Auto Mishap

While driving west near Martin about 2 a.m. Tuesday an auto occupied by Ed Parmlee and his sister Christeen and a young man of McKnight community, the auto was struck by a large truck said to belong to the Hicks rubber company of Waco.

ED PARMLEE IS

Young Parmlee's arm was badly crushed when the impact occurred. He was rushed to Adair hospital where the member was amputated. Although greatly weakened from the loss of blood, he is making satisfactory improvement.

The truck is said to have been driven by L. M. White who was accompanied by M. E. Jenkins, both of Waco. A charge of "failure to render aid" was made against the driver of the truck who was released under a bond of $1,000 according to the sheriff's office.

It is alleged that the truck driver failed to render aid and was stopped at Claude by officers acting upon information from the sheriff here. The men were returned here Tuesday.

Young Parmlee aged 18, is said to be a nephew of Walter Pierce, former sheriff of this county.

It is said that a much lower tax rate would have been made had it not been for the fact that the last Legislature granted state tax exemption to a number of coast counties, and counties visited by either drouth or hurrican the past year. Some counties are said to have been given an exemption for as much as twenty years due to excessive highway bond issues near the coast in the sparsely settled sections.

past record of serving your county time to assist at the sale, it is re-dent Wilson did the same thing in 1914. It is a sad spectacle today to see the greatest nation on the globe gradually crumbling beneath us, and especially so when we stop to think of the price our foretathers paid for our liberty.

The common class is the back bone of the nation. Half of them don't know or don't care. Half of the other half are content to follow their prejudices and false promises, while the others are 'up in the air' and greatly alarmed hoping for a square deal and certainly not looking for trouble.

AS TRUE TODAY AS THEY WERE YEARS AG.

Many years ago the Republican national convention was held in Chicago. James A. Garfield, a delegate from Ohio, and destined to be one of our martyrd presidents, made the following address, the sentiment of which is as true today as when delivered so many years ago:

I have seen the sea lashed into fury and tossed into spray, and its grandeur moves the soul of the dullest man; but I remember that it is not the billows, but the calm level of the sea, from which all heights and depths are measured. When the storm has passed and the hour of calm settles on the ocean, when the sunlight bathes its smooth surface, then the astronomer and surveyor take the level from which to measure all terrestrial heights and depths.

Gentlemen of the convention, your present temper may not mark the healthful pulse of our people when our enthusiasm has passed. When the emotions of this hour have subsided we shall find that calm level of public opinion below the storm, from which the thoughts of a mighty people are to be measured, and by which their final action will be determined. Not here in this brilliant circle, here fifteen thousand men and men are assembled is the des-county, my sincere appreciation of the support given me in this Primary, and I assure you that I shall do everything possible to conduct the office of County Clerk in such a manner that you will never have cause to regret your support. W. G. Word
