DONLEY COUNTY'S NEWSPAPER HISTORY RECORDED IN ARCHIVES OF PANHANDLE-PLAINS HISTORICAL MUSEUM AT CANYON

Historical Data Supplied by Mr. W. P. Blake, Long a Clarendon Publisher, and Who Now Resides At 1208 Washington Street in Amarillo, Texas

With coming of Donley county's first settlement at the junction of Carroll creek and Salt Fork some five miles north of the present site of Clarendon in June of 1878, also came Donley's first newspaper. No settlement could hope to succeed without the aid of a newspaper to tell of the wonderful advantages. L. H. Carhart, industrious leader of the colony, being without a printer in own colony, made arrangements to have his monthly periodical printed in Wisconsin. Often the publication failed to arrive, and thus alternately became a monthly or bi-monthly journal as fate decreed. The name of the publication was "Clarendon News." When the Denver railway was completed to Henrietta, the paper was printed at that point, though a few issues were printed at Sherman. With the advance of civilization, the publication office came nearer home. A small job press was secured about 1882 and the small sheet was printed at Old Clarendon until the Denver railway reached the point where Clarendon is now situated. Mr. Carhart then turned the arduous duties of publication for the enlightenment of the world over to other parties. E. E. Carhart, now of Panhandle, had charge of the office.

In 1888 after the Clarendon News had become defunct along with "Old Town," as it is now termed, there came to the new town one B. Wilson Edgell who established the "Clarendon Traveler" as Clarendon's first newspaper. Four years later Del Harrington became the owner by purchase and changed the name of the paper to "The Industrial West."

Within a year he disposed of the paper to W. P. Blake in 1893, who again changed the name of the paper, the headlines reading "Clarendon Chronicle." Mr. Blake issued a hand-set semi-weekly filled with reading matter that was both fair and forceful bringing down upon his head both commendation and condemnation, but he stood pat on every issue for the betterment of his town and trade territory. After operating the Chronicle as a profitable investment for a period of 16 years, Mr. Blake sold the paper to A. M. Beville and his son Harold Beville in 1909. The new owners again changed the name of the publication, and it became the Clarendon News. The paper was made a weekly and continued publication until 1912, without interruption.

In 1899, R. W. Kennon established the "Clarendon Journal," but sold it within a short time to Bob Edgell who changed the name from "Journal" to that of "Banner." The experience bordered upon what might be termed a "hectic career" and John Easten Cooke, now of Rockdale, Texas became the moving spirit in the firm. Within a short time he purchased the interests of Albert Erwin, a partner who had really purchased the publication from Edgell. Cooke continued publication until 1909 during which time the name had again been changed to that of "Banner-Stockman."

In October of 1909, Alvis Weatherly and James Trent established the "Times," bought the Banner Stockman complete and discontinued its publication.

The owners of the "Times" purchased the Beville interests in the "News" about 1912, retaining the name of "News," but sold within a short time and Joe M. Warren, real estate operator and inexperienced printer, became owner. Mr. Warren made a success of the business giving much of the credit to his daughter, Miss "Leta", as she was known to her public, and who later became Mrs. Earl C. Beck of Amarillo, now a resident of Ft. Worth. Sam Braswell purchased the News from Joe M. Warren in 1917, and in July of 1935 sold it to F. L. Williams who is the

Courteous Thief Steals Wheat

Wheat was taken recently from the T. F. Connally elevator at Capps, near Sunray. The door lock was removed with the aid of a hacksaw, a truck driven in and about a hundred bushels of wheat removed.

"The floor was cleaned of waste wheat," Mr. Connally stated, "and I really could not see how such a clean job had been done until I checked up and missed the grain." A small spot of mud on the floor bearing an imprint of the truck tire is the only clue thus far.

In 1892 "Puck" came on the scene where publication names were being changed over night. Del Harrington, diligently pushing his "Industrial West" to the forefront, regarded "Puck" as a pest, purchased and discontinued it instantly.

In 1899 there lived in Clarendon a devout Methodist pastor by the name of Rev. John R. Henson. The prohibition question loomed upon the horizon and Rev. Henson was its chief exponent. He accordingly sought to provide the public with information through his "Agitator," a small weekly publication that would have made the immortal Brann and his Iconoclast blush with shame. Threats and counter threats flew thick and fast. The publication had five different publishers within a few months. Among them were J. F. Lockney,

H. B. Martin, Ed Boliver and Frank Kendall. Mr. Kendall is a Hedley merchant where he has resided for more than thirty years.

