A Common Paper For Common People

BACCALAUREATE SERMON SUNDAY WELL ATTENDED

Rev. Landreth Makes Talk To One Hundred Twenty-Eight Graduates

Seating capacity of the Methodist church was taxed to capacity Sunday at 11 a. m. when the pastor, Rev. E. D. Landreth began his address to the 1935 graduates of the local public schools.

Pastors of the Presbyterian and Baptist churches assisted, and the choir and members of the choir sang special numbers.

All the churches dismissed for the special service. Sixty-one Junior High graduates, fifty-three Senior High graduates and fourteen Junior College graduates were present representing the 1934-35 classes.

Rev. Landreth, himself a school-boy just a few years ago having to work his way through school, was eminently fitted by both position and training to deliver a sensible address void of fallacies.

His talk is pronounced by many to be the most practical and common sense ever to be delivered to a graduating class in Clarendon. He advised his young hearers that jobs were few and the sailing tough, but he also advised them that the world needed skill and well-balanced minds to aid in the effort to redeem humanity from the present chaotic condition.

DEATH CLAIMS T. D. HOBART ON SUNDAY MORNING

Dies Suddenly Following An Attack of Pneumonia Of Four Days Duration

Active in many pursuits to within a few days of his death, T. D. Hobart passed away suddenly at his home in Pampa at 6:30 Sunday morning within a few months of his eightieth year.

No man in West Texas history will leave his personality more firmly impressed within the memories of her citizens than Mr. Hobart. He was counselor and advisor to possibly more people than any other individual.

As executive head of the famous JA ranch of 427,000 acres near here, he was a frequent visitor to Clarendon.

Coming to the Panhandle in 1886, he became a colonizer, later a land agent, ranch manager in 1915 and still later president of the First National bank of Pampa.

Surviving him are his widow, a son, Fred of Canadian and two daughters, Mrs. Clyde F. Fatheree of Pampa, and Mrs. Guy Hutchinson of Arkansas City, Kansas.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday by Rev. Barney Shell, pastor of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Dr. R. Thomsen, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Amarillo, and Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the Pampa Methodist church.

Pallbearers were W. H. Patrick, Clarendon; M. K. Brown, San Antonio; C. A. Tigor and C. P. Buckler, Pampa; Dr. J. A. Hill and L. F. Sheffey, Canyon; Beale Queen, Palo Duro, and Henry C. Coke Jr. of Dallas.

As a native of Vermont, he came to Texas in 1882. He disposed of 631,000 acres of ranch land for the White Deer Land company between 1903 and 1924. He made it possible for thousands to own homes through his easy

Denver Engineer Approves City Drainage Plans

Chief Engineer M. A. Stainer of the Denver railroad company visited here to confer with H. C. Brumley, city commissioner, who has charge of that part of the City's drainage problem.

Mr. Stainer complimented Mr. Brumley on the manner in which work on the flood control had been managed, and the quantity of work done to date. After looking over the flood control dams, Mr. Stainer more readily agreed to recommend work to be done by his company.

Plans outlined near the track was to make the ditch more nearly straight from the laundry building east under the wagon bridge, and to widen it four feet. To increase the ditch width north of the track bridge to thirty feet, take out the crooks and turns and concrete the entire ditch over the railroad right-of-way.

Work will begin as soon as the Engineer's plans are accepted by the railway company.

Martin School Purchases School Bus Tuesday

Doss Palmer of the Palmer Motor company was accompanied to Oklahoma City Tuesday by trustees and the principal of the Martin school where the school board purchased a bus.

payment plans.

He was imbued with the western spirit contributing liberally of his time and means to furthering the things of interest to the Panhandle. He served as president of the State Cattle Raisers Association, President of the Panhandle Old Settlers Association, and as president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. The foundation of the museum at Canyon was a source of much satisfaction to him, and his efforts entered largely in making this achievement possible.

J. T. Crawford, Civil War veteran of 90, collapsed at the news of the death of Mr. Hobart, and died within a few minutes. He and Mr. Hobart had been fast friends for over a quarter of a century.

STUART CONDRON TO ADDRESS HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

Senior High Commencement At Methodist Church Begins at 8 p. m. Friday

Fifty-three graduates represent the class of 1934-35 in the local High School this term.

Mr. Condron is well known in Clarendon, having been an instructor in old Clarendon college for a number of years. His mother and other relatives reside here and he is a frequent and most welcome visitor.

