Clubs Will Bring Noted Speaker to Clarendon Soon

Dr. Charles E. Barker Will Make Four Addresses Here Beginning February Eighteenth

Various civic clubs of Clarendon have made arrangements for a speaking date with Dr. Barker or above date. He will speak to the girls, the boys, the mothers and the fathers in four separate addresses, telling them the things they should know.

Dr. Barker has a national reputation as a speaker and has spoken in engagements months in advance, taking him over practically all of the North American continent.

His lectures will be free to the public. The clubs sponsoring them only request that he be given a feeling that with the wonderful recommendations from all towns and cities, the people of Clarendon and vicinity will enjoy a real treat.

Local Grocer Plans Unique Method of Advertising

Employing an advertising method never before attempted here, A. N. Wood of the Hello World Grocery and Market will have on sale next Saturday a list of "Specials", each article being designated with a "red tag" so that his customers may readily recognize them. Mr. Wood states that he will include water while specials of flour, grease and other articles of a nature used in the home every day and will make prices that will attract any one in need of groceries.

Several Visitors Make Talks at Rotary Luncheon Friday

Community Service Committee is Sponsor of Program of a Varied Nature

The program at the Rotary luncheon Friday noon was in charge of Rotarian Oscar L. Jenkins as chairman of the Committee.

The first speaker called upon Rotarian J. C. Estlack who mentioned the need of more flowers and shrubbery for Clarendon in order for the town to maintain her reputation as "The City Beautiful".

In order to further plans for flower planting, he offered free advertising space in the Donley County Leader for those who wished to exchange plants, bulbs, seeds or shrubbery. This offer is extended all those who live in the trade territory of Clarendon.

Rotarian W. E. Ferrell, pastor of the First Christian church was the second speaker who confined his remarks to New Year resolutions in which he mixed humorous illustrations with well defined plans which, if followed, would mean much to those who followed them.

J. Roy Bartlett, formerly of Clarendon and a citizen of Childress, brought greetings from the Lions club of his town and paid tribute to the good work being done by the civic clubs over the nation.

Rotarian Tom Bacon of Abilene spoke on the value of beautifying cities with flowers and shrubbery and made reference to a number of West Texas towns of well known reputation for having added that asset.

Rotarian C. L. Hasie and A. R. Evans of the Memphis Rotary club each made choice remarks endorsing the helpful talks that had been made and each expressing his pleasure at meeting with local members.

Dick Allen, owner and manager of the Clarendon Hotel serving the Rotarian lunches, was paid many compliments for the excellent Buffalo steak served on this occasion. It was also mentioned that regular guests of the hotel were accorded the same courteous treatment as was given members of civic organizations.

Belk Brown is Returned to Clarendon Jail

Charged with implication in the recent fatal shooting affair at the Naylor home northeast of town, Tuesday after Governor Moody's requisition was honored by the governor of New Mexico. Brown feels sure that he can explain matters and free himself of the odium of the charge when proper opportunity arrives. It is said that he will be held here until the Grand Jury meets. His brother, Milam Brown, is also being held in the local jail on a charge of attempt to murder at the Naylor home.

Mr. Hugh Brown Recovering From Serious Accident

The many friends of Mr. Brown are pleased to again see him on the street even though he is forced to use crutches. Despite this handicap, he wears the old familiar smile and made the rounds thanking his friends so far as possible, for the kindness shown him while confined to his home.

Mr. Brown's life was despaired of for several hours some months ago when he was struck down on the street by an auto after dark while attempting to cross from the Clarendon hotel to the west side of the street. He suffered several broken limb bones and was badly hurt. Brown was returned here Wednesday at the time.

Get Banquet Tickets Early And Help Ladies

The ladies of the Christian church are to serve the banquet crowd Friday night and in order to estimate the requirements of foods, it is necessary that they know the number that will be present as far in advance as possible. Please buy tickets as early as possible and help these good women. Tickets are on sale at Douglas and Goldston and Clarendon drug stores.

Shannons Sell Land Holdings Near Goldston Store

A deal was completed the past week in which J. F. and W. M. Shannon sold two and a half sections of land located in the Goldston community to Jim Pegram of Quail.

Price is not given for publication. This land is located on Allen creek and contains some fine subirrigated orchard land in addition to regular farm area.

Condron Infant Dies Sunday at Amarillo Hospital

William Robert Condron, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Condron of Canyon died at Amarillo Sunday morning. The body was returned to Canyon where it was buried Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The many friends of these former citizens of Clarendon will learn of their misfortune with sincere regret. The Leader joins with the many friends in expressing sympathy.

Mrs. W. A. Fronabarger and little son of Buchanan, New Mexico is visiting her brothers, Ralph and Ben Andis and families and other relatives here this week.

Industrious Lady is Farming For Sick Husband

The average woman on the farm has plenty to do around the home and when circumstances compel her to assume the duties of the husband in the field, she's "working for him."

Many times it falls to the lot of the good woman of the home to shoulder extra burdens and "carry on" when the husband is sick or disabled.

That is what happened in the J. M. Pharr home down at Brice last spring. Jim was sick all spring and most of the summer, in fact he is hardly able to do any hard work even now.

Mrs. Pharr kept the home going. She farmed and made as much stuff as any of the farmers. It is true that neighbors kindly helped and no better neighbors are to be found anywhere than in that Brice country, but she farmed just the same and is entitled to a lot of praise.

Annual Banquet Program Announced For Friday Night

Plate Charge of Fifty Cents Offered as Inducement to Insure Attendance

Tickets are being offered for sale at the Clarendon Drug Store and at Douglas and Goldston drug stores. Placing the cover charge at fifty cents will be an added inducement to get out a larger crowd, it is thought.

A varied program of unusual interest has been arranged that will no doubt bring both pleasure and profit to all of those who attend. Speakers of note have been secured and musical numbers of both instrument and voice have been secured for the occasion. The program to begin promptly at 7:30 at Christian church follows:

Tom F. Connally, Toastmaster.
President C. C. C.
March Miss Fray Stallings.

Watts Trades Holdings Here For Castro Land

J. W. Watts, who has operated a furniture business here for several years, has traded his stock in the store and home for a half section of land in Castro county.

P. F. Clark becomes owner of the Watts property here. It has not been learned who will operate the store as the door has been locked several days pending the exchange.

