Insane Man Fatally Shoots His Wife And Takes His Own Life Wednesday Morning

Wife and Two Small Sons Are Held Helpless Victims Behind Locked Doors All Night Until Final Tragedy Is Enacted Near Six o'Clock In the Morning

Junior, a lad of twelve years, was the first to escape and seek help at the Wilson H. Gray home, near neighbors of the family of John H. Speir who resided on their farm joining the J. R. Dale farm of the Goldston community.

The lad was accompanied back to his home by Mrs. Wilson Gray and her father, L. F. Bones. Upon arriving at the Speir home they found both Mr. and Mrs. Speir dead. Both bodies were fully clothed and lying at angles on the bed.

According to the two boys, Junior and Aubrey, the father had kept them awake all night behind locked doors forbidding them to leave the home. At about 6 a. m., the father shot the mother in the right side with a 12-gauge shotgun, as she sat on the side of the bed. He then walked to a dresser, secured a shell, reloaded the gun and shot himself over the heart and fell back on the bed. A single barrel gun was used.

An inquest was held by Hubert P. Day, justice of the peace, and county attorney R. Y. King. A verdict was rendered in accordance with the above facts as related by the two small boys, the only other occupants of the home other than the unfortunate parents. The bodies were brought to Clarendon by the Buntin mortuary and prepared for burial.

Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of relatives, but will probably be held at Hedley Friday.

Mr. Speir is said to have acted queerly at times. It was also plainly apparent that he was in bad health and had been gradually failing for some time. Major Hudson, mail carrier on the Jericho route brought him to town the preceding day and saw nothing unusual about the man's actions.

The Speir family purchased the farm where the tragedy occurred some four years ago from Otis Naylor. They formerly resided near Hedley. The family is held in high esteem and Mr. Speir was known to be honest and peaceable so far as his dealings with the general public was concerned.

The surviving children are Mrs. Roy Stewart, Otis Speir, Junior and Aubrey. Mr. Speir has two brothers, Dave and Milam Speir who reside in Donley County. Grady Henson residing west of town is a half brother to Mrs. Speir.

Parent-Teachers to Sponsor Play November 3rd

A burlesque on a children's clinic will be the nature of the play, "A Howling Success," a one-act comedy being sponsored by the ladies of the Parent-Teacher association.

The entire cast will be made up of home talent, men and boys, each selected because of special fitness, temperament and talent.

The scene is laid in a doctor's operating room with plenty of nurses. This play is said to produce more fun to the square inch than most any one ever put on by home talent. A more complete account will be given in the Leader next week. In the meantime, don't forget the date—November 3rd.

As some of the interesting prizes to be offered at the pie social at Chamberlain Friday night of this week, the man with the biggest feet will get a hearing. Others scheduled to win prizes are "the prettiest girl."

The principal prize will be a "nursery ensemble" now on exhibit at Little's store. The Good Will club here is sponsoring the affair in the nature of a pie and box social with plenty of good music thrown in for good measure toward plenty of amusement.

Don't forget the time and place—Chamberlain school house, Friday evening, October 24th, which is Friday of this week.

Latson won first on lightbread which called for a $1 cash prize.

The judges were Mrs. G. A. Anderson, Mrs. Wiley Morris and Mrs. W. C. Stewart.

Insurance Association Will Insure Burial Expenses

Life's most perplexing moments are the unexpected calamities. Nothing tends to distress one more than a lack of funds at a critical time. No more critical time is experienced than when a death occurs in the family.

It was just these reasons why the burial insurance associations came into being. The association for Donley county has for its president J. T. Patman. The directors are H. Mulkey, W. A. Armstrong, Tom F. Connally, J. H. Headrick. The association in Wheeler county has grown to include eight hundred and forty-two families. Other counties where such associations have been in existence for some time, assert that they have become a welcome necessity.

The local agents are A. N. Wood and J. D. Woodburn whose office may be found in the Buntin building next door to the office of R. L. Bigger. The cost of this form of insurance is extremely low and includes every member of the family from infants to elders up to seventy-five years of age.

PEN TERMS ARE GIVEN TWO MEN DISTRICT COURT

Criminal Docket is Rapidly Being Cleared This Week By Court Officials

In his characteristic manner of rushing court business with dispatch, Judge A. J. Fires dispensed with delays this week in clearing his criminal docket of cases needing immediate attention.

The first case tried was that of Taft Clements on a charge of having murdered Bill Jones, another negro here in July. He was given a two year sentence. Since he was out on a suspended sentence of 5 years for having robbed the Rayburn Smith filling station grocery some time ago, he will now serve a total of 7 years with time off for good behavior.

The highjacking charge against Claude Weaver mentioned in the Leader last week resulted in a pen sentence of seven years, the jury reporting on this case Wednesday.

Horace Lindsey's case is being tried before Judge Fires today. Lindsey is charged with operating an auto while intoxicated. His home is in Amarillo.

Lindsey was given a fine of fifty dollars, and ten days in jail.

Jack SoRelle was down from Borger this week.

Claude Nash, who resides on his stock farm 4 miles east of Hedley, and who makes his dairy products more than a side line, is offering some choice milkers, drys and yearlings for sale at this time.

Ex-service men with honorable discharge and dependents will be given the preference if able to qualify. No help will be employed outside the county except foreman, engineers and others where expert skilled training is required.

This work is expected to last from November 15th to May 1st of next year. All able-bodied men in need of employment should call at the city hall and register at once if they have not already done so. Those who register will be given the preference, and from this list, all selections will be made.

WHEELER DONKEY BALL PLAYERS DUE TOMORROW

First Baseball Game of Kind Expected to Bring Out Big Crowd

Every fad finally gets around to all the remote corners of the earth. The fad of playing baseball with the players astride a donkey is more than a fad, it is a circus. The game is designed to chase blues and make one forget troubles, if they have any. Otherwise, it is merely designed to amuse.

