A Common Paper For Common People

Ferguson Will Speak Tuesday Night August 12th

Preparations Will be Made Looking For Attendance Of Several Thousand

Ferguson supporters here, at Hedley, Lella Lake and other sections are greatly encouraged over the fact that James E. Ferguson will speak in Clarendon Tuesday evening, August 12 at 8 P. M. Preparations will be made to seat the large crowd that usually gathers to hear the stormy petrel of Texas politics. In many places no larger than Clarendon, from three to seven thousand have gathered to hear him.

No more unique character ever entered politics in this state. Impeached while holding office, his wife was later elected to the same position. Disqualified by reason of such impeachment, his wife is again matched against Ross S. Sterling, Houston multi-millionaire for the same office again.

No more fluent speaker graces the platform today. Thousands have cheered themselves hoarse as "Farmer Jim" flayed his adversaries. No speaker in Texas has ever been able to draw crowds from such a distance as Ferguson. As champion of the common people, the day laborer, the small merchant, the people of every day affairs in every walk of life contribute to keep this noted man in the forefront as the leading politician of the state.

He speaks at Floydada the night of the 13th. His next stop is Colorado City, then Aspermont and Breckenridge. Having visited the plains section during the first primary, he will not likely have time to make a tour of that section before the 23rd.

The speaker will be introduced by Judge A. T. Cole and the place of meeting will likely be held on the courthouse lawn, tho the matter has not been definitely settled at this time.

Mrs. John Harris and children, Verne and Fred Wayne, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Patching here.

Mrs. Cal Merchant and son Jack attended the funeral of Miss June Purvine at Panhandle Sunday. Miss Purvine was drowned in the country club lake near Pampa Friday.

Big Roundup Of Oldtime Cowpunchers Will Be Staged

Strays, Slicks, Sleepers And Mavericks Are Expected To Be Corralled

A reunion of all the old cowpunchers actively dragging a loop prior to December 31st, 1895 will gather near the old T-Anchor head quarters in Wragge's Park near Canyon August 21st.

The grounds will be open the night before and all who wish to camp, may do so. The Committee will furnish only the noon meal of the 21st which will consist of all the old-time delicacies of the cowcamp of years ago. There will be plenty of "County Attorney" or "Gentlemen of Odessa", just as you please to term it.

This Association is composed only of old-time cowpunchers and their families. Others are not expected. It is strictly an exclusive affair and will cost the head of each family two dollars to join.

Married children of the old-timers will each have to pay the Association fees in order to limit the attendance to those actually interested beyond mere sightseers.

All the old strays are expected and will be welcome. "If you happen to know any—no matter where he served—ask him to attend" is the way John Arnot, president of the organization expressed himself Saturday. It is strictly a home-spun affair for the old trail-blazers void of fancy frills. Roll up your bunk and get ready to meet with the boys.

East Side Boys Victorious Over West Side

The East and West side boy baseball players sponsored by the Lions and Rotarians again clashed Friday afternoon with the usual results. In fact the East Side pill punchers have become altogether too arrogant say the West Siders, and they propose to take them down a notch in the next game. The East Side has been lucky for several games and the loss of the game Friday was probably due to a lack of a coach. Seven more games are to be played before the ending of the series. Tests will then be made to determine the number to qualify for the big league.

Behrens Family in Reunion Near Here Sunday

For the first time in more than fifteen years, all of the children of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Behrens gathered in the apartment home Sunday for a family reunion.

Music and singing recalling the days of many years ago and a big dinner were the principal numbers on a happy program filled with interest throughout the day. Of the large number present, it was noticeable that each were hale and hearty which was a source of gratitude to the head of the family.

Those present aside from the family remaining at home were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Behrens and three children of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Waggoner and three children of Claude; Mr. and Mrs. Orgie Behrens and two children of Gruver; Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKee and five children of Ashtola.

Miss Eva Patching, a student of the University at Boulder this summer, returned home Thursday.

Shot Fired Into Auto Barely Missing Head Of Woman

Truck Containing Three Men Chased From Lelia Into Collingsworth

While on the way to church here Friday evening late, a Nash sedan driven by Owen Butler with his wife also on front seat and the rear seat occupied by Mrs. W. L. Butler and Mrs. J. L. Butler was crowded into the bar pit by a truck.

The truck struck the sedan damaging a fender and just as the crash came, a Winchester bullet fired from the truck narrowly missed the head of Mrs. Owen Butler passing through the windshield.

Getting out of the ditch, the truck was chased back to Lelia a short distance from where the mishap took place. Being unarmed, Owen Butler gave up the chase at the request of the women with him and phoned from Lelia to Hedley asking the night watchman to stop the truck occupied by three men.

The family then came to Clarendon and reported the matter to Deputy Sheriff C. M. Peabody who was accompanied by W. L. Butler and a hasty trip taken to Hedley where they learned the men had been released by the watchman.

Following the trail to Quail where men had been notified to stop the truck, the officers found that the truck had ignored their demands to stop and sped on "ninety to nothing" as one described the rate of speed.

At the first fork of the road towards Wellington, the officers came upon the Constable and another party armed with shotguns. Standing near them were the three men alleged to have been guilty of the misdeed at Lelia. One was holding a Winchester on the officers and the Constable was doing likewise towards the three men whom he had stopped.

Deputy Peabody immediately got out of his car and upon his demand, the man lowered the Winchester and all three were returned to Clarendon and placed in jail.

Each of the three men charged with the offense were assessed a fine of $14.95 for operating a truck without proper license and each were also placed under a bond of $2500 each on the other charge, being liberated Sunday.

Church of Christ Revival Began Saturday Night

Evangelist John M. Rice of Abilene began a revival at the local church Saturday night, a large congregation being present.

The services Sunday morning were largely attended and every seat was taken at the evening service.

The meeting will continue till Wednesday night after the second Sunday. Services each morning at 10 and each evening at 8:30. Brother Rice through his grace, earnestness, simplicity and easy method of explaining the scriptures attracts his hearers and finds a warm spot in the hearts of his people wherever he goes.

The subjects announced for the remainder of the week are "The One Lord Jesus Christ" for his sermon tonight. Wednesday night he will speak on "The One Holy Spirit." His subject for Thursday evening will be "The One Body." Friday evening's subjects will be "The Gospel of Jesus Christ."

"An urgent invitation is extended the public to attend these services where you will be made comfortable and find a welcome" is the way Evangelist Rice expressed himself with enthusiasm Monday after meeting with Clarendon folks and surrounding country.

S. P. Maxey Died Thursday At Home of Brother

S. P. Maxey, aged 58 and practically an invalid for the past seven years while making his home with his brother, I. A. Maxey of the Chamberlain community, died early Thursday morning.

The remains were conveyed to Amarillo and placed beside those of his mother in the Llano cemetery according to his dying request.

Surviving him are three brothers, C. W. Maxey of Amarillo, J. C. Maxey of Emporia, Kansas and I. A. Maxey of the Chamberlain community.

Arthur Williams is Winner in Edison Contest

Author O. Williams, aged 17 of Providence, Rhode Island and a descendant of Roger Williams, won over 48 contestants for Edison honors in an examination held August 1st at West Orange, N. J.

Like Wilbur Huston of Seattle, Washington, contestant winner of 1929, this young man will receive a four year scholarship in a department of physics with all expenses paid by Edison. The school will be selected in time to enter this fall.

Free Band Concert Will Be Given Sunday

Gus B. Stephenson, director of the Clarendon High School band announces another concert for next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

These concerts are held at the old Grammar school building and are being largely attended by those interested in good music. Your presence will be appreciated and will lend encouragement to a deserving number of band boys whose loyalty to the interests of Donley county is beyond question.

