4-H, HOME DEMONSTRATION AND FFA MEMBERS PLAN ANNUAL SUMMER ENCAMPMENTS AT LAKE

Their only purpose a good time. Future Farmers of America members from Brown and surrounding counties will descend on Lake Brownwood August 4 for a three-day camping convention. This year's will be the second annual affair of its kind. Arrangements are in the hands of J. M. Binion, vocational agriculture instructor in Brownwood High School. About 250 boys are expected to attend.

Brown county chapters are located at Brownwood, May Williams and Bangs. Members of FFA organizations in Coleman, San Saba, Mills and Comanche counties also are invited to attend the camp and compete for the "Little Keg" award symbolic of prowess in all-round camping activities such as boxing, swimming, softball, horseshoe pitching, washer pitching, diving, fishing, standing broad jump, pole fighting, etc. Winner of the award last year was the Coleman chapter.

Any Future Farmer who is in good standing and is regularly enrolled in an all-day class in vocational agriculture is eligible to enter the contests. Each boy is limited to three contests. He may enter four if softball is included. Contests will begin the first day of the encampment. Ribbons will be given the first three place winners in each event.

Chapters will be assigned to picnic units in the park, and each group will furnish its own food, bedding, lights for the units, swim suits and all other necessary equipment.

Officers of the Brownwood chapter are John McGhee, president; Kenneth Longley, vice president; Lamoin Wright, reporter; Berkley Craig, secretary; Elmer Champion, treasurer; Bill Streckert, parliamentarian; Ben Wyatt, historian; J. H. McCollum, song leader. Executive committee: C. A. Lowe, Bill Lyle and James Nance.

Work forgotten, more than 100 Brown county home demonstration club members will enjoy two days of relaxation and recreation at their annual summer encampment August 16 and 17 on the shores of Lake Brownwood.

Plans for the encampment moved forward this week with the appointment of committees, and arrangements for the affair practically are complete, according to Mayesie Malone, home demonstration agent.

Committees have been named as follows:

Invitation: Mrs. Will Vanderveer, May; Mrs. Roy Mathews Bangs; Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Byrds. Arrangements: Mrs. Ruth Gorman and Mrs. Bill Lightsey, Early; Mrs. D. H. Bullion and Mrs. C. C. DeHay, Indian Creek; Program: Mrs. Vanderveer and Mrs. H. M. McDaniels, May; Mrs. V. P. Riley and Mrs. Hillis McKnight, Bangs. Menu: Mrs. E. R. McQuaid and Mrs. Mayfield Gibbs, May; Mrs. Myrtle Byrd and Mrs. Cora Dempsey, Byrds.

Registration: Mrs. R. A. Scott and Mrs. Carl Belvin, Zephyr. Hostesses, who serve by turns during the camp, are: Mesdames Charlie Nichols, Byrds; Oscar Howell Byrds; M. L. Smith, Zephyr; C. B. McBride, Indian Creek; Oscar Boenicke, Salt Branch; Holmes Martin, Indian Creek; P. C. Boyd, Early; George Nichols, May.

Local delegates who attended the Short Course at A. & M. College this year will make reports. They are Miss Norma Petty, May; Mesdames J. F. Williams, Grosvenor; Fay Williams, May, and A. J. Newton, Bangs; and Mesdames Phillips, Gorman, DeHay and McDaniels.

4-H Girls Encampment
 Annual encampment of 4-H girls' club members will be held at the lake the two days immediately following the women's encampment. What promises to be an outstanding feature of the camp will be a fresh vegetable exhibit. Seventy-nine 4-H girls in the county have realized all their goals during the past year and are eligible to attend camp. The Chamber of Commerce will furnish transportation for girls who will attend, from Brownwood to the lake on the first day of the camp.

DRILLERS RETURN TO WORK AS SKIES CLEAR

With the advent of the sunshine Tuesday morning drillers began to move toward the oil wells, which had been shut down several days on account of the rains, and operations were rapidly resumed in Brown county fields.

The week marks up one new producer, of small commercial amount. The Pearson Properties, Inc., No. 1 Cox and McInnis, half a mile south of Byrds Store, is reported as an assured well, some estimates placing the production at around 35 barrels daily.

Work was started Tuesday morning on the Gilcrease Oil Company No. 1 S. Y. Newsom, a mile west of the Horton producer in the Salt Creek area, eight miles northeast of Brownwood. Rig had been moved on the location by W. D. Cunningham, contractor, several days ago. Cunningham began moving in machine Tuesday for the Gilcrease No. 1 Harris & Pittman, 1,250 feet northeast of the Horton well.

Gilcrease Oil Company has started its No. 3 J. M. Perry, on the ten acres purchased recently from Ed Selvidge and others. Location is between the Perry Nos. 1 and 2. Location has been made also for No. 4, north of No. 1. Ward Preston is the contractor.

Drilling was resumed Tuesday at 300 feet on the L. L. Evans & L. L. Sheard and J. O. Hart & Sons No. 2 W. J. Richmond, west of the Byler pool and five miles north of Bangs. Richard Cunningham is contractor.

W. W. Lininger of Denver, Colo., is starting up work again at around 600 on the C. V. Harris well, three miles west of Brownwood.

Hightower Oil & Refining Corporation has set pipe below 1,100 feet in its No. 5 Ike Mullins near Thrifty and is expected to drill in this week. The Hightower No. 1 W. H. Payne, wildcat test in the Thrifty area, is still fishing.

Charles A. Dixon of Des Moines, Iowa, has begun the development of the top lease on E. P. and W. H. Kilgore tract, in the Blake area, which he purchased a month ago from Ralph Herring of Abilene. F. L. Hawk, at present located at Cisco, has come from Des Moines to have charge of the development of the property. Hawk is associated with Dixon in the ownership. Their second Kilgore well was nearing completion when the rains began.

Court Term to End
 A special term of the 35th district court, which was convened here Monday for the purpose of clearing the docket on nonjury civil cases which could not be handled during the regular May term, will end Saturday, according to Judge E. J. Miller's statement ordering the session.

Baptist Brotherhood
 The joint meeting of Coleman and Brown County Baptist Brotherhoods that was to have been held July 21 will be held August 4 at Lake Brownwood, Walton Park, 8 p. m. A program of music and a special address has been arranged. Z. T. Huff, dean of Howard Payne College, will deliver the special address.

Guardsmen Halt Labor Warfare

A national guardsman posts a notice on the courthouse declaring the town of Newton, La., under martial law after Gov. Nelson Kraschel ordered out troops to restore order to the strike-torn city. The guardsmen halted a wild fight between 1000 demonstrators and nonunion workers at the Maytag Washing Machine Company.

COLEMAN COUNTY IS DESIGNATED AS ONE OF 56 IN FSA SETUP

Coleman county has been designated as one of 56 in Texas where Federal loans will be made to tenant farmers for purchase of land, it was announced by R. K. French, county supervisor of Farm Security Administration. Only five to ten loans will be made in the county, the supervisor said.

Applications will be received at the Farm Security Administration office in Coleman from August 10 to September 10. A committee of three farmers actually living upon the land will select those to receive loans and will appraise farms to be bought.

All tenants or farm laborers are eligible, if actually engaged in farming at this time, and if they are not able to obtain purchase loans on reasonable terms from other agencies.

Farms to be bought must be "family-size." Acreage will depend upon type of farming, nature of the land and size of the family. No down payment will be required, and payments will be extended over forty years with three percent interest. Annual installments on purchase price will in most cases be no more than the amount which has usually been paid as rent. Value of the land to be bought will be appraised strictly upon the basis of crops it has produced in the past.

