THE PATHS OF GLORY.

Some two centuries ago Thomas Gray, in his immortal poem, "Elegy in a Country Churchyard," wrote: "The paths of glory lead but to the grave." Sometimes the paths of glory lead to welcome obscurity even before the grave claims those who are glorified by praise as a genius when it is too late. This is the thought that came to the mind of the writer while viewing the lowly home of Sidney Porter (O. Henry) still standing in Austin. Porter was both persecuted and persecuted while and after holding an official position at Austin. Years later his writings are much sought after. Praise is heaped upon the man who painted beautiful pictures with words in story when the words are but directed to the memory of a man who was great—one of America's most famous fiction writers. After his passing, some of his unsold manuscripts were published and his widow was enabled to subsist upon the income of the royalty.

HELP FROM THE ENEMY.

It has been said that a certain amount of opposition is a great help to a man. Kites rise against and not with the wind. Even a head wind is better than none. No navigator ever worked his passage anywhere in a dead calm. So it is with the candidacy of Jimmie Allred. His every opponent, about a half dozen, are constantly lambasting him because they see in him a leading foe to their aspirations. There is no question in the minds of political leaders but what the majority of Texas voters will favor Allred in the first primary.

As to who his running mate will be, it all depends on "Farmer Jim" and no one else. If he can stage a come-back in behalf of McDonald, Hunter will take third place. If Ferguson fails to rally his old crowd, Hunter is sure to be in the run-off with Allred.

At any rate, the constant lambast of the whole crew has helped Allred. No man can be condemned everlastingly by his opponents without getting some sympathy. At the same time, the malefactions heaped upon his head are largely false. Voters of today do not believe everything they hear. They demand proof of broad assertions. Allred has never been accused of being crooked.

THE LEGION OF DECENCY.

Some few months ago when leading Catholics began a drive to exclude lewd pictures from the picture show market, few believed it little more than a one man idea. Organizing a "Legion of Decency", the Catholics were supported by church leaders of every denomination. That is surprise number one.

One would hardly believe that the effete east would harken to the call to protest by boycotting the picture shows until more decent pictures are shown. But they did and more than half of the picture shows in Philadelphia have closed for want of patronage. That is surprise number two.

While the public demanded the pictures of questionable character, the local theater owner had little to say how they should be supplied since he was compelled to purchase a series of pictures by a system known as "block booking." This is all likely to be changed soon since the crusaders have struck at the most critical and effective point for quick results—the box office. Both Protestant and Catholic leaders advise members to absent themselves from picture shows until a change is made in the character of pictures being shown. The members are obeying that request more and more every day, but it started in the east.

LIFE'S COMPENSATIONS.

There are sweet compensations in life, the many interesting experiences we all seem destined to pass through. One of these is that we are able, if we will, to view the prospect at once with the eyes of experience born of comparisons. This is possible if we refuse to permit our vision to be dimmed by vain regrets for mistakes carelessly made or opportunities as carelessly neglected. Life apparently always leads us to view a new horizon, rich in promise, if it is not marred by our own selfish thinking.

"The world that we live in is only a reflection of the world that is in us," is spoken by a great teacher, Dr. Bruce Brown. Whether we see beauty or bitterness depends on the state of mind. The world of the mole is very different to that of the skylark. Whether we see mud and bugs or rainbows and birds depends on what we are looking for. When there is good within us there is good without. To the pure all things are pure and coming down through the ages is the ever evident truth of 'As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.' A friendly mind attracts friendship. Misery is always the portion of the miser. Life, like seed, moulds when it is kept and multiplies when it is scattered abroad. He who expects joy must share it with the less fortunate because the divine law of nature naturally and wisely created happiness as a twin.

THE EDITOR'S SONG

How dear to our heart is the steady subscriber,
 Who pays in advance on the birth of each year;
 Who lays down the money and does it quite gladly,
 And casts 'round the office a halo of cheer!

He never says "Stop it! I cannot afford it,
 'I'm getting more magazines now than I read;"
 But always says, "Send it; our people like it—
 'In fact, we all think it a help and a need."

How welcome his check when it reaches our sanctum
 How it makes our pulse throb; how it makes our heart dance;
 We outwardly thank him, we inwardly bless him—
 The steady subscriber who pays in advance!

—Ave Maria.

CRITICISM

He who fears criticism is hopeless. Only those who do things are criticised. The idler is lost sight of in the march of events, but the doer is watched and criticised. To hesitate for fear of criticism loses the battle while the doers march on to victory. To hesitate for fear of criticism is cowardly. If your cause is right, be not afraid of criticism; advocate it, expound it, and if need be, fight for it. Critics always have been and always will be, but to the strong-minded they are a help rather than a hindrance. As the horse spurts forward when prodded with the spur, so does the doer forge ahead under the lash of criticism. Take your part on life's stage and play your part to the end; stand for that which is good; be a doer, not a drone; look the world in the face and let the critics criticise.

