Couple Battling Against Want Makes Object Lesson For Those More Fortunate

Nothing draws forth more genuine admiration and human sympathy than genuine team work on the part of young couples with children, when adversity enters that home.

Just such a couple is Mr. and Mrs. Lee Spencer of Clarendon. Lee is incapacitated because of poor health and lack of strength to fight against the uneven battle that confronts the family at this time.

The family consists of the parents and two sons, one aged four, and a babe of ten months. They reside in the northeast part of town a block north of the W. H. Burnam home.

Mrs. Spencer is employed one and a half days each week in the relief sewing room. She leaves home carrying the babe which weighs approximately twenty-eight pounds. The babe is carried by the mother about one and half miles to the home of Mrs. O. S. Jones back of the Junior High school, who cares for it during the day. For a time it was necessary for Mrs. Spencer to visit the babe at the noon hour that it might nurse. Weaning the babe has saved her the steps that are now avoided thus permitting the mother to rest at the noon hour.

She continues to carry her babe three miles each day while working.

Neither of the parents are willing to accept relief if other employment may be had. Mr. Spencer has worked on and off relief jobs whenever possible. Both bear a good reputation. Both are willing to 'carry on' under the most trying circumstances.

There is "team work" in the Spencer home seldom found in the human family. An object lesson for the more fortunate. Living in a shack, existing on a meager earning, has not dulled the energy of this couple whose enthusiasm goes steadily on with the eternal spark of hope ever burning brightly.

TWISTER VISITS TOMLINSON HOME SUNDAY EVENING

No Personal Injuries Made As Family Seeks Shelter Of Storm Cellar

Preceding the rain to the northwest of Clarendon about 8 o'clock Sunday evening, three small twister clouds developed, only one of which did any damage. Dozens watched the cloud from a safe distance, many miles away.

Coming from the southwest and traveling in a northeasterly direction one twister struck the home on the farm of Mrs. W. S. Nobles occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tomlinson of the Martin community.

The parents and two children had taken refuge in the storm cellar, the door of which was torn off by the wind. The house was moved about twenty feet to the east and jammed against a large tree leaving it a twisted mass.

Large trees in the yard were uprooted and dropped almost where they formerly stood. One cedar tree about 18 inches in diameter was uprooted.

Shingles from the barn roof were scattered. The chicken house and other outbuildings were torn down.

Another twister was seen to strike in a field less than a mile distant. Still another twister struck the ground north of the river. With the exception of the Tomlinson home, no other buildings were in the path of either of the clouds.

A heavy rain accompanied by hail larger than hen eggs fell over the Ashtola country the same evening.

A number of neighbors were on the ground early Monday to reconstruct the home of the Tomlinsons.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jacobs was burned about 8 p. m. Friday. The young couple was visiting in the home of Jeff Talley at the time.

The home and contents were a total loss. N. M. McGlone was the first man to reach the scene, but not until too late to save anything.

Mr. McGlone and L. M. Putman, also of the Hudgins community, were in town Monday receiving contributions to assist Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs in getting started to housekeeping again.

Mother's Day Reunion Held At Patching Home

May 12th will long be remembered as one of the bright milestones in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Patching of this city, who came to the Panhandle in pioneer days. Mr. Patching was a cowpuncher back in the late 80's as a beginner from the Cross Timber section.

The family reunion in the home of these esteemed citizens included their children and grandchildren. The mother was presented gifts in honor of Mother's Day. A bountiful dinner was spread, the makings having been brought by the sons and daughters who wished to take the proud parents by complete surprise.

The family gathering included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Patching and daughter Dorothy Joe of Tulsa; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patching and daughters Mary Jane and Meredith Jean of Goodnight; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Patching and children Bobbie Edd and Joe Ann of Happy; Mr. and Mrs. John Harris and sons Vern and Fred Wayne of McLean; Mr. and Mrs. C. Hail and Wind Damages At Brice Monday

Water covered the highway from the Gillespie gin to Brice Monday morning following the rain cloud that passed to the east over that section.

The cloud was accompanied by a high wind that blew the flue and a portion of the roof off the school building. A vacant garage south of the postoffice was blown down.

The heavy rain did not reach farther south of Brice than to the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mc Murtry, it is said.

RAIN AND HAIL COVER WIDE AREA OVER WEEK END

Fall of Two Inches Noted In Some Parts With Plenty of Hail

Farmers and others which includes every citizen of the country appeared jubilant Monday morning following the rain that finally covered the dry spots of the country skipped by the showers of rain and hail of Friday night.

Hail Monday fell in the Chamberlain community along with a good rain that is said to have put a season in the ground.

Friday evening hail destroyed the top of a Groom school bus. The path of the storm included Jericho, Alanreed, Bray and McKnight raining heavily north of the river.

In the Bray section copious supplies of hail ricked up but as no crops are far enough advanced to be injured, moisture in any form is most welcome.

Right in Clarendon the rain was light Monday morning. Light showers had fallen for the past two days. In all it is said to have rained a half inch.

So far as can be learned, rain in sufficient quantity to permit planting has fallen over practically all of the county, the moisture situation being better than it has been for several months.

Marble Machines Declared Illegal by McCraw

Midnight Sunday is set as the deadline by Sheriff Pierce for the operation of marble machines and other gambling machines in Donley county following an 18-page decision from the Attorney General's department.

"All operators of gambling machines in this county will be arrested after midnight Sunday," the Sheriff stated today.

He states that, according to the ruling now in the county attorney's office which may be read by any one, all games involving skill, chance or combination of both, are illegal under the ruling of Attorney General Wm. McCraw. Personal notice is being given operators, he said.

