TO THE VOTERS OF DONLEY COUNTY:

This is my final word to you before the July 25th primary and while I have made an earnest effort to see each voter in the county and especially that they might see me, I know there are many whom I have not met and who have not met me. So, please permit me to say to each of you:

I ask your support in electing me as District Judge of this the 100th Judicial District, and to say that when elected it will be my purpose to make for you a District Judge who not only follows the law, but who with sincere and honest purpose, and without bias or prejudice, without pets and without enemies, see that justice is done in matters in the district court, to the high and the low, the rich and the poor alike; and not only this, but will see to it that cases are tried with dispatch when on the docket for trial, to the end to save court expenses to the tax payers who have to pay the same. I believe in law enforcement, and that our citizenship is entitled to feel safe in their lives and property, and that if a Grand Jury indicts the case should be tried without delay.

I have and hold a special interest in the people of Donley County on account of four years spent in Clarendon College, and on account of the many friendships then formed which have lasted through the years.

I have made this campaign for District Judge on my own merits as a man, a citizen and a lawyer, and if and when elected I shall make for you a District Judge that will do honor to myself and to the district. Did I not so feel I would not offer for this important office.

Believing that MALICIOUS POLITICAL PROPAGANDA, started at the eleventh hour of a political campaign can not find favor with an honest citizenry, and relying upon my own merits as a man, a citizen and a lawyer acquired and established over almost 47 years residence in Collingsworth county, I gladly submit my candidacy to you, realizing that your will and wish will prevail, and with assurance to you of my appreciation through the years to come for your support, I am

Now serving his second term as County Attorney of Collingsworth county.

Young, honest, courageous. Solicits your vote on his past record. Married man.

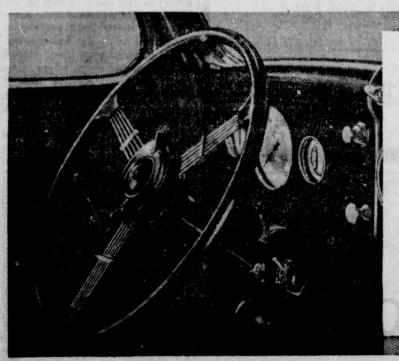

He is in the same position as his opponent four years ago when he ran for the office of district attorney the first time. He had no experience as a District Attorney, and he ran against a man who did have experience, and who had made for himself an enviable record.

He is making the race against a man who is asking for his third term.

Registrations for WPA Jobs To Begin August 1st

Austin, July 22.-Texas Relief Commission offices will be open in the various counties by August 1 to receive applications of persons desiring to be considered for Works Progress Administration jobs, Adams R. Johnson, director of the Texas Relief Commission

Upon the request of Works Progress Administration officials, the Texas Relief Commission has agreed to undertake the task of determining the need of persons who apply for WPA employment, Johnson said. Expense of this service will be paid from federal funds.

In addition to performing this service for WPA, the Texas Relief Commission will continue to sponsor surplus commodity distribution contingent upon the continued cooperation of counties in employing approved case workers, it was explained. Applications for WPA employment or for surplus commodities will be filed and cleared through the same office.

Eligibility for WPA employment or for receipt of surplus commodities is determined upon a basis of need, Johnson explained. Although it is no longer required that a job applicant be a former relief client, present need must be definitely

* the Texas Relief Commission extends only to the acceptance of client's applications, and does not encompass assignment of individuals to jobs. Texas Relief Commission employes examine eligibility status of applicants and refer those persons found eligible to WPA.

Johnson pointed out that certification to WPA does not necessarily mean a job is awaiting the person certified as the quota assigned to Texas will permit the absorption of only a portion of those referred to WPA offices. Unless this surplus is absorbed by private industry in the various localities of the state, these persons must remain jobless, he declared.

Allred Gains Noted As Voting Day Nears

Friends Expect Him to Win In First Primary

Austin, July 22.—Candidates for Governor pounded down the stretch this week with Governor James V. Allred apparently increasing the lead he has held over his four opponents almost since he began his campaign, after spotting them to a two-months advantage.

