JULY 4th WILL BE ROUND OF PLEASURE WITH CLARENDON'S PIONEER ROUNDUP

Those Coming to the Panhandle More Than Forty Years Ago Will Wear White Ribbon Badges. Those Who Came More Than Fifty Years Ago, Will Wear Pink Ribbons

July 4th will be a typical Pioneer Day. They will begin registering at the Clarendon News office at 9 a. m. Ribbons, as stated above, will designate the "variety" of old-timer "what you are."

Those who get ribbons will be given free tickets to the noon luncheon in the basement of the First Christian church. The good ladies of the church are going to provide ice water and plenty of seating room for the old folks to "rest up a bit in a cool spot."

Mrs. Bugbee is mailing invitations. She does not want a Pioneer to be missed. Mrs. Bugbee is the talented wife of the famous cowboy artist, Harold D. Bugbee. If you know of a resident who came to the Panhandle more than 40 years ago, please let her know the address of that party.

A tentative outline of the day's exercises:

9 a. m. Registration of Pioneers at the News office. Band concert on street.

10:30 Parade, led by Pampa, Memphis and two Clarendon bands. Floats, cars, footmen and various types of vehicles illustrating the method of travel through the different eras of development of the west. Civic clubs will have special displays.

11 a. m. Band concerts by all the bands in town that day. This will be followed by a dedication of Highway 5. The principal address of the day will be made by a speaker yet to be selected.

Noon. Complimentary luncheon for pioneers.

2 p. m. Sing-song at the Methodist church same as last year, only better.

Baseball games will begin at 2 p. m. Teams of the county will play for prizes. Every community is invited to enter a team. This was a big feature last year.

At six o'clock five hundred dollars will be distributed to about thirty-nine people in amounts from five to one hundred dollars each.

7:30 Old fiddlers contest at band stand on the street. Square dance. Fiddlers who want to compete for the prizes should register with J. M. Hill, secretary of the Round Up committee.

Old relics will be on display in all the show windows of the business houses of town. This is said to have been the most interesting feature last year, and a plan followed by every town this year.

The Donley County Museum will be open all day at the administration building of the College. Hundreds of interesting articles are in the collection, and it will require an hour or more to see much of them.

A complete program will appear in the Leader next week. Other attractions will likely be added.

Paul Smith is Removed To Veteran's Hospital

A patient at Adair hospital for several weeks following an operation in an advanced case of appendicitis that led to critical illness since that time, Paul Smith was removed to Veteran's Hospital at Muskogee, Oklahoma Wednesday.

The journey was made in a Buntin ambulance, driven by C. E. Griggs, and accompanied by Dudley Wilson, a brother-in-law of Smith. The departure was made from the local hospital at 5 a. m.

Joe Smith, a son, operated on a week ago, was taken to the home in Sunnyview community Wednesday.

Relics Wanted

The committee in search of relics and old photographs is anxious to receive all relic material before July 1st. For display in shop windows. Please call Jerome Stocking or deliver what you have at Stocking's Drug Store.

Names Wanted!

Having been appointed a committee of one to secure names of those who should be invited to the 4th of July Centennial, Mrs. Harold D. Bugbee is asking for help. She wants the names of old-timers to whom she can mail invitations. Mail the addresses to her direct. If convenient, Phone 81 here in Clarendon. It is important that the invitations be mailed out immediately. If you have old friends whom you want to be here the 4th, let Mrs. Bugbee know about it now.

Andis Brothers to Exhibit Transportation Rigs

It might be more appropriate to confine the name "rig" to a buggy, still one may find much to admire in the illustration of freight transportation that will be shown by the well known Andis motor freight line here July 4th.

An old-time freight wagon will head the list. It will likely not be of the "linch-pin" and tar bucket type, but it will be plenty old at that.

Next will come the first truck that attempted to navigate the roads. It may be done up with "baling" wire as most of them were after being run over the rough roads a few weeks.

Next will drift along the streamlined truck of the firm as she is today. Powerful and swift with good highways just completed. Freight today is not freighting—it's motorizing.

Sisters Get Together First Time in 30 Years

One can hardly realize the happiness that a visit brings after spanning a period of thirty years. This week Mrs. W. P. Broyles of Van Nuys, California is visiting her sister, Mrs. O. D. Meador near Hudgins.

Mrs. W. W. Johnston, a business woman of Clovis, and a sister of Mrs. Broyles and Mrs. Meador, joined the California party at Clovis and is also a guest of the Meador home.

Mrs. Broyles is making the trip with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Los Angeles. They will see the Centennial and other scenic places of interest in Texas before returning home. Mrs. Johnston will return to Clovis.

WOMAN BELIEVED INSANE DETAINED

Picked Up On Highway Falls To Give Coherent Account Of Destination

A phone call to the sheriff's office from the west edge of town late Monday gave information of a woman of strange actions on Highway 5. The sheriff and his deputy took the woman to the Hawk rooming house, gave her money to purchase food, and left for the night.

