CITIZENS SWARM LEADER OFFICE EAGER TO GIVE ALLRED ENTHUSIASTIC SUPPORT

Voters from every walk of life early sought the Leader office Saturday morning to sign the "pledge of faith and support" for Allred-for-Governor. Elderly folks unable to get to town phoned in and especially requested that their names be added to the long list of names that steadily grew throughout the day.

Men with their wives called with an earnestness that has never before been noted in any campaign since Jim Hogg waged a battle over thirty years ago in behalf of the middle class against special interests.

Time after time elderly men and women referred to the day when they backed James Stephen Hogg for governor and helped to give Texas the "best governor Texas ever had", as they expressed themselves.

Many of those who signed the pledge were personal acquaintances of Allred and a few Montague citizens in former times knew the family in Bowie. Others just as eager to lend their support knew Jimmie Allred only by his excellent record as a district attorney and as an attorney general.

Many of those enthusiastically supporting Allred at this time became supporters after hearing his speech here recently. Others made a decision from reports of friends or relatives down state more intimate with the record being made in Allred's fight for a square deal for the people as an attorney general.

Teachers and members of school boards easily made up their minds when they learned of the fact that Jimmie Allred had collected more money for the public school fund of Texas than all other attorneys general within their lifetime.

During this week signers continue to come to the Leader office to get their names on what they term the "honor roll" of good government. The list will continue to grow throughout the week. All those who care to sign up may come in any time during the next several days, or until July 15th. After that date, the list will be mailed to Jimmie Allred to lend any encouragement needed in the last lap of the campaign. More than a hundred signed up Saturday. Allred supporters want a 1000 names by the 15th.

Reports from over the county would tend to convince most any one that Allred will carry Donley county by a big majority, possibly getting more support than all other similar candidates combined. At least this is the candid opinion of many of those who have been taking a census within recent days.

Reports from over the Panhandle indicate that Allred will carry the Panhandle by a small majority, though it is said he is gaining daily. From down state weeklies a sweeping victory is predicted.

LELIA LAKE HAS MANY VISITORS 4TH CELEBRATION

Candidates Speak And Band Peps Up Crowd Through Day of Celebration

Citizens of Lelia Lake did themselves proud in putting over their picnic Wednesday in celebration of the national Independence Day. The Clarendon band directed by Gus B. Stephenson and his loyal musicians dispensed martial music throughout the day which is said to have been one of the outstanding attractions.

Prof. McNeal, professor of economics of the Amarillo schools, spoke in behalf of the candidacy of James V. Allred. His first talk was made at 11:30. So pleased was his audience that they pressed him for another talk at 2 p. m. that late comers might hear what the main issues were in connection with the gubernatorial campaign.

The speaker gave much of Senator Small's past history officially, backed his statements with

SINGERS HOLD LIVELY SESSION SUN. AFTERNOON

Next Meeting First Sunday In August To Be Held In Lelia Lake

So great was the attendance on the singing convention at the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon, that it was found necessary to place extra chairs in every available space in the auditorium to accommodate the crowd.

Almost every community in the county was represented by song leaders. Others came from a distance including several places in Hall and Gray counties. The attendance was made up of song lovers from several counties besides the large representation from this county.

Due to the large number of communities represented by song leaders, the program committee was unable to find a place for them on the program in order to complete the session during the afternoon.

The ladies quartette from Bray is said to have been the outstanding feature of the convention.

The constitution and by-laws as published in the Donley County Leader last week were adopted by the Donley County Singing Convention at this meeting.

Finding a greater demand for song books than the Convention could supply, the local Church of Christ, Bray, Chamberlain, Goldston communities very graciously lent song books for the occasion. A collection was taken for the purchase of more books to be used by the Convention in the regular monthly meetings.

Lelia Lake was voted the next session which will be held the first Sunday in August. Due to the absence of President Alewine, vice president L. H. Earthman presided at this meeting.

It is said that the attendance and enthusiasm continues to grow with each meeting. Sessions in the past have been held at Chamberlain, Martin, Goldston, Hedley and Midway. A program for the Lelia Lake meeting will appear in the Leader in time for singers to make to make proper arrangements to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Hayter and sons Morris, Billie and Gordon of Long Beach, Cal. arrived Monday for a visit with relatives and friends in and near Clarendon.

