DONLEY INVITED TO HEAR STERLING

MEMPHIS ISSUES INVITATION TO HEAR STERLING TUESDAY NIGHT

Hon. Ross Sterling will speak at Memphis next Tuesday evening, August 12th, on the court house lawn according to information phoned The News yesterday from J. P. Watson, one of the Sterling leaders in Hall County.

The Memphis committee in charge of the Sterling campaign in that county asks The News to convey a very strong invitation for citizens of Donley County to come to Memphis and join in this rally and celebration.

Mr. Sterling is making only a few speeches in the Panhandle territory and his lieutenants are very anxious for nearby counties to join in where convenient. It is very probable that several cars of Clarendon people will attend the Memphis rally, as well as many from the Eastern part of the county.

CLARENDON BASEBALL TEAM MAY MAKE LONG ROAD TRIP

If plans materialize to the satisfaction of Manager Ernest Fitzgerald, the Clarendon Baseball team will take to the road and play a long series of games with teams of the South Plains and across in New Mexico the latter part of this month. Should this plan be carried out, the city of Clarendon will receive a fine amount of publicity which would be impossible to receive otherwise.

The schedule has about been completed, and all that is holding back the final plans for the trip is the shortage of players who will be able to make the trip. Many of the players are finding it impossible to arrange to be out of the city for so long a stay. The tentative schedule is given below, with two or three games to be played at each city. Hereford, Clovis, N. M., Clayton, N. M., Roswell, N. M., Carlsbad, N. M., Albuquerque, N. M., Portales, N. M., Hobbs and Littlefield, and possibly others.

FIRE THURSDAY MORNING DAMAGES ALLEN HOUSE

Fire of undetermined origin almost destroyed the two story house owned by T. J. Allen of Children on West Third street at 3:30 a. m. this morning. When the flames of the unoccupied structure was discovered the entire back portion was afire with the flames rapidly spreading to the other parts of the building.

The Clarendon Fire apparatus moved quickly to the scene where two lines of hose were laid and work of checking the flames were started. After a few minutes of battling the fire a third hose line was laid and with all three of the lines working at capacity the fire was quickly controlled and extinguished in sort order.

The building was covered by insurance.

It is expected that there will be a large crowd to hear ex-governor Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson here Tuesday night, and the place of the speaking will likely be at the Court House.

Mrs. Ferguson comes from Wichita Falls and Whitesboro to Clarendon and will leave here for Floydada and Colorado City where she will continue her speaking dates.

PASTIME AIR COOLER IN FIRST TRIAL TODAY

The new air-cooling machine for the Pastime Theatre was installed in its place on the cooling tower of this place of business the early part of this week. The first trials of the machine were held this morning and the machine was found to do just exactly what is claimed of it in cooling the place of business. The theatre only recently completed the installation of the cooling system on the roof and the addition of the water cooling system will make this the coolest place in the city.

Democrats Elect Delegates Sat.

The delegates for the District Congressional Democratic convention and State convention were elected at a meeting of the county Democratic convention held last Saturday afternoon at the court house at 2 o'clock. Only delegates were in attendance at the gathering Saturday, while there is usually more visitors at the conventions than regular delegates.

W. P. Cagle presided over the convention and called the house to order, immediately after which J. T. Patman was elected secretary.

The business of the convention was immediately opened and the following delegates were elected to attend the State Democratic convention representing the Democrats of Donley County, W. P. Cagle, A. M. Beville, Tom F. Connally, Zeb Mitchell, and J. T. Patman.

The business of electing delegates to the District Democratic convention to be held in Amarillo August 23, with the following citizens being elected as delegates: J. J. Alexander, L. A. Stroud, Sam M. Braswell, A. M. Beville, and H. B. Kerbow.

PASTIME CONFECTIONERY ADDS MORE IMPROVEMENTS

Recent installation of a set of revolving stools and a rail to the fountain of the Pastime Confectionery is an improvement to the place of business that makes for the comfort and convenience of their patrons. A recent purchase is a mechanical refrigerator to care for the materials used in making the sandwiches served by this place of business. T. G. Stargel, the owner of this place of business, is planning still other improvements for the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Merchant motored to Hereford on Tuesday to attend the wedding of a friend. They were joined there by Mrs. P. L. Chamberlain who had accompanied her sister, Mrs. J. W. Johnson to her home in Clovis, New Mexico.

Poultry School Meets Tuesday

As one of the parts of the Vocational Agriculture work in the Clarendon High School, a Poultry School is being held in the College Auditorium each Tuesday afternoon. The work is being led by Charles Bairfield, instructor in this branch of the school work and is drawing increasing attendance with each session.

The first meeting was held Tuesday, July 29th with a small attendance. The class was organized and plans laid for the continuation of the work. No subjects were discussed at that time as the entire time was taken with organization plans. Tuesday of this week the class was again called together and the subject of "Thieves and Preventive Measures" was discussed. The control of insects was also discussed with particular attention being given to the blue bugs, fleas and lice.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, August 12th in the college building, and "Control of Worms in Poultry" will be the subject discussed. The school is being held for adults and is open to everyone who is interested in working with poultry.

In attendance on the meeting this week were: Jim Baker, Edwin Baley, R. A. Summers, Charles Summers, F. E. Sawyer, Hays Robbins, S. T. Clayton, J. C. Mayo and Mr. Atkins.

VISITORS GIVE ROTARY THANKS

LUNCHEON VISITORS TAKE UP MOST OF ROTARY TIME WITH SPEECHES FRIDAY

At the regular luncheon period of the Rotary club of Clarendon held Friday noon at the Clarendon Hotel, the members listened to the compliments and words of appreciation at being allowed the privilege to meet with the service club from four visitors. The guests were J. T. Patman, A. H. Baker, Tom F. Connally, and Rev. Robt. S. McKee.

J. T. Patman after expressing his appreciation at being allowed to meet with the local group also expressed himself as being sold on the idea of service clubs and felt that the local Rotary club was filling a very important place in the welfare of the city of Clarendon. Mr. Patman stressed the need of cooperation between the service groups in smaller cities, and gave a fine conception of what he thought a service club should stand for and strive to attain.

A. H. Baker stated that he was very pleased to have the opportunity to again visit the Clarendon Rotary Club, and expressed himself as having learned a great deal from the fellowship which is so evident in the meetings of the local body.

Tom F. Connally brought out the selfishness which characterizes the most successful service clubs and complimented the local organization for the work which they have done in the city and for the work they have at hand. The consciousness of duty by the individual members is one of the most important factors in making a wide-awake service club.

Robert S. McKee concluded the guests part of the program with some very choice and instructive remarks dealing with the points where service clubs might do the most good for the city and community in which they are organized.

Rotarian O. L. Jenkins, chairman of the community service committee, presented the members with an outline of the work of that committee, and gave examples of work being carried out by such groups in other places, and gave the possibilities for such work here at home.

Rotary President B. L. Jenkins further reported on the meeting of the Presidents and secretaries of Rotary clubs held recently and presented the gathering with a more thorough knowledge of the workings of the various committees with the duties of each.

Mrs. L. A. Starnes and son, Richard, from Los Angeles, California, are here for a visit of some length in the home of her sister, Mrs. Gus B. Stephenson.

MASONS TO HOLD SCHOOL

SCHOOL HERE MONDAY AND TUESDAY OPEN TO ALL MASTER MASONS

The Master Masons of this section of the State meet here Monday and Tuesday August 11 and 12 to attend the certificate school held at the local Lodge hall. The purpose of the school is to carry further the general excellence of the knowledge of the unwritten work of the Masonic order. W. S. Tate, member of the Committee on Work, will be here and carry on the instruction.