Mr. Condron is said to be one of the most practical teachers and talkers of the state. He has a knack of speaking to an audience as though he were in an ordinary conversation. Some term it a "class method" of instruction. His audience easily follows the speaker, and just as easily understands.

No man has more friends among all elements than he, and no more worthy individual could have been secured for this duty in making the final address to the graduating class. He lives with his people, understands and appreciates the many phases of life affecting the complex family.

Sewing Material is Received By Local Relief Office

The Relief Administrator of Gray county sent over a supply of cloth this week to be used in the local relief sewing room. The cloth consisted of 19 yards of brown domestic, 500 yards bias tape, 319 yards blue chambray, 495 yards prints and 831 spools No. 60 white thread.

Eight women are sewing daily. Of this number six sew by hand on account of poor eyesight, piecing quilts, etc. Two use sewing machines. An average of 26 garments are made daily. Work shirts and print house dresses take the lead in variety of garments made.

Four colored women were taken off direct relief and are now sewing. They are segregated in the sewing room and appear to enjoy the novelty immensely.

All garments being made come up to a specified standard of workmanship. They are inspected, packed and laid away awaiting further orders for distribution.

Mrs. J. M. Acord states that the cannery is ready for immediate operation when the first vegetables are to be had.

Rubbish Must be Kept Out Of City Drain Ditch

City officials call attention to the fact that it is a violation of the state sanitary laws to throw rubbish of any kind in a drain ditch. The law will be enforced if necessary, and offenders fined if trash of any kind is thrown in the ditch that is intended to drain off flood water through town.

Alleged Burglar in Donley Gets Life Sentence

Tense Martin, aged 32, held in the local jail for several months on a charge of having burglarized the Lem-Taylor ranch last summer, was given a life sentence at Wellington Wednesday on a charge of having murdered Earl Barnes, a filling station operator in Wellington August 18, 1934 during a robbery attempt of the station in the night. Barnes was wounded and died soon after.

Martin was captured by Donley and Armstrong county officers at a shack southeast of Claude on September 12. Durham, an alleged accomplice, escaped in his night clothing at the time and has since eluded capture.

Mr. and Mrs. Sloan Baker and family visited in Memphis Tuesday.

PICTURE SHOW MAN'S TROUBLES CAUSED BY RAIN

Makes Long Drives to Get Films That Patrons Be Not Disappointed

"Rain is a fine thing," according to Homer Mulkey, "but the service given him by the express company is simply rotten," he stated Tuesday after making an auto trip of three hundred and six miles to Vernon in order to get his films for the show that night.

Sunday, no film was delivered, consequently there was no show and a lot of folks were disappointed.

When Monday rolled around, it looked like the film would not get here because of the bridge wash-out on the Denver across Pease river. Mr. Mulkey got a film at Childress and showed Monday night.

He cannot understand why the film was not transferred on the truck from the transfer base on Pease river the same as other commodities, when the express company know the film was dated and would be of no value if delayed.

At any rate, he is using the highways and his new car to avoid disappointing his patrons. He means to maintain a good show at all costs just as he has back through the years, and a washout is a small detail when it comes to real handicaps known to him in times past.

Status of Foreign Cotton Situation in 1935

Although foreign countries have increased their cotton production since the World War, foreign production for the 1934-35 season is estimated to be less than one percent greater than in the 1933-34 season, or an increase of about 100,000 bales, according to Cully A. Cobb, Director of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's Cotton Division.

Foreign production in the 1933-34 season was 13,478,000 bales as compared with an estimated 1934-35 production of 13,579,000 bales. The 1933-34 production in some foreign countries was less than previous post-war peaks and was not much above previous peaks in any of the foreign cotton-producing countries.

DETERMINATION TO WIN, WON.

There are some men who refuse to recognize defeat regardless of any circumstances. Some years ago a New Mexico homesteader saw the drouth take the sustenance from his sheep and goats. Grass and weeds dried up over the long months of weary waiting for rain to come. Their owner saw a clear spot in the dark cloud in the form of manufacturing blankets—the Navajo variety. Accordingly, he sought out an old lady who showed him how to construct and operate a loom for weaving. Experience taught him much and soon a market appeared that took all his product. With money gained from the sale of his blankets, he fed his sheep and goats that supplied the material from which the famous Hill blankets were made. His blankets soon gained a national reputation. He got more goats and sheep and bought more land. Just about the time he saw success coming his way in volumes, the land accumulated became an oil field. Today he is a wealthy man and often refers to the trying time when he was forced to "go into business to save the day." That man is Elmer C. Hill of Monument, New Mexico. Practical and plain in his days of poverty, he is the same today. Denied the opportunities of an education in his boyhood days, he provides that opportunity for many worthy boys and girls today. It is his one hobby. His determination to win, won.

