STOP PAYMENTS COUNTY WARRANTS RECENT ISSUE

County Commissioners Vote Change of County Agent February 1st

During the sessions of the County Commissioners extending from Monday to Wednesday evening, the District Agent of the Extension Department of A & M College appeared before the Commissioners Wednesday. After hearing his explanation of the necessity of a county agent, the action of the Commissioners in voting to discharge the present county agent Monday, was rescinded.

Upon motion of J. H. Hermesmeier and a second by G. G. Reeves, an appropriation of $600 was made as the county's portion to supplement state and federal funds for the employment of a county agent. The motion also carried a proviso calling for the termination of the services of T. R. Broun not later than Feb. 1st. The District Agent promised a new county agent here by Feb. 1st.

A motion made by J. H. Hermesmeier with a second by G. G. Reeves directed the County Treasurer to withhold payment on all outstanding county warrants, except right-of-way warrants on No. 5, until the legality of the issuance of such warrants could be established. The time limit was set at February 11, 1935.

In establishing a wage schedule for county work, a motion was made by J. Les Hawkins and a second by G. G. Reeves setting the following rates: tractor and grader hands are to be paid 50c an hour; helpers on graders and tractors to be paid 35c an hour; common labor, 25c an hour; single hands with team, 37½c an hour; single hands with two teams, 50c an hour.

A. O. Yates was employed for another year as caretaker of the courthouse and grounds.

LEADERS SEE NEED OF REVIVAL C-C BODY HERE

Annual Banquet to be Held February 4th. Speaker is Yet to be Named

In observing the annual banquet this season, J. T. Patman was elected to determine the place, menu and the price. Sam Braswell and Joe Goldston are to select the principal speaker of the evening.

With the employment of J. M. Hill as secretary to succeed G. L. Boykin who resigned to move to Perryton, leaders of the Chamber feel that a drive should be made at this time to revive the activities of that body.

The present board of directors is represented by J. T. Patman, J. D. Swift, Bill Ray, Sam Braswell, Joe Goldston, Ralph Kerbow and Dude Gentry. The last three named will see the expiration of their terms of office and three new men will be selected, or possibly the same men be retained.

The former method of nominating by post card through the mails has been dispensed with. A nominating committee of which Sam Braswell is chairman, will select the three men to complete the board. Others on the nominating committee are Bill Ray and Ralph Kerbow.

Caretaker Improves Building At Country Club

Recent improvements made to the general appearance of the residence of the caretaker of the Country Club includes an outside stucco job. Another room has been added. Partitions have been changed and closets made. Water has been piped into the house.

With additional fencing on the outside, the general appearance is said to have improved wonderfully under the skill of the caretaker, R. L. Steagall.

Gov. James V. Allred and Jimmy Jr. Aged 5.

The mantle of the highest office within the gift of the people of Texas was placed upon the shoulders of James V. Allred at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday when he took the oath of office as governor as administered by Judge Pierson.

While cannon boomed an official salute, the former newsboy of Bowie was inaugurated governor of the biggest state in the Union, and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Texas' first and only woman governor, retired to private life.

Standing on the steps of Texas' big granite capitol, Governor Allred delivered a ringing address, pledging co-operation with the national recovery program and use of all his powers to stamp out crime in Texas.

10,000 at Ceremony

An estimated throng of 10,000 persons witnessed the ceremonies, made resplendent by the presence of high state dignitaries, five former governors and officers and several battalions of the Texas National Guard.

Despite the solemnity, the occasion, begun with the laying of the national anthem and concluded with official state song, "Texas, My Texas," by a military band, was very human. Allred himself was smilingly at ease and his manner was communicated to the thousand massed before him.

At the start of his address, he turned to Mrs. Allred, saying, "Come up here honey." Then to the audience, "I want you to meet my wife and my little cowboy." The latter reference was to his 13-month-old son, David, sound asleep in the arms of a friend, Jimmy, Jr., five years old, also was presented, as were "mother and dad," Mr. and Mrs. Renne Allred, Sr., of Bowie.

Thunderous applause swept the great assemblage as Allred denounced crime conditions in Texas, saying gangsters, bandits, thugs and thieves had no place in the "clean life of Texas."

Don't Display Car License Until After April 1st

Those who display a 1935 license tag on a Texas auto before April 1st are subject to arrest, according to tax collector Joe Bownds. He has been so advised by the highway department.

License tags are not for sale until after February 1st, and must not be attached until after April 1st. That will give every one about 24 hours in which to attach the tag, but it might pay to be ready, Bownds thinks.

Taxpaying Deadline First Of February

In order to escape any penalty on 1934 tax payments, the tax must be paid by February 1, 1935. Any taxes delinquent August 1934, may be paid without interest and penalty if paid between the dates of February 9th and March 15th of 1935, so states Joe Bownds, county tax collector.

Faithful Execution

"As governor of Texas it is my duty under the Constitution to cause the laws to be faithfully executed," he declared vehemently. "I am going to perform that duty and I want you, my friends, to call upon your local officers to enforce the law."

"If they fail to do so, I want you and your representatives and senators to back me up in the performance of my duty. I pledge the good officers and decent citizenship of Texas that once these law violators are behind prison doors they will receive clemency only when entitled to it, based on merit, and merit alone."

Deplore Destitution

While deploring that thousands were on relief rolls in Texas, Allred said the people had nothing to fear and already were facing a new cycle of progress. By public works projects, old age pensions, soil erosion prevention and other means, he proposed to work closely with the federal government in easing economic distress.