L. L. Cantelou Recovering From Recent Stroke

Suffering from an apoplectic stroke for more than a week, Mr. Cantelou is slowly regaining his speech and is also able to move his limbs, which shows a decided improvement over the past several days.

Office Room Has Been Arranged Within Courthouse Proper

Further Office Requirements Are Met in Courthouse When Changes Are Made

Apparent space demands for office room for county officers outside the Courthouse will not be necessary as announced last week in the Leader when the old school building was under consideration.

With a few changes in the offices as they have been maintained, sufficient office space has been made possible according to reports from the deliberations of the commissioners.

It is understood that County Attorney R. Y. King will occupy the office opposite Mr. Baker and his present office will be used for a jury room. Mrs. Nora McMurtry, as County Superintendent of Schools, will occupy the southwest room on the second floor formerly used for jury deliberations.

Sheriff Guy S. Pierce will take over the office room of Mrs. Cauten and she will occupy the front office room of the County Clerk. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Cauten will divide the vault room in the Clerk's inner office.

Tax Collector Mosley will continue in the same office as will Assessor Armstrong and Judge Alexander in their old office. Mr. Baker will not make any change. The new arrangement is said to meet with the approval of each of the official family.

Larger Bridges On J A Ranch Road Now Nearly Completed

Will Open Highway Southwest to Plains Section And Palo Duro Canyon Country

The sore trials and numerous vexations experienced for a quarter of a century in crossing the quick sand beds of Hall and Mulberry canyons on the J A ranch road bed are soon to become a mere matter of history with the completion of bridges now under construction.

The four hundred and sixty foot bridge over Hall was opened to traffic Saturday. The bridge over Mulberry having a length of 1345 feet will likely be completed within a month.

The floor timbers of the latter bridge are being laid at this time. The highway will be changed to permit of a straight drive upon the bridge entrance, it having been placed something like a hundred yards above the old crossing on Mulberry.

The bridges rest upon piling driven forty feet into the clay bed beneath the quick sand. All of the larger timbers and piling have been treated insuring long service.

The two larger bridges and a small bridge to be constructed north of the J A headquarters will cost that road district $25,000. The district had voted $32,000 for the work. The Morrison bridge company has the contract to construct bridge work and the county machinery is building the approaches.

The County Commissioners did their best work on this highway of their entire term in road building according to citizens who have inspected the bridges thus far. The district has been saved $7,000 on the job which will be first-class when completed.

Recent Visitor to Clarendon Heard Lincoln Speak

Mr. D. R. Gordon, recently a visitor here in the Dr. J. W. Evans home, is one of the very few surviving who heard Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg address in 1864.

He also was telegraph operator in New Haven, Connecticut taking the message off the wire telling of Lincoln's assassination. He posted the message on a bulletin board as was the custom of that day, and the crowd rejoiced over the fact that Lincoln had been killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon are visiting in Prescott, Arizona at the present time where they will likely spend the winter.

Mrs. Eula Cox returned from Canadian Friday where she visited the Houston Miller family.

Bill Greene Says Business Was Better Over Yuletide Period

Clarendon Store is Leading in Sales of Four Houses in Green Chain

The management of the Green Dry Goods company here, W. S. (Bill) Greene, and his able corps of assistants, are to be congratulated upon having lead in sales volume over the district as covered by stores operated by the Greene Dry Goods company.

Stores of the company are located at Memphis, Estelline and Clarendon, the store at Turkey having been discontinued December 27th, and the stock distributed among the other stores.

Mr. Greene is also highly pleased with the volume of business done over the Holiday period, it exceeding his expectations by several hundred dollars. This fact is due to aggressive business methods, advertising and also the fact that Clarendon was fortunate in being located in a district where crops are good this season.

The firm is putting on a big January clearance sale, beginning Thursday of this week which promises to attract more buyers than ever before by reason of the wonderful bargains being offered in every department.

New Sheriff Asks Help of Citizens in Enforcing Laws

Sheriff Asks for Cooperation of Law-Abiding Folks in Law Enforcement

Upon taking his office the past week, Sheriff Guy S. Pierce, among his first statements said: "I am following into office a mighty good man and a good sheriff. I want to, if possible, make Donley county even a better sheriff and I ask for and want the cooperation of all law-abiding citizens that human and property rights may be properly protected."

Mr. Pierce is ready for any emergency in that he has the backing of the Legion boys in preserving law and order should the occasion arise. He asks that all suspicious characters be reported to him at once without waiting until some crime is committed.

He recalled Saturday that occasions had arisen here when suspicious characters and circumstances followed by an act of outlawry could have been averted had the matter been reported to the sheriff's office at the time the discovery was first made.

He wants the public to know that he is ready to answer calls both day and night. That it will be his pleasure to offer every protection that could be expected of a peace officer in the same discharge of his duty.

Cleo Emerson, long an employee of the J A ranch and well known over the county, has accepted the position of chief deputy in Sheriff Pierce's office.

Jiggs Mosley Sells Sinclair Filling Station

Jiggs Mosley has disposed of his interests in the Sinclair filling station a block east of the Donley Bank on East Second street. Cecil Smith is the new owner.

Cecil lived for a time at Ft. Worth after leaving here, later tried California, and is now glad to be back in old Donley county again.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Davis of Amarillo and her father, C. B. Vinson of Port Arthur, visited here at the W. K. Davis home over the week end.

Mrs. Allen M. Beville of Amarillo are visiting her mother, Mrs. J. B. Baird.

Many Farmers Are Terracing To Prevent Erosion of Soil

Terracing of Past Two Years Demonstrates Value of Soil Conservation

County Agent T. R. Broun has already begun his late winter and spring terracing program. Farms from Hedley to Ashtola received attention the past week.

O. L. Jacobs over in the Hudgins country started out on a soil saving plan for the year after looking over the results obtained by his neighbors.

John H. Clark also joins the number to begin saving the soil by terracing on his farm southwest of Lelia.

Messrs. Jones and Wallace in the Martin and Ashtola communities already have the work going on an already have the work going on and will continue until necessary embankments are laid up to prevent the waste that has been going on for some years.

A number of other farmers who tried the plan last season and years previous, are to enlarge the scope of their work this season. It has been demonstrated here that terraced land produces more by conserving both soil and moisture.