The Clarendon Lodge is quite honored by the decision of the authorities to hold the school of instruction here, as it makes the second year in succession that the local body has been accorded that honor. Many Masons from all over the Panhandle section of the State will avail themselves the opportunity to witness this work presented by Mr. Tate. It is not necessary that those attending the instruction be candidates for the certificate of excellence, and it is thought that a large number will be present only to witness the instruction.

The local men who will be candidates for the certificates are: H. B. Kerbow, Homer Parsons, Elmer Palmer, Doss Palmer, Homer Mulkey, and T. H. Howard.

Band Concert to Be Given Sunday Eve

Announcement is made to the public of the band concert to be given by the Clarendon High School Band under the direction of Gus B. Stephenson Sunday afternoon at the band stand at the old Grammar school building at 3:30 o'clock. The band will be assisted by the orchestra which has proved to be such a popular part on every one of the programs given heretofore. The public is most cordially invited to be present Sunday afternoon and hear the various kinds of music which has been prepared for the entertainment of the audience. Various special numbers have been arranged to help make the program a success.

The Clarendon High School band is one of the best organizations in the entire Panhandle, and much of the success of the band is due to the untiring efforts of Director Stephenson.

HILLCROFT TEAM ENTERS TOURNEY

FIFTEEN LOCAL PLAYERS ARE EXPECTED TO ENTER AMATEUR TOURNEY SAT.

With the Panhandle Amateur Golf Tournament starting Saturday morning the Hillcroft players will move to Amarillo for Saturday and vie with the best in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma for the mammoth list of prizes given by the citizens of Amarillo. It is expected that there will be as many as fifteen make the trip from the local club, and an effort will be made to again capture the attendance trophy given each year by the Amarillo Hillcroft golf club.

The Clarendon golfers hope to be as successful in this year's play as they were last year when three of the four cups were brought home by the local club. In last year's tournament the Clarendon golfers also brought home no less than ten individual prizes, and gained the reputation of being the best golf club in the Panhandle.

Mr. and Mrs. Buel Sanford and children returned to their home here Tuesday evening of this week from Orange, Texas where they had been to attend the fiftieth wedding anniversary of the parents of Mr. Sanford. Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Sanford re-enacted the wedding of fifty years past to the great pleasure of the assembled relatives and friends and made this event one that will be long remembered by those who were privileged to take part in the festivities.

Clark Optimistic Over School Year

Dean W. A. Clark, has recently returned from a visit over the Panhandle section of the State where he has been in the interest of Clarendon Junior College. Dean Clark reports a very successful campaign in the nearby cities, and is optimistic over the prospects of the approaching school term.

Very seldom are the cities nearly so interested in the education of their youth, but wherever Dean Clark stopped he found the people interested and anxious to learn more of the college here. Dean Clark also stated that he was practically certain that the college would draw at least 35 out-of-town students when its doors were opened in September. He estimates that there will be around 125 students in attendance this year which is a large increase over the attendance of the previous years. This increase is due to the expansion of the Junior college district in the past few months. The expansion has entitled the students from these districts the right of free tuition in the college here.

Matriculation will be held on September 3rd, and regular classes will begin September 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Cole and family of Muskogee, Oklahoma, are here for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tally.

LOSS REGISTERED IN CREAM SHIPPED

JULY SHIPMENTS SHOW DECREASE OF APPROXIMATELY 43 CANS UNDER JUNE

Cream shipments for the city of Clarendon amounted to a few cans over 313 ten gallon cans during the month of July. This amount of cream shipped is a decrease of nearly 43 cans over the total shipped in the month preceding. 313 cans of cream have been accounted for with a few cans being shipped by truck lines which totals were unable to secure at this time. The total of July's shipments continues further the decline noted in the cream shipments here in the past several months. Last month's record being 128 ten gallon cans of cream under the record of the May shipments. The loss can partly be attributed to the extreme heat the county has suffered in the past several months without any rain to speak of.

The Express company handled 313 of the total cans shipped from Clarendon while the remainder of the cream was shipped by the several truck lines which operate to the markets.

In the first week of June there was a total of 72 ten gallon cans of cream shipped from Clarendon. This record was topped the following week when 94 ten gallon cans of cream was recorded by the shippers. The third week noted the trend downward when it was found that only 76 cans of cream was shipped from the local area. The loss continued on the decrease through the fourth week of July when only 71 ten gallon cans of the commodity was shipped to the various markets.

Last month's total brings the year's record to approximately 2,210 ten gallon cans of cream to be shipped from the local cream stations.

BAIRFIELD DECIDES NOT TO JOIN COLLEGE DISTRICT

Only one school election was held in the county Saturday, and the vote from this, the Bairfield district, resulted in a 9 to 4 defeat of the proposed extension of the Clarendon Junior College district to include the Bairfield district. This defeat of the proposal makes it impossible for the students of the Bairfield school district to receive free tuition in the Junior College in this city.

Had the proposal carried in Saturday's election it would have been possible for any student from Bairfield to receive instruction in the college free of charge.

The scheduled election at Windy Valley was not held due to a mix-up on account of a mistake in the delivery of election supplies, necessitating the postponement of the Saturday election.

Christian Revival To Close Friday

With the end of the revival campaign of the First Christian Church in view, the members and workers are intensely interested in the work at hand and a fine result is being noted by all. The crowds are overflowing the large tent each night, and many folk are coming great distances to hear the word of God delivered by Dr. John W. Tyndall, evangelist.

The spirit of the workers has been up to all expectations and the fruits of their labor coupled with the wonderfully inspiring messages left by Dr. Tyndall will long remain in the life of the Clarendon people.

Plans now are to the effect that the present meeting will come to a close Friday night at which time Dr. Tyndall will deliver his final sermon.

The musical part of the services have especially been worth the time of every person who has attended any of the evening services.

Judge Fires and son, Chester and family of Childress visited with Sheriff and Mrs. M. W. Mosley a short while Wednesday morning. They were on their way to the Yellowstone National Park to spend their vacation.

Fr. and Mrs. J. W. Evans returned to the city after having spent their vacation in Taos, and Santa Fe, New Mexico, Kansas City, St. Louis, and Denver, Colorado, where they attended the sessions of the National Dentists Association.

CLARENDON FIRE CREDIT IS HIGH

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER DEWEESSE LAUDS CITY FOR GOOD FIRE RECORD

The citizens of Clarendon saved $3,413 in insurance premiums in 1929 due to the benefits of a Good Fire Record Credit. Last year the city of Clarendon received a 9 per cent Good Fire Record Credit which saved the people of Clarendon the above sum of money. This information was sent to the News in a copy of the letter sent to Mayor H. W. Taylor from Fire Insurance Commissioner, J. W. Deweese. The letter follows:

Hon. H. W. Taylor, Mayor Clarendon, Texas

Dear Sir:

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I write this letter giving you the amount of saving to the people of Clarendon brought about by reason of the Good Fire Record Credit that your city has been receiving.

In order that you may understand the advantages of a Good Fire Record Credit and the cost of a bad Fire Record Charge, we desire to give you the basis upon which these credits and charges are figured. This department receives statement of the premiums collected and losses paid each calendar year from the agents of your city and the figures contained therein are combined and the loss ratio determined. If you the loss ratio determined, if your next preceding is found to be less than 60 per cent, a credit is allowed and prorogated in accordance with our loss ratio table.

The records of this office show that that the premiums and losses for Clarendon since 1928 have been as follows:

1928 premiums $32,113.69, losses $14,940.34, and in 1929 premiums were $34,511.62 and losses $6,698.90.

In 1928 Clarendon received a 6 per cent Good Fire Record Credit, which saved your citizens approximately $2,049 in insurance premiums. Had your city received the full 15 per cent Good Fire Record Credit your city would have saved an additional amount of $3,075.

In 1929 Clarendon received a 9 per cent Good Fire Record Credit which saved your citizens approximately $3,413 in insurance premiums. Had your city received the full 15 per cent Good Fire Record Credit your citizens would have saved an additional amount of $2,275.

