

THREE KILLED IN GRADE--CROSSING CRASH

Train Demolishes Car Friday Noon

Jim Bozeman And James Williams Die Suddenly; Grandfather Dies Sun.

Two persons were killed almost instantly and a third died Sunday night in the Adair Hospital from injuries received when a Fort Worth and Denver passenger train struck their car at a grade crossing six miles west of Clarendon, Friday noon.

The dead: James Williams, 27, Pampa; Jim Bozeman, 19, Pampa; J. M. Bozeman, 70, Amarillo.

The two youths were the grandsons of J. M. Bozeman and the trio had been to a canteloupe patch to gather melons. They had left the field and were crossing the track when the accident occurred.

George Bullman, owner of the melon patch, was the only witness. He said he heard the train whistle and the crash and ran to the door in time to see the car tossed high into the air. The wreckage was strewn for a quarter of a mile along the track. The automobile appeared to have been hit directly in the center. Williams died instantly and young Bozeman lived only a few minutes after being picked up.

J. M. Bozeman clung tenaciously to life until 9:30 Sunday night when he succumbed without regaining consciousness.

Both of the youth's bodies were mangled. Only three wheels remained on the twisted chassis that had been the car. A trailer loaded with canteloupes also was wrecked.

J. M. Bozeman is a salesman of vegetables and melons and had been collecting a load for sale in Amarillo. Young Bozeman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bozeman of Pampa. They formerly lived in Hedley.

Williams had been living in Pampa for the last three months.

Funeral services were held in Hedley Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church for Williams and young Bozeman. Melvin J. Wise, minister of the South Side Church of Christ in Abilene and Rev. M. E. Wells of the Hedley Baptist Church officiated.

Services for J. M. Bozeman were held at the Hedley Baptist Church Monday afternoon. Rev. J. Perry King of Clarendon, assisted by Rev. M. E. Wells of Hedley, officiated.

James Henry Bozeman was born in Lelia Lake Texas, September 10, 1917. Besides his mother and father, he is survived by 5 sisters; Pauline, Gladys, Gertrude, Frances and Thelma, all of Pampa and two brothers, Horace and Karl, also of Pampa.

James Murrice Williams was born May 8, 1910 in Stephens County, Texas. He is survived by (See THREE, Page 8)

Sheriff Recovers Stolen Car Friday

Finds Automobile Within Few Hours After Report From Amarillo

Within a few hours after an automobile theft was reported by Amarillo police Friday, Sheriff Guy Pierce had recovered the car and had the alleged thief in the county jail.

The car's description was broadcast over the Amarillo radio station and a filling station attendant in Claude reported to Amarillo that he had seen the car going east on a side street in Claude.

Acting in response to a long distance call from Amarillo police, after the Claude call, Pierce drove a short distance west of town. He saw an automobile suddenly swerve from the pavement and stop. When he reached the car it proved to be the stolen automobile.

Pierce said the driver appeared very intoxicated and evidently the car had been driven many miles on a flat tire. Only a thin thread of rubber remained on a badly worn rim, he said.

Lelia Lake Oil Well Interest Continues

Efforts Being Made Toward Interesting Geologists And Drillers

Roy Turner, pulling casing on the Lelia Lake Oil Association well, last week emphatically denied the report that oil used on his jacks caused an erroneous rumor of a heavy oil showing in the 17-year abandoned test hole.

A story in the Leader last week saying it had been reported oil was used to facilitate removal of pipe drew fire from Lelia Lake residents.

Mrs. Kate Johnson, whose land the location is on, said Turner scouted the statement of oil coming from his equipment of being used in the hole by his crew. He said he was of the opinion a quantity of oil was in the well.

Discovery of oil came last week when the crew began pulling casing, oily water bubbled from the hole and escaping gas was clearly audible, it was said.

Observers of the well confirm Mrs. Johnson's statement of increasing oil and gas showings. Mrs. Johnson asserted an oil operator from Gray county told her he believed at least 200 feet of oil was in the hole.

Mrs. Johnson was also in communication with another company, she said, which would have a geologist in Lelia Lake this week.

Although test of the oil sent companies have not been reported on, Mrs. Johnson said an oil expert had burned the oil, taken from the hole, which produced a blue flame. Waste or fuel oil will not burn under the conditions, she said.

A movement is on foot to block acreage in the vicinity of the well. The test was abandoned in 1920 with the bit in pyrites of iron after a cost of $90,000 to stock holders.

The depth reached was 3,605 with oil sand supposedly at 3,800 feet. Three showings of gas and a showing of oil were reported by the log.

Mrs. J. T. Wilson Dies Here Sunday

Member of Prominent Family Had Resided in Donley County 34 Years

The eventful life of Mrs. Wilson came to a close following an illness of several months. Mr. Wilson passed away here in 1936. Rev. G. S. Hardy, friend of the family for more than a quarter of a century, conducted the funeral service at the Methodist church at 4 p. m. Monday.

