COTTON GROWERS PASS RESOLUTION ENDORSING ENTIRE PROGRAM OF AAA

Approximately 150 cotton growers representing 14 Texas counties in District No. 1 of the state agricultural association voted unanimously approval to a resolution endorsing the processing tax "as it applies to each and every phase of the AAA program" in a meeting at the court house in Childress Monday afternoon.

The group further resolved to "condemn the action of the Industries and Ginners Association for their move to enjoin the progress of the National Farm Program."

M. A. Pillers, member of the state advisory committee, called the meeting to explain to cotton growers the program for the next four years as proposed by 80 farm representatives who met with government officials in Washington August 26-28.

Explains Details

Pillers went into detail on the 10 cent loan program, and explained the fundamentals of the AAA plan in general.

Plans were formulated Monday afternoon to organize the district with a board of directors and four major officers.

One board member will be chosen from each county and after the board has been formed the members will elect a president and three other major officers.

Counties represented at the meeting Monday were Wichita, Wilbarger, Hardeman, Foard, Cottle, Motley, Hall, Donley, Armstrong, Gray, Hemphill, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Childress.

Resolution Passed

The resolution passed Monday was drawn and signed by J. F. Whaley, W. I. Rushing, Dallas Love, C. H. Mullen, B. G. Glenn, H. W. Gray, and D. A. Neely. The resolution:

We the committee appointed by the chairman of the District Meeting of District No. 1 of the District Agricultural Association at Childress, Texas, September 9, 1935.

Be it hereby resolved that we endorse every phase of the work done by our District advisor, M. A. Pillers, relative to the support and advancement of the work of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration program, and as representatives of the entire district beg to pledge our full support and cooperation for the continuation of the adjustment program.

Be it further resolved that we the farmers of District No. 1 heartily approve of the processing tax, as it applies to each and every phase of the AAA program, and that we condemn the action of the Industries and Ginners Association.

E. L. Lewis of Lelia Lake, chairman of the County Cotton Board was in attendance and gave a report on the deliberations.

PUBLISHERS TO CELEBRATE PRESS DAY SATURDAY

Tri-State Fair Will Extend Special Courtesies To Panhandle Boosters

Members of the Panhandle Press Association and other publishers of the Panhandle are to be the guests of the Tri-State Fair next Saturday, the 14th. This date was agreed upon at the Convention of the publishers in Amarillo in May.

"Write O. L. Taylor, secretary of the Tri-State Fair at once saying that you will attend the Fair on Press Day," admonishes President John L. McCarty of Dalhart, president of the Association.

Publishers who write Secretary Taylor right now in advance of the date, will receive passes to the races. Then on Press Day, publishers are to call at the office of Mr. Taylor where they will receive Carnival passes and other courtesies of the Tri-State Fair.

This recognition is being given publishers for their loyal support of the Tri-State Fair from a publicity standpoint. More than two hundred active publishers plan to be in Amarillo next Saturday.

BOARD MEMBERS DETAIL HOSPITAL NEEDS TUESDAY

Informative Talks are Made To Lions Club Upon Request

Members of the Lions club started something Tuesday when one member arose to inquire of "how the club could be of service to the community." Instantly there was mentioned a number of worthy objects and projects, chief among them being the local hospital.

F. E. Chamberlain, member of the hospital board, explained the needs of the institution as imperative because of the large number of charity cases being handled.

Odos Caraway, another member of the Board, explained the financial status, stating that the hospital might have to be closed for a lack of funds. "Adair hospital is not a county or city hospital as many mistakenly suppose," he said. "It is not a charity hospital and is not under obligation to accept any but pay patients," he continued. The county donates $2,400 a year to keep the institution open, but the other thousands necessary to meet expenses must come from patients receiving treatment and other accommodations.

W. H. Patrick gave a history of the hospital telling how and why Mrs. Cornelia Adair gave the public the building and equipment. No funds were provided for its operation after her death. Mr. Patrick has been a member of the board since the hospital was built.

Dr. O. L. Jenkins explained that doctors took turn about treating indigent patients, but were under no obligations to do so since such efforts were without remuneration. The work is merely a charitable contribution, when such service is or may be rendered the helpless in time of need.

Henry B. Lovett of Donley county is a vice president. J. C. Isaacks of Canadian is president of the Association this year.

The meeting will begin Wednesday morning at 9:30 in the big Harley Sadler show tent. Sadler, himself a pioneer of West Texas, has promised special show acts for the amusement of the visitors.

The enrolling fee is but $1. There are no annual dues. Badges are provided members which entitles them to special recognition on Pioneer Day.

Thief Has Mania for Gas Tank and Radiator Caps

This is said to be an age of specialization. One is cautioned to stick to one line. One or more thieves evidently took that advice here Sunday night when numerous radiator and gas tank caps were stolen from cars. Most of the cars were robbed as they were parked at churches.

Monday, J. C. Drennan of Ashtola called the sheriff's office notifying Guy Pierce that a small boy had found a quantity of caps under the loading dock at the depot at Ashtola.

Fifteen radiator and ten gas tank caps were in the lot. A number of local people have identified their caps at the Sheriff's office. Others who are short one or more caps are advised to contact the sheriff.

Former Resident of 95 Dies At Collinsville

A message was received by relatives here Monday that Mrs. Z. A. Steedman had passed away at the home of relatives in Collinsville.

Mrs. Steedman was 95 years of age this month. She formerly lived in Clarendon and was the mother of J. O. Quattlebaum, and grandmother of E. V. Quattlebaum of the Naylor community.

Announces Leader By Air Mail

It is a source of satisfaction to the Leader management and employees to know that their efforts are appreciated. For that reason the story below is given here.

Within recent weeks Frank A. White here sent the Leader to M. A. Wolfe at Los Angeles. Mr. Wolf waited patiently for several days after being notified of the fact by Mr. White. Other days came and went and no Leader reached Mr. Wolfe.

