Communities Of County Winners At Rising Star

Valley Takes First Place For (Consecutive Year; Williams and May Follow

Out of a possible 100, the Wolf Valley community won first place in the community exhibition at Rising Star. This was the third year that the Wolf Valley had placed first. The community first exhibited at the county fair in 1932, winning second place in 1933 and again this year at the Wolf Valley community exhibition.

WORKS PROGRESS IS IN SECOND PHASE OF PLAN TO END RELIEF

With several thousand men engaged in swinging picks and shovels on dozens of projects in Texas, state Works Progress Administration officials have plunged well into the second phase of the program intended to eradicate relief rolls in Texas, according to a statement received from the state office in San Antonio.

Workers on the Lake Trammell flood damage repair project near Sweetwater Friday became first former relief clients to receive pay checks from Works Progress Administration. On that day also, 600 laborers began to earn their pay on four projects in the Houston WPA district.

First on the list of WPA projects to secure federal approval, flood damage repair jobs are already under way in several sections of Texas. All of the $300,000 federal allocation for that type of work has been allotted to Texas districts. State Project Director E. A. Haugh reported.

In addition to this lump grant, Texas has received federal allotment of $1,534,308 in local projects many of which have already been started or will start soon throughout the state.

As first authorizations to begin work were being mailed out to the districts whose projects were given early federal approval, state officials had completed final details on the handling of labor problems.

State officials' adopted the 140-hour month as standard working time on projects. H. P. Drought, State Administrator, announced early last week.

Explaining that some deviations from this policy would be necessary due to such variable factors as location of the projects or the availability of equipment, Drought declared that the 140-hour month will be maintained as closely as possible. Due to the nature of canning plant and sewing room activities, women will generally work 135 hours per month. Mrs. M. K. Taylor, State Women's Work Consultant, declared. In order to realize the full benefits of these projects, it will be necessary in some instances to work two shifts per day, Mrs. Taylor said. Women employees on other types of projects are expected to work the regular 140-hour month.

Where Legionnaires Work, Then Take Time for Play

C. OF C. ACTION ON WATER BOARD PROJECT GETS EARLY RESPONSE

Assurance that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's endorsement of the application of the Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1 for Federal funds to complete the irrigation system in this county is being seriously considered, was given in copy of a letter to Senator Tom Connally sent by him to Chester Harrison, Secretary of Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, this week. The letter was written by Thomas P. Carroll, special assistant to the executive director of the National Emergency Council.

In his accompanying letter Senator Connally says:

"Enclosed find letter from the National Emergency Council which is self explanatory. I shall continue to keep in touch with the matter, and do I can to assist you in connection with it."

The letter: Washington, D. C. September 18, 1935.

Shows Backbone Despite Fall

For nearly a year, doctors tried to correct 10-year-old Rosina Lawrence's spinal injuries and paralyzed left side, from a fall she had had. They suggested dancing lessons, to limber her up. It was hard at first, but Rosina had backbone, even if it wasn't in perfect physical condition. Today, as a result, this 18-year-old blond is an accomplished dancer and is being groomed for a star role in films.

Grower Allowed To Retain 110 Pounds Cotton

Tax Exemption Blanks Must Be Secured From Ginners Before Lint Is Kept For Home Use.

It is essential that all farmers hold back the 110 pound lint allowed them for home use and obtain the tax exemption blanks which will be available from the County Agent C. W. L. office soon. Mr. Lehmbert instructions for preparing to all ginners this week. Instructions, a copy of which, were sent here by C. A. director of the cotton division, the AAA work in Texas.

The instructions he received a "Section 42 of the amended act to the Agricultural Adjustment Act reads as follows:

The Instruction "The Secretary of Agriculture is directed to exempt by regulation from the payment of the tax on the ginning of cotton as levied under authority of this act, an amount of lint cotton not in excess of one hundred and ten pounds, produced by or for any producer and retained for domestic use in his household.

"The Division of Cotton has received many inquiries from the field regarding the method by which a producer can obtain the benefit of this exemption and you are advised that we are preparing a regulation authorizing this exemption and a form on which the producer will make application to the county agent of the county in which he resides for certification of this exemption. We hope these forms will be ready for the printer this week.