FABLES OF FACT VS. IGNORANCE.

Some years ago in the Panhandle of Texas a man entered a new line of business—new and second hand furniture. He did not believe in advertising "because his friends and even the public knew where he was located." They knew "of" him, but they seldom found out what he "had." He had one advertising competitor, and soon had another. He declared that both would go broke because they "spent too much advertising." The competitors went on advertising and letting the people know what they had to offer, and by reason of a larger volume of sales, sold at a lower price than the man who did not advertise.

Then another advertising competitor came into the field recently. That was too much for the man who did not advertise. He simply closed out, up and down and quit. His advertising competitors are going strong. Their stocks are larger and they are doing more business in a week than the nonadvertiser did in six months.

This bit of story is based on facts. Names furnished on application any old time. There was nothing wrong except that in 1935, one's friends may like one ever so well, but they buy where they are invited, know they can get what they want, and the price they will have to pay.

Tips to Motor Vacationists Given As Important Factors

"Tune up before you tour" is advice that, if followed, will do more than any other one thing to make a motor trip a real pleasure trip.

Soon millions of motorists will take to the open road for vacation trips. Some will start with no preliminary preparation of their cars, others will make sure beforehand that all is well mechanically. The chances of enjoying a 100 per cent pleasurable trip are strongly with those who tune up before they tour.

Thousands who use their cars daily for only a few miles in their regular routine, with never any trouble, do not realize that a car that seems to work well in the city may be quite unfit to undertake long-distance high speed trips. Little faults that need correction remain unnoticed through months of ordinary driving; when the car is suddenly called upon to work at full power over long periods, these little faults may develop into bigger faults that detract largely from the fun of motoring.

Both safety and pleasure are at stake when vacationists start out without having their car carefully inspected and its faults corrected. The principal safety items, of course, are brakes and steering—and in most cases simple adjustments are all that they require. Good tires are required for both safety and pleasure. All lights should have good bulbs, and headlight beams must be properly adjusted. New windshield wiper blades are not costly, but are of much value when they are needed.

For comfort and uninterrupted pleasure, everything should be done that will guarantee continuous travel without enforced halts. A motor tune-up is one of the best of precautionary measures. The battery should be checked carefully, and the generator charging rate adjusted for long distance running at good speed. A complete change of lubricants in crankcase, transmission and rear axle is recommended and, of course, a thorough greasing of the chassis, shock absorbers always are subjected to severe use on a vacation trip over strange roads, and should be adjusted before the departure.

For some strange reason, vacation motorists are always greatly surprised to find that cars that have seemed all right at home "heat up" as soon as they get out on the open road. They have overlooked the fact that the faster the run and the heavier the pull, the more heat the engine develops, and that the cooling system that was good enough for runs to the office and the country club may not be up to the job of carrying off several times as much heat on a long climb in the mountains. To function properly, the cooling system must allow free circulation of the water, which calls for a clean radiator and good rubber connections, with renewed or tightened pump packing. Highly important, too, is the proper adjustment of the fan belt, which on long, fast runs must carry a far greater load than in city driving.

Incidentally, bodies that seem dead silent on city boulevards often reveal an astounding variety of squeaks and rattles when the car really gets going. It will add a lot to the vacationist's happiness if he will have the body bolts tightened, door hinges and catches tightened and oiled, and everything made snug.

There will be a lot of motor touring this year. And there will be a lot of pleasure for millions of tourists—especially for the drivers who keep their car always in the best of condition, throughout the year, and for those who carefully groom their cars for the trip before they start.

SOCIETY GUILTY OF FAILING YOUTH

They put society on trial in the high school building at Orange, N. J., the other day, accusing it of failing to give youth a square deal, and after a great deal of talk they found it guilty as charged. "They" were some 3500 adults, drawn to the building by agencies of the Welfare Federation and civic societies; and this odd trial took place because a number of groups of young people had recently drawn up a series of charges against society.

