BIG BOY BLUFFER.

Just about the time Texas lifts 4600 acres of frog pond from Arkansas, she picks a fuss with Oklahoma over the Red River bridge again. The taxpayers built the bridge for public use, but the courts won't let 'em.

DISTRICT COURT TO RESUME WORK MONDAY MORNING

Grand Jury Adjourned On Tuesday Subject to Call After Busy Session

District Court was not in session over the week but will again take up session next Monday at which time the Hess Tyler case in which he is charged with the murder of Bryan Noll at Eli in January of last year, is set for trial.

The Tyler case comes to Donley on a change of venue and is the only murder case appearing on the docket for this term. A special venire of one hundred men has been called from which to select a jury in this case.

Up until the recess Tuesday, the Grand Jury had returned eight indictments. Arrests on these indictments must be made before the names of the accused parties may be published.

Due to the fact that the Grand Jury has recessed, their report cannot be published until they finally conclude their labors according to those in authority when an investigation was made Wednesday of this week.

City Marshall Makes Requests Halloween Night

City Marshall T. M. Fyfe states that he has no objections to the youngsters having fun on Halloween night, which will be observed next Saturday night of this week. In fact he likes for the young folks to have fun, and especially does he appreciate the good behavior of last Halloween night.

There will be plenty of law enforcement officials scattered over town Saturday night to see that no destructive acts mar the happiness of any one. The Sheriff's force will cooperate with the City Marshall in seeing that no property is destroyed. All the parents and school teachers are asked to aid in this matter that Halloween be observed with innocent fun without harm being done any one.

It is not believed that it will be necessary to invoke the curfew law of requiring those under sixteen to return to their homes at the eleven o'clock hour.

Anniversary Red Cross Roll Call Begins Nov. 11th

Mrs. Myrtle Montgomery of St. Louis, field representative of the mid-western branch of the American Red Cross visited Clarendon Friday for the purpose of conferring with local Red Cross officials relative to the Roll Call this year.

Homer Mulkey is county chairman and Mrs. H. T. Burton is chairman of the Roll Call Committee for Clarendon. J. D. Swift of the Farmers State Bank is treasurer. Other Roll Call chairmen for each of the towns in Donley county will be announced later.

Wilson Home is Destroyed Early Sunday Morning

The beautiful bungalow home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilson located in the block east of the Methodist church was consumed by fire about 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

This home was constructed some two years ago of a five room type and with all modern conveniences. It was numbered among the most beautiful of the homes built along modern lines in the city. The furniture and furnishings were also destroyed.

The occupants were visiting Mr. Wilson's father at Blair, Oklahoma having gone over for the week end.

Counterfeit Coins Showing Up in Clarendon

No sooner do federal sleuths run down the source of greenback manufacturers of a private nature, than the bimetalists get busy.

During the past week a number of ten cent and fifty cent coins have been circulated here. The specimens show an excellent grade of workmanship and would readily pass were it not for the "dull thud" rather than a "ring" when the coin is dropped on a solid substance.

Some four thousand dollars is said to have been traced across the river near El Paso last week. Federal men here Sunday were of the opinion that some of this shipment was being placed here, and it was through this means that they hoped to trail down the malefactors.

Hubert Fitzgerald Injured When Ladder Breaks

While making repairs at the Fitzgerald gin a few days ago, Hubert S. Fitzgerald fell some twenty feet when the ladder gave way receiving a broken hip. Both wrists were also broken in the fall.

He is slowly recovering from his injuries and reports today are to the effect that he is getting along about as well as could be expected.

GIRL OF TWELVE DESCRIBES TRIP TO STATE FAIR

Bernice Self of Lelia Lake Wins $5 in Prize Award 4-H Club Girl Exhibit

I left Clarendon at 7:45 Monday morning, October 19, 1931. Miss Buttrill, my Home Demonstration agent left with me. We went with the Panhandle girls with Mrs. Weaver as their chaperone. They were representatives from Gray, Potter, Wheeler and Hempfl counties. We were joined by girls from almost every county going down there.

We rode until we were tired and our chaperones said they would take us through the train. We first went through a diner. We saw how the tables were arranged so the food would not spill. On one side there were large tables that would seat four; on the other side were small tables that would seat two.

We went through the pullman and a porter put a bed down for us and showed us how it worked.

We then went into the kitchen. Every space in the kitchen was used for something. There were compartments under the table where they kept fish, milk, cheese, and other things that were served. The wall space was used as cabinet and refrigerator space. They burned coal in the stove.

We went into the observation car. We sat down in the soft seats, looked at the library and observed the scenery that we were leaving behind us. We came back through the car, ate our lunch and were content until we arrived in Dallas at 5:20 Monday afternoon.

We were met at the station by some of the staff, Miss Murray and Mrs. Clayton. Some men of the staff brought trucks and took our suit cases to Fair Park where they gave them to us Monday night.

