The bill was engrossed by a vote of 99 to 8.

Under the new schedule passenger car licenses are reduced about one-third. Licenses on light trucks and trailers are cut about half. Trucks and trailers above 8,000 pounds remain unchanged.

On cars from 3,501 to 4,500 pounds, 32c a hundred.

On cars weighing more than 4,500 pounds, 33c a hundred.

On trucks under 6,000 pounds, 20c a hundred will be charged if pneumatic tires are used and 25c a hundred if solid rubber tires are used.

On trucks from 6,001 to 8,000 pounds, the rates will be 25c and 30c a hundred, depending on kind of tires.

Cecil Ray Painfully Injured By Overtaking Truck

While making a delivery with the big Sinclair truck of Frank J. Hommel late Wednesday afternoon, the truck overturned when the driver, Cecil Ray, looked back to see if the barrels were riding properly. The truck headed for the barbit moment the driver turned his head, the accident taking place just north of the Denver track east of town and east of the Butler farm.

When the truck overturned, a corner of the door ripped the flesh to the bone on the left leg, J. L. Russum, who had accompanied Ray, hastily went to the Chilcote place and secured a car with which he brought Ray to a doctor. Except for the loss of blood, the injured man is getting along nicely.

ROTARIANS ARE BACKING QUEEN CANDIDATE HERE

Program Next Friday Will Include Musical Numbers and Readings

President O. L. Jenkins read a number of interesting letters and other documentary evidence of Rotary progress over the district at the Friday luncheon hour giving the local members an insight into what was expected here if pace is kept.

The subject provoked an enthusiastic discussion of the merits of Rotary and the need of increased membership. This was due in a large measure to the fact that the local attendance has been almost up to par for some time, with several one hundred percent scores recently.

Those present enjoyed (?) an animated discussion of proper subject material for club discussion as suggested by Judge A. T. Cole and J. C. Estlack. It was the opinion of the Judge that political subjects should not be discussed. On the other hand, Estlack contended that the sales tax and other subjects of vital importance to the public were not political, but rather civic in their nature, and should be discussed that a better understanding could be had.

Miss Rotary Ann Wiedman asked the support of all Rotarians in furthering the chances of the local candidate for the honors of queen of the Fat Stock Show at Amarillo. The members unanimously agreed that no better selection could be made. Miss Julia Mae Caraway is the candidate, her candidacy being sponsored by the Women's Business and Professional club of Clarendon.

Thieves Strip Parked Cars Here Tuesday Night

Thirteen tires with tubes, and eleven wheels were taken from cars parked on residence streets here after ten p. m. Tuesday night.

In some instances the wheels were removed and taken a short distance where the tires were removed and the wheels discarded.

Those sustaining losses are J. E. Ryan 4 tires and 2 wheels; Claude McGowan 1 tire, the wheels being found nearby; Mrs. R. M. Morris 2 tires, wheels located; Dr. Gallaway lost 2 tires and 2 wheels, his car being left flat in front of his residence; Dr. Harter is short a tire with wheel; Parsons brothers lost 3 tires, the wheels being located a block south of the home.

Jim Blanks awoke about midnight when he heard some noise near his car a trailer in the yard. The supposed thieves quickly left when he asked them what they wanted. He gave the officers a description of a large and a small man. The tracks left at each of the other places would indicate that the same parties had visited each place. This same pair are supposed to have raided Hedley and other towns recently.

Sheriff Guy Pierce is offering a reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of these thieves, and is using all diligence in their apprehension.

Chase Talks Transportation To Lions Club Tuesday

In a continuation of "Know Texas" talks in which a number of members of the club have called attention to important facts regarding Texas, A. L. Chase talked on the subject of Transportation Tuesday. The speaker traced the evolution of travel from the ox team to the airplane and fast trains bringing to the fore several items of progress commonly overlooked.

H. Mulkey reported on the crippled children work stating that the child from Lelia was restored to normalcy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Summers taking treatment with every evidence of much benefit being received if not complete recovery.

Sheriff Guy Pierce and Frank Whitlock were voted members of the Club at this meeting. Visitors were Carroll Knorpp and J. Roy Bartlett, the latter a member of the Childress club at present and formerly a member of the local Club.

G. W. Antrobus returned from Falmouth, Kentucky Monday night where he spent the past two months with his sister, aged 83, and her husband, aged 90, both of whom were seriously ill. He left them recovered and enjoyed a visit with friends while looking after the interests of his relatives.

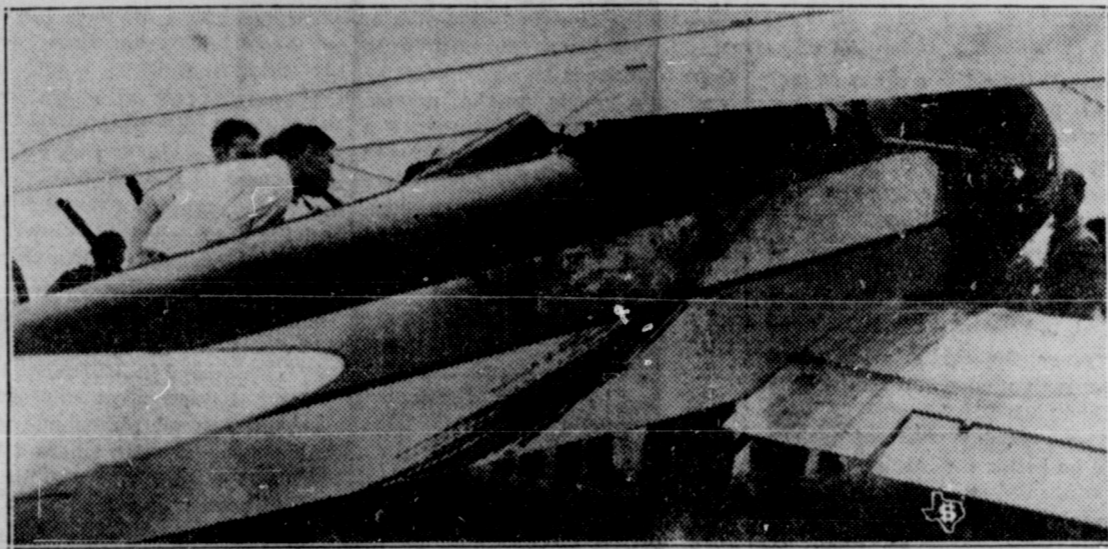

Note Solves Murder

IS CHEAPER BECAUSE IT IS BETTER

Give this gun to Sean Bell I love him some on a pistol I have could hang enough Clear.