"In the meantime we suggest you give publicity to this announcement with the suggestion that producers who desire to avail themselves of this exemption hold back from the gin the seed cotton in quantity necessary to produce the lint which they desire to use in their household and secure one of these application forms before taking such seed cotton to the gin. These forms should be available in all county agents' offices before October 1.

"In making any announcement concerning this exemption, it is important to call attention to producers who desire to take advantage of it to the fact that this cotton is to be used only in their own household and under no instances can any part of it or any article manufactured from it be sold or exchanged for anything of value."

Members of Joe Wheeler Camp, Spanish American War Veterans, of Brownwood took prominent parts on the program of the veterans' national convention held at San Antonio last week. Commander C. P. Kitchen made the welcome address to the delegates on behalf of the Texas Department, convention hosts, at the opening of the convention. He also introduced Rev. George Green of Austin, former pastor of First Baptist Church at Brownwood and chaplain for the Texas Department.

George B. Savage, Department Adjutant, was elected president of the reunion association of the First Texas Cavalry, of which he was a member during the Spanish American War, organized at the convention.

Other members of the Brownwood delegation, which returned Thursday, are: Mrs. Kitchen, E. F. Skerlett, commander of Joe Wheeler Camp, Zack Mills, Chas. Byrd and George T. Bentley. Mr. Hale of Bangs also attended.

The Council of Administration set June 7, 8 and 9 for the 1936 convention of the Department of Texas which will be held at San Angelo.

The loquat plant is a native of China and Japan.

Actual work on two Works Progress Administration projects, the first in district 14, was started Tuesday at Eden and Brady.

The project in McCulloch county is to rid streams of predatory and obnoxious fish. The Eden project is construction of two concrete tennis courts at Eden school. Total cost of the McCulloch job will be $1,740. Seining work was started in Brady creek near Brady this morning. Total cost of the Eden job will be $1,712. Eighteen men are employed at Brady and twelve at Eden.

Men on the projects will work five seven hour days per week, and they are to receive $21 per week in all counties in the district. In Brown and Coleman counties the wage scale is $24 per week.

A number of district officials went to Brady for the starting of the first project there. Those who assisted in starting the work were Major Karl E. Wallace, district director, James T. Padgett, district supervisor of labor management, Allen Bell, district compensation officer and W. H. Barnum, district supervisor.

Notice of the cancellation of a San Saba project for construction of a grandstand, athletic field and lighting system which had formerly received final approval was received by Major Wallace from State WPA Director H. P. Drought. As soon as details of the cancellation are available district officials will try to get the project reinstated on some other basis if possible.

Tours of counties in the district are being made by officials from the office here this week who are making final arrangements for the beginning of work on projects throughout the entire district 4.

Final approval on projects which will give employment to several hundred additional men is expected soon. Material requisition forms on the city of Coleman's project to pave eight blocks of streets are being prepared in the district office and will be mailed to the state office at San Antonio. The project was given final approval at Washington a few days ago.

A large number of takin-ante-lope-like creatures of the Tibetan highlands—have been bagged by recent scientific expeditions along the Chinese-Tibetan frontier.

WITHDRAWAL OF ALL GINNERS WHO COMPLY WITH AAA PERMITTED

H. G. Lucas returned Tuesday from Tyler, where as president of the Texas Agricultural Association he attended the trial of Texas cotton ginners attacking the constitutionality of the Bankhead cotton control act.

Attorneys for the Texas Agricultural Association and the ginners who have signed affidavits that they wish to comply with the Bankhead Act provisions secured permission for their withdrawal from the suit. The suit will be tried on its merits within the next ten days.

After hearing charges by attorneys for the ginners that the government was attempting to coerce them to drop the suit, Federal Judge Randolph Bryant ordered ginning tax money collected by the plaintiffs placed in escrow pending a final decision in the case.

In doing so, the court granted a supplemental motion filed by Ralph W. Malone, attorney for the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association.

Asks Early Trial. Judge Bryant asked Francis Leonard, special assistant U. S. Attorney General, to arrange a setting for the case within ten days, explaining that he would hold court at Paris early in October.

The court urged attorneys to end technical maneuvering and hasten the case to trial on its merits.

Ginners who brought the suit last July 19 contend that the Bankhead act is unconstitutional because it forces them to act as government agents in collecting the ginning tax, without reimbursing them for expenses incident to such collections.

