High Bid For Grand Champion Goes To First National Bank

The First National Bank topped the sale of the fat barrows and gilts of the 1943 Donley County Club Boys' Fall Swine Show by paying twenty-five cents per pound for the grand champion barrow fed and exhibited by Billy Joe Marshall. The Farmers State Bank paid twenty-five cents for the reserve champion exhibited by Jack Ballew and the Donley County State Bank, buyer of the 1942 Grand Champion, bought the third rating pig of the show from Max Mays for twenty-five cents per pound.

Fitzgerald Gin, Smith Gin, and the Clarendon Gin each paid twenty-cents per pound for the champion Berkshire shown by Jim Lovell, the champion Poland

The Pastime Theatre paid Don Thornberry 20c per pound for his grand champion pen of barrows. The merchants bought all of the 50 top placing pigs at a premium, and resold them to a local hog buyer.

For the past several years local club youths have been heavy winners everywhere they have competed and it has been due to the very excellent support received from local merchants in promoting their shows and sales.

Famous Sportsman To Show Pictures Here October 18

When Jack Lamb, nationally famous sportsman, appears in College Auditorium on Monday night, October 18th, at 8 p. m. with his sensational technicolor motion pictures of Alaska, the people of this section will have a rare opportunity to visit Alaska without all of the hardships that go into such a trip.

Lamb went to Alaska with Gene Howe, Amarillo publisher, and their expedition broke new paths through the trackless wilds for many months, visiting country where no man had ever been before.

With a full fledged expedition of ten Alaskan guides and ten horses which they brought 2,000 miles from Canada, Lamb and Howe set out to explore the back country where wild game abounds, and their party was completely out of touch with civilization for many months. At one time Lamb and his party were 500 miles from a road that would lead them back to civilization.

Before going to the mainland of Alaska, they cruised through the Aleutian Islands for a month, making pictures of the millions of salmon that swam up the rivers, and also hunting for Kodiak bears.

On the mainland a month later, they set out on foot to explore some of the hitherto little known Alaska, and ventured into some of the wildest country left on the (See SPORTSMAN, page 8)

Bronchos To Play Lefors Pirates Friday Night

The Lefors Pirates will visit Broncho Field Friday night in a return engagement after bowling over the Bronchos at Lefors last week by a small score of 12 to 0.

The Lefors boys have had quite a bit more practice than the locals and were expected to trim the Bronchos by a sizeable margin last week. However, this week may see a decided change when the two teams play on Broncho Field. The game is scheduled for 8:30 at College park Friday night and football fans are urged to come, out and give the Clarendon lads a big boost.

Mrs. Wade Hilliard and son Donald of Childress and Mrs. A. T. Small of Amarillo, spent the week end visiting their mother, Mrs. R. M. Morris. They returned to their home Tuesday evening.

Donley County Raises $324,519.75 In Third War Loan Drive To Date

Unless there is a heavy buying of series E, F, and G War Bonds between now and the night of October 16th, Donley County will have fallen down on her first obligation so far during this war. The Treasury department has extended the buying of these series in order that districts or counties like us, who are behind, can have a chance to meet our quota.

According to the figures released by county chairman J. R. Porter, we would still need to buy $135,980.25 in order to be able to tell our boys that we were behind them 100%.

The large bond sales the past week that brought our total up from the $10,322.50 mark were the directors of the Donley County State Bank who went together and bought $100,000. Jack Roach and J. L. McMurtry both added $30,000 each. There were several other sizeable purchases that helped bring the total up but we were unable to secure the names of the parties.

It takes large purchases such as these to put over a large quota, but it also takes the smaller purchases as well, and it takes all put together when we stop to consider the fact that everyone is involved in this war and all should help to the extent of where it hurts—because our boys on the front lines are not flinching the least bit for us.

For those of you who have not bought bonds yet and feel that you would like to do so if you had a little assistance, we quote the text of an advertisement in this issue of the Leader: "Donley County is far behind on this war bond drive. Don't let our home boys in service be ashamed of us. Save your conscience. Buy War Bonds today. All bonds bought up to October 16th will be counted on this drive. See us if you need help. Signed, First National Bank."

We are sure that if you want to help in this drive, that you can back up our boys by buying bonds through the assistance of your local banks between now and the 16th of this month.

WAR DADS TO MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

All War Dads are urged to be present at the meeting tonight, which is Thursday, October 7th. The 7th of every month is Pearl Harbor Day, and the War Dads have set this date as their meeting time each month.

