ARE AUTO MECHANICS PLAIN DUMB?

Let us encounter a barrage of wrenches, we hasten to announce that "all mechanics are rot dumb." Just a portion of them.

Some will recall the dubious age back when the livery stables went out and the auto came in. The manger janitors saw a job slip never to return. He simply grabbed a monkey wrench, fell out the window and announced to an astounded world that he was an "expert" and plenty ready to dispense "service" in great gobs.

He instantly brought to the fore two of the most over-worked words in the English language—"expert" and "service."

That was the "age of doubt" coupled to the age of mechanical ignorance in which the average auto owner codded his faith in his fellow man. The average "expert" owned one wrench. Those who gathered up as many as three, were experts whose glowing reputations were flaunted to a disgusted auto world in stentorian tones—even shouted from the housetops.

The first autos were as such a puzzle to the average man as a pre-historic giant. He looked upon it with wonder and awe—mostly awe. In his helpless condition he could do nothing else, unless he got a team and towed her to shore.

Remembering the experiments of the veterinarian in doctoring a horse with a succession of remedies, the first auto mechanic resorted to this method which followed a livery stable diagnosis. He tried some of everything, but shellac was his long suit. What he could not accomplish with a blow torch, he covered with shellac and proceeded to drag the machine until he knocked off the fenders. Many of them finally guessed the right antidote and the wheezy old motor began to puff by jerks. After coaxing for a half day, she was ready to again hit the road at a twenty mile clip. It was a fast age slowed only by the ignorance of the mechanics.

Today mechanics in proportion to their number, measure up to the intelligence of the doctors, publishers, lawyers and other professions. He labors under the handicap of not being able to hide a mistake or lie out of it. It stares him in the face and the owner of the machine takes the side of the mistake in denouncing the mechanic.

Mechanics now propose to organize. They expect to ask the Legislature to pass a law that will compel auto mechanics to secure a "license to practice" by some evidence of skill other than a complement of wrecks and wrenches strewed around his place of business.

We favor the passage of such law. Today we enjoy the services of a barber who was forced to place his photo where we could make faces at it during the period of torture. Auto mechanics should be made to do the same thing. In the event you broke down on the highway, what could afford more pleasure than looking at a mechanic's photo and cussing it in every language including the scandalous?

In the meantime, the public will continue to patronize every profession offering 90 percent "affability," and 10 percent "ability" just as it has always done.

To Ask Million Dollars For Closing Highway Gaps

AUSTIN, TEX., May 28: In a determined effort to obtain $100,000,000 for gap-closing on Texas highways before the Centennial and the opening of the Mexico City road, Harry Hines, new chairman of the State Highway Commission, will head a delegation of Texas leaders to Washington in mid-June he has announced.

His hope is to impress the federal administration with the fact that the building of modern highways in Texas can provide more and better and quicker employment than weed-cutting, ditching or many of the other former CWA activities. It can do this, he contends, with minimum waste or abuses, and the result will be useful, permanent, revenue-producing facilities.

Accompanying Chairman Hines to the capital will be the other commissioners, Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, Col. Ike Ashburn of the Texas Good Roads Association and envoys from many other groups.

utilization of road-building as a means of unemployment relief in Texas, and has wired his view to President Roosevelt.

"Well over 90 per cent of the Texas road dollar goes to labor either on the job or in the factories mills and pits behind it", Mr. Hines explained, "and this is why we hope to get some of the money from purely temporary relief projects shifted to it."

"Texas should get over $50,000,000 for roads and grade separations from appropriations already made, and we will ask for $40,000,000 more. We have the plans all ready for badly-needed roads that will exceed this amount, and we can get them under way swiftly."

The highway chairman explained that he has no thought of disturbing the many worthwhile city and community projects to be presented through PWA, but only random and unplanned work relief.

Earl Ryan and daughter, Ruezell spent the week end in Oklahoma City.

State Medical Department Advises Youth

The call of the open spaces is with us again, the old swimming hole, lake, river, and shore all have their devotees, but in the contemplation of the good times we are going to have on the water let us pause a moment to resolve that we will not be one of the unfortunate victims that each year is added to the toll of those drowned.