B. Wilson Edgell, publisher of Clarendon's "Traveler" in 1888, had become plain "Bob" Edgell by 1902, but he had lost none of his business acumen. Though a rural resident of Salt Fork some miles from Clarendon, he established the "North Donley News" which he operated for some two months. His venture was generally regarded by other publishers as questionable since it was believed that he was interested only in political announcements of that year.

Hedley, second town of size in Donley county, received its baptism of publication in 1908 when the "Herald" was established by Thos. Durham. He sold the publication to a Mr. McBride. The next owner was J. Claude Wells, now publisher of the Memphis Democrat, and who changed the name of the publication to that of "Informant." Ed Boliver published the Informant for several years until his death in 1934. Mrs. Boliver and her son Edward Jr. continue its publication at this time.

Having purchased the job printing plant of W. P. Blake who had operated the plant for a number of years, the business was continued in Clarendon as a job printing firm until March of 1929. At this time Donley county's latest weekly was established, being owned and operated by the Estlack family consisting of father, mother and five sons—all printers. The present form consists of the parents and two sons, Alfred and George Wayne. Three of the sons branched off into other lines when the depression came on, Phifer and Homer being engaged in the mercantile business, and Eugene became a school teacher. A general job printing business is continued as well as the publication of the Donley County Leader, a weekly.

Bass Family Moves Monday To Lubbock

Seeing greater possibilities for his line of contracting and building, John M. Bass has moved his family to Lubbock where they will make their home in the future.

He reports quite a bit of building down that way, and crops much better than in most other sections of West Texas.

Judge A. J. Fires of the 100th Judicial District.

Completing his second term of office January 1st, Judge Fires will retire from the bench. For more than forty years he practiced his profession in the Panhandle in association with such noted lawyers as Temple Houston, with whom he was a law partner in his early courtroom experience.

Other noted attorneys here at the time Judge Fires began to win his "spurs" were W. H. Woodman, Jim N. Browning who was lieutenant governor later, C. J. Murdoch, W. L. Griggsby, G. A. Brown, Lorenzo Dow Miller. Temple Houston succeeded Browning as district attorney of this district, but only after having his disabilities removed since he was not yet twenty-one years of age.

Judge Fires along with his large practice of criminal law, found time to engage in banking, ranching and farming lines in which he has met with success despite the vicissitudes of climate and national financial conditions.

Judge Fires is holding his last term of court in Clarendon at this time. No other attorney in the history of the state has had a more colorful career, achieved more honors, a greater financial success or accumulated more friends in one lifetime than has Judge Fires.

Demo Committee To Raise Funds

Donley County's National Campaign Fund Quota Is $436

Twenty cents for each voter is the basis on which the assessment for this county was made stated Grover Hill of Amarillo who visited here Wednesday. Mr. Hill is district chairman of all the fund raising committees of the twenty-six counties of this senatorial district.

James H. Morris is county chairman of the democratic campaign committee for Donley county. Other members of the committee are Odo Caraway, C. E. Bairfield, Homer Mulkey and Cap B. Morris.

Only two weeks remain for active canvassing to secure the funds announced as necessary to pay for radio broadcasts and other campaign expenses insuring the reelection of President Roosevelt.

The drive is on in earnest, Mr. Hill stated. All those who can make a contribution are directed to see either member of the county committee at once. To date, this county is said to have raised only about a tenth of the quota.

Mr. Hill was paying an official visit on his rounds of the district.

Prune Trees Blossom Past Week

Purple prune trees at the home of the Leader editor blossomed out the past week. The trees blossomed in the spring but bore a scant crop due to the late freeze.

Fruit tree blossoms are common following a long dry spell. This is said to be due to the fact that trees, in a measure, become dormant due at a time that growth is impossible for a lack of moisture.

Prunes in this section seldom fail to bear because they blossom as late as apple or cherry trees.

BRONCS TO MEET LEFORS PIRATES HERE FRIDAY NITE

Playing their fourth conference game, the Clarendon Bronchos will meet the Lefors Pirates here Friday night at the College Park. This will also make the fourth conference game for the Pirates, and so far both teams have lost all conference games, thus placing them with equal footing in conference standing, except for the fact that the Bronchos have tied two of their games, but lost them on decision. The Pirates suffered a 36-6 defeat at the hands of the speedy Wellington Skyrockets last week, while in a former game Clarendon was defeated by the Skyrockets 13-0.

The Bronchos are in fine condition for the conflict Friday night and are expected to tuck away their first win of the season. Come out and give them your support, and enjoy a good game.

