DONLEY COUNTY IS INCLUDED IN FORTY EIGHT COUNTY EROSION CONTROL PLAN

Control Measures to Consist of Combinations of Listing and Cover Crops. Maximum Price Under This Plan is 75 Cents An Acre

Donley is included in forty-eight Texas counties that will be affected by the wind erosion control plan of the agricultural conservation program, Jack Shelton executive of College Station, announced recently.

The program is designed to lessen damage for the rest of this year and most of next. Cooperating farmers may earn 75c an acre by complying.

Assisting Donley County Agent, Claude Moore said Monday that no information pertaining to the project had been received here but would undoubtedly be in the office soon.

Counties affected include Andrews, Armstrong, Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dallam, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Donley, Ector, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Glascock, Gray, Hale, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Howard, Hockley, Hutchinson, Kent, Lamb, Lipscomb, Loving, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Moore, Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, Farmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, Terry, Wheeler, Winkler and Yoakum.

Control measures will consist of combinations of listing and cover crops. Each farmer with land suffering from wind erosion may have wind erosion acreage established for his farm. The maximum limit a farmer can earn by wind erosion control practices will be 75c an acre for the established number of acres. Practices for which payments will be made will include several types of contour listing and furrowing and the planting of cover crops which may be undertaken in combination with the listing and furrowing practices.

Rate for contour listing was cited as 25c an acre, for cover crops 50c an acre when seeded on the contour or in combination with certain types of listing, or 35c an acre otherwise. Cover crops for this practice are limited to the sorghums, sudan grass or millet. Stalks must be left on the land for a designated period to lessen wind damage.

On practices completed before June 1, payment of 85 per cent of the amount earned will be made as soon as possible after completion of the control measures. Other AAA payments for 1937 will be made at the end of the crop season.

Rise And Fall of Humanity Due To Soil Haunter Says

Creation of New Frontiers Pictured By R. A. Head In Lecture Tuesday Night

Tracing the rise and fall of generations throughout the world, L. H. Hauter, Regional Director of the Resettlement Administration, Amarillo, who spoke in the Clarendon College Auditorium Tuesday night, declared man has ever been dependent upon the soil for subsistence.

Mr. Hauter pictured the creation of new frontiers as humanity pushed on in search of new and fertile lands. Likewise, he called attention to extinct civilizations, which, he said, are remembered today only in the pages of history and which crumbled and passed away with the destruction of life-giving soils.

Directing attention to the wind and water erosion problems facing this country today, the speaker said these two evils must be met and conquered if America is to maintain its place as one of the world's great powers.

"Human problems," he continued, "are directly associated with land problems. We know that poor lands lead toward the impoverishment of those who work such lands. Sub-marginal land will not support life."

Following a vivid presentation of the picture this country faces today in reclaiming lost lands and preventing the destruction of additional soil and human resources the speaker explained the Resettlement Administration's program in the Southwest and particularly in Donley County.

Preceding Mr. Hauter's address, Garford Wilkinson, information adviser for this federal agency, presented an interesting sound film in connection with the agency's work.

Tuesday noon, Mr. Wilkinson made a brief address and showed the film at the Lion's Club.

Both programs were arranged by J. R. Gillham, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH By the Apostle

Were the writer a cartoonist, he would picture Governor Jimmie as sitting on the capitol steps whittling a sharp stick, with the "sit-downers" looking across the state line. Atta boy, Governor!

Looking over the dailies Monday, there were accounts of CIO's organizing under the influence of ball bats and pick handles if not a shot gun or two. Right on down the column Idaho sheep men were complaining that eagles were destroying their sheep in bunches. If it ain't one thing, it is two.

Speaking of eagles, were we Hindu's, we would worship our national bird. We would feel constrained to permit eagles to do as they will regardless. To shoot at the national bird would be regarded as sacrilegious pretty much as some regard criticism of the supreme court. This recalls a time years ago when the writer was a rancher. In riding pasture he was astounded to see the national bird—a bald eagle—attacking a calf. The mother cow was doing her best but having no organization, she was fighting a losing battle. Well sir, that 30-30 saddle gun came out of the scabbard instantly, and within a split-second, a soft-nosed bullet had struck that national emblem bird rendering him hors-de-combat, and de novo if not e-pluribus-unum That's what happened when the President's verbal shot struck the supreme court. They just laid off the helpless portion of humanity and got good all of a sudden.

Out at Bozeman, Montana Sunday, two men stold 500 skunk hides. 'Bleed' hounds ought to trace that pair without a doubt. Punching a 'posum out of a tree with a cane pole on a fishing trip one night on the Pecos was not so hot either. It was a skunk.

The Amarillo News advertises "Wesberry Cleaners." Must be something similar to a "cherry pitter!" But what is a "Wesberry?"

