Commissioners To Raise Sheriff's Pay By Adding Duties

Raises Had Been Requested By Several County Officials Perplexing Board

After debating in their minds the request for a number of salary raises, the County Commissioners finally settled on a plan to raise the Sheriff only and make him earn it. No other raises were allowed.

The low salary of Donley county's sheriff is due to the fact that the office of sheriff and tax collector was divided January 1st. The law permitting the separation of such offices was passed several years ago and evidently before living expenses had reached a high point.

The salary of the sheriff was set at one thousand dollars years ago, and fees in certain cases. It was found that a deputy was necessary, and this small sum would not permit of any man discharging the duties of the office.

The Commissioners could only pay the sheriff a jailer's salary of nine hundred and fifty dollars a year under the law, but this added to his present salary will permit the guardians of the law to "get by" but it is frankly admitted by the Commissioners that even with this raise, there is no likelihood of the sheriff becoming a millionaire very soon.

I. B. Pierce is performing the offices of jailer, he and his family living at the jail. Cleo Emerson, deputy sheriff, looks after the office except when called to assist in extreme cases on the outside. Sheriff Pierce works on the outside most all the time and is ready to answer calls both day and night.

In addition to his regular duties as jailer, I. B. Pierce looks after the identification bureau having become quite an expert in finger print operation and kindred subjects after a long study of the subject and association with experts actively on the job.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller and little daughter, Melba Joe, of Post City, are guests of the Harvey Miller home.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Trostle and son Earl of Shamrock visited over the week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Trostle

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Neaves of Lefors were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McAdams of this city.

Library To Hold Book Shower At Club Room On Friday

Bring All Book Contributions to Woman's Club Room Between 2 and 5 P. M.

The Library Commission asks that suitable contributions to the City Library be made during a special drive on Friday, January 30th from 2 to 5 p. m.

All civic clubs and individuals are kindly asked to assist in assembling books at this time to further add value to one of the largest municipal libraries of the Panhandle.

Mrs. C. A. Earton, librarian, states that books are being received from time to time but as the demand is growing beyond the supply, a special effort is being made at this time to secure the books required.

A membership in the library costs only a dollar for the year. This entitles the member to borrow a book for a reasonable length of time without charge. The selection at this time covers a wide range of subjects and such books as may suit the requirements of most any reader.

Vivian Floreta is the beautiful name given the young lady who came to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Bones the 25th. Weight nine pounds.

Dr. Charles E. Barker Was Pres. Taft's Physician

The man who kept President Wm. H. Taft physically fit during his term as president will be in Clarendon February 18th to deliver three addresses.

Dr. Barker first came into prominence as a public speaker in 1919 when he delivered an address on the subject of "A Father's Responsibility to His Son" since which time his services have been in demand over much of the North American continent.

He has spoken to 2,800,000 high school students, over 1000 clubs, and over a million women have heard his address to mothers during that time.

"How to Make the Most Out of Life" will be his subject in speaking to our high school pupils, both boys and girls at the same time. Rural pupils are cordially invited to hear this lecture which is free.

Secretary County Council Is Master Canner

Among the club ladies of the county entitled to special merit for the excellence of their products and the amount canned the past season is Mrs. J. C. Latimer of Hedley who has canned about six hundred quarts the past year.

These canned products represent vegetables, soups, chili, dewberries, beef and other miscellaneous delicacies.

Mrs. Latimer is secretary and treasurer of the County Council of Demonstration clubs of Donley county and takes an active interest in her work in the club as well as providing her family with the best foods to be had.

Aston Is Refused Bond In Preliminary Hearing Thursday

Little Interest is Manifested by Public and Only One of State's Witnesses Used

In the preliminary hearing of James Edward Aston before Leon O. Lewis, justice of the Peace Thursday morning, on a charge of robbing the Donley County State Bank, the public took little interest which was probably due to the fact that others had been brought here in connection with the charge of bank robbery and later turned loose.

The defendant was represented by Judge J. L. Lackey of Stinnett, formerly county judge of Collingsworth county and who made the race for congress against Marvin Jones in 1915.

H. I. Aston, a practicing attorney, prominent Rotarian, and leading citizen of McAllister for more than twenty years, came to attend his brother's hearing.

Aston was arrested in Oklahoma January 14th by a special investigator of the Bankers' Association and returned here by Sheriff Guy S. Pierce and County Attorney R. Y. King.

Unless his attorneys succeed in securing bond for Aston in a Habeas Corpus proceeding, he will be held in jail until the Grand Jury meeting March 23 passes on the matter. Holman Kennedy was the only State's witness used at the hearing, Kennedy being positive in his ability to identify Aston as the man who is alleged to have forced him to dump the money in the sack during the robbery of the Donley County State bank on June 23, 1930.

Mrs. Scott Brooks and Misses Clea and Ruth Crawford of Bushland were guests of the L. F. Bones home Saturday.

Former Lelia Resident Killed by Auto in Arkansas

Word has just been received here of the death of Mr. J. Andy Hawk at Sloom Springs, Arkansas which occurred on January 12th.

Mr. Hawk was in the act of repairing an auto casing on the highway when struck by a passing motorist, death resulting within a short time.

He lived for a time at Lelia Lake and also a brother of Oscar C. Hawk, well known in this section.

Suggestions By Extension Engineer On Terrace Plans

G. E. Martin of Oklahoma's A & M College Outlines Plans to Save Land

The first thing to be done in terracing a piece of land is to learn all possible about the conditions present. Its drainage with relation to surrounding fields should be considered. Water coming from untraced land above must be cared for. If necessary such water may be diverted by means of a levee or ditch.

Sometimes a definite starting plan for terracing the whole farm will avoid changing terraces built previously. When possible, terraces should discharge water opposite to the direction of flow in main streams. The type of surface soil present, the number and size of gullies, the subsoil and the probable length of the terrace lines should all be taken into consideration when planning a system of terraces.

A terrace system is designed to cut down quantity and speed of water movement on a given area. Therefore, the slope of the field to be terraced governs the number of terraces to be made and the distance between them. Steep slopes may sometimes require more than twice the number of terraces as does a gently-sloping field the same size.

Terrace building should always begin at the top of the hill. The upper terrace should be finished before any of the lower terraces are started. A terrace is not finished until it is full height, wide enough to cross easily, has all gully fills and properly with extra allowances for settlement; has a wide, generous waterway and a wide, shallow outlet provided.

A terrace may be made with a plow and home-made "V" drag; with a ditcher or with a grader. A farm level and rod are also necessary equipment in terracing. The instrument may be purchased at a moderate price and is useful in a number of ways on the farm.

It is not worth while to build terraces unless they are maintained and cared for regularly. If terraces are built large in the beginning, the maintenance is an easy matter. Back-furrowing to the ridge once a year or a few rounds with the terrace grades is about all that will be necessary. It is important that attention be given while they are new, during and after heavy rains.