This crude note, left in a gun barrel in the shack of Oscar Robinson, near Brownsboro, Texas, where he was found dead, led to a confession of the murder of W. T. Speer, a neighbor of the slain man. Handwriting experts in Dallas compared the note with the writing of Speer to bring about the confession.

Airplane Murder and Suicide After Fantastic Plot

A wierd plan of five San Benito, Texas, boys to steal an airplane and fly to Yucatan, in southern Mexico, has resulted in the airplane murder of Lehman Nelson, flying instructor, and the suicide of Erin McCall. Confidence given a San Benito girl regarding the proposed Mexican junket by the boys resulted in quick solution of the mystery by Valley investigators. The blood-drenched plane is pictured above. At left is Nelson, the ill-fated instructor. Right is McCall, murderer and suicide. None of the boys was more than 21. McCall shot Nelson in the back of the head, and attempted to land. On finding that he had damaged the plane beyond repair, he shot himself, too.

FIRE INJURIES CAUSE DEATH OF MRS. ALDERSON

Mr. Alderson is Seriously Burned in Attempted Rescue of Wife

All Clarendon was suddenly saddened about 10:30 Sunday morning when news rapidly spread of the frightful disaster that came to Mr. and Mrs. Irven Alderson from a gasoline explosion that resulted in the destruction of the home by fire and the fatal injury of Mrs. Alderson.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Alderson were rushed to the hospital where it became known that no hope was held out for the recovery of Mrs. Alderson, she passing away at about 7:30 Sunday evening.

Mr. Alderson, critically injured from burns in attempting to rescue his wife, remains a patient at Adair hospital where it is reported he is showing slight improvement. His most serious burns are on his hands and arms.

Mrs. Alderson was cleaning some articles of clothing with gasoline on the screened in back porch when the explosion occurred. Just what caused the frightful accident remains a mystery until Mr. Alderson recovers sufficiently to give the details, if he really knows.

Mrs. Mary Ida (Bishop) Alderson was born on September 9, 1885 and was married to Mr. Alderson at the age of seventeen years. She became a member of the Baptist church at eighteen and lived a devoted christian life to her death.

She is survived by her husband, and one child, Earl Alderson who, with his wife resides in Clarendon. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bishop of Childress. Mrs. L. E. White of Vernon is a sister. Her brother is A. W. Bishop Jr. of Sioux Falls, South Dakota. All the immediate relatives were present at the funeral service except her brother.

Rev. B. N. Shepherd, pastor of the First Baptist church, conducted the last rites at the church Monday at 3 p. m. Those attending the casket were C. W. Taylor, C. M. Lindsey, Nollie Simmons, John Hunt, Bennett and Ralph Kerbow.

As residents of this section for the past fourteen years, no citizens have been held in higher esteem. The sympathy of the hundreds of friends goes out to Mr. Alderson and Earl in this their darkest hours. All that skill and loving hands can do to restore Mr. Alderson, is being done. This is one of those times in life when one finds mere words inadequate to convey the thoughts that one has in mind, and kindred sympathy

ANDY MELLON SUED FOR ONLY 220 MILLION

Prober in Internal Bureau Digs up Evidence Basis For Suit

Andy Mellon, ambassador to England whose footsteps were dogged by Hon. Wright Patman until he is alleged to have resigned as secretary of the U. S. Treasury, is one of three men against whom the government has lodged a suit alleging a shortage of $110,000,000. If the allegations are sustained, the government will be entitled to collect double the alleged shortage which would force Mellon and Davis H. Blair, one time commissioner of internal revenue, and A. W. Gregg, former council for the bureau, to pay to the government $220,000,000.

It is alleged in the suit just filed that Mellon showed foreign shipping interests special consideration by failing to collect taxes to the amount of $100,000,000.

Suit was filed by David A. Olson in the District of Columbia Supreme Court. Olson is a special government investigator, having worked on other cases until he resigned because, as he stated, a senator blocked his every move.

West Texas Press Association

Menology.

The fellow who gets out a breed of hens that will lay enough eggs in transit to pay the freight bill will have something to crow about.

Next Tax Problem.

If these tax leeches keep fooling with our affairs, the next thing we know they will be putting meters on our windpipes and charging us for the air we breathe.

The Mad Rush.

The pace becomes faster in 1933 when you try to catch up with the fellow who owes you, and keep out of sight of the bill collector who is trying to catch you.

Excitement.

The editor of the Prague, Oklahoma Record advises his readers thusly: "Cyclone time. Better oil up the cellar doors and keep your eye peeled for southwesterers." And just think, we have had only two very small twisters in 40 years, and neither of these did any personal damage.

Fence And Safety.

There is not a dime to be made at farming, but farms for rent are scarce and hard to find, probably more so right here than for several years. While a farm will pay no dividends, nothing else will, and the man who seeks a haven of safety on a farm right now is using excellent judgment.

Currency in Variety.

Why complain about a circulating medium of exchange when we have exactly seven varieties scattered over the country. First, we have good old U. S. A. stuff that is mighty scarce; second, good checks; third, merchandise script; fourth, plain community or town script; fifth, school warrants; sixth, hot checks that pain and vex; and I O U's that have been sticking around since time began.

Well, I'm a - - -

Here comes a brand new sheet with a colored editor at the helm having for his scare headlines similar to many weeklies attempting to ape the dailies in which we read:

"This paper is a mouthpiece, and instrument with a silent but a very clear tone that is heard only by the strength of sight."

A brain baby of that calibre could only come from one suffering from mental strabismus, or as the psychoanalyst would likely classify, being a victim of analytical paregoric, or pseudesthesia to say the least of it.

Early Environment.

John McCarty in Dalhart Texan says "Many a social butterfly out here now in silk pajamas, used to warm her tootsies in front of a cow chip fire in flour sack undies."

Right you are, John. Along about that time you will recall that the undies bore the trade name of a popular brand of flour known as "Pride of The West." It was also before the day of billboards, but the girls lived that slogan, the old folks believed it, and the flour was wonderfully advertised.

