PLANS COMPLETE FOR COUNTY STOCK SHOW

Premium List Totals Almost $150 As Firms Subscribe to Second Annual Exhibit

Plans were completed this week and F.F.A. and 4-H Club boys will exhibit prize winning calves and pigs in the largest show ever to be held here when the second annual Donley County Fat Stock Show gets underway Saturday, March 6th, at the Harry Blair Mule Barn. Approximately $150 had been donated, toward premiums, by Monday, County Agent H. M. Breedlove said, and 26 graded steers and a number of high blooded pigs will be shown during the day starting at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

A street parade, led by the Clarendon High School band and patrols of Boy Scouts, around 3:30 will climax the program when each boy will lead his entry. Immediately after the parade most of the stock will be entrucked for Amarillo where they will enter the Amarillo Fat Stock Show.

H. M. Breedlove, director of the exhibit, asserted that entries were in excellent condition and that in his opinion Donley County's grand champion would place near the top at Amarillo.

At a meeting of the premium committee, Tuesday afternoon, composed of R. W. Moore, C. T. McMurtry, Clyde Gilbert, J. M. Hill (director of the F.F.A.) and Breedlove, the following prizes were listed:

Juniors (under 900 pounds)
First, $10; second, $9; third, $8; fourth, $7; fifth, $6; sixth, $5; seventh, $4; all others $2.

Seniors (over 900 pounds)
First, $10; second, $7; third, $2.

Swine Division
Fat Barrow, first $4; second, $3.

Gilts: first, $4; second, $3; third, $2.

Sows: first, $4; second, $3; third, $2.

Boars: first, $4; second, $3; third, $2.

Other pigs at $1 each.

The prize for the Grand Champion will be a $17.50 pair of shop-made boots.

George Watson Has Another Operation

Clarendon Lad Under Care Same Surgeons During Period of 12 Years

"Operated on Tuesday morning. Doing fine." That was the text of the telegram received by O. C. Watson from Mrs. Watson who was in Dallas while their son was undergoing another of the numerous operations over a period of a dozen years. It was good news, and father Watson is jubilant. So are the many friends of the lad whose soldierly qualities and determination to "get well" has attracted the admiration of all who know him.

Beginning as a hopeless cripple, George had long ago progressed to the point of walking. Surgeons had employed a technique on the little body that was paralyzed from the waist down, and worked wonders through the years.

George, attended by his aunt, Mrs. Edith Maher, had been in a plaster cast for some six weeks. This operation involved the taking of a piece of bone from his leg and grafting it into his back. After some two or three weeks, he will come home and rest up again.

George, all along, has been determined that he shall overcome his handicaps. He wants to be a normal boy, and he's going to win with that fighting spirit. Much of the past twelve years has been spent in Dallas with no relatives near him. He asks no odds of anything or any one—merely a fighting chance. You just have to hand it to that lad for having shown a better grade of determination than most any one. He's one in millions to have made this progress, bearing pain with fortitude and patience that few seldom have in any stage in life.

Baptist Worker's Conference Held in Memphis Tuesday

Dr. J. Howard Williams of Amarillo was principal speaker at the Worker's Conference at Memphis beginning at 5 p. m. Tuesday. Rev. J. C. McKenzie, recently elected missionary of District 10, also made an interesting talk.

Those to attend from here were Rev. and Mrs. J. Perry King and son John Burton, Judge and Mrs. S. W. Lowe, Mrs. J. H. Headrick, Mrs. W. A. Massie, Mr. and Mrs. John Naylor, R. W. Moore and mother, Miss Jessie Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitlock.

Crop And Feed Loan Limit Set At $400

Applications Should Be Made Early to Avoid Time Loss

Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1937 are now being received at Clarendon by C. C. Powell, for the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration.

These loans will be made only to farmers who cannot obtain credit from any other source, as provided by regulations issued by the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration. The money loaned will be limited to the farmer's immediate and actual cash needs for growing his 1937 crops or for the purchase of feed for livestock and in no instance may exceed $400.

Farmers are not eligible for these loans if they can borrow from an individual, production credit association, bank, or other concern.

Emergency crop and feed loans will not be made by the Farm Credit Administration to standard rehabilitation clients of the Resettlement Administration whose current needs are provided for by Resettlement.

As in the past, the security for these loans will consist of a first lien on the crop financed if the loan is for the production of crops, and if for the purchase of feed for livestock, then a first lien on the livestock to be fed. Landlords, or others having an interest in the crops or the livestock to be fed, will be required to waive their claims in favor of the lien to the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration until the loan is repaid.

Checks in payment of the approved loans will be issued by the Regional Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at Dallas, Texas.

County Interscholastic League Dates Decided

George W. Kavanaugh, director general of the Interscholastic League here said yesterday that dates for the county meet had been set for Friday and Saturday, March 27 and 28.

These dates do not include the rural basket ball tourney or the junior soft ball event, Kavanaugh stated, adding that they would be decided later.

Other members of the executive committee include J. R. Batson, Claude Barker, L. B. Owens, J. G. Brown, Clarence Jackson, C. H. Cheeves and C. C. Jones.

The list of grand jurors selected by the jury commission of Donley County to serve for the spring term of district court here which opens March 22, was released this week by District Clerk, Walker Lane.

The list included: Jake Masterson, C. A. Crow, B. F. Wolford, W. A. Poovey, W. B. Taylor, J. W. Bland, R. L. Duckworth, J. C. Bible, Berry James, J. H. Hurn, Edwin Bailey, C. C. Ayers, T. W. Bain, J. S. Dale, R. L. Bowlin and R. E. Darnell.

Methodists Enjoy Social Wednesday Night

At a "get-together" meeting at the Methodist church Wednesday night, Presiding Elder T. S. Barcus made a talk in which he announced the revival to begin March 14th.

Sixty-five enthusiastic guests were present to enjoy the "eats" and the games during the social hour.

Pastor and Wife Attend Enid University Reunion

While in that section last week, Rev. and Mrs. Robt. E. Austin had the unexpected pleasure of attending a reunion of Phillips University students.

Ten men and women met there by chance and closed the happy affair with a picnic party. The University is located at Enid, Okla.

School Cafeteria Opens Tuesday at Junior Hi.

At a recent meeting of the members of the Goldston Quilting Club, two quilts were completed and brought to the Leader office for the Red Cross distribution in the flood district.

Materials were contributed by Mrs. Sam Dale, Miss Bertie Stewart and Mrs. Peden. The Club paid for the other material, all of which was new.

The ladies met at the home of Mrs. Clyde Hudson, twenty-one being at the quilting. There were Mes. Dick Eichelberger, Sam Dale, Roy Morgan, Peden, Dennis Smith, Fontayne Elmore, Frank Elmore, Leondias Yankee, Jim Peggram, Neely Veazy, Merl Rattan, Wilson Gray, Neely Hudson, Major Hudson, Clyde Hudson, N. D. Hudson, Ed Speed, Raymond Pharr, Everett Stevenson, John Blocker, G. R. Grant, M. Brock and Misses Bertie Stewart and Ellen Veazy.

Noblet Sees Dignitaries And Horse Races in Cali.

On a business trip to San Diego, California the past week, W. W. Noblet, manager of the Clarendon Motor Company, took time out to see at least a few of the sights.

A short period was spent at the race tracks at Santa Anita. It was there that Mr. Noblet met up with George Raft, star movie actor. The two of them picked up Bing Crosby a bit later and looked over the fine horse flesh. "George is a most affable gentleman despite the hard-boiled part he takes in the plays," Mr. Noblet stated.

Mr. Noblet was a guest of the two men, occupying a seat in their private box. It was from that point of vantage that the best view could be had of the races. Besides meeting two of the prominent stars, Mr. Noblet looked over a bit of the "kingdom of stardom" but feels better satisfied and more at home right here in Clarendon. He returned Friday.

Indian Relic Is Unearthed On Salt Fork River

An Indian metete rock intact used for grinding food, was left at the Clarendon Motor company show room Wednesday by G. C. Heath of Hedley.

Mr. Heath saw the curious stone protruding from a bank near Salt Fork where it had been exposed by water erosion. The rock was dug from the soft earth with little effort. Mr. Heath is of the opinion that it is a relic buried with an Indian body since the object was turned upside down and had a small hole in the bottom. This was a burial custom of the Lipans, it is said, signifying the owner had completed his need of the utensil on earth.

Spring Weather Follows Severe Dust Storms

Following last week's severe dusters mild spring weather has prevailed in Donley County since Sunday. Saturday's freakish condition when dust, sunshine and snow occurred simultaneously only a trace of moisture was recorded by weatherman Joe Goldston.