Judge and Mrs. J. M. Elliot and daughter, Miss Dorothy of Memphis were here Monday for the church meeting and visited with their daughter, Mrs. J. E. Teer and Mr. Teer.

LITTLE HOPE IS HELD IN RECOVERY OF STRICKEN MAN

Wint Bairfield is Stricken At Home Thursday And Is In a Critical State

Late Thursday while sitting on a chair on his porch at his home some ten miles southwest of town, Mr. Wint Bairfield was suddenly taken with what is said to be an apoplectic stroke.

Members of his family were alarmed when they found that he was unable to speak, though he had not fallen to the floor. He made efforts to inform them of his condition without avail. A physician was hastily summoned and the patient was removed to Adair hospital a few hours later.

His condition has remained critical and relatives have been present for several days having been advised that the end may come at any moment. His sons, Clarence Bairfield of Clarendon and Chas. Bairfield and wife of Miami; a daughter, Mrs. Sloan who resides here; a brother, Willis Bairfield and his son and daughter of Delhi, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Henry, a sister-in-law of Goodlet, Okla. and numerous friends have been in constant attendance.

Mr. Bairfield is one of the earliest pioneers of this section and in early days punched cattle on the range before the country was settled. His strength of character and sterling honesty and noble sense of appreciation of friends has through all these years enabled him to enjoy the confidence and respect of all good citizens who prayerfully hope for his recovery.

ECONOMIC HISTORY SEVERAL NATIONS REVIEWED FRIDAY

Dr. B. L. Jenkins Traces History of Nations That Entered World War

Beginning his talk with a bit of the history of Egypt during the life of Joseph, and bringing to mind disasters at various periods and explaining the causes, Past President B. L. Jenkins of Clarendon's Rotary club brought them a pleasant surprise at their luncheon period Friday noon.

The speaker in paying his respects to modern history of the nations involved in the last great war, traced the actions of so-called great men from the period preceding the war until the present day.

He showed how France through her leaders had managed to take advantage of a situation to become the ruling European power. His statements regarding the ingratitude of that nation during the period of her darkest hours during the war, was an appalling truth that citizens of this nation today must face and pay the price of having meddled in foreign affairs. He held this up as a warning in the present Manchurian affair, and paid tribute to those who as leaders of this nation have opposed meddling in foreign disputes.

The address of Dr. Jenkins will be continued at some near future by special request of the entire membership. His scholarly analysis of a situation not generally understood interested his listeners as no other address before the Club.

Mrs. Myrtle Montgomery, representative of the National Red Cross office of St. Louis, spoke on the work of the Red Cross for the past year, and gave an insight of what might be expected of the organization the coming winter.

Homer Mulkey, county chairman of Red Cross work, also spoke of the work accomplished, and the importance of getting ready for the Roll Call beginning on Armistice Day.

C. C. Powell was appointed to speak next meeting on his observations after making a local business survey as Rotary's contribution to "Business Confidence Week."

Rotary Ann Rhoda Wiedman favored the Club with special piano numbers that always delight, and Rotarian R. E. Drennon had charge of the song service.

What was at first thought to be a serious injury befell Dan Boston, small son of Mr. and Mrs. U. J. Boston Sunday when he fell several feet while playing at the home of his grandfather, J. R. Boston near Hedley.

He remained unconscious for several hours from having struck on his face, but except for a badly lacerated lip and several loose teeth, Dan was back in school next day exhibiting his usual generous supply of pep.

LIONS INSPIRE CONFIDENCE WITH LUNCHEON TALKS

Seventh One Hundred Percent Meeting Program is Based On "Confidence Week"

Boss Lion G. L. Boykin presided at the regular luncheon hour Tuesday noon of the local Lions club in an interesting program based on "Business and Confidence Week" being celebrated by Lions International.

J. R. Porter as first speaker on the program, his subject on the local aspect of the oil industry stating that crude had advanced recently from 19 cents to 62 cents per barrel, and the tank price of gasoline from 3 to 5 cents.

A. L. Chase confined his remarks to a classification talk on the future of the oil industry stating that the major companies expected a return to normalcy about the first of the year, prices at present being on a decided up grade.

T. D. Nored spoke on the subject of electric energy and during his remarks stated that his company had enjoyed an increased business of five per cent over last year. He also stated that his office received notice in 1929 to prepare for the depression, and that he now had notice to prepare for an increase of business on a steady basis with a return to normal.

H. T. Burton announced the football game between the Bronchos and the Panhandle team Thursday afternoon of this week.

T. R. Broun, county agent, gave a report on the Donley county exhibit at the State Fair in which it received 16th place, the same as last year, but with an increase of 35 points on judging. Fifty-five counties were competitors.

The program was in charge of O. C. Watson, who was assisted on the committee by Ira Merchant and Sam Braswell Jr.

Hon. Marvin Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Timmons of Amarillo were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Corbin Sunday. Mr. Timmons has been employed in the Amarillo postoffice twenty-five years.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Knight and son and Mrs. L. D. Carlile and son and Lorene Shelton were business visitors in Amarillo Wednesday.

