Pioneer Spirit Dignified By Presence Elderly Throng Saturday

Thirty-Two Have Resided in Northwest Texas More Than 50 Years. J. L. Reid of Lelia Lake, Aged 89, Was Oldest Pioneer Present Saturday; Mrs. Frank Haning, Aged 78 Is Oldest Lady Present at the Pioneer Round-Up

Out of the 236 Pioneers, Mrs. Julia Beverly takes first honors for having resided in the Panhandle longest, 60 years. Mrs. Sella Gentry was the only former resident of "Old Town" present. By a strange coincidence, the husband of each of these ladies served Donley county as sheriff back in the old days.

Prior to moving Clarendon to the present site, it was located across the river. The town history made in the first location is referred to by old-timers as "Old Town."

The Pioneer coming the greatest distance expressly for this occasion was T. J. Noland of Fullerton, California. He is the father of Eugene H. Noland in business here. T. J. Noland operated one of the leading stores here at the turn of the century.

Others attending the Round-Up by registering were P. A. Buntin and Richmond Bowlin, each 87 and H. W. Taylor, 86, of Clarendon, and F. R. McCracken of Allanreed, aged 86.

Jim Christian of Claude, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Massie of Groom, Wiley F. Morris of Clarendon and F. M. Guinn of Brice registered as those having resided in this section 55 years. In the 54-year class are H. W. Taylor and his sons Walter

Large Crowd Attends Street Dance Saturday Night

Those who enjoy dancing had plenty of opportunity Saturday night following the day's celebration. A dance at the opera house drew a large crowd far into the night.

In the second round, first flight, Bennett Kerbow was defeated 2 and 1. Knorpp defeated his opponent 3 and 2. J. T. Patman won over his opponent 4 and 3.

Former Ashtola Woman Dies At Lubbock Tuesday

Mrs. Homer Carter, nee Irene Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Collier, passed away in a Lubbock hospital Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Carter was well known to many in Donley county and has a large circle of friends who will regret her passing.

She is survived by her husband, Homer Carter and infant son. Also her parents of Ashtola, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Collier, and three sisters, Velma, Inetha and Geneva.

Funeral services were conducted at Lubbock Wednesday. The Leader extends sincerest sympathy to our friends in their bereavement.

Visiting Among Central Tex. Relatives This Week

Hearing the call of roasting ears, R. L. Brazille and his family hied away to central Texas Sunday to be gone for something like a week. The family was accompanied by the two daughters, Mrs. Audrey Partain and Mrs. Pauline Walker, both of Amarillo.

Besides a visit with relatives, they expect to spend some time at the Centennial before returning home.

Child Fatally Injured When Swing Falls to Floor

While sitting in a porch swing with other children at his home Friday near Groom, LeRoy aged about 4, was fatally injured when a chain broke causing the swing to drop to the floor at the end where the lad was sitting. The lad was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Hall.

Local Ball Diamond Becomes Race Track

Saturday's Playing Sets Standard for Heat Endurance

In the ball games here Saturday, Goldston nosed out Windy Valley in a fast game to the tune of 6-2. Quite a lot of amateur baseball talent developed during the scrimmage.

Clarendon played the team of Smith Bros. refining company of McLean in the second round. Both teams moped around like pall bearers at a funeral until the heat took effect. After that it appeared enmity arose and each time tried to run the other down.

In the agreed limit of seven innings, a tie resulted as to the score, there being 16 tallies to the side and 406 miles of race track used up. It was agreed to play off the tie. In this Clarendon nosed out with 17 tallies beating the joy julers by one tally. 1

Highway Dedicated With Several Talks

Highway Department Was Represented by Local And District Men

Judge J. R. Porter presided at the highway dedication ceremony which was held on the improvised band stand on Main street in front of the Rathjen building.

The highway department was represented in the persons of W. J. Van London, P. S. Bailey, district officials, and Bob Rankin and G. K. Reading, local men.

Sam Braswell of Paducah introduced Judge S. P. Matthews of Armstrong county, W. J. Van London, and T. E. Johnson of Amarillo, and J. Claude Wells of Memphis, resident engineer G. K. Reading.

Braswell and Wells were the principal speakers. Special mention was made of the efforts of Judge S. W. Lowe, G. G. Reeves, John H. Hermesmyer, J. Les Hawkins, W. P. Chamberlain, Roy Beverly, Sid E. Harris, G. W. Beck as officers of the county in connection with highway building.

Also the following men who at different times served on highway committees: Homer Mulkey, Odos Caraway, A. L. Chase, W. T. Hayter, M. M. Noble, Tom F. Connally, T. C. Johnson, A. B. Bynum, and Judge Matthews of Armstrong county.

The speakers could hardly be heard above the din of fireworks set off by enthusiastic youngsters who claimed a share in the celebration.

"With about five thousand people here Saturday, the crowd was orderly and well behaved with no arrests," Sheriff Pierce stated Monday.

No drinking, no reckless driving made for more pleasure for all the people, hundreds of whom staid until late at night.

Rain Falls Just In Time

At this time of the year, every rain falls "just in time" and that of Monday night and Tuesday served a very useful purpose. The fall in Clarendon was three-fourths of an inch according to government measure kept by Joe Goldston, which is official.

The rain is said to have been more or less general all over west Texas, the south plains area receiving as much as three inches in places.

Museum Collection Attraction Saturday

Pioneer Relics Appreciated Most by Visitors Here July 4th

The pioneer spirit prevailing here Saturday as the thousands thronged Clarendon in observance of Centennial Day and the Pioneer Round-Up, permeated the basement of the College building where is located the Donley County Historical Museum exhibit.

The local Museum has the third largest collection of historical specimens in West Texas.

During Saturday one hundred and eighty-nine adults left the busy part of the celebration to visit the Museum collection. Many voiced a pleasant surprise at the scope of the exhibit, and more admired the wonderful collection of pioneer relics of our beloved Panhandle district.

Really, the exhibit includes specimens from practically all parts of the Globe giving it an educational value seldom found outside the large museums of the larger cities.