Sioux Indian Gospel Singer To Sing Here

Rev. J. Perry King has been informed by the Sioux gospel singer that he will appear at the First Baptist church here Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

George Wilson, the Indian singer of national fame comes to the local church upon the invitation of the pastor and others who wish to hear the songs that have made this singer famous in Baptist evangelistic work.

He received his musical training in the University of Kansas and for some time was engaged in concert work before his conversion. Since that time, he has been engaged in singing in revivals and sacred concerts.

He recently helped Rev. Hankins of Childress in a very successful revival at the North Side Baptist church of Ft. Worth.

The public is cordially invited to hear the only Indian soloist engaged in a line of work restricted to revivals and sacred concerts. As a concert artist before taking up church work, he was one of the highest salaried singers. He comes well recommended, and music lovers should hear him.

Lightning Starts Fire In Higgins Home

While the family was away from home Friday evening late, lightning set fire to the Wint Higgins home near the Bromley ranch. The fire had gained little headway as the family returned, and was quickly extinguished.

Bedding and wall paper suffered the greatest damage, and that in a room where the children slept. It is believed that had the family been at home, the children would have been in direct line of the bolt as it struck and set fire to the bed.

TERRACING AND DAMS COMBINED TO STOP DAMAGE

Recent Rains Prove Value Both Dams and Terrace In Saving Soil

The construction of a series of dams and terracing of approximately 1100 acres of land in an effort to retard flood waters through the city is creating much favorable comment both from engineers of the Texas Relief Commission and company engineers. In operating this project, Donley County is sponsoring an entirely new movement in the type of work that is being done with relief labor. The city, county, and Chamber of Commerce co-operating with the Texas Relief Commission and the Texas Transient Bureaus are making unusually rapid progress toward completion of this work.

Seven dams have been completed and another is under construction with a total relief labor cost of $5654.50. An average of 75 men daily has been furnished through the local relief office; and the Transient Camp has worked an average of 25 men per day. One of the seven completed dams is located on the John T. Sims land; four on the E. M. Ozier place; one has been completed within the city limits; and one has been constructed on a lateral road in Precinct 2 south of Clarendon.

65 miles of terracing have been completed, the lines having been run one or more rounds with county machinery which is manned by county employes. The Vocational Agriculture class of J. M. Hill has run all the lines for the terracing.

Riley Says Country All Wet From Here to Louisiana

Returning home from Jena, Louisiana Friday, J. N. Riley of the Sunnyview community stated that he wished for a sandstorm when he got into the black mud belt near Kaufman county.

He was accompanied by his sons Bruce and Jack and stops were made at Bowie and Terrel. He visited his uncle D. F. Riley at Bowie and a sister at Terrel.

He reports a fine fruit crop coming on down east with the berries getting ripe now. In reporting his trip, Mr. Riley spoke disgustingly of the rain which he says has backed rivers over a lot of their fields. He prefers West Texas, and the sons agree with their Dad.

GULF STATION MAN DIES EARLY SATURDAY MORN.

Funeral Services Conducted By Rev. King Sunday At Baptist Church

Obe Henry Jackson passed away at the family home at 9:55 Saturday morning following an illness of several months. A stroke is said to have contributed directly to his death.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. J. Perry King.

Mr. Jackson was a native of Birmingham, Alabama first locating in Texarkana when he came to Texas. His next move was to Hall county in 1920 where he was engaged in business in Memphis. Clarendon became the family home some years ago, and he, with his sons, conducted the Gulf service station on East First street.

He is survived by his widow and the following children: Mrs. Andrew Smith of Lakeview; Mrs. H. P. Adams of Eli; Otis, Clarence, Joe, Fred, Ronald of Clarendon and J. D. of Amarillo.

Roy Jewell of Hedley, the man of many talents for making a farm pay, was in town Wednesday. He reports plenty of rain down his way.

CLEAN-UP WEEK BEGINS NEXT MONDAY; PILE UP ALL YOUR RUBBISH THIS WEEK

Those in authority suggest that rubbish be piled up at convenient places this week that the removal by the city truck may not be hindered when "Clean-Up" week starts early next Monday.

Collect rubbish, they advise. Burn paper and spread dirt and manure on the premises. The city will haul neither of the three. Collect glass, iron, tin cans, wire, auto casings and such other rubbish as renders your property or home place unsightly. There will be no charge made for hauling this rubbish to the dump grounds. Many times you would have made your surroundings more presentable except for the cost. The only cost involved now is a little labor in rounding up the material. This opportunity comes but once a year—Clean Up Week. Take advantage of it right now. Begin piling the rubbish today.

Goodnight School Man Will Head Dimmitt Schools

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Clemons visited friends in Clarendon Monday. Mr. Clemons is superintendent of the Goodnight schools. He will have charge of the public schools of Dimmitt next term, an advance in both position and salary.

R. O. Shannon Disabled By Illness

After spending several days in a Memphis hospital, R. O. Shannon of near McKnight was returned home the last of the week somewhat improved.

Thursday he took a turn for the worse and is said to have lost the use of his left arm, according to his brother Floyd who resides west of town, and who visited him.

DONLEY COUNTY MEN TO NATIONAL AAA CONFERENCE

To Tell Congress That They Want A.A.A. Program To Continue

Four farmer representatives left Friday for the national AAA Conference in Washington, the delegates from this county having been selected in a meeting held here the previous week.

At the last moment E. L. Lewis, chairman of the cotton control committee, became ill and could not make the trip. J. G. McDougale of Hedley, another member of the committee was selected to make the trip.

Other men of the party were R. T. Darnell of Jericho, member of the wheat committee, Ernest Lamb of Jericho, a member of the corn-hog committee, and Bert Mayfield, chairman of the Corn-Hog Association.