Wednesday, seeing that she was unable to properly make her way out of town, she was placed in a cell and an attempt made by the sheriff and county Judge to contact some of the people whose addresses she had given them. No response could be had from the Pampa parties.

A call was put in to the Wichita Falls insane hospital but no trace of the woman could be had there. A doctor was called to her cell at her request for medical attention. The physician is said to have pronounced her insane.

She gave the name of Mrs. Zella Reddick, and stated that she was on her way from Childress west. Her hair is done up with paraffine and cotton held in place under a Japanese patterned hat.

Her general description: sallow complexion; weight about 110; height about 5-5; age about 40; right limb has been broken just above the ankle causing her to limp.

Judge Lowe promptly wired a party in Denver Wednesday whom she claimed as her daughter. The street address did not exist, and the party could not be found according to the Western Union telegraph company.

Pioneer Ranch Hand Dies Here Wednesday

Spent More Than 50 Years On First Big Ranches Fenced In Northwest Texas

After a critical illness of several weeks, death came to Emory Anderson Sloan at his home here late Wednesday afternoon. He was 86 years, 3 months and 8 days old at his passing.

He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. James Rolf of Little Rock who nursed him through his illness. One son, Joe Sloan, and three grand children, Jack Rolf being the only present at this time.

Services will be conducted at the First Christian church of which he had long been a member, at 4 p. m. today. In the absence of a pastor, Rev. R. S. McKee will conduct the service.

Mr. Sloan was among the first cowpunchers coming from central Texas to the Matador ranch. He had a wide acquaintance with early ranchmen, having spent more than fifty years of his life on ranches. He has been a resident of Clarendon for some thirty years or more. A more extensive mention will be made of his life in the next issue of the Leader.

Mrs. Jim Montgomery of Childress is spending the week in Clarendon with her sister, Mrs. E. R. Andis.

Sawyer Takes 4th In County Contests

Wheeler County Takes First To Represent Panhandle In State Contest

In the county elimination contest of "Homes on state designated highways," Forest Sawyer's farm was given first place in Donley county.

In the elimination contest of all counties of the Panhandle this week, Sawyer's farm was given fourth place. Wheeler took first place; Ochiltree second, Potter third, Donley fourth and Wilbarger fifth place.

Wheeler county's prize farm will be entered in the Centennial contest at Dallas soon, as one representing the Panhandle.

The Sawyer farm is one of beauty and utility. The buildings are neat and modern. The surroundings of the home are a great credit to the ability, artistic temperament and energy of both Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer.

The fields are terraced where needed. Moisture is conserved and every plan made to gain production. An orchard helps to make the home something more than a stopping place. Taken all round, it is an ideal rural home, and is located on Highway 88 about three miles north of Clarendon.

Joe Bownds Calls Attention To Tax Payments

June 30th is the last date on which the remaining half that a split tax payment may be made, tax collector Joe Bownds announced Wednesday.

Veterans Get Bonds In Orderly Manner

Bonds Are Being Sent To Dallas If Cash Payment Is Wanted

The World War deferred payments are being made in the form of $50 bonds, cashable at face value. Dallas is the "pay station" for this section.

Seventy-six veterans received bonds here Monday, nine Tuesday and one Wednesday. A total of 160 veterans are to be paid in the county bringing over $151,661.25 into the county if all are cashed.

Flem Caraway was the first local man to receive his bonds through the local postoffice. There was no rush and the matter was easily handled without a hitch.

If cash is wanted instead of bonds, the bond is endorsed and sent by the postmaster to the Dallas postoffice. A check is then sent back to the individual direct. Acceptance of the bonds cancels all government life insurance.

Congressman Wright Patman, cousin of J. T. Patman of Clarendon, stood by smiling as the first bond of the nation was handed a patient of Walter Reed government hospital in Washington. Patman has long fought for the payment of the World War veteran. The payments at this time is said to have been caused largely through his efforts than that of any other man. Patman represents an East Texas district.

Owns Cow Bell That Helped Celebrate in New York

Bells have played important parts in the family history of all nations. The Liberty bell at Philadelphia is most noted of all in our nation.

Now comes a lowly cow bell that played some part by going places. It was used in a celebration of the election of Woodrow Wilson in 1912, the celebration being held in New York City.

The inscription on the bell reads: "From F. A. Backus to J. H. Hurn, Mobeetie, Texas, U. S. A. 1912. The bell is now owned by J. H. Hurn of Clarendon.

These tools and accessories were being, and still are being used by the WPA workmen at the College. Judge S. W. Lowe down to the headquarters office of the Texas Relief Commission and asked that the tools, etc. used on the dam be given the county. MEMBER OF
PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

OLE FAITHFUL WE—

Knowing how liberal republican postmasters have been in the past in aiding the national slush fund, the democratic administration is apparently not willing to take a chance by changing to a democratic postmaster when the other fellow's term expires.