Comes now one Dr. Max Tolemy who deposes and says that he has 'evolved' a world language to which he has given the name of "Gloro." As a sample of what one might expect, "Nia skopo, sub fortunaza auspictii, dil prospero," means a sentence. It is not intended for the common herd, but only for intellectuals, he hastens to remark. In the sentence above, which has to do with a speech uttered by the President in South America, the common herd may recognize a reference to "dill pickles," though an "i" be missing. Most every world language advocate finally gets "into a pickle."

"What is a headline?" Was the first question of a list given a class in college journalism. The reply was prompt, and read: "A wrinkle on the forehead!"

Back in the old days, who played the orchestra while the bad boys did their wild west shootin' and tootin' that we now hear in the movies?

Member way back when the folks would bring in something to sell, and what they could not sell, they dumped at their doctor's office. If they had of found a buyer, the doctor would have kept on holding the sack.

In a big town down state recently a bunch had gathered for a big feed. Among the speakers was a fellow by the name of G. C. Hester who was up on governmental affairs, and they wanted to hear

"Ahoy, Sailor!"

Popeye spies the world's second greatest sailor, Sinbad, in Max Fleischer's three-dimension, full-color two-reel, "Popeye the Sailor Meets Sinbad the Sailor," showing Saturday at the Pastime Theatre.

NEW TRIUMPHS

Popeye the Sailor, "two-fisked" hero of cartoon strip and screen, reached an important milestone in his movie career with the production of his first full-color, three-dimension film, "Popeye the Sailor Meets Sinbad the Sailor," the first two-reel cartoon ever made. The film is booked to appear Saturday on the bill of the Pastime Theatre. A product of the Max Fleischer Studio, New York, for Paramount, it was filmed in Fleischer's new third-dimension system for animated cartoons.

what he had to say. But what he did have to say certainly trimmed their eye brows.

"Texas has today one of the most out-of-date, inefficient and wasteful systems for administration of public affairs that can be found in the English-speaking world," Mr. Hester said. After the crowd had caught a fresh breath, Hester declared that "the test of statesmanship today appears to be to collect tax money and spend it foolishly." That man Hester got 'em told.

Among the audience were a number of state law-makers. Some of the very fellows who have been making more bureaus and appointing more and more committees to spend more and more tax money.

More speakers like Hester might wake up the taxpayers. If the voters woke up and made the lawmakers afraid of their jobs, the public would get some consideration. About every time Gov. Allred asks that something be done to save expenses, the majority of the lawmakers do their worst to show the Governor that they don't have to do it.

The old Apostle has gone high-brow. Believe it or not, he has an invitation to attend the coronation of the king of England May 12th, and nothing else but. The invitation comes from L. C. Cumming, Esquire, A. C. A., Effingham House, Arundel Street, London, W. C. 2. He says: "As you are aware on May 12th next, the Coronation of Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, of England, will take place at Westminster Abbey with all the glittering ritual and ceremony with which this event has been associated for hundreds of years past. This event will arouse world-wide interest, and will be one of the greatest outstanding scenes of historic splendor and pageantry of our life time," so Cummings states in one paragraph of a long letter.

The Apostle would like to go over. He wants to see how a nation gets along with one king when we have nine. GW wants to stick a long, but there is the cow to milk. Besides that, her hens are hatching and she cannot find any one to sing lullabies to chicks just as effectively as she does. Chickens and one lone cow will knock her chanes of the big show into a cocked hat. But the old man is going. He's just as good as off. He never has believed in the divine right of kings. Maybe they will prove it. Besides being born lucky, George hasn't done a blamed thing so far. When he gets to be king of England, he won't have as much authority as a district judge, much less one of our higher judges. In fact he won't rate with a constable in authority. When it comes to salary—boy, howdy! That's where this king business pays, and pays big. So long as they have 'em fooled, oke-doke. When they wake up, or get a notion to enter politics right, they declare the nation a republic and rotten politics corrales their attention from there out.

MIDWAY SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Harlan taught school Friday afternoon, while Miss Harlan made a trip to Memphis. George Seaton is certainly loyal to his school mates, being exposed to the mumps and some of the other students who are to enter the League meets at Pampa having not had the mumps, he remained at home the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Millsap visited relatives in Memphis Saturday; then spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Rhodes at Tell, Texas.

The 7th and 8th grades visited court Thursday. Mr. Seaton took the boys, and Mr. Moreland, Mr. Millsap and girls. Judge Moss made them a talk on government which they enjoyed very much.

The bus stuck in the sand Thursday morning and pupils had to "push out." Children living west of the school do not know what they missed.

Mr. Millsap plans to take four pupils to Dist. meet at Pampa Friday and Sat. Lucille Goldston in essay writing and Sr. declamation; Beryl Longan, Boyce Pierce and George Seaton in track.

