CARAWAY HEADS HIGHWAY 88-18 BODY ORGANIZED HERE THURSDAY AFTERNOON

J. T. Patman is Elected Director, and J. M. Hill Secretary Of North-South Highway Association. Organization Made Permanent

Seven counties were represented in the highway meeting held in Clarendon Thursday which has for its purpose the construction of a highway from Perryton to Sweetwater, connecting up with other portions of a highway from Canada to Del Rio.

The body went on record for immediate improvement of the highway from here to Turkey, and between Pampa and Perryton. A hearing before the State Highway Commission has been requested, at which time claims for the cause will be presented with facts setting out the importance and need of such work being taken up by the state and federal government at once.

A permanent organization was effected to be known as the "88-18 North-South Highway Association. Odos Caraway of Clarendon was elected its first president. D. L. Grandberry of Spur was chosen a vice president, and J. M. Hill, secretary of the local Chapter of Commerce, secretary.

The directors are J. T. Patman, Clarendon; Judge Geo. Perry, Perryton; W. E. Schott, Brice; Dr. H. Gilmore, Turkey; C. L. Glenn, Matador; Judge J. A. Mead, Miami; Jim Collins, Pampa; Fred Arrington, Dickens; C. B. Jones, Spur; C. L. Wade, Jayton; George Barber, Sweetwater; Dr. Fritz Hughes, Roaring Springs.

Delegates attending this meeting not mentioned above include W. A. Scales and L. A. Maddox, Miami; W. B. LaMaster, Perryton; Allen Hodges and J. S. Winn, Pampa; Willis Walker, publisher Turkey Enterprise, Roy Russell and J. W. Hardcastle of Turkey; H. F. Pipkin, Matador; Garnet Reeves and Fred Cullom, Pampa; E. S. Crider, Spur.

More than fifty men from seven counties were present, many of them explaining their highway problems in connection with Highways 88 and 18. The next meeting date and place will be announced after a hearing is given the organizations representatives by the state highway officials, it is said.

Lions Club Will Sponsor Eye Clinic

At Tuesday's luncheon of the Lions Club, Odos Caraway, for the Crippled Children's committee announced the proposed project on the part of the Club for a clinic to examine the eyes of all school children of the county.

Homer Mulkey spoke on the Governor's parole system, he having recently attended a state meeting of the Parole Boards at Gai-veston.

It was announced at this meeting that, beginning with the luncheon next week, the Club would meet at Hotel Clarendon, a private dining room being fitted up especially for their use.

Donley Farmers Are Strong On Silo Idea

Records of Past Year Shows Trench Silo Better Plan For Storing Feed

The idea of building trench silos had its impetus at the Bain farm near Hedley last fall. The quality of the feed from that silo settled the matter as to the value of the idea.

A. H. Bowling's farm in Windy Valley was the scene of a trench silo building this week. Quite a number were present to see how the job was done. County agent H. M. Breedlove supervised the job. His supervising includes plenty of heavy work along with it.

There are more than twenty-five trench silos in Donley county at present, and double that number is being planned. The rains of the past few days insures a plentiful supply of feed stuff. Saving it is the only item of worry now.

FRIDAY IS DONLEY COUNTY DAY AT THE TRI-STATE FAIR IN AMARILLO

Town and Rural School Pupils Will Be Permitted to See School and Other Exhibits. Clarendon High School Band Will Head Street Parade

Donley county, referred to this year as the "Eden of the Panhandle" because of her crop conditions despite the drought, will be much in evidence with her excellent exhibits. Donley county always attracts a lot of attention at the Tri-State Fair.

The High School Band will be there. Town and rural pupils will be dismissed for the big day as has been the custom in the past. The school exhibits are a big feature of the fair exhibits, and are worth a lot to our student bodies.

There will be a group of Donley county folks put on a radio program during the day. The program will be varied and will include a talk by a competent party describing the resources and advantages in general of Donley county.

Donley's agricultural exhibit this year promises to be extra good. We have that from county agent H. M. Breedlove. He knows his county, and where to pick his prize winning material because he has been planning for months.

Friday is Donley county day. All those who can make it possible,

Quail Community Fair Date Is Friday, 18th

Dr. A. A. Tampke is superintendent of the F.F.A. judging contests, and Mrs. Tampke will be in charge of the women's household department of the community fair at Quail Friday of this week.

Talks will be made by editors of the McLean News, Wellington Leader, Shamrock Texan, Farm and Ranch.

Mrs. Maggie Bennet, former resident of Clarendon, arrived on a visit Saturday.

LIFELESS BODY NOT IDENTIFIED

Man's Body is Found Near Jericho With Shotgun Wound in Head

The body was found by a Rock Island track inspector late Friday evening. Officers of Donley county were notified Saturday morning and an inquest was held by Judge W. A. Davis of Clarendon. He was assisted by Sheriff Pierce, Deputy Quisenberry and county attorney King. No decision has been rendered pending further developments.