$5,992 SAVED BY DEBT ADJUSTMENT

W. M. Pickering is Chairman Adjustment Committee For Donley County

The treasury of Donley county has received $1,027 during the past year as a result of voluntary debt adjustments reached through aid of the Re-settlement Administration.

Adjustments have been made for 6 farmers of this county to prevent foreclosures or forced sales. A total of 1,187 acres of land, as well as other property, was involved. Debts amounting to $29,361 before adjustment were reduced by $5,992.

"One long-time purpose of the Resettlement Administration is to help farmers toward ownership of the land which they operate," said W. M. Pickering, chairman of the county debt adjustment committee.

"It is just as important to keep them from losing land which they already own as to help them buy new land." He said that the debt adjustment work is largely with small farmers whose financial needs are so small that other agencies find no profit in handling them, or where the debt is so large, in proportion to the value of the property, that other financing agencies consider it unsafe. The Resettlement Administration makes no loans for paying delinquent taxes, interest or principal, but through committees of local volunteer workers brings about agreements between the debtor and creditors for reducing or extending the indebtedness to such an extent that the debtor has a reasonable opportunity of paying it off.

Assistance is rendered in refinancing the debt, through the Farm Credit Administration or other public or private lending agencies. Although it can make no loans for payments on land or taxes, the Resettlement Administration is authorized to make loans for purchase of teams, tools and supplies. Such loans were made in many of the cases adjusted during the year. Unsettled cases pending September 1st totaled 6.

Members of the debt adjustment committee for Donley County are: W. M. Pickering, Clarendon; G. G. Reeves, Clarendon and John Hermsmeyer, Jericho.

A WOMAN'S ANSWER TO A MAN'S QUESTION

(Mary Torrens Lathrop.)
Do you know you have asked for the costliest thing Ever made by the hand above—A woman's heart and a woman's life, And a woman's wonderful love?
Do you know you have asked for this priceless thing As a child might ask for a toy, Demanding what others have died to win, With the reckless dash of a boy?
You have written my lesson of duty out, Man-like you have questioned me Now stand at the bar of my woman's soul Until I shall question thee.

You require a cook for your mutton and beef; I require a far better thing, A seamstress you're wanting for stocking and shirts; I look for a man and a king.

A king for a beautiful realm called home, And a man that the maker, God, Shall look upon, as He did the first And say, "It is very good."

I am fair and young, but the rose will fade, From my soft, young cheek one day; Will you love me then mid the falling leaves As you did mid the bloom of May?

Is your heart an ocean so strong and deep, I may launch my all on its tide? A loving woman finds heaven or hell On the day she is made a bride.

I require all things that are grand and true, All things that a man should be; If you give all this, I would stake my life To be all you demand of me.

If you cannot do this—a laundress and cook— You can hire with little to pay, But a woman's heart and a woman's life, Are not to be won that way.

Miss Rhoda Wiedman visited friends in Amarillo Sunday.

In the stage coach days, the stopping places were known as "stations." Why refer to post-offices as "stations?" In Amarillo they have a "north side station." Down at Austin they have a "Capitol station." But why? No stage coaches are used.

M. V. Harvey says that rag-weeds cut while in blossom will die to the ends of the roots. His opinion is backed by none other than John S. Morgan, another old farmer who made several blades grow when only part of one grew before, through many a year. Mr. Harvey says the "moon ain't got nothing to do with it, either!" Well, that kills the theory so far as this writer is concerned—he is moon-eyed.

There is a man in this town whose neighbor's chickens bothered him a lot until one day he caught a rooster and picked him clean. The man tucked the nude fowl under his arm and went over to present him to the neighbor lady who owned the "breechy" chickens. Here's how:

 "Mrs. So-and-So, here's your rooster that has been digging up my flowers."
 "Why Mr. So-and-So, that can't be because my rooster is in the back yard."

Still clinging to the nude fowl, the man made his way to the lady's back yard and sure enough, there was the lady's rooster. And was his face red!

He will be surprised to see his name in this column later, but not as much surprised as the writer will be as he leaves town.

Bill Barker was in a few days ago telling about an experience he had some years ago down in Jack county where some of the men folks were given to the manufacture of "white mule." Starting out with his lop-eared wolf dogs through the timber, imagine his surprise at seeing a rabbit reach from behind a stump, grab a dog by the ear and race round and round that stump. The rabbit had smelled a jug of white mule evidently, and had a lot of courage. Seeing that his dog was pretty well fagged out, he raised his gun, took deliberate aim at the rabbit, and killed the dog. After finishing this part of the story, he hung his head in a deep study. "Well what happened next," he was asked? "To tell the truth, I hated to see that dog go like he did, all deceived and everything, because he thinks to this day that the rabbit killed him and it's bound to hurt the dog's pride."