NEW SWINDLERS

Reports are coming in to the effect that a flood of swindlers and bunco artists has invaded western states since the government started in to distribute crop-reduction payments to farmers. Among the newest schemes and one everybody around Moundridge should be on guard against is the piece goods and tailoring "racket." In this, an agent calls on the farmer, and sells his prospect suiting and dress goods, always at an unheard of price. He leaves a bolt of goods to be held until the "tailor arrives. Next day a machine drives up, the "tailor" alights, takes measurements and then, after collecting a down payment, sets a date for delivery. He drives away with the down payment—and the bolt of goods, too, since he is of course expected to use it in making the suit. Nothing more is ever heard of him. Be on the lookout for this new "racket" and don't permit yourself to be swindled.—Moundridge (Kan.) Journal.

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

J. Perry King, Pastor

There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

How often do you go to church? Many take a bath every day, others at least once a week. We do so for the good of our bodies and the pleasure and rest it gives us. A bath is a good thing, but it cannot reach the heart. We should not think more of our bodies than we do of our souls. Get out of the daily grind. Go to church on Sunday. The smallest good deed is better than the grandest good intention. The German proverb, "If I rest I rust," applies to more things besides the key. If water rests, it stagnates. If the eye rests, it grows dim and blind. If the lungs rest we cease to breathe. If the heart rests, we die. If the christian rests, we backslide. Good habits are the souls muscles, the more we use them the stronger we grow. Going to church is a good habit. Start next Sunday.

The doors of the Baptist church are wide open to whosoever desires a church home or a place to worship regardless of who you are what you do, or where you live. It is our Father's house. It was erected to God, dedicated for the good of humanity, and set aside as a place of worship, fellowship and service. Feel free, add at home, and happy when you come. If not when you come you will when you go away.

We wish to extend our thanks to the many friends that so willingly assisted us in our recent bereavement and to thank them for the beautiful floral offerings that were such a grand expression of their sympathy. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hermesmeier and Relatives.

C. E. Turner and Sisters To See Church Dedicated To Parents

Remembering the useful lives of two Christian families, his grandparents and parents, C. E. Turner of Mineral Wells has been the greatest contributor of materials for the construction of a Methodist Church at Smithfield, Texas, to be dedicated to these two outstanding pioneer families of Texas at services at the new church at 11 a. m. today.

Mr. and Mrs. William Turner, his grand-parents and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Turner, his parents, reared and educated their children in pioneer homes and attended church services at Smithfield, 12 miles Northeast of Fort Worth.

C. E. Turner, prominent business man of this city, was reared at Smithfield and then came to Mineral Wells, January 1, 1886 to seek employment and to make his home. He went into business for himself and as the city of Mineral Wells progressed, Mr. Turner's business interests expanded.

Construction of the church began some three months ago and has been completed, giving Smithfield a modern church and a building that will be a monument to the memory of its pioneer citizens. Mr. Turner contributed most of the brick and tile for the structure.

Dedication services will be conducted at 11 a. m. today by Bishop Hiram Boaz.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner will drive to Smithfield for the services Sunday morning and will be accompanied by Mr. Turner's three sisters, Mrs. Sallie French, Republic, Mo., Mrs. J. H. Clark of Clarendon, and Mrs. Walter Crane of Amarillo, all of who were guests in the Turner home here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Lovell returned their grandsons to their home at Lubbock the last of the week and visited relatives and friends a few days.

Alfred Wins in Home Town Poll Check-Ups

Amarillo, Texas, July 12.—Reports from impartial observers all over Texas show that James V. Alfred, the energetic Attorney General, continues to gain support in his present campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Political writers and state leaders freely predict that Alfred will lead in the first primary.

The Attorney General has led in every straw vote so far conducted, with one exception. Senator Small of Amarillo had a one-vote plurality over Alfred in Boston, Bowie County, Texas. At Temple, out of over 1900 votes, Alfred lacked only 30 getting a clear majority. At Breckenridge, a single additional vote would have given Alfred a majority.

In a straw vote taken at Lufkin, the home of the president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, out of 314 votes the Attorney General received 168. The straw vote of Center, in East Texas, gave Alfred 93 to 24 votes for all of his opponents together, while San Angelo in West Texas gave the Attorney General 98 votes to 79 votes for his opponents, a clear majority. At Kilgore in the East Texas oil field, Mr. Alfred had a majority of three over the entire field of eight candidates.

