Broncho-Cyclone Title Game Armistice

Parade And Band Concert Will Celebrate Holiday Here

MEMPHIS AND CLARENDON TEAMS ENTER CHAMPIONSHIP WITH FULL POWER

BRONCHOS ARE DETERMINED TO END JINX WHICH HAS TRAILED LOCAL ELEVEN'S FOR LAST NUMBER OF YEARS AND DOW NCYCLONES IN GRID GAME HERE WEDNESDAY 2:30 O'CLOCK.

(By The News Sports Editor)

Broncho players and fans alike are optimistic over the possibility of shaking the "jinx" and thereby breaking through the dark clouds of disappointment which have shrouded the previous football encounters between the pet horses and the swirling Cyclone from the East. Barring any unforeseen accidents between now and the kickoff at 2:30 o'clock on next Wednesday afternoon the Bronchos will enter the Memphis battle with full strength, thoroughly groomed to put up the game of their collective and respective lives in an effort to terminate the long string of victories which the Yellow and Black boasts over the local gridsters.

The late winning ways adopted by the Cyclones in the past few games have completely knocked what at one time might have been termed overconfidence on the part of the Bronchos; and in its place there appears confidence supplemented by grim determination. Never before have the Maroon gridsters been driven through their practice sessions as the orders from mentors Stocking and Hutton have been obeyed with new zest. Spurred on by the realization that once over the Cyclone impediment, the District Championship is within striking distance the Bronchos are leaving nothing undone in their effort to satisfy themselves and Clarendon and Donley citizens with a successful entertainment for the visiting Cyclones in celebration of Armistice Day.

The Bronchos have made a fairly impressive record thus far this season, and a victory over the Cyclone would round out a successful year. So far the Broncho goal line has been crossed only by the powerful Pampa Harvesters who were able to shove four counters over the Maroon eleven, two of which were via the gift route. Since that opening game not a point has been registered by the opposition.

With the return of Captain Raymond Nichols to the line-up and also the recovery of Benson and Morris the Bronchos will start a great team against the lighter but lightning fast eleven from Memphis. While the Cyclone features a fast breaking wingback formation with a well balanced passing game the Bronchos will match their own aerial game coupled with powerful bruising thrusts through the line and also a few sweeping end runs. It was this offense which outplayed the Harvesters in two of the four quarters of the Clarendon-Pampa encounter.

Probable starting line up includes: Tony Watson, Loyd Benson, ends; Easterling and Behrens, tackles; Morris and Green, guards; Watters, center; Captain Nichols, fullback; Reid and E. Watson, halfbacks; Andist, quarterback; team average, 165 pounds.

Methodists Have Old Time Music

Sunday night at the Methodist Church, the service was given over to the "old time religion" idea, with the auditorium lighted with candles and lanterns, and the choir dressed in colonial costumes, singing old-time songs in the old-time way.

Rev. E. B. Bowen, pastor, preached an old-time subject—"Repentance and Restitution," and a large crowd was present to enjoy the music and the sermon.

Using the oldtime hymns, the song-leader "lined" the hymns as they were sung, and there was general singing from the audience, as many recalled the days when the custom was universal. The organ was changed to stops in imitation of the old fashioned reed organ and aided much to the effect, thereby.

Mr. J. H. Rutherford left for El Paso on Monday evening in response to a message stating his daughter, Mrs. B. L. Hays, was seriously ill. Mrs. Hays passed away on Tuesday evening.

Special To The Clarendon News

By JERRY SITTON
(Memphis Democrat Staff)
"Beat Clarendon," is the battle cry of the Memphis High School who will meet the Clarendon Bronchos in a football game Armistice Day on the Broncho gridiron for the championship of Section "A". The Cyclone will go into the game the underdog against the traditional enemies with their only hopes of victory, the "jinx," which has been in their favor for the last few years.

While the local squad's showing in the last four games has been somewhat impressive, it is nothing to compare with that of the Bronchos. Playing seven games already, Memphis has five victories and two defeats. In the last five games, a total of 219 points have been scored to the opponents' nothing. The games, however, have been with weak teams.

By way of comparison Memphis lost to Pampa 73 to 0 while Clarendon lost 26 to 0. Memphis lost to Quitman 20 to 6 while the Bronchos won by a score of 31 to 0. Memphis has two defeats on her record while the Clarendon team is undefeated and have only one scoreless tie to blot their perfect record.

Several of the Cyclone players have minor injuries. One serious injury is in camp at this time. J. P. Boles, center, has a broken hand that may keep him out of the game the remainder of the season.

Captain Curtis Bourland, who is one of the best defensive men in this section, will be ready to take the field. Although he has suffered minor injuries all year, he is expected to be ready November 11th.

The Memphis backfield, composed of Charles Flannery, Cecil Stargel, Buster Leslie and Gerge May, averages 138 pounds in weight. The line has an average weight of 161.

Starting line-up: (probable)
J. W. West, left end, No. 56, weight, 152; Roland Melton, left tackle, No. 57, weight 145; B. F. Shephard, left guard, No. 61, weight, 135; Curtis Bourland (c), center, No. 54, weight, 165; Blanton Bagwell, right guard, No. 47, weight, 160; Clifford Stewart, right tackle, No. 52, weight, 175; Bill Sanders, right end, No. 44, weight, 200; Charles Flannery, quarterback, No. 59, weight, 139; George May, fullback, No. 45, weight, 145; Buster Leslie, right half, No. 60, weight, 130; Cecil Stargel, left half, No. 55, weight, 139.

Mrs. E. M. Ozier went to Amarillo on Friday and visited Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Stephens. She accompanied Mrs. Park Chamberlain who is staying with her sister, Miss Mae Bennett.

ANNUAL ROLL CALL BEGINS ON NOV. 11

CHAIRMAN MULKEY ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR ANNUAL WORK IN COUNTY

The 1931 annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross begins on Armistice Day, Nov. 11th and runs until Thanksgiving Day in Donley County as all over the nation, according to Homer Mulkey, Chairman for Donley County.

Mrs. H. T. Burton is chairman of the enrollment in Clarendon and a chairman will be named in Hedley in the next few days. As usual the enrollment means the payment of one dollar to the great humanitarian work of the American Red Cross and Donley County's quota is $400, the bulk of which is to be collected in Clarendon. Mrs. Burton will name her committees for solicitation and a booth will be maintained in

THIS ISSUE DEDICATED TO BRONCHOS, COACHES

This issue of The Clarendon News is dedicated to the Clarendon High School Broncho Football Squad and to the team coaches, Frank A. Stocking and John G. Hutton. The issue is an effort on the part of the Clarendon Merchants to show the Bronchos that they are backing them to the limit and are expecting them to bring victory to the city and honor to themselves with a well earned victory over the Memphis Cyclone next Wednesday.

SHERIFF PIERCE GETS MORE LIQUOR

SMALL STILL CAPTURED BY SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT TUESDAY NIGHT

Sheriff Guy Pierce and his deputies are setting some kind of a new record in a way of capturing liquor stills, making it three in the past six weeks when a small still was captured Tuesday night and brought in for investigation. Acting on a tip, Sheriff Pierce proceeded to a place three miles south of the city of Clarendon on the Edge Ranch one quarter of a mile inside the county line. The capture included 61 gallons of whisky, two 30 gallon barrels, 1-gallon jug and the complete distillery equipment of 10 gallon capacity.

The Sheriff, in discussing the capture, stated that the still was disconnected and appeared that it was ready to be moved to another vicinity. No one was found near the moonshine camp, and officers are not overly optimistic in the belief that they will be able to apprehend the operators.

Deputy Carl Peabody and fingerprint expert, I. B. Pierce, brother of the Donley county Sheriff helped in the capture of the outfit.

Sheriff Pierce is putting into practice what a lot of the officers over the county are making threats to do, and for this reason citizens of Clarendon and Donley county are being better served than a large number of counties in the state. It is doubtful if any sheriff can equal the record of Mr. Pierce in the apprehension of illegitimate liquor distilleries. The Donley Sheriff states that other stills will be captured if there are more in the county.

Cream Shipments Only 2,560 Gallons

Cream shipments for the month of October from the cream stations of the city totaled 256 10-gallon cans, an increase of 50 cans over that shipped from the city last month. The total of the past month brings the total for the year to something like 2,572 ten-gallon cans of cream.

Miss Ruth Price of Amarillo spent the week end with friends and relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dubbs spent the week-end in Clarendon.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET NOV. 16

COMMITTEE IS ARRANGING FOR ANNUAL FATHER AND SON BANQUET

Monday evening, November 16th has been set as the date for the 1931 Father and Son Banquet in Clarendon, and a program is being arranged by the committee in charge, and will be released next week.

O. C. Watson, Jr., is chairman of the committee this year, and the plans outlined were made at a meeting held Monday afternoon at the News office with all members present except Elba Ballew, who could not be reached at the time. Other members are W. C. Stewart, Clarence Whitlock (appointed to fill the vacancy caused by Joe Noble having left the city) and Sam M. Braswell.

A prominent out-of-town speaker will be secured and his name will be announced with the program next week. A sub-committee has been named to make arrangements for the banquet and the place will also be announced at that time.

It is the purpose of the committee to see that the banquet and program is kept within the two hour limit and a snappy and interesting event is promised. Clarendon's annual father and son banquet has been growing in interest and effectiveness through the years of its existence and the committee is pledged to making the 1931 event one of the best yet held.

ANNUAL HOME-TOWN EDITION

HOME TOWN EDITION OF CLARENDON NEWS TWO WEEKS BEFORE XMAS

The Clarendon News will issue its 1932 Home Town Edition on Thursday, December 10th, just two weeks before Christmas.

Already work is under way to make the 1931 edition of this annual milestone in the work of the Clarendon News one of the best ever to come from the local press, and several new features will be added.