The sheriff says the body was found six miles east of Jericho on the Rock Island right-of-way near Highway 66. A 20 gauge shotgun was beneath the body, and most of the front and top part of the head had been blown away by a shotgun charge.

Powder burns appeared between the eyes and on the fore finger of the left hand that grasped the trigger of the gun. Blood soaked earth indicated that he had died on the spot, Pierce said. Finger prints have been sent to Washington in an effort to identify the man. Those sent Austin and Oklahoma City failed of verification.

The man is said to have been about 30 years old, and weighing 125 pounds, and about 5 feet 9 inches in height, blue eyes and brown hair. He wore a small brown hat that bore the trade name of a Pawhuska, Oklahoma firm. A card in his pocket appeared to bear the dim outlines of "J. A. Russell."

The body was taken in charge and reconstructed by the Buntin mortuary where it has remained pending identification. Those who have seen the head of the victim before and after reconstruction, marvel at the art of the local technicians in bringing back the natural facial appearance practically intact.

Sheriff Pierce has had radio stations assist in an attempt to locate relatives or aid in identification.

New Pastor Christian Church and Wife

Rev. and Mrs. Robt. E. Austin arrived this week to make Clarendon their home. Rev. Austin has accepted the pastorate of the First Christian church. Mrs. Austin is a talented pianist and experienced in evangelistic and general church work. They are receiving a hearty welcome from the public.

Austin New Pastor Christian Church

Talented Young Minister Preached Here Sunday In New Work

The pastorate of the First Christian Church here has been accepted by Rev. Robert E. Austin, formerly pastor of the Yoncalla, Oregon Christian church before taking up evangelistic work this summer.

Rev. Austin, aged 30, is a graduate of the Eugene, Oregon Bible College where he spent three years as a student. He has filled pastorates at Noti, Oregon, and was for two years pastor of the Christian church of Seymour, Texas.

He just recently closed a successful revival at Childress following revivals at Quanah, Los Angeles and other towns occupying his time of the summer.

Mrs. Austin is a talented pianist, and filled that position for the church at Eugene, Oregon for several years. She, with her husband, have been heard in church work over the air using the facilities of the Los Angeles radio station. She is an experienced revival worker and brings to Clarendon training and talent that will be of great help to her husband and to the church in general.

Rev. Austin's parents reside at Childress. They will move their effects to Clarendon this week and receive a welcome from the good citizens of the town as has long been the custom here.

Miss Sarah Porter Passed Away At Home of Niece

In the millinery business here for more than forty years, Miss Sarah Porter was well known to all the old-timers of this section. For the past few years she has been making her home with relatives at Wellington, due to the infirmities of old age.

She passed away Monday, September 7th at the home of a niece, a Mrs. Smith at Wellington, according to information received here this week.

Aggies To Exhibit At Tri-State Fair

The Clarendon High School department of Vocational Agriculture will again have an exhibit in the F. F. A. division of the Tri-State Fair this year. The theme of the educational part of this exhibit will be "Soil and Moisture Conservation By Terracing and Contouring." In addition to this there will be a display of farm products produced by the Future Farmers in 1936.

The Clarendon F. F. A. chapter will also enter the Dairy and Poultry judging contests for Vocational Agriculture students. Several boys will exhibit in the Poultry department of the fair.

Clarendon Bronchos To Scrap Mustangs

First Football Game This Season Will Be Played Here September 18

Coach C. C. Jones has had his boys doing intensive practice for several days in whipping them into shape to meet the Claude Mustangs at the new stadium here Friday, September 18th.

Butler, Rolls, Robinson, Noble, Cole, Watters and McClenny represent the forward wall with an average weight of above 150 pounds.

Grady, Baxter, Holtzclaw and Cornell enthusiastically shoulder the responsibility of advancing the ball. Each of them saw service last season with the exception of Baxter.

Word has come down the line that most of Claude will be here to root for their dauntless bunch of scrappers. On the other hand, a large crowd will be out to back the Bronchos. It will be a fast game, this assurance coming from those who have seen both teams in action within the past week. It will be the initiatory game on the new field undergoing preparation for several months.

Two Panhandle Hiways Completed This Week

With the opening of the gap on Highway 5 between Claude and Amarillo Monday, it is now possible to traverse an all-weather highway from Texline to the Gulf.

Further coats of asphalt are to be added on much of Highway 5 between Amarillo and Memphis in the near future, but that is of little concern for the present.

The gap on Highway 66 across the north end of Donley county was completed for immediate traffic Monday. It is said that more

FOREST TAYLOR NEW POSTMASTER

Native of Clarendon Gets On New Job Wednesday Morning

All of Tuesday was required in checking in the new postmaster, and checking out the retiring postmaster. Forest W. Taylor has been appointed acting postmaster until the next session of the U. S. congress. At that time, the President is expected to recommend his confirmation as permanent postmaster for a four year term.

