CLASS ROOMS IN DORMITORY BUILDING WILL BE VALUABLE MUNICIPAL ASSET

WPA Project Authorized to Spend $9,000 For Labor in Making Alterations in Old College Dormitory Building. Materials Furnished Principally by Government

Work was begun on the high school WPA project in April. Some forty people were given employment at that time. Nine thousand dollars was allotted for payment of labor. Since then, materials have been supplied under the WPA. At present, it is said that $350 would cover the cost of the work so far as the school funds are affected, and this amount has been spent for materials.

Athletic Field Improved.

Attention was given the leveling of the school grounds to the east and north of the old dormitory building. Six tennis courts have been provided, four of which have been given a caliche coating.

The football field was leveled leaving a rise of eight inches in the center of the field to admit of drainage. Cement foundations have recently been made for ten rows of seats, each 150 feet in length facing the field from the south on the hillside, forming a natural amphitheatre. This part of the work will be completed in time for the Thanksgiving game, it is said.

Class Room Construction.

While the force of workmen had been cut to about 18 men by the time work was begun on remodeling the old dormitory building, steady progress has been made. Mr. Keith Stegall, WPA superintendent, stated Wednesday that he expected to see this building ready for occupancy not later than January 1st, perhaps before then. This work has been in progress since June.

Plans were drawn by O. W. Latson, local contractor, and Keith Stegall continues as superintendent of WPA construction. Jack Berry is time keeper.

The first floor plans call for large rooms each for manual training and vocational agriculture, furnace room, athletic dressing room, and supply room. Three rooms on this floor are being prepared for the janitor's living quarters, and for keeping his supplies.

Museum Has Quarters.

On the ground floor is being prepared a room 28x38 feet to accommodate the collection of the Donley County Museum. Present quarters in the administration building are already inadequate due to the ready response on the part of the public to supply museum exhibits. The school board has been highly commended for civic pride and an understanding of the educational value of this exhibit to pupils of the county as well as the elders.

JA Ranch Buys Pedigreed Bulls This Week

As a means of securing the best stock for breeding up the thoroughbred herd of white faces on the ranch, two prize-winning bulls were purchased recently of Amarillo breeders.

One bull comes from the herd of Julian Bivins, and the other from D. L. McDonald.

GEORGE W. BURAL TAKEN BY DEATH

Former Jericho Merchant Dies in Amarillo Saturday

Death came to Mr. Bural, aged 76, at his home at 116 Bonita street in Amarillo about 10 a. m. Saturday. He had resided there for some two years.

Some years ago he conducted a mercantile business at Jericho for several years, and later was engaged in business at Groom just prior to going to Amarillo.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two sons and four daughters. The sons are Herb Bural of Seagraves and Bert L. Bural of Groom.

The daughters are Mrs. C. D. Gilper of Oklahoma City; Mrs. C. L. Spangler and Misses Alice and Esther Bural of Amarillo.

Second Floor Arrangement.

Commodious class rooms in number are being provided on the second floor. Two of the rooms measure 24x33 feet each, two more are 23x25 feet each, two others are 23x26 feet each. On the same floor is the hospital ward room, a storage room, and the office room of the superintendent of schools.

Domestic Science Department.

Six large rooms are required to meet the requirements of this modern equipped department that will be supplied with every modern convenience for proper instruction in domestic science and domestic art. Rooms each are being arranged for class instruction in each. Then there is the laundry room, drying room each to be modern in its appointments. A dining room and a guest room call for two more spacious "practice" rooms for pupil instruction. It will be a real joy to become a student in the domestic science or domestic art departments. Why not take a course in each? Many of them do these days.

Third Floor Plans.

High above the din of the street on the third floor will be the largest study hall of all. It measures 40x68 feet. Then there will be the library room, library stack room and three smaller class rooms on this floor. The mimeograph department will be on this floor in a room set apart for that work.

Lights, Heat, Safety.

