

All Available Relief Workers Placed On Jobs

Seventy-eight Projects in District Have Absorbed All Labor; Pay Is $18,000 Monthly

With requisitions for 3,756 relief workers issued from the Brownwood district office, Major Karl E. Wallace, district director, declared this week that jobs have been provided for every available relief worker in the twelve counties comprising the Brownwood Works Progress Administration district.

"Relief workers in the Brownwood district are now receiving an estimated $48,000 per month from WPA projects," Wallace stated. "This includes 2,391 persons and the figure will be greatly increased when ten additional projects, involving WPA expenditure of $184,537 and sponsor's contribution of $29,465, are started immediately."

There are now 78 projects in operation in the Brownwood district, financed by WPA grants of $317,465 and sponsors' contributions of $148,709. Projects now being prosecuted are distributed as follows: Blanco County, three; Brown County, fifteen; Coleman County, seven; Concho County, five; Gillespie County, six; Kimble County, five; Llano County, six; Mason County, six; Menard County, three; McCulloch County, seven; Runnels County, eight; San Saba County, seven.

Projects which will be started by Wednesday include two in Blanco County, two in Brown County, four in Coleman County, one in McCulloch, and one in Runnels County.

Jobs being undertaken in the Brownwood district include such work as farm-to-market roads, city street paving, park improvements, operating of a rock crusher to provide construction and paving materials, fire station construction, installation of low-water and man bridges, building of swimming pool, rip-rap stream crossings, installation of storm sewers, sanitation, sewing rooms, commodity distribution, tax surveys, and writers' projects.

CLASSROOM TEACHERS HEAR MARY C. RALLS AT MONDAY MEETING

Importance of a strong professional organization for teachers to be educational system of the United States was pointed out by Miss Mary C. Ralls of Kansas City, president of the Department of Classroom Teachers of the National Educational Association, in an address before the Brownwood Classroom Teachers Association here Monday night. Miss Ralls reminded the members of the association that members of almost any profession belong to strong organizations. She said the teaching profession will lag behind unless teachers are united and working together in a professional organization.

A number of teachers from the county schools as well as from the city schools attended the meeting, held at Howard Payne Auditorium. Joe L. Wiley, president of the local organization was in charge of the session.

CENTENNIAL EXHIBIT WILL SHOW BENEFITS OF DIVERSIFICATION

Contribution of District 10 of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to the Centennial Exposition will be the diversified agriculture section of the exhibit. Representatives of the 15 towns of the district in session here Thursday afternoon voted approval of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's plan for the exhibit and acceptance of the assignment of arranging the agricultural section.

Each of the ten districts of the WTCC will have a 36x8 space for its exhibit, and each district is assigned a subject to present. One district will present a cotton exhibit, another oil, another wool and mohair, another irrigation, and so on.

Each affiliated town in the district will prepare a panel, covering a 6x2 space on the background of the exhibit space, which will present information about the individual town. The only costs to the towns for the exhibit is the preparation of this panel.

Responsibility for carrying out plans for the district exhibit will be in the hands of a district committee to be made up of one representative from each affiliated town. D. A. Bantzen, Stamford, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was principal speaker at the meeting Thursday and explained the organization's plans for the exhibit. J. Thomas Davis, dean of John Tarleton College at Stephenville and district chairman, presided. Chester Harrison, secretary of Brownwood C. of C. and district secretary, opened the meeting.

Recent Legislation Is Senator's Topic

Recent legislation was the topic for an address given by Senator E. M. Davis, guest speaker for the regular Tuesday night meeting of Business and Professional Women's Club. The meeting was held at 6:30 in the Federated Club rooms at the Carnegie Library.

Mrs. Lee Watson and Miss Mary Alyce Watson, sponsor from the club in the Texas Centennial Pageant planned as a part of the program for the President's Birthday Ball, were guests of the club for the meeting.

Members of the club voted to attend and assist in staging the Book Parade to be given Friday evening by the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

ALLOTMENT SCHEME DRAWS OPPOSITION OF TEXAS FARMERS

Leaders of two Texas farm organizations pledged their support Thursday night at Washington to a farm program based on soil conservation and expressed opposition to any plan embodying a domestic allotment scheme.

A statement from the Texas Agricultural Association and the Texas Co-operative Council endorsed the seven-point program proposed by the conference of farm organizations Saturday as a guide to Congress "in forming a new farm program satisfactory to farmers, fair to consumers" and to conserve the Nation's resources.

The statement bore the signatures of H. G. Lucas of Brownwood, C. H. Day of Plainview, C. H. Matthews of Eagle Lake, V. C. Marshall of Temple, Hayden Perry of Robertson and J. R. McCreary of Calvert.

"We are unalterably opposed to any plan which encourages unlimited production," they said. "It would be a grave misuse of the domestic allotment plan to make it the sole basis of a farm program. The payments (for that part of a farmer's crop domestically consumed) eventually necessitated by unlimited production as between the world market price and the domestically consumed price would be so burdensome as to make payments unbearable on the part of the Government."

"We wish to deny the claim of J. E. McDonald, State Commissioner of Agriculture, that he represents the view of the farmers of Texas. His testimony for the single principle of the allotment plan, given before the Agriculture Committee of the United States Senate, offers a grossly inadequate solution for the serious problem confronting us. His plan does not meet the approval of Texas farmers."

LIBRARY SET TO BE AWARDED TO SCHOOL IN STATE CONTEST

Both white and colored schools will participate in a contest for improvement and beautification of School Plants sponsored by the Committee on School Plant Rehabilitation of the Julius Rosenwald Fund, Nashville, Tennessee, in cooperation with state and county officials. The committee is offering four Elementary Library Sets in the State contest, according to an announcement made by Miss Opal Gilstrap, district deputy state superintendent.

One of the library sets goes to the white school and one to the colored school making the greatest progress in improvement of buildings, grounds and equipment during the current school year, and one set will be awarded to the white school and one to the colored school rated highest by the state judges as the most beautiful, best arranged and most suitably equipped school plant, regardless of time.

At least three schools must file entrance applications with the county superintendent in order for a county to qualify. If both white and colored schools are entering, three from each group must enter. Necessary blanks for entry may be secured by the schools from their county superintendents.

EMPLOYMENT OF CASE WORKER AUTHORIZED

Employment of a case worker to investigate cases of needy persons who are ineligible for aid from the Texas Relief Commission under present rulings and certify them as eligible to receive free government surplus commodities from the local commodities warehouses operated as a WPA project was announced this week. The worker will be employed jointly by the city and county governments.

Employment of the case worker will make possible the distribution of the commodities to many destitute people in the city and county who, for various reasons, are not eligible for regular TRC aid.

WPA WORKMEN ARE BUILDING ROAD TO RICHLAND SPRINGS

Work on a part of the proposed Brownwood-Richland Springs road started this week on a $12,000 WPA project from San Saba county. The work is being done on the road near the town of Richland Springs and a total of 75 men will be employed on the project.

County Engineer S. J. Bross of San Saba is surveying right-of-way on the road in the Richland Springs section. Route of the proposed road has already been located in Brown county by engineers.

The road would connect with state highway 74 at Richland Springs and would shorten the distance between north and west cities and Austin and South Texas points.

BROWNWOOD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS TO HOLD BANQUET FEB. 21

Date of the annual membership meeting and banquet of Brownwood Chamber of Commerce was set for Friday, February 21, by the board of directors in regular session Tuesday. Officials of the organization will be in charge for the event.

Julian Montgomery, state PWA engineer; Harlan Mayes, head of the finance department of the state PWA office, and their assistants, all of Fort Worth, were invited to make a personal inspection of the Brown County Water Improvement District irrigation system project in a resolution passed by the directors. Application of the Water District for a loan and grant from PWA for construction of an irrigation system is pending in the Fort Worth PWA office.

TENANT FARMERS IN COUNTY ARE FORCED ONTO POORER LANDS

Tenant farmers of Brown County have been shifting to poorer land during the past five years, according to analysis of Census Bureau figures made this week by T. P. Moser, local supervisor for the Resettlement Administration.

The number of share croppers in this county has been reduced by 35 in the past five years, the supervisor said, and many of them have become landowners, but they have settled on such poor land that their status is no better than before, if as good. "There are now 110 families of share croppers in this county, as compared with 145 families in 1930," the supervisor said. "The total number of farms, both tenant and owner operated, is now 2,396, as compared with 2,158, an increase of 148."

Ellis County was cited as an outstanding example of the shift of share croppers away from good land. Ellis County land is valued at $5 an acre, three times the average value of farm land in the whole state. There are only 1,282 share croppers in Ellis County now, as compared with 2,573 five years ago, a decrease of 1,341. Owners of this good land have found ways of operating more acres with fewer men. Much land has also been turned to pasture. Many of the tenants thus forced to seek new location have gone to other counties, where land is cheap, but less productive. The record of one such county shows that the land there is valued at only $17 an acre, and there has been an increase of 715 in the number of farms.

"Many of those forced to seek new locations have been able to get a start as managing tenants, with funds loaned them by the Resettlement Administration to buy, teams, tools and supplies," Mr. Moser said.

It has been previously announced that seventeen projects are now being studied in Texas and Oklahoma for assisting farmers toward ownership of good land. These projects will care for only a limited number of farmers in a few selected counties. Action on a much larger scale would be provided under the Bankhead-Jones farm tenancy bill now before Congress.

A number of members of the post will visit the camp at that time.

The program, arranged by a committee headed by Gas J. Rosenberg and J. A. Collins, will include numbers by Mrs. Karl H. Moore, Miss Beverly Taylor, Miss Genevieve McInroe, Miss Marguerite Wilson and Miss Britton.

LOCAL CENTENNIAL AND REGATTA EARLY IN SUMMER PLANNED

Plans for an elaborate Texas Centennial celebration for Brownwood sometime in June, in connection with the annual Lake Brownwood Regatta, were discussed by representatives of various civic organizations at a meeting at Hotel Brownwood Wednesday afternoon. Officers of the Regatta Association and the Brown County Centennial Association have reached a tentative agreement to combine the two celebrations, and stage a four to six day program at Lake Brownwood the early part of the summer.

Will H. Mayes of Austin, former lieutenant governor and secretary of the Texas Centennial Commission, made the principal address, suggesting forms the Centennial part of the celebration might take. Mr. Mayes urged that Brownwood stage the major celebration for this section of the state, suggesting that a parade, pageant, water carnival, opera, and possibly other features be incorporated. He recommended professional aid in staging the parade and pageant.

Chester Harrison, secretary of the Regatta Association, reported that Regatta dates for the third or fourth week-end in June had been requested of the National Outboard Association, whose sanction is necessary before entrants can be secured in the boat races. Assignment of local dates is expected within the next few weeks.

WOMEN TO MEET WITH SCOUT LEADERS AT TRAIL AREA COUNCIL

More than 200 Scout leaders and their wives are expected to attend the annual meeting of the Comanche Trail Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, to be held here Friday. This will be the first time in the history of the Area that women interested in Scouting have met with the Council.