Judge Bryant granted permission to approximately 600 ginners to withdraw from the suit, on petition of C. K. Bullard, attorney representing 60 members of the Texas Co-operative Ginners' Association, and former Governor Dan Moody, representing the other 600. Moody said his clients were "between and between" those favoring the Bankhead act and those opposed to it.

FARMERS SENT CARDS WHEN COTTON CHECKS FOR 1935 REACH HERE

Cards are being mailed from County Agent C. W. Lehmbert's office to farmers who signed the 1935 cotton acreage reduction contracts as soon as their checks arrive. A total of 327 checks totaling $4,976.61 have arrived and are ready for distribution.

Mr. Lehmbert asks that farmers preserve the cards and bring them back to his office to receive their checks. He also asks all farmers to be sure they receive a card before asking for checks. Only those who have received the cards have checks available.

LOUIS REIS GIVEN 21-YEAR SENTENCE BY COLEMAN COURT

Attorneys for Louis Reis this week were considering whether appeal would be made from the 21-year sentence assessed against Reis upon his conviction of the murder of Fred Brown, Talpa ranchman. A verdict was returned Saturday morning in district court in Coleman. The jury had been given the case Friday afternoon, and reached a verdict after six or eight ballots. The highest penalty voted for Reis was 40 years.

Reis received the verdict with no outward show of emotion, the attitude he had maintained throughout the trial.

Brown was slain the night of May 3, in Batsell Lane, three miles from Talpa. His car was driven 12 miles to Blackwell Hill near Valera where it was allowed to plunge down an incline into a barrow pit. Passing motorists discovered the car next morning, and officers found Brown's body slumped in the floor of the car. When it was taken from the automobile a package of bills containing $1,700 was discovered in Brown's shirt pocket. His wallet was missing.

The night of May 4 Reis and Stanley Wood were arrested in Ballinger. They were formally charged with the murder the next day and at that time Reis made a statement saying that he and Wood murdered Brown for his money.

Wood was tried on a charge of venue in the District Court in Brownwood and was given a 10 year sentence on June 24. His attorneys asked a new trial which was granted, upon suggestion of the state. He will be tried in October.

COLEMAN PLANS TO CALL BOND ELECTION

Coleman city officials are planning to call a $31,000 obligation bond election to finance construction of a municipal auditorium and gymnasium. Public Works Administration officials have approved a project for the proposed $42,000 structure with the provision that the bonds be voted. The federal government has agreed to make a $12,000 grant for the project.

The city commission expects to pass an ordinance by which all revenue obtained from the auditorium-gymnasium will be placed in a sinking fund to retire the obligation bonds in the event they are voted. It is believed that the revenue from the proposed building will be sufficient to retire the bonds.

THEFT OF PIPE IS CHARGED TO FOUR

Charges of theft of oil well pipe were filed against four men during the past week in connection with the disappearance of a large quantity of pipe from oil and gas leases belonging to the Gunn Production Company, Humble Oil Company and Selby Oil and Gas Company in northern Brown county. Some of the men are charged in three cases, others in fewer.

Carl Nix was arrested Friday night and "Doc" Clark was arrested at Rising Star Saturday morning by Sheriff W. E. Hallmark and Deputy Ivan Ellis. Examining trials were held Saturday afternoon. The men had one load of 99 joints of two-inch pipe, allegedly from the Humble Oil Company lease in the Blake area, when taken.

Fred Hughes and Lawrence Franks were arrested Sunday and are being held on theft of pipe charges. Hughes was released after an examining trial.

The arrests and investigations were made by Sheriff Jack Hallmark, Deputies Ivan Ellis, and Chester Avinger and Deputy Sheriff Peterson of Cross Plains and Mr. Hughes, special agent for the Humble Oil Company, with headquarters at Longview.

Oil Erosion Work to Be of Much Benefit to County

PRELIMINARY WORK IS ABOUT COMPLETED; CCC CAMP STARTS IMPROVEMENT WORK IN COUNTY

THE TECHNICAL staff of the Soil Conservation Service has been busy in the past few weeks making plans for work to be done on farms in this area as a part of the soil conservation program now under way. They will also be in charge of the field work to be done by enrollees in the veterans soil erosion CCC camp located at Brownwood.