Mr. Taylor is a native of Clarendon and began his first business experience in his father's hardware store. He has been employed in the First National bank for some 15 years at two different periods. One year was spent in Los Angeles in the office of the general auditor of the Santa Fe railway company. Otherwise he has spent his life in his home town.

Chas. H. Bugbee assumed the duties of postmaster March 19, 1928, succeeding Homer Glascoe. His commission was renewed four years later. He has served eight and a half years lacking some four days.

Mr. Bugbee has a nicely improved farm, one of the best in the county, located just northwest of town. He will likely turn his attention to the management of his stock-farming interests for a while at least. It may be possible that he will break his rule of life, and take a vacation.

Rain! Rain! Rain!!!

Old Jupiter Pluvius measured out seven-tenths of moisture to this section Saturday. He got on the job again Tuesday night and Wednesday, measuring out 1.45.

This insures a feed crop, some claiming it will be better than last year.

The rain came too late to help cotton, most producers state.

Winter pastures, of wheat, rye and barley are being sown. The wheat area on the plains had already been sown following the rain of some two weeks ago.

Conditions in general have taken on a new lease of life with the rising morale due to rain reports from practically all over the state

Members of the special safety unit of the Texas Highway Patrol under the direction of Captain M. L. Berry assisted by First Sergeant George Shauer, first aid expert will arrive in this city September 21 as announced in the Leader last week, to conduct special safety demonstrations and test the motor vehicles of local operators according to an announcement received here today from Austin headquarters of the Department of Public Safety.

The Patrolmen who have been putting this work on throughout the state since April 1 have tested over 135,000 cars to date with almost 29,000 of this number proving defective in safety devices. Eighty-five per cent of the defects have been corrected records of the department reveal.

"courtesy lane" will be established on a street leading off a main thoroughfare and all motor traffic will be routed through. The patrolmen work with such speed and efficiency that they are able to test approximately four cars a minute. Cars are examined for faulty brakes, lights, horn, mufflers, steering gear and windshield visibility. Those passing the test are given a small blue windshield sticker certifying that the car has passed the test while those failing to pass will receive a pink sticker with the defects noted. The operator is requested to make the necessary adjustment and return the machine through the lane to secure the coveted blue sticker of state approval.

Demonstrations in safe driving in which the ordinary infractions are shown is climaxed with the same cars driven by patrolmen executing the rules of the road in a proper manner. A big white courtesy car with loud speaker attachment is part of the equipment that will be brought here.

Sergeant Shauer will also be available for any public speaking dates on safety and first aid before schools, civic, commercial and PTA meetings during the visit in this city.

The work here will be in cooperation with local authorities.

Clarendon Food Store Gets Moved Wednesday

Despite the rain, the stock of the Clarendon Food store was moved to their new store location just west of the City Hall. The moving job was completed Wednesday night.

The firm invites you to their new place of business. The interior has been completely changed up with a new ceiling and paint. Minor changes have been made and a cream station installed.

The firm will make a specialty of cream and eggs. At the same time, a larger supply of groceries will be kept in stock.

Clarendon College Enrollment Highest

Former Graduates Filling Places of the Highest Responsibilities

Clarendon College numbers among many of its graduates men and women high in the professions, and still more in vocations of credit and honor. The enrollment this term has already exceeded 105, with several more yet to enroll.

This is the largest enrollment since the college was established ten years ago, Dean R. E. Drennan stated.

Aside from local students, the rural bus lines and the south bus line from Memphis has helped to swell the enrollment. The school board made extra concessions to enable students of nearby towns to secure a college education at small cost, and remain at home at the same time.

LOOKING FOR SOMETHING CHEAP.

Ninety percent of the time that we get stung on a purchase, we have bought something "cheap." Were Americans not of this frame of mind, Japan and other nations could not dump cheap imitations upon us every year for which we pay millions of hard earned dollars.

All this fuss we read about in our papers at this time telling of the cotton picking machine down in Mississippi, presents a problem. They may put it on the market and reduce the cost of producing cotton ten dollars a bale. Who cares? Don't we howl our heads off about wanting something cheap? This will likely make cotton goods cheaper and enable the poor to dress warmer in the winter. What will become of the thousands who pick cotton? They can get on relief! Relief costs tax money, and the more and cheaper cotton can be produced, the more tax the land owners can pay.

Did you know that if it were not for the McKay heeling and half-soling machines in the shoe factory, that we would be paying three times as much for shoes as we do now? Modern machinery means cheap production as compared with hand labor.

The man who hopes for a high price for his cotton will encourage his wife, as a rule, to look for "rare" bargains in purchasing cotton goods. It's just natural with us Americans—that's all.