Mr. White investigated at the Leader office and found the address correct, and no one seemed to know why the paper did not reach the addressed destination.

Tuesday, an air mail letter from Mr. Wolfe to Mr. White announced that the Leader had arrived, and that he appreciated the Leader very much. The management thanks both gentlemen for the efforts expended, and especially for the appreciation.

Advertising Town Lots Gets One Back to Old Days

The Adair addition to Ashtola has been opened and lots are being sold by C. E. (Jack) Killough of Clarendon.

The new addition is sponsored by the JA ranch properties and is located on the south side of the tracks on Highway 5, an ideal place for service stations, rural grocers, etc. Water of the best quality may be had in abundance. This is the first addition opened for sale in Donley county in a long number of years.

Pastime Changes Pictures Sunday and Monday

Due to a "ball-up" in the Dallas office, "Curly Top" will not be shown here Sunday and Monday as announced in the Pastime advertising column this week.

"The Farmer Takes a Wife" is a fine substitute. It will create plenty of amusement all the way through, Janet Gaynor being leading lady. Mr. Mulkey rushed the wires today to get a real picture so that no patron would be disappointed. You will be pleased with the picture that is coming.

Attend District Wheat Meet At Plainview

County agent H. M. Breedlove left this Thursday morning at 5:30 for Plainview where a district wheat meeting is being held today. Plans for 1936 wheat production contract will be up for consideration.

COUNTY AGENT'S JOB KEEPS HIM GOING IN HIGH

Preparing a Tri-State Fair Exhibit is Only Side Line This Week

The report of the county agent filed with the county commissioners for the month of August would indicate that H. M. Breedlove is one of the very busiest men in Donley county.

The report shows that he spent 16 days in the field, and 11 days in the office.

He met with seven 4-H clubs, the members of which are boys and young men, all craving instruction. In fact they are doing things.

Four days were spent with adults besides 1,000 office calls came in, and another 450 over the telephone. Three hundred letters were written giving information and replying to questions.

Fourteen farm and home visits were made, and four meetings attended. In the meetings, 85 people were in attendance.

Ten news stories were written for publication. This duty had been shirked by other agents, but the present agent has had the full cooperation of the three newspapers of the county in getting information before the public.

In making his rounds, the county agent traveled 2,100 miles in serving the people of Donley county during the month of August.

Extra work is being performed this week. Mr. Breedlove is preparing an exhibit for the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo. He has a burning desire to see Donley County's exhibit classed among the top-notchers. In gathering the exhibits, he has had the help of a number of enthusiastic farmers. The exhibit must be taken to Amarillo tomorrow—Friday.

Lee Marshall Suffers Very Painful Eye Injury

While working on a barn on the C. C. Phelps farm in the Martin community Tuesday, a nail broke and a portion penetrated the left eye of Lee Marshall.

He resorted to local treatment until the member became too painful late Wednesday. He was accompanied to Amarillo by Lee Holland where an eye surgeon removed a portion of a nail by means of a magnet. Mr. Marshall is now in Northwest hospital while the surgeon is making efforts to save the sight of his eye.

Final Vote Count Ends Pro Era in Texas Monday

A final vote of the canvassing board at Austin Monday gave repeal 297,597 to 250,948 as result of the August 24 election.

Actual Work Is Begun On Flood Light Athletic Field To Be Completed Oct. 1st

Relief labor is being used on the athletic field project because of the scarcity of funds with which to do the job. Work of leveling up the grounds will continue, it is said, and a final touch will see the field sodded to bermuda.

The football field is being planned on the east end and the bleachers will be on the south side.

Materials for flood lighting have been ordered and are expected to be here in time to complete the job by October 1st at least. In supplying the flood light effect permitting night games, eight iron posts are to be installed, each sixty feet high.

Thirty-two reflectors will be placed to the posts behind an equal number of lights. Each globe will carry a 1,500 watt light power. The average globe in the home is sixty or seventy-five watt. This will give the reader some idea of the light force of each of these large globes.

The night playing will not be limited to football alone, we are informed. It may apply to most any kind of school games of an athletic nature such as tennis, handball and other games.

FFA BOYS WILL STAGE EXHIBIT TRI-STATE FAIR

Judging Teams of Vocational Agriculture Class From Three States

Much of the judging will be done by FFA boys, and perhaps a few girls, of the aggie classes of a number of high schools of the three states represented in Tri-State Fair exhibits this year.

J. M. Hill, himself president of the Vocational Teachers Association, and instructor in the Clarendon high school, will have his boys on the job early.

FFA classes of the several schools of the district will have exhibits at the Fair. "This is going to be the best year's exhibits yet," said Mr. Hill who already has a line-up on what the Future Farmers of America are doing in the way of arranging their exhibits.

Parent-Teachers Hold First Session of School Term

The Sims P. T. A. had the first meeting of the school term 1935-36 in the South Ward school building, Thursday afternoon, Sept. 5, 1935. Seventy-five people were present.

There was much enthusiasm in the meeting. Some plans for the year's work were outlined. Mr. R. E. Drennan made a talk about some problems confronting our school system.

Mrs. Headrick's room had the most representatives present.

The Sims P. T. A. will meet the first Thursday in each month from 3 to 4 p. m. in the Junior High School building. The parents are urged to attend these meetings.

Watch for a later announcement of the date of the dog show which is to be sponsored by the P. T. A.

FIRST TRADES DAY EVENT GETS OUT BIG CROWD

Profit Sharing Plan Will Continue Every Saturday Until Late December

Trades Day is an event in which customers may share in the profits along with the merchants. The merchant offers this as an extra inducement because prices are not raised.

Really prices are lowered in many instances, merchants hoping that the volume of sales will make up for the reduced price loss.

