Donley County 4th War Loan Quota Announced

It was announced this week by J. R. Porter, County Chairman, that the 4th War Loan Quota for Donley County has been set at $299,000, considerable less than the quota of the 3rd War Loan which was $464,500. Mr. Porter stated that of the total quota set this time, $91,000 is to be sold in Series E Bonds. Any bonds sold after January 1st and through February are to be counted on Donley's quota.

Announcing $395,000,000 (millions) as the goal set for Texas' share in the $14,000,000,000 (billions) Fourth War Loan Drive, Nathan Adams of Dallas, State Chairman for the volunteer bond sales-force throughout Texas, Saturday mailed to each chairman in the 254 counties of Texas a letter giving the individual county's quota for a sales effort designed to place more bonds in the hands of plain citizens than have ever before been distributed in any previous bond drive.

RATIONING AT A GLANCE

By PEPPY BLOCKER

Extension to January 8 of the deadline for retail grocers to file applications for ration tokens was announced today by The War Price and Rationing Board, who reported at the same time that a limited supply of necessary forms are available at board headquarters.

"OPA has extended this deadline because of grocers' rush of business during the holiday season," the Board said. The original deadline was December 15. A second deadline of December 31 was set but later extended.

Because the ration token plan will go into effect in February, it will be necessary for grocers to file their token applications with their ration banks, not the local War Price and Rationing Board, on or before January 8th.

Two billion ration tokens, slightly smaller than a dime, will begin flowing throughout the nation February 27, bringing several changes in rationing foods. They will be given as change by retailers for the familiar ration stamps.

Much publicity has been given to the phrase "the 64-dollar question," but a member of one of the local War Price and Rationing Boards in Region Five received the $64 letter December 13. The text of the letter as it was received follows:

Tsk, Tsk and Tsk—Those Dirty Japs

This Marine was struck by shrapnel during the battle for Tarawa. His buddy is shown here giving him first aid. But what a lot of kidding he received from the others when he reported the location of his wound. "Where were you wounded, buddy?" These fighting Marines are buying their share of War Bonds. Are you?

Action in the Gilbert Islands

Marines duck for cover as their own dive-bombers roar overhead to blast Jap positions. In the background is an amphibian tractor (left) and a medium tank (center). There was little or no cover for the men when they landed on Tarawa's beach, as is plainly shown in this picture. Let's Back the Attack by buying extra War Bonds.

County War Price & Rationing Boards To Be Honored During January

In appreciation of two years of service to the American people which will be completed on January 5, 1944, the War Price and Rationing Boards are to be honored throughout the country during this coming week by service clubs, local defense councils, city governments and others. The Office of Price Administration is presenting to each board member having served a year or longer on a board in the Lubbock OPA district, a certificate of award for meritorious service.

The organization of the boards in the seventy-one counties in the Lubbock District, along with the other boards throughout the nation was begun immediately after Pearl Harbor when the War Production Board asked the Price Administration to set up a National system of rationing tires.

The Governor of each state and territory pledged his cooperation and on January 5, 1942, approximately 7,500 local boards located in 3,052 counties and manned by 20,000 volunteers opened their doors to receive applications and issue certificates for tires.

At the outset the local boards were called Tire Rationing Boards and each had but three members. These were designated as unpaid federal agents and were local citizens.

The boards had comparatively few people to deal with under the tire rationing program. But, Sugar rationing presented the tremendous task of providing simultaneously for everyone in the nation. At this time the word "Tire" was dropped from the title and the boards were called Rationing Boards.

One billion Ration books had to be printed and they were first distributed to county courthouses. From the courthouses the local boards distributed them to the school houses. Between May 4, and May 7, 1942 the boards, with the help of the school teachers all over America, completed the distribution of War Ration Book one.

The addition of subsequent programs necessitated the "Panelizing" of the Boards. This was started in May 1942 and the work was divided so that one segment of the Board was concerned with only one program, such as the tire panel, food panel, etc.