The business meeting for the Scouters will open at 2 p. m. at First Baptist church. Chester Harrison, secretary of Brownwood Chamber of Commerce will make the welcoming address. The Scouters wives will meet at the home of Mrs. Jewel Daugherty at 3 p. m. Mrs. J. K. Wilkes of Brownwood is directing arrangements for the women's session.

A banquet for all the visitors will be held in the basement of First Methodist church. Dean J. Thomas Davis of John Tarleton College, Stephenville, will be principal speaker. Music will be furnished by the official Council orchestra from Breckenridge.

Officers will be elected by the Council at the annual meeting and Scout Executive G. N. Quill will make a report on activities for the past year.

Counties in the Comanche Trail Area are: Brown, Comanche, Erath, Mills, San Saba, Lampasas, Stephens and Eastland.

WATSON RE-ELECTED

Lee Watson, head of Weakley-Watson-Miller Hardware company of Brownwood, was re-elected a director of the Texas Hardware and Implement Dealers Association at their convention in Dallas Wednesday. Mr. Watson has served as a director of the state association for many years.

6000 POUNDS OF FOOD CANNED ON RRA FARMS

Miss Grace Priddy, home supervisor for the Resettlement Administration in Brown and Coleman counties, reports that a total of 6,000 pounds of food, has been preserved by women on Brown county farms financed by rehabilitation loans. Miss Priddy, whose headquarters are at Coleman, is directing women's work on Resettlement farms.

In addition to showing women how to can, a very important phase of her work is teaching mothers to budget this canning so that the diet will be well balanced.

As soon as the preliminary farm and home plans are completed the home supervisor's function is that of guide and teacher who demonstrates better methods of living in order that the home may use more effectively the products of the farm.

"The best part of all this food conservation program is the fact that it saves the cash received from crops for acutely needed clothing, medical attention, books and recreation," Miss Priddy believes.

CROW AND HAWK CLUB FORMED BY HUNTERS

Several local sportsmen have organized a Crow and Hawk Club. The purpose of this club is to eradicate as nearly as possible the foes of game birds and chickens. The members of the club will meet and go to the places of those who are bothered by crows and hawks. The club members promise to take the greatest precaution in their shooting so as not to harm any of the persons or livestock on the place where the shoot is taking place.

The members of the club are offering a prize to the member scoring the highest number of points, meaning the most crows or hawks killed.

C. F. Johnson of the Peerless Drug Store is receiving applications for membership in the club. All farmers having a number of crows or hawks they wish to get rid of are requested to write Mr. Johnson and the club will endeavor to rid the place of these pests.

AMATEUR NIGHT TO BE HELD BY PARENTS OF SCHOOL BAND MEMBERS

Many amateur entertainers have applied for entry in the first of a series of amateur night contests sponsored by Brownwood High School Band Parents Booster Club. The first contest will be held Friday night, and all applications had to be filed with W. R. Parker, band director, by Thursday.

The second contest will be held Thursday night, February 6.

Anyone, with the exception of teachers or instructors, may enter the contests. Winners will be selected by ballots cast by the audience. Winner of first prize will be awarded a $3 prize, and a $2 prize will go to winner of second place.

Proceeds from the program will go into the fund for purchase of band uniforms.

Six terracing demonstrations totaling 110 acres were given in December in Palo Pinto county. Three of the terraced fields will be planted to orchards.

In Runnels county 4-H club boys are feeding 20 beef calves, 22 lambs, and 17 pigs for the March livestock shows. There are 150 club boys enrolled for 1936.

Many Expected Here For Third Birthday Ball

"Miss Texas" to be Selected Saturday; Governor Allred To Be Honor Guest

Stimulated by Governor James V. Allred's acceptance of Brownwood's invitation to be honor guest at the President's Birthday Ball, the selection of Durward Cline and his orchestra as official musicians for the occasion and the closely contested race between the 18 sponsors entered by local organizations in the race for the honor of being crowned "Miss Texas", this year's ball, to be held at Memorial Hall January 30, promises to be the best ever held here. Members of the executive committee report heavy advance ticket sales both in Brownwood and in nearby towns and communities.

More box tickets have been sold than were taken two days before the ball last year, according to Dr. Mollie Armstrong, general chairman for the event. Members of the civic and fraternal organizations sponsoring candidates for selection as "Miss Texas" are working to get their tickets sold before the ballots are closed Saturday night.

The young lady receiving the highest number of votes will be crowned queen of the ball by Governor Allred. The six receiving the next highest number of votes are to represent the counties that have governed Texas. The remaining eleven, with 35 girls chosen by local merchants, will represent the other 47 states of the union in the elaborate pageant planned as a feature of the ball.

Everyone is urged to cast their votes for the queen as soon as they have purchased their tickets. Ballot boxes are placed in several drug stores in the city. Dance tickets count 1,000 votes, spectator tickets count 250 votes and box tickets count 250 votes.

Young ladies who are in the contest are Miss Marguerite Ford, Kiwanis; Miss Betty Belle Morris, Rotary; Miss Mary Alyce Watson, Business and Professional Women's Club; Miss Nita Williams, Princes of Syracuse; Miss Frances Hise, American Legion; Miss Nadene Flowers, Fire Department; Miss Dortha Rowland, City Federation of Women's Clubs; Miss Genevieve Abney, Twentieth Century Club; Miss Beverly Taylor, Junior Twentieth Century Club; Miss Martha Johnson, American Association of University Women; Miss Dorothy Schroeder, Brownwood Garden Club; Miss Frances Ellis, Music Club; Miss Martha Dublin, Wednesday Study Club; Miss Norma Weatherly, Daughters American Revolution; Miss Marguerite Denman, Young Democrats; Miss Vera Louise Robertson, Junior Service League; Miss Dorothy Wilson, Lions Club; and Miss Juanita Thomason, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

WPA RULES REVISED TO GIVE EMPLOYMENT TO ADDITIONAL MEN

Officials here are checking relief rolls to determine the number of extra people to be employed under a new ruling which enables the acceptance for Work Progress projects employables whose names went on relief rolls between November 1 and December 31, 1935. Under a previous ruling all employables admitted to relief rolls during that period were ineligible for work on WPA projects.

Those who are found to be eligible for employment under the new ruling will be registered with the National Reemployment Service at the Texas State Employment Service and from these offices they will be assigned to Works Progress Administration projects.

Announcement of the new ruling was received Saturday by Major Karl E. Wallace, district 14 WPA director, from H. P. Drought, state WPA director.

"It is important," Mr. Drought said, "that local government officials do not misinterpret this order. There will not be a general relaxation of the essential employment regulations of the Works Progress Administration. The requirement that 90 per cent of all labor on projects come from relief rolls will continue to be strictly enforced.

"While we realize that there are other needy unemployed throughout the state who have managed to stay off the relief rolls, there is nothing we can do for them except provide jobs for such of those as may be placed on our projects through the 10 per cent allowance for non-relief labor."

Shirley Sparkles In Newest Film Role

Clad in pantalettes and crinolones, Shirley Temple is currently enacting the most lovable of Confederates in that grand story of the Civil War, "The Littlest Rebel," which opens Saturday, midnight and continues Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Lyric Theatre, Brownwood.

Because of its dramatic suspense and its many scenes of tender pathos, "The Littlest Rebel" gives Shirley her first real opportunity as a dramatic actress, while her capacity for song, dance and laughter never fails to astonish and delight audiences.

The picture, from Darryl F. Zanuck's 20th Century-Fox studios, follows closely the outlines of the famous play from which it was adapted. John Boles and Karen Morley play Shirley's parents, while Jack Holt is cast as the gallant Union officer who attempts to aid Shirley and her father in an escape after her mother succumbs to the rigors of war.

The dramatic force of the picture is heightened by the interludes of song and dance. Bill Robinson, the lovable champion of tap dance, again assists little Shirley in a series of intricate and delightful routines. Her songs, including that beautiful classic, "If All Thy Endearing Young Charms", are highlighted by a new number, "Polly Wolly Doodle", by Sidney Clare and B. G. DeSylva, who also served as assistant producer on the picture.

A 4-H club boy of Mills county produced 219 pounds of lint per acre on his 5 acre cotton demonstration. The average for his community in 1935 was 120 pounds of lint per acre.

MANY ACCOMPLISHMENTS ARE CREDITED TO FIRST YEAR OF ADMINISTRATION OF ALLRED

AT the halfway mark of his first term of office, it is interesting to note the accomplishments of Governor James V. Allred's administration. Some of the most outstanding laws passed during his administration have been the chain store tax, labor laws designed to insure safer working conditions, the Texas securities act, drivers license law, old age assistance law, the adequate regulation and control of the liquor traffic, and the abolition of the fee system of paying county officers. These laws are definitely of Governor Allred's administration, and the results of his first year in office are already firmly imprinted upon the pages of Texas history.

In addition to these laws, Governor Allred's administration has seen the creation of the Department of Public Safety which combined the historic Texas rangers and the highway motor patrol into a highly effective unit of law enforcement. The governor has carried out his campaign promises by a relentless cleanup drive throughout the state on "big shot" gamblers and law violators of every description.

No longer is Texas known as the "end of the Crime Corridor." Racketeers driven from the north to flourish anew in the large cities of our state have found it impossible to prosper against the continued raids of the Texas Rangers. Bookie shops and wide open gambling have been cut down tremendously throughout the state by this small, but potent, force of Rangers.

Pardon Board Revitalized
 A great contribution to this war on crime has been the end of promiscuous pardons in Texas. Gone are the pardon peddling lawyers and political favorites who formerly secured clemency for thugs, thieves, and criminals of the worst type. Allred has revitalized the power of the Board of Pardons by strictly following their clemency recommendations. Dividends from this clemency policy will pay off in lessened crime for many years to come.

In an effort to rehabilitate those men who have won clemency through merit, Governor Allred originated the county parole board plan which has won national acclaim for its effectiveness. Civic club members serve on these boards and to them the paroled convicts must report at regular intervals. The board takes an active interest in the convict's rehabilitation and well-being generally, aiding him in every way to become a useful law abiding citizen.

The defeat of a general sales tax has been another of the major accomplishments of the governor's first term of office in compliance with his campaign statements. With one of the most powerful sales tax lobbies in the history of the state gathered at Austin during the regular and special sessions, the battle to defeat "the tax on property" was a strenuous one. If Allred had not been strong enough to defeat a sales tax, Texans would probably now be cramming their pockets with milk bottle stoppers similar to Missouri's sales tax tokens and trying to get out from under a horde of sales tax collectors.

Chain Store Tax
 Under the Allred administration, a chain store tax law became a reality with the enactment of a graduated chain store tax by Allred leaders in the legislature over spirited opposition.

The Allred first term of office has marked the successful defense of states rights against the threat of Federal control over the oil industry. Under the governor's leadership, a determined fight was waged successfully before a Senate committee in Washington to stave off federal encroachment of the state's right to control and regulate its oil industry. Governor Allred wrote almost in its entirety, the Interstate Oil Compact which has proved so successful in oil and gas conservation and a crowning achievement in the efforts of the oil producing states to stabilize the oil industry.