Sawaya Fashion Shop Will Open Here Soon

The Davis building at the corner of Third and Kearney has been put in readiness for the stock of the Sawaya Fashion shop and Mr. Sawaya went to market Sunday to secure a complete stock for his opening which will be about the middle of the month.

This shop will cater to the better class of women's wear only, employing women only for clerks.

Nored Family Visits Many Places of Interest

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Nored and children returned home Wednesday from an extended tour of the state which included Corpus Christi, Galveston, San Antonio, Marlin, Mineral Wells and a number of other towns and cities.

They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. M. Winters of Wellington visiting a sister of Mrs. Winters at Meridian. Mr. Nored states that rain was encountered in only one instance, that near Galveston.

Two Are Killed And Eleven Injured In Denver Wreck

Family of Seven From Here Escape Injury Husband Aiding in Rescue

One of the most destructive property losses in railroad wrecks occurring on the Denver road in years occurred early Sunday morning about 2:35 near Oklaunion when train No. 6 leaving here at 10:47 Saturday night, ran off the track at the underpass about a quarter of a mile west of the little town.

Engineer F. P. Robinson and fireman A. B. Vance were killed, the engineer being killed instantly in his cab, and the fireman badly scalded died a short time after being picked up some thirty feet from the wrecked engine.

B. L. Jenkins, Jr., and Henry Parker, blacksmith, and his family of seven were on the train carrying a heavy load of excursionists to see a ball game Sunday at Ft. Worth.

Mr. Parker stated that the first intimation he had of a wreck was when he was suddenly pitched about in the coach as it tumbled over the right-of-way. He immediately called the names of the members of his family and receiving a response that none were injured, climbed out through the darkness and dust and began rescuing others.

A little girl of about two years was found outside the coach sound asleep. Just how it was thrown there without a bruise or scratch unwakened is a mystery. Proceeding to the engine, he found the engineer almost buried in dirt and mud in the cab.

He had one lone helper in the rescue at this point and after working some time looked up to discover that it was A. L. Millsap of the Chamberlain community who had happened along soon after the wreck on his way home from Ft. Worth by auto.

The engineer's head was crushed and body badly scalded, death evidently being instantaneous. While digging this body from the ruins, the fireman was begging piteously for help on an improvised palade a short distance way.

Mr. Parker could not find words to describe his feeling as he worked in the darkness and dust, women and children screaming and the sounds of the ambulance sirens hurriedly called from both Electra and Vernon, some of which arrived in a few minutes after a phone call had been put in at an Oklaunion filling station nearby.

The wreck is said to have been caused by a truck passing over the track loaded with a boiler that struck a girder knocking the track out of line. The truck driver, H. H. Cummings of Duncan, Oklahoma, was on his way to Leveland, Texas hauling a gin boiler for the McFarland truck lines.

Other Panhandle people injured were Mrs. Virginia Clark of White deer, twisted knee; Mrs. Clara Selby of Pampa, shoulder lacerations; I. D. Bonner of Dalhart, body bruised; J. A. Huges of Amarillo, serious bruises; T. F. Cropton of Amarillo and an employee of the Santa Fe on a vacation, left hand mangled and body bruised.

Mr. Millsap stated that the truck carrying the boiler passed him farther down the road traveling at high speed, and that he reached the scene of the wreck soon after it happened and immediately began work of rescuing the injured.

The truck driver stated that he went under the bridge just about the time the train arrived which precluded any possibility of his warning the engineer of the damage when the boiler was dragged off the truck.

CLASSIFIED ADS PAY

Most every day we have calls from people wanting to rent rooms, rent homes or wanting to buy something. If you have something you don't need, cash in on it with a thirty cent ad in our Classified Column.

James V. Allred And West Texas Voters

Jimmy Allred was leading man in the Attorney General's race in the first primary. Since the elimination of Cecil Storey in that race, it is expected that a large number supporting him will cast their ballot for the Wichita Falls man.

Jimmy is a brother of Raymond Allred who was given a vote of 3010 in the race for District Attorney in the district composed of Gray, Lipscomb, Roberts and Wheeler counties. His opponent, Curtis Douglas, receiving 1999 votes.

In the last state election Jimmy Allred lacked about four thousand votes of beating Claude Pollard. Later, when Pollard resigned, Robert Lee Bobbitt was appointed to the position.

Friends of Jimmy Allred have believed since that time that Allred should have been given the place as second man in the race. Jimmy does not cater to gang politics and was denied his rights.

Without money, political lineup, or henchman, Jimmy Allred is looking to the people of the great state of Texas to give him a square deal—a chance to make good. They gave him high vote in a class of four in the July primary. They will give him a much bigger vote August 23rd.

Reunion of Johnson Family at Mobeetie Sunday

A reunion of the Johnson family at the Seitz home near Mobeetie Sunday was enjoyed by a number of relatives for the first time in several years, honoring Mrs. Fred Johnson of Goldston.

Those attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson of Goldston; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Johnson and children of Clarendon, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Foust of Mountain View, Okla.

Filling Station Remodeling Will Begin This Week

The Barnes filling station owned by W. K. Davis and operated by Davis and Ligon will be remodeled and a double driveway provided, work to begin this week.

This is the station formerly operated by Otis Barnes and is located beyond the pavement at the east end of Second street.

Mrs. Chas. Putman and children Mary and Jack of Joshua, Texas are guests of the M. S. Parsons home this week.

Hear Allred Over Station KGRS Tonight

James V. Allred, candidate for the office of Attorney General in a runoff with Lee Bobbitt, will speak in Amarillo tonight. His speech will come to you over station KGRS of Amarillo.

He will speak from 9 to 10 o'clock to a gathering from over the Panhandle that will be composed of leaders who will work to his interests until August 23rd. Several admirers from Clarendon will be present to hear him speak.

Will Begin Revival Next Sunday Night

Rev. Robt. S. McKee, pastor of the local Presbyterian church and one of the most talented ministers of the Panhandle, will begin a revival near Alanreed next Sunday night.

Rev. McKee will fill his pulpit here at the morning service at the regular hour. Local singers will assist him in the meeting during the week.

H. W. Kelly is Seriously Ill at Memphis

While in town Monday, W. P. Blake of Amarillo stated that his old friend, H. W. Kelly was very ill at Memphis and that he was on his way to render assistance if possible.

Both men are former Clarendonites and have been fast friends for more than a quarter of a century. Both men also bear scars from accidents working in the planing mill here operated by Mr. Kelly for several years.

Changed Candidates But Use Same Stickers

Some one in Donley county is due not a little credit for originality or ingenuity. During the last campaign hundreds of cars bore stickers "Small for Governor." Practically all these stickers have been worked over by erasing the "s" and both "I's" making them read "Ma for Governor."

James E. Ferguson will be here in person to speak to Donley county folks and as many as can get here from other places on the night of August 12th. A large crowd is expected of at least several thousand.

Third Annual Laymen's As- sembly at Ceta Canyon

Opening Sunday, the third annual Laymen's Assembly convened at the Methodist camp ground in Ceta Canyon. Rev. Virgil Fisher, pastor of Polytechnic Methodist church of Dallas, and former pastor of the San Jacinto church of Amarillo will be the principal speaker of the week.

Class work in many courses will be offered. Lay Activities will be discussed by F. T. Barnett of the general hospital board of Atlanta, Ga. Stewardship by B. M. McKee of Abilene. Sunday School Administration, Dr. W. M. Alexander of Central College, Fayette, Mo.

Evangelism will be discussed by Rev. W. M. Pearce of Amarillo and Primary Organization will be taught by Mrs. J. E. Eldridge of Miami, Texas. Class periods will be held in the grove under the grape arbor. No sessions will be held in doors.

Many Speakers Entertain Members At Rotary Luncheon

Four Visitors Compliment The Club And Give Assur- ance of Appreciation

The luncheon period of the Rotary club Friday was devoted largely to impromptu speeches from visitors A. H. Baker, Rev. R. S. McKee, J. T. Patman and Tom F. Connolly who were guests of members.