If you expect to spend some time near the water, learn to protect yourself—learn to swim. It is not difficult; you will soon learn to keep afloat, and better still, lose that dreadful fear and panic into which a person is thrown who knows nothing about swimming when he finds himself beyond his depth. Just the ability to keep afloat a few minutes may mean life. And, those of you who can swim! Remember, it is not always the non-swimmer who is drowned. Do not let the knowledge that you are a good swimmer make you foolhardy; you can have just as much fun swimming parallel to the shore as trying to make the other side, and it is much safer. It is much more fun to swim with a companion than alone. Don't dive unless you know where you are 'heading.'

Have you ever stood helplessly by and seen a bungling attempt to resuscitate a drowning person, minutes lost when seconds are precious? The prone pressure method should be started at once. You can learn the proper method in a few minutes yourself.

Swimming is one of the best of sports from a health standpoint, but needs to be indulged in with a proper respect for the possible hazards involved. Incidentally, middle aged and older persons should be physically checked up before engaging too strenuously in this form of activity.

How Tariffs Protect Cotton Producers of Nation

Japanese cotton cloth imports in to the United States during the month of January paid duties of 14.2 cents per pound, according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Of this amount, 8.7 cents per pound was the ad valorem duty on cotton cloth for January imports. The remainder, 5.5 cents per pound was the compensatory tax which is levied to offset the processing tax paid by domestic manufacturers.

The processing tax applies only to cotton used to make products sold in the United States, and competing cotton products, imported from foreign countries, must pay the compensatory tax equivalent to the processing tax, in addition to the normal tariff duty imposed on imports of cotton cloth, it is pointed out by Cully A. Cobb, Director of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's cotton division. Processing taxes on exports of cotton cloth are refunded.

An analysis of cotton cloth imports from Japan during January 1935 indicates that the following items were included in their cost before they could be put on United States markets:

Average invoice value at point of foreign departure, 31.7 cents per pound of cloth; average import 8.7 cents per pound of cloth; compensating tax levied to offset processing tax, 5.5 cents per pound which is equal to the rate of 4.2 cents per pound on raw cotton. To these costs must be added ocean shipping charges, insurance, and handling charges.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained. Then you may suffer nagging backache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen limbs; feel nervous, miserable—all upset. Don't delay! Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

A LOAN

Is A Business Transaction—NOT A FAVOR

It is no more a favor for a bank to lend you money than it is for a property owner to rent you a house. Both make a fair profit when the business is on a sound basis.

The money a bank lends mainly belongs to its depositors. Lending it helps pay the costs of handling their accounts. The bank must be certain that the loan is a safe use of this money. Whenever there is an opportunity for a loan to be mutually beneficial, the bank heartily welcomes your loan application.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

I see where the judge has gotten his boy out of the pen over in old Oklahoma. He was sent up for 25 years for killing a young man. Both were around 20 years of age. The petted son of a man maintained at public expense spent about two months in the binder twine factory. The papers state that he was glad to get out. Naturally, since that was the first honest labor he had ever done. The next step in some legal technicalities, and the young man will again sport a new car, new clothing and spending money. I wonder when the day will come that our criminal laws will apply to each and every one alike. Some poor devil's son could have served out the 25 years because money and influence was lacking. No wonder people lose respect for laws and courts.

A main street business man says he has seen as many as three large trucks side parked on his street in front of the postoffice early in the morning. He complains that traffic is blocked. Well, why not try the alleys?

Who started these "stork shows" anyway?

The biggest calamity to hit this section was the last cold spell that wiped out the makins of Salt Fork plumb butter.

Most papers keep a line set for weddings which reads: "The bridegroom is a fine young man of sterling character." Women have a way of developing some fine character alright, but it starts awful sudden in the write-up of a wedding. Most of the women need a numbing pole about as long as a constable's cigar to frail the stuffing out of a worthless hulk of a husband who expects her to make a living while raising a bunch of kids.

Fashion Note—Crepes Susette is the name of a new pancake. You finally flood it with likker, set it on fire and eat it while blazing.

At a school party a few nights ago, one of the graduates arrived with rolled sox and a stunning covering that was indicative of spring while the winter winds are with us. One boy remarked, "gee, Jimmy, look at the streamlined body on that destroyer!"

Speaking of skunk oil and things in use in this modern age, let it be known that patent-leather hair is alright if there is a set of non-skid brains underneath.

A woman is as old as she feels, and she generally feels according to the way others speak of her appearance.

Movie Actress: "I'll endorse your cigarettes for $50,000.00.

Publicity Man: "I'll see you 'In-hale first.'"