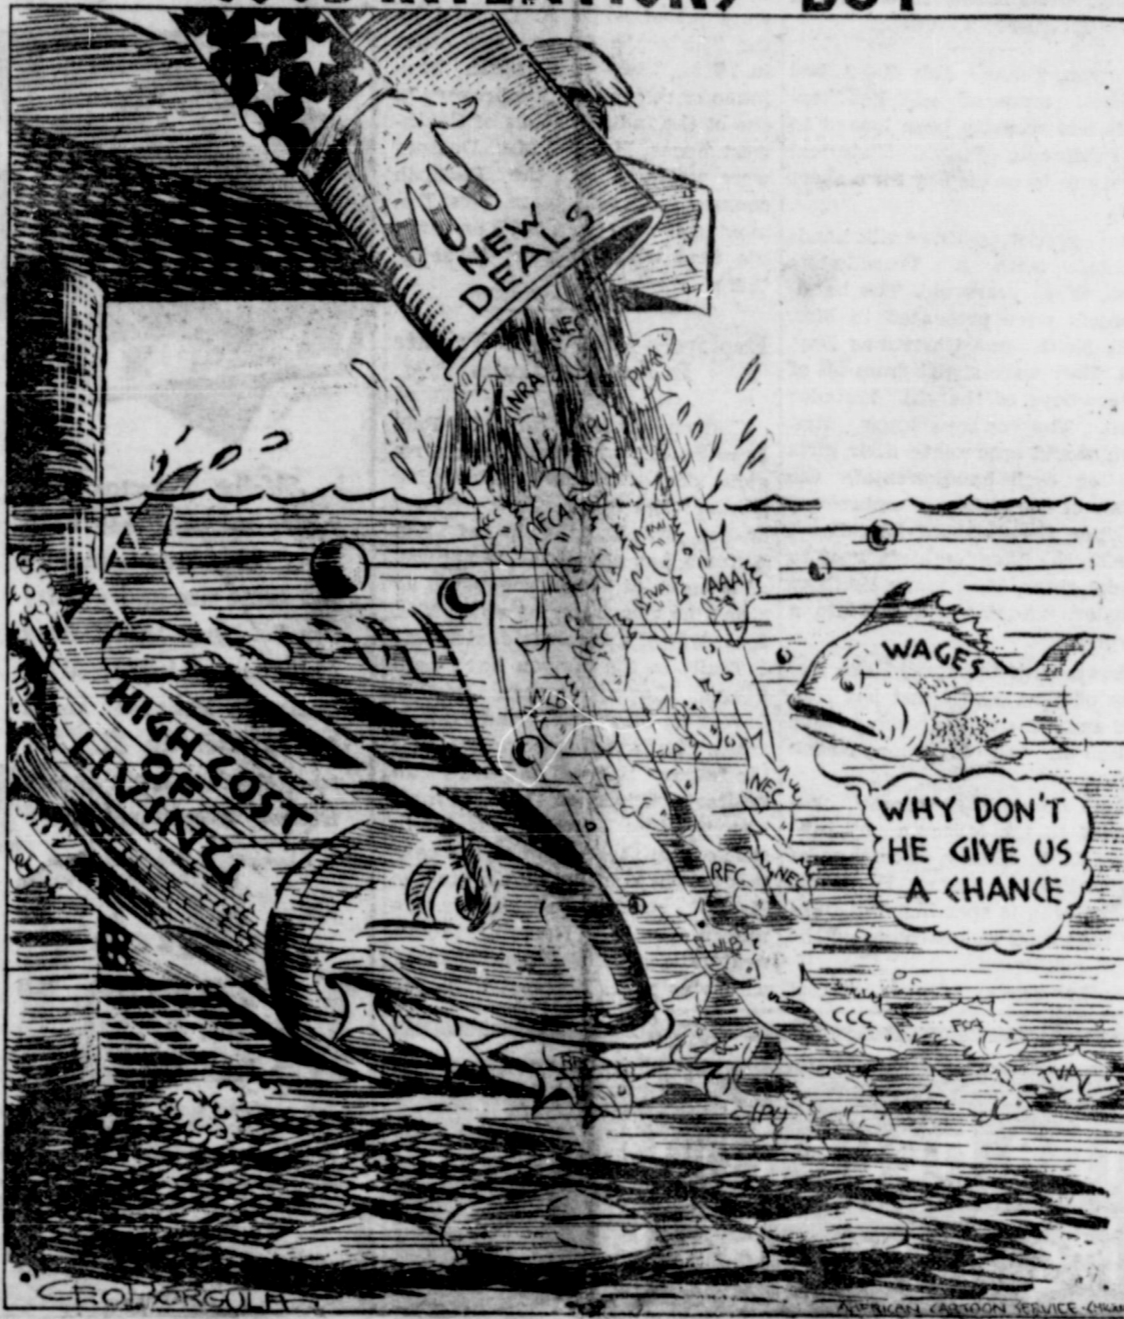

documentary evidence and went over big with his crowd. He offered proof of Small's vote favoring the racing bill which he is now condemning in his talks over the state in an effort to allegedly fool the people.

Ball games, various foot races and other forms of amusement kept the crowd in a good humor. Several heaves and a large quantity of mutton had been barbecued in fine condition to feed the big crowd. The good women saw that there was plenty of extra food and no one went away hungry.

John Howard requests the Leader to thank the Clarendon band for the excellent music furnished them. Also the C. Huffman bakery of Clarendon and the Amarillo bakery for the bread contributed. Coffee houses contributing were Conbalt, Maxwell House of Amarillo both helping out with copious supplies of the beverage that makes an outdoor meal better.

The visitors from over the county, many from outside the county swelled the attendance to a record breaking crowd for 4th of July picnics, it is said, and the visitors in the main were plainly appreciative of the effort put forth by the Lelia Lake citizens to give them entertainment that was both pleasant and profitable. Nothing is said to have come up to mar the pleasure of the big crowd, for which the various committees in charge of the affair wish to express their thanks.

GOOD INTENTIONS - BUT -

Announcement is made that L. E. Thompson will arrive soon to take over the management of the Thompson Brothers hardware interest here, and will have charge of the new store across the street from the postoffice.

Dry Cleaners Install New Cleaning Plant

The firm of Shaver & Whitlock installed a modern tumbler in their cleaning plant the past week. This unit is said to be the latest in the way of a drying machine and will handle thirty pieces of clothing at a time and dry them thoroughly in twenty minutes.

In summing up their equipment, Mr. Whitlock stated that the new unit gave the firm a completely equipped plant of modern machinery since the tumbler was the only thing needed to bring about the ideal of the firm.

Dallas Pastor to Preach At Presbyterian Church

Rev. E. C. Scott of Dallas, assistant Stated Clerk of the Presbyterian churches of the U. S. and nationally known for his active service in his denomination, will be in Clarendon Sunday and will preach at the Presbyterian church at both the Sunday morning and evening services.

ABSENTEE VOTE STARTS JULY 8

First Expense Statements Of All Candidates Must Be Filed Tuesday Night

Absentee voting for the first democratic primary will get under way July 8, County Clerk Bill Word said yesterday. Ballots may be secured at the county clerk's office and they will be cast at the clerk's office.

The period for absentee voting will end July 25 for those voting in person and July 26 for those voting by mail.

First expense statements of all candidates must be filed in the office of the county clerk by Tuesday night. The statements in which are listed all campaign expenses, are required by law. The period for filing the first statement opened Thursday.

Col. T. H. Peebles was the second name signed to the long list of names on the Allred "pledge of faith and support" Saturday.

Smedley Butler Prefers Jail to War

Smedley Butler, retired general of the marines, would go to jail rather than fight on foreign fields again, he said today.

General Butler, addressing a veteran's convention, said patriotism is the will to defend the home.

"The cure for war is conscription of capital and industry as well as men," he said. "If that were done war would not last a week."

The prospects of a European war was under discussion Tuesday at a convention of Veterans Foreign Wars meeting at Nebraska City, Nebraska. Several veterans of the World War spoke along the same lines as did Gen. Butler.

Three Are Ordained Sunday At First Baptist Church

A service of unusual interest was held at The First Baptist church Sunday evening at 8:30. The special attraction was the ordination to the gospel ministry of three of our local young men. They are S. L. Tidwell, Lee Vaughn and Carroll Holtzclaw.

The ordaining council.

J. Perry King—Moderator. Joe Goldston, Clerk. The following deacons and visiting ministers: Rev. B. N. Shepherd, former pastor, Rev. G. A. Oller, W. H. Holtzclaw, O. H. Tidwell, R. A. Hay, O. C. Watson, R. W. Moore, Judge S. W. Lowe, G. G. Kemp and C. W. Taylor.

The candidates were presented to the church by the pastor, J. Perry King.

Rev. B. N. Shepherd preached the ordaining sermon.

The charge was delivered by Judge S. W. Lowe.

The Bible was presented in an unusually forceful manner by O. C. Watson, chairman of the Board of Deacons.

The dedicatory prayer was offered by W. B. Holtzclaw, father of one of the candidates.

The service was completed by the laying on of the hands by the presbytery, and the hand of fellowship by the congregation.