The Museum is open from 2 to 5 each Monday afternoon. There is no admission charge. You will not be asked to contribute. Should you have a relic you care to contribute, or even loan, the ladies in charge will be grateful for that assistance.

CANDIDATES TALK SATURDAY NIGHT

Seats and rostrum placed for the beginning of a revival were used by county and district candidates Saturday night in presenting their claims to a small number of voters. The principal excitement continued on the main street amid a din of loud fireworks, and apparently the public was in no mood for political speeches.

Judge W. T. Link was "ring-master" and provided amusement with jokes between talks. He had the matter thoroughly in hand at all times and held the crowd with the help of the candidates who could not put much pep in some of the talks made because of the small number of the faithful present.

Speakers among county candidates were G. W. Kavanaugh, Sloan Baker, G. G. Reeves, Joe Cluck, Leon O. Lewis, Mrs. Claude McGowen, Mrs. Curtis E. Thompson, Mrs. Lalar Wilkerson, C. Huffman and Guy Pierce.

County school superintendent Cliff of Amarillo spoke in behalf of the present state superintendent L. A. Woods. Candidates for the district judgeship were present and talks were heard from R. H. Cocke, A. S. Moss and A. J. Fies. Senator Small limited his talk to an announcement that he would return later for a talk to Donley voters. Jack B. Deahl and John Deaver concluded the speaking.

Candidate Rally at Goldston Saturday Night

Candidates are being invited to be present at the Goldston school Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, July 11th.

Ice cream will be served and other entertainment offered those who can make it possible to be there, it is announced.

Candidates will speak and the public is invited to hear them.

Fiddler's Contest Draws Bigger Crowd

Only Event to Stop Noise On Sidelines During Whole Day

Did you notice that the noise of fireworks died down to practically nothing during the time the fiddlers were doing their "stuff" in the contest? Some might think it a good idea to have fiddlers on the job all the time next year.

The largest crowd of the day is said to have gathered round the platform on the street to hear the best fiddling talent that ever drew a bow. A. T. Russell, J. D. Cook and W. E. Weston were the judges in the contest.

T. E. Clark, W. E. Reeves, Bill Walling and Joe David were the fiddlers, with F. M. Griffin handling the guitar. Only the oldest tunes were played. The judges gave Joe David first, a prize of $5; Bill Walling second, prize $3; T. E. Clark third, prize of $2.

Old Settlers Will Picnic In August

Residents Donley County For 20 Years Invited, Says President Rains

Lest there be some misunderstanding regarding the annual picnic and reunion of Old Settlers, President Bill Rains of Hedley issues the following statement:

"There seems to be some misunderstanding in regard to the Old Settlers picnic at Tate grove near Hedley. This picnic will be held August 14th, just as it has been in the past. The Pioneer Round-Up in Clarendon July 4th was not the Old Settler picnic.

Clarendon has royally entertained the Pioneers. I feel greatly honored to be one of the number. From time to time as we gather there are many faces absent. I feel we as Pioneers do not get together often enough. Clarendon was a perfect hostess city.

Now the Old Settlers picnic will be our next meeting. All of you plan now to be present. We will try to entertain you with an old-fashioned picnic. This will be the 6th annual reunion of the pioneers of Donley county.

As president of the Old Settlers Association, I take this means of extending to each of you who have resided in Donley county 20 years and over, a special invitation to the picnic. And a very special invitation to all Donley county newspaper men. Watch for further details."

W. I. Rains.

Mrs. Gene Chamberlain Gets Honorable Mention

Among the hundreds to send recipes to the Better Homes & Garden magazine, Mrs. Gene Chamberlain is complimented by the test given her "Dainty Summer Salad" recipe, which is printed in the current number.

The certificate given Mrs. Chamberlain states, "This certificate, which brings national recognition to Mrs. Chamberlain is given only to distinguished recipes which pass the kitchen-tasting test of high standard for excellence of taste, and family usefulness."

Two New Courses Included In Local School

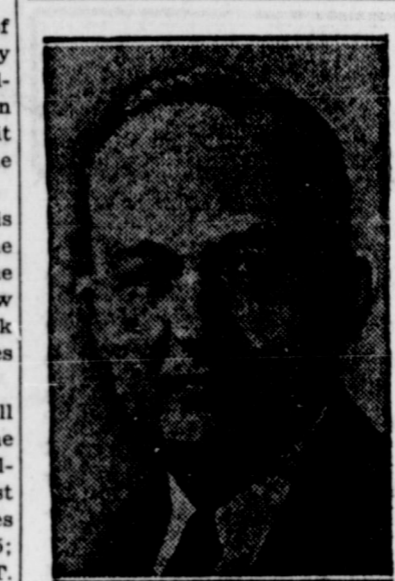

A public school music course will be in charge of Ray Robbins, and writing, drawing and art appreciation will be in charge of Miss Zella Cross the coming term.

Lady Burned by Fireworks Is Recovering

During the bombardment of fireworks Saturday, Mrs. Travis Reeves of Lelia Lake was painfully burned on the instep. The missile was thrown near her while she crossed the street, it is said.

One man's pants were torn and the flesh lacerated. Several are said to have received slight burns, but no serious injury.

Pioneer Guests Are Shown Courtesies

CONG. MARVIN JONES

Mr. Jones visited Clarendon Tuesday in the interests of his candidacy for re-election.

Daughter Morris Rosenfield Here to Celebrate

Among the most enthusiastic at the Pioneer Round-Up here Saturday was Mrs. Gertrude Roth, a daughter of Morris Rosenfield. She came from Dallas especially to visit with pioneers with whom she spent her childhood days.

Mr. Rosenfield was a beloved character in this section for many years. He owned the first general store in "Old Town" in the late 70's, and the first in Clarendon. His partner was H. B. White, another man to stamp his character indelibly upon this section.

Mrs. Roth was accompanied by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Max Rosenfield, also of Dallas.

Schmeling-Louis Fight Seen By Large Crowd

A large crowd saw the fight picture at the Pastime last night. This Thursday night is the last opportunity to see the Schmeling-Louis prize fight picture at the Pastime.