The Kiddies are asked to begin soon to write their letters to Santa Claus, telling him in their own words just what they want this year at Christmas, and the News will print them and be responsible for their safe delivery to Old Santa.

As customary this edition of The News will be mailed to every family living in the Clarendon trade territory and is the only week in the year when full coverage is guaranteed to all its advertisers. If any former Clarendon residents would write a letter here to the home folks, The News will be happy to print these in this edition. If you have a friend or relative formerly of this community ask them to write a letter for old time's sake, and mail it to the Home Town Editor of the Clarendon News, not later than the 3rd of December.

If these aren't bought before the game the admission prices at the gate will be 75 cents to everybody.

LOCAL LIONS LEAD CONTEST

LOYD STALLINGS PRESENTED WITH LEATHER WALLET BY CLUB ON DEPARTURE

Meeting for the eighth consecutive week of 100 per cent attendance, the Clarendon Lions Club Tuesday noon heard a most inspiring talk by R. S. Cope, connected with the West Texas Utilities Co., on Bolshevism and Communism. The speaker dealt at length with the actual conditions in Russia, bringing his climax to the present condition of so-called agitators of government ownership in this country. Mr. Cope drew the undivided attention of everyone present, and all showed their appreciation of the subject as well as his timely and accurate information on Communism as practiced in Russia today.

President Boykin read a report on the eight weeks' attendance contest, showing that Clarendon was holding her place in the class of cities of 5,000 population and less. Five other clubs in the nation remain in this race, and the president called attention to the fact that next spring another such contest, of eight weeks duration, would be inaugurated.

Coincident with the leaving of the city of Secretary Loyd Stallings, whose position has been filled by the selection of J. Eddie

LOYD STALLINGS

Teer, several past-presidents of the club took occasion to eulogize the work of Loyd Stallings during his regime of nearly nine years as secretary of the organization. The esteem in which the departing member and worker is held by the club, both as a member, officer and citizen, was attested by the many high compliments paid him at this meeting, and the presentation of a beautiful leather wallet, the gift of the club, for "Work Well Done."

Guests present Tuesday were J. E. Pool, of Fort Worth; T. D. Hobart of Pampa; Clinton Heury of Palo Duro; R. S. Cope of Abilene; Paul Vinson of Childress; T. E. Gaither of Altus, Oklahoma; and George C. Smith of Clarendon.

Mrs. C. L. Wiedman left last Sunday for Long Beach, California, where she will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. T. H. Hardisty.

Mrs. T. E. Trostle and Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Brown motored to Wheeler Sunday afternoon, returning on Monday.

Miss Renella Dubbs of Amarillo spent Sunday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Slyvester Dubbs.

Pioneer Goes To Last Resting Place Today

After an illness of several weeks' duration, Wint Bairfield, prominent ranchman and pioneer of this section died at the Adair Hospital, late Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Bairfield was seventy-three years, four months and four days old at the time of his death, having been born in Pike Co., Alabama, June 29th, 1858.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at the Methodist Church at ten o'clock, under the auspices of the Clarendon Masonic Lodge, and with Rev. E. B. Bowen, pastor, in charge, assisted by Rev. W. M. Murrell and L. A. Reavis. Interment was had in the Citizens Cemetery, where a huge mound of flowers attest the sorrow and sympathy of the hosts of friends of the deceased and the surviving children.

A feature of the service was a solo by Mrs. J. L. McMurtry, "Gathering Home," the choir joining in on the chorus.

When Mr. Bairfield's father died during the Civil War, his mother took him with other small children to Georgia where they lived for some time with her father and where she died soon after. At the age of seventeen the deceased joined the Methodist church and was a loyal member until his death. He came to Texas in 1881, and from Montague County came here in 1884 to work for the JA Ranch, where he was a valued employee for fifteen years. On March 30th, 1896 he married Miss Lena Seaggins, and lived for a while at Claude, moving to their ranch home West of Clarendon in 1900. Mrs. Bairfield departed this life, Feb. 1, 1922 and surviving her were three children, their first baby boy having died in infancy. The three children now survive the father—Charles Bairfield, Miami, Texas; Mrs. Lois Miller and Clarence Bairfield, the latter two living at the ranch home at this time.

Mr. Bairfield will be greatly missed in Donley County where he was a citizen of highest standing and integrity, and he leaves a heritage of character and purpose not often attained.

Pall bearers were: Joe Horn, M. T. Howard, Jim Christian, H. B. Kerbow, W. D. Van Eaton and Rudolph Wiedman.

Honorary Pall bearers: Charley Murphey, Mitch Bell, J. W. Kent, Bill Thornberry, H. W. Taylor, Joe McMurtry, E. D. Frances, W. W. Taylor, J. W. Martin, Bill Bromley, Henry Tomb, McHenry Lane, Pink Rodgers, Nolie Simmons, Phillip Wiedman, Bill Ray, W. M. Montgomery, C. W. Bennett, John Sims, Ralph Grady, Charley Johnson, Clinton Henry, John Blocker, Will Davis, Fred Patching.

ROTARY HEARS OF COMMUNISM

MISS MARY JO CHAMBERLAIN ENTERTAINS CLUB MEMBERS WITH READING

Rotarian B. L. Jenkins, chairman of the Program Committee, appeared in charge of the regular program of the Clarendon Rotary club last Friday noon and presented one of the most enjoyable varied entertainments in a long while.

Miss Mary Jo Chamberlain won the hearts of her hearers when she presented two very splendid readings. Following Miss Chamberlain the Club then welcomed their former member, Robert S. Cope, field man of the West Texas Utilities Co., at Abilene who favored the group with a masterful dissertation on "Communism."

After an extensive study of the growth of the communistic movement in Russia and even here in the United States, Mr. Cope

Memories of marching troops led by a color guard and to the strains of stirring martial airs by a marching band will again refresh when on next Wednesday members of the American Legion and other ex-service men supplemented by the Legion Auxiliary and school children will celebrate Armistice Day with a parade through the business district of Clarendon. Thirteen years have elapsed since that day which dawned upon a dark and shell torn world bringing with it peace and restoration of international affairs. Many have even now forgotten the debt humanity owes to those brave lads and lassies who gave their all in the assurance of liberty and democracy, and with the press of everyday activities, even those who paid the supreme price and who are now sleeping beneath the poppy fields of Flanders and Alac-Lorraine are scarcely remembered.

But on this coming Armistice Day the citizens of Clarendon and Donley County will pause to do honor to those who so unselfishly gave of their youth and life to Uncle Sam in the World War. Beginning at 1 o'clock p. m. Wednesday the American Legion ex-service men and Auxiliary headed by the Legion color guard and the Clarendon High School Band will leave the old Grammer School Building at the south end of Kearney Street, march north to the Antro Hotel corner and return to the starting point via fully street. The student bodies of each of the schools in the city will march on mass immediately following the Legion and Auxiliary.

Aubyn E. Clark Post officials request that all ex-service men be present and in their places for the parade at 12:45 p. m. in order that there will be no hitch in getting the parade moving by the schedule time. All band members are also requested to be on hand before starting time as are the students.

Immediately following the termination of the parade at the starting point the Band will enter the band stand and will offer a thirty minute entertainment of band music for the assembled crowd. As a special Armistice offering Director Gus B. Stephenson has arranged a program consisting of popular World War songs and include such familiar airs as "Over There," "Goodbye Broadway, Hello France," "My Belgian Rose," "It's a Long Way to Berlin," "The Rose of No Man's Land," "K-K-K Katv," "Keep Your Head Down Fritz Boy," "Where Do We Go From Here Boys," and "The Grand Finale 'Over There.'" Other selections will be offered for the benefit of the holiday crowd and the band manager states that no one will be forced to leave until after the concert in order to get to the College Park for the Clarendon-Memphis championship football game. The concert will be finished forty-five minutes before the kickoff, thereby giving everyone a chance to stay for the entire offering.

The band will also appear at the game and furnish music for the occasion.

is well informed and his speech sparkles with interesting facts concerning the all but unbelievable methods employed by the Communistic leaders, under the great and all powerful dictatorship of Stalin. The Methods used in keeping the millions of Russians under complete and exact rule were brought out and a few of the most flagrant abuses were called to the attention of the interested listeners. Free love, and the prohibition of personal enterprise and possession, together with the utter disregard of the ten Commandments were named as the evils undermining the civilization standards of those sections under the Communistic flag.

Special music was offered the club by Rotary Ann Rhoda Wiedman before the club adjourned.

FULL CAUSE FOR THANKFULNESS

The people of Clarendon and Donley County have every reason to be thankful and to felicitate themselves on the splendid conduct of the citizenship during the trying times through which we have been passing.

We refer to the fact that there has been no sinister whisperings about the solvency of our banks, and all four institutions in this county have gone through the stringency in better condition than many banks have done in much larger towns and in counties much more wealthy.

Our banks have carried on in a noteworthy manner. They have lent their influence and aid to all methods of conservation and they deserve the support and commendation of all good citizens. Also they deserve the deposits of all surplus cash in the county. They do.

BUSINESS CONFIDENCE IS STEADILY MOUNTING

Those who saw signs of the return of confidence in business some weeks ago are now rewarded by the general acceptance of what was at first only a strong wish.

Confidence is trickling down from all business and financial centers and the effects are all ready beginning to be felt in every community of the country.

It will probably require another year to witness anything like full normalcy, but the upward swing is so pronounced that we may all expect a continually brightening sky, and the good feelings that go along with that sort of recovery.

It is up to each and every one of us, now, to build on the firm basis of confidence and contribute in every way for the full realization of a normal volume of business in every legitimate line.

Business confidence is steadily mounting—right here in Clarendon as it is in every part of the nation.