Senators Investigate.

In this issue of the Leader is printed the first installment of the report of the Senatorial Investigating Committee. The articles are printed without comment merely for the information contained, and because we think that the people should know more about what is going on over the state.

Turn to the heading, "Senate Investigating Committee" in another column. If you care to write your opinion for publication at any time, let us have it. This is your state and government as much as ours and we are glad to pass this information on to readers of the Leader.

Ingenuity.

Over a thousand years ago Indian workmen "poured" a building on the plains at what is now known as Casa Grande (great house), the material being caliche. The building at this time is said to be the oldest on the North American continent. It was and is a great piece of work considering that it was made largely from soft mud. Today modern engineers have constructed on four posts a great steel covering to protect the old building from the elements. There is a wonderful contrast, the two structures representing the ancient and modern skill of man.

Facing The Future.

Within two days the new administration will take office. The promise of a new deal, relief from the strain of awaiting leadership, the hope for plans that will bring relief.

President Roosevelt, after March 4th, will face graver dangers and more responsibility possibly than Lincoln or Washington. This is made possible because of the unlimited authority granted him by Congress recently. As the American Mussolini, will he be equal to the task? Only time will tell. Should he fail after a trial of four months, one shudder's to think of what may be the consequences.

Solace And Science.

The contents of the classics rapidly are becoming obsolete—a collection of philosophical and historical myths, but so flavored with insight as to make them a rare heritage. Science, restating not only the technique but the ultimate nature and purposes of life, comes forward to take the helm, rather than, as during the World War, continue the servant of medieval purpose. To which shall we give allegiance?

Wisdom will put the classics in grandfather's chair by the fireplace. Science will manage the household, but in the evening, when the day's work is over, science will sit by in receptive mood, to hear of the golden days— "When the earth was nearer heaven than now, and the prophets talked with God."

The everyday work of science will be better for that communion.

League of Nations.

Those who looked upon the League of Nations in years gone by as a joke now see themselves justified in recent disclosures when Japan defies such a League to do its worst.

If the other nations are really sincere in putting a stop to the war now in progress between China and Japan, they can end it within a short time by simply refusing to permit either nation getting war supplies from the outside.

This war, like other wars for the past fifty years, are merely commercial transactions. Take the profit out of war, and it will die of its own accord. Those who fear that our nation will become embroiled do not have to fear either China or Japan. The greatest danger lies with munition manufacturers and those selling war supplies right here at home. This is the only class of Americans who profited by millions in the late World War, and for the same reason.

Return of Democracy.

In some of the central states where people have plenty of idle time, forums of an educational nature are being conducted wherein the public is made acquainted with governmental affairs.

Recently while discussing the subject, "Has Democracy Collapsed?", Carrol H. Woody, well known business man had as an audience people from all walks of life. Interest was intense as the motley array of talent—farmer, stenographer, Supreme Court judge, farmers and others sat row upon row listening intently to the discussion.

Men and women of the many professions are to discuss national issues in the many "forums" over the central states during the coming month. All subjects are passed upon by the board of education of Des Moines, Iowa. The purpose of these lectures is to attempt to reconcile the people to the present status of government, produce a more tolerant feeling between neighbor and neighbor, and induce more respect for stable government.

The Supreme Test.

Often a fellow gets to thinking that he is getting a tough break. I am often surprised to find that he is doing so well, and yet doesn't know it. On the other hand, I am amazed at the bravery of some people—both men and women. There come moments in the lives of all when every support we claim as our own seems to have been suddenly swept away. It's a desolate state of mind because there is but one remedy—be brave!

Being brave under adversity is like waiting under shelter until the storm passes. It gives us a restored confidence that we did not know that we had. It is a substance all its own that heals mind and body.

While visiting in a home recently where a bank failure had taken all their earthly goods, I was astonished at the bravery of that father and mother. Gathering together the threads of life, now around middle age, this pair is going bravely on to recoup the fortune that was lost. Blessed with good health, the greatest asset is still theirs. Blessed with a determination to 'carry on', there can be no failure. Within the next few years there will evolve from the wreck of ruined hopes a brighter day with the restoration of the common luxuries of life to which they have been accustomed when fortune smiled on them in another state.

Mellon's Millions.

Right after the officials of the big National City Bank of New York are said to have owned up to extracting millions of dollars from the public through the sale of worthless bonds, it develops that old Andy Mellon has been doing something himself.

Mellon and two other men are to answer in a suit filed in the District of Columbia Supreme Court in the sum of $220,000,000. This is double the amount of the shortage, and the sum collectible under the law should the defendants be proven guilty of the allegations.

The papers in the suit charge that Mellon not only failed to collect $100,000,000 in delinquent taxes from foreign steamship interests, but instead placed our government in a position where it had to refund some $10,000,000 to the steamship companies.

With the Insull scandal, National City Bank exposure and the Mellon foray all in the wind, it begins to look like justice may be done the American public after all.

It is a difficult problem to realize what should be done with men who betray public trust, resort to trickery and reduce to poverty millions of our people to say nothing of the deaths by starvation and suicide.

The accused are entitled to the benefit of the doubt until proven guilty under the law. The public is in such a frame of mind right now that the accused will not be given the benefit of the doubt, hence it is up to the judges of the Supreme Court to deal justly with all concerned. In this respect, there is one abiding consolation, Supreme Court judges are honest and fair and it looks like some of the big boys are in for hard sledding.

PROBAK BLADES FOR GILLETTE RAZORS

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

Next to gray hair, the repeal issue has the attention of more women than anything.

By the way, whose Donley County Leader did you borrow last week?

There used to be a saying that "before every great man there was a great mother." This is likely to be true. In this modern age, it might be further added, that every great man is directed and managed by a great daughter.

In order to play fair with the folks, the Apostle would like to state at this point that he is very popular in Amarillo. After parking against a fireplug for some twenty minutes, a cop came up and asked that the car be moved in case it became necessary to use the plug. He said that Donley county folks pulled more boneheads in Amarillo than any other folks. Well that did not take so well so I told him that Donley county folks thought Amarillo was more of a hick town than any city we had in Donley, and that we had several of 'em.