The main event Saturday afternoon saw a large crowd enthusiastically cheer as each event was brought up for consideration. A larger crowd is predicted for Saturday of this week.

The circus Saturday will draw an extra large crowd. The purchasers will be more numerous. A ticket with each dollar sale entitles the holder to the "profit sharing" plan of the Trades Day League.

Don't forget your tickets in the excitement of watching the big elephant in the parade. Numerous bargains are being offered. Special prices on seasonable goods make a strong bid for your trade. Don't overlook the special values advertised in the Leader.

Legion Auxiliary to Meet Next Monday

Announcement is made of the installation of officers of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion at the Club Room next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Races, plenty of them, and the best fleet-footed animals of the whole southwest.

Every arrangement has been made to take care of the crowds in a manner that will afford comfort. School groups will visit the Fair. In fact it looks like all the Southwest will visit the fair that takes in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. That's why it is called a tri-state fair.

First Land Sale in Months Closed Here Saturday

Two sections of choice ranch land of the old Wiley Morris ranch south of Ashtola were sold by Wesley Knorpp to E. B. Meyer of Amarillo Saturday. The sale was made by J. P. Pool of Hedley, it is said, and was closed up here Saturday.

Mr. Meyer is a fine stock breeder of the Hereford type, and expects to stock his new holdings at an early date. This property has been looked after by W. W. Buck for several years, and it is understood that he will continue in the employ of the new owner.

Childress Bars Junk From Their Sidewalks

Placing of merchandise or signs on sidewalks or streets in front of businesses in Childress is prohibited by a city ordinance. Thus the Gate City steps out of the "hick town" classification.

Use of walks and streets for any purpose other than traffic is prohibited, and Chief of Police A. J. Brown has instructed to rigidly enforce this law.

MONEY MAD PATRIOTS.

In speaking to the ladies of the W. C. T. U. in session in Atlantic City Sunday, Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota called attention to a greater menace to young manhood than liquor. He said:

"We would do much for ourselves and for generations to come if we would stamp out the part which chance for profit plays in bringing war upon mankind.

"During the past ten years the Federal Government has been making blue prints of future "national defense", but the plans provide for transportation of 3,000,000 American youths to battles on foreign soil.

The Senator referred to the Dupont interests as "400 percent patriots." The Duponts are alleged to have made that much profit off the human flesh fed into the carnage of the World War.

The American Legion is in favor of taking the profits out of war. The average citizen is in favor of taking the profits out of war. The fact that a majority of the national lawmakers are not in favor of taking the profits out of wars as a means of preventing wars, would indicate that they get their profits in between wars.

INDIVIDUALS OF DISTINCTION.

The Southwest is made up of a type of people better known as "Plainsmen." They are individual, distinct and apart from the tribes farther east. Most of them come from the pioneers who braved danger and hardships to establish a home in a section yet to become the homes of outstanding citizens of hospitality and culture of the nation.

Pioneers met new conditions. The soil that he ranged, the water that he drank, the game that he hunted and the crops that he grew were far different to anything to which he had been accustomed back east. The crafts that served him back east gave way to ones more exacting out here. Actual plainscraft is not a matter of finespun theory, never was and never will be. It is a matter of short grass and long drouths. Of climbing for water and digging for wood. Of coping with soil and conditions that begrudge him everything—seemingly. A land that promises more and gives less, or promises less and gives more, than any other section of the world.

Despite his hardships, the pioneer found beauty on the plains, interest in the canyons with Indian legends and the mystery of the buried treasure of Spanish explorers. There is a lure in the great agricultural regions of diversified farming; the great wheat farms of the plains which constitute what is nationally known as the "bread basket of America."

Complex problems of that age of "making something out of nothing" have given way to modern homes and modern conveniences operated by means of natural gas and electricity. There is romance on paved highways that span the plains like ribbons, and her parks of today that once were hiding places from savages. The opulence of the land through the many years of development has given the people time and incentive to cultivate the art of living. The graciousness and sincerity of their every act makes a deep and lasting impression. Their dignity and cheerfulness and refinement found opportunities of expression last week in entertaining the ex-Confederates in national reunion at Amarillo.

A city of approximately forty thousand inhabitants, alone and single-handed, entertained the thousands of visitors of the Confederate Reunion. Amarillo, the metropolis of the Panhandle, was the only town in the nation to offer her services in entertaining the fast diminishing lines of the soldiers of the gray—but they did. No city, state or national contributions were asked.

The contributions made to civilization by the pioneers and plainsmen of the Southwest has never been surpassed, for while the rest of the world talked about life, our folks in the Great Southwest lived it.

Tri-State Fair is Largest in United States

Amarillo, Sept. 3.—When the Tri-State Fair opens, Saturday, September 14, in Amarillo it will be the largest exposition in Texas.

For several years the fair has ranked second only to the Dallas Fair, which this year was postponed on account of the Texas Centennial.

Long ago the Tri-State Fair became more than its name implies.

Primarily it serves the Panhandle-Plains of Texas, parts of New Mexico and Oklahoma. But the exposition is recognized by major circuits and exhibitors are attracted from many other states.

Foremost breeders of livestock enter herds each year for Tri-State Fair prizes. Some of these herds come from Oregon, Wisconsin, Illinois and other distant states.

The hereford show of last year was the third largest in the United States.

The fair association, headed by Wilbur C. Hawk for the second consecutive year since 1931, offers and guarantees payment in full of more than $15,000 in cash premiums for exhibits.

In addition to livestock, agriculture, art and industry will have complete entries.

Each year cities in the Tri-State Fair territory send large delegations and bands to the exposition.

General admission is free and all exhibits are open to the public.

Entertainment features this year will be varied enough to suit every amusement taste.