In breaking a terraced field it is well to start the plow on top of the terraces. In this way they will be raised with each plowing, also there will be a dead furrow formed between the terraces which will aid in checking the water.

Miss Margaret Goldston spent the week end in Clarendon and was accompanied back to Amarillo Sunday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Goldston.

Six Members Speak On Rotary Luncheon Program Friday

Varied Program is Presented by the International Committee And Chairman

Those speaking on the program included Rotarians Dyr, Evans, Bryan, Estlack and President Jenkins, each of whom drew subjects for the basis of extemporaneous remarks.

T. D. Nored, guest by special invitation, responded to a request to speak and confined his remarks to local matters of interest. Rotarian W. Orr of Memphis came up to make up his attendance and also made a talk that was appreciated.

An invitation from the Memphis Rotary club asking Clarendon Rotarians to present a program early in February was accepted.

President Jenkins announced a real treat in the program to be presented Friday of this week urging a full attendance.

School Pupils' Basketball Tournament February Sixth

Will be Played in Hedley's New School Auditorium Over Two Days

Competing basketball teams over the county are requested to meet at Hedley on Friday, February 6th in an elimination contest to determine the team that will compete further in the Interscholastic League contests.

The preliminary games will be played Friday and Saturday and the two championship teams will play Saturday night of the 7th to which a small admittance fee will be charged to defray actual expenses of the tournament.

Rev. B. N. Shepherd Returns Home Friday From Visit

Rev. Shepherd, pastor of the Baptist church recently made a visit to his brother, Rev. Shepherd of Tahoka and pastor of the Methodist church there. Both men visited a sister at Clifton and later visited her husband in a Dallas hospital.

Rev. Shepherd also visited in Ft. Worth where the wife of the Fortales pastor who recently took his life is taking treatment in the Allison sanitarium. She is improving and Rev. Shepherd found this a great source of satisfaction, he being a friend of the family for a number of years.

Unemployment Is Considered At Mass Meeting Friday

Various Plans Are Suggested to Furnish Employment to Needy of City

A mass meeting was held at the City Hall Friday afternoon which was attended by the heads of a number of civic bodies and the Good Fellows for the purpose of providing employment for those who are now accepting charity donations from the Good Fellows, but who are willing to earn their necessities if given an opportunity.

Roy Beverly and Sid Harris, county commissioners from Precincts 2 and 1 respectively, suggested that they could handle all demand for immediate assistance in their districts outside of Clarendon.

Both men are already extending help to those actually in need of funds with which to purchase food by giving them work on the highway in each of their Precincts.

Those in town who are already accepting funds or food supplies and clothing from the Good Fellows, and those in the near future who may come to want, will be provided a job at the Ball Park in remodeling the fencing and terracing the grounds.

The City Commissioners agreed to furnish tools and a tractor and grader for the purpose of moving the dirt. An overseer will be placed over the working squad that the labor money expended may accomplish something worth while.

The money paid out for this labor or aside from those working for the city, will be paid by the Good Fellows.

It was brought to the attention of those at the meeting that attempts had been made in several instances to impose upon the organization by asking for help when such aid was not deserving.

Only those in actual need will be employed, and that only after an investigation has been made as to the worthiness of the case. It is plainly evident that help will be given willingly when needed, but there will be nothing for those who see fit to attempt to impose on the charity of the town.

The wage scale agreed upon at this meeting is $1.50 for 8 hours work. This is the scale being paid those working on highways in the county and is higher than that being paid under similar circumstances in other towns.

Tax Payments May Be Deferred Until October By Senate

House Votes Tax Relief Monday 132 to 5; Bill is Now Up to Senate

If the State Senators concur in the new tax bill as passed by the House Monday by an overwhelming vote, payments of all forms of taxes except those of incorporated towns may be deferred until October 1st.

The bill carries with it an interest payment of 10 percent from February 1st of this year and applies to 1930 tax payments which are due this month.

An effort is being made to secure an agreement between both law making bodies that a final bill may be passed before Saturday. It may be possible that a law will be agreed upon whereby semi-annual tax payments may be made. This idea has found favor in a large number and such a bill was at one time introduced in the Legislature by Representative O'Neal.

Thief Robs Buggy of Sugar While Lady Shops

Her husband of 83 being bedridden from a recent paralytic stroke Mrs. L. L. Cantelou hitched the family horse to the buggy and drove down town early in the week to make necessary purchases of groceries.

The food supplies were placed in the buggy and while making other purchases, a sneak thief stole a twenty-five pound sack of sugar from the buggy, and possibly would have returned for other articles had the owner not returned at that moment.

This act of thievery has been severely condemned, citizens classifying him as the "meanest man alive" while others suggested that "if hell were raked from one end to the other, a meaner man could not be found."

Fisher County Farmer Visits Relatives Here

J. H. Millsap, resident of Fisher county for the past ten years and a prominent land holder of that county is here this week visiting his brother, A. L. Millsap of the Chamberlain community.

He reports his county in bad shape due to a crop failure but farmers are terracing and breaking their land for the coming season. He is favorably impressed with Donley county and intimated that he might exchange his holdings in Fisher for land here.

Joe H. Millsap, also of Fisher county and nephew of the elders men, is here also for a visit over the week.

Boykin Elected To Head Secretaries Association Sat.

Organization of Thirty-Two Counties is Attended by County Agents

The spirit of development pervaded the meeting of the Panhandle Secretaries' Association at Amarillo Saturday. The association is composed of the secretaries of the various Chambers of Commerce and Commercial Clubs covering thirty-two Panhandle counties.

The meeting was largely attended by county agents of the Panhandle, several of whom appeared on the program. W. H. Upchurch, county agent of Randall county and a well known prize exhibitor of Randall county products at several fairs the past year, appeared on the program Saturday.

G. L. Boykin, secretary of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce was elected as President of the Association for this year. He succeeds Guy Hill, secretary of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce. The Amarillo Chamber of Commerce complimented the body with a luncheon at the noon hour. Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the Tri-State Fair Association spoke in the afternoon.

One of the most important ideas advanced at the meeting from a farmer standpoint was that of securing the pledge of merchants not to handle butter substitutes, according to Upchurch, who classified the substitute as "monkey feed" since the base of the product is coconut oil brought from the tropics.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Massie visited relatives in Groom Monday.

Miss Pauline Lane, who is teaching at Paducah, spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cap Lane.

Clarendon Orchestra Plays For Memphis Banquet

The Clarendon orchestra directed by Gus B. Stephenson furnished music for the Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet at Memphis Wednesday evening.

The band folks were accompanied by Holman Kennedy, G. L. Boykin, C. J. Douglas, and Homer Mulkey. Twelve members of the orchestra made the trip and the Clarendonites report that they were royally entertained by our sister city.