Society, said the youngsters, fails youth because it makes it hard for youth to get jobs, makes proper marriages difficult, fails to provide institutions for the furthering of friendship, offers many moral pitfalls in the shape of erotic literature, gambling joints, and gin-mills, and fails to teach youth how to use its leisure time to best advantage.

This was the indictment that drew the grown folks of Orange into their high school auditorium for a general discussion; and it would be a highly useful thing if the same sort of trial could be held in many other cities, because it helps to open our eyes to the responsibility which we owe to the young people who will be the adults of tomorrow.

It isn't so very much that these Jersey youngsters are asking, when you stop to think about it.

Just a chance to earn a living, a chance to found a home without too many of those delays and trials that take the heart out of a person, a chance to grow up to decent manhood and womanhood, and a fairly even break in the age-old struggle for ordinary human happiness.

That isn't much—it's about the minimum that could be asked.

And yet youth seems to feel—if this case can be taken as a fair sample—that society is failing to provide even that minimum. And if that is true, then we are failing youth about as miserably as any society could fail.

We are rather fond of talking about the follies and the wildness of our younger generations. Grown people have been doing that since the days of Job, and they'll probably keep it up to endless time.

But we need to realize that youth is very often more sinned against than sinning.

The indictment returned by these young people in New Jersey is a measure of the imperfections of modern society. Modern society is what we, the older generation, have made it.

A LOAN

Is A Business Transaction—NOT A FAVOR

It is no more a favor for a bank to lend you money than it is for a property owner to rent you a house. Both make a fair profit when the business is on a sound basis.

The money a bank lends mainly belongs to its depositors. Lending it helps pay the costs of handling their accounts. The bank must be certain that the loan is a safe use of this money. Whenever there is an opportunity for a loan to be mutually beneficial, the bank heartily welcomes your loan application.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

Taking down that lady birthday almanac last week got the job done. I just got her off the shelf when the flood started. You can't beat that old book for bringing rain. In fact they can tell a year ahead when it's going to rain, just as they can tell you a year ahead what will all you, and how you can cure it before you have it happen to you.

The Memphis Democrat is an honest publication. After the flood, they came right out in the Sunday issue and said Highway 5 west was the only outlet they had. That highway is Donley county's old reliable dirt road—the one Ely built. Now we don't know whether we want any improvement or not on this highway if we can't use 'em when it rains. It might rain again some time.

Church attendance Sunday was up to par—the daily papers did not come. All the folks, almost all, went to church in the morning thinking they could read in the afternoon. Then as the papers failed to arrive due to railroad washouts up to the evening hour, almost all went back to church again. Then after church and the train had arrived, and the public found out the postoffice people did not put up the papers, they began looking for another church service. The Pastime would have had a dandy midnight run if Mr. Mulkey had of opened up.

Daily papers and auto batteries certainly do cut down the church attendance. Take both of them away from us any Sunday and the preachers will think the millennium is right at hand.

Rev. Landreth preached to the three graduating classes Sunday. It looked like every sentence he spoke was a little better than the preceding one. He never held out false hopes. He never misled any one as is generally the custom. To my way of thinking he hit his hardest lick when he told that bunch of youngsters that "there probably has never been a time when the world had as little to offer them as now, or a time when jobs were scarcer." I wondered what made the preacher say that. It was like hitting the young folks in the face with a wet rag on a cold morning. Then he came right back and clinched the bargain by saying, "and there never was a time when the world needed you more than right now." I'll say the world needs some help, and it must look to these young folks for that help. We older folks are not getting anywhere, and the preacher was honest enough to admit it. He could have told them that "if we did come from a monkey, we ought to apologize to them for not having sense enough to manage our affairs as well as the monkeys have theirs." Yes, we need a fresh supply of brains, pep, ambition and training. The preacher was dead right all through his talk.

One of the best stories that ever went the rounds is told of an American who was "doing" the big things of Europe.

They showed this American the buildings of Parliament in London. "Nothing to it," he said, "we could put a half dozen of those buildings in our Merchandise Mart in Chicago."

In Paris they showed him the Eiffel Tower. "That tower of yours would look like a match from the top of our Empire State Building," he told them.