The stories about strength gained from spinach eating must be true. The old domineer neighbor hen that ate up our spinach last week, came back Monday, walked up to the new net fenning and clipped it into bits with her bill.

1935 will see the "Dust Bowl" turned into a "Feed Trough."

Dalhart got about 2 inches of rain. Wonder what that Smart Alec now thinks who stated that "the folks would be skating in hell before Dalhart got another rain."

Whose was the mother who wanted to know of her son in college why he included a brassiere along with the shirts he sent home to be washed.

Mrs. T. Jones renews her subscription to the Leader and sends the paper to two others, paying for the three subscriptions at the one time. Several of our readers follow this plan. You are doing some one a real favor by this plan. Thank you Mrs. Jones.

This chain letter business has subsided. A very few made a few pennies, but hundreds of them are disappointed, and not a few got sore about it. Personally, I mailed out a few dimes to acquaintances, returning their letters. Some one had to "hold the sack" in the end, and I wanted at least a few to get a dime out of it.

"Mystery sometimes lurks deep within simple things," an advertiser tells us on page five of Collier's. On page three we find the statement of another advertiser who tells us that, "don't guess about your breath." What a coincidence! It reminds the writer of a time of a time in his boyhood days of the swimmin' hole which happened to be a muddy tank. It is a mystery to this day, which of the larger boys during the process of a leap frog game in the tank, planted his No. 10 dog on the back of my neck and left the said head firmly imbedded in the mud. Reading to the end of the paragraph on "breath" advertising, the statement reads: "The entire mouth becomes sweet, clean, fresh, and wholesome." Now that all depends. The 'entire' mouth coming up out of that mud could hardly qualify as to the above statements. The language was anything but wholesome, but a lot of fresh air was caught getting to higher ground.

The bugle call to battle has sounded in the home of a local young couple. The battle—the same kind you had—is to determine who shall manage the spending, how, when and where. It is just such things that make "bitter enders" that sometime leads to the courthouse. Why not settle the whole matter by joining a Hooley Long "Share the Wealth" club? Perhaps the constitution would help keep peace in the family, provided the by-laws were a bit hazy except as to dues paying. The young lady says she "turned down a man with a salary of $4,000.00 to marry this lazy bum who thinks of nothing but spending what she makes. Perhaps if the other bozo knew what he had escaped, he might contribute hubby a pension. Human nature never changes.

"Girls aren't what they used to be" on page 34 brings from us the statement that they are "a darned sight better in most ways." It's a fine article. Read it.

"In the belated ending of child labor the NRA has done a long-needed piece of social work." Yes sir! A lot of the grown-ups knocked off the job some time ago. It is time for the kids to begin growing up in idleness. What would we do with a bunch of brand new prisons and asylums empty except for bats. Who wouldn't rather see young people enjoying the facilities rather than the only flying mammal on the North American continent? It is well enough to let young folks have pleasure, but she won't work if it is overdone, even if the brain-trusters of NRA think that way about it. So much for page 10 of Colliers, dated June 1st.

Turning to page 14 we read, "No woman likes to have some one directly behind her calling her husband a big yellow bum all afternoon." Agreed! As a rule she reserves that official function. Standing on the north, east or west of her while making the statement would make little difference. A couple likes to 'fight in peace' unmolested. Did you ever attempt to settle a family racket? Then don't start. That is a private function, as some tell us who have had disastrous experience. A woman likes to be told that "her husband simply does not understand her", while she craves pitying words and glances, but she reserves the right to do her own fighting. (Dorothy Dix would give a dime for that idea for her next column.)

It is said that there is more scandal extant on a beach than in a hick town. If that be true, the beach is breaking a record for more things than pulchritude. In defense of the hick towns, we deny the claim in whole, in part, and de facto, as a malicious slander on in land assets. It is nothing more than a slam to deprive the rural belt of tourist traffic.

"You've never had a ride like this before!" reads a bold headline at the top of page 25, Collier's June 1st. You said it, brother. From January 1930 to the same date in '35 she was all on Donley county dirt highways so far as the general public was concerned. Most of us are willing for that "ride" to rest in history, never to be resurrected. It was just like pushing a baby carriage over potato ridge—if you know what I mean.

See you next week. Plenty of rain and everybody busy. The goat head crop appears to be coming along nicely—billions of them to the acre.

PROTECT YOUR LIFE AND THE LIVES OF OTHERS!