Some of the more important achievement during Governor Allred's first year in office are listed below:

LIQUOR REGULATION AND CONTROL—In two months time, the liquor revenues have enriched the state by more than a million dollars. Under the liquor law, three-fourths of the revenue from liquor permits and stamps goes to the old age assistance fund and one-fourth to the state school fund.

OLD AGE PENSION LAW: the obligation of the state to care for its aged who are destitute and in need was squarely met during the first year of the governor's administration with the passage of the Old Age Assistance Law.

TEXAS SECURITIES ACT: passed without a dissenting vote to supplement the old ineffective Blue Sky Law. The securities act has "tooth in it" and is designed to protect Texas investors from sellers of worthless securities, and to prevent outright fraud. Millions of

Ellis Daughtry, Jr., Is Accidentally Shot

Ellis Daughtry, Jr., 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Daughtry, is confined to his bed as the result of an accidental gunshot wound received in his left foot Sunday. He was leaving the Daughtry Service station to go hunting when a gun accidentally was fired, and the shot entered his foot, causing painful though not serious injury.

INDUSTRIAL LABOR COMMISSION: Governor Allred revived this commission extinct since the early twenties in order that the difficulties involved in labor strikes might be arbitrated in satisfactory manner.

LABOR LAWS: in order to insure safer working conditions for labor, particularly in the oil fields, laws were passed with "teeth in them" and under the direction of the State Labor Department have been enforced.

RURAL SCHOOL AID: the largest rural school aid appropriation in the history of Texas—$10,000,000—was obtained under Governor Allred.

LIVESTOCK SANITARY COMMISSION WORK: through the efforts of the governor, additional funds were secured to further the work of tick eradication.

JUDICIARY APPOINTMENTS: even the most outspoken critics of the Allred administration have commended the governor's use of his appointive powers. The legal profession and laymen have approved wholeheartedly of his judiciary appointments in such cases as Richard Critz of the Supreme Court, Robert Lee Bobbitt to the Court of Civil Appeals in San Antonio, and Clyde Grissom to the Civil Appeals Court in Eastland.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE RECOGNITION: with the appointment of Judge Sarah Hughes of Dallas, woman suffrage in Texas was given its most outstanding recognition in recent years. Already, this woman judge has tried more cases in her court than any other judge of that district.

PUBLIC SAFETY DEPARTMENT: since the creation of this department which was strongly advocated by the governor, crime in Texas has declined sharply by the fewest number of bank robberies in recent history.

CHAIN STORE TAX LAW: a graduated chain store tax hailed by independent merchants as a great victory for the small man over the business.

That these achievements have been important ones may be realized in the selection of Governor James V. Allred as one of the twelve outstanding young men in America for 1935.

FOR COMMISSIONER PRECINCT FOUR

In making my announcement of my candidacy for re-election for County Commissioner of precinct 4, I wish to state the following facts: During the past three years the county has had the lowest tax valuation for many years, and during this time the Commissioner Court has been called upon to meet not only the outstanding bonded indebtedness, but has had to provide money for our courts during the largest crime wave in history and provide ways and means for the indigent for which were the greatest demands ever known.

In many ways we have been called upon to meet expenses which were either mandatory or of great necessity.

For the past three years the percentage of tax collection has been the lowest in the history of the county, but with all the added expense we have managed not to raise your tax rate, and do not contemplate doing so.

This has been accomplished by the Court in cutting all expenses in every way possible, and in some instances to an extreme degree, but I still think it better to operate on a deficiency basis, or raise taxes, I have put forth my best efforts to secure for the county from the many different governmental agencies all the aids and appropriations that we were entitled to and which were so sorely needed, and which will be appropriated elsewhere if the proper efforts are not put forth to get them, at the right time and the right place.

Our future depends as far as lateral roads are concerned, that are so necessary in the success of our school buses and mail routes, upon what we get out of the different governmental agencies to carry on these programs. I have tried hard, and think that I have been fairly successful in getting something done along this line, and have at this time enough money earmarked and set aside to carry on until the latter part of 1937 with the present number of available men to work, and considering the time, and trouble we had to get it, I naturally would like to finish the job. It will be impossible for me to see every voter in precinct 4 as my time is taken up and will be for many months, and I consider my first duty is to the job at hand, and if you think that my record will justify your continued vote and influence, my one and only promise will be that I will give you the best that is within me to make you a good commissioner. Thanking you kindly for the hearty co-operation you

DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

A well landscaped country home may be achieved for very little money, if plans are carefully made and work is carried out accordingly. Trees planted in groups at the side and back of the house where they are needed for shade, form a pleasing background and help to shut out or subordinate the view of the out-buildings according to a demonstration by Miss Mayesie Malone, home demonstration agent for members of the Zephyr Home Demonstration Club, and members of the Garden Club of Mullin, at the home of Mrs. R. Man Held Here Has Served Two Terms In Forgery Cases

Word was received Sunday from J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the U. S. Department of Justice by Police Chief Bert Ilse that a man arrested here last week on charges of forgery had served terms in New Jersey and Georgia prisons on the same charge. The report was made after local officers sent copies of the man's fingerprints to the U. S. Department of Justice offices in Washington and a check was made of fingerprints on file there.

The man, who gave his name here as Robert W. Sterlinz, was received at the state prison at Trenton, New Jersey, November 19, 1932, on a 2 years and 3 months sentence for forgery, under the name of Sam VanWagner. He was sent to the state prison farm in Georgia on the same charge October 19, 1929, to serve 3 to 5 years under the name of R. D. Wagoner.

Two charges of forgery against Sterlinz have been filed in district court here. He passed $1,500 in forged checks drawn on New York and Louisiana banks in Brown county last week.

An "anti-treating" ordinance was adopted by the Tacoma, Wash., city council, making the buying of an intoxicating drink for another person a misdemeanor.

dollars have been invested in past years by Texans in fraudulent stocks, bonds, and other securities. No longer is it possible for smooth-talking swindlers to reap a rich harvest through the sale of spurious oil and gas leases and to evade detection.

MERIT SYSTEM INAUGURATED: When the 44th Legislature appropriated the last of $20,000,000 in "bread bonds" for relief, voted by the people of Texas prior to his inauguration, Governor Allred sought a more economical and intelligent approach to the problem of unemployment. The State Employment Service was created through which qualified unemployed workmen might find jobs. During the first three months of the operation of the system of public employment offices, the State Employment Service placed 22,698 men and women in jobs throughout thirty-three counties.

STATE PLANNING BOARD: the purpose of this board, advocated by Governor Allred, is to go hand-in-hand with State Government in consistent economic development of Texas. The board, in doing its part to put men back at work, has felt that the greatest opportunity to create jobs that would have some degree of security lay in the increased development of industries. With the natural resources, the people and the climate of Texas, the Board has attempted to create into five types of industry: (1) the manufacture of paper from the pines of East Texas, (2) the packing of meat in the various livestock raising sections, (3) the production of leather from hides, (4) the manufacture of woolen goods in the wool producing areas, and (5) the further development of Texas stone for structural and monumental purposes.

The Texas Planning Board and the State Parks Board have brought to Texas already about $100 for every $1 spent by the State on them and for their operations. The Planning Board has secured definite action upon a state wide mineral resources survey under WPA auspices. The main expense has been the few months salary of a DRIVERS LICENSE LAW: in an effort to reduce the alarming traffic fatalities upon the highways and in cities, Governor Allred submitted the drivers license measure to the second called session. The law goes into effect in February.

ABOLITION OF FEE SYSTEM: under the new law, salaries of all county officers and their employees, except justices of the peace and constables, were changed from the old fee basis to a salary.

Displaying a dazzling engagement ring, lovely Adrienne Marden, above, laid claim to being Hollywood's first actress to make a leap year proposal. Her fiancé—a young Washington diplomat whom Adrienne refused to identify because "his career might be jeopardized"—sent her the ring after she wrote on a New Year's card: "Why wait any longer?"

SINCLAIR DEALERS WAR ON OIL BOOTLEGGERS!

There's a fight on in this country against motor oil bootleggers who substitute inferior oils for oils of reputable brand. Sinclair dealers everywhere are out to clean up the retail motor oil business which some authorities say is 25% "bootleg".

The Sinclair dealer's weapon is the new Sinclair Tamper-Proof can. These cans are filled at Sinclair refineries with clean, pure Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oils. When you ask for Sinclair motor oil at a Sinclair station the Sinclair dealer opens the can before your eyes—and the can-opener automatically wrecks the can beyond further use.

Sinclair canned motor oils come in 1-quart and 5-quart sizes and cost you NOTHING EXTRA!

BUFFALO AND MAY WIN AT WILLIAMS

By J. C. HATTOX, Williams Sports Reporter

The May boys and the Buffalo girls basketball teams finished first in their respective divisions of the Williams basketball tournament that was held Friday and Saturday, January 17, and 18. Fourteen boys teams and eleven girls teams were entered in the tournament. Match play began Friday at noon and the finals were held Saturday night. Most all the teams were well matched, with most of the games being won by narrow margins.

The winning teams were awarded beautiful trophies at the end of the tournament. May boys won the championship by beating Blanket in a fast hard fought game that finally ended with May on the long end of the 25-24 score. Buffalo won the girls division by beating Rising Star in an almost as closely contested game. The score being 25-22. The runners-up in each division were awarded miniature gold basketballs, which were to be distributed to the players. Christine Brannon of Buffalo and Ben Morrison of May were awarded miniature basketball for being two of the outstanding sports of the tournament.

This invitation tournament is an annual affair at Williams which has been growing in popularity as the years go by. Supt. Clive Pierce states that this tournament, just held was the best ever held there. The tournament was well conducted and attended. Considering the extremely cold weather, the attendance was splendid, the gymnasium being packed almost to its capacity for every game. John L. Turpin, of Ranger acted as referee and officiated every game of the tournament. The people who attended the games were high in their praise of the excellent way Mr. Turpin called the games.

Teams entering the boys division of the tournament were: Grosvenor, Williams, Brooksmith, Sidney, Bangs, Buffalo, Content, Cross Cut, Pioneer, Blanket, Cross Plains, Zephyr, and Burkett. Teams entering the girls division were: Cross Cut, Bangs, Blanket, Grosvenor, Content, Buffalo, Williams, Brooksmith, Pioneer, Rising Star, and May.

Myron Embrey Asks Your Consideration For County Clerk

In announcing my candidacy for County Clerk, I would like to acquaint the people of Brown county with some of the facts concerning myself. I was born and reared in the Indian Creek community and have been in this county all my life, thirty years. I came to Brownwood in 1922 to complete my high school education and graduated from Brownwood High School in 1924. After graduation I attended Howard Payne College for three years. While attending school I was employed by Camp-Bell Drug Company of this city, working for them until the business was purchased by Renfro-McMinn. I continued with this company four years, resigning to take a position in the Assessor-Collector's office of Brown county where I worked one year.