County Council Met Saturday With Good Attendance

Seven Clubs Are Represented by Their Presidents And Delegates

The County Council, which is composed of the Home Demonstration Club members, met in a business session here Saturday afternoon with a large attendance.

The session was held at the Womans Club Room and was presided over by the president, Mrs. Louis E. Merrell of Ashtola. Mrs. J. C. Latimer of Hedley is secretary-treasurer of the Council.

The Council was addressed by W. H. Patrick, president of the First National Bank who spoke on the importance of 4-H club work and the value of home demonstration clubs in developing the resources of the county.

Mr. Patrick illustrated his talk by referring to his experience in dealing with rural people who came to his bank to borrow money for the purpose of buying feed and food that should have been produced at home and on the farm.

He lent encouragement to the idea that the producer on the farm should make provision a year ahead and that the housewife in canning products for family use was doing a valuable service in enabling the family to effect a saving and thus accumulate something for the proverbial rainy day.

It is a well known fact that ladies who canned standard packs the past season in accordance with 4-H club rules find a ready market for their products at good prices. This feature of Mr. Patrick's remarks especially appealed to his audience which accorded him a round of applause upon his initial appearance before the Council.

Clubs represented by delegates and their presidents were Ashtola, Clarendon, Chamberlain, Hedley Rural, Lelia Lake and Whitefish. Wifadasos club of Hedley was represented by delegate only.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Mosley visited in Hedley Sunday.

Mrs. Jack Killough and daughter Miss Jane and Mr. Joe Bownds were Childress visitors Sunday, Mrs. Killough remaining for a visit with her father.

H. E. Reed of the Claude news and a brother of Miss Ione Reed who taught in our public schools some year ago, was a Clarendon visitor Sunday paying his respects to the Leader family.

Officers Capture Still Thursday Night In Raid Near Giles

Two Men Escape by Running to Hills When Officers Arrive on Scene

A man giving his name as Homer Reed was lodged in jail here Thursday night following a raid on a still some 3 and a half miles northeast of Giles. Two kegs said to contain whiskey, fruit jars, three barrels of mash and a Chevrolet coupe are said to have been taken in the raid.

Sheriff Pierce and his deputy, Cleo Emerson and Constable Peabody swooped down on the still just before dusk. Peabody stood guard over the man who is said to have been in charge of the works while Pierce and Emerson each singled a fleeing man, the two talking to the hills at a high rate of speed.

Both officers and fleeing men were on foot and shots fired by officers knocking up dirt near the fleeing men only caused them to add more speed, finally escaping in the darkness.

Reed was taken before justice of the peace Leon O. Lewis and his bond set at $1500 which he was unable to make at the time and was committed to jail. One of the escaping parties is alleged to have been well known to the officers and his arrest is expected at any time.

Some Combination.

Too many are trying to get by on a last year suit, a this year car and a next year income.

The Difference.

A rattlesnake gives warning before striking, but a hit and run driver never does.

Depression Cure.

In order to remedy our economic mess right now, we might let the women folks have a vote if we hadn't already done that. We just let them have the ballot too soon.

Moonshiners Help.

Arkansas is in dead earnest about this relief business when the moonshiners loaned the Red Cross their kettles for the purpose of making soup to feed the hungry hundreds.

Consolation.

After being done in shells, feathers and crochet, it remained for a brush artist to remind the world that President Hoover is a man of character, filled with kindness and sincerity. The artists are coming into their own if they can find some way to prove their assertions.

Counting Crooks.

France has again checked up on her political leaders and another cabinet is 'busted' all to thunder. If those Frogs were as apt in paying foreign debts as they are in playing politics, the world would have a much better opinion of them.

Senators Surprised.

When the Wickersham committee made its report that prohibition had not been enforced in some instances, a number of Senators are said to have expressed surprise not knowing that any such efforts had been attempted in their localities.

Red Cross Funds.

As another evidence of the way Clarendon people view an obligation, when the call came for a special Red Cross contribution on the recent campaign, the money was wired in by treasurer J. D. Swift. It was not necessary to disturb any one about the matter as the funds were in the bank subject to call.

Why The Difference.

Clarendon has a "hog" law and a "chicken" law. No hogs are permitted to dwell within the city limits. Chickens of the poultry type, are not supposed to run at large but do. No effort has ever been made to confine poultry to inclosures which works a hardship on the neighbors of the owners.

Hidden Gold.

Charley Lockhart, the diminutive State Treasurer who took office January 15th, has already found $150,000 in gold certificates lost in the State's safe while he was checking up.

If he can dig around and find out who was governor the past four years, he can appease the curiosity of a whole lot of Texans. Atta boy! Charley.

Lions and Tigers.

Again it has been demonstrated that a mountain lion is not altogether a safe plaything for little tots when one tied in the back yard of a San Antonio home killed an infant Saturday while attempting to devour it.

A pet tiger killed a four-year-old boy in London November 15th. Own-tax is January 31st—Saturday of this week.

The City election comes up in April and there will likely be two and possibly three candidates for the mayoralty office. Pay up at the City Hall and have your say.

Then again, there will no doubt be state bond issues up during the year and you will need your poll tax which can only be had at the Tax Collector's office at the Courthouse. The state charges you $1.75 while the City will let you down for only $1.00.

Clarendon's Unemployed.

There appears to be a general understanding that the able bodied who receive help in Clarendon will have to earn it from here out. Those who pass the inspection, and are in dire need only, will be employed at the Ball Park this week.

Moochers, white and black, who expect to impose on the good graces of others, might as well move on. The county authorities will care for the rural folks and the town will care for the needy. No help- less will be permitted to suffer, but only the deserving will be helped in any manner.

Cutting Unemployment.

It might not be a bad idea to permit our penitentiary system to produce the coffins used in this state and sell them at a reasonable price and thus permit those to pass on who have been prevented from doing so because of an excessive funeral charge.

Dying under the present retail system as practiced, is out of the question. Many a man suffering from unemployment has no doubt reached the point "when his time had come" but could not answer the call because it was cheaper to live than to die.

Scandal Hunting.

The daily papers of the past week have devoted columns to a report of the "racket" between Clara Bow and her secretary in which a lot of alleged scandalous matter was exposed.

During the same week Mrs. J. M. Steck near Phoenix, Arizona wrapped her four babies one at a time in bed clothing and rescued them from their burning home. Though the mother died of burns, she saved the lives of four helpless tots and received a mention covering two inches of space single column in the dailies.

Queer Juries.

A San Antonio jury Saturday gave a Mrs. Uhr the death penalty on a charge of having hired a man to slay her husband, a bed-ridden paralytic.

Other women in Texas who have killed their husbands have been turned loose and complimented in some instances, seldom ever being given over five years if assessed a term in the pen.