THERE are three questions you should ask yourself about the tires you buy:

- 1—"Will the non-skid tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"
- 2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"
- 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

Answer No. 1—Harvey S. Firestone early realized the value of tire traction and safety and was the first to design an All Rubber Non-Skid Tire. Through the years Firestone has led the way in the design and development of tires with most effective non-skid treads.

Firestone does not depend solely on traction and non-skid tests made by its own engineers—it employs a leading University to make impartial tests for non-skid efficiency of its tires, and their most recent report shows that Firestone High Speed Tires stop the car 15% quicker than the best of all popular makes of tires.

Answer No. 2—Blowout protection must be built into a tire. Friction and heat within the tire is the greatest cause of blowouts. Firestone protects its tires from friction and heat by a patented process which soaks every cord and insulates every strand with pure liquid rubber. This is an additional process known as Gum-Dipping, by which every 100 pounds of cotton cords absorb eight pounds of rubber. This extra process costs more and is not used in any other make of tire.

Leading race drivers investigate the inbuilt qualities of the tires they use, because their very lives depend upon their tires, and they always select Firestone Tires for their daring speed runs. In fact, Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-mile race for fifteen consecutive years, and they were on the 5,000-pound car that Ab Jenkins drove 3,000 miles in 23 1/2 hours on the hot salt beds at Lake Bonneville, Utah, at an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, without tire trouble of any kind. These amazing performance records are proof of the greatest blowout protection ever known.

Answer No. 3—Thousands of car owners reporting mileage records of 40,000 to 75,000 miles, is proof of the long mileage and greater economy by equipping with Firestone High Speed Tires. Let these unequalled performance records be your buying guide.

Go to the Firestone Auto Supply and Service Store or Firestone Tire Dealer and let him equip your car with Firestone Tires, the safest and most economical tires built.

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

J. Perry King, Pastor

There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

We are happy to announce the coming of Rev. Edward B. Jenkins of Rutherfordton, North Carolina, who will preach Sunday morning and evening at The First Baptist Church. The subject Sunday morning will be "The 100% Christian." The Evening subject will be "Russia, The Land Without God." There will be four other classes taught by capable teachers of the church. We want the boys and girls, the young men and women, as well as the adults to get the benefit of this school. Classes will start promptly at 8:00 o'clock and hold for thirty minutes, then we will assemble in the auditorium for a worship period and an illustrated lecture. Rev. Jenkins has pictures of India, China, Japan and the Holy Land which he will show in connection with his lectures. If you cannot come to the classes you are urged to see and hear these lectures.

"The Gay Divorcee" Called Screen's First True Musical Comedy

Much curiosity has been aroused by reports of the sensational dance performance "The Continental" by Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in their new musical comedy, "The Gay Divorcee," the dance being herald as a challenge to the exceptional popularity of the "Carioca" which the same team of singing, dancing, comedy stars introduced with instant success in their former picture, "Flying Down to Rio." A description of "the Continental" is now available from the RKO-Radio studio where the picture was produced from the international stage success "The Gay Divorcee," with Alice Brady and Edward Everett Horton featured with the stars.

In the new show "The Continental" is danced by Astaire and Miss Rogers, with singing, and a male and female chorus of some 80 or 100 in ballroom attire in a lavish modernistic hotel setting.

"The Continental" begins with a fetching moment of chivalry, such as prevailed in the stately days of the Minuet, the gentleman kissing the lady's hand as they one-step towards each other.

They meet, face to face, and then as the girl rests her head upon her partner's shoulder they do a circular Fox Trot. In this the lady lifts her head and gazes at her partner upon every other bar of the music.

Now, according to Dave Gould, supervisor of the dance, the couple has become friendly enough to soar into wider fields. They do that in a joyous, torrid and rhythmic but simple sidewise tap step, which carries them from side to side as they face each other and pass to arms' length. The whole movement, tap included, is described as a zipped-up, super-animated Minuet.

Misses Mattie and Irene Rhodes visited friends at Brice over the week end.

Mrs. W. G. Word and daughters Peggy Joe and Mary Frances and Miss Mary Howren attended the funeral of Mrs. Avery at Amarillo Wednesday.

FARMER SAVED BY STATE DEBT ORGANIZATION

Governor Allred Appoints Conciliation Committee For Donley County

Members of the committee for this county have mailed in their acceptance. Judge S. W. Lowe is chairman, G. G. Reeves is secretary. John Hermesmyer is the third member of the committee.