CROP CONDITIONS ARE BETTER THAN IN SEVERAL YEARS

Acreage Productions Exceed Expectations in Most All Varieties Grown

Cotton growers of this section cannot share in the 8 cent cotton price established by the government because it applies to seed loan growers and our farmers did not have to secure seed on government loans.

At the same time, a number of cotton growers are of the opinion that the price all-round will reach 8 cents within a short time, and some buyers predict a 10 cent market by the first of the year.

Headed feed that started moving early met a low market of $2.50 per ton. This price has increased until today headed feed is selling at $6 with every promise of a nice increase. Like other crops, there is very little being offered for sale.

While the cotton market is on the upward trend, seed prices have climbed from practically nothing to $9 a ton at the same time. Corn is also showing improvement.

The advance in feed prices is attributed to the large number of hogs and cattle being fed out at this time despite the fact that plenty of moisture has provided ideal conditions for the growing of green pasture. Most all the feed is being milled to further economize on the cost of a finished feeder product.

Wherever possible, growers are holding cotton and feed for a higher market, and especially is this true since general farm product prices are steadily advancing.

County H. D. Agent Helps Canners Next Week

Old-Time Religious Scene At Methodist Church

Harking back to the days of forty years ago, a religious service will be conducted at the Methodist church here Sunday night of this week with all the fervor of the days when candles and lamps were in vogue. In fact the lighting effects will be as ancient as the form of service.

The choir will be dressed in the fashion of those of forty years ago. The minister will adhere to the "line" method of singing by reading each line of the song to be repeated by the choir.

A general invitation is given the public to attend these services and enjoy an old-time treat of childhood days brought to the fore in an earnest and sincere manner.

EIGHT COUNTIES ARE REPRESENTED IN CHURCH MEET

Christian Evangelistic Meet Has All Day Service Monday First Christian Church

The First Christian church of Clarendon entertained a quarterly convention of the Christian Evangelistic Association Monday. The district is composed of the counties of Childress, Collingsworth, Donley, Cottle, Foard, Hall, Hardeman and Wheeler.

Rev. H. H. Neeley, pastor of the First Christian church of Wellington had charge of the devotional service at the opening session delivering an inspiring message to the membership.

Rev. C. C. Morgan, pastor of the First Christian church of Memphis preached at the morning service choosing the text "The High Road to Thessalonica." A bountiful lunch was served by the ladies of the congregation at the noon hour in the basement of the church.

Rev. Neeley again spoke at the opening of the afternoon session at 2:30 held in the main auditorium. Mrs. W. O. Wallace of Quanah sang a solo at this service.

Rev. Wilburn of Memphis spoke interestingly of the progress of the work of the district and special music was contributed by Mrs. Carver and Miss Esterbelle Haney of Clarendon. Each church represented delighted the congregation with a special song.

Rev. R. C. Brown of Paducah conducted the open forum when church problems were discussed. During a business session, the invitation of the Quanah church was accepted and the next convention will be held with that church on January 25, 1932.

The attendance at the evening session was augmented considerably by a number of visitors from out of town as well as home folks. F. A. Westmoreland of Childress had charge of this service with about thirty of the young people in charge of the music, a number of them making short talks relative to the reason young people should take an active part in church work.

Rev. Mullins of the church at Childress explained their plan of interesting young folks in church work, and the importance of proper coaching by individuals especially fitted as leaders.

Large delegations were present from Wellington, Childress, Paducah, Quanah, Memphis, Hedley, Lelia Lake and surrounding sections.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Foster of Clarendon are spending the week with their daughter, Mrs. F. A. Stocking and family.

Running Things.

The man who boasts of running things in his home may be referring to the washing machine.

Informative.

There was a time when a man was known by the company he kept. Today a company is known by the men it keeps.

Death And Taxes.

The big difference between death and taxes is found in the fact that deaths do not increase every time the Legislature meets.

Nightmares.

With a big crop of hitch-hikers along the highway, cars without lights, and road hog trucks, driving a car on most of our highways has become a nightmare.

In The Desert.

Again the Great American Desert of West Texas (?) is heard from when Randall county wins first place and Hartley second place on agricultural exhibits at the State Fair.

Dumb Frenchman.

Laval may be a great financier in France but he knows nothing about American methods or he would have pulled the leg of a certain cream separator manufacturer for a snug sum for the use of his name.

Democratic Actions.

Over in Georgia the Democrats still are cussing Al Smith and at the same time tooting 'em up for Roosevelt, the man Smith endorses. At the same time, Texans are organizing "Murray For President" clubs almost on a par with Oklahoma.

Fooling The Weather.

Brownsville business men have agreed to ignore the usual winter holiday of three months this season by keeping the bathing beaches open, and by the wearing of summer clothing. The average temperature during the winter months is said to be from 65 to 70 degrees.

Still Licking.

Washington's army cleaned up on the British under Cornwallis at Yorktown 150 years ago giving them a good licking.