This weeks temperature recordings were Friday, 69, 39; Saturday, 61, 19; Sunday, 40, 19; Monday, 55, 28; Tuesday, 63, 28; Wednesday, 55, 25.

P. A. Buntin Is Showing Some Improvement

Critically ill for the past several days due to general senility, P. A. "Dad" Buntin, is today reported greatly improved. Mr. Buntin, a resident of Clarendon for more than forty years, is one of her most reversed and high-standing citizens. He is in his 87th year, and is the senior member of the mortuary firm of Buntin & Son in business here for some thirty years.

Noon means far more than "just 12 o'clock" to the underprivileged tots of the public school since Tuesday noon. The school cafeteria established in the basement of the Junior High school is operating smoothly under the supervision of Mrs. Joe Terry.

Thirty-eight pupils from the 5th grade down patronized the opening of the new system of serving free meals to innocents living under a handicap of a food shortage. Several elders aiding in the cause, likewise mingled with the little folks in their happiness.

Soup and milk were the principal foods served the first day. The menu will be changed in an effort at maintaining a balanced diet most suitable for the little folks. As guests sharing in the philanthropy of their elders, there was every evidence of appreciation. Good behavior and a keen appetite are hard to reconcile, but the opening went off with a click.

Supt. H. T. Burton and O. C. Watson started the movement among business men to sponsor the food shortage situation early last week. Their efforts were supplemented by Chas. M. Lowry, Odos Caraway and Rev. Robt. S. McKee as a committee from the Lions club.

Contributions of tableware and utensils on the part of the public was most generous. Miss Ann Bobo, aged 81, carried a large basket of bowls and spoons several blocks from her home to the school. She made a very generous gift to the cause, and her worthy endeavor found much commendation. Numerous other gifts and money was made in addition to the hundred dollars contributed to the cause by the Lions club.

O. W. Latson, local contractor, contributed his labor in constructing tables and benches. Dewey Herndon and Denzel R. Davis contributed the gas and hot water piping installation.

Grocers and butchers have been most generous in their contributions of food stuff. Those wishing to contribute to the cafeteria cause, either food, cash or tableware needed, should see Mrs. Joe Terry who has been employed to supervise the cafeteria.

Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain Attend Bankers Convention This Week

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Chamberlain attended the seventh Texas district, and the first district of the Oklahoma association, bankers convention in Wichita Falls which closed Monday.

Approximately 1,500 bankers from Texas and Oklahoma attended with chairman Oral Jones reporting to the group that 334 Oklahoma bankers had registered along with $87 from Texas and other states.

Red Cross Serves Million Refugees

Flood Effects 177 Counties In Eleven States

A revision of statistics, made on the basis of last minute figures from the flood zone, showed persons whose homes were flooded numbered 1,205,256. Of these persons, 748,229 were under care of the American Red Cross, either in concentration camps or elsewhere. Many families were being fed in their homes, or while being sheltered by neighbors and friends.

The Red Cross was operating 838 concentration camps and 270 field hospitals. Persons sick in hospitals numbered 4,288, and nurses on duty numbered 1,506.

The High waters affected families in 177 counties in eleven states. The Red Cross had moved refugees into 144 additional counties, which were not flooded by the rising rivers, and housed them there temporarily, until their own homes could be made habitable again.

1937 Auto Tag Sales Very Slow Here

Sale of 1937 car license tags are moving very slowly, Glenn Churchman, deputy tax collector said yesterday. Only 40 passenger, two farm trucks and two commercial license plates, for a total of 44 had been issued by Wednesday noon.

Comparative figures show that 1182 passenger tags had been purchased by April first of last year.

March 1st is the first day new tags may be attached to automobiles, but 1937 tags will be compulsory with April 1st.

Mrs. Frank Mitchell Presents Husband's Relics to Museum

CANYON, Feb. 20. (NS)—The Frank Mitchell collection, an accumulation of 50 years of extensive living on the cattle frontier, has been given to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum by Mrs. H. F. Mitchell of Amarillo.

H. F. Mitchell, known to his fellows as Frank, was for many years manager of the Matador Ranch and Cattle Company. During this time and before, he lived in Brazil, traveled in Mexico, and visited nearly all the ranching states of the Union.

According to L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the historical society, this collection of 90 items contains some very valuable material. There are moccasins, pipes, paintings, arrow heads and war clubs and pottery from Indians of South Dakota, New Mexico, California, Arizona, Oklahoma and Texas. Brazilian articles include equipment used by the cowboy, Mexican ranch articles can be contrasted with those used in the cattle country of South America and southwestern United States. Pre-historic pottery and today's are represented.

A large number of photographs of pioneer scenes are to be added to the collection soon. Secretary Sheffy says that photographs that show the way of life of the pioneers will constantly become more valuable.

The fact that the Frank Mitchell collection is a gift makes it a permanent value to the museum.

Attend Chevrolet Regional Sales Meet in Amarillo

Those attending the regional Chevrolet sales meeting in Amarillo the past week were Alvin Bailey, Sam Cauthen, Clyde Martin of the Clarendon Motor company, and G. C. Heath of the Hedley Chevrolet branch of the local firm.

J. F. Johnson of Dallas, regional manager for Chevrolet sales, conducted the meeting which was pronounced most instructive by the 'boys' from Donley county.

Services For Hedley Child Held Sunday

Funeral services for Annie Daisy Watson, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Watson, of Hedley, who died in the Adair Hospital here Saturday night, were held at The First Methodist Church in Hedley Sunday at 3:30. Burial was in the Rowe Cemetery at Hedley.

Mrs. Mary Mildred Shane Dies Friday

Former Clarendon Woman Had Resided in Amarillo For Several Years

Funeral services were conducted in Amarillo Monday for Mrs. Burr Shane with Dr. C. C. Grimes of the Polk Street Methodist church in charge.

The appellate court where Mrs. Shane was employed for several years recessed today. The three judges, M. J. R. Jackson, A. B. Martin, and R. Walker Hall, and Court Clerk Jim Oakes, were among the pallbearers. The others were R. E. Underwood and Bill Gibson.

Mrs. Shane, 32, was formerly Mildred Crane of Clarendon, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Crane.

She is survived by her husband, a daughter Sandra, aged four, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Crane, and two sisters, Misses Ethel and Edna Crane. Mrs. John Clark of this city is an aunt.

Mrs. Shane was a stenographer in the 7th court of civil appeals. Mr. Shane is an employee of the Bell telephone company.

The Cranes resided here for many years. It was here that their children were schooled and grew to womanhood. They have many friends in Clarendon who will greatly regret this misfortune to the industrious little family of 3708 Tyler street now clouded in sorrow.

FARMERS AND A "SIT-DOWN" STRIKE.

Suppose we wake up some morning and read in the daily headlines that "Farmers on Strike; Want 30-Hour Week, $3600 a year."

Would we be startled out of our skin? We would. First, no one could expect the farmers to agree on one measure long enough to call a strike.

After the first day, there would be no milk with which to smother the fumes of horse-hide glue coming from a breakfast food made from pulverized peanut hulls, a concoction mentioned in the school book, "A Million Guinea Pigs."

Thirty-six hundred dollars would be a fine minimum for each family per year over the nation. But why just for factory men?

Should the farmer folks sit down at this stage, it would not be long until we would be out of vegetables. Within a few months we would be short on fruits. A little later we would be short on everything to eat almost, and cotton clothing. It would not be very long until the whole nation would collapse.

While they probably never will do it, just suppose the farmers did stage a "sit-down" strike for the same reason as other workers?

THE FORGOTTEN MAN—

Almost every time we read a newspaper we see another report about something a state or the federal government is doing for somebody. We have laws for the farmer, the worker, the needy, the exporter, the importer, the shipper—laws for almost everybody you can think of.

In the last seven years, governments have pitched in and done all sorts of things for special groups of citizen. But who made it possible for the governments to do those things? Where did the governments get the resources, the credit, and the power to do those things?

The forgotten man. He is the man who went on about his business; who managed to scrimp and scrape by on his income and stay off relief; who voted for the laws designed to help not him but his neighbors.

He, too, is the man whose steadiness kept the credit of governments good, for everybody knew that in the end he would supply the money that would pay off debts. And he is the man who keeps on and on contributing taxes and taxes and taxes, until he is dizzy.

If all these forgotten men had gone busted, had stopped work, had stopped producing wealth, what would have resulted? Chaos.

Isn't it about time that thought and thanks were given to the people, now apparently forgotten, who stood out in the seven years' storm like sentinels?