Grocerymen Agree on Earlier Closing Hour After 12th

A statement was brought to the Leader office Monday in which a number of local grocerymen have agreed to close their stores at 6:30 p. m. The new closing hour will be in effect after January 12th it is said.

Merchants following other lines are said to be in favor of that hour for closing since few customers make purchases after 6:30. There has been no limit agreed upon for Saturday closing so far as can be learned. A number of other merchants are contemplating adopting the new closing hour at this time.

Mrs. Holland Celebrates Birthday Sunday

Having arrived at her 70th milestone in a long useful life, the members of her family and few friends gathered at the Holland home Sunday in this city to help Mrs. Joe Holland, Sr. celebrate the occasion.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beatty of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Whitfield and son of Hedley, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Leathers and son of Lelia, Mrs. C. R. Fiercy and two daughters of the J A ranch, Mrs. Zack Beatty and Mrs. J. W. Jack of Memphis and Miss Mildred McEwen of the J A's were also present with the home-folks at this gathering.

Mrs. J. R. Mace Seriously Ill at Lelia Lake

Due to a complication of diseases and her 78 years, Mrs. Mace is not expected to survive the night according to word from her bedside late today (Tuesday).

Grandma Mace is among the oldest residents in the county and the mother of a large family. Mr. and Mrs. Mace own some of the best located farm lands near Lelia where they have resided over a quarter of a century.

Dog Poisoners Bring Grief to Many Homes

Several family pets, dogs that were pedigreed and otherwise, but never-the-less pets, have fallen victims to the cruel acts of poison spreaders the past week.

Just why anyone would want to wantonly poison a neighbor's family pet and dogs of the neighborhood is a mystery to many, but it is a fact right here in Clarendon, several dying the past week.

Memphis Chamber Banquet January 20th

The annual banquet of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce will be held on January 20th at which time speakers of state-wide reputation will appear on the program.

The High School orchestra of Clarendon, of which Mr. Gus B. Stephenson is director, has been invited to furnish music for the occasion. A number of local citizens plan to be present and help the neighbor town celebrate.

Mrs. W. A. Land visited relatives in Amarillo Monday.

B. W. Clampitt is Injured by Fall Saturday

While working on the Hahn home near Ashtola Saturday morning, Mr. Clampitt fell when scaffolding gave way. He was rushed to town by his son Roy where an examination by a physician disclosed a fractured left hip bone.

He has been suffering great pain and loss of sleep since the accident but is said to be getting along as well as could be expected for one of his age. He is being cared for at the Adair Hospital.

Clarendon Furniture Firm Stages First Big Sale

The Leader this week carries the announcement of the first sale of the Clarendon Furniture company owned by J. F. Heath and R. E. Faxson. Being the first clearance sale of the firm, many bargains are being offered in all lines.

Their "double spread" in this issue tells its own story for this enterprising firm that has done much in advertising Clarendon is a furniture market over a wide territory.

Auto Tags Must Be Attached Before February First

Light Test Certificates Must Be Presented Before License Can Be Issued

Three hundred and forty-four cars and thirty-eight trucks have been registered for the 1931 plates. It is necessary to have your lights tested and present that certificate to the Tax Collector before a license plate may be issued. Save further time by taking your old license receipt with you too.

The time limit for securing the new tags will expire at midnight on January 31st according to a statement from the Tax Collector's office Saturday. Although the state law requires that plates be secured by the first of the new year, this law has never been enforced for the reason that plates are not supposed to be sold before the new year begins and the work of one day could not be handled.

Big Value-Giving Prices Are Continued by Merchants

This issue of the Leader comes to you chock full of bargains with honest description in the advertising sections.

Clarendon merchants who wish to keep abreast of the times and increase the trade territory are alive to the fact that people demand bargains now as never before.

There is a vast fund of information in the advertising carried by the Leader each issue and we invite our readers to give that section of the paper careful attention that they may effect a saving and prosper more this season.

Mrs. Rich Bowlin Addresses Lions Club By Special Request

Absence of Member Knocks Record-Breaking Attendance as Old Year Closes

Among those to address the local Lions club here at their luncheon Tuesday was Mrs. Rich Bowlin, famed for her many accomplishments as a developer of rural ideas of financial and social advantages.

Mrs. Bowlin has spoken on a number of subjects before the Lions club where her remarks always meet with a ready response. Her successful experience on the farm, coupled with her knowledge of world affairs in general, affords her a vast fund of information upon which to draw upon on occasions of this kind.

Lion Douglas called attention to the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce on the evening of January the 9th.

J. L. Bain of Bula, and formerly county judge and long a resident of this county, enumerated a number of personal experiences of interest.

W. C. Stewart was present and added interest to the meeting with pertinent remarks of a general nature and expressed his regret at having missed the association of former months.

M. M. Noble intimated that he would be a busy man for several months and would therefore be compelled to absent himself for several meetings. A number of college pupils home for the Holidays were introduced each expressing their appreciation of the opportunity of meeting with the Club.

Lion Trostle called attention to the need of more opportunity for young ladies to work their way through school. Some of the best teachers of the Panhandle attended school here in years past and worked their way through reflecting credit upon themselves and gratifying their benefactors.

Adjournment was had in the usual form.

Mrs. E. F. Bryan of Amarillo is visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. F. Keener and son Allen Bryan and families here this week.

Some Combination.

If every one had a permanent Christmas spirit combined with a photographic expression, this would be a grand old world.

Rip Van Winkle.

Old Rip did not gain fame until he woke up, and not even then until he advertised the fact. It pays to advertise.

Heated Session!

In anticipation of a heated session when the Legislature meets this month, those in authority are advocating the expenditure of $750,000 on fire protection for the preservation of the State Capitol.

Nullification.

It was left to a New Jersey judge to discover that the 18th Amendment needed nullifying. The First, Second, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth have been more or less nullified, abrogated, retarded or ignored in several sections, but they are still on the books just as the 18th will be for years to come.

What Texas Needs.

What Texas needs most right now is to let Texans know what is being manufactured in Texas from Texas raw products, and encourage more factories to come into Texas.

All things being equal, Texas people would prefer to use products manufactured at home from home grown material thus creating a market, but Texas needs less peanut butter bottled in Illinois when we have millions of bushels of the nuts at home crying for a market, to say nothing of a number of other things used in our daily lives.

Governor Sterling.