Fairs are educational, but men, women and children go to have a good time, too, and so the fair management has made arrangements for two daily circus performances, for the largest midway attraction in the United States, for daily horse racing with legalized wagering and for many other entertainment enterprises.

The Bailey Bros. and Harley Sadler three-ring circus, purchased just recently by the well known West Texan, will stage a mile long street parade every other day during the fair.

The Beckmann & Gerety Shows will come to Amarillo direct from Detroit for the midway engagement.

Mason King, racing director, reports more and better entries for the fall race meet, which starts Friday, September 13—one day before the fair. O. L. Taylor again this year is secretary-manager of the fair. The 1935 exposition will continue to and including Saturday, September 21.

Health Conditions Are Being Studied by Planning Board

Mr. Gerald C. Mann, Chairman of the Texas Planning Board's Public Health Committee, announces the appointment of Dr. R. D.

Gist of Amarillo to membership on the Public Health Committee. Dr. Gist is well known to the people of this section of the State, and his appointment assures the panhandle and west Texas of adequate representation and sympathetic consideration of the particular ailments and conditions which affect west Texas.

Other members of this important committee are Dr. J. M. Travis of Jacksonville; Dr. Ben R. Buford of Dallas; Dr. E. W. Wright of Bowie, Chairman, State Board of Health; Dr. J. W. Brown, Austin, State Health Officer; Dr. L. C. Heare of Fort Arthur; and R. W. Van Hovenberg of Texarkana, Sanitary Engineer, Cotton Belt Railway.

"The purpose of our Public Health Committee," said Chairman Gerald C. Mann, "is to find out why Texas occupies such a low position in the public health field as compared to other states. We all know that Texas has an unusually healthy climate. In spite of good climate Texas has a high death rate from communicable diseases.

"In 1933 the death rate in Texas from malaria, according to the Bureau of the Census, was 7.1 per 100,000 while the national rate for the same disease was only 3.7 per 100,000, or approximately one-half of the Texas rate. Our typhoid rate is almost three times the national rate," said Mr. Mann, "and our committee will try to find out the reasons for such a poor health condition. When these have been ascertained, we shall report them to the Texas Planning Board and urge that that body recommend to the various counties of Texas ways and means of improving the public health."

"We are urging every county in the State to appoint a county planning board," said Chairman Mann, "and ask that a physician be included as a member of the county planning board in order that all public health problems may receive due consideration. The Works Progress Administration of Texas is anxious to assist in improving Texas public health conditions by furnishing money to accomplish worthwhile projects. "We are holding our first committee meeting in Dallas at the Chamber of Commerce at 9 o'clock Wednesday, August 28," said Mr. Mann, "and we are expecting a full attendance." Miss Margaret Gerner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gerner of Lelia Lake, will enter W.T.S.T. College at Canyon the 16th.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
 By the Apostle

According to history, the first jackass brought to this country was presented to George Washington by the king of Spain. In case you don't recollect it, the European nations borrowed everything except that jackass during, and immediately after the World War.

The way money is being scattered around among the favored few at Washington causes an exchange paper to suggest a scoop shovel as an emblem for the New Deal part next year.

A local lady suggests that hog meat be sold in capsule form. "How nice it would be to drop in a 00 capsule into the beans so that we could have pork & beans," she says. Then at breakfast each member of the family could have a No. 2 with an egg, if they are so extravagant as to splurge on the pork basis.

"Darling I am growing old," won't be such a sad song after the pension act becomes effective.

An Italian candle maker has been given an order for a scented candle that will be designed to burn 500 years—a tribute to the singer, Madame Galli-Curci. Some folks "burn the candle at both ends," but this will not be that kind. Those who conserve the candle by burning only one end go down in history. Those who burn both ends at the same time, as we term it, usually wind up their affairs of a sudden in the electric chair. Candles play an important part in this day, even though we thought the candle age was long past.

More than a half million dollars has been paid for imported hog meat since the first of the year. More than a million ghosts of pig-gies will haunt the administration.

College graduates are advised not to exhibit an air of superior knowledge in the presence of those less fortunate. Mostly because they won't get a job if they do. Ignorant people are not only sensitive, but they are mean.

Ever since we doubled the salaries of the legislators, the majority have been trying to show us how silly we were.

Many a man never realized the disgust in mayonnaise dressing until after his wife joined the club.

Thanks Mrs. Lonnie Hahn for the turnip greens which were made into potlikker mostly. With butter-milk and cornbread, there is nothing better than good old potlikker. Some folks have an idea that potlikker is a spring tonic. It's a tonic the year round if you can get the 'makins.'

And say, folks, a brand new racket has sprung up—or at least it is new to me. These criminals who pull the big stuff have their pictures sent broadcast to be published in the papers. They crave publicity, and are willing to risk their lives getting it. Factories turn out thousands of 'mats' from which we make pictures. The news agency sending out that publicity gets paid. In fact all of them get paid except the fool publisher who doesn't know any better than to unwittingly cater to the notorious notoriety-seeking criminal element.

How's your liver? Mix onions with it and it tastes better. Some use garlic and get away with it better. All other meats are too high to eat now, so we might as well learn all about our livers.

When a fellow gets to the point to where he thinks the community could not get along without him, it is high time for him to move.

Then again, if a fellow really wants to know how little his fellow men regard him, move out and see how soon he is forgotten.

"That thing threw me down and kicked me twice," commented a lady of four years Saturday as she crawled from under her tricycle.

A Dallas judge excused a man for speeding when the old boy explained that "the church folks were having a sale of used clothing, and I was going home to save my pants."

Senator Joe Robinson: "Huey Long don't know nothin', and the Deity never did promise him anything. He is a sort of fungus growing on the democratic party."

Senator Huey Long: "Hoover and Roosevelt are the twin beds of disaster. Our only choice is that Hoover we know what is, or Roosevelt that we don't know what

There you are. Modern day political comment. Take your choice.