PERENNIAL IGNORANCE.

The average man spends more than half of his lifetime attempting the things that hundreds of generations before have proven cannot be done. The essence of all human living, the Bible, tells him certain things that he cannot do and prosper, enjoy good health and peace of mind. But he persists in doing the things that countless men have done before to their sorrow. Man learns from history his mathematics and arts, but in the art of living it seems that every man must put his finger in the fire to actually learn that it will burn.

BETTER TIMES IN THE MAKING.

Despite boondogglers, retail business is getting ready for an upward swing, we learn from a reliable source. A series of active months are ahead. WPA money continues to seep through every channel. AAA money is reaching almost every corner of the nation. Bonus money is helping to the extent of millions. Deferred soldier payments have been so long deferred that it is generally believed that it will, in the main, be wisely spent. Then there is the prospect of good crops over the nation, rains having put new life into the Panhandle. There is not a section of the nation where people will take a gambling chance more readily than in the Panhandle of Texas. For this reason, more than all others, we are on the eve of a better business era all round.

ANOTHER "DUST BOWL" BOBS UP.

It's just one thing after another in the merry existence of Tugwell, he of the dust bowl fame. The biggest joke of the year was when he proposed that the southwest be turned back to grass, the Indians or something.

A more devastating drought exists today in the southeastern part of the nation. That section cannot endure dry weather like the southwest. Parts of Georgia, South Carolina, northern Florida and eastern Tennessee and Kentucky are in the throes of the worst drought than at any other time since the whites settled that section.

Those good people have our undying sympathy. But what will Tugwell do about it? They can't turn old fields to grass because the buckeye brush will beat the grass to it. Indians won't have it because they prefer the swamps of Florida. Those of Virginia do not need it.

It looks like a mighty fine opportunity for Tugwell to hatch up another fool idea to make the nation laugh. That's all he has done since he became a boondogglor.

NEED ANOTHER MOSES.

A man stood on top of his loud speaker-equipped auto of white splendor on a street corner here Saturday and proclaimed to a small crowd that he would be the next governor of Texas. He spoke for about an hour, but never gave a sensible reason why he should be elected.

Our people really want to hear of a plan to take the government away from the billionaires, and restore it to the people again where it rightfully belongs, and where our forefathers left it.

For a quarter of a century, we have been getting better autos progressively for less money. It might not be a bad idea to consult Henry Ford and Alfred Sloan as to management since the Ford company and General Motors seem to be getting along very well despite the rules and regulations of governmental bubble blowers and salve peddlers who have been placed in agencies and bureaus of Uncle Sam's great experimental melting pot. But do auto manufacturers pay political debts by employing incompetents? That may be the rub, on second thought. As another thought, are the interests of the people more important than politics?

As a final thought, so long as politicians can gain more by appealing to prejudice than common sense, we will continue to be forced to accept the dictates of the powers that be.

PROFITTEERS ROB THE FARMER.

"Sharing the food dollar" had become a by-word in the average American home until recently. It was as familiar as the wall motto. But the farmer in dry territory kept praying for rain. That just goes to show how silly the tiller of the soil can be when the Almighty is trying to do him a favor.

Then the rains came. Fields became lakes for several hours. Wheat fields blossomed forth in great splendor. The farmer was happy once more.

Now look at him. Meaning the wheat farmer of course, not the flour mill trust. On second thought you might also look at the flour trust, too.

Wheat dropped down to 70 cents a bushel in the Panhandle almost instantly. Did flour drop? Don't be silly again! Flour continues to sell at around $3.50 a hundred. Thirty years ago when wheat was a dollar a bushel, flour sold at $1.25 a hundred. The grade was equal to that of today.

But that was before the days of the auto, not to mention the truck and other expensive overhead.

Corn in Clarendon is selling at $8 a ton—if one cares to sell at that price. A 20-pound sack of meal retails at 49 cents. In other words, corn that is bought by the mills at 40 cents a hundred, is ground and sold to the consumer at the rate of $2.45 a hundred. From the time the corn leaves the grower until it gets back to the consumer in the form of meal, the price has increased just 612½ percent.

But what would a farmer know about spending a profit of 612½ percent anyhow. But the farmer comes in on the percent business alright because 99½ percent of them know they have been high-jacked out of what belongs to them.

Local retailers barely break even on the price at which meal and flour is being sold. The retailer is not at fault. If it is not the milling trust, then who the dickens is it?

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAKING DRIVE TO SECURE A NORTH-SOUTH HIGHWAY

One of the major objective of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce for 1936 is create enough interest and enthusiasm in all the towns in Texas in a line both north and south of Clarendon, to start a movement that will bring a paved north and south highway to Clarendon of which our present highway 88 would be a unit.