A CHAMPIONSHIP IN SIGHT

Football is reigning king of sports until Thanksgiving Day, but for Clarendon and her Broncho team the day is Armistice Day, Nov. 11th, when they meet the Memphis Cyclones for the championship of this district.

Clarendon people have backed their Fightin' Bronchos this year and have been increasingly proud of their victories on the gridiron, which have been marked by the best sportsmanship and clean, hard playing.

On Wednesday of next week the Mighty Cyclones from Memphis will invade our city with hundreds of their loyal backers, just as loyal to their team as we are to ours, and one of the finest exhibitions of the sport will be given by these two fine teams in Class B football.

The championship is in sight for the Bronchos, if they go out and fight as they know how, and if our people will be there to give them the sort of support they deserve.

Let's be there, Clarendon people, and greet Memphis with the West Texas sportsmanship and strive our dead level best to win by superior playing and stamina.

A championship is in sight.

"AMERICANS, HAVE FAITH IN YOUR PRESIDENT"

Under this caption Peter Molyneux, recognized authority on economics and editor of "The Texas Weekly" at Dallas, presents what to our mind is the remaining element necessary to guarantee the continued and early recovery of American business. It is strictly a non-partisan attitude, and since business is not based on partisanship it is up to all good citizens to follow leadership that points the way out of the bog in which we have been floundering. Read it:

"The only danger which threatens the continued operation of the constructive forces which are now making toward recovery, so far as the United States is concerned, is a political wrangle in Congress over President Hoover's program. Congress will be pretty evenly divided between the parties. But there are enough anti-Administration Republicans in Congress to tie the President's hands, if the Democrats should decide to join them in a coalition to that end.

"It is needless to say that whatever part the United States is to play in cooperative action of the nations must be played under the leadership of President Hoover. Congress cannot lead in such a matter. If there is to be anything accomplished at all, Congress must cooperate with the President, and under his leadership. To put it bluntly, Congress must follow the President's lead. Either that or impotency, and probably international chaos. We believe that President Hoover can be trusted with such leadership.

We believe that the American people can safely back up any program which may be worked out in negotiation with other nations. We believe they can do that safely no matter what such a program may finally involve. Because we believe the highest interests of this nation may be safely trusted in President Hoover's hands. If he should propose an extension of the moratorium for another year, or two years, or any number of years, or if he should propose the scaling down of the debts to the United States by fifty per cent, or by any other percentage, we believe the people can safely support such a proposal. The people can depend upon it that whatever proposal he shall make will be formulated in the light of all of the international factors involved and with the highest interests of the United States in full view at all times and fully protected.

"A great deal is being said right now about the need of confidence. The biggest need of this kind is maintenance of the confidence of the American people in the President of the United States. If we can have that, we shall have the chief thing needed to carry us through the present crisis. If we do not have that, then God help us. But we must have it, and we believe we shall have it."

THINK THIS OVER

The tower which supports the Lindbergh Beacon on the thirty-nine story Palmolive Building is 75 feet high. The builders had to get the girders to the roof. The question was solved thus: A small derrick was knocked down and taken up in an elevator. It was put together and used to haul up parts of a larger derrick. This in turn raised a third. The sixth derrick so raised was large enough to handle the girders. In such wise, the problems of change and progress are solved. Small gains are made at first, then larger ones. Final results may be large enough to swing your business to success.—Nation's Business.

Here's How Cotton States Will Cut The Acreage Next Year

Atlanta, Oct. 12.—A survey of the principal cotton producing states of America today brought a composite estimate from official sources of an approximate 40 per cent reduction in production of that commodity next year.

Instead of 16,284,000 bales as estimated for 1931, the 1932 crop will be about 9,500,000 bales if the various states live up to forecasts and mandates of their legislatures.

The 1930 crop was 13,932,000 bales.

Reductions range all the way from 20 to 50 per cent, except in Louisiana and Tennessee. In the former, Gov. Huey P. Long indicated his state probably would have a normal crop in 1932, while in Tennessee, authorities would hazard no guess.

The effect of this indicated wholesale reduction of the South's major agricultural "pay crop", officials believe, will be to force farmers into the production of more foodstuffs, truck produce, livestock raising and dairying.

Among states which face reduction of cotton, Georgia will curtail only about 20 per cent, according to Eugene Talmadge, state agricultural commissioner.

"We are telling our farmers to raise all the foodstuffs they can use, and all the cotton they can without going into debt for it," Talmadge told the United Press.

The situation in the ten principal cotton states, which are estimated this year to raise 15,565,000 of the 16,284,000 bales:

Texas—Legislative restriction of planting to 30 per cent of all lands cultivated this year. J. E. McDonald, commissioner, estimates a 50 per cent reduction, or 2,550,000 bales in 1932 against 5,100,000 estimated this year.

Mississippi—Legislative reduction, 50 per cent authorized, indicating, according to the state agricultural commission 800,000 bales next year instead of this year's estimated 1,740,000 bales.

Georgia—No legislative action. Commissioner Eugene Talmadge estimates a reduction of about 1,000,000 bales instead of this year's estimated 1,350,000 bales.

Talmadge is an advocate of the Louisiana total abandonment plan.

Arkansas—Legislature has authorized planting 30 per cent of this year's cultivated land to cotton in 1932. The state department of agriculture estimated the 1932 crop will be 50 per cent under 1931, or about 875,000 bales.

Oklahoma—A cotton "election," sponsored by Governor Murray, is pending whereby he and President H. B. Cordell of the board of agriculture, estimate the state's production will be cut from 1,195,000 bales to about 600,000 bales.

Alabama—Commissioner Sterrs expects a reduction of about 20 per cent, although he is urging 50 per cent. At 20 per cent, Alabama would raise 1,118,000 bales instead of this year's estimated 1,385,000 bales.

South Carolina—Gov. Blackwood is sponsoring a 50 per cent reduction bill for the legislature, to apply to 1932 or 464,000 bales instead of 929,000 estimated this year.

North Carolina—Gov. Gardner's "live at home" program brought 28 per cent cotton reduction in two years, and comparative reduction for next year is believed assured, indicating 620,000 bales instead of this year's 730,000 estimated.

MEMPHIS CYCLONES vs CLARENDON BRONCHOS

Don't that just make the cold chills play up and down your spine as you thrill to the realization of another contest between these two spectacular eleven who for so many generations have been arch enemies on the gridiron? Well customers, that is just the very thing that is scheduled to take place on next Wednesday afternoon, Armistice Day, at the College Park beginning at 2:30. After some discussion it was agreed to play the game on Armistice Day so a number of fans would be able to take advantage of the holiday or par. holiday to witness the great annual classic.

The Cyclone-Broncho game will headline the gridiron schedule for the Panhandle as no other contest in this section will approach the local game in importance, color and rivalry. A large crowd is expected to set a new attendance record in Clarendon for the game with many grid fans journeying to the city from most all the nearby towns. Both teams have been declared in the pink of condition and are awaiting the opening gun to annihilate any championship hopes either eleven might have entertained prior to the encounter.

As usual, the Bronchos are slight favorites, but if your memory is still to be trusted we believe you will readily agree that "DOPE" is not to be relied on—especially when it concerns a Memphis-Cyclone football battle. So many times have the Bronchos stepped onto the gridiron to hand the Memphis a lacing, but just about every time something on the order of the lowly Cyclone would arise in all its swirling wrath and blow sand in the Bronchos' eyes and breeze off to Memphis leaving the Maroon and White eleven and the citizens of Clarendon slowly recovering from the havoc of the Cyclone victory. Now Bronchos, what we want to get over is this, here it is another year with the privilege of meeting the Memphis Cyclones in our fair city's own back yard. Whatever might have happened in the past the citizens of Clarendon and Donley County still have confidence in your ability and believe once more that you can and will down the terrifying Cyclone. Long has been the wait during the past year for this opportunity. Bronchos, to erase last year's humiliating defeats by a fighting Memphis eleven, and now we believe the time has arrived, a new dawn shines for Clarendon through the clouded disappointments which has hovered over the Maroon athletic relations to the east.

The supreme test is awaiting each Broncho next Wednesday afternoon at the College Park, and SPORTS SLANTS voices the confidence of the entire football fandom that every Maroon clad warrior will live up to our expectations and not forfeit the faith placed in your fighting ability.

ty. Give all you have Bronchos, the success will more than reward your efforts—the self satisfaction of a game won by a hard, fairly played victory over a powerful and clean opponent will be a grand experience.

Well, well, well, look what popped up on my desk, a missile from the domains of the Hall County metropolis, a city of muck wind and an occasional Cyclone known to most people in the immediate vicinity as Memphis. But wait, on closer scrutiny we find it's a challenge—yes sir, we've been challenged. My, my, what'll we do?—quick Oswald the the smelling compound.

Ladies and Gentlemen—the big bout. On our east, Ted Read, challenger, columnist, journalist, Memphis Democrat employee, the lesser of two evils—while in your very midst is the greater of two evils, SPORTS SLANTS engineer, loafer, sport prognosticator and, and—oh well, the challenge—But first let us give you the honor, pardon us honorable judges—just a little excitement from the strain—the Clarendon Bronchos and the Memphis Cyclones.

I noticed in the Clarendon News the other day a column by Sam Braswell, Jr., called "Sports Slants," in which he states the Memphis team beat "overconfidence" by a score of 31 to 25 one year ago on the local gridiron. Now, I don't believe that the local tear; beat the Clarendon boys just because they were overconfident, but they just played them off their feet, and took the extra touchdown away with a play that Clarendon couldn't stop.

And just to show Braswell that I believe what I have said, I'll make a friendly wager with him. I'll wager my column against his we beat his Clarendon players this year when we play. If I lose I'll write his sketch for one week and if he loses he will write mine for a week. That is a fair wager, and I'm sure that will take it.

Don't fail me Bronchos—I need a rest and so does the readers.