The game here is being sponsored by the Masonic fraternity. The teams to play at the ball park this Friday afternoon at 3:30 will be between players selected from the best burro riders of Wheeler and Clarendon.

Clarendon is reputed, implied and charged with having an advantage in that some of the local players are seasoned and battle scarred veterans of the Amarillo donkey game played during the fair.

R. E. MERCHANT DIES HERE LATE MONDAY EVENING

Funeral Service Held Here With Interment Made in Panhandle Cemetery

With the passing of R. E. (Uncle Dick) Merchant at the age of 94 years, 9 months and one day, Donley's oldest citizen claimed his reward. The aged man had been in failing health for some time, though confined to the house for only a short time before his death, which was due to general senility.

Rev. W. N. Shepherd, pastor of the First Baptist church here conducted the funeral service at the Cal Merchant home Tuesday at 11 a. m., and the body was then conveyed to a Panhandle where it was laid beside the graves of relatives. The deceased had been a faithful member of the Baptist church for 82 years.

His birth place was near Nacogdoches in 1839. He later spent some time in the cattle business in Palo Pinto county where he resided until in 1898. At that time he followed his son Cal to Hutchinson county.

He spent the past several years in the home of his son Cal Merchant and came to Clarendon with his son's family some fourteen years ago remaining with the family until his death.

His wife and six of his ten children passed away several years ago. Of the immediate family surviving him, are two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Tuttle of Panhandle and Mrs. R. S. Tuttle of Stillwater, Oklahoma; and two sons, Cal of Clarendon and N. J. of Ft. Worth. He has a number of grand and great grand children. All of his near relatives were present for the funeral service.

At the time our venerable fellow citizen celebrated his 94th birthday here last January 22nd, all of the above and many other relatives came to pay their respects to their beloved relative. His birth date was an occasion annually observed.

Uncle Dick, as he was affectionately known to a wide circle of friends, had much to do with shaping the destiny of the Panhandle. He was one of Hutchinson county's largest ranchers, stood for law and order and wielded a wide moral influence over the early settlers of that section. In his passing, Clarendon feels keenly the loss of one of her best citizens, and a man who led a quiet life maintaining at all times the highest respect of his fellow citizens.

Highway Contract Let

The McKnight company of Amarillo was awarded the contract for construction of grade and drainage on Highway 5 in this county Tuesday.

The contract calls for the grade and drainage from the Armstrong county line to the main street in Clarendon, a distance of 12.4 miles. The bid was $36,126.00. Work is expected to begin within less than a month. This is the first modern highway work to be done in the county, beginning with the raw prairie.

LEGION POST IN CAMPAIGN DRIVE FOR MEMBERSHIP

Two Battalions Begin Drive To Make Legion Membership One Hundred Percent

Plans were made Monday night here at a meeting of Aubyn E. Clark Post of the American Legion seeking to line up ex-service men of the World War in Donley county one hundred percent.

Battalions "A" and "B" were designated with eleven workers in each. In shaping up the leadership, T. M. Shaver was made major of Battalion A. He will have as helpers Capt. Cecil eBach, Capt. Ralph Andis, Lieuts. Guy Pierce and Nathan L. Cox together with six squad workers.

Battalion B's leader is Major Sloan Baker. His captains are Barcus Antrobus and C. Huffman. His lieutenants are R. Y. King and Cecil Smith. Six squad workers also are included in this team.

While the principal object is to collect back dues and reinstate members and get all the war buddies on the honor roll, there will likely be a prize or a penalty exacted of the losing team. In this last specification, there is a lot of mystery as to what has been accomplished to date.

The drive began Monday night of this week and will close Friday night, making four days in which to close up any gaps. There is plenty of enthusiasm in the Post and plenty of hard work is being done by each battalion to win.

Division Cotton Marketing Reports on Our Staple

The following is a report from the United States department of agriculture, division of cotton marketing as applied to samples of cotton inspected from District 2 which includes Donley county:

"The proportion of Spotted and Yellow Tinged cotton in District 2, the High Plains, declined this week; likewise, there was a decline in the cotton classed as Extra White Strict Middling and better from that area. Cotton classed as White Strict Middling and better increased in that section. Cotton shorter than 7-8 inch made up a smaller proportion of this week's classing than was found last week. The proportion of cotton 15-16 inch or longer increased in District 2. Ninety-two per cent of the cotton from that area was tenderable on futures contracts."

The Bronchos are to play the Shamrock Irishmen tomorrow (Friday) at Shamrock at 3 p. m. instead of at night as first announced. The local players will be accompanied by the band and a large number of fans who never miss a game. Clarendon Boy's Outstanding Athletic Record

Among the Clarendon boys attending school away from home this term, many of them are making exceptional records in many lines of endeavor. In the athletic field, few if any are excelling the record of Bill Greene, aged 17 and a military school student, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Greene, drygoods merchant family of Clarendon.

Bill plays either tackle or guard as occasion demands on the New Mexico Military Institute first football team, one of the six Grade-A military schools of the nation and located at Roswell, N. Mex.

The N. M. M. I. team playing the National Guard team at El Paso, won an easy victory by 27-0 over a strong team. Another strong team to meet defeat at their hands was Texas Tech, which was defeated by 14-0.

The biggest game of the season played up to this time was on the 14th when the Military boys met the New Mexico state university team of Albuquerque at Roswell in an even score of 6 to 6.

BRONCHOS WIN OVER MCLEAN IN DECISION WED.

Both Clarendon And McLean Are Charged With Using Ineligible Players

Following the football game here last Friday in which Clarendon Bronchos won over McLean's Tigers by a 7-0 victory, McLean filed a protest charging that one player on the Broncho team was ineligible.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of District 2 Wednesday night at Amarillo, it was decided to throw out the game results here last Friday as both teams apparently played ineligible men in the persons of Crockett of the McLean team, and Hudson of the Broncho team.

