LOCAL SCHOOLS OPEN WEDNESDAY

SENIORS AND COLLEGE STUDENTS WILL REGISTER WEDNESDAY MORNING

Vacation days are almost a thing of the past and every one is busily engaged in completing plans for the opening of the local school term next Wednesday morning. The teachers of Donley county are ready for the two-day institute to be held in Clarendon next Monday and Tuesday. Announcements will be made concerning the various branches of the school which will lessen the loss of time in getting the school unit on regular routine.

Wednesday afternoon will be a continuation of the above process with the sophomore and junior high school students reporting for their initial time. Other students will report to the Junior High and South Ward buildings Wednesday at 9 o'clock where courses will be arranged and classes assigned.

LOCAL PEOPLE ATTEND HEDLEY OLD TIME PICNIC

W. H. Patrick, W. H. Taylor and Mrs. M. W. Mosely spent last Saturday in Hedley where they attended an Old Timers' Picnic on the Finch Ranch, 4 miles south of that city. The event is the first of the picnics which will become an annual affair and is sponsored by the women's clubs of Hedley.

About 75 old timers were present, meeting about 10 o'clock in the morning and visiting until noon. At noon one of the most pleasing feasts of the old time nature was offered to the group. The quantity and quality of the old time spread will be attested to by those present, it being strictly Donley county products.

After the bountiful noon lunch the happy group retreated to the cooling comfort of the giant trees shading the beautiful picnic grounds. After another get-together period in which visiting was the order of the day, E. H. Watts opened the speaking period with a few well chosen remarks relative to the inception of the old timers' picnic idea by the women for a chance to again renew acquaintances whose friendships had meant a great deal more than many of the present day friendships. W. H. Patrick of this city followed Mr. Watts and delivered a sparkling and wholesome talk on what might be termed old time fellowship. This talk was greatly enjoyed as was the one immediately following by H. W. Taylor, also of Clarendon. Tom Bain was another to add zest to the speaking with an interesting speech.

Mr. Patrick describes the picnic as "one of the most charming affairs ever held in Donley County.

Open Meeting Feature Of Institute

One of the features of the Teachers' Institute for the faculty members of Donley county schools to be held here next Monday and Tuesday, August 31st and September 1st, will be the open meeting Monday evening beginning at 8:30 o'clock in the College Auditorium. This will be the first session of its kind since the beginning of the Institute and will be for the purpose of bringing closer together the parents, pupils and teachers of the county's schools. Problems relating to the different phases of scholastic work will be fully explained. Mr. H. L. Goerner, Prominent Educator of the southwest, will be the principal speaker of the evening and is one of the best qualified school men ever brought to Donley county.

Special invitation is extended the families of the entire county to attend this important meeting, and plans are being laid to care for a large and interested crowd. All teachers in the county are expected to attend the two-day session with a great deal of good being derived from the work of the Institute. A splendid program has been worked up according to Supt. RADIO AUDITION TO BE HELD HERE

MRS. J. L. McMURTRY HEADS LOCAL COMMITTEE ON AUDITION CONTEST

Mrs. J. L. McMurry has been appointed local chairman of the Fifth National Radio Audition by the Atwater Kent Foundation of Philadelphia.

There is a Marion Talley or a Lou Tibbett among the young people of Clarendon? Throughout the country, in almost every community, active search is going on for young non-professional singers between the ages of 18 and 25 years. One young man, and one young lady will be selected by competition in each city and community. In the past four years many thousands of young people have competed in the National Radio Auditions. The purpose is to find young amateur singers. More than one thousand communities are preparing to hold local auditions such as we are having here.

The committee is very anxious to have every ambitious young man and young woman singer understand that he or she is eligible. Any member of our committee will be glad to explain the simple requirements and provide entry blanks to those who are interested. We believe that we have young singers here in Clarendon whose ambitions should be encouraged. The National Audition offers them an opportunity for further study and for real success.

As the first step we must have our community represented in the Radio Audition, which will take place in October. Hence we ask you to assist us in our work. We must all help.

Local Committee—Mrs. J. L. McMurry, Miss Anna Moores, and Mr. R. S. Cope.

JANETTE ELIZABETH STEAGALL ARRIVES TUESDAY EVE

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Steagall will be glad to know of the arrival of a fine 6½ pound daughter on Tuesday evening. The little lady has been christened Janette Elizabeth. Mr. A. T. Chase, popular granddad of the new arrival is busily engaged in receiving all the honors for the event.

NEW BUSINESSES OPENED IN CITY

LOWE'S GROCERY MOVES TO NEW LOCATION. BUSINESS BETTER

One of the best signs seen in Clarendon in a number of months of the return of business conditions on the up grade is the business changes and additions made in the city in the last few days. The empty buildings which spotted the business district a few weeks ago have bloomed again into attractive business houses.

The Norwood Pharmacy will open its doors to the public in formal opening on Friday and Saturday of this week. The new drug store which recently bought the stock and furnishings of the old Clarendon Drug Co., has completed its move into new quarters and is found attractive and fresh in the building formally occupied by the Wood's Hello World Grocery. The interior has been completely overhauled and remodeled, and Messrs. G. E. Norwood and Ted Williams, new owners will be happy to meet their friends in the new place of business.

The Economy, Clarendon's newest drug goods store, will hold a temporary opening this Saturday throughout the day. The new store which will feature popular dry goods, clothing and shoes occupies the Davis building, two doors south of The News office on Kearney street. Mr. H. Meisell of Wellington is the owner of the business and owns a store at Wellington. It is not known whether Mr. Meisell will have charge of the local store at the present time. The formal opening will be next Saturday, Sept. 5th.

Low's Grocery Store has negotiated their move into more desirable and spacious quarters when they spent the fore part of the week transferring their stock and fixtures from their old location into the building recently housing the old Clarendon drug store, one door north of the former location. The shelves and counters of the store have been arranged to a better advantage for the customer which improves the appearance of the business a great deal.

On the lower end of Kearney street finds the new Tire Shop under the management of Mr. O. V. Newton of Plainview open and ready for business using the latest tools and methods.

A new grocery concern managed by Mr. Sullivan Cooper of Quannah is established in the building housing the Thomas Feed Store and Mill.

The Newmark short order cafe opens this week after being temporarily closed since the early part of the summer.

Pathfinder Story Hour Is Concluded

With the regular Kiddies Story Hour Tuesday evening of this week the series of story periods sponsored by the Pathfinder Club of this city was brought to a successful conclusion for the season of 1931. A large group of interested youngsters were on hand to enjoy the interesting tales of adventure by Mrs. Joe Goldston with Mrs. Nathan Cox acting as sponsor for the occasion. The charming manner in which Mrs. Goldston told the stories captivated the hearts of the young listeners who were enraptured in the various child tales.

The Pathfinder Club is exceedingly pleased with the response of the young life of the city and community to the story periods throughout the summer, and wish to state that until next summer the story hour will be discontinued in lieu of the fact that the schools of the city are starting next week and other interests will be filling the days of the parents and kiddies.

Novel Exhibit Is Institute Feature

One of the most pleasing exhibits ever offered the citizens of Clarendon and Donley county will be found next Monday and Tuesday at the Senior High School and College building during the sessions of the Teachers Institute here. The exhibit will feature the publications of The Southwest Press, popular publishing house of Dallas. Some fifty of their latest releases will be on display, with the "Coronado's Children," by J. Frank Dobie especially being featured. The original pen sketches for the book with the original illustrations in charcoal by Ben Carlon Meade have been secured by Mr. Clyde I. Price and will be of considerable interest to the people of the community. Several autographed books will also be exhibited during the two-day period.