AGED BOG DOWN IN RED TAPE.

So far as they are concerned, it looked like "to hell with the aged, crippled and blind" at Amarillo Tuesday. More than two hundred are said to have gathered at the Old Age Assistance office for reinvestigation as to why they had received no assistance while many others owning homes, farms and other property had received help right from the first. They simply could not understand why the more needy had not been helped too.

A. W. Cunningham, chairman of the Old Age Assistance Commission did not show up as indicated in press releases to this paper and dozens of others. So far as known, no explanation was given.

These poor people came from all over the district spending precious nickels of a sorely needed sum in order to reach the point where they might protest, or at least get some direct information.

The aged needy are not acquainted with political red tape. They can't understand why this is not a serious matter with everybody because it is a serious matter to them. It means butter and bread to the helpless who hold out empty palsied hands for a mere pittance that life might be sustained.

What's the matter with grand old Texas, anyway? Is it possible that this department needs a housecleaning? Maybe so. Regardless of the opinions expressed, the fact remains that the more needy have not been helped first out of a fund that the officials well knew was inadequate to serve the needs of the law voted by the people of Texas by the biggest majority in the history of state-wide voting.

Turn to the Eighth Page of the Leader under date of September 10, 1936 issued last week and see if you have complied with all requirements stated in the article received by the Leader from the head office in Austin. Then try again.

High salaried officials living in luxurious homes and holding a swell job in a modern office equipped with all the comforts known to science, often just can't get the idea of what a poor devil needing assistance is having to contend with. That was the biggest trouble we had with Hoover.

WITH OUR EXCHANGES

AIN'T THAT THE TRUTH! Armstrong county farmers have gotten down to farming in dead earnest since the big rains we had last week. We are going to make plenty of feed this year, the best possible thing for the man who makes the COW, the SOW and the HEN his money making crop. The Cow, the Sow and the Hen will make money for the farmers while wheat will break him if he tries the single crop route.

LET'S HOPE WE ARE RIGHT The sight of a hundred—possibly two hundred, nobody seeming to have exact figures on the number of irrigation wells in Floyd county pouring out life-giving waters to the parched land and producing thereby tremendous small grain and row crops, as well as a considerable wealth of truck—such a sight has been good for sore eyes this summer. And, viewing the possibilities many who have not wells have been digging them as fast as machinery and money could put them down.

SACREDNESS OF HUMAN LIFE The incidence of accidents and fatalities upon the highways is becoming so serious that our schools ought to teach children of proper age how to drive cars.

Hours of instruction should be given to every student in every school and college on the subject of safe driving. The problem of motor accidents is one of the most serious facing the nation and is certain to grow.

But, for that matter, the very foundations should be laid in the schools whereby pupils are taught the sacredness of human life. That is one subject woefully lacking in our society and in our educational systems.

Human life is held in disdain in this world, mostly in America. We have given that subject over to physicians, who, nevertheless, for the most part do not teach the basic principles of biology, nor undertake to instruct us in life's ethics and its sacredness.

The whole bent of materia medica is cure, which is wrong in principle and harmful in practice. In the generations to come each individual at twenty-one will know as much about the body and how to safeguard it as is known by physicians today. The time is coming when life will be regarded as a most sacred thing and the greatest privilege to be able to live in peace and sobriety, free from human recklessness of every kind.

RAISE GOVERNOR'S SALARY

Coming up at the November election will be a constitutional amendment to be voted on in an effort to raise the Governor's salary. The Chief believes that everyone will agree that the Texas Governor does not receive the salary that is in keeping with the state's standing and wealth. Only ten states stand above Texas in total wealth, says the Texas Weekly, and only four states in the Union pay as small salaries to their governors as does Texas, Rhode Island, the smallest state pays its governor just twice the salary that Texas' governor receives, states the Texas Weekly.

The governor of Texas receives only $4,000.00 a year. The constitutional amendment to be voted on is seeking to raise this amount to $12,000 a year, which is very reasonable compared to the population and wealth of the state.

INDIVIDUALS GOOD AND BAD

If an individual will collect all the bad things that he reads about ill-sorted members of the human race he will be convinced, no doubt, that men and women are going to the dogs and that there is no hope of salvation.

If the same individual will carefully collect all the good things that are published about men and women he will likewise come to the conclusion that, after all, the race is making progress and the future is apt to be better than the past ever hoped it would be.

The moral is that we should try to see both sides of all questions and keep faith in the ultimate triumph of right. Just now, in a be-fogged world, with many old standards under fire, the individual can rely upon the eternal worth of certain fundamental principles. The future may bring us new forms of government and new ways of living but it can do very little to change human nature.

SEVEN WONDERS OF BIBLE

No one can read the Bible sympathetically without realizing that it is the most wonderful book in the world.