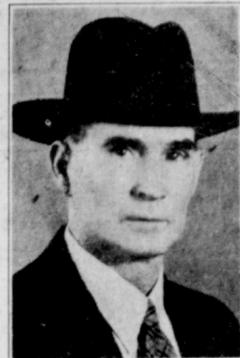

In asking for this office I feel fully qualified to give the public the kind of service that they have a right to expect and will do so in a courteous and efficient manner if elected.

In asking for office for the first time, I would appreciate your consideration of qualifications to give service in this office. If, after investigation, you feel that I can serve you, your support will be greatly appreciated.

January 23, 1936

Dear Citizen:

To live under a government operated by officials whom you have had no hand in selecting is not to govern yourself. It is to be governed by the vote of someone else.

Unless you pay your poll tax by January 31st you will have to live for two years under an administration of officials selected by other people. You must swallow the officers elected to the various offices whether or not they were your choice.

Only a few more days are left until January 31st. Pay your poll tax now and have a hand in selecting the people who will serve you in the next administration.

Sincerely yours,

Ellis Daughtry

Political observers have expressed little interest in the announcement of the candidacy for Governor of Texas of Roy Sanderford of Belton, other than to take notice of the fact that he is a Ferguson spokesman and no doubt is basing his candidacy upon the doubtful ground of Ferguson endorsement. In fact, there is little known of Mr. Sanderford outside his district except his faithfulness to the Ferguson cause, which it is assumed he will make the basis for his bid for votes.

There is something significant in the announcement of Senator Sanderford's candidacy, however. It is apparent that the only organized group of administration opponents realize the futility of trying to defeat Governor Allred for a second term, and will make no serious effort to elect their candidate. Else they would have named a more formidable leader.

As a matter of fact, there is little to induce one who would be Governor of Texas to make the race this year. Governor Allred has just completed one year of his first two-year term. The year has been one of many accomplishments. In spite of a legislature at times antagonistic to the Governor, legislation on the whole has been along the constructive lines suggested by Governor Allred. Through the adoption of several constitutional amendments the voters themselves have endorsed drastic changes in government during the past year: Old Age Pensions; Legalized Liquor; Abolition of the Fee System, to mention only a few. Yet as important are the measures upon which the voters did not, such as the creation of the Texas Planning Board; adoption of the Texas Securities Act, creation of the Texas Public Safety Department, adoption of the Drivers License Laws, and many others.

These are matters of accomplishment which Mr. Allred must share with the Legislature. And while they are tributes to the Administration, it must be admitted that, though definitely on the credit side, they might not be the deciding factor in an election, Texas politics being what it is.

More important is the man — and here Governor Allred presents the most convincing appeal to Texas voters of any occupant of the Governor's office in many years. Not even his most severe critics doubt the sincere effort Mr. Allred has made to give Texas an honest, able and helpful Administration. All Texans realize that the Governor has worked hard at the job; met obstacles as they presented themselves, and has devoted himself untiringly to the task of giving Texas the best possible government. And Texans like this sort of service.

Add to this the ability of Governor Allred to take care of himself in any sort of situation (remember the investigation of the Texas Safety Department) to present facts in a convincing manner and to mix it with his opponents in a rough-and-tumble argument and come out on top, and you have a candidacy that is almost impregnable. The campaign may become warm, it may be intense, but Texas voters will tell you that under all the circumstances in his favor Governor Allred can not be defeated this year.

Not being a stranger to politics, Mr. Sanderford very likely realizes this more than anyone else in Texas. The campaign may give him some statewide prestige, it may put him in line for future political honors, but there is little chance that it will take him to the Governor's office.

Great Britain suffered two great losses during the past week in the death of Rudyard Kipling and of King George V, beloved monarch, capable ruler. Both were in their 70th year. The serious illness and later the death of the King and Emperor overshadowed the passing of the premier poet, and thus Mr. Kipling did not receive the plaudits that his position and popularity merited and his memory would have been accorded under other circumstances.

Yet both were great men. Each filled his place as no other of his time could have filled it: each lived a long and useful life; each gave all that he had to give to the furtherance of the greatest empire in the world, which each of the two great men loved with an unceasing devotion.

The recognition which he was denied in part through the death of his King will come in the course of time to Mr. Kipling, whose writings did as much to inspire a love for the Empire as did the activities of any other man, King George himself included. Kipling essentially was a "man's man." More than any other writer, he popularized the reading of poetry by men, for his rugged verse, often couched in the picturesque and not always pious language of the "British Tommy" (his own creation, by the way) struck a responsive chord among the "common people" whom he loved. And yet few writers reached such sublime heights as did Kipling in "The Recessional" and other poems. "He was a great man."

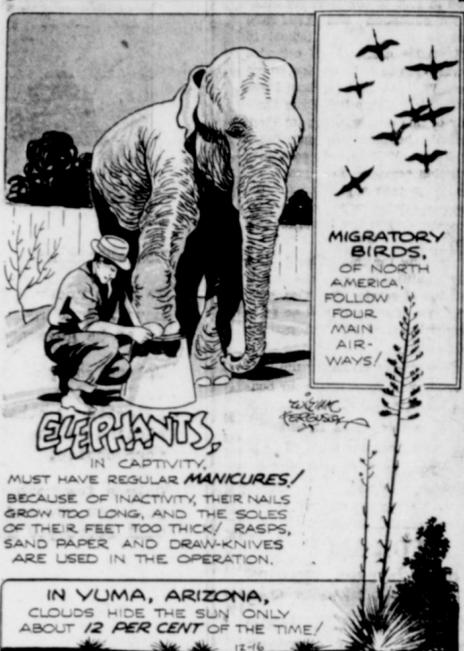

King George was a shrewder monarch than he was given credit for being. Living through a period when kings were going out of fashion, he never lost his great hold on the British people, and at no time during the twenty-six years of his reign was his crown in danger. His place rather severely circumscribed in the complex system of government of his vast empire, he filled that place with a dignity that gave it an importance not originally intended that it have. Under King George the British Monarchy reached a new high in influence and authority, and a world is saddened at his passing.

No greater contrast in rulers could be afforded than that which occurred when the Prince of Wales ascended the throne. An unorthodox character, a jovial good fellow and with it all possessed of a keen sympathy for the under strata of British life, few monarchs have assumed possession of important kingdoms with such popular approval of subjects and other nationals alike. It is considered likely that King Edward will prove an even more acceptable ruler than did his father. Certainly he assumes the duties with the good will of the world.

Just another week remains in which to pay poll taxes for this year, and thus be eligible to vote in the 1936 elections. Figures at the tax collector's office this week indicate that payments are lagging far behind the record of two years ago, and unless some two thousand Brown county citizens pay their poll taxes within the coming week they will be disfranchised.

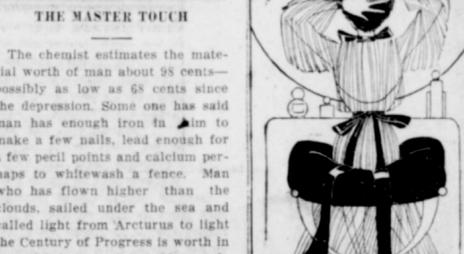

It seems hardly necessary to point out the importance of paying poll taxes this year. It is election year, but more than that, it is an election year of importance. In addition to the city, county and state elections, this is presidential election year; and in the November general election a number of proposed constitutional amendments will be voted upon. Those who fail to pay their poll taxes will have no voice in these elections.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

IN YUMA, ARIZONA, CLOUDS HIDE THE SUN ONLY ABOUT 12 PER CENT OF THE TIME!

Little Lights on Living by MARIA LEONARD

The chemist estimates the material worth of man about 98 cents—possibly as low as 58 cents since the depression. Some one has said man has enough iron in him to make a few nails, lead enough for a few pencil points and calcium perhaps to whitewash a fence. Man who has flown higher than the clouds, sailed under the sea and called light from Arcturus to light the Century of Progress is worth in material inventory but 98 cents!

It is said the English artist Turner when escorting a lady visitor through his studio, paused before one of his limbo-like seascapes, which he had recently finished, to catch her first words of praise. He was surprised to have her ask indifferently: "How much is that worth?" "A thousand dollars," he said. "What a thousand dollars for just paint and canvas?" she exclaimed. "If you wish just paint and canvas, madame," Turner responded. "I can sell them to you much cheaper than that by the tube and foot from my supply room."

When a man grows to his full stature in culture and character he reflects God, his maker, and when this happens, he, too, becomes, as did the artist's picture reflecting its creator—a matchless creation, beyond price. Man has received the master touch in all creation, but ofttimes he fails to measure up to it. Instead of being worth even 98 cents he becomes a heavy liability to society, for it costs the government somewhere near $200 to keep a criminal in jail one year, and only $150, half the sum, to keep a boy in school one year.

Not long ago I read of a judge who was asked to dedicate a new Y. M. C. A. building. While speaking he said: "If this building is instrumental in saving the character of one boy it will justify the expense."

Like the artist's canvas, the undeveloped years of childhood need the Master Touch in training for culture and character, as each young life is worth not 98 cents but a million to the individual, the home and the country. This should be given by parents before the age of six if fairness be done to the child.

Rothenburg ob der Tauber, famous German city where every year on Whit-Monday the Meister Trunk festival is held, has street and tower names as quaint as its festivals. A few of them are Little Dumping Street, Vinegar Jug, Cheese Chamber, the Dog Tower, and without any thought of Barrie, the Street of the Little Minister.

THE CHALLENGE TO FARM LEADERSHIP

Theodore Roosevelt once said: rural interests are human interests, and good crops or livestock are of little value to the farmer unless they open the door to a good kind of life on the farm." That many present problems are due to the neglect of this truth is pointed out in "The Progressive Farmer" by Alexander Nunn, who writes in part:—

"It is a peculiar fact that there seems never to have been in America a general recognition of the close relation of our economic and social farm problems. "We have worried about cooperative marketing and purchasing and producing and have but recently begun to recognize that if we bring individuals together regularly in social affairs or in recreational activities or to tackle local educational problems together we have the best foundation for cooperation in business activities. Is there anyone who honestly believes the individual farmer is naturally so desirous of 'independence' that he will refuse to work with others, even if it brings poverty on himself? Mostly, he has never had a chance to learn how to work with others or to appreciate how teamwork gets results."

"If there is one solution to all our farm problems we believe it will be found in this socio-economic team. And there are many indications that we are on our way. Far seeing college leaders are adding courses in rural organization, principles of cooperation, dramatics and play. Wise extension leaders are adding recreation and rural organization specialists to their forces. No other group, it seems to us, is showing greater wisdom than the Smith-Hughes forces through their Future Farmer program. Here tomorrow's farmers are not only learning the latest methods in up-to-date farming but are learning teamwork through buying and selling together, growing new crops to supply seed for the community, growing shrubbery to beautify their homes and school, building FFA libraries, learning how to preside at meetings, taking an active lead in general problems, and withal finding time for regular, wholesome recreation through educational tours, father-son and mother-daughter banquets, athletic teams, and socials planned jointly with students in home economics clubs."

ON TEXAS FARMS

Dumas—Terracing is proving a profitable investment for Henry Ham, Moore county farmer, according to county agricultural agent W. K. Cottingham.