Often when a man can't horn-swagger you in a deal, he gets mad as the last resort.

The young man who played football through college brought home his sheepskin. The old man was somewhat disgusted because the sheepskin did not have any meat on it. That made the son sore so he got a job selling vacuum cleaners, and the old man still is looking for meat.

And did you know that a lot of folks appreciated the flower show we had here two weeks ago. Quite a number actually complimented the good ladies in charge. Personally Mrs. F. L. Bourland, Mrs. W. W. Taylor, Mrs. Cal Merchant, Mrs. H. Glascoe, Mrs. J. W. Evans and Mrs. T. S. Barcus are due a lot of credit for taking the interest they do in these matters. Quite a number of ladies and some of the men folks are just simply civic-minded and want to have a real home instead of four walls.

The toastmaster does not make toast necessarily, but he often gets 'roasted' by his audience.

The federal government wants every one connected with the old age pension investigations to have a college degree. It's great to have a job where one doesn't have to have any education. Anybody can fill up a column with something.

Now since you have read down to here, Mr. Newspaper Man, you are asked to write up the newspaper history of your town. Include papers that are extinct as well as living. Get details as fully as possible. Type it double space and send the copy to J. C. Estlack, Clarendon, or to secretary Clyde W. Warwick at Canyon. The Association is preparing a newspaper history of the Panhandle at as little expense as possible. A number of towns have already been reported by the publishers of those particular places. When the data is complete, each member of the Panhandle Press Association will be provided with a complete copy of historical data of the Panhandle. But do it today, brother. (Or sister, and that for Jean Suits, etc.)

Some people's idea of "freedom of the press" is that they ought to get their subscription free.

A young lady visitor here this week was asked how she liked our town. "Well, it looks like a town where one would have very little trouble being good," she replied. Now is that a slam, or ain't it?

Advice:

"Six months after I became engaged to a young man I found out that he had a wooden leg. Shall I break it off?"

Answer: No set it on fire!

A number of old ladies are said to be getting pensions simply because they are married.

It has been a long time since you took down the gourd dipper at the spring. That was in the days when your father saw the old sow fixing up her bed about this time of the year, then told you to get in an extra supply of wood because it was going to get colder before morning. The horses and mules romped, and the cows looked to the north and sniffed the signal that dumb human animals failed to detect though we think we are smart. A weather bureau ain't in it with a bunch of dumb animals when it comes to predicting cold weather.

It used to take a full two days to go from here to Amarillo overland. Now the trip can be made in the same time it takes you to drive in the cows and milk them.

Now a woman spends more getting her hair 'dressed' at one sitting than she spent in a whole year for hats back in the old days. It appears to be a race between the women, in which the men just hang around and let nature take its course.

After all, it's the people you serve who determine your job, be it high or low salary.

Somehow the best sales talk should be turned loose in the shop end of the auto sales outfit. Making a fellow believe he got a good job when he didn't get anything might be made quite an art, and stop a lot of useless complaint on the part of the public.

If you think the barbarism has been bred out of our tribe, notice the antics of a picture show crowd when a military parade is being shown on the screen.

Some speak of the Spanish revolution as a "frightful carnage" in which people are being killed frightfully. At the same time, more people were killed in the U. S. by autos the past TWO months, than in Spain during the past FOUR months. And nothing said about it.

Looking Ahead

Planting for a winter pasture is one way of cutting down a feed bill. Besides the pasture will help boost the weekly cream check. Having a weekly income means a lot to one who can have cows. It makes one independent. Many of our farmer friends buy their weekly necessities with a cream check.

Man's Suit Easily Becomes Lady's Sport Suit

At a cost of 50 cents for cleaning and pressing, Mrs. Wallace Bedford of Archer county has made an attractive tailored sport suit from a man's discarded suit, according to Miss Georgia Mae Evans, home demonstration agent.

"I didn't even take the lapels off. I just ripped up the sides of the coat and removed the sleeves," Mrs. Bedford said. "After fitting the coat, I cut the sleeves to fit and replaced them. The skirt was made from the trousers by using the cuff end at the waistline and sloping the sides gradually."

No matter what you do to earn your daily dollars, you are dependent upon your eyes. The happiness of your family depends directly on the efficiency of these eyes. Impaired eyesight impairs incomes—and does it in many unrealized ways. You can't afford to guess about these eyes of yours. Make sure they are always at peak efficiency, enabling you to do the best possible job, whatever it is. Better have your eyes examined now—and regularly.