Special attention is being given to the health, comfort and safety of the student body. Wide corridors and plenty of light through large windows make for pleasant study surroundings. All departments will have an extra flood of natural light, no skimping on this score. Rest rooms, shower baths and other conveniences abound making for a contented student body. Steam heat is most healthful, those in authority state, and steam heat it will be when cold days make one appreciate indoors.

Valuable School Asset.

Many, many small items of interest could be enumerated here, but one would have to see this school plant unit to properly appreciate the valuable school asset. It means volumes to the school interests of this section. It is a credit to the forethought of the school board. The workmen are doing a good job of it. No doubt hundreds will visit this building on "opening day" in the near future.

Flying Dutchman Circus To Help Hedley School

While in town Saturday, S. G. Adamson announced that Cal Farley's Flying Dutchman Circus would be in Hedley Friday night, October 23 to stage one of their celebrated performances.

The purpose of this circus affair is to raise money to help pay for the Hedley school buses.

The show put on by the Cal Farley crew at Lelia Lake a few weeks ago, was said to be a "humdinger," whatever that is, and the Lelia folks are going to Hedley to see them again. It must be a good circus from what the folks say, Mr. Adamson stated.

Hatchery Changes To Electric Heat

Complete Change Will Be Made Before Hatching Season Opens

More than two thousand dollars in electric heating equipment has been received by the Clarendon Hatchery to be installed by a factory expert within a few days.

The big incubators have been heated with steam in the past. The electric system insures an automatic heating that will mean a better hatch of stronger chicks.

The entire inside equipment of the two big incubators will be taken out and displaced with the latest and most scientific electric system known to the hatchery world.

Flocks have been culled and other arrangements made for the hatching season that will begin about the first of the year. The past season was the best since 1929, it is said by the local management, and the 1937 season is easily expected to eclipse anything since the hatchery was installed here.

Quality chicks has made the demand reach into several states. Mail and express shipments from here easily doubles the local demand. At the height of the hatching season, 104,000 chicks are hatched at a time.

Mr. Frank White, local manager, and Mr. Lee Mears, operator of the machines since the hatchery was installed, are to be congratulated upon this forward step in bringing to our people this asset.

Bronchos To Play At Mobeetie Friday Afternoon, Oct. 23

In this coming Friday's encounter the Clarendon Bronchos will meet the Mobeetie Hornets at Mobeetie Friday afternoon. The Bronchos are expected to meet stiff opposition, for Mobeetie probably has the strongest team ever to don the colors of Mobeetie high school. Mobeetie has lost five games so far and won one game. Clarendon has won one, lost one and tied three games so far.

The Bronchos are all in good shape and are ready to make an attempt at another conference victory. Butler, who received a knee injury in the game with Lefors last week will be back in the starting line-up this week.

The Bronchos are gradually gaining strength, and all have hopes of winning the remaining games of the season. Make the trips with the Bronchos and show them that you are still behind them.

AMON G. CARTER

Publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Three years ago, Mr. Carter and Will Rogers each paid $1,000 for round trip tickets over the proposed passenger plane route from Alameda, California to Manila, P. I. They wanted to make sure of being among the first to make the first round trip.

Amon G. Carter was one of eight men to make the trip the past week on the Philippine Clipper. "If anything should happen to either of us," Will Rogers said, "the other will go right on and make the trip."

"It might have been a premonition," Mr. Carter said in discussing the matter with the Leader editor in August. Anyway, Mr. Carter is the only Texas man aboard, and he's thinking of Will a whole lot of the time as they fly over great wastes of water, wishing that Will Rogers was along.

Donley County Fossil Strata Yields Fine Specimen

Professor C. Stuart Johnston, head of the department of Archaeology and Paleontology of the West Texas State Teachers College, has recently had two articles accepted by the American Midland Naturalist which is published by Notre Dame University. In making the trip to Clarendon from Harlingen, down in the Magic Valley of the Rio Grande, E. R. Andrews says he was forced to travel some 800 miles. He and Mrs. Andrews, formerly Miss Bernice Rowland, arrived Sunday to visit in the Rowland home.

Mr. Andrews states that the citrus crop will be a bumper this season, though slow in maturing because of cold rains recently. The crop will begin to move within about two weeks, he says, and is estimated at 20,000 carloads.