Henry Ham of the Middle Well community recently reported a return of $6 per acre more from his terraced land than from his unterraced land.

"I seeded my terraced land without any preparation of the seedbed since the summer of 1934, while the unterraced land was cultivated twice before seeding," Henry Ham said. "After seeding, the terraced land was cultivated twice while the unterraced land was cultivated four times."

"The difference in the cost of preparation of the seedbed and the cultivation of the crop was 52 cents per acre. The cost was greater on the unterraced land."

Henry Ham's terraced land produced 250 bundles of feed per acre compared to 150 bundles on the unterraced land. The feed from the terraced land was valued at one-half a cent more per bundle than the feed from the unterraced land because of its having more grain in the heads.

The Moore county farmer reported that he got a good stand of feed, following a light rain, on the terraced land, which was seeded two weeks later, the stand was poor because of lack of moisture.

According to the Moore county agricultural agent's report, approximately 40 acres of land was terraced on Ham's farm in the fall of 1934 at a cost of 58 cents per acre for fuel and oil and labor to operate the county grading machinery.

Franklin—"The best investment on my farm," is the term applied to a sweet potato curing house built by Frank James of the Camp Creek community in Robertson county, according to V. L. Sandlin, county agricultural agent.

James built the house of scrap lumber bought at a local sawmill and used one side of a barn for part of one wall and built a shed roof. The total cost of the shed was less than $10 and it holds 100 bushels of potatoes which James states have doubled in value from being kiln cured.

Mount Vernon—Even a small flock of hens is worth keeping, according to Neil Peterson of the Cypress community in Franklin county. "My 55 white Leghorn hens made enough profit during three months of the year to feed themselves, 45 baby chicks, two mules and the four members of my family," he reported to W. N. Williamson, county agricultural agent. "I hope to have 100 producing hens next year," he added.

Cuero—More than 2,370 acres of land was terraced on 58 Dewitt county farms during 1935, according to J. A. Oswalt, county agricultural agent. Using the conservative figure of $8 per acre, the terraces constructed during the year are worth $18,960 to the farmers who did the terracing, Oswalt estimates. Since 1929, more than 400 farmers in the county have terraced 16,759 acres. At present, 249 requests are on file in the agent's office for assistance in running terrace lines on approximately 20,000 acres of that each applicant is limited to two days' work with the machinery.

Baird—"On making my yearly report I found that I had canned 20,949 pints of food for myself and other people," says Mrs. H. S. Blacklock, 4-H pantry demonstrator for the Clyde progressive home demonstration club in Callahan county.

In addition to canning more than 20,000 containers of food, Mrs. Blacklock converted an unused room into a pantry by adding 160 feet of shelves and labeling each shelf, according to Miss Vida Moore, home demonstration agent.

Groveton—Twenty-one buckets of fertilizer have been added to the cutting bed of Mrs. B. J. Faulkner, yard demonstrator of the Woodlake home demonstration club in Trinity county, as part of her yard improvement work, and the cutting bed has been spaded. She has also broken the plot for a rose garden, added 12 buckets of fertilizer and put out rose settings, according to her report to Miss Clara Rettiger, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Faulkner went to the woods and gathered native shrubs and secured cutting of cultivated shrubs and roses from a nearby neighbor. She adds: "I have a yard sodded, my border beds and my screen plantings prepared."

Bastrop—From 103 chicks purchased from a hatchery on October 9, Wynona Schultz, Bastrop county 4-H club girl, raised the whole number to frying size, according to Miss Audette McDonald, home demonstration agent. These fryers were ready for the Christmas market.

Wynona attributes her success in raising poultry to the fact that she buys strong healthy chicks, feeds them properly, keeps houses and feeding utensils clean and gives the chicks regular care.

FOR COUNTY CLERK
To the qualified voters of Brown County I wish to announce that I will be a candidate for county clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic primary of July, 1936. In submitting this announcement to the people, and especially those with whom I am not personally acquainted, I would like to give this information: I am thirty-six years old, married and have two children. I have lived in this county for the past ten years, having moved here from Comanche in 1926. I have been employed as a tobacco salesman for several years in the Brownwood territory. With reference to qualifications, my early training in business administration and clerical work, and fifteen years with the general public, qualifies me to perform the duties of this office in a courteous and efficient manner. In visiting over the county, from time to time, I shall make every effort to meet each voter personally, but if there are some that I do not have an opportunity to meet, I would greatly appreciate their vote and influence. Thanking each of you to give me your consideration when you go to the polls to vote, and if elected, I will do everything in my power to justify the trust and confidence placed in me. I am, respectfully,
VERNON GREEN.

For Sheriff

J. J. (Jule) ALLCORN
TO THE CITIZENS OF BROWN COUNTY:

In making my announcement for Sheriff, will say that I am a life-long resident of Brown county, that I have always been a believer in law and order, and that I have never asked for any public office before. I believe in giving everyone a square deal and showing no special privileges to anyone. I can see no reason why I can not make you a good Sheriff; in fact, I believe I can make you one of the very best officers you have had, and I will do everything in my power to do so if you will elect me to this office. If you do not know me, ask someone about me who does know me. I will try to see each one of you before election time. Any favors extended me in this campaign will be greatly appreciated.

Yours truly,
J. J. (Jule) ALLCORN.

COTTON GINNINGS

Cotton ginnings in Brown county to January 16 totalled 9,681 bales, according to a report from the Bureau of the Census. This is more than 1,500 bales in excess of the total at the same time last year which was 8,045 bales.

To meet the stock objection, "It is too dry for gardening up here," the Extension agents in the county gave demonstrations on the making and laying of concrete subirrigation tile with the pleasing result that 14,000 feet of such tile was laid and reported.

SOIL CONSERVATION OFFICES FOR TEXAS NOW IN FORT WORTH

First of a Series

Detailed work relative to setting up of Region 4 headquarters office of the Soil Conservation Service in Fort Worth is now in progress and will be pushed as rapidly as possible, according to a statement made today by Louis P. Merrill, Regional Conservator. Announcement of the designation of Fort Worth as headquarters of the region, which is comprised of Texas (except the high plains area), Arkansas and Louisiana, was received this week from Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, through Hugh H. Bennett, Chief of the Service at Washington. Office space has already been secured in the Neill P. Anderson building.

Most of the personnel of the regional staff will go to Fort Worth from Lindale, Texas, where temporary offices have been maintained for the past two months at the Duck Creek watershed project pending designation of the permanent regional office location.

Supervisory and administrative direction of five units of field operations in the region will be handled from the Fort Worth office. These field units consist of 19 project watershed demonstrations, 60 SCW camps, 2 Soil Conservation Experiment Stations, 4 Soil Conservation Nurseries and a Research Division.

The 19 project demonstrations are operating on definitely defined watershed areas of approximately twenty-five thousand acres each. Work on the individual farm units within these areas is determined by the suitability of the farm for an erosion control demonstration and the desire and ability of the farmer to cooperate in carrying out the program of erosion control planned for his farm. In working out a plan for controlling erosion the program best adapted to the peculiar needs of the farm is applied to each acre of the farm unit. In some cases it is possible to treat adjoining farms as one unit.

Points taken into consideration in developing an erosion control plan for each farm are based on the proper utilization of each acre of land on the farm. Discussions of the special application of the different phases of the coordinated program, which includes the various phases of forestry, agronomy and engineering for successful erosion control, will be taken up separately in a subsequent article of this series. It is well to state here, however, that the primary agencies behind all erosion control and water conservation measures are the use of proper vegetative and cultural practices together, where necessary, with certain mechanical means of checking too rapid runoff of rainfall. In addition to ECW camp labor available for work in project areas, a considerable amount of labor from WPA rolls is being utilized. Field work of the ECW camps assigned to the Soil Conservation Service, and not located in project areas, covers whatever area that can be satisfactorily and economically worked within a reasonable radius (15 to 20 miles) of the camp location. Erosion control demonstrations in the camp areas, however, are conducted on closely grouped farms in preference to scattered individual farm units. Supervision of work done by the camp enrollees is under the direction of a technical staff permanently assigned to each camp. The camp technical staff is supervised by the Project Manager and staff of the Soil Conservation Service project to which the camp is assigned. Erosion control and water conservation measures put into operation on the cooperating farms in camp areas are the same as those used in project watersheds, the principal difference in the two setups being that the cooperating farmer in the camp area assumes responsibility for more of the work and for the furnishing of more materials and equipment in carrying out the recommended erosion control program. The relationship, or the division of responsibility, between cooperating farmers and the Soil Conservation Service is determined under the provisions of a cooperative agreement signed by both the farmer and the responsible representative of the Service. This agreement, which is operative for a period of five years, sets forth the complete erosion control program planned for the farm and also provides for the portion of work to be done, and the amount of materials and equipment to be furnished, by the farmer and the Soil Conservation Service.

Sons in Sorrowful March Behind Body of King

No work is undertaken on any farm until the cooperative agreement is signed by both parties. In addition it is also necessary for the farmer to be a member of the Soil Conservation Association which is organized in each project and camp work area. The entire program of the Service is voluntary so far as the farmer is concerned and no farm is considered for demonstration of practical erosion control until the landowner invites representatives of the Service to work out a plan for his farm. Activity of the Soil Conservation Service in working with farmers is predicated upon the closest cooperation with all Federal and State agricultural agencies operating in Region 4. In order to insure cooperative working relationship between the Service and allied state agencies, there is within each state a State Coordinator. There is also a State Advisory Committee. Through this Committee cooperation with other organizations and agencies is effected. The program of the Soil Conservation Service does not overlap the plan of operation of any other agricultural organization or division, but rather is carried on in its own particular sphere of demonstrating a complete program of erosion control. The Service works side by side with all other agricultural agencies in its demonstrations of the best means of maintaining the inherent fertility of farm lands and protecting them from devastating erosion.

The gardening report for 1935 from Hemphill county sent in by the home demonstration agent, Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, makes interesting reading. The goals for the year were for each gardener to plant one perennial vegetable such as asparagus; plant one small fruit; and three new vegetables never before used by the family.

TWO RESIDENCES ARE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Loss totalling more than $7000 was sustained in fires in Brownwood last week. The home of Hugh T. Latham was completely destroyed Wednesday afternoon, and the loss of the house and furnishings was estimated at around $5000. Thursday night Mrs. Georgia McLean's home at 1303 Avenue B was demolished, damage estimated at around $2,000.

The loss in the Latham fire is covered by $3,600 insurance on the house and $1,500 on furnishings. Insurance on Mrs. McLean's home was $1,200 on the house and $750 on the furnishings.

Heat from the burning McLean house scorched the house next door, occupied by R. H. Adams, and broke several window glasses. The damage, covered by insurance, was estimated at $50.

The J. C. Florey home at 1610 Fourth street was damaged by fire to the extent of $4 or $5 Thursday afternoon. Dry vines on the house caught from a trash fire, according to a report from members of the fire department.

