NO LOCAL AID ON TEXAS HIGHWAYS

NEW POLICY OF DEPARTMENT CONFIRMS UNUSUAL OFFER TO DONLEY

Making the exception in Donley County's offer a new policy for all Texas the State Highway Department Tuesday, announced from Austin that hereafter no Texas County would be asked to participate in the cost of building state highways. The Associated Press dispatch was as follows:

AUSTIN, July 5 (AP)—The State Highway Commission announced today it had abandoned the practice of requiring counties to furnish financial aid in the construction of state highways and had adopted a policy whereby construction costs would be borne by the state.

This announcement hushes forever the mouthings of the opposition that the department was dealing doubly with Donley County people with the intention of demanding at some hazy later date, a third of the cost of constructing Highway Five through the county, under the protective clause "when funds are available".

As stated often in the columns of The News, the department intended to do very much more for Donley County than it could openly say at the time the original offer was made, but now since the new policy is announced, there is nothing left for the skeptics to stand on.

The formal offer under the new policy was presented to the Armstrong County officials Wednesday and State Engineer Bailey gave The News assurance yesterday while in Clarendon that the amplified statement of the former offer would be made to the Donley County Commissioners Court next Monday, July 13th, at the regular monthly sitting of the court.

A new angle is now coming into the Donley situation, however, in that the department is able to buy the right-of-way and construct the highway on a new air-line location at a cost of no more or a little less than the total cost of building it on the offered location, with the county furnishing the right-of-way, by the saving in mileage. This, with the increasing pressure to connect the gap through Armstrong and Donley counties, makes it the more necessary that some prompt action is taken by the Donley County Commissioners.

Many citizens are anxious that the matter be settled at once for the double reason that the sooner construction work can begin in the county just that much sooner will the citizens receive the benefit of the money to spend in the work, and the further reason that most people are restive under the mixing of county politics in what is a simple matter of economics and progress.

The proposition of the department may be submitted in a communication to the Court, it may be brought here by Divisional Engineer W. J. VanLondon of Amarillo, or there is a remote possibility that the state engineer can be present next Monday.

If the state should get a refusal from Donley, there is a strong possibility that Clarendon, Lelia Lake and Hedley will be left somewhat to the north of the short-line route.

MRS. L. W. CHASE SUSTAINS BROKEN HIP IN FALL

Friends of Mrs. L. W. Chase will be sorry to learn she is confined to her bed following a fall in which she sustained a broken hip. While attending her house duties Tuesday she slipped on a round cane, throwing her heavily against the sharp corner of a piece of furniture. She is resting as easily as can be expected at the present time with physicians optimistic over her chances of recovery.

SMALL TWISTER DOES DAMAGE AT GOODNIGHT

Citizens of Goodnight and vicinity were disturbed and a little damage was registered late Tuesday afternoon when a small twister accompanied a ferocious looking cloud in the East Armstrong County city. Considerable damage was done to windmills and out houses at Goodnight. A heavy downpour was registered between Ashtola and Goodnight amounting to several inches.

At the regular meeting of the Aubyn E. Clark Post of the American Legion Tuesday evening Ralph Kerbow was elected to succeed Nathan Cox as Post Commander of the local organization. Mr. Kerbow has long been one of the leading workers in the Clarendon Post and has contributed no little to the success made by the group in the past.

Thirty Legionnaires were present and participated in the election which placed the following officers: C. Huffman, 1st Vice-Commander; Joe Holland, 2nd Vice-Commander; G. L. Boykin, Adjutant; Dick Chunn, Chaplain; Tom Tucker, Sergeant-at-Arms; C. J. Douglas, Service Officer; H. T. Burton, Historian; and C. B. Trent, Liaison Officer. The three members elected to the Executive Committee of the Legion are E. R. Andis, Ernest Hunt and Clarence Miller.

Candidates Will Speak at Gathering

On next Tuesday evening on the lawn of the First Presbyterian Church the county and district candidates will be honored guests of the Woman's Auxiliary at an old fashioned ice cream social to which the general public is most cordially invited and urged to be present. This will mark what is believed to be the final appearance of the candidates before the citizens of Clarendon and the surrounding communities before the date of election. The Clarendon Band will be on hand and will start the event off in fine fashion with a number of their characteristic tuneful melodies and stirring marches. The big party will get under way about 8 o'clock and every one is asked to mark July 12th on their calendar so nothing else will keep them away from this occasion.

The candidates will be the guests of the Woman's Auxiliary and will not be permitted to make any donations or contributions, something rather unique in the

Band Will Present Concert Friday Eve

Director Gus B. Stephenson has asked The News to announce that on this Friday evening from the bandstand in front of the old Grammar School building the Clarendon Band will offer its second out-of-door concert for the citizens of Clarendon and surrounding communities. The band has successfully weathered several setbacks and within the past few weeks has progressed at a fast clip. Never before has the local organization handled difficult and heavy pieces of music as at the present time. The director is especially anxious for as many of the citizens of the community as possible to come out tomorrow evening and enjoy a real peppy and delightful program of band and novelty numbers.

The concert will start approximately at 7:45 o'clock and will last about an hour, thus giving those who have other plans plenty of time to keep their engagements. A wonderful program has been planned and the best concert of the year is promised by this splendid band which is second to none in the entire West Texas.

"SHORTY" OWENS INJURED IN TRACTOR ACCIDENT

"Shorty" Owens, truck driver and well known local citizen, was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon near Childress when he was run over by a tractor. The accident occurred when he slipped from his footing on the machine and was thrown underneath the wheel as he was reversing the tractor. Reports from the hospital indicate his condition as serious, but the actual extent of his injuries are not known as yet, however an arm was broken in the fall.

Dr. C. G. Stricklin and family plan to leave for Drake, Colorado Friday morning where they will spend their vacation.

DONLEY CITIZENS MAKE LAST EFFORT ON NO. 66

Citizens of Donley County residing in Precinct No. 1, up around Jericho, are making a final effort to get Highway 66 routed on the South side of the Rock Island, according to Paul Reeves of Jericho.

Land holders along the route are offering to donate the necessary one hundred foot right-of-way and a citizens committee was preparing to go to Abilene, as The News goes to press, to confer with Chairman Ely, making a final appeal for the South side routing as they offer the routing free of cost.