A part of the picture is shown "slow motion" so that the memorable fourth round is brought out clearly. It was the 4th round that decided the battle, according to Schmeling.

Only two reels were shown at Amarillo, but Mr. Mulkey was able to secure three reels showing the entire boxing contest from start to finish.

Norwoods Visit Arizona On Annual Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Norwood and daughter Elise left Wednesday to spend a vacation period on the San Carlos Indian reservation in Arizona.

Some time will be spent on the ranch of a relative. This is the second vacation they are spending in this interesting section.

Store Building is Being Remodeled by Speeds

The newly acquired Clifford & Ray brick next door to the First National bank, formerly occupied by the Shelton & Sanford grocery, is undergoing a remodeling this week.

The brick front is being torn out. This will be replaced by a modern front. The work is in charge of Speed brothers, local contractors.

Former Clarendon Man Has Fine School Record

Ross Harwood Beville, who has been attending Capitol Institute at Washington, D. C. for the past two years, graduated recently as "high point man." He has been pursuing a course in television and general radio work. It is said that he has several tempting offers with the larger stations, and will likely locate in Cincinnati.

Two Hundred and Nine Men And Women Enjoy Fine Rapid-Fire Program

Registering their names and places of residence in the Panhandle with W. M. Patman earlier in the day, the Pioneers stepped from the News office decorated with a badge of distinction entitling them to become guests at a free dinner which was served them in the basement of the First Christian church.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Sims were hosts for the occasion, a place they filled last year with credit. At the church, they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patrick in welcoming the guests with a hand-shake as they entered the front door.

It is stated that 209 partook of the meal and best of all, enjoyed the program of strictly old-time minute speeches made by pioneers as their names were called.

A number present were 87 years of age, the oldest present. J. L. Reid of Lelia Lake, a resident a few days over a half century, and the oldest guest present, made an interesting talk. P. A. Buntin, responded with a bow as another 'boy' of 87, but declined to talk at length.

Otto McCracken of Allanreed, T. T. Waggoner, Claude publisher, and J. C. Estlack, publisher of the Donley County Leader of Clarendon each spoke a few words.

Community Singers Awarded Penants Saturday

The community singing directed by L. H. Earthman as a part of the celebration Saturday, was attended by a large number all through the lengthy program.

Penants were awarded as follows: Duet, first, Miss Bertie Stewart and Clyde Hudson. Second, Misses Julia and Mary Earthman.

Quartet, first prize, Hedley quartet directed by Bub Hefner. Second place was given McKnight quartet directed by Walter Moss. First and second penants were both given the quartet led by Lu McClellan Jr. of Ashtola.

Relatives Attend Funeral Of J. R. Tucker

Among the out of town relatives here for the funeral rites of J. R. Tucker Thursday of last week were all of his children. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Tucker, Las Vegas, Nevada; Mr. and Mrs. Bright Tucker, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Conway Armstrong and children, Monroe, Louisiana; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tucker, Shamrock, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Nunn, Oklahoma City; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dugan, Greenville; Mrs. Stella Kouch, Greenville; Dr. C. G. Stricklin, Drake, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. King, Mangum, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carter, Childress; Harris King, McLean, Texas.

Former Clarendon Resident Visits Friends Here

Among the guests of Miss Lottie Lane the past week were Mrs. Chas. T. Brokaw of Houston, and her daughter, Miss Virginia Brokaw.

Mrs. Brokaw will be remembered as Miss Annie Claire Lee. She graduated from the music department of old Clarendon college at the time R. Dean Shure was head instructor.

Lady's Picture Shows On Freak Egg

J. J. Carlie brought an egg to the Leader office Wednesday that shows clearly the picture of a lady with hat on complete. The hair is "pompadour" on the forehead. The face, nose and mouth and contour of a full face are very plain.

FARMERS RESCUE THE WRECK.

A theory is a truth yet to be explained; an axiom is a self evident truth, we are taught by the old masters of mathematics. The farmers have had many theories thrust upon them. Some good and some a crazy dream of a theorist.

Terraces and contours in a field were known to the ancient Chinese. Their theory of soil conservation meant little to the American farmer on new land. The past few years our American farmers have been driven to soil conservation or failure entirely.

At this time the theory and practice of contour and terracing is most pronounced. Fields that are being farmed along soil conservation lines stored up water for the dry weeks that followed the twelve days of rain some time ago.

Cotton, corn and row crops in general as well as small grain plainly show the value of the newly adopted plan in Donley county of saving both soil and moisture. A visit over the county for a careful inspection and comparison of crops at this time will be worth the time of any one.

HIS BUSINESS IS YOUR BUSINESS.

The judicious buyer is the successful business man. In buying from him you enter into a partnership. He represents you in the best markets, sees that the goods have the quality you demand, and virtually delivers them at your very door in your bringing them to his local store.

He tells you what he has in an advertisement that deals with specific description and prices. The age of deception has passed. The public does not read advertisements simply because they are located "along side live reading matter," as in the old days. They are read by judicious buyers—the consumers, if you please who want the best for the least money, and get it.

For nearly all readers, the advertisements carry a news value, news of the latest styles and markets, often both. Readers of the Leader state they save the price of the year's subscription often in reading but one issue by reason of the saving effected in purchases of one week after reading the advertisements.

Advertisements, of the right kind, are business stimulants and result in a community partnership between seller and buyer. The business man who makes purchases of necessities possible is an asset to any community. If he can make luxuries possible for any considerable number under present conditions, his business becomes an institution.

VISITING WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Among the very best citizens of old Donley county is J. L. Smith, residing northeast of town. His type has no need for jails, court-houses or anything else but a sensible existence. To mellow with the years into a serene of old age, calm and collected, and highly respected such as friend Smith, is the greatest honor that can come to a man.

One of the best parts of the show all day Saturday was the visit by J. Claude Wells, publisher of the Memphis Democrat, and Thos. T. Waggoner, publisher of the Claude News, and Edward Boliver of the Hedley Informer. They spent quite a bit of time with the writer talking shop at different times, and we appreciate the visit of the only out of town newspaper men of the day. Come back any old time, and stay longer.