When the General Maximum Price Regulation was announced in April, 1942 Price activities were added to the functions of the Rationing Boards. The title of the local boards was changed to War Price and Rationing Boards.

The burden of supplying the world with food must fall upon four great plains areas—the middle United States, the Steppes of Russia and Siberia, the pampas of Argentina, and the central plains of Australia, Elmer Johnson, University of Texas geographer, declares. To feed the people of all nations, production of food must be increased and distribution problems solved, he asserts.

Gift Wrappings From Overseas Should Be Burned

Enemy troops haven't set foot on continental America, but there is danger of other alien enemies slipping through our guard. According to information from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, many serious insect pests have been discovered among the packing in Christmas and other parcels reaching this country from service men abroad.

Dr. H. G. Johnston, entomologist for the A&M College Extension Service, recommends burning this material promptly as the best safeguard against the escape of these dangerous pests. If allowed to escape, he said, the insects concealed in this packing material might create a new hazard for agriculture comparable to those which already have cost Texas farmers large losses in crops as well as money spent in efforts to control destructive infestation.

The danger was revealed when hundreds of living pink bollworms were found in packages coming through such widely scattered ports as Baltimore, New York, Philadelphia, and Houston, the USDA states. Many of the packages examined at the northern ports were on their way to families living in the Cotton Belt. Inspectors also have found rice straw and hulls used for packing in these gifts packages. Both of these materials are on the quarantine list because of the danger of introducing rice insects and disease.

The United States is the only big cotton country not generally affected by the pink bollworm, an insect capable of doing as much damage, if not more, than the boll weevil, Dr. Johnston explains. There has been some infestation in a few Texas border counties, but sharp restrictions are maintained against its spread.

To prevent the possibility of the pest getting a foothold from this new source beyond the control zone, the entomologist urges prompt destruction of boxes and packing by fire and not stored or put out with the trash where the insects might survive and find their way to gardens and fields.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

Draft boards make no distinction between roughnecks and sissies. And some of these fellows who went neatly dressed, shaved their necks and took a bath every Saturday night, are making durned good soldiers even if they are classed as sissies by some.

The germ that causes heads to swell, always picks out one with plenty of inside parking space.

The fellow who takes no chances, is he who wears both suspenders and a belt, and carries an extra shoe lace in his pocket.

The Germans say it is no trouble to spot Allied planes these days. If there is as many as three in a bunch, they are bound to be enemy planes because the Germans have lost most of theirs and scattered the rest to five different defense zones.

And about the time our boys get Hitler's back to the wall, he'll just around and go to papering again.

"That lets me out," yelled the old lady as her victory girdle dropped to the pavement.

One woman making out her tax income blank got down to the question: "husband's income." She filled in that blank by writing, "about midnight."

There is a growing sentiment against strikes and how they hinder the boys on the firing lines.

Not a bad idea too. Then work up sentiment against those who have and are now stealing from the government through contracts and otherwise and thus hampering the speed towards victory. Sentiment against both should be easily aroused.

And here's hoping all the sick folks will get well in a hurry. We've had more than our share of sickness this winter already. The flu and a lot of other things thrown in for good measure. Do folks get sick from being plain mean? I'm asking you!

1926 BOOK CLUB

The 1926 Book Club enjoyed one of the most varied programs of the season Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ralph Porter with Mrs. Porter and Mrs. B. G. Watson as hostesses.

The reviewer of the afternoon was ill, so the members of the club loaned their talent to twenty-two interested listeners.

Very timely articles on War activities and post war plans were given by some members while the more poetic group resorted to the rhyme. But what program would be complete without song? So vocal and piano renditions were given by our musical trained members.

The program included classical literature and music, love and romance, songs and stories of the serious and gay type, and even a portion of politics. Each number was greatly enjoyed by all present.

At the conclusion of the program the guest and members were invited into the dining room, where delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Jean and Helen Porter.