To lend further to the western atmosphere of the exhibit special paintings by Harold Bugbee, local cowboy artist, will be on display. Spanish and South American articles of wearing apparel and novelties, belonging to the collection of Miss Catherine Patrick, will be shown. Several charcoal and pencil drawings by Sam Brasswell, Jr. will also be found in the interesting exhibit.

A cordial invitation to look over this unusual exhibition of art, novelties and books is extended to all the people interested and a large crowd is anticipated. Miss Marie Thornton will be in charge of the displays.

CHICKEN BAR-B-Q AT COUNTRY CLUB

BIG PARTY FOR MEMBERS HELD IN LIEU OF JULY 4TH PICNIC

Members of the Clarendon Country Club enjoyed a chicken barbecue de luxe, Friday evening of last week, when about one hundred and twenty gathered about the long tables just at sundown in as happy a family party as ever enjoyed at the beautiful club grounds a dozen miles North of Clarendon.

This affair was staged in place of the customary July Fourth picnic which was dispensed with this year on account of the resumption of the big Fourth of July event tendered the county by the City of Clarendon. The directors planned the chicken barbecue for Friday evening that the membership of the club might not lose the benefits of its annual picnic and gathering.

Under the leadership of J. W. Martin, Mess. Duce Gentry, Walter Taylor, C. C. Powell and Odos Caraway, barbecued sixty-nine large, luscious Donley County fryers, and made the "cow camp coffee" which was added to the salads, cakes, pies, etc., furnished by the wives of the membership. The chickens were barbecued to a golden brown, and every item of the big feed was up to or a little above the high standards maintained at such affairs out at the country club.

After the "depression raged" at the tables for near an hour, the party was invited down in front of the club house, where a spectacular "prize fight" was staged between "Kid" Merchant and "Rough House" Gentry, with "Diamond" Douglas as Master of Ceremonies. There ring champions were enveloped in toy balloons and the winner was the one bursting or breaking the balloons off his opponent. "Rough House" Gentry was the winner, but few balloons were burst and the kiddies of the party dived into the ring and rescued the loose ones.

Musicians, from Clarendon Mess. Palmer, Price and Palmer furnished music from the balcony above and a big sing-song of popular numbers was enjoyed

CLARENDON POST AGAIN WINS CUP

EIGHTEENTH DISTRICT TROPHY RETURNS TO CLARENDON FOR YEAR

With but meager details available to tell just how the Aubyn E. Clark Post of the American Legion again won the cup awarded in the eighteenth District for the most active post, statement is merely made that the cup has been won for the second time in competition with some of the largest posts in the state and against many who have come very near reaching the level set by the Clarendon Post. A telegram was received Wednesday by Commander Miller from Nathan Cox, one of the delegates to the convention at El Paso stating that they were bringing the cup back with them and that the local Post should be congratulated on the winnings.

Interest was held rather high in the race for the next convention city, with the final choice being run between Wichita Falls and Corpus Christi. The latter named city won after all other contenders had been beaten in the race. Amarillo, who sent a special train to the convention after the next meeting, was beaten late in the race and withdrew in favor of Corpus Christi.

A large attendance is expected to be present at the next meeting of the Post on the evening of September first, to hear the reports of the delegates and to learn more of the winnings of the cup for the second consecutive time.

OVER TWO HUNDRED SIGN COTTON REDUCTION PLAN

More than two hundred cotton producers of Donley county signed petitions circulated by C. L. Benson and Lot, two of Donley's largest producers, Monday and Tuesday of this week asking Governor Ross Sterling to urge the legislature to pass a bill prohibiting the growing of cotton in the state for the 1932 season. The petition was mailed the governor Wednesday evening.

Ninety per cent of the growers of the county were in favor of such a move and signed the petition, while five per cent were against the proposition. The remaining five per cent were in sympathy with the plan but refused to sign their names.

The attitude of the growers of the commodity in the county is decidedly in favor of some legislative action being put into effect regulating the yield of 1932. The opinion is practically the same all over the state and even the entire south where cotton reigns supreme.

Bairfield School Joins Clarendon

Action on the part of the trustees of the Bairfield School led these folk to transfer all their scholastics to the Clarendon district for the school term of 1931-32. The Bairfield school will bear the cost of tuition for these students, pay the expense of transportation for them to come to the Clarendon schools and will otherwise look after the well being of those enrolled in the Bairfield District.

The action was voluntarily taken by the trustees of this school with the order on the books being capable of rescinding action at any time the officials see the need for such action.

Mr. O. W. Latson and daughters returned home Saturday after a few days business trip to the Eastern part of Texas and Arkansas.

RATE CUT KEEPS PRICES ON LEVEL

WILL TAKE CANNED GOODS IN ON SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO THE NEWS

Realizing that the price of our commodities have been lowered since the economic depression swept the nation two years ago, The Clarendon News announces reduction on the price of yearly subscriptions twenty-five percent. From this time forward the yearly subscription price for The News will be $1.50 in Donley county and $2.00 per year outside the county.

With the reduction of The News to $1.50 per year, the subscription rate is returning to its level at the beginning of the World War. The management of this newspaper believes that all commodities must eventually reach their pre-war market price before the country can hope for relief from the present crisis. With this in mind and in lieu of the fact that money is scarce in the country and that the farmers still wish to take and read The Clarendon News, canned goods of all varieties will be accepted on subscriptions, both old and new, at the prevailing market price.

Bring in your canned goods and take advantage of this offer at the new low prices. There is no limit so you may take advantage of this announcement to pay your subscription for a number of years in advance.

There will be no reduction in the reader interest in The News, and almost every week something new has been added to the columns of Clarendon's leading and most progressive newspaper to make the reading more enjoyable and interesting.

Read the full page advertisement in this issue of The News and then bring in your canned goods.

A. T. TOLBERT BRINGS IN PRIZE MUSKMELON

Wednesday morning A. T. Tolbert dropped into The News office with a mammoth muskmelon, grown on his splendid farm six miles west of the city near Martin. Mr. Tolbert's prize product weighed 19 pounds and measured 19 inches from tip to tip and 29 inches around.

Mr. Tolbert was justly proud of the fine specimen and said that he had many larger than the one shown, but they were stolen from his patch last Friday evening when thieves drove their truck against the fence and picked about 75 of his prize muskmelons and about that many of his finest watermelons. Some of those stolen were of considerable greater size and weight in excess of 25 pounds.

The Martin farmer states that he has other fine truck crops and his feed crop is going to produce a splendid yield. The money brought in from the sales of the excess truck is helping the family along a great deal and he states that they will get along quite comfortably this fall and winter.

According to Mr. Tolbert had this been anything like a normal year, it would make very little difference to him whether the bees' hooped money or not so provided is his family with the live at home luxuries.

RETURNERS HERE FROM TRIP TO EUROPEAN COUNTRIES
Miss Mary Hazel Hurn returned home here the latter part of last week from quite an extended trip to the centers of European culture. Miss Hurn was well pleased with her trip and experienced nothing out of the ordinary with the exception of the time the boat was stuck on a sand bar as they were leaving Galveston harbor. From New York the return was made overlaid with stops at most of the celebrated points of interest between that point and her home city of Clarendon.