The total amount saved by your citizens during those two years on account of good Fire Record Credit received approximates $5,462.

This department is of the opinion that your city officials and the people of Clarendon are highly pleased over the fact that your city is receiving the benefits of a Good Fire Record Credit for the reason that it is a great saving to them in insurance premiums. It is very important that every precaution be used by your citizens against the danger of fire and we sincerely hope that this good record will be an incentive to your citizens to make them even more cautious in the future against careless fires.

Fire Prevention is strictly a matter of business and we submit the above as proof that it has certainly been good business in the way of a saving to the people of Clarendon.

In order that your citizens may be advised of the facts and figures contained in this letter, we are sending a copy to your local newspaper for publication.

I want to assure you that this department is greatly interested in the fact that your city is receiving a Good Fire Record Credit and we sincerely hope that you will continue to receive the benefits of same.

Very truly yours,
J. W. Deweese
Fire Insurance Commissioner

Mr. and Mrs. Meade Haile left Saturday night for a vacation trip to be spent in New Mexico and Colorado.

SMALL LEADERS FOR STERLING

Leaders of candidates for governor defeated in the recent primary are lining up almost unanimously for Sterling against the threat of Fergusonism. But the thing of interest to Panhandle people, where Clint Small carried every county, is the fact that erstwhile Small leaders are now among the foremost in the Sterling campaign.

Lee Satterwhite, state manager of the Clint Small campaign, has wired Sterling that he is with him in his campaign for "good government."

John Erhard, Dallas attorney who managed the Small campaign in North Texas, was one of the forceful speakers at the Sterling rally at Dallas Monday.

Pink Parish, state senator from Lubbock who spoke so eloquently and forcefully for Small in the first campaign, was one of the leaders in the Sterling rally at Dallas.

Amarillo Small backers were present and vocal at the Dallas Sterling rally. Hon. J. O. Guleke promised Sterling sixty per cent of the Panhandle vote in the run-off election.

And so it goes. Honest men of ability, many of whom differ in views from Mr. Sterling, but who recognize him as an able executive, honest and fearless as a public servant, leaving behind their former alignments and facing the situation as it exists today—honest government vs. Fergusonism—have no difficulty in finding the correct solution but openly and freely champion the cause of Ross Sterling for governor of Texas.

With the people aroused to the call of good citizenship against proxy government and power without responsibility, there is little doubt that the fine, upstanding, intelligent Anglo Saxon voters of the Panhandle will do even more than Jim Guleke promised—even better than sixty percent of votes for Sterling.

BUSINESS BAROMETER IS RISING

Anxiously watching the reports from over the nation for signs of reviving business, has been the chief occupation for many of our people for several months.

At last there breaks on the horizon shafts of light that are really encouraging and are harbingers of better business and returning normalcy in employment.

Two weeks ago there appeared a sixteen percent increase in national commerce.

This week two press items were heralded of the return of one hundred sixteen thousand men to regular work at Detroit, mostly in the automotive industry; and eighteen thousand were employed in the shops of a great eastern railway in preparation of the heavy fall and winter traffic.

The return to work of these thousands of men mean more than just the wages involved. It means that business generally is heartened by the news and renewed faith comes along. It means that people generally note the trend and the public mind is less worried. It means that optimism begins to break down the pessimism of many weary weeks.

The business barometer is rising.

A WORTHY RECORD

When Ross Sterling became state highway commissioner three and a half years ago, the department faced a debt of six million dollars, due to mismanagement of a previous administration, and had only six hundred thousand dollars with which to pay the debt. Also, Federal aid had been withdrawn. The debt has been paid since, 20,000 miles of highway have been maintained, one hundred million dollars worth of new road has been built, Federal aid has been restored, and the Federal government now says the Texas highway department is one of the best managed in the United States. All the candidates have censured him, but have you ever heard any one of them accuse Ross Sterling of being guilty of graft in any way? Have you ever heard anyone accuse him of being dishonest at any time in his life? The question of honest government or dishonest government is before Texas. We had rather risk a man with a good record, rich or poor, than a man with a very questionable record.—Lynn Co. News.

The News feels that Clint Small ought to "get off the fence" in the governor's campaign. Clint has the possibilities of a leader, but no man can develop as a leader nor remain long a leader who doesn't take a stand. Clint didn't mind telling Democrats how they ought to vote in the last presidential campaign. Why so tender-hearted now?

In one hundred and forty eight counties, Ferguson made a gain in only forty-three, and registered a loss in one hundred and five. In no county was Jim's gain as much as five hundred votes and in many of the hundred and five he lost as many as two thousand. Too slow to suit us, all right, but disintegration is certain and sure at that.

Forty-two votes out of every one hundred cast for eliminated candidates for governor must go to the Fergusons for them even to tie Sterling. Who believes for one minute that the backers of any candidate will go to Ferguson in that ratio? If ten out of a hundred went that way it would be a great surprise.

OUR ECONOMIC WEALTH

In point of economic wealth Texas, among the states of the Union is doing even better than holding its own. In point of economic wealth the Lone Star State, thanks to a generous Providence and the courage and enterprise of men and women within and without the State, is forging onward to leadership. In our own way most of us have contributed, and are still contributing, toward converting things that promise to do into things that actually do.

Basic wealth, such as oil, gas and other minerals, while reposing in the hidden recesses of the earth, may be ever so rich in possibilities yet are not contributors to progress. They become assets only as capital and the energies of men vitalize and, in new forms infuse them into the channels of commerce and industry. A coal mind intact and in place contributes nothing to comfort of the world, the energies of the world nor the wealth of the world.

It was not the waters rushing through the canyons or flowing down the river beds of California that made of certain sections of that commonwealth horticultural and viticultural wonders of the world. Nor, left to themselves, was it California's rare climate nor its sleeping soil. Potentially, each was rich in promises to do yet doing little until by the energies and capital of men all were united in common cause.

In Texas there is yet much for private enterprise to do. And, too, private enterprise will do it, provided that in governmental circles we get away from the theory that departmental and institutional expansion is the only thing worth while. When we, if we ever do, pause to reflect upon what we owe to the work and thrift of private industry we will come to understand that it is not the political pay rolls of a state or community that make for industrial leadership. It is the private pay roll; the one which has behind it the vitalizing, and insofar as concerns our natural resources, the developing power of private capital and individual energy.—Texas Tax Journal.

"Leave the bond issue to the legislature" is the new slogan of the Sterling forces. Many voters are for the bond issue and voted for other candidates in the first primary, many were opposed to the bonds and yet voted for Sterling. Few of us ever agree with all that a candidate stands for, so do not be misled on the state bond issue which isn't an issue at all in 1930. Texas can never have a bond issue of any sort until the legislature first submits it to a vote of the people, and then will be time enough to face this issue. What we ought to do now is to give Texas a real business man for governor—Hon. Ross Sterling of Houston—and fight out the bond issue when it is an issue. Don't get led up a "blind alley" when good government, responsible government, is at stake in Texas.

The Fergusons received about forty thousand votes less this year than they did in the first primary of 1926. In the second primary that year they lost thirteen thousand from the first primary four weeks earlier. In other words the best the Fergusons could do this year was a loss of seventeen percent. That loss is not fast enough to suit the News, but it shows that our contention that the Ferguson support is waning is very correct. The good, smashing defeat coming to them on August 23rd means their final exit from Texas politics.

Texas is soon to celebrate her centennial of independence. After the smoke of the 1930 primaries has blown away, there will be state-wide plans laid for the proper commemoration of the hundredth anniversary. It ought to be a very significant centennial and every phase of Texas social and commercial life should contribute its share to the celebration. The world needs to know more of the truth about Texas.

