MILLENNIUM STRIKES FLOYDADA.

The City Dads of Floydada have authorized the West Texas Gas Company to reduce rates as follows:

- Rate "A".
Minimum and up to 2,000 cubic feet, $1.50.
Next 3,000 cubic feet per month at 50c per thousand.
Rate "B".
Applicable to consumers using more than 5,000 cubic feet per month.
First 6,000 cubic feet for $4.
Next 44,000 cubic feet per month at 50c per thousand cubic feet.
Next 50,000 cubic feet per month at 30c per thousand, and any additional at 25c per thousand cubic feet.
Floydada's gas supply field is said to be in Hutchinson county.

Does this mean that gas companies are beginning to grow humane? Will it mean that the telephone companies will wake up, become penitent and at least give us half a break by any reduction at all. The phone company here has all through the depression charged a higher rate than was charged during war time, or during the highest peak of war time prices.

Congratulations, Floydada, congratulations! Now tell us how it all happened.

PROPOSED TOWNSEND PENSION LAW.

Little attention was paid to the old age pension proposal originated by Dr. F. E. Townsend of Long Beach, California three months ago. Today the plan is being discussed nationally.

The plan has for its object the pensioning at $200 per month of all citizens above 60 years of age, provided the applicant has not been convicted of a felony. Another provision that is most appealing to the multitude is that the pensioner must spend the entire sum within 30 days after receipt of the money, and that within the confines of the United States.

Other provisions are that the pensioner must not be receiving an income of more than $100 per month prior to applying for the pension, and must quit all competitive labor.

Should this plan become a law, millions will be taken off jobs needed by others. A few more million will be taken from 'poverty row' and be permitted to spend their remaining days without dread or fear of starvation.

It is further pointed out that when eight million people are paid one billion and six hundred million dollars per month, a great demand will arise for most any thing that can be bought, and that prosperity will arrive over night.

There is no question but what present relief measures can be stopped; poor houses will be emptied; asylums depleted of old people "shelved" because they are not wanted at home; turn poverty to prosperity and lessen crime, and provide jobs for the industrious element.

How will the money be provided? Probably through taxation for that will be easy if money is plentiful.

There are but two objections, as we view it. How would grandpa and grandma be prevented from keeping up a bunch of worthless whelps who would rather accept sustenance from a relative than earn it? Again, what measures could be taken to keep profiteers of the nation from gobbling up the money as rapidly as it is turned loose?

These two objections could be overcome by proper regulation, unless the plan is promulgated for the benefit of the same bunch as those benefitting most from the NRA.

Since we are in the experimental stage at best, why not give the old folks a break this time?

Claim Quota is Exceeded by Hundred Thousand Head; Will Buy Sheep

Austin, Sept. 24.—The government's sheep buying program was in full progress in 76 counties today. Commodities distribution department of the Texas Relief commission was notified by Federal Surplus Relief corporation officials of the designation of 32 additional counties to the original 44 in which the purchase of sheep was authorized. The new counties are: Hamilton, Lubbock, Glasscock, Bricoco, Kent, Stonewall, Knox, King, Foard, Motley, Cottle, Stephens, Lynn, Terry, Wise, Crane, Baker, Crosby, Throckmorton, Potter, Hale, Lamb, Young, Swisher, Castro, Donley, Collingsworth, Wheeler, Hudspeth, Dimmitt, Maverick and Scurry.

Buying was in progress at the rate of 12,000 head per day for shipping to slaughtering houses. Unlike the cattle program, all processing of boned meat from sheep will be done in commercial plants, contracts already having been made between FSRC and packing company officials for the job. Thousands of cans of the meat, however, will be delivered to Texas county administrators for delivery to the destitute as a surplus commodity. C. Z. Crain, head of the department, said, He has not yet heard anything about the contemplated goat buying program, he added.

Meanwhile, according to Crain, the cattle program appeared to be definitely ended. Crain said he had been informed by George Barnes, representative of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, which supervised the program in Texas, that federal authorities had instructed him to dismiss his staff of buyers.

"I understand the total quota for Texas has been exceeded by 100,000 head and the chances are that no more cattle will be bought in Texas," Crain said.

"Nearly all of those we have bought have been shipped and we have enough meat in storage to run our 19 beef canning plants about a week longer. Then we will have to close these plants, at least temporarily. Later they may be used for a vegetable canning program under a system to control surpluses of vegetables when the price has gone below production costs or when the market has been glutted with a particular variety of vegetable. Of course not all canneries could be operated under this program and chances are none could be operated full time."