Mr. Baker expressed his appreciation of meeting with the Club and the knowledge gained from such a meeting having taken his first real lessons in Rotary.

Rev. McKee, formerly a Rotarian in Carlsbad, felt more at home and praised the work of all civic clubs pointing out where such efforts were most beneficial.

J. T. Patman spoke of the many advantages of civic club work in the smaller towns or communities and how a more thorough cooperation might be had from such bodies.

Tom F. Connolly confined his remarks to the unselfish service of the membership of civic clubs citing the many instances where the individual performed a service without any hope of reward except a consciousness of a duty performed.

Rotarian Oscar L. Jenkins as president of the Community Service work explained the work of that community from a careful study of the work being done everywhere and the possibilities for service in our section.

President B. L. Jenkins outlined the knowledge gained from the convention of secretaries and presidents of the clubs of this district at Abilene recently. In his concluding remarks, the duties of the various committees were outlined giving the members a more concrete idea of where they might be of more service to the club, the members and the public in general.

The encouraging remarks of the visitors and the information gained from the remarks of Club officials caused the hour to pass quickly while a general feeling of good humor pervaded the assemblage.

The Club Service committee will have charge of the program for the next luncheon hour Friday, each of the members of the committee contributing a portion of the program.

Judge Gough Has Plan Forcing Action For Farm Relief

Would Injunct Speculators To Stop Gambling in Products of Farmers

Judge L. Gough of Amarillo and former president of the grain grower's association, outlined a new plan of action while visiting the Leader office Friday. His plan is the outgrowth of seven years of study of court decisions in several different states and Canada.

His plan is to bring action in the Federal court asking for an injunction seeking to prevent gambling in futures as applied to any products by the farming class of citizens.

He stated that funds were forthcoming from farmers and business men with which to prosecute the case in the near future, believing that this is a most opportune time for forcing a decision in the matter.

Failing in his object in the Federal Court, he would then appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court where he believes the farmer's interests would receive a fair hearing and a sympathetic audience judging from similar decisions.

Judge Gough has lost patience with the Federal Farm Board and it is his opinion that relief can come only through direct action by the producers themselves. He is further of the opinion that the Federal Board has lain down on the job.

According to his statement, federal grain and cotton reports do not show any sign of overproduction. These reports were issued as late as July 24th, he said.

Judge Gough was on his way to confer with other interested parties at Dallas expecting to be in Central Texas for the next ten days. He will then return to Amarillo and call conferences already planned to more fully outline the procedure to be followed in trying his new plan of farm relief.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kemp and sons Marshall, Clarence and Ab of Frederick, Oklahoma are visiting in the home of his brother, G. G. Kemp and family.

Miss Fray Stallings returned home Friday. Miss Fray has been attending a school of music at St. Louis and visited in Dallas before returning home.

Revivalist Has Announced Subjects To Friday Night

Many Attend Revival Here Despite Hot Weather of Past Week

The extremely hot weather of the past week has not served to check the interest or enthusiasm of the many who have been attending the revival conducted by Dr. John W. Tyndall of the First Christian church.

The evening service continues to be held under a tent near the Grammar School building where every fresh air facility may be had. The singing is well up to expectations, many coming from a distance especially to help out in this respect.

The subject as announced by the evangelist for tonight is "Ten Commandments That Women Have to Obey to be Bible Mothers." Wednesday night he will speak on the "Ten Commandments That Men Have to Obey to be Bible Husbands."

Thursday night the subject will be a continuation of the above except that it will be applied to "Wives" and will include eleven commandments instead of ten. The subject announced for Friday night of this week is "Why the Protestant World Should be United."

In speaking of this series of sermons, Rev. Ferrell, the local pastor, stated "that nothing like them have ever before been heard in Clarendon, and these lessons will linger and bear fruit long after the evangelist has departed."

MUSSOLINI DISOBEYED.

The only thing in Italy that has absolutely refused to obey the mandates of Mussolini that we know anything about is Mount Vesuvius. Wonder what he'll do about it?

AN 18 POUND HAM STOLEN.

That's what appeared as a news item in an exchange last week. One finding a n old-fashioned home-spun ham in a farmer's smokehouse in this day of that imensity, could hardly be held to answer to a charge of theft. Perhaps he was collecting specimens for a museum.

BOAT FOR SALE.

Yes, and a long way from water. In fact it was not for that purpose because it is advertised in a North Dakota exchange as a 'stoneboat' and you don't know any more what he is talking about than we do. In fact neither of us know, hence how are we to know whether to buy the blamed thing or not?

SOME FISHIN' THEN.

In the Field Museum of Natural History of Chicago one may see an excellent specimen of an ichthyosaurus or fish-lizard which is said to have lived one hundred and fifty million years ago. In the outlines of the stone where the skeleton is imbedded, one may clearly see the clear impression of scales and fins.

What a time our ancestors must have had telling fish stories. Think of some old 'geezer' relating how he jumped a straddle of a four footer and clubbed him into submission while crawling at a gait of only a mile a minute.

OUR POLITICAL DUTY.

This publication warned its readers against principles as advocated by Sterling before the primary Saturday. We have not changed our mind. He condemned Small at Amarillo, but since he saw the Small vote in the Panhandle, he is now for everything that Small was for—even to the Land Bill.

He may succeed in capturing the Small votes. If he does, good and well. We can put up with him as long as any one, but you will hear less about a bond issue from this time on, and a whole lot about the things that Small stood for as his principles.

SMALL—THE GENTLEMAN.

When Senator Clint C. Small began his campaign, he stood for certain principles. He still stands for them and thousands of West Texans with him who were glad to give him their support.

After his defeat, he was asked which candidate he proposed to endorse. "I give my supporters credit for knowing what they want, and I shall not have anything to say." That is the partiotic statement of one of the greatest men West Texas has produced. Great because he is broad-minded, liberal, honest and a believer in Texas and her people.

OUR DUTY TO YOU.

Viewing the political tangle of Texas as it stands today, it shall be the duty of this newspaper to give you the political news without favoritism, honestly according each side a hearing. There will be no mud slinging tactics. Our readers are entitled to more consideration than to attempt to mislead them by resorting to a revolt against decency. It is not our wish to dictate. It is your state as well as ours. Vote as you please.

At the same time, we deem it our duty to call your attention to an explanation of any misstatements that may be promulgated, broadcasted or published.

NEWSPAPERS TO BLAME.

In staid old Boston, 'tree sitting' is referred to as 'farical phenomemon'. No matter by what name it may be known, its continuance may be directly traced to newspaper publicity. Lads who are unable to accomplish anything worth while, resort to this novel means that they might attract the publicity that is otherwise denied them.

Parents are just as guilty as the children for the reason that a cutting off of the food supply would put an end to such foolishness. On the other hand, what is a poor defenseless parent to do when the child refuses to do anything but sit in a tree? It all depends on who is master in the home.

LYNCH DAVIDSON.

Lynch Davidson, former Lieutenant Governor and for many years one of Democracy's leading standard bearers in Texas and against whom the finger of suspicion has never been pointed, will oppose the election of Sterling through patriotic motives.

Davidson believes that the Sterling principles if put into practice would be a detriment to the state. He can't be bought. He refuses to sacrifice principle in order to cater to big moneyed men. He has said only recently that he will never again be a candidate and will fight for the best interests of the mass-as an individual.

OKLAHOMA NOT FOR SALE.

It was demonstrated in Oklahoma's primary of last Tuesday that the office of Governor of our sister state is also not for sale. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, one a power in politics of that state with his support coming from the common people, led his oil millionaire opponent by over sixty thousand votes.

