenzie niece of Mrs. Conda Jones and M. E. Bell, died in an Amarillo hospital Sunday morning at 4 o'clock, to where she was removed Friday.

Frances Anna McKenzie was born October 6, 1894 and united with the Methodist church at the age of fifteen, and lived a faithful christian life giving freely of her time and means helping others to get more out of life.

Her early life was spent at Memphis where she became an operator of a typesetting machine later operating a machine on the Clarendon News, Panhandle Herald and was an operator on the Pampa Daily News when her health failed some two weeks past.

Friends in number from each town where she had resided were present Monday to pay their last tribute to the one whom they called friend, and whose life had been to them an inspiration to perform a duty to humanity without complaint.

Rev. Sam E. Allison, pastor of the Methodist church, presided at the last rites which were in charge of the Rebekah lodge of Pampa of which the deceased was an honored member. Flowers in profusion from friends far and near attested the high esteem in which this friend was held at her passing.

Miss Frances has passed out over the vine-clad hills into eternity to receive the reward of the faithful. No more faithful exponent of the Master's will has been privileged to mingle with our people. Hearts are sad and torn and her life will remain sweet in the memory of those who knew her best.

Local Officers Make Beer Raid Friday Night

Near midnight Friday night Deputy sheriff Guy Pierce stopped a car on the main street of Clarendon in which Tom Parker and a negro giving his name as James Roe were riding. Tom appeared to be slightly under the weather and a few bottles of beer were in his keeping it is said.

Upon inquiry, the officer was informed of the whereabouts of the source of the beer and in company with Deputy Sheriff C. M. Peabody and armed with a search warrant, the home of a colored man was inspected where the officers found ten gallons of beer or choc.

Unable to locate the owner of the fluid, the bunch was rounded up and taken to jail and the fluid poured out.

Soon after this raid, a house in the northeast part of town north of the track was given a search and five cases of beer, a quantity of malt and other articles used in the manufacture of beer was taken in charge.

At this last place, a man giving his name as W. F. Calloway was placed under arrest and in making his appearance before the judge, his bond was set at three thousand dollars which he has been unable to make so far as can be learned.

'SHAME CAR' MAN FINED $400, USED MAILS ILLEGALLY

Irving R. Gaertner, "shame car" collector, was fined $400 by United States District Judge Paris yesterday on a plea of guilty of illegally using the mails to collect debts. Gaertner paid the fine.

The maximum penalty provided for the offense is five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Gaertner, a tall, heavy set young man with rimless spectacles, operated the American Collection Agency and mailed envelopes hearing such notices as "Dead beats ad vertised," to debtors. He also would park a gaudily painted automobile bearing dun signs in front of the debtor's home.

In asking for clemency for his client, former Judge Charles H. Daues said to the court: "The trouble with this young man is that he thought he had an original idea that didn't violate the law."

Judge Paris replied: "Yes, the idea was originated probably 400 year ago."—Salem, Mo. Democrat.

Amarillo Benevolent Association Pays Claims

To Whom This May Concern:

This is to certify that I, Mrs. C. G. Speed, beneficiary in the policy for my father E. E. Moore, was paid both policies in the Amarillo Benevolent Association promptly as agreed.

"FABLE OF THE WISE ASSES"

At the beginning of things, when the world was young, the donkey was esteemed . . . as the wisest of animals.

The good Shiek El-Sta-Shun-Air owned a great herd of these sagacious beasts, which was the pride and joy of his life.

Other Shieks came . . . to listen and marvel at the wisdom of the herd. At such a time, came the Prophet himself—most learned and wise of all the sons of the East. With much glowing pride, El-Sta-Shun-Air led him out to the herd and said:

"Behold, O Prophet, the wise and talented asses, converse with them . . . and see if they are not verily wiser than forty trees full of ows."

Then the Prophet addressed the asses. "Let us test your wisdom," said he. "Answer me this question: What should an ass require for a three days' journey?"

And they made reply: "For a three days' journey, O Prophet, any ass should require six bundles of hay and three bags of dates."

Very good," quoth the Prophet. "That soundeth like a fair and proper price." Whereupon El-Sta-Shun-Air broke into loud chuckles and said: "Did I not tell you they are passing wise?"