PUBLIC WANTS ALARM CLOCKS

"What are some of the shortages which have bothered you most /QM/. Nearly 5,000 persons throughout the country were asked this question, in a recent survey of consumer requirements made by the Office of Civilian Requirements. The most serious inconvenience and hardship is caused by the shortage of alarm clocks, although shortage of food affects the greatest number—followed in order of numbers by elastic, galvanized ware, some textile products, and alarm clocks. "Most of the needs brought out by this survey can and will be met," Arthur D. Whiteside, Vice-Chairman of OCR, said.

Waste Paper Needed to Ship War Supplies

Brown paper bags from the corner grocery store, cartons, and discarded newspapers, salvaged from American wastepaper baskets, are in the Army now. Transformed into cartons, special moisture-proof, and paperboard they protect all types of Army equipment shipped to the fighting fronts.

Radio tubes used by the Signal Corps have three parts—an easily shattered glass envelope, fine wires or brittle metal, and a breakable base. They must be carefully packed. To shockproof the smaller tubes, cardboard collars are used to keep them upright and suspended.

Glass and porcelain insulators are safeguarded against shock by large amounts of cushioning paper in the form of scrap and confetti.

The constantly increasing use of brown wrapping or Kraft papers and paperboard for shipping medical supplies is a guarantee to the soldier in combat that First-Aid dressings and anti-infection sulfadiazine tablets will reach him in prime condition, unaffected by weather conditions. The packaging of X-ray films protects them from the humidity of the tropics. Benzadrine sulfate, the drug which prevents a sleepiness in battle exhausted soldiers, is put up in paper packages.

Life-saving blood plasma is shipped in fibre containers. If civilians reduce their use of wrapping paper and bags by 25 percent, enough paper will be released to package all the blood plasma likely to be needed for men wounded in the war.

Paper also plays a vital part in protecting shipments of Army ordnance supplies from rough handling and corrosion. All openings and exposed surfaces of tanks are sealed with paper wraps. Spare parts are wrapped individually in paper composition and boxed in cardboard or fiberboard. Paper for military needs is a war weapon. Civilian use of paper must be reduced. Not a scrap of paper of any kind can be wasted.

TO KILL GAS BLACK MARKETS

In a new drive on gasoline black markets, OPA has asked distributors to "Screen Out" irregular coupons—any coupons that are counterfeit, expired, not yet valid, or not endorsed by the motorist. Filling stations also will be required to make good irregular coupons, and their inventory will be cut down by the amount of irregular coupons passed on to the wholesaler. Endorsement of coupons by motorists as soon as they receive ration books will aid OPA in proving that black market stations have purchased coupons to cover up illegal sales.

The Marines Can Take It

The bandaged Marine on the stretcher at a dressing station on Tarawa proves that he not only can dish it out but that he can also take it, as he calmly smokes a cigarette as traction is applied to a fractured leg. Note the flat, sandy beach that the Marines had to take first, before they could get at the Jap defenders. Every War Bond you buy backs up these fighting men.

New Radio Stations Guide Ferry Pilots

Ferrying of aircraft across the North Atlantic is being aided by six long-wave radio communication stations in the North Atlantic and Arctic areas. These stations, recently installed by the Signal Corps, Army Service Forces, now link the United States with Newfoundland, Labrador, Greenland, Iceland, and Great Britain.

and both coasts of the United States. In Greenland and Iceland, antennae had to be set in solid rock. For the Newfoundland station, a 180-foot tower was erected in the face of intense winds, and at another Arctic station the antenna had to be constructed to withstand winds of 160 mile-per-hour maximum velocity. Special roads were built for hauling of supplies and equipment from nearby air fields and harbors and, in several instances, roads already in operation were washed away by sudden cloudbursts.

The new long-wave network assures 24-hour radiotelegraph and radioteletype communications uninterrupted by atmospheric disturbances and magnetic storms. In peacetime, it may be used by commercial planes and other aircraft traveling Northern routes.