His first official act, after being rushed to the governor's suite under the watchful protection of state highway patrolmen, was to sign a receipt for $1,500,000 in federal funds, making it available for state relief.

Mrs. Ferguson Witness

Mrs. Ferguson, voluntarily retiring after her second term as governor, had no part in the program other than to witness the ceremonies. As she came on the platform in the official procession, she and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, were warmly greeted by Allred, although they had been strong political antagonists.

Immediately after the ceremonies, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson went to their home in a suburb, while Mr. Allred, with his family and relatives, entered the governor's mansion, two blocks away.

Credit Association Meets Monday at Memphis

Members of the Memphis Production Credit Association held their first annual meeting at Memphis Monday. Officers for the coming year are T. M. McMurry, president, J. H. Smith, secretary.

The association makes short-term loans of 3 to 12 months for agricultural purposes including the production of crops, livestock, etc. C. E. Killough of Clarendon represents the association in Donley county.

Hudgins School Bond Issue Carries by Big Majority

Due no doubt to the sandstorm Saturday, very few voters got out to the polls to register a vote on the $1500 school bond issue at Hudgins.

O. L. Jacobs brought in the returns Monday to be canvassed by the Commissioners Court. The vote stood 8 votes for and nothing against the issue.

SCHOOL CHORAL CLUB DELIGHTS LION MEMBERS

Judge Lowe is Principal Speaker Mixing Wit With Humor

The main feature of the program presented at the Lions luncheon Tuesday was the presentation by the Junior High School Choral Club of several delightful numbers. They were directed by their instructor, E. O. Bone and accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Powell on the piano.

Judge S. W. Lowe spoke on "How I happened to become a Lion", in which he humorously punctured the pretensions of certain other Lions.

It was announced that tickets for the President's Birthday Ball were to be had from R. C. Land and Dr. A. W. Hicks.

Band director Glen A. Truax and Louie E. Thompson were voted to membership in the Club.

Guests of the Club were C. A. Clark, Scout executive of Pampa, Rev. Murrell of Abilene, G. G. Reeves, J. H. Hermesmeier, J. M. Hill, Mrs. Elizabeth Powell, E. O. Bone and Glen A. Truax.

CONTRACTOR IS ACCUSED UNFAIR MAN SELECTION

Workmen of Donley County Being Discriminated Against is Charge

Various and sundry reports have been going the rounds for some time that one contractor doing work on Highway 5 between Hedley and Memphis had been discriminating against Donley county workmen of all kinds.

Work began on this section of the new highway route about December 18th, it is said. It is further alleged that a total of 102 men had been sent down for employment, or rather for trial. It is now reported that all of them "got fired."

It is further alleged that the McKnight company doing the same type of work between Lelia and Hedley, had received 65 applicants for trial and had given employment to practically all, if not all, of that number.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners Tuesday, Charley A. Crow, a resident of the Smith community and near the highway work contracted by Brown between Memphis and Hedley, complained that local citizens were being discriminated against.

In their investigation, the Commissioners ascertained that some 400 men had registered for employment in this county. A further report to this Court stated that out of 102 men sent down from Relief headquarters, few if any were given employment, and the few for not more than for a few days, it is said.

It was further stated that a former foreman on the McKnight job had sought employment on the Brown job, but was discharged though he had given satisfaction on the McKnight job for some time, and showed every evidence of competency and skill.

A truck driver residing east of Clarendon worked five days. He was told to return last Thursday but when he returned, he was told that he had no job. This man in question is one of the very best truck drivers in this section, sober and industrious. His crop was almost an entire failure because of the drought, and he is in need of employment to provide necessities for his family.

Mr. Crow stated to the Commissioners that many men from other sections were being given employment by contractor Brown in preference to employing citizens of this county.

The Court very willingly took the matter up with the State Highway department in an effort to remedy conditions, and see that citizens of this county were given due consideration.

BOARD SUBMITS ADAIR HOSPITAL ANNUAL REPORT

One Hundred and Forty-Nine Patients Were Cared For During the Year

The annual report for the year 1934 submitted to the County Commissioners by the Board of Directors of Adair Hospital will give the reader some idea of the scope of work being accomplished in a hospital operated by the county.

The record discloses that a total of 149 patients were received during the year at an average cost of $5.03 per patient per day. The total hospital days were 1324, of this amount, 581 were paid and the remainder of 743 was paid for in notes. Some urgent cases of indigents were cared for without monetary consideration as an act of charity and human sympathy. Without Adair hospital, the door of hope would have been closed to them.

The records shows a cash balance of $362.24 on January 1, 1934 and a balance of $293.72 at the end of the year December 31, 1934.

The cost of the Adair hospital operation borne by taxpayers through approximately four and a half years is as follows: 5 months of 1929, $1,000; 1930, $500; 1931, $3,250; 1932, $2,750; 1933, $2,817; 1934, $2,725, a total of $13,042. To offset these figures, there is due the Hospital in notes and accounts aside from cash already received, $12,834.53.

During the year the expense account calls for the following expenditures: drugs and dressings $376.32; transportation $95.81; groceries, meat and ice $811.34; butter, eggs and milk $258.15; laundry $545.79; fuel $103.86; water, lights and power $330.32; telephone, telegraph and express $75.98; stationery, printing and postage $17.11; salaries $3,840.76; upkeep and repairs $140.23; furniture and fixtures $6.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Weatherly returned home Saturday after a three weeks visit with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Weatherly at Haskell, Texas.

Mrs. James V. Allred and son David, Aged 14 Months.