As the first step in getting such a movement under way, the Chamber of Commerce this week mailed out the letter which follows to the Chambers of Commerce and all other civic organizations in the following towns on the proposed route: Del Rio, Sonora, Eldorado, Christoval, San Angelo, Bronte, Blackwell, Sweetwater, Roby, Rotan, Jayton, Spur, Dickens, Matador, Turkey, Pampa, and Perryton.

Dear Sir: We are taking this means of calling to your attention a project that we are sure you and the other citizens of your city are vitally interested in.

As you know there are state highways running from Del Rio, almost due north, to Turkey. These highways are designated as follows: from Del Rio to San Angelo, State Highway No. 30; from San Angelo to Jayton, State Highway No. 70; from Jayton to Turkey, State Highway No. 18. Then about 40 miles due north of Turkey, State Highway No. 88 begins at Clarendon and continues on to Pampa.

Now we propose that each Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations in each town on the above mentioned route make a determined and united effort to,

FIRST, get the State Highway Department to give a single State Designation Number to this whole route from Del Rio to Pampa.

SECOND, get the State Highway Department to open up and improve the present gap between Turkey and Clarendon, giving traffic from the south an opportunity to proceed to the north or northwest or visa-versa.

THIRD, eventually push this highway on north from Pampa to Perryton, connecting with the present highway to Liberal, Kansas and other cities on north to the Canadian line. This would make for a direct Federal (or International) north and south highway from Canada to Mexico.

We can all realize in a small way what such a highway would mean to the cities and towns along its route. Certainly in the near future highways like this are going to be built and they will likely be built where state Highways in a direct line can be connected up with the least expense. In view of this fact it seems that the sensible thing to do is for all towns on the route to work together for the improvement of every unpaved stretch on this proposed highway. We have seen some fine results come from the efforts of highway associations during the past decade.

We know that during the past few years the State Highway Department has spent most of its funds in closing the gaps in the already Federal Highways. But now this work is rapidly nearing completion and the Highway Department will likely be ready soon to put more money into new highways. It is only natural that this organization will make most of its improvement where there is the greatest demand for it. Therefore, we sincerely urge you and your organization to join with us in bringing the need for this highway improvement to the immediate attention of the State Highway Commission. Let us all keep working on this project until we get the desired results. We would suggest that you

Plan Didn't Work

The most unique story of the week broke out at Springtown where Joe Lindsey, ex-convict night watchman and candidate for constable, broke into the postoffice after killing a chicken, fired two shots into the ground and smeared blood around.

A postoffice inspector declared Lindsey was no hero in that form of robbery, induced him to confess and Parker county officers charged him with burglary.

trace out this proposed route on any late highway map and then take this matter up with your directors at the next meeting or with your highway committee. We believe that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will assist us in this project if each organization on the route will write to Mr. D. A. Barden at Stamford, Texas, asking for the help of the regional organization.

We shall be very glad to hear from you concerning this project and we shall certainly appreciate any suggestion from you.

Very Truly yours

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

A man with a handle to his name in lecturing before a Philadelphia audience of students claimed a tribe had been discovered in ancient Palestine that was at least 20,000 years old. Then he tells his hearers that men of that day ruled the roost by pulling out the front teeth of their women folks. One would infer from the treatment that ancient women learned biting before talking. Shorn of her teeth, she resorted to tears and tongue as her chief weapons. Women are resourceful, with or without teeth.

Many congressmen are excited, or at least "perturbed", over the mental examination of Congressman Zioncheck. They fear the rule of examination will be made universal.

A grass roots citizen is one born in a pioneer dugout. From this fact was coined the phrase, "every inch a man from the ground up." Another saying that originated about the same time is that "he covers the ground that he stands on." Other phrases such as "whip his weight in wildcats" and brave enough to "charge hell with a bucket of water," is said to have originated in Kentucky, later adopted in the southwest as Kentuckians came to the "land of promise."

Let's keep our history straight—the more important part!

Sitting in the audience, one is sometimes caused to wonder just why God stuck a brain of such fertility behind such an ugly face as the speaker is forced to wear.

Bachelor Bill, just back from Dallas, says a Centennial speaker is a miserable failure who likes to brag on his ancestors.

The Gilmer Mirror is another paper that copies most of this column without giving credit. Several others use it for space killer, then why not the Mirror?

Hastoon Yazzie's third son, who has been taking a mailorder course in the Useless Service Training School, graduated in the Hash Knife postoffice Tuesday just 12 minutes after the arrival of the mail car.

At the service club the singer refused to eat until after he sang. After hearing the song, Red Kian was asked how he liked it. "That bozo just might as well et," he said. (There's a Kian in every crowd.)

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this method of expressing our sincere appreciation to our many good neighbors and friends every where who were so good and kind to us through the sickness and death of our dearly beloved Rex.

The many kind words you spoke, and the many kind deeds that you did, make our extreme grief easier to bear.

Mr. and Mrs. Long,
Bud and Sonny.