Members of the staff are: O. J. Orton, technician in charge; S. J. Decker, assistant technician; M. W. Ledbetter, camp superintendent; Z. C. Dameron, Jr., technician, foreman soils; J. H. Johnson, technical foreman planning engineer; Endl, technical foreman; E. E. Me-trick, Jr., and D. E. Pridgen, soil erod-ers on technical staff.

Technical foremen are: C. L. Hendrix, Elmer S. Rothe, Earl Elliott, and Max Elliott. Members of the technical staff of the Soil Conservation Service are surveying the G. W. Mc-nish and J. W. Fortson farms north-east of Brownwood preliminary to work to be done on these properties. These two farms are adjacent to other places which will be surveyed soon, and which, when completed, will form a block of several hundred acres.

Work on Shelton Farm
County machinery is now at work on the J. R. Shelton farm west of Brownwood. Last week the regional office at Lindale approved the cooperative agreements and erosion plans for the Guy Jones farm 1-2 miles northeast of Brownwood. Agreements have been completed and signed by the following land owners: Bob Low, C. L. Allcorn, Mrs. Jewell A. Johnson, E. W. Cill and E. T. Perkinson.

Engineers have completed their form maps on 14 farms which include a total of 3,791 acres. The soils man has completed soils and erosion maps on 13 of the farms surveyed. Plan maps have been completed on nine of the farms, and agreements have been signed on seven of them.

Thus far all of the farms that have been worked on are located in the Woodland Heights, Early High and Chapel Hill communities, all within a five mile radius of Brownwood. As the program develops other prospective cooperators will be contacted in each community and plans drawn up for control programs on their farms.

Membership meetings of the Voluntary Soil Conservation Association have been held in Chapel Hill, Woodland Heights, Early High, Jordan Springs, Clear Creek, McDaniel and Owens communities.

They must be checked. But how? "In Texas, Oklahoma and the southwestern cotton states soil conservation by means of field terraces has been proceeding steadily for several years. Texas is building these structures over more than a million acres a year, and is accomplishing a vast amount of good with them.

"It was something new a few years ago when the Federal Land Bank in making loans on farm land began asking the borrower to sign an agreement to protect his fields with terraces, if they needed protection, as most of them did. The bank sent out its soil conservation experts to instruct the farmers in the technique of terrace building on those farms where the operators did not understand terrace building. If it was subsequently found that washing was taking place at a sufficient rate to remove a six-inch layer of soil in less than 25 years on a 25 year loan, then the bank had the option of foreclosing the loan. The six-inch top layer of soil is considered the farmer's capital.

"A newer remedy for erosion is strip-cropping—strips of non-washing crops planted in between narrow strips of cultivated crops. The strips run across the slope following the contour lines. The non-washing crops can be alfalfa, clover, sweet clover, lespedeza, or even Sudan grass or oats. There need be no interference with the use of machinery for planting, cultivating or harvesting if strips are properly laid out.

"Finally, there is that well known practice of putting badly eroded land, or that subject to severe washing into trees or pasture. Much can be said, and is being said, in favor of this practice right now.

"The Soil Conservation Service of the United States Department of Agriculture has established 20 projects in erosion control in various parts of the country. These undertakings are intended to show how soil can be kept at home and built up, and how gullies can be stabilized. Steep hillsides are replanted to trees, less sloping areas (but still too steep to cultivate) to legumes or grasses; and on the more level land contour planting and terracing are employed for cultivated crops.

Farmers who understand the situation are eager to adopt the improved methods that bring better returns.

There will be a meeting of the Brownwood singing class Friday night at the Church of the Nazarenes situated at the corner of Avenue D and Durham street. Bert Middleton will direct. Sunday is Rally Day at the church, and a large attendance is expected, according to an announcement made by the pastor, Rev. Dosier.

Here's What They Want To Know

Since the establishment of the soil conservation CCC camp here, frequent queries have been made to members of the staff and to County Agent C. W. Lehmburg regarding the purpose of the camp and the work that is being done. There also seems to be a lack of understanding of how the work will be carried on.

Members of the technical staff at the camp have compiled a list of the most frequently asked questions with the answers for the benefit of those who are seeking information on different phases of the work. The list follows:

1. Question: What is the purpose of the Soil Conservation Service and the Emergency Conservation Work?
Answer: The purpose of this organization is to co-operate with farmers and land owners in holding the soil and water on the farm.