Joe Cluck Locks Burglar On Inside of Garage

Returning home late Saturday night, Mrs. Cluck remarked to her husband that "some one has been prowling in the back yard." Joe Cluck never has been much for locks since he has spent most of his days on a ranch. Finally he concluded that it might be best to lock his garage, which he did. When he went out next morning, imagine his surprise to find his garage door open after being unbolting from the inside. He had locked the thief on the inside and did not know it the night before.

REVIVAL GETS GOOD START WITH FINE INTEREST

Pastor Landreth Conducting Revival at Methodist Church

Large congregations are attending the revival at the First Methodist Church, and the outlook is reported to be good for a successful meeting. Joe Strother arrived Monday evening and is delighting the congregations with his wonderful organ music. Many of the people attending the services have never heard greater music, and singing, in a revival meeting.

Mr. Strother is holding meetings for the children at 3:30 each afternoon, to which all children are invited. He is holding Young People's meetings at 6:30 each evening. Prayer meetings for both men and women's groups are being held at seven o'clock, preaching services beginning at 7:15.

Some of the sermons yet to be preached during the meeting, according to announcements by the pastor, are as follows: "Fire Hazards", "The Boneyard revival", "The Devil's Masquerade", "The Unwelcome Christ", "What about Hell?", "What about Heaven?", "The Forgotten Vows", "The Cheapest Thing in the World", "The Greatest Sin."

The meeting will continue until January 28. Regardless of the weather the church will be comfortable. All who will, regardless of church or creed, are invited to the services, Rev. Landreth said.

Townsend Pension Bill Will Come up This Week

A bill embodying the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan will be introduced in the House this week, Rep. John Stephens McGroarth, of California, Congressional sponsor of the measure said today.

The plan, originated by Dr. F. E. Townsend, Long Beach, California, provides any citizen over 60 years of age who has no criminal record shall receive $200 per month on condition that he or she shall not engage in any gainful occupation and that the recipient shall spend the money within 30 days in the United States.

Petitions bearing more than seven hundred names from Donley county will be added to the millions from over the nation asking for the pension plan. The petitions will be piled in front of the desk of Rep. McGroarth as he makes his first speech on the subject.

Donley Cattle Sales Under Emergency Purchase Plan

County agent T. R. Broun reports 964 sales of cattle in this county under the emergency purchase plan of the government due to drought conditions, the government buying a total of 6,072 head. The total amount already paid on them is $58,656.00. There is yet a balance of $19,360.00 which is expected within the next four weeks.

Minister's Subject Not Fit To Print This Week

When asked for his Sunday evening sermon subject, James L. Standridge, minister at the Church of Christ, boldly announced that "it was not fit to print."

In view of the announcement of the minister, there appears but one way to find out what that subject is—go to church and find out. Mr. Standridge stated that he had used the same subject on several occasions, but would never permit the subject to appear in print.

GETTING THE JOB DONE.

Kansas starts off in a big way setting an example for other states. The re-elected governor is reported as having pardoned one Ronald Finney who is alleged to have been sent up for 600 years. Shame on the reputations of Ma, Ross and Dan.

REFORMERS AND HUMAN NATURE.

There are those who still persist in "legislating people good." That idea has come to us from the Dark Ages and beyond. America first saw it during witchcraft persecutions. Later "Mother Grundy" days had full sway.

Our observation of reformers is that they are always in too big a hurry. They seem to think that the world could and should be made over in one day, and exactly to the reformer's ideas.

According to history, there has been many heroic attempts made to change human nature. We have heard about very few that succeeded in less than a hundred years. These were of minor importance. The greatest reform of all ages has come through knowledge. Education, properly directed, appears to have been crowned with more laurels of victory.

On the whole, perhaps, reformers do not do as much damage as some people imagine. People have been doing a fairly good job of reforming through the ages themselves. Leadership has been the most serious handicap. Today we have plenty of leaders, but of the wrong type in most instances.

The greatest reform movement of modern times was the NRA. It was promulgated or thrust upon unsuspecting victims by threats, scarecrow and in a few instances, fines are reported to have been paid in voluntarily. The NRA has irritated and provoked labor; it has worked a shocking injustice in numerous cases of small business men; it spread industrial unrest; it has given American laws some amazing victims whose treatment will forever stand out as strange and outrageous incidents in American annals; it has pleased some big manufacturers only in the sense that they thought it would dispose of the anti-trust laws definitely and permit them to maraud and plunder the public as they once did. If it had proven a success, Johnson still would have been running it. Neither scares, threats or chaotic conditions could sustain a scheme that was biased, constantly changing and indefinite both in form and purpose.

NEWS OF THE ADULT SCHOOLS

Sloan Baker returned recently from Austin with a lot of news of different kinds. It is all more or less interesting, but one thing in particular is good news to us—Adult schools will continue until June the first. That will give every body a chance to learn things a while longer.

Here's a course that might do us all good. They're studying the Bible from cover to cover every Monday, Wednesday and Friday in the Judge's office of the courthouse under the leadership of Mrs. Lackey. There has been a great bit of interest shown so far.

We fear we are going to lose our supervisor, Earle Jones. They want to transfer him to Sherman to supervise workers' education there. He has organized some good classes here who won't like this idea of leaving. The Jones' will stay here until February, tho.

Our weekly teachers' meetings to further the cause of adult education all and all that are quite beyond the power of a limited vocabulary to describe. Everybody teaches such varying subjects, from how to darn socks to the old age pension, and we all talk at once. Clever idea, No? It saves a lot of time at least, and you don't get bored for you can't hear anyone but yourself most of the time if your lungs don't weaken.