 VISITING WITH OUR NEIGHBORS ***

A letter from Mrs. I. B. Pierce locates them at Devine, Texas. Her letter reads: "We sure like it fine here about 30 miles from San Antonio. Good fishing. We have about 1,500 native persimmon trees on our farm. We are anxious to get the best paper printed in the Panhandle, so rush the Leader along."

Thanks for the compliments, Mrs. Pierce. Your Leader started to you last issue, and we hope that you will continue to find the country the best ever.

Lovett Nobles is talking a lot about cherries on a tree he planted out in December. The trees were bought from R. L. Brazille. It all goes to prove again that this is the champion cherry country of the world.

Hearing a noise in the fish pond late Saturday afternoon, the writer ran to the edge and spied "Patsy" lying on the bottom under approximately two feet of water. Patsy is Alfred Estlack's second daughter. Well sir, there was no time to be lost. Patsy was jerked up somehow and resuscitation methods began instantly. After vomiting out quite a bit of water, she appeared to be enjoying the ordeal. Patsy smiles at anything, even her narrow escape. But seeing a grand baby lying under the water is anything but a pleasant experience. One minute longer and it would have been call No. 160-A.

G. A. Anderson has caught the biggest fish of the season—but it got away. The fish certainly have a lot to contend with these days. The lakes around Lelia are well patronized.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Daughtry are here visiting her sister, Mrs. Allen Bryan and family. They called at the Leader office but the writer was absent. Sorry to have missed my good friends. Mr. Daughtry is a piano tuner of rare ability, and has been doing that work in the Panhandle for more than thirty years. He used to keep the old college pianos in working order years ago. He is kept pretty busy every time he visits here because the public knows of his skill and fairness.

That SOS for corn on the cob has been answered. Several men have been in to assure the writer that he shall have all the corn he wants. Except for scraping butter off the ears, corn on the cob is the best vegetable that grows.

Harold Hams, employee of the Leader, has two ancient pieces of paper money. One is a 10c piece, and the other a 25c piece, both being issued soon after the close of the alleged Civil War.

R. O. Reynolds, who resides on the Goldston farm near Goldston school, is boss over the WPA fossil crew working out there, and in two pits near Silverton. He states that many interesting finds have been made. "Until I began work on this line, I cared nothing for the fossil line, but now I am a fanatic about hunting the fossils," he said.

When the President Came To See Centennial

Texans were host to the President of the United States and Mrs. Roosevelt last week. At least a million Texans greeted the noted visitors personally, with full-throated yells of welcome, waving sombreros, flags and whistles.

Serving as official host and hostess for the Lone Star State were Governor and Mrs. James V. Allred, who met the President and Mrs. Roosevelt when their special train arrived at Texarkana last Wednesday night and accompanied them on the train during the three-day swing around the state, through Houston, San Antonio and Austin to Dallas.

The acquaintanceship between President Roosevelt and Governor Allred, which began early during the governor's administration as a result of his contacts with the national administration in seeing that Texas received its fair share of federal loans and grants and in working together to coordinate the state and national social security programs, ripened into a warm personal friendship during the tour, it was reported.

The First Lady of the Land and the First Lady of Texas also became good friends during their three-day visit and Mrs. Allred introduced Mrs. Roosevelt Friday in the Cotton Bowl at the Centennial Exposition in Dallas.

Cordial relations, both personal and official, existing between the Texas and National administrations will be emphasized further next week when Governor Allred makes the nominating speech for Vice-President John N. Garner at the National Democratic Convention in Philadelphia.

Chevrolet Demand Breaks All Time Records

Chevrolet dealers rounded out the greatest three months in the history of the Chevrolet Motor Company by delivering 129,816 new cars and trucks in May. W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager, announced today. May sales were the highest on record, exceeding those for the highest previous May, that of 1928, by 7,379 units.

The company's sales in April established a new all-time high for any month of any year, and the totals for March and for May approached that high point so closely as to concentrate within the past 90 days all three of Chevrolet's biggest months. Total sales for that period were 389,556 units, bringing the total for the year to date, from Jan. 1, to 535,634.

May used car sales by Chevrolet dealers set an all-time high of 229,223 units, Mr. Holler announced, resulting in a substantial decline in the stocks on hand, and contributing to the outlook for heavy new unit volume in June.

Miss Geraldine Pratt, who has been attending State University, is home for the summer.

Lovely "Sweetheart of Texas"

To millions of people throughout the nation, who have read with interest the Texas Centennial's booklets describing the beauties of Texas, lovely Janice Jarratt was known simply as the "girl on the cover". But in response to a wide public demand Centennial officials revealed her identity as the San Antonio girl who won fame in New York as America's best-loved model and became ranked as one of the world's most beautiful women. Back to Texas she came last week and in an elaborate ceremony attended by hundreds Governor James V. Allred bestowed upon her the official state commission as "Sweetheart of the Texas Centennial." Governor to Call Five-State Parole Conference

A Southwestern States Parole Conference to include representatives of Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona will be called by Governor James V. Allred in August or September, it was announced today. State officials in all of the above named states are being contacted and will doubtless have representatives at the meeting.