The distribution of fresh meat, likewise begun several weeks ago, has been stopped; however, a bare possibility remains that veal may be shipped from Chicago for distribution here, Crain said.

Enrollment Still Increasing At W.T.S.T.C. of Canyon

Enrollment continues to climb at the West Texas State Teachers College with a total of 1161 students crowding the campus and class rooms.

Several hundred more are receiving instruction off the campus through correspondence and extension classes. It is expected that off-campus students will show an increase over last year equal to campus which is now 16 percent above last year's first half-semester in the college division alone.

Only two additional instructors have been employed, one in the rapidly growing piano department, and the other in the newly organized department of Archaeology and Paleontology. Miss Frances Usery, recently of Los Angeles and Stuart Johnston of Norman, Oklahoma are the newcomers on the faculty.

Geo. E. Ragland took his son, John R. to Lubbock Sunday where he will enter school.

Huge Eye Ready For Observatory At Mount Locke

81 1/2 Inch Mirror Finished After Months of Cooling

Corning, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Completion of the "eye" of the world's second largest telescope, an eighty one and a half-inch mirror for the McDonald Observatory in Texas, was announced Sunday at the Corning Glass Works.

Months of cooling in its annealing over the two-ton piece of glass came out without a flaw. Its weight is 5,600 pounds, thickness thirteen inches; its substance the same low-expansion borosilicate glass with which a 200-inch mirror soon will be poured at Corning.

The Texas mirror at present is second only to the 100-inch telescope at Mount Wilson, California. It will go from here to the Warner & Swasey Company, Cleveland, for polishing; then to Mount Locke, Texas, where it will be set up in an observatory maintained jointly by the University of Texas and the University of Chicago. This eighty-one and a half-inch eye, like all the other largest telescopes, is a mirror. It collects light, reflects it to a focus. For this reason the big mirrors all have a large hole in the middle, so reflected beams can be brought back, down through the mirror if wanted. The hole in the new disk is thirteen and a half inches in diameter.

The Texas mirror will reflect one-sixth as much light as the 200-inch telescope now planned for California. Although it will not see as far as the large telescopes, it will be used for solving cosmic mysteries which otherwise might go undiscovered, because the expanse of sky to be examined is vastly larger than can be explored by all the great telescopes combined.

Miss Lotta Ince of Itasca, Texas is a house guest of Mrs. J. B. Baird this week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Kemp returned home Saturday from a visit at the Fair at Chicago and on return home they visited with relatives at Levanon, Kentucky.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel over and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, acids often break out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, natural, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. Heat drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

Poets, here's good news! Good old John McCarty of the Dalhart Texan up at Dalhart wants all the poetry he can get for his new book of poems. John got worried out with this native poetry and decided to dare the whole tribe to do their worst and have it over with at one spasm. His book of poems will be out some time this month. Of course he will select what the judges decide is the best, and that means that poor old John's troubles are just beginning.

Among the most beautiful bouquets brought to the Leader office, was a large one this week, the gift of Mrs. Chas. G. Speed. Roses in pink, red and white peeped out from behind giant dahlias of a salmon-bronze hue. The largest dahlia measured seven and a half inches in diameter. How

Mrs. Speed manages to grow such beautiful flowers under the trying conditions of the past summer would be welcome information to many flower lovers. Thank you, Mrs. Speed, for the privilege of sharing your good fortune.

The stingiest man in the Panhandle was discovered at the Fair at Amarillo when a hoosier-looking bozo walked up to the hammer machine. By depositing a penny, he had a chance to win a dime if he could strike with a large hammer hard enough. After watching several try the game, he finally deposited his penny, picked up the hammer handle, spat on both hands and looked wistfully up at the score numbers on the ascending column. He swung the hammer over his head a few times and came down with all his might but missed the machine. When the dust settled a few minutes later, the victim was found behind the machine with both arms broken and his neck dislocated.

Speaking about old-fashioned ideas and customs, A. N. Wood recalls that when Skillie Scott got married in Jack county in 1892, a bunch of young folks proceeded to "shiver" them. Going by that night at 8 o'clock, the newly married couple was woke up and made to go to a shindig where the whole works staid up all night, mostly pulling candy.