Mrs. Ables Named Relief Worker For Free Commodities

Mrs. Ruby Latham Ables, formerly employed as case worker by the Texas Relief Commission, has assumed her duties as city-county case worker to certify names of needy persons to receive free government commodities distributed under a WPA project. Commissioners Court in regular session Monday voted to cooperate with the city in employment of a case worker. They had previously agreed to assume the responsibility jointly with the city, but had not voted on the matter.

The court made a settlement with R. C. Gotcher for extra work done in January after his duties as county auditor ended January 1. Mr. Gotcher was paid $100 in cash and given credit for a debt of $38 due the county. The court voted some time ago to discontinue services of an auditor January 1, but Mr. Gotcher had reports and other work to complete and has been working all this month. Routine business matters were attended to, including payment of monthly bills. Among the bills paid was one for $30 to Mitchell Funeral Home for burial of a pauper.

DRIVERS' LICENSES MUST BE OBTAINED BY MOTORISTS BY APRIL, UNDER NEW STATUTE

AUTOMOBILE drivers may secure drivers' licenses required under the recently passed drivers license law between February 14 and April 1, when the law becomes effective. Application forms to be filled out by drivers will be available in the county tax collector-assessor's office soon. The new law is expected to have a far reaching effect in the campaign for the promotion of safety on the highways.

Drivers' licenses may be issued to persons under 18 years of age only on application of the parent or guardian of the youngster, and to persons under 14 only if the county judge, after investigation, approves. No chauffeur's license, for commercial driving, may be issued to persons under 18 unless the county judge approves.

Habitual drunkards, those addicted to the use of drugs, those not mentally responsible, those suffering from physical or mental disabilities which prevent them from exercising reasonable and ordinary control of a motor vehicle, are barred from securing licenses.

Suspension Provided

Suspension or revocation of a license is mandatory upon final conviction of the holder on any of the following offenses: Negligent homicide resulting from operation of a motor vehicle; driving motor vehicle while intoxicated or under influence of narcotic; any offense punishable as a felony under the motor vehicle laws of the state; upon three convictions of violating any motor vehicle laws which constitute misdemeanors, within any 12-month period; or on conviction of any driver involved in an accident and charged with failure to stop, render aid and disclose his identity at the scene of the accident.

The license must be revoked or suspended on conviction on two separate charges of aggravated assault on a person by means of a motor vehicle.

The license will be revoked or suspended, for any of the above causes, first for a period of six months. A second offense however makes mandatory suspension for an additional year.

Should any driver have his license suspended, and then drive a car despite that fact, the suspension will be extended for a period as long as the original suspension. In addition, a penalty of two days to six months in jail and a fine up to $500 is provided for those who drive while their license is suspended or revoked.

Any person denied a license shall have 30 days in which he may file a petition for hearing in county court, and after 10 days the hearing will be held with testimony heard to show the merits of the case.

The licenses are issued free of charge. In event the license or chauffeur's badge is lost, they may be replaced at a cost of 25 cents for the license and $10 for the badge. The badges cost $3 originally and are required of all who operate a motor vehicle for hire.

An additional check on drivers is made possible, through provision that every license must be signed in ink by the person to whom it is issued. It is made unlawful for any person to use or permit to be used a license to which he is not entitled. The signature can be used to prove identity.

A description of the person to whom the license is issued is written on the license, and every license will have a distinguishing number.

As a further effort toward prevention of accidents on the highways, the state department of public safety will tabulate, analyze and publish annually reports from law enforcement agencies, traffic officers, ambulance operators, and hospitals, all of which persons and institutions are required by law to furnish the reports from which conclusions and recommendations to increase safety may be drawn.

Exceptions for Some

Exempted from obtaining licenses are operators of road or farm machinery, non-resident drivers who hold valid licenses issued by other states, or drivers who hold licenses from the Texas Railroad Commission.

Officials estimate an average of four persons drive from time to

TWENTY CHILDREN AT LOCAL WARD SCHOOLS DO NOT HAVE SHOES

In a survey of two ward schools in Brownwood, instituted by Isham A. Smith American Legion Post, it was found that 20 children attending school who have no shoes. Mrs. Roy Gower is conducting the survey, which is to include all schools in the city, and according to her preliminary report to Legion officials there are from 40 to 50 children enrolled in all city schools who are without shoes.

The survey is being conducted in connection with a shoe drive being made by the Legion. Since their appeal for contributions of shoes last week 40 pairs of shoes have been donated, but they need further contributions to attain their goal of securing shoes for every needy child in Brownwood. They are soliciting both used shoes and contributions of money to be used in repair of old shoes and for purchase of new ones.

Pipeline Tax Suit Appealed By County

Brown county has taken its case against the Atlantic Pipe Line Company to the United States Circuit Court at New Orleans on appeal from Federal Judge William H. Atwell's ruling that intangible asset taxes assessed by the county against the pipe line company were discriminatory. Judge Atwell signed an order permitting Brown county to appeal the case Monday.

Friday Last Day To Pay Split Taxes In City Part-Pay Plan

Friday is the last day for payment of city taxes on property without interest and penalty charges. Those who care to do so may pay half of their taxes before the Friday deadline and the remainder on or before July 31. Those who plan to pay their taxes in full must do so by Friday to escape penalty and interest.

Tax collections in the city are better than last year, according to Tax Collector H. H. Gresham, who said that the majority of city taxpayers are paying their taxes in full rather than using the split-tax plan of payment this year.

MAKING Smart CLOTHES

Immediately after holiday parties, your New Year's Eve evening dress is as dead as a popped champagne cork. For your Spring dinner dances, you want something simple and soft and delicate—instead of your gala, glittering gown.

This dress is exactly the sort of thing I mean. It is perfectly simple, except for the graceful front fullness and a charming little bustle in back. It will work out particularly well in crepe, and I personally would vote for a soft, fresh pastel or simple black or white.

You can buy this pattern at the pattern counter of your local department store. Sizes 12 to 20; 30 to 44.

The Rocks, historical plants at Eutawville, S. C., will be destroyed when the section is donated by the Santee-Cooper project of the federal government.

Any error made in advertisements will be corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publishers, and the liability of this paper is limited to the amount of space consumed by the error in the advertisement.

The first advertisement of the Texas Centennial in a national publication appeared last week in the Saturday Evening Post, possibly the first paid advertising to be undertaken for the Centennial celebrations. If the copy of the first advertisement is any indication of the theme of those that will follow, Texans residing outside of Dallas will take a renewed interest in the event. For the advertisement, far from directing attention to the Centennial Exposition at Dallas, focused the attention of the reader rather on Texas as a whole, and to the other celebrations that will be held in the state during 1936.

This is as it should be, of course, but it came as more or less of a surprise to Texans, who have almost come to think of the Centennial as a celebration in Dallas alone. Wisely those who prepared the first advertisement kept to the main idea of the Centennial in the first place: that of advertising Texas to the world, and interesting a Nation in one of its most progressive states.

When the appropriation for the Texas Centennial first was suggested, and later when it was approved by the voters and authorized by the Texas Legislature, the state-wide nature of the hundredth birthday was kept constantly before the people. But when the appropriation was assured, and the central exposition awarded to Dallas, the Centennial, in the minds of most Texans, became a thing belonging almost exclusively to the successful city where the main attraction is to be held.

The advertisement will do much to sell Texans themselves on the Centennial, as well as to present Texas in a most favorable light to a large group of the Nation's reading public. The latter feature is important, but even more important is the necessity for those in charge of the Central Exposition to sell the state itself again on the Centennial idea. It is to be hoped, and now expected, that the advertisements which are to follow will continue the same general theme, at least until the time of the Central Exposition opening.

Incidentally, it is pointed out by Centennial officials that appearance of the advertisement in the national publication marks the first time in the history of American expositions that a State has endeavored to "sell" its celebration to the country through the medium of paid advertising in the press of both the State and Nation.

The beginning of the National advertising of the Centennial brings forcibly to the attention of the various communities in the State the importance of the part which they are to play in the Centennial. The fact that "Centennial Celebrations" in Texas are being advertised, rather than the one central exposition, is going to cause people from outside the state to seek out other communities that are holding celebrations and other parts of the State to visit.

Brownwood is admirably situated to hold the major Centennial celebration in the area of which this is the logical center, and which embraces one of the most important sections of the state. If an adequate celebration is held in Brownwood, this city will be the focal point for Centennial celebrants for Central West Texas.

The Brown County Centennial Advisory Committee has splendid ideas as to the kind of celebration that should be held here. The desire of the Brownwood Regatta Association to cooperate with that organization, and hold one big celebration rather than two smaller ones, is a good sign. But more than good ideas and good intentions are needed if a proper Centennial celebration is held here. It will take work, and plenty of it; enthusiasm well directed and patriotism, to put it over. Unless there is a definite demand for a good Centennial celebration here, there will not be one.

As the date for the effectiveness of the Old Age Assistance Law in Texas goes into effect, numerous "agents" to assist old people in securing what they are entitled to under the law have sprung up, we are told by the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission.

The commission advises against dealing with any of these agents, as it points out that once the mechanism of paying the assistance money is perfected, there will be no need for anyone seeking skilled aid in securing all the law entitles them to receive.

This business is no new thing. "Agents" of this kind sprang up during the war when War Risk Insurance was being paid to those killed in action, exacting, or trying to exact, fees from relatives of deceased soldiers who had taken out the insurance. Similar "agents" appeared immediately after the passage of the national Adjusted Compensation Act, to attempt to fleece ex-service men of a part of their bonus for the work of establishing a claim.

The National government effectively put a stop to these practices through the passage of laws giving security to ex-service men from such agents, and prescribed the amount of fee that could be collected—this in only certain cases. Greater service was rendered by the American Legion and other veterans organizations that rendered this service free to all ex-service men, and so the menace did not spread rapidly.

It is possible that some voluntary organization might be necessary to assist some of those entitled to Old Age Assistance in preparation of the needed papers. But the wisest move is for the prospective beneficiary to await the appointment of county and district directors of this work and confer with them as to the necessary action.

The Old Age Assistance Commission advises that only a few problems will present difficulties to those who will benefit through the new law. First of these is the establishment of his age. Other important matters that must be decided definitely, and proved to the commission, include such matters as income for the last two years; property owned and liens against same; cash or negotiable securities held, and citizenship of the applicant.

The commission is establishing definite procedure which will enable the applicant to file this information with the minimum of trouble and confusion. It is not necessary to employ an "agent" to secure or establish any just claim—certainly not at this time. In many cases, no doubt, the need for assistance is great, but the time for payment cannot be speeded by individual action.

FARM PROGRAM

(Dallas News) Congress takes the right course in refusing to adopt an obviously unconstitutional substitute for the recently annulled clauses of the agricultural adjustment act. However, the tentative plan adopted by the Senate agriculture subcommittee Friday, which brought expressions of approval from both Congressmen and members of the Department of Agriculture, seems to have as its central idea a permanent plan of subsidy for the American farmer. Secretary Wallace has said all along that the farmer must be given such a subsidy or tariffs must be lowered. He is right. Congress seems to have come to the conclusion that there is no possibility of reducing tariffs.