Speaking of the Red menace in this nation, East Texas is suffering more from that source than most parts of the nation. But they happen to be chiggers.

One line of business not affected by the depression is the interest the gossip takes in other folk's affairs.

A suggestion from a woman's magazine: "If you notice the chair squeaking, perhaps termites are working on the legs. Rub the legs with turpentine and camphor gum." Alright! Alright! But who's going to hold the victim while the remedy is being applied?

A certain newspaper man offers the following alibi: "No one should object to a reasonable amount of lying. Usually the truth is so dull that it needs a touch of flourish-es of the imagination."

The Childress Index carries the following appeal:

"There is a good story told of a man who found himself bankrupt and came home to break the news to his better half," said "Bill" Dollar. "She did not seem as disturbed as he had expected and asked him to go with her to a certain bank where she opened a safe deposit box and showed him a great stack of bills, sufficient to put him back on his feet.

"Whose is this?" asked the man. "It is ours," replied the wife. As his wonderment increased he asked how she had saved so much. "You remember when we were married you promised me one dollar for every kiss. You always kept your word. I saved the money and this is the result." In his astonishment the man exclaimed, "I wish I had done all of my kissing at home."

"The above is a fine example of trading at home," said "Bill" Dollar. "Every dollar you spend in Wichita Falls remains here to help our community. Every dollar you spend elsewhere makes this community just that much poorer.

"Do your buying—and your kissing—at home, and the money will be there to help you when it is most needed.

Times must be getting better. A Denver outfit continues to offer our citizens "oil stock", backed by pressure sales letters. As a suggestion, don't buy, but if you must, ask the Secretary of State if the company has qualified under the Blue Sky law to do business in Texas. There is a law to protect suckers if they want to be protected.

When you get rich on that oil stock investment, I'll be seeing you just as you buy the Cadillac ready to head for California.

Welding
 ... the best way to make a perfect union of two pieces of metal is by welding them together.

... and the best way to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette is by welding together the different types of tobacco ...

That is just what we do in making CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes—the three types of mild ripe home-grown tobaccos, that is tobaccos grown in this country, are welded together. Then they are welded with aromatic Turkish. When these tobaccos are welded together you get a combined flavor which is entirely different from any one type of tobacco.

It is this welding of the right amounts of the right kind of tobaccos that makes CHESTERFIELD a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

The same friction by which the Indian created a flame caused the easy ignition of the first Friction Match made by the Frenchman, Dr. Chas. Sauria, in 1831. . . . This was a basic discovery that we still use today. But how obsolete a smudging flame now seems in contrast with the convenience, safety and cleanliness of Electric Heat.

Mankind has an innate sense of cleanliness in relation to his food. Hence, the ever-increasing demand for such Electric Appliances as the Range, Electric Water Heater and the Electric Refrigerator.

These modern electric appliances can be had on convenient terms, and you will be surprised at the moderate cost of such added superior service.

Application Forms For Cotton Subsidy Available Near Future

"Forms are now being printed for the producer to make application for the adjustment payment, commonly known as subsidy, on the 1935 crop of cotton and they will probably be available immediately for distribution to county agricultural agents in charge of the program in the counties," F. E. Lichte, senior administrative assistant, division of cotton said.

Information required on this form is the date of sale, name and address of producer and purchaser, and the following items: number of bales; gross weight, including bagging and ties; price per pound paid producer; total value of cotton; amount of charges, if any; amount paid producer, followed by signature of the purchaser. Where cotton is sold in the need, the amount of seed cotton purchased and the seed cotton expressed in pounds of lint is required.

"Any producer under a cotton adjustment contract who agrees to participate in the 1936 cotton adjustment program and sells his 1935 crop cotton before August 1, 1936, is entitled to the adjustment payment," Lichte said.

He added that the producer who did not sign a contract is also eligible to make claim for the subsidy. He will, of course, agree to participate in the 1936 cotton adjustment program and will be paid when his compliance has been certified.

The subsidy will be the difference between the average of the 10 spot markets on the date of sale and 12 cents, middling seven-eighths basis. Maximum payment, however, cannot be more than two cents. The total sales subject to subsidy is the amount of such producer's Bankhead allotment.

"It is expected that checks will be delivered to producers approximately December 15, 1935, and March 15 and August 15, 1936, depending on the date the application is signed. The information will be checked in the county and audited at College Station. It is proposed that a disbursing section will be set up in Texas, thereby saving much time," Lichte added.

CHEVROLET HAS RUST PROOFING PAINT PROCESS

The first large commercial application of a new rust proofing process has been made by Chevrolet Motor Company with the installation of special equipment for the "chromodizing" of fenders, running boards, and other sheet metal parts. The new process differs widely from others used in the automotive industry, in that the rust-proofing is accomplished as the parts pass on a conveyor through a series of spray booths, and the treatment, instead of forming a brittle coating over the surface, combines with the metal and changes it chemically to form a rust proof surface.

Numerous manufacturing advantages, and extra benefits to the car owner, are claimed for the new process, which was developed by the Chevrolet manufacturing department in conjunction with the laboratories of the American Chemical Paint Company, and tested by the General Motors research laboratories. Since the treatment of the sheet metal is the last step before the enameling of the parts, the chromodizing equipment is installed at the assembly plant rather than at the manufacturing plant where the stampings are made. The new Baltimore assembly plant was the first of Chevrolet's ten plants in the United States to be equipped for the chromodine process. No announcement of the new process was made at the time, pending its adoption for use in all of the company's assembly plants.

Fenders and other parts that are chromodized exhibit a great resistance to not only rust, but to corrosion caused by salt and other chemicals used in the treatment of highways to control dust or to melt snow and ice. Severe accelerated tests, it is said, have indicated that the new process doubles the life of fenders. On account of the simplicity of the process, absolute uniformity is assured. The treated parts possess an absolutely smooth surface, since the rust proofing does not depend on material adhering to the surface, but on a change in the surface itself. Improved enameling results from the smoothness of the finish and the ease with which it takes and holds the enamel.