Four members were absent at the first meeting of the new Rotary club year last Friday noon with Rotary President, O. L. Jenkins, presiding. In a short business meeting the resignation of Rotarian Robert S. Cope was read and accepted and an auditing committee composed of Rotarians

COUNTRY CLUB IN 4TH CELEBRATION

BETWEEN 450 AND 500 FOLKS FOLKS CONSUME 250 POUNDS OF CHICKEN

Possibly the largest and best handled Fourth-of-July celebration ever staged by the members of the Clarendon Country Club and their families and invited guests was had last Monday afternoon and night when close to five hundred folks thronged the Club grounds indulging in the various amusements offered by the organization.

The main attraction for the occasion was the mammoth chicken barbecue where 250 pounds of the fowl were turned to a tempting and delicious dark brown. It was declared by every one present that never before has there been a more tasty and better prepared barbecue than the chef's staff of Odos Caraway, and W. W. Taylor.

Plenty of accessories were provided by the members to make the feast complete in all its details. A fine plunge into the cool waters of the club lake provided entertainment before the barbecue was served while the assembled gathering enjoyed a marvelous exhibition of fireworks immediately following the meal.

This feature has become an annual feature of the Country Club celebration and members look forward to the beautiful display which is reflected into the smooth mirror of water as the bombs, and multi-colored sprays and rockets burst high over head. As in the past this part of the celebration was under the supervision of Barcus Antrobus, local explosive expert.

A stringed band beckoned the merry group of celebrators into the club house where a fine dance was enjoyed until the lateness of the hour drove the tired but happy holiday crowd to town and their respective homes.

ELLIOTT HATCH IS TOURNEY WINNER

REGINAL GREENHAW LOSES HARD FOUGHT MATCH ON SEVENTEENTH HOLE

Experience proved to be the deciding factor in the championship match Monday afternoon when Elliott Hatch of Amarillo premier golf artist of the Panhandle, won the Fourth Annual Clarendon Amateur Open Golf Tournament in a superb match with the sensational Memphis youngster, Reginal Greenhaw, three up and one to play. Eighty-nine of the finest golfers in west Texas participated in the tournament and displayed the fastest golf of any previous local tournament.

A sounder brand of golf, although not more brilliant, by the veteran Amarillo player, the result of years of experience, finally won after the hard hitting Memphis youngsters had matched stroke for stroke most of the afternoon. This marked the second time within a month Greenhaw had sailed through his bracket to the final only to lose the championship match. He was defeated last month by Billy Holmes of Shamrock in the Green Belt finals at Electra.

Hatch won his way to the finals by disposing of Jimmie Gamewell of Canyon 7-5; Al Cooke 3-2; and Dick Cooke 8-7, while Greenhaw was gaining the right to battle the Amarillo champ with easy wins over W. H. Cooke 6-5; Frank Foxhall, Memphis 5-4; and Ira Merchant, 7-6. In so doing both players shattered par figures all over the difficult Clarendon course. In the two days of the tournament Hatch displayed a dazzling brand of golf, setting an all time record with 12 strokes under par for the entire play. It was not until the last rounds did the champion take more than par on a single hole. His card for the tournament registered 14 birdies and two holes over par. The championship match with its highlights is found in the following paragraphs.

After having the first hole, Hatch sank a birdie four on the long second for the first advantage, which lasted very shortly as Greenhaw took the hole back on the third when Hatch's putter turned him down for the first time of the tournament. All the rest were halved until the difficult eighth when Greenhaw's sloping putt stopped past the cup. The first round ended with Hatch enjoying a one-hole advantage. Hatch added another birdie on the tenth to increase his lead to two up. Both players hit tee shots 300 yards on the five par eleventh and were at the edge in two and on in three, Hatch away. Hatch's put deflected into the cup from the side of the dragged sand and defaulted to Greenhaw's birdie. Both the twelfth and thirteenth were halved and each player got into trouble on the long fourteenth, with Hatch finally getting in first with a par five to regain his one-up lead. Greenhaw rammed home a long putt on 15 to halve. He repeated again on 16 to prolong the match.

Realizing a half would help the situation little, the hard-hitting Memphis ace played his second shot on the dog-legged seventeenth with a long wood. It was a beautiful and powerful shot and drew a round of applause

Special Service Is Set For Candidates

Amid the many calls that have come to the candidates, for the various offices in Donley County, comes an invitation from the First Christian Church, bidding each and every candidate to be present at a special service which will be conducted for them Sunday evening, July 17th.

The candidates have been conducting meetings and speakings all over the county for the past few weeks, and Rev. W. E. Ferrell, the pastor of that church, feels that they are entitled to a special program and is arranging one for their benefit. He believes that the real test of every religious, political or educational system is the man that it grows. His subject will be "The Duties of an American Citizen" and he promises some very interesting lesson for both "Candidates" and "Voters". There are duties and obligations for all parties to consider, lessons that should be instilled into the thinking of everyone.

Every American citizen should do all in his or her power to perpetuate the civic and religious blessings which are theirs by birth-right, and to hand down unimpaired to the latest posterity

THE CALL TO ARMS IN TEXAS

To arms, prohibition Democrats of Texas!

To arms, if you would save clean government, sober manhood and virtuous womanhood in Texas and the Nation.

On July 23rd a new battle with the forces of liquor will be fought at the ballot boxes of Texas, and there must be an arousing of the old time militant spirit, if we are to crush an enemy fresh from the illegitimate triumphs of state and national conventions.

When sober and upright citizens of Texas march to the polls Saturday, July 23, they will find there a separate ballot on which is written the proposition "for submission" of the proposal for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, and "against submission" of that threat for the open saloon.

Years ago the good men and women of the state and nation won their long battle for prohibition and better government, then feeling secure in their triumph, rested from their labors, while the minions of liquor and allied political graft began their sniping, mining operations against the constitution of the United States. Taking advantage of the unrest of the people in the great depression they bought many and fooled more into joining their organized demand for "beer", which means the saloon and unlimited liquor, so today we are faced with a new battle.