In definition of this attitude a recent writer has thus enumerated what he calls the seven wonders of the Bible:

- It is self-authenticated. It is inexhaustible. It is non-improvable. It is authoritative. It is perennially re-inspired. It creates and transforms. It reveals Christ.

The prayer of the Psalmist is the prayer of every pious heart: Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold Wonderful things out of thy law.

The highest and the lowest places in the United States are both in California, and only eighty-six miles apart. Mt. Whitney is 14,496 feet above sea level; Death Valley is 276 feet below sea level.

Regeneration and Penitence Mark Jewish New Year Rites Starting at Midweek Service

The Mellinger & Rosenwasser drygoods store in Clarendon will close this Thursday and Friday in observance of the Jewish holiday.

With the setting of the sun Wednesday, Jews throughout the world will usher in their New Year, 5697.

This solemn occasion, called in Hebrew, Rosh Hashana, will be celebrated in Orthodox Synagogues for two days and in Reform Temple for one.

The celebration can be traced back to Biblical times when Rosh Hashana, a festival marking the opening of the agricultural season, was one of the most joyful of occasions. Following the expulsion of the Jewish people from the Holy Land, it assumed an even greater significance as Rabbinic tradition connected the festival with the beginning of the creation. It was then taught that on this day the Creator has every living creature pass before him for judgment.

Resolutions for Improvement.

To this day, the influence of that tradition is evident in Rosh Hashana. Jews are called upon to examine themselves and resolve to improve themselves during the year. Throughout the prayers offered at this time the idea of self-regeneration and penitence is evident. In Jewish Synagogues the world over rabbis preach in these services that humble penitence must be offered for past sins.

The religious services, which begin Wednesday at sundown, and end with the appearance of stars Friday, are climaxed by the blowing of the shofar, an am's horn, which takes place in the middle of the service. This horn, which is blown only at this time and at the conclusion of Yom Kippur, is used to remind the worshiper of his responsibilities to God and his fellow men. It is part of the basic New Year's service which has come down practically unchanged over 3,000 years.

Rosh Hashana, which inaugurates the holy season, is closely followed Friday evening and Saturday by Shabbos Shuvah, the Sabbath of Repentance, and a week later by the Day of Atonement, Yom Kippur, the most solemn of all Jewish holidays.

Next to the rain, the most astounding thing to bob up is a report of Ed Cox in the Bellevue News that a lady clerk raised the lid of the ice box in the Wright drug store there and discovered a snake coiled up on a cake of ice. He dares Col. Ed Bulls to disprove it. Col. Ed does not have to disprove it. There were two snakes on the ice the last time he looked in the box. As an explanation, Editor Cox cites his dear public to the fact that the snake might have crawled in through a 50-foot drain pipe. From this distance, we are prompted to inquire as to the brand they handle in dear old Bellevue now since the article in question was not accomplished by an affidavit from the young lady.

New York, N. Y.—"IT'S TRUE! that Robert Grieg was born in Melbourne, Australia, and was educated there at Xavier College. Speaking of old sayings, my grandmother used to speak of a sorry man as not being worth a "fi-penny bit." It was pronounced more like "fip-n-a-bit."

Yes, and we used to have old-timers who boasted of going to "build a head on him he could eat oats with." He also went the way of the dodo.

Among the names found in our exchanges are Polk Jarrod of Jesup, Georgia and Cam Pillson of Pvo, Tennessee. Those easterners still stick to old-fashioned names.

Weeklies of the eastern states practically fill up their sheets with boasts for political choices and the preachers. Our preachers would not stand for that mixture out here.

Hastoon Yazzie, often mentioned in this column, is the right name for a very prominent individual. The last time I saw him he had his feet run down through the sleeves of a silk shirt of broad red stripes, and the tail tied around his waist with a "G" string. He is chief of the Arizona Pima Indians. Hastoon Yazzie is quite a card—if you know what that means.

As we understand it from reading his celebrated journal, Col. Jack Stricklin is a Tennessean. Back there recently he timed himself to eat everything that grew that he could swallow. There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

Worship is the very soul of religion. It gives one new insight. He is better able to understand his own problems and needs, seeing himself somewhat as he is seen. Likewise he gets a better understanding of God and of God's plans for his life. Solutions are found for life problems. Perplexities are dissolved in the clear sunlight of God's presence. Ideals are uplifted and clarified through worship. Visions come as one is alone with

God. Such clarified insight is greatly needed in the midst of the confused thinking on moral and religious issues faced by the Christian today. Make it a part of your Sunday's program to be in the worship service of your church Sunday morning. You will find fellowship there that is different and more worthwhile than that found anywhere else in the world. The greatest ship that sails the sea of life is fellowship. It can be found in the services of your church. Look for it next Lord's Day.