Since the report has gotten out that Governor Sterling is going to "can" all the women employees of the Capitol who make a living for their husbands, there has been quite a stir among the husbands.

We are backing the Governor to the limit when he starts to clean house in a manner that will make onery husbands go to work and quit sponging on ignorant but well meaning wives.

It is no crime by any means for both husband and wife to work, but if the wife does all the work while the husband loaf, that's another question. We know of several couples who are working to pay for a home. Some are paying back debts that stacked up during illness. They are to be commended for that kind of team work.

Discrimination.

During a recent agricultural hearing in Congress, our congressman, Hon. Marvin Jones, brought out the fact that a soap manufacturer in Cincinnati, Ohio could ship coconut oil from Galveston to that city for 30 cents per hundred. The same rate on cotton seed oil is 61 1-2 cents.

Now Jones wants to know why a foreign product is given preference over a home product. He wants to know why coconut oil can be shipped from the Philippines to Chicago for less money than cotton seed oil can be shipped from Galveston.

As Chairman of the Agricultural Committee of Congress, Marvin Jones is going to do the farmers a lot of good or else let the world know the reason why.

Raise More Chickens.

Had you ever noticed that poultry and eggs are always high following a short crop year? People sell off their poultry because of a shortage of feed as they have the past summer in the "drouth belt" which covered most of the United States. This means high prices for both poultry and eggs this year.

A flock of poultry properly handled will beat ten cent cotton and there is nothing on a farm that will consume more waste and show more profit from that waste than a bunch of chickens. Get good ones. It costs no more to grow a prize winner than it does to produce a scrub.

Early fryers will make a dandy money crop early in the spring. That is when it will be needed most this year. Get chicks as close to home as possible and prepare a place to take care of them before they arrive on the farm.

Allred is Already.

Jimmie Allred, second only in age to Dan Moody, became Texas' Attorney General the past week. He is Hon. James V. Allred to the boys down at the Capitol, but to the thousands of friends of this aspiring young man, he is and always will be just plain Jimmie Allred. Jimmie has a lot of work ahead. Perplexing problems shifted from the preceding administration. Being a sensible fellow, he will be slow to move until he has his bearings. Texas has every reason to expect much of him. Texas will not be disappointed.

From newsboy at Bowie to Attorney General of the greatest state in the Union is a long step. Jimmie could not make the grade by himself, but his training and personality acted as a magnet in attracting hundreds of thousands who were glad to see him have the chance to step up higher.

Gained by Losing.

This past week a poor farmer in an adjoining county had an auction sale in order to square himself with the world. He was forced to sell all his farm tools and work stock. Two years of dry weather had put him under.

This man could have beaten some of his debts as others have done. He was not that kind of a man. He saw his last tool go on the block that he might get cash to pay debts.

When he had paid up, his loss was plainly apparent. When he had made ready to head west to seek his paid creditors asked the privilege of vouching for his honesty in his new location. He saved his credit the most valuable asset of any man.

When that man lands way out there among strangers, his past record will mean more to him than money. He will not have anything with which to begin life anew except character and willing hands. His credit record will enable him to get started. Bankers and other business men will supply his needs. His neighbors will recognize in him a type that will mean much as a developer.

Women and Flowers.

A home without flowers or shrubbery is not a home, it is merely a stopping place. Flowers are expensive, and even a rented home may be made prettier and more enjoyable by the addition of flowers.

The effort toward beautifying the home and surrounding is limited only to the interest of the dwellers of the home. Fortunately, the price of a beautiful flower display may be paid by labor. The actual cost of seeds or bulbs is very little.

In order to stimulate more interest in flowers this season, the Leader will advertise exchange lists of flowers in the Classified Column free of charge. If you have flowers that you are willing to share with some one else receiving an equivalent return of a wanted variety, let us know what you have and what you want, and the advertisement will be run absolutely free during the months of January, February and March.

Don't phone the office. Bring or send your copy for the ad column. Write plainly on only one side of the paper. Be willing to exchange something worth while. The exchange is not limited to flower seeds or bulbs, but may include shrubbery. Begin now. Get your pick of the lot that is to be exchanged. Who will be first?

Buying Brains.

The University Board of Missouri is to be congratulated. The Board recently decided to hire brains instead of degrees.

Walter Williams, who never got beyond the grades of a backwoods school of a half century ago, becomes president of Missouri's great university this week. Williams has been Dean of the School of Journalism of that institution since its founding a quarter of a century ago.

ago.

In fact Dean Williams "invented" the idea of a school of journalism where men and women might be trained to be worth something to the world as well as earn a competence for old age.

Williams has meant much to the school all these years. He brings to the student body today the cream of learning. He may be "short" on "isms", but he is long on facts and common sense. Missouri needs men of the Williams type, and so do many other states.

Brainy men with handles to their names fill similar positions in other states. Other men fill space and are mere parrots repeating to students what they have read from books lacking wholly in originality. Apeing authors of books is often the extent of knowledge on the part of some heads of great educational institutions.

Robbing Ourselves.

Recently the writer stopped in a small town cafe for a meal. When informed that there was no bread, the writer offered to go to a grocery for crackers. "No", said the cafe man, "I never buy anything, I get it by truck from Amarillo."

He missed selling at least one customer and probably others because he did not see fit to patronize his neighbors. There is only one thing that will equal his act, and that is for the merchant to buy his advertising in Chicago and have it mailed at the same place to be sent to his customers or prospectives at his home town.

The postage revenue is taken away from his local postoffice. That means that the federal building for his town will be delayed that much longer because the local postoffice receipts govern the money that is to be spent for our federal postoffice buildings.

He knocks the local newspaper that advocates trading at home because the people of every community, village, town and city must work to the interest of the "home bunch" if they accomplish anything. Keep home money at home, but let's forget the newspaper man in the deal and reason farther.

Does the public at large read high-powered lithographic matter received through the mail? The writer asked a prominent rural lady of Donley county this question some years ago and this is her version of the matter:

"If they print the births, deaths and marriages on one side of the sheet and include the local happenings over the county, we will read it. Otherwise, we have no time to fool with it."

That lady has plenty of common sense. She may be wrong--dead wrong, but her reply to that question keeps bobbing up again and again. Will the colored leaflet tell the folks anything that has happened in the local section?

CAN YOU BEAT THIS?