If you are a War Dad or are eligible to be one, don't miss this meeting as many important things are to be discussed.

Navy Day

When President McKinley's life was snuffed out by an assassin's bullet in 1901 and Theodore Roosevelt, at 42, became the youngest president ever to serve in America, the young president immediately called for a "Big Stick", a name meaning a big Navy.

Roosevelt had used the phrase even before he became president. In 1900, while he was governor of New York, he wrote to a friend: "I have always been fond of the West African proverb: 'Speak softly and carry a big stick. You will go far.'"

Four days before President McKinley was shot at Buffalo and 12 days before his death, Roosevelt, then vice-president, said in an address at the Minnesota State Fair: "There is a homely old adage which runs, 'Speak softly and carry a big stick. You will go far.' If the American Nation will speak softly and yet build and keep at a pitch of the highest training a thoroughly efficient Navy, the Monroe Doctrine will go far."

In later years Theodore Roosevelt said to one of his biographers, "It was precisely because this or that power knew that I carried a big stick that I was enabled to speak softly with effect."

Shortly after assuming office as president, Roosevelt learned that the woodchoppers in Congress were somewhat reluctant to chop down the bush for the Big Stick. Richmond Pearson Hobson, a representative from Alabama, was a staunch supporter of the "Big Stick" policy, and he prodded his fellow members in vain. He and Roosevelt called for four battleships and got two. They were satisfied with the outcome, for they said that if they had called for two battleships, only one would have been granted.

Roosevelt, however, had other supporters, the outstanding citizens of America, including some retired admirals. They looked across the waters to England, France and Germany and saw that the citizens there had formed Navy Leagues whose object was to build a Navy, or, to influence the rest of the citizens to build one.

So in 1903 the Navy League of the United States was formed for the purpose of upbuilding the American Navy. Its headquarters are in Washington, D. C., and the latest available figures show that it has a membership of 6,000.

Thenceforth the Navy began to grow. Only the Japs appeared to be deaf to the soft-spoken words of President Roosevelt. They didn't like it because the citizens of San Francisco discriminated against Jap children and forbade them to enter public schools along with the Anglo-Saxon children.

Theodore Roosevelt heard the threats of the Japs, and he at once put to sea with his "Big Stick," which consisted of 16 battleships and numerous other craft. He instructed Fighting Bob Evans, the Commander-in-Chief, to take this great fleet, which was painted white and easily seen, within view of the Royal Palace in Tokyo.

Congress wasn't so fond of this demonstration, and at first refused to appropriate money for the cruise. Theodore Roosevelt was equal to the occasion, and he said to Congress, "All right, if you refuse to appropriate the money for the round-the-world cruise, I'll take matters into my own hands. As Commander-in-Chief of the Navy I can send the fleet where I choose. I have enough money to send it half-way round the world, and I'll send it half-way and let Congress worry about getting it back."

Fighting Bob Evans maneuvered the fleet out of Hampton Roads, saying that it was ready for a "frolic or a fight." But he fell ill and had to go ashore in California, and the command went to Admiral Charles M. Thomas.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

While Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., was assistant secretary of the Navy in Harding's Cabinet in 1922, he received a letter from Joseph J. Bruno, of New York City. Bruno had served as a chief petty officer in the Navy during the first World War, and he proposed in his letter that October 27, which is Theodore Roosevelt's birthday anniversary, be set aside as "Theodore Roosevelt - Navy Day."

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., replied that he had no say in the matter, and referred Bruno to the Navy League of the United States. The League promptly fostered the movement, and that same year the first Navy Day was observed.

Observance was in the spirit of a holiday. Navy yards were opened and civilians were invited to come in and take a look at their Navy. And there were parades and dinners in many cities.

They ate their way down to the teller of the yarn who finished off the cook. And then he sighted a vessel, and alone was rescued as cook, captain bold, the bo'sun tight, the midshipmanite and the

We are sorry to report that Haskell Earl Hay is ill. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

DILEMMA STATUS.
One thing to make the old folks sit up in bed and talk about it after midnight, is in trying to figure a method to keep culture out of the red. All devices and entertainments that the good people call sinful and degrading, make money, but cultural things appear to be a "drug on the market" right now.