Regular services Sunday morning and evening at The First Baptist Church. We are always glad to see you.

Unlicensed Beauty Operators Are Subject To Fine

A drive against bootlegged beauty work will open in this city in the next few days, according to Mrs. Sam McAdams, inspector for this district, who has been investigating beauty conditions in and around Clarendon for the last few days.

The board of cosmetologists was created a year ago when the legislature enacted a law requiring beauty salons and beauticians to obtain licenses to operate.

Mrs. McAdams states she has found girls operating without licenses and some shops employing girls without licenses. When doing this they take a chance having their license revoked and also become subject to a heavy fine. The minimum penalty for violation of the state law is a fine of $100 or a ninety day jail sentence or both.

Some of the shops are careless about sterilizing their instruments such as combs, hair nets, manicuring tools, and also the use of clean towels to every customer, Mrs. McAdams said.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mount and daughter Mary Isabelle of Houston were guests in the C. M. Lowry home Sunday. Mr. Mount is an uncle of Mr. Lowry.

New Deal Defended In Secretary's Talk

Challenges Republicans To Point Out Mistakes In Talk at Tulsa

The Secretary spoke in part as follows:

"Today's opponents of the action which President Roosevelt has taken were proponents of the same action in 1933. What accomplishments specifically would they repeat? Would they destroy the securities and exchange laws and the banking acts? Would they suddenly do away with aid to home owners and farmers? Would they destroy the assistance to education? You as American citizens who have benefited from the accomplishments of the Roosevelt Administration have a right to know specifically what they would change.

"In November, 1932, the people of America repudiated the 'do nothing' attitude of their government. They chose a national leader who promised action to help the farmer, the business man, the banker, the insurance company, the industrialist, the laborer, the home owner and the people generally to lift themselves from the morass of depression conditions. You turned to a leadership with a sympathetic understanding of and attitude toward your problems.

"You wanted an opportunity to sell your farm produce at a decent price; to operate your factories profitably; to invest and save your money with security; to save your homes; to send your children to school; and to work for a decent living. With local and state governments unable to give further aid, you had only one place to turn. You looked to the Federal government for assistance and guidance. That was your right and only hope. Any government which would not heed that S.O.S. call would not have been worthy of its beginning and heritage.

"From the low point of the depression in March, 1933, through July of this year, industrial production has increased 35%; department store sales 28%; rural retail sales 141%; factory employment 49%; and factory pay rolls 110%.

"We have achieved a sound and substantial measure of national recovery in production, distribution, transportation and consumption. The courage and faith of the American people in their institutions and in themselves have been restored. In view of the Republican campaign contentions, each voter should ask himself this question: 'Shall we trade the methods and principles that we know by irrefutable proof have made this recovery possible for vague, indefinite generalizations that fail to come to grips with our basic national problems?'

"Because of the large part necessary for the Federal government to take in this recovery movement through assistance to farmers, home owners, banks, business and the unemployed, it was to be expected that governmental expenditures would mount. In March, 1933, the immediate and inescapable responsibility was to save our material and human resources and to make our national economy solvent. That we have done. The loans and expenditures of the Federal government since March, 1933, have been made in America and for the welfare of the American people. The money has not gone to other countries, never to return.

"In the last three years of the previous Republican Administration there was an accumulated national deficit of more than seven billion dollars, while our national income decreased by more than forty billions. From 1933 to 1936 the accumulated national deficit, excluding the bonus, was approximately ten and one-half billions. But our national income increased thirteen and one-half billions, along with measurable recovery results which make possible a still further cumulative increase in national income. Through spending for conservation, a significant return of national earning power has been made possible.

"Critics of the Roosevelt Administration contend that they would stop unemployment expenditures while continuing to care for the needy. How such a miraculous result could be accomplished they have not taken the pains to describe! Let them tell specifically how they propose to do this!

"Recently President Roosevelt announced that an allotment had been made to the United States Employment Service to aid and cooperate with private industry in taking people from work relief projects and placing them in private industry. Here is another opportunity for local cooperation in working out this fundamental problem.

"I favor an extensive and well-engineered home-building program. Through a stimulation of this industry we will not only create a need for greater employment and more materials, but we will provide a safeguard for our democratic institutions. The bulwark against the destruction of America is found in our homes and home life. The importance of this cannot be overestimated. We must study proper ways of returning people to farm homes and to the soil. A lesson taught by the drought is that we should work with nature and not against it. To this end I believe that we should plan for a nation-wide system of warehousing and storage as a part of a public works program. This would be generally accepted as worth while employment for the unemployed and would provide storage or surplus of such basic necessities as corn, wheat, cotton, oil, etc. This would not only stimulate employment, but would safeguard a normal supply of our basic commodities. It would conserve our natural and human resources."