The trip is being made overland in Bert Mayfield's car. The party expects to return here the last of this week.

It is said that the Agricultural Adjustment Act is imperiled by the actions of a number of congressmen who wish to displace it, or else do away with it altogether. Protesting farmers over the nation have delegates from every county in the nation in Washington this week to impress Congress with the fact that they approve the present plans, it is said.

CROWD SUNDAY HEARS NICHOLSON MAKE ADDRESS

Speaker Discusses Subject Appropriate to Mother's Day Program

Following the band and Drum & Bugle corps part of the program on their courthouse lawn Sunday morning, Dr. H. E. Nicholson, Deputy Grand Master of the Masonic lodges of this district, gave an address on "What Science Has Done to Make Motherhood Safer."

The Doctor's address is pronounced as one of the best of its kind ever delivered to an assemblage in Clarendon.

The various churches of the city were represented by members marching in the parade, each church represented by a banner.

Dr. Nicholson made a talk at the Methodist church after the Sunday school hour.

The Legion and Auxiliary sponsoring this form of Mother's Day observance are pleased with the results, as is the general public. It is said that a similar plan will be carried out next year.

Mayor J. W. Martin returned from near Lordsburg, N. Mex. the last of the week where he visited his brother on a ranch. The Mayor does not think that country worth much for anything.

AMENDMENTS FOR VOTING AUGUST 24th.

Old age pensions will be available for those above 65 if the voters give it the stamp of approval August 24th. The monthly allowance will be $15 a month, with a possible like sum from the federal treasury matching state funds dollar for dollar.

Repeal of the state liquor laws will occasion a lot of sweat and vociferous language between now and the 24th. If the liquor side wins, there will be another amendment voted on November 3rd of next year to determine if it shall be made a state monopoly. In other words, shall the state sell it, or shall the individual or corporation?

Amendments to be voted on next year at the general election will effect the salaries of the governor, attorney general and other high state officers.

The general opinion is that the big mistake was made in raising the salaries of the lawmakers from $5 a day to $10 a day last election instead of the salaries of higher state officers.

LAWMAKERS FINALLY GO HOME.

Governor Allred tells his people that there will be no special legislative session until late in the fall, or at least until there is an urgent demand for it. If the state goes dry August 24th, there will be a demand for laws regulating the sale of intoxicants, and a call will be made for the first special session.

Except for the hindrance of the Senate, there would have been a number of meritorious laws made. The homestead exemption of $3,000 would have been a law now except for the Senate. It looked like every time a member of the House had a bright idea, some nit-wit senator jumped on it with both feet.

Of course a few of the senators really thought of the people—just a few of them.

Among the most effective bills passed might be included the law preventing further gas wastage in the Panhandle. The Governor had it all worked out to build a pipe line so that the landowners would share in the sale of gas, but the senate would not stand for the passage of the bill after the House had it all o.k.ed and voted through by a big majority.

The state police system, housing bill to permit Texas to share in the national law effecting this home owners, planning boards and the Centennial appropriation are among the other big things cooked up for the dear people by the lawmakers.

THE WORST OF ITS SINS

Few of this legislature's sins of omission will be viewed with deeper regret by thoughtful citizens than the failure to enact a drivers' license law. It passed both houses, but when the fee conference committee had ironed out the differences between the two bodies' views, the result was unacceptable to the lower house. The bill as reported out of the conference committee was far from perfect, but it would have been a very long step in the direction of traffic safety.

There is one unanswerable argument for the drivers' license plan. That is that in every state where it has been adopted there has been a reduction in the number of traffic accidents and traffic deaths. The fact that it saves lives has been clearly established. With that fact before it, the legislature should have been able to disregard the minor flaws in the bill. These flaws could have been corrected later.

Of all the sins that may be charged to this session of the legislature, this one is the most inexcusable.

Suicides Decrease and Fatal Accidents Climbing

A report of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Department of Health, says, "Contrary to public opinion, the number of suicides in Texas has decreased during the last few years. There was an increase from 616 suicides in 1930 to 772 in 1931 and a further increase to 828 in 1932, which was the greatest number of suicides that occurred in Texas during the past five years. Following 1932, suicides have decreased from 828 that year to 722 in 1933, with a further decrease to 705 in 1934.

"While suicides have decreased, there has been a gradual increase in fatal accidents, which totaled 3,112 in 1930 as compared with 4,013 fatal accidents in 1934.

"The increase in accidental deaths has been closely associated with the use of motor-driven vehicles. In 1931, there were 23 deaths due to collisions between automobiles and railroads, as compared with 69 similar deaths in 1934. Fatal accidents in air transportation increased from 27 in 1932 to 46 in 1934.

"The greatest increase, however, was found in automobile accidents involving no other vehicles. The records of 1934 show an increase of approximately 70% over 1932, there being 907 deaths due to automobile accidents in 1934 as compared with 1,533 in 1932.

"With the decrease in suicides and the increase in accidents, there has been a more appalling increase

PUBLIC TO PAY TWELVE BILLION FOR RELIEF DEBTS

Sum Must Be Raised Before January 1; Tax, Borrow On Exchange

Washington, April 23.—The Federal Treasury must reach into the public's pockets for $12,480,968,650 before January 1 to meet demands of creditors and pay for current expenses, it was revealed today.

This was at the rate of approximately $37,202 a minute for the next eight months, or the equivalent of $100 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

Raise By Taxation

This sum must be raised by taxation, new borrowings and exchange of new securities for old.

The huge federal financing schedule coincides with the start of the gigantic work-relief program, for which $4,880,000,000 has been appropriated. Most of this, however, will not reach the public's hands before next year.

The government's financial needs for the next eight months are estimated as:

Cost of government and relief, $5,000,000,000.