Murray, since topping the list in his state in early statehood days, had spent several years in Bolivia, of South America. His return was hailed with delight by the working class. He will likely be the next governor of Oklahoma without the aid of newspaper backing and radio activity. The common people spoke just as they will in Texas August 23rd.

NEWSPAPER ETHICS.

In looking over our exchanges for the past week since the primary, we note a few who received Sterling advertising jumped on the Ferguson and vomited up a bunch of filth that is a disgrace to the individual, the profession and the state.

When a publisher permits his prejudice or his loyalty to his Money Master to sway his judgment to the extent of insulting the intelligence of his readers with a mass of unprintable filth, he has sunk beneath the level of his victim even if all the statements made were facts.

The big majority of the people of Texas will not vote for any one August the 23rd, but will vote against the idea of selling Texas to any candidate. The protesting ballots cast in favor of Ferguson will simply mean that the office of Governor of the Lone Star state is not for sale at any price.

POLITICAL BUNCOMBE.

Cyclone Davis is credited with saying that Texas will have open saloons within thirty days after Ferguson is elected. How much do you suppose he was paid to lie like that?

Another fellow down state is credited with the statement that Sterling will take over the highways and make toll roads out of them. He's another liar, folks. Just a plain liar and he knows it, and so do you.

Another chirps up with a two-by-four mind and says that Ferguson is a member of the Communist party and that the Reds will take Texas if he is elected. Any ten-year-old kid ought to have more sense than that. Another newspaper man says Ferguson was kicked out of office for committing 'high crimes', and yet he was never prosecuted for any crime.

After all is said and done, the large majority of the laboring class will vote for Ma and the others will vote for Ross. There will be plenty of good folks all 'balled up' on both sides and this will be followed by the biggest Republican vote this fall Texas ever saw.

THE PRESS AND POLITICS.

Despite the condemnation of the press of the state by those who do not approve of the recent tactics of Sterling managers, they are entitled to credit for two things: A luke warm brother newspaper man suddenly became greatly interested in his Master, and secondly, he stood loyal to him who paid the bill.

Most all, or about 95 per cent of those who ran Sterling ads, are just as enthusiastic now as before the primary. This is probably accounted for by reason of the fact that the contract is still in force or not complete.

The public looks to the press of today largely for information. The ethical newspaper is honor bound to supply information based on facts. It has been a hard pull to get the profession out of the mire and the job has consumed most of twenty years. It appears at this time that we are slipping.

Only a very few newspaper men refused to be bought. A few were lined up before accepting pay and of course are not to be condemned. Others accepted the advertising and the 'famous check' and remained loyal to their community as they saw it.

We fail to see where Secretary Harbin of the State Press Association is to be condemned when the majority of the publishers whom he has been selected to serve approved of his actions by accepting the money.

Harbin likely knows his bunch better than anyone else. He left it up to the individual as to accepting the proposition. There was no force used. Most of the membership grabbed it at the first opportunity. It appears that we need a housecleaning within our membership rather than attempting to saddle all the blame off on the man who sought to guide the cash into the tills of those whom he serves—the newspaper men of Texas.

If the public at large does not approve of newspapers being bought by any politician, they can vote against him August 23rd and register their disapproval in a manner that will be remembered for years.

* Temple of Truth *
By the Apostle
*******

The hot weather has got the Apostle all 'hot and bothered' this week. In fact the urge to write pomes is constant, unceasing and as Judge Cole would say, reached the depths of fanaticism.

Our red-headedson who had tree sitting ambitions, was taken in charge by his mother and is toughening up on a hoe handle where it will do some good.

Silver may be Sterling. But don't you cry, Ma will get his (re) finery And never half try.

Well that is some relief to take that dig out on some good friend.

A little pound of Sterling. And a great big ad Is never calculated

To make any of us mad. How do you newspaper men like that? Watch 'em grab it off and line up.

Thirty days hath September, April, June and November. All the rest have rain or snow, Except the 7th which I know.

But no one seems to be interested in the weather with the air full of 'polytik's'.

A red hot Sterling supporter came in and ran circles when he read that Ferguson pome. The air was blue with his language. In our effort to please him—

Vote for Sterling

Get a road.

We are tired hopping Like a toad.

Bumps and chug holes Don't go so well

While back seat drivers Are raising—

Of course we all know that back seat drivers only raise the cushion.

Here's some more of that rotten stuff boosting for sterling:

Twinkle, twinkle little star, Up above the state so high, He doesn't care what you are, Sterling wil 'highway' you by and by.

Everybody is getting tired of this gorious talent being wasted. It really should be used to better advantage and here goes—

Here's my bottle of hootch, As a confidence starter.

Don't shoot mister—I'll marry your darter.

Dragging skeletons out of the closet is a precarious predicament—what ever that is, and often leads to trouble. We're cutting it out.

Women fifty years ago were in some instances 'setting their caps' for the men, and are still at it, though it is running more to knee caps now.

AN OLD FAVORITE

Certain newspaper classics are revived from time to time and re-published. One of thm, now "going the rounds of the press" for the benefit of the younger generation, is this:

Tennyson could take a worthless sheet of paper, write a poem on it and make it worth $65,000. That's genius.

Some men can sign a check and make it worth $50,000. That's capital.

The government can take an ounce of silver worth 50 cents and make it worth $1. That's money.

A mechanic can take material worth $15 and make it into watch springs worth $50. That's skill.

An artist can take 50-cent piece of canvas and paint a picture on it worth hundreds of dollars. That's art.

A merchant can take an article costing 75 cents and sell it for $1. That's business.

A girl can buy a hat for $2.99 but prefers one that costs $29.99. That's vanity.

The author of this can write a check for $9,000, but it isn't worth a cent. That's tough!

Mayfield And Sterling Begin Fireworks

Without stating a choice for Governor, Earle B. Mayfield, who ran sixth or seventh in the race for Governor last Saturday, issued a statement here Thursday condemning the candidacy of Ross Sterling and declaring that he will not vote for Sterling in the runoff primary.

"To the point of almost physical exhaustion," he said, "I fought from every stump in the State, the unholy interference of money brought by Sterling and his associates into the campaign just closed, and I can not now, by my ballot indorse the bold, brazen and defiant attempt to buy the Governor's office, as though it were a piece of meat lying on the butcher's block."

In his statement, Mr. Mayfield called the roll of Texas' departed heroes—Houston, Coke and Hogg—and declared that could they awake they would drive with a whip of scorpions the money changers from the temple of State and save Texas from the reputation now borne by Illinois and Pennsylvania, where offices are bought and sold like sheep for slaughter."

In his statement, too, he added the warning that had been a part of his campaign speeches—that victory for Mr. Sterling will give the Republicans cause "by quo warranto" to proceedings to prevent Sterling's name from being printed on the ballot, in the general election, on account of "the violation of our election laws by Sterling and his State campaign manager."

The statement concluded with thanks to his friends "who marched with me to a glorious defeat."

Mr. Sterling took heed in his reply of Mr. Mayfield's charges about excessive campaign expenditures.

"Mayfield's charges concerning alleged campaign expenditures on my part are merely dying squawks of a discredited politician. His vapors about alleged violation of the primary election law are too silly to require comment."

Vann M. Kennedy

Your tax rate will be one cent higher than last year. The State Automatic Tax Board met Wednesday and fixed the total rate at 69 cents on the $100 property valuation.

The public school tax rate was increased from 30 to 35 cents. The levy for general revenue purposes, the support of the State government, was cut from 30 to 27 cents. The seven cent levy for Confederate pensions remains unchanged. This is the maximum pension rate allowed by the State Constitution.

The Automatic Tax Board is an ex-officio one, being composed of Comptroller George Sheppard, Treasurer W. Gregory Hatcher and Governor Moody. The members of the Board were in unanimous agreement on the new tax rate. Treasurer Hatcher reports that there will be more than $600,000 in the State Treasury at the beginning of the new fiscal year on September 1.