PIONEER BANKER DIES SATURDAY

Henry W. Taylor Resided in Donley County More Than Fifty Years

An invalid for more than two years, death came to Henry W. Taylor in his 86th year when he peacefully slept away his last moments in his home near the Methodist church where he had resided for some forty years.

Mr. Taylor came from Hannibal, Missouri to Pilot Point, Texas with his parents in his early youth. Just as he reached manhood's early stage, he came to the JA ranch near here in 1882 and was employed by Chas. Goodnight, a relative for a time. Later he was manager of the Quarter Circle Hart ranch when old Clarendon was his post-office.

He served Donley county as county commissioner at the time the courthouse was built in 1889, the keystone near the entrance bearing his name among the county officials of that time. Later he was a city commissioner of Clarendon.

In the early days, his was the leading hardware and ranch supply mercantile business in the Panhandle. This he continued for some thirty years, his sons taking over the management during the past several years.

Mr. Taylor was president of the First National Bank here for several years and chairman of the board of directors until poor health compelled his retirement.

He served Clarendon as mayor, was a leader in civic progress, a patron of old Clarendon college and noted for his philanthropies. It was said of him that "he was every man's friend."

Mr. Taylor married Miss Emily Lane at Black Springs, Texas June 14, 1877. She passed away at the family home here February 7, 1935.

Funeral services were conducted at the local Methodist church Monday afternoon at 3 p. m. Rev. G. S. Hardy, a close personal friend of thirty-eight years, paid a beautiful tribute to the life and character of the deceased. Rev. E. D. Landreth, pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. R. S. McKee, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. J. Perry King, pastor of the Baptist church, each assisted in the last rites.

The flower bearers were Mrs. Bert Boomer, Mrs. Tom Murphey, Misses Dorothy Jo, Vivian, Agatha, June and Madeline Taylor, all granddaughters, and Miss Mildred Martin, a niece.

Those attending the casket were the four sons and two sons-in-law and were C. W. J. W. W. W. F. W. Taylor and Phil Engle and W. M. Patman.

Many were the beautiful floral tributes. A significant feature of the large number present was the preponderance of elderly people, both men and women, friends of Henry Webster Taylor through the long years that he nobly did more than his part in making this section a better place for those who were to follow him.

He is survived by the following sons and daughters: Crockett W. Taylor, June W. Taylor, Walter

Henry Tomb Accepts Oil Agency 6 Towns

Native of Clarendon Had Phillips Agency Here Nine Years

The family of Henry D. Tomb will be at home in Sweetwater after this week according to a statement of Mr. Tomb who has become general distributing agent for the Phillips company with headquarters in that city.

In his new territory are included Sweetwater, Abilene, Rotan, Roby, Colorado and Hamlin. This section, he says, contains a retail population of one hundred and fifty-three thousand people.

He will have the main warehouse at Sweetwater. He has purchased six trucks to take care of the service stations handling his products.

In speaking of his new location, Mr. Tomb stated that he found it necessary to purchase a home in Sweetwater in order to find a place for his family. He states that conditions in general are on the up-go, and that the seventy-three wholesale houses of that town are busy as well as other lines.

In this issue of the Leader, Mr. Tomb is expressing his appreciation of patronage over the past nine years through the medium of advertising space. The best wishes of the many friends of the family go with them to the new home. Mr. Tomb is a native of Clarendon where he has resided thirty-nine years.

Among the number to go down for the Centennial this week are Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Knorrp, Mrs. Bill Carroll and Miss Herloise Burrell.

They expect to spend some time at the Ft. Worth Frontier Show and then see the big Centennial at Dallas.

They will also visit Mr. and Mrs. John Knorrp at Dallas. John is a law student of a Dallas school.

Rev. Hardy Speaks Sunday To Hedley Methodists

Drawing upon his experience of over a half century as a Methodist pastor, Rev. G. S. Hardy gave an interesting address Sunday at the Hedley Methodist church at the morning service.