Sgt. Ray Heath of Matherfield,

GERMANY FAR FROM "COLLAPSE"
The German Army has nearly three times as many combat divisions in the field today as there were when the attack on Poland began four years ago, Major General George V. Strong, Assistant Chief of Staff G-2 (Military Intelligence) declared recently. Discounting any likelihood of an early collapse of either Germany or Japan, General Strong disclosed that the Germans had replaced the 20 divisions lost at Stalingrad last winter, and that the German Luftwaffe was larger now than in 1939. He said also that the weapons the Germans are making are in some cases better than any which the United Nations have.

FINANCIAL VENEER.
It must be a real pleasure to buy things on "tick" from a store where charge accounts are called "courtesy payments." Sometimes I wish I had kept my bills paid up so that I could step from the credit block to courtesy payments.
WHEN WHITE IS RED!
Some time ago I was reading an editorial by the noted Kansas editor, William Allen White in his well-known publication. I don't know what she had done to the old man, but he described Marion Ellet as "The striped, ring-tailed, green-eyed, blue ribbon Maltese hell kitty of the Concordia Blade."

WORLD'S WORST TASTE.
Is when you stick the wrong end of a lighted cigar into your mouth. Nothing is more painful unless it would be in having rheumatism and St. Vitus' dance at the same time.

THE OLD-TIMER.
Way out yonder in the country school of our kid days, you oldsters will recall that the teacher made the kids afraid to go to school in the morning, and the kids were afraid to go home in the evening for the same reason. That's possibly why so many of us played hooky on the creek and climbed the willows all day

ABOUT 4-H CLUB LIVESTOCK SALES

Livestock produced and sold under the auspices of 4-H Clubs is governed by the meat rationing regulations the same as other livestock, according to OPA. This means that the only persons who may obtain custom slaughtered meat point free are livestock producers. However, OPA permits such recognized boys' and girls' farm organizations as 4-H Clubs to sell their livestock at a fair, exhibition, or an animal show at premium prices, as money from such sales usually helps provide educational funds for Club members.

CIVIL SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

Dietitians for army hospitals claim priority on the U. S. civil service commission employment list this week according to information received here by Elmer G.

Hayes, local civil service secretary.

"Both college graduates and women with food experience beyond college are offered select training and ultimate opportunity for appointment in the U. S. Army medical department dietitians with the relative rank of second lieutenant," Mr. Hayes said.

Student and apprentice dietitians appointments will be made from the list of persons who attain an eligible rating in the current examination.

Applicants for either position must be between 20 and 40 years of age and must meet physical requirements prescribed in army regulations. Student dietitian must file their application by November 4, 1943, with U. S. civil service commission, Washington 25, D. C. However, applications for the apprentice dietitian will be accepted until the needs of the service are met.

Application forms may be secured at any first or second class post office.

Developed by the Army Ordnance Department and the Ford Motor Co., a new 50-horsepower tank engine (liquid-cooled, 8 cylinders, gasoline) gives U. S. tanks added stamina. The engine uses secondary aluminum and is relatively light in weight. Now in mass production, its endurance rating is "remarkable."

New Book Tells Of Nazis' War On Christianity

"The teaching of mercy and the love of one's neighbor", says one Nazi textbook, "is foreign to the German race, and the Sermon on the Mount is, according to Nordic sentiment, an ethic for cowards and idiots."

This statement is one of many such evidences of the Nazis' war against religion which Carl Cramer cites in his "The War Against God," a new book just published in this country. Among the many statements Cramer quotes to show the Nazis' program of deliberate hostility toward the church and Christianity are the following:

"The German people is no longer blinded by illusions as at the time of the Reformation. It has come to recognize not only Judaism, but Christianity too, as foreign to its genius."—Der Blitz

"Both the Catholic Church and the Evangelical Confessional Church, as they exist at present, must vanish from the life of our people."—Alfred Rosenberg

"If Jehovah has lost all meaning for us Germans, the same must be said of Jesus Christ, his son... He certainly lacks those characteristics which he would require to be a true German. Indeed, he is as disappointing, if we read his record carefully, as is his father."—E. K. Heidmann

"We are armed and prepared to continue the battle against Catholicism until the final frightful decision, until the point of annihilation."—Volkischer Beobachter

"It is only on one or two exceptional points that Christ and Hitler stand comparison, for Hitler is far too big a man to be compared to one so petty."—Julius Streicher

"Everything which Hitler utters is religion in the highest sense."—Joseph Goebbels

In addition to this evidence of the Nazis' hostility to Christianity, Mr. Cramer has collected statements from many great leaders who refute the Nazi viewpoint and who believe that freedom to worship is one of the great issues in the present war. Among the great leaders represented on the pro-religious side are Martin Niemöller, the German Catholic bishop, Madam Chiang Kai-Shek, Pearl Buck, Henry A. Wallace, and Bishop Manning.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hicks and small son Billy Mack and Mr. and Mrs. Norris Spurgeon and daughter Pat of Sweetwater spent the week end visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Spurgeon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kidd and children, Margaret and Billie and Mr. Kidd's mother, Mrs. Sue Kidd, spent the week end in Wichita Falls and attended the funeral of Mrs. Johnson while there.