This decision leaves the teams of the district with the following standing: Memphis won 2 and lost none; Clarendon won 1 and lost none; Shamrock won 1 and lost none; Turkey lost 1 and won 1; Wellington lost 2 and won nothing; McLean won nothing and lost 2.

The Bronchos are to play the Shamrock Irishmen tomorrow (Friday) at Shamrock at 3 p. m. instead of at night as first announced. Blanks Arrive for Making Farm Loan Applications

Blanks were received today by county agent T. R. Broun by which farmers may make applications for cotton loans through the Commodity Credit Corporation.

This has reference to the securing of loans of ten cents per pound on cotton and upon which there will be no "tare". In other words, it is understood that the producer will be enabled to borrow the full 10 cents per pound on cotton of a certain grade as mentioned in the Leader last week. Those interested should see Mr. Broun at once.

Senator Huey P. Long "has gone and done it again" when he insulted the dignity of some very prominent (?) citizens of New Orleans by referring to the New Orleans Stock Exchange as a "gambling house."

FRIENDLY ENEMIES OF NRA GET BUSY.

It is only by protest that we get anywhere with any public measure. That is the good old American way of doing things. Back in the days of the American Revolution there was much protest. The very thing that aroused patriotic Americans to rebel most was for some of the neighbors to join the British side of the squabble. Not all citizens of America by any means fought on Washington's side, we read in history.

Today farmers are protesting against the inefficiency of the NRA. It is their inherent right to protest. The attention of officials will be drawn directly to the cause of complaint. A remedy will be supplied. When a people assume a complacent attitude regarding public interests and public questions, then our well-being is in most danger. That is one big reason why we are in this financial mess today.

DOCTORS AND ETHICAL PRACTICES.

The Cook County Medical Society of Chicago is composed of several hundred physicians who broke away from the old Chicago Medical Society several months ago. In a meeting last week, this new society advocates advertising to the extent that the public may know more about the profession and what is being accomplished, etc. They advocate programs that will benefit the general practitioner rather than the so-called specialist.

In Texas, the state medical department at Austin is supposed to get the advertising job done for all the doctors in the state free of charge by mailing a mimeographed copy each week to the newspapers. When a sheet of this nature was shown a local physician recently, he said, "durned if I would print it until it was paid for in advance."

Quacks advertise, though all doctors who advertise are not quacks. Some of them prefer to run their own business just as they see fit. As time goes on, they will gradually break away from the "hidden mystery" idea that has come down to us from the dark ages.

LIARS ARE INEFFICIENTS.

Only recently a suit involving the payments of 1921-22 income tax was up in a Pennsylvania court. The amount involved was around five million dollars. Old Andy Mellon's company was on the carpet.

Whether his company owed that amount is not for us to say. Andy Mellon has attorneys to look after his business and likely paid no attention to the matter himself since an income tax evasion never has sent a multi-millionaire to federal prison yet.

After a lot of court wrangling, the suit was dismissed. This case is but one of many. The accused in such cases are either successful liars, or else the government has a plentiful supply of inefficient clerks in positions of importance. One department that can make a $5,000,000.00 error, certainly is entitled to membership in Dallas' famous bonehead club.

After the alleged error was found to be in error, was anyone fired off any position high or low? Not that we have heard about to date. Does any one know of any one who ever heard of any one being fired for failure to produce the alleged facts in any of these tax suits? Not that we know anything about.

FARMERS OF MIDDLE WEST PROTEST.

Only two classes of producers seldom ever protest—the cotton growers and the meat growers. Heaven knows they do enough grumbling, but they never attempt to appeal to public sentiment, which is the most effective weapon of any class.

Milo Reno, head of the Holiday Farmers organization called a strike Saturday at noon. He is asking that farmers be allowed cost of production under the New Deal. Reno says that the strike called for May 13 was postponed to give the Administration time to remedy matters as affecting the producers.

"We have reached the point where statements and promises are mere gestures to lull the farmer to sleep that his enslavement may be complete," Reno said.

Farmers will be asked to sell nothing except absolute necessities. They are asked to limit their purchases to the same line. Neither buy nor sell, pay debts or even interest until a remedy is found, is the suggestion of leaders of the powerful organization that has branches in 25 states.

The president of the state organization is Geo. W. Armstrong of Ft. Worth, erstwhile candidate for the governorship at the last election. C. W. Smiley of Littlefield is at the head of the organization in West Texas.

BUREAU GOVERNMENT HITS SNAG.

While the NRA is steadily advancing prices in town and city, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has been unable thus far to advance prices in the rural districts. Since March 1st, the consumers are paying a premium of 59 percent and selling their farm products at an advance of 31 percent. There hangs the hitch that is causing the rift.

From the small town comes a wail for help from the small merchant who has put on extra help, purchased goods at the advanced factory price, but finds that his trade is lacking because his customers cannot sell their product for enough to justify them in buying at the advanced prices. Trade is dull in many places to the extent that leaders of the NRA are talking of exempting the merchants in towns of less than five thousand inhabitants.

The next theory to be advanced by government brain trusters is that more wheat, meat and other commodities should be purchased by the government and given to the poor. In this they hope to raise the prices because of a scarcity.

This last presumption continues along the line of enlarging the population of the "gimme gang," to say nothing of classing as paupers and beggars good honest hard-working people who would rather earn what they get.

Real citizens want work at a reasonable wage return. They do not crave charity. They want to exchange muscle power, their only commodity to market, for cash that they might buy from this so-called over-production surplus.

It looks like we are due to wake up with a severe financial headache within the next few years from which it will require the lifetime of two generations to recover. Some one will have to pay the cost of this experimenting.