2. Question: Who may cooperate?
Answer: Each land owner-operator, land owner-nonoperator and operator-tenant who is a member in good standing of the Brownwood Voluntary Soil Conservation Association is eligible to cooperate.

3. Question: How may an individual become a member of the Brownwood Voluntary Soil Conservation Association?
Answer: By giving his name to his community chairman at the time of educational meeting and paying a membership fee of 25c for land owner-operator, and 13c for land owner-nonoperator or tenant operator. In case an educational meeting explaining the program is not held in his respective community, membership may be acquired by paying fees to County Agent C. W. Lehmburg, or to staff members at the Camp.

4. Question: What will be the actual cost to the cooperator?
Answer: To the cooperator who has team power on his farm and is willing to use same there will be no cash cost. To the cooperator who does not have the power the cost will be that of hiring power. The County road machinery may be used at a cost of $2.00 per hour. With this machinery 12 to 15 acres a day may be terraced.

5. Question: What work does the camp do? What does the cooperator do?
Answer: Briefly and generally speaking, the duties of the camp and the cooperators may be divided as follows: Any labor that requires supervision and can be done by hand will be furnished by the CCC camp and technical staff. Anything requiring power, such as terrace construction, will be furnished by the cooperator, who agrees to use approved methods of soil conservation such as contour tillage, strip cropping and crop rotation.

6. Question: Does the Soil Conservation Service participate in the reclamation and drainage of land?
Answer: No. The Soil Conservation Service is not concerned in reclaiming abandoned land or land drainage. It is ready and willing to assist in prevention of overflow. This may be accomplished by co-operating with the farmer in the construction of diversion ditches, terraces and by practicing contour tillage and strip cropping.

SAN MARCOS GAME TO BE HOMECOMING DAY FOR CHEANEY

On Friday night, September 27, at Howard Payne stadium, Brownwood, Howard Payne will welcome home her favorite athletic son, Joe Bailey Cheaney. The gala event will be a renewal of the ancient rivalry between San Marcos Teachers College, the team now coached by Cheaney, and Howard Payne. For the first time in his life, Joe Bailey Cheaney will sit on a rival players bench as the Howard Payne band plays the mellow strains of "That Good Old Howard Payne Line" just before the opening kick-off Friday night.

It was a warm day in September, 1921, when Howard Payne became acquainted with Joe Bailey Cheaney. It has never once regretted that acquaintance. He made good his first year out, becoming under study for the brilliant "Dutch" Woodward at half-back, under the tutelage of Arnold Kirkpatrick. Four years later, under Coach "Dad" Amis, he ended his brilliant football career with a 100 yard return of a kick-off against Simmons University.

Besides being a football star, Cheaney made letters in basket ball and baseball, and his brilliant track work will long be remembered. In 1924 he tied Charley Paddock's record for the 100 meter run on a rain soaked track in New Orleans during the Olympic try-outs.

After graduation from Howard Payne in 1925, Joe Bailey was appointed coach at San Marcos Academy, then returned to his Alma Mater as assistant coach under "Dad" Amis. When Amis left Howard Payne for Furman University, South Carolina, Cheaney was appointed head coach. His record of five conference championships, one co-championship and one runner-up from 1928 to 1935 is one of the finest records ever made by any coach in the history of football.

When Cheaney resigned this past summer to accept the head coaching job at San Marcos Teachers College, McAdoo Keaton, who learned his football at Howard Payne, and who for six years has been Cheaney's assistant and line coach, was appointed head coach, and "Nig" McCarvey, Cheaney's most famous protege, was appointed assistant. It will be interesting and thrilling to see Cheaney and Keaton match wits from opposite benches, and spectators at Friday night's battle will be treated to such a spectacle.

Incidentally, Howard Payne officials are now having a new, improved lighting system installed in Howard Payne stadium, increasing the lighting power from 50,000 watts to 65,000 watts, making it one of the best lighted football fields in Texas. The new lights will be in place for the San Marcos-Howard Payne game Friday night.

The word "tabu" is of Polynesian origin and was first introduced to English speaking people by Captain Cook in the eighteenth century.