QUANAH PARKER LED BRAVES IN ADOBE WALLS SIEGE TEXAS' LAST INDIAN FIGHT

Eighty-Five Warriors Are Killed in Siege of Early Buffalo Camp

By C. C. BISHOP

In the present county of Hutchinson are to be found the ruins of an old Spanish mission, where a trading post and a mission school were located in the days when Texas belonged to Mexico. This mission had three buildings and after serving its purpose for many years the buildings were abandoned.

KILLED BUFFALO FOR HIDES
At the beginning of the systematic killing of the buffalo for their hides, several firms in Fort Dodge, Kansas, sent out an expedition consisting of a long wagon-train loaded with supplies with instructions to locate in the center of the buffalo range.

On arriving at the walls of these three buildings they were found to be in excellent preservation, and without much expense were made to accommodate the agents of the Kansas firms to store their goods and open supply stores.

The two largest buildings were occupied by James Langton and Fred Leonard, and the smaller one was taken possession of by Jim Hanrahan with a general store. Tom Keefe started a blacksmith shop in the old chapel. Fred Leonard also erected a stockade and ran a wagon yard and mess house for the freighters and hunters. This trading post grew into importance and soon became a center of traffic in buffalo hides.

HIDES WORTH $1.00 EACH
Rumors were afloat that the Comanche, Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indian tribes were concentrating for some purpose. This was even reported to the people of the Adobe Walls community by Captain Arrington, of the Texas ranger force. Little heed did they give this timely warning, for the reason that the buffalo hunting was too interesting. Hides were worth $1.00 each then and the average hunter could kill and skin fifteen to twenty buffaloes daily.

It was during the moonlight nights in June, 1874, that the hunters were so busy killing and drying hides that they paid no attention to the rumors. The store keepers in Adobe Walls sometimes discussed the topic, but came to the conclusion that the Indians would confine their raids to outlying camps and not attack so formidable a place as Adobe Walls.

Consequently, they were not prepared when Quanah Parker, the half white and half Comanche Indian, led his 900 painted warriors down the peaceful valley about two hours before daylight.

This is one time that history repeated itself—we are told that the cackling of geese saved Rome and this time it was the crackling sound of a cottonwood beam in the Hanrahan's store that awoke the occupants of the dirt roof falling upon them that forced the men to take steps to prop the beam, while two men mounted the roof and shoveled off the dirt to lighten the weight.

AROUSING DURING NIGHT
The stir at Hanrahan's aroused Tom Keefe, who was sleeping in the open, raised himself upon his elbow and gazed at what he supposed to be a buffalo herd about one-fourth of a mile northwest. He watched them intently. While he was looking, not satisfied in his mind that everything was all right, two men by the names of Watson and Ogg, started out to hunt their horses, intending to get an early start for the range. They, too, saw the supposed herd, but on closer observation discovered that it was a band of Indians. They at once gave the alarm, and the Indians realizing that they could no longer keep up the deception, uttered their blood-curdling war whoop and charged down upon the settlement. The last Indian fight on Texas soil was now in action.

Tom Keefe, was now up and ran to Langton's store to arouse the inmates, and was admitted as a volley of arrows and bullets struck the wall of the building. Watson and Ogg, hunting their horses, ran to Hanrahan's and closed the door in time to escape death or capture. There were ten men in Hanrahan's, five men and one woman in Langton's and twelve in Leonard's. Ike and Shorty Shadler were sleeping in their wagon. Both were killed and scalped before they could escape. This placed twenty-seven men and one woman against 900 Indians.

FIGHTING FOR LIVES
When the sun arose that morning every house at Adobe Walls was in a state of siege, and the occupants fighting for their lives. While Quanah Parker with his warriors was trying to force an entrance into Leonard's store, he was shot off his horse. This threw the Indians into confusion and gave the settlers time for some preparation for battle. Fortunately, the houses were so situated that the men could keep up a cross fire and concentrate on any given point. This was very discouraging to the Indians.

The roar of the battle became incessant. The Indians divided into bands, and used every device known to savage warfare to dislodge the defenders. Again and again, many times during that long hot day, the Indians tried to force the doors open, but could not withstand the destructive fire of the buffalo guns. An Indian was one questioned about the buffalo gun and he remarked: "Me heap no like him buffalo gun—him shoot today and kill tomorrow—heap bad medicine."

A young Kiowa chief took command of sixty warriors and made a fierce charge on Leonard's corral, but was killed when he dismounted to open the gate. Six braves fell across his body during the destructive firing.