Counties were selected upon a basis of tenant population, availability of good farms, and territorial location. Selection was made by the Secretary of Agriculture from recommendations of a State Advisory Committee which met recently in Dallas. Thirty-five new counties were selected in addition to 21 in which loans have been made during the fiscal year which ended June 30. New counties are as follows:

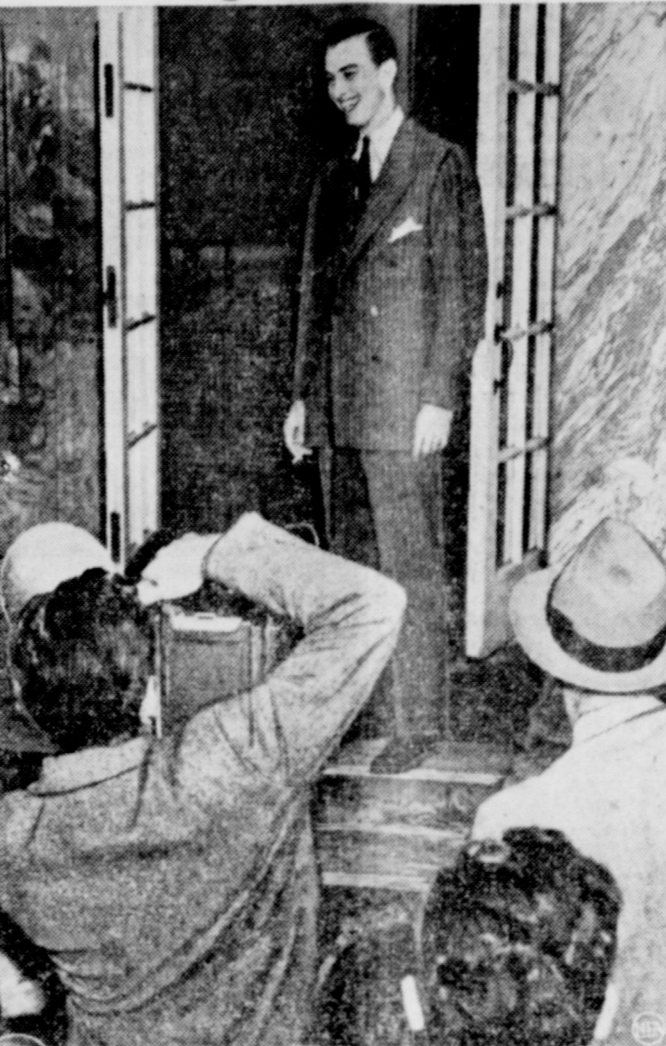

Angelina, Atascosa, Bell, Cameron, Cass, Coleman, Cooke, Coryell, Ellis, El Paso, Fort Bend, Gonzales, Guadalupe, Harrison, Hill, Hopkins, Jim Wells, Kaufman, Liberty, Madison, Milam, Mitchell, Nacogdoches, Panoia, Polk, Red River, Robertson, Smith, Tarrant, Taylor, Travis, Waller, Washington, Wilbarger, Young.

The 21 old counties redesignated are: Baylor, Bexar, Bowie, Dallas, DeWitt, Falls, Fayette, Haskell, Hidalgo, Houston, Hunt, Johnson, Lamar, Navarro, Nueces, Reeves, San Augustine, Tom Green, Van Zandt, Wharton, Williamson.

Brick Company Damaged

Damage estimated at $1,000 was sustained by the Texas Brick Company at its plant here as a result of the heavy downpour of rain early Sunday morning. Water damaged tunnels at the plant and caused the biggest landslides experienced during the operation of the plant, according to W. H. Gifford, manager. A large force of men was engaged in repairing the damage this week.

Announcing Another Roosevelt

With a "proud father" grin on his face, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., third son of the President, is pictured above as he announced to besieging reporters and cameramen the birth of a seven-pound son to his wife, the former Ethel du Pont, at the Lying-In Hospital, Philadelphia. The baby is the President's eighth grandchild. Although his son is not yet named, Franklin Jr., wired friends of the President are pictured holding an invitation.

RECORD ATTENDANCE ANTICIPATED AT ANNUAL PIONEERS' REUNION WEDNESDAY

Program plans for the annual meeting of the Brown County Pioneers Association were practically complete this week and date for the event was set as next Wednesday, August 3, in Soldiers & Sailors Memorial Hall. The session will last all day. Each family is to bring a well filled lunch basket, as dinner will be served picnic style at noon in the hall.

Principal addresses at the morning session will be delivered by W. R. Chambers, nominated as a legislative representative of this district last Saturday, and Mrs. J. W. Trapp, daughter of the late W. N. Adams, who was a pioneer here.

Address of welcome will be made by John T. Yantis, president of the Rotary club, which sponsors the meetings each year. Will T. Savage of Dallas, son of the late Rev. H. T. and Mrs. Savage, will respond to the welcome. Devotional will be directed by the chaplain, Rev. A. R. Watson. Opening the afternoon program will be a memorial address by Thomas H. Hart, who will read the names of approximately 40 pioneer members of the association who have passed away since last year's meeting.

A business session will be held immediately preceding the noon hour. At that time the resolutions committee will report and officers for the next year will be elected.

JULY MARKS MONTH OF REUNIONS AS SCHOOLS, FAMILIES AND CHURCHES SLATE GATHERINGS

Political rallies of the past few months are giving way to family, church and school reunions throughout the county, with the shores of Lake Brownwood providing facilities for many.

All former students of the old Rought Branch school near Holder, sixteen miles north of Brownwood, are expected to attend the 11th annual reunion of the school with other pioneer settlers at the Holder tabernacle August 1. Yearly reunion of old settlers of the community will be held in conjunction with the school observance.

A program has been arranged which will include music, readings, dialogues and short talks.

Rampy Family Reunites

About 100 members of the Rampy family met recently at Lake Brownwood for the first general reunion in many years. Four brothers of the original family that came from Alabama in 1884 to Bell county were present.

They are W. R. Rampy of Miles, 73; T. J. Rampy of Winters, 68; L. G. Rampy of Belton, 63; and L. B. Rampy of Sanatorium, 59. The only other living member of the original family is Mrs. Ella Smith of Belton, who was unable to attend.

Dinner was served picnic style in one of the pavilions on the lake side, and plans were made for a similar affair in July next year.

Invites Bigwigs to Legion Party

Would you accept an invitation from lovely Evelyn Keyes of the movies? American Legion officials figured most people would. That's why they selected Miss Keyes to make an air tour of the nation and invite the secretary and undersecretary of war and governors and mayors of large cities to the national legion convention in Los Angeles in September. Miss Keyes is pictured holding an invitation.

LARGENT FUNERAL IS HELD TUESDAY; WAS WELL KNOWN COWMAN

C. M. Largent, Sr., 75, nationally known Hereford breeder and father of Roy Largent, Brown county cattleman, died at his home near Merkel Monday night. Funeral services were held in Merkel Tuesday. Mr. Largent had been ill five months.

With his sons, operating as C. M. Largent & Sons, the Collin county man went to Merkel in 1896 and four years later went into the cattle business and became known throughout the Nation for his show herd of Hereford cattle. His stock won grand champion prizes at the greatest shows in the country, including the International at Chicago, the Kansas City Royal, the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth and the Texas State Fair. He specialized in the breeding of Publican Domino registered Herefords.

Mr. Largent was born December 19, 1863, and was the son of pioneer settlers of Collin county.

In addition to his widow, Mrs. Lula Huffman Largent, he is survived by four sons, Tom, Willie Joe and C. M. Jr. of Merkel and Roy of Brownwood; a daughter, Mrs. L. L. Swafford, Kansas City; 10 grandchildren and two great grandchildren, all of whom were present last January when their parents celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in Merkel. A brother and sister, Roy Largent and Mrs. Ed Mallog, live in McKinney.

Annual Community Picnic at Priddy To Be This Week

The town of Priddy, in Mills county, will be host to its neighboring citizens in surrounding counties Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at its annual community picnic featuring baseball, rodeo, carnival and midway, motion pictures and music. There also will be a dance on each of the three nights of the celebration, and some political speeches will be heard.

The event originally was scheduled for last weekend but was postponed on account of heavy rains. W. J. Marwitz, in charge of arrangements for the affair, was in Brownwood Tuesday with a delegation of Priddy citizens advertising the dates and inviting Brownwood citizens to participate.

The Brownwood Chamber of Commerce committee on trade extension will plan for the city's participation in the celebration.

CITY, COUNTY STUDY OFFER OF LAND FOR HOSPITAL LOCATION

Honoring the memory of his wife, Mette C. Boysen, B. S. Boysen has offered to deed to the city and county an 80-acre plot of land between the old May road and the present highway to be used as site for a city-county hospital.

The proposal must be accepted within a year, and the land must be used for the purpose stated or the offer cannot be continued. Chester Harrison, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, has termed the proposal "the most splendid offer to come to Brownwood" since he has resided here.

The offer was presented to the Council in the form of a letter at the regular meeting of the body Monday night.

Replacing of traffic signs and installation of new ones was discussed at the meeting, but most discussion hinged on a proposed contract, later signed, with W. W. Lininger, Denver operator, for the purchase of natural gas to be used in the city distribution system. Under terms of the contract, the city agrees to purchase a minimum of 40% of its total supply from wells to be drilled on a tract three miles north of the city for a period of ten years.

The contract was drawn up by W. A. Roush after conferences had been held between the city and Lininger.

FSA OFFICIALS WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE AT A&M IN AUGUST

The offices of the Farm Security Administration in Brownwood and Coleman will be closed the week of August 1 and opened again August 8. R. K. French, county rural supervisor, announced today. The entire county personnel will be in College Station during the week for the annual state meeting of FSA employees, he said.

The keynote of the conference will be "Farm security means work for every member of the family every day in the year," Mr. French said. "The Farm Security Administration is concentrating its attack upon the one-crop system," the supervisor went on. "All farm and home plans accepted by FSA must show several sources of cash income. It is not only desirable that there be several sources of income, but also that the income be received at frequent intervals, instead of the old one pay day a year."

