MEASURING HUMAN WEAKNESS

It isn't enough just to know our weakness, but we must be able to measure their strength to the point that we do not allow strong temptations at our weak points. This is the margin of safety and where so many of us fall down.

When we have learned the lesson, as pointed by the old philosopher when he said "Know thyself", we have only half profited, unless we set about to beware of temptation where our defenses are weakest.

None of us are smart enough to defy human weakness unless we know them and have the will to stay out of the range of temptation.

WILL THE TEXAS VOTE MEAN ANYTHING

It didn't take the State Democratic Committee very long to find out that they had over-stepped their powers when they ordered the extra ballot for the dry referendum as a part of the July primary. Counties began to say that they would not provide tickets for such a vote, and now to save its face the committee has agreed to print and furnish the second ballots at its own expense.

This still doesn't settle the question by any means, for there are counties who will not conduct the extra halting even if the tickets are furnished, and it may be that any vote registered will be so incomplete as to be worthless, and will only discredit the questionable discretion of the wet committee in a dry state.

PLATFORMS AND PLATFORMS

Now while everybody is giving his version of just how wet or how dry the plank in the Republican platform is—and nobody can say for certain either way—there is a veritable deluge of suggestions and demands of the kind of platform on the liquor question the Democrats shall adopt.

There is every evidence that the Democratic convention will be dominated by the foes of prohibition, and since the party isn't up against the task of holding itself in office, there is a great likelihood that its plank will be more wet than any plank ever adopted by a Democratic convention before.

There is very little the seventy percent of prohibition voters of the South can do about it except to bide their time and vote their convictions when the time comes. The memory of 1928 ought to register with the liquor bugs of the Democratic party, but judgement never was the strong point of liquorites, and the lessons of '28 will have to be rehearsed in some more effective form.

There are platforms and there are platforms, but the great silent majority of American people have their own ideas of how best to enforce their mandates.

CLASS HATRED AND JACKALS

Probably at no time in the history of the nation has there been so general an effort to engender class hatred, and in every instance the effort is for the sole purpose of advancing the political fortunes of some politician with the ideals of a jackal.

The Fergusons announced two years ago when they met defeat at the hands of Governor Sterling that they would never offer for public office again, but the lure of profit from the low morale of the people caused hope to again flame in the breast of the impeached governor who knows more than most others about fanning the flames of class hatred to his advantage.

But the trouble is that it isn't limited to the governor's race this year. There is hardly a county in which a few candidates are now beating the tom-toms of class appeal with all the energy of a Lenin or a Trotsky in the hope of landing some public office where both feet might be thrust into the public feed trough.

In times of national stress like these, there is no more unworthy action than those seeking to inflame class against class, to cause a rift in the mutual dependence of labor and capital, or to engender bitterness between town and country.

We need more brotherhood of all men, more sympathy of classes, and the eternal banishment of the jackals who would promote their own interests through the foul marshes of class hatred.

BE YE NOT DECEIVED

You are going to hear a lot this summer from the politicians about the huge amount of money being spent for highways in Texas. It is certainly getting under the skins of certain individuals that the Texas Highway Department has better than thirty millions of dollars annually for highway work. What bothers the politicians is the fact that this money comes in so easily and so consistently. Some of them are really getting their greedy anticipation, as the figures are rolling in on the department's income. One plan that is being championed is to divide the thirty millions of dollars into three parts—ten millions to highways, ten millions to the general revenue fund and ten millions to the schools.

To do this would absolutely put a stop to highway construction in the Panhandle. Ten millions of dollars would be just enough to keep up the maintenance on Texas highways to say nothing of new construction.

There are many, many reasons why this plan should be thrown into the discard. But, we of West Texas and the Panhandle should particularly oppose the idea. To quote from Judge Ely's own words, "Should the plan for placing one-third of the gasoline tax in the general revenue and another third in the school fund succeed, I fear that West Texas and the Panhandle would suffer the most. For we still have a big highway construction program in that section and more improved roads are needed there. When this administration began there was not an improved road in the entire Panhandle except around Amarillo."

It is inevitable that the State will take over the outstanding road bonds of the counties. This can be done without seriously hampering the work of the department. But to permanently cripple the Highway Department by taking away its resources would be disastrous to West Texas and the Panhandle.

There is no merit in the plan of diverting the funds into the school and general revenue funds, that is from the standpoint of the small taxpayer. It would help the big taxpayer certainly, it was meant to.