Travel When the Southwest Was Young

This is a scene typical of Dallas and its Main Street of early days. The photograph was taken on one of the nine famous roads and highways which have been reproduced by the Ford Motor Company at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. In 1881 the street was paved with round bois d'arc blocks and later on the round block was replaced with rectangular blocks. Both types are pictured here.

Llano County Granite Used To Mark Historic Spots

Markers similar to that placed just west of town were placed at Buffalo Springs, old XIT ranch headquarters Monday, and at Boot Hill at Tascosa and at the site of the old Tascosa courthouse.

Another marker was placed Tuesday at the point where Lt. Frank Baldwin and soldiers under his command rescued the German sisters about 15 miles south and east of Pampa.

The markers are being placed under the direction of the Centennial Commission of Texas.

Texas tranquility is proving a magnet to some Eastern manufacturers, according to information received by The Texas Planning Board. These manufacturers have indicated a desire to move their plants from present communistic hotbeds to the peaceful state of Texas, which, in many cases, supplies them with their raw material.

Bronchos Lose To Shamrock Irishmen On Penetrations

The Clarendon Bronchos and the Shamrock Irishmen battled to a 6 to 6 tie at Shamrock Friday night before approximately 1,500 supporters of the two teams. The Irishmen gained their victory by making three 20-yard penetrations to Clarendon's one and 13 first downs to Clarendon's seven. By winning this game the Irishmen maintained their 100 per cent standing in the conference and this makes the third conference game that the Bronchos have lost.

Cornell, Bronc quarter, was the outstanding player for the Bronchos. Holtzclaw and Grady also played bangup football in the backfield and Rook was the outstanding player in the line. Rook, Cain, Brothers and Braxton were the outstanding players for the Irishmen.

The Irishmen were the first to score in the game with the precious 6 points coming about the middle of the first period when the Irish pushed down to the Bronc 9-yard line to get their first penetration and Drake fumbled on the next play and the Bronchos recovered the ball. Cornell kicked out of bounds on his own 19. Drake, Cantell, and Rook got a first down on the Bronc 5-yard line and Rook carried over for the counter but failed to convert for the extra point.

Late in the second period the Bronchos gained possession of the pigskin on the Irish 9, where Hutton, playing safety had fumbled Cornell's punt. Cornell picked up 1 yard but the play was called back with both sides offside. On three plays Holtzclaw and Cornell advanced the ball to the Irish one yard stripe where Grady carried over to tie the score. Cooke failed for the extra point.

On two other occasions the Irish placed the ball within the Bronc 20-yard stripe. Once with Drake passing to Rook for 37 advancing to the 19 but three plays failed to gain and again Brothers was sent

Your Taxes—Direct and Indirect

Sentinels of the Republic

Students of government and its increasing demands on the family pocketbook have been pointing out in recent months the disproportionate spread between direct and indirect taxes.

As recently as 1929, they report, the Federal government collected approximately one-third of its income from hidden or indirect taxes, and two-thirds from open or direct taxes.

By 1935, the picture had reversed itself. Then, almost two-thirds of Federal income came from hidden taxes, and approximately one-third from direct taxes.

To the average householder this contrast is significant. Why? Because, while direct taxes are levied principally on income, gifts, inheritances and the like, indirect taxes worm their way into bills for clothing, food, shelter and other purchases necessary to the American family.

Although ostensibly directed at other incomes, they hit the average worker's earnings after a sort of multiple pass from politician to producer, to retailer, to consumer. Unwittingly they are paid over the counter by the American housewife whenever she buys for the home. Thus lurking in the price of so many necessities, they add insidiously to the cost of living.

Hidden taxes are by no means new. They have been gnawing at American workers' earnings for many years. But the serious thing today is their expansion—with its consequent burden on the family income.

Yet the burden can be lessened. Developed to their present proportions to help finance huge and often wasteful expenditures by politicians, hidden taxes can be reduced by cutting such waste.

That, of course, is the politicians' job. But it isn't their responsibility alone. It's the responsibility of us, the people, to tell the politicians—who, under the Constitution, are subject to our control—that such waste, with its consequent raid on the family purse, must end. Or else!

back to try for a field goal but his attempt failed. Near the end of the last quarter after Rook had picked up 41 yards and a first down on the Bronc 23 he carried to the 13 only to fumble.

About the middle of the last quarter the Bronchos took the ball on their own 27 and marched straight down the field on line plays by the Irish 9 only to be stopped by a stubborn Irish defense to kill the threat thus gaining their only 20-yard penetration.