Willie Nell Shannon, aged 12, but you would never think it from reading her items of rural news from the Martin community. She's a bright little girl and makes good grades in school, too. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Shannon. Our rural news writers are more than welcome any time. We want to talk over your community projects and problems with you. Maybe we can be of some help all pulling together.

When the proof was pulled, the boys yelled that it was "Yankee Stadium" instead of "Madison Square Garden," but it was no time to quibble. The Stadium is used mostly for a ball park, anyway, and that may account for the fact that the winner still was "Schmeling" after the fight with the black boy.

Fifty years a Donley citizen and the oldest guest at the dinner for the Pioneers has the honors that came to our good friend J. L. Reid of Lelia Lake Saturday. And he's a fine, fine citizen and a smart, well read man along with it. He knows more about the sciences than half the college professors, all hammered out at home from books, observation and experience.

Did you see S. T. Clayton in the parade? He rode a horse with a cowbell strapped to its neck. He says that bell tone will 'carry' farther than any bell he ever heard, and that he has owned it for years and years. He sure looked like a real old-timer. In fact he ought to break into the movies with his acting.

The cutest float of the lot, or the one that got the most hand-claps down the street was the Indian tepee, papooses and squaw in real life. This was the swell idea of the Camp Fire girls, and they went over big.

At the Pioneer dinner I sat between Mrs. J. D. Stocking and Mrs. G. W. Antrobus, both residents of over forty years, and were they courteous in passing things! It was surprising how those two ladies knew the names of every one, too. Both have a snappy memory of all the old history of the town from a way back.

Gobs of folks were asked to stand up as Mr. Patrick called their names at the Pioneer dinner. When he called for those who came between 1875 and 1880, only three stood up. After the 80's, it seemed like the whole country tried to get to Donley county.

The cutest singer at the community singing at the Methodist church in the afternoon was little Miss Sylvia Bale, aged 4, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bale, and who reside in the northeast part of town. That little tot sang "Jesus Loves Me," with all the earnestness of a grand opera singer, and did well, too.

Lu McClellan Jr. and his "choir" sang Old Faithful just like the old time cow-punchers did. It was refreshing to get that much relief from the imitations over the radio. He and his singers have the thanks of a lot of folks who spoke of the matter.

The busiest man of the whole committee was general chairman R. E. Drennan. And when the old folks began to register, from that time on until after the dinner, W. M. (Bill) Patman was right in there pitching every second of the time. A number at the dinner suggested that both of these men be given a vote of thanks. It's great to have one's efforts appreciated, and the old-timers sure appreciated what Mr. Drennan and Mr. Patman did to entertain them without a hitch all day long.

Homer Mulkey has Granham Mc-what-you-may-call-it skinned a block on yelling directions through the mike. That new loud speaker came in mighty handy, and Homer made great use of it in announcing all events of the day—and night.

A. L. Chase got away with his highway dedication job amid a storm of fireworks noise. Nobody heard much of the program, but they could see the machinery in motion, human machinery of course.

Then along comes the Amarillo News saying that Judge "W. F." Porter presided at the highway dedication. They can't fool us because he was introduced to us Saturday before he started to talk. We often wondered just who he was for the past 18 years, all on account of his never having been introduced properly except at a school closing once before some few years ago. We just simply got to get all these old citizens out and have them introduced to us.

Then after living here over forty years straight running, the Amarillo News rises up to tell us Sunday that P. A. (Dad) Buntin lives at Claude. There's another good man who will have to be introduced to somebody. Our picnic party was badly grabbed in Sunday's News, but that isn't anything compared to the wedding ceremony of Homer Estlack and Miss Athlyn Drennan. By golly, they changed her name "three" times in one short article.

A country weekly has the reputation for pulling all the boneheads, but there isn't a ten-year-old school kid in the Panhandle that can't beat that bunch of amateurs on the Amarillo News. Get one and look it over. Some folks got sore, but that is more childish than the boneheads. Forget it because it all goes down in Panhandle history to show the folks in the future that Amarillo excelled all the Panhandle in boneheads. The reporter managed to spell his own name right, and that's something to be proud of in the amateur class.

There was one man who was not making any mistakes here Saturday. He is none other than Clyde J. Douglas, the man behind the scene who handled the financing, "plans to payment" of the awards complete. He did a swell job of it, and deserves a lot of credit. If this notice were not slipped in here, this fact would be known only to a few. Douglas doesn't care himself, but a lot of folks will want to know the party who "made the mare go" and got the job done. Thanks a lot, Clyde.

Joe Holland rides like a Rooseveltian Rough Rider in a parade. That is he looked straight ahead just like he didn't give a darn what happened, the parade was going over anyhow. As a master of parades, Joe gets the o. k.

And say, did you hear Pampa's school kid band? It is a great bunch of boys. Mixed up here with our two home bands, they simply did a swell job all day long. We have to hand it to the band boys—the whole works of them.

Are we honored? I'll say we are, and how! Folks came from Wichita Falls, Portales, Borger, Lubbock and other places to help put over the job of Saturday. A lady from Dallas and a gentleman from California. It is nothing short of a miracle, and certainly is swell of these good people to come to help make a success of a big undertaking.

The Andis boys went over big with the variety of aged motor freight trucks headed with a team and float. It told the Andis firm history from 1902 to 1936 in a nutshell. That last bunch of trucks were the last word in freight hauling, too.

The fire wagons blew the sirens but the fireworks drowned them out. It was a great day for fireworks, and a fair day for a parade. To mention all the commendable features in the parade would require a whole lot more space than we can devote to it in this issue. There are a lot of folks who deserve credit that cannot be mentioned here for the same reason. The big show went over without a hitch, and that is the best part of the whole thing.

John Frey of Stevensville, Texas was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brumley. Mr. Frey was a childhood playmate of Mr. and Mrs. Brumley.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
 By the Apostle

It is estimated that only one woman in 2,000 wore silk hose in 1893, whereas one out of five wear them now. The ten cent cotton hose got the girls by back in the old days, and grandma knitted my socks out of a coarse cotton thread Gosh, but they were strong—both odor and quality after the first six months.