The benediction was given by O. H. Tidwell, father of S. L. Tidwell. Rev. Carroll Holtzclaw will be a Senior in Baylor University next year, while Revs. Tidwell and Vaughn will be students in Wayland College at Plainview.

Visit Palo Duro Park And Museum Sunday

A custom that is soon to be adopted by hundreds of Panhandle folks was a trip Sunday to Palo Duro park and the Museum by Mr. and Mrs. "Cat" Armstrong of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Charley Rains of Hedley.

Cat is loud in his praise of the Museum exhibit and especially the picture painted by our own artist, Harold Bugbee of Clarendon, and whose pictures are nationally known.

He states that a large number were viewing the Park and that the trip is a treat to any one with a wonderful scenic attraction down every foot of the big canyon.

MAYOR MARTIN TURNS ARCHITECT AND CARPENTER

Constructs Exact Replica Of Famous Old Ranch Home of Goodnight

Since no one else appeared who possesses the talent to preserve to memory and posterity the famous old Goodnight ranch headquarters built in Palo Duro canyon in 1876, Mayor John W. Martin has completed the task and took a replica of that building to the Panhandle-Plains Museum Tuesday.

The miniature building constructed of sticks to imitate logs measures 44 inches in length, twelve inches in width and is eight inches high, and has a dirt roof as did the original. The old building faced south, had a small window in each of the three rooms. The logs of each of the end rooms were laid horizontally, and the middle room logs were stood on end. A door was to be found in the front of the building for entrance to each of the rooms. This is brought out in the replica completed by Mr. Martin.

The original building was constructed by Silas Cheek, Lee Dyer and Dave McCarrick while Col. Goodnight was on a trip back to San Louis Valley, Colorado after Mrs. Goodnight, the family belongings and the cattle that were brought back to start the Palo Duro ranch in 1876.

In making the reproduction, Mr. Martin did not depend upon his memory alone. Old time cowpunchers over the Panhandle were consulted. Charley Murphey sat nearby in the Watters & McCrary planing mill while "Uncle Johnny" Martin applied the skill of a master builder of imitations of a crude form of architecture known to all early settlers. Charley was an old-timer himself along about then, and offered valuable suggestions.

Very few men will agree as to the minor details, but all will agree that it gave many a man shelter that was satisfying in winter, and dozens ate beef and beans under its sheltering roof. Old timers as well as the present generation will thank Mr. Martin for his skill, patience and willingness to give to the museum age another reminder of pioneer days in the Panhandle when people lived far enough apart to be friends and neighbors.

Masonic Officers Installed In Hedley Lodge

Public installation of their newly elected officers was held at Hedley Thursday evening, June 28th, at the Methodist Church by Hedley Lodge No. 991 A. F. and A. M. after an elaborate repast served in the church yard by members wives.

Elmer Primer as installing officer assisted by Frank Whitlock as Marshall, both from Clarendon Lodge No. 700, installed the following officers: L. Spaulding, W. M.; Rosco Land, S. W.; W. H. Jones, J. W.; P. C. Johnson, Treas.; C. E. Johnson, Sec.; E. H. Watt, Chaplain; T. W. Bain, S. D.; Leon Reeves, J. D.; B. L. Howard, S. Steward; W. C. Payne, J. Steward; Joe Devine, Tiler.

Clyde Bridges retired as Worshipful Master.

School Board Makes More Teacher Changes

By a recent action of the School Board, R. E. Drennon becomes dean of the Junior College to succeed W. A. Clark Jr. resigned. McHenry Lane has been elected principal of the junior high school to assume the position formerly held by Mr. Drennon.

Frank A. Stocking, connected with the local school as instructor in the higher literary subjects and as coach for a number of years, will continue in the same position the next term.

No instructor has been secured for the commercial department, though a number of desirable applications are on file.

McCRAW REPLIES TO OPPONENT'S FALSE CHARGES

Austin, July 4.—Political tricks degrading to the high office at stake are being used against him by the special interests and their representatives, William McCraw, candidate for attorney general, warned in a Central Texas campaign this week.

In vigorous speeches, McCraw denounced his opponent, Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman, as "the pawn of the big utilities" and declared that, Woodward, "loaded down with political debts and bitter with his hymns of hate, is trying to shift the public's gaze from his own record to false issues."

"I take pride in my constructive program in regard to the permanent school fund, taxation and control of the utilities," McCraw said. "I am gratified that Texas has responded, as I was always confident she would respond, with overwhelming approval."

"This is no time to put the people's interests, which should be more jealously guarded than ever before, in jeopardy by electing attorney general a man who has branded himself as the lawyer-senator of the utilities, a political trader who has been publicly quoted as wanting to be attorney general just so he could be governor."

"Dismay at the handwriting on the wall, in which he reads the story of his defeat, has gripped my senator-opponent from Coleman. He is vainly trying to divert the public from studying his record of utility domination, from the fact that he is the lawyer of the Coleman Gas and Oil Co. whose vice president and general manager is also vice president and director of the Lone Star Gas Co., and who is either vice president or director, or both, of 11 big utilities."

"He tries to fan what he thinks are embers of religious hatred," McCraw warned.

"Now in his last hour he cries 'klan'. No issue is leader in Texas. The people of Texas know that as a public official I knew no master save my own conscience. The senator forgets that I am the only district attorney who ever sent to the penitentiary a cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan."

"He hopes the people will forget that in 1930 he supported a gentleman who had been widely publicized as a member of the Klan. He also hopes that they will forget that in 1932 he supported the same gentleman."

B. H. Tullis, who has been visiting here, is spending the week in Amarillo.

THE OLD HOME FIRES.

There are many men who never realized how good a place a hick town is in which to live until they moved to the city and failed to make a living.

TECHNICALITIES OF OUR LAWS.

The Bar Association of America suggests some changes in our criminal laws to clarify matters. Changes to give the state an even break in cases of prosecution, as we understand it. Should the matter be turned over to a judicial committee we may expect a voluminous report filling at least six washtubs. If this committee clarifies matters as has been attempted on similar occasions, a recommendation about like the following will be the result of two year's labor: "That in Section 17, Subdivision 3-a of Subsection 7-c in the 4th line from the beginning of the paragraph, the word "anti-godlin" should be changed to read "catawaumus."

WHAT OF THE MORROW?

Politics are becoming warm. Sides will be taken and enthusiasm will run rampant. Some things will be said that should have been kept to one's self. Many times we will realize all too well that we should have been listening instead of talking. Arguments and harsh words get us nowhere. Let's try to remember that we will have to live with our neighbors after the election is over. At the same time let's remember that very few candidates really expect us to go to any extremes in their behalf, especially quarreling and fighting. Dogs are friendly under most any kind of circumstances or conditions if given an opportunity. Let's imitate the dogs to that extent for the next few months and be better for it.

OFFENSE AND DEFENSE.