And is Amarillo down in the dumps? It sure is and about 20 feet below sea level. One merchant said Clarendon did more business in a day than Amarillo did in a week. The fellows stealing cars and high-jacking, appear to be the busiest unless it is the officers who object to such methods of doing business.

Ed Duncan of the M System grocery says he knows all about the woes of a farmer from having been one most of his life until he got down to renting on the halves with prices way below cost of production. In giving some of his early experiences, he says he lived so far out in the Hall county sage brush that the owls roosted with the chickens and they used badgers for watchdogs. After he grew up they took him to see Memphis which looked like a real city. In the ring along came a circus to Clarendon and he went to take that in. In passing through the side shows, he paid 10c at each door to see the various animals. After looking at the elephant, camel, etc. he came to the door marked "exit." He stood and looked at the name of the animal, as he supposed it to be, and as he pondered his curiosity grew. Finally he walked up to the keeper and told him he wanted to see what the "exit looked like." The man took his dime and shoved him through the doorway and Ed came out on the outside. He never found out what "exit" really meant until he visited a picture show in Memphis 20 years later.

Indignant father: "Do you think it is fair, Bobby, that after I told you there wasn't any Santa Claus, you go tell the neighbors that I lay your Easter Eggs, too?"

We have butterbeans, but who ever heard of bean butter.

Low prices have done one thing, you don't hear a farmer cussing because his neighbor's three-cent hogs ate up some of his 25-cent corn, like you used to. Some times such things led to a killing, but who would waste ammunition over present day prices, and ammunition prices are still high.

Recently in releasing a prisoner, Sheriff Pierce was told "ah's bin in a whole lot bettah jails den yo-all has, but ah ain bin in none whur ahs treated bettah."

Nobody who has never fished in the Trinity county can appreciate these first balmy days. Down where the bull frog hams weigh 20 pounds, if you know what I mean. Out where the persimmon groves are, to be more exact. Where they have moonshine in their cellars as well as out of doors. The kind of folks who still know how to make and eat "growny" gravy, live down on the Trinity. Fried fish and bake oven sour dough biscuits—hot ziggy. Down in old Wise. They still believe in witchcrafts and things, and no man would clean out his pipe. Ask Coach Burton, he's from down there.

Ordinarily the Apostle is a capable custodian of his reputation when it is assailed by man, but he is helpless when challenged by a woman, and more especially when that woman questions his knowledge and brings along a Webster's unabridged with a certain word carefully marked with a fountain pen to further arm herself for the victory of an embattled argument.

While pronouncing words for the spelling bee out Naylor way Friday night, the Apostle talked too much as has been the bane of his trouble for the past century. He told a young lady schoolmarm that "rime" was not in the language. And did she prove it? Oh, did she prove it? I cannot trust myself to write of the injury to my personal pride when cornered on one word—just one. There might have been a hundred led we not adjourned at the proper time. I'm the victim of my own ignorance, and herewith offer apologies to the handsome and successful young lady who guides the destinies of the youngsters out at Naylor in educational paths of rectitude. Next time there won't be anything but a dictionary consulted before a final decision is announced. These modern lady teachers know their dictionaries, and how!

Mama I've got a surprise for you!
What is it darling?
I've swallowed a nail!

Bobby, what kind of a show did papa take you to?

I don't know mamma, but the girls wore socks up to their necks.

A long time ago out here on the approaching marriage of a niece in the city. Along with the announcement came notice of a "shower" for the bride. The old uncle wanted in on the shower and mailed her a bar of soap.

A young lady who married a New Mexico homesteader wrote back describing her home. Those who have ever lived in that state will recognize the fact that she told facts even though diplomatically.

She wrote: "The odd shaped window in the door adds a touch of Bizarre modernization, and the compactness and plenty of ventilation are main features of our new home."

Most of 'em have plenty of places for the dog to chase the cat in and out, but the biggest cracks I ever saw was in the residence of an old bachelor, he walked through two walls on a dark night before he knew he was home.

Of all men to keep the wheels of commerce turning these times, the highest honors evidently belong to Jim Heckman, local industrialist and inventor mentioned once before in this capable column.

Jim has evolved, invented, prepared, manufactured and discovered a new cosmetic that scientifically partakes of the nature of a "puckering fluid" when in action. A streak of the liquid smeared under the chin pulls the skin down until the wrinkles under the eyes disappear. A streak smeared across the head hidden by the hair pulls the skin tight from the eyes up and the bouquet of wrinkles becomes the face of a miss of 16. One girl of 65 who has been having some harrowing experiences in corralling her beauty for years, gave the stuff a trial and left an order for fourteen bottles a week.

In preparing his advertising, the scare headline asks a direct question to start with that elicits a ready sympathy from the sufferer. It reads: "How is your Physiognomy Cosmetically, my Dear?" All we got to say is, here's hoping.

What is it that has eyes but cannot see; has legs but can't walk, has ears but can't hear, yet can jump as high as the courthouse? Answer next week.

That wrestling match in Amarillo Thursday night was the best one yet. Quite a number of Donley county folks were there, both men and women. Clean sport, harmless athletics and conducted by Dutch Mantell whose idea is to entertain in a manner that will increase interest in the greatest of American sports. Not a word is spoken to mar the feelings of any one. Whole families attend and often half the audience is composed of women with a good sprinkling of children—mostly school folks.