The rural supervisor and Cricket B. Shankle, county home management supervisor, have been appointed on special committees to make recommendations based on their work in Brown and Coleman counties concerning the future policies and procedures of the Farm Security Administration. These recommendations will be presented at the meeting and passed through the state and regional offices to the national executives in Washington.

Final details of procedure for the 1939 program will be ironed out at the meeting, and steps to get next year's loans planned and approved well in advance of the new crop year will be taken immediately upon the reopening of the office, French indicated.

Regency

Combining past news with the present I will drop in a few notes from Regency.

Some few from here have been attending the meeting at Ebony conducted by Brother Wharton whose sermons are worthwhile of attention.

His talk Sunday morning on "Seek ye first—God and His righteousness and all these things will be added unto you," and contentment and Godly joy was inspiring. Who are contented and seek God first?

July brought with it the most intensive heat period of the year yet. Winchell, it keeps everyone in suspense as to the outcome, but we hope it will not be so destructive as two years ago.

To change our thoughts and minds clouds have been hanging heavy for the past week giving us plenty of rain and likewise as when Noah was in the Ark keeps dropping.

With the river at its fullest ebb and late news that it is still rising at Winchell, it keeps everyone in suspense as to the outcome, but we hope it will not be so destructive as two years ago.

As a burnt child dreads the fire those who were closed in by the last flood are moving to higher ground.

For the past few weeks many from various places have been taking their vacations on the river enjoying the refreshing breezes and fishing in a pool where the fish bite free.

Jim Jones and family whose former home was in San Saba county in sight of the Colorado river from Regency held their reunion recently at the bridge that once spanned the stream nearby.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Fager, Erma Fager, Bud Lee and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts and Wayne, were among the throng of friends and relatives that gathered at Mullen Wednesday to pay the last tribute of respect to Charley Fagan who passed away Tuesday.

We held Mr. Ashton as an outstanding character in this community and deeply sympathize with the bereaved.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyt Roberts remained over last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Boner Thompson in Brownwood to have their baby christened. While there they saw old time friends Mr. and Mrs. Sam Riggs, also Aunt Tess Purcell who once lived in this locality whom we cherished as a fresh opened rose in the morning.

Tom Perkins and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lee reported an enjoyable time at the Primitive Baptist Association near Llano the second Sunday this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Smith of Midland came for his mother last week Mrs. Smith had been suffering for sometime with a skin irritation that became almost uncontrollable. Her many friends are wishing her a speedy recovery.

Hearts were made sad in this vicinity Monday when the news came that Mrs. O. M. Murphy was seriously hurt in a car wreck.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reid and Tommie Dols were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts Sunday, also Mrs. Lem Egner and son, Helen, spent a few hours in their home Saturday night.

Ebony

Rain so much desired two weeks ago became rather a menace to this section of the country this past week. Today (Monday) is the ninth day since rain began to fall. Most of the time it has poured all night and until after dinner next day Sunday it was estimated by reliable sources that 20 inches of rain had fallen, and it is thought that 5 or 6 inches fell last night and this morning.

Corn replanted after the April freeze was mostly ruined by drought. Feed, cut and stacked in the field before the rain is now all sprouting and growing green in the shock. Heads of maize standing in the field are sprouting.

Crops in the river bottom at the Reeves, Thompson and Wilmeth farms are all under water, and the water was coming over the upper field at the Wilmeth place Monday afternoon with the river still rising. Buffalo Creek backed up to the Colorado is over part of B. Sinsleton's crop on the White place, and over a part of the Hoses, field cultivated by John Briley. Up the stream, the creek by its own flood left its course and flowed over Edward Egger's field.

The meeting, though hindered by rain since Monday, continued until Thursday night when, because of the continuous downpour it became impractical to set there. Sunday some tried to go but on account of high water could not reach the tabernacle. A few managed to get to the Day home where Sunday morning services were held.

Arthur Sawyer and family attended church Sunday morning but stalled in North Buffalo tributary near Edward Egger's. They were there several hours. The car was finally pulled out by R. M. Haynes with his truck.

The Briley family started to church, but stuck in a chug hole before they got out of their pasture. After trying in vain until 1:30 to dig it out, they finally had to get the team up and pull it out. Turning out into the pasture to go around the bad place to go back home, they bogged twice before they could get back into the road and had to use the team again. It was 3 o'clock when they got home. Mr. Wilmeth and Hubert Reeves election officials, awoke Saturday morning to find the rain still pouring and all waterways badly swollen. Jim saw no way to get to the school house, as Buffalo Creek had him out off. However, he thought he ought to go as far as he could so taking Lillard with him, they set out around the Whittenburg Lane. They found North Buffalo too swollen for a car to cross so Lillard walked the cable over the water gap and finally got to the school house where he found a barefooted Hubert holding the election. Hubert had come in his car stuck. He had to leave the car. As he had to take it atop, he decided he wouldn't have much use for shoes.

In the afternoon a good many made it to the election polls, but a good many more would have voted if they could have got there. We haven't heard yet from the rest of the county.

We who live down toward the river were badly put out Saturday morning when our phones went dead. Sunday we discovered that Mr. Thompson's phone line was under water in Buffalo Creek. As soon as his line was disconnected, our phones came back into service.

Notwithstanding the damage done by so much rain, the pastures are greatly benefited, and maybe there is time yet to raise good feed crops.

While we haven't had our own county returns yet, the radio, has kept us informed as to the governor's race, and one of the cutest things we've heard was the message Bill McCraw sent O'Daniel saying, "You were the only one who ran. The rest of us were in a slow walk."

Modern conveniences continue to reach even us people out here in the hills. The Wood Roberts have a new wind charger, and a big fine looking oil burning refrigerator arrived at the Wilmeth home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Egger, Mr. and Mrs. Billie McNurlin and Mrs. Charm Whittenburg gathered at the P. R. Reid home Saturday night to hear the election returns over the radio, while P. R. Charm and Charlie Roberts went to Brownwood to see the election flashes.

Doris Roberts of Big Spring is visiting her father, Charlie Roberts.

Mrs. Henry Smith has gone to her brother at Midland.

Miss Ellene McReynolds of Sweetwater spent Friday night and Saturday with Miss Lucille Wilmeth.

Wood Roberts received a telegram last week telling him that his sister, Mrs. Ollie Murphy of Lamesa, had been badly hurt in a car wreck.

Albert Hardin of Big Spring was at the Stanley Reeves home Wednesday of last week. He says baby Evelyn is just doing fine.

Comfort and Satisfaction in glasses fitted by Dr. R. A. Ellis.

Ricker

We have had plenty of rain for awhile everyone is glad to see the sunshine again.

A shower was given at the home of Mrs. Perry Boyd last Wednesday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Clarence Heznan, who before her marriage was Miss Rita Pearl Cunningham. She received many lovely and useful gifts from her friends each one wishing her much happiness and success. Ice cream and angel food cake was served to 75 guests, the refreshments carrying out the bride's chosen colors of pink and white. Miss Fay Doris Boyd and Miss Anna Louise Charne presided over the brides book in which each guest registered.

Miss Nell Gage of Zephyr is visiting with friends and relatives this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Parker and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ezell spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Blackwell.

Miss Charlie Smith of Ft. Worth is visiting in the home of her father and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith.

Lawrence Hunt and J. P. Clark have gone to Brady to work for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Melton and family visited a while Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Price.

Mrs. Pool and children of Oklahoma are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Teel spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Teel.

The revival meeting will begin at Boyd's Chapel Sunday, July 31. Rev. W. L. Wharton will hold the meeting for medical treatment.

Mrs. Kathryn Price is visiting in the Robert Beal home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hush Cox visited in the Perry Boyd home Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reagan visited home folks this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Hush Anderson and children and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Price and children visited Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Taylor Sunday.

Dr. R. A. Ellis, Optometrist.

Zephyr

Miss Lucille Locks, who has been visiting relatives in Austin, returned home Friday afternoon. She was accompanied here by her cousin who will visit several days.

Miss Loveta Horner has gone to Abilene to attend Draughon's business college. She attended Daniel Baker college last year.

Emogene and Anita Couch, Bud Kinsley and Ira Beaty attended the show in Brownwood Sunday night.

Bud Lee attended the picnic at Blanket Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Quiri and family of Teton, Idaho, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Quiri and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Renfro and daughters of Corpus Christi were the weekend guests of their father, N. B. Gist and J. M. Renfro. Driskill Petty of Pecos was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Petty, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Beck of Big Spring, spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. D. F. Petty and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonner Thompson and children, Patsy Nell and Otis Rae of Brownwood, visited here Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Mae Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Odell of Killeen are guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Cobb.