And now, gentlemen and ladies, it becomes our most painful duty to continue even further—but I almost forgot. This was a personal matter, so if you folks will kindly turn your dials down a paragraph or two I'm sure he editor of the Pampa Daily News will be fully appreciative—and we'll get this horrible task over with. Everybody got your papers turned to another page? Fine, here goes—

We wonder if we might be so kind as to make inquiry of one Olin Hinkle, pilot of the Pampa Daily News, concerning a certain athletic contest staged in your fair city in the none too far distant past?

Using your expression, Olin, "Who won the Lubbock-Pampa football game," and could you give any information relative to such including score etc?

And by the way Mr. Pampan,

T. C. U. STUDENT BODY TO ATTEND TEXAS GAME

Special To The Clarendon News FORT WORTH, Nov. 4.—The Texas Christian University student body has voted to attend the football game between the Frogs and the Longhorns in Austin Nov. 14 as its annual trip. Approximately 1500 students and Frog supporters are expected to make the trip by special train and by cars.

Two years ago the Frogs invaded Austin and defeated the Steers for the first time in the history of the two schools. The score was 15 to 12 in favor of the Christians, who subsequently fought their way to a conference championship. T. C. U. followers are hoping that "history repeats."

the second and fourth quarters. In the first and third quarters the Irishmen outplayed the Cyclones. Despite the fight exhibited in these quarters they were unable to equal the more powerful Memphis team. The Memphis scores were made on a well balanced weak side wing back formation, with the exception of one which was scored through the center of the line and one scored on a pass. This victory decided the lower section championship of the district. Memphis and Clarendon will meet in College Park on November 11th, to decide who is the champion of this half of the district. The winner of this tilt will then play either Dalhart or Spearman for the district championship.

POLITICS AND PERSONALITIES

A hope that the House of Representatives may yet live up to its name has been engendered by the demand of eight insurgent members from Wisconsin for a change in House rules as the price of their support of a Republican candidate for Speaker. These rules at present permit two or three persons to decide what legislation the "representatives" may consider. The Insurgents propose that any 100 Congressmen be allowed to petition for the discharge of a Committee holding up legislation and that action on such legislation may be taken after the committee is discharged. Such changes as these might prevent committees from acting any longer as graveyards to worthwhile legislation originating in the Senate. The Norris Amendment to abolish "lame ducks" and the Senate plan for operation of Muscle Shoals are among the bills that languished for years in House committee pigeonholes. It is also the custom of our Representatives to stow away bills emanating from the upper branch of Congress and then to take up legislation along the same lines proposed by a member of the House. Such a proceeding is possible under the "gag" rule which the Insurgents would abolish. In addition to the Wisconsin group, some Insurgents including Paul Kvale of Minnesota, Fiorello La Guardia of New York, and a sprinkling of rebels are expected to ask for a liberalization of House proceedings. They will probably get it. Loss of their votes would mean giving the Democrats control of the House, and what good would a gag rule then be to the G. O. P.?

Industrial Possibilities of Texas

BY COL. WM. E. TALBOT

(Editor's Note:—Following is the fifth of a series of articles by Col. W. E. Talbot, agency manager for the Southland Life Insurance Company and the prime mover in the campaign for Texas industries, in which he discusses the possibilities of Texas from an industrial standpoint, answering the question: "What manufacturers does Texas have and what can we profitably manufacture?" Other articles will follow.)

Special To The Clarendon News STORY NO. 6

A list of all Texas manufacturers with their brands and retail prices has been compiled and made available at no cost for any merchant, who desires this information pertaining to his own particular line.

Industrial surveys were made of probable locations where new industries could come in to supplement those we already had. The use of waste products and raw materials and undeveloped resources were carefully studied. This work was completed along in October. It gave a blue print of our actual conditions, and showed conclusively the necessity of some concerted action from all of our people to build up our own state.

How was it to be done, when it is considered that there are approximately six million people in this state, covering the biggest area of any state in the union? It was a big job in selling and it could be done only through the cooperation of the entire citizenship of Texas.

In October, three weeks before the election, George C. Butte withdrew as a candidate for Governor. The opportunity was offered to me to make this race, in which I saw a possibility of putting before the people of Texas the simple plan which would enable them to materially build up our state.

During the three weeks of the campaign 72 speeches were made, ten and one half hours of radio time was donated, and all but two of these speeches were under the auspices of chambers of commerce in different localities. Some 280 clubs were organized, pledged to support Texas and Southwest made products and the home-town merchants.

The newspapers of this state were liberal and helpful to the extreme. Some thirteen hundred editorials were written, and only three of these were unfavorable. Thousands of inches of space were given and the people were aroused to the necessity of doing something to help instead of waiting for legislation or an act of providence.

Yet, when are we going to really wake up?

OVERSEAS FLIGHTS

So many overseas flights have been made, both in airplanes and dirigibles, that for sake of keeping the record straight in the minds of the public an account of some of the first feats of this nature may be of interest.

In order to grasp the significance of the early feats in this connection, it is necessary to distinguish between the conditions which attended them. The facts may be briefly stated, as follows:

The first aircraft to fly across the Atlantic was the U. S. Navy seaplane NC-4, in May 1919, with Lieutenant Commander A. C. Read in command. This was not a non-stop flight, however, as stops were made in Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, and the Azore Islands.

The first non-stop flight across the Atlantic was made by Alcock and Brown of the British air force in June, 1919, between Newfoundland and Ireland.

The first transatlantic flight by a dirigible was that of the British R-34, with 31 men aboard, in July, 1931. The year 1919 therefore was an epoch-making one in the history of overseas flying.

But the greatest overseas flight of all time, so far, was that of Lindbergh, in May, 1927, his unequalled feat being that of crossing the Atlantic from the mainland of America to the mainland of Europe alone. All other overseas crossings have been made by two or more aviators flying together.

So, until some other flyer equals or exceeds his great achievement, Lindbergh must be considered as standing in a class all by himself as the "Lone Eagle" of the air.

Dr. Stavros Demogolu, Greek dietitian, declares in one of his lectures that persons drinking milk in large quantities developed the brains and mentality of a cow.

DID YOU EVER SEE A MILL?

Not the old grist mill down by the lake where your grandfather took his grain to be ground. Not the coffee mill in the grocery store at the corner. Not the grinding machinery in the cement plant.

These are not the kind of mills we mean when we say "Ten mills make one cent, ten cents make one dime, ten dimes make one dollar."

Just think what you can buy with one cent—a stick of chewing gum, a postal card, one cigarette, one-fifth of a five-cent cigar, a slice or two of bread, a bite of meat.

Now divide each of those by ten, and you have some conception of the value of one mill.

Ten times ten times ten—there are one thousand of these imaginary units called mills in every dollar.

And just one of those little insignificant mills is the risk you take when you deposit a dollar in a bank!

Bill Smith has a salary of $5,000 per year and spends every cent of it. He deposits $416.67 on the first of the month and on the last day of the month has nothing left. But his average deposit is $208.33 and by bunching a lot of Bill Smiths together, the bank has the use of that amount multiplied by the number of Bill Smiths.

The President of the United States with all the information at his command, tells you that the amount of property in banks which is not easily converted into unsharable cash and credit is only 20 per cent of the total deposits.

We have seen how Bill Smith's income of $5,000 creates an average deposit of $208.33. Two per cent of that average is $4.16. But $4.16 is only eight one-hundredths of one per cent of Bill's income of $5,000. Not even one mill in the dollar! Only eight-tenths of a mill.

The Government reports there is an extra billion dollars in currency in the hands of all of us, which is being hoarded in socks, toves and safe deposit boxes. If that billion or an appreciable part of it, can be put to work instead of loafing, it will start the business wheels turning and benefit all of us.

The President has taken the lead in bringing about positive action to remove the cause of one of the fears of the American people. His step took courage as well as sound judgment. Isn't it the duty of each of us to follow his lead and not fear behind us?

Jack—I think we could be very congenial, don't you?
Bill—How much do you earn?

Food Precautions

Handle food under sanitary conditions. Use only fresh food, never work with tainted foods. Avoid any questionable food.

Botulism
Bacillus Botulinus is easily destroyed in an acid solution. A ten per cent salt solution will destroy it; boiling for 20 minutes in the presence of oxygen will destroy it.

Precautions For Using Canned Foods
Remember, the person opening the can is responsible to those eating the product.

Before Opening
Tin cans—Both ends should be flat or curved slightly inward. Neither end should bulge or snap back when pressed. All seams should be tight and clean with no trace of leaks.

Glass Jars—The covers, if metal should be firm and flat or curved slightly inward. There should be no sign of leakage around the rubber ring, or elsewhere.

When Opened
The contents should appear sound, normal in color, and the liquid free from unusual cloudiness. As the can is being opened, notice whether there is an out-rush of air or spurting of the liquid. These indicate spoilage. If the air sucks inward, this is a good sign and shows that the vacuum seal has not been broken.

Smell the contents at once. The odor should be characteristic of the product. Any "off" odor probably indicates spoilage. Be sure that the person opening the canned goods is able to smell.

Look at the contents carefully to see whether they appear sound and natural in color and texture. If the can is tin, notice the appearance of the inside. It should be fairly clean and bright, not extensively blackened or corroded.

Be absolutely safe, do not taste ground non-acid vegetables and fruits before boiling.

Boil non-acid foods twenty minutes in an open vessel shortly before using even though there is no sign of spoilage.

Boiling destroys the toxin or poison produced by certain bacteria, but does not destroy the bacteria. In case the liquid in the can is not sufficient to cover the product, cover with boiling water and boil for ten minutes. Smell the hot food carefully, because heating sometimes brings out odors not noticed in cold canned food.

Destroy by burning all food showing any sign of spoilage either by appearance or odor. Take no chances.