To complete this important network before the onset of winter, many obstacles had to be overcome. Army and civilian technical experts in radio construction were flown to northern points from Africa, South America, Alaska,

For the most part, equipment was flown to the sites of the new stations, but it was necessary to transport some of the heavier material by sea routes. Duplicate sets of equipment flown by plane also were carried aboard ships to guard against loss. In addition, each of the technical engineers and installation experts carried with him complete sets of tools and parts necessary to his particular assignment.

One of the most dramatic pictures to come out of this war shows a group of Marines just as they charge to take a heavy re-inforced Jap pill-box on Tarawa. It was such fighting as this that claimed so many casualties. The only way Marines could take pill-boxes of this type was to drive the Japs outside from the top of the pill-box, which exposed our men to Jap fire from other pill-boxes. How about buying an extra War Bond today to back up such fighting men as these?

Bailed-Out Navy Flyer Has Varied Rescue Equipment

No Navy flyer is looking for the opportunity to leave his plane and take a parachute hop to the open sea below, but should an emergency occur, the Navy has endeavored to provide him with the best possible safety equipment.

After the flyer has parachuted to the comparative safety of the sea and the immediate crisis in his life-saving operation is past, he may set himself up in what might be called emergency "light house-keeping" in his one-man, inflatable parachute-raft.

Very important among the unfortunate flyer's rescue equipment is the raft itself, with its air pump for inflating—in case the automatic carbon dioxide inflating device fails to work—and its rubber dipper for bailing out. In addition, the flyer has an inflated "Mae West" life jacket, a parachute back pack, and a seat pack. Once the raft is properly inflated, the pilot can crawl in, open his seat-pack, and have it ready for emergencies that might befall his one-man sea-going vessel.

This seat pack contains for the raft a pair of small hand paddles, two leak plugs, a repair kit, and a first aid kit. It also contains a can of emergency drinking water and a can of dye for a "sea-marker,"—a powder which can be used to make a huge colored spot in the water around the raft in case a possible rescuer comes in the vicinity. The "sea-marker" will remain visible for about two hours.

Should he be injured or ill the flyer next may be interested in his medical kit containing compresses, sulfadiazine, seasick remedy, boric acid, ointment for burns, morphine, and iodine.

Lastly the flyer will open his back pack. This pack includes 25 feet of cotton line, reflector (for sun-signalling), fishing kit, whistle, projector and Very cartridges (for signalling), waterproof electric light with an extra battery and light bulb, tarpaulin (or sail), head-net for protection against mosquitoes, safety pins, knife, adhesive, matches in waterproof container, compass, and equipment and chemicals for desalination of seven pints of sea water to make it drinkable. For ready-prepared food, the stranded flyer's pack contains a choice of pemmican (dehydrated meat and fat), chocolate, and malted milk tablets. He has also salt tablets to replace salt lost in perspiration.

To supplement his food supply, should rescue be long delayed, the flyer can turn to his fishing kit. And the Navy is taking no chances on his being an accomplished deep sea fisherman. Instructions on waterproof paper are provided in the kit. Among other things, these instructions tell him to use the enclosed pork rind as bait to catch little fish to use for bait to catch the big ones that will provide meat in substantial quantities.

The flyer's tarpaulin is yellow on one side and blue on the other for camouflage if necessary. His flashlight and his projector with Very cartridges are useful signalling devices at night. During the day, much of the flyer's time will be given over to searching for possible rescuers.

He is advised to keep flashing his sun-signalling mirror over the horizon even though he can see nothing, because the mirror has a range of 10 miles—farther than his eye can see.

Important in standardizing rescue equipment and making all equipment available to all the services has been the Liaison Committee on Emergency Rescue Equipment established by the joint U. S. Chiefs of Staff. Rescue equipment similar to the Navy equipment mentioned in this story is furnished by the Army to its flyers.

Mrs. Faye Scoggins returned to Florence, Arizona Saturday to resume her teaching duties, having visited here during the Christmas holidays.

