LECTIONS BELIEVED SET FOR SEASON AT HAND.

State taxes in an amount of $53,488.63 were assessed against the tax payers of the county at the beginning of the season. Of this figure, a total of $49,577.48 is reported as having been noted to the ported as having been paid to the last day of January 1930. This leaves a balance of very little more than $3,900 unpaid and de-

The County taxes assessed amounted to a total of $59,001.08 at the beginning of the season.
These figures were reduced to a minimum of a little more than $4,400 by the payment of a total of $54,686.09 into the hands of

Of this amount, a total of $104,263.57 has been collected, to leave a balance of some $7,300 delinquent in both these divisions. The percentage is roughly computed to be a total of little more than 91 percent of the total assessed.

Some delinquent taxes have been paid since the close of the paying time, but the percentage here is small as compared to that amount already collected.

Some activity is seen in the registration of cars since the first of February, principally amough the purchasers of new cars and trucks. A few cars may be seen on the streets of the city with the 1929 tags, but these are becoming fewer as the days pass and the new licenses are issued to the owners of the cars. The total for the year continues to be short of the 1929 total by more than 700 automobiles to this date.

Those of the city of Clarendon who are interested in securing further pecan trees for planting this season will please indicate their desires to the Secretary of the Club before Saturday of this week. The Club has secured these trees at a cost of $1.80 each plus carriage, which will make the trees deliver in Clarendon at approximately $2.00 each. This price is presuming that the deliv-ery charges will be the same as they were on the original ship-ment of trees. There is too much work to be done in this community for one service club to do the job. We need the enlisting and harnessing of more man-power and the Rotary Club is admirably fitted to do the job. Give the new club your interest and assistance. It means a lot for Clarendon. -000-

Granting of the distinguished service cross to Major Ethan Allen Simpson, company commander of the Co. H, recruited in Donley County, is another pointed acknowledgement by the war department of the signal services of the local boys who made up that outfit, as well as a belated tribute to Major Simpson. The world at large will never realize all that it owes to the "dough-boys" and their officers in the days of '17 and '18.

There's a lot of argument going the rounds on the proposed tariff on oil imported in competition with American producers. There are a few hide-bound Democrats who for the sake of the "faith of the fathers" refuse to adhere to the more sensible and practical doctrine of self-preservation and we behold a divided party vote in congress on this matter so vital to the Southwest. We ought to have a tariff on oil and do some other things to revive the price for grade here in this section. Just so long as the nation for crude here in this section. Just so long as the nation in the milling process—it is called bolting—into bran. is committed to a policy of protective tariff, just so long should all clear-eyed Democrats demand their share of the protection for their section of the country. editor met men from every section of Texas and was struck with the general sentiment of dissatisfaction over the multicolored field of entrants for the governor's race this summer. From all parts of the state the same thought is expressed—"there is nobody in the race that I particularly want to support," and then a sort of ironic statement that "I'll get a little fun out of voting against some of the candidates." Who's to blame for such a situation? At the present time the governorship in Texas doesn't seem to attract men of the best capacity.

Governor Moody has called the fifth special session of the Texas legislature, which is another proof of the absolute breakdown of the present legislative system in Texas. When so little is done as marks the past four special sesions of the senate and house, there is evidence of a disintegrating system of law making or proof of the incapacity of the men in the two bodies. We must assume that our legislature is made up of men of fair average of intelligence and judgement, which puts the burden of incompetence on the system under which we are trying to operate. The governor is exasperated at the legislature and the legislature is impudent to the governor and both houses suspicion each other while the tax payers of the state are called upon to pay the bills of special session after special session.

Somewhere there must be a reckoning for a long suffering people will not sustain the burdens of such a wasteful and inefficient system for many years longer. The business interests of Texas will some day relegate the politicians and their insufferable systems to the background for every citizen is in a measure a representative of some business interest. #### Why the South Is Asked To Reduce Cotton Acreage

The Federal Farm Board urges that every effort be made to reduce the cotton acreage in the South by not less than 6.000,000 acres in 1930.

The following essential facts as to the cotton situation were prepared from data assembled by Dr. O. C. Stine, principal agricultural economist of the United States Department of Agriculture, and were presented for wide dissemination at the Jackson (Miss.) conference on acreage:

If the same acreage be planted to cotton in 1930 as was planted in 1929 (47,569,000 acres) and the yield by the average of the last five years (162.7 pounds per acre), the yield on the acres harvested (45,981,000 in 1929) would be 15,000,000 bales or more.