Monday, Alfred began this week's vote-getting itinerary of his whirlwind campaign with an afternoon speech in Vernon and a night speech in Wichita Falls, where he was accorded one of the greatest receptions ever known to that city, speaking to thousands of his home folk.

Tuesday afternoon, he spoke to a crowd of home folks at Nocona in his native county, Montague. Later, he spoke to an enthusiastic gathering in Gainesville. He also made short talks at smaller cities on the trek. It is not unusual for the Attorney General to make five speeches daily.

Citizens of Denton and McKinney heard the Attorney General Wednesday. Farmersville and Greenville heard Alfred Thursday in his North Texas campaign.

The Attorney General is scheduled for a speech in Commerce Friday morning, July 13. In the afternoon and night he plans to speak at Cooper and Paris. Saturday will find the General at Honey Grove. In the morning, Bonham in the afternoon and Sherman at night, according to word received here from R. G. Waters, Alfred campaign manager at Austin. L. M. Fischer, Amarillo attorney, is in charge of Alfred's Panhandle campaign.

"Farmer Jim" Takes Crack At Jimmie Alfred

That there is no more astute politician in the present gubernatorial scramble than Jim Ferguson is taken for granted by both friend and foe. Taking the field for McDonald, Ferguson enters heavily into the affray with his weekly Forum the past week.

Hundreds of thousands of Forums were mailed out singly to voters over the state, most of them arriving at Clarendon Monday.

"Farmer Jim" as he is pleased to call himself, accuses Jimmie Alfred in this widely spread issue of the Forum, of being a lot of the booze joints, hot oil thieves of East Texas, and as being backed by the big oil companies. Ferguson also accuses Jimmie Alfred of doing more lobbying than any one else during the legislature sessions.

A further statement of "Farmer Jim" is to the effect that "we have got to beat Alfred." This is taken to mean that Ferguson fully recognizes the fact that Alfred is second man up in the race if not first.

In a Ferguson political survey printed in the Forum, the rating of the various gubernatorial candidates are given as follows: McDonald, Alfred, Hunter, Small, Witt, Hughes, Russell, named in order of their strength over the state based on a poll taken by Senator Roy Sanderford, campaign manager for McDonald.

Mrs. Moore and daughter, Bobbie Jean, Bernice King and Dorris Mace returned to their homes in Amarillo Wednesday after a visit in the J. A. Warren home here. Weldon Warren accompanied them for a short visit.

Dean W. A. Clark, Odos Caraway and Robt. McKee returned the first of the week from a rambling trip in the mountains west of Roswell merely sightseeing while the Dean looked after his mining interests.

Practically 2500 head of cattle have been sold to the government by the farmers of Randall county and 2,000 more are ready for inspection as soon as the veterinarian can get to the job. BOY HAD INFANTILE PARALYSIS

This is to certify that I took my little boy to Dr. H. H. Milling for infantile paralysis. The child was so limber that he could not hold his head up and his eyes crossed. It did not take Dr. Milling long before he had him walking and he also straightened his eyes.

Dr. Milling cured my boy sound and well. At present it is impossible to tell there was ever anything wrong with the child. Would advise every one to go to Dr. Milling and be cured.

IN MEMORY OF FANNIE

Our daughter Fannie has passed away in Oklahoma State. And why she was not in Texas to you now I will relate. She went to Enid Hospital to pursue her chosen work; She was certain of her calling And her duty did not shirk.

She spent three years in training to make the preparation. And after much hard study she reached her graduation. With honors she received her long sought diploma. We know she deserved it—there in Enid, Oklahoma.

She nursed the sick and suffering; the work appealed to her. To step right in her line of duty, of that she had no fear. She nursed the aged and she nursed the infant too, And the love of her profession with her grew and grew.

She loved the Superintendent, the Head Nurse and every one. And she said when not on duty she had just lots of fun. The Doctors were so considerate—they taught her what to do. No wonder that she loved them more as she older grew.

In Nineteen Hundred Thirty Four, in the last of May, She was taken ill so suddenly, although some miles away. A friend was called, and to Enid he did race Where she could be helped by Doctors whom she trusted with good grace.

Several days she suffered—oh, so much she bore. But at last the summons came, and she suffers now no more. It was her desire when living, if in reach she died That she could have her Doctors and sister nurses at her side.

Some of her friends also whom she loved and knew Were right there beside her as the Valley she passed through. God called her early in life and at eight o'clock that day The angels came and bore her weary soul away.