We are licking stamps this week in commemoration of that wonderful victory. The special stamps bear the likeness of Degrasse, Washington and Rochambeau. The French at that time were fighting the British at home, consequently lent America soldiers and able generals to fight the British in our nation. Not that they liked us more, but they liked the British less.

Shattered Dreams.

California is taking the count after a great influx of immigration over a long period. This week a former Texan sat in the Leader office and detailed misery unspeakable in southern California.

The trek back from Mecca is a sad one. Fabulous sums were paid for homes in the land of sunny climate and greater amounts were paid for orchards that now yield a mere pittance of former years.

Texas has its ups and downs, but after all, it is a pretty good state. Never comes the time when all are flat at the same time. Those who are up are humane and help those who are down—but its different in California where customs are quite unlike those of Texas.

Radio Advertising.

After two years of the customary radio broadcasts of advertising the National Sugar Refining Company of New Jersey anwill than all other agencies combined over a period of several years

Buyers of today want to read advertisements honestly describing the articles being offered by the merchant, together with a price quotation so that they may know what they will have to pay for the article when they reach the store.

Week end drygoods and suit bargains has amply proven this statement. The Leader is pleased to cooperate with our merchants to the extent that the merchant and customer may be mutually benefitted. Clarendon merchants are today offering better bargains at a lower price than for fifteen years.

His Greatest Gift.

In enumerating the great gifts that Edison left to mankind, the greatest of these came from that master mind just a few moments before his final passing when he said "It is very beautiful over there."

This strengthening of our faith in a wavering age is the greatest heritage humanity could receive from a benefactor's labors of more than half a century. Words that inspire hope coming from a man whose religion must be found in deeds rather than words.

In the early stages of his fatal illness, he evinced a desire to pass on saying that his work was finished. Around him were grouped those nearest and dearest; friends and money were his. Could it be that this great mind had viewed the beauty beyond that mysterious veil called death, and that he chose to dwell among the beauties "Over there?"

Farm Factories.

Year in and year out the beef farmers, pork farmers, the 'little red hen' farmers, and the dairy farmers are in a stronger financial position than that of the other types.

These fellows are not exactly farmers; they are part farmer and part manufacturers. They utilize the raw materials of pasture, fodder and corn and headed stuff and other supplementary feeds to manufacture their products, many of which require very little processing before reaching the ultimate consumer.

The "little red hen" farmers are distinctly manufacturers; the in-betweeners can't do anything to an egg.

The man who has dairy cows and poultry will have more of a steady income than any other type, and this may be increased somewhat with hogs when feed is cheap.

We can't tell a man how to farm, but when he is hooked up with the cow, sow and hen, it isn't hard to understand how he is getting on much better than the fellows who stick to old-timer methods of one or two crop varieties.

Donley Highways.

That we have nothing to brag about in the way of highways is generally admitted. That we need better highways is just as generally conceded by every citizen of the county.

Judge Ely of the Highway Commission suggests a caliche top dressing for a substantial roadbed as the cheaper method for the Panhandle. This method costs money and a bond issue is suggested right along with the caliche recommendation.

It is the opinion of every conservative taxpayer of the county that our gas tax ought to pay for a caliche surfaced highway running both directions across the county. If this gas tax won't pay the bill, conservatives suffering from an exhorbitant tax will look upon the matter as being "hokey" like a lot of other chances to squander money for a luxury when we ought to be paying personal debts.

Seeing Texas First.

How can we expect to attract tourists from other states and nations to the wonders of West Texas when so many natives know nothing of the wonders at our very doors?

Citizens of the Panhandle know so little of the deep, scenic canyons of our own sections. The matter has never been exploited by advertising to the natives and to the world scenic wonders equal to the Grand Canyon.

The Davis mountains in West Texas, the highest between the Rockies and the Pyrenees, is little known. A skyline highway has been mapped and we may expect to learn more of these rugged beauties this summer.

In the Davis mountains may be found petrified forests, volcanic craters long extinct, ancient history of races that must be studied first hand, trees on mountain tops found in no other place except on California's highest mountains. This wonderful panorama of nature is ours but for a short trip of possibly one day's time in getting there by auto, and Palo Duro may be reached within two hours from most any place in the Panhandle.

GROUNDLESS GOSSIP

Many business men of the United States in this present economic depression naturally have fears and the most timid among them are shedding gloom in all directions by gossiping darkly of coming panics and bankruptcies. Such rumors hinder the return of prosperity, which now apparently is in sight.

The United States has been awaiting signs of stability and unity of purpose in Europe and these are now clearly in evidence. Europe, on the other hand, looks for indication of change in the United States, the recognized leading state in finance and business. It finds these in the constructive measures already formulated throughout the Nation, in part under way, which are making themselves felt as the beginnings of a returning wave of prosperity. Credit is expanding, fall business is gaining volume, unemployment in the next few months should lessen, not increase, and a more cheerful attitude is expressing itself in business circles.