Miss Arlie Mosier of Mullen was the guest of Miss Esther Underwood Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Teague and daughter, Miss Dorothy, and Mrs. Dick Teague of Santa Anna; Mrs. W. O. Johnson and daughter, Kittie Ruth of Waco; Miss Griffie Atkins of Ballinger and Mrs. Tom Lee of Zephyr, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lee and attended the homecoming.

The NeSmith reunion will begin Thursday and will be held at Lake Brownwood for three days.

Mrs. Emma Clumber of Brownwood attended the homecoming Sunday and is spending this week with Mrs. Mattie McCutchen.

Cotton Payments

Farmers who certify that they have not knowingly overplanted their cotton acreage allotments and who agree in writing to refund the payment if it is later found that they have failed to meet the requirements, will receive the cotton price adjustment payment on their 1937 crop as soon as forms and instructions are received and issued and application is made. E. N. Holmgren, administrative officer in charge of the state AAA office at Texas A. & M. College has announced.

All acreage is now being measured, Holmgren said, but compliance will not be required of farmers who produced cotton in 1937 but not in 1938.

The recent amending act passed by Congress for speeding up these payments also specified that cotton produced in 1937 but not sold prior to September 10, 1937, will be eligible for a flat payment rate of 3 cents per pound on the amount eligible.

Farmers who put their cotton under the 5 cent government loan may receive cotton price adjustment payments on that part of the loan cotton that is eligible for payment without transferring or selling the cotton.

The appropriation for the payments is $150,000,000, not. Holmgren pointed out, large enough to cover all the cotton produced in 1937 at the rates specified. It will therefore, be used as far as it will go to provide payments on a percentage basis. This percentage will be uniform for all 1937 cotton producers.

Agricultural Exports

"A century ago agricultural products normally accounted for four out of every five dollars' worth of exports that the United States sent to foreign countries," states W. E. Morgan, economist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

"Last year, however, only one dollar's worth of agricultural products was exported for every three dollars' worth of non-agricultural commodities."

"This situation did not come about overnight—it is the kind of thing one would normally expect in a country that started out as a producer of raw materials and then developed into an important manufacturing nation."

The importance of agricultural products in our foreign trade has declined steadily for over half a century, Morgan explained. After the Civil War American manufacturers began to export large amounts of their goods. This was possible because many of our industries are efficient enough to produce commodities cheaper than they can be made elsewhere in spite of the fact that the prices paid here for many raw materials, such as steel and aluminum, are unduly high because this material is tariff protected.

"This increasing share of industrial products in the dollar value of our exports is important to American farmers because the total amount of money that foreigners are able to spend here is held down by mandates imposed by many foreign governments. The tariff policy of our own government has aggravated the situation. Declining exports make it doubly hard on farmers," Morgan pointed out.

"To put it another way, farmers have more reason than ever to push for an expansion of foreign trade."

Trench Silos Will Save Damaged Feed

Continuous rains and cloudy weather are causing a heavy loss to feed crops in Brown county. Grain sorghum heads are beginning to sprout on the stalk in the fields and are rapidly deteriorating.

The large feed crop in the county can be saved by digging trench silos and storing the feed in these trenches, advises County Agent Lehmburg.

Although maize, beargrass and other grain sorghums are sprouting on the stalk or in the bundle, the greater part of the feed value of these crops will be retained if put into trench silos at once. This applies both to the feed that is still standing on the stalk and the feed that has been cut and put into shocks, Mr. Lehmburg said.

When dry or partially dry feed is put into a trench more water should be added than to green feed. Feed may be either cut up with an ensilage cutter or put into the trench without cutting.

There is little difference in the amount of spoilage with cut or uncut silage. If feed is not cut up or chopped, the bands should be cut so that the stalks will pack well. Stalks should be laid lengthwise of the trench, as they will pack better than if laid crosswise.

The bundles should be laid in with the cross rows lapping as the shingles on a roof, so as to distribute the grain lengthwise through the trench, as well as to make a good job of packing and to avoid any large open spaces in the silage.

Care should be taken to avoid getting the full length of the trench or a long section of it partly filled and then run short of feed to fill the trench completely. It is safer to start filling at one end and fill a section completely before starting on another section. An abundance of water should be used in filling the trench silo. Plenty of water should be put on the silage next to the walls if the dirt is dry even though the silage is thoroughly green.

Location of Trench Silo
The best place to build a trench silo is on the slope of a hill, building it lengthwise with the slope of the hill. This will make it more convenient to take the feed out and will also drain any surplus of water that may accumulate in the trench. The sides of the trench should be made sloping and made as smooth as possible. Pockets or holes in the sides of the trench will cause air pockets and will cause mould and spoilage.

Size of Trench Silos.

Observations have shown that a great many farmers in figuring the desired width and depth of a trench silo are getting their silos too wide and deep for the size of their herds. The width and depth must be regulated according to the minimum number of livestock to be fed per day.

Figuring a minimum of 30 pounds of silage per cow per day, 20 pounds per horse and 5 pounds per sheep the following suggested trenches should be helpful in assisting farmers in deciding on the size of the trench to build. Farmers should put up at least three tons of silage per cow.

The following sizes are recommended:

For 5 Cows—Top width 4 feet, bottom width 3 feet, depth of trench 4 feet, length of trench 85 feet. Figuring 30 pounds per cow per day a trench of this size will feed 5 cows for 200 days.

For 10 Cows—Top width 6 feet, bottom width 4 feet, depth of trench 5 feet, length of trench 100 feet. Capacity 30 tons. Number days to feed 200.

For 20 Cows—Top width 10 feet, bottom width 6 feet, depth of trench 6 feet, length of trench 100 feet. Capacity 73 tons. Days feed 200.

For 50 Cows—Top width 12 feet, bottom width 10 feet, depth of trench 7 feet, length of trench 130 feet. Capacity 150 tons. Days feed 200.

If more than 50 head are to be fed several smaller silos should be built.

It is estimated that it will require approximately one cubic foot for 30 pounds of silage. The following three points should be kept in mind in building a trench silo.

1. The amount of silage to be stored. 2. The size of the herd to be fed. 3. The number of days to feed.

Covering the Silage

Silage should be piled high enough above the level of the ground to be mounded when settled. The height to pile the silage will depend on the depth of the trench. The silage should be piled one foot above the level for a silo 3 feet deep, 3 feet for a trench 6 feet deep. Cover the entire mass either with dirt, 12 to 18 inches thick or with bundles of feed.

Why Store Crops In A Trench Silo?

Feed crops should be stored in trench silos for the following reasons: 1. Will increase feeding value of crops. 2. There will be no waste in feeding. 3. No loss from fire, storm, insects, etc. 4. Feed will keep indefinitely. 5. Feed can be stored cheaper in trench silos than in barns.

Advisability of Using Trench Silos

We have definitely passed the experimental stage in building trench silos in Texas. Mr. Lehmburg said. Three years ago we had approximately 973 trench silos in Texas. Today we have over 19,000. One county in Texas alone has more than 700 trench silos. In Brown county we now have 71 trench silos with a total capacity of one and one half million pounds. All the farmers and ranchmen in the county who have used trench silos pronounce them an absolute success.

The sensible thing to do, Mr. Lehmburg said, is to build a trench silo now and save your feed which otherwise, under present conditions may be a total loss.

Those who are in doubt as to the value of trench silos should talk to the following men: Joe Shelton, M. E. Fry, Largent & Stevens, J. H. Fry, M. E. Oliver, C. M. Coke, J. A. Kesler, Joe M. Hall and W. R. Chambers.

RURAL WOMEN LONELY? MILLETT THINKS NOT

By Ruth Millett

City women think of farm women as being lonely. But after talking with Mrs. Edna Eaton Wilson of Falls City, Okla., who helps her husband run a dairy farm, one hears that maybe it's the other way around.

Maybe the lonely woman is the one who is shut inside a small apartment, with not even a speaking acquaintance with her neighbors.

For farm women have too many responsibilities and lead too cramped-lives to have many moments for loneliness. Besides they are neighborly.

Mrs. Wilson, who when she talked to her was sitting in a luxurious suite in a Park Avenue hotel, won her trip to New York and a cash prize from the Country Home magazine for being, in their opinion the best country newspaper correspondent.

For thirteen years she has written about her neighbors' doings for the Stillwater Gazette. She says that the women who get into her column through having children, giving parties, "visiting" or even dying are mainly interested in their homes and their children. "No," she says apologetically "they aren't much concerned about what's happening in Spain or China."

They are busy working to give their daughters things they didn't have themselves, trying to bring their sons up to be honest and hard-working, and doing the best they can with their housekeeping. That is why they are interested in new recipes, in a pattern that shows how to get a slip cover for a living room chair out of as little material as possible, and how to save themselves "steps."

Have Many Activities
They do their own work, make their own and their daughters' clothes, cook three meals a day, have gardens, and help their husbands.