A Florida editor much given to letting nature take its course and living a life that seeks the course of least resistance without a protest against any form of wrong, has at last awakened. He protests because he becomes the apparent victim of a deceptive wrong that may have existed for some time although and evidently unknown to the editor.

He speaks out boldly against deception and depravity in modern church entertainment. Evidently the old boy had been feeding on spring spinach since the incident happened in early May.

Anyhow, the old boy went to a church bazaar and paid 50 cents (think of it) to kiss a pretty girl through a hole in a curtain. Unable to ascertain her identity, he sneaked around behind the curtain and found out that he had kissed a 15-year-old neighbor kid living next door to him, and the very same kid who had been bawled out by the owner for chunking the editor's dog. Now the editor is debating whether to sue some one for defamation of character in making him the joke of the town.

SMALL HELPED THE GAMBLERS.

In a speech at Terrell, Clint C. Small, candidate for governor of Texas, again repeated the following statement:

"The gambling wave that has swept our state is just as bad. The bookmakers that follow in the wake of racing meets in our larger cities are taking money that ought to go for paying house rent and grocery bills. They are hindering our economic recovery and endangering our moral fiber."

The same statement has been mailed out from his Austin headquarters, and is presumed to be true. If this be the opinion of Small now, when did he change his mind about the matter? It is recorded in the state Senate Journal, pages 1,890 to 1,894, a full history of the racing bill known and labeled as H. B. No. 167. The history of the bill and the vote of the senators is recorded. If the Senate Journal is an honest record, Senator Small voted FOR the racing bill. We have no more honorable or authentic record than the State Journal.

If Small has reformed, we are glad to know it. But if he waited for the campaign to start before announcing that fact, we shall be compelled to question his every assertion just as we have since the middle of the campaign two years ago when he was defeated in the first primary.

THE EMPIRE THAT WAS.

Tourists who visit West Texas expecting to see vast cow ranches are astounded to learn that ranches passed out of the picture years ago. Instead of the noble white face there abounds wheat fields. Instead of the "cow man's paradise" we see the "bread basket of America." The old trails have become paved highways. Instead of a calf crop we look to natural gas and crude oil, and a tourist crop for ready money.

Cattle ranchers have been broke for something like twenty years—some longer. The packers got the cattle and the banks and insurance-loan companies got the ranches. The old ranches that were born of the heroism of pioneer men and women are wheat fields with an occasional dude ranch. The numerous saloons have become filling stations.

The curtain is going down on the last act in West Texas. Hills, canyons and broad plains that represent romance and tragedy—tragedy that gave to the world the bravest men and women of all history in combatting savage strength of great odds and winning, is a matter of history.

The Panhandle-Plains Museum at Canyon has become the sacred tomb for keeping sentimental relics of a race that became extinct because of the failure of a system promulgated by their own race and kind. They whipped the savage and tamed a wilderness, but they fell before the onslaught of a financial system whose god is greed.

Panhandle-Plains Museum Acquires Coverlet

Canyon, Texas, July 3.—A bed coverlet, made of silk handkerchiefs has recently been loaned to the Panhandle Plains Historical Society to be on display for a short time.

The coverlet, made of silk handkerchiefs with a brocade-like finish, is 45 years old. The handkerchiefs were presented to Mrs. D. E. Keith on Christmas Day, 1889. They were a gift from all of the cowboys of the old Matador ranch. The cowboys knew Mrs. Keith would appreciate their gifts and on each handkerchief, the initials of the giver are embroidered. Upon the death of Mrs. Keith in 1922, the handkerchiefs went to her daughter, Miss Mary Keith of Matador, who made them into a bedspread.

Shown with the spread are pictures of Mrs. Keith and her husband and some of the cowboys who worked on the Matador Ranch long ago.

This interesting spread was brought to the Museum by Professor L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society, who is spending the summer collecting manuscripts of the Plains country.

Another display of great interest is that of a case of guns which were presented to A. Dumont by the Thirteenth Texas Legislature in 1873. They were given as a token of respect for his bravery in one of the Indian battles of Southwest Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Dumont were residents of the Paducah country for many years. Mrs. Dumont came there in 1877 and was the first white woman to settle there.

Explorers Are Paid Tribute In Naming Trails

Canyon, Texas, July 2.—Palo Duro State Park is no longer a region of unnamed interesting points. The State Park Board, headed by D. E. Colp of San Antonio, has accepted and approved a series of names suggested by a naming committee of which Mrs. J. A. Hill of Canyon is chairman.

Trails in the canyon have been named Kiowa, Quannah Parker, Coronado, McKenzie, and Harrell trails. The first four commemorate the Indians, Spanish and American military periods of the canyon's history. The Harrell trail is to reach from the bottom of the canyon to the rim and finally to the Harrell ranch headquarters. Is named for E. D. Harrell, prominent ranchman of Randall county who was much interested in the establishment of the park. Mr. Harrell died about 18 months ago. Other names officially approved include Goodnight Lookout, Fortress Cliffs, The Capitol, The Cathedral, Devil's Tombstone, and Chief Satanta.

Chief Satanta was an Indian known as the orator of the Plains. He fought the battles of his fellow men in the council and legislative halls of the whites.

Mrs. Bruce McClelland has returned from New York City where she has been visiting a daughter, Mrs. Dodge, for some time.

Frank White Sr. and daughters Misses Dorothy and Majorie left Sunday to visit on the Pacific coast.

Mrs. F. A. White has returned from a visit with relatives at Cross Plains and Rising Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen White of Menard were visitors in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank White Sr. recently.

Except in the larger cities, electric service was rarely satisfactory before long-distance transmission of electric power was perfected.

Small local plants serving single communities generally lack the variety and volume of demand which enables a larger system, serving a wide area, to operate efficiently.

Nor can small, isolated plants meet sudden demands for more power nearly as readily as the larger system.

The transmission line can deliver larger amounts of power at once without the delay of installing additional equipment. Thus it clears the road for industrial growth.

The present-day industrial progress of small communities is based in a large measure on the ample and economical power supply which resulted when the transmission systems replaced small local plants throughout the nation.

With 2,608 miles of transmission lines, the West Texas Utilities stands ready to render satisfactory service to 159 prosperous cities, towns and communities throughout West Texas—"The Land of Opportunity."

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

That slat bonnet bobbed up Friday on the head of a mighty good looking woman. Not only good looking, but one of the best women I have ever known. Last week we were of the opinion that the old-style slat bonnet was out of the running. This week we know that a number of women still are wearing them. We are sending the paper to Mrs. Joe Humphrey Sr. for a year as promised to the first lady to come in wearing a slat bonnet. She rushed in to beat all the others—and did. Thank you Mrs. Humphrey.