There is only one real danger in the present menace of Fergusonism in Texas. That is that too many citizens will take it for granted that Sterling will win by a heavy majority and will stay away from the polls. This is another time when "eternal vigilance is the price of safety." We must get the voters to the polls. Jim is entitled to know just how little the people of Texas think of him.

CLARENDON FAMILY IN TRAIN WRECK SATURDAY

The family of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Parker of this city was on the train last Saturday night which wrecked a short distance from Oklaunion. Seven members were planning to spend the weekend in Dallas and had proceeded that far when the wreck occurred. Mr. Parker stated the early part of this week that it was a miracle that none of them were injured, but that none of them were even scratched when the cars left the track.

Miss Fay Stallings and Mrs. R. L. Young arrived in Clarendon last Friday evening from Dallas where Miss Stallings had been visiting on her return from a summer spent in Washington University at Saint Louis. Mrs. Young will visit here for a time in the home of her sister, Mrs. D. O. Stallings, before leaving for Dallas.

THE EIGHT AS BUICK BUILDS IT

Over 1,500,000 people visited Buick showrooms on Saturday, July 26, to see The Eight as Buick Builds It... the greatest reception ever accorded an eight-cylinder car.

Bona fide orders for these new Buick Eights totaled 7000 before the car was presented—a greater volume of business than any single month's sales of any other Eight* ever built.

And within the first five days, this record volume of orders had doubled.

There are four series, in four price ranges, including one series priced fully $200 lower than last year's Buick Six. It is the world's lowest priced Valve-in-Head Straight Eight!

With complete returns from 248 counties and substantially completed returns from the other five the unofficial vote in the July Democratic primary reached the total of 833,041 in the final tabulation of the Texas Election Bureau announced Sunday night, exceeding by 11,274 the previous record of 821,767, made in July, 1926. ATHLETE SOON REGAINS HEALTH BY NEW KONJOLA

Baseball Player Suffering From Rheumatism and Other Ailments Finds Prompt Relief

MR. JACK M. LONG

"For over two years I suffered from rheumatism," said Mr. Jack M. Long, 511 Burnett street, Ft. Worth. "My legs and back were affected so much that I could not carry on my work as a baseball player. Finally I was forced to remain in my home for three months. I had attacks of indigestion and my kidneys gave me no end of trouble; the pains in my back were terrible. I was forced to rise many times nightly and became very nervous."

"I tried many remedies without result when a friend recommended Konjola. After taking seven bottles, I was able to resume my work in the K. I. C. League as a ball player. The rheumatic pains have completely vanished and my stomach is in perfect condition. My kidneys are again normal and I do not have to rise at night. The pains have left my back and my nerves are strong. Konjola restored me to perfect health."

Although many men and women state that one or two bottles brought relief, it is recommended that six or eight bottles be taken to obtain the best results. Konjola is sold in Clarendon, Texas at the Douglas & Goldston Drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

STATE HIGHWAY BONDS BEST SAYS U. S. EXPERT

The question of the State bond issue, which has been discussed so vigorously the last several weeks, is discussed very intelligently in an article by Thomas Macdonald, chief of the Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D. C. That this discussion has nothing whatever to do with the present question in Texas personally, is proved when it was learned that the article was written November 30, 1929. The paper has been in the files of the News since that time, and is reprinted for the benefit of those who do not understand the right purpose of the State-wide Bond Issue. The article is reprinted below.

Today every State could issue bonds profitably, either for primary road building or some of the integral or auxiliary construction needed, such as grade-crossing elimination, bridges, by-passes around traffic congestion, and continuous-flow routes without cross-traffic hazards and interruptions, says Thomas H. Macdonald, chief of the Bureau of Public Roads, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"There is not a single valid argument against the issuance of bonds for road improvement as a fiscal matter," he says. "The issuance of road bonds, intelligently and scientifically adjusted to the needs of the State, is the only way public credit can be exchanged for physical properties, better roads, among them, which are income producing and which do have the ability to pay for themselves."

In the States which have made the most rapid progress in road improvement, and which have advanced a part to the costs from bonds, there is not a single unfavorable situation or circumstance to support anti-bond arguments, he says.

By statistics he shows that in the 17 States that have no bonds for State highway purposes, the electorates of which are supposed to frown upon bond issues on general principles, high-interest local bonds have actually been issued in considerably greater proportion to local highway income than in States which presumably favor the issuance of bonds.

He proposes that there be more scientific and business like financing and administration in highway improvement, which, he says, should start with a selection of roads to be improved according to their relative traffic importance and an allocation of authority to State and county authorities on the same basis.

"The differences in the percentages of total mileage included in the State systems of neighboring States of approximately the same general culture and development are too great to be accounted for upon any reasonable basis," he says. "Also, the differences are too great between the annual expenditures per mile of State systems in States that have systems of approximately the same extent and average traffic density approximately equal. The traffic survey is a reliable means of determining how large the State system should be and how much money should be spent on the several parts of the system. It should be more generally employed in planning and budgeting.

There is no excuse for inequitable allocation of funds or wasteful expenditure," he says.

"The merry-go-round of income transfer now existent between the States and the counties should be abolished; the counties are rather generally the losers and they can ill afford the loss," he says. "The question of indebtedness for highway purposes should be more frankly faced. The public loses and loses heavily when, to avoid a State debt, the counties are thrust into debts on which they must necessarily pay a high rate of interest."

Mr. Macdonald says honest and competent highway officials should have reasonable security in their tenure of office, that highway administration should be business-like, that there should be complete and correct accounting of highway expenditures, and that roads in which the public capital is invested should be adequately maintained.

TEXAS SHOULD ENFORCE VITAL STATISTICS LAW

The Federal Government is quietly gathering from the homes in Texas, a report of the births and deaths which have occurred during the past 12 months. The reports made to the Federal Government will be arranged by the counties and cities, brought to Texas and checked against the certificates actually filed.

Texas is the only State in the Union with an adequate law for birth and death registration, whose birth and death rates are not authenticated and published and whose records are not recognized by the U. S. Census Bureau.

If, in the investigation now being made by the Census Bureau, it is found that 90 per cent of the births and deaths have been registered, Texas will be admitted to the Registration Area, and her statistics recognized, as is the case in 46 other States in the Union.

Although South Dakota has no adequate law, and her records up to this time have not been recognized, a test has been made in that state, and it is believed that South Dakota will be shown to have reached the necessary standard.

A report of a birth or death made to the Federal Government is not a legal registration, but a simple notification, so that the legally filed records may be checked. Any birth, to be legally registered, must have the signature of the medical attendant on the record, must be filed with the Local Registrar and sent to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics at Austin, Texas.

The law places the responsibility for registering births on the medical attendant, who is liable to a fine of not less than $5.00 nor more than $50.00, if he has not filed a record at the time of the birth. Any person who wishes to bury a dead body, violates the law if the body is buried before a public record of the dead is made, but as the system is new in Texas, and is not yet thoroughly understood, any birth or death which has not been previously filed, should be registered immediately, if it is the desire of those concerned that such record be counted in the test being made by the Federal Government, which test will begin about August 1st.

Anyone desiring to file a record of an unregistered birth or death, should remember that the law makes it the duty of the Justice of the Peace in the Justice Precinct and the City Clerk in the city of 2,500 or more, to act as Registrar of Births and Deaths. In these precincts or cities where the Justice of the Peace or City Clerk has failed or refused to act, the county or city authorities have suggested some individual to act in his place, and a list of these individuals may be secured, either from the city or county authorities or from the State Bureau of Vital Statistics.

Landers-Ellis

A wedding which came as a distinct surprise to their many friends was that of Miss Betsy Ellis to Mr. Alvin Landers on Sunday, August 3, at Hollis, Oklahoma.

The couple was unattended.