But that isn't all. They go to church on Sunday. Most of them belong to clubs where they study art and literature and fashions in clothes (which interests them more than art or literature). The young women play softball for fun—not for exercise and most of them manage their work so that they can get away from home one day a week to go to Sales Day, where they sell some of their own "white elephants" and once in awhile get so carried away by the excitement of bidding that they pay more for a neighbor's old ice box than she paid for it new.

They do a lot of canning, and enter samples in the fair each year. The ones who live miles from town, as Mrs. Wilson does, bake their own bread.

Community Help

As a sample of their neighborliness, it isn't unusual for a group of farm wives to have a sickroom kit which holds hospital gowns extra sheets and wash cloths and towels. Things any family might need when sickness strikes. Anyone can have the kit who needs it, and when it comes back, the things are sterilized for the next user.

All of which makes us think that perhaps country women actually live much closer together than city women. And still we go on talking about the loneliness of the country.

Flood Control Plan For Bayou Studied

A proposal to raise the spillway at Lake Brownwood dam and the installation of gates for flood control is being studied along with other flood control problems along the Pecan Bayou area below Lake Brownwood by United States Army engineers in cooperation with the Brown County Water Improvement District. County Agent C. W. Lehmburg, E. H. Templin, engineer at the local soil conservation camp, Manager Chester Harrison of the Chamber of Commerce, and County Surveyor Mark Ragsdale. The information gathered by this group will be used in determining whether recommendation for a flood control project here will be made. Figures on maximum drainage capacity of the streams in the area, together with historical data and other information will be included in the report when completed.

The area from the city south to the Mills county line, which will eventually form districts 2 and 3 of the Water Improvement District, was examined last week. Conferences with the technical staff of the soil conservation camp here were held in anticipation of problems which will come up with the development of irrigation.

The Brownwood survey last week was made by Engineers Mark Ima, Clarence E. Lemmer and Thomas G. Campbell, of the U. S. Army Engineer Corps at Galveston.

BROOKESMITH SCHOOL NEWS

The faculty of the Brookesmith schools is now complete and plans are being formed for a course of study that will equal any, for a school of this size, in the state. New courses to be offered this year will be in the commercial field. The Homemaking Department will receive its full share of further development, although it is already something to be proud of.

Extra-curricular activities such as glee club, choral singing and other types of Interscholastic League work including football, basketball, track, tennis and baseball will have a trained coach or director and every student will be given an opportunity and urged to take part.

The faculty and the general teaching assignments follow:

High School
Superintendent of schools, mathematics and commercial subjects Charles T. Perry.

Principal of high school, history and coach, George Crane; English, June Locks; and Homemaking, Dorothy Nell Baker.

Grammar School
Principal and grades 5 and 6 Roy Fisher; grades 3 and 4, Stella Mae Dunn; grades 1 and 2, Mrs. Thad Maudlin.

To those school patrons and prospective school patrons from neighboring school districts who have finished the grades taught in the home district and who wish to avail themselves of the Brookesmith schools, please bear in mind that Brookesmith welcomes you and that Monday, August 1, is the last day on which transfers may be made.

W. O. (Wayne) Weems, Candidate for Constable, Wishes to thank the people of Precinct 1, for their splendid support last Saturday, and to solicit their continued support and the support of those who had a friend in this race and is not a candidate in the second primary.

Charles T. Perry, for the past three years principal of high school and acting-superintendent of the Mullin schools, will head the Brookesmith schools as superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry and children are now located in Brookesmith and Mr. Perry welcomes all who have school problems to discuss them with him.

To the Voters of Precinct 2...

I wish to sincerely solicit your Vote and Influence, so that I may be your next Commissioner, pledging you that I will do everything in my power to help you accomplish those things most desired for the benefit of our communities.

Texas' most sensational gubernatorial campaign in many a year came suddenly to a close last week with the spectacular nomination of W. Lee O'Daniel, who polled considerably more than half the million-odd votes cast in the Democratic primary. The result, not entirely unexpected and certainly not un-predicted, left Texas and the Nation to wonder what to expect of this unusual man who will occupy the Governor's chair at Austin for the next two years.

The New Leader

That the Nation wonders makes little difference, to be sure; that Texans wonder comes not through a lack of confidence in Mr. O'Daniel, but rather from a lack of information as to his policies and his ideas of government; of the method he might advance for the solution of problems which during the campaign seemed to him to be easy of solution.

Mr. O'Daniel admittedly is not a "professional politician." He is frank in stating that he has much to learn about the business of running the State government. It is fairly certain, from his campaign utterances, that he is not to seek to learn from those who are operating the State government at the present time, but rather from Texans who have made a success of their own business, and who seem to be possessed of sufficient judgment and business experience to make good directors of the State government.

That theory, not new in campaign utterances, but new to be put into practice, meets with general approval of the people of Texas. That much was forcibly demonstrated at the polls Saturday.

Business generally is conservative. Business generally favored one of the other candidates in the race last month not so much because they opposed Mr. O'Daniel, but because the "professional politicians" are conservative. That is, they would have followed the generally accepted methods of directing the State government; there would have been little change in methods. Business dreads any change, largely because of the feeling that any drastic change might be for the worse.

That feeling of uncertainty should be dispelled with the post-election statements of the nominee. Mr. O'Daniel has no desire to stifle business. His theory for happiness and prosperity is as good as it is brief: "Work." In a radio address on Tuesday he made it certain that he does not believe that the State can legislate prosperity into existence; that he does not believe in "prosperity by proclamation." After all, W. Lee O'Daniel is a business man, and a highly successful one. There should be no fear that his attitude toward business would be unfavorable.

The post-election reaction throughout the State also is interesting. There is nothing of bitterness from any source. No successful candidate ever survived the nominating primary with such unanimous good will on the part of Texans—those who voted against him as well as those who were his most enthusiastic supporters. His obvious sincerity in his desire to be of service to the people of Texas makes one and all anxious that, with his thundering majority behind him, he be given every possible co-operation in his plan to bring happiness and prosperity to a great State.

There can be no quarrel with those residents of the lower reaches of the Colorado river who criticize the fact that the Buchanan Dam did not hold back all of the flood waters of the river. Their demand for an explanation or an investigation is but natural. They had expected that there would be no further danger from floods on the Colorado after the huge dam had been constructed.

In this belief they probably were supported by over-enthusiastic boosters of the Federal project. For many extravagant statements have been made in support of the construction of the Buchanan and other dams along Texas rivers. And, of course, flood control was the major factor in the construction of the series of Colorado river dams.

The floods of the past week, however, did not offer a fair test of the value of Buchanan dam in flood control. In the first place, the series of dams has not been completed. Buchanan Dam itself was not ready to assume its duty as a flood preventative. Other of the dams are under construction. When the Lower Colorado River Authority completes its program, it should be in better position to control the waters of the river in abnormal times. During the present flood, for example, there was no machinery or organization ready to give operators of the dam sufficient warning of approaching high waters.

But from another, and a more significant standpoint, there is little room for criticism. It was never intended that the Buchanan, or any other dam that might be built, would entirely prevent floods along the lower reaches of a river. The fact that many streams empty into the rivers below any dams that might be built, and that lower banks make the land susceptible to overflow with only a moderate increase in the amount of water carried, make it almost certain that so long as there are rains which man is unable to control, there will be overflows and floods in the lowlands. No amount of dam building can prevent it. And only a dam built exclusively for flood prevention; one which stores up a reservoir only during flood times, will be able to give absolute control of the waters above it.

It is reasonable to assume that Buchanan Dam, holding back as it did, a tremendous volume of the flood water that was poured into its reservoir during the past ten days, performed a very valuable service in flood prevention last week.

Much credit is due Chester Harrison, manager of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, for the prompt and efficient way he met, on behalf of the people of Brownwood, the call for aid from the flood district of McCulloch and San Saba counties. In this he was ably assisted by Dr. Karl Moore, president of the local Red Cross chapter, the National Guard units and various other individuals and agencies. But it was largely under Mr. Harrison's capable direction that the work was done, and almost entirely due to his determination that red tape was cut and governmental surplus clothing was quickly obtained and dispatched to the flood areas at a time when delay could not be tolerated.

Too often we take these things as a matter of course. Brownwood is fortunate in having at the helm of its civic organization a man who represents its citizens with credit no matter what the call may be; no matter how heavy the demand. The flood relief work was taken as a matter of course, and handled as part of the day's work. And it was done well.

Revised Estimate . . .

WASHINGTON—With Lending & Spending bringing the Government's daily outgo to $25,000,000, President Roosevelt last week issued a revision of his January budget estimate for fiscal 1939. Prime facts in his revised version, which resembled the original as most movies resemble the novels from which they are adapted, were: Estimated Revenue decreased by had business: January $6,919,437,000; now $6,900,270,000.

Estimated Expenditures increased by Lending & Spending: January $6,869,943,000; now $8,985,157,000.

Estimated Net Deficit: January $949,056,000; now $3,984,887,000.