Biggest question to be decided Saturday is not who will lead the ticket but whether or not Allred will poll enough votes to win without a run-off campaign. Second biggest question is which of his four opponents will lead the other three into second place position.

Allred leaders are making no secret of their conviction that the Governor will be renominated in the first primary.

"We are not, however, growing over confident," State Campaign Manager Marvin Hall said. "Gov ernor Allred has announced that he is leaving no stone unturned and has urged his friends to leave no stone unturned, and we are taking his advice. The fight will be waged right up to Primary Eve."

The subject of old age pensions remains the outstanding issue of the campaign. To crowds aggregating more than 40,000 last week Governor Allred has discussed the question of assistance payments to the needy versus pension payments to all, including the wealthy.

"I recommended old age pensions to the Legislature and the legislature submitted the subject of old age assistance to the people," the Governor has explained. 'By a vote of four to one the people endorsed old age assistance and directed the setting up of a system 'under such limitations and restrictions and regulations as may be deemed by the legislature expedient.

"The 'limitations, restrictions and regulations' that the legislature deemed expedient-after consultation with officials of the National Social Security Board-are the basis of our present old age assistance law.

"It isn't a perfect law, as I said when I signed it and on numerous occasions since, but it is the best law that we could get from two special sessions of the legislature.

"If we had waited for the 'perfect law'-the law that would have satisfied everyone-we would be waiting yet. As it is, more than 50,000 aged needy citizens of Texas already are receiving checks and others are being added to the rolls

The rising tide of Allred sentiment, apparent all over the state, is influenced by a number of sig-

First, the crowds that have turned out to hear the governor speak are far larger than those that are being attracted by his opponents. Second, since he first took the stump early this month there has been an almost constant parade of recruits to the Allred banner from the camps of one-time political enemies. Third, a majority of 85 per cent of the state's approximately 700 weekly newspapers, as revealed in an independent survey completed last week for an industrial concern, is strongly pro-Allred.

Former Legislator Makes Statement

In speaking of the governor's race last week, Ray Holder, publisher of the Lancaster Herald and a former legislator discussed the old age pensions. He said:

"People are always curious about now the other fellow is going to vote. One of our friends jokingly chided us with the fact that we had avoided the governor's race and had not said how we expected to vote in that contest. Frankly, we do not mind telling the world that we are voting for James V. Allred for re-election. We have just an ordinary citizen's interes in that race and we are voting for Allred for the reason that he is honest, courageous and a fine young Christian gentleman and has made a good governor. The things that are charged against Allred about the Old Age Assistance muddle are not his fault. The fault lies squarely on the back of the Legislature and they alone are to blame."

To guide your purchase of a Refrigerator!

DON'T CHOOSE BLINDLY

FOR HEALTH_Your refrigerator must maintain safety food temperatures below 50° all the time. Before you buy, be sure it will do this in the hot hours of the summer time,

FOR CONVENIENCE_Your refrigerator must be able to freeze ice quickly-must have a high degree of usefulness. Before you buy, be sure it will produce fresh ice during the hot hours of the day.

FOR ECONOMY _Your refrigerator must maintain the above performance at low over-all cost. Before you buy, be sure.

AN ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

 If you buy a refrigerator that cannot provide satisfactory, economical performance, all the time, you are wasting your money. It is inconvenient to own a refrigerator that cannot freeze desserts or plenty of fresh ice quickly during the hot hours of the day. It is wasteful to own one that has a high initial cost, though little to operate, if it cannot provide satisfactory performance, all the time . . . under all conditions.

Remember this when you buy. All refrigerators cannot provide all three of these basic requirements. Tests prove this to be true by actual use in the home. So don't buy on claims alone. Ask for and be sure you get convincing evidence of value. Only then can you be certain you are getting your money's worth. Choose carefully, and you will choose a modern electric refrigerator.