Donley county is in the Lubbock district of 54 counties in which 51,865 farms have been listed. Guion Gregg is district supervisor.

Created in the late summer of 1933 as a unit in the President's recovery organization, the Texas

Farm Debt Conciliation Committee has adjusted 1,182 cases of indebtedness in which farmers of the state have been saved $1,133,820, it was announced this week by R. J. Murray, state chairman of the organization.

Designed to stop foreclosures and eviction of worthy farm families from their homes by bringing together the farmer and his creditors in a mutually agreeable plan of debt settlement, this program is functioning in the United States through 44 governors and 2,643 committees.

Texas 'Largest'
Texas, largest agricultural state in the union, is benefiting particularly from this activity, since it is estimated that there are some 500,000 farms in the state with a gross total indebtedness of approximately half a billion dollars.

"It is safe to assume," said Mr.

Murray, "that 80 per cent of that portion of these farms mortgaged were subject to foreclosure."

Operating as a division of the rural department of the Texas Relief Commission, the state committee set up administrative offices and divided the state into six districts with field representatives as follows:

Methods Given
1. Rewriting the indebtedness at a lower rate of interest and for a longer period of time.

2. Temporary extension of the indebtedness until another crop year, thus giving the farmer another opportunity to meet his delinquencies.

3. Scale-down of indebtedness to meet the committee of the federal land bank or commissioner, or securing an increase in the commitment of the federal land bank or commissioner.

4. If all efforts fail under the foregoing voluntary methods, in worthy cases the state committee recommends that the farmer docket his case with the county conciliation commissioner and seek a legal settlement of his obligations. There is a filing fee of $10 for this service.

5. Failing to obtain a satisfactory adjustment before the county conciliation commissioner, the farmer may then amend his original petition and avail himself of the provisions of the Frazier-Lemke act, which declares a moratorium of five or six years, and allows the farmer to remain in possession of his farm under supervision of the court, with the opportunity to re-purchase the farm at the appraised value determined by the court.

"The conciliation committees guarantee social justice to both debtor and creditor by showing up impartially either the debtor or creditor who attempts by sharp business practices to take advantage of the other," declared Mr. Murray.

The recent U. S. Supreme Court decision may effect the plans, though an effort will be made to save the day for thousands of distressed farmers. The Frazier-Lemke Act is said to be void since the recent court decision.

Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT
 W. E. FERRELL
 Minister First Christian Church
 "The Way To Happiness."
 Text: "That your joy may be full."
 John 16:24.
 Was there ever sorrow like the sorrow of Jesus? Here He tells us that never was there such joy as His.

I. Think of the joy of Jesus. It was the joy of perfect surrender. His life was His own fight for man's salvation, and not a matter of external necessity. It was born of His unbroken union with God and of identification with His eternal purpose of love.
 II. It was the joy of work well done. He won a wounded soul to God, and in the doing of it hunger and thirst were forgotten. Above the pain of Calvary rose His cry of Victory—"It is finished."

III. It was the joy of giving joy. By the highways and hedges He found the needy, and with kindly look and gentle touch restored them to hope and love. His joy was in proportion to His power. These are the delicate threads of which the garment of joy is woven for all man-kind.
 IV. Think of the joy of the disciples. It is the joy of believing. Human life is incomplete. Sin severs our relationship with God. To believe is to be restored. The mind is no longer uncertain, or the heart unsettled. To know Christ is the mind's greatest discovery.
 V. It is the joy of living. Jaded appetites are the fruit of Christless years. Life is ennobled, dignified, and beautified by His presence. Flowers are fairer, love more precious and all earth's joys abundantly enriched when Christ teaches us to use them and to share them with others.
 VI. It is a joy of sacrifice. Labor is no longer drudgery with Him. It is service. We are his partners in a glorious enterprise. Our work will count, for He has taught us the unflinching joy of serving God by serving others—the supreme conquest of life. If you would get life's best, see to it that life gets your best. The way to real happiness is by the way of service and making others happy.

Mrs. D. P. Ross and daughter, Mrs. R. H. Beville of Amarillo, visited friends in Clarendon Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hott and sons Clark and Robert left Wednesday seeking a new home in New Mexico. They expect to visit several places before making a choice. They rented their farm in the Chamberlain community to the Hardin brothers.