The floor of the Gulf of Mexico at Bay City has risen 13 feet in the last two years, according to data received by The Texas Planning Board. The 13 foot rise in the floor of the Gulf at this point represents top soil washed from Central Texas farms since 1934.

Although there are 10,615,000 acres of pine timber in the East Texas pine belt there is only one paper pulp mill in the State of Texas, according to a recent survey made by The Texas Planning Board which also discloses that Texas has possibilities of becoming a major paper producing state.

This is to certify that I, Hugh Denby, of Kress, Texas, Route 1, came to Dr. H. H. Milling at the Milling Sanatorium for treatments for my knee and leg. My leg was drawn up to my body; my knee was stiff and swollen, and I could not sleep at night unless I was full of dope. I tried all kinds of things, and several doctors; all the time got worse. I heard of Dr. H. H. Milling at Mineral Wells, Texas, and decided to give him a trial. I stayed five weeks and am now a well man. Can walk and use my leg and knee as well as I ever could. If you want to get well, go see Dr. H. H. Milling at Mineral Wells, Texas.

Rogers Picture In Return Engagement By Popular Demand; Showing Fri. & Sat. 16-17

For those who missed it before and for those who have requested to see it once more, the Pastime Theatre, by popular demand, is bringing back, showing Friday and Saturday, that unforgettable Fox film, "State Fair," the picture that brought Will Rogers his greatest fame.

A veritable constellation of stars surrounds the beloved humorist in "State Fair" headed by Janet Gaynor, who is co-starred with Rogers, and also including Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers, Norman Foster, Louise Dresser, Frank Craven and Victor Jory.

The excitement, the laughter, the romance and adventure of the great state fair is reflected in the expressions of the Frake family as they prepare to depart for the event they have eagerly awaited for a year.

Will Rogers (Abel Frake) has entered his prize hog, Blue Boy, in the stock competition while Louise Dresser (Mother Frake) is looking forward to winning first prize with her pickles and mincemeat.

The children, Janet Gaynor and Norman Foster, anticipate adventure and romance at the fair.

As the event is to last a complete week, the Frakes pitch their tent at the fair grounds. Rogers spends most of his time with Blue Boy, Louise Dresser is busily engaged comparing recipes with the other women, while Janet Gaynor has met Lew Ayres and Norman Foster has fallen in love with Sally Eilers, an aerial performer.

As the fair moves through its exciting week, many things happen to the Frake family. Love, humor and excitement are skillfully blended in the narrative and the film stands today, as it was when first released, one of the screen's great pictures. "State Fair" is a Henry King production, adapted from Phil Stong's famous novel of the same title.

MIDWAY SCHOOL NEWS

Our school board saw fit to purchase about twenty dollars worth of supplies for which we are very proud.

We now have swings, seesaws, playground ball, tennis and will begin basketball later.

On Friday, Oct. 2, we journeyed over to Chamberlain to play ball. We were not long in showing the Chamberlain boys how we play ball. The score being 21 to 6 in our favor. We came home happy. Having kept our good record of not being defeated in the last year or this term so far. We are not boasting, but are only hoping to hold our good record. We played a half and half game. Half boys and half girls. We are looking for a return game.

Old man weather gave us another week of school. Thanks; "before cotton picking."

26 Million Is Spent On New Chevrolet

New Model Will Be Entirely New in Design With First Showing November 7th

Announcement was made today by M. E. Coyle, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, that $26,000,000 has been expended in retooling, new machinery, and rearranging the plants and assembly lines of Chevrolet for production of the 1937 models that will be announced early in November.

This is one of the largest sums ever appropriated by the automotive industry for the change-over of machinery for the annual new models, and gives an inkling of what the motorists of America may expect when the cars are revealed to the public. Mr. Coyle stated to 1,000 members of the field force of his company now in session in Detroit.

It was said that the usual procedure in automobile manufacturing is to make new models with certain changes one year and other changes the following announcement time, but that this year Chevrolet has produced an entirely new car for 1937.

It is because of the complete re-designing of the 1937 models that such a large expenditure for re-tooling and rearrangement was necessary, Mr. Coyle pointed out.

It was disclosed to the field forces and newspapermen that Chevrolet is now in production on the new models, and that the 10,000 dealers of the company will have display cars for announcement day and an ample supply for immediate delivery to purchasers. Schedules at the factories are increasing, with heavy volume slated for the latter part of October.

November and December will probably see Chevrolet production increased over the high marks set last year for those two months, said Mr. Coyle, for the interest shown by motorists in Chevrolet plans during the pre-announcement time augurs a large increase in buyer demand for the company's cars.