We had almost a full house last Thursday night. The program was impromptu as usual and went something like this: plenty of music at close intervals, fiddle and guitar; some negro spirituals, good one too, by the colored choral club; a short talk on the making of macaroni as the "educational" event on the program; a lot of songs gotten up on the spur of the moment; and a very short talk by "Pop" Herndon who didn't seem overjoyed at being made to talk.

A slight variation in our Thursday night program: from now on every other Thursday night the program will continue as it has been just a sort of impromptu musical program sponsored by the typing and dramatics classes. Then the other Thursdays the other teachers will put on a program that is more in keeping with the school idea. There'll be more variety in case you don't like breakdowns. This Thursday—music; next Thursday—the school program.

The oldest pupil to date is a lady seventy four years old. She is in Leone Merritt's homemaking class. There is a native Scotchman in another class.

There'll be the one act comedy "Goodmorning, Teacher" on one of the Thursday programs before very long. The play "Bertie's Cave Woman" starts its tour of the County Friday at Ashtola, going from there to Giles Tuesday; Mc Knight, Wednesday and several other places.

Here's a brief resume of what the other teachers are doing: Mrs. Hall is still at the business of teaching people how to speak English. She ought to be good for there's nothing wrong with her English and that's something. There is another expert in her line of teaching—Gladys Wright. What she doesn't know about home economics there are not many other people who know. Lucy Garrison is teaching them how to make baskets since they took to the paper flower business so enthusiastically.

Two new teachers have been added to the force—Mr. Earthman who will teach singing. Lucky break for you who sing, and Miss Ferriss who will teach adult classes.

—Maude Crawford.

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

J. Perry King, Pastor

There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

Education, medical science and religion have three of the most worthy ideals known to man. We are making progress in all three of these fields of activity. Perhaps education and medical science at this time are far in advance of religion in penetration. It seems that education has gone beyond the twenty yard line toward their goal and medical science is not very far behind, but religion is still in mid-field. The object of education is to rid the world of ignorance. The object of medicine is to rid the world of disease. The object of christianity is to rid the world of sin. Surely Dr. Luke was right when he said, "for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light." We rejoice in the advancement of education and urge the complete co-operation of every citizen with the P. T. A. and the splendid faculty of our school in making this the best year in our history.

Every one of us rejoice to know that the average life is being lengthened and the danger of disease is being lessened through the skill of medical science. Cancer, tuberculosis and leprosy are being successfully treated and even cured. We are learning how to combat and control disease to the delight of all our hearts.

The plague of the world is sin. If this could be abolished everything would be perfect. That is what christianity proposes to do. A gigantic task, but we are making progress. Not as much as we ought, because we have too many sin loving world conforming church members. Won't you stop and think seriously for a moment about your relationship to the world as a professed follower of Christ? We are in the biggest business in the world. We are fighting the greatest battle ever fought on this earth, and you are careless, and unconcerned, and neglectful of your duty as a christian and church member. Don't do it any longer. Victory is coming, and you will want to have a part in the triumph over sin.

BANK LOANS-----

Banks make money by making loans. Making sound loans implies periodic reductions according to promise, and complete repayment within a reasonably short period.

This is necessary because the bank has a three-fold obligation: to depositors he promises a safe return of funds; to borrowers accommodation in turn; to stockholders a reasonable return on their investment.

I'd like to be a millionaire
And travel near and far;
I'd like to fly up in the air
And touch the highest star;
I'd like to do a lotta things
But this is one that vex us—
I'd hate to be a nudist now
In the Panhandle of Texas.

After several conferences with my good friend J. Nelson Riley anent the eel story last week in which his brother-in-law was alleged to have accumulated a 50-foot eel skin garden hose, permit me to say that there were two eels—one had swallowed the other. (P. S. This explanation ought to clear up his good name, and if it does not, this story will be boiled down to the point to where each eel swallowed the other and there wasn't a blamed thing to it.

A local girl thought a talk on "Mess Management" was to be made by the manager of a Hollywood star, but found out later that it was a table talk by an army officer.

Which reminds us of the story of the old lady who sang "Jesus Paid it All" through a set of false teeth for which she had been owing the local dentist for 20 years.

Some girls evidently think "expression" is making faces while they sing.

Fashion Note: These are the days that call for slippers and gingham dresses in the middle of the day, and a fur coat and galoshes in the evening.

Men are funny guys. Here's where a fellow in Tulsa had not kissed his wife for five years, but killed an iceman who did.

A fashion note says, "it lifts it from the mediocre to the glamorous category." Now from where to where, is the next question.

When prohibition came into being, silo-building had a big run. Silo juice was declared better than corn likker. When prohibition failed to prohibit, the silos began to go down. They's mighty few remains of 'em left now.

Over in Oklahoma they are staging a play, "Ten Bar Rooms in a Night." It is similar to an old play of almost the same name, except that the father and daughter exchange places.

As a supplement to our public school system of teaching, would it not be possible to start up old-fashioned "spelling bees" again? The old blue-back speller never supplied such a fund of spelling talent as did the custom of the rural communities along about that time. We had "spelling matches" and plenty of them. In some of the larger centers spelling matches are now becoming popular. Our public schools have omitted spelling almost entirely, and the average student, even though a college graduate, is a poor speller and does not learn where to divide a word. They do not know any more about syllables than a hog does a sidesaddle, as the folks used to say in drawing comparisons.