We may erect statues to them when they are gone; we may put their names in history books; we may name rivers and trees and flowers after them. But they're human like all of us, and it's about time we gave them a pat on the back.

MIDWAY SCHOOL NEWS

Our school may be called non-patriotic for not having a holiday Monday as it was our first President's birthday, however, most everyone enjoyed the day at school. George Seaton brought his "iron horse" over and "sliced" up our basketball court. Thank you, George. Now, why doesn't some team come over? Don't all come at once, just one or two at a time. We are thinking of showering Mr. Hartzog of Giles with letters asking for a tournament soon. Come on, let's play.

Monday we received our report cards, some students being proud to see theirs. Our Prof. was in a big way and announced a play for the near future, "Goin' Modern." Judging from his explanation, it will be a real comedy.

Speaking of plays, did you see the one at the Goldston school last Friday night? Our school bus took a load and all had a big time. Marty, our driver, is very nice about talking us. If you missed the Goldston play you missed one of the best plays of the year.

Thursday, Mr. Millsap and the boys met Mr. Todd and his boys at Clarendon and played a game of basketball. Midway "Grunners" won 44 to 13. Our boys reported a good time. Thank you, Mr. Lane, for the use of the gym. Our boys are to play Martin this week. We are listening for the report, "Grunners" run up the score.

If you have the mumps stay at home. That is what our basketball players say "coz" we don't want them.

Mr. Millsap reports his two brothers, who have been in the hospital, are improving, one at Houston and one at Denver. They have been taken home.

If marbles were money our folks would be rich, and Mr. Millsap is not a bad shot. We notice Miss Harlan playing basketball. You may think we play more than we work but come and see. We are here from 7 a. m. until 5 p. m. If you think we work all that time, you are wrong. We are proud of our school and teachers. They are good sports at play and work.

I heard Mrs. Millsap say: "Jimmie, you must eat in order to teach." Mr. Millsap: "Yes, and I have to teach to eat."

If Pearl Derrick had one wish granted her to come true, I bet she would wish for a rain so the sand bed would get wet enough for the bus to come by her home. Pearl walks to school and is never late.

We hope Beryl takes first place on his calf. Shine him up, Beryl.

Our school ground now has a double drive for the bus. Now you can come to see us from both ways.

"Young man asking for a date: "How about coming at 8?" Modern lady: "Oh, come at 5, I can't wait until 8."—"Goin' Modern?"

Mrs. Wiley Post Buys Texas Farm For 'Folks'

CROSBYTON, Feb. 24.—Mrs. Wiley Post, wife of the noted flyer who died with Will Rogers in the airplane crash, has purchased 320 acres of land southwest of Crosbyton.

She is living in Oklahoma City and is connected with a business college, but her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Laine, and her brother, Roy, will live on the farm, she told real estate men here.

Mrs. C. E. Killough, Mrs. Joe Bownds and daughter, Cassandra, left for Mineral Wells and Fort Worth, Wednesday.

A THOUSAND EYES

The night has a thousand eyes, And the day but one; Yet the light of the bright world dies With the dying sun. The mind has a thousand eyes, And the heart but one; Yet the light of a whole life dies When love is done.

Mrs. W. M. McConnell and son, George Cooper of Fort Worth, visited Mrs. McConnell's father, P. A. Buntin, here last week end.

Big Gains Are Noted When Chevrolet Registers

Chevrolet's position in the automobile is revealed in its announcement of complete figures for new car registrations in the United States in 1936, showing a total of 930,250 new Chevrolet passenger cars licensed in the country.

As compared with 1935, Chevrolet showed a gain in passenger car registrations of 273,552, or 41.7 per cent, over the 1935 total of 656,698, says the statement issued from the office of W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager.

A comparison with the industry as a whole shows that of the 3,404,497 new cars registered in the United States, 27.3 per cent were Chevrolets. The Chevrolet gain of 273,552 over the previous year was more than double that of any other manufacturer, and exceeds the combined gains of the seven makers ranking from second to eighth place in registration.

In truck registrations also, Chevrolet held first place by 204,344 units, as compared with 167,129 for 1935. Chevrolet's lead in trucks over the next highest manufacturer was 27,100 units. Total registrations for all makes of trucks were 611,644; Chevrolet representing more than one-third of all the new units licensed.

Chevrolet's total of new units, both passenger and commercial vehicles, registered in 1936 was 1,134,594.

Mrs. Knox Dunlap of Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas arrived Monday for an extended visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Shelton.

When you think there "ought to be a law agin it," take the trouble to look it up. There probably is already.

Old Donley Leads. Clarendon has the poorest phone equipment in the state, according to the average citizen. Therefore the poorest service because the girls have nothing with which to get the job done. Again, old Donley leads in the rottenest phone service. We lead in everything here under the Cap Rock.

"Ah ha!" cried the egg As it splashed a hit; "I missed the skillet— Too rotten for it."

When getting up community funds, don't overlook writing the mailorder house from whom you buy your goods. You'll be surprised at what they send you.

Saturday night in his radio address at Chicago, Herbert Hoover came out flat-footedly on the side of the bar association against the president's efforts to modernize the supreme court.

"There ought to be a law" requiring our state lawmakers down Austin way to sing "The Eyes of Texas" every time either body begins a session.

It's a peculiar thing how some folks will deliberately do things that they know will get them into trouble, then expect the local newspaper to keep it covered up. Make good news, and we are glad to print it. Make bad news if you feel that way about it, and we'll print that too.

Trouble is that sensitive that it will leave you the moment you neglect paying it attention.

All of the people can't be fooled all of the time, but enough of them can often enough to keep things in a heluva mess.

A fellow came in this week wanting to know why this writer favored the change in the supreme court. In the first place, nothing seems to be quite so unconstitutional as a measure that will improve the working conditions of the big middle class. Any time the farmers, miners or factory folks want to better their condition, the supreme court looks upon it pretty much as would calf stealing in Texas. Had it not been for President Roosevelt's advanced ideas, a lot of the neighbors around over this county would have gone hungry and ragged for the past few years. I never have been against my neighbors. Anything that will bring them happiness is what we need most of all things right now. "Don't Bite the Hand That is Feeding You," still is a pretty truthful old song. Our working class only asks for a chance, and they are coming in for that chance for the first time right now under the most humane president the nation ever had.

Old Age Benefits. Carr Bunclie is in receipt of a court decision asked for by his great grampa. It was a long time coming, but that makes no difference since the decision was 'agin' him. Donley often has led in court injustice, too.

Passing a law "designed to keep objectionable publicity out of the papers," as they termed it, lawmakers of Arkansas now forbid the use of scriptural quotations and the picture of Santa Claus in connection with "beer, wine or liquor advertising in that state."

Scientific thought finally gets around to settle all things—in time. Here comes the He-Man's Message Association of Columbia, Missouri announcing that "it is a Biblical and proven fact that a woman who makes a good mother, naturally makes a sorry father, or vice versa." To further clinch the big shot decision of master minds, the concluding statement tells us: "We know that the ignoring of this fundamental is the cause of our present-day plight." What plight are you big boys talking about?

Delicate Womanhood? A Nebraska educational journal announces: "Teachers are being turned out by the normal schools who will never find employment, but if trained as plumbers and mechanics they might find employment readily."

If that is the turn educationally, they ought to add a department for "cigarette smoking and tool losing" in order to run up bills.

Donley Women Can Quit. Just about the time most of us get to the point of thinking that quilting quilts has gone plum out of fashion, some of our good women who still know how to get the job done, shatter that belief. Some of the most beautiful patterns of quilts were sent in by the quilting clubs of both Martin and Goldston communities. They met and made the quilts for the Red Cross cause of flood victims. Donley county leads in about everything, including quilting talent.

And was Rev. Robt. E. Austin agreeably surprised when he returned home recently and found the members of the Christian church had fitted up a study for their pastor. Something he had been wanting. Desk, bookcase and other things that a preacher needs. He spoke 'glowingly' of the matter Monday.

Here is a secret that only a few of us know anything about. Some years ago there was a little brunette girl in her early teens living here. She had a wonderful voice. We men folks thought it would be nice to make up money and see that she got voice training—a real weak in the world. An Amarillo lady who sang most beautifully listened to this little girl sing "Old Black Joe" and thrilled over the prospects of the sweet singer. We pictured the little lady as being the Panhandle Nightingale some day thrilling great audiences. We made up quite a sum. About that time the family, poor in this world's goods, moved to South Texas. The next year the little singer married. Since then we learn that she did not do any too well. Now she has three children and no semblance of a home. She lives in a hovel with that talent subdued, smothered and buried for all time. What a pity! Some times we talk about it and feel badly. Some of us have shed tears. Just another one who apparently passed "from the sublime to the ridiculous." Is she happy? I'm afraid not from reports that filter in. I wish we could forget all about it.