O. L. Smith Jr. of near Dalhart visited his grandmother, Mrs. Monica Harvey and sister, Miss Joyce Smith, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McMurtry had for New Years dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McMurtry of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gentry and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Merchant of Amarillo were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Gentry.

Home-makers can take a tip from Navy cooks on soup making. They let soups cool after cooking so that the fat will rise. When it has hardened, they remove it and reheat the soup for serving. When the fat can no longer be used for cooking, it is turned in for glycerine.

GET FERTILIZERS NOW, SAY ADVISERS

Acceptance by farmers of immediate delivery of fertilizer—to avoid an acute labor, storage, and transportation shortage next spring—has been urged by the fertilizer industry advisory committee. If there is to be any relief next spring, farmers must get their fertilizer in the next few weeks. This is especially true of the heavy-using areas of the south.

Double dividends in lemon juice are the reward when the lemon is warmed up a few minutes before using. A good way is to cover it with warm water and let it steep for a few minutes before it is squeezed.

EXTEND HOG PRICE SUPPORT

Good and choice butcher hogs weighing from 270 to 300 pounds will be included in the Price Support Program, according to WFA. This temporary emergency measure became effective December 23 and is expected to encourage the more orderly marketing of hogs and to relieve the congested conditions existing in many of the principal markets. The action is intended to protect farmers from prevailing heavy discounts for hogs weighing over 270 pounds. The Hog Support Program previously applied to good and choice hogs weighing 200 to 270 pounds.

WFA requested that hogs weighing less than 200 pounds be kept off the market until congested conditions are relieved.

TIGHTENING UP ON NON-FATHERS

Local Selective Service Boards are tightening up on non-fathers, lessening the number of agricultural and occupational deferments for them and at the same time increasing the number of these deferments for pre-Pearl Harbor fathers, it was revealed by a comparison of local board reports for October 1 and December 1 by Selective Service National Headquarters. Total deferments in agriculture, December 1, were 1,606,661 of which 692,252 were fathers. This was an increase of 33,674 agriculturally deferred fathers between October 1 and December 1. Selective Service figures it will be required to furnish between 1,900,000 and 2,100,000 men to the armed forces between December 1 and July 1—Thus providing 700,000 to 900,000 replacements and bringing total strength of all forces, including WAVES and WACS, to 11,300,000. During October and November, an estimated 150,000 men were reclassified out of IV-F for reexamination by the armed forces.

SOME BUTTER PRICES INCREASED

Consumers will pay 1 or 2 cents more a pound for butter in most smaller independent stores as a result of a recent amendment to the butter price regulation by OPA allowing jobbers a mark-up of 2½ cents a pound to pay extra costs of many small deliveries.

Store leftovers, when practical, together in one dish, a dab of carrots, a bit of corn, a couple of potatoes pushed back in the refrigerator are likely to be forgotten and use up unnecessary space.

An EMPTY TIN CAN spoonful OF GREASE
Are Mighty Weapons in this War!

Superiority in the air... the prerequisite to victory on the battlefield... can only be attained by the use of hundreds of planes, bombers and fighters. These planes must be armed. The fighter must have thousands of rounds of machine gun bullets; the bomber must have bombs, fifty pounders or block-busters.

YOU, an American housewife, can help arm these planes. The spoonful of waste grease you pour into the empty tin can is a mighty weapon of war. The grease you save and sell to your local grocer goes into the making of nitroglycerine... the basic explosive used in bombs and bullets.

Our job here at your electric service company is to furnish the power that turns the wheels that makes the planes that carry the bombs and the bullets which your kitchen helped to furnish. The job of producing planes to secure and maintain superiority of the air is a job that only American industry backed by power produced in business managed, privately owned electric companies could accomplish.

Seven-eighths of all power used in war production is produced by companies operating under the American system of private enterprise.