Estimated Public Debt next July 1: January $38,528,200,000; now $40,650,000,000.

Competition Contemplated . . .

WASHINGTON—Economists agree that a major cause of Depression II was the failure of private industry to undertake pump priming when the Government cut down. Utility officers explain their estimated dam of $2,000,000,000 in capital expenditures on grounds that they and the investing public are too scared by the Government's power policy to put more money into the business.

Efforts to end this stalemate reached a peak last month just before Congress passed the Lend-Lease bill which contained a provision forbidding PWA to build any more power plants in competition with private companies. This provision was removed by White House request, but Senate Majority Leader Barkley announced that "the President does not contemplate" any further such competition "unless and until such municipality as may apply for such allocation has in good faith made an offer to purchase the existing private plant."

Just what this broad promise meant became apparent last week as PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes offered 21 municipalities a total of $9,277,995 to build plants of their own, though they are already served by private utilities. To receive these benefices, the 21 municipalities, said Mr. Ickes, must "make reasonable efforts in good faith" to purchase the facilities with which the applicants would be in competition. Mr. Ickes said "I never anticipate trouble from the private utilities. Public Works Administrator Ickes declared: "I don't know anyone better qualified to judge what is fair and reasonable than the Administrator of Public Works."

"Great Thing" . . .

THU N. Y.—Soeing a motorist drive smack into a road construction project near Troy, a WPA foreman howled: "What have you got above your eyebrows?" Above the eyebrows was the skinny-haired pate of Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, who later chuckled: "It's a great thing to be deflated. I found out I wasn't such a big shot."

Wheat Scheme . . .

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace last week fixed wheat loans for the 1938 crop and the acreage allotment for next year (55,000,000 acres, compared with about 50,000,000 actually seeded this year).

Placed on the present farm parity price of wheat, the loans will average about 50c a bu. at the farm. The 1938 crop estimated at 967,000,000 bu. will be the second largest on record, and Commodity Credit Corp. has set aside $100,000,000 for the loans. Purpose of the loans is to let farmers keep their wheat off the market until they can get a better price. Secretary Wallace chose the minimum rate permitted by the 1938 AAA.

If the price of wheat falls below the 60c fixed figure, the Government must hold the wheat until the price rises. (pared 100,000,000 or more to fix the surplus, while foreign producers have the world market to themselves by selling at the prevailing price. To insure the U. S. a "fair share" of the world wheat business, Secretary Wallace would like the world's farmers to store their surplus wheat this year.

U. S. representative at the International Wheat Conference in London last week was Albert Galn Black, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Well-qualified to expound the ever-norning plan to the London delegates, Economist Black nevertheless failed to convince them. Aside from extending for two more years the International Wheat Agreement (drawn up in 1933 to limit wheat production and export), the 25 delegates from 15 nations did nothing.

Conference experts figured that the world harvest, excluding the Soviet Union, China and Manchuria, would total 4,205,000,000 bu.—216,999,000 bu. above the all time record set in 1928. Especially ominous was the prospect for the U. S. One or two major wheat exporters (200,000,000 bu.), the U. S. last year sold only 100,000,000 bu. abroad. This year, unless foreign countries store part of their crops, the U. S. will have an exportable surplus of 250,000,000 bu. Last week Secretary Wallace hinted his department might subsidize wheat exports.

Hopper Wave . . .

WASHINGTON—Westward from Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois to Washington, Oregon and California; northward from Texas to the Dakotas last week swept waves of grasshoppers, damaging crops. In New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle, probable crop damage was estimated at $30,000,000; in the Dakotas, the visitation was warat. Iowa was not so badly off, because spring rains had killed the eggs deposited in the ground by last year's females.

Fighting the hoppers were WPA, CCC State highway crews, and the farmers. The U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine already has spent $2,500,000, and provided gratis 188,700 tons of deadly delicacy beloved by grasshoppers, a mixture of bran and sodium arsenite. The Bureau will ship enough more to spread 40,000,000 acres with poison bait by season's end. So that the grasshoppers will take readily to the fare, it is mixed with sawdust and water or molasses, flung over infested fields from buckets, or spread from barrels by whirling discs which the farmers rig on the rear axles of old automobiles and tow over the fields.

"I Don't Know" . . .

PORTLAND, Maine—"I don't know any more than you do. I have never heard him mention it. He has never even hinted it." So last week said Franklin Delano Roosevelt's well-schooled, 83-year-old mother, Sara Delano Roosevelt, queried in Portland about her son's attitude toward a third time as President.

Staggering Sum . . .

LONDON—Britain's House of Commons last week reluctantly but unanimously gave final approval to Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon's staggering budgetary decision to spend on the Army, Navy and Royal Air Force $1,750,000,000 in a single year. In a voice shaking with emotion Sir John told the House: "Make no mistake—if we do not succeed and the World does not succeed in finding some way to end the folly of this everlasting expenditure on armaments, then, indeed the future we shall be preparing for our children is one at which we may shudder." We speak as if our civilization was securely based, but there have been other civilizations than ours. Tutankhamen was forgotten until he was dug up. It is very possible that the things protecting our civilization are more slender than they are sometimes thought."

To Helsingfors . . .

TOKYO, Japan—Outbidding Italy, England and Finland at the 1936 meeting of the International Olympic Committee, Japan has been awarded the 1940 Olympic Games allocated to Tokyo to celebrate the 2,600th anniversary of the founding of the Empire. Repeatedly pooh-poohing rumors that it might abandon the Games because of the "incident" in China, the Japanese Government voted $5,000,000 to build an Olympic Village. But last week the Minister of Public Welfare suddenly announced Japan's withdrawal, explained: ". . . Cancellation is due to the fact that it is absolutely necessary for Japan to obtain the objective of the Sino-Japanese incident by national mobilization of materials and spirits."

Belgium's Count Henri de Baillet-Latour, president of the International Olympic Committee, probably announced that the 1940 Olympics would therefore be awarded to Helsingfors, the Finnish city whose bid had been outvoted at the committee meeting in 1936. Peace-loving Finland has never been host to the Olympics, was last week planning a modest program in keeping with the ideals of international amity. The Winter Olympics, scheduled to be held at Sapporo in Northern Japan, will probably be offered to Oslo.

Second Year's End . . .

MORA DE RUBELLOS, Spain—Celebrated on both sides of Spain's ever-hanging battle line last week was the second anniversary of the bloody civil war in which more than 1,000,000 of Spain's 23,500,000 people are estimated to have lost their lives—in battles, in street fighting, before overworked execution squads on both sides. In two years cities, villages and countryside had been ruthlessly pillaged, bombed and destroyed; the country's economic life had been ruined; important nations had aligned against each other; and Spain's private war had time and again threatened to become a European free-for-all.

With Rightist arms in possession of three-fourths of all Spain, with Rightist Armies steadily advancing, most observers believed last week that Franco was headed for a final victory. But in a war full of surprises, and with the retreating Leftist soldiers contesting every square mile, few could predict that victory would be soon.

Pedigreed Marksmen . . .

MILWAUKEE, Wisconsin—Long before William Tell displayed his skill with bow and arrow, Saxon wood carvers engaged in a sport called "Vogelschiessen" (shooting at wooden birds perched on poles). At Saxony Rest near Milwaukee, 400 of their U. S. descendants gathered last week for their annual jamboree and "Vogelschiessen" tournament.

Far more exclusive than polo, class J-yacht racing or court tennis, sportsmen who want to indulge in "Vogelschiessen" must present a pedigree. Only descendants of these old Saxon craftsmen may shoot. With steel crossbows and steel-tipped wooden bolts, they took turns last week shooting at a double-headed eagle, jig-sawed out of wood and mounted on a pole 30 ft. high. Purpose of the sport is to knock off a claw, a beak, a wing, and thereby win a prize—such as an electric fan, a thermos bottle, a clock. No. 1 prize of the tournament goes to the man who shoots down the last remaining chunk of the bird. He is crowned king and is awarded a "ten-beer boot" (boot-shaped glass 2 1/2 ft. high) which custom says he must fill and pass round and round.

After eight hours of shooting, interspersed with visits to a nearby Bierstuben, 62-year-old Herman Mehner, bald-headed iron worker was crowned king. Unique even in its distribution of prizes, "Vogelschiessen" winner is really a loser. In addition to filling the ten-beer boot, King Mehner was required to give a banquet for all the members of the "Verein."

PEEP SHOW —For Ladies Only— BY MIGNON

I'm all athrill, I'm in aglow It seems I'm always on the go. . . . Here I am in Tulsa, the oil capital of the world, with so many places to go and so many folks to see and yet this old woman, "Work" give me by the throat and I gotta give in to her. But even work can be fun if it is just stringing a few words together in a medley of hours filled with lovely people and things. I'm so full of the past week's activities that it's hard to know where to begin. I wish I could be like the old darkey who thought "Work" was his mother and he promised never to hit her.

