THE CELEBRATION OF EASTER

The custom of celebrating Easter is really an outgrowth of the Jewish Passover. There is no trace of its observance as a Christian festival in the New Testament or in the writings of the apostolic fathers.

Easter Sunday, which falls on April 5 this year, is observed by Christians in commemoration of Christ's resurrection, but not as an actual anniversary, as its date varies from year to year, in accordance to a method of computing it adopted by the council of Nice in the year 325.

The name of Easter is derived from Easter, the Anglo-Saxon goddess of spring, and many customs which have marked the day's observance are drawn from pagan sources. In the ancient church the celebration of Easter lasted eight days, but after the eleventh century it was limited to three, later to two, and finally to one.

The proper time for the observance of Easter has been the subject of bitter controversy among various Christian groups. In the year 197 Pope Victor excommunicated Poly-crates, bishop of Ephesus, and his entire Asiatic following for not conforming to the Roman custom.

According to the present usage Easter cannot occur earlier than March 22 or later than April 25. The last time it fell on March 22 was in 1818, after which some three centuries must elapse before it occurs so early again. It fell on April 25 the last time in 1843, but will not occur so late in any year of the present century.

Of all Easter customs the use of Easter eggs is the most universal. This is also of pagan origin, the egg having been considered a symbol of immortality of the ancients.

ARKANSAS WANTS A PRESIDENT

The Arkansas senate believes it has a plan for restoring prosperity in this country—simply the nomination and election to the presidency of U. S. Senator Joseph T. Robinson. The members of the senate in the Razorback State passed a concurrent resolution advocating the nomination of the Arkansas Senator in no uncertain terms.

The resolution declared that the nomination and election of Robinson would "retrieve the nation from the greatest peace-time crises in its history, in which factories are closed, millions of wage earners out of employment, business at a standstill and hunger in all its heinous reality is fastening its hold in hundreds of thousands of heretofore prosperous homes."

Senator Robinson is an outstanding Democrat and would be an able leader of the party, but it seems that the Arkansas legislature is a little generous in its recital of what the Senator from Arkansas can accomplish.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

In spite of the predictions of some Democrats who are still sick and sore over their complete discomfure in 1928, who assert that Texas will return to the Democratic fold in 1932 regardless of the candidate and the platform, we are inclined to the belief that they are just as wrong now as they were in 1928. The candidate will have to be a man of sterling character and above the low appetite of liquor, and the platform will have to be satisfactory in the matter of the eighteenth amendment or Texas and other Southern states will return a rebuke greater, by far, than that hurled at Al Smith and Raskob.

FIRE is taking a tremendous toll in the loss of human life and property in Texas. In many instances a "careless" fire causes untold suffering and misery, and in most every instance a financial crisis. Present day conditions demand more than ever that all of our people should practice conservation, and especially should we preserve that which we have builded against fire. The cost of fire is paid by the people, and is an economic burden whether they realize it or not.

Of the 28,805 in Who's Who, only 16,433 hold the bachelor's degree. In other words, 12,372, or over 40 per cent of the leaders, on a list which tends on the whole to favor formal education, have received only a secondary education or less. Here is food for thought which we leave to the rumination of our readers.—Harvard Alumni Bulletin.

SPORTS SLANTS

By Sam Braswell, Jr.

KNUTE K. ROCKNE

Today this column joins with the nation in mourning the irreparable loss to sportsdom and American youth—Knute Rockne, killed in an airplane tragedy in which himself and seven other persons, lost their lives. Never has the entire United States been shaken with grief as it has over the passing of this great and noble Dean of American football. Knute Rockne was not only a leader and moulder of the young blood of American manhood, but he was an institution, something more than a mere man.

We have been having some hellacious weather around these parts the last week, haven't we Customers?

Instead of calling the golf tournament now in progress the "Bean and Potato" tourney, a more appropriate name could be secured by calling it the "Snow and Ice" golf frolic. But as for us, we are going to let our tourney shots rest until the real bean and potato season has arrived. However some of the putter pushers can't keep off the local roughs and last Sunday some six or seven of them were seen playing a shivering good time in the biting east wind.

The domino parlor in the Rex-all store has met with such popular interest that this department threatens to force the store officials to remove a number of display cases to allow room for the spectators to witness the spectacular contests.

Will someone tell me if Coach Boykin ever won a domino game? He's a good golfer at dominos—low score at the finish. Rah! Rah! Mildew—or was it A. & M.