If we would keep the gains we have made—and they are myriad; if we would remain free from the power of the liquor gangs of graft and bootleg; if we would keep our streets and public places free from filthy, sickening drunkards; if we would give sober manhood and virtuous womanhood the opportunities of a modern day; if we would maintain a free government in these United States; if we would keep Texas clean and honorable then we must give battle, with sabre, rifle, bayonet and heavy artillery against this Outlaw of the Ages that dares rise in this our dark hour of national existence. We must fight not only a war of defense but a war of offense, with determination and enthusiasm.

Get ready for the fight. Strike down every opponent of the best in American home and political life. Give no quarter to those who would betray the party and the future of the boys and girls of America.

Fight! Fight! and Win!

THE BEST THING TO DO

Texas prohibitionists are somewhat at sea in their efforts to figure out the best course to pursue under present conditions.

The question arises whether to remain in the Democratic party in spite of the betrayal at Chicago, and fight out the question of prohibition in the congressional and senatorial elections, or whether to again join forces with the Republicans, whose platform is not quite so "wet", as it calls for law enforcement.

There is still another course open, and that is the frail chance of a third party with prohibition as its principal plank.

Since there is little hope in a third party movement just now, it looks as if the decision must come between the two old parties, and there can be little satisfaction in such a choice.

At the present time it would seem as if the most effective course open to Texas prohibitionists in the Democratic party would be to remain in the party and fight down every effort to submit the question of modification or repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and to send only such congressmen and senators to Washington who will vote such sentiments.

Prohibitionists have another task, and that is the eternal retirement of every member of the state executive committee who participated in the betrayal of the party in the recent state and national conventions when they "mis"represented Texas by voting for submission and repeal.

The Democratic party needs a housecleaning. Get your mop (ballot) and get busy.

THE IRONY OF POLITICS

Probably no example in the past fifty years of the irony of politics is so pointed as in the case of Al Smith at the recent Democratic convention in Chicago.

Consider the situation faced by Smith: Four years ago he was given the nomination for the presidency by the Democrats, but on a "dry" platform, which he immediately repudiated. Now the Democrats write a dripping "wet" platform and with contempt for Smith give the nomination to his bitterest enemy.

This is the irony of politics, and proves the fickleness of parties, platforms and popular acclaim.

TWO KINDS OF ORGANIZATIONS

Organization for the prevention of crime probably dates back to the first law to recognize marriage. The first organized effort to prevent disease must have come much later. Considering that it costs much less, organization to prevent disease has made the greatest progress. Today we prevent many contagious maladies that flourished less than two generations back.

True, we suffer epidemics that are hard to control and hard to explain, but we hold them down and finally master them; at least we can put our fingers upon the individual cases and watch that they do not spread from neglect.

Students of criminology have brains as great as students of medicine and health control. A disease germ can hide its identity and record with more success than a criminal, once caught. Many of the systems used by the police are more practical and more certain than those used for prevention and cure of disease.

Why, then, has organization to fight disease had more success than organization to fight crime?

There can be but one answer: Subordinates working for health are more conscientious, more intelligent, better informed in their work than the subordinates fighting crime. No one offers a medical student or a health officer a bribe to let a germ escape; to offer a policeman or a detective a bribe to let a lawbreaker go free is common.

More intelligence, more experience, a deeper feeling of responsibility in officers of the law will break up kidnaping, dope peddling, business racketeering and other pursuits that have become established on a large scale in this country.

Police schools are turning out men who will compete with doctors and health officers. State troopers are examples of what can be done. The divorce of police from politics would be a big factor.—Community News, Merchantville, New Jersey.

THE PEDDLER NUISANCE

House to house peddlers and solicitors of orders for this and that are becoming an even greater nuisance to the American home, as any housewife might truthfully testify. Still the housewife whose home is constantly invaded by these itinerant super-salesmen has the remedy in her own hands.

A timely suggestion along this line is made by Prof. Conrad, of the New Jersey Teachers' College, who points out that the peddler who boasts that his firm has no store is trying to make a store out of your home. You are expected to furnish a place where he may do business free from the expense which other merchants must pay.

Besides, he insists on making you shop at his convenience, no matter how much it may interfere with your daily routine. He takes up your time arguing you into buying something that in most cases you neither want nor need. Sometimes you buy to get rid of him, when you ought to say:

"This is a home, not a place of business, and I am not going to allow you to use it as a store. Good day."

That might seem rather inconsiderate. But it is one way of discouraging the peddler, who has not the slightest consideration for your peace and comfort, but uses your home as a market place, in unfair competition with home merchants who pay rent, taxes, license fees, and in other ways contribute to the welfare of the community.—Herald, Sauk Center, Minnesota.

TWO DEPRESSION BEATERS

Two outstanding "depression beaters" last year were the two greatest users of newspaper advertising space, the American Tobacco Company and the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

The American Tobacco Company not only did a greater business last year than ever before in its history, but its net profits exceeded those of any year, even those of the boom year 1929.

Atlantic and Pacific sold more than a billion dollars' worth of merchandise, moving into first place in the volume of business done by any one company in this country.—St. Louis Star.

While it is not a matter for immediate worry, Dr. W. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture informs us that the world is slowing down and that eventually it will rotate only once a year. When that happens, one side will be continually toward the sun and boiling hot, while the other side will be always solid ice. But this will come about very gradually and our little planet will probably remain fairly habitable for a billion years or more.

 By W. H. Darrow,

Special to The Clarendon News
 Heralding poultry profits in days of eight-cent eggs is not exactly popular writing. Yet so many poultry demonstrators working with county and home demonstration agents are making small profits that the truth might as well be told. Here's a typical one: Q. Rhoden of Conroe, Montgomery county, as 127 hens that average 18½ eggs each per month for the first six months of the monthly profit above feedaoni poultry year for an average monthly profit above feed cost of $19.65 for the flock.

Hogs, too, are down, but not 36 club boys of Taylor county who are building self-feeders out of scrap lumber for 10 cents apiece, from which their hogs will be fed for killing, curing and selling from the farm, under a trade mark the boys are devising.

Interest in a few good sheep to each farm is taking hold in Red River county where the county agent reports an importation of a few registered Hampshire bucks and ewes. A buck circle similar to bull circles is planned for breeding up the grade flocks.

A use for old blue overalls and shirts has been found by home demonstration club women in Willacy county. Cut into narrow strips such material makes into desirable hooked rugs. Since long wear has softened the harsh color, good color blending is obtained without dyeing.