Tomlinson Digs to Safety After Second Blow

Evidently believing that "accidents do not happen in the same way and place the second time, Dick Tomlinson of the Martin community began digging a storm cellar early Monday morning after his chicken house was blown to bits Saturday night.

Some two weeks ago the home was practically demolished by a twister, trees in the yard uprooted and the chicken house blown to bits the first time. The family sought shelter in a storm cellar, but Tomlinson believes that a better cellar is needed. In other words "when better storm cellars are built, Dick Tomlinson will build them," so say his neighbors.

Mrs. E. D. Landreth and children are visiting in Paducah.

Elders, Deacons Installed At The Church of Christ

Three elders and two deacons were recently selected and appointed for the local church of Christ. Those appointed as elders are: W. B. Mayfield, Elmer Hayes, and F. B. Thomas. Those appointed to serve as deacons are: R. E. Duncan, and J. Frank Heath. T. M. Little, and R. O. Thomas were already serving as elders, and C. E. Lindsey as a deacon. With these men supporting him in his work, James L. Standridge, local minister, states that he is looking forward to a rapid growth in the church work here. The church auditorium has already been improved, additional pews have been purchased, classrooms have been built, and a constructive program has been outlined. Attention is called to the church calendar published elsewhere in this paper.

Dr. and Mrs. Stricklin will leave Saturday for Tulane University at New Orleans to get their son Mike.

Bain is Appointed General Agent Refining Company

Announcement is made this week by the Panhandle Refining company of Wichita Falls of the appointment of J. R. (Dick) Bain as the company's general agent for Clarendon territory.

Mr. Bain has been conducting a service station handling the products of the company since October, 1933. He will continue to operate the service station in which he will maintain his office.

Starting in with one pump at the Chevrolet Motor company some two years ago, Mr. Bain's rise has been gradual until today he is said to have one of the most attractive service stations in town from a business standpoint.

His new line will include wholesale lots in gas, oils, greases, kerosene and the odorless cleaning fluid known as "Panoclean." Mr. Bain states that the new tractor fuel being marketed by the company for the first time this season, is meeting with great success.

He informs the public of the new line-up through a liberal amount of advertising in the Leader this week. Read it.

North Carolina Minister To Preach at Baptist Church

Announcement is made that Rev. Edward B. Jenkins of Rutherfordton, N. C. will fill the pulpit at the First Baptist church here at both hours Sunday.

His subject for the morning hour will be "The One Hundred Percent Christian," and evening "Russia, the Land Without God." Rev. J. Perry King stated Wednesday.

Tax Exemption Certificate Deadline is June 10th

The Washington office has set a final closing date of June 10th for application for tax exemption certificates for the 1935 crop, states county agent H. M. Breedlove. There will be no applications taken after that date, he says.

All producers who have not already done so, are urged to get their applications in at once.

All producers having surplus 1934 tax exemption certificates on hand, other than those in the pool will bring them to the county agent's office at their earliest convenience and get them exchanged for 1935 certificates.

Large Crowds Turn Out For Graduating Exercises

Fifteen graduates of Clarendon Municipal Junior College heard Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech. College of Lubbock Thursday night.

Much of Dr. Knapp's talk was based on personal experiences. He blamed parents much for the failure of youth to realize the responsibilities of life. His advice to fathers was to "live before the boy what you want him to be, and spend much time in prayer."

At the Methodist church Friday night the graduating class of the High School heard Dr. Stuart H. Condron, head of the Department of Government of W. T. S. T. College of Canyon.

Dr. Condron gave the class a clear concept of "New Patterns of 1935" and the application of the New Deal principles.

Dean R. E. Drennon spoke to the graduating class of the Junior High School at 10 a. m. Friday. Mr. Drennon is a convincing talker and has decided practical views. He believes in using the methods that get results.

Large crowds attended both exercises. The programs were carried out as published in the Leader last week.

Childress Publishers Issue Weekly School Record

Issuing a weekly record of the public schools of Childress in book form is a feat of the Childress County News, Messers Kenneth Fink and Fred A. Story publishers.

The book contains seventy-two pages, 11x14 inches, printed on heavy book paper. The "Corral," a department of the schools published in the News each week is shown in the book from September 6, 1934 to May 3, 1935.

Pictures of the buildings, teachers and pupils are shown in number. This booklet will become a priceless possession of both pupils and teachers as the years go by.