OVER FIFTY THOUSAND CANS OF FOOD

With Clarendon merchants selling near eighteen thousand cans of putting up vegetables and field produce in the last thirty days, and assuming that the merchants in the other towns of the country sold as much, and further estimating that approximately as many empty jars were on hand and filled at farm houses of the country, it is safe to say that over fifty thousand cans of food were stacked away on the shelves of Donley County homes in the past month.

The tomato season is just coming in and with other additions from the gardens of the county there is another thirty days of vigorous canning to add to the food reserve of Donley.

The situation is being met in a vigorous and practical manner.

BACK TO PRE-WAR SUBSCRIPTION PRICE

In this week's issue of The News is carried an announcement of the reduction of the yearly subscription rate from two dollars to one dollar and a half, within the county, which is a reduction of twenty-five per cent and puts the rate back to where it was at the beginning of the World War.

The News announces this policy in the belief that the sooner all costs are brought to pre-war levels the sooner the country will experience normal business, and we could do no less with prices of agricultural products so far below where they should be.

The offer of a few weeks to accept canned foodstuffs on the subscription price is another emergency measure that we feel is due our large list of rural patrons who have the products but little money.

The roughest spots can be gotten over by all of us pulling together in mutual sympathy and helpfulness.

A SILLY ARGUMENT

Liquor has a way of causing its lovers and defenders to use the most far fetched arguments to bolster its waning cause before an enlightened civilization, but its most recent proposition is the silliest argument the devotees have as yet proclaimed.

These fellows with appetites and brains set aflame with alcohol, man's ruthless enemy, are now saying that if light wines and beer are permitted under the constitution, business will return to normal and law enforcement will become a simple matter.

Well now, Mr. Liquorite, you presume a lot on the intelligence of the American public. You are up to your old tricks of insulting the knowledge and understanding of the ordinary men of this country. When liquor beclouds makes silly asses of the best of us.

If wine and beer will cure all the ills of America, how comes it that England, France and Germany and the other nations of the old world, who have always had their wine and beer and hard liquor, how comes it that liquor hasn't saved them from unemployment, the dole, the bread-lines, riot and ruin?

Of all the silly arguments emitted from the befuddled brains of our fellow-citizens beclouded and dominated by appetite and greed, this one takes the prize for the silliest. Intelligent America will never listen to such twaddle.

FILLING ITS MISSION

Down at Lubbock a few days ago members of the West Texas Press Association passed a resolution inviting the Panhandle Press Association and the Heart of Texas Press Association to merge with them in a great regional organization which covers all the territory served by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The editorial brethren of the West Texas Press group thereby complimented the boys of the Panhandle Press and the Heart of Texas group, but it appears to The News that as a district organization they have offered a plan that would actually work harm to the three district organizations in question.

The strength of the district press association has been in its accessible territory, its common problems and its easy fraternity of its neighboring members. This has been accomplished in a remarkable degree by the Panhandle Press Association, and we infer that the Heart of Texas boys are no less proud of their success along that line. Further, we doubt that the West Texas group will be any less pleased with their accomplishments when they are as old as the Panhandle organization.

As a humble member of the Panhandle Press Association The News editor regrets his opposition to the merging insofar as our district is concerned. It is working well for the Panhandle boys and we would stand to lose rather than to gain by the merger.

The Texas Press Association is sufficient for an all-inclusive body and the Panhandle Press Association is certainly one of the strongest district organizations of its kind in the Southwest. Let's make it stronger.

Today's Preparation Is Tomorrow's Progress

FORWARD-LOOKING towns must consider their power supply. Is it reliable? Is it ample? And can it be increased quickly when industrial growth calls for more power?

These requirements are met when a town is served by an inter-connected electric power system. New demands are met at once, because power is available from many different sources.

Making this elastic, dependable and ever-ready type of power supply available throughout West Texas, it is the privilege of the West Texas Utilities Company to serve 124 prosperous cities and towns in this "Land of Opportunity." Three major generating stations, nineteen auxiliary plants and over 2,500 miles of high tension transmission lines place inexpensive electric power at your command every minute of the day.

THE STORY OF THE "GREAT SEAL" OF THE UNITED STATES

The almost unbelievable scope of George Washington's activities begins to stand out more sharply than ever as the approach of his 200th Birthday Anniversary in 1932 quickens popular interest in the long and intensely active life he lived. We know that he designed the first flag for his army at the siege of Boston, and had a part in planning the Star-Spangled Banner. During the siege of Boston he instituted the first attempt at a United States Navy. West Point owes its being to him. Indeed he seems to have thought of everything, in his zeal to see the United States firmly established in security and independence.

Only one thing closely identified with our government appears to have escaped his attention, perhaps because at the time he was already away from the Continental Congress and engaged in fighting for Independence on the battlefield. In any event, as the Division of Information and Publication of the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission points out, the famous "great seal" of the United States was designed and executed without his participation.

As the Division of Information says, perhaps this accounts for the curiously twisted and backward history of that indispensable adjunct of national sovereignty.

It is an historic fact, perhaps lost to sight, that hardly was the signing of the Declaration of Independence out of the way, than the Continental Congress, on July 4, 1776, appointed a committee to design an arms and seal for the United States Colonies. In spite of the fact that this committee consisted of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, and Thomas Jefferson, all men of judgment and distinguished taste, the design they submitted to Congress was discarded and the matter of a seal for the United States was dropped for four full years.

In 1780 Congress appointed another committee to reconsider the discarded design, only to discard it again. Finally in 1782, a third committee was appointed to settle the matter of a seal, and William Barton, A. M., of Philadelphia and Lancaster, an expert in heraldry, was employed to draw up a new design. Charles Thomson, secretary of Congress, suggested a few improvements, and from these, Barton designed the "arms of the United States," adopted on July 20, 1782.

Such is the story of the "great seal of the United States," so called because a "lesser" seal was also authorized but never executed. Then, on the adoption of the Constitution and the establishment of the United States of America, the great seal was placed in the custody of the Secretary of State, and ever since has been under his guardianship. On application, Americans on sight-seeing visits to the national capital, may see this symbol of the mighty authority of their government, among the exhibits in the Department of State.

Three times in our history it has been necessary to replace the great seal, as the result of war. The first replacement occurred in 1841, when Daniel Webster was Secretary of State. On this occasion the engraver was guilty of a curious blunder. In place of the thirteen arrows that belong in one of the eagle's talons, he engraved only six. In 1884, when again it was necessary to engrave a new seal, this error was corrected and the seal became a slight enlargement and sharpening of the original design of the Continental Congress. In 1903 the seal was again renewed, in close adherence to the original Barton design, the authorities having decided that any change would break the historic emblem of our sovereignty.

GASOLINE AND CIGARETS UP

CLARENDON PAYING MORE FOR BOTH ARTICLES SINCE SATURDAY

For those Clarendon folks who smoke cigars and buy gasoline, the cost of living mounted higher last Saturday morning.

Simultaneously with the commencement of the three-cent tax on cigars, raising the retail price of a pack to 20c, Continental Oil Company of Texas announced a two-cent boost in the retail price of gasoline. Other companies were awaiting orders from headquarters to put the increase into effect. Most local filling stations expect to begin selling gas at 14c, the new rate soon.