Rev. Hardy confined his remarks to pioneer days of Methodism in which he gave an interesting account of the tests of faith frequently confronting the pioneer Christians of the Panhandle. Rev. Hardy was president of Old Clarendon college here many years ago, as well as pastor of the local church at another period.

W. Taylor, Forest W. Taylor, Mrs. Wm. Patman, Mrs. Phil Engle, and several grand-children and great-grandchildren.

As a mark of respect to one who had much to do with shaping the destiny of Clarendon and her trade territory, all business houses remained closed from 2 to 5 Monday afternoon, during the funeral hour.

BUSINESS FLUSH HERE SATURDAY

Buying is Brisk Indicating Opening of Fall Buying Season

The big crowd in town Saturday, and especially near the middle of the afternoon, indicated what might be termed a Roman holiday. Buyers from all over the trade territory indicated an interest in stocking up with winter supplies.

Grocer advertisers of the Leader questioned as to the success of the event, stated that it was one of their best days in years. Glen A. Rieger of the Rieger drygoods firm stated that it was among the very best days of his firm since entering business in Clarendon.

Money appeared to be plentiful for necessary purchases in all lines. The better grades were most in demand. Buyers of this trade territory are skilled judges of quality, and demand the best for the price asked.

The Pastime and Cozy moving picture shows were well patronized, hundreds waiting over for the night shows.

Merchants report many old accounts being paid at this time which is another indication that our citizens are getting back to a firmer footing.

With the open weather of the past two weeks, crops in general have shown a decided improvement. Cotton is producing better than the first estimates. Feed crop conditions are said to be such as would assure plenty to supply Donley county demands until another harvest is made. Farmers report headed stuff filling out nicely. A large percent of roughage is in the bundle, or in trench silos, of which this county has more than forty already filled.

Fish Are Distributed In Three Lakes Monday

Minnows from the state hatchery at Dundee were received by county agent H. M. Breedlove Monday. There were eighteen cans in the lot.

Minnows were placed in Taylor lake near Lelia, a portion at the Word ranch, and at the Country Club lake west of Goldston. The varieties were bass, channel cat, bream and crappie.

Judge Davis Says Drunks Are Fewer Since Repeal

"I think the boys are perhaps drinking a little bit more now, but for some reason they do not get drunk," Judge W. A. Davis stated Tuesday in discussing the character of penal ills haled before his tribunal.

Before repeal, Judge Davis stated he would have from eight to ten drunks before him each month. Now he barely averages one a month.

Sam Darden Returns After Attending School

For the past several months, Sam Darden has been a student in a Chicago electrical school. Having completed several courses, he returned to Clarendon the last of the week.

He has been offered employment by an electrical firm in Amarillo, and will likely accept, according to his statement Tuesday.

The criminal cases originating from grandjury indictments this term are docketed for next Monday. The Liesburg case is also scheduled for next Monday.

The grandjury will be in session again next week, it is stated.

"TRAFFIC IN HUMAN FLESH."

"The old slave trade, with its cruelty, debauchery and death was no worse morally and economically than the modern traffic in human flesh, popularly known as the pardon racket. It has been practiced in Georgia. It is being practiced in many states of this Union.

Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal G-men, declares "America's No. One Enemy is Crooked Politics." Millions of dollars are spent to apprehend and convict criminals to protect life and property. Crooked governors and parole boards line their pockets with millions taken from criminals to loose them again on the community.

A poor, ignorant devil, moneyless and friendless, must serve his sentence, in chains and stripes. The smart crook—gambler, swindler, bootlegger, racketeer or murderer—buys his freedom with his illegally gotten gains.

Even before he goes to trial, bondsmen, lawyers, and fixers have their plans laid. He takes the rap. Soon his henchmen move. Money changes hands. The governor issues a pardon or parole. Again he is free to take up where he left off. Again the public is at the mercy of a consciousnessless wretch.

To say that this thing hasn't gone on in Georgia in the past is to expose one's ignorance, credulity or veracity."

The above editorial appeared in the esteemed Tri-County News of Americus, Georgia last week. It depicts conditions as they might be in Texas sometime unless the pardoning power is taken out of the hands of the governor.