The Prophet answered, "Wait" and again addressed the asses. "I have one for you," he said, "three days' journey but I will not give you six bundles of hay and three bags of dates for making it. Let him who will go for less, stand forth." And behold, they all stood forth and began to talk at once. One would go for six bundles of hay and one bag of dates, until finally, one especially long-eared ass agreed to go for one bundle of hay.

Then spoke the Prophet: "Fool," quoth he, "you cannot even live for three days on one bundle of hay, much less profit from the journey."

"True," replied the long-eared one, "but I wanted the order."

And from that far-off day to this, asses have been known as fools and price-cutters have been known as asses.

PHILLIPS PETROLEUM COMPANY

By H. W. Harrington Phillips Pipe Line Company, a wholly owned subsidiary of Phillips Petroleum Company, announces the completion of all plans for the construction of their recently authorized $15,000,000 pipe line. This will be the largest gasoline pipe line ever built, having a total length of approximately 1,000 miles and is the first in the Mid-Continent field.

Surveys for this construction job have been completed, pipe purchased and delivery being rushed for actual laying. Construction operations have been separated into six sections to facilitate completion by around January 1, 1931. The construction program will require a hundred inspectors and the labor of over 1,000 men. 100,000,000 lbs. of pipe will be required which will be fusion weld. The pipe will be fully concealed, including river crossings. The pipe covering will be between 24 and 36 inches.

The line will run northeast from

Simmons University To Have Night Football

Because of the complete lighting system to be installed at Parramore Field, Simmons University, Abilene, will be the first institution in this section of West Texas to play the majority of their home football schedule next fall under the night flood-lighting plan.

At a meeting of the Athletic Council held on the evening of June 23rd, it was decided to adopt the plan for night football and the contract was let for the installation of twenty 2,000 watt lamps to light the field. The lamps will be placed on 50 foot poles located 29 feet from the boundary of the playing field. Equipment for the lighting project will be shipped to Abilene early in August and the installation will be completed by the 15th to 20th of that month.

The Cowboy team will play their entire home schedule at night with the exception of those games which fall on holidays. Those games which will be played at night are to date: Sul Ross College, St. Edwards University and Daniel Baker definite action on the matter it is er. While the Council has taken no believed that the field will be at the disposal of high school teams and other colleges who wish to play their games at night.

The Simmons field is the second in the state to inaugurate the night football plan, the El Paso High School and the Texas College of Mines in that City being the first to play under the floodlights. Reports are that officials of both Howard Payne and Daniel Baker are considering having their teams participate under the night football plan.

Local Young Men Start Long Journey

Two prominent young men of Clarendon are going to be missed for some time. These fellows left Friday armed with all that was necessary to take them over all the western states, the national parks, up into Canada and back home again.

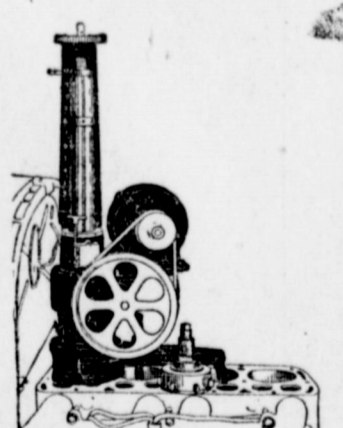

Mike Landers and Jack Merchant are the lucky fellows to get the trip. They went in Jack's car and this is Mike's first trip away from home, it being said of him that he has never been further west than to attend a ball game at Ashtola when a small boy.

STORMIZING
ADDS 20,000 MILES TO THE LIFE OF YOUR MOTOR

Saving Power!

Stormizing adds 20,000 miles to the life of your car

After a car is used for time, the rings and cylinder walls become worn. New rings help to conserve the power, but rough or scored cylinder walls permit power to escape carrying gas into the bearings reducing the oil body.

When your oil body is reduced, bearings suffer from a lack of lubrication. You not only lose the power you have a right to expect, but your bearings soon have to be readjusted.

If the trouble is to be stopped, new rings must be installed and the

CYLINDER WALLS RECONDITIONED

When the walls are reconditioned, the work must be done accurately. We have a machine that does just that. You will be pleased with the increased power at a minimum of cost. Let us explain this method.

CAPITAL WEEKLY PRESS

Vann M. Kennedy

AMENDMENTS:

Secretary of State Jane Y. McCallum is now advertising four proposed constitutional amendments. Referendums on these proposals were ordered in resolutions passed by the 41st Legislature.