Mrs. Landers is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ellis of Lelia Lake and has a wide circle of friends. She is well known in Clarendon having at one time made her home here with her parents, and will be welcomed back as a resident of our city by her many friends.

Mr. Landers, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Landers is also well and favorably known having been associated with the business firm of Shelton and Sanford for the past few years and numbers his friends by his acquaintances, who will be greatly interested in the news of his marriage.

Marriage of Miss Elliott Announced

Miss Eloise Norman entertained Wednesday afternoon with a lovely announcement party honoring Miss May Nell Elliott, at her home on South Seventh street.

The approaching wedding of J. Ed Teer, manager of the Wm. Cameron Lumber Company at Clarendon, and Miss Mary Nell Elliott of Memphis, on August 10, was announced. The Cameron colors of orange and black were carried out in all the house decorations as was the theme of "lumber."

The game for the afternoon was "Hearts" the tallies were in wood brown with a tiny church pictured on them. A tiny log in wood brown on each table held the announcement of the wedding, as well as candy in the shape of logs and green leaves.

High score prize was awarded to Miss Vernadine Jones, second to Miss Florence Wherry, the gifts also carrying out the "lumber" theme. The prize for the honor, Miss Mary Nell Elliott, was a wooden rolling pin, tied in maline.

Following the games the hostess served lovely refreshments of angel food squares, decorated with a tiny Wm. Cameron sign in orange and black, and ice cream moulded into the shape of logs, to the following guests: Misses Shirley Greene, Dorothy Elliott, Helen Madden, Vernadine Jones, Florence Wherry, Cornelia McCann, Ruby McCann, Mota Maye Shaw, Doris Shaw, Margot Slaw, Nava Maye Nell Elliott, Miss Lily Grazer of Snyder, Oklahoma, Misses Ruth Swift, Doll Merrick, Leta Verne Martin of Clarendon, Mesdames Heral K. Haley, Malone Hagen, Mrs. Lyman Daugherty, and the honoree, Miss May Nell Elliott.

of the lake while others were content to sit on the grassy lawn or benches and visit.

A sumptuous picnic lunch was spread out doors on the tables and thoroughly enjoyed.

During the course of the evening Mrs. Wilder was presented with a lovely gift from the members of the society who wanted to show their love for Mrs. Wilder and also to show their appreciation of the work she has done for and with them. . . .

Family Re-Union at F. L. Behrens' Home

There was a re-union of the family of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Behrens, at Clarendon last Sunday, when their children and grandchildren met at their home three miles East of Clarendon.

The program started off with music of various kinds, followed by solos, duets, quartets, and congregational singing, for there was a real congregation, when all their descendants are at the home for a single day.

Dinner, which came at 1:15 p. m., was served in cafeteria style and the big, little, old and young helped themselves to the many good things to eat, which had been prepared by mother Behrens and assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Emma Waggoner, Mrs. Ruby McKee, and Miss Nancy Behrens. The repast, arranged by Mother Behrens was the best we have enjoyed for many years. There were so many good things to eat that we will not take up time to mention them. It was a picnic dinner worthy of the name, and we all enjoyed it most hugely.

Band instruments and other musical instruments were used to make music after the bountiful repast was over, and the joy of this occasion was quite noticeable throughout the day.

Beside Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Behrens, there were their two sons, Travis and P. L. Jr., and their daughter, Miss Nancy Behrens, at home. Also their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKee and children, Miss Leota, Bettie Joe, Lee Roy, Annie Sue, and Billie Neal, all of Ashtola. Also their son and wife and their children, Chas. Jr., and Marilyn Trent, and granddaughters, Reed and O'Conor, of San Antonio, Texas. Also their daughter, Mrs. Emma Waggoner and husband, Editor of the Claude News and their children, Noel Oliver, Cecil Ollie, Marguerite, Marcella, and Thomas T. Jr., of Claude.

And their son Orville and wife and their children, Jerald Ward and Jaunell, of Gruver.

Others present were Miss Cleo Foster of Clarendon and Mr. Ted Clancy of Cleburne, Texas.

At the dinner hour Father Behrens re-iterated that all of his children and grandchildren were present, without the loss of one, and that they were all hale and hearty for which he was indeed thankful. The sincere prayer Father Behrens offered at the table just before the repast, was words of sincerity and thankfulness and touched everyone present in a way which will be long remembered by them. A sincere devout prayer like that availed much, and Father Behrens has lived such a life that he can pray such a prayer and the life before it will back it up and those hearing it can reflect and follow his footsteps. He is a devout Baptist of Clarendon and is one of the brightest leaders in Odd Fellowship of any man in the Panhandle of Texas. May Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Behrens have the pleasure of having all their children and grandchildren at home in many yearly re-unions before they pass to the Home Not Made with Hands, Eternal in The Heavens. . . .

LYNCH DAVIDSON IS OPPOSING FERGUSONS

In a lengthy interview given out by Lynch Davidson of Houston voters are apprised of his stand on the Sterling-Ferguson contest in no uncertain words. After explaining that he considers the recent primary as a direct and unmistakable decision against the state highway bonds, Mr. Davidson says: "Adhering to these same ideals and advocating good government in all respects, I shall oppose the Fergusons in the coming primary as I have heretofore. For Mr. Sterling individually, I have the kindest feeling and warmest personal regard. * * * In their wisdom the people of Texas selected the two candidates they desired to place in the run-off, Mrs. Ferguson and Ross Sterling. The FERGUSONS IN THE GOVERNOR'S CHAIR ARE, OF COURSE, UNTHINKABLE. (Editor's note—The capitals are our own). My long opposition to them is well known and will continue. Despite the bond issue advocated despite his not being equipped temperamentally nor by training or experience for Governor, Mr. Sterling is preferable to the Fergusons."

HON. EDGAR WITT

Senator Edgar Witt of Waco, a candidate for Lieutenant Governor has been practicing law in the city of Waco for twenty-four years. His firm is one of the leading firms of Central Texas and the citizenship of Waco have practically unanimously endorsed his candidacy, saying to the people of Texas that he is one of Waco's leading citizens and lawyers; that he has represented that district in the State Senate for twenty years; that they vouch for him as a man of integrity and ability and in every way worthy of the office he seeks.

Senator Witt was born in Bell county—the son of a country doctor; he was educated at the University of Texas, graduating from that institution in the year 1900. He made his way through the University working at boarding houses and in the Comptroller's office. He began practicing law in Waco in the year 1906. He was appointed City Attorney of the City of Waco and was serving in that capacity when he resigned his office to enter the army during the World War. The death of his predecessor in the State Senate, Senator A. B. McCollum, created a vacancy and at a special election in December 1918 Witt was elected to the State Senate. His name had been placed on the ticket by friends and election was held before he reached home. He has been re-elected three times. As a member of the State Senate he has been chairman at various times of its most important committees and has been regarded as one of its most active and influential members.

Senator Witt is a member of the Rotary Club of Waco, the Waco City Club, the American Legion and the Columbus Street Baptist Church.

W. Lennan county—Senator Witts home county—in first primary gave him 10,305 votes, and to all of his six opponents 3,128—the highest vote to any one opponent being 957.

PAYNE HELD IN WIFE'S SLAYING

ARREST FOLLOWS FIVE WEEKS INVESTIGATION FOLLOWING EXPLOSION

AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 6.—A. D. Payne, prominent Amarillo attorney, was hidden from a mob today after his woman secretary implicated him in the death of his wife. Payne was killed when a bomb wrecked her automobile and injured her young son in a downtown section here last June.

Payne's arrest, coming as a complete surprise after five weeks' investigation, was accomplished by a police statement that Mrs. Verona Thompson, attractive young widow and his former private secretary, had declared the lawyer promised to marry her after taking care of his wife and three children.

Payne was held secretly in a jail today. He had been taken under extra guard to Stinnett, sixty miles distant, when officers feared mob action would be taken against him.