Maturing short term bills, $3,000,000,000.

First Liberties due June 15, $1,392,208,950.

Panama Canal and Consols due August 1, $650,000,000.

3 per cent notes due June 15, $416,602,800.

1 5-8 per cent notes due August 1, $353,865,000.

Fourth Liberties due October 15, $1,250,000,000.

2 1-2 per cent notes due December 15, $418,291,000.

Total, $12,480,968,650.

Same as Borrowing

Holders of the $1,392,208,950 of First Liberty Loan bonds falling due June 15 are now being offered 2 7-8 per cent 20-25 year bonds or 1 5-8 per cent 5-year notes instead of cash.

Presumably holders of most of the other maturing issues over the next year will be offered new securities in exchange. This is a "short cut" to avoid a direct security sale. The effort on the national debt, however, is the same as if the Treasury went into the open market to borrow through the sale of new securities.

More Park Improvement Is Expected Soon

D. E. Colp, chairman of the Texas Parks Board, made an official visit to the Palo Duro State Park Sunday and Monday, inspecting work which is in progress and planning for the future development of the Park.

Mr. Colp expressed himself as being highly pleased with the development of the Park which has taken place since his last visit here on July 4th of last year.

Approval of working plans for the park during the next six months is expected from the National Parks Service at Washington during the coming week. These projects consist of completion of the lodge, hard surfacing the road, 15 more cottages, building three more dams, and building an entrance gate.

ONE DECADE OF SERVICE

Only one decade has passed since a unified plan of electrical development was inaugurated for West Texas. The West Texas Utilities Company pioneered in this development in 49 West Texas Counties and now serves 159 towns and communities. Many of these towns have for the first time dependable and adequate electric service and many without immediate hope of electric service were enabled to procure such service

The results of this well-planned and unified system of electrical development has made possible economies in operation through a closely correlated and experienced management. Rates have been reduced over 60 per cent since the organization of this company.

This company realizes the importance of electric service in the home today. It reasonably anticipates a far greater service in the future. Every plan of company operation is guided not only by immediate needs but by the potentialities for tomorrow. The policies that this company has adhered to in the past of building and of reducing rates can be continued with the co-operative efforts of its valued customers.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

Well, folks, we'll just reach for the ladies' birthday almanac and see when it is going to rain. Anybody can guess right some time if they keep hammering away long enough.

Some times I have great respect for the devil because he has never been accused of tattling gossip.

Sitting in a barber shop years ago, you saw pictures on the wall just as the livery stable office was decorated. All the rough stuff was discussed and the barber had a breath—what a breath!! Today is quite different. The women folks are in for something to be done to their heads and instead of the old line, the young women discuss the best spenders among the boys. Young sprouts who deal in "dinahs" and such like. It sounds like nuts to an old man, but we are moving—going some place in a hurry.

Eddie Cantor is back on the air. He went from stale coffee to tooth brushes that will do anything that a dentist can. Eddie has a new set of twins in his home. In other words, Eddie has gone stork crazy.

Advertisement: "Excursion from Leavenworth, Kansas to Sheridan, $10. The train will stop at points of advantage and allow buffalo shooting. One fellow killed six from a coach window recently. All kinds of refreshments may be taken aboard the cars."
Sound funny? Not a bit. That was a newspaper ad in a Leavenworth, Kansas paper on October 27, 1868.

What is the difference in clothesline gossip and grape vine news? Nothing but sex. The quality is about the same—women mixed in both kinds.

The New Dealers are talking of having two Christmases each year. July 4th and December 25th. They think it stirs up business. I think it is really a plan to resurrect the 4th of July celebrations that have gone dead.

The brightest spot on earth was in a Dorothy Dix article last week when she said: "You can tell a successful marriage. If she has learned all of hubby's past and is miserable, she doesn't get fat."

If a woman's hat sets at an angle, it is "chic." If a man's hat sets at the same angle, it is just plain "likker." We fellows always get the worst end of the rope.

Man is satisfied with nothing except his own ignorance.

A lady tells us this one: "There is something in our apartment that persists in sleeping on its back." Maybe it's a human, sister.

In China when a man won't pay his debts, his door is removed. If we had that system here, wouldn't it be a dickens of a mess during the dust storms?

The perfect accident happened in Houston Monday. A crooner fell 14 stories from a hotel window and landed on the head of a trombone artist.

The railroad companies are said to have originated the red paint idea since adopted by the women folks as a beauty preservative.

Every scientist is entitled to credit for his achievements, but the claim that an Amarillo constable stopped a wrestling match with the aid of a niggershooter (either single or double-barreled) is going a bit too far. The wrestling match had already stopped when the constable entered the ring, it is claimed by local parties who witnessed the political convention soon afterwards.

HUDSON SMASHES 36 MORE OFFICIAL RECORDS in one of the most gruelling tests ever given an automobile... makes clean sweep up to and beyond 1000 miles

1000-mile record beats best mark ever set by any closed car

NEWS FLASH—Muroc Lake, Cal., April 13—36 official A.A.A. records broken by a stock Hudson Eight. Top speed—over 93 miles an hour for five miles. Average speed—over 85 miles an hour for 1000 miles and beyond. A clean sweep of every record in its class up to and including 1000 miles and 3000 kilometers, and four unlimited class closed car records. Electrical timing correct to a millionth part of a second and every record certified by American Automobile Association.

Here's what it means to you. Probably you'll never care to drive a car five miles at 93 miles an hour. Yet, it means a lot to you to have a car that can go that fast—to shoot out of traffic tangles or flash you out ahead on the highway.

It isn't likely you'll want to drive a thousand-mile stretch at 85 miles an hour, but you do want a car with the fine engineering, power and ruggedness it takes to do this. Ordinary driving is no work at all for a car like this.