In the national spelling match for elders which included any one, college graduate or otherwise, closing last week, Phye's "5,000 Words Often Misspelled" was the text used. The following words finally trimmed down the last dozen of the spellers:

Apparel, beleaguen, veilum, aberration, dyeing, frolicking, vinaigrette, vivisepulture, venous, planxty, buhr and olibanum.

In France radio receiving sets are taxed. No advertising is permitted over the broadcasting stations. Most of the European nations own the radio stations and support them through a receiving set tax. That would be a good plan for Uncle Sam to follow, provided he could get Mexico to trim up on XEPN which appears to be the most diabolical, conglomerated mess on the air.

Sheeza Fizzle in discussing her imaginary choice, says she would prefer a young man with more elbow grease and less hair oil.

Grandmother back in 1890:

COUGHING, WEAK AND THIN AFTER FLU

"I nearly died from 'flu' last October, and it left me with a terrible cough. I saw Milks Emulsion advertised and started using it. It helped me right from the start. I had no appetite and my stomach was in bad shape. But 12 bottles have straightened me out entirely. I eat anything without distress, my cough is gone and I have gained back my strength and flesh."—Emma Withers, Box 50, Belmont, N. C.
Milks Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action. Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Wonderful for weak, sickly children. You are urged to try Milks Emulsion. Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. Kids in my day peeked into a doctor's book to learn something of the facts of life. Now they go to a movie or listen to a conversation around a bridge table.

"That gal is so tough she uses embalming fluid as a chaser," is the way a local boy described a girl from another town visiting here Christmas.

It has gotten so in some places that when "papa" gets drunk and drives into a wreck, the local doctor rushes out and says, "poor old man. He has had another of those awful heart attacks." Have a court of inquiry? Nah!!

BANKS A PARTNERSHIP
A bank properly serving a community is, strictly speaking, a co-partnership composed of borrowers, depositors and stockholders.
Borrowers are those who merit consideration because of an established credit standing in the community. Depositors are those who prefer a safe place to keep their funds, and a prompt return of their funds when needed. Stockholders have every reason to expect a reasonable return on their investment.

Donley County Rich In Fossil Remains Attracts National Museum Attention

Some of Rarest Remains of Prehistoric Monsters Are Found Here. State Relief Office Makes First Appropriation To Collect Specimens for Canyon Museum

An appropriation of $720.00 has been made through the State Relief office to pay laborers for the collection of fossil remains for the Panhandle-Plains Museum at Canyon. Work is to begin just as soon as arrangements are made for a supervisor.

Local fossil beds first began to attract attention back in 1890 when a party by the name of Girdley explored a portion of the field in the interests of an eastern Museum. More explorations were made in 1898, and in 1913 Lowell and Matthews, and possibly others, secured rare specimens for eastern museum exhibits.

It was about this time that a complete specimen of "two-toed" horse was found, possibly the only one in America intact, and now a part of the Donley county collection in Peabody Museum.

Interest in the local field waned until the appearance of an article in the Staff-Telegram on August 26, 1928. The title of the article was "The Parade of the Prehistorics", written by Jerome D. Stocking and illustrated with actual photos and pen drawings by Harold D. Bugbee.

Immediately, A. L. Johnson of Gobi desert fame, came to look over the field. It was Johnson's party to find the first dinosaur eggs in the Mongolian desert. At that time the eggs sold for fifty thousand dollars each since the dinosaur egg market was anything but glutted. Later the same kind of eggs were found in small quantities in the Utah bad lands.

Johnson made a number of collections of fragments of horse, camel, mastodon, mammoth and elephant for the American Museum of Natural History. A crew representing the same museum have been working here for the past several months.

Bill Skelton a few years ago found a very rare specimen of 48-inch "phytosaur" lower jaw bone in Palo Duro canyon. Two fragmentary specimens of this marine animal, said to be millions of years old, are now on exhibit at the Amarillo hotel.

Possibly no other living man has a more accurate knowledge of the local field than Will Chamberlain, or has found more rare specimens or shipped more individual "finds" to museums. His best specimens are ancient land turtle, mastodon skull complete, rhino and the predecessor of the rhino family.

Efforts are being made to secure a larger appropriation that Panhandle prehistorics may be preserved in a museum in the section where they have lain through the ages.

WINDY VALLEY SCHOOL NEWS

Mr. Earthman of Clarendon will teach a singing school at Windy Valley. The community will vote on what time he shall be with us. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The R. C. A. workers have finished the seesaws and swings. Everyone sure is proud of them.

The basketball boys will soon be able to invite other boys down here to play basketball because the court has been repaired sufficiently for play.

Last Thursday night Jan. 10, the seventh grade entertained the eighth grade at the Windy Valley school house with a party. The eighth grade was royally entertained with several amusing games after which delicious refreshments were served to the following: Alvin Darnell, Leola and Opal Hudson, Jemy Jewel and Bartlett Nichols, Lynn and Monroe Giles, Jo Nell Stogner, Robbie Lee and J. T. Russell, Nona, Clea and Wallace Riffle, Lola Marie Ayers, Lucille Parker, Oceia Black, Theo and Dalton Swinney, Melvin and Clyde Skinner, Ray and Leo Paulk, Jack Simmons, Milford Mays, J. F. Fortney, Mr. and Mrs. Batson, Miss Baley, Host and Hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson.

The basketball boys intend to play Hudgins one evening this week. We hope to have the pleasure of beating them. They played Chamberlain last Thursday evening, Jan. 10, the score was 9 to 12 in favor of Chamberlain. We hope to have the pleasure of playing them again.