GOVERNOR WANTS CHANGE MADE IN PARDONING LAW

Austin, October 9.—A plea to Texas voters to adopt Amendment Number Four on the November 3rd ballot, was made here this week by Governor James V. Allred.

This proposed Constitutional Amendment would remove pardoning power from the hands of the Governor to those of a non-political, non-partisan Board. At the present time the Governor has absolute power in clemency matters. "It is not fair to the convicts nor to the public," Gov. Allred said, "and no governor has the time to give the proper attention to each case. It is a full-time job and every convict's case should be subjected to review without the necessity of bringing influence to bear. Prior to my election as Governor I advocated this change in our basic law and since I have been in the office I am more convinced than ever that it should be adopted."

The Governor pointed out that during his administration criticism had greatly diminished but that the system inaugurated of having a board pass on meritorious cases could be better insured by adoption of Amendment No. Four on the ballot.

"In my opinion," the Governor continued, "the case of each inmate in the penitentiary should be subject to review automatically at the proper time. This would be possible if this Amendment is adopted. I appeal to the people of Texas to give this proposal their most earnest consideration and vote for its adoption. In so doing, this State will take a long step forward."

Robert Wood and sister, Mrs. Ollie Morris of Perryton, are visiting their brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Massie returned home Tuesday after a short visit at Jacksboro.

Some twenty years ago, President Woodrow Wilson said, "Our civilization cannot survive materially unless it be redeemed spiritually." Which prophecy indicates that he lived from twenty five to thirty years ahead of his day. Roger Babson has indicated recently that he believes that this may be the last National Election in the United States. We do not know about that. It could be so. To say the least of it, it shows that our great statesmen and business men are beginning to realize that our anchorage needs to be more firmly fixed in God. We must realize our relationship to God, and our dependence upon him if we are to stem the tides of rationalism sweeping our country like the mighty Typhoons in the Philippines. By this we will help to save the home from dissolution, the church from institutionalism, the school from secularism, and the state from communism. Be in your place in your church next Sunday morning and let the light of God's word shine into your heart and quicken the spiritual fires that have been so dynamic in giving us the civilization which we now enjoy.

The Baptist Church was delighted with the large crowds and good interest manifest in all of her services last Sunday. You are most cordially invited to worship with us.

Reduction In Crime Credited to Stories Glorifying 'G-Men'

By glorifying "G-men" rather than the gangster, American newspapers, motion pictures and radio broadcasts have contributed much toward the reduction of crime in the United States, according to Hugh Clegg, assistant director of the United States Bureau of Investigation.

Speaking before members of the New Jersey Press Association at their fifteenth annual institute at Rutgers University there Monday Mr. Clegg held that a recent tendency to praise officers of the law aimed to cast federal agents, or "G-men," in heroic roles had spurred youths to identify themselves with the excitement of crime suppression rather than with the escapades of criminals.

All media of public expression including the press, screen and radio, have fostered this important tendency to build character, he said.

"Youngsters today are selecting the special agent of the Bureau of Investigation as their hero rather than the gunmen," Mr. Clegg continued. "Where recently they were playing bank robber, now they are playing 'G-man' and 'special agent.'"

To support his statements, Mr. Clegg reported that the average age of criminals has increased within the past year.

NEW FEDERAL ACT TO PROVIDE MANY TEACHING JOBS

Twenty-five thousand new teachers will be hired next year by state departments of education to conduct vocational education courses under the recently enacted George-Deen Act.

This law quadruples the present size of federal vocational education funds and requires states to match 50 per cent of the money granted them until 1942. From then on, the states' share will increase gradually until in 1947 and thereafter, they will pay an equal share with the Federal Government.

The fourfold jump in the Federal Government's contribution to vocational schools was a direct outgrowth of the depression. Commissions formed to study the problem of unemployed youth have been unanimous in their decision that too little attention has been paid in this country to co-ordinating formal education and work experience.

Allotments from the $14,797,496 set aside by Congress have just been made to the states by the federal board for vocational education, of which Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor is chairman. Before the states can make use of this money, however, they must get their legislatures to appropriate a total of $7,955,703 for the same type of work.

The greater portion of the new money will go to pay salaries and traveling expenses of teachers in the fields of agriculture, trade and industry, and home economics. For the first time, money has been allotted for the teaching of "distributive occupations" which include wholesaling and retailing and for the preparation of teachers and supervisors in the various fields of vocational education covered in the bill.

The first federal aid for vocational education dates back to 1917 when Congress passed the Smith-Hughes Act, contributing a total of $500,000 to states for training in agriculture and $500,000 for training in industry. Since 1934, a total of $3,000,000 has been divided among the states under the George-Deen Act. The new appropriation does not become effective until July 1, 1937, but allotments were made in advance so state legislatures would know what is expected of them when they meet this winter.