Now she is in heaven -- waiting, watching too; Watching sister nurses - - watching now for you. May God help us all to be ready when the call to us does come To meet our dear Fanny in her happy home Where there is no more sickness nor pain of any kind; Where all our earthly troubles are left far behind.
 —Written by her Mother, Mrs. W. T. Lowe.

"Giving Christ a Square Deal." "The Jews took up stones again to stone Him. Jesus answered them, "Many good works have I showed you from my Father: for which of these works do ye stone me?" John 10:31, 32.

The deed seems but to emphasize the vicious enmity of those who were acting in a cold-blooded, premeditated manner. They knew what they were doing. This was a repeated offense.

I. Jesus Demands a Square Deal It is an easy matter to point a finger of scorn at the Jews and taunt them. But which of us are guiltless today? They lived in the time, to be sure, but their evidence was not the seasoned evidence of the centuries, which we today have. It is difficult for us to turn any way without seeing the good works of the Father. If we turn against Him, our sin is much greater than the men who stoned Him in His lifetime.

If they by their unfair attitude helped Him on His way to the cross of Calvary, do we not by being unfair to Him, dishonors in dealing with Him, virtually cry aloud, "Crucify Him?"

II. We Are Debtors to God. We enjoy the gifts which God has bestowed upon us. But we forget the giver. We forget the Father's will which is back of the grain, the will and the sunshine. In the days of prosperity men are tempted to forget God. If you are a follower of Christ and your friends do not suspect it, if the world in which you live does not know it, are you not unfair to Him?

III. Business Demands no Excuse for Neglecting Jesus.

There are many people who expect to do a great deal for Jesus when certain pressing (?) demands of their time are removed. God did not wait for pressing demands to be removed before He came to help you. The idea of some people that God should get the life after it has been drained by other causes is hardly a courteous or sportsmanlike one. The dumb brute will lick the hand of the man who feeds him. Can a man act with less fairness toward God who has given him so many things.

You are the judge and jury. The testimony is before you summed up in these words: "Many good works have I showed you from my Father." From your decision there is no appeal. The verdict is in your hands. You can send him away again to be tantalized if you wish. You can become more than an innocent bystander, for you will be giving encouragement to those who lift him up and crucify him. Won't you be honest and faith and just with Jesus. Won't you give Him a square deal and serve Him faithfully.

The younger people enjoyed a party Saturday night in the McNary home.

Clint Small is having a hard time trying to land on the popular side of all questions. With gambling on race horses becoming a stinch in the nostrils of a large majority of our citizenship we are not surprised at Clint rearing up on his hind feet and vehemently declaring that he voted against race horse gambling bill, but it's alleged that the record shows that he voted for the bill. In this political struggle Small remindr us of the wounded soldier thrown in a general hospital during the civil war where the wounded from both sides were being treated. Among the visitors to this institution was a lady with a stack of pies. The wounded soldier said please bring me one of those pies and she promptly asked which side do you fight on. He replied I am a rebel. Then she said these are yankey pies. Shortly another angel of mercy came in with a fine stack of pies. The hungry soldier said, lady please bring me a pie, and the same query was hurled at him which side are you on. He quickly decided to make a hit and said I am a yankey and she said nothing doing these are rebel pies. Then a third lady approached with a plate of pies that he liked best of all, and the poor fellow said wont you please bring me one of those pies, and her answer was it depends upon which side you are on. And he said now good woman please tell me which side your pies are on.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Mixon and children visited Sunday in Brice and Memphis.

Jimmie Millsap and lady attended to business in Pampa Saturday.

The Methodist meeting will begin here Sunday. Every one has an invitation to attend.

Ten Million People HELPED TO BUILD THE TIRE SENSATION of '34!

Beyond Comparison in Quality, Construction, Appearance and Price With Any First Quality Tire Made

THE way to create a TIRE SENSATION is to give the people what they want, and Firestone has done this with the new Firestone Century Progress Tire.

As millions of people visited the Firestone Factory at the World's Fair last year, we asked this question—"What do you value most in a tire?" They answered—"Give us Blowout Protection, Non-Skid Safety, and Long Wear, at a moderate price." This was a big order, but Firestone has a habit of giving car owners what they want when they want it.

We knew there was only one way to build Quality and Value into a tire at a moderate price, and that was by volume production. We built the greatest tire ever made to sell at these low prices. Car owners are profiting because we found out what they wanted and found the way to give it to them.

The new Firestone Century Progress Tire IS EQUAL OR SUPERIOR to any first quality tire built, regardless of name, brand, by whom manufactured, or at what price offered for sale.

CHECK THESE AMAZING VALUES

Come in and equip your car with this marvel of tire construction, at the lowest price we have ever been able to make on a tire of this high quality and construction, carrying a Triple Guarantee.