This newspaper is wholeheartedly behind the plan of the Jones county Commissioners court to have the Highway Department take over the highway bonds of the counties and pay the interest and maturities on them out of the gasoline tax. This is a reasonable and workable plan. But, THE MOORE COUNTY NEWS is unalterably opposed to the political connivance which would deprive the Highway Department of its life blood.

Texas has built more good highways—good highways—under the present Commission than in any other like period in its history. And never has the breath of scandal touched the present Commission or any of its distinguished members. This alone is enough to rankle the harum-scarum politicians. The Texas Highway system is being connected up and tied in to transcontinental roads in all directions. This is as it should be.

AND WE IN THE PANHANDLE ARE, FOR THE FIRST TIME GETTING OUR JUST DUES FROM THIS DIVISION OF OUR STATE GOVERNMENT.

To support a scheme that would paralyze the Highway construction would be just the same thing as cutting our own throats.

Pay no attention to the candidate who is insistent that the funds of the Highway Department be dissipated into other channels where, perchance, some filthy fingers may grasp it to the detriment and the shame of a sovereign people.

You may have to send your card in on a plate before you can see the present highway commission, but at least you don't have to pin a hundred dollar bill to it!

This issue is vital! To the people of West Texas and the Panhandle it is all-important.—The Moore County News.

COMFORT for COLICKY BABIES

... THROUGH CASTORIA'S GENTLE REGULATION

The best way to prevent colic, doctors say, is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste. But remember this: a tiny baby's tender little organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged. This is just the time Castoria can help most. Castoria, you know, is made specially for babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. For years it has helped mothers through trying times with colicky babies and children suffering with digestive upsets, colds and fever. Keep genuine Castoria on hand, with the name:

"SANCTIFICATION"

At conversion, all must be surrendered to Christ—set apart for His use. Such self-surrender is sanctification. The tabernacle and all its articles of furniture were sanctified (Ex. 40:9, 10). In like manner Christians are set apart for God's service: "Sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints"

(1. Cor. 1:2). It should be noticed that sanctification is enjoined upon Christians, who are already represented as sanctified. In the Scripture just quoted, sanctification is alluded to as something already attained, while in 1. Thess. 5:23 Paul writes, "The God peace himself sanctify you wholly." So that sanctification is a present possession, and yet a thing to be sought after.

To see how that is so, it must be remembered that, at conversion, a Christian is set apart to God. Sorrow for sin and pardon of sin are useless, minus a changed life. "From justification arises our title to heaven: from sanctification arises our meekness for heaven." No unholy person will be presented to Christ in glory. No unclean thing can enter the heavenly ark; so, sanctification is imperative. But the work is not completed in a moment. Conversion may be sudden, but to become wholly sanctified is a gradual process; there should be a daily growing in grace; a steady but sure advance, until all that we are and have be wholly set apart for the Master's use.

How can the work of sanctification be accomplished? By becoming "partakers of the divine nature" (11. Pet. 1:4). The cultivation of our own natures, unaided by the Holy Spirit, will result in utter failure. From the great fountain of holiness must flow the crystal stream into our own lives until we become possessed, in full measure, of the "divine nature" and are at one with God.

In our Sunday morning theme: "THE CHURCH AS A HEALING MEDIUM", we will try to show the effect that the "church" has had upon the nations of the world, and prove that the "church" is the State's hope of stability. In the evening message: "A WRONG STANDARD OF MEASURE" we will present a lesson on real righteousness and practical Christianity.—W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

Cost Her $4.25 To Reduce 65 Pounds

"Worth It," Miss Bates Says

If you're young and fat read what Miss Bates of Beech, Iowa, has to say about Kruschen Salts—if you are middle age or old Kruschen shows you the way to lose fat the SAFE way.

"I took one bottle of Kruschen Salts a month for five months. It amounted to $4.25 and I reduced 65 lbs. but it was worth it. Imagine just 22 years old and weighing what I did. I could not enjoy myself as other girls did. I could not get the clothes I wanted. I think it is wonderful the results Kruschen Salts give."

To lose fat the safe, sane way—take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—eat less fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—a jar that costs but a small sum lasts 4 weeks. Get it at any drugstore in the world—but be sure for your health's sake to ask for and get Kruschen Salts. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Gay Dance Given By Berkley Ryan

To make the present vacation days more memorable than ever before seems to be the slogan of a particular group of young people who are indeed making the social life of our city very interesting at the present.