Mathews acting for Brownwood Public Service Company from constructing and operating a power plant in Brownwood. At the last session, September 14, J. C. ### INJUNCTION HALTS WORK HERE ON NEW PLANT FOR MATHEWS

Construction of the Brownwood Public Service Company's power plant, for which the city of Brownwood granted a franchise to R. O. Mathews, and work of distributing poles for their erection in the business district was halted Monday morning by a temporary injunction granted on petition of Texas Power & Light Company. The order was entered by Judge E. J. Miller in 35th district court. Holes for the poles have been dug and many of the poles had been placed by the curb on downtown streets ready to be set. They were to have been erected early this week.

Two sessions of a hearing on the T. P. and L. petition were held for the injunction by which the petitioner, was seeking to restrain R. O. Mathews acting for Brownwood Public Service Company from constructing and operating a power plant in Brownwood. At the last session, September 14, J. C. Darroch was appointed special master to assist in answering special points in question concerning Mathews' franchise and action of City Council in denying request for an election on the franchise. Mr. Darroch has not yet reported his findings.

MATHEWS SEEKING NEW FRANCHISE FOR POWER PLANT

The way was opened to a new battle of petitions Tuesday night when the Brownwood city council complied with a request of R. O. Mathews and voted to grant an electric light and power franchise to Brownwood Public Service company. The franchise ordinance was passed on the first reading Tuesday night. Mathews holds a franchise, which has been the subject of much controversy during the past months. He also is owner of the Brownwood Public Service company, and the request for a new franchise in the name of the operating company was made in order to correct any possible errors to be found in the original franchise.

Granting of the first franchise to Mathews resulted in the circulation of petitions requesting that a city-wide election be called to determine whether the franchise be allowed. The new franchise, if finally granted by the city, probably will meet a similar fate in view of the stiff opposition which has greeted Mathews' efforts to enter the utility business here.

The old franchise is being attacked in a suit for injunction by Texas Power & Light Company. Mathews at this time is under temporary restraining order until a hearing on the injunction suit is held by Judge E. J. Miller in 35th district court Friday. The temporary order prevents Mathews proceeding on the 900 block of Malone street or with setting up his distribution system in the business section. The original franchise was granted Mr. Mathews January 22 and became effective July 1.

Council passed a new ordinance fixing taxes on marble machines in the city at $10 per year on machines operated by coins in excess of five cents and $5 per year on machines operated by coins of five cents or less. The ordinance was passed to conform to the state law which provides that a city cannot charge a tax that amounts to more than half of the state tax. For the past few months the city has been charging $2.50 for licenses and $1 per month tax on the machines. The new ordinance becomes effective immediately. Violators may be fined from $25 to $100.

J. B. TURNER DIES EARLY THURSDAY

Upon the characterization of any corporation which may appear in this newspaper will be promptly corrected when brought to the attention of the publishers.

The most pressing problem before the special session of the Texas Legislature is the matter of revising the taxation within the States, more important than the matter of describing the "open saloon" or determining who is to be eligible for old age pension. Especially is the matter of pension legislation until the Legislature finds means of financing it.

Officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have given much thought to the matter of tax. View for the increase of land tenantry throughout the section, the decreasing investment in or exchange of property throughout West Texas, these officials wisely have recommended that the total load of ad valorem taxes be decreased permanently rather than increased.

Real estate, representing only one-third of the wealth of the State, at present is bearing three-fourths of the tax burden. Obviously, such a condition cannot be permitted to continue long. And yet, unless caution is used, the end of the legislative session will find additional burdens placed upon real estate. For, with old age pensions demanding an additional $7,500,000 to $86,000,000 a year, and the State at present facing a $10,000,000 deficit, some method of raising more revenue must be devised.

Eventually, a sales tax in some form or another is bound to come. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce insists that it be put in effect at the present time, without subterfuge. A feature which the organization suggests will meet approval of all property owners. That is a provision that at least one-half of any additional revenues received through new forms of taxation be used to supplant ad valorem taxes.

One sentence from the recommendation of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce sums up the situation: "The imposition of new taxes without recognizing the plight of the property owner and without giving him some relief, we believe, will be militantly opposed by our people."