Cigaret dealers did not get off to a good start. It was near night yesterday before all retail dealers were stocked with stamped cigars. As had been predicted and expected, dealers were having a hard time getting the stamps to stick on the cellophane in which Camels are wrapped.

The new tax was met with a resentment that was rather resigned and stoical. Few approved of it. One does not like to pay 20c for cigars when he has been buying them all his life for 15c a pack. So it was not surprising that many swore off. It may be a matter of temperament and may not last long, but for the time being, many smokers have abandoned "Lady Nicotine." Others have in mind to evade the tax by learning to smoke a pipe, roll their own. Saturday, drug stores sold a number of new-fangled contraptions called cigar rollers; all you have to do is lick the paper, pour in tobacco and turn a crank and you have a well-packed cigar; that is if you like ready-made cigars.

PIGEON VETERAN DIES

"Charlie", veteran of many battle-fields, is dead. He was a famous carrier pigeon, stationed at Lille, France, during the four years of German occupation of that city, from which he carried hundreds of important messages to the allied generals, sent by his owner, an Englishman named Richardson.

Charlie's services were recognized by the French government by a pension of two francs a month granted him since the war. He was buried with military honors.

Throughout the World War hundreds of carrier pigeons were employed as message bearers and many authentic stories of real heroism on the part of these wonderful birds have been told. One that is remembered was that of a pigeon which carried a message through shell torn territory, was wounded to death while on the wing, but delivered its message and expired in the hands of the officer who received it.

Human beings never display greater courage and fidelity than that.

Taken for a patient when he called at a hospital to visit his son, James Graham of London, aged 72, was bathed, shaved and put to bed for the night, despite his protests.

The prison population of the United States has nearly doubled in the last 25 years.

WHERE ART IS TAXED

In Holland, owners of rare art objects keep their treasures in glass cases with blinds drawn over them in order to avoid a tax in that country on objects of art when in use or exposed to view. The blinds are sometimes removed at a gathering of guests and the possessions displayed with pride. Even then, one runs the risk of having the tax assessor walk in unexpectedly or of discovering too late that he is concealed among the guests.

THE NEWS' BOOK REVIEW CORNER

FRANK DOBIE HAS NEW BOOK

J. Frank Dobie will add another volume to his now famous series on the real outdoors of the Southwest. This time he calls his book "On the Open Range" and tells stories he has gathered (most of them never before written down) about wild life, famous rides and riders, cattle brands, Indians, and kindred subjects. The book is said to have been written especially for young people, but those who have seen the manuscript say it is conceived with that characteristic simplicity and vividness which will make it of interest to grown-ups as well. Ben Carlton Mead, who was so successful in illustrating "Coronado's Children," will again be the illustrator, and this time Mr. Mead will include a number of illustrations in full color. One of the most significant books which the Southwest Press has ever published will be "The French Opera at New Orleans" by J. S. Kendall, Professor at Tulane University. For sixty years French Opera at New Orleans was one of the most important musical institutions in the United States. Practically nothing has been told of its history until Dr. Kendall made this comprehensive chronicle. The book will be profusely illustrated with old photographs, playbills and other souvenirs of the opera, and will be a unique contribution to the library of the American Theatre.

In "Tall Tales from Texas" Moody C. Boatright has collected some of the most entertaining stories which have kept going the rounds of cattle camps and ranch houses for years—but which have been as shy as a herd of mustangs about finding their way into the civilized confines of a book. He has recounted legendary feats of speed, of vagaries of wind and weather, of marvelous beasts and birds, and he has introduced that surprising character of the Texas Plains, Pecos Bill. Stella Hutchenson Dabney (Mrs. Lewis M. Dabney) of Dallas in "Two on the Island" will tell the story of her present-day efforts to colonize a virgin island in one of the small lakes in Ontario—which Canada will still bestow upon individuals willing to fulfill government conditions. Her book has been described as a diverting chronicle of causal confessions which brings out the amusing experiences that awaited two native Texans in a Northern Canadian wilderness. The Southwest Press which was founded three years ago in Dallas by P. L. Turner which has already published more than fifty books, is the only general publishing house within a thousand miles of Texas.

Here's A New One

W. A. Murphy, Grayson County Banker, was in the city the fore part of the week with a new story from his section of the state. Mr. Murphy is a brother to Charles Murphy of this city and was here the early part of this week for a visit. Here's the story:

A certain farmer of Grayson County was a visitor in the bank where Mr. Murphy plays his part. In his conversation with Mr. Murphy, something was said of depression and the manner of living at this particular time.

The farmer said, "You know, I suppose it is possible for me to get along all right. I've been through two or three depressions and have always managed to come out. You see, my lodges are taking care of my children in their orphan's homes; my wife is staying with her folks and I am still here. But you know, these damned banks are trying to take my car away from me."

VISITORS TO CAVERN GET BIG THRILL FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ellexson and family from Liberal, Kansas and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams and son of this city made a trip to Carlsbad Caverns on Tuesday of the past week and experienced one of the big thrills of their lives. Mr. and Mrs. Ellexson and family live in Liberal, and are here for a week's stay with the sister of Mr. Ellexson when the proposed trip to Carlsbad was mentioned. Mr. Williams, like many of those living in this section, had given very little thought to a visit to the caves, holding them as merely another attraction that had caught the attention of the public for the moment and that they were nothing out of the ordinary. One visit was enough to prove that he was all wrong. He now says that if he had a child living in the state of New York who could not raise sufficient money to make the trip to the Caverns, he would rake around and see if he could not make the necessary financial arrangements for this child to see the Caverns. Mr. and Mrs. Ellexson were equally well pleased when they left for their home Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ingram and daughter and Mrs. O. T. Smith and son, A. J., made a trip to Carlsbad Caverns the first three days of this week.

Miss Mamie Price left today for Wichita Falls where she will visit her brother, Milton Price for a few days.

U. of the Clarendon church will present "The Enrichment of Christian Living through Christian Living. Miss Sara Thompson will present a voice solo, "Living for Jesus," with violin accompaniment by Miss Agatha Taylor.

Other county members who will be on the program are Miss Vera Brinson of Hedley who will speak on "How to make the Association Organizational mean more to the individual Churches"; and a piano Solo by Miss Marguerite Christal of Lelia Lake.

A large crowd is expected to make the trip from here in quest of the Association banner.

Miss Ruth Price will leave Saturday for Amarillo where she will enter Amarillo Junior College this fall.

Too Much ACID

After a hearty meal, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid, correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company since 1875.

Fast Service Proven In Week

The News has heard and read a lot about the fast service that may be obtained through the use of the United States Air Mail, but had never had the matter proven before this past week. The News received an order for some badges of a certain color and on a certain shade of ribbon. On inquiring we found the ribbon was not to be secured in the quantity desired.

One of the merchants of the city indicated that this might be secured from New York in a week, but this was too much time. He stated that he would suggest a trial order by Air Mail and that it might reach here by Saturday. We agreed to the proposition and were waiting for Saturday to arrive and test the proposition. We were agreeably surprised Friday morning to learn that the wanted ribbon had arrived just twenty-four hours ahead of schedule time and that we might go ahead with the work with one more day to spend on making the badges.

The ribbons were ordered out of New York City by an Air Mail letter mailed Monday night.