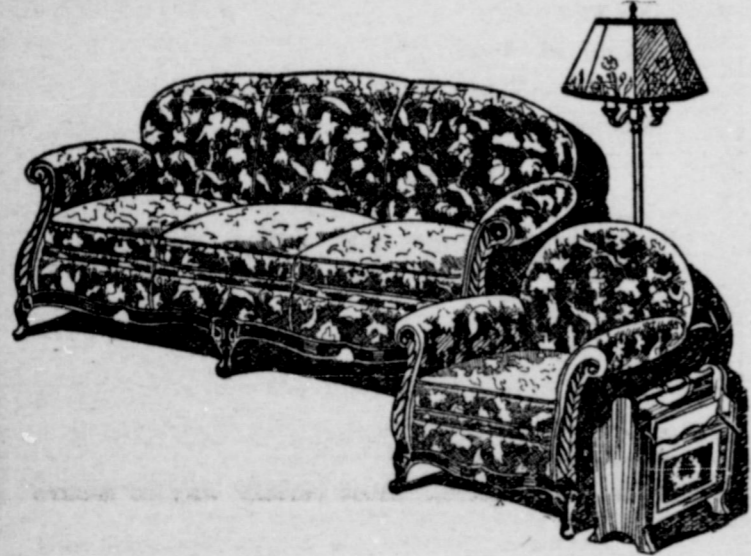

A lady called me down on what I said about girls wearing knickers last week. She said she couldn't stand it. I told her that was my opinion of bobbed hair when it first came in, but at this time it was alright by me if they shaved their heads. This idea of wanting the other folks to follow our personal rules of likes and dislikes is the bunk. As for clothing making the woman, it never did. I know some who could not cover up a cranky disposition with a thousand dollar coat of silver fox fur. Clothing helps, but it won't put the whole show over by any means. On the other hand, I know a woman who wears a twelve dollar coat and print dresses and who makes and sells about 40 pounds of rich, golden butter every week. She wears a smile all the time and is truly a "lady sunshine" and angel of mercy. She has a happy family—they could not be otherwise living in that environment. All three of them work and help the family budget to keep it on an even keel. That is what I call a "million dollar disposition." The best part about her disposition is that you don't have to buy it, you can make yourself one at home.

You can believe a fellow was farm raised until he begins to talk about a 400 pound pig. He'd get lost looking for a collar button for a mule collar.

An industrious fellow overheard the Apostle talking about repairing windmill boxing with meat skins. He tried it and it worked. Saturday when he came to town he had shined up the connecting rods on his leaping Lena with bacon rinds and found that he did not have to use any oil. Ain't that sompin'?

WINDY VALLEY SCHOOL NEWS

This week the boys will be pitted against Alanreed, the class B champions of Gray county together with some other strong team which is unknown at this writing, as the final preparation for the County Championship Tournament to be played in Hedley Friday and Saturday. The team is earnestly at work, and there is no limit to the possibilities.

Literary Society will meet Thursday night, a varied program consisting of Two One Act plays will be presented together with music, jokes, current events, declamations and popular songs by the quartette. Everyone is cordially invited to be present, as this promises to be one of the best meetings of the year. The work on the Three Act Comedy Drama to be given some time the early part of March is at a stand still, as Mr. Dillard is waiting word from the publisher in regard to the royalty.

Under the direction of Mr. Dillard, some of the talented older boys and girls of the community will start work on a Three Act Farce Comedy, entitled "The Man from Borneo." This play will be ready to present to the public some time the last of March.

Noticing in the School News from Goldston, that the teachers use the school text book as only a guide appears to be well thought of in other places. Mr. Dillard has secured from the government several maps and numerous books and pamphlets. We have been fortunate in securing from ten or twelve of the leading manufacturing concerns, educational exhibits, books and pamphlets on their products. We have also received material in regard to Foreign Countries from Foreign governments. And should you examine these exhibits you would readily see that they show the signs of wear.

Work on all phases of Interscholastic League activities are progressing at a rapid rate, according to information received. The boys are preparing to take the County Meet as it is not an unfamiliar sight to see them crossing the country side each evening against time.

Windy Valley has something like 96% of its Scholastic enrollment in school at the present time. According to word from Mr. Dillard, Miss Johnson and Miss Taylor, the children are all earnestly engaged in improving their minds.

Mr. Dillard says, "That it seems to be dawning on some of the children that an education might some day in some way be of some value.

MAKES WOMEN LOSE FAT

Miss Rea M. Haines of Dayton, Ohio writes: "I weighed 180 so started to take Kruschen. I never was so surprised as when I weighed myself the first week—I lost 7 pounds. I just bought my 3rd jar and am down to 145—am still taking them and never felt better in my life." (June 17, 1932).

To take off fat—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a few cents—get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the SAFE and harmless way to lose fat—your money gladly returned.

Don't accept anything but Kruschen because you must reduce safely.

EDUCATIONAL DIGEST
By Gordon Gatewood

Teachers are alarmed by pressing financial problems and uncertainties. Their natural concern for loved ones and for their own security is heightened by their daily contact with the vicissitudes which the present crisis has brought to childhood and home life. There is a double burden and how gladly and heroically they have shouldered up to the task! There is no more inspiring chapter in the annals of the Republic than the way the teachers of America have set their hearts to serve and protect the children in face of insuperable difficulties and disasters to themselves. The profession will emerge from these trying years with a new leadership seasoned by its hard experiences and sustained by a larger purpose and a wider vision.

Each law-breaker in the United States costs the public $1,500 annually; when on the other hand, each pupil in school costs the public on an average of about $100 per year. It seems as if some of our self-appointed, self-styled professional budget cutters should begin to advocate the cutting of the budget for crime. But no, they want to hinder the very school activities that do most to prevent crime.

America today faces a choice between the child and the dollar. It cannot afford not to put the child first. Any other policy destroys progress. The first and last test of the statesman is his attitude toward education. If he cannot meet that test, he has no place in public life. Only as schools move forward today can government, industry, and the standard of living move forward tomorrow.

Men of Athen, I would persuade you, old and young alike, not to take thought for your person or your properties, but first and chiefly to care about the greatest improvement of your souls.
—Socrates.

Education costs more now than it did in the pioneer days because schools are better and more children attend them for longer periods. A majority of parents now desire their children to have the advantages of high school, which costs more than the elementary school. And yet American schools are run so economically that they give your child books, a classroom, equipment, a playground, and a days instruction under a well prepared teacher, for the price of a golf ball or the price of a box of candy. The average cost of the instruction of an American child is only fifty-one cents. Of the fifty-one cents the teacher receives only twenty-eight cents. Suppose you had to engage a tutor to teach your child in your home. Such services often costs $1 to $2 per hour.

Chamberlain School News

The Chamberlain basket ball girls and boys were entertained by the H. D. club and other ladies of the community last Wednesday night. We gathered at the school house about dark, and played games of all kinds. About 9:30 we were called in, and were served sandwiches, doughnuts, cookies, chocolate and grape juice. Mr. Baker came out from Clarendon and made the evening more enjoyable. Each of the basketball players was asked to make a talk concerning the future basketball teams of Chamberlain. They were very interesting and the talk Mr. Baker gave was encouraging and helpful.