Reformation of the Legislature itself is proposed in one of the amendments. Senate Joint Resolution No. 19 would so amend the Constitution that the length of legislative sessions would be extended to 120 days and the pay for members increased to $10 per day. Regular sessions now are for only 60 days at $5 per day.

Under this scheme, the first 30 days of the 120 day session would be devoted to the introduction of bills; the second 30 to committee hearings, and the last 60 to consideration and passage of legislation.

The Supreme Court now takes an enforced vacation from the last Saturday in June to the first Monday in October. A proposed amendment to the Constitution would allow the court to meet at any time. The calendar of the court would conform with the regular calendar year. This would serve to relieve the overcrowded dockets during the vacation period.

Countries would be allowed to tax University of Texas lands under provisions of another proposed constitutional change.

The fourth proposed amendment is to Article seven of the Constitution, providing in detail the handling of the University of Texas permanent fund. The Board of Regents would be allowed to issue obligations, pledged by the fund, for the construction of dormitories and other buildings.

The State lost judgment for $1,263,705 and title to 237 acres of land in the heart of the Humble Oil field in Harris County through a decision last week of the Third Court of Civil Appeals. The court reversed and revised the case of R. L. Blaffer and others against State of Texas. In 1924 the Governor ordered the Attorney General to bring suit against the defendants to recover the land, on the theory that a vacancy existed between surveys.

The trial court held for the State and gave judgment for oil taken from the land. The appellate court held against the State. The Attorney General has not yet decided whether or not to appeal the case.

More than $62,500 in Confederate pensions are being held up in the State Comptroller's office awaiting the proper execution of affidavits by veterans and widows, according to Comptroller George H. Sheppard. These payments were due July 1, but the Comptroller was unable to send them out because the affidavits required by statute had not been sent to the office by about 2500 pensioners.

The "Standard Milk Ordinance" has been enacted by 92 city governments in Texas. Dr. J. C. Anderson, State Health Officer, said recently. The importance of regulated city milk supplies cannot be over-emphasized, since several epidemics have just occurred due to the lack of milk sanitation, he said.

The gubernatorial race enters the last three weeks with a large section of the electorate still undecided as to its choice of candidates. This indecision on the part of the voters is likely to cause many to stay away from the polls.

It is evident that thousands will decide on their candidate for governor after they are in the voting booths. No matter to whom the big vote goes, whether to Mayfield, Ferguson, Young or Sterling etc., it will be proof of nothing except that the candidate was lucky.

This apathetic primary election is likely to deal even more harshly with those candidates for minor State offices. Always is there much "blind" voting for these candidates. This year it will probably be much worse.

Herman Bennett of Hollywood, California is visiting his mother, Mrs. Matt Bennett and other relatives here while taking vacation.

Eddie Frantz of Apache, Oklahoma is supplying in the Clarendon drug store during the absence of F. O. Wood who is taking a vacation at Wichita and Henrietta.

Mrs. W. P. Cagle and children of San Pedro, California visited relatives and friends here and at Hedley and Memphis the past week.

W. L. Mulkey of Whittier, California visited his brother Homer Mulkey here the past week. W. L. is in the employ of an electric company out there similar to the line of work he followed while a citizen of Clarendon.

SOCIETY

LUCHEON HONORING MRS. HATTIE RUTHERFORD

Realizing that Mrs. Rutherford's stay in our city was to be short, Mrs. Crockett Taylor conceived the happy idea of having a number of her friends meet her at lunch Friday the eleventh.

Places were laid for sixteen and as the noon hour drew near the friends began to arrive each bearing a dish.

When all had arrived Mrs. Taylor gave instructions as to how to proceed.

All stood around the tables until thanks had been offered by our honor guest, Mrs. Rutherford, then the march to the kitchen began.

With plate in hand the single file march proceeded around the kitchen table, where was found, vegetables of many kinds, fried chicken and gravy, salads, etc. then back to tables where a most satisfying hour was spent.

Lovely angel food cake and fruit punch were served as desert.

Then the question as to who should wash dishes arose, and there being only five present with bobbed hair the other guests tried to vote the task theirs. The outcry was so strong, however, that such a plan was given up, and somebody the dishes just got washed without anyone having over worked.

The afternoon was made more enjoyable by other guests dropping in, and long before anyone seemed willing to leave the clock warned of evening home duties and the guests very regretfully departed.