In Italy, when they showed him the volcano Vesuvius spouting smoke and ashes, they felt sure that here at last they had him beat. But he simply lit a Murad. "No, we haven't anything like that in our country," he said, "but if we had your Mount Vesuvius there, we would simply turn the Niagara Falls on it and put it out in three minutes."

That night, having drunk too much red wine, our American was taken out to a cemetery and there amidst the ancient and illustrious dead, they put him down and left him. This will be a good joke, they thought. Wonder what he will do when he wakes up.

Our American awoke when the slanting rays of the rising sun shone in his eyes. He blinked. Around him were tombstones. As quick as a flash he jumped to his feet and shouted: "Ah, it's resurrection morning and I'm the first one up! Hurrah for the U. S. A.!"

J. Perry King, Pastor

There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

Next Sunday, June 26, will be the closing of our first years work in Clarendon. The days have been brief and the weeks fast passing.

We have not accomplished as much as we ought, but the days have been happy and the work pleasant. We have just begun. We are confidently looking forward to the greatest years work in our life during the coming months. Be in your place next Sunday. Let's take a full Sabbath's day journey toward the better land. How are you spending your time? The year is fast slipping away. To-day will be yesterday tomorrow. To-day is the tomorrow that you worried about yesterday. Do not spend the time to-day worrying about the past or the future, but live to-day as if Christ died yesterday, rose this morning, and is coming back again tomorrow. Thus we will redeem the time and be happy in our relations and successful in our undertakings.

Regular services Sunday, the pastor preaching at both hours, at 11:00 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. We are looking for 300 in Sunday School and 150 in Training Service.

He reports the cotton as being very late and very scarce. Plenty of rain had fallen though the travelers saw but two light rains.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Hugh Riley, mother of Mrs. Palmer. She visited with a sister at Ft. Worth, Ennis, near Perrin and Palo Pinto. She also visited with a brother on the trip.

INTERESTING FACTS REGARDING TEXAS HISTORY IN AN EARLY EXCITING EPOCH

Of all the plantations in Texas, surely none is of more sentimental interest to patriotic Texans than that of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Perry at Peach Point, for Mrs. Perry was the sister of Stephen F. Austin and it was this plantation that he considered "home" in Texas. Several documents concerning this plantation are in the family archives collection of the University of Texas library, and are revealing in their sidelights on plantation management.

In his reminiscences of "The Old Plantations and Their Owners of Brazoria County, Texas," Abner J. Strobel, published in 1926, describes Peach Point Plantation as follows:

"It was the home of Mrs. James F. Perry, the sister of Stephen F. Austin, and his home if he properly ever had a home in Texas. It can truly be said his home was wherever he hung his hat, for his duties were always of a public nature. The son of Mrs. Perry, S. S. Perry, inherited this plantation. It was a cotton and sugar plantation. It was well improved—had its residence, office in the yard, also residence for the over-seer. I have made many visits to the plantation in my boyhood days—days that in life's afternoon I recall with pleasure. And as life's twilight shadows lengthen across my pathway, it is a pleasure to recall the many pleasant days I spent beneath its hospitable roof. Well do I remember when the day was spent and we were about to retire for the night. All would enter the parlor or sitting room, there to render thanks to Almighty God for his blessings through the day. A chapter would be read in the Bible, and then a prayer would be rendered. Morn, noon and night grace would be said. Cuch was the daily routine at Peach Point. I mention this to show the Christian character of the people who resided in the colony, for the same can be said for the majority of the homes of those who came from the older states to reside and build up a civilization in the wilderness of Texas. A few of the descendants of this family reside at Freeport and Angleton. Others are scattered elsewhere. The plantation is practically a ruin."

In the University library is the following letter written by James F. Perry from Peach Point, "near Quintana, Texas," January 7, 1839, to his friend, Greal McGraady, Jr., in Potosi, Missouri:

"I owe you an apology for not writing to you long since but my business has called me much from home for the last 12 months and I have neglected writing to many of my friends which I ought to have done, your kind letter by M Jones was recd. I was quit unwell at the time having been at Houston took a very bad cold but I am now nearly restored to my moral health. Our family have all enjoyed uninterrupted good health the last year. Mrs. Perry's health is quite restored. We have made fair crop, this season and are generally in good spirits. With regard to the claim on Big River we have concluded to let it lie a while longer as it don't amount to much anyhow.