Mr. Isham and one of our school boys and basketball players, Royce Hughes, furnished music for us. We went home at a late hour, each feeling he had an extra good time. We want to thank the women of the community and especially we thank Mrs. Duckett for the grape juice.

We ask Mr. Baker to make us another visit soon. There was an invitation tournament held at Newlin last Friday and Saturday and the boys and girls of Chamberlain received an invitation. We girls went, but only a few of the boys could go. We got to Newlin about 4:30 Friday evening and were too late to see the game between Newlin "All Stars" and Lakeview girls. The Lakeview girls won the game. Friday night we played the Newlin All Stars and they won by seven points. We saw some good boys games too.

The Newlin women furnished rooms for the players during the tournament, two girls staying at a place. Everyone was friendly and helped us to enjoy ourselves. Saturday morning the High school girls of Newlin wanted to play us a game and we beat them. The scores were 10 to 41.

We enjoyed the trip very much and especially the games because the girls were such good sports. That is what it takes to win friends and get through the world.

The following were the girls who went: Cleo Foster, Elsie May, Louise Hughes, Gelema Ayers, Mary K. Hardin, Jewel Ayers, Lois Foster, Rose E. Aham, Roseada Reid, Pauline Brazille, Leota Rampy, Miss Crawford, Miss Watters, and Mrs. John Adudell.

The boys of Chamberlain will enter the tournament Friday and Saturday. The boys having won the invitation tournament at Clarendon. The girls were second, being defeated by three points by Lelia Lake. The Chamberlain girls say that the Lelia Lake girls will have to play ball hard to win the tournament this time.

The boys played ten games this season, losing two and winning eight. Our opponents have scored 160 points and we have scored 236 points. The girls have played five games this season, losing two and winning three. Their opponents scored 107 points and our girls scored 157 points. We are going to try to win both boys and girls in the coming tournament at Hedley Friday and Saturday.

February 22nd our school in reference to George Washington's birthday, celebrated by singing patriotic songs. We sang all morning to the melodious tune of the guitar

This tractor cotton-picker, built by A. R. Nesbit of Plainview, Texas, picks eight acres of cotton a day. Hon. J. O. Guleke, member of the State Board of Education has this to say, "It's time the Texas educators cut out politics, got down to business and worked to save the schools for the children of Texas. An appropriation of $9,000,000 for 23,000 students in college and $30,000,000 for 1,556,777 public school children is wrong. The two appropriations should be more in line with the number of young people for whose education they are used. The greatest problem in Texas today is the fact that $200,000,000 in school bonds are outstanding, and these are drawing 5 per cent interest and you have to set aside an additional 2 per cent for sinking fund purposes. That means you are paying out $14,000,000 annually and you haven't hired a single teacher, nor fired a boiler."

Jack D. Lemmons, auditor for the Lemmons-Thompson grain company, was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Mrs. B. G. Smith returned home Friday from Austin where she had been visiting her son E. B. and Mrs. M. M. Nobles.

Good Equipment Is Essential To Good Training

The most important thing in training young people for a useful career (next to that of the faculty) is the physical equipment of the school. This is especially true of the Business College, because much of the training in our business colleges consists of mastery of the latest modern office machines. The Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration maintains modern and up-to-date equipment. High school graduates who are planing a business career will be interested in the type of equipment used by this big school.

The Tyler Commercial College owns its own building, which is of pressed brick construction, 146 feet wide by 135 feet long, three stories high with especially constructed annex on roof for Cottor Classing. The entire building is especially design'd for its permanent home. Unlike the average small business college, this big school does not occupy a few small office rooms up stairs over a garage or drug store without ample space.

We own over 300 standard make typewriters. Our Banking Department is equipped with fifteen Electric Driven Bank Posting Machine; Adding Machines and Calculators.

So far as is known, it is the only Business College in the United States having a broadcasting station, representing an investment of over $25,000. Fourteen large, spacious class rooms, equipped with over 1,200 modern double and single desks. Large spacious College Auditorium, with a seating capacity of over 2,000.

Office Training Department equipped with the latest office machines, such as Multigraph, Mimeograph, Addressographs, Folding Machines, Typewriters, Shorthand Machines, Bookkeeping Machines, and a most modern Filing Department in connection.

The School of Radio operated in connection is equipped with all modern equipment for teaching all phases of Radio, including Television. Government licensed Technical Training short wave Station in connection. Telegraphy and Western Union Departments fully equipped with Motor Generators, Telegraph keys and sounders, especially built Western Union Typewriters, and all modern equipment. Cotton Classing Department operated the year round, with government approved Samples as a basis for grading and stapling.

Space will not permit a full description of all the equipment of this big school. Bear in mind, young people, unless the school you attend has sufficient equipment to efficiently train you, your success will not be what you expect it to be. Write for the current catalog of this school, "Achieving Success in Business." It is free. Address the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration, Tyler, Texas.

CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS

In its investigations and the resulting criminal prosecutions, your Committee found itself traveling on uncharted territory. It required months of tedious, careful investigation before indictments could be brought. It required additional weeks of study and discussion by the Committee Members before a method of procedure against offending officers was decided upon.

The criminal prosecutions arose in this manner:

Upon investigation of accounts turned in to the Comptroller's Office our Auditors found instances where Sheriffs had collected from the State for travelling, in summoning witnesses and making arrests, distances that it was almost impossible for them to travel within the time limits they set up. A Sheriff, for instance, might report travelling 100 miles east and 300 miles west and 100 miles north-east, all on the same day.

The Committee determined to discover whether this mileage was actually travelled. To this end investigators were employed and the Adjutant General and the State Comptroller's Offices furnished investigators to assist the Committee employees. These men visited the Counties where the witnesses were purported to have been summoned. They interviewed the purported witnesses and found person after person who denied having ever been served with a subpoena.

Desiring even more conclusive proof that Sheriffs were charging for summoning witnesses who were never served, this Committee held numerous hearings at which the persons named as witnesses were called before it and asked to repeat under oath what they had told our investigators, which they did.

Meanwhile our investigators were instructed to go to the State Prison and interview men who had been convicted in some of the cases which had aroused the Committee's suspicion of apparent excess mileage charges. During the course of these investigations many other abuses were found. Some of these are enumerated below:

Abuses Discovered

1. Some Sheriffs reported transporting prisoners, one at a time, on succeeding days from County Jail to County Jail or from the Penitentiary to the County Jail, when in fact they carried the several prisoners at one time and on the same day.