Gwendolyn Whitaker, Clay county 4-H club girl, is making tomatoes take the place of fruit this year. She has set out 1400 plants. Fifty other club girls in the county have set out 8,000 plants.

ASHTOLA

VOTERS URGED TO BACK DRYS

PROHI LEADERS OF TEXAS IN STATEWIDE APPEAL TO DEMOCRATS

DALLAS, July 6.—Leaders of the Texas ultra dry faction today issued a plea for Democratic voters opposed to repeal or modification of the prohibition laws to enter the statewide primary election July 23 and cast their votes for dry candidates for all officers.

Urge All To Vote
 "We urge all Democratic voters who are opposed to legalizing the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, and favor preservation of the Eighteenth Amendment, to vote for dry candidates for Congressman-at-Large, for district congressman, for governor, and for all state and county officers and members of the Legislature," the statement said.

"In view of the movement to destroy our prohibition laws, we feel that no dry Democrat can afford to stay out of the primaries. Our party must not be surrendered to the domination of the outlawed liquor traffic."

No Loss of Rights
 The statement said participation in the primary election would not interfere with the right of the voter to be guided by his conscience in casting his ballot at the general election.

"We feel that the referendum on the question of the submission of prohibition repeal should not have been submitted at this primary by the Democratic state executive committee. Its submission has resulted in widespread protest and confusion among Democratic voters."

"In a number of leading dry counties of the state, county executive committees have refused to provide the ballots and other machinery for this referendum, so that no vote on the question can be had."

People Unprepared.
 "Submitted without notice, when the people were unprepared for such a contest, the vote on this referendum can be little more than a straw vote."

"We urge that this liquor referendum be ignored by Dry Democrats. It cannot have any real significance, or constitute any reliable index to the views of the people."

Signers of the statement also urged all drys to attend the statewide conference called by Alvin S. Moody of Houston for next Saturday at Dallas.

in recommending him to the voters of Clarendon and Donley County for the office of County Judge.

We recommend him first for what he is. His many years of living among us speak more than a few well chosen words.

Second—for his ability to fill the office to which he asks election.

Third—his views regarding financial interest of the County. He believes in a reduction of county officials' salaries in proportion to the taxpayers ability to pay them. He believes the Commissioners Court should reduce expenses any time the revenue of the county is reduced. He believes that the best way to get out of debt is to stop going in debt. He believes any bond issue would be an absurd idea at this time.

We ask your sincere investigation of the above statement, and wish to state that we will support him because we believe him to be safe, sound and economical.

Suppose you came suddenly upon two roads. One straight, well-trodden... the other thin and twisting off into undergrowth. If you didn't want to arrive at any place in particular, you might choose the latter. But not otherwise.

Before you, as buyer, run two roads. One is the road of knowledge of an advertised product. Thousands use it. There's no mystery about it, no doubting, nothing hidden. It leads the way definitely to a product that will give you satisfaction. When you use an advertisement, you use an open road.

When you don't use advertisements, you go the doubtful road. You have only hazy knowledge of the product ahead. No trade-mark or name to depend upon guides you. The results may not be worth the effort. You don't know.

Read the advertisements. Anything widely advertised has proved itself good by advertising.

Advertisements put you on the open road to Satisfaction.

A Lovely Surprise Party

Mrs. Jonnie Huffman of New Mexico who is visiting with relatives in our city was the pleased honoree of a lovely surprise birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Martin with Mrs. Don Martin acting as assistant hostess, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Huffman were quite overcome with surprise and joy at the thoughtfulness of her brothers and sisters and received a number of lovely gifts at the time, some being from out-of-town friends. Shortly after assembling Mrs. Huffman was presented with the gifts in a very clever way. The family and friends then spent the remainder of the time visiting and recalling numerous incidents of the past, during the full in the games of '42.

ZONE S. S. AND B. T. S. PICNIC

Monday evening, a happy group of some 175 people from Hedley, Lelia Lake, and Clarendon met on the lawn of the Lelia Lake school house for a picnic celebrating the 4th of July.

The workers at Lelia planned and directed the entertainment. When all had arrived, the crowd was divided into three groups, Junior, Intermediate, and Senior-Adult, with leaders in charge of each group.

With the Senior and Adult groups, the autograph hunt banished all stiffness and resulted in a number of new acquaintances. If there was still any lingering memory of the "Depression," the "pillow relay" banished it. In that and the succeeding contests, the Senior and Adults were pitted against one another. Needless to say, an intense rivalry soon appeared.

One of the high points of the evening was the "bear race" between the preachers as their supporters cheered them.

With appetites whetted by the out-door exercise, the group needed no second call when the picnic lunch had been spread.

SUNNY VIEW

Today is a fine clear day. Farmers who are not attending the Rodeo this 4th of July are busy plowing and killing weeds.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Behrens and family left here Saturday after a two weeks visit with his parents and other relatives. They will visit her mother at Temple Texas for a few days before starting for their home at Nashville, Tennessee where Prof. Behrens has taught school for 3 years and has the school for this next term. He reports farmers and truck gardeners are making a fairly good living and garden truck has never been finer there, but folks of the big city who have no steady work are in distress, seemingly more so than here in the west.

Master J. R. Morgan and small sister, Silvia Fay of Goldston, spent Saturday night and Sunday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brame.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Bogard and children attended Sunday School Sunday and were dinner guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bogard.

Mrs. J. A. Cox and son of Memphis and nephew, Howard Cox of Eli, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brame, Jr. W. H. Cox who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Brame, returned to Memphis with them for a visit before going to his home at Gainesville in time to vote the 23rd of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Estlack called on Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lanham Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Sam Roberts and son Ray, drove to Amarillo Friday and did some shopping, they called on Mrs. J. H. Roberts while there. Mrs. Roberts has been very ill but is better at this time.

We folks of this community extend our hearty thanks to Mr. Roy Beverly, County Road Commissioner for the good road he has built up for us between Neal Bogard and Heckle Starks farms. We have lived here 14 years and this is the only work ever done on this road, repair was badly needed as this road was traveled lots and was in a badly washed condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan of Goldston spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Brame. F. L. Behrens is at Spearman working in the wheat harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Rascoe of Memphis visited with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Roberts Sunday.