Attending the casket were A. J. Bryan, Frank Whitlock, Marvin Hall, Joe Goldston, J. R. Bartlett, Frank Hommel. In charge of the flowers were Mmes. F. J. and W. O. Hommel, T. E. Crisp, J. R. Bartlett, Joe Cluck, M. W. Cook, Nathan Cox, Jess Mann.

Mrs. Wilson was a native of Louisiana, being born at Shangaou September 2, 1863, her maiden name being Genio Burns. The family moved to Wylie, Texas where she was married to J. T. Wilson in 1883. Greer county became the family home in 1887, and Donley county in 1903.

Mrs. Wilson was a typical pioneer lady, ever willing and ready to share the burdens, joys or sorrows that came in her daily life. She was a woman of strong christian character, faithful and devoted to her family and friends.

Surviving are four daughters, one having passed on in infancy. They are Mrs. Frank Williams of Dalhart; Mrs. Dewey Wood, McLean; Mrs. Kendrick Rector and Mrs. John Goldston of Clarendon. The three sons are Ernest W. of Dallas; Roy of Alamed; Jarrett of Pampa. The children of the family attended Clarendon College when Rev. G. S. Hardy was president.

A sister, Mrs. Fannie DeGraffenreid of Tulsa, came when Mrs. Wilson became critically ill several weeks back, and remained with her to the end.

The many friends of this pioneer family extend sincere sympathy in the passing of a mother who was loving and faithful, and who did much to aid in leaving the world better for having lived.

Harvest Festival At Wellington Sat.

Pageant and Specialty Acts Offer Very Interesting Program

Ten cars of boosters from Wellington were in Clarendon Wednesday advertising that city's Harvest Festival, which will be held Saturday, August 14. The Festival will start Saturday afternoon with a gigantic parade featuring Comanche Indians, three bands, a hundred floats, one full block devoted to a panorama of early day life, and many oddities, novelties and freaks.

The parade will introduce the night show that will be staged at the football stadium Saturday night. This show, "Two Minutes to Live," is a drama in pantomime of a Collingsworth County father, dying of a broken heart for his boy who went away to war never to return. It is a Cavalcade of Collingsworth County as the father recalls that progression of events that surrounded the boyhood of his son as they lived together.

Elaborate scenes and lighting effects will be used to show the various stages in the development of the son, starting from his birth in a half-dugout on the prairie and ending in a realistic re-enactment of the "Battle of Chateau Thierry" in which the Collingsworth youth gave his life.

A between act specialty will feature the drum of fate, a mammoth twenty foot drum copied exactly from one used in a religious ceremony in Tibet. Its use lends a weird and hypnotic effect to the between act scenes.

The afternoon parade will also have its share of fireworks with a great sky parade of daylight fireworks, but these will be only a reminder of the unusual spectacle of the night show.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—Government experts Monday predicted a bumper cotton crop of 15,593,000 bales. Prices reacted downward and Southern farm representatives renewed demands for federal crop loans to check the decline.

The accuracy of the estimate issued by the Federal Crop Reporting Board was questioned by Chairman Smith (D.-S.-C.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee. He expressed belief the board might be as much as a million bales off.

"Conditions under which the estimate was made may prove to be the most misleading in years," Smith said. He argued that August weather which he said, was not a factor in the forecast, was especially favorable to a tremendous boll weevil migration.

August, he added, is the crucial month for cotton and already may have cut prospects 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 bales under the estimate.

The 1937 yield predicted by the federal board would be 3,194,118 bales larger than last year's. The board said the crop is expected to yield 223.3 pounds per acre. Such a yield would be the highest ever recorded.

MEMBER OF PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

WHEN DALHART ENTERTAINS.

Though greatly underestimating her number of visitors for the XIT Roundup in making preparations, Dalhart citizens rallied to her defense with an abundance of hospitality when the pinch came Monday. Hotels, rooming houses, camp grounds taxed to the limit, private residences were volunteered in taking proper care of the thousands hailing from the several states as well as practically every town and hamlet of the Panhandle.

With her typical old-time hospitality, interesting and clean forms of entertainment, orderly type of appreciation expressed upon the part of visitors. Dalhart easily set a precedent for larger cities of Texas to shoot at.

No grumbling anywhere. No fault finding. Two full days of fun and pleasant association. The pageant alone was easily pronounced as ahead of anything being shown in Texas today. This is not the opinion of one or dozens, but thousands who have visited the larger centers recently.

The fact that Dalhart was chosen by unanimous choice as the permanent meeting place of the XIT Roundup annually, is being received with universal approval. They have the XIT ranch with volumes of history as a background. They have the people who have the judgment and determination to capitalize upon a native resource. They refuse to recognize handicaps. Laboring under hardships and adversities for seven years, they have become inured to what others might term impossibilities.