Boiling destroys toxin but does not destroy the bacteria. Don't bury spoiled products ever, after boiling, because the bacteria continue to thrive in the soil. Don't feed spoiled products to animals because after boiling because if it is not eaten immediately there is always danger that in masses of food more toxin may be formed. Though the bacteria present may not harm the animal it would probably pollute the soil through the excretion of the animal.

Camp Fire Girls Enjoy Parties

The Camp Fire Girls celebrated the Halloween season with gay and colorful parties. Each place of meeting was made as attractive and spooky as possible by the use of bats black cats with shining eyes, pumpkins, shocks of corn, shaded lights and skeletons, whose bones appeared to rattle at the pull of a string or by the least touch of human hand.

The Kieewa Troop under the guardianship of Mrs. Odos Caraway met at the Country Club on Friday evening and spent a pleasant time in games suitable to Halloween and its frolics.

A large group were present and entered eagerly into the games and as eagerly awaited the refreshments.

Chaperones for the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Odos Caraway, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McMurry.

Miss Lodie Green, sponsor for the Newetompam Troop, entertained members of this troop at her home on Friday evening with old and seasoned Halloween games and contests. A refreshment course embodying the color scheme of black and gold was served at a late hour.

Miss Edith Shelton was hostess to members of the Owisea Troop, at her home on Friday evening. While this is the youngest troop in age, size, number and length of organization, it is by far not wanting in enthusiasm and willingness to work.

Each member invited a guest for this occasion and to say that the spooks and ghosts failed to walk would be far from true for they really did, in flesh as well as spirit, much to the fear and consternation of the guests.

The tea-table lovely in its decorations of yellow and black, held favors for each one as well as orangeade and other refreshments.

Present were: Joe Word, Phoebe Ann Bunfin, Opal Chilton, Flora Catherine Westmoreland, Jane Kerbow, Nelda Sue Burton, Anna Rhee Porter, Ruthie McDonald and Ruth Warren, invited guests. Patterson—Cauthen

The marriage of Miss Marie Cauthen and Mr. U. Z. Patterson was solemnized in the Baptist parsonage, Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. B. N. Shepherd reading the marriage vows in the presence of relatives of the contracting parties.

Miss Cauthen, daughter of our county treasurer, Mrs. Linnie Cauthen, is a talented musician and has spent many years here during which time she has attended our local schools and studied voice under the direction of Mrs. Rolle Brumley. She is popular in both social and church circles.

Mr. Patterson, a nephew of Messrs. Joe and Lee Holland, has been connected with the Holland Brother's Service Station for the past year during which time he has made many friends in our city.

The happy couple are at home to their friends in the W. A. Land apartment.

Mrs. F. G. Johnson will be leader next Sunday.

The Junior Endeavor, under the supervision of Mrs. R. H. Carver is growing both in number and enthusiasm. On next Sunday the topic "Why Is War Wrong?" will be discussed under the leadership of Homer Tucker.

All children of Junior and Intermediate age are urged to be present. Next Friday afternoon a winter roast will be given. All members meet at the church at 4:00 o'clock. The contest being staged here.

Celebrates Birthday With Party.

Society among the younger set has been quite active this week, especially in the way of Halloween parties, but it remained for Beverly Gray Stricklin to change the general routine by inviting thirty-two children to help in celebrating her fourth birthday and the elaborate affair has set the pace for others which will follow in the days to come.

Games that appeal most to children of this age were played throughout the afternoon and the lovely home of Dr. and Mrs. Stricklin was a charming sight with the host of tiny tots romping about the place.

Later the guests were invited into the dining room where a wonderful birthday cake decorated with many attractions that make up a circus. Needless to say the children were delighted, not only with the cake but the lovely refreshments as well.

Rev. and Mrs. Murrel Complimented

The royal hospitality that has ever marked the Panhandle country was the keynote of a beautiful and elaborate reception given last Monday evening at the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Braswell by the stewards of the Methodist Episcopal church South, and their wives, in appreciation of the loyal and faithful work of Rev. Murrel during his four years residence here as presiding elder of this district.

The Braswell home was embowered with roses and glower flowers, vases, baskets and bowls filled with blooms were placed in every point of vantage.

In the dining room the appointments were most active. The table covered with a beautiful lace cloth was centered with a beautiful pink and white birthday cake bearing a number of lighted birthday candles. Four tall pink tapers burned in silver holders, on either side accenting the beauty of the cake. A cut glass cornice held tiny birthday candles on which had been placed a horseshoe.

During the evening melodious strains from the piano and violin floated by the hand of Miss Delphia Bones. Miss Gray Stallings, Mrs. G. L. Boykin and Mrs. John M. Bass, were waited on the breeze making this a truly lovely social function.

Mrs. McHenry Lane Entertains.

The fourteen year old girls from the Intermediate department of the Baptist Sunday School had a hobo party on Thursday evening. The guests dressed as hoboes made a few tours about the city, later returning to the home of Mrs. McHenry Lane where the festivities continued with games suitable to the Halloween season, in rooms gay with black and orange colors, Halloween features and yellow chrysanthemums.

As usual the hoboes began to ask for a "bite to eat" and to satisfy their appetites, the hostess passed a well filled plate. True to nature they soon felt drowsy and feeling the need for rest after such a strenuous day they departed for their homes.

The following hoboes were present: Eugenia Nolan, Mary Travis Dyer, Virginia Cluck, Dorothy Joe Dyan, Anna Moores Swift, Hulda Joe Cauthen and Essie Wood. Flery Watson, T. J. Mann, Bobby Boston, Willard Hudson, Billie Baker, Glen Riley, and J. R. Bartlett of Childress.

Junior Department Stages Parade.

The Junior Department of the Methodist Sunday school changed the order of things, Saturday evening, instead of going about the city doing things that were not quite right, they tried to bring cheer and happiness to some of the "shut-ins."

After making several calls they entered the home if Miss Fannia Perry and showered her with faintly gifts in appreciation of her loyal services as superintendent of the department for the past few years, she having had to give up this work recently, being succeeded by Mrs. E. B. Bowen.

The line of march was then re-arranged and to the tune of "Hail the Gane's all here" the group invaded Kearney Street before returning to the church for games and refreshments.

Farewell Party for Mrs. Loyd Stallings.

It was a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Loyd Stallings, who left on Wednesday with Mr. Stallings to make her home in Pampa, Texas that members of the 1926 Book Club delightfully entertained Friday afternoon with a handkerchief shower at the club room.

A wealth of lovely garden flowers embodying a color scheme of yellow and green adorned the club room where tables were arranged for "42". Playing began at 3:30 o'clock and each round was brisk with interest. At the close score favors were awarded to Mrs. Allen Bryan, high; Mrs. Cecil Webb, low, and the honor guest, Mrs. Stallings. The prizes also furthered the green and yellow color scheme. Then to the surprise of Mrs. Stallings a deluge of handkerchiefs was placed on the table beside her. Such a pretty selection and large variety, no two being alike, is seldom seen.

The refreshment plate, a lovely sight in yellow and green with yellow chrysanthemums as plate favors were passed. Mrs. Loyd Stallings is a charter member of the 1926 Book club and it is with much regret that the members are giving her up for she has been faithful, loyal and true, having at all times had the best interest in her work not only for this club but other worthwhile clubs as well. She will be missed at each and every meeting but may the example of her diligence be an incentive for others.

Present for this delightful and informal affair were: Mesdames L. S. Bagby, D. O. Stallings, A. A. Mavs, Cecil Webb of Spokane, Was., Mrs. B. L. Jenkins of Amarillo, Miss Irma Lewis and Miss Wilma King of Ahtola, invited guests.

Mesdames Meade Haile, Elba Ballew, Sam Braswell, Jr., Bill Bromley, Rolle Brumley, Allen Bryan, W. A. Clark, Jr., Harlan Navier, Manley Ozier, O. T. Smith Rayburn Smith, Clifford Davis Frank Stocking, Ed Teer, W. C. Thornberry, Henry Tomb, L. B. Chunn, J. R. Porter, R. Wilkerson, G. L. Boykin, and the honoree, Loyd Stallings.

Misses Helen Martin, Lotta Bourland, Temple Harris and Fray Stallings, Club members.

Spook Features Decorate Rooms.

Witches, cats, and bats, combined with yellow chrysanthemums were seen en masse in the decoration for the attractive Halloween party given by Misses Pauline Sanford and Jonnie D. Latson, Friday evening, when they were hostesses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buel Sanford.

Games of bridge opened the party at 8:00 o'clock with dancing being enjoyed later in the evening.

The Halloween motif was cleverly carried out in the tallies, score cards and refreshments.

Guests for the evening were: Misses Dorothy Jo Taylor, Carroll Holder, Elizabeth Kemp, Pauline Shelton, Jean Bourland, Mary Alice Quattlebaum, Lattie Quattlebaum, Lola Gordon, Lucile Andis, Eunice Johnson and the Messrs. Silas Franklin, Buck McKinney, Benton Smith, Roy Starrett, Carroll Hudson, Kenneth Brown, Hollis Leathers, Bill Word, Mike Stricklin, Joe Noble, Tony Watson, and Dick Nichols.

At the close of the afternoon a dainty salad course was served to the following members and special guests: Mesdames Ralph Andis, Ralph Decker, Vado Carpenter, Carl Peabody, Ray Couch, Turner Kirby and T. D. Nored.

Mrs. W. H. Patman and Mrs. Phillips Engle were visitors in Amarillo on Tuesday.

Mr. T. R. Brown, County Agent, will go to these places at 4:00 o'clock the day before for a slaughtering demonstration and hopes to meet all the men in the respective communities interested in good home canned meats. Miss Martha Buttrill, C. H. D. A. says the proper bleeding of the animals and chilling of the meat has as much to do toward a good home canned product as the canning. The cutting demonstrations will

IN SOCIETY

Mrs. Heathery Complimented.
It was to compliment Mrs. T. W. Heathery that Mrs. Knox entertained with a shower at the home of Mrs. Charles Speed on last Friday afternoon.