First Class Of Bombagators To Graduate

Childress, Oct. 5—The first class of Bombagators of the AAF Central Flying Training Command will graduate Thursday, October 7 from the Childress Army Air Field.

Bombagator is a word coined for the combination bombardier-navigator who is earning his wings in a four and half month training program inaugurated in the West Texas Bombardier Quadrangle by the Childress School.

Uncle Sam's future bombardiers, already feared for their uncanny accuracy, have become even more potent aerial warriors. Under the new program bombing training has been intensified and they are well schooled in pilotage and dead reckoning navigation. To top it off the late 1943 model can wield a wicked machinegun.

Capt. Sam Bowman, bombardier who returned from South Pacific combat recently to head the Childress bombardier ground school, will address the graduating class. Wings will be awarded by Major J. D. Jones who recently succeeded Lt. Col. L. H. Dalton as director of training. Col. John W. White, commanding officer, will preside.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Swift and daughter Anna Moores, and Miss Anna Moores, visited Mr. Swift's mother, Mrs. Swift at Memphis Sunday.

Right at the Flip of a Switch!

West Texas Utilities Company

MOST people take electric service for granted... We expect that when our fingers flip the switch, the lights will flash—instantly! AND THEY DO!

The same is true of power for the lathes, punches, riveters and other machines that make our war weapons, power to light our factories for night shifts, power to take workers from their homes to their jobs, and back. It's always there, right at the flip of a switch.

HOW DID IT GET THERE? That's another story—much more complicated, but very interesting. It's the story of a people who saw a job to do, and rolled up their sleeves and did it. Call it initiative—call it free enterprise—it's the spirit that has made America great!

The people in our company have that spirit. Years ago they saw the need for electricity that was more plentiful and dependable than ever before. Transmission lines extending into many territories in West Texas, bringing economical electric service to both large and small towns—that was the answer to that need they believed, AND IT WAS! They built the lines and the power plants.

Today, we have an interconnected system of steam power plants, each independent of the other, yet so linked together that power is automatically switched from one region to another in event of mishap.

It's the most dependable system the world has ever known.

Fleet, laid a wreath on the Roosevelt Tomb at Oyster Bay, New York.

Special memorial services were held in churches throughout the land, and Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby laid a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery.

In New York City pilgrimages were made to the house at 28 East 20th St., where Theodore Roosevelt was born on October 27, 1858. There was a meeting in Carnegie Hall in New York. There were ceremonies before the statue of John Paul Jones in Patomac Park in Washington.

On the second Navy Day in 1923, President Coolidge wrote to the Secretary of the Navy: "It has been pleasing to learn of the plans to continue this year the observance of October 27, birthday of the late Theodore Roosevelt, as Navy Day. The date is appropriate in view of the part played in making our modern Navy, of his historical writings dealing with it, and the demonstrations which as President he gave regarding the effective use of naval power as an instrument of peace."

Navy Day is also the anniversary of another important event in the history of the Navy. It was on October 27, 1775, that a special committee set up by the Continental Congress reported in favor of acquiring a number of merchant ships to be used as a foundation of the future American Navy.

From the smiling lips of Theodore Roosevelt, whose birth anniversary Navy Day is set aside to honor him, come these words about the Navy he loved so well: "We, all of us, earnestly hope that the occasion for war may never arise, but if it has to come, then this nation must win; and in winning the prime factor must of necessity be the United States Navy. If the Navy fails us, then we are doomed to defeat...."

"We do not admire the man of timid peace. We admire the man who embodies victorious effort; the man who never wrongs his neighbors; who is prompt to help a friend; but who has those virile qualities necessary to win in the stern strife of actual life. It is hard to fail; but it is worse never to have tried to succeed.

"The Army and the Navy are the sword and the shield which this nation must carry if she is to do her duty among the nations of the earth.

"A life of ignoble ease, a life of that peace which springs merely from lack of desire or of power to strive for the great things is a little worthy of a nation as of an individual.