2. Rather than accept the smaller fee paid for bringing a prisoner to Texas from another State some Sheriffs would estimate the distance to the out-of-State city where the prisoner was held, select a city within the boundaries of the State at an equal distance and charge the higher fee for intra-state travel.

3. When travelling by train many Sheriffs would collect from the State fees paid for travelling by private conveyance because the latter fee is the larger.

4. Instances were found where Sheriffs in making arrests charged the State for travelling the farthest distance possible—for instance from the northeast to the southwest corner of the State—when the prisoner actually was in the adjoining County.

5. In some instances when many members of the same community were to be summoned as witnesses in a trial the Sheriff would serve subpoenas on all witnesses in a single trip; yet in his claim against the State he would swear that he made a separate trip from the Court House to the community in serving each witness. This constitutes nothing less than claiming fees for services not performed, which the statutes label "extortion."

These are but a few of the many unpardonable practices which were discovered.

Feeling that those officers whom the Committee believed had been guilty of the various practices should be punished, the Committee then turned its attention to ways and means of bringing them to justice. District Attorney Henry Brooks of Travis County was called before the Committee and the evidence laid before him. He agreed that the offenders should be prosecuted. To facilitate his work the Committee assisted in summoning witnesses before the Grand Jury and instructed its investigators and Auditors to render Mr. Brooks every possible assistance.

Indictments were duly returned and the District Attorney proceeded to lay his cases before Juries in the District Court of Travis County.

Facts Upon Which Prosecutions Were Based.

Your Committee has learned of some misunderstanding existing as to just what violations, and how many of such there were, as a basis for the above indictments for extortion. It is understood that in preparing an indictment, specific violations must be alleged. In all of these cases it was found that these offenders had violated the extortion statute hundreds of times. In fact, the evidence showed so conclusively that these officers intentionally practiced a system of defrauding the State that no plea that such officers were prosecuted for a few minor irregularities could be made. For example, one of these defendants was indicted for the extortion of $3.40, while in fact an audit of his accounts reveals that he had illegally collected from the State amounts aggregating in excess of $19,000.00. This amount being made up of many hundreds of small items.

It is therefore obvious that the jury in considering this case, not only took due consideration of the alleged $3.40 extorted, but considered the hundreds of other illegal and extortionate claims that this officer had filed with the Comptroller and had received payment thereon.

Another Sheriff was indicted for extorting the amount of $3.00, when in fact an audit of his account shows that he had collected amounts aggregating in excess of $16,000.00 from the State. This amount is made up of hundreds of small extortionate claims.

These sums are due and owing to the State of Texas. The claims have been placed in the hands of the proper officials of the State Government for action.

Another section of this report will show the actual cash benefit to the State resulting from the work of your Committee amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars, but if no consideration were given to that considerable saving this Committee would feel that its months of work have not been in vain if its disclosures and prosecutions were the sole results.

Legal Precedents Found

As a first major difficulty, we found that there were no precedents to guide us. The District Attorney should be given all possible credit for the manner in which he presented highly technical and highly disputed questions of law. Some of these cases have been appealed and passed upon by the Court of Criminal Appeals and in its opinions that Court has definitely settled two of the most highly controversial legal questions involved in the trials, both being decided in favor of the interpretation placed upon the law by Mr. Brooks.

The first and perhaps most important question was that of venue. Each of the Sheriffs tried in Travis County have, through their counsel, contended that they were entitled to trial in their home county. The State countered with the contention that venue lies in Travis County because of the fact that the money paid the Sheriffs came out of the State Treasury which is located in Travis County—regardless of the hands through which the State warrants may have passed before it was finally paid by the State Treasurer.

The second question definitely decided was to the effect that the jury might be allowed to hear evidence concerning items in the same account other than the specific item in the bill of indictment upon which the State chose to go to trial. It is obvious that, to the laymen as well as to lawyers, all of the irregularities in the account of a Sheriff cannot be shown under a single count in an indictment. Mr. Brooks successfully defended his position that such other transactions were admissible as evidence as showing the "system" practiced by the fee officers in their accounting with the State.

Results Obtained.

Through the efforts of your Committee and through the splendid cooperation of the District Attorney, Henry Brooks and his assistant, Polk Shelton, nine Sheriffs, one ex-deputy Sheriff of this State have been indicted under the extortion statute, and one Sheriff for theft. Six convictions have been obtained with one acquittal. However, the Court of Criminal Appeals has reversed one of these convictions and affirmed another.

One ex-District Clerk and one ex-Deputy District Clerk have taken their own lives, and one District Clerk is serving a sentence in the State Penitentiary as a result of forged witness script having been discovered.

Two men were recently indicted for passing checks with forged indorsements. These checks were taken from the files of the State Banking Department.

The Attorney General has filed suits aggregating $209,018.00 for the recovery of moneys paid out for forged witness script, of which the sum of $7,976.73 has been collected.

Misses Pauline Thomas and Johnnie Lee of Pampa were guests in the M. W. Mosley home Sunday.

Prices on Potato Slips this Year Start at $1.00 per 1000

The Wonder Tomato we introduced two years ago, are having good reports come in from mail order sources as well as local trade. Here is a sample from one of our mail order customers. Read this letter from the owner of the Imperial Barber Shop, Claude, Texas:

Dear Mr. Jones:
"About May 10th I received from you 100 tomato plants, mostly Wonder, the balance McGee. I also set out 7 other varieties. Since you asked me to give these a test, especially the Wonder, will tell you that from the start to finish, the Wonder did best of all. McGee was next, began eating ripe tomatoes July 8th. What I like about the Wonder is that they don't crack when we have a change in the weather like some other varieties do. And I have found that it pays to get the big transplanted plants and put them out early. Can sell around 2000 of these early plants for you next spring. Be sure to have them early like you did this year, and the transplanted kind.

Respectfully,

In less than an hour you can, figuratively speaking, visit every progressive store in town offering special values at a fair price and who are interested to the extent of asking for a share of your business.

Very often in looking over the prices, you can save the price of a year's subscription on a weekly purchase by knowing what, where and when to buy.