No article published in any newspaper or magazine in recent years has attracted such widespread attention as "And Sudden Death" by F. C. Furness, in a recent issue of The Readers Digest. The article was reprinted in newspapers and magazines throughout the United States and in many foreign countries. Anyone who read it, even superficially, could not but be impressed by the graphic picture of the wanton destruction of human life through careless automobile driving.

In the eighteen months that ended June 20, 1935, 51,200 persons met death in motor car crashes in this country. More than 1,300,000 were injured during the same period.

The bare statistics, thought provoking as they are, cannot give an adequate picture of the horror of major automobile accidents. Figures cannot express broken bones, mangled bodies, crushed skulls, obliterated features, decapitated bodies, and all the rest of the results of fatal motor crashes. Nor can figures picture the tragedy of parentless children and broken-hearted dependents of the victims of recklessly driven cars.

In his article, Mr. Furness wrote: "A first-class massacre is only a question of scale and numbers—seven corpses are no deadlier than one. Each shattered man, woman or child who went to make up the 36,000 corpses checked up last year had to die a personal death."

That is worth thinking about the next time you take the wheel of your car. Driving at excessive speeds may, if you get away with it, save you ten minutes in a fifty-mile run. If you don't get away with it, it may mean your death, or the death of an innocent party. Passing on hills and curves, weaving through thick traffic and taking other chances may save you a minute or two, or it may mean a crushed body on the pavement, its bones twisted and broken, its eyes staring and sightless.

Fifty-one thousand corpses in the past eighteen months. Fifty-one thousand persons who would be alive and happy today had there been more careful driving. It is worth thinking about.

The coming of Fire Prevention Week, which will be observed between October 6 and 12, makes it worthwhile to meditate on what fire prevention means to you as an individual, a taxpayer, a homeowner and a worker. Fire prevention saves lives—yours and your loved ones. Thousands of people are now cremated each year—because someone was careless.

Fire prevention is the friend of the home. Without it, your home may be turned to ashes—and insurance can never replace the many intangible values each home represents. Money cannot compensate for everything.

Fire prevention tends to keep taxes down. Each time a fire destroys taxpaying property, thus removing it from the tax rolls, higher taxes must be paid by all other property within the community.

Fire prevention keeps insurance rates down. Over a period of years, the rate for each locality is based upon fire loss—many fires mean high rates.

Fire prevention is the friend of employment. When a fire destroys a business, jobs are lost, and thousands of dollars in purchasing power is lost with them. Untold privation and misery can result.

Fire prevention means progressive towns and cities. Cases are on record where a single fire, destroying a town's main industry, has resulted in permanent retrogression, at the expense of property and all other values in the community.

THE SUN-LIT TOPAZ

Once when leaving France, I received as a gift a charming little necklace of silver and lapis lazuli. With the gift came to me the story of the maker of the necklace. A little Frenchman who owned a tiny shop in the Latin quarter of old Paris always informed his patrons, I am told, that he made his jewelry with gold, silver and love.

One day an American lady asked to see the most beautiful thing in the shop. Without hesitation he brought from a high shelf a tiny box, and showed his visitor a necklace containing a marvelous topaz, which he had bought after the war from a noble French family. "I wish I could buy it," the lady said. To her surprise he responded, "I am so happy that you cannot. Though I need money badly, I need its beauty more. Always when I am tired and disheartened," he said, "I hang my topaz in the window, the sunlight comes through it on my work bench, then can I make things more beautiful."

If that would sing in all hearts each day—"to make things more beautiful," what a different world we could make of this old planet. Wars would cease. Hearts of selfish greed would change and share with their neighbors.

We can make more beautiful the lives of those we meet each day.

Early one morning some time ago I was walking up the beautiful elm-bordered walk on the university campus. The day was glorious. There was still that untouchable freshness in air, trees and grass that only spring mornings have. It made one's spirit dance. I met a professor with his accustomed cane and brief case going to meet his eight o'clock class. One look at his frowning unhappy face, with mouth drooped and self-centered downward look, and my spirit halted, surprised that here was one, while walking under God's vaulted elms, constantly looking down. "No topaz in the window of his soul," thought I. A few steps further I met a freshman girl, whom I knew was having a hard financial struggle, working long hours after school, but, oh, what "a morning face" she had, "radiant and lovely!"