LOTTERY BRIDES

Do you want to take a chance and hope you will lose? Two post-debutantes are about to make their final plea for matrimony. Two of Clarendon's most desperate maidens are going to attempt to be LOTTERY BRIDES. It is a lottery that will be handled secretly and with as much graft as possible. The tickets will be sold at ten cents each and no more than twenty-five to any single man. The qualifications are rigid, READ THIS YOUNG MEN before buying tickets—

1. Ages between 17 and 57.
2. You must not have an obnoxious mermaid tattooed on your chest.
3. You must be a wage earner or willing to be supported by your father-in-law.
4. You must have some interesting recreation to occupy all your time as dominoing, fishing, golf, tennis, whittling, or yodeling.
5. You must never have had your picture and finger-prints exhibited in any public place like the Post Office, Court House, or Depot, with "WANTED" underneath them for Manslaughter, Wife Desertion, or Kidnapping.

Only 5000 tickets will be sold on these LOTTERY BRIDES. The drawing will be held the last Tuesday in August in the canal at midnight. The girls are hoping that there will be enough money made to buy marriage licenses and transport the couples to the Mecca for all Clarendon Marriages, Hollis, Oklahoma.

Note: I forgot to mention that if any married man want to buy lottery tickets they will be twenty-five cents. The extra will be used to pay their wives Heart Balm, and to defray the lawyer's fees.

A brief description of the stakes are:

Prize No. 1—Tall, languid, quasi-sophisticated blond. She just adores city life. I think she would make some urban boy a very discontented wife.

Prize No. 2—Has hair like an animated mop, and a scraggly laugh that most people detest.

Prize No. 3—(This prize was thrown in as the last resort so there would be an incentive for people to want to win). A 1917 janked Ford touring car.

I am still running for CON-STABLE-at-LARGE, but there has been many difficulties. In the first place I don't know where I stand on the SOLDIER'S BONUS or what I would do about it if I were elected and that is one thing that CANDIDATES must talk about. Another thing is the way DUDE GENTRY refused me when I asked him to be one of my campaign managers. I was just trying to be kind when I asked him for I thought he might enjoy it.

her home at Dallas last week after a two weeks visit with her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Behrens and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Heckle Starks were dinner guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Starks Sunday.

Have you seen the PREHISTORIC RHINOCEROS SKULL, MASTODON'S JAW BONE and HUMERUS, TIP of a MASTODON'S TUSK and RHINOCEROS TOOTH in a "BLOCK"? If not go down and look in the window at Stocking's Drug Store and you can find out what the bones of the first families of this section of the country looked like. I'll let you in on a secret if you are interested in OLD BONES of any kind, say you are interested in PALEONTOLOGY, and people will think you know lots more about them than you do.

POINDEXTER and I were talking after the golf tournament about a very dear friend of ours and POINDEXTER asked me if I knew what his initials, H. B., stood for. I said I didn't for sure, I knew that he was called BENNET but perhaps that was a nickname. POINDEXTER told me in the most strict confidence that H. B. stood for HAS BEEN and has something to do about his golf.

The CFY EDITOR of the Pampa Daily News wrote to tell me that he wouldn't have my GOAT on a bet. He didn't realize how sad I have been over losing NANNY or I don't believe he would have mentioned her. My partners double-crossed me—the swindlers sold my only possession and pocketed the money.

THE SECOND FLOOR TOOTH DOCTOR is looking very dejected, if you read a certain LOCAL and find out that Dorothy is gone for the rest of the summer it will explain it all.

"HUMILITY"

Humility is a flower of a plant set by divine hands. The heathen world knew nothing about this virtue. God delights in this outstanding virtue, humility. He is "night unto them that are of a broken heart, and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit" Psa. 34:18.

Our divine Master frequently taught and exemplified this fine virtue. He said: "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven" Matt. 5:3. He frequently commended humility and said: "Every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled, and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted" Luke 14:14. Except ye turn and become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven" Matt. 18:3. He took a towel, girded Himself, poured water into a basin and washed His disciples feet, John 13:15, 5. Peter wrote: "All of you gird yourselves with humility, to serve one another; for God resisteth the proud but giveth grace to the humble. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time." 1 Pet. 5:5,6.

It is to be feared that oft time humility is sadly lacking and instead there is much contention for pre-eminence. Many would rather stand receiving the plaudits of their followers, than like the Master, bend at their feet as a slave.

To cultivate this virtue, men need to fix their thoughts upon the Lord. Not that there is much virtue in the recognition of our littleness. "It is no great humility for a fly to esteem itself nothing in comparison to a mountain, nor for a drop of water to hold itself nothing in comparison of the sea; nor for a spark of fire to hold itself nothing in respect to the sun." Yet it is well to place ourselves along side of Omnipotence, for thoughts of God's greatness leads to a deep consciousness of our nothingness.

Sunday morning our subject will be: "Humility" and we hope to bring a lesson regarding this great virtue that you will long remember. Sunday night our subject will be: "Neglect" and this is a very interesting lesson for everyone.—W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

WHY Does Laundry Washing Save $$$

because Wet Wash Service is exactly what home washing gives. You pay from 50c to 60c for the average family washing.

COUNTING— soap, powder, bluing, starch, gas water, repair and depreciation on equipment, interest on investment, etc; the equivalent of this work done at home would cost approximately $1.15

It is this substantial difference in cost that is daily prompting new customers to obtain from the laundry a better quality of work for less money. It will pay you to make this comparison, and to be one of our many customers.

For the 156th consecutive year the United States have celebrated the Declaration of Independence when George Washington sopped the championship battle from Cornwallis, England's foremost entrant in the series of Colonies' championship tournament at Yorktown, with the French navy affording the gallery for the final match in the series of struggles. Determination, unmatched generalship and a large order of luck turned the trick and every since then she's been a great day for the peoples of the United States. Thanks again, George, for the holiday—even if I did get a severe sun burn.

Too bad George couldn't have been in Clarendon and seen just how real folks celebrate his great win. Of course in this day of financial strife and under the Republican rule of prosperity we couldn't have furnished him with silver dollars to throw, but what a time he could have had watching the golf match and the rodeo. Or perhaps he would have received a kick from the Hedley-Lelia Lake base ball games or even a swim and the chicken barbecue and the display of fireworks at the Country Club. Every one had plenty to do and everybody did it to the utmost of pleasure. It was a great day and this column hopes every one enjoyed it equally as much as we did.