KAPPA DINNER

Tuesday evening, Dec. 21, 1943, the Kappas had a Christmas dinner at Porters' house. The house was decorated with cedar and mistletoe and a large Christmas tree. The mantel was decorated with cedar and long red tapers, with Santa Clauses at each end. The centerpiece at the main table was a small red Christmas tree, surrounded by cedar with taper at each end. In the center of each small table was a holder surrounded by pine cones. The placecards, nut-cups and favors carried out the Christmas motif.

After a delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings, a program was put on by several of the members. Johnny Johnson gave two Christmas readings, Edith McCrary played a piano solo, "White Christmas," and Jeanie Porter told a Christmas story.

When the program was over, the Christmas gifts were exchanged. Everyone thought that this was one of the nicest affairs the Kappas have had.

THE DEATH OF OUR DARLING CHILD

(The unfortunate character in the following tear-rendered ballad is fictitious, and any resemblance to persons either living or dead, is, beyond all doubt, a super-natural)

It was a dark and stormy night and the sun was shining bright and the flowers they were drooping in the mud, When the doctors all decided that to save our darling child They'd have to stop the circulation of the blood.

Oh, they dipped our darling's head in a pot of boiling lead, And he squirmed and kicked and screamed and nearly cried, Then he yelled to all the doctors that he wished that he were dead.

And 'bout that time his ties turned up for he had died!

Our darling child was laid to rest, he was among the very best, All his life he had not cried or worried us, Now you think this is the end. Well, it is!

... a way to win a welcome wherever you go

Where you find democracy, you find the feeling of friendliness, of give-and-take—the spirit of neighborliness. It's made up of little things that mark a way of life: sports, fair play, movies, comics and swing music. A simple phrase like Have a "Coke" turns strangers into friends, the same in both hemispheres. Around the globe, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become the high-sign of the good-hearted.

BANGS TESTS
During December this office has received several inquiries requesting Bangs tests for milk cows. The services of a graduate veterinary can be obtained for scientific blood tests to determine Bangs Reactors.
In order to obtain this service for Donley County the following requirements are made:
1. A fee of sixty cents (.60) per head for each cow tested.
2. Each owner must have cows in small lot.
3. Each owner must furnish hand to hold cows.
4. To save tires, gasoline, and veterinary's time, he requires at least 40 cows to be tested each day. Persons in a community desiring tests should talk with neighbors and submit applications for tests for same day.
These tests are not made by Federal or State veterinary and future inspections or tests will not be made unless requested and paid for by owner. You are not required to test all cows and you can select the cows to be tested.
In case you are interested in having your cows tested for Bangs or T. B. reactors please file your request at the County Agent's office at Clarendon.
If it is not convenient for you to personally file your request, a letter addressed to County Agent giving your name, location of farm and number of cows to be tested will be satisfactory.

J. R. BULLS ANNOUNCES FOR CO. COMMISSIONER PRECINCT NO. 2

I wish to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for County Commissioner of Precinct 2.

I have lived in Precinct 2 twenty-three years. I have served as County Commissioner and I am sure that experience will be invaluable in times like we are going through the present time.
When War measures come up I feel like I will be able to cope with them as 3 of my 4 sons are in the armed forces. And I am sure that just such things will come to every county before final victory comes.

I want every voter in Precinct 2 to know that if elected I will discharge the duties of the office to the very best of my ability and that every one will be treated just alike.

I trust I will be able to see each of you personally before the election, if not, I want you to know that I will appreciate everything you do for me.

Your vote and influence is earnestly solicited.

"Bearing in mind that of 70,000,000 income recipients in the U.S.A. in 1943 about 13,000,000 are reported to own no United States bonds or stamps, our job in the January 18th through February 15th drive in Texas is to see that every possible one of our fellow-Texans who is not yet fighting for victory on the financial home-front is asked to participate," Mr. Adams said. "In my opinion, every Texan with an income will participate if asked to buy; he or she merely needs a reminder that his or her boy in the fighting forces needs his or her support financially so that victory can be speeded, the home-coming can be hastened, and the value of the dollar be preserved to give our returning military sons the best possible conditions under which to resume civilian life."