Governor Allred started this movement. He asks that you vote for Amendment No. 4 November 3rd. Governor Allred knows what he is talking about. He is humane. He needs your help and is asking for it through personal letter and the press.

After all is said and done, Georgia would be mighty proud to have Governor James V. Allred any old time Texas sees fit to lend him to those good citizens who are trying to escape the hoodlum racket in a lot of things as well as pardons.

The Governor's appeal to Donley county voters appeared on page seven of the Leader last week.

ONCE SAVAGE APACHES NOW BECOMING 'SISSIES' MISSIONARY DECLARES

Globe, Ariz.—The once savage and murderous Apache Indians are becoming "sissies" thru following the white men's ways.

The Rev. Francis M. Uplegger, veteran missionary of the San Carlos reservation, told members of the Gila county archeological society this week that easy living has softened the tribesmen and no longer are the men noted for their primitive muscularity.

"In primitive times," he said "the Apache was a hunter who lived out in the open and did strenuous exercises in his hunts for game. Now he eats starchy foods from the store instead of the game he captured or killed, and his condition reflects his mode of living."

The Apache art of basket weaving and fashioning beautiful bead works cast yearning eyes on pale-face feminine fashions and some have even come under the spell of permanent waves.

The Indians are inclined to imitate white men in all their games and customs the missionary said.

NEWSPAPER ADS CHEVROLET ALLY

Newspaper Advertising To Continue in Chevrolet Sales Records

Chevrolet's achievement of all-time sales records in 1936, under a policy which made newspapers the front line of the company's advertising offensive, has dictated continuance of that policy in 1937, and especially in the announcement of the forthcoming new models. This statement by C. P. Fiskien, advertising manager, was a feature of an all-day party which Chevrolet held for 300 newspapermen this week.

"The 1937 models are the finest Chevrolet has ever built," said Mr. Fiskien. "And the advertising behind them measures up to the product itself. Last year and for several years back, we have relied primarily upon newspaper space to get our message across to the public. In light of the amazing sales achievements of 1936, it is hardly necessary to justify to you our intention of adhering to that policy this year. The newspaper will be the foundation of our advertising efforts."

THREE LONG YEARS

(By Hon. Jack Huston) Congressman, 5th Kansas Dist. With Apologies to Nobody

Republicans for three long years Have shed their coats and skins and tears To tell their comrades how they feel Regarding Roosevelt's New Deal.

For three long years they've played for votes But never mentioned nine-cent oats. They say this New Deal stuff is rotten But never speak of four-cent cotton.

For three long years they've wept aloud And cursed this money-spending crowd! They say, of liberty we're shorn— But not a breath of ten-cent corn.

For three long years they've yelled and raved; The constitution must be saved! But with their purring, prats and Prattle, They sing no song of two-cent cattle.

For three long years they've been at sea And now they come to you and me And offer us—as bait for votes— More two-cent steers and nine-cent oats.

For three long years they've yelled and wailed And tell us how the New Deal's failed. They tell us how we're going to spoil But never mention ten-cent oil.

For three long years they fume and fret And hammer and slander our New Deal set. They tell us all Roosevelt's a cheat But forget to talk of two-bit wheat.

They offer, as in days of old 'A crown of Thorns, A Cross of Gold!' 'A balanced budget'—can you beat it? Well, one thing's sure, you cannot eat it.

The "bead" test in hard liquor was the old test. It is being revived again since soap is cheap. Soap in whiskey will make "some" bead. Ask your favorite bootlegger.

"Can a cow kick backward?" The question is being asked since it concerns some very talented brain trusters. Some fellows have had a cow leg walloped around the neck, jerked down and scrambled out from under only to see a cow's foot sticking in a milk bucket. As for kicking straight back like a mule, some one doing modern-day milking will have to testify. Cows are said to have changed along with a lot of other things.

Some years ago the houses in this town were numbered at a small cost to each home owner. But the streets were not designated by any signs of any kind. The writer has a faint recollection of living on a street named after an Irishman. Whether he won in a liquor drinking contest, or whipped the foreman of a railroad gang, the town plat fails to record. Numbering the houses and saying nothing about the names of the streets is quite a joke when you come to think about it.