Texas is so rich in its products and its foods that it might well be a leader in the movement that is renewing the Nation's confidence. Low prices for products hurt at first, but mental readjustments have been made, the worst is over, and prosperity will before long return to Texas. There is some real suffering from poverty and lack of employment, but Texans are putting their shoulders to the wheel and will help one another out of trouble. The present need is to substitute hope for fears and cheerful expectations for dismal forebodings

Dallas is especially to be congratulated because the upward turn in business is on the way and definite signs of business revival are in evidence. It is remarkable how splendidly business institutions have so far weathered the storm of financial depression. Prophets of evil have sometimes foretold the downfall or insolvency of even the city's most substantial institutions, but for the most part thoughtless repetitions of unfounded suspicions. Such gossipers are the worst enemies of returning prosperity and every rumor of that sort should be met with a demand for proof and stern reproof for baseless fabrications.

The country now needs fewer mourners over past losses, and far less gossip of ill omen. In place of these it needs courage, energy, cheerfulness, and a boundless confidence in the basic strength and integrity of American business and financial institutions. Texans may be sure that Texas is on the up grade and that the State expects its citizens to push vigorously in anticipation of the betterment already in sight. Dallas as the metropolis of Texas must lead in the restoration of confidence, now that there is a turn in the tide of business prosperity. —Dallas News.

 TEMPLE OF TRUTH ***
By the Apostle

Loafing around a big town is great stuff if it doesn't last too long. The old Apostle looked over Ft. Worth last week and it is growing. The new T & P depot cost three million and is a better one than we have here or anywhere in Donley county. Hate to say it, but it is.

Went to the Texas hotel and fell over a chair rubbering around in the lobby. It's a fast drive for an old man. Went down in the wash room to get a drink and when the landing was reached, three niggers lit in on us with whisk brooms and one handed us a towel. They charged us two-bits for that racket which is just a little bit less than what it would have cost to be high-jacked in Chicago by a wop. Got so frustrated forgot all about a drink and came out dry but clean.

Saw some big guns at that Texas and they admired the half soles worn by the Apostle very much. They were cut out of an auto casing and all the big fellows said it was a good thing to pass around.

John L. Lancaster was there. He's been working for the T & P 16 years and knows his okra. He is president of the road and that means when they can't fix anything, it's up to old man John to fix it because he is the main boss. Frank Jensen was there too. Frank used to be depot agent at Bowie long time ago and went down to work for the T & P. He is general passenger agent now which means that he tells the folks about their tickets when the ordinary conductors get up in the air.

It was a strictly T & P blowout and they asked the Apostle to eat with them on the 14th floor, which he did. He expected to make a speech but they only asked him to get up and tell them his name and where he was from.

Sam Losh was there to lead in the singin' and as he forgot to bring his tunin' fork, he stuck to old songs that everybody knew like Eyes of Texas, etc. that every school kid knows. Sam has a reputation as a singer and he plays pretty well too.

Here's good news. Called the phone office Saturday and told them the old, old story that nothing could be heard over the phone. In about five minutes Charley Knox, the troubleshooter, came in to the office and in two minutes fixed the blamed thing so that it could be used. That's service, and we surely do thank Charley for being prompt and agreeable. He never even got mad because we had called him.

Many a widow is made happy when she finds the insurance covers the loss.

And J. M. Baxter up at the Armstrong grocery owns up at last that he used to live in Jack county. He was also the owner of the first meat market at Bridgeport when the mines were opened over 30 years ago.

Speaking of Jack county, the folks treated us swell over there, but that Montague is a corker. The folks are so selfish that a woman deliberately drove into another woman's car and did not even smile. She was hard boiled. They showed each other no courtesy and some of the men are just as bad.

Mrs. H. T. Burton, who formerly taught school at Tishimingo, Oklahoma had some of Gov. Murray's kids in her room. She says they were bright boys except the one who was part Indian and chewed tobacco. He grew up and finally became a lawyer.

Know a young-like fellow who is a real farmer and who is well known here and he wants to get on a good farm—better than he had this season. If any one knows of such a place, please let me know. He's a real worker, agreeable and will deliver the goods.

It's getting so that some women can't support a husband. That condition is bound to produce a lot of old bachelors. For the past several years a husky man little past middle age has been loafing the streets and here recently he has been wearing a worried look. It was a mystery to us how he got by and we often drove by the place where he lived to see if he was ever guilty of helping his wife with any kind of a job.

Well, the secret is out. She does washin' and the kids deliver and gather it up. She has to move every time the rent comes due and that hurts business as the folks don't know where to find her.

We need more women able to support husbands. As the Apostle got home he expected to tell the Goodwoman about it and see if she wouldn't take more interest. After she went to the pound, paid 'em out of hock, and brought home the cows, milked, fed the chickens and got supper and washed the dishes and mopped the kitchen floor because company was coming, she came into the room where the Apostle was listening to the football game and he began to tell her about this wonderful woman and what a lot she thought of her husband who was bound to live a long healthy life and be such comfort to her in her old days.