Before going, however each one had to enjoy a look at Mrs. Taylor's rock-garden, and flower decked yards, and express a hope that another such opportunity might soon be theirs.

Those enjoying the luncheon were: Mrs. Mollie E. Gray, Mrs. A. T. Cole, Mrs. W. C. Stewart, Mrs. Frank Simmons, Mrs. J. T. Warren, Ruth Warren, Mrs. A. E. Thompson, Mrs. J. L. Allison, Mrs. W. A. Land, Mrs. W. B. Sims, Mrs. H. C. Brumley, Mrs. E. N. Shepherd, Gertrude Shepherd, Mrs. Hattie Rutherford, Nancy Rutherford, Mrs. Crockett Taylor, Agatha Taylor.

CLARENDON H. D. CLUB MET FRIDAY

Mrs. J. C. Estlack was hostess to the club in a meeting Friday attended by fourteen members and seven guests. Following the business meeting, plans for the rally to be held at Lelia the 18th were discussed.

Mrs. John Beverly of Pampa gave an interesting discussion on the novelties in the home.

The hostess served a two course refreshment assisted by Mrs. James Grundy and Mrs. 'Perk' Ligon.

Those present: Mrs. A. Estlack of Abilene, Mrs. Bessie Rolf of Little Rock, Arkansas, Mrs. E. M. Sloan, Mrs. John Beverly, Mrs. J. W. Roland, Mrs. James Grundy, Mrs. 'Perk' Ligon as guests, and the following members:

Mesdames A. H. Baker, M. T. Crabtree, T. E. Broun, J. A. Tomb, John Clark, O. D. Liesberg, Major Hudson, J. H. Watts, Bullock, C. D. McDowell, C. E. Lindsey, S. B. Arnold.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

Miss Catherine Patrick as hostess entertained the members of the club in a novel manner Tuesday evening depicting the scenes of frontier dress redolent of West Texas, she appearing in typical 'cowgirl' costume.

Tables decorated with cactus, petrified wood, branding irons, and flint implements of ancient warlike tribes lent a beautiful and interesting background to the subject. Members answering roll call replied by naming a brand well known over West Texas.

Mrs. Louise Holloway appearing in cowgirl costume gave a history of the origin of the word "maverick" and Miss Lotta Bourland gave a history of the J. A. ranch and early recollections of stirring events in connection with the history of the well known ranch.

Guests of the club were Miss Jessie Ingram who was voted a member, and Miss Mildred Martin, and Miss Sarah Thompson who contributed two beautiful vocal numbers.

MRS. ROWLAND ENTERTAINS FRIENDSHIP CLUB

Mrs. J. W. Roland entertained members and guests of the Friendship Club at her home Tuesday afternoon, serving refreshments to a large attendance.

Members present were: Mesdames J. G. Teel, H. Tyree, C. R. Skinner, C. E. Lindsey, R. O. Thomas, J. L. Allison and the hostess, Mrs. J. W. Rowland.

DARNELL-DUCKETT

The marriage of Miss Opal Duckett and Leonard Darnell was solemnized by Rev. B. N. Shepherd at the Baptist parsonage in this city Tuesday.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Duckett of the Chamberlain community and was educated in the Clarendon public schools and the Junior College. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Darnell of near Jericho.

After a short honeymoon the newlyweds will make their home near Jericho where the groom will be associated with his father in stock-farming.

This marriage unites two of the leading families of this section, the contracting parties being numbered among the most highly respected citizens of the younger set who have the best wishes of their many friends for achieving success.

They're Glad to Give a Statement

"JUST A FEW BOTTLES OF ARGOTANE HAS RESTORED MY WIFE TO HEALTH," SAYS LUBBOCK MAN.

"After I spent a lot of money for medicines and treatments for my wife without it doing her any good, it sure does seem wonderful to me that just two bottles of Argotane has restored her to health again," is a remarkable statement made a few days ago by W. E. Foster of rural route 6, Lubbock, Texas. Mr. Foster is very well known here in this section and is employed at the Junction Service Station.