The last stage of the gubernatorial race is due to lose its apathetic appearance. In many ways the run-off race between Ma Ferguson and Ross Sterling will be the most interesting of the numerous spectacular ones in recent Democratic history. The first woman governor of Texas is trying to make a "comeback" and a multi-millionaire is making a desperate effort to become the first rich man to be chief-executive.

Gasoline tax collections in June amounted to more than $3,000,000, according to State Comptroller George H. Sheppard. This indicates an increase of as much as $300,000,000 over the collections for May.

State Insurance Commissioner W. A. Tarver announced last week that he would call on the Attorney General's department to investigate alleged insurance law violations by two Houston insurance companies, the Security Union Insurance Co. and the Lumberman's Reciprocal Association.

R. S. Sterling, candidate for Governor, and ex-Governor W. P. Hobby of Houston and other prominent men are connected with the companies. The Insurance Commission revoked the certificates of authority of the companies because of "financial impairment and other good and sufficient reasons."

An auditor's report indicates a deficit of $328,000 as to policy holders of the Lumberman's Reciprocal Association and a deficit of $205,000 for the policy holders of the Security Union Insurance Co. The companies were operated by a management corporation, Christie and Hobby, Inc., who were attorneys-in-fact for the firms. George Christie and W. P. Hobby collected a commission for handling the business of the companies.

The accounting practices of the companies were frowned upon by the auditors. The Lumberman's Reciprocal reported unpaid losses at $721,310, while the auditors claimed it to be $984,723. Unpaid losses of the Security Union were reported at $278,708, but the auditors estimated it to be $416,732.

Eight violations of insurance laws was charged by the auditors. The report disclosed that the Security Union had special contracts with the Humble Oil and Refining Co., the Gulf Production Co., the Texas Co. and others for writing their insurance. Refunds or rebates were made to these oil companies by the Security Union, it was charged.

"Based on the above facts," says the auditors, "which show conclusively that the Security Union had no chance to do anything but lose money under these agreements, we are of the opinion that a proper regard for the company's welfare would have prevented its entering into such contracts, and inasmuch as Christie and Hobby have profited by these contracts to the extent of $84,974, we believe Christie and Hobby should refund to this company that amount."

It is clearly indicated by the report that the stock-holders of the Christie and Hobby and the oil companies.

"The extreme reductions in dividends for the last six years, plus depletion of the surplus existing at the beginning of the period and the creation of the deficit existing at the end of the year 1929, must largely be attributed to the increased fees collected by the attorneys-in-fact, is the conclusions of the auditors about one of the companies.

There will probably be no complete disclosure of the causes and effects of this situation until after the election.

OUR WEEKLY CHURCH CHAT

"Christianity"

Christianity is the teaching of our Lord Jesus Christ, and His Apostles. The record of this doctrine is contained in the New Testament. Many prophecies that tell of the blessings of Christianity, and typify that prefigure them, are found in the Old Testament Scriptures. Care should be taken lest the old covenant should be confounded with the new. Christianity does not consist of human theories, creeds, etc., but in doctrine of unquestionable authority: "in things that are true, whether men believe them or not—in things that are to be believed and acted upon just because they are true." The design of Christianity is to save fallen man; to bring the wanderers home make provisions for their needs, and prepare them for the eternal residence in "The Eden above." Christianity is the last, and greatest and most glorious revelation. (Heb. 1:1,2). The old dispensation shines as the twinkling stars, but Christianity, as the noon-day sun. Under the old covenant, the veil remained unlifted; the truths of the gospel were hidden, covered up but now "the veil is taken away" (II. Cor. 3:16), and we are called upon to behold "the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ" (II. Cor. 4:6). Too often the Christian religion is judged, not by the doctrine of the New Testament, but by the theories of uninspired teachers, and the lives of professing Christians. Care should be taken to distinguish between the "faith which was once for all delivered to the saints" and accretions to the faith—extraneous additions consisting of human speculations, or unchristian like conduct. The edifice of Christianity, as built by Christ and His apostles, needs no accretions. As workmen, at times, have covered up the ornamental designs of the interior of certain buildings with layers of whitewash, so men have covered up the doctrine of the New Testament with whitewash of speculative theology. Our duty is plain. Occasionally, workmen have been engaged to remove the layers of whitewash, and the ornamental work has been revealed in its original beauty. We must endeavor to tear away everything extraneous, that the faith of the early Church may once more be clearly revealed in its original simplicity and beauty.

To assist you in seeing the beauties of Christianity, we have been conducting an Evangelistic campaign in the big tent on the school ground. We invite you to be present during the last week of this meeting, which will be dedicated to the home life in this community. It will be "Family Week". Help save THE HOME—THE NATION—THE CHURCH. W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

Mrs. Rose Brady and daughter, Miss Vivian of Ft. Worth are guests of the H. L. Brady home in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shoffitt and family and Mrs. F. A. Shoffitt returned Sunday from a weeks outing the mountains of N. M. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Shoffitt at Roswell.

W. P. Cagle, Jr. of San Pedro, California arrived Sunday to join his family which has been visiting relatives here for some time. W. P. is a son of W. P. Cagle of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Latson had as guests Sunday night Mrs. A. T. Culbertson and children, Catherine and Marvin of Dallas, old friends on their way to Colorado for a vacation tour.

SAME HERE

An unfortunate accident Sunday night centers the attention of this community upon the condition that fathered the cause of the accident. It is no secret that numerous automobiles ply our highways and sometimes our streets without lights, old licenses or no licenses. Children far under the legal age herd motor cars thru the thoroughfares, braving the traffic at the risk of their lives and those of others who use the highways. Cars with no light, cars with no tail light, cars without any lights may be seen. This produces a condition under which serious accidents are likely to happen at any time. At best, accidents happen under present traffic conditions. But we loathe to take action against our friends.

We mention these things not in criticism of any particular person or official or even of our own community. It is a condition that obtains in practically all small towns, as well as larger cities. Such "little things" lead to laxness in the more serious offenses. The laxity in "little things" has brought about a condition in cities like Chicago and New York in which the criminal element controls labor union rackets, beer and liquor traffic, to the detriment of those places and the lives of their citizens.

The principals in our current upheaval are not to be blamed entirely. A famous judge once said that there are no delinquent children; there are delinquent parents and delinquent officials. All or most young people, quite often must be saved from themselves. They are impulsive; they have pep and these must be satisfied. Unless they are given proper direction they lead to difficulties.

As a community we could profit thru a realization of our responsibility to the youth of the town. We thing with George MacDonald that "when we are out of sympathy with the young then our work in this world is over." As a group, the young need only direction and supervision to have a good time. Protect the boys and girls from themselves and they will soon become valuable citizens. Up to this time we have been lax in varying degrees in dealing with our "youth" problem.—Press, Polo, Ill.

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF TEXAS:

Making the race for Railroad Commissioner in the short period of five weeks time, with $826.00, against a former Governor and Railroad Attorney who had the backing of the Railroads, the Railroad-Controlled B u s Lines, Pipe Lines, and Big Oil Companies, together with nearly 2000 persons placed on the State's payroll while he was Governor, and by his influence since that time, (including members of the Railroad Commission and the all-powerful State Board of Control, which directs the expenditures of the State's money, and passes upon the salaries of the State employees) as well as their combined corporate and personal influence in closing the columns of some newspapers to my candidacy and in minimizing the mention of it in others, it now seems that I have been placed in the run-off primaries as a candidate for Railroad Commissioner. While I appreciate to the uttermost the confidence thus expressed by the voters in my ability and personal integrity, I realize that the vote cast for me in the July primaries was also cast for the protection of the "Common people" against "Corporate greed" and on this and other issues, I will shortly go to the voters of Texas.