Man comes into the world without consent. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contentions and misunderstandings by the balance of our species. In his infancy he is an angel; in his boyhood he is a devil; in his manhood he is everything from a lizzard up; in his duties he is a damn fool; if he raises a family he is a chump; if he raises a small check he is a thief and then the law raises the devil with him; if he is a poor man he is a poor manager and has no sense. If he is rich he is dishonest, but considered smart. If he is in politics he is a grafter and a crook; if he is out of politics you can't place him as he is an undesirable citizen. If he goes to church he is a hypocrite; if he stays away from church he is a sinner and damned; if he donates to foreign missions he does it for show. If he doesn't he's stingy and a tight wad. When he first comes into the world everybody wants to kiss him. Before he goes out they all want to kick him. If he lives to a ripe old age he is simply in the way and living to save funeral expense.

Life is a funny road but we all like to travel it just the same.

November and December with their Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners open new temptations to those who must watch their calendars.

The next prison to be built by the United States Government will not contain row on row and tier on tier of steel cages for imprisoning men like wild beasts. It will not be sunless and airless like the fortresses that have existed, and in many places still exist, for isolating criminals. This prison (to be constructed shortly in Pennsylvania) will be modeled, instead, on the best examples in Europe and America, according to the Department of Justice's announcement.

Proceeding the fact that criminals vary in type, just as do all classes of people, officials in charge of the new building are arranging for small inside cells for hardened offenders, strong outside rooms for those not inclined to escape, barracks and dormitories for peaceable inmates, and rooms similar to the living quarters of an average citizen for prisoners who show marked improvements.

Up-to-date facilities for diagnosing and prescribing for the prisoner's mental and physical conditions will be provided. It is the government's ambition to free its charges after their sentences are served in better condition than when it took them in hand.

To Representative George Graham of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, is due a great deal of credit for the government's new penal policy. Mr. Graham sponsored most of the legislation providing for prison research and reform in the United States.

Living at Home

"Sell all you can, and can what you can't." That was the slogan adopted in East Texas years ago. They prospered. We need to do something like that in old Donley County.

Many of the most prosperous families in our county canned their products the past season when it would have otherwise been wasted for want of a market.

Plan a "live at home program" this season and bank the difference that you have been spending in past years.

Red Tag Specials!

When you come into our store Saturday, a big surprise awaits you. Red Tags will be attached to staple grocery bargains—the kind you need and use every day.

RED TAG SPECIALS EVERY SATURDAY

Red Hot Prices. Prices that interest, attract and profit our customers. You never have seen SPECIALS until you have seen these Red Tag Specials.

Specials are sold only for CASH. Conditions force us to a cash basis, and we are bidding for your cash trade.

BAMBOOZLE HENS BY USING LIGHTS

Lengthening Day Must Be Done Carefully to Pay.

Being notoriously simple-minded, the hen can readily be bamboozled by the use of electric lights, into working 14 hours a day during the winter. But the trick is a good one only when it works, and the careless or ignorant user of lights can do his flock more damage than the extra eggs will pay for. The theory of the thing is that having more light, the hen will eat more food, which will enable her to lay more eggs.

A series of cautions for the user of lights in the poultry house, is found on the Ohio State poultry calendar. They are as follows:

1. Grade and pen pullets according to age, condition, and laying qualities, so that each group may be properly handled.
2. Excessive fall production makes it hard to keep the flock in heavy production during the winter.
3. Don't use lights to produce more than a 14-hour day. Excessive use of lights means overproduction, followed by a slump.
4. To avoid a spring molt, discontinue lights slowly in the spring.
5. Use lights on breeders only after January 1 to 15, in order to help them back into production.
6. Don't crowd production over 60 per cent, otherwise the flock will become thin and molt.
7. Be regular in management and the use of lights.
8. Feed grain liberally when using lights.
9. Always have feed and water available when lights are on.
10. Do not turn lights off too early and late in the day when lights are finally eliminated.

Early Hatched Pullets Best for Winter Eggs

Where eggs in winter are wanted the early hatched pullet is, without doubt, the one to depend upon. Yearling hens and those older ones are very rarely good producers during November and December.

They are uncertain even in January and February and really do not begin to lay well until March. Where the egg production falls below 15 per cent during the winter months, one is not making much profit.

The age at which most pullets begin laying is from six to seven months; some lay at four and one-half to five months, and others not until eight or nine months of age.

This means that if a 50 per cent egg yield is wanted in November, the pullets should be hatched during March or April; May hatched pullets will lay a little, but, as a rule, not 40 or more per cent daily.

Vigor and Vitality of Parent Stock Weighty

Successful hatching of eggs in incubators depends fully as much on the vigor and vitality of the parent stock and the care of the eggs before being put into the incubator as upon the incubator itself.

Successful hatches can be expected only when the birds in the pens from which the eggs come are enjoying an abundant health. Poor hatches are probably caused more frequently by poor breeding stock than by poor incubators.

POULTRY FACTS

Hens pay for warming their drink.

The largest breed of chickens raised in the United States is said to be the Jersey black giant.

Build the straw loft straight across. There should be 12 to 18 inches of straw after it has settled.

Watch the old hens in your poultry flock. They are dangerous spreaders of poultry tuberculosis.

Heating drinking water for the hens with coal or wood is much cheaper than letting them heat it with food.

Heating the laying houses is becoming a more frequent practice. If heat is properly applied and used with discretion, it should prove beneficial.

Liquid, condensed or dried skim milk or buttermilk is valuable for winter feeding. Milk has a tonic effect, whets the appetite for other feeds and serves as a partial substitute for green feed.

A straw loft just high enough to keep you from using swear words will make a lot of difference in keeping the poultry house warm and dry.

Producers have had experience in the past where their hens did better when confined to the houses than when they were given range.

Over one-half of the total egg crop for the year is produced during the four months of March, April, May and June, according to United States Department of Agriculture statistics.

Grit does not furnish lime. There should be crushed limestone, or oyster or clam shells in small hoppers or boxes where the hens may help themselves. The extra cost will soon be made up by the greater number of eggs with strong marketable shells.

PULPIT ECHOES NO. 1

Subject: Testing Our Experience
Text: First Epistle of John
This is the day of objective tests, and practically everything in life is tested and standardized. Our motor cars are tested and rated at so many horsepower; our milk is tested and we are informed that it contains so many bacteria; our children are tested and classified according to intelligence, interest and ability. These tests have been helpful, for they have standardized our motors, made milk safe for the home, and revealed the special aptitudes of our children.