In the meantime, gamblers in grain and cotton futures continue to set the price at which the farmer must sell.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A CHAIR

(Phoebe Ann Buntin)

The first thing I remember is being in a forest in Burma. When at last I grew to the height of about fifty feet, my owner decided it was time I was sent to the saw mill. Men came and chopped me down, and I was taken to the mill. There I went through the process of being sawed into strips. I was then sent to a firm in England, where they make ornamental furniture. Rosewood trees usually sell from forty to fifty dollars a ton. However, I was an unusual specimen and sold for four hundred and fifty dollars a ton.

I was sold to Sir Thomas Burdock. I arrived in a padded crate. I could not see the outside of my new home, but I surely did like the inside. It turned out that I was in the home of a wealthy English nobleman. The family consisted of Sir Thomas Burdock, his wife and two children, a boy and a girl. After awhile the door opened, and a little girl came into the room. When she saw me sitting there in all my splendor, she exclaimed, "Oh, what a beautiful chair!"

That family treated me nicely, but when I was passed down to Sir Burdock's son, his house was furnished with modern furniture. I was put in the spare room and shrouded with sheets. When he immigrated to America, I was found and used once more. I live now in a beautiful home in South Carolina.

WASHINGTON and LINCOLN

Mildred Atteberry)

There are many contrasts in the lives of Washington and Lincoln. The first one is that of birth. Washington was born in a very wealthy home, and had the best education money could buy. Lincoln was born in one of the poorest homes in America. His family could not buy enough clothes and food for the family, much less educate their children. Lincoln worked hard at odd jobs during the day, but at night he studied by the light of burning logs out of borrowed books. With the help of his educated mother he obtained a small education. Washington had a high social standing, while Lincoln had none. Washington gained his office of president by his fame, social standing, and wealth. Lincoln was given nothing. He worked hard and sacrificed for his high round on the ladder.

Fitzgerald Pictures Living Pictures of Life

It has been said that our bodies are the traps we are caught in. I sometimes think life is like riding on a train. Sometimes we get off at the wrong place. We can most of us look back and see the mistakes of youth. Remember often how near we came of getting into serious trouble by stepping off the train at the wrong time. Then we passed on a few years and now we can look back and there is no temptation to do the thing we did when we were young. Katherine Kelly is not the same woman to day she was a month ago. The train of life to her and to all of us is speeding on. We will have less crime when justice ceases to be a commodity.

One lawyer becomes famous by sending Al Capone to prison for not paying his income taxes and another lawyer becomes famous by advising J. P. Morgan how to beat evade paying his income taxes.

When justice ceases to be sold over the counter, it will be then if we step off the train at the wrong time we will be put back with a chance to come back but if we are in the habit of getting off at the wrong place we will be killed. Prisoners are wrong, the man who can not stay on the right track should be put out of the way like we threw away a broken part to an automobile. As long as justice can be sold criminals will continue to be bred, but some day criminals will be made so they can not breed and then we will have no further use for the court. The lawbreaker will be treated in the laboratory rather than in the court house.

ECONOMY..CONVENIENCE..SAFETY
 with a Modern Electric Refrigerator

Three outstanding features of superiority have made modern Electric Refrigeration an overwhelming favorite of progressive home-managers throughout the Nation.

ECONOMY—Unusual economy of operation . . . savings realized through the elimination of food-spoilage . . . and the profits of buying groceries in larger quantities at bargain prices will net substantial savings for you.
CONVENIENCE—Trouble-free . . . constantly dependable . . . furnishing an adequate supply of sparkling ice cubes . . . offering delicious frozen desserts and salads . . . and providing ample storage space for perishable foods, the modern Electric Refrigerator is a model of convenience.
SAFETY—Authorities agree that food-safety depends on a constant temperature of less than 50 degrees—in summer and winter. Electric Refrigeration maintains this safe temperature automatically—providing a constant health safeguard for yourself and your loved ones.

Truly, you cannot afford to be without this efficient "Electrical Servant." Present prices are planned to fit the average family budget—and monthly payments can be made from savings. Ask for your demonstration today.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

Next to a baby contest, a cooking contest of women is just another good place to be from, so far as a man is concerned. The women folks had a great time Saturday at the City Grocery with their baking contest according to all accounts. Some disappointments of course as all could not win.

A list of the prize winners will be found in another column. Several more are to "come out" next time a bunch of cash prizes are offered. To have a "spirit to win" at anything is great. Ed Fox enjoyed it hugely, but not any more than the fellow who put on the contest—Jessie H. Lowe, who represents the flour mill here.

If you are not reading the Fitzgerald articles in the Leader, you are missing a lot of good things that are really mental food. He gets off new and original ideas that will wake up the old think tank. His article this week carries a punch in an entirely new dress. Read it. If you like his articles, write him at Stephenville, Texas.

agents, etc. It says "increase your products and decrease your costs. Work harder, save more and spend less. Shirkers and loafers are too numerous."

That was the idea four years ago. Now they tell us, "Produce less, loaf more and spend all you get." We wish these government fellows would finally settle down on what is the best for us to do, but they change their viewpoints and ideas—if they have any—about as often as any one else.

Half the cows in town are now kept up, and mules and horses are very scarce on the open range of the streets. It is estimated that Clarendon now has only about 500 worthless dogs running loose. The joke is on you—they've already destroyed all that we had on the outside.

These fellows who complain about the women taking men's places, will not be surprised to hear something like this from the lady of the house some day: "Children, choke your Pa loose from his Delineator, and tell him to rush supper."

We'll be glad when portables get so cheap that every one will carry one along to do their writing and save us the trouble of trying to read a long letter that looks like a lake of scribbles.

Will that man dating the blonde woman in Amarillo Tuesday come in and pay his sub, or shall we print his name next week?