Opinions From Different Sections of The State Are Varied

Money Versus Brains?
Center News: Tom Love, T. W. Davidson and Dan Moody have crawled up on the Sterling gubernatorial wagon and announce that they will actively support the Houston candidate, who will be in the run-off with Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Much conjecture is going the circles as to the comparative strength of Mrs. Ferguson and Mr. Sterling in a run-off contest with the interest centered on the platforms of the two. Sterling supporters claim victory. Ferguson voters claim victory. It appears to us that it will be money against brains.

Nearly Through.
Brownsville Herald: There never will be another Jim Ferguson in Texas, or in any other State, for that matter.

He has run for almost everything the State has to offer and, not satisfied with that, he once hoped the Democratic party and ran for President. Always he has either been victorious or piled up a considerable vote. Not satisfied with holding office and being impeached himself, he has put his wife into office, run her into defeat and now he comes back and leads the ballot in a field of eleven.

There is one thing Texas might at this time feel thankful for. That is, there are not many left in the family to hold office. The term "might feel thankful for" is used because the Fergusons are through holding offices in Texas. Jim has a certain following in Texas that nothing will jar loose from him. But that particular following is all. He will go down in the run-off by a large majority.

Some Things the Primary Election Proved.

Denton Record-Chronicle: Out of all the uncertainty which attended the late primary election has come a number of facts, some of which were suspected before and some which were not. The experience in the primary goes to prove that prognosticating Texas elections is almost equivalent to prophesying Texas weather.

In the first place, even the most optimistic Ferguson supporter, out side of Jim himself, hardly believed that Mrs. Ferguson could lead the field by so many votes. The vote also proved that a great many Texas voters have an incredibly short memory.

Another political belief that was exploded was that Hoovercrats would vote for Tom Love. Some did, of course, but not as many as voted for President Hoover two years ago.

A really significant trend of the election was the large number of votes which were given those candidates who never before took part in State political affairs. Sterling, Small and Young, listed as virtual newcomers in the field of politics, received almost a majority of the votes, which can be taken as an indication that voters are inclined to stop perennial politicians.

And Miller and Mayfield, considered as two of the seven possibilities, hardly gathered a handful of votes, although both have been victorious in important State elections several times. Between now and the run-off election, the results of the primary will be added and subtracted many times to prove this or that.

The Threat of Ferguson

Dallas News: The News proffered its support to Ross Sterling's candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Governor in behalf that he would make a strong race, win the nomination in the run-off and make a Governor of upstanding qualifications. As a result of the first primary it can not be denied that there is considerable and probably justifiable enthusiasm in the anti-Ferguson forces at this time. But a study of the map prepared by The News and printed in Wednesday's issue will show that the menace of Fergusonism continues with augmented force.

It will not do to let down now. James E. Ferguson is a master of political strategy. The limitations that another man would acknowledge are no restraint whatever upon him. He is master also of platform appeal. None is so sure of his touch as he plays upon the mass reflexes of the crowd.

There is something pathetic as well as monitory in the expression that his supporters wear as they turn their faces up to him in the midst of his speeches. There are faces there in his crowds that are work-worn and weary. There are faces there which have known the sharp pinch of poverty. Downhearted tenant farmers, dispossessed mortgagors, jobless day laborers—simple and unpretending, perhaps, but deservately in earnest and utterly in the toils of the wizardry of words.

Yes, their Jim was impeached, but he is their Jim, and they hiss through clenched teeth that it was a "frame-up." It makes no difference what the charge, or what the proved facts may be, for that matter; Jim is their Jim and they are his. The unquestioning character of their loyalty makes it all the more formidable. To meet it calls for intelligence, industry and vigilance. Slackness at any point can be costly. Texas must clear itself of Fergusonism by such a majority for Sterling as not even Jim Ferguson himself can question. We owe that much to the good name of the State abroad in the land, to say nothing of what we owe ourselves an our children.

Between The Devil and The Deep Sea.

Lockney Beacon: Politics is a very uncertain game, and the unexpected happens without realization until the vote is given.

row to travel, as aites that we could coaschupport have been elimint is going to be hard to tver of the aspirants, as vave supported the Fergus we feel that we cannot terling, for fear that if tted he will put over his huse and tax the people to death.

Every person who reason or comes in con'the editor, well knows the al ways stood for goodand have fought for eveand issue that has been pthe people of this county,anot go with Mr. Steruse Floyd county cannot pay taxes of $1,100,000 fo of thirty years, with nce that they get any pds within that thirty ye! Of course, the argumnt, so-line tax will pay for ids, but you must rememba- loren tax must be to make up any deficiengas tax, and that a defight appear within the 30-od is an item any thonod might well give consand if the gasoline interenk- ing fund which would jir- ty years grow to be 100 then the land and propers of the state would havthe bill. You know how von the Ferguson questionwe decide to vote in the sri-mary, it will be Ma for us. Don't misunderstand us, we always stand for what we believe best, no party has any strings on us, and we vote as please at all times regardless of party affiliations or public sentiment, and we can tel you where we stand on the governor's race as soon as the returns are complete and we know what we have before us to choose from.

Mrs. Minerva Sledge Dies at Home of Daughter

After making her home with her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Curtis of Lelia Lake for the past few years, Mrs. Minerva Sledge passed quietly into the higher life Thursday. She had made her home in Hall and Donley counties for the past seven years.

Born seventy-nine years ago near Nashville, Tennessee, the family moved to Texas in 1873 locating in Collin county with a number of other pioneer families in the early settlement of the state. She continued her home there for a period of fifty years.

Besides Mrs. Curtis, another daughter, Mrs. Nellie Kilgore, lives at Newcastle. The sons are Claude W. and George W. Sledge of Rhome, Texas. All of the living children were present to attend the funeral services Friday which were held at the Buntin parlors. Rev. W. H. Knoy, pastor of the Methodist church of Lelia Lake had charge of the services.

The pallbearers were: M. L. Putman, Z. N. Williams, W. T. Floyd, Will Mace Walter Creamer and M. H. Salmon.

Friends and neighbors of Lelia held the deceased in high esteem and in addition to their labors of love, contributed a most beautiful wreath.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wilson and daughter, Mrs. Dewey Wood of McLean, motored to Amarillo Sunday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Blanche Jones of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Trostle and Miss Marue and Bonner were Shamrock visitors Saturday.

Miss Lucile Colbert of Duncan, Oklahoma is visiting her cousin, Miss Lotta Bourland.

Mrs. Nannie Fowler of Brownfield, Mrs. Clyde Fowler and Mrs. E. R. Fowler of Leslie visited in the W. T. Fowler home here Friday.

Meety the Needs of Millions of Pede

The low-priced automobile had created opportunity and added hours of recreation for men and women.

BECAUSE the automobile is such an important factor in the lives and prosperity of so many people, the purpose of the Ford Motor Company is something more than the mere manufacture of a motor car. There is no service in simply setting up a machine or a plant and letting it turn out goods. The service extends into every detail of the business — design production, the wages paid and the selling price. All are a part of the plan. The Ford Motor Company looks upon itself as charged with making an automobile that will meet the needs of millions of people and to provide it at a low price. That is its mission. That its duty and its obligation to the public and to increase structural strength. The search for better ways of doing things is never-ending. There is ceaseless, untiring effort to find new methods and new machines that will save steps time in manufacturing. The Ford plant, in reality, a great mechanical university, dedicated to the advancement of industry. Many manufacturers can see and share the progress made. The greatest progress comes by standing still. Today's methods, however successful, can never be taken as a right. They represent simply the best efforts of the moment. Tomorrow must bring an improvement in the methods of the day before. A work usually finds the way. Once it was thought impossible to cast iron by the endless chain method. A precedent was against it and every previous experiment had failed. But fair methods were eliminated. Finally the method was found. A better way of making axle shafts saved thirty-six million dollars in four years. A new method of cutting crankcases reduced the cost by $500,000 a year. The perfection of a new machine saved a similar amount on such a little thing as a bolt. Then electric welding was developed to make many bolts unnecessary and to increase structural strength. Just a little while ago, an endless chain conveyor almost four miles long was installed at the Rouge plant. This conveyor has a daily capacity of 300,000 parts weighing more than 2,000,000 pounds. By substituting the tireless, unvarying machine for tasks formerly done by hand, it has made the day's work easier for thousands of workers and saved time and money in the manufacture of the car. All of these things are done in the interest of the public — so that the benefits of reliable, economical transportation may be placed within the means of every one.