All of which goes to prove that one can become too enthusiastic in helping out in the unemployment problem, and hereafter if it becomes necessary to do any killing, the wives had better attend to the job themselves.

Won Over $500,000.00.

During the past season when it appeared that the production of Sunkist citrus fruits of California exceeded the demands, the Board representing the 12,000 got together and proposed to spend $500,000.00 in buying up and destroying the surplus and thus preventing a break in the market.

A wiser idea prevailed when the five hundred thousand dollars was spent in advertising Sunkist products which produced a demand for the surplus. The plan worked so satisfactorily that the organization has set aside two and a quarter million dollars this season to advertise and create a further demand for their products.

Texas produced over 2,000 cars of citrus fruit this past season following a freeze of last year. The estimated production for Texas next season is 7,000 cars and 1934, should no freeze damage the new orchards, will see over 15,000 cars of citrus produced by the Valley. California can beat Texas in only one way—out advertise them.

That Car Tax.

Auto owners in this state pay tax according to weight, the price or make of the old buzz wagon does not mean a thing.

The manufacturers shipping weight is the first consideration. Then a hundred pounds is added for oil, gas, grease and tools.

If the owner has lost the customary amount of tools to a thief, he pays on 'em just the same. Not one car in a dozen contains a pump or jack after it has once been parked on the street, but he gets no deduction for that hard luck.

If the car owner bent his starting crank over the head of a would be hi-jacker, he pays license on the bent starting crank and may also have to stand for a charge of assault to murder on top of it all. Bankers consider an auto a liability instead of an asset. It is worse than that—it's a calamity and the high-jackers probably got their original idea from the auto tax law.

The "Smile Awhile" Club was selected as a name for the club. The motto—"Meet the Inevitable with a smile."

The song—"Smile." Through our club we hope to live up to name, motto, and song.

The club will meet each Wednesday.

The O. B. Club of the Seventh grade met Wednesday Jan. 21, 1931 and rendered a good program consisting of roll call answered with current events and Indian Heroes. Next on program was a discussion on table manners which was very interesting, then an Indian song was given as a solo by one of the students. A lecture on story telling was given. Then the program was closed by the club singing, "Just Before the Battle Mother."

The critic read the following report after which the club adjourned until the next regular meeting day.

Everyone in the roll call answered with their part, however, some could have answered louder.

The story that was given was not a very good one, because stories like it are mostly given in the lower grades and it was not very good for such a purpose as club work. The story was not funny however the reporter had to laugh and the story would have been better if he had not done so.

The current event was good. The solo was a good one. The girl selected a good song. However she had to have a little help on the beginning.

The book report was good. The reporter stood well, and also spoke loud enough, but not too loud. She knew her story well. However she used some words incorrect such as was, sit, came and others.

The gymnastic by the boy was good however there were two boys who did not act.

The reading that was given was a pretty good selection. But the reciter did not know her reading, therefore she had to have assistance. She did not stand erect as she should have.

The song was good. Much better than the one we sang at the meeting before.

Taking the club as a whole, it improves some every meeting.

A double header basketball game was played here Friday afternoon between our boys and girls and those of Chamberlain.

In the game between the boys, our side won by a score of 26-13. In the girls' game, Chamberlain won by a score of 17-34.

Chamberlain players are good sports and we will be glad to have them play us again.

Changes were made in some of the rooms over the week to comply with the request of the school inspector. Some of the pupils of the first grade in Miss Loraine Stogner's room were moved into Miss Lama Taylor's room.

A part of the 4th grade pupils were moved into the 5th grade room.

The High school schedule was changed in order to give the Superintendent time to spend more time in visiting the various rooms of the school.

THE SALESMAN'S PRAYER

Oh, Lord look with a forgiving eye, we beseech thee, on the buyers who lie to us about the low prices our competitors give them. Lord, soften the hearts of the buyers who as soon as they see a salesman, get busy as a hen with one chicken and keep us standing around until our feet warp and then buy as much as $10.00 worth and want that billed out the first of next month. Good Lord, curb our tendency to flirt with the married women—the single ones don't count as they expect it. Teach us not to complain at the roller towels that the multitude has used before we get there. Lord, give us digestions like alligators, that we may well digest the loin steaks cut from the neck where the yoke worked. Teach us to be thankful for the stump-water served us and called coffee. Toughen our hides, that we may sleep soundly in hotel beds already inhabited. Cause us to look with charitable eye on our competitors. Lord, soften the hearts of our employers, that they may render us what little commission is due us in full. Oh, Lord, teach our wives patience, so they won't expect our wages until we get them. We beseech thee, Oh, Lord, to overlook our absentmindedness when we get away from home and gorget about being married, and in conclusion, we beg of thee, when we have made our last trip, please don't send us below. We have had our share of that place here on earth.—Anchor Post News.

Poultry And Egg Prices To Increase

By—D. H. Reid, Texas A. & M. Poultry Dept. Poultry and egg prices will likely be higher this summer and fall. The great surplus of cold storage eggs will have to be absorbed by April and by June, Texas will be short of fertile eggs. This condition will enable the wide awake producer to get a higher price for his good eggs. Supplies of eggs in the United States change so quickly that many of those who study the market are predicting a good sale of eggs and pullets next fall and early winter. The cheap price of eggs has enabled many city people to eat more of them than when the prices were higher, so the surplus is being used up rapidly.

There is less dressed poultry in cold storage now by several million pounds than this time last year. A great many farmers have reduced their poultry flocks. These will have to be replaced, so pullets and broilers should bring good prices this season.

Farmers who raise their usual number of chickens this year will be well paid by their efforts.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hay, a 7 pound girl who was given the name of Portia Ann.

CHANGING COPY

Want you to build me a home, said the printer. "Yes, sir," replied the contractor. "And how many rooms?"

"About twelve rooms and three baths."

"Very well, sir. I'll have it ready for you next Thursday."

So on next Thursday (this is only a story) the contractor came around in his car to take the printer to see his new house.

"Well, this is a very nice house," began the printer, looking it over. "but it isn't just what I had in mind. You have built a three-story house and I like two-story houses. Don't you think yourself a two-story house would be better? And then it's a Colonial house and my wife doesn't like Colonial houses. Can't you put some stucco and hair limbering on the upper part? We saw a house with that the other day. And the living room ought to be larger and there should be more emphasis on the dining room—we all like to eat, you know."