Nealey Hudson and Mrs. Hudson were in Saturday. Nealey says it has been so hot out his way that the rabbits have quit running.

They walk and it is no trouble to hit them with a club. In fact he told of one rabbit that turned back on him and sat down in his shadow to get out of the sun. He's putting down rabbits in a churn and covering them with grease like folks do sausage in summer time. If the hot weather continues, Nealey says he will have enough meat stored up for winter to feed all the unemployed in the Nation.

SIDELIGHTS

Politically, Texas is as busy right now as the society editor describing the costume of the bride at a nudist colony wedding.

Not knowing that the scales were out of order, a fat man stepped on and slipped a penny into the slot. The indicator registered 28 pounds. Noticing the figures, a "newsie" looked up the street and yelled: "hey Skinnie, come see the big bozo that's holler inside."

One reason why it's so difficult to secure a conviction in a bootleg case is probably due to each juror waiting for "him who is without 'gin' to cast the first stone."

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

J. Perry King, Pastor

There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

Christ said in his Sermon on the Mount, "Ye are the light of the World, ye are the Salt of the earth." No greater estimate of the value of Christianity and the importance of the church in the world has been given.

The mission of the sun is to quicken natural life. The mission of the church is to quicken spiritual life. Imagine if you can, a world without a sun, then imagine the earth without a church. How great the darkness would be in either case. If you can picture an arch without a keystone, a building of striking proportions without a foundation, the sky without a single star to light it up, a life without hope for the present or the future, you can imagine what the world would be without the church.

Are you for your church or against it? Which way does your example vote? You say you love your church, what does your neighbor think? Worship steadies the storm tossed ship of the soul. Worship in your church next Lord's day. Be a regular attendant at Sunday School and the preaching service. The empty pew speaks against the service. It kills inspiration and smothers hope. It dulls the fine edge of zeal. The empty pew is a weight. The occupied pew is a wing. Help the influence of your church to fly to the ends of the earth by being present at every service.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

South Pole Dogs to Get Select Food

Admiral Byrd's Decision Is Result of Extensive Experimentation.

Admiral Byrd's second South Pole expedition has been under way since October via Panama and Australia. The early part of 1934 will see the Byrd ships, the sailing vessel, "Bear" and the S. S. "Jacob Ruppert," working their way through the ice pack that hems in the Ross Sea. Then they will sail across to the Bay of Whales and establish their base for the thorough exploration of the Antarctic domain.

Most important of all the supplies that have been shipped in the holds of these two vessels are 153 carefully selected dogs, real huskies of the Northland. These dogs represent the one dependable means of transportation after the Byrd expedition has established its base. Upon these dogs will depend in a large measure the range of the expedition's activities.

The task of keeping these dogs in top condition is a major concern. "A well dog is a well-fed dog," so along with the dogs are being transported 100,000 pounds of Dog Chow, a concentrated food for dogs. The selection of this food was not a hit or miss preparation; not on a mission as important as a South Pole trip!

Like the food for the men, the food for the dogs was selected only after being subjected to rigid tests to make sure that it would meet every requirement of the Commander.

Captain Allen Innes Taylor is in charge of the 153 dogs. It was under his direction that a man visited the Purina Mills' demonstration kennels at Gray Summit, Mo., last year.

He carefully went over the records of 850 dogs that have been reared in the experimental kennels to note the development of succeeding generations, as well as the general condition of some of the original animals that have produced as many as seven healthy litters, fed entirely during their lifetime upon Purina Dog Chow.

More than that, he examined the records of the biological laboratories maintained by Purina Mills at St. Louis and checked from a scientific basis each ingredient of this commercial product.

Satisfied that here was the most compact, most nourishing and dependable dog food available, Captain Taylor contracted 60,000 pounds of the regular brand of Purina Dog Chow for his huskies and had 40,000 pounds of the regular brand particularly fortified with fats for the feeding during the colder seasons of the two-year trip. Cold at the South Pole means below 50 degrees F. During the season when the sun does not appear for as much as four months, temperatures of 70 degrees below F. are not uncommon.

The Byrd expedition will really start making exploration trips late in August or early September, 1934, when the sun again appears after its four months' hideout. Airplanes will be used to fly over the South pole and beyond.

The dogs, however, will transport men and supplies to the bases that must be established and make the dashes into the unexplored regions. Upon their health will depend the lives of the men who are working with the most advanced scientific instruments to give to the world new facts and data about the mysteries of Antarctica.

It is only natural that Dog Chow should find favor with the Commissary department, who, on this expedition, must plan to save every pound of excess weight. Dog Chow checkers contain meat of first quality in dehydrated form besides its other ingredients.

The removal of the excess water makes possible absolute safety in transporting the dog ration, as there is no danger from deterioration or spoilage. The weight is reduced by approximately two-thirds over ordinary dog rations that would be needed for so large an expedition of working animals and allows for a tremendous margin of safety in supplies.

Each pound of Dog Chow is the equivalent of three pounds of fresh or canned meat. To equal in food value the 100,000 pounds taken on the expedition, it would be necessary for the explorers to carry 300,000 pounds of meat in the fresh or canned form. Aside from the dead weight that would have been placed upon the expedition's limited carrying capacity, the comparative expenditure in dollars would have been almost prohibitive.

So balanced, so scientifically constructed is the formula for Dog Chow that it will satisfy every need of the animals of the expedition without the addition of any other foods.

The expedition will be able to keep its Dog Chow anywhere. It will not require freezing through the tropics on the way down to retain its goodness. Only the ordinary care given in storing any sort of food stuffs will be required to supply the dogs with healthful, nourishing foods.

Poison, Luxury, Necessity—the Tomato Evolves In Its Century of Edible Existence

Governor Ferguson of Texas, with Tomato Salad

How the tomato has evolved! Not so long ago it was regarded as poison, and, judging by its original name, "love apple", apparently a most insidious one. Then it became a luxury. Now the tomato enters into more dishes served on the American table than does any other fruit or vegetable.

No longer a luxury, it has come by way of being an institution. So much so, indeed, that a national festival is being held this year to honor the tomato, on the one hundredth anniversary of the discovery that tomatoes are good to eat. In Texas, where much of the crop is grown, Governor Miriam Ferguson this month proclaimed a state-wide celebration and made public some of her favorite recipes calling for the use of tomatoes.

A great mineral source, providing phosphorus, calcium and iron, tomatoes are also exceptionally high in vitamin content. They contain vitamins A, B and C, with the last named in abundance.

For children, tomato juice is now recommended at any age over three months, but for adults probably the most familiar way of eating the tomato is in salads, with mayonnaise. If you fancy the tomato, perhaps you would like the special salad dedicated to Governor Ferguson.