That's what it means to own a Hudson—smoother miles, more enjoyable miles—plus ruggedness and gasoline economy that make those miles cost less. You can see and drive an exact duplicate of this record-breaking Hudson Eight at any Hudson showroom. You can also see the complete list of these 36 new records, and scores of others held by Hudson-built cars. Take the wheel today and discover what this record-breaking performance means to you.

Chain Letter Game Stirs Women Folks

Men set the pace in the beginning, but it is said that the ladies are rapidly forging to the front here in exchanging chain letters. Most of the letters call for a dime, others a quarter. The men have placed the basis as high as five dollars in some instances, and a dollar is common. Enough wild stories of great gains have gained circulation to keep the interest of a large number of phoning, writing and visiting friends and others whom they believe could be interested.

First Gable-Bennett Co-Starring Film Has Romance, Mystery, Excitement

In "After Office Hours," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production coming to the Pastime Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, 22-23rd, there are many new and startling innovations. The first is the co-starring team itself, Clark Gable and Constance Bennett, who share honors for the first time, and in a picture worthy of their tremendous popularity.

Constance Bennett
 Second is the story, a murder mystery against a Park Avenue background, which lets the audience see who is the murderer and how the "perfect crime" was committed, then watch a skilled investigator in action.

Wears Stunning Gowns
 Other innovations are the gowns worn by Miss Bennett, a brilliant wardrobe designed by Adrian and likely to set the styles for the new season.

Clark Gable
 As noted for his acting as for his personal popularity, Gable turns in a flawless performance as the newspaper editor who solves the crime—and the romantic who wins the girl. The girl is of course Miss Bennett, who plays his socialite cub reporter.

Excellent Direction
 Robert Z. Leonard, who directed, should be proud of the accumulated suspense, speed and zest which characterize the new picture.

With scope and imagination investing such details of production as settings, photography and decorations, the new picture is definitely slated for a resounding success.

Home Folks To Manage Tri-State Fair Races

Pictured above are the men who will manage the spring meeting of the Tri-State Fair horse races which will be held in Amarillo May 25 through June 1.

There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

The First Baptist Church hails with a great deal of pride and enthusiasm the coming of next Sunday which is the culmination of a most successful year in our entire school system. Big Chief Burton and his efficient faculty have wrought well. There is not a more royal nor loyal group of people in Clarendon, than our school teachers. From the teacher of the Beginners to the Superintendent of the System, they are unselfish and self-sacrificing to an amazing degree. Hats off to every one of them.

The finished product of any institution exactly measures the institution, hence our splendid graduating classes this year. How lovely they are. As light of foot as a wild roe; as full of vim, vigor and vitality as any class ever graduated. We covet for every one of them life's supreme superlative, which is the Pearl of great price. Christ loves youth. He wants the young, with the strength of youth in their bodies, the fire of hope in their souls, and the swing of victory in their step. We are expressing the hope that you shall learn early in your careers, that for heart hunger the world offers nothing between two dishes, and for soul thirst, only empty golden cups. The heart is triangular and the world is round. If you crowd the whole round world into your hearts there will still be unfilled and unsatisfied corners. The best in life can be found only in Christ. The temples of mammon, the marts of trade, the arenas of fame, and the vanity fairs of frivolity will be vexation of spirit without Christ. Let Him be the guiding Star of your destiny and you shall be happy.

INTERESTING FACTS REGARDING TEXAS HISTORY IN AN EARLY EXCITING EPOCH

The shadows cast over the South by the Civil War, purported to end the wrongs engendered by slavery, have not yet faded away, and the racial problem has instead become national in scope, it was pointed out by Abner J. Strobel, whose thin volume of reminiscences of "The Old Plantations and Their Owners of Brazoria County, Texas," was published a few years ago.

"I make no apology for slavery," he wrote. "It was not originally a Southern institution. Several of the Southern states at a very early period prohibited the importation of slaves. But slavery in the South to the negro was a blessing and not a curse."

Whether Mr. Strobel's opinion is substantiated by fact with regard to the mass of plantations in the South is a moot question. But surely, had all the slave owners of the South been as considerate of their slaves as one Texas planter, Elbert Tait, of Columbus, the taking up arms in defense of negro rights would have been his imperative.

It was not long after Austin's colonization project that the foundations were laid for large cotton and sugar plantations in Texas, plantations that in time grew to immense proportions, of thousands and ten of thousands of acres. All these were worked by slave labor. But care was taken to provide adequate living quarters, food, working hours, and, in many cases, churches and places of recreation.

A manuscript of "plantation rules" for the administration of slave labor, prepared years before the Civil War by C. W. Tait, a plantation owner of Columbus, Texas, is deposited in the family archives of the University of Texas library. In these regulations, overseers were instructed to be firm yet mild, reasonable yet just. They were warned not to be too rigid in discipline, and to be considerate of infirmities. Profanity was not to be allowed, and clean clothes were required every Monday morning.

PLANTATION RULES General Rules

1st Never punish a negro when in a passion. No one is capable of properly regulating the punishment for an offense when angry.

2nd Never require of a negro what is unreasonable. But when you give an order be sure to enforce it with firmness, yet mildly.

3rd Always attempt to govern by reason in the first instance, and resort to force only when reason fails, and then use no more force than is absolutely necessary to procure obedience.

4th In giving orders always do it in a mild tone, and try to leave the impression on the mind of the negro that what you say is the result of reflection.

5th In giving orders be sure that you are understood, and let the negro know that he can always ask for an explanation if he does not understand you.

6th When you are under the necessity of punishing a negro, be sure to let him know for what offense he is punished.