At the base of a low rough hill Adobe creek ran through a grove of trees, which proved an excellent concealment for a band of Indian sharpshooters who peppered away at the windows when the defenders delivered their deadly fire.

TRY TO BURN BUILDINGS

Under cover of the buffalo grass some of them gained the rear of Leonard's store behind a pile of buffalo hides and prepared to set the building on fire and force the occupants to come out in the open. The men in the building could hear the Indians behind the hides talking to those concealed in the grass, and believing that some devilry was being hatched, Bill Dixon and Fred Leonard began firing into the hides. The force of the charge drove the bullets through the pile, killing a pony and driving the Indians from concealment. It was Bill Dixon's gun that again in the first day of the siege that did some effective work, when he killed an Indian chief on a distant hill, during a council of war.

The deadly fire of the buffalo gun was too much for the Indians, they lost their second chief before noon. The Indians then withdrew and kept up the battle from long range. The ground around the Adobe Walls buildings was covered with dead and wounded Indians and ponies. During the remainder of the day the Indians tried to carry off their dead and wounded.

LOST ONE MAN FIRST DAY

At the end of the first day the settlers found they had lost one man by the name of Tyler, and the two Sadler brothers were dead and scalped. They were buried in one grave at the close of the day.

During the night Hanrahan's store was abandoned and all the hunters concentrated in Leonard's and Langton's stores, dug wells and barricade in anticipation of the renewal of the battle. A man by the name of Reed was sent to Dodge City, Kansas for assistance.

Very little fighting was done during the second day, the Indians maintaining their distance and keeping up a state of siege.

The third day the battle was carried on at long range, the Indians keeping up a fire from Adobe Walls creek, and the hunters replying from the windows. William Olds was killed while taking observations from the roof of Leonard's house. He fell through the trap door at the feet of his wife. During the third night the besieged were re-enforced by the arrival of about 100 men from the surrounding range.

After two more days without any open demonstration, the hunters supposed that the Indians had given up the siege. Two hunters by the name of Huffman and Roberts walked out to an elevation to take observation. Huffman was killed and Roberts escaped to the protection of the defenders at Leonard's.

It was not until the end of the tenth day that the Indians withdrew and raised the siege of Adobe Walls. They had lost eighty five warriors killed and wounded. The hunters had lost the two Sadler brothers, a man named Tyler, William Olds and Huffman. Fearing a renewal of hostilities the hunters marched out, and the majority of them went to Fort Dodge, Kansas, and some to Fort Griffin, near where Albany, Texas is now located.

The commanding officer at Fort Leavenworth refused to believe Reed's story that twenty-eight white men were fighting 900 Indians, and sent no soldiers to relieve the situation.

Governor Osborn, of Kansas, was willing to arm the citizens of Dodge City if they would send out a relief party. He forwarded a thousand guns and ammunition, but before any relief could be organized, messengers came reporting that the hunters had abandoned the Walls.

The Indians returned after the hunters left, and destroyed and burned everything, leaving the old walls standing like mourners at the grave of the departed. After fifty years only a dim outline of these walls can be seen.

This was the last Indian fight on Texas soil of any importance, and Quanah Parker, their chief, was a disabled warrior for a long time. Quanah was half white and half Comanche, his mother, Cynthia Ann Parker, having been captured at Fort Parker in Limestone county, Texas, on May 19, 1836. Quanah has had one town in Texas and one county named for him—the town of Quanah and the county of Parker. Nocona, Texas was named for his father.

Thus ended the Indian depredations on the white man of the Texas prairies. This was all brought about, in order that Quanah Parker might avenge the death of his friend that had been killed by a buffalo hunter.

ROUT OIL BOOTLEGGERS

Sinclair Dealers defeat motor oil substitution with new TAMPER-PROOF can Motor oil bootleggers are clever! By hook or by crook they've managed here and elsewhere to substitute inferior oils—even "reclaimed" crankcase drainings—for motor oils of honest reputation. Some authorities estimate that as much as 25% of all motor oil sold in America today is "bootleg".

But Sinclair dealers here have met this menace. They serve you from the new Sinclair 1-quart or 5-quart Tamper-Proof can—a can that can't be opened for serving you without smashing it beyond all repair. And it's smashed before your very eyes. These cans come to the dealer straight from the Sinclair refinery where they are filled (and sealed) with Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil, mellowed 80 million years, or Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor

Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT

W. E. FERRELL
Minister First Christian Church

"How to Become a Christian."
We have learned that God's soul saving institution on earth is the Church, and that a member of the church is a Christian. Today we wish to show how one may become a Christian.