Inventor Jim Heckman, after making a "survey" for a dignified organization employing a secretary and having five vice presidents, has come to the conclusion that horn honking gets service. From his celebrated laboratory this week comes a honking cane. With this cane, one may stand on the curb and get service brought to him. If he goes inside, he has to wait while horn honkers get the service at the car. The cane is expected to be a great help in getting all kinds of dry goods, groceries and what-not delivered at the curb simply by honking. The inventor is expecting a granite marker to be placed at the laboratory where the honking cane first saw birth.

Fall poems are missing since the borers got the corn and the punkin is a swiveled affair. What would Riley do in a case of this kind? Besides, we don't need the frost for some time yet.

A German scientist announces that sawdust will be served on the table within a few years, meaning of course that the sawdust will be made to taste like something good and palatable. He's way behind on this breakfast cereal of goober hulls, sawdust, horse-hide glue that has been sold for years. Next time you open a fresh package, smell of it by sticking your bezer down in the package. Smell glue? well, you can on a lot of it.

A. H. Baker says that a green-back is the best thing to use in wiping spectacles because it leaves no ravelings or lint on the lens. This probably accounts for the many clouded lens we all are using.

When you get to the point that the public pretends to worry about your physical or moral state, they just got around to thinking you have some lucky holdings in an oil field.

In the old days, a man took a woman by the arm because she was crippled, or the walking slipper. Now it is just because they are "nuts" about each other.

If you are not satisfied with your winter hat, Sister, pump up and down on it a few times, stick a rooster feather on one side and be surprised how many other women will envy you that new sky-piece.

In order to have lived a full life, one must have a long reach from the low notes to the high—sacred and profane.

A nice old lady asked her granddaughter to do her a special favor by never speaking two words in her presence. "One word is swell and the other is lousy," said Granny. "Sure I'll cut 'em out, Granny, but what are the words?"

"Some people can stay longer in an hour than other can in a week." At least that's what Blue Bug Bessie had to offer as comment on a few of her friends.

When a woman is all tired out and run down, the doctor asks to see her tongue the first thing. This is not a joke, it's a fact.

Down at Fort Lavaca, a couple did not get pensions this month for the reason that they were vacationing in Bermuda.

What in the Sam Hill!! Meaning of course not Sam Hill over on the Cap Rock, but Rev. Sam B. Hill of Beeville, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and whose sermons are sent to the pool hall each Sunday by way of a loud speaker system. And this at the request of the pool hall crowd who learned to enjoy the sermons of Rev. Hill coming over a San Antonio broadcast station the past summer while the Rev. Hill was supplying for his father in the Alamo town. This is just another of those queer quirks. Pool halls are said to be no asset to a town. In fact they are said to be almost as much of a nuisance as a domino parlor, if it is a parlor.

Over in the Francis community near Silverton lives Mr. Karo. Possibly he did not have to eat much karo syrup during the late war as some of the rest of us or he would rebel at his name. Next, is the oldest child named "Gooley"? There might be a good story there. Mr. Hahn, of the Briscoe County News.

Speaking over a national hook-up Saturday night from his home at Uvalde following a hard day at picking up pecans, vice president Garner came out flat-footedly for President Roosevelt. This is said to be his first talk, and will likely settle the matter of the election. The republicans are said to have been claiming him along with everything else that wasn't saying anything.

From the way the average woman falls for brass buttons, it looks like Mister Simpson has met his Waterloo over in England with the king as a competitor. That is probably why he is asking for a divorce, just 'cause his wife is guessting around with the king. He gets off lucky even at that. There was a time when a fellow was put to death when the king wanted something that another man held ownership to and it wasn't always a woman.

Some one sent this in:
 A big business man was cruising along at 60 miles per hour when there was an awful roar and a little baby car came alongside. The big business man snorted and put his foot down on the accelerator. He increased his speed from 60 to 70, 75, 80 and 90—still the little fellow kept alongside. Suddenly the little fellow put his window down and shouted: "Hey, do you know anything about these cars?"
 The big fellow said: "Yes, I make them!"
 "Then," said the little fellow, "can you tell me how to get out of second gear?"