"Now Sir for my advice respecting your removing to Texas. I have no doubt my dear Sir but that you would be pleased with Texas if you could only see it once. There is no doubt that it is a fine country and that a young man might advance his interest in with no moderate portion of industry, good management and economy there is no finer cotton country I presume anywhere. The lands near the coast is well calculated for sugar or cotton rather but I rather think sugar would be best. We raise all kind of provisions in a abundance, corn, potatoes, both sweet & Irish, Pumpkins vines of all discriptions grow luxuriantly, feed grows enuf well all kinds of garden vegetables grow in abundance. ePaches figs plums & quinces produce in abundance hogs & cattle does well and horses in the up country. A planter here with eight or ten hands after he gets his place once improved can live very comfortable and in abundance but Sir with all these advantages there are many difficulties for an emigrant to surmount in a new country everythings is very high labor of every discription is high particular mechanics are hard to be got even at high prices to werk. A person to move here unless he had large means must expect to have to undergo some hardships and privations for the first few years this I know from actual experiences but still young persons who are disposed undertake it will be some day well compensated for all there is also opportunity for men of business to advance themselves here in all new countries men of integrity and business is smart and with industry they can always get along well. I think if you can spare the time to come and see the country it would be well worth the time & money spent in doing so but I could not advise you to move (although it would be very gratifying to us all to see you and family in this country) without you first come to see and judge for yourself.

"Say to John Perry that I will write to him soon. Remember me to all my old friends who may think worth-while to inquire. "Mrs. Perry desires to be particularly remembered to Mrs. McGraady. She says nothing would give her more pleasure than to see her and yourself in Texas."

"Mrs. Perry desires to be particularly remembered to Mrs. McGraady. She says nothing would give her more pleasure than to see her and yourself in Texas."

"Mrs. Perry desires to be particularly remembered to Mrs. McGraady. She says nothing would give her more pleasure than to see her and yourself in Texas."

Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT

W. E. FERRELL
Minister First Christian Church

"Sharing the Good News," Acts 1:8

A Chinaman asked a statesman who represented the United States in China: "What right have you Christians to come over here to China and talk with our people about the religion of your Christ?" The diplomat replied, "The right to give to others what is too good to keep." Good news must be shared. That is one motive for a Christian witness. There is another and a very intimate motive suggested in the statement, "For the love of Christ constraineth us," (II Cor. 5:14). There is certainly no sweeter or more efficient constraining power than that of love. To constrain—that means to urge, to successfully persuade, to bear away, to transport, to impel forward. The love of Christ certainly possesses a mighty moving power. It is the great instrument to high and holy attainment.

It is by this blessed constrain, we are moved to enter the Christian life. Christ said, "If I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me." No man can stand before the Cross, realizing that Christ died for him, and not be moved with impulse to yield the heart to Him, and to accept Him as personal Saviour and Redeemer.

It is by this constrain we are prompted to confess ourselves to be His disciples, unite with His Church and make an open acknowledgement of our devotion to Him and to His cause, to be His witnesses.

It is by it we are moved to battle against sin. A devoted love makes it say for a wife to be true to her husband or a husband to his wife. There is a wonderful purifying power in love. Love has a mighty transforming influence.

By it we are led to make sacrifices for Christ and His Church.

Love Constrained sacrifice becomes actual pleasure and work for Christ the highest joy. The love-constrained Christian realizes Christ's desire for souls, and therefore tries to win them for Him. He knows Christ's longing for the extension of His kingdom and therefore he gives according to his ability for the spread of the gospel.

WASHINGTON TRIP GIVEN IN DETAIL BY COMMITTEEMEN

Speakings, Banquets, Side Trips Make Busy Week For Farmers

The four AAA delegates sent to the national conference at Washington from Donley county returned home Sunday. A report of their trip is submitted by them. It reads:

"We, your Committee, sent to Washington, D. C. in the interest of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, beg to make the following report:

First, let it be understood that the government had no part in paying our expenses, as some seem to think. Expenses were paid by Donley county citizens who favor the farm program.

Of course our trip was very interesting in many respects, in other ways, tiresome. We traveled by auto the entire distance of 3,390 miles, and were in 13 different states besides the District of Columbia. We saw some of the finest scenery in the United States. The best improved homes were not seen in the cotton belt.