Surpassing the romantic heights they reached in "Broadway Bill" and "Penthouse," WARNER BAXTER and MYRNA LOY are again co-starred in the new Twentieth Century-Fox production, "To Mary—With Love."

"To Mary—With Love" Strikes Deep And Sure at Love Today; Showing Sept 23-24th

A story that strikes deep and sure at love today, comes next Wednesday and Thursday, September 23-24th to the Pastime Theatre, in the Twentieth Century-Fox picturization of Richard Sherman's sensationally successful novel of modern romance, "To Mary—With Love."

Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy, together for the third time cinematically, are co-starred and their performances opposite each other are said to surpass the heights they reached in "Broadway Bill" and "Penthouse."

Ian Hunter, as Myrna's childhood sweetheart who still loves her, and Claire Trevor, as the good-time girl who almost disrupts the romance, are featured in the cast which also includes Jean Dixon.

A love-letter romance, "To Mary—With Love," opens with the marriage of Baxter and Miss Loy. Best man is Ian Hunter who hides his regret with a grin, at seeing Myrna's happiness in Baxter's arms. Making love lightly, yet loving deeply, they move through their honeymoon and then return to New York where Baxter plunges into the stock market, intent on accumulating a fortune.

So occupied is he that Myrna takes a summer trip to Maine alone. Returning home, earlier than expected, she finds that Baxter hasn't been so lonesome as supposed but, instead, has been entertaining Claire Trevor.

This is the first flaw in their happiness and, although they patch it up, the scars still linger. Baxter returns to his manipulations in finance and, as the market rises, becomes wealthy.

Money doesn't bring happiness to the pair, however, for Myrna finds too much time on her hands and becomes intimate with a group of parasites and questionable friends.

Just as it appears that their marriage must break up, the market crashes and Myrna finds that her husband needs her more than ever.

From their penthouse they go to live in a shabby suburban bungalow.

low. Baxter is unable to comprehend what has happened and Myrna is unable to convince him that he should get a job—any kind of a job.

Hiding their hurts and holding back their tears, Myrna and Baxter rise gallantly and splendidly from their misfortune and find a new and greater love to reward them.

Old Age Assistance Plan May Be Changed

Austin, Texas, Sept. 17.—A bill creating a State Board of Public Welfare which would absorb the Old Age Assistance Commission, the Texas Relief Commission and the Division of Child Welfare of the Board of Control, will be studied by the Texas Planning Board in Austin on Friday, Sept. 18. The bill and the recommendations of the Board then will be forwarded to Gov. James V. Allred. The bill, drafted by the Planning Board's government and social aspects committee, provides for a board of nine members, appointed by the Governor, to administer old age assistance, aid to dependent children, assistance to the needy blind; general home or family relief; supervise all child welfare services; cooperate with the Federal Social Security Board, and fix the fees to be paid to ophthalmologists and eye specialists for the examination of applicants for assistance as needy blind persons. To facilitate the work of the Welfare Board, the bill provides for the creation in counties, or in districts, which may include two or more counties, local units of administration to serve as agents of the State Board. These county or district boards in turn would be served by local advisory units. The county or district boards would be named from lists of representative citizens furnished to the State Board by the commissioners courts. The State Board of Public Welfare also would have the power to supervise and license all private institutions, boarding homes and agencies providing assistance, care or other direct services to dependent, neglected or delinquent children, the aged, blind, feeble minded and otherwise dependent persons. equipment. We have some splendid carpenters in our school if you don't believe me come over and we'll show you!

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION

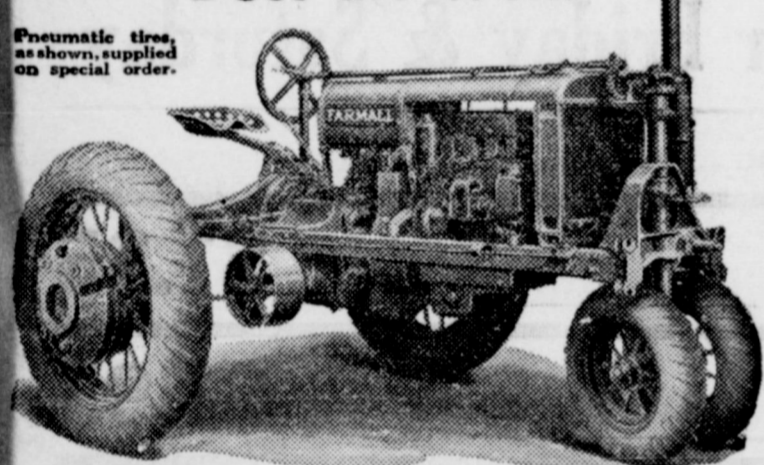

"Spontaneous combustion" was the way Charles Dickens described the death of the wizened old "Lord Chancellor" in Bleak House, as he got drunk, fell asleep and burned to a crisp before the fire one night. Even though Dickens offered proof of similar tragedies in the old archives, it seems that no one has ever witnessed one. Now, Dr. John Rathbone Oliver of Johns Hopkins University offers a most amusing suggestion in this post-repeal era, that if drinkers "avoid open fires and sitting on radiators, they shall not, in all probability combust spontaneously." Mrs. H. E. Westmoreland and children of St. Louis have returned home after spending the summer here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom F. Connally.