Dalhart, we salute you as the Queen City of southwestern entertainers. Your attendance next year will be five times as great. You have laid a foundation for future building. We are with you, and for you.

THE REST OF THE RECORD

BY JAMES V. ALLRED Governor of Texas

San Luis Potosi, Mexico, August 7, 1937.

In Texas we boast of our southern hospitality; in Mexico, the people don't boast of it; they live it! From the moment when Mrs. Dominguez, wife of the Mexican vice-consul at Laredo, presented a beautiful bouquet to Mrs. Allred as we crossed the international boundary until now, I have never witnessed such courtesy, such hospitality as has been extended to us on every hand.

As I told you last week, the Mexican Government invited us to be their guests, even furnishing transportation over the railroad. We have now passed through the capital cities of three Mexican states and at each one great crowds, including the Governor, the Mayor, representatives of the military and the business men have met us at the station with a band, presented beautiful bouquets to Jo Betsy (my wife), and given us the very best of entertainment as long as we were with them. Of course, we realize this is an honor they are extending not to Jimmie Allred, but to the Governor of Texas; and that's why I'm prouder than ever before of the high honor the people have bestowed upon us.

We spent one day at Monterrey, capital of Nuevo Leon. It is quite modern and somewhat Americanized. We saw many Texas people there, most of them tourists, of course. We visited one of the most beautiful and modern hospitals I have seen anywhere, the gift of a fine old Mexican gentleman, a Mr. Muguerza. One of the finest glass factories in the world is located in Monterrey. It is almost unbelievable to see how they melt sand in furnaces, then drop it in red-hot pieces into various kinds of moulds where it is shaped as it cools into bottles, vases, pitchers, plates and glassware of every character. As I watched this preparation put through the burning fire, yet emerge fine-spun and clean and beautiful, it made me wonder if sometimes human beings aren't put through a torturing, searing fire—a great sorrow, for instance—that they may emerge, tested and tried, a finer, cleaner character.

American money is of course, more than Mexican money. You exchange one dollar American money for $3.60 Mexican. I got $36.00 in Mexican bills and silver for a ten dollar bill. It made me feel quite "flush" to have so much money in my pocket. I owed Jo Betsy ten dollars when we left Texas so I paid her the same amount in Mexican and still had $26.00 left. Your money seems to go farther here, everything is considerably cheaper.

Our next stop was Saltillo, once the capital of Texas when we belonged to Mexico. It is a beautiful little city of 60,000, nestling a mile high in the mountains, nice and cool in the daytime and almost chilly at night. I was surprised to find it quite an educational center. They have just started an experimental agricultural school there, trying to teach the sons of farmers to whom the Mexican Government has recently given lands the practical side of farming, stock raising and dairying. It is remarkable to see how these people, who were torn by revolution and war less than twenty years ago, have progressed; and how hard they are trying to better conditions for the underprivileged classes here.

We have met many wonderful people here, some of them educated in Texas. On every hand were evidences of culture and refinement—a wonderful art gallery, fine school buildings and music everywhere. The people are overly friendly. They are completely wedded to the "Good Neighbor" policy of President Roosevelt; they love him almost as much as we do and they adore their own President, Lazaro Cardenas. I felt like saying in Saltillo, "Thank God for a people with friendship in their hearts and music in their souls."

As you perhaps know, a fine new highway has been completed all the way from Texas to Mexico City. It is wide open, a marvelous drive and perfectly safe. Since things are so much cheaper, I want to suggest to all of you who can that you make plans to spend a vacation down here some time in the future. You will enjoy it. My wife's mother and my oldest son, Jim Boy are with us, and they, too, are having the time of their lives. Like every other boy of his age, Jim Boy is full of curiosity. He has been all over the train to find out how things work, turning off lights, turning on water, etc., but he is a little timid about scouting around these Mexican places much.

The Mexican Government sent consul Dominguez from Laredo with us, and the American Government ordered Bill Blockner, our consul at Monterrey to accompany us throughout our stay. They have insisted on us staying at the American Embassy in Mexico City, so we are looking forward to a grand time this week. I'll try to have something more interesting to tell you next week. "Adios!"

Miss Virginia Wisdom of Amarillo, spent over Sunday here visiting homefolks.

John Butler of Claude and Walter Butler of Borger, were in Clarendon Monday visiting their father, S. W. Butler, east of town, who is ill.

This is the time of year when the public regards a girl winning first place in a canning contest as being worth as much to her community as the captain of the girls basketball team.

When a member retires from the Supreme Court, he is entitled to $20,000 a year pension under the law sponsored through by Cong. Hatton W. Sumners of Dallas. Already widows of presidents draw a pension of that amount. That may be exactly right but if it is, every old farmer and any other workman is entitled to the same pension. If the widow of a president is entitled to that twenty thousand a year, every hardworking farmer's wife is more entitled to it because the farmer's wife earned hers. That form of pension is called a subsidy and the idea came from the countries where they have kings, lords, dukes, rams, and revolutions. America needs neither of them.