A crowd of men and boys mobilized here early today and started for Pampa in motor cars. The mob first stormed the Amarillo jail and departed only after officers had led them through the cells to prove Payne was not held there.

Mrs. Payne was killed and her 14-year old son, A. D. Jr., was injured severely when a nitroglycerin blast destroyed the family automobile as they rode through the downtown district of Amarillo last June 26.

Officials at first believed the bomb had been intended for Payne although no motive could be ascribed for the act. The lawyer, who had offered $5,000 reward and employed private investigators to find his wife's slayer, entered a general denial to the murder charge and to the allegations made by Mrs. Thompson.

Police revealed today Payne had been under suspicion since the morning of the tragedy. Officials had been investigating Payne, it was said, even while he had been hiring private detectives to probe the case.

Several persons in Amarillo had received anonymous calls, the source of which had not been traced, accusing them of perpetrating the bombing, police said. Notes which had been sent to officials which they believed were intended to throw investigators off the track.

When arrested two notes were found in Payne's pockets. One was addressed to Chief of Police W. R. McDowell and read:

About 10 o'clock on the night of June 25 orders were bungled on the delivery of explosives from an unfinished hotel to the wrong car across the street south. The box with nitroglycerin caps and phosphorus for safe blowing was placed in the back end of the car by me. The car was driven off by the owner before the error was discovered.

When brought face to face with Payne after his arrest last night Mrs. Thompson told police he had promised to take her to South America with him. The attorney denied the assertion.

Throughout the five weeks since the tragedy Payne had been questioned often by investigators. Detectives, however, could find no clues to the bombing. Payne was affable and answered all questions easily, authorities said.

He told officials his home life with Mrs. Payne had been happy. He professed great love for his wife and pleaded with police to spare no effort to apprehend her slayer.

No definite clues pointed toward the attorney were uncovered until last night, when Mrs. Thompson made a written confession to police. She declared Payne had made violent love to her, to such an extent that she left his employ. The former stenographer declared Payne often took her to near-by towns on trips. He declared he would divorce his wife, send his three children to live with relatives and marry her, Mrs. Thompson said in her confession.

Payment of $30,000 insurance on the death of his wife has been withheld pending investigation of the case. Officials said Payne took the insurance just a few months before his wife's death and at the same time insured his son for $10,000 and his daughter for $5,000.

The letters found in Payne's pockets were written crudely in pencil and had been prepared ready for mailing. They attempted to explain that Mrs. Payne's death had been caused by accident when construction workers placed explosives in the Payne automobile by mistake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Speed and children have returned from an extended sight seeing trip to California and other states. They report a most enjoyable time, though glad to be home again.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Horton of Pampa and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wall and children of Groom were guests over the week end of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Massie.

A BOLD STROKE TO SAVE THE SOUTH

M. H. Wolfe, General Manager of the Farmers Marketing Association of America, Inc., made the following announcement today:
The Southern States are facing a financial crisis and the day of reconstruction has arrived. Only heroic men and bold measures will prevent bankrupt cotton prices this fall.
Those who trusted the Federal Farm Board for relief have been deluded. When Congress enacted the farm relief measure its declared purpose was "to minimize speculation in farm products." But instead of that the chief operations of the Farm Board have been speculations of a type that has resulted in heavy losses in cotton and wheat both to the farmers and to the Board.
And worst of all the price of cotton has been reduced about seven cents per pound and the price of wheat reduced about thirty cents per bushel. It looks like another year of the present policy of the Farm Board will largely destroy agriculture and bankrupt the most useful business enterprises of the nation.
In view of such conditions the Farmers Marketing Association of America, Inc., is willing to stake all and make the bold stroke necessary to save the situation. Therefore, our directors have decided that in addition to our regular contract we will put into operation an emergency contract and wage a vigorous campaign to sign up five million bales of cotton to be held for a price equal to twenty cents per pound basis middling seven eights staple at Southern Ports.

The department of Agriculture of Texas has agreed to join us in requesting the commissioner of Agriculture of each cotton growing State to call a meeting of farmers, bankers, business men and others and immediately organize in each State an Association with similar contracts, all to be affiliated with the Farmers Marketing Association of America Inc., on terms that are just and fair and with the declared purpose of getting twenty cents for cotton through sane and safe organization.

"For the purpose of helping build an organization through which growers may have a voice in the price of cotton and for the specific purpose at this time of joining other growers in pledging five million bales of cotton to be held for a price equal to twenty cents or more, basis middling seven eights staple at Southern ports, I hereby make application for membership in the association and enclose $1.00 in payment therefor.
In signing this application I hereby pledge myself to hold all or a part of my cotton, say----- bales and join in the campaign to secure sufficient members to control five million bales by December 1st, 1930, provided the price does not reach twenty cents prior to that date. On December 1st, 1930 a tabulation will be made and if it is found that the total number of bales pledged is less than five million then it is agreed by both parties that the grower may withdraw from the association without any obligation on either party.
If the grower wishes to borrow money on his cotton through the association he will sign one of the regular Marketing Agreements and the loan will be made on the best terms the association may be able to set forth from time to time.

The cotton being held may be warehoused at the interior town where the grower resides or on his farm or shipped to the association at points designated by the association.
The association agrees to sell the cotton under the direction of the grower at the highest price obtainable with the understanding that the grading, marketing and selling charges shall not exceed $1.00 per bale. And the cotton may be sold at the home town of the grower when prices offered are equal to prices that can be obtained in the chief markets of the world."

LUBBOCK OFFICIALS FAVOR COTTON CO-OP. ASSOCIATION

That every thinking cotton grower in the Lone Star State would be a member of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association within the next three years was the prediction made by R. J. Murray, President of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Chairman of the Lubbock District Organization Committee, at a county wide mass meeting held here attended by more than 400 farmers and business men.
The prediction was also made by J. H. Bower, President of the First State Bank of Slaton, that in three years bankers would be hesitant about loaning money to farmers not members of cooperative marketing associations sponsored by the Federal Farm Board.
"Farmers have a wonderful opportunity to organize now with the moral and financial assistance of the Federal Government," declared E. Sherrod, Chairman of the Organization Committee for Lubbock County. "It's an opportunity that should not be passed by and a money-making and money-saving opportunity."
Details of the new cotton cooperative marketing system were explained by Herman F. Dieterich, Organization Director for District No. 2 of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association. The county-wide mass meeting was the first of 24 to be held in Lubbock county during the next two weeks. Following the meeting in Lubbock, approximately 100 farmers signed marketing agreements, while 40 business men and 36 additional farmers signed cards agreeing to make Lubbock county one of the banner counties in Texas for cooperative marketing.

PACKING OF FOOD TO BE STUDIED AT COURSE

COLLEGE STATION, Texas.—Packing palatable food neatly and attractively in order to arouse the school child's appetite for wholesome food will be discussed by Miss Mary E. Binger, Dallas, Inc., in Texas, Tuesday morning in a talk before the girl's group of the Farmers Short Course at the A. & M. College of Texas. Making food palatable and attractive are two main factors in helping the school child to enjoy his lunch carried from home, she said.
"Too often the lunch is planned merely to satisfy hunger rather than to meet the body's needs," Miss Binger went on to say. "Food needs of the body should be kept in mind in planning the child's lunch." That the school lunch should include foods to build up new tissue and to repair worn out tissue, foods to regulate body processes and foods to provide sufficient energy for all activities of the growing body, was emphasized.
"Keeping these points in mind, arrange the contents of the lunch box in an attractive manner and the child will linger over his food instead of gulping it down or throwing it away," Miss Binger said.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Kemp and Misses Betty Walker and Herloise Burrell were guests last week on the Kell ranch in oberts County. They all state that there are plenty quail and prairie chicken on the ranch and that there are deer and antelope on the place although none of the latter named were seen.
Mrs. Lester Duerson of Turpin, Oklahoma, spent the past week here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Murphy.