Don't forget the Greenbelt Tournament in May—maybe it won't be snowing then. At least it's something to look forward to.

with Brooklyn, the Cubs, St. Louis and the Giants mixed in the battle. It looks like a great season for the older circuit.

In the Texas League we believe Fort Worth will again top the circuit, with Houston, Dallas, and either Wichita Falls or Beaumont possessing potential power enough to make it a horse race.

Are you all set to witness the big dog trials next week? This is something new for Clarendon so let's all go and see what it's all about.

No doubt some of you have been more or less interested in the athletic situation at the University of Texas, relative to the fight to get rid of basketball coach Fred Walker. In the ensuing paragraphs we will endeavor to give the inside "dope" of the whole situation to the local readers who may wonder about the scaling practice as is found at the Texas institution.

During Walker's time at Texas he has had fair success until the season just closed, during which he only won two conference games. He has been an unpopular leader of men, and numbers of times has "bawled-out" and deliberately cussed his players before the entire stands.

With Lou Gehrig, under contract, and Hack Wilson satisfied with what he will get from the Clubs next season, it begins to look like the Big Bambino, Babe Ruh, under a run-over contract, will find plenty of opposition in the home run race this summer.

Well, as far as we are personally concerned, we think it about time that the free hitting carnival was checked. Home runs have been so common that they mean little or nothing, except to the opposing side. When almost every game saw a couple of balls over the fence the fans lost a lot of thrill, regardless of what the experts say.

Looking over the preliminary prospects for 1931 the American League has contenders in the Yankees, Cleveland and Washington, but unless something hits the Athletics, we can't see anything wrong with giving the Mack men the third pennant in a row. Simmons, Foxx, Cochrane, Grove and Earnshaw make the going mighty hard for the opposition.

Judge A. J. Fires Declares Suspended Sentence Is Abused

The News has been requested by Judge A. J. Fires, Judge of 100th Judicial District, to carry the following statement delivered by himself to a jury in Memphis a few weeks ago during a trial for burglary. The defense attorneys asked for a suspended sentence after the accused had admitted his guilt. The judge is vigorous in his conviction that the suspended sentence is being flagrantly abused. The jury was dismissed when it was hopelessly deadlocked with 9 for suspended sentence and 3 for penitentiary sentence.

When Judge Fires had the jury brought in Tuesday afternoon, he took occasion to comment vigorously to the jury relative to the abuse of the suspended sentence law. Judge Fires' remarks were as follows: "In cases of this character and under these circumstances, I cannot understand how you could give a suspended sentence. I think that the suspended sentence law is one of the most humane ever passed when properly invoked, but in cases of this character where the defendant has admitted his guilt and property has been appropriated, it seems to me that the suspended sentence law is being abused."

"The object of the law is twofold—suppression of crime and reformation of the offender. Crime cannot be suppressed when suspended sentences are given under such cases as the evidence in this case shows this to be."

"To my mind, the suspended sentence should not be applicable to burglary, but it is the law now. I have often instructed grand juries that in nine cases out of ten, when a man starts out to commit burglary, he has murder in his heart and goes prepared to kill if necessary to avoid being caught."

"I am not saying, gentlemen, that is true as to this case, but I am simply giving you this as an illustration that should be considered by juries in determining the right to the suspended sentence. Should you have granted a suspended sentence in this case, it would have been an example to the young men in this community and a license, in a way, to commit the same character of offense with the idea in their minds that if they should be apprehended and it being a first offense they could plead the suspended sentence and a jury, through sympathy and the goodness of their hearts, would grant them a suspended sentence."

"Gentlemen, the trial of these cases is becoming a farce and the suspended sentence law is being abused and the guilty are taking advantage of it. Understand, I am not censuring you. The matter of suspended sentence, when submitted to you, is purely a matter within your discretion to grant, but what I have said to you is in the interest of law enforcement for the guilty in cases of this character."

That every city has two classes of people: the men who do things to build up the community and the men who do not. BE A BUILDER!

The building of a city is a partnership business; every citizen is a partner and when a number of the partners refuse to lend their assistance there is just that much less chance for happiness and prosperity.

Optimism tempered with conservatism always starts better business.

Optimism and action always win.

You cannot do much where there is distrust.

Everyone should face conditions squarely and go ahead.

Every city should set a goal and work toward that goal.