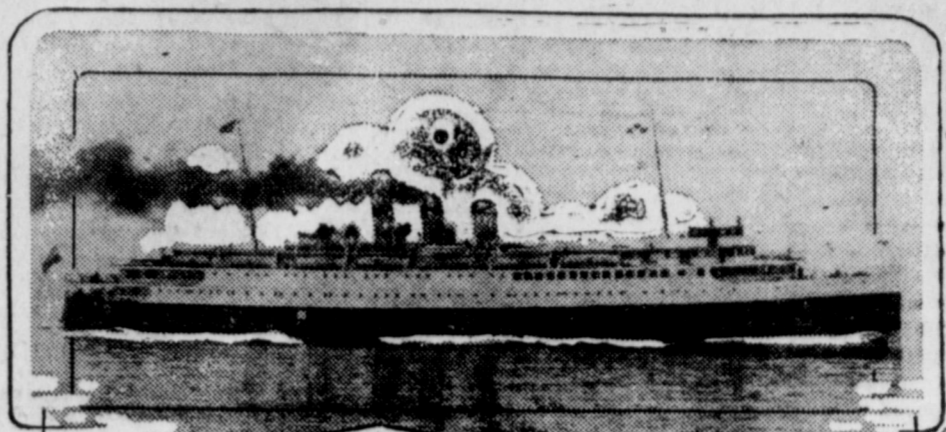

So the contractor took the house apart and put it together again, and moved the porch and the bath-rooms and changed the fireplace and the garage doors and he and the printer spent the rest of the summer arguing about which were "office corrections."

Now before we have a chance to point the moral of this fable, somebody will object, "but contractors don't do things that way."

No, but printers do.

Vancouver, Victoria and Wonderful Vancouver Island Popular Resorts Where Chill Winter Is Believed

Vancouver and Victoria, British Columbia, are rapidly increasing their popularity as winter playgrounds. Their mild, equable climate and the fact that the golfer can enjoy his game the year round make these two interesting places ideal spots to visit during the late fall and winter, when cold and sometimes snow and ice elsewhere preclude the holiday-maker from enjoying the great outdoors to the utmost. Vancouver is the gateway to miles and miles of unspoiled almost primeval territory including Stanley Park, in Vancouver itself, with its huge Douglas firs and interesting Indian totem poles, relics of a famous race. Fine beaches and golf clubs are readily accessible to visitors. Victoria, charmingly situated on the southern end of Vancouver Island, is essentially a "home city" despite its fine shops and hotels, including the beautiful Empress Hotel, recently enlarged. Victoria is easily reached via the Canadian Pacific "Princess" steamers—miniature ocean liners—to which fleet has recently been added the new "Princess Elizabeth" and "Princess Joan," vessels of 15,500 tons, which crossed the Atlantic and steamed through the Panama Canal to the Pacific under their own power. The celebrated "triangle route," Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, is served by equally fine vessels equipped with all modern conveniences and cozy state-rooms.

From Victoria delightful excursions may be made into the interior of Vancouver Island, either by the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway or by automobile. Excellent hotels are located at Cameron Lake and elsewhere. Fine fishing for salmon and trout is available at numerous places. The immense Douglas fir forests of the interior make a trip there well worth while.

Judge: "Prisoner, the jury finds you guilty."
Prisoner: "That's all right judge, I know you're too intelligent to be influenced by what they say."
Tom: "What's an echo dad?"
Dad: "An echo, my son, is the fessor who said he looked up and down the birth column to see if there was anyone born that he knew."
Dr: "What For?"
Moore: "A fishing trip."

There was a good attendance at both Sunday schools Sunday.

The Pirates won two B. B. games at the Tournament at Turkey Saturday. The boys played a game of ball with Bethel Monday and the scores were 27-16 in favor of Brice.

Mr. and Mrs. Autho Benson of Clarendon spent last Sunday afternoon in the home of Edward Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pharr spent Wednesday in the home of Mr. John Ayers of Clarendon.

Arson Richardson and family moved to Memphis this week.

An usual incident happened in our community this week. It was about two months ago that Mr. Jim Pharr lost his watch in his horse lot. Several thorough searches were made for the watch but all seemed in vain. The lot has been cleaned several times since then, and Mr. Pharr has kept four mules in the lot most of the time. But one afternoon this week when Mrs. Pharr was gathering up the eggs, she noticed something glistening among some hay which had been fed to the mules; and when she picked it up she found it to be Mr. Pharr's watch. It looked as if though it were a new watch, and immediately began running and is still running and keeping good time.

Loyd Lewis of Littlefield visited friends and relatives in Brice and Lesley this week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Woods are spending a few weeks at Gainsville for Mrs. Wood's health.

The Memphis Melody Makers are going to put on a concert at the school auditorium Thursday night.

Mrs. Thomas was sick last week and Miss Virginia Crane of Till filled her place as teacher.

Miss Lola Todd spent the latter part of the week in Memphis visiting friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Hope Lemons were Clarendon shoppers Saturday.

Mrs. M. L. Pittman of Littlefield spent the week end in Brice visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Roy Gutherie of Memphis who is the county Superintendent, visited the Brice school Wednesday.

The Brice singing class was organized Sunday afternoon, and Paul Morris was elected President and Claudine Smallwood, secretary.

The singing was a success Sunday afternoon. The Liberty and Lesley singing classes met with us and helped us out wonderfully. We are hoping to have them meet with us every singing day. We also invite the visitors from Bethel, Goldston, Clarendon, Memphis, Liberty, Lesley and Chamberlain to visit us again. The singing class is to meet every second and fourth Sunday.

So every body come and sing and help make our community singing class the very best.

A Message From "Nick" Carter

When "Nick" Carter traveled southwestern Oklahoma selling Dewey Cement, he was the traveling men's poet-laureate. Friends will remember the poems which made him famous. Nick got reasonably rich and retired from active duty a year or so ago. He really quit to get in training for a tooth pulling ordeal which took place a few months past. Dewey Dings wrote, asking him how he was coming along, and he replied with the poem which follows:

When daddy got his brand new teeth,
From the dentist, Rossenbacher,
He tried to break the damn things in
With Masterpiece tobacker.
There was a thousand tender spots,
And when his mouth he'd close
The pain would pump tobacco juice
Right back out through his nose.
He could eat tomato soup,
And broth, without much fear;
But when he tried to masticate
The things would shift their gear,
They'd jump their bearings, fore
And aft;
In saliva a float about;
Until in desperation
He took the damn things out

Miss Nettie Sims of Pampa spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sims.

Miss Eunice Johnson of this city, shopped in Amarillo Saturday.

Miss Jewell Kays of Chillicothe is visiting Mrs. P. W. Latson.

Discoverer of America, as Frenchman Sees Him

"After four and a half centuries," said Dr. Jean Charcot of L'Institut de France, to eager Italian correspondents at Paris, "we are just beginning to be able to draw a picture of what Christopher Columbus looked like. He had a long face and a long aquiline nose. His dimpled chin showed strength of character. His cheeks were red like red apples, but his gray eyes were wells of emotion. His whole face was freckled and by thirty he was totally gray.