When a human has hay fever, there is very little said about it except by the victim, and still less done because there is no remedy. But when a horse has hay fever, they call it "anthrax" and get state doctors on the job to watch him die.

We have a call for another poem that runs something like this: There's one thing I'd like to know, Why, in the Garden of Love I got a lemon, where only peaches grow? We don't want personal testimonials, we want copies of the poem.

The power of insects is great. For instance, a flea can hop a thousand times its own length and not half try. Yes, and a wasp can raise a 200 pound man and not try at all.

The man who dyes wool is called a "lamb dyer." It requires a lot of skill to be a lamb dyer, but we know a lot of men who are inverted "lamb dyers" and have no skill at all.

A fellow writes this column and asks: "How do you know that a negro lawyer has anything to do with the ex-soldier claims?" We don't know for sure, pardner, but this is what the department has to say where he works—or at least draws his pay:

"Robert L. Van, a negro, and publisher of the Pittsburg Courier of Pittsburg, Pa. and a graduate of the law school there, was appointed by President Roosevelt in July as special assistant to the attorney general, in charge of the department of justice claims division."

Take it or leave it. There's the record.

Some folks can get up some great ideas, though most of them come from those who never pay any direct taxes. This week a citizen of this town proposed the idea that as the highway was to run through town, there ought to be a bridge right over town on the order of an elevated railway affair, as we understood it. This party was greatly concerned because it was thought the tourist public would run over, kill, maim and otherwise interfere with the health and happiness of cows, dogs, mules and other live stock running at large.

The College Hill Widow says there are two kinds of women. Those who live beyond their means and a few single ones.

Two hundred police chiefs meet in Chicago this week to devise better methods of sending individual highjackers to prison. It's a mighty good idea, and would be better if the gamblers on farmers product: could be sent along with them. Seven went up for life for highjacking Urschel, but not a stock gambler went up for highjacking hundreds of thousands of farmers out of millions of dollars. Perhaps they will get around to that later since they have started in to clean up the defects in the NRA.

Mrs. Fink says if the party who stole a part of the cactus in her yard will come back, she will give this party the remainder of it. She doesn't want the thing now.

Directing traffic here on Saturdays requires more patience than Job ever had. And the petty cussedness that crops out occasionally in some drivers is perhaps worse than having boils, but City Marshal Flop Pyle goes serenely on looking after the folks keeping them from killing and crippling each other. Watching him Saturday when the town had her biggest crowd since 1929, he handled the jam with a master mind. Flop Pyle is one of the most diplomatic officers in the state, and has more courtesy under stress than any man the writer knows at this time.

Mrs. E. P. Hahn, thank you for the sack of peanuts. There will be a million games of "hull-gull" in that sack this winter. While they are playing the game with chin-quapins down east this winter and taking chill tonic, we will be playing the game here without a hindrance.

Could some of our eastern subscribers send us a batch of chin-quapins? We would be glad to pay a reasonable amount for them.

There's no subject less interesting than somebody's else when they have the stomach ache.

Inventor Jim Heckman has invented a "gravy dripping eliminator." It fastens to the ears and fits into the trench under the lower lip. When it fills to capacity, a bell rings and of course that is the signal to open the mouth. At that split second, the instrument dumps the gravy into headquarters where it belongs. He has also arranged a "foot feed" which idea he got from the electric sewing machine foot feed. This little accessory is made for the careless. When the food backs up on the chin until the eater can't see, the foot is pressed and a dump is made with the aid of a "tamper" that is said to warehouse most anything in front of it. Since the instrument has a bell, it is believed by the inventor to be an ideal Christmas gift.

Do we know our persimmons? We may not, but Mr. Joe Fitzgerald down at Stephenville does. He sent us a bushel basket of the finest, biggest persimmons we ever saw. George Green the express man delivered them Monday. How's that for service after we indicated in our issue of last week that persimmons would be most acceptable. Along with the fruit Mr. Fitzgerald wrote a letter which we are going to print next week. He has trees by the thousands that produce Japanese and Chinese persimmons as large as oranges. They will grow here and every home owner ought to be growing some. They make a beautiful yard shade tree, too, besides the nice fruit produced. Anyhow, we are to tell more about it nex. week. In the meantime, we sure do thank Mr. Fitzgerald for his generosity.

If you are paid up on the Leader subscription list, and if by accident a red mark gets on your paper, pay no attention to it. Inexperienced help does some of the marking and mistakes will naturally occur at times. On the other hand, if you have not paid up, we will greatly appreciate getting the matter adjusted so that we can devote more attention to other things that go to making the Leader the most widely read paper. We have carried a number of accounts to the time when folks could pay, and we believe all who want to be fair will pay up within the next six weeks at least.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Special attention is being given to the Sunday services for next Lord's Day.

Sunday morning the minister will bring a lesson on "all for Christ," and his evening subject will be, "Humanisms in the worship of God."

The Creator has voiced his likes and dislikes in worship and you should know how to worship Him acceptably.

Several improvements have been made to the "Come-as-you-Are" men's Bible class room in the First Christian church.

The delicate ceiling of blue will be restful to the eyes, and remind you of the eternal abode of man while the teacher endeavors to bring you a spiritual lesson to help you to attain that home.

FOOTBALL DAY IS NOVEMBER 3RD IN AMARILLO

Powerful Ravens of Kansas To Meet Canyon's Great Buffalo Team

Amarillo, Oct. 24th.—Friday, November 3, has been designated in Amarillo as "Collegiate Football Day."

The occasion is the meeting of the powerful and colorful Ravens of St. Benedict's College, Atchison, Kansas, and the up and coming sensational Buffaloes of the West Texas State Teachers College of Canyon. This football game between outstanding minor colleges of the Southwest and Middle West will bring to the Panhandle the first inter-sectional grid game of importance.