7th Never act in such a way as to leave the impression on the mind of the negro that you take pleasure in his punishment, your manner should indicate that his punishment is painful.

8th A regular and systematic plan of operation is greatly promotive of easy government. Have all matters therefore, as far as possible reduced to a system.

9th Negroes lack the motive of self-interest to make them careful and diligent, hence the necessity of great patience in the management of them. Do not therefore notice too many small omissions of duty.

10th The maximum of making haste slow in plantation operations, is equally applicable as in ordinary vocations of life. The meaning of which is not by attempting to do too much, to overwork and consequently injure your hands. Recollect that the journey of life is a long and at best, a tedious one. The traveler who wishes to make a long and safe trip, always travels in regular and moderate stages. Do not kill the goose to obtain the golden egg.

Particular Rules
1st Always require the negroes to eat their breakfasts before they go to work.

2nd From the 1st of October to the 1st of April they must be ready to go to work at daylight, stopping at 12. M. long enough to eat their dinners, or as long as one hour according to circumstances.

3rd From the 1st of April to the 1st of October, they must be ready to go to work by sunrise, stopping at 12. M. and resting from one to two hours & a half according to circumstances.

4th Never require field-work of a woman, until the expiration of four weeks after confinement, & then permit her to come home to her child, between breakfast & dinner, at dinner, & between dinner & night, until the child is seven months old. After that once a day, until the child is a year old or weaned.

5th Serve out to every working hand once a week from two & a half to three and a half pounds of bacon according to circumstances. If milk & butter is plenty then less meat; if molasses is served out then one quart in place of one pound of meat. Of dried-beef five or six pounds is the weekly allowance; also one peck of meal. When potatoes are served then less meal. Lying-in women to be allowed one quart of coffee and two quarts of sugar and fed from the overseer's kitchen 2 weeks.

6th The negroes are to be allowed to commence using the potatoes and sugar-cane on the 1st of October.

7th In clearing land, always cut and belt the timber, within one foot of the ground; and cut down as much timber as can be got rid of.

8th In making rails get them ten feet long, and never heart a tree that is less than a foot in diameter, always pile the rails on the stump of the tree before leaving.

9th In making fences, lay the worm four feet and a half wide, make it five feet high, & then stake with Post-Oak or Mulberry rails well set in, with a heavy rider.

10th Pork-hogs to be penned in September, and fed on corn previously shelled, and soaked in water two or three days—Pumpkins—sugar-cane &c.

11th In planting corn, mix pumpkin seeds with the corn for every fourth row.

12th Potatoes when dug to be housed or banked the same day.

13th The women to commence in November spinning thread at night to make plow-lines.

14th The corn to be gathered as soon as it is dry enough.

15th No profane or obscene language to be allowed among the negroes.

16th Every negro-cabin to be inspected every Sunday morning to see that it is kept clean. Every negro to appear in the field on Monday morning in clean clothes.

17th The negroes are never to be allowed to leave the premises, unless by special permission, and a written pass stating where they are permitted to go.

18th No strange negro to be allowed to visit the plantation, unless by permission of the overseer, & a written pass from his master.

19th Every overseer on taking charge of the plantation to take an inventory of the effects &c on the place & to do the same before leaving.

NATURAL FORGES AID BUSINESS RECOVERY

By R. S. HECHT
President American Bankers Association

ALTHOUGH, as official studies of business conditions show, business is still far from having struck its full stride, nevertheless, I believe that it is undoubtedly true that the natural economic processes which have always brought the nation out of a slump are now and have been for some time steadily at work laying the foundations for more active business conditions.

I believe that there is growing a broader public perception that the people of this country must make their own prosperity and not wait for the Government at Washington to make it for them. In other words, the normal economic vigor and vitality of the United States is slowly but inevitably bringing recovery. Like a doctor, the administration can help nature. But the fundamental healing processes will come from natural causes and not from political remedies. Despite the slackening of business now apparent, despite expressions of disappointment we hear from various quarters, nevertheless I am confident that these fundamental healing processes, if not spectacular, are none the less sure to work.

Gradually our business leaders are showing greater confidence in the future and are assuming a more forward looking position. I firmly believe that if we will make up our minds to replace fear-psychology with confidence-psychology the results will fully justify such a new attitude.

BANKERS' ASSOCIATION STIMULATES ADVERTISING

The American Bankers Association's Advertising Department reports rapid progress of the use by banks of the informative bank newspaper advertising prepared by it for members to assist them in rebuilding public confidence and good will in their communities.

The central theme of this advertising service deals with the "essential line of economic and social service that all sound banking inherently renders the depositor and the public," the report says, showing that "it is not banking laws which make banking useful and safe, but that it is honesty and skill in management under private initiative."

The Advertising Department is supplying about a thousand members of the association with newspaper and other advertising material. The newspaper material totals about 50,000 advertisements annually. The growth of the work of the department is shown by the following figures: On September 1, 1934, the number of banks being served regularly each month was 623. The total number on April 1, 1935, was 924, an increase of 301 regular subscribers, or 49 per cent.

WAR ON BANK BANDITS

National Bankers Association Pressing Active Measures to Protect Members—Losses Cut

Imprisonment or death of many desperate bank criminals the past year has brought no appreciable reduction in attacks on banks, James E. Baum, in charge of the American Bankers Association Protective Department, has reported to his organization.

In the six months ended February 28, 1935, he says, banks were targets for 169 daylight holdups and 40 night burglaries. He adds that although banks that are not members number only about half those enrolled in the association, they suffered a far greater rate of attack, namely, 51 per cent of all the bank robberies.