"Even if Columbus had not discovered America," continued Doctor Charcot, "he would have gone down in history as the admiral who first provided seamen with hammocks in which to sleep aboard ship. Columbus was also one of the first great vegetarians. He lived on fruits and vegetables almost exclusively and never drank alcoholic drinks, preferring water with a little sugar in it. His use of perfume was his only bad habit. All in all he was a clean, religious man. But he used to spray himself profusely with attar of roses and essence of black currants."—Time Magazine.

POULTRY

SPROUTED OATS ARE EXCELLENT

Must Exercise Care That Hulls Do Not Impact.

Sprouted oats make an excellent poultry food. When sprouted oats are fed, whole oats can be left out of the scratch grain with advantage. In feeding whole oats, the hulls often cause impacted crops and death ensues. When the oats are fed sprouted no trouble along this line will be experienced.

In sprouting oats a temperature of at least 55 degrees is required. The growth will be more rapid if the higher temperature is provided. Oats can be sprouted in the dark if the temperature is right. If sprouted in a dark room, the top growth will be light in color, but one day's exposure to light and air will give the green color.

A method of sprouting oats is as follows: The oats are soaked in water for 24 hours. An inch layer is then spread out in shallow trays or racks. The trays must have good drainage. If the drainage is poor the oats will mold and are then unfit for feeding to the birds. Twice a day the oats are sprinkled with warm water. In a week or ten days, depending on the temperature, of course, the oats will be three inches thick and will have a top growth of four or five inches. A block a foot square makes a sufficient daily feed for 50 hens.

Grain Supplements Are Needed by Laying Hens

Laying hens must have their rations of whole and ground grains supplemented with protein concentrates, otherwise they will be loafers and not layers due to no fault of the hen but the feeder. The most common method of balancing the ration is to feed a protein concentrate of animal origin, such as meat scraps, tankage (which is a similar product), or milk in some form. The common method of feeding meat scraps or tankage is to mix it with bran, shorts and cornmeal, using about 20 pounds of it to 100 pounds of the mixture. This should be kept before the hens all the time in open hoppers, the daily allowance for 100 hens being seven to eight pounds daily and more if they will eat it. This mash, due to the meat, stimulates egg production and is an old tried practice which has proved economical.

Keep Poultry Houses Warm During Winter

It is important for egg production that the poultry house be kept reasonably warm and well ventilated. Heavy paper or half-ply roofing and matched siding outside of studding, paper and sheathing, commercial insulation and plaster base and stucco inside and sawdust, gravel, chopped hay or straw between studdings to break up the air space, makes a frame house warm. Concrete block, or clay block walls need an air space filled with commercial insulation, granulated cork, or sawdust to keep frost off the walls. Furring on the inside with lath and cement stucco also makes a warm house, or commercial insulation can be fastened directly to the inside of the wall and then plastered.

Poultry Hints

Clean straw in the nests insures clean eggs.

If the pullets are infested with body lice and intestinal parasites, treat the birds before they start to lay.

Heavy feeding before the pullets are placed in winter quarters get them in shape for laying during the winter.

Many poultry raisers seem to think that oats should be sprouted as long as they will continue to grow before being fed.

Direct sunlight and green feed are the final factors determining the hatchability of eggs from healthy, vigorous, properly mated fowls.

The value of succulent feeds, such as mangold roots, cabbages and sprouted oats, is difficult to measure; nevertheless they are important in the ration.

In many instances colds and roup are the result of chronic cocci-diosis, worm infestations, faulty management, or poor housing. Correct conditions which lower the vitality first.

It is not best to hurry the pullets into heavy production. Allow them to come into production normally without feeding highly stimulating feeds. Fewer prolapses of the oviduct will occur when production is not forced on the start.

Moving pullets from the range to the laying house is delicate work as far as pullets are concerned. Remember that they are going into strange quarters and will receive new management. Sudden changes are often disastrous to egg production. Move slowly about the laying house, as quick movements startle them.

Kiddies' Evening Story

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

The Little Boy

"In yonder house," commenced Mr. Sun, nodding his head in a certain direction, so the sun in that direction seemed to be growing warmer. "In that house," he repeated, "there lives a little boy."

"Well," said the Sun Rays, "there is nothing so very astonishing in that, is there?"

"There are so many little boys in many houses, and they aren't considered so very unusual in yonder houses—that is, there are lots of them!"

"Oh, no," said the Sun, "but I really have something quite fine to tell you."

"For over two weeks that little boy has been following me around," the Sun said.

"What! Whatever do you mean?" asked the Sun Rays.

"He has been ill. He has had a very, very bad cold. Oh, he has been quite wretched and he has not felt like doing anything."

"A little boy is pretty ill when he doesn't feel like doing anything and wants to stay quiet."

"That's true," said the Sun Rays. How often they had seen small boys scampering and playing, and sometimes they had danced, too, for joy.

Yes, it was true, a little boy felt pretty ill when he did not feel like doing anything.

"The doctor comes every day," continued the Sun. "Sometimes he comes twice a day, and once he came three times."

"But every time he comes he tells the little boy always to sit in the sun."

"And he has been following me around. When I am shining into one window in the morning, there I see the little boy sitting by the window."

"In the afternoon when I choose an entirely different part of the house for shining in the windows, there is the little boy again."

"And for two weeks he has been doing this. Just following me around!"

"I do feel so honored. And you, my good Sun Ray children, you should feel honored, too."

"We do," said the Sun Rays. "Listen, now," said the Sun and they all stopped talking to listen.

There was the little boy sitting by the window, and by him stood his mother and a big man with a low voice.

The man was carrying a little black satchel and he was talking.

"Well, how are you today, my boy?" he asked.

"Oh, much stronger and better," said the boy. "I almost feel like going out again."

"You'll be able to now in a very few days," the doctor said.

"Oh, doctor," said the mother. "You have saved my little boy's life."

"He was so ill, but he is really getting well now."

The doctor shook his head. "I wasn't the one who saved him," the doctor answered. "It was the Sun."

And the Sun beamed and shone more than ever, and the Sun Rays danced for joy, great joy.

How happy they all were. (© 1931 Western Newspaper Union.)

OUR WEEKLY CHURCH CHAT

"Redemption."

To redeem is to buy back. Man is, in the Scriptures said to be "sold under sin." But, God in infinite mercy, was moved to effect our redemption or in other words, to buy us back from the slavery of sin. The price was the "precious blood of Christ." "Ye were not redeemed with corruptible things,—but with the precious blood of Christ (1. Pet. 1:19).

This price is sufficient for the redemption of all mankind. "He is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only but for the whole world, (1 John 2:2). Redemption however in the Scriptural sense is not completed by merely paying the price. If that were so, then all mankind, would be saved, no matter what their character. That which is purchased must become the property and possession of the purchaser. "When the fulness of time came, God sent forth his Son, born of a woman, born under the law, to redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of Sons, (Gal. 5:4).