St. Benedict's College is just commencing to attain national recognition as a producer of great football teams. Two years ago officials of the school secured the services of a former All-America player, "Moon" Mullins as the first step in a new athletic program. Mullins made his name famous throughout the country as a full-back on the late Knute Rockne's Ramblers of Notre Dame. Mullins last year coached his team to six wins and two losses. This year he hopes to better this record. He was given J. Harris, last year's All-America guard at Notre Dame, for an assistant.

St. Benedict's is a Catholic institution, being heralded today as "the Notre Dame of Kansas."

In the Buffaloes of Canyon, the Ravens will meet a team that promises to become one of the greatest ever put out on the Panhandle. Under the tutelage of Al Baggett, himself a believer in the famous Rockne system, the Buffs are just beginning to round into a slashing ball club.

The game will be played on historic Butler Field. The entire City of Amarillo is behind the event and her citizens pledge themselves to leave nothing undone to make Nov. 3rd a gala day for football fans.

Prices for reserved seats and dates when tickets will go on sale will be announced in the near future. Interest in the clash is already high, and local sponsors of the game predict a record-breaking crowd.

EDITORIAL MUSINGS

One day we fancy we know life and it is good and kind. It takes the beggar in; it feeds the hungry; it clothes the naked. We find it very, very good. The next day we are certain we know life not at all. It is cruel; it is niggardly; it is selfish. It provokes us to quick anger and rash judgment. It loses everything save its vitality.

Compared to a chicken thief a bank bandit is a person of sterling qualities. A farm woman will spend her entire summer working with a flock of chickens and about the time that she has them ready for the market some skunk will come around at night and steal them.

Such a muddle. Such a muddle, as we are having with the highway relief program. The federal government has given a special allotment to Panhandle counties which are in the drouth stricken section. But in making the allotment so much red tape has been attached to the road building program that it looks almost impossible to get the job done. The relief committee is to furnish the men, and local committees are handicapped with so many provisions as to who can work, and who cannot work that it is impossible to make much progress. There are too many bosses to ever put over the job efficiently and economically. The first order was to cut out all red tape. But along comes more red tape than ever before was enforced upon any construction job. Such a muddle. Such a muddle. While the red tape is holding up work, people are suffering.

We offer to our representative from the 114th district, the Hon. George Moffett, a bouquet of beautiful flowers for his untiring efforts in the interest of the farmer, the once forgotten man.

To Mr. Moffett goes credit for saving the farmers a considerable sum of money, fifty per cent in fact, on registration fees for motor trucks. Senator Ben G. Oneal, also representing this section in the upper house, sponsored the bill in the Senate, and now the fee on small trucks will be reduced from $33 to $16.50 annually. That is more like it, a farmer might say. More in line with his income.

Just why a lawmaker in the first place would present a bill taxing a farm truck so high—or any other motor vehicle for that matter—that would not sell for more than a hundred dollars on the market, only illustrates once again the kind of representatives the electorate sends to Austin. Personally, The News, while not coinciding with all Mr. Moffett's views, feels the people of this district chose a man in sympathy with their interest and one who works to better his constituents.

More men like Mr. Moffett is what Texas needs in the state capitol.

We have said it before, or similar remarks, which we repeat here, that its tough luck, sending out statements and writing appealing letters to your subscribers, for those who give them any notice whatever to call and renew their excuses of one, two or perhaps three years ago. Put yourselves in our boots and see how you'd feel especially after having borrowed money all the year in order to carry these subscriptions on until fall and sometimes year after year. Nobody has ever tried harder to render creditable service and meet you always with a smile, though often forced, than have those connected with this paper. We confess we don't know what to do with hundreds of names on our list. Some could pay in full but wont, others could pay part, and those who can't pay anything ought to be considerate of our efforts and expenses to notify us of this fact thereby reducing the cost of postage and paper. These remarks are said in all kindness and we hope you will treat us in like manner. We are in serious financial trouble and before the worst happens, if it should happen, our conscience is clear that we have given you fair notice. Some newspapers may be able to run on other resources than its own, but this one cannot. We have no other resource whatever to draw from. We put into the making of this newspaper every ounce of our energy, coupled with the most rigid economy and come what may we have nothing for which to reproach ourselves. We are prepared to say with a clear conscience that we have done our best.

13 Billions Annually Asserted Crime Cost

Washington, Oct. 25.—Crime is costing the Nation 13 billion dollars annually, says the National Council of '76. Every year on an average, 12000 persons are murdered in the United States; 3,000 are kidnapped, 100,000 assaulted and 50,000 robbed. The annual murder rate has increased 350 per cent since 1890. Each year sees 40,000 homes and other places burglarized, and more than $100,000,000 is lost through incendiary fires. These figures, and many more, have been assembled by this national council formed here July 4 by a group of private citizens seeking to educate and arouse the public to the menace of organized crime. The work is directed by Col. James A. Moss, retired, a well known military author, who, in the nine years since his retirement, has made a special study of the crime situation. The council is forming branches in each of the States and in each congressional district. These subsidiary councils will be formed from outstanding citizens who will work voluntarily to crystalize public opinion in their communities toward the enforcement of law. "It is distinctly a problem of education," says Moss. "No law can be effective without public opinion behind it. The dry amendment proved that. "But the people are ready. Since we opened our campaign we are receiving about 250 letters daily from people who want help. "For instance, there was a letter from a widow in Massachusetts. She said she had no money but could give her time. She wanted instructions. Now, she would be weak working alone. But working with a local and national organization she becomes a force. "The average man and woman simply do not know the existing situation. The national council will give them the facts. Then we will ask them to use the ballot—and make no mistake—the ballot is much more effective a weapon than the bullet. "The center of the problem lies in the alliance of corrupt judges, crooked politicians, grafting police officers and unprincipled judges. We must crystalize public opinion to drive them out of office. Our council members will serve as sentinels at a post—watching, collecting facts, and then warning the public at election time. "Gangsters are highly organized.