An orange and black color scheme, in keeping with the present holiday season, was effectively carried out in cut flowers, and the refreshment course.

As a march was played little Miss Ella Jean Speed and Master Dan Raymond Knox appeared with a huge basket, labeled "Steam Laundry", presenting same to Mrs. Heathery, who graciously opened each package and said a grateful "Thank you" to each giver.

Attending were: Mesdames Clarence Whitlock, Roy Ingram, U. T. Dever, Ray Couch, Vada Carpenter, Ed Speed, John M. Bass, Hackworth of Memphis, I. O. Noble, T. W. Heathery and Charles Speed. Misses Fannie Perry, Bernice Andis, and Nora Lee O'Neal.

A Merry Party.

Fantastic Masquerade Costumes were seen at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Douglas on Friday, when Master Clyde Benton Douglas was host to his friends with a Halloween party.

The festivities began at 5:00 o'clock and with wide-spread wings, cats in sooty outlines, and owls hooting their mournful notes to the moon.

Autumn fruits in colorful tints together with candies, punch and cookies were served the children at the close of the evening of entertainment.

The guest list included: Annie Ree Porter, Nelda Sue Burton, Patricia Grady, Janice Westmoreland, Marilyn Sawyer, John Carroll Brumley, Lewis Chamberlain, Doris Fowler, Mabry Kimbriel, Edward Engle, Billie Ralph Andis, Basil Kirtley and Charlotte Tomb.

Mrs. Douglas was assisted in the entertaining by Mrs. Phillip Engle.

1926 Book Club Elects Officers.

The annual election of officers was held by the 1926 Book Club in the club room, Tuesday afternoon.

Roll call was answered by brief parliamentary laws. The following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Rolle Brumley; Vice-President, Mrs. Frank Stocking; Treasurer, Fray Stallings; Corresponding Secretary, Lotta Bourland; Parliamentarian, Mrs. O. T. Smith; Federation Councilor, Mrs. W. A. Clark; Secretary, Mrs. W. C. Thornberry.

A mock trial conducted on the part of Constitutionality, followed with the following taking part, each in costume:

Judge, Mrs. W. C. Thornberry; Attorneys, Mrs. G. L. Boykin, Mrs. E. M. Ozier; Defendant, Mrs. Bill Bromley; Sheriff, Mrs. O. T. Smith; Clerk, Mrs. Rolle Brumley. Witnesses were also in costumes.

During the social hour the hostesses, Mrs. Meade Halle and Mrs. Cone, served a sumptuous salad course.

Class Party Given Saturday.

At the home of Mrs. U. J. Boston, Saturday evening, members of the Sunday school classes taught by Mrs. U. J. Boston and Mrs. H. L. McElvaney were entertained with a Halloween party.

Games of varied nature were enjoyed in rooms aglimmer with howling cats, rattling skeleton bones and the like.

A refreshment course was served to: Avis Lee McElvaney, Geraldine Summers, Dorothy Faye Scroggins, Dorothy Watson, Elizabeth Sanders, Fannie Maye Sachse.

Woodrow Bulls, Lowell LaFon, A. J. Smith, Randall Acord, Linwood Betts, Bobbie Boston, Aubrey Brady, and Wilson Kutch.

Party at Home of Mabel Johnson.

Putting Halloween over with a bang was the clever way Mable Johnson and Mildred Atteberry did it on Saturday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Johnson.

Games and contests such as a potato race, fortune telling, spooking parties and others made the evening pass all too rapidly for Margaret Reavis, Dorothy Wisdom, Irene Fowler, Louise Wood, Julia Hahn, Gavnell Tidwell, Geneva Eldridge, June Adams, June Atteberry, Merrittom Atteberry, Vivian Reavis and Dollie Watters.

Brilliant Reception At Baird Home.

With just enough tang in the air to hint of fall, though the wealth of flowers filled the rooms with the rich fragrance of summer, and ideal weather to lend its charm conspired to make the reception given yesterday afternoon by Circles two and three of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, in the home of Mrs. J. B. Baird, honoring Mrs. W. M. Murrell, one of the most beautiful of the autumn social events.

On arrival the guests were greeted by Mrs. C. W. Bennett, Jr., Mrs. E. P. Shelton, Mrs. Gattis, Mrs. Murrell and Mrs. Baird.

Mrs. J. G. Sherman acted as Master of Ceremonies and presented each participant on the program in a very clever manner.

Every person has a desire to do something for which they are not fitted and it was to satisfy this desire that Mrs. Sherman sent a number of women through a machine that worked magic, making them appear young and beautiful and possessing the gift they so greatly desired, thus was the following program announced.

Vocal Trio—Misses Carroll Holder, Jean Bourland and Elizabeth Kemp.
Reading—Miss Eunice Johnson.
Dance—Miss Margaret Taylor.
Piano Duett—Misses Pauline Shelton and Jonnie D. Latson.
Violin Solo—Miss Elizabeth Kemp.
Vocal Solo—Miss Anna Moores.
Harmonica Solo—Nickey Stewart.
Ukulele duett—Misses Elizabeth Kemp and Eunice Johnson.
One act play (farce) "Pocahontas"—Members of circles two and three.

After the program the guests were invited into the dining room where a lovely refreshment course was served. A color scheme of yellow and black was developed here in the centerpiece of Calendulas arranged in a bowl of black crystal, with black candle sticks supporting yellow and blue tapers, the flowers and other decorations of the side-board and the refreshment course.

About sixty ladies called to pay their respects to the honoree and enjoy the elaborate entertainment of the afternoon.

One of the most touching scenes of the afternoon was the presentation of a beautiful set of silver candlesticks to Mrs. Murrell by one of her closest friends, Mrs. C. A. Burton, in behalf of the society. Mrs. Burton made a most fitting speech on "Friendship," Mrs. Murrell graciously responding with a few well chosen and grateful remarks.

Mrs. Kirtley Entertains.

The Young Matrons' Bridge Club was delightfully entertained with a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. B. F. Kirtley on Thursday afternoon.

The color scheme of orange and black was effectively carried out in yellow marigolds and chrysanthemums, score cards and the refreshment course.

The high score was presented Mrs. B. C. Antrobus at the close of the games.

Attending were: Mesdames B. C. Antrobus, Tren Stargel, Lillian Brady, Roy Ingram, Ed Teer, Harrison Simson, W. L. Ball and Earl Alexander.

A Lovely Birthday Party

In celebration of her seventh birthday, Nelda Sue Burton entertained a group of friends at her home on Wednesday Afternoon.

The weather being ideal, outdoor games were indulged in until the guests were invited in to the dining room. Here a color scheme of pink and white had been effectively carried out in the surprise favors, birthday cake and ice course.

The cake which formed the center piece for the table was banked with silver king, pink cosmos and chrysanthemums, making a beautiful combination.

Present were: Marilyn Sawyer, Helen Jean Paxson, Edith Shelton, Clyde Benton Douglas, Billie Ralph Andis, Jimmy Boykin, Billie Joe Alexander and Mrs. James Headrick.

Mrs. Mann Host To S. S. Class.

Masses of black cats, bats, and autumn leaves decorated the home of Mrs. W. J. Deal Friday evening when Mrs. T. J. Mann entertained her Sunday School Class with a wonderful Halloween party.

Games were played and fortunes told for about three hours, then delicious refreshments of nuts, candies, cakes and sandwiches were served to the following: Marie Carlile, Mary Frances Dewey, Eloy Dell Dewey, Grenton Elder, Lillian Frances, Lola Bryan, Goldie Tyeer, Ha Deal, Glennie Deal, and Vera Oakly.

Others present were Mrs. T. J. Mann, Mrs. E. C. Dewey and Mrs. W. J. Deal.

Former Broncho Teams Boast Undeclared And Championship Years

(By The News Sports Editor)

The major question being asked by the football fans of the district at the present time is "will the 1931 Bronchos equal the impressive record of former Maroon and White elevens?" That will be quite a task for this year's team to accomplish, but yet it is not too great a task, for this year the Clarendon High School is being represented by one of the greatest class "B" aggregations ever assembled in this part of the State or we might add the entire state.

Should the Bronchos defeat the Cyclones from Memphis next Wednesday in the annual classic they will be in an advantageous position to go even farther than the two truly great teams which represented the school and city in the years 1924 and 1925. Going back to the earlier pages of the local high school football history we find only mediocre teams with indifferent records and then came 1924. With that year the Clarendon football teams have been enjoying a position near the top or at the top of the district throne pinnacle ever since. The cause of the sudden rise in the football destinies of the local school was due largely to the move which secured G. L. Boykin, fresh out of Texas A. & M., for Agriculture teacher and Athletic Coach.

Bringing with him to Clarendon was the Dana X Bible Aggie system of football. Through the medium of hard work and earnest effort on the part of the small but willing squad of boys the Maroon and White team swept through all their opposition with only 9 points scored against them until the annual Clarendon-Memphis struggle. The game was staged at Hedley and resulted in what spectators swear today was the most sensational gridiron contest ever staged in the Panhandle. The game was a see-saw affair and finally ended with the score tied at 19 to 19. On the flip of a coin Clarendon saw her chances for the title fade as the wrong side of the money failed to make its looked for appearance. However no other games were lost by the Bronchos and Coach Boykin was rewarded with an undefeated season in his initial venture as football mentor.

The year of 1924 brought out such stars as Marion Gatlin, Clyde Naylor, Loran Naylor, Paul Schull, Bill Taylor, Jess Lowe, John Hayer, Clarence Whitlock, Ed Smith, Paul Montgomery, "Sheep" Clark, Clarence Clark, Roy "Mutt" Ingram and Walter Mark Emmons.