Would a test of the reality of our religion be equally helpful? What could be set up as a test to determine the effectiveness of our faith? 1. The Doctrinal Test. This is the one Paul set up when he said, "If any man should preach unto you any gospel other than that which we preached unto you, him be anathema." Luther was judged by this criterion in the sixteenth century, and in more recent times each denomination has drawn up standards by which the fitness of any individual to enter the fellowship of the church is determined; but these were used largely to exclude rather than to stimulate individual inquiry as to the present condition of one's own personal life. Could we find a test to broadening and vitalizing our Christian experience?

Such criteria are to be found in this illuminating First Epistle of John. The first test which John gives is found in the first chapter. "If we are walking in the light as he is in the light, it is our habit to have fellowship with one another." This is the Social test of our Christianity. The church has

Hunters, Anticipating Call of Red Gods in Autumn, Are Planning Trips to Canada's Game-Laden Wilds

A SEATTLE HUNTER AND GRIZZLY KILLED TEN MILES FROM BARKERVILLE, B.C.

When the first touch of autumn tinges the leaves to glorious hues of gold and scarlet, when the frost is on the pumpkin and the last rose of summer dies, hunters throughout the country prepare to answer the call of the red gods as they overhaul their rifles, shotguns and other equipment in preparation for trips in quest of game.

The Dominion of Canada our neighbor to the north has always attracted throngs of American sportsmen with the advent of the hunting season. Her vast forests are ideal breeding places for all kinds of game from the timid rabbit which scurries for cover at the slightest sound to the sturdy moose and silver-tipped grizzly bear, two of the most highly prized trophies of the hunt.

Moose deer, bear and an abundance of small game including many varieties of birds are found in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Ontario and experienced guides are available at various strategic points along the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway to assist the hunter in locating his game. Despite the large number of moose taken annually, these animals are on the increase for cow moose and calves are protected and the tag limit is one bull moose per man per season. Deer and fawns are also protected.

The Cariboo District of British Columbia, reached from Ashcroft Station is one of the most productive game localities in the Dominion. Moose, caribou, mountain goat and the highly-prized silver tip grizzly, deer and other big game animals are taken and it is seldom that a party setting out under competent guides such as are provided by E. S. Knight of Ashcroft or other good outfitters fails to "bring home the bacon."

Grizzlies sometimes weigh half a ton and are exceedingly vicious especially when wounded or when defending a litter of cubs. It took five well-directed shots to stop a huge grizzly which charged down on Gus Cook of Dundee, Ill., several years ago. A keen eye, steady hand, quiet nerve and above all an infallible trigger finger are necessary qualifications for hunting these monarchs of the wild.

OUR WEEKLY CHURCH CHAT

"The Message Delivered" A mere lad in the army overseas, was rather hard to manage because of his failure to respond readily to discipline. But when the time came for him to do actual service, he suddenly developed into a man. On the last day of the great war he had to go out twice in the face of the enemy fire, but both times came back and saluted with these words: "Captain, your message was delivered."

We are entrusted with a message to the nations, and there are many places in the far-flung battle-line where to deliver it is to do so in the face of the enemy's fire. There will come a day when we will go out for the last time, and at the end of the day report to our Captain, who said, "Go ye in to all the world and preach the gospel." Shall we be able to say, as did the lad: Captain, your message was delivered?"

An English preacher asked some British soldiers, "If Queen Victoria were to issue a proclamation, and placing it in the hands of her army and navy, were to say, "Go into all the world and proclaim it to every nation, to every creature," how long do you think it would take you to do it?" One of the men, accustomed to obeying orders without delay and at the peril of life, replied, "Well, I think we could manage it in about eighteen months." Friends, if those who have enlisted in the service of "King Emmanuel" were as faithful and loyal to their "Executive Commander" as soldiers and sailors in the armies and navies of the world, the story of God's love and the Gospel of Jesus and His Atonement would be preached in every land in one generation. Our great Commander gave the order to "Go." Why have we, "Tarried?" To obey is better than a sacrifice. Let us obey our Master, and carry the whole gospel to the whole world.

LELIA LAKE SCHOOL NEWS

On Friday before Christmas, the 7th grade enjoyed their midday walk to the much loved Mr. and Mrs. Dodd's.

During the Holidays Misses Jewell and Juanita Jones gave the 7th Grade a Christmas party. The most interesting games were played and delicious refreshments were served to Misses Dora Mae Koen, Margare Gerner, Lucy Stogner and James Reynolds, Morris Finch, Billie Howard, Noble Eddins.

School opened Monday morning with an increased enrollment in each grade of three to five and a total increase of about 30 pupils. The average attendance at present is 232.

Our mid-term examinations began this week which means that half of the term has passed at the close of school Friday. It seems hardly possible that the term can pass so quickly.

Our boys and girls had a basketball game with the pupils of Windy Valley Tuesday, the girls losing by a score of 21 to 4 and the boys winning by a score of 21 to 17.

The Parent-Teacher Association met in a regular session Friday night. A large crowd was in attendance. The program was made up of pupils from the 6th, 10th, and 11th grades.

The High School part of the program consisted of a reading by Louise Lewis entitled "A joke operation by Dr. Sambo Philligigs." Herman Dodson and Sam Wilson King played the part of the "patients." "Miss Popularity" was the last number on the program and made a hit by the leading lady being able to take care of four beaux at one time.

Louise Lewis played the part of "Miss Popularity", Isabel Knox "The Maid" and Sam Wilson King, Richard Finch, Herman Dodson and C. C. Taylor played the part of "suitors."

The 6th Grade had a reading by Lunell Lewis and a play, "Long Long Ago" and a song by the class.

School is progressing nicely and the attendance will no doubt be more regular hereafter for the term. We would kindly ask that parents see that their children come direct to school after leaving home.

Patrons are also asked to see that their children's books have covers. A small matter but one of the requirements of the state school authorities.

Satan is a personality, there are places where he specially abides. Our subject next Lord's Day morning is, "Living in Satan's Neighborhood." Many people are living in there, are you? Perhaps we can help you solve your problems. The world goes by signs, so Sunday night our subject will be "Sign Boards."

Temple of Truth
By the Apostle

Migosh! Here I am an old man, have had a lot of troubles, most of which never happened.