Among the most interesting and probably will be the most memorable of all summer entertainments was the out-door dance given by Miss Berkley Ryan, Thursday evening in the beautiful garden at the George A. Ryan home.

Lights twinkled brightly from the heavy foliage of the trees to add beauty to the garden already flooded with romantic moonlight.

A huge platform had been erected for this occasion with the Bailey Ireland orchestra of Amarillo furnishing the music for the dancers throughout the evening.

At a very late hour refreshments were served the following guests:

Misses Jo Ella Stewart, Evelyn Murphy, Vera Nolan, Marjorie White, Mary Travis Dyer, Elenor Morris, Geraldine Pratt, Lucille Andis, Eugenia Noland, Pauline Shelton, Pauline Sanford, Elizabeth Kemp, Jean Bourland, Dorothy Joe Taylor, Carroll Holder, Johnnie D. Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Tom Goldston entertained at their home for members of this club.

This being the evening of the famous Schmeling-Sharkey prize fight the men of the party not only listened in on the blow by blow ringside announcement but demonstrated it as well making this a lively evening.

A lovely dinner was served during the course of the evening as well as a few games of bridge enjoyed with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tombs scoring high and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Douglas, low.

Moonlight Picnic Honors Clayton Powell

Clayton Powell of Amarillo, who is the guest of relatives in our city, was honored with an informal moonlight picnic by a group of his friends, Saturday evening.

Misses Helen Martin and Anna Moores chaperoned this group in the J. A. Pasture where a bountiful picnic lunch was enjoyed as well as the beautiful scenery of the surrounding vicinity.

Joviality was the ruling keynote throughout the evening with much merry banter being exchanged. All left for their homes in the best of moods only to be marred later by an automobile accident which caused quite a bit of excitement but no serious injuries.

Participating in this hilarious affair were: Misses Pauline Shelton, Pauline Sanford, Dorothy Joe Taylor, Virginia Gardenhire, Barbara Smith, Johnnie D. Latson, Jean Bourland, Berkley Ryan, Marjorie White, and Melba Dell Warner.

Mess. Clayton Powell of Amarillo, Carroll Hudson, Henry Wilder of Pampa, Bill Word, Bill Wood, Benton Smith, Mike Stricklin, Kenneth Brown, Bill Rutherford and Silas Franklin.

Miss Mary Naylor Is Honored

Society has been paying its debts of friendship to her latest bride the past week and one of the enjoyable affairs was a kitchen shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Andis given by Miss Lucille Andis in honor of Miss Mary Naylor and Mr. Leamon Wallace.

The affair was quite informal

Bid-A-Bit Club Entertained

Though the Bid-a-Bit Club is a bridge club it was practically turned into a prize fighting club though extremely enjoyable. Games of bridge and 42 were enjoyed for a time then Miss Naylor and Mr. Wallace were each given a string and requested to find the end of it. It kept them wandering about the house until they found that each terminated in a large clothes basket which upon investigation was found to contain a nice assortment of Kitchen utensils.

After a grateful "thank you" for each gift a dainty refreshment course was served from the dining table which was centered with a huge punch bowl from which a cooling drink was dispensed to:

Misses Evelyn Murphy, Vera Nolan, Helen Rodgers, Eugenia Nolan, Eula Naylor, Ina Naylor, Jo Ella Stewart, Lois Wallace, Helen Lawler, Delphia Bones, and Maxine Fletcher, Evelyn Nix and Ruth Price all of Amarillo.

Messrs Carroll Hudson, Kenneth Brown, Bill Rutherford, Wilford Andis and O. C. Watson. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Andis, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Mae Womack and the honored guests, Miss Mary Naylor and Mr. Leamon Wallace.

Misses Ruth Price and Helen Rodgers were joint hostesses for a lovely bridge party on Saturday, honoring Miss Mary Naylor.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Price, where this affair was held, was cleverly decorated in garden flowers. A clever arrangement had been worked out on the mantle, being a miniature bride and groom standing before an improvised altar of flowers and fernery.

Miniature brides and grooms served as score cards. Miss Lucille Andis played high receiving a lovely gift which she presented to the honoree who was also given a lovely guest-of-honor favor.