The firm bond between the metal and the rust proofing is an important feature to the car owner, since it permits the repair of dented fenders without damaging the protective coating, which cannot flake off.

The new process is used by Chevrolet on both the Master deluxe and the Standard passenger cars and on trucks and commercial cars as well.

Former Clarendon Resident Buried Here Thursday

Philip J. Smith, born in north eastern Arkansas in 1854, moved with his family to Donley County in 1904, locating seven miles east of Clarendon. The next five years were spent on this farm and in Clarendon. From Clarendon, the family moved to Goochville, where they made their home until 1917. At this time they moved to Fayetteville, Arkansas, remaining there for three years. The youngest daughter, Ruby, attended the University of Fayetteville during this time, and later received her degree from the University of Oklahoma at Norman. From Fayetteville the family moved to Davidson, Okla. and lived there for some eleven years. During these years Ruby taught in the public schools of Davidson, and Miss Edna, another daughter, taught music. In April, 1933, Mr. Smith and the two daughters at home moved to Vernon to make their home.

For the last three years, Mr. Smith's health has gradually failed and since early in this year he has been bedfast. He died Tuesday, September 3, at the home in Vernon. Funeral services were conducted at the home Wednesday afternoon with Rev. Cunningham, Presbyterian minister, and Rev. Hamilton, Methodist minister, officiating.

OFFICERS NAB COLORED AUTOIST FOR AMARILLO

Hot Checks and Hard Luck With Auto Gets Henry Brown Into Trouble

"Ise had mo' baad luck den anybody" was the way Henry Brown, colored, expressed a tale of woe when picked up by Deputy Sheriff Marion Quisenberry and County Attorney R. Y. King at a local filling station a few days ago.

The colored man had a flat and after the station man had fixed the flat and placed it on the auto, the tourist asked for a light bulb. When the station man went inside after the bulb, the negro happened to remember unfinished business elsewhere, and beat it. The station man called the sheriff's office and the above officers responded.

The colored man had a trunk of clothing and agreed to stay overnight without being locked up. Next morning a call came from Amarillo officers to hold him. It is alleged that he gave a hot check to the amount of $365 for the car.

It is further alleged that he filled with gas and drove off without paying at a service station in the east end of Amarillo. The station men overtook him, removed a good casing and put a bum spare on the wheel. The good casing was held for the gas charge.

Coming down, the bum casing blew out in the mad rush to 'go places' and Henry Brown limped into Clarendon, claiming to have been highjacked.

The truck is said to have been filled with suits which he is said to have stolen from a home in Amarillo. Anyway, Amarillo officers took Henry Brown back up there to explain matters and square himself with the law.

INTERESTING FACTS REGARDING TEXAS HISTORY IN AN EARLY EXCITING EPOCH

The courage of Sarah Hibbins, delineated in the following account of her capture by the Indians, taken from Frank Brown's Annals of Travis County, part of the family archives collection in the University of Texas library, exemplifies the bravery of the pioneer women of Texas.

"The Hibbins' family were among the early comers, settling in DeWitt's colony, on the Guadalupe," Mr. Brown wrote. "In 1835 Mrs. Hibbins went on a visit to Tennessee. After remaining there a short time, she started home, coming by water, and arrived at Houston in January, 1836, in company with her mother. Her husband met them there with a wagon to convey them to the colony. They had crossed the Colorado and were nearing home, when a party of Indians rushed upon them and instantly killed Mr. Hibbins and the mother. They took Mrs. Hibbins and her two children, one an infant and the other three years old, and tied them to a horse. After robbing the wagon, they left. They confined Mrs. Hibbins at night, laying her down, with her children on each side, throwing a buffalo robe over them. Two large Indians would then lie down by them, one on each side, as a guard. The infant was a suckling babe, and when hungry would cry. The Indians took the babe from her, and she thought killed it.

"After crossing the Colorado the Indians allowed Mrs. Hibbins and her child to lie by themselves, thinking escape impossible. The first night after crossing the river, they camped near where Austin now stands. Here, for the first time, Mrs. Hibbins and her child were permitted to lie together without a guard. She laid awake until the Indians and child were asleep, when she gently arose and crept from the camp. Near by was a creek whose banks were quite steep. She went down the channel of the creek. There was running water in it. Having traveled, as she supposed about two hours, she found herself still near the camp, by hearing her child call out "Oh! mama!" Should she go back? Should she listen to maternal prompting, and again place herself within the grasp of the savages. She reflected that if she were to return she could do her child no good, and she knew the settlements could not be more than ten miles away. She concluded to go on, save herself, and find some men who would go to the rescue of her child. She then followed the channel of Shoal creek down to the Colorado. She passed through brush, vines, and water all night. She continued her travels down the river valley the next day until she saw some home cattle. She remained with these until they started home, and then followed them. In the evening she became exhausted from hunger and fatigue. Knowing she must be near the settlements, she commenced hallooing as loud as she could. There were some men in the bottom who heard her, but not distinguishing the voice, they concluded it was Indians and would not answer.

"Late in the evening, the poor woman without uttering a word, went into the camp of some rangers near Hornsby's and threw herself on the ground. It seemed that her joy in discovering friends and knowing she was safe at last, completely took from her the power of speech.

"The rangers were very much astonished. Finally, Mrs. Hibbins spoke, and in a distressed tone, gave them a history of her case. She was immediately removed to the house of Reuben Hornsby, where she was supplied with clothing and food.