Then came the year of 1925 with its several new and inexperienced men. Again Boykin drove the squad hard and with a fine spirit of help and co-operation from the players waded through another successful season losing only a single game, that to the Claude Mustangs on a fumble. Out of the race the Maroon players came through with an unblemished record holding the powerful Hollis team, Oklahoma State champions, to a scoreless tie after a valiant fight on the bleak and frigid Hollis gridiron.

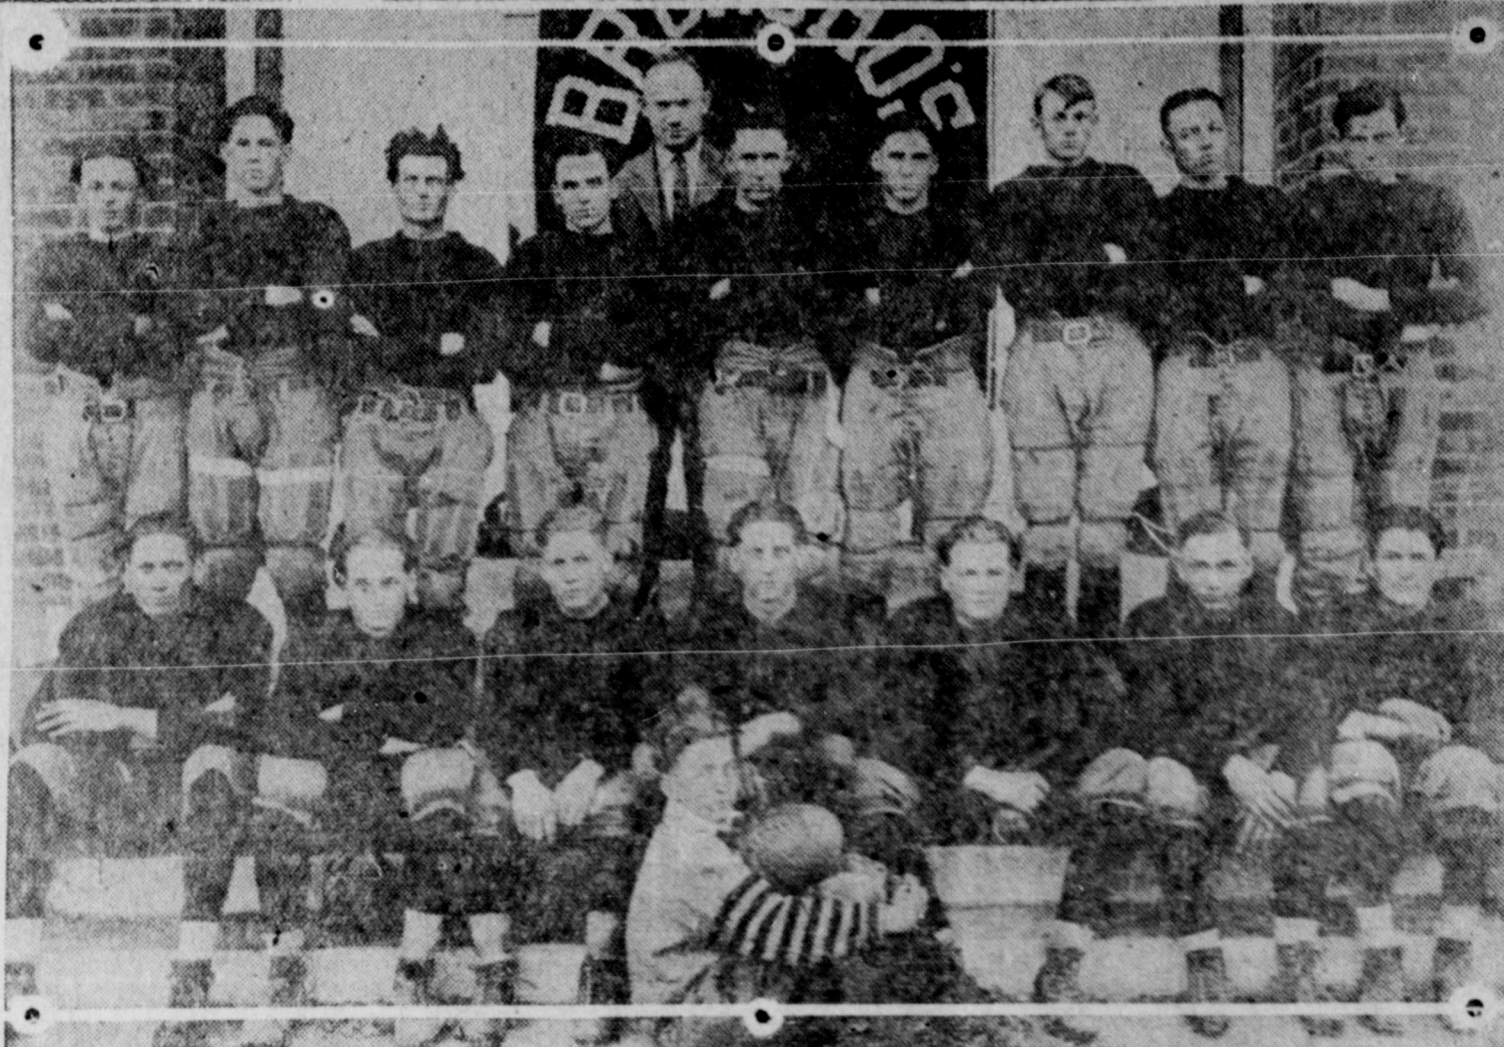

However, the Bronchos were determined in 1926 to reward the faithful coach with a district championship. Starting out in fine fashion the Maroon gridsters worked into the semi-finals and traveled to Wellington to meet the powerful Skyrockets in that important game. Boasting the Powell brothers, Williams, Leggett, McInnis and other Wellington gridiron heroes the Skyrockets were hailed as certain champions. Aided by two perfect field goals the Bronchos romped into the fourth period with a six point lead, however the Wellington machine was not to be denied and scored in the last few minutes of play and failed to convert the point for victory. Then came the journey to Canyon for a battle with the Eagles led by the rampaging Brown and Christian. The Bronchos scored early with the famous around play, but when the referee realized that Clarendon had actually scored against the Eagles nothing must do but disallow the marker. Disheartened but still fighting the Bronchos again took the lead with a field goal from the toe of Doc Naylor. A number of flagrant displays of authority by the referee took the heart out of the Bronchos and permitted an Eagle tally late in the game. The district was thrown into a three tie between Wellington, Canyon and Clarendon, however with the games to be played on College Park. The first was won by the locals with a win over Wellington 12 to 0. In the finals with Canyon the Bronchos quality of the team and the sportsmanship basis upon which their play is builded.

Will the 1931 Bronchos equal the record of the Broncho teams of 1924 and 1925? We believe they will but the answer will largely rest upon the outcome of the hard battle facing each of the Bronchos on next Wednesday afternoon at College Park.

1924 BRONCHO SQUAD—UNDEFEATED

1926 BRONCHO SQUAD—DISTRICT CHAMPIONS

handed the Eagles a 6 to 0 lacing, holding them to 3 first downs. Growing stale the Bronchos lost the bi-district title to the Floydada Whirlwinds a week before Christmas by a score of 26 to 0, the worst beating a Boykin team ever suffered.

The regulars of the 1926 eleven were H. A. Blanton, Clyde Naylor, Meade Hille, Sam Braswell, Jr., Jack Bourland, Arthur Arnold, Leonard Harris, William Wilder, Leonard Darnell, Marshall Morris, Marshal Crabtree, Gene Chamberlain, Newt Helton, and Robert Dillard.

Now, with a powerful unit the Bronchos again bid fair to again repeat the sensational records of those years and even better them by also taking bi-district honors. Coaches Frank Stocking and John Hutton have been untiring in their effort to satisfy the locals with a fine team, and are due a great deal of credit for the fighting

Alpha Delta Psi Society Activities

After the business was taken up and discussed, the new members of the Alpha Delta Psi Literary Society were invited last Wednesday evening. They were all asked to leave the room and one by one they were brought back blindfolded to meet their various fates. Greatly to the amusement of the other members, cookies with red pepper between them were eaten, eggs were broken on heads, and pennies were rooted out of flour by the nose.

Roll call was answered by a joke. Because it was exam week, the program for the evening was omitted so that everyone could do the much needed study for exams next day.

H. E. Club Will Attend Dist. Meet

The Home Economics Club plans to get subscriptions for a magazine in order that the students may raise enough money to become affiliated with the district club. The district meet of H. E. Clubs will be held in Childress Saturday, November 7. Plans for a large attendance from here have been made.

Pep Squad Braves Wintery Blast Thurs.

It certainly was a cold, windy day last Thursday at the football game. However, the members of the Pep Squad were there to cheer for the Bronchos. The wind prevented them from performing a stunt, although they had practiced one.

Big plans are being made for the game with Memphis. At the Pep Rally before that game it is planned to have red and white torches and what a display there will be! The stunt is rumored to be the best that the girls have had this year. They say that they are going to practice hard and have a perfect stunt. The Pep Squad will also be larger as twenty boys have been persuaded to join. Every body come to the Memphis game and have a good time.

Broncs Prepare to Meet Memphis

The Broncs have received stiff work outs all this week preparing to meet the Memphis Cyclones here November 11. This game promises to be such a thriller as has never before been played between these two teams. Both elevens are very powerful this year and each has the grim determination to win.

The Bronchos have been defeated by the Memphis Cyclones for the last six years. It seems that a jinx has held the Broncs during this period. Never-the-less we feel that this year the jinx is to be broken.

Coaches Hutton and Stocking state that this promises to be a good game and a hard fought battle, and that the best team will win. May we be the best team.