In order that we might become "the sons of God without rebuke," "Christ gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity and purify unto himself a people for his own possession, zealous of good works" (Titus 2:14). Christ is only Savior or Redeemer of the world. "Neither is there salvation in any other," Salvation is a great historic fact. Jesus Christ was born; he lived; he died; he rose from the dead; he ascended to glory and whether you believe it or not does not make one bit of difference as far as the fact itself is concerned. God has given you the chance to accept or reject His Son as your redeemer, the plan of salvation has been perfected, you have been invited to accept Jesus. God has done all that he can for your redemption, now if you would be saved you must do what he says do, and do it the way he suggests and demands. What Are You Going To Do About It?

We are all interested in making a success in life, so Sunday morning our subject will be: "The Key to Success." Real success is building character that will meet God's approval, rather than the approval of men. Sunday evening we will study the great question: "What is Salvation and How is it Obtained?" If you are interested in this subject arrange to be with us.

Temple of Truth

By the Apostle

Migosh! Some women have a world of forgiveness. A woman informed the old Apostle Friday that her husband had more patience than any man she ever knew. Plain laziness is often mistaken for patience.

Amarillo is planning on leaving off rabbit drives for awhile since the kids have eaten so many rabbits that half the school runs to the basement every time a stray dog passes the schoolhouse.

Speaking of an absent-minded professor who undressed and forgot to go to bed, how about the one who sent his horse to the cleaners and hitched up his pants? Ford and Rockefeller.

The richest men I know, One makes the flivver, The other makes it go.

The Apostle does not claim to know everything, but he knows some things, and if he told what he knows about one thing that he now has in mind, there would be room for one business man and several helpers here within 24 hours.

Q. Will Denis Davis ever become a wealthy man before retiring from the Gas company?

A. Denis Davis will be a millionaire by the time he reaches 100.

Q. Who was the fellow parked near the depot Friday night at 12:30?

A. He had on a green hat, striped pants and a blue serge coat and had a genuine leather grip in his car. Just what was in the grip, I don't know.

Q. Who was the good looking observed hitting it in high passing through here at 10 a. m. Saturday night?

A. Her name starts with W. She was looking for her hubby.

Q. Will G. A. Anderson and Ora Liesberg ever quit playing dominos?

A. Yes, when they are caught in a flood and drowned.

Q. Who was the blonde that picked up Mr. _____ in front of the Postoffice early Saturday morning?

A. She was from Amarillo and I have been paid to keep quiet and attend to my own business.

Q. How often does she visit Clarendon?

A. Twice a week.

Q. Do you think there is any oil in this country?

A. Yes, at most all of the filling stations, John.

Q. How many languages does Ed Carlson speak?

A. Three—American, Swede and Dog Latin.

Q. Has Clarendon many distinguished citizens?

A. Yes, from Lowe to Pope and a Noble or two in between. Also a King able to Cope with anything and very few Hayters.

Q. Will you answer questions in next week's issue?

A. Yes, if I'm still here.

This warm weather is bringing on the spring fever and I don't mean nothing else. The poetic urge and the old Muse is right on the job. Here it comes, folks, here it comes!

My friends, have you heard of the town, "No Good."

On the banks of the river "Slow," Where blooms the "Wait-a-While" flowers fair, Where the "Some-time-or-other" scents the air,

And the soft "Go-Easies" grow? It lies in the valley of "What's the Use."

In the province of "Let Her Slide,"

That tired feeling is native there,

It's the home of the reckless "I don't care."

Where most of the "Give-It-Ups" abide.

It certainly is some consolation to have that feeling out of one's system. It is something akin to the feeling of a dreaded visit from a mother-in-law mixed up with a dose of old-fashioned chill tonic with an assafoedita base.

You can smell the smoke already That factory is going up. Jim Heckman, sole owner of the patent rights and stock in the double-barreled nigger shooter and time clock attachment corporation, called a meeting of the stockholders Wednesday, elected himself president and board of directors and got down to business.

His first act was to employ a city efficiency expert to superintend the erection of the building after it was staked off. He brought along his trained crew that formerly did the work in several cities and with the aid of a Fordson tractor and four men, they had driven two stakes, smoked 2917 cigarettes and told 547 jokes with in the short period of three days.

The College Hill widow says that the reason more men do not take better halves is because they think they can have better quarters by staying single.

EDITORIAL POLICY

It is not the policy of the Sayre Headlight to deal with things that are personal through the columns of this paper, but when the ideals we are striving to carry out seem to be misunderstood by a few who contribute articles to be printed, we believe that some explanation should be made.

During the last few weeks this office has been bombarded with all kinds of special articles, poetry from would-be poets, and announcements of all types, some of which we have published as news and others we have not. This, by the way, is the universal policy of the press wherever a paper is published, and in exercising this privilege it has been done without intention to hurt the feelings of anyone.

The policy of the press might be compared to the work of the housewife. We feel sure she would not appreciate having someone come in and tell her just what ingredients to use in making her favorite spice cake. We feel sure the doctor would have just cause to be angry if we told him what to put into his prescriptions.

The same rule applies to the newspaper. When stories are written, we make every effort to make them interesting enough for every one of our nearly 3,000 subscribers to read.

Often society reporters of the various clubs turn in reports of club meetings that might be understood as far as they themselves or members of their respective clubs are concerned, but to the average reader many of these reports would be vague and uninteresting if they were printed just as they are turned in.

The purpose of the Sayre Headlight is to give news, just the same as it is the purpose of any other newspaper. We have made news gathering a study and we believe we know what constitutes good news. We are always glad to have reports, especially from the social organizations of this city. In fact, we want them. However, we believe these reports should be written to interest every subscriber of this paper.

As to special articles, we will gladly use them, provided they deal with present day news, history or some important subject at issue. However, it must be remembered that the Sayre Headlight is a news paper, not a magazine, and that it is our policy to use news first. It may require a little patience of those who submit articles before we have room to print them.

As to poetry, we know an editor who charges five cents a line for all poetry published, and many times we wish we had the nerve to do likewise. The more poetry we receive the more firmly do we believe in the maxim, "Poets are born and not made," and that very few are ever born.

We are glad to receive country correspondence at all times. However, this should include news and not comment. It would take several columns to explain why it is not a good policy to mix comment with news, and we do not believe it will be necessary to go to that trouble. We hope this article clearly explains our position in the matter. We have no ill feeling toward any one, in fact, we court the good will of all readers of the Sayre Headlight—Sayre Headlight.