WHEAT TRADING IS STILL BRISK

SPLENDID ADVERTISING OF COUNTY'S PRODUCTS IS BEING SECURED

The Donley county farmers' barter plan is still going over in great style with more and more trading being reported every day. Not only are the local producers receiving wheat and flour and other grain for their truck products, but since the news of the fine vegetables of the county has been circulated those farmers from all over the plains are bringing their trucks and returning with loads of fresh vegetables purchased from Donley growers.

While the county farmers are receiving the needed wheat and other grain products, they are also receiving a tremendous amount of splendid publicity. This is received at a cost of nothing to the producers, and this will be increased with each week. The products of Donley county are being circulated throughout the entire Panhandle and it is nothing uncommon for buyers to come in and take the vegetables for it at the farms. Yesterday three trucks from Borger received information from the local agricultural agent where they could purchase truck products and bought what they needed.

The canning activity of the county continues unabated as tremendous amounts of home grown products are being put up for use this winter. One man, according to the demonstrator, near Hedley has canned so much food-stuff that she has no place to store it away and has covered the dining room floor with the cans and is still canning. The woman's name was not disclosed but there are many others doing the same thing.

THE NEWS ADDS MORE FEATURES TO COLUMNS

Two more features have been added to the columns of The Clarendon News with this issue, bringing the total number of special reader features to 10. In this week's issue there appears for the initial time feature articles entitled, "Do You Remember Fourteen Years Ago in Clarendon" and "Ezra's Letter." The first is a part of a column taken from the files of The Clarendon News of fourteen years ago dealing with persons and happenings which made up the news of that time. The second is a rural letter telling of the problems, actions, and news of the writer's family, and will bring in from time to time the happenings and advertisements in a novel way.

These are offered to the News readers in addition to the other features to be found in this paper's columns, namely Topnotchers, Sport Slants, Did You Ever Stop to Think, The News's Book Review Corner, Hot Shots Here and There With the Editor's Clippings, On Texas Farms, Keeping Up With West Texas, Politics and Personalities and the editorials, and does not include the regular Monthly Magazine Section. Memphis Cyclones To Build Team Around Nine Lettermen EDITORS NOTE: Below is the second of a series of stories concerning the football teams of the District in which the Clarendon Bronchos are a competing team. This story of the Memphis Cyclones was prepared exclusively for the readers of The Clarendon News by Mr. Jerry Sifton of The Memphis Democrat.

Prospects for a Memphis High School football team this fall are good considering the fact that nine letter men, six lettering for the first time last season, will report August 31 for practice. Coach Nolan Walter, who has attended the school for coaches at Texas Tech, stated before leaving that he expected to present a small but fast team again this fall.

Letter men who will return again this season are Captain Curtis Bourland, Bill Sanders and, probably, J. W. West, two year men, and Buster Leslie, B. F. Shepherd, Gayle Greene, Charles Flannery, Blanton Bagwell and George May, one year men. It is reported that several boys who have won letters at other schools are planning to try out for the local team as well as a large number of reserves from last year's squad and several boys for the first time.

Spring training was attended by a large number indicating that much material would be on hand from which to select a team. Memphis, however, will be handicapped again this year in that very few heavy men will be available.

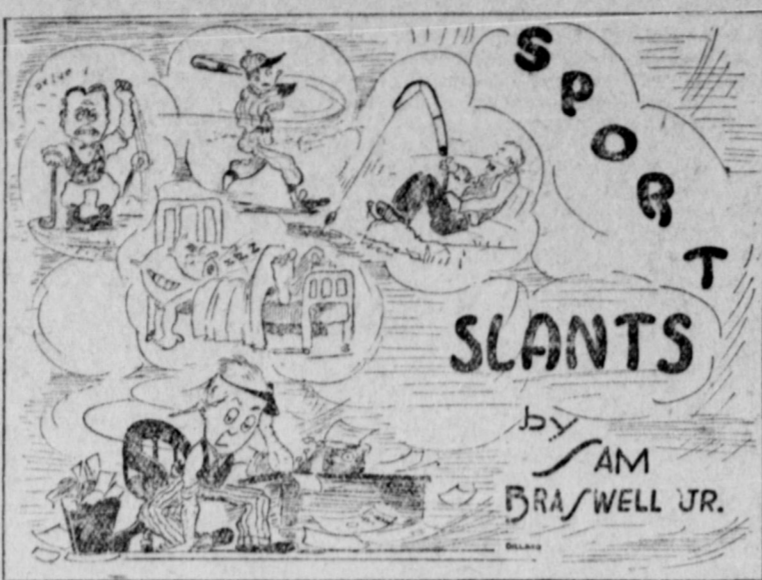

Captain Bourland, weighing around 160, who played the center position last year, will in all probability be shifted to the guard position, according to Coach Walter. His place at center will be filled by Bagwell, substitute center last year, or some newcomer.

Backfield prospects include several men who are fast and shifty but small. Charles Flannery, flashy substitute quarter-back from last year's team, is expected to direct the team this year. Other backfield prospects are Buster Leslie and George May, lettermen. Several newcomers will be given a good chance to play in the backfield, the coach stated.

The Cyclones face a stiff schedule this fall headed with a practice game with Pampa at Pampa. Several other hard games constitute the schedule.

A new playing field was recently conditioned for the team. Last year games were played at Owl Park but due to the long distance from town, another field was secured and conditioned at the Fair Park.

If the Cyclone defeats the Clarendon Bronchos this fall, it has been said, it will be due largely to luck. It is doubtful that the team this fall will be as good as that of last year.

It seems that the Pampa Daily News' writers are laboring under the impression that it is the Clarendon College Bulldogs and not the Clarendon High School Bronchos that the Harvesters are to meet on September 12th at Harvester Park. In every story concerning the game the name of Clarendon College is found. The high school players laugh it off with the declaration that they are the case they are going to have to beat the Harvesters by a college score.

The Pampa Daily News admits that it is difficult to see where the Harvesters will regain the powerful punch of the past year's eleven which was lost at the end of the season, but does state that the line will be one of the most aggressive and competent forward walls boasted by any high school club.

Olin Hinkle, editor of that city's splendid newspaper declares that if what SPORTS SLANTS said was true in last week's issue of The News the game will indeed be a classic for an early season opener. What we said about the Bronchos backfield is being taken seriously in Pampa and this is what Sunday's Pampa News carried:

Zest to the training has been provided by the certainty that Clarendon college, the first opponent (Sept. 12) will be one of the most powerful opponents on the schedule. The Bulldogs have a quartet of line plungers which are claimed to be as good as last year's Four Horsemen on the Harvesters.

The Pampa Harvesters will boast of a fair backfield unit in Captain Cha-tiem, Mastivale, Mc-Wright, Joe Kahl and others, but their chief power will be found in the line. Some of the line—the local high school line will be nothing to laugh at and will boast of some weight too. There is Esterling, Behrens, Morris, Martin, F. L. Behrens, McMahan, E. Watson, T. Watson and Benson, not to mention the host of good men who have had less experience than those mentioned.

Well, we'll just have to wait and see what kind of football the local mentors are going to teach the Bronchos this year. We believe in the 1931 fighting machine and believe the boys are going to put forth their best effort to give the Clarendon fans the team they deserve this year.

What do you say Bronchos and fans? Let's beat the Class A Harvesters! They know that the Bronchos are going to be tough, but let's show 'em that they don't know how tough the high school eleven get down off the caprock.