ENGINEER IN CRASH WAS FORMER CLARENDON MAN

Frank Robinson, engineer on the train which wrecked last Saturday night, was a former resident of the city of Clarendon. Mr. Robinson made his home in this city when the shops were here and was well known in the circles of the older residents here. He was one of the most popular of the engine men on the road and will be greatly missed by the railroad fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Nored and family returned last Thursday to their home here after a visit of some length in the coast cities and in the central portion of the state.

BRONCHOS PLAN TRAINING CAMP

FORTY CANDIDATES SIGNIFY INTENTIONS OF MAKING BRONCHO FOOTBALL TEAM

With just two weeks left before the Clarendon High School Broncho Football team departs for a two weeks training camp on the Bell Ranch, interest is running at a high pitch over the prospects of a winning team this year. More than forty huskies have declared themselves ready and anxious to begin handling the old pigskin, and start a determined drive for the District Championship.

Not since 1926 when the Bronchos boasted such stars as Doc Naylor, H. A. Blanton, Leonard Harris, Sam Braswell, Meade Halle, and others, when this group presented Clarendon High School with its only championship, have the chances been so bright for another such season. This year the Bronchos will be made up of men of equal ability, none so brilliant, but all to be feared by the opposition.

Coach Frank Stocking, local mentor, has planned for a two weeks training camp, starting August 20th, and returning home in time for school. Coach plans to be back in the city about the 15th, and will finish the minute plans for the camp. The forty candidates are very enthusiastic over this year's prospects for the championship, and have already begun training. Coach Stocking is very optimistic, and if the squad will keep the spirit of their mentor the Broncho supporters will be rewarded with one of the fastest and smooth running teams in a number of years. The boys will be only equipped with football shoes and running trunks the two weeks they are attending camp, thus receiving a healthy tan along with the benefits derived in the way of football training.

The 1930 machine boasts of ten letter men from last year's team, and a new man, Lois Langford, from Clayton, New Mexico. Lois is a real husky lad, and the fans of the city are anxious to see the big boy in action. Should he live up to the reports circulated about his ability he will have a very warm place in the hearts of the Broncho fans.

The list of candidates for the Broncho squad includes Captain Dick Nichols, one of the best backs in the State, Mike Beard, F. L. Behrens, Tony Watson, Pete Morris, Parrish Dever, Lloyd Benson, Truett Behrens, Carroll Holtzclaw, Carroll Hudson, Everett Johnson, Lloyd Martin, Lawrence Whitlock, Sam Davis, Johnny Tucker, Pete Esterling, Elery Watson, Fred Reed, Louis Langford, J. D. Holtzclaw, Archie Watters, John Zeigler, Robert Green, Arthur Davis, Silas Franklin, John McMahan, Bill Wood, Bill Wood, Bill Trostle, Bill Rutherford, Will Montgomery, Snooks Andis, Donley Darnell, Henry Wilder, Landers, and others whose names it was impossible to secure at this time.

The schedule of the camp as set by Coach Stocking is as follows:

6:00 a. m.—Breakfast.
8:10:00 a. m.—Exercise, passing, kicking, running, and formations.
12 noon—Lunch.
2-5 p. m.—Exercise, passing, kicking, running, and formations.
5-6 p. m.—Study.
10 p. m.—Bed.

One of the features of the camp will be the study period in which every boy will be required to carry along at least one text book to study during the period. Coach Stocking states that this will be watched very closely during the coming year, and the Bronchos must not lose a man for this cause.

COTTON MARKETING IS STUDIED AT SHORT COURSE

COLLEGE STATION, Texas.—Cotton production and cotton marketing should be closely correlated, and every line of business having to do with cotton should receive consideration in the organization plans and politics of a cooperative marketing association, Lawrence Westbrook told farmers at the short course at the A & M College of Texas Thursday. He is organization manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association with headquarters at Dallas.

"With the outlook for foreign cotton competition looming larger and larger," Mr. Westbrook said, "marketing conditions should have a larger place in guiding both the quantity and quality of farmers' production. Premiums or penalties, as the case may be, should be credited to or assessed against the grower in order to provide the necessary incentive. There's no use blaming farmers for producing inferior cotton when they can't get proper premiums for better staples," he declared.

Mr. Westbrook expressed the opinion that acreage reduction campaigns for cotton are of doubtful value under present conditions, and that more serious consideration should be given the question of how land taken out of cotton may be profitably utilized.

Five Texas cities are listed among the ninety-three "largest American cities" in the 1930 census.

Texas will have twenty and possibly twenty-one members of the House of Representatives when the 1930 census is accepted by Congress.

Rotary Clubs Battle Illiteracy

The Rotary clubs of the United States have enlisted in the war against illiteracy. The National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy, of which Ray Lyman Wilber is Chairman, has just received resolutions unanimously passed at the convention of Rotary International. The approved plan provides that each Rotary club shall conduct a campaign in its own community among all known illiterates, to the end that such illiterates may be taught to effectively read and write. This gives the Advisory Committee on Illiteracy many of the local contacts which it needs.

The Rotary Club will be assisted in its work by the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy, which committee will supply to the clubs necessary instruction and material for the teaching of illiterates. Furthermore, it hopes to supply lists of illiterates to be provided soon by the Census Bureau. It is expected that with the help of the Rotary clubs thousands of American citizens of voting age will be able, for the first time, to assume intelligently the duties of citizenship.

The resolution unanimously adopted by the 21st convention of the Rotary Clubs of the United States is as follows:

"WHEREAS the 1930 United States census has revealed an undesirable amount of illiteracy in various parts of the United States; and

"Whereas the United States government has inaugurated a campaign to eliminate or greatly reduce such illiteracy among the people in the United States and has invited the Rotary clubs of the United States to assume an active leadership in such campaign;

"IT IS RESOLVED by the delegates from Rotary clubs in the United States, assembled at the twenty-first annual convention of Rotary International, that they accept, on behalf of the Rotary clubs in the United States, the opportunity for service thus offered and requested by the United States government;

"IT IS FURTHER RESOLVED that while this opportunity for service may be brought clearly to the attention of the United States Rotary Clubs, and them urged to respond to it wholeheartedly, no club shall be under any obligation to do so if in its judgement the club is not in position to respond to the opportunity offered it."

The Rotary clubs plan to appoint community groups to assist in the work of state and county committees already appointed by the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy. Such Rotary committees will make a survey of local community problems and aid in the forming of classes and encouraging the attendance of illiterates at such classes.

FINAL REPORTS MADE BY LIONS

DELEGATION COMPLETES DETAILS OF TRIP TO CONVENTION CITY

With four of the Lions making their final reports on their trip to the international convention at Denver, their final report of the 1930 Lions International convention was made and this chapter in the life of the Clarendon club will be closed. Lion District Governor Sam M. Braswell was the first to report, stating that the present President of International was one of the most human of the many real human men who has ever led the organization. Lion Hodges called particular attention to a remark made by one of the policemen of Denver, who stated that this was the most orderly convention ever held in their city and that the spirit of cooperation seemed greater than in any meeting of a similar character that had ever been held there.

The lack of leadership in the Texas delegation was given as the reason for no better work in the part of the Texas delegation. Lions Kater and Erhard being held away from the convention and leaving the delegation rather footloose.

The plans of the five districts for the present year include stunts from each and a special presentation at the Toronto, Canada during the year 1931.

Lion Stallings reported that he was the only Lion who took his wife with him, but called particular attention to the fact that he never saw one of the Clarendon delegation wandering round alone. His particular attention was drawn to the spirit of cooperation over in such a splendid manner.