"After hearing her sad story, and as soon as they could take some refreshments, Capt. Tomlinson and his men, mounted their horses at dark and went in pursuit; Mrs. Hibbins having first given them a description of the kind of mule that the Indians kept her child lashed to. The rangers camped that night within a few miles of the Indian camp. The trail being quite plain next morning, they were soon overtaken. They opened fire on the savages, who broke and fled. Two Indians were killed. The rangers succeeded in recovering all their stolen horses camp equipage and arms; but best of all, they found Mrs. Hibbins' little son. When the child was restored to Mrs. Hibbins, she wept and laughed alternately."

TO DEAL WITH THE DRUNKEN DRIVER

The fact that state-wide prohibition has been repealed in Texas makes the passage of a drivers' license law more necessary than ever. That measure came very near to passage at the regular session. We hope that it will be submitted at the called session and that it will be enacted.

It provides the most effective means for dealing with the drunken driver. It puts the pressure on him in a way that counts.

The rule in some of the states is to suspend the license, for 30 to 90 days, for the first offense of the kind. A second offense means suspension of the license for period up to one year. A third offense means indefinite suspension.

It forces the drinker to choose between his car and his drinking. If he thinks more of alcoholic excesses than of the privilege of driving his car, the privilege is taken away from him.

Texas has needed a drivers' license law for a long time. That need is emphasized by the fact that liquor is now to be somewhat more readily available than it was before, and that drunken driving is one of the sorest phases of the traffic regulation problem.

Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT

W. E. FERRELL
Minister First Christian Church

"LIVES THAT SPEAK"

"Only let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ." Phil. 1:27.

Paul's relation to the church at Philippi was probably the most tender that he had with any of the various churches to which he wrote. The church at Philippi was the first church established in Europe and Paul was keenly interested in its welfare and growth. In his letter to them he emphasized the importance of "Entire consecration, to Christ," "Love for his church," and "Spiritual joy."

We are told that it was Benjamin Franklin who discovered that plaster sown in a field would make things grow. He told his neighbor; but they did not believe him. Early the next spring he went into his field and sowed some grain. Close by the path where men walked, he spread with his finger some letters and put plaster in them. After a week or two the seed sprang up. His neighbors as they passed that was surprised to see in bright green letters, the sentence, "This life has been plastered." Franklin did not need to argue with his neighbors about the benefit of plaster. For as the season went on and the grain grew, those bright letters rose above all the rest until they were a kind of relief plate in the field.

I think Jesus wants to write on our hearts these words, "These people are Christians." A good many people profess to believe that there is no virtue in the teaching of Christ, but if they see that we are patient and gentle and unselfish, kind and thoughtful and pure, that we never speak words of untruth or ungraciousness, that we do not live to please ourselves chiefly—they will notice the great difference between the rest of the human field and our lives, and they will say: "These people are Christians." They will never find any argument against Christianity when it is shown in our lives. The world wants to see your Christianity when it is shown in our lives. The world wants to see your Christianity put into practice. This is what Paul means when he writes to the members of the church "To let the manner of your life be worthy of the gospel. Christ himself said that his disciples were to be living witnesses for Him. When can teach Christianity by living its principles.

MIDWAY SCHOOL SLANTS

School started September 2nd. The pupils came early on the new bus which is transporting the high school pupils to Clarendon and bringing the others to Midway. Books were issued and lessons assigned. The patrons and trustees came at noon. An old fashioned dinner was served and enjoyed by all. (The high school pupils arriving just in time for a square deal of the plentiful lunch). The trustees graded the playgrounds and fixed them up in fine shape. Baseball games were enjoyed in the afternoon. School has been advancing smoothly since. There are twenty pupils in Mr. Millsap's room and nine in Miss Rhode's room.

At the organization of the Literary Society Sept. 4th, a stunt was put on by some of the pupils and Mr. Millsap, who being the doctor, performed a tonsil operation, using such instruments as saws, hammers, screwdrivers, etc. After much hard labor the tonsils (being weiners) were successfully removed. The patient, Boyce Pierce, recovered immediately.

Another operation was performed on the disloyal parent, of which Midway has none. The bad qualities, such as disagreeable, grouchy, and others, were removed and the good qualities were put in.

The sixth grade are studying longitude and latitude in Geog. when Hermon Higgins got lost in the middle of the Pacific Ocean. We hope he will find his way back.

SENATOR HUEY P. LONG DIES FROM ASSASSIN'S BULLET TUESDAY MORNING

Thirty-one hours after being wounded, the Senator passed away in a Baton Rouge, Louisiana hospital at 4:06 a. m. Tuesday to which he had been taken shortly after being shot with a .32 calibre pistol in the hands of Dr. C. A. Weiss, a political enemy, and the son-in-law of Judge Pavy, a bitter political foe of Long.

Body guards of the Senator riddled the body of Dr. Weiss immediately after he fired upon Long. Weiss fired two shots, the second going wild. The shot taking effect passed through a portion of the left kidney and punctured the colon in two places.

Surgeons resorted to an emergency operation, five blood transfusions and used oxygen tent measures in a vain effort to save the stricken man. During his conscious moments, the Senator is said to have referred to "his boys" whom he had placed in the University of Louisiana. "What did he want to shoot me for," was his first expression after being laid on the operating table.

Long predicted his death at the hands of political foes several months ago. He was constantly surrounded by a strong body guard. Why they permitted a political enemy to walk up and fire at close range remains a mystery. The shooting was done in a main corridor of the capitol building while the legislature was in session, the fifth called session within the year.

The versatile Senator, aged 42, had served his state as railroad commissioner, governor and U. S. senator. Beginning on a farm, he took to the road as a peddler. At 20 he completed a law course in the Louisiana bar by examination. From that time on he continued to climb until he had the biggest audience of newspaper readers of any man in all American history.

Funeral services will be conducted at 4 p. m. today, and the Senator will be buried on the Capitol grounds.