In Grey's Elegy the thought is brought out beautifully in one stanza: Full many a gem of purest ray serene, The dark, unfathomed caves of ocean bear. Full many a flower is born to blush unseen, And waste its sweetness on the desert air.

Besides having five grandchildren thrust upon him, the old Apostle passed another milestone the past week. The folks were most gracious, relatives and others, in remembering the old, old man on his birthday. There came letters, cards, telegrams, cigars and a very beautiful bouquet of carnations and roses, and the customary birthday cake. It was a fine, fine day making one person forget the dust that was fogging. To live and not be forgotten is one of life's most precious treasures.

I'm 55 years young today, Just 55 years young, And life is just as sweet As it was first begun.

I still have plenty of pep As in my younger days, When first starting out To explore the world's ways.

Thumbing my nose at the past, I'm happy as can be To know I've killed of the enemy As many as they have of me.

No thought of quitting yet, Because there's will to strive. Cannot sit or loaf all day, Just because I'm fifty-five.

Of course I've slowed up some Since thirty years ago, With all my ups and downs, They left their mark, you know.

In getting old—if ever I do, I ain't going to die, I'll just change my home To a place up in the sky.

And looking back at my old friends, I'm going to make a plea, That St. Peter let them come And make their home with me.

That isn't poetry by any means. It's merely a trend of thought in which some of the words happen to rhyme. It is printed here to punish the folks who borrow your paper. A newspaper is like a wife, every fellow ought to have one of his own and not bother the neighbors.

It all came about because a few of us made up a fund for a forgotten girl of talent in New Mexico some years before. She spent three years in Bush conservatory in Chicago, I believe it was. The second summer she played the piano at the tourist hotel in Alamogordo. Two years later she thrilled audiences on the Pacific coast. Since then she has educated other members of her family, married, has an ideal home in Los Angeles. She wasn't a famous beauty, but the fairies played at her finger tips as they raced across the ivory. She had plenty of common sense, grasped opportunity by the forelock and kept hanging on. She wanted to pay the money back, and did. It was paid into the library fund of the state blind institute at Alamogordo. Through her kindness, the young lady pianist has since brought happiness to hundreds of the blind through the means of the Braille system of book printing.

How about that neighbor woman who froze her nose pressing it against the window pane while watching the carryings-on of the new neighbors? Successful men are seldom popular because the public does not like to hear any one talk good sense, much less act that way. Blue Bug Bessie scored a hit with a crowd of bridge players when she announced that she would never become the victim of a child marriage.

Most of the talks of after dinner speakers have about as much fervor and zest as kissing a relative.

Amarillo is going places. First they put a stop to the pawn shops robbing the helpless grownups, and now they are after making the milk dealers give the helpless kids a square deal.

As a "straighten-er-upper" Amarillo has us beaten because they started late. Old Donley beats them on anything else.

Don't forget to take a look at the "baby beef" factories that will be exhibited here March 6th. Donley county leads in the production of pure, unadulterated, fine-grained, juicy baby beef. They call it "banquet beef" back east where they can't grow it just right.

Junior Employment Service Does Outstanding Work In Ten Months For Youth

AUSTIN, Feb. 24.—Private employment for 24,941 young people was provided through the junior employment service of the National Youth Administration in the ten-month period ending Dec. 31, 1936. Dr. Mary H. S. Hayes, NYA Director of Guidance and Placement, has advised Lyndon B. Johnson, State Director for Texas.

One junior employment office operating in Texas ten months and two operating less than one month each obtained private employment for 959 young people, Mr. Johnson said. The office operating at Fort Worth from March until the end of the year reported it had placed 893 youths. Offices were opened in Houston and Dallas in mid-December. These three offices are operated by the National Reemployment Service and the Texas State Employment Service in cooperation with the National Youth Administration.

County Agent H. M. Breedlove said recently that there were 11 youths and 4 girls employed on the NYA here. The boys are assisting in running terrace lines while the girls are engaged in clerical work.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bryan and son, Manly, visited in Amarillo Monday.

Mrs. John Clark visited relatives in Amarillo the latter part of the week.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Citrus Fruit Production In Texas Shows Big Gains

Texas is rapidly becoming one of the major citrus producing states in the nation, according to statistics. The 1937 yield of grapefruit in Texas is estimated at 6,790,000 boxes, compared with 2,741,000 boxes in 1936. The 1937 orange production is estimated at 1,800,000 boxes, compared with 747,000 boxes last year.

Small Percent Youths Find Indoor Employment

Of the 280 youths placed in private industry during December by the Junior Placement Service in Dallas, Fort Worth, and Houston, 80 were placed in factories, 58 in mercantile establishments, 62 labor, 43 errands, 21 clerical, 13 housework and restaurants 2 skilled trade, and 1 professional, according to Lyndon B. Johnson, state director for the National Youth Administration.

Have you forgotten there will be a pie supper at Sunnyview Friday night, March 5th. What for? To buy folding chairs. Listen ladies, there is a prize for the prettiest decorated pie. Interesting isn't it?

We had a very enjoyable time Monday night. The parents were entertained with a short program, by the pupils. After the short program, the parents were entertained with a few games under the directions of the pupils of Miss Lopez Whit's room. The first game was "Bingo" which was very interesting, especially by the lucky parents. Then to add to the evening, we tried the parents' hand as artists and you would be surprised at the talent we have along that line. Mrs. Jim Cannon and Mrs. Iva Williams received the honor as being the best artists. The most skillful game, which was the animal contest was won by Mr. R. W. Bingham and Mr. Eugene Putman, first and Mrs. S. T. Clayton and Mrs. Pete Riley following close for second place. After a most enjoyable time playing the parents and the teachers furnished plenty sandwiches and drinks. Last but not least. They say, best is always last. Well that is what really happened! Mr. G. W. Kavanaugh gave a very interesting talk. Come again Mr. Kavanaugh.

GOLDSTON SCHOOL NEWS

We enjoyed three very interesting practice games with Lella Lake last Wednesday afternoon. We are looking forward to the basketball tournament.

Everyone that missed the play at Goldston go to Ashtola this Friday night. The same play, "Aunt Jerushy on the War-Path," will be given there. If you do not see it you will miss a lot of fun. A small admission will be charged. The amount received at Goldston last Friday night was $14.45. We were very glad to see a bus load from Midway. We enjoy their visits very much.

Goal Set By Parent-Teacher Associations

To promote child welfare in home, school, church, and community.

To raise the standards of home life.

To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children.

To bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.

To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, moral and spiritual education.

Clarendon Men Attend Memphis Chamber Of Commerce Banquet

J. M. Hill, W. H. Patrick and Homer Mulkey attended the Memphis Chamber of Commerce banquet at Memphis last night. Approximately 200 persons heard Ed Goseet of Wichita Falls, who was the principal speaker.

Mr. Patrick talked to the group in response to the welcoming address. Mr. Mulkey also spoke briefly.

Farm And Ranch Meets To Discuss 1937 Program To Continue

Launching a series of agricultural lectures throughout Donley County, County Agent H. M. Breedlove will continue to explain the 1937 farm program to Donley County farmers next week. Stressing fundamentals in soil conservation and outlining in general the new farm program Breedlove has held 12 conferences in the various agricultural sections.

In ranching districts Breedlove makes comprehensive surveys of range improvement practices for which government payments will be made.

According to Breedlove there are more than 300,000 acres of ranch land in the county and more than 20 major ranchmen have expressed a desire to support the range-conservation program fully.

Girls' Basketball Tournament To Be Held At Pampa

A letter received from J. M. Carpenter, Canadian, stated that his school would be glad to accept the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce to attend the girls' basketball tournament in Pampa. The trophies will be awarded by the Chamber of Commerce and the gym offered for use by the school. Accommodations will be arranged for their stay in Pampa.

Arrangements in detail will be worked out probably around the first of next week. Tentative plans are to hold the tournament round the first of March.

Memphis Cyclones Down Bronchos In Slow Tilt

MEMPHIS, Feb. 24.—The Memphis Cyclones out pointed the Clarendon High School Bronchos in a drab basketball game at the high school gym here Thursday night by 19 to 13.

Both clubs were ragged throughout the tilt.

With the Cyclone encounter, the Bronchos packed their uniforms away for the rest of the year after a comparative successful season.