"Several years ago," he continued, "my wife's health failed, she lost her appetite, and before I realized it, she had gotten so bad she was in danger of complete breakdown. What little she forced herself to eat disagreed with her and she suffered agonies from the gas that rose from the undigested food in her stomach. She was badly constipated and suffered from such terrible headaches that her nervous system went all to pieces and she couldn't sleep hardly at all at night's. She worried over her condition and actually grew despondent. Her liver and kidneys bothered her an awful lot, and she would have severe pains in her side and back, and was very bilious and dizzy at times she could hardly stand up without falling.

"Nothing we did for her seemed to help her at all, but she just got worse instead of better. A friend recommended Argotane to her and persuaded her to try it. Soon after she took the first bottle I noticed that she was picking up and getting to be more talkative, and she has continued to improve ever since. She eats anything she wants now and it agrees with her. She is always in a good humor now. She sleeps fine every night, and in fact, all of her troubles have been completely relieved. She is entirely like a different person. We are glad to do what we can for Argotane, for both of us are thankful for her health."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Clarendon at the Stocking's Drug Store.

OUR WEEKLY CHURCH CHAT

"Soul-Winning"

When our Lord chose His first disciples, he sent them forth to be "fishers of men" (Matt. 4:19). To His apostles He gave the great commission: "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost" (Matt. 28:19). The early Christians, "that were scattered abroad went about preaching the word (Acts 8:4), so that, it is said, "within one hundred years after the crucifixion, the number of Christians throughout the Roman Empire was held to amount to a tenth of the entire population."

The same work is committed to us. Soul-winning is the church's greatest mission. Nothing is more pleasing to God, or helpful to man. Yet this work is more often neglected than done. Many seem to be of the opinion that when they are converted, everything is finished. In reality, their work has only commenced. Having experienced the Saviour's redeeming love, the convert should long to get into personal touch with others, striving to lead them to Christ. The Christian, like a telephone must be a receiver and a transmitter. With ear open to the Infinite, and life insulated from the world, he must transmit the glorious gospel of the Son of God to the unsaved millions. We are heirs of the ages and also the trustees of the future. Our interests, at first in becoming Christians are largely selfish. We feel condemned, and alarmed at our condition, and call upon God for help. We accept His gospel and are saved. But there comes a time, if we are faithful, when we are imbued with the apostolic idea of being sent on a divine mission. This influenced becomes the influencer, the fish, the fisher, the disciple the teacher, the saved the saviors of others.

During the next four weeks, we will have in our midst one of the country's greatest teachers and evangelists. Every evening he will bring to the people a message of vital importance. He has but one purpose in view, that is to assist in the saving of the souls of those who need Christ, the world's only Saviour. You are invited to attend all of these services come to the big tent and be blessed. W. E. Ferrel, minister First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

Jack B. Jones spent the front end of the week at Medicine Park and other Oklahoma towns visiting friends and relatives.

A letter from Ed Speed locates the family visiting relatives in Los Angeles. A trip had been to Catalina island, the children enjoying the passage in the glass bottom boat immensely. They expect to be away until fall.

Mrs. B. D. Dawkins and daughter Joan, and mother Mrs. W. H. Austin returned to their home at DuQueen, Arkansas after a visit of some length with Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Dawkins of this city.

Mr. F. A. White and daughters, Misses Dorothy and Margaret, left Saturday for and extended visit with friends in Colorado. Miss Dorothy will visit friends and relatives in California before returning.

W. M. Bourland reports fine fishing in the Taos, New Mexico country where he has recently been on a ten day furlough from hard work. He was accompanied by Miss Lotta and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bourland daughter Jean, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bourland and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. King of Pampa.

Small Advises Economy, Hard Work As Best Remedy

Candidates Promise Impossible States Panhandle Candidate At Brady

Hard work and conservative living is the solution for success in Texas, despite the voluminous promises of professional politicians, Senator Clint C. Small, Democratic candidate for governor, said in a speech prepared for delivery here today. The candidate was honored guest at a rally to which thousands of ranchmen and farmers from neighboring counties were invited.

Senator Small in his address hit directly at gubernatorial candidates who, he said, have been making promises beyond their ability to fulfill. He said that the professional politicians who would use the office of the governor to advance his personal political fortunes ought to be barred from the race.

"Texas has outlived the need of professional office seekers," Senator Small said. "The day of the men who made a business of running for something is gone, but they have a hard time realizing it. Texas needs a business administration in its state government and needs to forget the men who have dominated state politics with their political feuds for the past two decades."