Lion Lewis expressed his thanks to the Lions for allowing him to become a member for he stated that this made it impossible for him to attend the convention and see and hear the many things that happened. His particular attention was drawn to a lack of uniformity in the dress of the Texas delegation and the especial uniformity as seen in the California attire. The blankets of the Washington state delegation drew his special attention as did the woman from Oklahoma who mimicked the birds commonly known and some that are not so well known. The Denver Museum, the trip on the mountain drive and the boys' band were other features that attracted him and held his attention. In closing, he stated that his only regret was the fact that he had so little time in which to see and hear the many interesting features of the convention.

Lion Mulvey closed the report of the delegation with a true account of what really happened in Walsenburg on the trip going up and with a recounting of a near accident that took place near Trinidad or Walsenburg, he was not quite sure. The work with the blind was given especial mention and the program presented by the blind trio was mentioned as proof of the work that could be done with these folk if they were given an opportunity. He expressed the wish that one Lions had taken ad-

East Side Boys Pile Up Big Lead

It begins to look as if the East Clarendon baseball aggregation have apparently won the championship over the baseball players from the West side of the city. This was further strengthened when the easterners captured both games played on Friday and Tuesday by scores of 6 and 5 and 9 to 6. With the winning of these two games the west team is pushed further down the ladder and has lost 9 and won 3 since the season started some weeks ago.

There are only a few more games to be played, and it will be necessary for the west team to win practically all the remaining games on the schedule to win the pennant.

The east players have presented a hard batting aggregation in the past month and have been playing a fine, hustling brand of baseball. The west team has been handicapped the last month by the lack of a coach, but with their coach back from his trip the players are confident they will snap out of it and give the east a run for their money in the remainder of the contests.

The advantage of this opportunity to attend an international convention and stated that more would want to go to Toronto and give the east advantage of the special rates that attended the Denver meeting.

Lion H. T. Burton reported on the fishing trip recently taken to Taos, New Mexico, stating that there were plenty of rainbow trout for the catching if the place were visited prior to July 20th. The novelty of sleeping under three quilts and using a hot water bottle in July was recounted much to the surprise of the Lions who stayed at home.

Lion Douglas reported on his vacation to Colorado, stating that he saw plenty of mud and rain, plenty of wrecks and that he caught all the fish he and his folk wanted to eat. Other than this, the Lions had seen all that he saw and had spoken of them in previous meetings.

Lion Boykin was called to the floor and gave report on his trip to the Artillery Officers' Training camp near San Antonio. He recounted the pleasures to be found in arising at 6:00 a. m., mounting an artillery plug, eating dinner in the field and returning at 4:00 p. m. ready for a night's rest. One particular thing attracted his attention more than any others, that being the method used in the United States in training officers and the use of the R. O. T. C. officer material at a rate sufficient to meet the needs of any crisis. This was commented upon by Marshal Foch on his visit to the United States, who states that this was the cheapest method of preparation he had ever seen. Liberal cuts in the forces at Fort Sam Houston and among other lines of the regular armies were mentioned as well as other details in the work he had seen in the past few weeks.

Messrs. Allen and Ferguson were introduced as the guests of the day, they being men of prominence in this and other sections of the state. Mr. Allen, a likely story on Lion Patrick, regretting that more older men were not present that they might verify the statement made, Mr. Ferguson expressed his pleasure at being with the Lions.

EXHIBIT TRUCK OFF TO MISSOURI

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS OF PANHANDLE-PLAINS OFF TO FAIR CIRCUIT

Loaded with attractive displays and replicas of the Panhandle's agricultural advantages exhibit truck No. 1, of the Panhandle-Plains of Texas left Amarillo early Friday morning for the first showing at the Ozark Valley Fair at Carthage, Mo., beginning August 4.

A chicken dinner Thursday noon at the home of Howard A. Ferguson, 2102 Hayden street, manager of the Panhandle Plains organization marked the ceremonies with the departure of the first truck.

Truck No. 1 is in charge of Carl Kenemer of Itasca, Texas, and O. A. Goodwin of Tucuman, N. M.

All details of the first exhibit were completed by H. M. Luna, exhibit manager and his assistants, the social gathering at Manager Ferguson's home, bringing a climax to the month's spent in preparation of this year's agricultural, educational and industrial displays.

Selected from a long list of applicants, the individuals entrusted with exhibiting the Panhandle's displays over the middlewest, south and southwest, have recently undergone a course of training under the tutelage of experts supplied by the three railway companies operating in this territory. Immigration officials of the railway companies also were called upon to assist in arranging details relating to the showing of exhibits.

Those attending the dinner were H. M. Luna and Mrs. Luna, Carl Kenemer, O. A. Goodwin, Louis Falcon, Merle Nutting, O. W. Harrison and a representative of the News-Globe, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson.

The second truck will leave Amarillo shortly for Des Moines, Iowa, in charge of Mr. Luna and Mr. Falcon. Following the showing here at the Tri-State Fair, the third exhibit in charge of Mr. Ferguson, will be displayed at the Arkansas State Fair during the early part of October.

Motorcycle Accident Seriously Injures Two

Hollis Short of Wichita Falls and Johnnie Cashion of Cleburne were seriously injured Tuesday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock when the motorcycle they were riding overturned a few miles west of Ashtola. The boys were rushed to the Adair Hospital by passing motorists where they were given medical attention by Drs. Jenkins and Ellis of this city. It is thought that the machine was traveling at a high speed when it became uncontrollable and threw the riders.

Upon examination it was found that the Short lad had sustained a fractured skull and severe bruises about the body, and possibly some internal injuries. The Cashion boy is suffering from a broken collar bone and severe bruises about the body, and he too possibly is suffering from internal injuries. The doctors state that the boys are resting as easily as could be expected, and barring unforeseen complications should recover.

The boys parents were immediately notified by Sheriff Mosley, and arrived Wednesday to be with the boys while they are convalescing.

Legion Talks of State Convention

The prime object of the meeting of the American Legion Tuesday evening of this week was the representation from the local post to the State Convention that will be held in Austin September 1, 2, and 3. It was learned that a number of the members are planning to make the trip and a committee composed of Clarence Miller and Phillips Gentry was named to make all arrangements for the trip.

Another item brought to the attention of the organization was the handling of a rodeo on November 11th. Various members of the body made statements regarding this proposal and the matter was deferred until the next meeting night for a final answer to the question of whether to have the event or not.

Other matters of an interesting nature were brought up for discussion and further publicity will be given them in the near future.

COTTON GROUP NAMES BOARD

SEEK MEANS TO SECURE 20c PRICE FOR HUGE LINT POOL

Four members of the special advisory committee of the Farmers' Marketing Association of America, Inc., were named at a meeting of the association in the Cotton Exchange Building Tuesday.

The committee, the purpose of which is to devise a plan to market the 5,000,000-bale cotton pool being formed by the association, at a minimum price of 20c per pound, is to be composed of fifty representative members of the organization, which operates in all of the cotton-raising States.

Those appointed to the committee at the local meeting Tuesday were Judge L. Gough, Amarillo; W. S. Corbin, Hillsboro; I. B. Alford, Austin; A. W. Lusk, Austin. Contracts pledging members of the association to hold their cotton for the stated price of 20c have been printed and are ready for distribution, said W. B. Yearly secretary-treasurer of the organization.

A resolution asking the co-operation of "bankers, business men and industrial concerns, chambers of commerce and civic bodies" throughout the South during the present period of depression.

"The price of cotton at this time is only about half the average of the last nine destructive crops, and bids fair to be lower if action is not taken by the citizens of the South to advance the price sufficiently to prevent wholesale disaster," the resolution said.

Miss Sue Alice Simpson of Amarillo is a guest of Misses Wylia and Lois Alexander, having arrived on Thursday for this visit.

Texas produced 62 per cent of the United States production of carbon black in 1929—228,183,000 pounds of it.