Ma Ferguson Salad

6 medium tomatoes, peeled
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons double-whipped mayonnaise
4 tablespoons celery, diced
5 tablespoons cucumber, finely diced
18 canned asparagus tips

Cut off this slice from stem-end of each tomato and remove seeds and part of pulp. Salt inside of tomatoes, invert, and chill 30 minutes. Blend mayonnaise, celery, and cucumber. Pile mixture in tomatoes. Place 3 asparagus tips (chilled and marinated) around each tomato on crisp lettuce. Serve with additional mayonnaise and garnish of green pepper rings.

Doctor Gives Opinion On Present Problems

At the San Antonio meeting of the State Medical Association, Dr. Sam E. Thompson, Pres. of that Association delivered an address upon the subject, "Over Protection by the Federal Government."

"Your Uncle Samuel's 'long suit' today is over protection. In fact he has adopted that as his 'specialty.' He is best governed who is least governed, he evidently considers 'all rot.'"

The Constitution does not mention the Department of Commerce, and yet this department employs more people than George Washington had in his army when he defeated Great Britain.

The Department of Labor has a sub-department for mothers in what we country people used to call "a delicate condition", and for new born babies a la Sheppard-Towner plan.

The government is taking care of sick banks and sick (?) soldiers. It is extending aid to building and loan companies, insurance companies, railroads, schools, farms, homes, counties, municipalities, irrigation projects and water plants. It is building hospitals, practicing medicine, running the farm, feeding the hungry and employing the idle.

Your Uncle Sam has planned out and is putting over "some job." Just what all this will do to the people only time can tell; but it looks like a safe bet that when he starts in to wean these babies, there will be at least six hundred pages of hell."

Mrs. R. W. Fowles of the Chamberlain community was the first lady to phone in to have her name placed on the Allred list Saturday.

A BANK REFLECTS THE LIFE ABOUT IT

Loans and Investments on Which Condition of a Bank Depends Determined by the Kind of Business Surrounding It

POLITICAL and popular misapprehensions toward banking are due to little else than failure to realize that it is what the people themselves do that the condition of banking reflects, and that banking cannot of itself reflect events and conditions other than those that actually originate from surrounding circumstances, Francis H. Sisson, President of the American Bankers Association, says in an article in Forum Magazine.

The character of an institution's notes and investments indicates whether it is in the farm regions, a manufacturing center, a mercantile neighborhood or a great financial district, he says, and furthermore, besides identifying the institution as to its locality, a study of its notes will equally clearly indicate the economic conditions surrounding it.

A Picture of the Farm Districts
"If a farm district bank's note history shows that its loans rise and fall with the normal cycle of production and marketing of the products of the region, it may be taken as an index of economic good health for the locality," he says. "But if, over a period, the loan volume shows a dwindling trend it may mean a region that is losing ground,—becoming exhausted or being robbed of business by another community. Or if a large proportion of the loans are not paid at maturity but are chronically renewed, or if stocks or bonds or real estate have to be taken as additional security, these too have economic significances, reflecting perhaps crop failures, over-production or inefficient, high cost farming methods in a highly competitive national or world market, such as wheat. Inevitably all these facts are reflected in the condition of the local banks.

City Banks, Too
"If the loans of a bank in a manufacturing or merchandising field show a smoothly running coordination with production and distribution they, too, mirror a healthy economic situation. Or there may be here also signs that reflect growing unfavorable conditions, such as excessive loan renewals, over-enthusiasm and therefore over-expansion of credit extended to makers or dealers in particular products, and similar circumstances. Similar conditions apply to banks engaged in financing the securities markets.

"The foregoing is merely suggestive of the infinite aspects of the life outwardly surrounding the banks which form and control their internal conditions. Although these facts seem obvious enough, the discussions and criticisms that have raged about the banks often appear to set them apart as somehow separate from the lives of our people, casting forth a malignant influence upon agriculture, industry and trade from forces generated wholly within themselves.

Fate of Banks and People Intertwoven
"The truth of the matter is that the fate of the banks is inseparably interwoven with the fate of the rest of the people and of the nation. What happened to the country happened to the banks and what happened to the banks is in no way different or detached from what happened to the people. They are all part of the same pattern, of the same continuous stream of events. No one element in that stream of events can be called the cause of depression.

"If the banks caused trouble to some of our people it was because they were irresistibly forced to pass on troubles that came to them from other people. These troubles impaired the values of their securities and customers' notes—and rendered some unable, in turn, to pay back to other customers their deposits that had been properly used to create these loans and investments."

The Bank as a Rebuilder
IN place of a 3 per cent loss on an investment of $40,000, a large New York savings bank is now getting 6 per cent profit on an investment of $80,000, because it had the good business judgment to spend $40,000 in modernizing a group of 40-year-old tenement houses on the lower East Side which it was forced to take over on mortgage foreclosure, says an article in the American Bankers Association Journal. A year or two ago the owner, who had always kept up his mortgage payments, began to neglect the property. It became run down and the tenants began to leave.

The bank remodeled the buildings completely, putting in an oil-burning heating plant, incinerators and other modern changes, with the result the buildings are now entirely rented, and there is $14,000 a year coming in instead of several thousand going out. At that rate the improvements will pay for themselves in three years.

This same bank has done 15 other renovation jobs similar to this, and all have proved profitable. The bank has its own architects and is employing seven painters.

American Legion Proposes Drastic Changes

The Legion stands as advocating compensation solely for war disabilities and deaths, with hospitalization when required. It is proponent for hospitalization in Federal hospitals for disabilities not service-incurred only when it is actually necessary and in cases where the veteran is unable to pay for care privately. This is a privilege granted to all citizens in similar circumstances in private or public hospitals.

The responsibility for the medical care of the civilian group is in the community; the responsibility for the care of the veteran who fought for the whole people is vested in the Federal Government.

The American Legion seeks only to restore to productivity as far as possible maimed and sickened bodies of the 5 per cent of us told off to do the fighting for the rest of us. This principle, with minor variations as to plan and procedure, has been America's policy since 1636. The Legion does not seek to place soldiers in a more elevated station than the honorable one they occupy in the hearts of the American people. It merely bends its efforts to restore levels disturbed by war and its collateral. It advocates adequate protection for widows and orphans of deceased veterans only when these dependents are in need of such protection.

Duncans Return From Trip Over Nine States

Both glad to get back to what they say is the best looking country since leaving here, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Duncan ended their vacation trip the last of the week.

They visited Los Angeles and took the glass bottom boat trip to Catalina Island and later the renowned battleship port of San Pedro. A journey was made up through central California over Lincoln highway to Salt Lake where some time was spent in viewing the wonders of a city in the desert.

Yellowstone had many attractions for them with its hot springs and geysers. The 'Dragon's Mouth' being the most interesting. Denver claimed a part of the time and the return was made over the highway through Colorado Springs to Amarillo.