Yeh, and back in '93 a good buggy cost $200. Now you can't get 'em at any price. Who would have thought we would come to that?

Back in 1903 we began to see the first progenitor of the auto. It was termed a "gillope" of dizzy proportions, canopy top and rear door. She was simply a holdinger and cost only $1480. A doctor in our town was the first one to get the craze and every one for two miles around knew when he started out just from the racket the blamed thing made. At top speed she got 15 miles an hour down hill. All the women envied his wife the Fourth of July when they chugged up by the arbor and failed to stop at the hitching rack where the "steeds and bull carts" were hitched.

The absence of a seat in the pants didn't mean a thing in 1893. The mama's made the boys pants out of anything that looked like pants. My first pair was made out of the old checked California breeches that had a bucket of paint spilled down one side. The paint streak scratched my leg for two seasons, until finally a burro ate the pants. There grew up a friendship between a lonely ranch kid and his playmate that lasted until the death of the burro in 1905 from drinking from a goat dipping vat a mixture containing arsenic and nicotine, and possibly a little bit of water mixed with it.

Speaking of drinking and history, Pablo Giezas turned up a partly filled barrel and drank three swallows of gasoline at Ft. Sumner May 14, 1907 before he discovered it wasn't whiskey.

Grandma Florence Beebe of Phoenix, Arizona was given a 30-day jail sentence last week for driving a car while drunk. Just when we thought that all grandmothers were "doting," sober-minded and capable of setting a fine example for their grandchildren. Maybe this is a fast age after all.

And was the "chick" embarrassed at the poultry show when he discovered that his first pants were "down!"

King Tut had his Pyramids, but he didn't know a blamed thing about a Pioneer Round-Up. Life wasn't worth much to him after all.

When some bozo gets up before a crowd and talks about what a great fight" was made to win a point, it's a cinch he doesn't know what a fight really means. What he probably has reference to is a "harrangue!"

Or possibly a deep-seated wish blocked by politics or a selfish motive.

Hastoon Yazzie's first wife was turned down at the relief office at Holy Holler Saturday when it was learned that she had caught a fish in Mud creek the day before.

Blue Bug Bessie suggests the election of four vice presidents of the Chin-Chatter club to add to its prestige and cut down a crop of jealousy.

Heard over the radio—
 "Ladies and gentlemen, our candidate today stands before you stern as the winds of the Panhandle, a beetled brow scarred with care, a furrowed frown as he peers into the future knitting his wits as to how to save, etc." (He ought to be in a zoo!)

And this is the time when community philosophers sit around, spit on the files and cuss crooked politicians. They've been doing that for 200 years, too.

There is said to be more wild life in Dallas than there is in the game preserve of Padre Island, off the Gulf coast.

Speaking of the New Deal, how about these lazy town sparrows that have their grasshoppers delivered to them by auto—on the front end of a radiator?

The maddest woman in town Saturday was the one that scratched her left limb with the sole of her right shoe that was smeared with chewing gum.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE CHURCH OF CHRIST

By Wanda Mayfield
 In the summer of 1916 eleven Christians started the work of the Clarendon Church of Christ, following a meeting conducted by A. O. Colley. A few years before that time a few members had met with the First Christian Church, and now the small congregation met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Cooper.

A twenty-thousand dollar building was erected in 1919, and that same building is still used by the local membership. In the years following, the services of several evangelists were secured. Among regular ministers employed by the church were Flavil Colley, R. R. Price, W. W. Brewer, D. L. Hukel, H. P. Cooper, and J. L. Standridge.

W. WALLACE LAYTON
 Minister Church of Christ

Well known evangelists who were in Clarendon for summer meetings include Claud McClung, C. R. Nichol, Fred McClung, G. K. Wallace, and Thomas Milholland.

W. Wallace Layton, present minister, came to Clarendon last September to begin work with the local congregation. Having attended Abilene Christian College, Bro. Layton was well qualified to preach the gospel when he began in the ministry four years ago. He is twenty-five years old—a young and energetic servant who is destined to accomplish much in his chosen field.

At present the Clarendon church is composed of one hundred members working cooperatively together. Seven classes provide supervised instruction for all ages each Sunday morning, and a young people's class meets each Sunday afternoon. Two gospel sermons are delivered each Lord's day by the minister. Besides these meetings, worship and study are conducted in the form of a ladies' Bible class on Wednesday morning and prayer meeting on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Mildred Kolner of Pampa visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stewart over the week end.

 There is Always Worship

One's relationship to God is the thing that will count in eternity. It will also count for time if we live what we profess. When our creed fails to flower into conduct it mocks us and is a stumbling block in the way of those who know not God. It is not what Christian people are that distinguishes them from the world but what they do. Salvation by grace will not distinguish anybody from the world, if their works do not justify their claim of salvation. What we do speaks louder than what we say. Character finds expressing in conduct in every life. By their fruits ye shall know them, is what Christ said concerning the life that one lives. How do people know you? What is the standard by which they measure your life? Are you living the ideal that you have, and that the world has for Christianity? Be the ideal yourself, that you have for your child, for your church, for your community, for Christianity, and see and feel the power that will come upon you as a leader among men. We need doers of the word of God in the world to-day perhaps as never before. Let us make our lives living epistles for the good of humanity, thus glorifying Christ, ourselves and those about us. Regular services at the Baptist Church Sunday with the exception of the evening preaching service. Make up for last Sunday by attending all the services of your church.

GOLDSTON—FREY

In a beautiful ring ceremony Friday evening, Miss Margaret Goldston became the bride of Mr. Frank Frey.

The nuptials were spoken in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Goldston.

An improvised altar of ferns and tall baskets of shasta daisies and baby's breath in front of the mantel, flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra, formed the background for the marriage service read by Rev. J. Perry King.

The pre-nuptial solo, "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life," was sung by Mrs. Rolle Brumley, accompanied by Mrs. Allen Bryan, who also played the Bridal chorus from Lohengrin by Wagner.

Little Melanie Williams flower girl and little Shirley Brumley, ring bearer, wore white colonial organdie frocks.

The bride wore a gown of white chartreuse lace over satin and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and valley lilies.