One of the thrills first to come was a letter from Dora Aydelotte, Oklahoma's newest novelist of fiction. Dora you know, has just been honored with a scholarship to the McDowell Colony at Peterboro, N. H., and she has arrived safely, cosily situated in a studio cabin "down a winding woody path, with a view of blue New Hampshire mountains in the distance. So quiet that at first the tap of typewriter keys seemed an irrelevant noise." Doesn't that sound heavenly? We all feel sure that "Trumpets Callin'" will have a relative born while Dora is there this summer and so we just sit back in all confidence and hope she can feel us beaming over the miles.

The Summer session Short course in professional writing at the Oklahoma University is now history but it was the first of what all those in attendance hope will be an annual affair. It was the answer to a long felt need for those folks of the southwest who wish to get together for improvement without having to go to Colorado or Breadloaf, Vermont, and the answer was with great gusto. The very first day there were two hundred and fifty registered and many more came through the week. The English Department of the University in cooperation with the extension department is the mamma and papa of the swell idea. Stanley Vestal and Kenneth Kaufman were the godfathers and there were a whole swarm of fine folks who were in at the Christening rites. We sat enchanted through the heat like small islands on a sun drenched ocean. Even our pores absorbed knowledge and the tides of inspiration came in swells. Looking back over the eventful week it would be hard to pick out the most interesting feature. To those who love poetry Thursday was the highlight. . . . to those who love short stories, Tuesday was the big day, and so on through all the different forms of writing. Sufficient it is to say that in each department there was an outstanding leader bringing an unusual message.

Oklahoma writers rubbed elbow with the big boys who are also Okla-Writers gone Newyorkish but still loving the red earth and its people. There were little groups who met at luncheons and dinners, there were larger groups who met thely mix the white part of the 6 eggs and put into a saucepan with the butter. Stir gently over a low fire for 15 minutes, then add the sliced raw potatoes and chicken broth. Season with salt and pepper to taste, and cook gently until potatoes are tender. Strain and set aside to cool.

Add the cream, season again to taste and place in refrigerator to become thoroughly chilled. Serve in cups or cream soup dishes. Garnish with the finely chopped chives. Crisp cheese crackers make a nice accompaniment for this soup.

Raspberry Delight (Serves 6)

Four egg whites, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 cup fine granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon water, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1 quart large fresh raspberries, 1 cup whipping cream, sweetened.

Beat egg whites until frothy. Add salt and cream of tartar and beat until stiff. Gradually beat in sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, alternately with water, vinegar, and vanilla which have been mixed together. Beat until the mixture is fluffy and of good piling quality.

Spread in a greased 9-inch glass pie plate. With a spoon form a rim around the edge to hold the berries at serving time. Bake in a very slow oven until delicately browned and dry on the surface. Pipe sweetened raspberries and whipped cream in the center. Serve immediately.

Annual Encampment Nat'l Guard Will Be Held at Camp Bullis

The Annual National Guard camp is to be held August 6-21, at Camp Bullis, San Antonio, this summer. About 150 men and 9 officers of the Brownwood companies plan to attend. This includes Headquarters Company, Company A, Service Company and the Old Gray Mare Band.

Between 6,000 and 40,000 guardsmen and soldiers will be concentrated in the camp and is believed to be the largest peace time gathering of troops in history. Several divisions of the regular army will be stationed in camp with the guardsmen and the third army area maneuvers will be under the supervision of the regular army. The maneuvers begin August 13.

Most of the activities of the maneuvers will be at night and the local companies have been training for several months. Company A made a night practice march Friday night in preparation for these activities. The other companies are planning similar activities soon.

DAUGHTER BORN TO ORTON'S

Birth of a daughter in Medical Arts Hospital July twenty-first to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Orton, Dublin, has been announced. The infant, weighing six pounds, four ounces, has been christened Rebecca Faye. The Ortons are former residents of Brownwood. Before his transfer to the Dublin camp a year ago, Mr. Orton was technical superintendent at the Soil Conservation Service camp on Fourth street here. Mrs. Orton, the former Martha Johnson, was employed on the Brownwood Banner staff two years prior to her marriage.

THE BAYOU OWL

Introductory
This is the first issue of the "Bayou Owl." In the future it will be the official monthly publication of the Brownwood Chapter Future Farmers of America.

July Meeting
The July meeting of the Brownwood chapter will be at 8:30 p. m. Friday night, July 29th. Every member of the chapter should make an effort to attend this meeting because several items of business are on the docket to be discussed.

Summer Camp
The Second Annual Brownwood Future Farmers Encampment will be held at Lake Brownwood State Park on the 4-5-6 of August. There will be swimming, fishing, horse shoe pitching, washer pitching and other forms of recreation during the camp.

The President Elect
John McGhee, the president elect, was in the group of Boy Scouts who were marooned at camp Billy Gibbons during the recent high waters in the San Saba country.

State Convention At El Paso
The State Convention of the Future Farmers was held in El Paso Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. We are sorry that the Brownwood Chapter was not represented but due to the distance, expenses involved, floods and other conflicts we could not carry out our plans to attend.

The Members
Members of the chapter have been doing various things this summer. They have been vacationing, working, closing out projects, selecting feeder calves and a thousand other things that space will not permit detailing in this issue of the Bayou Owl.

Honorary Members
Ross Prescott, one of our honorary members is in the run-off campaign for State Senator. Chester Harrison, one of our honorary members and an honorary Lone Star Farmer, has been working night and day directing Brownwood aid to the flood victims of San Saba and Brady.

James M. Logan, new vocational agricultural instructor in Blanket High School, has been busy meeting prospective students of agriculture and the citizens of Blanket. Mr. Logan has run 13,000 yards of terrace lines, on a total of 210 acres of two large farms. From the interest shown by the farmers many more farms will be terraced before the fall sowing of grain.

Ice Cream Freezers, 2 to 8 qt.—McLeods Hdwe.
The city health department has issued a request that local citizens cooperate in preventing the development of a mosquito danger during and after the current rainfalls by emptying containers and other water collecting places. City employees will be engaged with caring for major hazards and ask cooperation with private citizens in attending to danger spots in and around homes.

Hunters Have 45 Day Duck Season

The Agriculture Department recently added 15 days to the duck season, jacksnipe and coot hunting season, giving hunters a 45-day open season for the first time in three years.

The season begins October 1 and ends November 14 in the northern zone. It runs from October 15 to November 28 in the central zone and from November 15 to December 29 in the Southern states which include Texas.
Two other major rules were liberalized. Possession limitations on ducks and geese were increased to two days' bag, or 20 ducks and 10 geese. Hunter's also may bag a total of three of the following duck species which have been protected during the last few years: Canvasbacks, redheads, buffleheads and ruddy ducks.

The three-shell limitation on repeating shotguns was retained, as were prohibitions on baiting waterfowl and the use of live decoys, coys.

The bag limit on jacksnipes was set at 15 and 24 for coot.

Officials said the regulations were liberalized because of an increase in most species in the last few years largely as a result of reduced animals kills while strict-

THE PUBLIC'S response to the adoption of a Code of Practice by the members of the Brewers Foundation was prompt and favorable.
Newspapers, social service groups and thousands of individuals expressed great satisfaction with the brewers' determination to conduct their business in accord with the desires and conscience of the American public.
The Code pledges the brewers publicly to "support the duly constituted authorities in the elimination of anti-social conditions wherever they may surround the sale of beer to the consumer."

Excellent Record in Fire Prevention in Brownwood Praised

"Because of the excellent fire record of Brownwood, which has been made possible to a large extent to correctly trained firemen, about $25,000 a year is saved in fire insurance premiums," declared
Fire Chief Rance Pettitt this week upon his return from the annual short course for firemen at Texas
A. & M. College. Norman Chaney and Orville Bradley were other representatives of the local department at the course.

Pettitt continued: "Texas is the only state that gives credit for good fire records. The city of Brownwood receives 25 per cent credit today while several years ago we received a 15 per cent penalty. The city is given a key rating of 32 per cent, based on the fire fighting equipment, personnel of the department and fire hazards in the city."

Mukewater 4-H Girl Gives Clothing Report

Joyce Eoff, Mukewater 4-H club girl, won third place with her clothing exhibit in the district at the short course at A & M College. She was awarded the trip to the short course as first prize in the Brown county clothing contest.

This is my second year as a member and reporter of the Mukewater 4-H Club and my first year as clothing demonstrator. At our fresh vegetable exhibit and style show or "Achievement Day" held last summer, I took third place on my vegetables, second place on my slip, and second place on my dress.

For our goals this year, we were to make an apron, slip, dress and all demonstrators were to complete another article. I chose to make a house coat. We were also to enter the contest for judging canned products and to make a frame garden.