Farming Is Much Easier and Cheaper When a Farmall Does the Work

McCormick-Deering
SPEED and flexibility are brought to the row-crop farm by the Farmall Tractor. It is so far ahead of horses when it comes to planting, cultivating, and doing other row-crop and general farming work that there is no comparison. And most important of all, Farmall farming means lower-cost farming. Until you own and operate a Farmall you cannot appreciate the benefits and advantages of it. But just ask any Farmall owner about it. He is the man who is enthusiastic about the Farmall. He knows. He has farmed with horses and with the Farmall and you can bet that he isn't going back to horses. If you want a real demonstration of the Farmall, call us up and we will arrange one for you. We'll show you how much easier it is to farm with a Farmall and why you cannot afford to be without one. There are three sizes—to fit the needs of any farm.

MASKED MARVEL SEES CLARENDON

Spends Portion of Saturday Here Buying a Car From Palmer Motor Company

The "Masked Marvel," famous wrestler known in every section of the globe of sports, and who has won his last 254 matches in wrestling in several different countries, came down from Amarillo Saturday to see Clarendon.

His chief object was to take back with him a V-8 car purchased from the Palmer Motor Company, the car having been sold to him by Doss Palmer while attending the match in Amarillo Thursday night.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Cal Farley and daughter Jean. The famous wrestler uses no name, but instead wears a mask head covering made of a fine grade of silk fabric similar to airplane sail cloth. It is so strong that no opponent in a match has ever been able to tear it off his head, though it is tried in every match.

The "Mask," as he is called, until three years ago, resided in Australia. His headquarters is maintained for the present in Johannesburg, South Africa. Mr. Palmer feels a keen delight in the fact that he sold a customer residing thousands of miles from his base of operations.

The "Mask" will wrestle Danno McShain in Amarillo tonight, after which he will take on a few of the best in old Mexico and then sail for home as the summer season is just opening in his homeland.

While here Saturday, he visited the Leader office and mixed with the crowds. He is a very affable man, and a strong exponent of right living when a plan is involved that means health and strength.

Group singing, and musical numbers that were popular in the old days will be on the program. Roll call by dates will be an interesting feature.

Each year the program is dedicated to some group, industry, or individual. The newspaper fraternity will be in the spotlight this year.

Mrs. Marvin McCullough will be in charge of registration, and Mrs. Lillian Steele will record the proceedings. A complete record is made for the files of the Old Settlers' Association, and a copy is placed in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum at Canyon.

The officers this year are: W. H. Fuqua of Amarillo, first vice president; Delea Vickers of Pampa, first vice president; Joe Rorex of Panhandle, second vice president; Landon Doak of Claude, third vice president; Mrs. Mary E. Snider of Amarillo, fourth vice president; Floyd V. Studer of Amarillo, secretary and treasurer. With the exception of secretary, new officers are elected each year.

PIONEER DAY AT TRI-STATE FAIR

Fifteenth Annual Reunion Of Those Living Here 25 or More Years

On Wednesday, September 23, more than 2,000 members of the Panhandle Old Settlers' Association will gather on the grounds of the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. The program will begin promptly at 10 a. m.

W. H. Fuqua, pioneer cattleman and banker who is president of the Association, will deliver the president's address and have charge of the program.

J. C. Estlack, publisher of the Donley County Leader and president of the Panhandle Press Association, will deliver the principal address at the president's request. His subject will be, "Early Newspapers of the Panhandle." Estlack resided in Tascosa in 1883, and later became a rider of the range with such celebrities as Will Rogers. His knowledge of the Panhandle over this period of 53 years will enter into his address.

Group singing, and musical numbers that were popular in the old days will be on the program. Roll call by dates will be an interesting feature.

Each year the program is dedicated to some group, industry, or individual. The newspaper fraternity will be in the spotlight this year.

Mrs. Marvin McCullough will be in charge of registration, and Mrs. Lillian Steele will record the proceedings. A complete record is made for the files of the Old Settlers' Association, and a copy is placed in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum at Canyon.

The officers this year are: W. H. Fuqua of Amarillo, first vice president; Delea Vickers of Pampa, first vice president; Joe Rorex of Panhandle, second vice president; Landon Doak of Claude, third vice president; Mrs. Mary E. Snider of Amarillo, fourth vice president; Floyd V. Studer of Amarillo, secretary and treasurer. With the exception of secretary, new officers are elected each year.