After the ceremony, a reception was held. Mrs. Wiley Carmichael and Mrs. Joe Goldston presided at the table which was laid with a Normandy lace cloth centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. In the center of the cake was a miniature dresden bridal pair.

Immediately following the reception, Mrs. Frey donned a brown tailored crepe ensemble with yellow accessories.

After a trip to the Centennial,

PIONEER GUESTS—

Mrs. Gertie Roth, daughter of Morris Rosenfield first merchant of both old and new Clarendon, came from Dallas to be with Pioneers of her girlhood days. She was given a big hand.

Judge A. J. Fires of Childress spoke at length complimenting Donley county citizens and paying a distinct tribute to her schools.

Mrs. Richmond Bowlin was another speaker when she and Mr. Bowlin were asked to stand for applause.

Dr. J. C. Bagwell of Claude declined to talk by saying "he was too busy eating." W. P. Blake, old-time publisher of more than one newspaper in Clarendon some thirty years ago, recounted old times. He published the Chronicle which he sold to A. M. Beville in 1909, and which became the Clarendon News when the change was made.

T. J. Noland, among the first merchants on a larger scale, was here from California. "I've been around quite a lot, but never found a better citizenship in any state," Mr. Noland said. He is the father of Eugene H. Noland.

E. H. Watt of Giles and Mrs. J. D. Stocking were interesting speakers, as was Mrs. Al Gentry. Mrs. Gentry is one of two "sole survivors" of Old Clarendon residing in Clarendon at present, and her husband was one of Donley county's first sheriffs. A number of others were asked to talk, but their modesty forbade.

W. H. Patrick, chairman and toastmaster of the occasion, was forced to accede to a large number of requests and finally consented to make a talk. His talk really extended through the entire program in keeping the 'pep' up to par.

"Old Bones," who is really Matthews Hooks, is the only old-time colored cow-puncher and professional "bronc peeler" ever known in the southwest. He made one of the most humorous talks, presented flowers as is his custom. He and Dan Sauls were the colored guests seated at a table especially provided for them.

When Mr. Patrick announced that the Pioneer Round-Up would be an annual affair, he was warmly applauded.

Crowds Listening With Interest to Douglass' Talks

Flays Corporation Record of His Opponent

Large crowds have heard Curtis Douglass, candidate for state senator, speak during the past ten days. Talks were made at Childress, Memphis, Hedley, Tulla, Dalhart and other cities last week. Crowds were unusually large for the Childress, Memphis and Tulla addresses.

Miami, Higgins and Canadian are on Douglass' schedule for this week. Wheeler, Shamrock, and Wellington will be visited Saturday. Wednesday, July 14, McLean, Alanreed and Mobeetie will be visited.

Douglass will invade the lair of his opponent, Senator Clint Small, in an address at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, July 16, in Amarillo. The following day he will speak in Claude.

Saturday, July 18, Douglass will visit Clarendon, Estelline, Turkey and Quitaque.

Increased interest is being shown in the state senator's race, and Douglass is receiving more encouragement every day. As the serious issues of the race become known to the people of the 31st senatorial district, Douglass reports that the voters are telling him that it is time for a change at Austin.

As his opponent has been in the state senate eight years, many voters believe that the time has come for a change. Small's corporation record is sufficient to warrant his retirement, believe thousands of voters in the district.

In his addresses, Douglass is not giving hearsay information. He is giving information from the records which cannot be denied. He is showing a connection between his opponent and the interests of this district. Wherever Douglass has spoken, the people have come up in numbers and pledged their support.

No political speaker ever had a more enthusiastic audience than greeted Douglass in his recent Childress address.

Marlyn Bartlett is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Swift at Memphis this week.

Miss Lillie Jewell Barns went home with her sister, Mrs. A. P. Odell for a visit at Paducah.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Merchant and children of Sanford were among the visitors here Saturday.

Ben Hill and John Rhodes left Wednesday for Mineral Wells. Mr. Rhodes expects to spend some time at the Milling Sanatorium.

Inspection Fails To Condemn Allred

Paris, July 7.—His "batting average" on platform pledges carried out stands at more than 800 and his record has emerged unblemished after an eight-months "fine tooth comb" inspection by an unfriendly auditor from a preceding administration, Governor James V. Allred reminded the people of Texas in a campaign address here tonight.

"It's just as bad to deal in half truths as it is to tell a deliberate lie in a political campaign", the governor declared.

"For several weeks my opponents have been trying to give the people of Texas the most elaborate misinformation this state has witnessed in a long time. It is strange, indeed, that the charges and insinuations they make are hurled just a few weeks before election.

"I remind the people that for more than eight months after I became governor my record was gone over with a fine tooth comb by an unfriendly auditor from a preceding administration. At all times and at the present time we have had any number of legislative committees checking everybody from constable on up. Yet no committee has made any report adverse to my administration.

"In their enthusiasm and zeal, my opponents have found many trifles about which to criticize me. Not a single one of them at any time had had a kind word for anything that I have done. According to them, every act of mine has been motivated by an ulterior or sinister impulse. I am sure the people of Texas do not approve of such tactics.

"I point to my record as Centennial Governor. Out of thirty-one planks in the Democratic platform adopted shortly after my election, twenty-four have been carried out in full, two in part, and an honest and sincere effort made to carry out the remaining five. That is a 'batting average' in excess of 800.

Not one of my opponents has told the public anything about this record of achievement. It has been just as hard for me to please them as it has for President Roosevelt to satisfy Herbert Hoover. I am standing on my record as Governor and feel sure the people will approve it when the facts are known.

Donley County Citizens Get $32,720 in Loans

An increase in the amount of livestock owned by low-income farmers is one result of the first year's work of the Resettlement Administration, which ended with the month of June. Official summaries received by R. C. Land, county supervisor, covering the period to May 1, show that Resettlement borrowers in Donley County purchased 80 horses and 70 mules, 45 dairy cattle, 55 hogs, and 609 chickens.