Dumas Is Celebrating All This Week

What was once referred to as "that little town of Dumas" not so very long ago, is now quite a burg and is celebrating all of this week. The fore part of the week will be devoted to wild west stunts of a rodeo nature. The latter part of the week will partake more of the effete east with a chautauqua.

The Mills brothers, Hutton and A. Stewart are looking after the rodeo features. D. A. Endsley, famed in the art for a number of years, has the barbecue tip to the standard. A large number of people are reported to have been headed in the direction of Moore county Tuesday.

McLean's Second Newspaper Making Good Headway

The Gray County Times, second paper in McLean and edited by E. P. Reavis, came out the past week with a good ad patronage and brim full of live, weekly news matter.

It is of the old style hand set type, and at the same time is well arranged, ads displayed up to best advantage and the print first-class.

The other paper is owned by T. A. Landers who has been a prominent figure in the building of the town for a number of years. With two such papers, McLean will get it told to the world, and they have many advantage to advertise.

Late Election Returns Show Change

Judge Alexander calls our attention to a change in figures in his race which is due to the fact that we had access only to reports instead of official returns at the time of publication last week.

The final results show, that Judge Alexander received a total of 1356 votes in his race for reelection to the office of county judge. Mr. Kendall received a total of 993 votes in the same race.

State Politics As Reflected In The Press Of Texas

Opinions From Different Sections Of The State Are Varied

Money Versus Brains?

Center News: Tom Love, T. W. Davidson and Dan Moody have crawled up on the Sterling gubernatorial wagon and announce that they will actively support the Houston candidate, who will be in the run-off with Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Much conjecture is going the circles as to the comparative strength of Mrs. Ferguson and Mr. Sterling in a run-off contest with the interest centered on the platforms of the two. As a result of the first primary it can not be denied that there is considerable and probably justifiable enthusiasm in the anti-Ferguson forces at this time. Yes, their Jim was impeached, but he is their Jim, and they hiss through clenched teeth that it was a "frame-up." It makes no difference what the charge, or what the proved facts may be, for that matter; Jim is their Jim and they are his. The unquestioning character of their loyalty makes it all the more formidable. To meet it calls for intelligence, industry and vigilance. Slackness at any point can be costly. Texas must clear itself of Fergusonism by such a majority for Sterling as not even Jim Ferguson himself can question. We owe that much to the good name of the State abroad in the land, to say nothing of what we owe ourselves an our children.

Between The Devil and The Deep Sea.

Lockney Beacon: Politics is a very uncertain game, and the unexpected happens without realization until the vote is in. In the governor's race we again have a hard row to travel, as all candidates that we could conscientiously support have been eliminated, and it is going to be hard to support either of the aspirants, as we never have supported the Fergusons and we feel that we cannot support Sterling, for fear that if he is elected he will put over his big bond issue and tax the people of Texas to death.

Every person who reads the Beacon or comes in contact with the editor, well knows that we have always stood for good roads, and have fought for every good road issue that has been put before the people of this county, but we cannot go with Mr. Stagg, because Floyd county cannot afford to pay taxes of $1,100,000 in a period of thirty years, with an assurance that they get any saved roads within that thirty year period. Of course, the arguments, the gasoline tax will pay for the bonds, but you must remember the ad valorem tax must be pledged to make up any deficiency in the gas tax, and that a deficiency might appear within the 30 year period is an item any thing person might well give consideration and if the gasoline interest and sinking fund which would within thirty years grow to be $80,000,000 then the land and property owners of the state would have to pay the bill. You know how to stand on the Ferguson question but if we decide to vote in the second primary, it will be Ma for us. Don't misunderstand us, we always stand for what we believe best, no party has any strings on us, and we vote as please at all times regardless of party affiliations or public sentiment, and we can tell you where we stand on the governor's race as soon as the returns are complete and we know what we have before us to choose from.

Mrs. Minerva Sledge Dies at Home of Daughter

After making her home with her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Curtis of Lelia Lake for the past few years, Mrs. Minerva Sledge passed quietly into the higher life Thursday. She had made her home in Hall and Donley counties for the past seven years.

Born seventy-nine years ago near Nashville, Tennessee, the family moved to Texas in 1873 locating in Collin county with a number of other pioneer families in the early settlement of the state. She continued her home there for a period of fifty years.

Besides Mrs. Curtis, another daughter, Mrs. Nellie Kilgore, lives at Newcastle. The sons are Claude W. and George W. Sledge of Rhome, Texas. All of the living children were present to attend the funeral services Friday which were held at the Buntin parlors. Rev. W. H. Knoy, pastor of the Methodist church of Lelia Lake had charge of the services.

The pallbearers were: M. L. Put-

man, Z. N. Williams, W. T. Floyd, Will Mace Walter Creamer and M. H. Salmon.

Friends and neighbors of Lelia held the deceased in high esteem and in addition to their labors of love, contributed a most beautiful wreath.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wilson and daughter, Mrs. Dewey Wood of McLean, motored to Amarillo Sunday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Blanche Jones of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Trostle and Miss Marie and Bonner were Shamrock visitors Saturday.

Miss Lucile Colbert of Duncan, Oklahoma is visiting her cousin, Miss Lotta Bourland.

Mrs. Nannie Fowler of Brownfield, Mrs. Clyde Fowler and Mrs. E. R. Fowler of Leslie visited the W. T. Fowler home here Friday.

Meeting the Needs of Millions of People

The low-priced automobile has created a new opportunity and added hours of recreation to the lives of millions of men and women.

BECAUSE the automobile is such an important factor in the lives and prosperity of so many people, the purpose of the Ford Motor Company is something more than the mere manufacture of a motor car.

There is no service in simply setting up a machine or a plant and letting it turn out goods. The service extends into every detail of the business—design, production, the wages paid and the selling price. All are a part of the plan.

The Ford Motor Company looks upon itself as charged with making an automobile that will meet the needs of millions of people and to provide it at a low price. That is its mission. That is its duty and its obligation to the public.

The search for better ways of doing things is never-ending. There is ceaseless, untiring effort to find new methods and new machines that will save steps and time in manufacturing. The Ford plants are, in reality, a great mechanical university, dedicated to the advancement of industry. Many manufacturers come to see and share the progress made.

The greatest progress comes by never standing still. Today's methods, however successful, can never be taken as wholly right. They represent simply the best efforts of the moment. Tomorrow must bring an improvement in the methods of the day before, and work usually finds the way.

Once it was thought impossible to cast gray iron by the endless chain method. All precedent was against it and every previous experiment had failed. But fair prices to the public demanded that wasteful methods be eliminated. Finally the way was found.