When the sunlight comes through the topaz of happiness, it will illumine not only our lives, but others as the sun-lit topaz made radiant the tired heart of the little shop-keeper.

Whaling was the first important maritime industry of Long Island beginning in the sixteenth century at East Hampton and Southampton.

THINGS ONE REMEMBERS

By R. M. Hofer

It's easier to make a flowery statement than to answer simple questions. The people of the world are getting pretty sick and tired of statements. They want answers.

This summer I have met many business men in different parts of the country. I have asked questions and tried to get answers. I have talked with waiters in hotel dining rooms, with clerks in grocery stores, with mechanics in garages, with attendants at oil filling stations, with proprietors of small stores and, recently at that cosmopolitan meeting place, the Mark Hopkins hotel in San Francisco. I heard opinions expressed by prominent business men who drift in from all parts of the world.

After the smoke of partisan politics has been blown away, sentiment expressed by thoughtful persons is remarkably uniform on the following three points:

1. There is no sympathy for European war preparations and very definite opposition to this nation participating in another European conflict in any manner.
2. There is general resentment against political attempts to undermine constitutional safeguards of persons and property in the United States.
3. From all sides come protests against the alarming increase in public debt and tax bills—genuine fear is expressed as to what a "soak the rich" tax program will do to American business and family savings.

It's a healthy sign when political and economic questions are brought so close to the average American that he can see his place in the picture—from the clerk in a grocery store to the head waiter in a leading hotel and the president of a great corporation. Their pocketbooks and constitutional rights have all been injured or threatened, from the lowest to the highest.

A turkey gobbler on the farm of J. M. Major of Hopkinsville, Ky., for the last two years has "mothered" and raised broods of young fowls.

Among the leading little theaters of America are those at Cleveland, Dallas, Pasadena, New Haven and Santa Barbara and the Provincetown Playhouse of New York.

PYROIL actually enabled a car to run 745 miles with no oil in the crankcase! Ask for the complete story.

Simply Add to Oil and Gas!

Increases POWER

Think of the power of plunging pistons... sufficient to move tons of rock up steep mountain grades. Yet the efficiency of pistons depends on the adequacy of the combustion chamber. Carbon-stuck valves, leaking rings, weaken the piston stroke and make motors lag and balk.

PYROIL increases power in motors because it seals rings and keeps valves carbon-free. Simply added to regular gas and oil. Supplies constant lubrication to the entire motor head where withering heat kills ordinary lubricants. Actually builds lubrication into the metal.

PYROIL deposits a patent-processed, heat-, wear- and dilution-proof element on all metal parts, building and constantly maintaining an actual self-lubricating surface. Bearings run freer, cooler. Power, endurance, are marvelously improved. Easily saved many times its small cost.

Chevrolet Begins OK Used Car Sale

The Chevrolet Motor Company is conducting a nation-wide sale of unusual values in Guaranteed OK Used Cars. During the month of August an all-time high in retail sales for Chevrolet was reported. This record shows in this one month Chevrolet delivered 99,918 new passenger cars and trucks at retail, an outstanding performance that beats by 4,600 units the previous best August, which was in 1919.

The fact that Chevrolet's volume increased so sharply over its total in July shows unmistakably that the country's buying power is increasing and that there is not only the ability but a universal willingness on the part of the public to buy.

This record breaking sale of Chevrolet during the month of August materially increased the stock of good Used Cars to such an extent that a wide variety of all makes and models are now available at your local Chevrolet dealer and the Guaranteed Red O. K. Tag assures you of a real used car value.

Fans Show Little Interest In School

Attendance at the first session of the fan school Monday night was light, and unless greater interest is shown the school, which proved very popular last fall, may be discontinued. The first few minutes of the program was devoted to a discussion of football rules. Following that was a discussion of the games of the past week-end and games scheduled for this week by Coach Keaton, Coach Taylor of Daniel Baker and Coach Cagle of high school.

The school was held at 7:30 at Hotel Brownwood.

COMMON CAUSE OF BALDNESS

One of the chief causes of premature graying, falling hair and ultimate baldness is lack of circulation in the scalp. It was the first we had had since our meeting closed the second Sunday in July. Brother Wharton says, unless it rains and makes the roads impassable, that he expects to be here at three o'clock every fourth Sunday afternoon until otherwise announced.