"How do you tell good poetry?" inquires an Amarillo lady who has sent the Leader bundles of her writings. About all that can be said in rebuttal is that if she will go to any one of the parks in her town, and read one of her products of 27 to 34 stanzas as loud as she can scream, and nothing is done about it, blamed if we don't try printing it. WARNING: Please bear in mind that you may be prosecuted for most anything except murder.

Reading from a Sob Sister Column: "Men are as transparent as

In summing up the political situation, Haston Yazzie says the other bunch may not keep up the 64 1/2 million dollar weekly relief output, and if payments stop, we'll have another depression.

Vermiculite, a strange mineral which floats on water after heat treatment, has been found in Texas by The Texas Planning Board's mineral resources committee and efforts now are being made to interest industry to use it for inclusion on ice boxes and hot water heaters. In the raw state vermiculite looks like mica. It is heat resistant.

Five new members have been added to the Texas Planning Board's mineral resources committee. They are Rep. Alfred Petsch, of Fredericksburg, Rep. Howard C. Davison, of Rotan, Dr. E. P. "Mary of Scotland" Glamour Woman of History, Portrayed

A queen whose destiny was written before she was born—and whose foreordained tragedy established her as one of the most glamorous women of all time—is portrayed by Katharine Hepburn in the title role of RKO Radio's "Mary of Scotland" which co-stars Fredric March, as the Earl of Bothwell.

The treachery, the murders, the political maneuvering to control her marriages, the whispered slander branding her an immoral murderer that helped blast her from her throne, and all the dramatic incidents traced in the film were made inevitable because two blood relatives were born with the taint of illegitimacy—Elizabeth of England, her cousin, and James Stuart, Earl of Moray, her half brother.

The lovely Scotswoman was a constant threat to Elizabeth. She held a hereditary claim to the English crown, and many powers within and without England were eager to give Mary her cousin's throne. Hence she became the target for Elizabeth's plotting, pawn in the cleverest intrigue of the age. Because the illegitimate Moray could never become king, but only satisfy his lust for power by becoming regent, Mary was met with murder, slander, and intrigue under her own roof, to the end that she might be driven out or subjected to his will.

The machinations of these two implacable opponents who finally allied themselves against the hapless beauty are concentrated in the screen play much as they were by Maxwell Anderson in his stage hit from which it was taken. Colorful romance is drawn from Mary Stuart's reckless love for Bothwell which finally gave her enemies the chance to dethrone her.

Florence Eldridge plays Elizabeth. Ian Keith plays Moray, and John Carradine, Rizzio, in the huge supporting cast of forty principals.

Mrs. M. E. Richardson of Ringling, Oklahoma was here Tuesday in the interests of the orphanage at that place.

Farm News

C. C. Gilbert of Hartley county has dug a 300-ton trench silo in order, as he says, to make the most of what feed he has—preventing leaching and keeping it in good shape so the stock will eat all of it. The silo is 150 feet long, 17 feet wide and 9 feet deep.

The Weatherford brothers of Hutchinson county planted 19 acres of sudan grass with a lister. Rain came shortly after it was planted and the furrows filled up. Being on the contour of the land they held the water on the land until it soaked in and they have had good pasture for 47 head of cattle all summer, while the grass pastures were dried up.

Recent tests on contour-listed land of the E. M. Dowd farm in Dallam county show his soil holds moisture to a depth of over four feet. This land was contour listed under the 20-cent emergency program, and wide-row planted to qualify under the new agricultural conservation program. Both programs are under the Texas Extension Service administration.

Donley county has at the present time over 30 trench silos. More silos are being dug and it is hard to estimate the number that the county will total this year, but it is thought that it will reach at least forty.

"One rain did the job," said C. R. Stanley, a Moore county farmer, in speaking of his extra good milo crop. Continuing, Mr. Stanley explained that he had his land in excellent shape and seeded it with a lister planter on the contour. He received a three-inch rain and since the lister furrows were made on the contour there was no run-off.