She got jealous or something right from the start and cited us to the kitchen where we had to pare apples until the company left at 11:30. Some women just ain't got any sympathy, and some has and make some men a pretty decent living despite any and all handicaps.

W. T. Hayter is the lucky fellow to win the free wash, polish and grease job at the Clarendon Motor company this week. Bill just naturally was born lucky anyhow, and in a name drawing contest, maintains his reputation for being twice lucky.

HOW MUCH DO BABIES COST?

Margaret Sanger, birth control advocate, has suggested as a means toward economy during this period of depression and lack of employment, a two-year moratorium on babies. No more babies to gladden the world and to cheer the sorrowing for a period of two years and longer if necessary. With all due apologies to Edgar A. Guest, we wish to append the following as being particularly applicable: "How much do babies cost?" said he

The other night upon my knee; And then I said: "They cost a lot; A lot of watching by a cot, A lot of sleepless hours and care, A lot of heart-ache and despair, A lot of fear and trying dread, And sometimes many tears are shed.

In payment for our babies small, But every one is worth it all. "For babies people have to pay A heavy price from day to day— There is no way to get one cheap. Why, sometimes when they're fast asleep

You have to get up in the night And go and see if they're all right. But what they cost in constant care And worry, does not half compare With what they bring of joy and bliss— You'd pay much more for just a kiss.

"Who buys a baby has to pay A portion of the bill each day; He has to give his time and thought Unto the little one he's bought He has to stand a lot of pain— Inside his heart and not complain; And pay with lonely days and sad For all the happy hours he's had. All this a baby costs, and yet His smile is worth it all, you bet."

FARMING ACCORDING TO LAW

Dallas Times-Herald: After a few more years, conversations like this may be heard over community telephones in the agricultural sections:

"When are you going to start your spring plowing?"

"I don't know yet. I haven't called up the district attorney."

"The sheriff came out this morning and made me dig up that little patch of garlic I had in my garden."

"He did? What for?"

"Oh, he says he promised the voters he would purify breath from one end of the county to the other."

"I thought I'd try to slip in an acre of goobers this year."

"Might as well give it up. Two rangers were over at Bill Smith's the other day searching for seed goobers."

"Did you hear about Jim Doolittle?"

"No. What's his trouble?"

"He's in jail. The constable discovered that rutabaga patch Jim had down in the forks of the creek this winter."

"Too bad. I was afraid I might get caught. But you can't blame the constable. The law must be enforced."

"I had a little trouble myself last week. Arbuckle Smoken, who's been sore at me since last fall, reported me for having more than four hogs in my lot."

"What'd you do?"

"Oh, I finally convinced the grand jury that one of them belonged to my brother-in-law."

"What do you think about the sorghum situation for the coming season?"

"I don't know, but I noticed where the governor says he intends to enforce the anti-sorghum law if he has to declare martial law."

"Hard to tell what to plant."

"Yeah. I'll be glad when the district attorney makes up his mind."

WRITING UP A WEDDING

Most newspaper men shrink from the task of writing up a wedding and prefer to pass that responsible duty to the female society editor. Yet there are exceptions. Occasionally an editor is found who can paint a word picture of nuptial events that any lady reporter might envy.

We just discovered one line who appears to be hiding his great talents in an obscure Kansas town, while he ought to be holding down a great city job. Here is a sample of his literary ability which proves our point:

"It was a wonderful wedding. The girl was as sweet as any girl who ever lived, but modern. As she walked up the aisle on her father's arm, her lips lightly tilted at the corners with a happy smile, she was a picture of modest beauty. Her filmy wedding gown and gossamer veil floated around her fair blond head like a halo. She was as

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

BRONCHOS VICTORS OVER WELLINGTON SKYROCKETS FRI.

Win Sectional Championship By Easy Stages Scoring 33 to 0 Casually

The Bronchos completed the first half of winning the district championship Friday by pawing the Skyrockets of eWellington in the mud for a 33 to 0 victory. The playing field was damp from the morning dew and the light Skyrockets would ordinarily have had an even chance with a heavier team but they did not have the fight or the experience to use to their advantage. The Bronchos, minus the power of Captain Nichols, Benson, and Morris, outplayed the eWellington boys in every phase of the game. Coaches Stocking and Hutton used almost every available man in the scrimmage.

McMahan and Reid were the scoring power of the Broncho eleven with the shifty running of Andis and the straight hard plunges of E. Watson running up a total of twenty five first downs to six for the opposing team. Clarendon received all of the penalties of the game. Some of them came in time to cut the score down.

Wellington had a one man team on the field in the person of John Williams. He figured in almost every play. It was his pass snatching that almost brought a score for Wellington.