It would easily take a thousand yous, traveling all afternoon, to find out for yourself what the advertisements will tell you in less than an hour right in your own home.

Our advertisers deserve your attention. They are willing to tell you the prices of what they have to offer. Without this honesty and fairness, you would today be paying much more for practically everything you buy. You are enabled to purchase for small change necessities that would make a dollar look like a snowball on a kitchen range were it not for the age of advertising.

Our advertisers make it possible for you to get a better paper. The more you patronize our advertisers, the better paper you get. There is no reason why you should not be getting a 12 page weekly chock full of local and state news every week if you will but patronize those who will make it possible -- our advertisers, who are your friends and ours.

Theme: "THE CHURCH LOST AND FOUND."

IV. "The Reformation Movement."

We have learned that the church made certain departures from the New Testament plan and program, which resulted in the church being buried under the ignorance, superstition and ecclesiasticism of the Middle Ages. But in every age there were faithful souls who were looking for light and a brighter day. Men saw the results of departing from God's plan and began to labor to reform the church and its program. Forces were set in motion by such men as Wycliffe, John Huss and others who lived before the Reformation period that paved the way for this great movement. The work so nobly begun by these men was carried forward by such men as Martin Luther, Ulrich Zwingli, John Calvin and John Wesley.

The Reformation formally began on October 31st, 1517 when Martin Luther nailed his ninety-five theses to the door of his church in Wittenberg. He was summoned by the Diet of Worms and asked to retract the statements he had made, but refused to do so. He realized that men are not justified by penance, the words of priest, or the power of the pope, but by Christ himself. One of his greatest contributions to the people was the giving of the Bible back to the people to read for themselves. He saw the importance of obeying the Scriptures and being called by Scriptural name.

Luther's work was supplemented by that of Zwingli, who was one of the first to see the Scriptural truth concerning the Lord's Supper. He understood this institution to be a memorial representing the flesh and blood of Christ our Lord.

The next great step in reforming the church was taken by John Calvin. His great slogan was: "The sovereignty of God." He emphasized the fact that neither the priesthood nor the pope is supreme, but only God Himself. He saw the truth concerning the Lord's Supper and Baptism and was convinced that the New Testament form of baptism was immersion.

The Baptist movement supplemented the work of these reformers and in some respects, went beyond them. The Baptist took a definite stand against ecclesiastical authority and tried to promote a more democratic idea in Church government. They were also opponents of the union of church and state, because of the evil which had resulted from that union. They also believed that infant baptism was the work of the devil, and took a stand for New Testament baptism by immersion only.

Another great contribution was made by John Wesley and those who labored with him. They helped to restore the spirit of prayer and devotion which existed in the early church. They cultivated the prayer life, realizing that the church of Christ must advance upon its knees.

These men mentioned and others too numerous to mention, did much in trying to reform the church, and to bring it back to the original program as it is revealed in the New Testament. They spent their lives trying to reform, the church and certain church officers, priests and organizations.

In our next lesson, "The Restoration Movement," we will try to show how the work of the Reformation developed into a Restoration. Be sure to get it.

BOOK TALK
By Lallah Wright

with the manner and success of a pure biography.

Boswell was the motivating force in the flowering of the biography through his "Life of Samuel Johnson", written in 1791.

Johnson was born in 1709; he lived seventy-five years. Boswell lived with him twenty-one years to write his life story and out of the twenty-one years he was with him 276 days. Among the English, this biography ranks among the best. It runs together—from day to day—like a picture show, thusly creating actuality. The subjects are created as people. Boswell was, however, conservative in his writing; not so in life. He acted as a gad-fly, he abased himself as a biographer should, to make his subject shine. That is the real value of the book: its fair presentation of the man so far as we know him.

Some people say that biographers require genius; that is not so. They require a certain form of talent. Boswell had opinions of his own. He was a vivacious type, not a big fool, was intensely interested in life, and had an independent intellect. He went to Johnson with an open mind.

Johnson said he could write about himself better than Boswell, but he didn't want to; he'd rather have someone else tell about his faults. Boswell portrayed Johnson as being ludicrous, as being atrocious in his table manners. His efficacy to draw material from Johnson was unusual. His style is easy and clear. He was a courageous type of individual in his truthfulness. He was not afraid to say that Johnson was gullible in places, very superstitious, and very skeptical. Boswell believed that Johnson's philosophy of life, briefly, was that he'd go round and round, but would finally come back where he started.

Goldston School News

Whew! But, we have had some heart-breaking exams this week. From the looks of some of our report cards you wouldn't think they were so easy.
Mr. Gatewood has been trying to teach the eighth and ninth grade students some algebra. He seems to be having some success.
Mrs. Gatewood surely does assign interesting theme subjects in English. Some of the pupils think "What I Do for Recreation" is hard. If Mr. Gatewood would assign us American History students a theme that easy, we would think it was a joke.
Mrs. Gatewood has three geometry students this year. They seem to be learning fast. They even know how to draw a triangle.
The boys' and girls' basketball team went to Ashtola to play basketball. The boys played the first game and were defeated, the score being 5 and 15. Then the girls played. They were defeated, the score being 11 and 21.

What would happen if: Inez Patterson did not hear from Alanreed once a week? Geraldine Hall got a ride on the way to school? Juanita Walling is in any more car wrecks? Bessie Gollihue knew her Spanish lesson. J. D. Hahn made below 90 in Agriculture. Mary Earthman could not see Wallace Bolles every day. I. B. Clemmons could tell the Goldston girls apart. L. D. Wade found a girl he liked Glenn Palmer could not smoke at least three times a day. Bonnie Wade lived close to school. Lottie Margaret Burrow could not be with Mary Earthman every day.

Raymond Clemmons could not talk. Ruth Rhodes forgets how to play baseball. Eldon Lyer run out of hair oil. Lucille Walling could not go to Groom once a week. Carl Dilli could not say "I'll swear."

Allene Rhodes should have to walk to school. Jack Peggram would sit straight in his seat. Velma Morgan could not chew gum in school. Granville McNeer's car failed to break down. Dorothy Dilli couldn't have a Groom class ring. Charles Dyer could not aggravate some one. Odell Dyer had to come to school every morning.

Virginia Harris could not receive a letter from Groom every Wednesday. Lenora Clemmons could not be red headed.