Everyone is reviewing for mid-term exams this week. They will start taking them Friday. The seventh grade has just finished studying Africa in Geography. They are taking up Asia and are making a map putting in the mountains, grassland, forest, locating iron ore, gold, diamonds, silver, copper and tin.

The eighth is doing very nicely in all their subjects. PRIMARY ROOM In the third grade Geography we are keeping a weather report of each day.

We're all learning to cut letters. We are posting them on construction paper. We have made them to the letter "J". We have cut snowmen of white paper and mounted them on purple. For another winter poster we have a snow hill against a gray sky, with a child dressed in orange, rolling a snowball.

H. C. thought that he knew more than Mrs. Batson but he has changed his mind. She told us just before recess not to pump water in our new swings. During recess though, he pumped water and took a tumble out of the swing. As a result he has a swollen lip and scratches all over his face.

Mrs. Batson lost her keys the other day. After looking everywhere and causing a lot of confusion, she found them in her pocket. H. C. is very proud of his new horse.

INTERMEDIATE INCIDENTS We thought it rather odd to be making pictures of snowmen now because it hasn't snowed yet, but we didn't want to run the risk of waiting until it did. We made a picture of a little boy and girl making a snow man. He has a broom in one hand and a black hat on his head.

While we were coloring our snowmen we read a poem about a snowman named Sir Benjamin Buzz. He started to melt as a snow man does. He first noticed his whiskers go lolloping by, then he saw his chest slipping away thru his coat and vest. He noticed the spot he had been on, and when he looked for himself he found he was gone.

All of the talk this week is about mid-term examinations. We all wish we had studied harder a long time ago and not waited until now to learn so many things. Mr. Jackson's room gave a party last Thursday night. Some of us were invited. The entertainment was supervised by Mrs. Batson, and we enjoyed the games she introduced, very much. Hot chocolate and cake were served to those who were not invited as well as those who were.

Mr. Jackson was absent from school Monday and the seventh grade stayed in our room most of the day. You should have seen the other teachers hurrying around trying to find time to have all of their classes and Mr. Jackson's, too.

SOME OF THE MOST INTERESTING HISTORY OF TEXAS NEVER PUBLISHED

Through the cooperation of the Office of Publicity of the University of Texas, the Leader will print a series of articles dealing with the early history of Texas recently recovered and known as the "Bexar Archives" translations.

These articles, most of which appear only in Spanish, date from 1731. The translation of the Bexar Archives by the University of Texas at this time, on the eve of the celebration of the Texas Centennial, is extremely fortuitous, and the management of the Leader feels that many of our readers will take a delight in saving these articles in scrapbook form.

The facts that the Bexar Archives contain the richest mine of information on the pre-revolutionary days of the province of Texas available anywhere, and that this historic material has never before been transcribed from the original Spanish documents comprising the collection make the translations that have been done by the University of unique importance in the fields of history and education.

Another series of articles dealing with outstanding figures in Texas history, beginning with Stephen F. Austin and Wm. B. Travis, then continuing in alphabetical order with men who contributed to the building of the empire of Texas.

These articles will appear weekly throughout the year. The first of the series appears this week. Since this history is authentic, the articles may be used to good advantage in school history classes.

"Crazy Politics" is Coming February 7-8th

Rehearsals of "Crazy Politics", the master stage show being sponsored by St. John's Episcopal Auxiliary, will begin January 21st.

This clever comedy will be staged February 7-8th at the College Auditorium with a cast of 100 prominent local people.

This play has been staged by worthy organizations all over the United States with most unusual success. It is not the usual home talent entertainment but a master stage show written particularly for community production.

The setting of the show is the headquarters of the People's Party. The political party of Centerville is holding a caucus to nominate a candidate for the office of mayor, and wishing to run a dignified campaign, they nominate Mrs. Courtney Van Dyne, who is traveling in Europe at the time. She falls to return at the appointed time and a newspaper reporter, Pat O'Donnell, masquerades in her place.

There are many comic situations that work into an unusually good plot. There are girls dancing choruses which will be chosen from the high school, and 25 prominent business and professional men will appear in the caucus at the opening show. A list of the cast will appear in the Leader next week. Look for it.

COLOR SCHEMES IN KITCHEN MAKE SURROUNDINGS CHEERFUL

Modern housewives are taking a tip from industry and business and are discovering that it pays to have the kitchen a bright and cheerful place. Efficiency is raised by a cheerful environment, as well as step-saving design and labor-saving equipment, whether in the store, factory or kitchen.

Fresh color will work wonders in brightening up the kitchen as well as the breakfast room if it is a part of, or adjoins the kitchen through an open arch-way. The color choice depends not only upon individual taste but is influenced by the number and size of windows and outside light which enters the room. Light blue, green or gray walls are appropriate if the kitchen is sunny, but a comparatively dark kitchen often requires a soft yellow finish.

The kitchen cabinets and woodwork are cheerful when painted in green, lavender, orange, or some other bright color. If the plumbing is colored, the other colors used in the room should harmonize with it.

Likewise, the breakfast nook may be gayly colored. Orange, yellow, and the like, sometimes trimmed in black, are suitable. Flowers or other designs painted on the ends of seats, the top of the breakfast table and similar places, serve as decorations.

Light, bright, airy curtains harmonizing with the interior painting set forth a note of cheerfulness and cleanliness. Kitchen floors, of course, should not be neglected. They should not only fit into the color scheme, but should be practical as well as artistic.