REUNION HEARS GOV. ALLRED ON STATE'S RIGHTS

Thousands Cheer as Governor Tells World Texas Can Take Care of Own Business

The tribute paid by Governor James V. Allred to the Confederate Veterans last week before their 45th Annual Reunion at Amarillo is full of stirring praise for the brave deeds of the South in defense of their ideals of states rights. Because we cherish the memory of the Confederacy and because possibly the last reunion of the thinning grey ranks was held in our state, the following excerpts from Governor Allred's speech should be of interest to our readers.

GOV. JAMES V. ALLRED

"As we catch the torch of Jeffersonian Democracy from your failing hands", the Governor said to the Veterans, "we renew our pledge to you to pass on to our posterity the creed of our forefathers—to fight and die, if need be, for the principles of state sovereignty as guaranteed by the Constitution!"

"I think it was Joseph Weldon Bailey, the great states rights defender of Texas history, who once said, 'No triumph or defeat can change the immutable principles of free government!' That truth was never more evident than today—70 years after the surrender of General Lee at Appomattox.

"The greatest discussion in the history of the nation has waged throughout the land in recent months over proposed or threatened changes in this government which has been handed down to us from the time that our early forebears gathered in groups to discuss the ratification of the Constitution. Suggestions have emanated that in America's hour of distress we should give up all that the framers of the Constitution insisted should go into it, that we should amend it so as to give the federal government the power to regulate the intricate and minute details of personal life and business. Small wonder indeed that turbulent thoughts should be aroused and seethingly churned in the minds of those who believe in the principles of states rights!"

"The eternal principles of right and of good government are eternal and everlasting. You may change the application of a rule to changing conditions, but time brings no necessity for altering time-tried and time-proven rules of good government. It is inevitable and natural that slow and gradual change shall take place in this living constitution by construction and the change of the people themselves, but up until now we have preserved that essential characteristic, an American Republic, from the fatal experience of all the other forms of government. We have adhered to the theory of states rights!"

"To you immortal heroes of the Confederacy, I say that we in Texas pledge our allegiance to the cause of states rights—that true Democracy for which you so nobly fought. Texans, with the memory of the blood so illustriously shed by our fathers in the immortal defense of the Alamo, probably more than the citizens of any other state believe in states rights and local self-government.

"As descendants of a proud and fearless, free and independent republic which recognized tribute to no nation, we would be unworthy of the proud heritage we claim should we not stand firm for the sovereign principles of state government so expressly granted by the United States Constitution."

W. F. (Bill) Barker of the Martin community, says some of his neighbors as well as himself are counting on a half bale to the acre this time.

SOLONS WORRY OVER BOOZE LAW VOTERS DEMAND

Lawmakers Besieged By Home Dry Leaders And Lobbyists On Wet Payroll

There is said to be much fear and trembling among lawmakers from sections about evenly divided on the wet and dry issue as the opening 44th legislative session of next Monday draws near.

Ex-Sen. Tom Love of Dallas, spokesman for the bone dries, and veteran of innumerable prohibition campaigns, sent a letter to every member of the state legislature, urging state monopoly, and asserting that only in those nine states which have adopted the system has any substantial revenue accrued to the state.

Bitter, and probably successful resistance, will be encountered to his plan from distillers, liquor wholesalers and distributors, hotels, restaurants and all who hope to profit from the liquor traffic.

The state monopolists will have another try at it, if they fall in the special session, next year, when the people will vote on a constitutional amendment setting up state monopoly. Wet leaders here are gravely concerned over what will take place in the intervening year and a half. If regulation is too lax, if drunken drivers kill too many people, if public drinking by women in bars where women and young girls are bartenders is too widespread, they fear a strong reaction that will result in the voters adopting state monopoly next year.

Meanwhile, in the larger cities of Texas and in many small ones, those who profit from the sale of liquor, apparently are doing their utmost to confirm the fears of wet leaders. Throughout the state, liquor dealers have "jumped the gun," not even waiting until the state constitutional amendment is repealed by official canvass of the vote this week, but opening up saloons—specifically prohibited by the repeal amendment—where all varieties of hard liquor and mixed drinks are served. Local option laws are utterly disregarded. Breweries in Texas and out, manufactured and shipped 6 per cent beer into the state even before election day, releasing it in floods on election night. Every bottle or keg that is made or sold in the state constituted a separate violation of both state and federal laws still on the books. In Fort Worth a 19-year-old girl married in a saloon as a crowd of drinkers cheered, an ordained minister performing the ceremony before an altar of roses, erected on the bar. Drugstores thruout the state continued their magnificent disregard of all laws, and sold packaged liquor by the thousands of gallons.

"Spills Under Racing Horses Are Never As Dangerous As Blow-outs"

says SONNY WORKMAN, Famous Jockey

HOW NEW KIND OF TIRE PROTECTS YOU AGAINST HIGH-SPEED BLOW-OUTS

"This business of riding race horses isn't all thrills and glory," SONNY WORKMAN says. "You've got to expect plenty of bumps. I've crashed into fences and been trampled under pounding hooves. But my worst spill wasn't as bad as that blow-out I had. I was driving to Miami, when the tire blew out. My car swerved and shot off the road. And I still thank my lucky stars I came through it alive. But I'm taking no more chances with blow-outs—I've equipped my car with Goodrich Safety Silvertowns."

An Amazing Tire Invention

Take our word for it, gambling on tires is mighty risky business. Because of the heat generated inside the tire by today's high speeds you never can tell when BANG! a blow-out may throw your car completely out of control.

Before anything like this happens to YOU let us equip your car with a set of Goodrich Safety Silvertowns, the only tires in the world built with Life-Saver Golden Ply. This exclusive Goodrich invention resists heat—keeps rubber and fabric from separating—keeps blisters from forming and you get real protection against high-speed blow-outs where you need it most—inside the tire! Remember, Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires and give months of extra mileage. See us about a set today.