Mr. Duncan states that he saw no good crops except those irrigated, the northwest being in the throes of a drought. He saw the best irrigated crops around Ft. Collins and old Donley looked like an oasis in a desert when they reached home.

His most interesting experience was driving his car under San Francisco bay through a tube large enough for a double car track, cars passing in the tube tunnel that was lighted. This tube is thirty feet below the bay level.

Amarillo Attorney Protests Senator Small's Tactics

In comment upon the address of Senator Clint C. Small, candidate for governor, at Amarillo on Monday night, June 25, L. M. Fischer, Panhandle Manager for James V. Allred, had the following to say:

"It is disappointing to the people of the Panhandle that they should be called upon to support for the high office of governor a man who apparently is largely running for the office on what he says is the shortcomings of the other candidates.

"A large portion of the Senator's time Monday night was devoted to a criticism of the administration of Attorney General Allred in that the Attorney General has failed to close up certain alleged 'lawless places' enumerated by the Senator, in various portions of the State.

"The Senator knows that under our structure of government the enforcement of the law in this prospect is made the duty of the local elective officers and that the Attorney General of Texas has no right to interfere in the enforcement of the law in local communities, save and except where the local officers have failed to enforce the law and such violation and the refusal of the local officers to meet with the situation has been called to the Attorney General's attention. He failed to tell his hearers of a single such case.

"I do not believe that the good people of the Panhandle of Texas will appreciate such criticism of a public servant who has so honestly and faithfully served the people of Texas, and whose record bespeaks the fact that he has made Texas the greatest attorney general since the days of James Stephen Hogg."

Allred Wins Another Land Suit For Schools

Judgment awarding the permanent school fund title to 806 acres in Montgomery County, a portion of which is in the proven area of the Conroe oil field, was entered by District Judge J. D. Moore Tuesday.

This is the case referred to in the Leader last week in which suit was brought for a total of 1,137 acres of land patented to a railroad company in 1867. The suit was based on the alleged failure of the railroad company to comply with the state land laws.

The acreage regained to the state school fund is located in a proven oil field and has an estimated value of about $800,000.00.

Mrs. Wesley Knorpp and children of Long Beach, Calif. joined Mr. Knorpp here for a summer visit.

Oliver Scott and mother, Mrs. Springs, of Riverside, Calif. are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charley Johnson on the J A ranch.

DODGE GOES FAR AND HIGH

"Down here, Dodge automobiles are the gold-diggers choice." This information comes from an authoritative source from Arthur S. Ives, foreman of motor transport of Bulolo Gold Dredging, Ltd., of Bulolo, New Guinea, who recently brought in their eighth Dodge automobile, the one shown in the picture above.

The car was purchased in Sydney, Australia, and shipped to Lae, New Guinea by steamer. From Lae, the Dodge was transported, in one of the gold dredging company's large Junker planes, to Bulolo.

"The automobile came out of the plane practically ready to be driven away," writes Mr. Ives; "the only parts that had to be taken off to allow it to go into the plane were the windshield and the top."

EXCLUSIVE TOWN

Tanger, Va., is about the oddest town in the country, and is located on a small island of the same name in the Chesapeake bay. It was discovered, named and bought from the Indians in 1608 by Capt. John Smith. It has a narrow dirt road for its one street. Inhabitants are not worried about gasoline taxes because automobiles are prohibited by ordinance and furthermore there are no horses and wagons. One cow leads a lonely life and there are few chickens and other fowl. About one third of its

"Playing the Fool."
"Behold I have played the fool, and have erred exceedingly." I. Sam. 26:21.

There are a great many fools mentioned in the Bible. We cannot mention all of them at this time, but the ones which we desire to discuss have special prominence in the eyes of God.

I. THE ATHEISTIC FOOL.
"The fool hath said in his heart there is no God." A fool is one who speaks and acts contrary to reason. The man who declares that there is no God is such a man. One might as well declare that there is no air. One does not debate the presence of air, he merely uses it. The Bible does not try to prove the presence of God. It uses it.

The best science can do is to lead men back to protoplasm and then say "Evolution." But what is back of protoplasm? The Bible gives the answer: "In the beginning, God."

II. THE CONCEITED FOOL.
This is the man who believes in

God and yet thinks that he can make a success without Him. He substitutes self for God. This was the sin of which Saul was guilty. His head had been turned by victory. He took full credit for everything himself. The disastrous end came. He had played the fool. A man without God is dead in sin and trespasses. He cannot perform his mission in life without the power of God animating him, controlling him and making him equal to the task he has to do. Turn on the electricity and the car moves along the track, to perform its mission. Unite your soul with Christ and His spirit will come into your life and give you pardon.

III. THE SELFISH FOOL.
Jesus describes this fool in the twelfth chapter of Luke. He was a man who was successful. He was going to tear down his barns to build greater. He was going to take his ease—eat, drink and be merry. But God said unto him: "This night thy soul will be required of thee. Then whose will these things be." He was selfish and left God and man out of his program.

IV. THE CARELESS FOOL.
The twenty-fifth chapter of Matthew tell the story of the wise and foolish virgins. The foolish failed to prepare for the future. The world is full of this type of fools. They do not prepare for life here and hereafter. They spend their time "fooling around." Don't play the part of a fool.

"Nerves" NERVINE
Dr. Miles NERVINE
"Did the work" says Miss Glivar
WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

After more than three months of suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles Nerveine which gave her such splendid results that she wrote us an enthusiastic letter.
If you suffer from "Nerves," if you lie awake nights, start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and fidgety, your nerves are probably out of order.
Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that "did the work" for this Colorado girl.
Whether your "Nerves" have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective.

GOLDSTON

Sorry to note Mr. Morgan is no better at this time. He has been very sick for five weeks, a goodly number of his neighbors and friends drove to his home last Thursday and with teams and hoes worked out his crop.

The teacherage is getting itself treated to some improvements. Amos Yates of Clarendon is clucking one room that was unplastered and Jimmie Millsap canvassed and papered two rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudgins of Amarillo were week end guests in the home of their daughter Mrs. L. J. Gokston.

Mr. Bill Broune and lady of Amarillo were visiting Monday in the M. W. Hatley home.

Quite a few from this community enjoyed the singing at Clarendon Sunday evening.

Well the first primary is drawing near and it will bring many things to be thankful for, one of which is we will not have to read about that camouflage stuff telling us in the Amarillo News of how Clint Small is running down state. After Allred is elected governor old Tack and Wilbur Hawk will likely get some consolation by referring to little Clint as an also ran.

Jim Hill and family of Silverton were week end guests in the home of his father Sam Hill.