Most people are so intent on looking ahead, planning ahead and forging ahead that they seldom take time to look backward. Let by-gones be by-gones—forge ahead!

Spending a Few Days at the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio, Texas.

A person coming to this city is vividly impressed with its individuality, its type all its own, its blending of old and modern quaintness that presents a picture-queeness as pleasing as it is novel. Founded 200 years ago, back in the days when all this part was a vast plain uninhabited except by roving bands of Indians, buffalo and wild animals, its primitive stillness was first invaded by Franciscan monks, who, establishing a little mission on the bank of the Rio Grande, on the border line of Mexico, gradually pushed their way into the interior until they brought that little mission to a point now within the city limits of San Antonio and finally established it where it now stands, a monument to the martyrs whose lives were given to establish a land of freedom for their fellow men and all who should come after them. This shrine is known as the Alamo and is a point to which thousands of people make pilgrimage every year.

The Gunter Hotel is located right in the heart of everything. It is one of the famous Baker hotels and is one of the most luxurious and best hotels in Texas. It has a magnificent lobby and here you can see people from all over the world.

I asked Mr. P. E. McSween, manager of the Gunter, what made the Gunter so popular. Mr. McSween modestly answered, "Oh hospitality makes our popularity." I found that this is the theory upon which has been built the policy of the Gunter, which has made hotel history during the past few years in Texas.

For it is quite true that for any hotel to succeed it must give the comfortable hospitality which every person seeks. It must include the element of human friendliness which is achieved only through personal contact.

In the matter of converting the tourist visitors into a prospective resident of the community, next to the Newspapers the hotel is the town's best booster.

W. P. Williams, Publisher of the Paris (Tennessee) Post-Intelligencer, Says:

"Newspaper advertising has undergone an 'acid test' during the past sixteen months of depression. It has proven its economic value as never before.

"When merchants were faced with the necessity of keeping up volume, reducing expenses of going out of business early in 1930, newspaper advertising offered them practically their only hope.

"Certain items of expense classified as 'overhead' could not be reduced and they found it imperative to keep up volume. This was difficult in the face of unemployment, slackened demand and less money in circulation.

"Comparatively few had courage to increase advertising appropriations, but those who did have weathered the promise of returning prosperity. Naturally business has been scarce, but a satisfactory volume has been kept up by coaxing business away from non-advertisers.

"If there was ever a time for large concerns, Chambers of Commerce, civic clubs and similar organizations to go strong on so-called institutional or booster advertising, that time is NOW.

Will Rogers has demonstrated by his tour through the drought stricken sections of Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas what can be accomplished by speaking cheer. Business needs cheerful advertising and will produce wonderful results for those who employ it.

"This is a time that demands the very best thought and effort in advertising and the Newspapers are capable of delivering the message where it is needed—in the homes of people with the greatest buying power on earth."

Texas has 797,695 acres of land under irrigation and 1,567,642 acres irrigable, according to the Census Bureau. Two counties—Hidalgo and Cameron with 229,737 and 155,804 acres respectively—have almost half of the State's total.

PLANS BEING FORMED FOR ANNUAL ROUND-UP

AUSTIN, Texas, April 1—A Southwest Sweetheart's Revue will be one of the features of the Texas Round-Up at the University of Texas Friday evening, April 17, according to the Round-Up Committees. Each of the schools in the Southwest Conference will be represented by its favorite "co-ed," while the University will introduce the most popular girl in the institution at the Sweetheart of Texas. In addition to this group, the 90 candidates for the beauty section of the Cactus University yearbook, will be presented in a beauty revue. Following the revue, the Round-Up ball will be held from 10 until 2 o'clock, invitations to which will be extended to all of Texas debutantes.

With President H. Y. Benedict and J. Frank Dobie, author of "Coronado's Children," perched on the back of a "chuck wagon," the Round-Up will be officially opened with an old-fashioned Western barbecue, Friday at noon. Entertainment for the visitors, who will include former students and the parents of University students, will vary from athletic contests and horse shows to the presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan light opera, "The Mikado," under the auspices of the Austin Amateur Choral Club.

DO FARMERS MAKE THE BEST HUSBANDS?

Somebody has started a country-wide argument by asserting that farmers make the best husbands. Figures quoted by Wheeler McMillen, Associate Editor of the Country Home, a national farm publication, show that while 15 out of every 100 city marriages end in the divorce court, only seven out of every 100 farm marriages are dissolved by the judge.