The Midway literary society is to meet Wednesday night of this week. There will be a program presented by the school children.

LIPS FROZEN WITH FEAR

"Death to squealers" was the only law of the bloody legions, but a woman's kisses made Humphrey Bogart blast a confession in the most daring expose ever filmed. It is "Black Legion," the Warner Bros. picture which will be showing at The Pastime Theatre, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday—April 21-22-23rd.

MOVIES DON'T PREACH, BUT THEY SOMETIMES TEACH LESSONS OF VALUE

"Black Legion" Not Propaganda Picture, Yet Exposes Evils of Vicious Secret Order

When a motion picture stirs national discussion, it is because of the subject rather than any attempt of the producer to start something.

This was true even of "I Am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang," which became the center of a whirlwind of debate several years ago. No showman would think of using an important picture as propaganda.

Humphrey Bogart, featured player of the Warner Bros. melodrama "Black Legion," which opens Wednesday, April 21st at the Pastime Theatre, made this point strongly in a recent interview.

"If there is one thing that has no place in a theatrical show it is an attempt to preach. The province of a film play is to entertain. If there happens to be a lesson in it, the audience puts it there.

"In making 'Black Legion,' for instance, we knew that America was wrought up over newspaper accounts of the masked terrors in Michigan. It was humanly interesting and full of drama.

"We did not hedge. We dramatized it fully and truthfully. We showed why men joined the Black Legion. Why they wore masks and robes. Why they did not stop at murder.

"It is strong melodrama and we tried to get it all. If there is any lesson in it, I had nothing to do with that. My business is entertainment, and I simply tried to show how a deluded Black Legionnaire would conduct himself."

Bogart is comparatively a newcomer to films. His very first appearance was a sensational success. He played Duke Mantee, the bandit who killed Leslie Howard, in "Petriefied Forest." Later he was the daring and likable pilot of the "China Clipper."

"Black Legion" is a daring and thrilling melodrama based upon the actual operations of the secret, hooded, night-riding order which terrorized Michigan recently.

The cast includes, besides Bogart, Dick Foran, Ann Sheridan, Erin O'Brien-Moore, Helen Flint, and others.

Sister G. G. Reeves Dies In Oklahoma City

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Reeves and children left here Tuesday afternoon upon receipt of a telegram informing them of the death of Mrs. Juanita Ledford. No information was given in the telegram except that she died late Monday from a gunshot wound.

The following item was carried in the Wichita Falls Daily News Wednesday:

"Mrs. Juanita Ledford, 23, bride of four months, was found dead at her home here late Monday, a bullet wound in her head. Evert Crismore, acting coroner, returned a verdict of suicide.

Her husband, J. D. Ledford, 39, who found the body on a bed, told police his wife had been despondent over ill-health."

Mrs. Ledford, before her marriage, was an investigator here for the Old Age Assistance Commission. She was very successful as a school teacher and possessed high technical schooling as a business woman. Mrs. Marion Reynolds of Shamrock is a sister.

SOMEBODY'S LITTLE BOY

Somebody's boy was crossing the street

Innocent, young and fair. He hadn't the judgment of older folks.

He didn't see the danger there.

Somebody's boy had a song on his lips,

But it died in an instant away, For a motorist ran the little boy down,

And he died at the close of day.

Somebody kneels by an empty bed, And fondles a little shoe.

Somebody looks through the empty years,

Suppose this somebody were you.

Will you watch for the little boys, Drivers in the city and town?

Really, it's one of the greatest crimes

To run a little boy down.

Believe It or Not
One car wheel and two wheels of a loaded trailer ran over one arm and lower limb of Mrs. Porter Arnold the past week and she only received a bruised spot.

Wednesday of last week we had a rain, a hail and some sleet in the midst of one of the severest sandstorms of the season.

John Goldston planted roasting ears on Friday.

H. M. Breedlove, J. H. McMurry and Charles Bairfield attended the federal range school in Iowa Park last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Estlack spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Estlack at Vernon.

THEIR LIVES are in your hands

WHEN BLOW-OUTS KILL OR INJURE THOUSANDS, WHY NOT GIVE YOUR FAMILY GOLDEN PLY BLOW-OUT PROTECTION!

IT'S WORTH the one minute it takes to read this because it may save your life. And here's why: At today's high speeds the heat generated inside your tires is terrific—as hot as boiling water. This heat causes rubber and fabric to separate. A tiny blister forms—grows bigger and BIGGER—until sooner or later, BANG! It's a blow-out! Thousands of people are killed or injured every year in blow-out accidents.

But now there is no reason why you should take this chance. Goodrich Silvertowns have an amazing new invention—the Life-Saver Golden Ply. This Golden Ply resists heat so that rubber and fabric do not separate—blisters do not form—thus high speed blow-outs are checked before they ever get a chance to cause trouble. Come in today and see us about Golden Ply blow-out protection. Goodrich Silvertowns actually cost less than other super-quality tires!