These livestock purchases accounted for $14,434. of the $32,720 loaned in this county. The loans were made to 56 families, of which 55 were white. They included 239 persons. The average loan was $673 per family. Loans for machinery totaled $3,671, harness $308, food $4,373, clothing $472, feed for livestock $3,683, seed $1,303.

Loans bear 5% interest, and are repayable in one to five years, depending upon the kind of goods purchased. Twenty-five per cent of similar loans made by the Texas rural rehabilitation corporation in 1935 have already been repaid, although loans were made only to those farmers who had been denied credit by all other agencies.

A summary of all Resettlement activities in Texas shows:

Land Use Project (Recreation, soil conservation and wild life demonstration), Pannin county, 17,345 acres, 326 men at work.

Let's Re-Elect

Congressman

Marvin Jones

18th Congressional District

In appreciation for the services rendered by Congressman Marvin Jones, who has continuously stood at his post of duty until the recent adjournment of Congress, and in gratitude for his distinguished efforts in behalf of all the people, we urge that he be given an overwhelming vote of confidence in the July Primary.

As Chairman of the Agricultural Committee of Congress he has supported:

FOR THE CATTLEMAN

Drought Relief: A fair price for cattle. Cattle Loans. Lower Freight Rates in Drought Area.

FOR THE FARMER

Conservation of Soil: Equal opportunities for the farmers. Allotment Payments to Farmers Cooperating in Program. Lowering Interest rates on Farm Mortgages. Crop Loans.

FOR THE HOME OWNER

Home Owners' Loan Corporation to refinance mortgaged homes. Lower rates of interest on homes. Prevention of Unjust Foreclosure of Mortgages.

FOR SOCIAL SECURITY

Stimulating employment and public building. Funds for Highway Construction. Direct Relief for aged and infirmed. Old age security.

Congressman Jones has favored the building of roads, veterans' legislation, rural electrification, taking the profits out of war, and other forward-looking legislation. His record in Congress is a record of service to his district and the nation as a whole.

Through allotment payments alone there has been returned to the farmers of his District $776,654.56 and to the farmers of Donley County $23,566,777.98.

Let us strengthen the influence of Marvin Jones for future service in Congress by an expression of complete confidence in him to the end that the progress thus far made in pulling out of the depression will not be interrupted, but continued.

Last Survivor Doby Walls Battle Talks

Indians dashing here and there on horseback and white men scuttling for cover—automobiles moving up and down the street; a few cottonwood pole stockades—houses lined up on either side of the street; blood-curdling whoops and war-cries—a radio blaring forth its modern music; bursts of gunfire echoing through the still, hot morning—automobile horns blasting impatiently at a slow moving pedestrian; a messenger riding hell-bent for leather across an Indian dotted plain—a telephone jangling nervously with its probable message of good cheer—that's the contrast presented by the sixty one years that separate the memorable fight at Dobe Walls, near Old Mobeetie, June 27, 1875, from the present as drawn from a story of the fight related by W. C. Cox of Childress, one of the only 2 men living today who were present at the "Dobe Walls" melee and the seven-day siege which followed the fight.

Although the wife of the late Bill Dickson, participant in the skirmish, places the date of the fight one year earlier than the date given by Mr. Cox, he is positive that the raid occurred June, 27, 1875. Mrs. Dixon gives as the basis for her contention some notes on the fight which her husband left and which she later had transcribed.

camped about 5 or 6 miles from the scene of the fight", Mr. Cox explained, "but a messenger was sent out to call us in to the stockade a few hours after the fight. There were about 20 or 21 white men in the three stockades on which the Indians centered their fight and about 1,500 Indians swarming around the stockades. Within a few hours after the fight 150 buffalo hunters, including myself, had been called in to the stockades for safety," the former buffalo hunter recounted.

Five men, sleeping in a saloon at a settlement one and one-half miles west of the settlement of "Dobe Walls" proper, were awakened about 5 o'clock that morning when a cottonwood sapling, used as a ridge pole, cracked and broke. Up on top of the stockade to repair the broken ridge pole, one of the men was attracted by the blast of a horn, and upon looking across the Canadian valley, saw the plains fairly teeming with Indians. Within a few minutes the Indians swooped down on the saloon and the other dwellings and in a hard fight that lasted only about 30 minutes, 112 Indians were killed and about 300 more wounded. Only one white man, who had poked his head out of the door of one of the huts, was killed during the fight proper.

W. C. COX

"It was impossible for the Indians to carry away all of their dead and injured that morning, and for the next 7 days they kept firing on us, every morning from the east and every afternoon from the west, while they ventured closer to the stockade to carry away their fallen comrades," Mr. Cox explained in clearing up the false report that the fight lasted seven days. "They killed another of our men two or three days later when they went out to scout around and were attacked by the Indians. These two men, along with two freight drivers who were sleeping in their wagon not far from 'Dobe Walls, were the only white men killed in the skirmish," Mr. Cox recalled.

In this fight, Quanah Parker, the renowned chief of the Comanches, was seriously injured and during his period of recovery, which lasted several months, he pleaded with his men to stop fighting and start raising corn and cotton. "This defeat of the Indians," Mr. Cox declared, "broke the strength of the Indians, and marked the turning point in their control of the land. It was a more important victory for Texas than was the defeat of the Mexicans some 40 years earlier," he vouched.

The Indians could not understand the reason for their defeat, and thinking that their Comanche Medicine man, who had said he could clean out the whites with a stick if his arm didn't get tired, had failed them immediately started to lynch him. His life was saved however, when an Indian brave volunteered the information that he had killed and eaten a skunk on the journey against the whites. This act the Indians believed was responsible for the defeat and so spared the life of the Medicine Man.

Mr. Cox who was only 23 at the time of the fight, and Wright Moore of Snyder are the only two men living today who were involved in the "Dobe Walls" fight. Mr. Cox will be 83 years old September 1, and although over a half century has passed since the fight, his recollection of the event is quite vivid and as he recounts the adventures of his Indian fighting days, his eyes light up and his face grows young again—as young perhaps in spirit as it was on that hot and sultry morning 63 years ago when 1,500 raging Indians swooped down on the few buffalo hunters near Old Mobeetie.