We left Clarendon Friday morning of the 10th, and arrived in Washington Monday, the 13th, late. Tuesday we met the Texas delegation coming by train after waiting from 8:30 to 12:30 in the train yards. We all then went to Constitution Hall to hear a number of big speeches, one by Mr. Davis, head of our trippers, Hon. Marvin Jones and others.

We next went to the White House where we heard our President make a talk at 5 p. m., the finest talk we ever heard. That alone was worth the trip. The President is paralyzed in his legs and feet, but is a true friend of man.

Another big event was the banquet at the Mayflower hotel at 7 p. m. Talk about good things to eat and big speaking, it came off! It was a Texas crowd only of between eight and nine hundred. Plates cost $1.50 each. Our Texas representatives did most of the talking. Marvin Jones, Tom Connally, Morris Sheppard, Wright Patman who is author of the soldier bill, Secretary Wallace of our national Department of Agriculture made a fine practical talk. But Mr. Cobb took the cake as for fine talks. That man is a great orator.

We believe Marvin Jones is the key man for the farmers in Washington, but with the cooperation of the President, Secretary Wallace, Mr. Cobb and others we see no reason why our farm program will not go over in a great way.

In a conversation with Mr. Jones in regard to seeing the President, he said it had been planned that some time during our stay for us to see him and hear him speak, but Congress was going to have to do something to keep the masses away from him as it was such a strain to meet all the problems and worries of the nation. And that no president lives long after he retires due to this strain. We told him that if being president killed a man, we in Texas were going to prepare for his funeral as soon as Mr. Roosevelt goes out of office. He laughed.

We attended a meeting of the Corn-Hog program in the South Wing of the Agriculture building Wednesday morning that continued in session until noon. Many questions were discussed, and the meeting was directed by Claude R. Wickard, chief of the Corn-Hog Division.

The only thing we did not like about the trip was that neither the President nor any one else called on us Donley county fellows for a speech. But each speaker impressed upon us that the object of the Convention was to create a good fellowship and good feeling between the farmers and official Washington.

We were directed to return to Texas and tell the people that they wr for us 100 percent if we want the farm program put over, and they hoped to make it permanent, and the only way it can be done is with a tax.

The President said "the big man has his tariff, then why not the farmer?" Some may say that it was not necessary for Donley county to send a bunch of farmers to Washington, but suppose every county had of said the same? Anyway, we went and we thank every one that had a part in paying our expenses.

SATURDAY WILL BE "POPPY DAY" IN CLARENDON

Little Red Flower Made By Invalid Veterans Their Personal Appeal

"The spirit of service and sacrifice for the nation, which enabled America to put forth its great World War effort and which is needed to meet the difficulties of today, is symbolized in the little red memorial poppy", said Mrs. Fred Buntin poppy chairman of Aubyn E. Clark 126 Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, today as the Unit continued its preparations for the observance of Poppy Day here Saturday.

"The poppy stands for the highest conceivable type of service and sacrifice", Mrs. Buntin continued, "service that demanded the sacrifice of life. The bright little flower recalls the days when every American was giving his energies and means to the nation and when life itself was not considered too much to give for America.

"We of the Auxiliary will be on the streets all day Saturday with baskets of poppies which we will offer to be worn in honor of the World War dead. In exchange we will ask contributions for the welfare of the disabled veterans in need, their families and the dependents of those who have died. We hope that our poppies will reawaken the spirit of the men who gave their all in the country's defense and help inspire Americans to the service and sacrifice that our country needs today."

Poppies will be distributed throughout the city Saturday by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary Unit. In exchange for the little flowers of remembrance contributions will be asked for the Legion and Auxiliary welfare program. The poppies have been made by disabled World War veterans at Kerville, who have been given employment in the work during the winter and spring. More than 10,000,000 poppies are expected to be distributed by the Auxiliary in the nation-wide observance of Poppy Day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patrick and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bugbee attended the funeral of Mr. Hobart at Pampa Tuesday.

Mrs. J. B. Baird attended the funeral of Mr. T. D. Hobart at Pampa Tuesday, also visited her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Sims Jr.

Mrs. Brice Kennedy of Clayton, New Mexico who visited a few days with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morris left Tuesday for Wichita Falls to visit her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lane have returned from an extended visit at Amarillo.

Mrs. McCune of Jacksboro is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gorman.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Merrell and daughter Muffet returned home Sunday from a pleasant visit at Dallas, Houston and Galveston.