J. Edgar Hoover, head of the G-Men, says that "if the cost of crime could be held up for two years, there would be enough money saved to pay the national debt. That means that crime alone costs this nation more than fifteen billions of dollars annually. Right here in Donley county, there has been times when the trial of one individual cost the county more money than it would take to conduct the average rural school a full term. Then on top of all that, the jury would become chicken-hearted and give the culprit a light sentence so he could get out and begin raising more hell in less than a year.

There is a reason why a genius always chooses a dumb mate. If she had any sense, he would drive her crazy.

Japan announces the likelihood of further 'incidents' in China. After hatching up the first, there is no question as to Jap ability to hatch out most anything they want. America hasn't much over there except major oil company properties, and that isn't worth fighting for anyhow.

Well sir, one can get some of the most enlightened theology right at home some time. Just yesterday a man came in and said, "It's hot as the hinges of hell out there in the street."

Down southwest of here, the basis for heat measurement is a small stub-nosed pepper often grown in a pot as an ornament. It is a thousand times hotter than this bottled lighting sauce made in Louisiana. You know. The kind put up in a bottle that tapers on four sides to a port hole at the top. Hot-zikity!!!

What is more disgusting these days than to hear some pot-bellied politician crowing about helping to put over this social security that "kept the old folks from want?" It's getting so in Texas that no one but an abject pauper can draw a pension. Negroes and Mexicans make up the larger portion of paupers.

The doctors of the south have had about as much luck fighting malaria as the missionaries have had in trying to christianize the Chinese. And for the same reason. Natives are prejudiced against anything their forefathers did not use and endorse.

The Wages and Hour Bill that has been causing so much fuss in our national lawmaking capitol for several days is a political measure designed to gain union labor votes. Suppose a union man could get big wages for a few hours labor, where would he benefit if the prices of food and clothing were shot so high he would be robbed over the counter. Of course the retailer has nothing or little to do with the 'chisler', but the factory and wholesaler will do a plenty to the consumer. On the other hand, if factory men are entitled to make a certain profit on their labors, why not the farmer? Our telephone, electric, gas and other public utilities companies are permitted by law to so base their rate as to guarantee to them a certain percent of gain. Are farmers, the boys who produce what we eat and wear, allowed any such special favors? Not by a dang sight. This idea of class legislation is a political joke. That bunch in Washington would do the nation a favor to shut up and go home and cut expenses. In fact that is what they should have done months ago.

Do some folks hold open a screen door because they can't hear through it, or is it because they can't realize the value of screens?

If you have never sat down with comrades of the range of thirty or more years ago in a reunion, you have missed one of life's most pleasant experiences. We old-timers from here ate sour dough bread from a Dutch oven, camp coffee, barbecued beef and "county attorney" with trimmings around two chuck wagons at Dalhart Monday and Tuesday. Grizzled veterans of the old pioneer ranch days mixed with younger men and swapped stories. Yes, more than that: They swapped friendship's warm pulsations such as is seldom found in mankind. Ladies there? Yes, those grand old characters who braved the frontier, years and years ago. It was a happy event up Dalhart way. Those people did next to the impossible. They took plain courage and the experience of seven years of hardships and built a foundation of friendship that will last through the century - - - perhaps longer. Quien sabe?

At the Dalhart Texan daily newspaper office manager Ed Bishop, Bill Autry, Russell Clark and others were a busy bunch the two days. Double duty was imposed upon them in keeping their regular work going, and in entertaining the crowd of visitors at the same time. The Texan appeared to be general headquarters for information, SOS calls for beds or rooms and a galaxy of other wants of the stranger attracted to the XIT Reunion.

Now they want a law to stop dentists from advertising. What a nerve! Did these taxeaters never hear of the Bill of Rights? If we want to "go Russia" that would be a good start. When the new deal put a poor Jew in jail for pressing a pair of pants for 5c less, the newspapers made it back up. But if they can tell you what ads to put in, they will soon tell you what news to keep out—like in Italy and Germany.—Claude News.

15-Cent Cotton Loan Urged By Cotton Men

DALLAS, August 4.—Cotton bankers and business leaders here Monday urged Congress to authorize 15-cent cotton parity loans during its present session. The clash in ideals between three newspaper people, Charlie Ruggles, Frances Farmer, his daughter, and Fred MacMurray, her sweetheart, brings about the powerful climax in "Exclusive," the drama by John C. Moffitt, which opens Tuesday at the Pastime Theatre. The cast also includes Lloyd Nolan. The picture was directed by Alexander Hall. (Advt.)

NEWSPAPER WAR IS BACKGROUND OF "EXCLUSIVE"

A fight-to-the-finish war between two rival newspapers forms the colorful background of the dramatic story "Exclusive," which brings Fred MacMurray, Frances Farmer and Charlie Ruggles to the screen of the Pastime Theatre beginning Tuesday, August 17th.