The public must be just as well organized. "For instance, the general public doesn't know that the usual successful criminal keeps an attorney on a yearly fee. The attorney phones his client daily at a given time. If he fails to reach the client two days running he makes a round of the jails. He usually finds him, and then he makes for a 'sympathetic' judge who helps release the client on a writ of habeas corpus. That is easy enough to trace. But the public must realize it. They must get rid of such judges. "We know full well that some juries release guilty persons. That would not be possible with an alert public opinion. "There are 400,000 people estimated to be making their living from crime today. Any citizen may be the next attacked on the street; the next to go home and find his home burglarized; the next tortured by fear for a relative being held for ransom. Every citizen pays part of the 13 billion annual crime bill that we pay out to maintain prisons courts and officers and that we lose through fraud, burglary and arson. "Every citizen will be asked to cut down this loss. Our councils are being formed now. Shortly we will start a public campaign for co-operation. "The Department of Justice is doing wonderful work now. But it is handicapped without this public co-operation that the national council will ask for." This new, national anti-crime drive has enlisted already such people as Patrick J. Hurley, former Secretary of War, chairman; William J. Cooper, former commissioner of education; Brig. Gen. William E. Horton, retired; Senator Copeland and Representative Wads worth of New York; Mrs. Oliver Harriman and Grover A. Whalen of New York, and A. Mitchell Palmer, former Attorney General. DO YOU KNOW ME? I am a product of the Machine Age. I represent the restlessness of this generation, the urge for the supreme thrill. I am more deadly on the streets and highways than war. Death stalks on the battlefield; I am the scourge in time of peace. I defy all laws. I am above public opinion. I respect no rights.

know no code, bow to no authority. I bruise and maim and mutilate and kill childhood in its innocence, youth in its vigor, old age in its infirmity. Life is not safe when I am abroad. I am more to be dreaded than pestilence. I am more to be feared than leprosy. I am the ally of the kidnapper, the racketeer, the gangster. I am the SPEED FIEND. * * * * * WINDY VALLEY * (Inez Skinner) * * * * * There was 50 present at Sunday school Sunday. There was several visitors present. We invite them back again. PROGRESS - PURPOSE - PRINCIPLE The business of a bank, like any other institution, is contingent upon its service. Its progress upon its upstanding principles. Its certification of soundness is dependent upon the strength of its character. It must perforce be righteous as to principle, but at once reasonable as to practice. Its success is largely a matter of attitude and of latitude - - - of loyalty to the industries that make it, of leniency to the business it is making, of the personal interest it takes, rather than the interest it receives. This bank has passed through the storms of business successfully, whole, hearty and more human for its experience. Its cornerstone has been cooperation—its birthstone—and birthright—SERVICE. Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT

Minister First Christian Church

"True Worship"
 "But in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men." Matt. 15:9.
 The worship of God is a most important theme; indeed I know nothing in all man's relations to God, more important than this. To know God, and to worship Him aright, is the sum of human happiness. The Holy Scriptures reveals God to us in all of His glory, majesty and power and it is logical to believe that the same Book will reveal how to worship Jehovah in an acceptable way or manner.

Divine worship consists in adoring and reverencing God, and in giving expression to that adoration and reverence in such acts as He has prescribed.

A primary or fundamental consideration in this worship is, that the heart must be engaged in it. The heart must be filled with the love for God and to God, and be under the influence of humility and profound reverence.

God has always demanded and expects the human family to worship and honor Him and He has always had a plan or system of worship that would be acceptable by Him, revealed to the people who were to worship Him. He has never permitted human agencies to dictate, change or alter His plans of worship. A careful check of the primitive worship of the human family will reveal the fact that God has always blessed man, when he followed the divine plan and has

DOROTHY DARNIT

By Charles McManus

punished him when he substituted, changed or attempted to worship Him in any other way. The same facts remain true when we examine the plan of worship under the Mosaic law, when the children of Israel departed from God's plan of worship they were punished. With these facts in mind it is logical to suppose that the same argument will hold true in this Christian dispensation. He has revealed His desires regarding true worship and we must not depart from His plan and program. We must worship Him in Spirit and according to truth. The only acts of divine worship authorized under the gospel, are prayer, praise, communing, the contribution, the distribution, and the teaching. If nothing must be added to or taken from these items, then we must study the Scriptures carefully and learn what they teach on these subjects that we might worship God in the proper manner.

Sunday our subjects will be, "All for Christ" and "Humanisms in the worship of God."

When Will The Wonders Of Radio Cease?

The big daily papers are carrying the news that one of the large telegraph and cable companies is new installing in their large offices in key centers short wave radio transmitters to handle the more important messages that need to be dispatched with speed. We thought telegraphy was speedy, but it is not fast enough for this "split-second age."

This move on the part of this big company seems to us to definitely open up a new and lucrative field for the youngster trained in Radio. Of course, in addition to being trained in the art of Radio, one must also have government license in order to operate a radio transmitter. This is where we specialize. We can properly train you not only to be able to send and receive messages, but also prepare you for the government examination for your license.

Should you be Radio minded, write us at once for our booklet R-6 which describes our school of Radio. It tells you all about the work. Its fortunate that we have a modern up to date radio station here in our school for your training. Your training consists of special preparation on how to operate a transmitter under a trained licensed engineer. This is a wonderful advantage for the young man interested in Radio.

Booklet R-6 is your for the asking.

Our community was greatly saddened when we learned Mrs. Poovey's mother, Mrs. Blackburn, passed away at her home in Dallas Tuesday night. All her children were present. Mrs. Blackburn had spent the summer with Mrs. Poovey and we all learned to love her. Our sincere sympathy goes out to the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovell spent the day in the Collier home.