Miami To Hold F. F. A. Cage Meet

MIAMI, Feb. 23.—John R. Gillham, principal and vocational agricultural teacher, is busy this week winding up details for the district FFA basketball tournament to be held there Saturday. Already a number of teams have signified their intentions of being on hand for the event and a number of good games will be a treat for fans as part of the teams boast first string players.

Hedley Drops Second To Kelton; Perryton Wins District 2 Cage Meet

PAMPA, Feb. 24.—The Perryton Rangers won the district 2 basketball tournament in Pampa by downing the Pampa Harvesters in the final game Saturday night.

Eleven teams were entered in the two-day play with Hedley, Borger, Lefors and Darrouzet the first four eliminated with two losses.

Perryton will represent the district at the regional tourney in Canyon.

Hedley lost their first game to Lefors and were toppled 32 to 27 in their second try with Kelton.

Tennis Courts Should Be Uniform Kinsey Says

One-time Davis cupper, now an instructor of note, Howard Kinsey said today he thought courts surfaces and balls should be universal uniform.

Kinsey pointed out asphalt is the popular surfacing agency in this region; concrete is used in the Los Angeles area; clay is used throughout the middle west and turf is the distinctive footing on Eastern courts forming the "major circuit" in New Jersey, Massachusetts and New York.

"An internationalist from this coast, such as Don Budge, faces unusual problems," said Kinsey. "He must adjust his game two or three times before he gets to Europe. On continental Europe he must switch again because the courts there are of a porous clay type. When he goes over to England he finds turf again, calling for readjustment of his style of play."

Local Netters May Not Vie In Memphis Play

Doubt was expressed this week by tennis coach, Glenn Allison, when asked if Clarendon High School netters would compete in the Memphis invitation tourney scheduled for March 27. Allison gave conflicting dates as the reason saying that with the County Interscholastic League meet March 27, the locals would be pressed for time.

With ideal tennis days prevailing this week all courts have been crowded with over 50 hopefuls working out kinks for the coming test rounds.

District Meet April 10.

On the tenth and seventeenth of April, winners of contests from Hansford, Lipscomb, Carson, Ochiltree, Wheeler, Donley, Gray, Roberts, Hemphill, and Hutchinson Counties will meet in Pampa for the annual district meet. Last year the meet was held Friday and Saturday of the same week, however, this year it will be run off on two consecutive Saturdays.

Drouth Rates On Feed Extended Here

Special freight rates on feed shipped here will continue, it was announced recently by Judge S. W. Lowe following the arrival of a special notice from the Texas Railroad Commission.

Designated as a county in the drouth area, the special rates were scheduled to expire February 12, but an extension has been made by the railroad commission, which sets the expiration of the date for March 31, 1937.

Applications for special rates should be made through the county agent's office here.

No Liquor Search Warrants, Court Says

AUSTIN—The Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday called the attention of the Legislature to the fact that Texas has no law under which search for liquor violations can be made.

The statement was by Judge O. S. Lattimore in the case of Pete Slack, fined $100 in Jones County for possession of intoxicating liquor for sale in dry territory. The case was reversed and remanded. Officers with a search warrant discovered whisky in Slack's possession, the opinion said.

The court noted it recently had sustained a contention there was no legal basis for a search warrant in liquor law violation cases and continued:

"We again call their (the Legislature's) attention to such a fact Citizens of a county in which the sale of intoxicating liquor has been prohibited by local option election are perfectly helpless in their efforts to enforce the liquor law and to detect its violations, in view of the failure of the Legislature to provide some means by which search warrants may be issued and searches made for such violations. This court can do no more than call the attention of the Legislature to lack of such a law."

GOODNIGHT'S LOCATION IN PALO DURO RESULTED FROM SEVERE 1876 BLIZZARD

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series about early day Panhandle ranches written by Frank Collinson of El Paso, who lived for many years on the Plains. And a former resident of Clarendon many years.

(Taken from The Amarillo Daily News-Globe.)

Charles Goodnight is the most advertised cowboy ever in Texas. I have no desire to take anything away from him or his operations.

The first time I saw Mr. Goodnight was in the fall of 1875 at Granada, Colo. He and the late S. R. Coggin of Brownwood had bought a herd of steers from John C. Chisum, which they received on the Pecos and drove to Granada and sold to Indian beef contractors who went to fill contracts at one of the Indian agencies in South Dakota or the Red Cloud Agency in the northwest corner of Nebraska.

I knew Mr. Goodnight up to the time of his death. The last time I saw him to talk to him was at T. S. Bugbee's funeral at Clarendon in 1925. I worked for and was in partnership with Coggin Brothers 21 years—from 1878 to 1899—so here is what I saw and heard of the starting of the JA Ranch. I saw and read letters Mr. Goodnight wrote to Mr. Coggin in 1877, asking Mr. Coggin to help stock the Palo Duro Canyon. I read these letters in 1880 in Brownwood, I also went with Mr. and Mrs. Coggin to see Mr. Goodnight in 1897 and heard them talk of the Pecos-Granada drive.

Hunting With Jim Wilson

I was hunting with a man, Jim Wilson. I had bought his partner out, who wanted to go back to Kansas. Wilson was an old frontiersman—had been over the old Santa Fe Trail, a government teamster and wagon master; had hunted in Kansas from 1868; came to Texas after the buffalo were killed off in Kansas. We hunted in partnership until the hunt was over. I went to the Pecos. He went north—was hunting buffalo—and he and all his outfit were killed by the Sioux Indians on Milk River, Montana, in 1881. He had been in the Palo Duro before this time and knew the whole country well. We were on Red River below the canyon in the summer of 1876; we were in the canyon in 1875; came down what was called then, and maybe yet, Box Canyon. There was a plain trail or wagon road made by Mexican hunters many years ago.

The last time I was in this canyon the road was impassible; washed out. There were no cattle in the canyon or any place west of Fort Griffin—only a herd on California Creek, west of Fort Griffin, owned by Mathews and Reynolds.

Indians Too Bad

Up to the fall of 1874 it was out of the question to even try to hunt buffalo. The Indians were too bad. All you have to do is to read the account of Adobe Walls fight, General McKenzie's campaign and General Nelson Miles on the Washita and McClelland Creek, General McClelland at Camp Supply, 1874—all working for the same end, putting the Indians on reservation, which they accomplished during the winter of 1874.

The first I heard of the Goodnight cattle in Palo Duro Canyon was from buffalo hunters who came south after the big blizzard of November, 1876. Their account was that the Goodnight outfit with 1,500 cattle were wintering on the Canadian above the mouth of Mustang Creek. After the storm was over part of the outfit came down the river looking for their cattle, which had drifted ahead of the blizzard.

There were several hunters camped at Tascosa, where there was a store. They were outfitting to follow the buffalo south. These men, Lee Dyer (who was in charge of the outfit), Walter Dyer and J. C. Johnson, asked when the cattle would be apt to strike the breaks again. Thomas O'Loughlin, a Kansas buffalo hunter, said: "I believe they will hit Palo Duro if they came this far down the river before turning out."

Offered To Guide Them

O'Loughlin said: "I am going there myself, and expect to stop on Mulberry Creek. I will show you the way. Go back and get your outfit and get back and we will start for Palo Duro."

They left a few days later. The snow had settled some so they could travel.

They found the cattle in the breaks on the north side of Palo Duro from the Falls to Chalk Hollow. O'Loughlin left them there and went east. Leaving Mulberry on the north and Palo Duro on the south he followed an old Mexican buffalo hunter's trail into Mulberry Creek at the mouth of Spring Creek.

Goodnight's outfit worked the cattle down some buffalo trails into the canyon and, according to the story, they took the wagon to pieces and let it down into the canyon with ropes. I have heard the Dyers and J. C. Johnson talk of it. They then went on down the river bed to where Box Canyon and Canyoncita join Red River then on down about five miles to a spring that put in from the south side, and there they built a log house, which they called the Home Ranch.

This old log cabin was burned down about 30 years ago, while Mr. Walsh, who was manager at the time, was sick in Clarendon. He built a lumber house and barn later and I believe it is still standing on the same site the old log cabin stood on.

Sent Letters Back

Johnson and the Dyers wrote Mr. Goodnight where they were and rode over to Tascosa and the letters went from there. There was no post office, but hide haulers and freight teams were going to the A. T. & S. F. Railway in Colorado and Kansas.

The next spring—1877—Mr. Goodnight came to Fort Dodge and south to Camp Supply and to Fort Elliot, where he had Thomas O'Loughlin haul him up to where he had left the cattle the fall before.

At a trial for cattle stealing, tried in Clarendon, on a charge of venue from Oldham County in 1897 I saw Mr. Goodnight and Thomas O'Loughlin. We met in Boschers' saloon in Clarendon and talked over that trip. It did not suit Mr. Goodnight a little bit he got up and left.