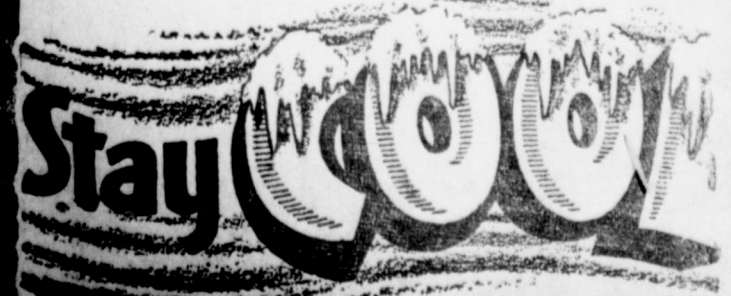

A better way of making axle shafts saved thirty-six million dollars in four years. A new method of cutting crankshafts reduced the cost by $500,000 a year. The perfection of a new machine saved a similar amount on such a little thing as one bolt. Then electric welding was developed to make many bolts unnecessary and to increase structural strength.

Just a little while ago, an endless chain conveyor almost four miles long was installed at the Rouge plant. This conveyor has a daily capacity of 300,000 parts weighing more than 2,000,000 pounds. By substituting the tireless, unvarying machine for tasks formerly done by hand, it has made the day's work easier for thousands of workers and saved time and money in the manufacture of the car.

All of these things are done in the interest of the public—so that the benefits of reliable, economical transportation may be placed within the means of every one.

Democrats Hold County Convention To Elect Delegates

Meeting is Presided Over by W. P. Cagle, Party Wheel Horse

In the Democratic county convention held here Saturday afternoon at 2, one very noticeable thing was plainly in evidence. That was the fact that only delegates attended. This possibly has not occurred locally for several years.

It was also noticed that practically all of those present were men. Some of the delegates were with old age still fighting for the cause. Younger men apparently take less interest in party affairs than in former years.

The convention was called to order by the chairman, W. P. Cagle. J. T. Patman was elected secretary of the Convention.

The following delegates were elected to represent the Democrats of Donley county at the State Convention: W. P. Cagle, A. M. Beville, Tom F. Connally, Zeb Mitchell and J. T. Patman.

Delegates elected to the District Congressional Convention to be held at Amarillo August 23rd were J. J. Alexander, L. A. Stroud, A. M. Beville, Sam Braswell, Sr., H. B. Kerbow.

No date has been set for the Representative Convention, but an effort will be made to secure that meeting here. The matter will be discussed with Representative Dewey Young with that idea in view. Delegates that will attend such a convention when held are A. M. Beville, R. E. Drennon and S. T. Clayton.

Mrs. Clifford Davis and son Billie Burson, returned home Saturday after a week spent on the ranch of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burson near Silverton.

Mrs. Donnell returned to her home at Canyon Sunday accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Reeves whom she had been visiting here.

M. M. Noble was an Amarillo visitor Saturday.

Latest Fur Coat Styles Of Silhouette Fitting Closely

Trappers Will Find Big Demand For Choice of American Furs

Coats for the coming winter will be arrayed with far more fur material than usual. Coats that have appeared to fail to show the form to best effect for several seasons, will meet with approval this season with the more tight fitting forms.

Beginning at the shoulders such a coat descends to define suitable placement of the waist and hips and then falls away at the sides gracefully. Sleeves in the new fur coats fit as perfectly as the sleeves of the light fabric coat, the cuff treatment keeping in harmony with the body and collar—all of which makes for smartness.

Collars Are Versatile. Collars on fur coats this season are versatile. They take the dictation of the wearer. If one wishes a scarf it is that, then with a flip it becomes a shawl. Another touch of the hand and it is something of a cape. This year coat collars do not have to stay put to be at their best. The changes are made possible by full cutting, length and depth.

Nothing is smarter in the reasonably priced coats than nutria-lapin for town or sports wear. Semifitted lines and belt at natural waistline give such a coat much swagger. In rose-biege and suntan it is equally smart.

Other reasonably priced coats are in silver muskrat with self collar and silver muskrat with brown fox collar. Elmwood caracul, grey kid caracul and mauve caracul advance to the higher-priced wraps of more valuable pelts in Russian caracul.

White lapin fashions the loveliest of evening wraps, regal with huge shawl collars, muff sleeves and above the knee lengths.

Ermine, Japanese mink, plucked otter, beaver, Persian lamb and broadtail are other furs arousing interest.

There of course is the flattering neck piece that is very popular this fall. You may wear it in silver point, platinum, red, brown, rose beige and light beige and be equally attractive provided you tone your costume. A scarf and muff set is the very last work in fur accessories. It can be worn with many different outfits and with it striking contrasts can be obtained. Black ermine, black caracul and black astrakhan are being shown with coats and suits and frocks in autumn's deep wine and green shades. For deep brown shades, Persian lamb, of ombre beige to dark brown, is used. The scarfs are of the flat stole variety, the muffs taking various treatments.

Fur trimmings for suits, frock and tailored coats favor astrakhan, in black, brown or dark gray. Models by Patou are seen with a closely curled lamb fur. Flat caracul and galyak is also seen. Long favors martens for evening wraps, with some fitch and some sable. Beaver and nutria come in for a share of attention as trims.

Sterling Campaign Opens at Dallas Monday

The Dallas News reports that over a thousand people attended the big Sterling rally at Dallas Monday of this week in which former speakers for Barry Miller, Tom Love, Jim Young, Small and others took a part.

Plans were made to prosecute an active campaign over 42 counties of the Panhandle in an effort to corral the Small vote polled July 26th. Senator Pink Parish of Lubbock former backer of Small, will have charge of the campaign in the Panhandle.

James O. Guleke of Amarillo addressed the convention stating that sixty to seventy percent of the Panhandle vote would go for Sterling. "Our people never have voted for Ferguson, and they won't this time" was a statement by Mr. Guleke that brought an ovation.

The attack on "Fergusonism" will be stressed and the state-wide bond issue will be relegated to the scrap heap as the most unpopular cause that was ever made an issue in the state, and especially in the Panhandle, it is said.

Daily Less Complaint

There is much complaint among Ferguson supporters over the file the past week alleging that the daily press has refused to carry any report of Ferguson activities.

It is claimed by Ferguson adherents at reports of Ferguson speaking dates have been ignored likewise reports of speeches he made. Letters and telegrams are reported to have been sent by individuals to their favorite dailies asking the reason why. Local supporters state that no reports above mentioned have appeared in dailies distributed in Donley county.

Shamrock Women Protest Orders Issued Rangers

Telegram Sent Governor Dan Moody. Insures Instructions. Severe censure of state authorities for the positive order issued to the army detachment sent here to prevent violence as an aftermath of the brutal slaying of Mrs. Henry Vaughan by a negro fiend last week was contained in a telegram sent to Governor Dan Moody. The message, which was signed by more than forty leading Shamrock women, was worded as follows:

"Big newspaper display of your instructions to Texas Rangers to kill our fathers, husbands and brothers in order to protect confessed negro rapist and murderer who so brutally attacked and killed Ruth Vaughan, one of the sweetest characters of our community, horrifies us, for it has two effects.

"First, it leads negro fiends to believe that the law will protect them to the extent of white lives and, second, it leads them to believe that our husbands, fathers and brothers are not permitted to protect us. Such highly advertised instructions leave us at the mercy of any negro fiend who runs amuck and we protest such instructions in behalf of all the white women of Texas."—Shamrock Texan.

No Election at Windy Valley Saturday

The election schedule to take place in the Windy Valley community Saturday to determine if that school district should take advantage of the Clarendon no tuition plan was not held for the reason that election supplies mailed out failed to reach the authorities.

The election in the Bairfield district Saturday failed to carry by a vote of four to nine.

Nine districts have already joined in the movement and it is expected that an election will be held in the Windy Valley district at an early date as many school enthusiasts there are interested in having the older pupils enter the junior college here at the beginning of the next term.

Sam Derden, formerly with the Clarendon Motor Company, has accepted a position with a St. Louis firm selling disinfectants with a territory extending from El Paso to Denison.

Rev. C. B. Ingram reports twenty-two conversions over the week, most of whom were residents of Collingsworth county.