Written for the screen by John C. Moffitt, one of the nation's outstanding motion picture critics recently signed to write film stories, "Exclusive" tells of a clash in principles between a father, an old school newspaperman who places his ideals before gain, and his daughter, a modern girl who believes that journalism, like any other profession, is a racket to be worked for what it will bring the individual.

Charlie Ruggles plays the father role, the first major dramatic role of his career, and Miss Farmer plays the role of daughter. She is in love with MacMurray, who works with her father and who shares the older man's principles. They break when Miss Farmer refuses to change her attitude toward journalism.

The powerful climax is reached when an article written by Miss Farmer causes one of the town's leading citizens to commit suicide. This makes it necessary for Ruggles to report the event and to reveal his daughter's methods.

The newspaper which employs Miss Farmer is owned by Lloyd Nolan, a crooked politician. The manner in which Ruggles' paper triumphs over Nolan makes "Exclusive" a fast-moving, thrilling and highly entertaining motion picture which is also valuable for the insight it gives into the actual running of a large newspaper. The picture was directed by Alexander Hall.

A Bank's First Duty

A banks first duty to its depositors is not just simply a slogan. It rests in the fact that most of its customers are depositors who do not borrow; in fact less than 15% borrow at all.

It is obvious that the banker must give his first thought to the 85% who bring their funds to him in confidence, asking only that he safe guard them. Therefore, a bank must manage its money in a way to meet the withdrawals, which are usually with out notice.

In order to function properly a commercial bank should supply temporary financial needs, only, to persons or firms and should not undertake to furnish permanent capital.

PANHANDLE'S TOP-FLIGHT GOLFERS EXPECTED FOR TOURNEY

LARGE FIELD EXPECTED FOR FIRST ROUND MATCHES HERE SUN. MORNING

Final Grooming of Links Completed This Week And Course Will Be In Fine Condition For Golfers Gathering For the Two Day Tournament

The Hillcroft golf links received a final grooming this week to put the course in tip-top condition for the eighth annual tournament Sunday and Monday.

Entries are rolling in and the cream of the Panhandle crop is expected to be on hand when the first shots are fired in competition, Sunday morning.

Local merchants have subscribed liberally to the prize fund and winners, runners-up and consolation winners will receive generous awards.

Thomas Hampton, J. D. Webster and R. S. Greene will swap shots under the Memphis banner while Lyle Holmes, B. F. Holmes, Frank Metchem, Cabot Brannon and O. T. Nicholson will be here from Shamrock.

Jim Richardson, the par shooting Indian from Lefors, was one of the first entrants. Del Love, Pampa County Club pro, said in a long distance telephone conversation, that that city would have a delegation headed by the Austin's.

Amarillo has promised a contingent as well as Hereford, Canyon, Borger. Childress, Paducah, Crowell, Quanah and Vernon had not notified the committee by this morning but they are expected to have representation.

Match play will begin about eight o'clock Sunday morning and continue through Monday with the finals in all flights set for 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Clarendon will again attempt to keep the title at home with Dude Gentry, Ira Merchant, Billie Cooke and M. P. Gentry bearing the brunt. Only on two occasions has the crown left this city. Paul Denson of Amarillo captured the crown away back before the record and Elliott Hatch of Fort Worth downed Reginald Greenhaw 2 and 1 in the finals in 1933.

The record only goes back to 1931 and gives Al Cooke as the champion. Ira Merchant emerged on top for the 1932 title and Dick Cooke downed Thomas Hampton for the crown in 1934.

Ira Merchant repeated with a win over B. F. Holmes in 1935 and Billie Cooke grabbed the championship last year by taking Thomas Hampton, the hard luck golfer here, by 2 and 1.

District Griders To Swing To Work

Training Periods Will Be Underway This Month

The click of booted footballs will resound around the district 3-B circuit the later part of this month as clubs enter training sessions for the coming grid race.

Clarendon High School Broncho prospects will gallop in off of the range some time next week to greet newly elected head coach Harold (Chesty) Walker who has just completed the Texas High School Coaching Association school at Waco.

After a two-weeks "looksee" coach Walker will probably be able to cut out no more than a mediocre string for his 1937 remuda although spring training ballyhoo boomed the horses as blooded stallions.

Memphis, under the direction of coach Frank A. Hubbell and assistant W. R. Dees, probably got the jump of the district when they announced last week they would open limbering up exercises Tuesday.

With the announcement went the statement that eight first string men from last year would play this fall.