Differs With Haley

In the book "Charles Goodnight" lately published, J. Everts Haley says Mr. Goodnight went to the Canyon in the summer of 1876; had a Mexican pilot his herd there and went on down Tula Canyon. If he had gone that way he would have had to go in at the mouth of Campbell Creek—over 20 miles below the old Home Ranch on Palo Duro. He also says Mr. Goodnight got a partner of Bill Kooger's to haul him to Dry Creek, which was the exact route Thomas O'Loughlin took him.

I knew Thomas O'Loughlin well. He had a nice ranch on Cantonment Creek where the troops camped before building Fort Elliot I hear there is now a station on a new railroad called La Fors for Perry La Fors who ranched there a good many years. Thomas O'Loughlin later acquired a good big ranch on Red Deer near Miami where he died. It is now owned by his son, Miles O'Loughlin, who was named for General Nelson Miles, a great friend of Thomas O'Loughlin.

Later Formed Partnership

Later Mr. Goodnight formed a partnership with John Adair and Mrs. Adair, who put up money to start the first permanent ranch in the Panhandle, which is still in existence and at present under the management of Mrs. Adair's grandson Montie Richie.

Mr. Haley barely mentions the first trip the Adairs made to Palo Duro. I saw them on Spring Creek in 1878. They had come from Fort Dodge in a big six-mule ambulance furnished by the fort commander and escorted by a sergeant and ten privates, through courtesy to Mrs. Adair, who was the daughter of General Wadsworth, who was killed at the last Battle of the Wilderness during the Civil War, and also Colonel Richie, her first husband's father, who was on the staff in Mexico, 1848.

After this partnership was formed, Mr. Goodnight had unlimited money and credit which put him on a pedestal that few cowmen of that day could attain. No doubt but that he organized the first ranch that bought up land; also was the first to use wire fencing in the Panhandle.

Were Texas Cattle

The cattle Mr. Goodnight brought to Texas were Texas cattle driven by him to Colorado, and had a good shorthorn cross. At the time Mr. Goodnight and all the first men to drive cattle to the Panhandle in all probability had never seen a Hereford bull. There was not a carload of that breed in the United States in 1876, although that year some English exhibited a small herd at the World's Fair in Philadelphia. They soon became very popular on all the Western range, Durham or shorthorn cattle were the popular breeds in all the Eastern states.

Kentucky was the leading state for highbred Shorthorn cattle; after the railroads were built from the Missouri west, Colorado and New Mexico were flooded with Shorthorn bulls. I have no intention of writing a history of any breed of cattle but from all account Bringham Young took Shorthorn cattle to Utah when he migrated to that country in 1847. They still predominate in that state.

After the firm of Adair and Goodnight was consummated, Mr. Goodnight bought several herds of Texas cattle and good Durham bulls by the hundred, so at the time Herefords became popular he had a good foundation stock of Shorthorn crop to commerce with. There is not the slightest doubt that the JA's were the best large herd of cattle in Texas for many years, filled many feed lots in the corn belt, and were "market toppers" wherever they went—either off grass or corn fed.

Still Fine Property

Mr. Goodnight was manager and part owner of the JA Ranch for 10 years. I have known all the managers on that ranch up to the present one. It is still a fine property and I for one hope it will continue to be so. It is mostly what would

Chevrolet Customers Thanked For Holding Orders

DETROIT, Feb. 24.—W. E. Holler, vice-president and general Sales manager of Chevrolet, announced this week that every consideration will be given to the thousands of customers who have demonstrated their loyalty to Chevrolet by leaving their orders with dealers in spite of the fact that they did not know when they could get delivery.

In a communication to Chevrolet's 10,000 dealers, Mr. Holler requested them to extend his thanks to the thousands of purchasers who were willing to await resumption of production for delivery of their cars. He also assured dealers that new orders for Chevrolets will receive immediate attention and that deliveries will be made with the utmost rapidity.

"It is a source of deep gratification to me and to everyone in Chevrolet to notice the fine spirit of cooperation exhibited by the public," Mr. Holler declared. "We have received hundreds of letters here in Detroit from customers assuring us their willingness to take delivery as soon as we could obtain the materials which would permit us to resume production."

"Production now has been resumed, and shipments of new cars will shortly be under way. We expect to be producing at capacity within a few days in order to reward the loyalty and patience of the public with deliveries of new cars with all the speed of which we are capable."

Mr. Holler pointed out that in November and December Chevrolet enjoyed two of the most successful months in its history, producing and delivering more than 200,000 of the new 1937 models.

Mrs. E. O. Barnes of Amarillo is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Speed, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Noland and daughter, Vera, were in Amarillo Friday.

now been in existence 60 years, and I never knew a die upon it although I have not been there for 15 years. I believe there have been half a million calves branded JA during the past 60 years.

At the Christmas Fat Stock Show in Chicago, 1902, a carload of steers off the ranch took first prize. They were fed and shown by Dan Black of Lindon, Ohio—the only herd in Texas to have attained that honor. There was a carload that took the first prize two years ago, which were said to be Texas cattle from Big Bend. It was refuted by some, so I do not know, but the carload from the JA Ranch I saw them cut out and shipped from Claude.

From all I saw and heard during 1876 and 1877, I still believe Mr. T. S. Bugbee was the first man to drive cattle to an ordained destination in the Panhandle.

(Editor's Note.—Walter and Sam Dyer mentioned in this article, were uncles of Sam Dyer here, but Walter Dyer died only a few years ago in Amarillo.)

"Count Your Chicks Before They Hatch" Is Expert's Advice

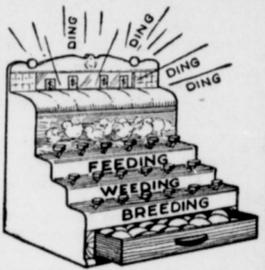

Good Stock, Careful Culling, Good Feed Are Basic.

"Count your chicks before they hatch," says C. S. Johnson, head of the Poultry Department of Purina Mills, "for it can be done by giving hens what they need for building eggs that will hatch."

"Greater hatchability means greater opportunities," Johnson points out. "Poultry raisers don't have a chance with any chick until he's out of the shell. Every chick that doesn't hatch is a lost opportunity—a lost opportunity at six weeks when the chick should be ready to launch into a real money-making bird, a lost opportunity next fall when those expected extra pullets are missing that would put extra dollars into your pocket. The profits made next fall are largely dependent upon the care given that 'spark of life' while it is still in the egg."

Three-Point Program

"Breeding, feeding, and weeding—those are the three legs of success in producing eggs that will hatch. To begin with, good stock 's a prime requisite. No one can expect first-class hatching eggs from second-rate birds. A thrifty, vigorous flock of high-producing birds will lay hatching eggs that hold vast opportunities. Diseased, weak hens can't do that.

Feeding, weeding and breeding are three important steps in "ringing up" more profits.

"Culling is highly important in maintaining a profitable breeding flock. The poor layers, the weak birds, all diseased fowls, scrubs, and other abnormalities should be weeded out. Only the best birds should be kept. The old adage, 'Like produces like' still holds true. All roosters should be examined carefully to make sure they are in good health before mating them with the hens," Johnson advises. "Ten to fourteen days before eggs are saved for hatching the males should be placed with the hens. Two weeks are required for the sperm cells to travel up the ovary and fertilize the eggs."

Vitamins Give Vigor, Vitality

All confined breeding hens need cod liver oil in their ration to get a sufficient amount of Vitamin D to meet their needs. Vitamin D plays a big part in giving enough stamina to live after they are hatched. The ideal feed for breeding fowls also contains dried milk, for its Vitamin G content. Resistance to disease, colds and roup, can also be partially built up for the chick before he is hatched, if the breeding hen gets from the feed her needs for putting resistance into the egg. Many fowl diseases—roup, bronchitis, colds, laryngotracheitis—get a foothold in the flock because of a lack of Vitamin A in the ration. Common sources of Vitamin A for poultry are alfalfa, yellow corn, and greens. Many times these are not available in amounts sufficient to supply all requirements. The result is low vitality, lowered production, and decreased chances of good hatchability. Eggs laid by hens with a Vitamin A deficiency hatch out thin scrawny chicks, with hardly enough strength to pip the shell, and many do not hatch at all.

Assure Hens Plenty Vitamins

"Poultry feeds should contain an abundance of these all-important vitamins," Johnson says. "In Purina laying mash we have stepped up the vitamin content by adding pur-a-tene, a rich vitamin A concentrate. Pur-a-tene is a yellow-colored substance called 'Pro-Vitamin A'. By a patented process Vitamin A is made available in plentiful amounts to put extra vigor and vitality into breeding birds, baby chicks, and growing stock."