A Christian according to the New Testament, is one who having heard the gospel, believes in Christ, repents and is baptised into His name, rising to walk in newness of life. He is then a member of the body of Christ, the Church.

To become a Christian, one must first hear the gospel, and this is presented in the Bible. We dare not take what any one else has to offer in place of the gospel. Faith is produced by hearing, "Faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God." (Rom. 10:17) One must have faith, "Without faith it is impossible to please God." (Heb. 11:6). Jesus said, "Ye believe in God believe also in me." (John 14:1). Faith in Christ is commanded by God, (I. John 3:23) A living faith is the only one that will be accepted, (James 2:17-26). Faith leads to repentance and repentance is one of the requirements of the gospel. (Acts 2:38 Acts 17:30,31). God's goodness leads men to repentance, (Rom. 2:4). Confession of Christ is the next step one must make in becoming a Christian. Christ said it was necessary, (Matt. 10:32-33). Paul said it would be universal, (Phil. 2:9-11). The Apostles working under the leadership of the Holy Spirit demanded it, (Acts 8:37; Rom. 10:10). Baptism into Christ and into his body was the next step demanded by the Apostles and taught in the Scriptures. This step has caused more controversies than any other step in the whole plan of redemption, as people have tried to substitute and change this step to suit their own ideas and opinions, instead of following the God given plan. Baptism was authorized by Christ, (Matt. 28:19), practiced by the Apostles, (Acts 2:38-41), and accepted by believers, (Acts 10:44-48) By obedience to these New Testament Commands, we are saved from our past sins, become Christians and members of Christ's Church. And as such we should remain faithful and loyal to Christ and His program until death. There is no other way outlined in the Bible but this and we should accept no other. In our next lesson we will make a detailed study of "Faith."

SCHOOL NEWS OF INTEREST

SamNorwood Rural high school in Collingsworth county is a reality. Seven common school districts in Collingsworth county pooled their resources in one consolidated center for high school purposes at the town of SamNorwood, building and equipping a school plant which will serve one hundred and twenty eight square miles of territory. The largest rural high school district in the State of Texas. Three thousand people joined in the all day dedicatory services Wednesday. State Superintendent L. A. Woods delivered the principal address of the day. He said "that SamNorwood high school would be the beacon light to all west Texas as a guide to what should be offered to every rural high school child. And that SamNorwood was the concrete fulfillment of the plans of the State Department of Education to furnish every rural child a chance at an affiliated high school education. Dr. J. A. Hill, President of W. T. S. T. C. emphasized the fact that we as American citizens were to be called on to spend more and more for education not only of the youth but of the adults in America. He said, "that the nation and

"Governor Jimmie" Is Taken For Ride in Worley's $25 Car

"The people of the Panhandle are going to get along with the next governor of Texas in a big way," commented Eugene Worley of Shamrock, Democratic nominee for state representative in the 122nd legislative district comprising Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Donley counties. The 25-year-old legislative nominee, pictured at the wheel of his $25 campaign car, is shown here with U. S. Senator Tom Connally beside him and James V. Allred, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, and Ben Connally, son of the senator, in the back seat. The picture was taken at the recent Democratic state convention in Galveston.

The first campaign promise of Eugene Worley of Shamrock, 25-year-old University of Texas law student who is the Democratic nominee for state representative in the 122 legislative district, has been fulfilled. "If elected I'm going to take the next governor of Texas for a ride in my $25 car and tell him we folks up in the Panhandle want to get along with him," said the young campaigner to the voters of Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Donley counties.

Meeting James V. Allred, Democratic nominee, at the recent Democratic state convention in Galveston, Worley saw no reason why he should wait on the formality of a November election. He invited "Jimmie" for a ride in his "flivver," and he accepted. He then spied U. S. Senator Tom Connally and the latter's son, Ben Connally. He just "threw them" for good measure and ariding they all went.

It was no wonder "Governor Jimmie," and "Senator Tom," smiled so broadly as they climbed into the car. The happy campaigner of the Panhandle had bought upholstery for the back seat—shiny new black oil-cloth, just for this occasion. Also he had spent something like a dollar getting his motor tuned up, to avoid mishaps on the ride such as he experienced for the two months past while driving around looking up the voters of the district.

platform, promising to work for lower and more equitable taxation. He expressed the hope to change the method of administering state school aid from a basis of scholastic enumeration to "noses in the school room," believing the present practice worked to the advantage of East and South Texas districts where the negro and Mexican population is high, and against West Texas counties where the percentage of white population is higher.