Wheeler, another brand of horses, hope to repeat for the district crown and the Mustangs will center off to Nocona for a training period about Saturday. Thirty-five boys are slated to make the trip and Stina Cain, who'll try to

"Well, Lucindy, I'm powerful glad ye never give into yer ole man, because Susan Scroggins sez if yer give in oct ye have ter keep on givin in and in these days of wimmin suferance, Susan says us wimmin cant afford to take too much back talk from our ole men fer if we allow them to git to think they're the boss and begin to do the drivin so it behooves us wimmin folks not to take no sass whatever from the men folks but to hold out plum firm agin em when we git our heds sot in the way they ort to be sot," declared Mrs. Tweekins, as the three cronies once more resumed the conversation in regard to Mrs. Rainwater's traveling experiences.

"Yes, and I might a let him git out by hisself if he hadn't spoke them remarks about figgerin' on gittin' down to the special settin' of the Texas legislater whar I told yezums all them wild female vampires holds forth a seekin' who they may devour."

"Shore they do," agreed Safronia Higgins.

"Yes and also at that thar Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition now a holding forth thar in Dallas wher every body in Texas and else wher is a going these days to see the biggest show ever pulled off in Texas and wher any ole man said he purposed to sojourn for several days until he got it all took in, beins he sez it is too darn big to see all in one day so he figgered to spend sevrl days thar a viewin them sights and gittin acquainted with them furn countries a being represented thar and—"

"Yes," interrupted Mrs. Tweekins, "it looks like every body in Texas and else wher is now headed for Dallas to see the big Pan American, and I reckon if me and Eberneezzer don't figger out some way to git them younguns of ourn down thar to Dallas before cotton pickin sets in we'll never git another lick of work out of 'em; because now since the skule teacher has notified 'em all that she figgers to take sevrl crowds of her scholars down to Dallas this summer to view the Pan American so's they can git some knowledge in their heads first hand about what them South American Countries does and raises, me and Eberneezzer aint had nary minute's peace from them younguns of ourn a threatenin to git on one of them sittin down strikes and refuse to pick ary boll of cotton until Eberneezzer promises to let 'em all go to view the Pan American Exposition. Our biggest boy Pat Neff, sez he pinteedly aint a goin to set out here at Coon Skin Crossin a growin up in plum dumb ignorance when thar sets the biggest educational PanAmerican Exposition in Dallas wher he can git more eddication in 2 days than he can in ten years of schoolin right here at Coon Skin Crossin."

"Yes thar big Exposition is powerful eddicating and youuns ought to let 'em go thar sevrl times twixt now and Oct. 31st. But as I wuz sayin I warnt going to take no more chances on lettin my ole man go to that Exposition all alone by hisself and seat hisself in one of them Bowen Rickisha carts long side of a female women (one of them Texanitas) and have a boy a pushin her and him all over them Exposition grounds a seein the sights like I ketched him a doing last summer at the Centennial with one of them Rangeretts her dressed up in skin tight britches jest reachin to her knees and a man's shirt and a big ten gallon hat on."

"Shet yer mouth! You say ye ketched him a doing sich a scandalous caper?"

"Yes and them headed for the Streets of Paris and I knowed he'd be a rambling along on the La Rambla headed for the Road to Rio if he got a good chance to git away by hisself on a tarveling tower."

"Now, Lucindy, do go an' tell more about yer travelin trip out thar to Clarendon an' do tell who is some of them ol' Coon Skin Crossin' boys who you diskivered alvin' thar in Clarendon a-runnin' the town an' all of 'em a-settin on top of the earth, Tobe Spilkins sez," urged Safronia Higgins.

"Well, whilst he was a walkin' backards and fords a braggin' about his firgerations to be sich a up to date farmer down yander in Donley County.

"Did you say you perposes to buy a farm down thar night Clarendon," I asks.

AUNT LUCINDY

"Ye aint a-figgerin' on going back to Georgy to live then?" I asked still calmly knittin' on.

"Gol darn no! What in the Sam Hill do I want to be a traipsin' back to Georgy fer when I'm a livin' in the best state in the U. S. A. I'm figgerin' on santerin' down to Donley County, which they say is the best county in Texas whar a body kin raise jest about anything he wants to, if a feller will use a little elbow grease and do some figgerations with his head."

"He saunters over to the cupboard kinda biggity like and hope hisself to a big chunk of corn bread and then drewed up from the well sevrl bottles of Co Co Cola which appetizing helathful drink I told youuns my ole man is now a drinkin' stiddy goin' tryin' to wean hisself away from corn licker and him a gittin' more healthier every day from sich a practice, so to be shore I never sot out on our travelin tower until I sont down to Jeremier Plunketts store and got sevrl cartons of them Co Co Cola bottles for I warnt going to take no chances on him gittin all peeved up and all grouchy when a good cold bottle of Co Co Cola unpeeves him as soon as he gits it in his stummick."

"Shorenough? Now it has the same identical effect on my ole man Eberneezzer Tweekins."