From that display of statistics, the average women may readily deduce that the surest way to have a permanent marriage is to say "yes" to a farmer. Mr. McMillen admits that "perhaps it does not follow that because twice as many city people get divorces, therefore farmers and their wives are twice as happy together."

He has been asking farm people, both men and women, about it, and they don't all give the same explanation. One farm woman said in the present of her spouse that so far as she was concerned the answer was that she didn't care about changing husbands, because the one she had was bad enough.

Another farm woman supposed that the reason farmers got fewer divorces was because they couldn't afford it. One cynical-minded farmer remarked bluntly that "wives are the hardest farm problem to solve."

The facts about the farm marriage, Mr. McMillen declares as a result of his investigation, are these: that the wife is closer to fruit had not been damaged and that there might be a crop of this sort. The progress of terracing was mentioned, statement being made that work was at a standstill until Fall, when other work would be done. Some level terraces on the north side of the county were announced for the summer, these being placed on the wheat land after the crop had been harvested.

LIONS REGISTER HUNDRED PER CENT

THIRD PERFECT ATTENDANCE IS RECORD FOR MONTH OF MARCH

The Clarendon Lions are registering a better attendance record for this contest than for any other contest the local organization has entered. Already for the month of March, three perfect attendance records have been seen, while only three absentees have been noted for the entire month. Lion Fred Rathjen was out of the chair, but was present for a sufficient time to allow his name to be called and marked present. Lion Mayes answered present when the club was adjourned at his home to allow his record to be kept perfect.

The activities committee stated that they would see that the new signs would be placed just as soon as spring opened up for a sufficient length of time to allow the concrete bases to set.

Announcement was made of the field trial for April 6th and of the second attempt that would be made to hold the Interscholastic meet here the latter part of this week.

Lion McPherson announced the revival services now in progress in the Methodist Church and extended an invitation to attend. He stated that no experience meetings would be held since the Grand Jury was in session, this part to be held over until later in the year.

At the suggestion of one of the Lions, Lion Murrell was searched and was found to have a pocket filled with silver from the table.

T. R. Brown, County Agent, spoke for a few moments, stating that he could see a nice profit in poultry for the next twelve months. He urged that those men so situated, avail themselves of the opportunity and secure as many chickens as they were able to handle. The hatch for the month of April will determine the value of the flocks, the venture being something of a gamble insofar as the County Agent was concerned. He reported the loss of peaches and pears, but stated that apples, grapes and other

W. T. UTILITIES SURVEY PREDICTS 1931 PROSPERITY

ABILENE, Texas, April 1.—The forty-eight West Texas Panhandle counties served by the West Texas Utilities Company look forward into 1931 with optimism, according to a survey made available from the offices of the company here yesterday. The report points out that prospects for agricultural, ranching, and general business prosperity have not been so bright in several years.

Abundant rainfall throughout the late fall and winter of 1930 and into the first months of 1931 have put a splendid "season" in the ground and with but slight spring and summer precipitation, all crops will have ample moisture for successful and profitable maturation.

Small grain, planted during the late fall of 1930, is up and gives every indication of an unusually large crop. It has been estimated that the 1931 grain production of West Texas will be increased over normal by approximately thirty per cent. Acreage sowed has been greatly increased over former years, and yield per acre should be substantially higher.

Cotton and other crops have not as yet been planted, although this work is going forward throughout the territory served by the company at the present time.

Cattle and sheep ranches are especially fortunate in having fine pasturage. Grass is heavy and high, and favorable market conditions will insure a prosperous year for the ranching industry.

General business conditions have experienced a slight improvement, according to reports from throughout the territory, and it is expected that the next sixty to ninety days will produce increasing volume for wholesale, retail and jobbing houses throughout the territory.

The report points out that considerable employment, lack of collateral for negotiating loans, and the poor condition of oil markets are the principal deterrents to improve conditions at the present time. It is felt that approaching harvest, resumption of oil activities, and anticipated large crops will have a striking effect on West Texas commerce and industry in the near future.

The West Texas Utilities Company makes a property-wide survey of general agriculture ranching and business conditions every thirty days. Covering a section some 45,000 square miles in area, this survey gives a composite picture of the estimated conditions in the territory served by the company.