If the farm and industrial factions were the only two militant minorities able to extract subsidies from the Government, the prospect would not be so bad. But already the old-age and unemployment insurance laws are on the statute books and they are, in their last analysis, plans for collection and redistribution of tax money. The most glaring example of the power of organized minority—and weakness of Congress—is the new bonus legislation. The veterans were the flower of the country's manhood when they were selected for service eighteen or nineteen years ago and today they are in the prime of life. If there is any large bloc of citizens today that should be able to take care of itself it is the veteran bloc. If they can raid the Treasury of $2,400,000,000 (billions) at this hour—the most critical in the Nation's financial history—then any bloc with a little voting strength can do so.

It looks like a never-ending process. In the beginning of it was "infant industry" that received protection. The thing was kept up until it ruined agriculture, so the farm subsidy came, first as an emergency program, but now as a permanent thing. Plans are now afoot to make permanent the Government construction program, the CCC and all other new deal activities, including those that have been annulled by the Supreme Court in their original form. ON TEXAS FARMS

College Station—The 1936 Farmers' Short Course will be held at A. and M. College a week earlier this year starting Monday, July 29 and carrying through Friday, July 24. It was announced recently by H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas Extension Service.

Preparations for this annual farmers' affair in Texas are being pushed stronger this year than ever in view of better living standards and live-at-home programs which are being advocated by the Texas Extension Service and other agricultural agencies in the State.

Looking backward, a brief glance at the 1935 Annual Farmers' Short Course shows a record of all times with the attendance totaling 7,000.

Clarksville — Joe P. Sivley of Clarksville, Texas, in Red River county, started three years ago with 12 grade ewes and one registered Hampshire buck. January 1 this year he had on hand 21 ewes. He raised 25 lambs, according to a report from C. M. Knight, county agricultural agent.

He sold these lambs for $6 a head making a total of $150. He sold $31 worth of wool making a total return of $181 on an $86 investment.

Sivley states that the sheep more than paid for the small amount of grain fed during the months of January and February, in the destruction of weeds in his permanent pasture which is under improvement. The sheep were treated three times with blue stone and nicotine solution for stomach worms.

According to the Red River county agricultural agent, this record is due to proper management, a registered buck, and a good permanent pasture.

Waco — Mrs. G. Akin, 4-H pantry demonstrator for the Liberty Hill Home Demonstration Club in McLennan county, shows the following results with a cash outlay of only $11.09, according to Martha Buttrill, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Akin spent $1 for fertilizer, 35 cents for poison and bought 508 cans. Her net profit return on labor amounted to $135.

In January, Mrs. Akin planned her garden. It was planted with the short-lived vegetables on one side and the long-lived vegetables on the other. Mrs. Akin has canned 498 quarts, 53 different varieties of products from her garden; fed her family of four for a cash outlay of only $94 from January 1 to September 15.

Other than her garden, Mrs. Akin has produced $329.45 worth of chickens, meat, lard, and eggs. She has also sold $75.00 worth of milk from her four dairy cows.

San Augustine—A total of 76 shrubs was moved this fall by Mrs. Vena Redden, yard demonstrator of the New Hope Demonstration Club in San Augustine county, according to a report from Esther Ross, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Redden said, "This summer I dug a three foot bed all around my house, filled the bed up with well rotted barnyard manure, then put a lot of leaf mold on top. I then worked some of the dirt that I had taken out of the bed and laid it on top. I kept the bed well worked and planted my shrubs in it this fall. "I have transplanted 48 privet bushes, two box wood, two cape jasmine, three crepe myrtle, eight mimosa, one lilac, four althea, and six running roses. They are all growing."

Mrs. Redden prepared her rose garden much the same way she did her beds except she had it plowed instead of dug.

Crystal City—Sixteen heavy steers of common stock carried hegarri bundles to market for $7.31 a ton when no market existed for this feed in Zavala county, according to Fred LeCrone, county agricultural agent.

The steers were fed on the Frank Burdett farm near La Pryor and they gained an average of 200 pounds during the 90 day feeding period.

These steers consumed 387.5 pounds of cotton seed meal and 2,150 pounds of ground hegarri bundles. The meal cost $5.82 which leaves $7.31 to pay for the roughage, as the steers sold for six and one-half cents a pound. No value for the better price of fed beef was estimated on the original weight.

Dumas—From a flock of 370 hens,

Art Knorpp of Dumas in Mosco county received $168.19 from the sale of market eggs during the month of December.

His flock contains 70 percent pullets with the remainder going into their second laying season. His total feed and other cash expense for the month was $65.25. A total of 6,260 eggs was produced during the month.

Knorpp moved his flock into Dumas from his farm six miles east of Sunray in November and placed them in a newly constructed hen house which he has wired for lights. He turns the lights on every morning at 4:15 and they remain on until 8 o'clock at night.

When the flock was moved into Dumas, he started feeding a small amount of moist mash at noon every day, about what the flock would clean up in five to 10 minutes. He has continued feeding moist mash up to the present time; however, only about half as much is now being fed as when the feeding was started.

INSIDE BRACES

THE story is told of a certain senator who voted for a measure unfavorable to the best interests of the people. Met by a friend the next day he was asked how it happened, as many people had placed all confidence in him. He replied in a poor effort at defense, "The outside pressure was so strong." His friend laying his hand on his shoulder looked the senator straight in the eye, and inquired, "Where were your inside braces?"

The whole world is insecure at the present time because of the lack of inside braces. During the last three years of financial uncertainty many contributing causes have been recounted as reasons for the world's unrest, but slowly, very slowly are a few of our country's leaders, men in public life, coming to one central cause of the world's greatest need. They have gone back to other earlier crises of our country, to the dominating thought and convictions of some of our earlier leaders who were passing through deep tribulations, and are finding out what inside braces carried them through. Their inside braces were character and religion.

Contrast this with selfish graft and greed in some high places today, and one will find real reason for our country's insecurity.

America's god of the last decade has been gold, a different goal from the founders of our nation. Let us see what some of our early statesmen lived and believed. George Washington said, "It is impossible to govern the world without the Bible." Andrew Jackson, sensing the great truth later as President of our nation, once remarked, "That book, sir," pointing to the Bible, "is the rock upon which our republic rests." It is said, when all of Abraham Lincoln's cabinet disagreed with him in the most critical time of our country, realizing he stood alone, he withdrew to pray for fear he might be wrong. Abraham Lincoln said of the Bible, "I believe that the Bible is the best gift which God has ever given to man. All the good from the Saviour of the world is communicated to us through this book."

Coming to our present day—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace has written a new book on "Statesmanship and Religion." Perhaps the need for the character and spiritual strength of our early statesmen is slowly being recognized. If character and religion again become the sovereign interests of America, she will not need to fear about her inside braces when the outside pressure becomes so strong.

Paid student guides are provided University of Texas visitors at Austin, Texas, to explain extensive development in recent years of the school's physical properties.

In January, Mrs. Akin planned her garden. It was planted with the short-lived vegetables on one side and the long-lived vegetables on the other. Mrs. Akin has canned 498 quarts, 52 different varieties of products from her garden; fed her family of four for a cash outlay of only $94 from January 1 to September 15.

Other than her garden, Mrs. Akin has produced $329.45 worth of chickens, meat, land, and eggs. She has also sold $75.00 worth of milk from her four dairy cows.

San Augustine—A total of 76 shrubs was moved this fall by Mrs. Vena Redden, yard demonstrator of the New Hope Demonstration Club in San Augustine county, according to a report from Esther Ross, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Redden said, "This summer I dug a three foot bed all around my house, filled the bed up with well rotted barnyard manure, then put a lot of lead mold on top. I then worked some of the dirt that I had taken out of the bed and laid it on top. I kept the bed well worked and planted my shrubs in it this fall. "I have transplanted 48 privet bushes, two box wood, two cape jasmine, three crepe myrtle, eight mimosa, one lilac, four althea, and six running roses. They are all growing."

Mrs. Redden prepared her rose garden much the same way she did her beds except she had it plowed instead of dug.

Crystal City—Sixteen heavy steers of common stock carried heavy bundles to market for $7.31 a ton when no market existed for this feed in Zavala county, according to Fred LeCroun, county agricultural agent.

The steers were fed on the Frank Burdett farm near La Pryor and they gained an average of 282 pounds during the 90 day feeding period.

These steers consumed 387.5 pounds of cotton seed meal and 2,150 pounds of ground hedges bundles. The meal cost $5.82 which leaves $7.31 to pay for the roughage, as the steers sold for six and one-half cents a pound. No value for the better price of fed beef was estimated on the original weight.

Dumas—From a flock of 370 hens,

Art Knorpp of Dumas in Morgan county received $168.19 from the sale of market eggs during the month of December.

His flock contains 70 percent pullets with the remainder going into their second laying season. His total feed and other cash expense for the month was $65.25. A total of 6,260 eggs was produced during the month.

Knorpp moved his flock into Dumas from his farm six miles east of Sunray in November and placed them in a newly constructed hen house which he has wired for lights. He turns the lights on every morning at 4:15 and they remain on until 8 o'clock at night.

When the flock was moved into Dumas, he started feeding a small amount of moist mash at noon every day, about what the flock would clean up in five to 10 minutes. He has continued feeding moist mash up to the present time; however, only about half as much is now being fed as when the feeding was started.

C. Underwood at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jeffers. Fourteen tables of "12" and bridge furnished entertainment until refreshments of coffee, cake and nuts were served. To the surprise of both Mr. and Mrs. Underwood they learned that the party was a shower in their honor, when they were directed to the dining room and found a table loaded with gifts. In the center of the gifts was a beautiful blue and gold football. Mr. Underwood has been head coach at Rochelle for the past two years and we are indeed glad to welcome his bride, who before her marriage was Miss Maurin Bird of Blanket, to our community. The large number of attractive and useful gifts bespoke the high regard with which this young couple is welcomed to Rochelle.

THE EARLY HISTORY OF TEXAS AS SHOWN FROM THE AUSTIN PAPERS

(Note: This is one of a series of articles taken from the three hundred special collections of family archives in the University of Texas Library. The collections cover all periods of Texas history...

THE nursery jingle anent "Daddy's gone a hunting—to catch a little rabbit skin—to wrap the baby up in" is called to mind by the cash accounts of William Pitt Ballinger...

Living expense, particularly for a man with professional and family responsibilities such as Ballinger's, were extremely high. Over a long period of years, both before and after the Civil War, Ballinger's monthly expenditures ranged from $500 to $1,000.

Candles were a regular item of expense in those days, and cost $4 for five pounds. Haircuts were fifty cents. It cost $10 to have a lady's bonnet trimmed, $15 to purchase a pair of "pants" and $3 to have them mended.

In January, 1863, Ballinger contributed $50 for a ball honoring General Sam McGruder, following a Southern victory. A wash bowl and pitcher set cost $12, a stew pan $2, a bag of flour $40.

In January, 1874, he laid in a supply of brandy and whiskey at a cost of $232. He gave his servants $99 and spent $20 for washing. Similar amounts were expended for servants and washing the following month. Gas bills ran about $25 a month for the winter months. In February he paid $18 for opera tickets. His shirts cost $54 a dozen. Ice bills ran from $1 a month in the winter to $8 and $10 in the summer.