Two cars racing on East 2nd street Christmas week. One had no driver but did have four couples on the back seat.

Jim Heckman, the Edison of Donley county, applied for a patent for his double barrel niggershoot-or with time clock attachment, but found that it conflicted with a grease gun patent of old Henry's. He is preparing a blue print of a change which will no doubt revolutionize law enforcement in Clarendon at night.

Asa Yates, who has the best place for making booze in the county right in the basement of the courthouse and won't use it or rent it to some one who will, claims to have a pet rabbit that chews tobacco. It also smokes snipes found on the court yard. He claims to lock his rabbit in the jail every night to keep the county attorney from stealing it.

Yates will be sore when he finds the Apostle spilled the beans, and right here we want to remind him that we are some fighter, and we don't aim for anything to get started.

A fellow pumped the Apostle for a scrap one time and right on the start there was a blow. Somebody fell. We got up. Turning upon our attacker we succeeded in winding his arms about our waist, and by a quick jerk threw him on top of us, at the same time punching our head against the press casting to get a better brace. By repeated manipulations we kept hitting our nose with his fist until it should have worn out, I mean his fist, but it didn't. Then inserting our nose between his teeth, we had him. We tangled his hands in our hair until he could do nothing but jerk, sure enough then we had him.

A. N. Wood, the grocer, breaks out this week with a "red tag" bunch of specials. The tags are to be placed on the goods in the store where you can walk in, see the article and the price. This is the first time we have ever heard of this being done, and no one but a Jack county man would think up this method of offering bargains to his customers.

Consider the blamed burro. He is the ragged end of the animal kingdom, and yet has two wonderful traits that no human has. He is never concerned in worrying about what may happen tomorrow, and doesn't give a dang what you say about him today.

At 18 the Apostle had ideas that the world ought to be reformed. At 30 he had narrowed down to specializing on the heathen. At 40 he sought reform in politics only, and today he is willing for every one to do as he pleases—reform is impossible.

A fantastical sky pilot writes me that this Apostle is headed for hell because he prints accounts of murders. All we got to say is that if he is going to the other place, we would naturally feel cramped and we are going right on to where he said we would.

Some women have a world of patience. I'll say they do. A fellow parked on the street one day this week, went to the matinee at the picture show and when he came back to his car remarked to his wife that he wanted to take her too, but was afraid the baby would cry and disturb the crowd.

Bill Greene over at the Greene dry goods store casually remarked during the week that his firm sold a world of sox Christmas week. Yes, and the Apostle got about half of them and if they don't wear as well as the kind our grandmother used to knit, Bill will hear about it and I don't mean maybe. It looks like Bill is in for a hard session.

The Hound Dog Singing Association ain't doin' any good. The members are already in dispute and some are actually sore. None of them know whether it is a vocal or a hunting association. In other words, they are trying to find out whether man or dog is to make the racket.

All the lost articles and found articles advertised in our last issue were restored to their rightful owners within 24 hours. A party at Hedley, Mr. Alwine, lost a bunch of clothing between there and Newlin, but we have not heard of a "find" to date.

W. C. Bridges, the Hedley mutual secretary, had the Leader rig him up a ledger for keeping a correct record of his members. Clyde drew up the form and it beats any that we have ever seen. That mutual is one of the oldest and strongest in the Panhandle and the records are being properly kept so that any member can see for himself just what it is worth to him to be a member of the Hedley mutual.

Now is the time to begin to prepare to have a flower garden next season. Read our free offer in the editorial column.

Mothers, the Old and the New
(By H. I. Phillips, in the New York Sun)

(As it used to be)
"All that I am I owe to my mother," said Ramsey Rook, the distinguished statesman. "She was a dear, home-loving woman whose sole interest was her fireside and her family. There were eleven children and we never knew what it was to be without her tender care for a day. She made all our clothes, did her own housework and even helped father with the chores about the farm. She was a devout church member, but had little time for any activities outside the domestic sphere."

(As it is today)
"Yes," said Clinton Waffle popularly known as "jazzbo" to his friends, the dentifrice and cosmetic magnate, "I remember my dear mother quite clearly. I was her only child and used to see her occasionally outside the athletic season. As a young girl she was captain of her class crew and organized the first woman's foot ball team at her college."

"When I was an infant she was very prominent as a swimmer. She could do the 200-yard swim in a little over a minute and won many cups for distance events and for fancy diving. She was one of the organizers of the first woman's soccer team in our community and captained it for four successive seasons. She was State tennis champion for two years and was a wonderful golf player."

"Of course I seldom saw anything of her as a child because of her outside activities, but my father used to tell me about her. He saw her occasionally at water carnivals and field meets."

"Later on when I had become a young man I saw more of her and we became very close friends. She had given up active participation in athletics by that time and gone in for politics."

"Yes, sir, my mother was one of the leading ward workers in our district and often stumped the city for the Republican party. She served as deputy commissioner of tenements, Registrar of the Superior Court, County Clerk and Judge of the Appellate Division. She was also State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles for one term."

"After I became of age she dropped out of our home life again through the fact she entered the State Legislature and became house floor leader. I remember her quite vividly, all things considered, and feel that all that I am today I owe to her. The only question is: What am I?"

TO OUR MANY FRIENDS:

We wish to take this means of thanking each and every one for the many beautiful flowers and the kind deeds conferred upon us following my recent accident and during my recovery.

May the New Year bring to each of you an abundant share of God's richest blessings.

HEAL THOSE SORE GUMS

Even after pyorrhea has affected your stomach, kidneys and your general health. Leto's Pyorrhea Remedy, used as directed, can save you. Dentists recommend it. Druggists return money if it fails.

Douglas & Goldston Drug Co.

The BEST Gray Hair Remedy is Home Made

To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It will gradually darken streaked, faded or gray hair and make it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

Cow, Sow and Hen

No farm is complete without some of the three enumerated above. It is just as necessary that they be found on a farm as it is to have a house to live in.

Either of them will afford you a saleable pro- through the season without waiting till fall for a money crop. It's the weekly pay check that pays for the necessities and saves worry over meeting bills in the fall.

Young Eyes Must Be Protected

Long winter evenings of studying, or following the exciting adventures of Frank Merriwell through page after page, are hard on a youngster's eyes. He is apt to do them an irreparable damage—one that will seriously affect his chances for business or professional success in later life.