Losses Show Decrease
During the period under report, bank burglars and bandits exacted tribute amounting to $943,551 compared with losses totaling $1,257,000 a year ago, he said. This reduction in losses is attributed to the time-locking restrictions and other limitations in the exposure of surplus cash imposed last year by underwriters and bank supervisory authorities.

The sharp reduction in the material loss of money and securities resulting from bank robbery this year was "overshadowed by the killing of 2 bank employees, one bystander and 5 arresting officers," and since last August bank robbery also cost the lives of 15 criminals and caused physical injuries to 10 bank employees, 12 bystanders, 9 arresting officers and 8 bandits, a total of 62 casualties.

Investigations by the association's agents resulted in the arrest of 36 forgers, 42 bandits and one burglar, or 79 of the 141 bank criminals reported as being apprehended during the period.

Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT

W. E. FERRELL
Minister First Christian Church

"True Education."
"And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds." Acts 7:22.

Moses was one of the most learned men of his time. His education embraced the whole range of Greek, Chaldee, Assyrian and Egyptian literature. There is much in his experience to commend the subject of education to all classes of people. In his education we see many lessons.

First, God's favor or testimony regarding education. By God's providence Moses was placed where he could enjoy all the advantages of a good secular education. God's will in favor of education is also seen in the school of the prophets, the teachings of the Bible, and in the capacity and cravings of the human mind. The education of the mind is a sacred thing.

Think of the great cost and value of education. Think on the cost of Moses' education, the sufferings of the Israelites, and the danger of the heathen court. Think of the increased power, that education gave him. By education, mental diamonds are polished, and nuggets of gold are converted into current coin.

Secular education is not in itself sufficient. We have a two-fold nature—mental and moral. We should strive to educate both. Moses received a religious training first from his mother, and afterwards from God, in the desert. Moses received both religious and secular education that he might render service to God's people. He was mighty in words and in deeds. It is not enough to know, we must also be willing to do.

Eminence in secular education may be combined with eminence in religious education. Moses was distinguished for both. Note also, Paul, Milton, Ruskin and others. Intelligent piety is the best piety. We must learn how to worship and serve God in spirit and in truth. The Christian Church should seek to educate the masses. All educational minds should be consecrated to the service of Christ. It is our greatest mission to teach people God's will and desires.

TESTS REVEAL HIDDEN HUNGER IN BABY CHICKS

Select Starting Feed With Care, Expert Advises.

It is the lot of every baby chick to come into the world with an inherent urge to live and grow. This mysterious life impulse can best be defined as "hidden hunger," according to C. S. Johnson, poultry nutrition expert.

"Hidden hunger, however," Johnson says, "is more than a mere instinctive desire for food. It is far more subtle and complex than that. Hidden hunger is really a variety of distinct appetites, every one of which must be fully satisfied by intelligent feeding every day of that chick's life if it is to grow and develop profitably.

"Vitamin hunger is one appetite. Mineral hunger is another. There's also protein hunger, a hunger for necessary bulk in the ration, a hunger for the varied food materials that build frame, flesh, and feathers. Failure to supply enough material needed to satisfy any one or more of these hidden hungers leaves a chick in a starved condition no matter what quantity of feed it has access to. Chicks are just like children in this respect. A child's stomach can be crammed with food until it becomes pot-bellied, and yet that infant may be suffering from rickets, pellagra, beri beri, or other evidence of under-nourishment because of vitamin, protein, or mineral shortage in the diet. There are thousands of such cases of malnutrition in this country every year—children, chicks, pigs, babies of all kinds, getting lots to eat but actually starving because their food doesn't fully satisfy all of those natural hungers.

Discovery and Development

"Only in recent years," says Johnson, "has science come to realize the existence of these hidden chick hungers and to take the proper steps to identify and provide for them in an adequate chick feeding program. For chick nutrition—that is, the intelligent feeding of chicks to supply all their needs—is a comparatively new thing when one considers that the first starting mash was on the market less than fifteen years ago.

"Before 1910, chicks were usually started on corn bread or a little ground grain, with boiled eggs sometimes added to furnish the protein requirement of the ration. Later on oatmeal began to be used and a little clabber milk or cottage cheese included for protein content. With this kind of hit-or-miss feeding the hidden hungers of baby chicks were just partially provided for. The result was that before 1910 not over 50% of the chicks lived, and an average weight of 1/2 pound per bird at six weeks was considered good.

Biological chemists studying the growth-producing ability of various chick feed formulas by feeding tests on chicks and small laboratory animals.

"In the decade between 1910 and 1920 laying mash was generally fed to baby chicks. It was not until after 1920 that starting mash was to be developed. These rations, which did a better job of feeding the hidden hunger appetites of chicks, contributed to raising the average livability to 75%, and chick weight at six weeks to an average of approximately three-quarters of a pound.

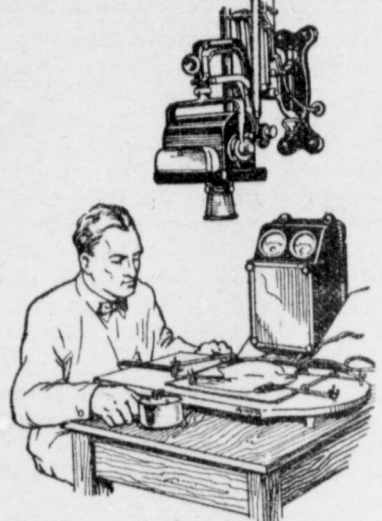

Further improvements
"Intent on further improving these standards of production, nutritional scientists gradually began to study the problems of chick development from the inside out. Not long after 1920, Purina Mills' research and experimental feeding staff started on such a program that was to continue for many years in the pursuit of two important objectives. The aim was, first, to search out and analyze all the hidden hunger needs of chicks, and then to develop the most effective and economical way of satisfying these appetites so that any feeder could get the best in chick growth, livability, and ability to withstand disease.

years in the pursuit of two important objectives. The aim was, first, to search out and analyze all the hidden hunger needs of chicks, and then to develop the most effective and economical way of satisfying these appetites so that any feeder could get the best in chick growth, livability, and ability to withstand disease.