Upon graduation from the University of Texas, Worley will be awarded B. A. and LL. B. degrees. He has worked his way through school, having been employed on the Daily Texan, served as a committee clerk during the 42nd legislature, and is now occupying the position of advertising manager of The Cactus, University yearbook. Worley attended Texas A. & M. before going to the university.

He said, "that if the type of American students that were seeking to get an education in our Colleges and Universities were the indication of the future type of citizens that he was not afraid for the future of America." Deputy State Superintendent Bryan Dickson, County Superintendent J. D. Wilson, and members of the SamNorwood Board of trustees were speakers on the program. Its timely use helps to prevent many colds—and to throw off colds in the early stages.

Va-tro-nol is powerful yet absolutely safe—for both children and adults. It has been clinically tested by physicians—and proved in every-day home use by millions. (Note: The remarkable success of Vicks Drops—for nose and throat—has brought scores of imitations. The trademark Va-tro-nol is your protection in getting this exclusive Vicks formula. Always ask for Vicks Va-tro-nol. Now in two generous sizes—30c and 50c.) Va-tro-nol and its companion product, Vicks VapoRub (the modern external treatment for colds) form the basis of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds—fully explained in each Vicks package.

20th Century Zephyr To Be Strange Visitor Clarendon Saturday

The Zephyr, which will be in Clarendon on exhibition Saturday, October 6th from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m., is a new revolutionary type of streamline motor train presented by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad. It is a three-car all-metal assembly, much lighter in weight than the usual type of train. It is novel in design; unique in the application of automotive principles new to rail travel; and basically different from conventional trains in structural composition.

The Zephyr is 197 feet in length; has seats for 72 passengers, and is designed for day-time travel.

Not only as to exterior sheathing and interior finishing, but as to framework as well, it is built of stainless steel—a modern non-corrosive alloy consisting of 18 per cent chromium and 8 per cent nickel, cold-rolled, and characterized by its great ruggedness, ductility, and high tensile strength.

Practically every plate, sheet, strut, beam or other part is secured by means of electric welding rather than riveting. This welding takes advantage of the new Budd "shot-weld" process in which each "shot" of electricity is precisely timed, resulting in absolute uniformity in welds which occur as close together as the stitches in a seam; unifying the sections effectually and without breakdown of the molecular qualities of the metal.

New sources of power, new methods of transmission were sought.

The first of a heralded new type of two-cycle, oil-burning Diesel engine, developed especially for the Zephyr by the Winton division of General Motors furnishes its motive power. Without spark plugs or ignition system of the sort used in gas engines combustion is accomplished wholly thru compression.

The Zephyr has only sixteen wheels altogether (a train having three cars of conventional equipment would have thirty-six) the rear of one car and the front of the succeeding one resting upon the same truck—the heralded articulated method which makes for economy, light weight, smooth riding qualities, less noise; and eliminates "slack" between the cars. Trucks are rubber-cushioned at points of impact. Wheels are solid steel alloy with integral tread, rim-toughened to render long service without regrinding or replacement.

The first unit is occupied by the engine room and a large compartment for the handling of U. S. Mail. The second unit provides space for baggage and express, an ingenious buffet-grill and smoking compartment. The front half of the third unit is devoted to reclining chairs, while the rear part is an extraordinary little lounge room which conforms to the bullet-shaped end of the train.

A real solarium with wide, curved glass windows all around to afford a 180-degree field of vision; equipped with detached easy chairs, it offers luxurious accommodations equal to the highest class of parlor car service.

Meals from the buffet-grill are served upon tables set up for the occasion at your chair.

The train weighs approximately 95 tons, or about as much as one Pullman car, and is capable of a speed exceeding 100 miles an hour.

Trim as a sail-boat; speed king of the rails—the Zephyr strikes the most advanced note in up-to-date transport methods, and writes a colorful, interesting and significant chapter into American railroad history.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Braswell visited his mother Mrs. Braswell at Canyon Sunday.

Donley County Permitted To Sell 500 More Cattle by 13th

Donley County can sell to the Government 500 more cattle under the government buying program. The purchase of this number must be completed by the 13th of October.