Other items listed included: Shirt collars, $2.55; corsets mended, $1; mending baby's carriage, fifty cents; carriage hire, $8; baby dress, $2.55; two bottles of tomato wine, $4; 22 pounds coffee, $22; 9 1-2 pounds white sugar, $9.50; 30 pounds best New Orleans sugar, $25; pair shoes for himself, $20.

In his diary, likewise in the University library, Ballinger made frequent references to his financial concerns which throw interesting light on the costs of living in early Texas. On December 7, 1882, he wrote:

"Looked over my accounts for the year. I have spent a great deal of money—and believe have lost from neglect, somehow. I have been careless in my deposits and can't see how on earth I have gotten rid of the amount I have. I shall be more careful as well as economical in future and shall keep accounts far more systematically than I have heretofore done."

Two days later it is to be found the following entry:

"Sold my carriage today for $900. Saved the cover, which contains cloth enough for 8 or 10 negro shirts. Took tea last night with Judge Gray at Dickinson's. Employed all day, but without feeling that the results are as good as I should like to do. Bryan is not so well. Nothing from Hally yet."

"I loaned Judge Hill today $500 to repay a loan from Clements. I fear his looseness and bad management in money matters may involve him in trouble. It is humiliating for any one to be in debt, but destructive to the independence of a judge."

Warfare on Galveston Island in the winter of 1862 caused Ballinger to move his family to a place of safety, either in Houston or Austin, apparently. Many of the family possessions, including the carriage mentioned above, were sold, and others were moved to the new abode. His comment on December 16 reflects his keen interest in both legal tomes and general literature:

"Worked well yesterday, and especially today. As soon as we get our room furnished with our own furniture, we will be well fixed, and I hope to pass my time pleasantly. With the carriage money, thought I couldn't do better than to buy some books—and yesterday bought Irving's works in 21 volumes $75, Coleridge's 7 volumes 2 missing $5 and this evening bought Bancroft's U. S. and Hamilton's work on the American Republic cheap at Allen's. Have been reading Coleridge's 'Table Talk.'"

Even during the war that was being fought to end slavery, traffic in black men, women and children went on. Ballinger's diary reveals. On January 6, 1863, he wrote:

"Sold the Norris negroes today—John a boy 20 brought $3025, Pink a boy of 17 $2200, a woman and 3 children 10, 3 and an infant $4850, a woman and child 6 $2500. Never knew such prices."

"Tolerably industrious today. Wrote mother and Bale tonight. Made up cash account with them. I owe mother $489.94. I think I will send her bonds or interest bearing notes for $400. I owe Bale $297 on cash account."

Household furnishings, at least of the type owned by the Ballingers, were costly, to cite a notation as of February 3, 1863:

"Worked hard all day. Sold our parlor furniture today (reserving the chairs etc. Laura embroidered) for $1100. Must bring up my finances and invest my surplus in lands. With the sale of the carriage and furniture I think I have near $6000."

Ballinger's taste for heavy reading is attested by a catalogue of one purchase he made in February, 1863. His diary for February 25 read:

"Bought today—Coopers novels, 20 volumes, $60.00; Willis' Works, 12 volumes, $36.00; Marryatta, 12 volumes, $36.00; Websters, 6 volumes, $35.00; Gibbon's Rome, 6 volumes, $15.00; Leigh Hunts Works, 4 volumes, $12.00; Currer Bells, 2 volumes, $9.00; Montague's, 4 volumes, $7.00; Hildreth's U. S., 6 volumes, $15.00; Randall's Jefferson, 3 volumes, $18.00; Life of Pres. Reid, 2 volumes, $4.00; J. Q. Adams, 1 volume, $3.50; Lives Ch. Ja. U. S., 1 volume, $3.00; Shields Irish Baf., 2 volumes, $3.00; Allen's American Biog., 1 volume, $2.50; Wayland Principles and Practices of Baptist, 3 volumes, $1.50; Goodrich's British Eloquence, 1 volume, $7.00. FOR CHIEF OF POLICE

Announcement is made today that J. L. Sandlin is a candidate for Chief of Police of Brownwood, in the April election.

Mr. Sandlin has made his home and headquarters in Brownwood for the past twenty-one years. For a long time he was employed by the Santa Fe and made his headquarters here.

He believes in the honest enforcement of the law, fairly and impartially, by law-abiding officials. Presenting THE WATTS FAMILY

Glowy Watts—This gay chap takes care of lighting all through your house. One of his slogans is "Better Light for Better Sight." The radio is also his particular job. He might be said to be the arch enemy of Darkness and Gloom.

Coolsy Watts—His name tells a part of Coolsy's story. He kicks up the cool breezes with the electric fan and the new Attic Ventilator. He keeps the electric refrigerator cold, protects your food and your health. He operates the room coolers and air conditioners.

Hotsy Watts—Where there is electrical heat, there is Hotsy. She irons, cooks, percolates coffee, bakes waffles, warms your feet with the heating pad and curls your hair. She's a "hot" number when it comes to work, as housewives know.

Tidy Watts—One look at this prim Miss and you just know she does the cleaning of rugs, draperies and furniture with the electric cleaner. She washes clothes, washes dishes and dries them, too. Then she has the constant task of keeping time by the electric clock.

The World's Greatest Servants

HERE is a Family of Servants which has been working quietly in your home for many years. They want you to know them so that their hours of service to you will become more personal.

In more ways than one the Watts Family is the most remarkable in the world. They see and know everything about everybody... yet never breathe a word of their knowledge. They are ready for work at any second of the day or night... yet they charge less the longer they work. They save time... effort... worry... money. They create leisure... comfort... convenience... health... joyous living. They light your home. They cook... wash... iron... sew... heat water... curl hair... refrigerate. They bring amusement, music, news over the radio. They are ever present, constant in their service, yet they work for the lowest wages of any group of servants the world has ever known.

The Watts Family exists solely for your service. They never tire, never talk back, never ask for time off, never keep you waiting. It is our privilege to present them to you so that you may know them and be able to check up on their work in your home. They each have specific things to do as you will observe in the individual introductions herewith.

LIVE-AT-HOME PLAN FOR FARMERS URGED BY EXTENSION CHIEF

Adoption of a "live at home" program on every Texas farm was urged by H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas Extension Service...

"In this immediate period of uncertainty and confusion engendered by the abrupt halting of the agricultural adjustment program...

"Such a program is not only economically sound but it is beyond controversy. Immediate decision on the part of farmers to adopt such a program would represent a definite and a sound step in planning for the new year...

"It has been conservatively estimated that the value of the food supply of the average farm family of five, provided it is well balanced, has a retail value of approximately $500 a year...

"The Extension Service is recommending that each farm family insofar as possible, take out a $500 protection policy by including in their 1936 farm program such features as will make possible the production and storing of an adequate food supply for home use...

"If such a program could be carried out completely by each of the half million farm families it would mean approximately 250,000 acres of garden and truck crops for home use, 250,000 acres in half acre plots of fruit for home use, twenty-five million hens for an adequate supply of eggs and poultry for home use...

"It will be recognized that such a program as outlined is not sufficient within itself. It must be part of a larger program. There must be a cash income, but if other expenditures are eliminated or reduced there is more money for debt paying, education of children, for clothes, for better homes, and more comfort in the homes."

Instructions to county and home demonstration agents throughout the state to take the field and to push vigorously through community groups, both organized and unorganized the 1936 "live at home" program have been issued by the extension director...

MAY

The May Chapter conducting team has been working on their opening and closing ceremonies, green hand initiation ceremonies and parliamentary drill in preparation for the Brownwood district contest to be held in Brownwood Wednesday, January 29...

Since May was winner of the state contest last year none of the members of that team are eligible to enter so all members of this year's team are just green hands at the job, but have a faint hope of winning the district contest and the right to represent the district in the state contest which will be held in Huntsville in August of this year.

The members of the team have bought their uniforms and the officers have finished their pedestals for their stations, which are blue and trimmed in gold.

At the regular chapter meeting last Tuesday night the boys voted to have their annual "Father and Son" banquet on Washington's birthday. The treasurer of the chapter is stationed under the picture of Washington and part of the ceremonies are related to him as a farmer.

SANTA FE EMPLOYEES SIGN AGREEMENT TO DRIVE CARS SAFELY

Employees of the Santa Fe railway are signing pledges to cooperate with the safety campaign for the promotion of safe driving launched last week by the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railway. Employees of every department are being urged by their leaders to sign safe driving pledges and to display on the windshields of their cars stickers announcing that they are pledged to support the campaign.

There are about 225 automobiles owned by Santa Fe employees in Brownwood, and every employee who owns a car is being contacted by M. P. Wegner, local Santa Fe Agent, who is directing the campaign here.

The pledge reads: "I promise, as best I can, to faithfully obey the following injunctions: Make sure no trains are approaching before crossing railroad tracks. Never operate at reckless speed. Drive on right of highway. Stop at all stop signs. Refrain from jumping traffic lights. Make turns from proper lanes. Signal before turning or stopping. Give right of way in doubtful cases. Heed pedestrians' rights. Never pass on curve or top of hill. Slow down at intersections and schools. Keep my vehicle in safe condition. Be courteous and considerate of others."

The windshield sticker, in brilliant blue and red colored inks, reads: "Pledged Safe Driver, 1936, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co. Safe Driving Organization."

Assails Rowdiness at Grid Games

Rowdiness of drunken spectators at football games should not be condoned as a college prank, Dr. William Mather Lewis (above), president of Lafayette College, told the annual meeting of the Sportsmanship Brotherhood in New York. Those responsible for the disorders he called "stepsons of Alma Mater."

QUADRUPLET FAMILY ARRIVES TO ASSIST IN HOUSEHOLD WORK

A new "family" of quadruplets known as the Watts Family is already at work, serving our residential customers in a way that will soon make them even more popular than the Dionne quintuplets, especially with housewives.

The "family" name, Watts, according to Mr. Murphey is derived from the term "watt" which is a unit of measurement of electric energy. The given names of Watts quadruplets are Glow, Hotsy, Coolsy and Tidy.

"It is not quite fair to the Watts Family to refer to them as quadruplets," Mr. Murphey said, "because they are not all of the same age. Glow Watts more than 50 years old, and the members of the "family" are from 15 to 25 years younger than Glow."

An interesting bit of history about each member of the Watts Family is given in a Watts Family Coloring Book which the Texas Power & Light Company is giving free to those who call for them at their offices.

When questioned as to how people could identify the various members of the Watts Family in their homes, Mr. Murphey laid down this simple method:

"Glow Watts does all the lighting, and operates the radio; Hotsy Watts works all cooking and heating appliances; Coolsy Watts takes care of home cooling, refrigeration and air conditioning; and Tidy Watts holds sway over the laundry, the vacuum cleaner, and keeps time by the electric clock."

The Watts Family will give news and information about various types of residential electric service; counsel and suggestions about better ways of using electric energy, in a series of advertisements which will appear from time to time in this newspaper.