We wonder just what method must be used in properly enlightening the golfers down Quannah way that their own "City" Walker and his crew were in the wrong and not Ira Merchant in the championship finals of the late Greenbelt Golf Association tournament. The News published letters from the Rules Committee of the U. S. G. A. several weeks back in which the case was reviewed and a decision rendered stating that Merchant had not fractured in the least way any rule of the Association when he removed the piece of cardboard from in front of his ball. However, it seems that some Quannah golfers are still laboring under the impression that Walker's protest was wholly righteous according to the article appearing in last Friday's Tribune-Chief. The article:

The ending of this tournament was interesting to local golfers for the outcome was influenced by a technicality which lost the Eastland golfers one of the remaining holes just as a violation of golf rules cost Merchant of Clarendon the match for the championship of the Green Belt. Barnett of Eastland had driven his ball into the bed of the creek and not knowing that the creek was a hazard he took several practice swings and let his club touch the ground. The referee called the hole and awarded it to Peck. In the Greenbelt Tournament, Merchant removed a cardboard box from between his ball and the green and lost the hole and later the match. Both violations were innocent and unthoughtfully and cost both players matches for which they had fought hard.

In the case of the Electra finals the protest was eligible and was called by the proper authority as soon as made, but in the case of the local dispute we refer our Quannah friends to The Clarendon News of July 16th. Copies will be furnished upon request.

Congratulations to Fred Buntin on winning the President's Trophy in the recent Hillcroft Handicap golf tournament. Fred deserves the cup for the fine game he played bringing it home. Milt Shaver gave the champ a run for the prize though and deserves a bit of credit for the game he was shooting.

Vic Frazier, who went to the Chicago White Sox from the Dallas, Texas league club has won 11 games and lost 11. That is a good record.

Rip Collins, former A. & M. star, and who went to the big league from Dallas, has won 5 and lost 4 games for St. Louis Browns.

Les Mallon with the Philadelphia Nationals and formerly with Ft. Worth in the Texas League is hitting .280.

Frankhouse, who went to the Cardinals from Houston and is now with the Boston Nationals has won 7 and lost 3 games.

Wild Bill Hallihan with the Cardinals has won 12 and lost 8 games. Hallihan went up from Houston.

Bib Falk, with Cleveland and former Texas University Star is hitting only .293 this year. It is the lowest batting average Falk has had since going to the major league 10 years ago.

Hedley Golfers Still On Winning Streak

The Golf teams of Donley county, whether it be in Clarendon or in Hedley are getting to the point where it is next to impossible to defeat. Neither club has lost an inter-city match in so long a time visiting clubs will be very particular when an attack is made on either of the county's clubs. The latest victory was that of last Sunday when the fast stepping Hedley golf crew chalked up their fifth victory in six starts at the expense of the Turkey team supplemented by seven of Estelline's top notch shaggy slingers. The only match lost by the Hedley players was to the local shooters.

Moreman defeated Gee 2-1, Weatherly defeated Bogey 3-2, A. Adamson lost to Copeland 2-1, Mitchell lost to Coker 2-1, Plunk lost to A. Christian 3-2, Hickey lost to Austin 3-2, Johnson won from Gilmore 4-2, Swinney lost to Faulkner 4-3, Shaw lost to Pool 2-1, Latimer beat E. Chris-

SCHEDULE FOR TEXAS U. IS TOUGH

MUSTANGS WILL PLAY TWO OUTSIDE CONTESTS AS WILL AGGIES AND FROGS

Seventeen inter-sectional football games have been weaved into the 1931 Southwest Conference program, assuring this section gridiron followers a chance to make many long trips to witness inter-sectional combats.

The schedule makers must have been assured that 1931 will produce an abundance of material for the seven Southwest schools, for it is noticeable that some may find happy landings along the inter-sectional front but certainly no soft landings.

It is apparent that the University of Texas Longhorns face a schedule that looms entirely too strenuous. The Texans are booked for five southwest Conferences and four inter-sectional games. The Longhorns, after a preliminary scrimmage against Simmons University on September 26, play their first inter-sectional game October 3 against the University of Missouri Tigers at Austin. They follow up by meeting Rice Owls in a Southwest Conference battle, then take on the University of Oklahoma Sooners in Dallas the following week. After the Oklahoma game, the Longhorns face Harvard, Southern Methodist Baylor, Texas Christian, Centenary and Texas A. & M. in successive battles.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs play a important inter-sectional games, Nov. 21 they journey to Annapolis to meet the United States Naval Academy, and on Dec. 5 go to San Francisco to play St. Mary's College. Centenary College is also on the Mustangs' schedule. The Mustangs' hardest grind will be consecutive games against the University of Texas A. & M. and Baylor University, all conference battles.

Matty Bell's Texas A. & M. Aggies play two inter-sectional games before opening their conference grind. Oct. 3 they go to New Orleans to play Tulane, and Oct. 10 they battle Iowa State in Dallas. Their third inter-sectional game will be with Centenary College at Shreveport, Oct. 31. Centenary College, booked for Oct. 10, is the only inter-sectional game on Baylor's schedule. The Bears will have plenty to do in meeting the University of Texas, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Rice in consecutive conference games.

Rice will meet the University of Arizona. The Arkansas Razorbacks play Louisiana State, University of Chicago and Centenary. Texas Christian, as usual, will center on conference games

FRED BUNTIN WINS PRESIDENT'S TROPHY

Fred Buntin defeated T. M. Shaver Sunday in the play-off of a tie which ended the first annual Hillcroft Handicap Golf tournament for the possession of the beautiful President's trophy, donated by President Knorrp. Both players ended the regulation play with the same number of strokes and in the necessitated play-off Buntin bested Shaver for the cup.

LOCAL CIVIC ORGANIZATION PRAISED BY INTERNATIONAL OFFICE AT CHICAGO

In a letter just received from Melvin Jones, Founder and Secretary-General of Lions International, the local Lions Club was commended on the work which they accomplished during the past year. Mr. Jones states that, in his annual report to the International Convention of Lions Clubs which was held in Toronto, Canada, last month, he was happy to be able to include and give recognition to the part local Lions Club played in the Association's program of Service.

The record of their service, as taken directly from Mr. Jones' report to the Convention, is as follows:

Clarendon — Supported boys' baseball league. Distributed 3,000 safety book covers to school children. Was host to public faculty. Built rock arch at entrance to City Park and assisted in landscaping of same park. Assisted with Red Cross roll call. Subscribed to elementary course of National Safety Council for use in local schools. Held Father and Son banquet. Made loan of $85 to young college student. Assisted in raising $600 for Goodfellow's Christmas work. Aided in the establishment and maintenance of an old clothes depot. Placed Christmas trees in homes of 18 shut-ins. Collected over 500 used magazines and distributed them among rural schools of county. Financed eye treatments, operation and glasses for aged blind man. Cared for needy boy with cleft palate. Placed crippled child in clinic for examination and treatment. Cooperated with other service clubs in bringing to Clarendon a series of lectures, which netted surplus for Goodfellow's Fund for charitable purposes. Installed four road signs on principal highways. Assisted American Legion in producing play which netted 6,000 pounds of groceries for distribution among poor families by Red Cross. Members worked on rock pile for two days to get material for building terraces in City Park. Eight membership reports received; eight on time. One Key Member in club.

An accurate report of activities is maintained at International Headquarters which shows that, during the past year, 16,625 activities have been reported by the 2,500 clubs in the Association. These activities have for the most part fallen under the following general classifications: Blind Work, Boys' Work, Child Welfare, Citizenship, Civic Improvement, Cooperation with other agencies, Education, Farm Work, Public Welfare, and Safety.