LISTS COUNTIES FOR SEED LOANS FROM WASHINGTON

Dr. C. W. Warburton, Secretary of the National Drouth Relief Committee, announced today lists of the most of the counties which will be served by the Farmers' Seed Loan Offices at St. Louis and at Washington. These offices will handle funds provided for by the $45,000,000 appropriation for loans to farmers who suffered serious crop losses from drouth. These loans will be for the purchase of seed, fertilizer, feed for work stock, and for fuel and oil for tractors used in crop production.

The Secretary of Agriculture has authorized, Doctor Warburton also announced, the making of loans for the purchase of spraying and dusting material to protect crops, including orchard fruits, from insects and plant diseases. Amendments to the regulation governing the making of loans are being prepared to cover loans for these purposes.

From the Farmers' Seed Loan Office at 315 North 10th Street, St. Louis, loans will be made in all counties in Kentucky, in the southern part of Indiana and Illinois, in all except the extreme northern and northwestern counties in Missouri, in about 20 counties in southeastern Kansas, in eastern, central and southern Oklahoma, and in about 30 counties in Texas. The counties in which loans are authorized in Texas are as follows:

Texas: Archer, Baylor, Callahan, Clay, Childress, Coleman, Comanche, Cottle, Crosby, Dickens, Eastland, Erath, Fisher, Floyd, Foard, Garza, Hall, Hardeman, Haskell, Jones, Kent, Knox, Lubbock, Lynn, McCullough, Mitchell, Motley, Nolan, Runnels, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Taylor, Throckmorton, Wichita, Young.

ROAD BOND ISSUE PLACED BEFORE LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, Texas, April 1.—Described as the greatest relief measure ever placed before the state, the road bond issue amendment was a major issue on the legislative calendar this week, as it drew nearer final action.

Passage of the amendment, unanimously endorsed by the Citizens Good Roads Committee meeting here, is the solution to a problem brought about by an excessive property tax burden, in the opinion of leaders of the movement, who are interested both in the tax angle and the creation of a complete system of state highways.

Under the plan, outstanding county bonds, the proceeds of which were used to build designated state highways, would be refunded to the various counties. In this manner, approximately $85,000,000 would be lifted from the county books, with the resulting drop in taxation.

"The present economic crisis," said R. T. Stuart, chairman of the citizens committee, "demands that this amendment be passed. The people are struggling under such a tax burden that progress is stifled."

"Under this plan the counties will be paid back a dollar for dollar all they have put into state highways since 1917, when the highway commission was created. The burden will thus be shifted from property to the shoulders of the man who actually uses the highways, including the tourist. The motor fuel tax provided for takes care of this."

Of the proposed $200,000,000 issue, half would be used to retire county bonds, while the remainder would be used in furthering a five year road building campaign, the funds to be spent at the discretion of the legislature.

Farm Gardens, Poultry, Pigs, Cows Will Insure Sufficient Livelihood

Recently W. R. Beattie, Senior Horticulturist of the Bureau of Plant Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, in a nationally broadcast radio talk on the farm garden, stated that in every economic crisis through which the agriculture of any section of the country has passed the home garden and other sources of home food supply have saved the day.

When the boll weevil struck the cotton growing sections, Mr. Beattie pointed out, one of the first steps taken was to start a campaign for vegetable gardens, poultry, pigs and cows on every farm so that the land would at least provide a means of livelihood. Things haven't changed and the same principles apply today. The farmer, however, and his family, who plants and cultivates his own garden has a form of insurance against privation that is denied the city worker. In this respect he is far better off than the thousands of unemployed in the cities, many of whom left the farm at the time of industrial prosperity and are now looking wistfully back at the land.

"If everybody engaged in farming," Mr. Beattie said in his address, "will produce plenty of fruits, vegetables, milk and butter, poultry and eggs, home grown and home cured pork, also fresh meats to some extent, they can at least have a good living at home and that is more than a lot of people who are out of employment have today. But," says the pessimist, "that will only increase the difficulty and reduce the market for foods that are grown in a large way for sale."

Perhaps, provided the farmer has the money with which to buy the food, but suppose he does not have the money, what then? As a matter of fact, it is good business and economy to produce most of the living for the farm family and the hired help right on the farm.

In all parts of the country there are farsighted agricultural leaders who are in agreement with Mr. Beattie in preaching the advantages of making the farm as much as possible a self-sufficing unit; not only in these times of agricultural and general economic depression, but as a permanent agricultural policy. In South Carolina, Virginia, Arkansas and other states, statewide campaigns to bring about the planting of farm gardens are being actively pushed. In these campaigns the agricultural colleges and the states' home demonstration agents are taking a leading part.