The golf tourney was the most successful ever held here. Everybody had the time of their lives and absolutely no friction of any sort was experienced during the tournament. A wonderful field of golfers provided competition a great deal faster than the Green Belt Association and all complimented Wesley Knorrp, Carl Parsons and W. S. Bagby on the smooth manner in which the tournament was handled. Welcome back next year, visiting golfers.

lad gets the necessary results with the one he has. We imagine he thought that out on No. 12 Monday.

The rodeo certainly was a whingdilly, according to those of the large crowd that attended the event. Plenty of cowboys and plenty of spills were registered throughout the day, and it was declared by many to be one of the best events ever staged in Clarendon.

This Sunday afternoon the baseball fans of Clarendon and Donley County will get to witness a fast brand of ball on the Chamberlain diamond when the Chamberlain nine is host to the fast Lela Club of the Wheeler County baseball league. Last week the Chamberlain team whipped the Berger Buddies all over the new Berger ball park to the tune of 11 to 4 in an upset behind the masterful twirling of Gus Stephenson and tight defense of the Chamberlain infield.

Lela is bringing a powerhouse attack and a capable pitching staff, which have been victorious this season over Shamrock, Wheeler, Wellington and several other first-rate clubs of this section. The main spring in the hurling department is Jack Knight, veteran major and minor league pitcher. The game probably will begin about 3 o'clock and a large crowd is expected to witness the diamond battle. The Chamberlain club is prepared to meet the best the Wheeler County nine has to offer and is anxious to add another victory to its growing string.

The tennis tournament announced for this week is postponed awaiting the return of Frank Stocking to the city from his summer vacation in central Texas. It was thought the athletic coach would be back in a short time but after six weeks he still is out of the city, and for that reason the tennis fans of Clarendon must wait until Frank returns to our fair city.

Reginal Greenhaw, young Memphis ace linksman, certainly won the hearts of all Clarendon and the visiting golfers with his remarkable play throughout the Annual tournament here. The youthful Greenhaw appeared at his best and capably and artistically disposed of such golfers of note as Bill Cooke, Frank Foxhall and Ira Merchant with such ease as to make the gallery gasp with surprise. He is a wonderful golfer at the present and with a few years experience we predict there won't be any in the entire west Texas who can compete with the Hall County flash.

Not the least of his virtues is the unassuming attitude on and off the course. It is a fine thing to meet a fellow with ability who still can command the respect of the public without a visible show of bigotry.

Just as popular however is Elliott Hatch of Amarillo, conqueror of Greenhaw. The golfing citizenship of Clarendon appreciate Elliott's appearance in the tournament and are still marveling at the ease and skill with which he negotiated the local course. His record of 19 under par for a tournament will likely stand for quite a spell as this has never been duplicated before. It's a pleasure to watch golf played as this master strokesman can play it.

For the benefit of Mrs. Ira Merchant we make the following suggestion to Reenal. Elizabeth thinks the name "Greenhall" would be lots "prettier" than Greenhaw, however Ira is of the opinion that the name makes little difference as the Memphis

"I received your letter telling me I had better pay up. I am railroad agent here and received the letter you wrote the agent."

"I am president and sole owner of the local bank and can assure you of my financial standing."

"As the mayor of the city, I hesitate to refer you to a lawyer, since I am the only member of the bar in this vicinity."

"If I were not the pastor of the only church here, I would tell you to go to hell!"

The world's 100-yard and 100-meter dash records have been equaled by at least nine men. Although Williams of Canada; Page of England; Joubert of South America; Wykoff, Tolan, Kiesel, and Metcalf of the United States hit the tape at the same speeds, according to the watches, officials at the Xth Olympiad, July 30 to August 14, will not be expecting a tie. For one-tenth of a second in the modern race means approximately one yard. Runners, being timed to an accuracy of one-tenth of a second, may clock the same, but be anywhere from a foot to a yard apart.

How to catch that shade of difference within less than one-tenth of a second when the runners of nine or more Olympic lemons of speed cross the finish line is a knotty problem. Not half as knotty, however, as the technical details of communications and statistics in the Xth Olympiad, tells us, as some of the other very technical brain-twisters presented to the modern officials.

Borrowing an example from the intercollegiate of last year, the technical experts have developed a device which will time a one-hundredth of a second in the contraption is a mechanical rick events of one mile or less. timer checking the human element in timing. An electric clock started by an electric contact made by the starter's pistol; a photographic apparatus to automatically film the hands of the synchronous clock at the finish line and the flying bodies of the runners; a few minutes of film-developing and technical mystery;—and the race is checked to one-hundredth of a second.

They Don't Bother Their Heads
When the ancient tunic-clad official hiked down the dusty path of the Olympia every fourth year, he carried a mean-looking rod of authority, but no stopwatch.

With slaves to do the dirty work, leisure for the high moguls and such who ruled the Olympic Games was plentiful. Time meant little. Who won?—was the question.

Given a good birch rod and power to inflict $1200 (modern exchange for old) fines, the official of old managed very nicely in settling any arguments by athletes over the decisions. Significantly a whole row of bronze images were built from fine money on the sacred Altis and dedicated to Zeus, the Greeks' All-High Podunk, ruling heaven and earth.

Pearce of Australia
One of the many Olympic luminaries interested in new methods of timing is Bob Pearce, who was crowned the world's single sculls champ at Amsterdam in 1928. Bob, a mere 250 pounds of Australian huskiness, arrived yesterday by way of Canada. Lost amid some 1,250,000 inhabitants of Los Angeles, Pearce admitted a distinct feeling of relief on uncovering the Olympic Committee officers in the downtown wilderness of steel and stone.

Big-boned, red-faced, and handsome, Pearce is an Olympic athlete by birth, strange to say. Father and Grandfather Pearce were both Olympic sculls champions. Pattering after Papa Pearce, Bob fairly lifts his shell from the waters of the Long Beach Marine Stadium where he is practising.