"Individually and collectively these chick hungers have been investigated and studied from the beginning of this experimental work right on down to the present day. In the Purina biological laboratory and on the farm thousands of chicks have told by their reactions to feeding formulas of all kinds just what is the most practical combination of feed ingredients necessary to feed the whole chick—to satisfy all those hidden hungers.

"The question of what will best provide for vitamin hunger was investigated first, and the most potent vitamin carrying ingredients were verified in research and feeding tests. The satisfying of protein hunger was next specifically studied. For to take care of protein requirements, Purina research men learned, it was necessary to provide not only a variety of high protein carriers but also the right combination of these ingredients in the feed. In this connection they had made the startling discovery, by actual feeding tests, that a number of feeds could contain exactly the same ingredients and have the same chemical analysis, and yet show a vast difference in chick growth and stamina because of the variation in the proportion of those ingredients in each feed. The proper blending and balancing of ingredients is just as essential in satisfying protein hunger as is the selection of ingredients used, the experiments showed. This newly discovered principle of scientific proportioning and blending of ingredients is known today as Ingredient X and has greatly improved these two fundamental factors of chick growth and livability since its development, according to feeding records from all over the country.

Very Delicate Work
"Mineral hunger was handled with equal thoroughness by these researchers," Johnson says. "This work has been of a very delicate and intricate nature, involving microscopic and X-ray studies of bone structure in the laboratory and many feeding experiments with chicks in order to get big bone development and avoid various forms of leg trouble.

"The success of all this intensive research and experimental work, involving years of application and investigation, can best be measured by the production record of the chick starting feed that has been developed in this way. With this feed and feeding method the average livability of chicks has been increased to 95% today, and at six weeks the weight of such birds averages from 1 to 1 1/4 pounds per chick.

"When one considers how comparatively new this matter of proper chick nutrition really is, one can see the necessity of carefully selecting a chick ration that has this proven record of development and production behind it. All the more important does the question of careful feed selection become when one considers the fact that for the first week or 10 days of a chick's life its little crop can hold no more than a thimbleful of feed a day. From this small amount it must get everything it needs to nourish those hidden hungers and to grow profitably. So much depending upon so little, my advice to everyone who buys a chick ration is, 'investigate, before you invest.'"

As some one estimated 200 present and we had 4 gallons of ice cream and 20 large cakes. Games and singing was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Lizzie Rowley of Amarillo

MINERAL WELLS, TEXAS

Perrin, Texas.
I, B. W. Patton, of Perrin, Texas, was suffering with rheumatism, and was not able to work for two months. I heard about Dr. Milling of Mineral Wells and came to him for treatment. He treated me for three weeks and I have been working ever since, and that was four years ago. I can truthfully say that I am well, and advise anyone who has rheumatism to give him a trial.

EX-VETERANS OF WORLD WAR DYING RATE EIGHTY DAY

Mrs. O. L. Fink, Auxiliary President, Says 30,000 Died In Past Year

Nearly 30,000 new names will be on the scroll of America's dead defenders when the nation honors its war dead on Memorial Day this year, according to Mrs. O. L. Fink, president of the Aubyn E. Clark Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. World War veterans have been dying at the average rate of 80 per day during the last year, making nearly 30,000 who have passed on since last Memorial Day.

This high death rate among the veterans gives Poppy Day, May 25th, heightened importance. Mrs. O. L. Fink explained. On this day the Auxiliary women collect contributions which form the major source of support for their work for needy families of veterans throughout the year. Unless generous public support is given the Auxiliary's Poppy Day appeal, the welfare activities of the Unit cannot be maintained.

Almost every veteran who dies now leave a widow and children, and few leave sufficient means to provide for their families," said Mrs. Fink. "The seventeen years which have passed since the war make it very difficult to prove that the veteran's death resulted from war service, and unless such legal proof can be established, no government aid is available for the family. The Legion and Auxiliary must step in with emergency aid until other aid can be secured or the family made self-supporting."

"In addition to the veterans who die, there are more than 100,000 constantly in hospitals. We endeavor to do something for these veterans while they are still within reach of our help, providing cheer and comforts while they are in the hospitals and aiding them in the long, uphill struggle to regain an economic foothold after they leave the hospitals. Their families too, often need aid.

"The poppies, which we will offer Saturday, May 25th, to be worn in honor of the dead, are our principal means of raising funds for this work for the living."

Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner Dies Tuesday at Claude Home

Following an illness of several days of double pneumonia, Mrs. Warner passed away late Tuesday. Known as the "poet laureate of the Panhandle", she also saw many of her articles on economics appear in leading magazines of the nation. She was also a prominent leader in club work of the state.

In 1932 Mrs. Warner acceded to the requests of numerous friends and entered politics as a candidate for "congressman at large." She came out fourth in a race in which she had ten male opponents.

Funeral services will be conducted by her pastor, Rev. John T. Crow at the Methodist church in Claude at 4 p. m. today. Rev. B. W. Wilkins, her former pastor, will assist in the services.

A number of Clarendon relatives and friends are attending the services of the little lady who, though a resident of Armstrong county for 37 years, made herself nationally famous because of her unselfish devotion to the upliftment of humanity.

Clarendon Motor Company Has Cleaning Equipment

Considering the need of cleaning auto upholstery following the long series of dust storms, the Clarendon Motor Company installs a machine that removes this menace to the fabric and the clothing of those who ride.