 Wedding bells were heard last Tuesday night when Floyd Naylor of Hedley and Miss Ruby Hall one of Naylor's favorite girls stole a march on their many friends, going to Clarendon and saying "I do."
 Mrs. Naylor is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hall, loved by all who knew her, for her many charming qualities, and is employed in the Hedley bank. Mr. Naylor is the son of P. O. Naylor and a grandson of the late T. N. Naylor. He is now in the H.C. filling station business at Hedley at which place this popular young couple will be at home to their many friends.

 The Pioneer round-up is over and Clarendon did herself well. Every pioneer was happy to be an honor guest. Every thing was done for our (I am one) pleasure, entertainment and comfort, many of the greetings and many times did you hear "Don't you know me?" Sometimes the answer was "Yes" and often it was "No," but all in all a grand day was spent. Yes Donley is a grand place to live, but think who put in the foundation, how could it be otherwise. These grand, noble people certainly had the thought of the immortal Poet who said in "The Building of the Ship,"
 "Build me straight, Oh worthy Master, Staunch, and strong a worthy vessel."
 All thanks to Clarendon for so grand a Fourth. May your name go down in history as a town who honors her Pioneers.

JOY AND GRIEF
 If I should seek your door one day
 When you had joy for guest,
 And find the door fast-barred to me
 At your behest,
 My seeking heart would comprehend
 I, too, have had joy for a friend.
 But if I knocked upon your door
 Just after grief passed through,
 And you should fail to let me in
 To comfort you,
 My heart would know a wound that day
 No word of yours could take away.

In making his formal announcement for reelection as a member of the Texas Railroad Commission, Col. Ernest O. Thompson feels no hesitancy in asking his "home folks" in the Panhandle to give him their unanimous support in order that he may serve them a second term on the all-important state body of which he is now chairman.

"I have served faithfully and conscientiously," states Colonel Thompson, "and I am proud of my record. I feel that it has been one of constructive service not only to my own country, the Panhandle, but to the people of the state as a whole. With the support of the fine people of the Panhandle I will be re-elected in the first primary - - - and I am asking the people of this section to give me their unqualified endorsement in the July primary."

Colonel Thompson's meteoric rise in state affairs is well-known to the people of the Panhandle. His administration of the state Railroad Commission has impressed the people of both the state and the nation. He has stopped the production of hot oil and the wastage of gas. He has put bootleg trucks off the highways. He has reduced freight rates on cotton and grain and on feedstuffs in the drouth regions. He has reduced utility rates in hundreds of Texas cities and towns. By his constant efforts he has increased the daily market demand for, and sale of, Texas oil by 400,000 barrels per day, adding millions of dollars extra revenue to the state's school fund. His intensive study of oil conservation has stamped him as one of the leading authorities in America on this subject.

These are but a few specific examples of the meritorious and beneficial services rendered by Colonel Thompson. He is asking re-election to a second term and to use his own words, he is "counting on the people of Clarendon and Donley county to put me over in the first primary."

Methodist Revival Has Big Attendance

Special Service for Church Members Will Be Held Friday Night

The Revival under the auspices of the First Methodist Church scheduled to open last Sunday, has gotten off to a good start under the leadership of the Rev. Ray N. Johnson of San Antonio, who has preached to large congregations each service, and is coming to be known in the community as the dynamic Gospel Preacher. No member of the audience has any spare time to nap if he follows Rev. Johnson in the very rapid delivery of his message. Tony Dyess arrived Monday and has been inspiring the people with his unusual bass solos and his leadership of the congregational singing.

The services are being held at 8:30 each evening, and 8:30 each morning. Friday night will be observed as "Loyalty Night" at which time an effort is being made to have as nearly every member of the Church, together with every member of each organization of the Church, present. Members of other congregations in the com-ford.

Twenty-two grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Smith was born in Ellis County, Texas, in 1858. He was married to Polly Cowan at Waxahachie, December 18, 1879. The Smiths moved from Johnson County to the Panhandle in 1892.

4-H Club Boys Hold First Encampment

Bull, Belts, Bulldogging And Battles Mark First Camp Jamboree

Monday afternoon, July 6, the first annual 4-H Club encampment was held at the swimming hole on the Rowe ranch. Sixty-three club members and ten farmers started the meeting off with a lively ball game in the bed of the river, starring Dan Lattimer and G. G. Reeves, commissioner. The game was ended by a shower with both sides in the lead and going strong.

The shower wasn't enough to dampen the encampment and after coffee was made by Jack Bailey and lemonade by Dr. B. L. Jenkins supper was spread and a first class demonstration of the reduction of the food surplus was staged. The amount of chicken, ham, eggs, pickles, pies, cakes, doughnuts, etc. that disappeared in a very short time was proof of the cooking of the mothers of 4-H club boys. The county agent seemed to have a grudge against chickens, Rhode Island Reds in particular. He didn't leave a one.

After supper County agent Breedlove discussed plans for the trip to the Farmer's Short Course at College Station, July 18-25. Twenty-one boys and three or four farmers of the county will make the trip. The expenses, route of the trip and the short course program were discussed. A visit to the Centennial on the return trip was decided on.

Dr. B. L. Jenkins talked to the assembly after the trip was discussed and contrasted the methods of farming today and those of his boyhood. He pointed out the many advantages of the 4-H club boys, urged them to make the most of their opportunities, and stay on the farm to live a full, happy life.

The program then turned to Sam Roberts and E. F. Redding, fiddlers, and Don Harlan, guitar. Music requested by the clubbers was played till someone had the idea that it was far enough past supper that some wrestling might be done. G. G. Reeves supervised the building of a mat and promoted a number of matches between the boys. County Agent Breedlove stated that he would rather be thrown than have G. G. pound him on the back to let him know he had won. After the wrestling there was more music, some swimming, and then the program ended with the initiation of new members, the first being H. M. Breedlove, County Agent. E. F. Redding, Assistant was also one of the members welcomed into the club. The boys were very enthusiastic about the welcome, belts playing a very prominent part.

A rain during the night didn't dampen the spirit of the encampment and it ended with everyone that attended having had a good time and looking forward to another encampment next year.