Federal authorities have taken cognizance of the Texas parole plan and point out that Texas is the natural geographical center of the area as well as having assumed leadership in the parole movement. In a letter suggesting that Governor Allred call the meeting, Ray L. Huff, Parole Executive of the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C., stated:

"The leadership which the Governor (Allred) has given to parole matters in the Southwest suggests that he may be inclined to have Texas and further leadership by initiating this invitation to such states as Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and possibly Arizona."

Officials to be invited to the conference will include the Governors and their representatives, Attorneys General and all officers in charge of parole. The discussions of such a conference will center around four topics:

1. Basic legislation in each state.
2. Administrative organization.
3. Rules and regulations controlling parole.
4. Review of the principles of parole as defined to date.

A number of states in the Midwest and in the Northeast have already established parole conferences and it is the hope of those interested in the matter that Texas will lead the way in the Southwest by virtue of the impetus given by Governor Allred's voluntary county parole board plan.

"There is much good that could be accomplished by such an interesting meeting," Governor Allred said. "Methods of correlating the work between the states in the matter of parole could be discussed and proposed legislation could be analyzed. The Texas plan has received considerable publicity, particularly in states which at present have no parole plan." Noted authorities in parole work will be invited, the Governor stated.

INTERESTING FACTS REGARDING TEXAS HISTORY IN AN EARLY EXCITING EPOCH

Two pairs of silk stockings were among the possessions given to each of the sixteen women who took their courage, indeed their lives, in their hands and sailed with their fathers and their husbands from the Canary Islands in 1730 to become the first officially recognized colonists in a new land, Texas.

This fact is revealed for the first time with the translation of certain official documents in the Bexar Archives in the University of Texas Library. These archives comprised the official Spanish and Mexican governmental records at San Antonio de Bexar, for more than a century the seat of Spanish government for all Texas.

It was a hardy little band of pioneers who left their pleasant surroundings, their friends, the established businesses in the Canary Islands, a Spanish possession, to accept the promises of the Spanish government of a new home in the wilds of Texas. To realize that they must settle in a wilderness haunted constantly by threats of Indian outrages, and that at San Antonio de Bexar they would be as near to the enemy French in Louisiana as to Mexico City, the seat of Spanish civilization in Mexico, must have held terrors for them.

Yet they came. From the very outset, they were faced with all the problems that great humanity everywhere—life, death, love, happiness, pain. Only ten families set out to begin with. Only ten men, with their wives, their sons and their daughters, under the leadership of the so-called "first" man, the eldest, Juan Leal Gores. Within a month the number of families was increased to fifteen, Vicente Alvarez Travieso, Francisco de Arocha, Antonio Rodriguez, Joseph Leal, and Juan Delgado having married island girls before sailing. Death had come to Juan Cabrara, and later to two women, his widow, Maria Rodriguez, and the wife of the "first" man, Juan Leal Gores. A son had been born en route to one of the families.

In an official document signed before Francisco Manuel de Coharubias, notary public, in Quautitlan November 9, 1730, a list of personal effects and of tools given to each family is noted, and the head of each family was required to sign the document in acceptance of its terms, either in script or by mark. It is this document that has just been translated by University translators.

The following list of articles for personal use was given to Juan Leal Gores, recognized as the leader der of the party. Similar possessions were given by the Spanish government to each other man in the band:

"Two shirts, two pairs of white trousers, two white jackets with sleeves, two cravats, a cape, a riding suit, a pair of trousers, two pairs of woolen socks, two pairs of shoes, a hat, a mattress and two sheets, a pillow with its case and case covering, a quilt, two horses, a saddle with stirrups and cushions, a pack saddle, and a copper kettle with its top for cooking and which serves as a frying pan."

To each woman an unusual combination of "finery" and practical necessities were given, it is evidenced by the list of things given to Maria Curbelo, wife of the "second" man:

"Two shirts, two pairs of white petticoats, two jackets with sleeves two handkerchiefs, two pairs of silk stockings, two pairs of understockings, two pairs of shoes, a serge petticoat, a white baige cloak a plain shawl, an upper petticoat, two horses, a saddle without stirrups and cushions, a bit with head stall and reins, a hackamore with its halter, two sheep skins, a mattress, two sheets, a quilt, a pillow with its case and case covering, and a pack saddle."