Starting line-up for Clarendon: Behrens and Martin, ends; Greene, Easterling, tackles; T. Watson and Cooke, guards; Watters, center; Andis, Reid, E. Watson and McMahan, backs. Substitutions: Jackson for Watters, O'Neil for Easterling, Mann for E. Watson, Brown for O'Neil, Easterling for Cooke, Blocker for Andis, McCleskey for Mann, Estlack for Behrens.

Complimentary to the football boys, Homer Mulkey gave each of them a free ticket to the Pastime Theatre Friday night.

MY GREATEST REGRET

One year ago I sat at my desk with the month's bills and accounts when a bright faced, starry-eyed lad of 12 rushed in and impetuously announced: "Say, Dad, this is your birthday; you are fifty-five years old, and I am going to give you fifty-five kisses, one for each year." When I exclaimed, "Oh, Andrew, don't do it now, I am too busy." His silence attracted my attention, and looking up, I saw his blue eyes filled with tears and apologetically said, "You can finish tomorrow." He made no reply but was unable to conceal his disappointment, his face wearing a grieved expression as he quietly walked away. The same evening I said, "Come and finish the kisses now, Andrew," but he did not respond to the invitation. Two months later in consequence of an accident, the waves of the river closed over his body, and we carried him away to sleep near the village where he loved to spend his vacation. The robin's note was never sweeter than his voice, and the turtle doves that coo to their nestlings where he sleeps were never more gentle than my boy who left unfinished his love-imposed task. If I could build a ladder to the skies and find him there, if I could tell him how much I regret, there would be no man in all this world so inexpressibly happy as the one who sits today and thinks how he prevented an act that love inspired and grieved a little heart as tender as the mercy of God.—A Rotarian.

"A COMMON PAPER FOR COMMON PEOPLE"

LOCAL UTILITIES COMPANY IS CITY'S VALUABLE ASSET

Company Policy And Efficient Local Management Make Rate Reductions Possible

In this day when economy is uppermost in the minds of the people, it is some consolation to find one public service corporation that has been voluntarily reducing rates, not because of pressure brought to bear, but simply because it is a matter of public policy.

Corporations are of two kinds; good and bad. A corporation that renders efficient service at the lowest possible cost, must be considered as coming within the first class named. Locally speaking, the West Texas Utilities company has an enviable record for having furnished efficient service first, and has voluntarily reduced the cost of their sale commodity five times since purchasing the local plant in 1926.

The local plant was purchased by the Central Light & Power company in 1925, to be absorbed by the West Texas Utilities company in 1927 under a new organization, though the unit did not change ownership.

The high line was completed into Clarendon during 1926. This made the delivery of power and light service cheaper for the company, and that saving was passed on to the purchaser by voluntarily reducing the franchise rate of 18 cents per kilowatt to 15 cents.

In keeping with the policy of the company, the franchise rate of 18 cents was disregarded, and reductions made, however small, when conditions permitted. Such volunteer reductions have continued from time to time, the last during the present year.

In the arly part of 1929 due to efficient management and economical operation, a further reduction in light rates was made from 15 cents to 14 cents.

This rate obtained until in January of 1930 when it was found that revenue would justify another reduction, and 13 cents per kilowatt became the established rate. Another reduction was possible during November of the same year and the new rate became 12 cents.

Three months later, or in March of 1931, the present rate of 11 cents was made possible, and, like all the other reductions, was made voluntarily as a matter of company policy.

The present residence rate is 11 cents for the first 20 kilowatts, the next 30 taking a 7 cent rate. All over 50 watts consumed during the month, takes a very low rate of 4 cents. Thus a home consuming 100 kilowatts during the month, would be served at a total cost of 6 and three tenths cents per kilowatt.

Since 1926 approximately $65,000.00 has been spent for improvements, exclusive of the high line expenditure. The annual amount paid employees, for rent and miscellaneous items at this time will amount to approximately $27,000.00 per year, this amount being spent locally with citizens of Clarendon.

The excellent service rendered Clarendon, and the low cost of such service is largely due to the cooperation of Frank Houston, district manager, and T. D. Nored as local manager and the efficient corps of local employees of the company. Clarendon has just cause to be and is proud of this valuable asset and the Leader takes pleasure in paying this voluntary compliance to a corporation that renders a real service and takes a personal interest in the welfare of its patrons.

GIRL OF TWELVE—

We took a street car to Fair Park. After we reached the fair's encampment, we registered and went to our rooms. I stayed in room No. 6. We ate dinner and went back to our room. My room had thirty eight beds in it, eighteen to one side. They were double deck beds. There were about 289 girls in the camp. In the dining room there were 10 long tables. All the girls ate at one time.

Mr. Harris, the chef at the Baker Hotel, had charge of the meals and he brought some serving girls with him.

The fair association owns the building and they use it to entertain the 4-H club boys and girls and the future farmers of America. We were served good wholesome meals and to give you an idea of what we had we were served at one meal: fruit cocktail, fried chicken and gravy, candied sweet potatoes, asparagus, lettuce and tomato salad, olives, celery, rolls butter, ice cream, milk, coffee, and cocoa.