"Oh I never set out no whars out a plum bountiful supply of that thar soothing artickle and to be shore me never dreaming then tha tBill Smith, the feller which come along and hope us out of the ditch wher my ole man had drive our lizzie fliver and hauls us immjuttly to the fine Co Co Cola Bottling works thar in Clarendon wher my ole man made arrangements with the obleegin Mr. Smithee to furnish us stiddy going with sevrl cases a week of that Co Co Cola which we figger to keep plum ice cold in our new Kelvinator Refrigerator which we bought from the Clarendon Hardware Co., to be sot up in our new bungalow thar in Clarendon and also in our Star Gas run Electrolux which we got the obleegin Mr. Thompson to install on our ranch in Donley Co not fur from Clarendon."

"Shorenough? Now I'm plum proud to know you was bethoughtful enough to lay in a good supply of that wholesome drink for they do say it is awful soothing and calmfyng to a body's nerves and when my own ole man Eberneezzer Tweekins begins to git peevisish I also hand him out a bottle of Co Co Cola which I keep settin under the house in a tub of cold water beins I aint hooked on to no high line nor no gas pipes to make my own ice but I have already done laid the law down to Eberneezzer Tweekins that when he sells our cotton this fall this here house is going to be plumbed up for STARGAS and from henceforth I figger to cook, wash, iron and make my own ice with STARGAS in a Electrolux same as the city wimmin does, and if the Lone Star Gas Co aint plum out of Stargas when we git our cotton crap marketed this fall I aim to march my self right to Dallas and figger with them Lone Star gas fellers on hooking us up to their STARGAS cylinders which I heerd tell they are now hauling out to farming folks in them big steel cylinders fur and nigh and at awful reasonable prices. So I don't see no use in us pore down trod farmers wives a sweating their selves to death in summer cooking on a ole wore out wood stove and freezin to death in winter when Lone Star Gas Co and supply 'em with that convenient artickle," spoke up Mrs. Tweekins.

"Oh don't be afraid of them enterprising Lone Star Gas fellers thar in Dallas ever runnin out of STARGAS, for they keep a big supply of it on hand and as you say ship it all over Texas to their customers. But speakin of my ole man a figgerin on settin out by hisself with nobody along with him to do the bossin of him, cep'n ole Tige, "an," sez he, a spittin' forgetful like on ol' Tige's tail, sez he I have got a letter from my niece, Alvirv Jones, wantin' me to come down thar an' buy a stock farm and whilst thar to take a look at her little new baby, Jimmie Allred, which she sez is the peartest baby in the whole world and gittin' more pearter every day an' she wants me to come down thar an' take a look at her little Jimmie before the peartness wears offen him."

"Yes, it don't take long these days for the peartness to wear offen youngsters an' them git too big for their britches in their knowin'ness," commented Mrs. Tweekins.

"Well, Alvirv think that's jest what will happen to her little Jimmie when she sets into weanin' of him, which she's now figgerin' on doin' and him buckin' wusser'n a bay steer agin' bein' weaned but her head sot on weanin' of him as soon as the sign of the zody act gits in the knees, her already being supplied with a fine cradle sent out to her by the obleegin' Louie Thompson from Thompson Bros. Furniture Co. thar in Clarendon wher Alvirv and all the rest of the folks in Donley County goes to git their fine furniture and that thar cradle being a present to Alvirv Jones from Louie Thompson hisself so's she can make him sleep in that cradle by hisself so's he wont be a kickin her in the stummick all night long and Louie said he knowed what she's in for when she sets into weaning of her little Jimmie."

"Lawdy massy why dont she put a sugar tit in his mought and let him bawl his head off like I done my little Jimmie Fergusson when I sot into weanin' of him", suggested Mrs. Tweekins.

Well I jist set thar calm and stilly goin and sez to him sez I.

"If Alvirv has got another new baby which you say she has named Jimmie Allred, more'n likely little Jimmie will be bawlin with the colic considerable. I'll jist wrap up a bottle of smoothin syrup and also some cough syrup of my own make, in yer linsen duster and I'll also wrop up a jar of strawberry preserves in yer new blue shirt and—"

JOHN KIRBY

JOE BAILY

"Hold on thar a minute," broke in Mrs. Tweekins. "Shorely Alvirv Jones aint got another baby has she, Lucindy? Why them two twins Jim and Miriam Fergusson, haint skercely 2 years old and I dont reckon them 2 big twinces, John Kirby and Joe Bailey is skercely as big enough to keep outer the fire yet ye say Alvirv has another new baby?"

"Yes, and John Kirby and Joe Bailey is plenty big enough ter keep outer the fire."

"Shorenough?"

"Alvirv shore is a-doin' of her duty a-multipliyng and replenishin' of the earth and besides them younguns mentioned, you know she has two twin gals now at the sparkin age, named after Margie Neal and Sarah Hughes, but you heerd tell didn't ye that she has changed the names of Joe Bailey to Tom Connolly?"