Senator Small told his audience that although he has served as city attorney, county attorney, county judge, district judge, and is now serving the 26 Panhandle counties as state senator, this is the second time he has ever campaigned in his life. He said that he was free of all political hatreds, had no political debts to pay and was not shackled by the bonds which inevitably dominate the actions of professional politicians.

He spoke against the plan for removing the penitentiary system to a centralized points as a program "unnecessary and extravagant." "Rehabilitation and not removal," he said, was the solution of this situation.

Removal of the penal institution would cost the state between eight and ten million dollars and even then we would not have bettered conditions," he said. "What we need to do is industrialize the penitentiary to a point where it will be self sustaining. There is no reason in the world why state prisoners cannot manufacture our road signs, automobile tags, manufacture clothing and furniture for other convicts and inmates of the insane asylum and poor houses and raise enough vegetables for consumption in these institutions."

He charged that certain interests wanted to sell out the prison lands because there was an oil field being developed close to the present site. He advocated that first offenders and hardened criminals in the penitentiary be segregated to prevent the experienced inmates from schooling young men in the field of crime.

Wilder Family Will Make Home at Pampa

Dr. H. L. Wilder of this city has accepted a position in the clinical department of the McKean hospital at Pampa and the family will move there upon the return of Dr. Wilder who left here Saturday night to do postgraduate work in the Massachusetts General Hospital of Boston for the next six weeks.

Dr. Wilder will have charge of the department of urology and x-ray in the clinic with three assistants. This will enable him to specialize in his profession, and gratify a wish of many years.

The hospital and clinic is said to have equipment second to none in the state, much of it having been installed during the past few months.

The family came to Clarendon in September of 1916. Dr. Wilder doing general practice until 1926 at which time he established the Wilder Sanitarium. His efforts have been rewarded financially and his friends are legion since he has enjoyed a lucrative practice over a wide territory.

The family has been identified with every forward movement for the betterment of Clarendon in school, church and social life and will be greatly missed.

S. B. Arnold who is working at Pampa was home over the week end.

Miss Evelyn Nix of Amarillo spent the weekend in Clarendon as a guest of Miss Mary Naylor.

Elections Are Called Two Districts On College Issue

Petitions Circulated And Election Requested by Home People

Taking advantage of the opportunity to make arrangements whereby a college education will cost the young people of their communities practically nothing, the citizens of the Windy Valley and Bairfield school districts requested the School Board to call an election.

If the majority votes in favor of merging their school districts with Clarendon district, college tuition will be free. The election has been set on August 2nd.

Those favoring the issue are positive that the measure will carry with ease as citizens of both communities are enthusiastic supporters of schools.

Description of Galveston Storm of 1900 Gives Some Idea of Its Fearfulness

By W. H. Hawkins

Up in the interior of Texas, several counties this side of Erath and extending on north to New Mexico and Oklahoma lines, there are multiplied thousands of grown men and women, born and reared since Sept. 8, 1900, who perhaps know little of what is meant by the frequent references they have heard made to the Galveston storm.

Several times during my visit here in Texas City it has been my privilege to come in contact with persons who were in that notably severe holocaust. One of them, a very prominent lady who now resides in Texas City, but who, on that fatal night of September was a resident of Galveston, twelve miles away, was in the very heart of the awful hurricane and deluge which blotted out over 8000 human lives and wiped away thousands of buildings.

The customary official warning came on Sept 7 that a storm of hurricane was en route from the West Indies, but as usual was intended more for the information of mariners about to go to sea than for residents of the Island otherwise engaged, and more none anticipated a storm more severe than they had long been accustomed to witnessing in certain periods of the year.

At 2 a. m. Sept. 8, 1900, simultaneously with the approach of the hurricane, a tremendous north-easter developed, and the huge wall of water driven toward the Island by the hurricane was met by the immense resistance of the unusually strong north wind and as long as the latter continued the Island was safe.

But about noon the barometer began to drop very fast, and then came the warning that the friendly wind from the north would change to the southeast, thus adding to the fury of the hurricane instead of having a tendency to counteract the effect of same. With the first shifting of the wind on that fatal Saturday, the waters of the Gulf swept over Galveston and houses near the beach began to crumble and go down. People fled to higher portions of the city, some being taken out in boats, and some in wagons, but many of them wading in the turbulent waters. Nightfall found hundreds of them battling in the waters in vain efforts to reach points of safety. The air was full of flying missiles all the while, and it will never be known how many were maimed or killed by slate roofing as it was torn from many of the more substantial structures and carried through the air like wafers by the ferocious wind.