Professional Battle
Bob's father is due to arrive shortly by way of Hawaii. He will act as coach for his son and Major Goodsell, former Australian, and resident of world-famous Beverly Hills, movieland residential center, near Los Angeles. Goodsell held the world's professional single sculls championship from 1924 to 1927. Ted Phelps of England now holds the crown. Phelps, whose expenses to California have been guaranteed, is due to battle Goodsell for the crown and a $2500 winner-take-all purse next Labor Day on the Long Beach course. A huge crowd is expected to attend the match, rowed on one of the finest courses in the world. Where the Olympic rowing tussles will be fought. But five minutes from the Yachting Course and from the historic spot where Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo beached his rude ships-boat and claimed this sunny region in the name of Spain.

Hundreds of thousands of spectators will find room in a half-mile-long grandstand and parking space along this 2,000-meter course, overlooking beautiful Alamitos Bay, miles of white and spreading beaches, and snow-capped peaks to the northeast.

N. B. Information regarding the Olympic Games may be obtained by writing to the Inter-Collegiate Olympic Games News, 231 So. Spaulding Dr., Beverly Hills, California.

FACTS ABOUT ALCOHOL
The following statement of facts was prepared by Miss Bertha R. Palmer, superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction of the state of North Dakota, and is here reprinted from the Union Signal:

1. The alcohol in beer, wine, and ale is the same alcohol that is in whiskey. It is the alcohol that is injurious;

2. It never satisfies the appetite it creates;

3. It is not a food but a habit-forming drug;

4. It cures no disease, therefore it is not a medicine;

5. It is always a narcotic, even in small quantities; it is a never a stimulant;

6. It depresses the nerve centers long before the effect can be noticed by observers; it reduces self-control and causes confusion in thought and judgement. Therefore, the person who has taken one drink is a dangerous driver on a street or highway.

7. Beer is the most harmful of alcoholic drinks because it is the most seductive—no other leads so easily to intemperance.

For nearly one hundred years the people of the United States tried to regulate the liquor traffic by laws, licensed saloons, local option, state dispensary, state prohibition. But the brewers violated all laws aimed at controlling the sale of alcohol. By 1919 state prohibition was effective in twenty-seven states; before national prohibition was adopted thirty-three states were dry.

The Congress that submitted the Eighteenth Amendment to the state legislatures voted better than three to one on the question. Thirty-six states (three-quarters of the Union) ratified the Amendment in one year and twenty-eight days; forty-six states have ratified; the shortest time in the history of the United States and the greatest majority by which any amendment to the Federal Constitution has been made. Of the 92 state bodies ratifying, 21 voted unanimously; in 4 states, both bodies were unanimous; since then, repeal measures have succeeded in only five states. In the last legislative season, 13 states had no wet bills to consider; of the 115 wet bills introduced in the other states 104 were defeated; of the 11 which passed, 5 were in New York. In eleven years the United States Supreme Court has returned more than 40 decisions favorable to the dry law.

"They say" there is a growing sentiment for repeal; but the voters do not show it. The Hoover-Smith campaign in 1928 was a referendum, for Governor Smith and other wet leaders made their campaign upon the prohibition issue.

"They say" there is more liquor sold in 1931 than in 1919. If this is true, then repeal would hurt the brewer's business. If this is true, then legitimate business should cease to advertise, close front doors to customers, and sell only in hidden places and in dark alleys.

In ten years the Eighteenth Amendment has closed over 507 distilleries, 170,000 open saloons, 224 out of 275 liquor cure hospitals, 1247 breweries which made 1,800,000,000 gallons of beer each year, made the liquor traffic an out-law—it cannot advertise, cannot collect bills, cannot occupy a good corner, and its operators are criminals.

"Judge by what it has done, instead of what it has failed to do, prohibition is an abounding success." Its enemies fail to state that the evils they denounce are chiefly due to their own unscrupulous efforts to defeat a law that they cordially hate. Do not get your facts from headlines in wet newspapers. Remember a few people shouting make more noise than millions who remain silent.

When his foot caught in the crotch of a tree, Armand Echman of Maple Valley, Washington, hung head down and had to endure a cow's kisses until he was rescued.

Bits Of WASHINGTON'S Current Comment

Special to The Clarendon News

An account of the doings at Washington this week may properly be headed by mention of President Hoover's important re-entry into world affairs. At a time when economy is necessary along all lines, he suggests that the nations should cut armaments one-third. He offers definite suggestions, and it is estimated that, under his plan, a saving of fifteen billion dollars may be effected. The relief bill, broadened considerably from its original form, has passed the Senate. By its terms, more than two billion dollars will be allocated for the purpose which the title of the measure indicates. The states will be loaned three hundred million dollars. A billion and a half will be available for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and five hundred million for public works. The House is entitled to have its say in the matter. It is the hope of the President that before the measure becomes a law, something may be done in the way of eliminating appropriations to the extent of about a billion dollars for works which are considered to be non-productive. Up to the present time, there has been no definite action in regard to compelling federal employees to chip in their share toward the relief of the existing pinch. The House inclines to the view that, rather than cut salaries, it will be best to make a furlough of one month compulsory, with a corresponding saving, since the furlough will be without pay. The serious subject of enforced idleness may be lightened by reference to a government employee of German extraction, who, upon return to his job after being laid off for a while, used to say "My off is all", which being interpreted, means "My vacation is done." The bonus marchers are arriving and departing, and it is hard to say just what their numerical strength really is. Upon the whole it seems safe to state that the ranks have been thinned appreciably. The rising of the temperature thermometer, as the summer ripens, coupled with the falling of the thermometer of hope, probably will reduce the army to a handful before long. If any one expected the bonus marchers to be riotous assemblage, he was disappointed. Washington has never seen a more orderly gathering, which is especially remarkable, since hunger in many instances, and need in practically all of them, was the motive that put the caravan on foot. Having disposed of the bonus business, and other important measures, Congress is willing to rest from its labors, as soon as this can be done decently, and with due regard to the work which the people expect the legislative branch to perform. It seems certain, however, in view of pressure both within and without the Capitol, that the solons will remain in session until they can leave without having to apologize too much for the things that they have left undone.