Captain Nichols stated, "There is a beginning to everything and now is the time to beat Memphis."

Al Benson says, "I'm tired of the Cyclones beating us. If I get to play, I will do my darndest."

Tony Watson says, "Come around my end, I'm ready."

Snooks Andis has been heard to say, "We are bound to win some time and this should be it."

Fred Reid, as usual has little to say. His actions speak loud enough.

Elevy Watson also says, "I'm ready."

Pete Morris says, "I have a hunch." We hope it is to win.

Loyd Martin says, "No more loafing for me! Let's go!"

John McMahan is quiet but ready.

J. L. Behrens says, "I'll do my best."

Bill Greene says, "Memphis has no jinx on me."

Archie Waters says, "Bring them on, we'll take 'em."

The rest of the boys have little to say, but we are backing them.

The entire team has agreed to dedicate this game to the coaches in a partial payment for their tireless efforts and everlasting patience. They feel that win, lose or draw the coaches will be satisfied if the best possible football is played. The coaches feel that if the best possible football is played we are sure to win.

Fans the Broncs have not had the backing of large crowds this season; so let us all be out Armistice Day to back the Broncs and see one of the most thrilling games played in College Park. Beat Memphis Broncs! Yea Team! Fight!!!

Hallowe'en Party

As Hallowe'en is a night of merry-making for all, a group of college and high school students met for that purpose at Miss Pauline Sanford's late Saturday night. The charming hostesses were Miss Pauline Sanford and Miss Jonnie D. Latson, who graciously met all who came at the back door. That door was used because pinned on the front door which was securely locked, was a piece of paper with the directions that everyone should follow the string leading away from the door, before he could enter. After leading them through all kinds of unheard of places, it very kindly led everybody to the back door.

Although it was a night of labor for the witches, who had given the sky its annual cleaning, it was one of superb enjoyment for the young people who attended the party. The house was decorated with all kinds of things that tended to make it seem "spooky". The usually smooth faced pumpkin which was sitting on the mantel had donned the most grotesque of facial expressions, and several black cats stood around trying to make people think they were scared, while Mr. Owl perched himself upon one corner of the moon and tried to impress every body with his wise looks.

After every body had arrived, bridge was played until about half of the evening had passed, then dancing took place until late when delicious refreshments were served to: Misses Jean Bourland, Dorothy Jo Taylor, Latrice Quattlebaum, Mary Alice Quattlebaum, Nola Gordon, Pauline Shelton, Eunice Johnson, Elizabeth Kemp, Lucille Andis, Carol Hoelzer and Jonnie D. Latson and Pauline Sanford. Messrs Joe Noble Benton Smith, Hollis Leathers, Silas Franklin, Dick Nichols, Roy Starvogel, Bill Word, Carrol Hudson, Mike Stricklin, and Buck McKinney.

Happenings And Names

The Alpha Delta Psi Literary Society has a corner in "Smiths". In electing their officers, Barbara Smith was made president, James Smith Sergeant-At-Arms, Adeline Smith Reporter, and Benton Smith chairman of the program committee. Of course these officers were chosen for their ability, and no one noticed until later the little matter of names.

Then in Education 113, there are three Paulines, each of whose family name begins with the letter S. Pauline Sanford, Pauline Shelton, and Pauline Slover.

Leather Work Studied By First Year Aggies

The first year Agriculture class on Monday were instructed how to make stitching thread to use in leather work. On Tuesday they spliced leather and then learned to sew it. Later they worked on sets of harness.

Miss Melba Del Warner, of the Jefferson Hospital, Houston, Texas, is visiting friends and relatives in Clarendon.

Junior Pins To Arrive Here Shortly

Mr. Goldston has sent off for the Junior Pins. He ordered them last Wednesday, Oct. 28, and he has been very patient in waiting for the Juniors to hand their names in. The pins cost $4.50 if there are twelve names on the list, but there are only eight or nine names on the list so the Juniors are going to have to pay about $5.00 for their pins. The money will not be lost, however, for the Juniors that do get them will enjoy them very much. The pins are expected in a few days.

Working Students Successful in School

There have always been those unfortunate students who must support themselves while attending college. Usually they are the ones who live somewhere else, and must board in the city where the college is located. Families living in school towns realize this and are quick to accommodate the girl who must support herself by letting her come into their homes and do housework, or care for children, in return for her room and meals. Boys often secure work on dairy farms, in garages, or in shops in return for board in the homes of the owners. A boy however, usually wishes to receive money for his work and pay board at a place of his choice. For this reason, many self supported college boys secure work in drug stores, confectionaries, grocery or department stores, clothing shops or markets. They evidently feel more independent this way.

Many girls too, secure this type of work so that they may partially, or wholly, pay their own expenses.

Regardless of the type of work he is doing, the working student is generally of average standing in school work. It seems that these students appreciate their opportunity more because they must work to make it possible. A student must really long for an education before he will do menial labor in order to obtain it, and therefore he wants to make the best of his opportunity by getting all the good possible from his college courses.

One of the local teachers has observed that the working student wishes to carry a greater number of subjects than the average, instead of fewer—as she always advises them to. She states that they seem confident of their ability, and want to crowd all into one year that they may. Her advice is: If you are self-supporting, you should use twice the time to complete college that is generally taken. She says no one has ever accepted this advice!

Mike Stricklin, Lee McKinney and Silas Franklin attended the Pampa Lubbock game at Pampa Saturday.

Did You Know THAT—

(By One Who Knows)

I am just in the mood to be sarcastic; in fact, I think I shall even go so far as to enjoy this mood. (That is sarcasm right there.) And in the beginning, I should like to say a few words about some of the questions these school teachers ask. You know these past five days have witnessed the nine weeks examination for all the College collegiates. I say "witnessed" for some of these questions, as well as some of the answers were enough to bring tears to the eyes of any judge, much less to the eyes of the prosecutor. But did those "educational examiners" ween? I hope to say not; and that isn't all. Some of them didn't even give the victims time to recuperate before they read their decrees. Yes, it was pathetic to see the moisture gather in the eyes of the students as their sentences were read.

Something should be done about these examination schedules. Why some of the suspects were billed for two trials a day; and let me tell you, that is certainly not in accordance to that "individual differences" the Dean is always orating about. By the way, I must correct an error I just made; attention has been called to the fact that students should not be called suspects; not any of the teachers so much as suspected them of being mentally capable of passing a course.

But to get down to the primary sarcastic sarcasm. I just want to reveal to the reading public how very uneducated some of the instructors in Clarendon Junior College are. Why, would you believe it, one of the economic teachers, I want tell you which one of four, but every one has the privilege of guessing as many as five times, asked "What is the cause of the present economic depression, and how can it be remedied?" Just like every one didn't know that after the potato famine in Ireland, the depression hit the ocean and came over in seven league boots to see if Wall Street could weather a gale. It couldn't hence the popularity of black eyed peas and cornbread.

Bronchos Wallops Panhandle 20 to 0

The Clarendon Broncs downed the Panhandle Panthers 20 to 0 last Thursday afternoon in a non-conference tilt. The game was not as exciting as was expected. At times both teams seemed to be inclined to go to sleep but this can be blamed to the cold weather perhaps. Most of the game was played by Broncho reserves who seemed to be as strong as the regulars.

Andis and Reid punted for an average of 38 yards while the Panhandle punters averaged only 26 yards. Panhandle completed only one pass out of seven attempts while the Bronchos completed their two attempts. The Broncs made twelve first downs to the Panthers' five.

Reid scored first and a pass to Behrens netted the extra point. The second touchdown was scored by Nichols. Andis failed to kick the extra point. Andis scored the last touchdown, the extra point was gained by E. Watson's plunge through the line.

Silas H. Strawn, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, speaks as follows:

"Every thoughtful citizen knows the inestimable value of the services of the American Red Cross, not only to our own citizens but to the world generally.

It is the only agency so organized as effectively to relieve distress resulting from calamities which cannot be anticipated or averted but which may happen at any time or place.

It has a long record of splendid achievement.

"I am sure that all must realize that at this time, especially, the Red Cross must be liberally supported, in order that it may be prepared to carry on its splendid work.

"I do not regard a membership in the Red Cross as a charitable gift. It is the discharge of a patriotic duty which one owes to the less fortunate."

SARAH JANE PARKER BURIED HERE FRIDAY

Friends and acquaintances were grieved last Thursday when the news reached Clarendon that Mrs. Henry Parker had passed from this life at the home of her son, H. O. Parker, at Lubbock on Wednesday afternoon.

The end came peacefully to this splendid character who had lived in Donley county for the past twenty-seven years. She had been in poor health for only a period of two months, but her life ebbed rapidly during her illness. All the children but one were present at the end.

Sarah Jane Parker had attained the ripe age of 84 years, 3 months and 7 days.

She was born in Grimes County, Texas, where she grew to young womanhood and married Henry Parker. They moved to Greenville where they made their home until 1904 when the family home was removed to Clarendon.

Her husband preceded her in death, having passed to his reward in 1915. Mrs. Parker was a devoted servant to the Master through her unselfish affiliation with the Baptist faith.

The body was brought to Clarendon and funeral services held at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. B. N. Shepherd, pastor, conducting the last rites. A large crowd attended the services and paid their last respects to the friendly old lady who numbered her friends by her acquaintances.

Interment was made in the citizens cemetery. Pallbearers were Messrs. J. R. Tucker, Frank Whitlock, Homer Mulkey, Henry Williams, Adam Risley and Charley Risley.

Those surviving Mrs. Parker are two daughters, Mrs. Hugh Ferguson, El Reno, Oklahoma; Mrs. Arthur Turley, Commerce, Texas; and three sons, S. J. Parker, Novice, Texas; J. T. Parker, Amarillo and H. O. Parker, Lubbock. B. G. Parker of Clarendon is the grandson of the deceased.