Mrs. Roy Reed and Miss Grace Riddle of Amarillo were guests in the Karl Adams home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jacobs announce the birth of a son, Mayburn Herbert, born on the 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hurn and daughter, Mrs. Van Zandt of Post, were Amarillo shoppers Wednesday.

TEXAS HISTORY RECENTLY FOUND AND TRANSLATED—NEVER BEFORE PRINTED

(Note: The following is the first of a series of weekly articles taken from the Bexar Archives at The University of Texas. This collection, considered the greatest single historical treasure on the North American continent, has been catalogued and is now being translated by The University of Texas. It consists of 400,000 pages of original Spanish handwritten documents comprising the official archives of the Mexican government for the Department of Bexar, which covered almost the whole of what is now the State of Texas, for the period from 1731, soon after Tejas became a separate province of Mexico, to 1836, to the Battle of San Jacinto. This series of articles will consist principally of quotations from the documents, many of which have heretofore been unpublished, and will reveal for the first time what actually transpired during the century in which Texas was transformed from a wilderness inhabited only by savage Indian tribes to an independent American republic.)

SERIES I, No. 1

Austin, Texas, Jan. 15.—Generations ago it was predicted that the translation of the documents in the Bexar Archives might necessitate the re-writing of many portions of Texas history. For years it was the dream of historians that these valuable records should be transcribed and translated. That vision is at last on the way to being realized.

When Texas won its independence, and an Anglo-American seat of government was set up within the new republic, the Mexican capital at San Antonio was abandoned. During the century that Mexico rules over Texas, San Antonio, now county seat of the county of Bexar, was the official seat of government of the Department of Bexar and from San Antonio all of Texas was governed. The capital of Texas as a republic was never located in San Antonio, and consequently the official archives of Bexar did not become a part of the archives of the Republic, but fell into the possession of Bexar County.

Far-sighted historians realized the importance of having these records translated, but lack of funds and lack of interest on the part of competent persons blocked the project. Legislative appropriation was eventually made for the task, and a translator appointed. Little progress was made. Funds were finally dissipated.

In 1898, an agreement was reached between the officials of Bexar County and The University of Texas, whereby these rare documents, in their entirety, were to be deposited in the University library. The materials were to be arranged, no semblance of chronological or other order having existed previously, and translations were to be made. Copies of the records, as translated, were to be furnished to the commissioners' court of Bexar County.

After removal of the priceless archives to the University library, there was still lack of financial support. Mrs. Mattie Austin Hatcher, University archivist, among a multitude of other duties, had charge of the Bexar collection. Handicapped by the lack of even a filing clerk, she worked alone. Each day she managed to retrieve a few minutes of her time to spend on the Bexar Archives. Without assistance, she has assorted the hundreds of thousands of documents, has catalogued them chronologically and according to subject matter. That calendar, or index, is now complete, and the archives are in order for systematic translation. It was in the spring of 1934, just as Mrs. Hatcher was in the last stages of making the calendar, that fortune came the way of University historians. Federal funds were allotted to the University for student relief work, and a corps of University students were set to work checking and re-checking each document and making copies of each index card. The University Board of Regents then appointed an official translator for the Bexar Archives, Juan Haggard-Villasana, a graduate of the University and a Spanish scholar.

In former years, translations have been made of certain documents in the Bexar Archives recognized as unusually important, but the first orderly translation of the whole collection is now under way. The period from 1803 to 1821 was recognized as the most significant one in the history of early Texas, and the documents covering this era are the ones first to be translated. It was in 1803 that the sale of Louisiana made Texas a frontier province and a bone of contention between the United States and Spain. It was in 1821 that Mexican independence was established, opening the way for American immigration to Texas.

When the Bexar Archives came into the possession of the University in 1898, Lester G. Bugbee, then instructor in history at the University and later adjunct professor, prepared a brief description of this collection which was published in the San Antonio Express, September 23, 1898. It was later reprinted in pamphlet form, a copy of which is in the rare book section of the University's Texas Collection. His article points out the international significance of Texas' strategic position.

"The Spanish occupation of Texas is inseparably connected with the French occupation of Louisiana," Mr. Bugbee wrote. "The founding of the missions around Nacogdoches and San Antonio is but a chapter in the history of the conflict between France and Spain for the possession of the country west of the Red River. Spain's first attempt at occupation, which was occasioned by the landing of the French La-Salle on the shores of Matagorda Bay, proved a complete failure, and in a few years Texas was again an uncivilized wilderness. Then Louisiana fell under the control of a commercial company that was more interested in opening a contraband trade with Mexico than in defending its sovereign's title to the vast wilderness to the west; under the auspices of this company, another Frenchman whom we know in Texas history as Saint-Denis, aroused Spanish jealousy by penetrating the forbidden country. But he told such tales of the willingness of the French to yield the disputed territory, and of their desire to open trade with Mexico, that the Spanish authorities resolved to seize the opportunity to take possession; and thus it was that, under the guidance of Saint-Denis, and with the tacit consent of his superiors in Louisiana, the missions and forts around Nacogdoches and San Antonio came into existence during the years immediately following 1716. This was the beginning of the permanent occupation of Texas.

"The French soon became hostile again, and from this time to 1763 the theme of greatest interest in Texas history is the attempt of the French to drive out the Spanish to hold the country by civilizing and Christianizing the native tribes. Such was the political and humanitarian use made of the missions.

"A frontier settlement which joined an unfriendly neighbor needed a government of its own, so that in 1727 Texas was constituted a separate province. San Antonio was made its capital, and, but for one or two brief intervals, remained so until Texas became a Republic. All the official business of the few settlements was managed by the governor of the province, who was also military commandant, and thus began the accumulation of papers which we now call the Archives of Bexar.