The Spanish have started to reclaim sixty thousand acres of land in Africa. The project suggests the thought that the so-called Dark Continent is one place in the world where there is still thousands of square miles of unpopulated territory. Under the touch of science and engineering, the scepter may yet pass to Africa. The day may come when statesmen will wait for the deciding word from Cario, rather than from Paris, Berlin, London or Washington.

Considering that the ship of state is said to be sinking, there is an amazing number of both Democrats and Republicans who look forward to next November as affording an opportunity for them to man the pumps. Ordinarily, no one cares for the task of saving the ship that is headed for the bottom. There may be less water in the hold than pessimists have led us to think.

How can the world avoid the troubles that arises from things forgotten? Perhaps by entrusting to mothers more of the matters that ought to be remembered. Mothers seem to have pretty good memories. For more than a quarter century, a California woman has sent annually to Alaska, a wreath to be laid on the grave of her son in the frozen north.

A very good indication of the extent to which the country is watching its pennies just now is found in the instance of a public

Mexico has recently been accorded full honors of original membership, that leaves without the pale Soviet Russia and—the United States.

Spanish newspapers in New York have announced the issuance of $5,000,000 bonds of the 'Republic of Puerto Rico' by the Nationalist Party of the island, the proceeds to be used in gaining independence. As an investment they will probably be as good as most of our foreign loans at present. Our total of $300,000,000 loans to Chile are now worth five cents on the dollar, and will be worth still less if the communists oust President Davila again.

A New York artist returning from the South Seas says that Tahiti is over-run by bootleggers and authors; that one can tell them apart because the bootleggers have money; that the Dutch island of Bali near Java "is prettier than Tahiti and the natives much superior."

A golf club in the hands of W. C. Moore, an attorney of Dillon, N. C., acted somewhat like a boomerang a few days ago. Saying to a companion, "Just watch me when this one," whom it he did, and the club in some manner rebounded to fracture the whammer's jaw.

EDITORIAL

There is still an unsettled question in the minds of tire dealers, as to how the U. S. excise tax will be applied on tires and tubes. Frankly, it is: Whether the tax applies on tires manufactured after midnight, June 20th, or whether the tax applies to all tires, regardless of when manufactured, but sold to the ultimate consumer after date of June 20.

Now, Firestone dealers will meet any tax competition that may become necessary, even though we, Firestone dealers, must pay the tax for you, the purchaser, on each Firestone tire or tube you now buy.

Until we are positive that the tax is effective on our present stock acquired before June 20th, we offer you all Firestone tires and tubes TAX FREE. If we find we are mistaken we will gladly pay the U. S. excise tax on each Firestone tire or tube bought from us.

We reserve the right to change the prices quoted in this advertisement, at any time when we may become informed that the tax is not operative as we interpret.

We urge you to drive in as soon as possible, that you may save this additional cost on tires and tubes. If we are wrong, it is your gain and we won't complain.

Cub Lion B. N. Shepherd was duly initiated into the mysteries of the organization by the regular Tuesday luncheon of the Clarendon Lions Club by Lion J. R. Porter instructed the cub that it was customary to make a new member as uncomfortable and embarrassed as possible until another cub was brought into the club. The new member was also charged with the responsibility of Lions H. T. Burton and O. C. Watson, members of his congregation. The usual speech was made and the cub was fined to the extent of $2.50, which he asked Lions Burton and Watson to take care of.

Boss Lion Boykin called upon District Governor Sam M. Braswell to make a report upon his recent visits to the various Lions Clubs of the District from Shamrock to Big Springs and El Paso. Hyer of Fort Worth was made after which the club adjourned with the singing of the first verse of "America".

POLITICS AND PERSONALITIES

Special To The Clarendon News

"Pete" Holland for President will be the slogan of some party in 1972. For the youngest page in the House of Representatives, Charles L. Holland, 12, of Illinois, has announced his candidacy for the Presidency forty years from now. Apparently impressed with the number of recent books dealing with the business career of Mr. Hoover, this precocious candidate looks up my record, and bring to light all the secrets of my up-date says that he intends "to give lic and private life."

The biggest bomb which has hit the capitol in many a day was the "I will not" of Senator Borah when asked if he would support President Hoover on the Chicago platform. The question was put during his discussion on the Senate floor of the Republican wet or dry plank. We shall soon expect to hear that Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler will bolt the ticket in fact we often wonder whom he voted for in 1928. Faced by years of wrangling over legal theory, we may well envy our neighbors in the Republic of Columbia. This South American Republic adopted partial prohibition, tried it for ten days, decided it wouldn't work, abolished it immediately by presidential decree.

The day after the United States Tariff Commission reported to the Senate that the fall in prices had resulted in raising the specific tariff duties in the Hawley-Smooth Act 26 percent over their 1930 levels, the Argentine Government inaugurated a policy of tariff preferences for British goods. The first reduction was 50 percent on whiskey.

Another national convention will be held in Cleveland in July. A third Party will be launched. At least so we are told by Dr. John Dewey, philosophy professor at Columbia University and chairman of the League for Independent Political Action. We are sympathetic, but doubt if there are enough voters who can remember the name of the League to make up a party. in the capital's only liberal journal, The Washington Daily News.

If Amos and Andy should soft pedal their "repression" dialogue or suddenly break forth with means for prosperity, you may blame the White House. A New York financial paper has taken seriously the report that Mr. Hoover has politely suggested to the radio comedians that they "Brighten Up the Corner" a bit during the campaign.

Senator Couzens of Michigan, arch foe of skulduggery on the part of transportation and communications big business, thinks that railroad officials should cease drawing Coolidge salaries in Hoover times. "We hear from business, condemnation of bureaucracy in the Federal Government," said the Senator, "yet I submit that when the Pennsylvania Railroad has to carry 100 employees whose salaries aggregate $2,000,000 a year, it is evidence that there is undoubtedly a great deal of bureaucracy and unnecessary overhead expenditures there."

The Back-to-the-Farm plan has passed the Senate. It provides for cooperation of the Department of Agriculture with Senate and local agencies for the selection of city families qualified for living on the farm and for the choosing of farm areas.

Husbands get a break at least Congress has passed a bill giving alien men marrying American women a preferred place on the immigration quota list.

Mrs. A. M. Weir of McAllen, Texas is visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. Fred Rathjen.

Mr. Ed Fox spent the week end in Fort Worth visiting his family there.