"You can count your chicks before they're hatched," Johnson promises, "if you follow a good feeding program that will provide adequate nourishment for the embryo before it ever leaves the shell, and for the first few days after pipping out."

CALVES REQUIRE LITTLE MILK

"With good cows as high as they are today, and the milk markets taking all the milk that is produced, dairymen everywhere are beginning to feel that the most profitable way of maintaining a herd is by raising their own heifers," says W. R. Arends, calf raising authority at Purina Mills. "And many milk producers are finding out how easy it is to raise their future cows by modern methods."

"Today's methods make it possible to raise calves with little milk," Arends points out. "Modern calf feeds supply everything that milk and grain do—and at a much lower cost. Our own latest calf feed is an all-in-one product that's fed dry and puts an end to the fuss and worry of messy gruels and buckets washing. This new calf startena is ready to feed right from the bag. All one has to do is to pour it into feeders and let the calves help themselves."

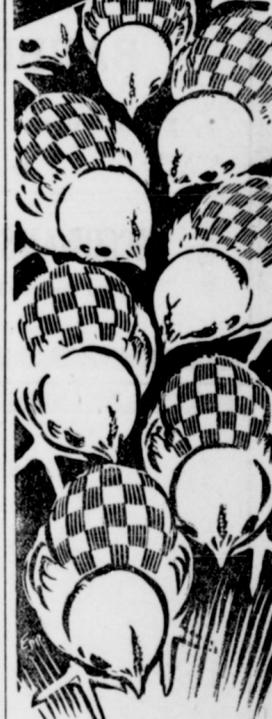

THE FEMALE RAT

The female rat is one of the most prolific members of the animal kingdom. In a single year she may have at least six litters, with six to eight rats to each litter. Thus, a single 12-month period can easily see 50 offspring. Add to this the fact that the offspring begin breeding when 4 months of age, and you'll understand how rapidly the rat population can grow.

In Great Britain, the rat does $50,000,000 worth of damage annually to foodstuffs. In the United States, his toll of grain alone, it is estimated will exceed the $100,000,000 mark.

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

J. Perry King, Pastor
 There is Always Worship
 Fellowship :: Service

Are you saving your life or losing it? That is a pointed personal question which ought to be analyzed and answered carefully by every Christian. Christ gave a great deal of his time in teaching the disciples how to make their lives live. He taught them that the greatest saving in the world is life saving. That life saved for self is sacrificed for the world and forever lost. Just this week a personal letter bore the news of the death of a very wealthy friend in another state, and the question was asked, "How many of his millions did he take with him?" I read of one the other day whose commercial transactions had circled the globe, who said in the evening of his last day, "My life has been a failure." Are you saving your life or losing it? Your relationship to Christ and humanity will answer. Many times a word, a thought, an impulse, will turn a life and change the course of the years, and fix a destiny. Such a message may come from the pulpit of your church next Sunday morning. Do not deprive yourselves of the eternal values in life by seeking the temporal advantages that vanish away. Go to church. The church is the only appointed agent sent to lift the fallen, to cheer the faint, to inspire the hopeless, to comfort the sorrowing, and to give redemption to the lost. Avail yourselves of the God given opportunity of rightly relating your life to her services next Lord's Day.
 Morning and evening services as usual at the Baptist Church. What a joy it will be to us if you are in the service.

Exempt Homesteads From All Taxation

Taxpayers Association Goes On Record As Favoring Tax Free Homes

The only argument that can possibly be made against exempting homes up to $3,000 in valuation from all taxes is the necessity for money with which to run the various units of government. It might be well for these units of government, through rigid economy and broadening the tax base in other directions, to forego many things that might be eliminated without disturbing governmental functions, in order to encourage the ownership of homes.

There are some who argue that homes cannot be exempted from taxation because of outstanding bond obligations. They say that this would be withdrawing a part of the security upon which the bonds are based. This argument has no real foundation in fact, and should not be an obstacle in the passage of such legislation. But granting that it would not be proper to remove a part of the security upon which bonds are based, from taxation, the Constitutional amendment could be so framed as to provide that homes should still continue to bear the proportion of taxes required for bond service until such bonds are liquidated, and that no further bonds should be based upon taxes from homes up to the value of $3,000. While this would not afford immediate relief from all taxes on homes, it would guarantee that no further taxes would be levied against homes for securing bonded indebtedness.

Some years ago the Legislature submitted the question of exempting homes up to $3,000 in value from all State taxation. The hue and cry was raised at the time, that this would materially interfere with the functioning of the State Government, but the people gave the amendment an overwhelming majority, and the succeeding Legislature cut the State budget to correspond to the loss in state revenue. They will do the same thing in case they get a chance to vote on exempting homes up to $3,000 in value from all taxes, local and state, and the local governing bodies will be expected to meet the situation by reducing budgets and raising money from other sources.

Every person should have an opportunity to own a home, but under our system of high interest rates and high taxes, faced with the uncertainty of employment or production, the picture is not at all encouraging. Senator Connally's home ownership bill recently introduced in the United States Senate will, if enacted, reduce the interest charge to 2 per cent, and if our Legislature will remove the tax burden from owner-occupied homes, the problem of home owning will become so simple that within a few years everyone who is worthy can boast that "This is my fireside, my home, and my dwelling place."

Lets remove all taxes from owner-occupied homes, which will destroy the last chance of a person losing his home, when once it is paid for. Our homestead law protects us against foreclosure except for the purchase money. Lets remove the tax lien and all will be well. Every person has an inherent right to dwell in peace and quietude on a spot of land he can call his own, and with these obstacles removed, John Howard Payne's "Home Sweet Home" will take on a new, happier, and fuller significance.

The writer is fully convinced, after a thirty-year study of the question of converting this state and nation into a home owning population, that we can afford to undergo any sort of sacrifice to make this a reality. If we have to sacrifice some things that we now think are necessary in the government of our community, county, state or nation, the sacrifice will bring huge dividends in the future in the way of a more satisfied and enlightened population. Let me again repeat that if the question of removing all taxes from owner-occupied homes up to a value of $3,000 is presented, it will be overwhelmingly adopted. Let us all work together for the common good.

Protection In Lean Years Is Plan For Farm

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—President Roosevelt recommended to Congress today the adoption of the crop insurance system to provide the farmer with a buffer against disastrous failures.

He said that the insurance coupled with the storage system for crop surpluses in good years "would assist in providing more nearly an even flow of farm supplies, stabilizing farm buying power, and contribute to the security of business and employment."

Under the program an insured farm would be protected against natural hazards up to 75 percent of normal yield.

Secretary Wallace, chairman of the committee which planned the program, said that "it would have an effect on the storing of reserves of wheat in years of large crops, releasing them on the market in years of crop failure."

Federal officials estimated that over $100,000,000 is needed to set up the plan.

Mr. and Mrs. "Heavy" Whitlock of Amarillo visited relatives here Sunday.

Martha Bell Logan, Miss Evans and Dorothy Ann Kennedy spent the week end in Lubbock with relatives.

GET UP NIGHTS DUE TO BLADDER IRRITATION?

It's not normal. It's nature's "Danger Signal." Make this 25c test. Use buchu leaves, juniper oil, and 6 other drugs, made into little green tablets called Bukets. Flush out excess acids and impurities. Excess acids can cause irritation resulting in getting up nights, scanty flow, frequent desire, burning, backache, and leg pains. Just say Bukets to your druggist. In four days if not pleased your 25c will be refunded.

Enjoy Waterless Cookery With The Modern Electric Range

It reduces time of cooking . . . cost of operation . . . and more important, preserves the health-giving value of foods

● Imagine cooking ten pounds of potatoes in only one cup of water. That is all it requires if you cook electrically. Fresh carrots, beans, peas and many other vegetables cooked on a modern electric range do not need to be drowned in a fathom of water to cook them tender—thoroughly.

● Waterless cookery gives you nutritious, full-flavored food with all of its vitamins and mineral elements preserved—not poured down the kitchen sink due to cooking in an excess of water.

● Enjoy waterless cookery in your own home on the most modern range in the history of civilization. Its amazing speed, cleanliness, safety and consistently better results have captured the imagination of West Texas women.

The cleanliness of the electric range has forever banished "hand-hiding"* for hundreds of West Texas women—only one of the score of its modern features.