Presumably because of the increasing need for service work today, 3,108 more activities were reported for the past year than have ever been reported before.

G. L. Boykin, secretary of the chamber of commerce and president of the Clarendon Lions group received the following letter from the International executive:

August 18, 1931.
Mr. G. L. Boykin,
President, Lions Club,
Clarendon, Texas.

Dear President Boykin:
It was my pleasure to be able to include in my report to the Fifteenth Annual convention of Lions International at Toronto last month the splendid activities which your club has undertaken during the past year.

We all realize that, especially during these times, a service club cannot exist simply as a weekly luncheon or get-together club but must justify its existence by active performance in the field of service.

I am proud of the very considerable part which the members of the Lions Club of Clarendon—your club—have played in this program of service and extend to all your members, through you, my heartiest congratulations on your accomplishments.

Cordially yours,
SECRETARY GENERAL

POLITICS AND PERSONALITIES

There is more sense than sensationalism in "The Mirrors of 1932," an anonymous book unmasking ten presidential prospects recently published by Brewer, Warren and Putnam. True, the author pays some attention to the personal foibles of his subjects, but almost invariably for the purpose of showing up their quality of statesmanship. Thus he relates that Gifford Pinchot is said to crumple his expensive attire before donning it in order to appear more democratic; that "Joe" Robinson's weakness for high society leads him to play into the enemy's hands; that Hoover's "stark, selfish individualism" is largely attributable to the fact that he was never a "swimmin' hole kid"; and that Albert C. Ritchie's political sentimentalism is in tune with his favorite ballad, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

A swift, sure style of brief sentences and paragraphs and an abundance of pointed, adjectives characterize the volume. When the author has completed his X-raying and dissecting, only one specimen of presidential timber remains sound and whole. It is Newton D. Baker, of whom the writer says:

"He is, by far, the ablest candidate for the presidency in the two major parties. The most brilliant member of the official family Woodrow Wilson assembled, he is, in many respects, better equipped for the White House than the Princeton professor was in 1912.

"He might be the product of the schooling which Plato prescribes for the rulers of the Republic. He is steeped in the classics, economics, history; he enjoys a historical perspective rare in our Presidents; he has a social conscience so keen that it led him to enroll in the ranks of that prince of politicians, Tom Johnson of Cleveland; though a professing pacifist, he ranks among our greatest Secretaries of War.

"He is humble and honest."
The ten political leaders discussed are Hoover, Owen D. Young, Dwight Morrow, Albert C. Ritchie, Joseph Robinson, Calvin Coolidge, Gifford Pinchot, Franklin Roosevelt, Newton D. Baker, and Al Smith. The author also devotes a chapter to "John Bar-leveorn" who will play an important part in the campaign as the presidential nominee.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Alexander and children returned early this week from a combined business and pleasure trip to Dallas.

OKLAHOMA'S QUESTION MARK

Alfalfa Bill Murray, the picturesque "poor man's" Governor of Oklahoma, is one of the current political enigmas that has set all the politicians in Washington guessing. His enemies say he is crazy. His friends say he is another Abraham Lincoln. To half of Oklahoma he's a menace; to the other half he's the Man of the Hour.

But friends and enemies alike agree that he is honest and sincere, and that, whether his efforts are those of a great statesman or of an erratic demagogue, things are likely to pop and continue popping wherever he happens to be directing affairs of state. The American Magazine recently sent its clearest interviewer, Jerome Beatty, to Oklahoma to meet this truly remarkable man. He dined with Alfalfa Bill and his family, listened to his ideas on Government, and talked with people who knew him.

Here is Mr. Beatty's verdict: "No matter how you feel about his policies and actions, you'll agree that you've seldom encountered a more provocative character, even in the pages of story books. He is 61 years old, about six feet tall, thin, weather-worn, and wears a droopy gray walrus moustache. His voice is clear and resonant, and when he speaks he doesn't wave his arms or pound his fists. Usually, when on his feet, he talks with his legs apart and his thumbs hooked over the top of his pants. "Like most natural orators, he speaks much better than he writes. When he takes pen in

CHRISTIANS TO MEET IN HEREFORD SOON

September 8th and 9th will be the dates for the 1931 District I Convention of Panhandle Christian Churches, following an agreement reached by convention officials, under the pastorage of Rev. M. J. Johnson, as host.

Among the officials who set the convention dates was Dr. Patrick Henry, state secretary, who is now in the Panhandle visiting a number of Christian Churches in this section.

Dr. Roy C. Snodgrass, minister of First Christian Church, Amarillo, is president of the convention, with Rev. J. I. Brimbery minister at Canadian, as vice-president and Rev. Martin T. Pope of Panhandle, secretary.

Sessions will begin at 1:30 in hand, his sentences become involved and at times, almost unintelligible. But nobody can misunderstand him when he's delivering a speech.

"Alfalfa Bill's enemies are to be found mostly among business men. They say he is crazy. His friends, the farmers and the laborers, say he is a genius. No where in Oklahoma does there seem to be a thinking man who is neutral. His State documents represent a curious mixture of statesmanship, intelligence, and the savage philosophy of a non-conformist."

Alfalfa Bill is a strong prohibitionist. But he says, "the people are going to study first how to get beefsteak and a pone of bread before they get heated up about liquor and how to get it."

the afternoon Monday, September 8, and will close on the following Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. E. M. Waits, president of Texas Christian University, will be one of the principal speakers on the program. Charles Marion Ross, regional superintendent of religious education for the Disciples of Christ in the Southwest, will also be one of the principal speakers. Dr. Snodgrass will give the president's address in the afternoon of the first day's session. H. A. Shaw, director of music and education of First Christian Church, Amarillo, will be in charge of the music.

The convention welcome address will be given by Hon. W. E. Dameron of Hereford, the response by Dr. R. L. Rogers of Amarillo. Mrs. Bertha McMaster, head of the department of Women's Council of First Christian Church, Amarillo, will lead an open forum in the same session. Rev. John Mullen of Childress will conduct the devotional period at 1:40, Tuesday opening the convention.

Dr. Henry, state secretary, will deliver the principal address of the session Tuesday night. Rev. F. W. O'Malley, of Pampa will lead an open forum on Texas missions, following Dr. Henry's address.

DOCTORS SHOULD ADVERTISE

That the medical profession is coming to realize more and more the importance to it of the cooperation of the press was indicated in a statement made by Dr. Charles H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn. At the recent meeting of the Minnesota Medical association Doctor Mayo was quoted as saying, "No matter how far the profession advances, it will not accomplish everything possible until the public is educated and kept in touch with what the profession is doing." Wisconsin Press.

RECEPTION FORMALLY OPENS THE HOME FOR BOYS AT COLLEGE

Shortly after 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the interested citizenship of this community began to come and go from the new boy's hall and the girl's home where punch was served by the old students' committee. This lasted until 10 o'clock, each guest being required to register as he entered the boys' dormitory, being shown through the rooms on each floor by a young lady guide assigned to that duty.

It is expected that 90 happy boys will take up their domicile in the classical school residence in the Panhandle.

Some seventy couples attended the farewell dance given in honor of the soldiers of Co. B, who are leaving shortly for training camp at Fort Worth. Capt. Simpson and Miss Zelma Ritchie of Amarillo and Lieut. Perrine and wife led the grand march.