"In battle the only shots that count are those that hit, and marksmanship is a matter of long practice and intelligent reasoning. "Our country calls not for life of ease, but for life of strenuous endeavor. The 20th century looms before us big with the fate of many nations. If we stand idly by, if we seek merely swollen, slothful ease, and ignoble peace, if we shrink from the hard contests where men must win at the hazard of their lives and at the risk of all they hold dear, then the bolder and the stronger peoples will pass us by and will win for themselves the domination of the world.

"Above all, let us shrink from no strife, more of physical, within or without the nation, provided we are certain that the strife is justified; for it is only through strife, through hard and dangerous endeavor, that we shall ultimately win the goal of true national greatness.

"Remember, that after the war has begun it is too late to improve a Navy. A naval war is two-thirds settled in advance; at least two-thirds, because it is mainly settled by the preparation which has gone on for years preceding its outbreak. We won at Manila because the shipbuilders of the country, under the wise provision of Congress, had for 16 years before been preparing a Navy.

"It is utterly impossible to improvise a makeshift Navy under conditions of modern warfare. The Navy must be built and all its training given in time of peace. When once war has broken out it is too late to do anything.

"Keep on building and maintaining at the highest point of efficiency the United States Navy or quit trying to be a big nation."

Thus ends the quotation by Theodore Roosevelt. If he could see his "Big Stick" and the boys who man it today, he would be proud indeed.

Navy Expansion Greatest In History

The phenomenal expansion of United States Navy shipbuilding is unequalled in history. No naval construction program of comparable size and speed has ever been accomplished by any other nation. This ability to build is one of the foundation stones of American military strategy and a basic advantage which the American Navy holds over fleets of all other nations. It underlies amphibious attacks. It protects supply routes. Most important, it makes feasible a strategy of attack.

In the 36 months between July 1, 1940, and July 1, 1943, the Navy completed 15,376 new ships of all types. This fleet—standing apart from the U. S. Navy in existence on July 1, 1940—would be one of the largest naval forces in the world. It comprises:

333 combatant vessels aggregating 1,117,054 displacement tons and costing more than three billion dollars.

1,274 mine craft and patrol craft of 199,755 tons costing 820 million dollars.

151 auxiliaries and 654 yard and district craft.

12,964 landing craft aggregating 610,781 tons and costing more than one billion dollars.

Although the largest tonnage increases are in the combatant subdivision of the program, the steepest rate of increase has been in landing craft. In the first six months of 1942, completions moved up to 10,000 tons or 50 percent more than the total of the preceding year and a half.

Can Vitamins Change GRAY HAIR?

Brunette Blonde Redhead

Medical investigators have found vitamin Calcium Pantothenate of some value in changing gray hair, where a deficiency of this vitamin may have caused gray or graying hair.

For example, one test conducted by Good Housekeeping magazine on a number of people, showed 88% of those tested (all ages were included) had positive evidence of a return of some hair color.

Now thousands use GRAYVITA, which contains 10 mgm. of Calcium Pantothenate (the same amount used in above tests) PLUS 450 U.S.P. units of B₁, the vitamin necessary to healthy nerves. Try GRAYVITA. See what a difference it may make in the way you look. 30 day supply $1.50, 100 day supply $4.00.

Mr. J. C. Estlack
Donley County Leader
Clarendon, Texas

Dear Sir,

Australia is a lovely place along the coast. Inland it is much the same as the desert of our own country. The people of this continent have gone out of their way to be nice to the American Soldiers who have been sent here. Every soldier appreciates this as we know if the situation was reversed our own people would gladly do the same for the Australians.

We are located some eighteen miles from the city. We get passes to go to the city about every three weeks. We could hardly afford to go in more often as we are operating a hospital and the sick and wounded have to be cared for.

Best wishes

Overweight Motor Oil Costs You Dear

Be sure of changing to your Lightest possible grade
—by having your engine Winter OIL-PLATED

Sure as you live... sure as your car must live... you'll want a change to the lightest motor oil that your engine can use this Winter of War.

Waiting for a "real cold day" before draining overweight oil that drags when it chills, is like waiting for your battery's doom. This drag of overweight oil wastes gasoline, too. And even worse is the big chance of internal damage because overweight oil won't squirt and spray into friction zones of your engine quickly. For the sake of your battery, your gasoline coupons, and your engine, change to your lightest practical grade of oil.