*"Hand-hiding" is a result of scouring blackened pots and pans.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY STUDENTS OPERATE CLIPPING BUREAU NATIONAL IN SCOPE

Industry Makes it Possible for 26 Young Ladies to Obtain Education on Self-Supporting Basis. Classified Subjects Are Taken From 131 Daily Papers Each Day, And 620 Weekly And 20 Semi-Weekly Papers Each Week

AUSTIN, Feb. 24.—When it comes to being well-informed on current events and public affairs generally, a group of 26 "co-eds" at The University of Texas is perhaps unexcelled in this respect by any group of similar size in this State. The reason for this claim is that these students are required to read carefully, column by column, 131 daily newspapers each day, and 620 weekly and 20 semi-weekly papers each week. They are employees of the Students Clipping Bureau of the University, a non-profit organization, operated for the sole purpose of aiding worthy young women students in financing their way through that institution. All receipts of the Bureau are deposited to its credit in the auditor's office of the University and the employees are paid out of that fund.

Since its establishment twenty years ago, the Bureau has given employment to approximately six hundred girls. These part-time employees are paid at the regular University per hour schedule of rates, amounting to $20 a month. They are selected on the basis of actual need of the money and their ability, education and otherwise, to properly perform the services required of them.

The Bureau receives every daily, weekly and semi-weekly newspaper published in Texas. From the columns of these papers there are clipped news items, editorial comment, and other published matter on nearly one hundred subjects. The subscribers to these clippings include many State and National public officials; government departments, both State and Federal; chambers of commerce; educational institutions; members of the legislature and others interested in pending and proposed legislation; manufacturers, and those who are interested in various other subjects. As an illustration of some of the unusual types of clippings which the Bureau furnishes subscribers there may be mentioned those of all births in Texas, all earthquakes in the State, and all bus and truck accidents.

Student manager of the Bureau is Miss Evelyn Sims of Jefferson, who is majoring in journalism.

HARRY MILLER

His "Miller 151" marine engine broke the world's hydroplane speed record in 1927 at Newport Bay, California, and won first place in aquatic events at Sarasota, Winterhaven, Palm Beach, Miami and Mt. Dora, Florida, and also at Havana, Cuba, and San Diego and Long Beach, California.

Among the engineering developments in which Miller pioneered are front drive and four-wheel drive racing cars, aluminum alloy pistons, superchargers and down draft carburetors. In addition to marine and auto design he has done considerable work with aviation engines.

In announcing the appointment Mr. H. P. Hobert, General Manager of Lubrication Sales for Gulf, declared that one phase of Miller's work will be to subject Gulf products to the most exacting practical tests and punishment in search of ways to still further improve them. Proper gasoline and oil are vital factors in getting top speed and performance from engines and Gulf believes that Miller's experience and ability fit him ideally for the job it has outlined for him.

Three Granddaughters Shown Honors Same Week

Next to a doting mother, there is nothing more hallowed than that of a doting grandmother. At this time Mrs. G. W. Antrobus is thrilled over the places occupied by three of her granddaughters, some of whom are small girls.

Here at home, Marylyn Maher was chosen from her year as representative of her classmates in the style show.

Over in Oklahoma City lives Jean Stargell who has been chosen to represent the Parent-Teacher Association in a pageant.

Down at Lubbock a granddaughter is making history. As a member of the winning debating team, Lucille Hvass helped Lubbock HI win over Waco.

Not big things for grown-ups, perhaps, but big things for girls their ages. And grandmother Antrobus has every reason to be proud.

Colored Quintet to Present Series of Programs

The colored quintet of the Northwest Texas conference of the colored Methodists will present a program at the colored church here each night next week, according to an announcement of E. L. King, the pastor.

A public presentation will be made from 2 to 4 p. m. Tuesday at the courthouse. Old time negro spirituals is one interesting feature of the program of these well known singers. The white folks have an urgent invitation to hear them each night at the church as well as at the courthouse.

Carpenter Ordered to Reimburse Receivership Fund

Orville S. Carpenter, chairman and director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, Tuesday was ordered by the Third Court of Civil Appeals to remit $15,783 to the liquidators of the National Surety Co., for which company he was appointed receiver in 1933, or have the receivership reversed and remanded.

The court gave Carpenter 10 days in which to make the remission. His attorney in the receivership, John W. Miller, Dallas, was ordered to return $18,033 to the liquidators.

Carpenter recently broke into the limelight when he suggested that those drawing old age pensions in Texas should not be allowed to vote.

HERE AND THERE

By Dick Cooke

THERE—A husky 27-year old truck driver recently told police that he slew a 15-months-old baby in "self defense." He allegedly told officers that he was alone with the child at the parents home with whom he boarded when the baby started to cry. Picking him up to quiet him "he bit me on the hand and I got mad and shook it until its head snapped."

HERE—Clarendon College Commercial Department students will make a community business survey, J. L. Kerby announced this week. Kerby also asked the co-operation of business men in a proposed office equipment show to be sponsored by the same department.

HERE—Thirty-five foot terraces with an average height of 2½ feet were completed on the Charlie Hearn farm west of Clarendon this week. The work was done by H. T. Warner who recently purchased a caterpillar tractor and is erecting terraces at $3 an hour.

HERE—Y. A. Rankin, foreman for the State Highway Department, said this week that cottonwood trees were needed here to carry on the highway beautification program. The trees should be about 12 inches high and one or one and a half inches in circumference, he said. Hundreds of trees ranging from cottonwoods, cedars, mulberries and desert willows have been planted along the highway in this county.

THERE—Miss Florence Roberts, 19, was beaten and stomped into unconsciousness at a night club in Fort Worth by several jealous women, according to reports. Police arrested 20 men and 10 women but released all but 19.

THERE—Press reports from different sections in Texas tell of cattle stealing on a large scale. Most thieves drive into pastures at night and load six or eight head into a truck.

HERE—After reading a Ripley cartoon which stated that one could drop fifty nails into a full glass of water without spilling a drop, Walter Clifford of the Clifford & Ray Grocery Company proved Ripley a sissy when last week he dropped in 200. Both Walter and Ripley used shingle nails and Clifford got in 199 successfully before the water splashed over on the 200th attempt.

HERE—Although egg laying season is at hand and John Sweaney reported gathering 186 eggs in one day from less than 300 hens, probably the rapid production champion is a white leghorn, owned by Rayburn Smith Jr., which produced three eggs in the same day. Young Smith, an FFA Club member, had the foul penned alone at the time.

HERE—Mrs. Jack Molesworth who has been confined to the Adair Hospital since the gas explosion which wrecked her home, last month, was taken to Dallas for Medical treatment this week. Mrs. Molesworth's condition is not serious it was reported.

THERE—Mrs. Martin Hamilton, 85, pioneer of East Texas was buried at Athens last Saturday in a homemade casket to comply with her wish before her death.

HERE—J. Freedman of San Antonio was in Clarendon Monday to visit his nephew, Isadore Mellinger. Mr. Freedman is connected with a Kansas City manufacturing company.

THERE—Alleging breach of a verbal contract to "remember her in his will," Mrs. Vina Grover, former Amarillo beauty operator, filed a suit asking for $100,000 against the estate of the late George Whittenburg. Mrs. Grover, 35, mother of two children, alleges that Whittenburg also promised to marry her.

THERE—Jack Holliday, the "Happy Jack" of B. M. Bowers "Flying U" western book was sentenced, recently, to one to 15 years in prison for selling whiskey to Indians. Happy Jack is still happy, according to reports.

Pioneer Memphis Attorney Dies at Home Monday

MEMPHIS, Feb. 24.—Judge S. A. Bryant, 70, pioneer Texas attorney and former legislator, died at his home here Monday following a short illness of pneumonia. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist Church.

For a number of years he was engaged in private practice and later served as county attorney. He was at one time member of the lower house of the Texas Legislature from this district. For the past several years, farming interest have engaged his attention.

Two Cars Damaged in Crash Here Saturday

Two automobiles were badly damaged here Saturday in a collision at the "jail" corner. No one was seriously hurt.

Albert Parker (colored) was said to be coming east and E. Temple (also colored) was driving south when they met at the intersection.

Parker, who was driving a car belonging to Homer Parsons, was hurled from the car and was lying stunned near the sidewalk, witnesses said. The Parsons car skidded around and was pointed west with one wheel over the curb.

Randall Gets $3,000 More For Erosion Act

CANYON, Feb. 24.—$3,000 additional money has been sent to Randall county for listing under the emergency erosion act. $5,000 was received some time ago. This money will make possible the listing of 40,000 acres in Randall county, but this amount of money is not sufficient to do all of the listing which now looks to be necessary. More money has been requested, but there is no indication that it will be allowed.