First of this week brought us a brand new mail carrier. He is a Mr. Carpenter of Jones county. Here's hoping he is as good a one as the one we are losing. Major Hudson has been on this route five years, yet it does not seem to have been that long, for old father time makes haste when our surroundings are pleasant. Mr. Hudson was not only accommodating and efficient, but his promptness was such that his patrons could set their clocks by the time of his arrival. Here's wishing him success in his new line of work.

Miss Mattie Rhodes visited home folks over the week end.

One inch of rain fell at Goldston Sunday evening extending south of the river but very little west, north or east.

New World's Fair at Night

New lighting marvels are one of the most impressive features to great crowds at the new World's Fair in Chicago. This view was taken from the 200-foot level of the Sky Ride, looking south.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Boyter and children of Olton spent week end with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hill. The ladies are sisters.
Mrs. Sarajo Tunnell of Sunnyview spent week end in the Tidrow home.
Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Morgan and son Merle of Whittier, Cal. are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Pickering and family. They are enroute to Chicago.
Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Tidrow entertained Sunday at dinner. Miss Helen Marie Northcutt of Wichita Falls, Miss Sarajo Tunnell of Sunnyview, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Tidrow, Mr. and Mrs. Printice Hurst, Mr. Herman Givins of Amarillo and Winfield Mosley; and Sunday nite Winfield was host to the crowd and all enjoyed a chicken roast at his home.
Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Bowlin enjoyed as dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bain and son Kenneth and Rev. Lackey.
Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Naylor and sons spent week end with Mrs. Naylor's brother Garl Bain and Mrs. Bain at Borger. Little Lewis Bain came home with them and will spend some time with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bain.
Mrs. Bill Hill spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. R. Bowlin.
Bro. Lackey filled his appointment Sunday giving us two splendid sermons.
Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Downing and family spent last week with friends at Borger.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clifford and son also Bill Ray all of Clarendon visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Rich Bowlin.
Mr. A. O. Hefner, his daughter and son spent Sunday with relatives at Pampa. They were joined at Clarendon by Mr. and Mrs. Verna Lusk.

George Chamberlain has returned from a vacation trip to southwestern New Mexico.

Mrs. Douglas Wadsworth and children are visiting relatives in Dalhart.

The many friends of Grandma Haile will regret to learn of her serious illness. She resides with the family of her son, W. B. Haile.

THE MILLING SANATORIUM
MINERAL WELLS, TEXAS

HAD GALL STONE TROUBLE
Jermyn, Texas.
Five years ago I took treatment from H. H. Milling for gall stone. He entirely cured me and I have not been bothered since. I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Milling and his Sanatorium to any who are sick. I know that he effects cures of all kinds where all others fail. The fact that I have had no further trouble convinces me that his cures are permanent. Any inquiries addressed to me will be answered promptly.

Victor Smith Returns Home Sunday Morning

Victor, aged 8, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Smith and who was painfully if not seriously injured in a fall some months ago which affected the nerves of his arm, came up from Ft. Worth Sunday. He has been a patient of a specialist there who placed the arm in a plaster cast.

Even though handicapped by a plaster cast, the little man is jubilant over his prospects for an early recovery when he can play like other boys of his age again.

Mrs. J. L. McMurtry had for house guests the past week, her sister, Mrs. Frankie Moore and children Patty Jean and Wayne and brother, Houston Dodson of Cordell, Okla.

Former College President Visits Clarendon

Rev. G. S. Hardy, president of old Clarendon College many years ago, was a visitor here over the week visiting friends.

He made a very interesting talk to the Lions club at their Tuesday luncheon hour in which he mentioned several interesting features in connection with his official experience while here as head of the old college. His address included schools in general of the present day.

J. S. Solomon, father of the girl for whose murder Houston Upton was tried here in 1922, is seriously ill at his home in Floydada. He is a brother-in-law of R. L. Bain who with his wife visited there recently.

JAMES V. ALLED

Allred Continues on His East Texas Campaign

Mont Calm, Tex., July 4.—Public opinion is fast crystallizing in favor of James V. Alled's candidacy as the campaign for governor comes down the home stretch, supporters claimed after the Attorney General's speech here Wednesday night.

Allred attended an Independence Day celebration and had made an address earlier today at West.

Although political observers have made confident predictions that Allred is certain of a place in the run-off, the Attorney General has not chosen the easy way of campaigning. Instead, he has waged the most intensive, statewide canvass ever undertaken by a candidate for office in Texas.

The first plank in Allred's platform for governor is: "I shall talk frankly with the people and make no promises impossible of performance."

Already he is fulfilling that pledge, traveling nearly 4,000 miles since the first of June. His address here was the 11th since he announced for governor.

"It is becoming so increasingly apparent that the people of Texas are taking an intense interest in the Governor's race that I feel I should do all in my power to appear before as many citizens as I can," the Attorney General said here. "No one will be able to say I shirked my duty in going to the voters and telling them about the real problems of government."

Allred enters the final campaign drive determined to speak to the people of Texas as often as possible. He has often "stepped up" his daily program by speaking four or five times, although he originally was scheduled to speak only two or three.

An outstanding development in Allred's campaign was the hearty reception and apparent endorsement by voters in Port Arthur and Beaumont where he spoke recently.

Commentators in Jefferson Co. forecast probable victory for the Attorney General there because of the "breakdown of the political machine". Jefferson County was one of the few that did not give Allred a majority two years ago when he polled 600,768 votes, a Texas record for a candidate with opposition. His overwhelming victory was scored at a time when the Attorney General was prosecuting large corporations for asserting violations of the anti-trust laws.

Since then Allred has put more than two million dollars in the state treasury.

Blind Piano Tuner Again Visits Clarendon

Mr. and Mrs. C. Daughtry of Ft. Worth are here for a visit with relatives, coming up this week. They are visiting in the Allen Bryan home, the two ladies being sisters.

Mr. Daughtry, the well known piano tuner, has been practicing his profession over a long number of years, and has visited here on numerous occasions. His former patrons are his most ardent advocates of his high skill.

Miss Carrie Davis spent the 4th visiting relatives at Quitaque.

Eugene Ladd of Mosquero, New Mexico is visiting his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Norwood.

C. W. Hotchkiss, Clarendon's first jeweler, and who left here 38 years ago, was in town over the week end. He lives at San Antonio.

More Than 10,000 People Visit Park Opening

Crowds variously estimated at ten thousand thronged the famous 15,000 acre Palo Duro Park opening day Wednesday.

State park officials were present at the opening hour of 6 a. m. and by 9 several hundred autos had arrived. The rodeo and other features attracted many on the top rim of the canyon. Picnic groups almost filled all convenient space in the bed of the canyon proper.

The celebration will continue to the 9th during which time over a hundred thousand from the Panhandle and other states are expected to view the new park.

Miss Christine Shackelford of Canyon is paying her sister, Mrs. Homer Bones, an extended visit that is especially pleasant for both including Mr. Bones.