That Juan Leal Gores, sometime called Juan Leal, was recognized by the Spanish authorities as spokesman for the colonists is evidenced by the portion of the document which outlines the tools and implements which each settler was to receive. Cognizance is also taken of the fact that some of the Islanders were unable to write. After listing the personal belongings to be given to each individual, the order continued:

"This delivery having ben made as stated, with the intervention of Francisco Duval and Juan Leal, head of the first family, they will also be charged with the tools that they receive so that they may deliver them with all care and equity, as follows:

"Two axes, two ploughs, two machets, two crowbars, ten saws, ten adzes, ten chisels, twenty two paddles, ten comales (pottery vessel used for cooking tortillas) and ten tents with all their framework."

"In this manner delivery was made to each one of the fifty-six persons who make up the families mentioned, and each one of them what was thus his share, received at that was coming to him as expressed in detail for each. They received this in person and before Don Francisco Domingo de Loba, alcalde mayor of this jurisdiction, and with the help of the present royal notary public of this town. I certify that this was executed in this manner. I also attest that it was done with the intervention of Francisco and Jua Leal, who were witnesses of the fact that delivery was made to the entire satisfaction of the families in question, as well as of the said Francisco Duval, Juan Leal, Don Thomas de Zubiria, Don Joseph Carrillo, and Don Juan Manuel Jimenez. All the persons of the said families who knew how to write signed this, and for those who did not know the witnesses signed."

"But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." What would be the result in Clarendon, if all Christians should put first things first in their lives? No one knows, because it has never been tried. The strange thing about it is that God ever blesses us at all, since we put everything else first before his righteousness and his kingdom's interest. Let us try out this great promise of the Father and watch the windows of heaven open and his blessings descend upon us as the dew of the morning. Be in your place the next Lord's Day morning, the first day of the week, with Christ's kingdom interest and righteousness uppermost in your heart and mind and see how delightful an experience it will be. You will be blessed, we will be blessed, your loved ones will be blessed because God's promise will be fulfilled.

It's a dramatic story of a tiny sea-waif that brings SHIRLEY TEMPLE and GUY KIBBEE together in "Captain January," the Fox picture which presents the tiny starlet in her greatest role, supreme in song, dance and comedy.

Tinkling Tunes, Dances in Shirley's Gay Picture, "Captain January", Coming 24-25th

Hummable new tunes, tantalizing new dances, and Shirley Temple in her most lovable, believable role! Those are the entertainment delights that 20th Century's "Captain January" brings to the Pastime Theatre, Wed. & Thursday.

A score of three tinkling tunes, all with music by Lew Pollack, again give the curly-headed star an opportunity to exhibit her singing talent. Chief of these is "The Right Somebody to Love." For her dancing partner in a series of intricate new steps, Shirley now has Buddy Ebsen, tap star of Ziegfeld Follies and sensation of "Broadway Melody of 1936."

The underlying dramatic story of "Captain January" deals with the adventures and near-tragedies of Shirley and her two grizzled sea-salt friends Guy Kibbee and Slim Summerville.

Kibbee, who had rescued Shirley from the sea when she was an infant, is jealously fond of the little girl, forever afraid that somebody will turn up with a better claim to her.

When Sara Haden, the mean old truant officer, threatens to take Shirley from him, Kibbee stops his quibbling with Slim, and they join forces to temporarily outwit Miss Haden.

The climax of the picture is devoted to a thrilling sea-chase, in which Shirley and Kibbee flee from Miss Haden in a sailing ketch. Although they are caught, their friends contrive to bring a happy by the apostles and their brethren, we now notice the question of division.

All the alibies and excuses of man combined cannot justify the present day divided state of affairs in the religious world. Just as surely as like begets like is an immutable law of the material, we would not expect to see corn, cotton, rye, barley etc. all growing from wheat seed. Jesus said "the word is the SEED of the kingdom" (Luke 8:11). If we then plant the same seed we must assuredly look for the same kind of harvest. If we all do exactly the same things that were done by the men in the days of the Apostles we will be just what they were then.

Some say "where comes the division, we all have the same bible, worship the same God, why be divided"? There is not an iota of a rational excuse to justify religious division. God is not responsible, for long ago He issued the decree of "how good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in un-

Paul told the Corinthians that they were carnal because of the division which existed among them (I Cor. 1:10-13) He said "there is one body" (Eph. 4:4-8) The body is the church—(Col.1:18,24) Hence only one church.

Our standing proposition thus far unchallenged reads "That if there is a single observance within the bosom of the Church of Christ today, which we cannot justify from the scriptures, we will cease from that observance; and if there are observances enjoined upon the churches in the Apostles day which we fail to practice, then we will gladly add that to our religious life—we await your calling attention to such cases, and at the same time in all fairness, ask other churches to make the same proposition"—(Continued)

Fischer Finds Fault With Allred Record

Says Governor is Making Drunkards to Pay Old Age Assistance

F. W. Fischer of Tyler, candidate for the governorship, spoke to a small crowd here at 2 p. m. Tuesday. He was introduced by J. C. Estlack, who stated that "Donley county had always given every candidate an even break, and that our people showed every visitor almost courtesy." Estlack explained to the speaker before hand, that he was an ardent supporter of Allred so that there would be no misunderstanding.