"When Mexico gained its independence the province of Texas became Department of Bexar, which still included nearly all the territory of the present State, and was at that time, one of the administrative units of the State of Coahuila and Texas. The size of this department was not diminished until a very few years before our revolution, the district of Nacogdoches being set off in 1831 and that of Brazos in 1834. So we can say with a near approach to the truth that all the business of government relative to Texas between the dates 1727 and 1835 was carried on from San Antonio and is recorded in these papers.

"It would be an endless task, even if one possessed the information, to enumerate the events and subject mentioned in these papers. Here reposes the history of Texas to 1835,—the complete story of the rise, rule and fall of the Spanish power between the Sabine and the Rio Grande; the voluminous details of the ceaseless war against hostile tribes, with innumerable tales of thrilling incident and tragic horror; the Spanish account of the long struggle with the French; the record of the unselfish toiling of patient missionaries; the Spanish version of the quarrel between the United States and Spain; the wild story of the Mexican revolution, so intimately connected with Magee and Long; reports from the neutral ground of the gathering of turbulent crowds around Nacogdoches; and finally, the coming of the Anglo-American, the building up of the settlement, and the Revolution."

COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

By Sloan Baker
County Supt. Schools

A number of the schools of Donley County are taking advantage of the grants allowed by the Texas Relief Commission for improvement and beautification of their grounds and buildings. Lelia Lake has just finished building tennis courts, roquet ground, and leveling the school yard. The school is asking for a supplementary grant for other improvements. Windy Valley has painted all the inside wood work in the school building, making ing the building lighter, put on a new roof, planted trees, built flower beds which has added very much to the attractiveness of the school yard and grounds. Goldston just finished extensive improvements under one grant, and are now working under a supplementary grant. Goldston built sanitary units, dug a cesspool for teacherage, put in a better water system and put caliche on their school grounds and ball courts. Their new grant will be used in improvements on added play ground which the trustees recently purchased. Smith and McKnight schools are just starting work on grants allowed last week by the Texas Relief Commission. New applications for improvements on Fairview, Hudgins, Sunnyview, Chamberlain, Skillet, Martin and Ashtola amounting to twenty two hundred dollars has been sent to Austin. These school repair jobs meet with the enthusiastic approval of the Texas Relief Commission.

The adult classes in Donley county will be extended until the last of May. Adult Education in Texas is to be permanent. A course of study is now being formulated for next year. The County Superintendent applied for fourteen more teachers last Saturday under this set up.

The Interscholastic League meet will be held in Clarendon the 22nd and 23rd of March.

Some of the statements which were made at the County Superintendents Conference in Austin by the leading educators of the state are these:

"Our schools should teach the pupil how to live and how to make a living."—Dr. L. A. Woods.

"District one, which is the Panhandle of Texas, is not only first in number but first in educational achievements and opportunities."—Deputy State Superintendent Bryan Dickson.

"The chief purpose of curriculum revision is to form an outline study that will lead to the making of better citizenry in Texas."—Director of Curriculum Revision W. A. Stigler.

"Music is fundamental—music should be required and not extra curricula."—Miss Nell Parmley, Director of State Music Program.

"There is beauty and art in a report which is exact and correct."—H. S. Alves, Assistant Superintendent in Accounting.

"Rural aid is based on need."—A. A. Bullock, Director of Rural aid.

"If I were a new county Superintendent, I would first make an educational map of my county."—J. W. O'Banion, Director Supervision.

"It is the purpose of the State Department of Education to give every child in the State of Texas an equal opportunity for an affiliated high school education through transportation and high school tuition."—Miss Myrtle L. Tanner.

"Standard tests should be given in every grade in every school in Texas, especially in reading. If we have taught a pupil to really read, we have accomplished our goal in education."—Miss Edgar Ellen Wilson, Assistant State Superintendent.

"Three thousand four hundred and sixteen teachers are employed in the adults schools in Texas. Adult Education will have a permanent place in the educational development of Texas citizens."—George H. Fern, Director of F. E. R. A.

Miss Nell Parmley of Denton, Director of Music in Texas, will be our guest at the Texas History Pageant in Donley County.

Miss Mildred Martin is visiting in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong have moved to Clovis, New Mexico where he will operate a farm recently purchased, and expects to enter the grocery business.

MIDWAY

(Mrs. John Goldston)

Sunday school and church were well attended at Midway Sunday. Rev. Allen of Lelia Lake filled his regular appointment.

The B. Y. P. U. which has been organized here seems to be progressing nicely. Quite a bit of interest is taken in it by our young folks.

Knee Action is Optional On Chevrolet

New York, Jan. 15.—Amplifying his announcement of prices of the two new Chevrolet lines for 1935, W. E. Holler, general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, today stated that enclosed knee action, optional on the Master De Luxe models, will be available at an additional charge of $20 list. Mr. Holler predicted that at least 90 per cent of persons buying Master models in 1935 would exercise the option and obtain knee action at the small price difference involved.

Mr. Holler emphasized the fact that knee action will be built in at the factory, not installed by the dealer.

"Chevrolet's knee action mechanism," he said, "is an integral part of the car. It cannot be installed as an accessory. There will be no conversions in the field. Cars will be available both with and without knee action, but they will be built complete at the factory, where special machinery, skilled workers, and other factors all focus on the production of this major feature, which is offered only by Chevrolet and builders of higher-priced cars."