During 1935 metal mines in Texas produced 72,222 tons of ore yielding, in terms of recovered metals, 518.00 fine ounces of gold, 1,000.960 fine ounces of silver, 28,000 pounds of copper, and 1,043,000 pounds of lead, valued in all at $781,614, according to a report received by The Texas Planning Board from the United States Bureau of Mines.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shipley of Dallas are visiting her brother, D. F. Wadsworth and family here.

The Moffett Amendment (No. 6) will prevent undue centralization of power in a few of the very largest Counties of Texas. "Vote for amendment No. 6 in November"

Map showing concentration of Legislative Power.

Should big cities control the State? A few counties have 37% control!

O. P. Hommel of Cove, Arkansas visited his sons Ollie and Frank here the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Estlack of Ashtola returned from a visit to the Centennial Wednesday. They were accompanied from Vernon by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Estlack. They visited relatives in Clay and Montague counties.

SHALL CITIES OF TEXAS CONTROL LAW-MAKING BODY OF WHOLE STATE?

Austin, Texas, Oct. 12.—There are 254 counties in the State. And there are only 150 members in the House of Representatives. The above map shows that these members are now unduly concentrated, and unless something is done soon, this concentration will increase, for census figures show that the big cities are growing much faster than any other part of the State.

If Constitutional Amendment No. 6 is adopted, it will check this centralization of power, by placing a limit of seven upon the number of members that any one county may have. It is the last amendment on the ballot in the November election and should be adopted.

Geography As Well

Texas is not only larger than any other State in the Union, but is larger than any European nation, except Russia. In a state so broad, and with such varied interests, it seems self-evident that the law-makers should not be bunched or clustered in a few counties, but instead that they should be sprinkled or scattered around among as many counties as possible so that every section will always have adequate representation, in making the laws under which all must live. Geography as well as population should be taken into consideration.

Then and Now

The present Constitution provides that Representatives must be allotted to the various counties solely upon the basis of population. When the present Constitution was written, sixty years ago, this provision may have been proper for the conditions that then existed, for the largest city in the State at that time contained only 12,000 people, and our forefathers did not then foresee that there would be cities in this State containing over Four Hundred Thousand people, which is now the case.

But unless Amendment No. 6 is adopted, in November this year, the present Constitutional provision will stand, which will mean that Houston will have twelve or fourteen members by 1940, with the other largest cities not far behind, and within twenty years more this number would likely be doubled, for the two largest cities have more than tripled in the last twenty years, and may do so again.

How Many for a County?

Other states have been confronted with this same problem and have amended their Constitutions so that geography as well as population is taken into consideration in laying out Representative districts. Some states fix seven members as the maximum number that any one county may have, some five, some three, and one state two. Altogether thirty states have put this balance wheel into their governmental machinery, and Texas should do likewise. Amendment No. 6 limits any one county in Texas to seven members. This is certainly enough for any one county to have, out of the total membership of 150.

Rural Interest Affected. Texas produces more agricultural products than any other state. It would never be proper for the banner agricultural state to permit its law-making to drift into the hands of four or five of its most densely populated and non-agricultural counties. Yet, that is exactly what will happen unless Amendment No. 6 is adopted in the November election.

Founding Fathers

Our forefathers provided that the President and the Vice-president of the United States should not come from the same State. They did this to prevent undue centralization of power. Amendment No. 6 does the same thing and should be adopted.

WILL LIKED NEWSPAPERS

Will Rogers, known to more persons through his daily newspaper column than through his movie career, was a real friend of the Fourth Estate. In one of his later writings Will gave a tribute to the "home town paper" that will probably go down in literary history.

"Take away my ham, take away my eggs, even chilli," said Will, "but leave me my newspaper. Even if it has such purely local news as 'Jim Jones came home last night unexpectedly, and bloodshed ensued' or 'Jesse Bushyhead, our local M. D., is having one of the best years of his career, practically speaking—but they won't pay him when they get well.' 'the county seat was packed yesterday with prominent people from out of town, attempting to renew their notes' and 'election ain't far off and everybody is up for office that can sign an application blank.'"

"Now all that don't seem much news to you. But it is news to you, especially when you know the people and they are your own folks. So no matter how punk you may think your local newspaper is getting, why just take it away from you and see how you feel. The old newspaper, I think, is just about our biggest blessing.

"So let's all read and be merry, for tomorrow the paper may not have enough ads to come out."