A well planted and cared for half-acre garden produces more vegetables than the average family can eat, during the period when the crops are maturing. Carrots, late cabbage, beets, onions, parsnips, potatoes and turnips, can be grown and stored for use during the winter, thus cutting the winter food bills. One acre of garden was worth as much as 65 acres of cotton on a farm in Texas last year whose owner figured that the acre yielded a profit of $400.

It is not only from the point of view of cutting the family food bills, however, that the vegetable garden deserves a place on every farm. So much has been said and written about vitamins during the last few years that practically everyone knows they are essential to good health. Fresh, green vegetables are among the best sources of these invaluable vitamins, but entirely too frequently the farmer, busy with his money crops, feels that he has no time to bother with a garden even though his wife and older children may easily be able to take care of it once it is ploughed.

The result is that in many instances the farm diet is too much restricted to meat, potatoes and bread. Green vegetables, one of nature's best preventive medicines, have little place on the menu. The various deficiency diseases have a chance to creep in, breaking down health and stamina. Investigators have found that a large proportion of ill health in rural districts is traceable to the absence of a well balanced diet. No diet can be called well balanced that lacks an abundance of fresh, green vegetables.

A vegetable garden planted this spring will return ample dividends in health and in helping to make the farm family self-sufficing, able to weather any economic storm.

THE PLACE WHERE YOUR EASTER CREATIONS BEGIN

The gayest Spring function in Paris is held around the time of our own riotous carnival or Mardi Gras, in Dixie. But the Parisian "Bal de la Couture," or Dressmakers' Ball, although colorful and merry, has a more serious purpose. Besides serving as a sort of official consecration of the new fashions, it aids social welfare work by dividing the benefits of the fête among the charities of the dressmakers' syndicate.

This function is held at the Opera. Guests begin to pour into the immense hall at midnight, and the women's gorgeous dresses mingle with the gala uniforms of officers and formal evening attire of masculine escorts. Music of the "garde republicaine" alternates with that of about 20 other orchestras and jazz bands situated at various points in the lobby, the foyer, and throughout the hall.

Dances are opened by Europe's charming beauty queen and the queens of other continental countries who are enthusiastically acclaimed by their audience. A snowball battle scatters white flakes over the dancing couples. Toward the small hours of the morning, attractions are offered in the form of pantomimes, acrobatic stunts, conjurer's tricks, and humorous recitations. Then comes the long-awaited mannequin parade. Mannequins of each dress-making firm enter by groups, and make a sort of display of exquisite frocks and ensembles. A salvo of applause and cheering greets every showing, and the parade is usually climaxed by the entry of a well-known vedette with her girls who stage a pageant of music and dancing.

HEALTH AND MILK WEEK ANNOUNCED FOR APRIL 5-11

In accordance with an established custom, the State Department of Health again announces a Health Week for 1931 and has designated April 5 to 11 for that period. Last year the emphasis was placed on clean milk supplies in an effort to induce a higher per capita consumption of fluid milk, and the week will again be called the Health and Milk Week. Ninety-five Texas towns have adopted what is called the Standard Milk Ordinance by which their milk supplies are graded on the basis of quality. There yet remain 35 towns with populations between three thousand and five thousand people with no local milk regulations. This would be a good time to arouse interest in such regulations and request assistance from the State Department of Health in getting the program well started.