"Do shet your mouth. You say she has? Now how come?"

"Well, she sez that big U. S. Senator she named him after pears to be a more gitiner feller than Joe Bailey and she wants them boys of hern to be go giters but as I wuz a sayin Jeems he spit on ole Tige and sez he:

"No! Golurn ye no! You aint a goin to wrop no smoothin syrup up in my new blue shirt and desiple that thar garment, and besides Alvirv lives right thar nigh Clarendon wher she can send to the drug stores and git all the cough syrup she needs."

"Well, I jist sot thar plum calm and stiddy going never speakin no word back to him jist then fer I had done made up my mind I warnt going to let him git off on no seen Texas trip by hisself to git vampired by none of them wild women vampires. So I immjuttly begun packin that telescope which I have toted our belongings in for going on 20 years and it aint never busted yit still that day when my ole man run the lizzie fliver into the ditch on the highway beyant Longview and busted up the telescope as well as the lizzie fliver, and I reckon we might a been in that ditch till yit if Bill Smith, another ole Coon Skin Crossin' boy who immigrated out to Donley Co sevrl years ago aint come along, seed our predicament with both of us a tuggin and pullin all ole lizzie fliver to git her up out of the ditch and my ole man a cussin plus scanulous because he had busted the buckle offen his new belt

"Well, as I wuz sayin' when Jeems Rainwater seed me beggin' to pack my valeese and there warnt no chance to get she of me on that seen' Texas tower beins as my mind wuz plum done made up first and solid to go with him, he jist remarks, "Well, if you're so hell bent on goin' I reckon the devil hisself couldn't stop ye, but ye got to cut out givin' directions and weepin' me so frustrated up I can't drive for I aint a needin' no back seat drivin' and I can steer that car a heap more scientificker if you aint givin' me drivin' drictions. And when I git to Clarendon I might git me a new automobile if I have enough money left after gittin' one of them fine farm tractors from Thompson Bros. which I figger to do, because I'm plum fed up on hollerin at balky mules a tryin to git 'em along; and I purpose to do my farmin from now on out a ridin' on a tractor or a sulky plow, all of which artிக்கles can be bought from Thompson Bros. DRIVER LAW TO MEET DELAY

AUSTIN, August 11.—Enforcement of the new drivers-license law requiring examination of all new applicants, effective August 22, will be delayed possibly a month.

The Driver License Bureau plans driving tests in each county seat at least once weekly and will maintain permanent offices in larger cities, where examinations will be given daily. The bureau is formulating an administrative set-up with about 30 districts and a personnel of approximately 50.

Dog Electrocuted Here Sun. Should Be Example

A dog died suddenly of an electrical shock here Sunday afternoon which should prove an example to persons careless with electricity.

While sprinkling water at the rear of his tailor shop, D. T. Heath consented to the request of a boy to "shower bath" his pet.

Tied with a steel chain to an electric washer, the dog was killed instantly when the water was applied.

Water, a high conductor of electricity, highly intensified the current from a short in the machine.

Charles Lowry, manager of the West Texas Utilities, said the 110 volt current of average homes could be fatal with a strong conductor.

Roosevelt Thinker Held For Extortion

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 9.—Charged with attempting to extort money from President Roosevelt, William H. West, 47, who described himself as a projector of thought waves, was arrested Sunday by Norwood G. Green, a Secret Service agent.

Green said West claimed credit for bringing about Roosevelt's nomination at Chicago in 1932, and had written several letters to the President demanding either a job or adequate compensation for services rendered.

West, a Puerto Rican and an ordained minister, has lived here eighteen years. West told police he obtained the nomination for Roosevelt by transmitting thought messages to thirty-six convention delegates.

Legislation In Deadlock Over Crop-Wage-Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Angered by President Roosevelt's refusal to grant federal crop loans until a new crop control is assured, Congress blocked his wage hour measure today.

Many southern legislators lined up behind a movement to delay the wage and hour bill and compel the granting of price bolstering loans on cotton and other major crops.

Secretary Wallace declared at a press conference that if Congress wants to help farmers with government loans, on this year's crop, it will have to remain in session or come back before next year.

Observers, generally, took his remark to mean that he agrees with the President—that unless crops are controlled huge surpluses may wreck prices so badly that farmers will be unable to repay loans.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Simmons of Dallas arrived Saturday for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stewart.

RA Announces New Wheat Loan Policy

AMARILLO, August 11.—Regional Director L. H. Hauter of the Resettlement Administration, today outlined the policy of his organization toward loans for planting wheat this fall in the five-state area under his jurisdiction.

Instructions have gone to the rural rehabilitation supervisors that loans for wheat will not be made to applicants having less than 24 inches of moisture.

Hauter said that studies by the research divisions of this federal agency have clearly shown that the growing of wheat on lands not adapted to this crop has, in most instances, been unprofitable, and has actually increased the hazard of soil erosion.