For two weeks or more following the storm they were still digging dead bodies out of the vast piles of debris. Vast lines of corpses were arranged along the beach and thousands of the victims were cremated, it having been utterly impossible to care for the dead in the usual manner. Many of the bodies were carried out to sea and buried beneath the waves.

The roar of the storm was so great that no other sound could be heard until the hurricane subsided about one o'clock Sunday morning, Sept. 9. Then it was, that for the first time, thousands of people who had taken refuge in the upper stories of buildings that did not collapse, began to realize the fearfulness of the havoc the storm had wrought upon others not so fortunately situated.

The good woman who told us of matters here recorded was in the second story of a house that chanced to remain intact, and she said

Local Plant Growers Are Taking Vacation

Back to the "happy hunting grounds" for their annual vacation, Mr. and Mrs. T. Jones left today for the hidden recesses of the mountains near Hot Springs, New Mexico, a favorite playground for several years.

They will be gone until January camping in the open the greater part of the time. Fishing in Elephant Butte is always included in the itinerary of these well known hunters. They promise to bring back to old Donley the beautiful trophies as in other years.

she would remember to her dying day the awful sounds of groaning and screaming which reached her ears from every direction as they looked out into the night after the wind had ceased. She said the horrors of the storm were in no sense realized by those who were safe, until the death dealing epoch, the greatest catastrophe in all history, was at an end.

Volumes could be written by going into detail, but the purpose of this article is merely to give the younger generation an idea of the magnitude of this historic storm which nearly thirty years ago created such havoc at Galveston and also in Texas City, that it appears marvelous to find in both places numerous citizens who heroically faced the most dismal outlook that could confront a people, and remain to help rebuild the rehabilitate and have performed their tasks amazingly well.

Some of the old residents tell us the storm of 1915 might have proven even more destructive, had it not been for the magnificent sea wall which was erected at Galveston following the storm of which we have been writing. This wonderful wall insures the safety of Galveston for all time to come we would think, against the repetition of a disaster like that of thirty years ago.—Stephenville Tribune.

BUNCH OF TRIPE 'CONDEPNS' OUR HOOPER FARM RELIEF MARKETING ACT

It is an interesting story that we reproduce in our news columns giving a resume of the clash between Chariman Legge of the farm board and Julius Barnes, high jinks in the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, when that body met for its annual meeting last week. It bordered on the spectacular when Mr. Legge proffered a challenge to any member of that organization to match him dollar for dollar in financing a philanthropic effort to help solve the economic difficulties of agriculture.

The people of this country have accepted Mr. Legge's sincerity in their desire to aid agriculture, but if there were any yet skeptical, his address before the United States Chamber of Commerce will quell all doubt. Never before has anyone had the temerity to tell that bunch of tripe in plain language how they lied in professing concern for agriculture when farm relief legislation was in the offing, only to turn about face at the behest of the grain gamblers and "condemn" Mr. Hoover's farm legislation.

Mr. Legge should worry at the opposition of that bunch of big business pirates who would pluck the pennies from a blind man's cup if no one was looking. Politically, that gang of hams hove as much weight as a feather in a gale of wind. Their "condemnation" of the farm relief legislation will have the effect of renewing the faith of millions of producers our marketing act is invested with potentialities not fathomed by the rank and file; they will be inclined to accept the statement of Duluth grain gambler the act means the ruin of the "independent grain merchant." Speed the day when those parasites are put out of business.

The action of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in recommending the farm board become merely an advisory body at the instigation of the grain gamblers and other middlemen parasites prying on agriculture has served to clarify the situation. Agriculturists and the peoples in agricultural states will from now on recognize all middlemen parasites as unified in opposing any actual farm relief. Real friends to farmers aware these leeches have operated to suck what margin of profit might accrue to the producers have been unable to convince producers this was true, for the leeches, including the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, have been fulsome in protestations of friendship and sympathy for the cause of agriculture. These covert enemies are now in the open.

Having thrown away their mask of pretense in concern for agriculture, it remains for farmers and those dependent on agriculture to rally to the aid of the farm board

Young Minister to Conduct Revival at Jericho

Rev. Hugh B. Lusk, recently ordained a minister in the Baptist church, preached at Martin Saturday night and at Jericho Sunday and at night.