A refreshing ice course was served to the following guests: Misses Marjorie White, Jo Ella Stewart, Barbara Smith, Nova Cook, Elizabeth Kemp, Lucille Andis, Lois Wallace, Vera Nolan, Evelyn Murphy, Delphia Bones and the guest of honor, Miss Mary Naylor, as well as Miss Evelyn Nix of Amarillo, Miss Maxine Flesher of Amarillo, and Miss Mayme Ruth Clark of Wellington.

Miss Ruth Price has returned to her work in Amarillo after having spent the latter part of last week as a guest in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Price.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mayberry, who have been visiting Lorraine Patrick returned to their home in Sayre, Oklahoma, Monday.

Miss Mary Naylor Becomes Bride of Mr Leamon Wallace

Of much interest to the people of Donley County is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Naylor to Mr. Leamon Wallace which was solemnized Saturday in the study of the San Jacinto Methodist Church, Amarillo, Texas. Rev. Gaston E. Foote, pastor of the church reading the marriage vows in the presence of only a few of the immediate relatives and a few close friends of the bridal couple.

The bride was becomingly attired in eggshell crepe with trimmings of green and accessories of white. Following the ceremony the happy couple enjoyed a short honeymoon trip to Carlsbad Cavern returning to Clarendon on Tuesday.

Mrs. Wallace is the daughter of one of the pioneer families of the Panhandle her father being the late B. F. Naylor, a popular former tax assessor of Donley County. She has grown to young womanhood in our city, having been a student of our local school where she enjoys the friendship of a large number of the younger as well as the older people of our county.

Mr. Wallace, son of Mr. and Ms. L. H. Wallace, though not a resident of our city as long as Miss Naylor, has a large number of friends over the Panhandle who will wish him well in his new found happiness. After graduating from the Greenville High School Mr. Wallace became associated with his father in the Panhandle Burial Vault Company and now that the company is establishing headquarters in Amarillo the happy couple will make their home in Amarillo where the best wishes of The News and their many friends follow them.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alexander Entertain With Bridge

Entertaining for members of their evening bridge club Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alexander were the genial host and hostess on Thursday at their apartment.

Roses and sweet peas had been used effectively about the entertaining rooms where the guests found tables in readiness for games of bridge which filled the following hours with pleasure. Mrs. B. F. Kirtley played high receiving a small favor.

Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Teer, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Kirtley, Miss Mary Stocking, Miss Mary Cooke, and Mr. Dick Cooke.

T. E. L. Sunday School Class Entertains For Mothers' Class

The parlors of the First Baptist Church were adorned with beautiful cut garden flowers when members of the T. E. L. Class honored members of the Mother's Class with an afternoon of entertainment.

Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Nichols greeted the guests as they entered the building presenting each with a beautiful corsage of dainty blooms and fernery then directing each to the upstairs parlors of the church where they were met by Mrs. J. T. Sims, acting hostess for the class. After all were seated the following program was presented for the pleasure of the guests:

Hymn, "When We All Get to Heaven", Assembly.
Prayer, Rev. Shepherd.
Reading, Lola Barnes.

Quartette, Mr. W. A. Land, Mr. W. B. Haile, Mr. Carroll Holzclaw, and Mrs. Marvin Land.
Reading, Mrs. Bill Bromley.
Quartette, Mrs. Ralph Keys, Mrs. W. A. Land, Mrs. W. B. Sims, and Mrs. M. C. Reed.

Sing-Song, Old Time Song, Assembly.
Poem to Mothers, Rev. B. N. Shepherd.

An ice course was served at the close of the program. A special bouquet of flowers was presented to the two oldest Mothers present, Mrs. Morris, and Mrs. McMillan, each eighty-six years of age, were the happy recipients with this bringing to a close an afternoon of genuine pleasure for the eighty-two guests present.

Dorcas Class Entertains With Out-Door Party

Society has become satiated with indoor luncheons, parties, and teas, has answered the call of the out-of-doors and parties in the open are the vogue.

One of the largest and most unique of the week's affairs and one which will long be remembered was the lawn party given Tuesday evening by members of the Dorcas Class, Baptist Sunday School on the beautiful and spacious lawn at the C. W. Taylor home, honoring members of the class taught by Rev. Shepherd.

Informality marked the affair as the guests gathered on the beautiful grounds of the home, one of the most attractive lawns in our city which was even more entrancing by the use of lights, tables and chairs to accommodate the large gathering of friends who met around a long banquet table which fairly groaned with its load of edibles.