EBY STOCKING TELLS OF EXPERIENCES IN AFRICA FRIDAY AT LUNCHEON

The regular luncheon of the Rotary club was filled with thrills for the members present when one of the most interesting speakers of the year, Eby Stocking, was on hand to tell of his interesting experience while in Africa with the Guggenheim Expedition. The group was told of the conditions, people, habits, and customs of the African natives, and the work he was engaged in dur-

Sunday School secretary treasurer—W. Z. Borron.
Training Services director—Miss Ruth Thompson.
Associate Director—F. L. Oller.
Training Service secretary—J. Marvin Warren.

These officers will take their places the first Sunday in October. They were elected this far in advance that they might have time to select their co-workers and that the information might be available for the associational report. There were but few changes made. In most cases the same people were re-elected to the positions they were already filling.

Lotta Bourland Is Head Guardian

A sort of farewell meeting of all the Camp Fire Girls of Clarendon was held on last Thursday evening to greet the head guardian of the Clarendon troops for the last time and to make presentation of quite a number of very nice gifts on this occasion. The Head Guardian of the Clarendon Troops has been Miss Lorena Steagall, who is leaving to accept a position with the El Paso schools and who will not be able to handle the local situation longer than the present time.

The Council Fire was featured with a swimming party followed by a huge picnic supper. The Council Fire was had after the evening had progressed past the supper stage. At this time Miss Lotta Bourland was chosen as Head Guardian for the Clarendon Troops, and Miss Mary Frances Caraway was named guardian of the Kieuwa Troop. Both these places were left vacant by the removal of Miss Steagall.

ing his stay in the Dark Continent. Many of Mr. Stocking's thrilling adventures were related to the club and was thoroughly enjoyed by the Rotarians. The novelty of the tales of the country provided many thrills throughout the narration.

A committee was appointed to confer with the other clubs of the city on the charity work to be done in Clarendon and surrounding territory during the coming winter months. It will be remembered that in the past year a number of charity cases were duplicated by the various agencies in Clarendon, thereby lessening the relief for other vital cases.

The free physical examination for pre-school children in the city made possible through the efforts of the Rotary club was discussed and plans completed for the successful completion of the project.

Added zest to the program was brought about through the splendid songs entered into by the members throughout the program.

SCHOOL HEADS ARE LIONS VISITORS

INVITATION EXTENDED TO ATTEND INSTITUTE AND TO BACK BRONCHOS

Two members of the Clarendon Public School faculty were visitors at the Lions luncheon Tuesday of this week, getting their affairs lined out for a start on the school work next week. Frank Stocking was the first to be introduced, expressing his appreciation for the support of the Lions in all athletic events. He also expressed the hope that the Lions would continue their support of events of this nature at the High School park. He indicated that the training received in football would tend to do more than train for football.

R. E. Drennon, Principal of the South Ward stated that he was pleased to meet with the Lions and that he appreciated the efforts of all service clubs to keep the various communities moving forward. He further stated that a part of his work was to make the community better and that he was always ready to do his part when he was called upon.

Mrs. Nora McMurtry, County Superintendent, was also one of the guests expressing her approval on placing the Moral Code for Youth in the schools and stating that it could be made a powerful factor for good. Mrs. McMurtry also extended an invitation to the Lions to attend the County Institute here next Monday and Tuesday and especially to the open meeting on next Monday evening.

Letters received in the past week included one from International Secretary General Melvin Jones congratulating the local club on the line of activities enjoyed during the year past. Another was received from the Crippled Children's Council of Amarillo with application blanks to the crippled children's clinic now established in Amarillo. These blanks may be received from President Boykin at any time they are needed.

Announcement of the entrance of the Clarendon Lions in the Annual International attendance contest was made, with the statement that Lion J. E. Teer be chairman of the Attendance Committee would make his announcements as to plans at a later date.

The Mineral Wells Program was announced and the membership was urged to attend if possible.

Lion Frank Houston, self styled the most valuable man in the club from a financial standpoint, was called to the floor and made the statement that many towns would be lost if it were not for the service clubs now actively functioning. His home town was given as an example with the Service Clubs being held as the town's safety valve to keep matters operating smoothly and without too much friction. He stated that the present depression was likened to a case of whooping cough, there being little to do for it but to gradually wearing itself out and leaving with little to do. The present depression would be like that, he said, gradually wearing itself out and leaving with little noise.

Lion Brown announced that the trade plan was working out beautifully with much emphasis being placed on it and many trades being made every day. The present prospects indicate that the major crops from Donley County at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo and also at Dallas will be in the Truck Farm lines to the exclusion of all others.

Lion Burton again asked for places for working students.

Adjournment followed the singing of the first verse of "America."

Masonic Meeting Next Tuesday Eve.

Cards have been mailed this week to the members of the A. F. & M. Masonic Lodge of this city, requesting their attendance on a Fellowship Meeting to be held in the Hall on Tuesday evening of the coming week. At this time, a Chicken Barbecue will be staged, together with all the necessary trimmings to make it a most successful evening. There will be no charge for the feed.

The committee has made reservations for the chickens and have been assured that they will be delivered and ready for the use of the cooks in sufficient time to allow them to be ready for the event. Any member who has not received his card of invitation is expected to attend whether he has an invitation or not. Visitors are also welcome as stated on the card.

The card also states that the evening meal will start at 7:30 sharp, so that the other features of the program may be carried out before the night progresses too far.

Miss Shirley Nored left for her home in Walters, Oklahoma, after a visit in the home of her brother T. D. Nored and family.

HIGHWAY REPRESENTATIVES VISIT CLARENDON TUESDAY

Messrs. Walter F. Bell and Fred Kellog of Dallas, representing the Van-Ami Trail international highway were in the city Tuesday and conferred with chamber of commerce officials and members in regard to the establishment of the highway. The new road will begin at Miami, Florida, and will lead through Clarendon across the United States and finally terminates in Vancouver, British Columbia. The route covers 4169 miles and will give tourists an almost straight path from the southwestern corner of the United States to the northwestern corner. Local authorities favor the new highway which promises to rival the great Highway 66 "Main-street of America," after a few years time with proper advertising.

DON'T be FOOLED by Tricky SALES TALK

DON'T be misled by challenges—guarantees—laboratory analyses—price comparisons—claims of 25% savings—made by distributors of special-brand tires.

A recent example of a grossly misleading and extravagant statement by a distributor of special-brand tires is—"Mount one of our tires on one wheel of your car and a tire of any other make on the opposite wheel. If our tire does not give you equal service at a saving up to 25% in price, we will give you a new tire free."

This statement can be made for only one purpose—a desperate effort to gain your confidence and sell you a tire before you have had time to think about the ridiculousness of their challenge, which asks you to buy one of their tires and go to another store and buy a tire—have it mounted on the opposite wheel—then turn yourself into a tire tester!

Firestone don't ask you to run test cars for them—they have twenty-nine test cars of their own, running day and night, on which they test Firestone Tires and other makes, including special-brand tires, and we have the proof of the safety, quality and extra values of Firestone Tires before you buy.

Drive in today—examine sections cut from Firestone Tires and special-brand mail-order tires—see for yourself the two extra plies under the tread which give you extra protection against punctures and blowouts—compare the construction and quality—don't be fooled by misleading advertisements. We will give you safer, more dependable tires at no greater cost.