WEEKLY SERMONETTE FROM THE CHURCH OF CHRIST

W. Wallace Layton, Minister

IN HIS PLACE

Article II

This lesson of putting yourself in the others place seems to be of such moment that it is worthy of further notice this week. We learned that this was the method of Ezekiel's preparation of helping God's people in the long ago; and that it was Christ's way of knowing how that he might help men; and that the greatest way that we might be of service to God is to help humanity, and this may be more efficient when we learn the lesson of putting ourselves in the other fellows place.

How helpful this would be in our relationships one to another! How looks the world from the windows of the sick room? We who enjoy life by our good health should sit in the seat of him who is imprisoned by disease. Then, and not until then can we be of greatest help and sympathy to them.

Again, the old need to sit in the seat of youth; to look upon everything as they look on it. We are prone to forget in old age the wild pulsations of youth; hence we become out of sympathy with our young, not only in the home but in the church as well. We cannot expect the youth of our land to act as the grown ups and the aged. It is not only impossible but ridiculously absurd. But youth can for a few moments put itself in the place of the aged. We are prone to discard the old folks as obsolete and out of date—thus we mock their words of advice, their methods, and their ways characterized by age and experience; but how seems such youthful arrogance to them. If we would but put ourselves in their place then perhaps we would be kinder and more gentle toward them.

The man of opportunity needs to sit in the seat of the unprivileged. The intellectually trained should look through the dirt-darkened and smoky windows of the ignorant. Then it will get a glimpse of the world through the eyes of the out-cast. How does life seem to him who is amidst the stench and filth of the swine pen? Who knows but what he has learned a great lesson by his fall, and is ready to return to "his father house"—but we give him no opportunity—our attitude is that of censor. What does the world look like when seen through the blood-shot and tear-dimmed eyes of her who is but a soiled rag of womanhood? Because the moral women (?) of our land and our church have shunned her who falls by the sin of violation many a girl has ended in harlotry, when possibly all would have been avoided had only someone put themselves in her place, to sit where she sat, then would she have been helped.

These things are but the effects of a cause—and that cause is the Golden Rule of our Lord. "Whatever therefore ye would that men do unto you, do ye also unto them."

HERE AND THERE

—By Dick Cooke—

THERE—California relief officers recently reported that an increasing flow of immigrants into the far west from the Dust Bowl had greatly surpassed the famous gold rush of 1848-50. Over 85,546 virtually destitute persons, mostly from the plains, had entered California in the last 15 months. This figure does not include countless thousands who rode freight trains or came as tourists without sufficient funds.

THERE—With an increase of 1,216,000 bales over 1932, Brazil looms as a principal threat to Texas cotton growers, since their crop largely displaces Texas cotton in Japan, Germany and other foreign countries. From 1925 to 1930 Brazil's yearly average was 525,140, but from 1933 to 1936 the average has increased to 1,419,000.

THERE—Dan Smith of Ohio drilled a gas well in his own back yard and says he doesn't expect to pay a gas bill for years to come. Smith was drilling in his yard when he found gas in a limestone formation at a depth of 300 feet. He piped the gas to his furnace and cook-stove. He says the supply is about right for family needs but too small for commercial use.

HERE—In what was probably the last case for this term of district court, Frank Hall pleaded guilty to forgery and was assessed a three year suspended term Thursday afternoon.

HERE—Coy Pierce, 2½ year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pierce was painfully injured last Friday when he fell on a chair corner. Coy's front teeth were driven into his gum, sheriff Pierce said. He was rushed to a physician's office where an anesthetic was applied before extraction.

HERE—Forfeiture of a bond in criminal court does not necessarily mean the sureties will lose the bonded amount. Suit for judgment is filed against the sureties, and defendant for the full amount and if sufficient evidence is produced by the defendants, no judgment is returned. The statute reads, in substance, that if sickness occurs, through no fault of the defendant, the bond cannot be defaulted.

HERE—No funds are available for state officers to obtain evidence in far off states, therefore in usual bond forfeiture suits, most of the evidence is presented by the defense.

THERE—John Baucom, 88, Ellis County pioneer, died Friday night of injuries received when his buggy was struck by a truck. A charge of murder was filed against the trucker, who told officers that it seemed that the light buggy was tossed in his path by a strong wind. He stopped and rendered aid. Baucom had used the buggy more than forty years, making almost daily trips to Italy and Milford.

HERE—Local F.F.A. Club boys are in training for the district leadership contests which will be held here in May. Chapter conducting, public speaking, debates, extemporaneous speaking, one act plays and news writing contests will be held. The district is composed of Clarendon, Memphis, Childress, Kirkland, Samnorwood, Estelline, Lakeview and Quail.