You can quit wondering whether "one grade heavier might be on the safe side." You can be as safe as possible with your engine OIL-PLATED by even your lightest suitable grade of Conoco Nth motor oil. Its load-carrying capacity is doubled by synthetic means. And this also creates "magnet-like" action to keep lubricant closely fastened to inner engine surfaces, in the form of OIL-PLATING. Even the lightest grade of Conoco Nth oil will give your engine the high protection of OIL-PLATING. Ask Your Mileage Merchant today to recommend the grade suitable for your car. Continental Oil Company

Dread Engine Acid is Fought by OIL-PLATING

Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops. Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids. But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.

Sportsman—

(Continued from Front Page) globe, Lamb's party got so far from civilization that they came across great coveys of birds that had no fear of them and it was next to impossible to make these birds fly.

Lamb came to rivers where millions of trout swam in the blue waters and even the guides who had spent their lives in Alaska had never before visited this remote section. Every day Lamb and his party saw grizzly bears grazing as peacefully as cattle on the range. Lamb photographed a few bears within 40 feet of him, but some of his experiences in Alaska taught him later that this was entirely too close to photograph bears.

But the thing that impressed Lamb most was the awe-inspiring scenery of Alaska. That country has five giant mountain ranges with the highest peaks in the Western hemisphere, and these peaks are perpetually covered with snow of a pale blue color. The valleys are deep and silent, and in all of these valleys are beautiful rivers, running like molten silver, or lakes as still as death, reflecting the blazing color of the tundra and the white puffs of clouds that float lazily through the Arctic skies.

This picture is one of the most beautiful ever attempted in the North country. It is a real, authentic picture of the last frontier of the world, made through most of hazardous travel and man-killing work.

Through the efforts of Mayor Tom Connally, the famous sportsman has been induced to bring this magnificent picture to the people of Clarendon without cost. This show will be open and free to the public. Due to the limited seating capacity of the College auditorium, all parents are requested not to bring babies and small children. All children under 15 must be accompanied by their parents. Doors will be open at 7 p. m. The show will start promptly at 8 p. m.

POST OFFICE RECEIPTS SHOW STEADY GAIN

Postal receipts in Clarendon for the quarter ending September 30th amounted to $4,383.56, fully ninety percent being derived from postage stamp sales, it was announced Monday by Postmaster J. C. Estlack.

During this period, 1,576 money orders were sold, and 786 were paid from other offices.

Christmas packages are already going to the boys in service over seas. Packages, to reach their destination in time for Christmas, must be mailed by October 15th, the Postmaster announced, the information coming from the Department in Washington.

An average of twenty-eight sacks of mail are handled through the local office every week day, in which several hundred packages and bundles are included.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith attended the funeral of a brother-in-law at Okla. City Tuesday.

Mrs. Julia Ware Passes Away

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Julia Ware this afternoon, Thursday, at 5 o'clock at the Methodist Church with Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum Jr., officiating.

Mrs. Ware died October 6th at Groom, Texas. She resided in Clarendon for 16 years before moving to Wildorado where she was living at the time of her death.

Survivors include her husband, K. E. Ware, a daughter, Lona Faye, one son, Edward Aron, three brothers, S. P. Pierce of Lefors, W. A. Pierce of Dumas, A. A. Pierce, Bridgeport, and two sisters, Mrs. H. J. Banks, Bridgeport, and Mrs. T. E. Perdue, Amarillo.

Interment in Citizens cemetery under direction of Womack Funeral Home.

Interest Rate Lowered To 4 Percent

Rayburn L. Smith, Secretary-Treasurer of the Donley County National Farm Loan Association, has received information that the Board of Directors of the Federal Land Bank of Houston has authorized the lowering of the interest rate to 4 percent on all Federal Land Bank loans, made through national farm loan associations that now bear interest rate at above 4 percent per annum, effective July 1, 1944.

This reduction in the contract rate of interest will affect about 80 percent of the Land Bank borrowers in this area, according to Mr. Smith. Prior to 1935, he said, loans were closed at 4 1/4 to 6 percent, depending upon the cost of money in the bond markets at that time. All Land Bank loans have been made at a contract rate of 4 percent since March 1935.

"The action of the Board of Directors of the bank in effect guarantees that the rate will not go higher than 4 percent for the life of the loan," Mr. Smith said. "This voluntary reduction of the contract rate of interest is made possible by the successful operation of the Land Bank System of cooperative credit which is designed to make available necessary farm credit at low rates and on long terms."

Mrs. Ralph Bourland and daughters Rosemary and Beverly visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Johnson Sunday.