The cattle buying committee met Wednesday afternoon. They will start an investigation to determine which cattle will be bought and then in turn shipped to Ft. Worth or Oklahoma City stockyards. Authorities have been notified that funds for the program are nearly exhausted. This indicates that this program may close all purchases in Donley County in the near future.

Alfred's Comedians To Be Here Monday

Local Legion Post To Sponsor Alfred's Comedians

If a change of pasture is good for the cow so is a change of amusement for the people, and now folks a big treat is in store for you when Jack and June Alfred's Comedians open a week's engagement here Monday night.

Headed by Jack (Toby) Alfred, June, "The Texas Blues Girl" and assisted by a company of talented artists, Clarendon theatre-goers will witness the best stage attraction of the season.

The opening play will be "Flowing Gold" from the novel by Rex Beech of the same title. No gangster nor sex plays will be offered, Mr. Alfred realizing the bad effect such plays have on the children. Excellent vaudeville specialties will also be presented between the acts. The big tent will be located on the city lot.

Whether in your local theatre or under a tent give stage shows the preference. At the present according to the Billboard, a theatrical trade journal, there are several thousand actors and musicians unemployed—theatres being not available. Stage folks appear in your community in person are good spenders and patronize local merchants while in town. Why not a new deal for the artists, musicians stage hands, and others? Demand stage shows.

The local Legion Post is sponsoring the Alfred Show and will receive a liberal percentage of all proceeds.

PRESIDENT OF TEXAS "MIFFED" 100 YEARS AGO

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 29.—Details of how the President of Texas was notified of the decisive victory, gained at San Jacinto, a battle that realized the independence of Texas, constitutes an interesting sidelight in connection with the Centennial, which in 1936 will be commemorated by celebrations at San Antonio, Houston, Goliad, Brenham, Nacogdoches, Huntsville, Dallas and cities associated with the early history of the State.

David G. Burnet, the first provisional President of Texas, for safety's sake had moved with several members of his Cabinet to Galveston Island, and while the battle took place April 21, 1836, the President did not learn of the victory until six days later.

News of the victory was carried by Robert J. Calder, who commanded Company K in Burleson's regiment in the battle, and Judge B. C. Franklin, accompanied by two soldiers. Their only means of transportation was a leaky skiff, which they rowed and towed, sleeping at night with difficulty and having a hard time getting anything to eat.

On the fifth day, they rowed alongside the war schooner "Invincible", the commander of which fired a cannon three times to celebrate the news of victory. The messengers partook liberally of the best liquor on the ship and then were taken to the "Independence", the flagship of Commodore Hawkins, who fired a cannon thirteen times in celebration and wine and dined the messengers. He then advised them to go and tell President Burnet the news, which the executive received in his tent the sixth day after the battle. It is said that the President was "miffed" that everybody on the island knew that the victory had been won before he was informed.

Durable Pavement Held Safest For New Highway Number 5

Plans understood to include the pavement of a section of Highway No. 5 with part of the $12,000,000 or more granted to Texas by the Federal government, has roused discussion here over the type of pavement that should be built.

One of the important points raised is safety, with general agreement that the safest type of surface is the only practical pavement for this much used road. Steadily growing traffic on Highway No. 5 is inevitable, it is felt here. And, considering that each year sees greater speeds built into automobiles, highway facilities should be provided with the largest safety factor possible.

A type of pavement offered as a solution for the safety problem is concrete. Claims made for it are backed up by the experience of motorists everywhere who have a chance to compare different kinds of roads.

Concrete, say these motorists, presents a good surface for tire grip, reducing the possibility of skidding. Its level surface enables vehicles to ride smoothly at modern speeds. The low-crowned surface does away with center-of-the-road driving. At night its clearly defined edges, and property of reflecting lights at long distances, provides greater visibility for the driver. These factors, true in all kinds of weather, tend to reduce accidents and their resultant tragedies both in death and injury.

It's the safety advantage of concrete roads that gives them the enviable quality of Travelaxation. When a motorist knows that the highway ahead is level, bumpless and easy to see, he can relax and drive without the tension that makes motoring so often a tiresome proposition.

When plans of the Highway Department become definite, and the proposal to pave Highway No. 5 approved, there will be wide support here for concrete.

Miss Marjorie and Billie Lott left for Amarillo where they will enter school. Miss Marjorie will go to college and Billie to high school.