Tuesday morning, Miss Edwards the assistant state agent, at 6 o'clock flashed on the light and said, "Good morning girls," which was the signal to get up.

After breakfast we went to the agricultural building and saw the county exhibits. Eastland county won first place. Donley county won eventeenth place. The huge watermelons were the outstanding things of Donley county I thought. I rushed around to the sewing exhibit to see if I won any thing and to my surprise I won second place on my apron and third on my pillow case for which I received $5.00 cash. We went up stairs and saw the museum.

Tuesday evening we went to the zoo. We saw a lot of little monkeys tigers, and every kind of animal. We saw different kinds of birds and some crows. One crow was on the outside and the others were inside the cage. The one on the outside started to say "caw, caw". One of the girls said "caw" and the crow said it with her. Finally all of the girls started to say "caw" and all the crows started with us, so it was a regular "caw, caw, caw". We came back from the zoo and went to the fish hatchery. We saw many different kinds of fish. They ranged in length from about 2 feet long down to about 3 inches long. The fish were in aquariums all around the house. There was a cement pond in the center of the house where different kinds of fish lived.

We came home tired; some had "misplaced fever blisters" on their heels. We ate, dressed and went to see "The Three Little Girls" Tuesday night. It was a real show. It surely was good.

Wednesday morning we went to see the modern machinery. Some of the girls were especially interested in the milking machinery.

We came back from there and saw the poultry exhibit. There were many different kinds. Some of the chickens had fought so hard their feathers were all ruffled up.

We then went to the exhibit building. One thing that especially interested me was a little house all fitted up as our homes are today. A little woman bending over the stove pouring kerosene in it. Every time she would pour it in, a little light would flash. In the next room there was a little man smoking a pipe. We saw many other interesting things.

Wednesday afternoon we went to the rodeo. We saw horse back riding, stunts, clowns and other things. We came back from the rodeo and after dinner we went to see the "Battle of Gettysburg". It was a painting and looked like the real battle. It was only 80 feet away and looked as if we were miles away. It took a man with his help two years and two months to paint it. It cost over a million dollars.

After we came out of the show we went down Midway. We rode on several things and went home.

Thursday morning we saw the cars. We got a ticket for a free car to be given away Sunday.

We then went to see the cow and horses. We saw many pretty ones. There were two little black and white horses that were very pretty.

We went through a pullman with all modern inventions.

We went through the Almo. I was just like the Almo in our history today. We registered and a man gave us a paper of the history of the Almo. We went in the rooms and saw the pictures of all the great men. We went home, dressed, and went to see a picture show at the Palace. We came back, stopped and heard the band play.

Thursday night each room had to give a stunt. The name of ours was "The model T". We had girls for the casings and the pull-chairs were used for the seats.

We saw many pretty water fountains and other things while there.

We were introduced to a number of distinguished guests. Mrs. Mildred Harton, state Home Demonstration agent, Mrs. Laura Nee, Love, who used to be the state agent; Mr. Jackson, the president of the Dallas Fair Association; Mr. Reeves, the T. P. official, Mr. R. E. editor of the Farm & Ranch and Holland magazine and Mrs. Cunningham, assistant editor of the extension news. Members of the P. T. A. helped to furnish chaperones. I enjoyed the trip more than I can express. They were very royal to us. We bade them good bye and left Dallas at 8:45 Friday morning. We reached Clarendon at 7:30 Friday night.

Mrs. B. F. Shepherd of Memphis visited friends and relatives and attended services here Monday at the Christian church.

Funeral Services Held Sunday For Phil Jackson

Elder D. L. Hukel conducted the funeral services at 9:30 Sunday morning for Mr. Phil Jackson at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. B. Noble near Lelia Lake.

Mr. Jackson was past eighty years of age and was a pioneer settler of Lelia though he had been making his home at Montrose, California for the past few years. He leaves a widow and eight children. A number of the children were prevented from attending the funeral due to the serious illness of Mrs. Jackson in California.

Children present were Mrs. Jack Reid, Mrs. Ted Grows, Harold Jackson and Lanham Jackson of Glendale, California; Mrs. oe Morse of Davis, Cali.; Mrs. John Franklin of Pasevana, Cali. Other relatives, nieces and nephews and grandchildren from New Mexico, Okla. and Texas points were also present.

A large number of friends accompanied the relatives who attended the burial services at Canyon at Dreamland Cemetery at 3 p. m. Sunday. ### Sheriff Adds Stenographer To His Office Force Whether this was due to the advent of Miss Coleta Joy Pierce, born Tuesday night to Sheriff and Mrs. Guy S. Pierce, we do not know, but his legion of friends are willing to do anything within the bounds of reason to celebrate the joyful event.

Some of his friends have suggested for some time the necessity of a stenographer. The young lady is both beautiful and talented and withal very popular. There is no reason to believe that she could not fill the position with the same efficiency as her illustrious father say these friends who just can't get over the idea of celebrating.