Although Texas has the largest sheep and wool industry in the United States none of the Texas wool is consumed by Texas manufacturers and practically the entire output is shipped to New England in the raw state with Texas paying $750,000 annually in freight rates on grease and dirt in sending its wool to market, according to a survey of the wool scouring industry which is being made by the Texas Planning Board.

ANCIENT CITY UNEARTHED ON FARM IN LOGAN COUNTY; MAY BECOME PARK

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 14.—When John Maffenbeier, wealthy Newark, N. J., ink manufacturer, bought 170 acres of land in Logan county, Ky., to save a group of eighty prehistoric mounds from being plowed down by farmers, little did he realize that he was also buying the remains of an ancient city in the adjacent cow pasture.

Mr. Maffenbeier, long a collector of ancient stone age relics, was informed by friends that a remarkable group of ancient mounds existed near Lewisburg, Logan county, and were being plowed down by farmers. He immediately became interested, and finally purchased the farm, outright, in order to preserve the mounds for posterity.

Having bought the mounds early this year, the summer was spent in clearing brush and building road so as to permit access by automobile.

The main group of mounds was cleared, and several excavated, leaving the remains as they were found, and erecting a shelter over each to protect it from the weather. During this time little or no thought was given the adjacent cow pasture which was covered with hay and small shrubs.

When the hay was removed a peculiar shaped mound near the corner of the pasture attracted considerable attention. Investigation revealed this was a rock temple, almost square in shape, with four ramps leading to the top, one from each of its four sides. In the center was a funnel shaped depression at the bottom of which was found an altar of clay, and two large pottery bowls, one inside the other, where sacrificial offerings had apparently been thrown.

To the north of this temple was found many oblong and circular rings of post holes where prehistoric structures had been, and the clay floors of the buildings were easily detected. Shelters are also being erected to protect these exhibits from the elements.

From the discoveries made this summer, it is estimated that this ancient city flourished hundreds of years ago, and that the population consisted of several thousand people. Mute evidence that the city was inhabited for several centuries is clearly exhibited to the visitor by the six different types of burials so far discovered. The different types consist of crematories, ossuaries, rock graves, bundle, extended and flexed burials, each type of burial representing a different culture of prehistoric inhabitants.

Much interest has been expressed by archaeologists visiting as the work progresses, as to the many different modes of burial, and as to the contents of the largest mound which is to be opened soon. A museum has been erected over the great temple mound, and now houses many fine archaeological specimens taken from this ancient tumuli.

Mr. Maffenbeier has expressed his desire that "Lost City," which he calls the site, be taken over by the state or federal government, and preserved as a national park.

Although there are 230 kinds of fishes in Texas waters, Texas has failed to appreciate the opportunities for a great fishing industry, according to data compiled by the Texas Planning Board which also shows that the Texas oyster catch declined from 114,729 barrels in 1910 to 48,704 barrels in 1930.

Why shield them from every danger except EYESTRAIN?

Isn't their sight worth enough to make you find out what your lighting may be doing to it?

- You bundle up your children against cold and rain. You see that they are tucked snugly in bed at night. You are constantly on guard lest they be harmed in some way. You try to shield them from every danger . . . but are you sure about eyestrain?

Sight is their most precious possession. Yet do you let them read and play on the floor where the light is never adequate for even simple visual work? Can you say for sure whether the lighting in your home is letting your children's eyes develop normally? Do you know that your child has enough light for his studying tasks?

Don't guess—be sure. There has been too much guessing about proper lighting. And mainly because of improper lighting, one child in every five has defective vision by the time he finishes grade school. The ratio increases to two out of five by the time they reach college age.

The I.E.S. Indirect Floor and Student Lamp is a simple, economical way to be sure that your child is studying under proper lighting conditions. What is more, the entire family can enjoy and will appreciate this modern, better light. See these lamps on display . . . today!

Wide opening at top throws light to ceiling, eliminates shadows.

Glass bowl softens light, prevents glare.

Wide shade spreads light over wide area.