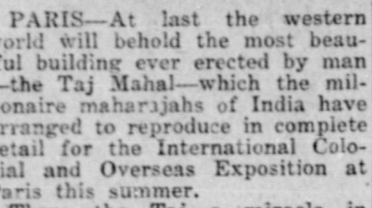

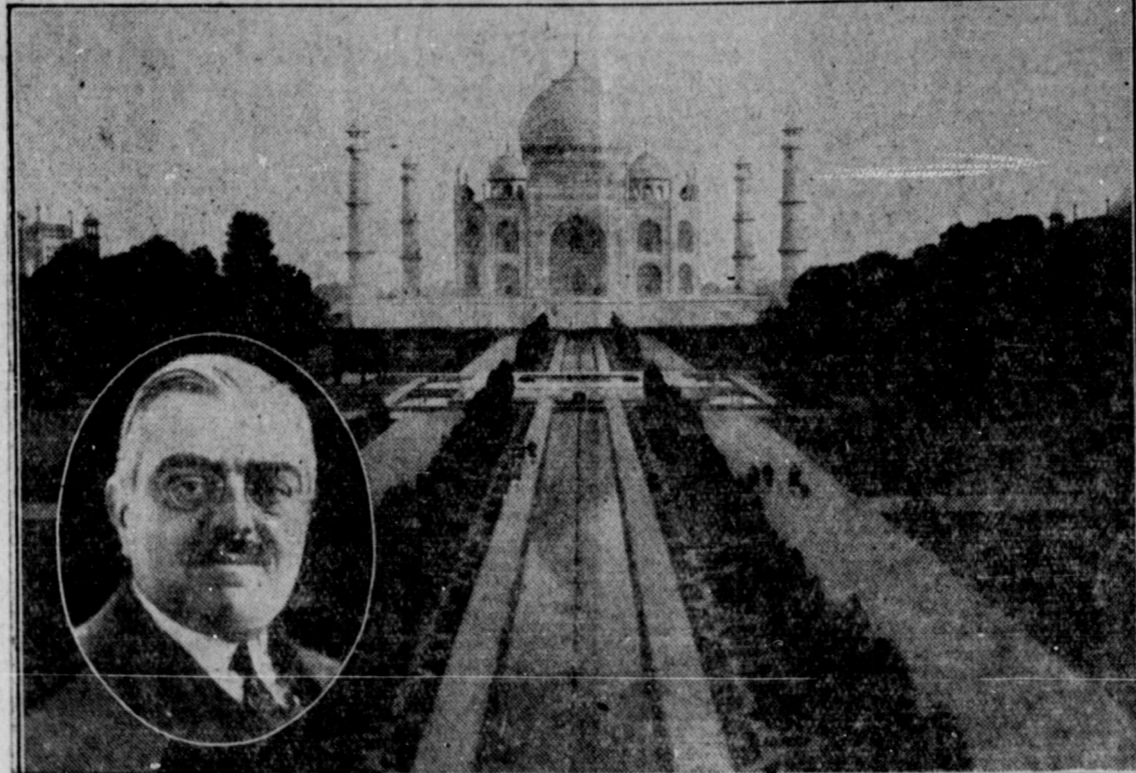

It is a good idea also to stage a clean-up week just as early in the year as possible. During that time all the old eye-sores, dirty horse and cow lots, vacant sheds that cause a fire hazard, vacant lots, rubbish heaps and the like can be given attention and the appearance of the town considerably improved. After getting a good start, a screening campaign can then be put on to protect human life against the inroads of the mosquito and the fly. If the right kind of sanitary ordinances are then passed and really enforced, health and clean-up will be an all-year affair instead of only one week in the fifty-two.

CLUB RECIPES

Stew:
Cut meat into cubes 1 or 1½ inches thick. Cook meat until bones will slip. Add onions and salt. If tomatoes, carrots, parsnips or turnips can be had, they may be added in the proportion of 1 cup each per pound. They should not be added until the meat is ready to go in the can, for pre-cooking and then processing discolors their original color. Potatoes are usually added, but since they can be preserved in their natural state or can be secured at all times, they have been omitted from this recipe:
12 lbs. stew meat
4 tsp celery seed
3 cups finely chopped onion
8 tbsps salt

Mince Meat:
5 c cooked beef
2½ c suet
6 lemons
6 oranges
5 c sugar
½ c vinegar
2½ c raisins
2½ c currants
1 tbsps. m.c.c.
2 tbsps. cinnamon
2 tbsps. allspice
2 tbsps. cloves
Soup stock sufficient to moisten. Bring to boiling point and pack in lacquered cans.

TAJ MAHAL GOES UP IN PARIS

PARIS.—At last the western world will behold the most beautiful building ever erected by man—the Taj Mahal—which the millionaire maharajahs of India have arranged to reproduce in complete detail for the International Colonial and Overseas Exposition at Paris this summer.

There the Taj—a miracle in whitest marble—will take its place beside America's Mount Vernon, Cambodia's Angkor-Vat, and Madagascar's Hovan palace in the most picturesque architectural exhibition in history.

The fortune required to reproduce the Taj in Paris has been advanced by the Aga Khan, the Maharajah of Kapurthala, and other Indian Princes who have agreed that the famous mausoleum at Agra is the finest example of the ancient culture of Hindustan.