Acceding to the many requests of church people there, he will begin a revival at Jericho on July 27th, which is the fourth Sunday in this month. Rev. Lusk will have the cooperation of song leaders and church workers in making this his first effort at conducting a revival a great success.

by becoming enrolled in one of the cooperatives, the medium through which the board must function under the terms of the marketing act. If the farm board is to win out, farmers must become more than passive; they must become aggressive. Fight the grain gamblers at every turn of the wheel. The organized farmer must use every persuasion to enroll his unorganized neighbor, who constitutes the obstacle in making the marketing act fully effective. Give the U. S. Chamber of Commerce its answer by a more vigorous, more aggressive campaign for cooperation. Enroll but 70 percent of the farmers under the farm board's banners and you have the grain gamblers licked to a frazzle.—Bottineau, N. D. Courier.

Palo Duro Canyon Receives Many Visitors

Through the courtesy of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, cars from 23 states, Canada and Old Mexico to the number 1,433 carrying 5,349 people visited Palo Duro canyon Sunday and viewed the wonderful picturesque landscape.

This may give one some idea of what a drawing card the Canyon would become should it be included in a state park area. The visiting hours were limited from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. The event was not nationally advertised, only those within a limited radius knowing of the invitation being issued.

Brewer Calls Attention to Ferguson Campaign

Mr. O. H. Brewer of this city is in receipt of a letter from James E. Ferguson from which the following excerpt is taken: "The campaign everywhere is growing in support and enthusiasm for my good wife and there is no question about her leading the ticket. I spoke to 7000 in Corpus Christi and 6000 in Yoakum last night, and it was a wildly enthusiastic crowd too."

The letter is dated July 12th and Mr. Brewer wants the public to know just how this favorite candidate is getting along down state.

Negroes Leave—

allegedly identified by other negroes as those worn by the negro Washington on the morning of the murder. Evidences of an encounter were found in the house where the negro first attacked the woman.

Fighting the brute off, the woman reached the yard only to be felled by a piece of pipe soon after asking her daughter of three years to "go tell daddy." The body was picked up almost lifeless in the yard by the husband and rushed to Shamrock.

Claims that the negro was a half-wit or insane is being refuted by both white and blacks who knew him intimately. It is claimed by one neighbor to the Vaughans that the 21-year-old negro refused to work and rode over the country on a horse.

The whereabouts of the negro charged with the crime is not definitely known, this fact being kept a secret by the officers fearing mob outbreaks. Judge Fires is in Washington and it is not likely that a grand jury of investigation will be called until his return. Court having jurisdiction does not convene at Wellington until November.

Following demands of the whites that negroes leave Shamrock, Sheriff McLemore Sunday asked that Rangers be dispatched to assist him in maintaining order. Four rangers, Gonzallos, Kirby, Huddleston and Goss arrived early Monday.

Negroes of Texola and Erick, Oklahoma are said to have departed after receiving warnings. The majority had come from Shamrock seeking a haven from threatened attacks the two days previous.

Some of the older negroes long a resident of the town of Shamrock, refused to leave after being assured of protection by the sheriff it is alleged. Indignation had abated somewhat Monday after the arrival of Rangers to back up the force of deputies pressed into service by the sheriff.

A letter from Mrs. C. R. Mitchell to a friend here Monday states that her son Marvin, who recently underwent a sinus operation, is not improving as well as could be expected.

Your Paper Your Voice Your Opportunity

A community newspaper has many missions!

The first and greatest of these is to convey the news of the community, the region and insofar as possible of the world. The news should be spicy and interesting and its honesty and integrity unquestioned.

A newspaper should have reader prestige. It should have character. It should have the absolute confidence of the public.

That the Donley County Leader has met with the approval of the reader public is attested by the large number of renewals—readers who do not miss a copy. Over 8,000 people read the Leader every week.

This reader public has made the Leader what it is today. We are proud of the fact that we have had their cooperation and enjoy that confidence to this day. Since this paper caters to no particular organization, sect or section, we have enabled to represent the interests of every section fairly and without partiality. This policy will be continued.

Newspaper prestige, plus its quality, reflect credit upon a community. You have the opportunity each issue to add to this impression. Your patronage is appreciated.