Good light is essential—both for eye conservation and for the proper enjoyment of those pleasurable hours of reading. Correct lighting is so often only a question of a conveniently placed wall-plug, a larger light globe, or an additional fixture—small items compared with invaluable eyesight.

Under the schedule of the new Home Comfort Rate, electric service is so economical—don't, by all means, sacrifice adequate home lighting.

Old Quebec Makes Merry on Its Triple-Track Toboggan Slide

DUFFERIN TERRACE AND CHATEAU FRONTENAC

With more thrilling sport can outdoor enthusiasts have than tobogganing—zipping down a steep, snow-covered slope with joyous, carefree companions the wind whistling about one's ears and the frosty air painting one's cheeks a glorious, healthy pink? Tobogganing is one of America's most popular winter diversions, and its devotees claim that, with the possible exception of skiing, there is nothing to approach it in thrills.

Quebec, Canada's Ancient Capital, situated high above the broad St. Lawrence, has provided for its winter visitors the triple-track toboggan slide shown above—one of the finest in North America. It starts from the Citadel (an interesting old fort, still occupied by troops) and extends down the steep slopes of Citadel Hill, along Dufferin Terrace past the Chateau Frontenac. This splendid slide is always thronged with merry-makers who stage impromptu races and revel in the pulse-quickening sport to their heart's content. At night the slide is illuminated by thousands of electric lights and makes a pretty picture when viewed from Dufferin Terrace below. There is no fear of possible mishap occurring on Quebec's slide, for the toboggans run in deep tracks and cannot turn turtle or collide with one another. They travel at a rate approximating that of an express train, and give the speed-demon an excellent opportunity to "step on it" without endangering others.

Besides the toboggan slide, Quebec's splendid outdoor and indoor skating rinks, ski-jumps and other facilities for winter sport attract an increasing number of visitors to this fine old city each year.

SOCIETY

MISSIONARY SOCIETY
The Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet at the church at 2:30 Wednesday beginning the study of a new book giving accounts of the prophecies of Amos and Hosea. Mrs. J. G. Sherman is leader.

SIMS P. T. A.

ASHTOLA

The Student Activity Club met December 31, 1930. Miss Emma Sue Graham, president, had charge of the meeting.

Minutes were read by secretary, Miss Merle Harp.

The old business was brought before the club, which was to decide which play to put on and when. They decided to put on "The Hoodooed Coon." They play will be January 23. The characters will all be Ashotla High School students and no out-siders.

Somenew business was brought before the club. It was the election of a vice-president. The former one, Miss Ima Poovey, has withdrawn and Miss Helen Parker now holds the office.

The program committee met on January 2, and selected the following to take part in the musical comedy, "The Hoodooed Coon."

Junior Lingo, H. W. Lovell, Jr., Lu McClellan, Jr., Foster Gregg, Horace McClellan, Evelyn Jones, Laura M. McHarp, Helen Parker, and Ruby Lee Mason.

Basketball

The Boys' Basketball team were to play Chamberlain Friday afternoon, but Chamberlain failed to show up. Using two others of the community, the boys played a game anyway; it furnished plenty of excitement for the spectators. The team is improving considerably in form, so come out, folks, and watch them.

Mid-Term Finals Next Week
The holidays are over, and the students are now preparing for their mid-term final examinations. Most of the students are back in school and, apparently, all are ready to settle down to some good hard work.

Number of Females to Male Quite Variable

The number of females to be mated with one male varies with the class of stock.

For the Asinties it should be eight to ten.

For the American and English classes it should be ten to fifteen and the Mediterranean may be fifteen to twenty.

The hens to be mated should be kept away from other males for at least three weeks prior to the saving of the first eggs for hatching, and should have associated with the males it is desired to breed from, for at least ten days, while two weeks is better.

Buckwheat Favored for Feeding During Winter

Buckwheat has some qualities to be recommended. It is oily and therefore, supplies heat to the birds and is particularly adapted to winter feeding. It is fattening. Because it has so much woody fiber however, it is only worth about one half as much pound for pound as wheat for poultry feed. Ground and mixed with skim milk and buttermilk it makes a very good fat feeding mash. Its scratch feeds for laying flocks it is generally used in no greater quantities than 10 percent for the above reason; too much fiber.

Light Important in Poultry House in Winter

Light is very important in the poultry house in winter, because the days are short at best. If the hens do not have sufficient light to take full advantage of their opportunities to eat, they will not be able to lay many eggs. Artificial lights are considered profitable if increasing winter production, and it certainly is worth while to provide for the maximum benefits from natural daylight. Nothing contributes more to contentment and well-being of the flock than clean litter.

Lucerne-in-Quebec, Lure of the Great Out Doors

One hundred years ago the Lord of the old Papineau Seignior, at Montebello celebrated Christmas in the good old-fashioned way, surrounded by his family and dependents through a series of festivities lasting several days. The Yule-log crackled in the great fireplace; the merry voices of men and maidens rang through the great halls of the manor house; carols, so old that the origin of some of them was even then untraceable, were sung; bright garlands of evergreen decorated the apartments and corridors and—in a word—Christmas was King. Then, for a century, the song of the minstrels and laughter of the guests was hushed and only the falling snow told the historic seat of the Papineaus of the advent of the Christmas season. This year, however, Lucerne-in-Quebec has stretched its magic wand over the historic site and the ancient glories are to be revived. With the Log Chateau as headquarters, 88,000 acres of beautiful countryside will be thrown open to visitors to the unique hotel. Bobsleighting on one of the longest runs on the continent; ski-ing; ski-joring; and dog-sled drives will be offered to the devotees of winter sports, while the most complete comforts and appointments of up-to-date hotel-keeping; good food and bright entertainment will await the guests at close of day. Among the special features arranged for the Christmas festivities are the rendering of carols by The Children of His Majesty's Savoy

Chapel Choir (London, Eng.); old time songs by Charles Goulet's troupe, of French-Canadian artists and interpretation of Tudor dances by experts from the Margaret Eaton School of Dancing. Thus, once again, will the old walls of the historic manor near the strains which roused them to Christmas celebration a century ago, and before that, Lucerne-in-Quebec is ideally situated, on the northern bank of the Ottawa River about half way between the Canadian Capital and Montreal, and only an overnight run from the great cities of the Eastern United States.