If the yield on the 1929 acreage would equal that of 1926 (182.6 pounds per acre) the crop would reach 17,500,000

A carry-over of 3,000,000 bales in this country would make a total of 18,000,000 bales of cotton for sale during 1930. If the 3,000,000 bales are added to a possible 17,500,000-bale crop the total would be 20,500,000 bales. World consumption of American cotton was about 15,000,000 bales

Either of these figures would result in a disaster to the South and would affect all lines of industry.

LOSS OF $600,000,000

In 1926 the record cotton crop of 18,000,000 bales sold for less than $1,000,000,000, whereas 10,000,000 bales in 1923 sold for $1,600,000,000. That means that farmers picked and ginned 8,000,000 bales in 1926, gave them to the world free of charge, and, in effect, paid $600,000,000 for the privilege.

The Federal Farm Board has made it clear that it can not avert a cotton crisis unless farmers reduce the acreage

Texas in 1929 planted 18,912,000 acres in cotton, compared with 18,948,000 acres in 1926 and 19,139,000 acres in 1925. Much of this land is marginal and submarginal and should not be planted to cotton at all.

On the 18,948,000 acres planted in 1926 Texas raised a crop of 5,600,000 bales and it is estimated that nearly 400,000 bales were unpicked because of low prices. The total estimated production for Texas that year was around 6,000,000 bales. This figure gives an idea of what might happen on a large acreage if conditions prove favorable to the crop.

IS CORN 'HUSKED' OR IS IT 'SHUCKED'?

By Tom Bodine in the Paris, (Missouri) Mercury We again, as is our habit, arise to dissent. They may "husk" corn in Kansas. Iowa and Illinois, but in the sovereign state of Missouri we "shuck" it.

We came through Cumberland Gap, and the Plymouth idiom has no place in our speech. "Shuck" is both phonetically and descriptively the better word of the two. Its rough sibilancy more clearly conveys the sound resulting when the outer covering is stripped or torn from an ear of Indian maize. It tears upward through the larynx like sound English speech ought to do.

For this reason we are astounded that the national corn-shucking contest at Platte City, Missouri, once the home of Virginia and Kentucky grandees, should be advertised over a nation-wide radio hookup, as "a corn-husking contest." That's New England talk, and we are of the Tidewater and the Plus Grass Tidewater and the Blue Grass.

How Big Is Your Town?

POPULATION figures have lost their signifi-cance as a measurement of the importance of communities. Today, towns are valued not so much by the number of inhabitants they house but rather by the productive power of the community as a whole. The productivity of a community is largely determined by the available power supply.

On this basis, the communities in the territory served by this company may compete favorably with the large metropolitan centers, for these communities today are equipped with improved transportation facilities and an ample and economical electric power supply.

Interconnection of the electric generating and transmitting equipment of this company provides a broad, ample pool of power for industrial, commercial and domestic use. On the firm base of this power pool the future growth and development of these communities is based.

The accusation has been made that Cash Stores give short weights and measures. Doubtless there are some such stores where this is

Over a Billion Deadly Germs in a Single Drop of Water

Germs are so small that there may be as many as one billion, seven hundred million of them in a drop of water. And just a few of these tiny germs, if they get into your blood through a cut in your skin, may make you so sick you will be in bed for weeks—may cause the loss of a limb through blood poisoning—may even infect you with that most dreadful and fatal of diseases, lockjaw.

Just because you can see no dirt in a cut does not mean that it is clean. You cannot see germs. The only safe and sane thing to do, is to thoroughly wash every cut, no matter how small, with Liquid Borozone, to kill the germs, and then dust it with Borozone Powder, to hasten the healing. Liquid Borozone costs 30 cents, 60 cents, $1.20 and $1.50; Borozone Powder, 30 cents and 60 cents. and can be had at Douglas. A Goldston Drug. Co. Douglas & Goldston Drug Co.

A Great Discovery

When Pasteur discovered, in 1852, that the infection of wounds was caused by malignant bacteria, he performed a service of inestimable value to mankind. Since then medical science has been producing better and better antiseptics, to kill these germs that may enter the smallest cut and give us diseases such as typhoid, tuberculosis and lockjaw. Now, all you have to do to be sure that these dreadful germs will not infect a wound, is to wash that wound, however small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the modern antiseptic.