Later games of varied nature were enjoyed each entering into this part of the entertainment with as much zeal as they had approached the banquet table.

At a very late hour the guests departed declaring this one of the happiest occasions of their lives.

TOO Personal

The Inquiring Reporter is one of the most unknown writers of Donley County or any where. Her column is published in The News because it takes up space. The opinions she expresses are her own, no one agrees with her or is responsible for the things she says. Her mutterings are not to be interpreted rationally.—Editor's Note.

Would you like a GOAT for the summer? I am business manager for a goat and own a third interest in her. We are forced to sell her before taking an inventory, At A Loss. She has grown to womanhood here and has many sterling qualities, give a half gallon of milk a day, belongs to one of the pioneer goat-families of the town, has a very modest (but destructive) appetite, and is only three years old. Last year some one paid $75.00 for her but because of the changing conditions of money and the certain amount of "sentiment" that goes with goats I'll talk Cash Terms that are a discredit to The Goat Seller's Union. Why not out the Lומר Habit? (If Butcher Shops are interested in Nanny you might sell her as lamb chops).

T. D. Nored took me "coking" and bought me a couple of sticks of gum. Huh money, to keep quiet about something I don't know anything about.

H. T. Buton is talking of retiring from the business world. I heard this rumor two weeks ago but I had not been able to get an interview with the busy man until this morning. He has been fishing or talking about fishing since the rumor started. Mr. Burton was waiting in the Post Office telling about his fish appeal when I asked him why he was going to retire.

The crew of Frigidaire Salesmen cornered him while they were here and told him how he was not only losing money and risking the life of his family by not owning a Frigidaire but that he could actually make $9.00 a month by owning one. Mr. Burton decided he could buy a car load of Frigidaires and they could support him.

Anglers, Fly-Swatters, and Snipe-Hunters are not the only big gamesmen of the summer, my little brother Freddy spends hours fishing for tarantulas. He puts a piece of used chewing-gum on a string and puts it down in one of their coverts until he thinks he has one and then pulls it out. Freddy then boasts of his bravery to all the other kids.

The other afternoon a very gen-teel little girl came to see Freddy. They went out in the back yard so he could catch tarantulas. He ran out of gum so came back in the house to look under the dining room table where we always have plenty of gum, contributed by the family and visitors. While Freddy was under the table feeling for a nice soft wad he said:

"Say Sis, I just heard something I don't believe. That girl said she never heard of gum under a dining table and that they didn't have any over at her house. I never knew anybody in the world that didn't keep gum under the table. Wouldn't that be terrible? I wonder where they keep it?"

Too well known figures on the golf course are:

"Pride of the Ancients"—A. N. Wood.
"Butcher Knife"—Kelly Chamberlain.

FATSO Bagby, as he is fondly called by his many friends on Kearney, is suffering from Coca Cola-leg.

June again—two lingering romances are going to be culminated the end of this week. Girls, I am going to start a Love Bureau next week and commence an attack upon the few men that are left. Maybe we can find out why we are left-overs each June. You know what my ideal husband must have—a million dollars and a hacking cough. (I am going to try to persuade him to take me down to the sea coast on a Honeymoon.)

"Flannel is the best material for a bathing costume, and gray is regarded as the most suitable color. It may be trimmed with bright worsted braid. The best form is the loose sacque, or the yoke waist, both of them to be belted in, and falling about midway between the knee and the ankle; and oil skin cap to protect the hair from the water, merino socks to match the dress mainly a description of Human Anatomy.

—This was taken from "Our Department" of The Most Refined Society, published in 1885. If one wanted to describe the bathing costume of 1932 of our refined society and had Lib Merchant and Catherine Cole in their new scant suits, it would be

I don't know if the Mayor issued a proclamation of what but all of the business men have forsaken the Domino Dens and gone out to Guy Taylor's fishing I am going to quit now and try to get a ride out there to see if all the stories I hear are true.

WHY

Does Laundry Washing Save $$$

because Wet Wash Service is exactly what home-washing gives. You pay from 50c to 60c for the average family washing.

COUNTING— soap, powder, bluing, starch, gas water, repair and depreciation on equipment, interest on investment, etc; the equivalent of this work done at home would cost approximately $1.15

It is this substantial difference in cost that is daily prompting new customers to obtain from the laundry a better quality of work for less money. It will pay you to make this comparison, and to be one of our many customers.