Fischer condemned Sanderford's sales tax as a tax upon poverty. He flayed Governor Allred because the liquor tax was being turned into the Old Age Assistance fund. He found no fault with the fact that the legislature failed to provide funds as requested by the Governor in a 10,000 word message to the legislature.

Fischer wants to get the money from tax on oil, gas and sulphur. Judge Link asked the speaker "how he would get the senate to enact a law of this kind when the majority were in the employ of the companies which it was proposed to tax."

Curiosity Saves Life Editor's Grandchild

"Clarendon, June 17.—Curiosity saved the life of a 20 months old baby girl here Saturday when her grandfather, upon hearing a faint splash at the fish pond, investigated to see if he had acquired bullfrogs.

J. C. Estlack, editor and publisher of the Donley County Leader in Clarendon, had been working in his flower garden about 7:30 Saturday evening, when he heard the slight splash. Idly wondering if his children had put frogs in the tank, he strolled to the pond where he saw his granddaughter, Patricia Ann, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Estlack, at the bottom of 30 inches of water.

Estlack jumped into the water and brought the child out. She regained consciousness only after several minutes of first aid."

The above article appeared in the Amarillo News today. Without alarming Patsy's grandmother in the yard, or her mother in the house, Papa applied resuscitation methods learned on the beach while a schoolboy in Galveston 36 years before. When Patsy was again breathing, Papa took her into the house. Her only comment was to look into the face of her rescuer and laugh.

Joe Bownds Pays Top For Place On Ticket

Assessments for Getting On Demo Ticket Are Made Here Monday

Assessments for places on the ticket in the coming elections were set by the County Executive Committee in a meeting here Monday. The basis used was four percent of the salary each office pays. This applies only to candidates of the county and precinct offices.

Candidates other than county or precinct pay one dollar each toward the cost of holding the county elections.

The district clerk has no opponent, therefore pays $37. Two are in the race for the office of county school superintendent and will divide $76, the assessment against that division of the ticket.

The county judge has no opponent, and will pay $75. Two candidates in the sheriff's race will divide $112. Only one candidate is making the race for county clerk, and he will pay $87.50.

The assessor-collector tops the list with a payment of $120. County treasurer candidates are four in number, each to pay $12. County attorney cannot get any help so he will pay $39.

Each precinct is assessed $48. This will be divided according to the number of candidates. Two are making the race in 1, 2 and 3, and it is said that four are in the race in the 4th Precinct.

This is one time when a candidate can appreciate an opponent—at assessment time. One candidate stated that the 'set-up' was at fault since, for instance as was pointed out, a district judge gets $5000 a year, but pays only $1 to each of the four counties, a total of $4. It is said to be true also of some of the state offices, and a time-honored custom—that's all.

Mulkey Returns To Texas On Airplane

Sails Placidly Over Town Of His Birthplace In Old Kentucky

Fortune seemed to favor Homer Mulkey on his trip to the Cleveland convention last week, where the national association of moving picture show men made a heroic attempt to "out convention" the republicans.

He made the trip up going by auto with Col. Cole of Dallas, president of the Association. The route took him through a part of Illinois. Suddenly they came to a halt in a small like town of Effingham. Strange to say, Mr. Mulkey took a graduate course in photography and chemistry there back some thirty years ago.

After making the convention, the return trip was made with Bob Glass, owner of one of the big theatres in Dallas, and who was making the trip in his own plane.

The return trip took them over a portion of Kentucky. Sailing three thousand feet high, they passed over a number of towns. Finally Glass yelled back at Mulkey: "We are passing over Tompkinsville now." Mulkey smiled as he informed Glass that "this is my birthplace more than 60 years ago." Perhaps it was not quite so long ago, but nearly.

Lightening was playing over a cloud and alarm overtook Mulkey. "Well, sir, old Bob sailed out around that storm cloud the prettiest you ever saw," he said in relating his experiences.

While he was relating his trip north by auto, he passed through Cape Girardeau, down in southeast Missouri, the place where the writer attended school more than thirty years ago. He must have seen it all—coming if not going.

It took more than three days to go to Cleveland, but the return by plane was made in a leisurely to seven hours from Cleveland to Dallas. "Get sick?" He was asked. "Now, but the other fellow passenger sure did."

Cannery in Full Operation As Vegetables Come In

The operation of the relief cannery has two prime objects. First, to give employment. Second, to encourage citizens to store up food for future use.

The local cannery is now in full operation, the vegetable season being almost at the peak. A shipment of 10,000 cans have arrived to guarantee plenty of that form of material. More will be had when needed.

The canning is done on a 40-60 basis. Out of every 100 cans, the cannery takes 40 to help pay for the cans and the hired help. The individual supplying the vegetables gets 60 cans out of every hundred and supplies nothing but the vegetables.