THEN AND NOW

Remember way back when eggs were 3 dozen for a quarter; butter was 10c per pound; milk was 5c per quart; the butcher gave away liver and treated the kids with bologna; the hired girl received $2 per week and did the washing. Women did not powder and paint (in public), vote, smoke, play bridge or poker, wear bobbed hair or play golf. Men wore whiskers and boots, chewed tobacco, smoked bull durham and talked rough. (Some of them.) Beer was a nickel and the feed was thrown in. Laborers worked 10 hours a day and never went on a strike. No tips were given to waiters and the hat check grafter was unknown. A kerosene hanging lamp and a telescope in the front room were luxuries. None was ever operated on for appendicitis or bought glands; microbes were unheard of; folks lived to an old old age and every year walked miles to wish their friends, "A Merry Christmas."

Today: A great many folks ride in cars or fly; play golf, gamble, play the piano with their feet, go to the movies nightly, smoke cigarettes, drink home brew, blame the depression on the Republicans, never go to bed the same day they get up and think they are having a wonderful time.

These are the days of suffrageting, profiteering, excess taxes and prohibition, and if you are living in such a way as to get something worth while out of life while this is going on with some, then we wish you a joyful Xmas. When you reflect over the past realizing that you did something worth while and we wish for you in 1931 even a better year.

WHICH YOUR CHOICE?

A millionaire lay dead in a five thousand dollar casket. Thousands of dollars worth of costly flowers that were sent by other millionaires, politicians and friends surrounded the casket. There was a show of mourning, but there was sorrow in few hearts. The last thing that the dead man's money could buy for him was bought—a costly funeral. It could not save him from a bullet fired by a woman whom he had wronged. Many had feared him in life, many had fawned before him because he had money and he had power, but few loved him. He went to a grave unhonored and even now has been all but forgotten, though only a few short months have gone by. He left a fortune he had amassed and used for selfish ends.

What a different scene there was when another millionaire lay lay lead the other day. At his request his body lay in a plain pine coffin; no flowers added beauty and perfume to the room in which his body lay; no eulogy was pronounced by rabbi or friend when that body was laid away. That, too was the wish of the man who lay asleep. There was no pomp, no display, no feigned sorrow. But if there was none of these, there were thousands of tongues that sang his praises and pronounced eulogies more eloquent than honied words could do. If there were no wild cries of grief, there were thousands of honest hearts that bled because he was gone.

This man, born in poverty and forced to leave his native land, made a great fortune by earnest endeavor, good judgment and honest methods in the land of his adoption. But he used those millions largely for the benefit of mankind. In his benefactions he recognized neither race, nor creed nor color. One said of him that though he was born a Jew and adhered to the laws of Moses, he exemplified in his life every virtue of the Christian and practiced every principal truth proclaimed by Christ. His absorbing passion was love for mankind and his greatest effort was to increase human happiness and human comfort and safety. His heart and his money were given freely and unselfishly for mankind. His memory will live in the hearts of men and his good deeds and his unshaken faith in God will open to him better fields for service in that land to which he was so peacefully transferred by death.

Which coffin of these two would you choose for your own?

How To Produce Good Hatching Eggs

D. H. Reid

Texas A. & M. Poultry Dept. Good hatching eggs come from healthy, well fed hens. Cull out all sick or diseased birds from the flock, as these birds are often the source of the eggs that do not hatch. It is reported that New York people like pale yolked eggs, but good hatching eggs have bright yellow yolks. Be sure that your breeding hens have a chance to eat green feed and see that they do eat it, even if you have to cut it and carry it to the pen.

Chopped-up green feed is a valuable addition to the laying ration of any flock of hens. If it is absolutely impossible to get green feed it is wise to add 1 per cent Cod Liver Oil, but the green feed should be tried first.

Eggs with poor shells do not hatch readily, so it is well to see that your breeding hens have considerable mineral matter, especially calcium, in their ration. A shortage of calcium will give you poor shells and so, poor hatching eggs.

This is to let my neighbors know that I knew exactly what I was doing when I divorced my husband. That man was so impossible to live with that I almost died trying to endure him. ## ASHTOLA SCHOOL NEWS

The Ashtola School is about to get everything in readiness for the visit of the rural aid inspector that is expected to appear in the near future. The work done on the building and grounds last week was unfinished last week, and several men came back last Monday with teams and tools to finish the work. A ditch was cut to take care of the drainage of the grounds, and much filling around the teacherage was done. People of the community look with pride upon the work done around its community buildings and grounds, and the teachers highly appreciate this work, which is certain to make rainy weather more pleasant for them.

The teachers in high school are grateful to report quite an improvement in the grade of work that is lately being done by the high school students. Progress that is lasting often comes slow, but it is gratifying to find that many weeks of toil is being shown in the better grade of work submitted recently.

It is expected that soon the school will have all the work of the first semester on file, and parents are invited to inspect these files to see the kind of work being done by their children.

On Wednesday afternoon the Chamberlain school brought their boys and girls up for a couple of games of basketball, and two very interesting games were played on the Ashtola court. Everyone enjoyed both games, as they were unusually peppy. In the girls game the scores were 26 and 23 in favor of Ashtola. In the boys game the scores were 8-6 in favor of Chamberlain. Both games were so close that no one could predict the winner until the games were almost over. All the Chamberlain and Ashtola spectators greatly enjoyed both games, and the Ashtola school invites Chamberlain to come back and play again.

On Friday night the Ashtola school under the auspices of the Ashtola School Activities Club, presented the musical comedy "The Hoodooed Coon" with great success. The Clarendon orchestra came out and rendered a musical concert immediately preceding the play and several numbers between acts. Mr. Gus E. Stephenson directed the orchestra, and everyone enjoyed the concert. Mr. H. Mulkey and a number of other Clarendon people were present, and everyone present seemed to enjoy the entire entertainment. The play was directed by Miss Cecil Hukel and Miss Wilma King, who are to be congratulated upon for the success of the entertainment. The gate receipts from the nominal fees of 10c and 15c amounted to $21.30 for which the Club thanks all who attended.

Prior to the play the Ashtola basketball girls sold candy, peanuts, and popcorn, the proceeds of which they intend to apply toward the purchase of sweaters. The girls were gratified with the receipt of some seven or eight dollars from

The Life-Blood of Industry

The work of the newly-organized Texas All-State Committee will have a stimulating effect on West Texas industry. It will not only increase the production of manufacturing plants already located in this vast empire, but will bring new factories and new capital into the territory.

For efficient and economical operation of any business relying upon motive power for its production work, electric current supplied by the ever-ready, dependable transmission line system is an absolute necessity. In no other way can the manufacturer be assured of a constant, flexible supply of energy.

When new industries locate in West Texas, they will choose the towns in which transmission line service is available. The West Texas Utilities Company... with its three major generating stations, twenty-two auxiliary plants, and over 2,500 miles of transmission line... is rendering dependable electric service to 120 prosperous cities, towns and communities in West Texas, the "Land of Opportunity." It is furnishing them with the very life-blood of industry, so necessary to permanent growth and development.