Quite a few of our farmers are up with their cotton.

The young people took dinner in the Poovey home Sunday. Late in the afternoon they gathered together and motored to Clarendon to hear Waylands Volunteer Band put on a program at the Baptist church. We enjoyed it very much and hope we have the opportunity to hear them again.

We are very glad Doris Hatley is able to be up again.

Why the Sudden Change to Liquid Laxatives?

Doctors have always recognized the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can be controlled.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is at all druggists. Member N. R. A.

Readers of The Leader Express Their Appreciation By Paying Up Promptly

There is no better method of expressing appreciation of the efforts of a newspaper to cover the field in a fair, impartial and thorough manner, than the prompt payment of subscriptions. This is known as the "acid test" among members of the newspaper profession.

The success of the Leader is due primarily to its large number of readers which includes about ninety percent of the worth while homes of the county.

It has never been the policy of the Leader to cater to the popular side of a question simply because it was popular, choosing rather to pursue a course which it believed to be right regardless of the popularity.

The Leader has a strong sympathy for what is commonly known as the "under dog." The weak and oppressed is given more attention than those things more commonly played up to the skies by the average paper. While it has never been a Leader policy to be in any sense a crusader or iconoclast, it has never stopped to question the outcome when it chose to champion a cause it believed to be just. The strength of the opposition is never considered, believing that 'right will triumph' in every just cause.

The Leader reader list has grown during the past two years despite the depression. It is still growing and will continue to grow with the assistance of its loyal friends who every kind act helps to make it a better paper.

As an indication of the type of buyers represented in the Leader family, and of value to the advertisers, the following list of recent new and renewal subscriptions is printed:

Anniversary is Observed by Lions Club Tuesday

Three score and six Lions, Lionesses and guests observed Charter Night Anniversary (The eleventh) Tuesday evening at the Lions Hall with a banquet and the usual and unusual stunts.

It was a noisy affair, Mrs. Guy Pierce identifying the most noses. After the dinner, Lion Porter made the welcoming address to which Mrs. F. W. Rathjen made an appropriate response.

Lion Patrick, in behalf of the Club, in his happy way, presented a vanity case with the Lions emblem to the retiring pianist, Miss Dorothy White.

Mrs. Simmons Powell entertained the gathering with a piano number, and Rosalyn Bass, accompanied by her mother, with a musical reading.

Effendi Ben Whosis held the audience spell-bound as, with the aid of his crystal ball, he unearthed the answers to some perplexing questions.

The address of the occasion was delivered by Deputy District Governor E. L. Pitts of Lubbock. Judge Pitts first presented keys to key members Odos aCraway, A. L. Chase, C. J. Douglas, and D. O. Stallings. After congratulating the local Club for its splendid record, the speaker in an earnest manner of the benefits of Lionism.

Besides the lions and lionesses, the following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. John Deaver of Memphis, Mrs. Katherine Stark, Miss Dorothy White, Mrs. John Bass and Rosalyn Bass, Mrs. F. A. Cooper, Ethelyn Drennan, Zeldia Ruth Nored, Miss Dale Park.

Mr. and Mrs. George Oakley of Alanreed, accompanied by their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stapp, visited with his brother, Charles Oakley here Sunday.

BRONCHOS BEAT McLEAN TO RETAIN CLEAR RECORD

Large Crowd Cheers Football Classic As Clarendon Wins Close Victory, 7-0

Out of a swirling mass of clays and hoofs, emerged a fighting band of Bronchos here Friday afternoon when Clarendon defeated the strong McLean Tigers with a close score of 7-0. All forecasts and pre-determinations before the game were swept away by that little unforeseen climax known as "up-set," and again the "dope" masters of the gridiron are perplexed and the gladiatorial winners are well pleasing to their supporters.

The game was practically put on ice during the last quarter when a beautiful pass from Whitlock to O. C. Watson and a final four yard sprint around left end by Hudson, gave the Bronchos a hard earned victory over the hitherto unbeaten Tigers from McLean. This last minute rally was a complete surprise to McLean, and well that it would, for they surely have a strong, fighting little squad.

Failure to gain at critical moments when they had the ball within the shadows of the Broncho goal posts, probably cost McLean the game. They were superior as far as the offensive thrusts go, but fell down pitifully at crucial moments of the game on their defensive power.

McLean made two valiant attempts to score during the first quarter but both drives were stopped around the 15 yard line. Little Cricket Christian showed up best for McLean and was hard for the Clarendon boys to stop.

A breath taking moment to Clarendon fans came during the second quarter when speedy little of the McLean squad made a sensational gallop of 40 yards before he was finally pulled to the ground by Whitlock after he was apparently loose.

The third quarter was fought on even terms with the Bronchos making one threat to score.

And then came that great and memorable fourth quarter when the Bronchos made their victorious march from their 40 yard line to the opposition's goal stripe. Short passes together with line plunges and end runs by Greene and Whitlock culminated by Watson's snag of a pass, thrown by Whitlock, placed the ball on the four yard marker from where Hudson skirted around left end for the winning counter. Elery Watson added the extra point by a perfect goal.

McLean made two last efforts to tally, but the game ended before they could find pay dirt.

The Broncho line proved that they have a strong forward wall, when they held the Tigers for downs in the shadow of their goal posts. Loyd Martin dealt the Tiger boys misery when they attempted to come around his end berth. There were very few substitutions made for either side during the game.

Rev. Ferrell Speaks to High School Pupils Today

In speaking to the High School pupils this afternoon, Rev. W. E. Ferrell, pastor of the First Christian church, took his subject from Proverbs 16:32, "He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit (temper) than he that taketh a city."

C. R. Gamblin functioned as auctioneer in crying the sales which netted the Sunday school sponsoring the affair more than $25.