Douglass Closes Campaign Friday With Radio Talk

Swept Into Office

Panhandle, July 22,-Curtis Douglass, Attorney from Panhandle, is bringing to a close this week his campaign for state senator from the 31st senatorial district. His active speaking campaign began more than two months ago, and has spoken in nearly every city of the Panhandle.

In addition, many business friends and attorneys have made addresses in what probably has been the most vigorously contested district office in the history of the

Waging a campaign against an opponent, entrenched in office for his second four-year term, interspersed with two campaigns for governor, Douglass has realized that he must make a real battle.

However, on the eve of the election next Saturday, July 25, Douglass and his friends are confident that he will receive an overwhelm. ing endorsement at the polls.

Douglass spoke at Allison, Mc-Lean, Alanreed and Mobeetie Tuesday. Wednesday afternoon he spoke at Lefors and at Pampa at night. The Pampa program called for an introduction by W. M. Lewright with W. J. Smith presiding. Thursday's program called for an address by Douglass Thursday night at Borger.

A feature of the campaign for Thursday and Friday is a motor caravan through the Panhandle. Plans are for 25 to 50 cars to make a flying trip to dozens of Panhandle cities in his behalf. Tentative plans were to spend Thursday night in Childress with a Douglass rally there that night.

The caravan will move toward home on Friday and will reach Amarillo Friday night for a parade to help close the campaign. Douglass will speak over KGNC, Amarillo, from 8 to 8:45 p. m. Friday night, July 24.

E. A. Simpson, Newton P. Willis, Julius Dorenfeld, James Spiller and R. A. Wilson, all attorneys from this section, are filling engagements this week.

EUGENE WORLEY STATES POSITION

Present Representative In Accounting Stewardship To His District

In this, my formal announcement for re-election to a second term in the Texas Legislature, you will find set forth the sound and logical reasons upon which I base my candidacy. I call your attention to the fact that each promise made when I ran for this office two years ago has been kept. They are as follows:

1. Changing the method of scholastic apportionment so that the Panhandle will receive its full financial support for educational needs, both rural and city. East Texas and South Texas, having heavy colored and Mexican populations, defeated my efforts, but I promise them another spirited fight if re-elected to correct this unjust situation. The school fund is in the best condition of its history, being able to pay cash at $19.50 per capita, thus accomplishing a substantial reduction in the state ad valorem tax, thereby affording the long desired decrease in state ad valorem taxes, which I also pledged myself to work for, and shall continue to work for.

2. To provide free cotton class ing service to all farmers without cost for such service, enabling them to receive the full value for their cotton from the various cotton buyers. Twice did I pass this bill through the House, but it was killed in the Senate. The expense for this service would have been borne by an increased tax on horse-racing, which can certainly stand additional taxation.

3. To set up and provide money for an adequate old age assistance program. I actively supported this program and assisted in raising approximately fourteen million dollars to care for the aged and needy. I pledge my best efforts to raise ample revenue to care for the bill which is now in force, and I also favor changing certain defects in the pension bill which have been brought to light since its application. Mine was the first revenue raising bill to pass the house.

4. I favor and intend to assist the farmers in their program of

What would you have done if you had not received your wheat, cotton and other checks under the AAA? Mr. A. L. Chase, has been named by Colonel W. B. Tuttle of San Antonio, to be Chairman of the Thomas Alva Edison Memorial for your city.

The plan projected by the Foundation, according to Colonel Tuttle, State Chairman, in connection with the announcement of the foregoing appointment, carries out as a "Living Memorial" to the great inventor a project conceived by Mr. Edison just before his death by which, in his own words, he hoped "To bring unusual youth and unusual opportunity together."

Cooperating in what is perhaps the most unique and farreaching educational effort ever undertaken in America are the nation's leading corporations. Many of them owe their origin to Edison's inventions. From the ranks of the Edison scholars not only will many future leaders of industry be recruited, but it is also hoped that there may be discovered one or more unusual genuises qualified to follow in the pioneering paths of invention blazed by Mr. Edison himself.