The Taj Mahal has a history as poetic and charming as its own graceful minarets. It was built between 1629 and 1650 A. D. at a cost of many millions of dollars at the order of the Shah Jehan, to commemorate his great love for his favorite wife, Mumtaz-i-Mahal.

The name of the mausoleum means, literally, "crown of Mahal." The building contains the tombs of the mogul emperor and his consort. It is 130 feet square, while the great dome rises 170 feet above the ground. The Taj is surrounded by beautiful gardens, which also will be copied for the Paris exhibit. And the Taj at Paris will also display displays of Indian culture and civilization, together with the crown jewels of the Aga Khan and his princely colleagues.

Palo Duro Society Items

Notice! A cold meeting of the Palo Duro Literary Society at noon, Tuesday, March 24. Attention! The business at hand is the planning of a picnic to take place this night.

Just about 6:30 last Tuesday evening, March 24, the members of the Palo Duro Literary Society clambered into the Cadillac outside and away they drove to the hills.

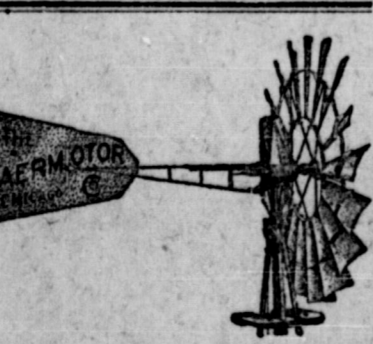

But then came the fun, imagine a night with myriads of stars but no moon, a cool breeze, not too cool, a group of happy fun-lovers and a portable! There you have it a nutshell the activities of the evening.

No, that is not all. Some of the 'gang' left here for other engagements. The majority, however, went to Kenneth Brown's home and—oh but let us spare the details—drank up all the city water—almost. Ten o'clock, more cookies. Ten-thirty, home. Ooooh! Blessed sleep.

SAILORS OF THE SKIES

Last Thursday morning chapel was announced for noon. The students wondered if it was for announcing Friday a holiday or if there would be a motion picture. It turned out to be both.

The name of this picture was "Sailors of the Skies." Everyone knows that airplanes are used to carry passengers and mail. These are not the only uses, however. The United States Navy is sponsoring them for defense.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the reel and were disappointed when the conclusion was given. Succeeding films are being anticipated with eager interest, and it is to be hoped that several pictures are yet to be shown.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND HAS BUSY PROGRAM OF WORK

The present High School band made its first appearance under the direction of Mr. Stephenson one year ago. When the bands were noted for the Junior College school children paraded. The band headed this parade. Although this organization is still composed of the same boys, it will hardly be recognized as the band of a year ago.

A concert and parade are to be held Saturday at Five o'clock. Those who saw the parade a year ago are especially invited to be on hand. We want them to notice the remarkable changes. A trip will be made to Plainview on Tuesday, 7. A trip to that city a year ago was the first out-of-town appearance of the band.

Our Weekly Church Chat

This is the silent doctrine of the Christian faith. Remove our Lord's resurrection, and Christianity will fall and crumble to nothing, for you take away the very keystone from this great arch. You thus prove Calvary, our preaching, faith, etc., to be in vain, and that we are yet in our sins. (See 1. Cor. 15:14-17)
 We rejoice that no event has prof, for Christ's resurrection is the basis of all we are and hope for. Against this doctrine the opposition of unbelievers has done as little damage as one bullet shot against the world's strongest fortress. Christ being our head, and we being members of His body, some day we shall follow the glory of our Head and share His triumph in rising from the tomb.

Christ, by His resurrection, has made death to us but an incident in a never ending life, and sanctified for us the grave. The victory is ours.

"O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. (1. Cor. 15:55-57).

Paul's illustration of the resurrection in 1. Cor. 15:37, is very beautiful. In burying the dead you do not sow the body that shall be. You sow a bare grain, but God gives it a body as it hath pleased Him, somewhat as He makes the little seed become a plant radiant with blossoms, or gives the little, insignificant acorn inconceivable glories by transforming it into a spreading oak.

The same God, who fashioned Adam out of the dust of the earth, can take the extraordinary dust of mortal man and fashion it into a perfect being in the resurrection.

"Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God; therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not. Beloved, now we are the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him, for we shall see His as He is." (1. John 3:1, 2.) W. E. FERRELL, Minister of First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.