"For my apron I chose material with a green background with small orange and black figures and trimmed it in orange rick-rack. For fulness, it has set-in pieces in the front on both sides, a collar with pickets at the top of the set-in pieces and a two and one-half inch sailor picture. I put rick-rack on each end of the sash.

"I selected a green material with small white polka dots for my dress. I made it princess style and trimmed it in white rick-rack. I put four rows of rick-rack down the front, and around the collar and cuffs and put a zipper in the back.

Suggestions Given For Canning Figs

When you make fig preserves and jam this summer, put up several extra jars for gifts. There is something about homemade fig preserves that no other kind of present can quite match.

We're telling you this now, because it's now or never as far as figs are concerned. They will be plentiful for a short while and are as cheap as they'll get.

Here are Grandma's own recipes for making fig preserves and fig jam with old-time goodness.

Fig Preserves 6 quarts figs, 2 quarts water, 5 pounds sugar. Select firm, slightly green figs of medium size for preserving. Scald the figs in lye water of the following proportions: 2 gal. boiling water and 3 tbsp. of lye. Stir the figs with a wooden paddle until the skin comes off

Star Embroiderer

Mischa Auer, the movie comedian, tends to his embroidering between scenes in "The Rage of Paris." His reply to the curious: "Why shouldn't I embroider if I want to?"

few old-time tomato recipes that you'll find are real treasures.

Cold Tomato Relish Six pounds ripe tomatoes; 3 small onions; 2 green peppers; 1 sweet red pepper; 1 cup diced celery; 1/4 cup salt; 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg; 1 ounce mustard seed; cups vinegar; 1 pound brown sugar.

Scald and peel tomatoes. Run tomatoes, onions and peppers thru food chopper. Place in colander to drain. Add diced celery. Scald vinegar, add seasonings and sugar. Cool. Combine with vegetables. Mix well and pack into sterilized jars. Seal.

Tomato Preserves

Twelve ripe tomatoes (3 lbs.); 2 cups sugar; grated rind 1 lemon; 1/2 cup brown sugar; 1 cup water; juice 1 lemon.

Skin tomatoes by either scalding them in boiling water or by holding over direct flame until peeling bars. Mix sugar, water and juice and grated rind of one lemon or small orange; boil 15 minutes or until syrup is thick.

Add tomatoes and cook over moderate flame, stirring frequently until tomatoes are clear and syrup thick (220 F.), about 50 minutes. Skim. Pour into sterilized jars and seal with paraffin. If desired, a spice bag may be boiled in the syrup before adding the tomatoes.

Tomato Soup

Cook until tender 2 quarts sliced tomatoes; 2 bay leaves; 3 whole cloves; 2 sprays parsley; 1 medium sized onion, sliced; and 1/2 teaspoon celery seed. Add 1 tablespoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon red pepper; 1 teaspoon paprika; and 2 tablespoons sugar. Cook slowly about 20 minutes. Pack into hot jars, partly seal and process for 10 minutes in a steam pressure cooker at 5 pounds. Remove from cooker and seal immediately. Soup made by this recipe may be diluted one-half on opening.

Here Are Variety of Tomato Suggestions

There's no reason why everybody's table shouldn't be brightened this winter by delicious, tangy tomatoes put up in many different ways. Because the Texas tomato crop is the largest and nicest one in years.

If you're going to can or preserve tomatoes this year, now's the time to do it while they are so plentiful and cheap. Here are a

INTERESTING TALES OF MARINE DAYS ARE TOLD BY CC VETERAN

By Captain Morris U. Lively CCC Camp 3818-V

"The Marines have landed and have the situation well in hand. Many persons recall that report relative to the work of the U. S. Marines, "leather necks," as they have been dubbed.

The Marines are represented in Company 3818-V by Malley S. Duncan. Mr. Duncan was born in Young county, April 21, 1892. On April 26, 1918, he enlisted in the U. S. Marines Corps. His preliminary training was received at Paris Island, South Carolina. From this station he went to the Marine barracks in Quantico, Virginia, and then to Hoboken, New Jersey.

At Hoboken, Duncan's regiment the Sixth Marines, went aboard the transport "Henderson" with Brest, France, as their destination. The third day out from shore the "Henderson" caught fire. The troops aboard discarded all equipment and were put in life boats. For ten hours they drifted on the open ocean before they were picked up by the submarine chaser USS von Steuben. Duncan was ill when the chaser arrived at Brest. He was placed in a hospital where he remained for forty-five days. Meanwhile, the Sixth Marines went forward and Duncan was assigned for 20 days at Thiercourt and to the 97th Company of Marines.

He was on the front at two different times. The first time was Champagne. At Thiercourt he was struck down by a shell. He lay some two hours and saw his company commander and first sergeant come by and pronounce him dead for he could not speak. He was reported missing in action. When carried in on a stretcher the next morning, the sergeant saw him and said, "I thought..." Duncan said, "Slight mistake, sergeant, I'm still here."

After the action at Champagne, Duncan's unit went back to a rest billet. One day Duncan's wandering led him by a garden in which fresh cabbage was growing. The cabbage looked so good that he was eating some of it when the company commander walked by. After looking at the cabbage, the commander decided the whole company should have fresh cabbage on their supper tables that night.

The second action which Mr. Duncan saw was in the Arzonne Forest. He was under fire for 12 days and during that action, he and his pal were gassed. Again company non-coms passed them up as casualties. Duncan and his buddy had strength enough left to crawl under a tree. There they lay all night in a driving rain, their only protection being a single woolen blanket. Stretcher bearers picked them up the next day and again Duncan had the company office informed that there was an apparent error about his being a casualty in action.

After the Armistice, Duncan remained with the Army of Occupation and was stationed for over six months at Lueterfort am Rhine. On August 13, 1919, he arrived in New York City. He made the return trip on a former German passenger liner, SS Wilhelmina.

Duncan is still a sailor at heart, a marine. He is getting used to army nomenclature by degrees. He calls the local infirmary, sick bay; the kitchen is the galley; and when he is on K. P. do you think he mops the floors? Nay, he scrubs the deck!

WPA Approves County and City Road Projects

Approval of the Works Progress Administration projects for improving county roads and paving city streets has been announced here recently.

Precinct 4, Brown county, will have 36.27 miles of graded, fenced and graded farm to market roads. Approval of a similar project for Precinct 2 has been announced. The expenditures for Precinct 4 are $26,592 of federal funds and $18,917 of sponsor's funds. Nearly 87 men will be given work on this project. The expenditures for Precinct 2 calls for $61,841 of federal funds and $28,936 of sponsor's funds and about 150 men will be given work on this project.

The Works Progress project 6329, the first paving program sponsored by the city, has been transferred to the new $167,587 city-wide street paving project.

Thirty-nine blocks of permanent paving has been completed and 12 1/2 blocks remain unfinished, but will be completed with the new program, according to City Manager P. E. Scott. A detailed outline of the work to be done has not been made for the new project. Twenty cents a square yard will be assessed property owners for fronting property on the new project. The paving and drainage structures to be improved will be determined by the willingness of property owners to cooperate with the new program.

Citizens are now circulating petitions over the various parts of the city pleading support of the program.

O'DANIEL, BROOKS, WOODUL AND SADLER HAD HEAVY VOTING SUPPORT IN COUNTY

Brown county fell in line with the State in Saturday's Democratic primary, giving a big majority to W. Lee O'Daniel for Governor, with Ernest Thompson second but far behind. Tom F. Hunter, always a Brown county favorite, ran third and Wm. McCraw was fourth.

Pierce Brooks, state leader in the Lieutenant Governor's race also was first in Brown county with Coke Stevenson second and G. H. Nelson third. Walter Woodul carried the county for Attorney General, with Gerald Mann second and Jerry Sadler was out in front for Railroad Commissioner, with C. V. Terrell second. In all of these four major races, the state standing was the same as that in Brown county.

Brown county totals in all state races: Governor: Thompson 1284, King 1, Miller 5, Farmer 42, Brogdon 2, Renfro 7, Self 3, McCoy 5, O'Daniel 3608, Hunter 638, McCraw 542, Ferguson 21, Crowley 145.

Lieutenant Governor: Nelson 1, 172, Smith 339, Davisson 604, Mead 267, Brooks 2039, Stevenson 1238.

For Attorney General: Goodrich 428, Woodul 2131, Mann 1630, Yarbrough 860, Calvert 919.

DAMAGE UNESTIMATED AS RUIN, MISERY RIDE ON CRESTS OF FLOODS

Three normally small streams in Central Texas ran riot last week as almost unprecedented rainfall swept waters of San Saba River and Brady creek through the towns after which they were named and caused damage which observers even yet have been unable to estimate.

With four known dead, 4,000 needing clothing and shelter, 125 homes destroyed and 600 badly damaged, the American Red Cross this week issued an appeal for $100,000 emergency relief funds for the flood areas.

Bend, near San Saba, bore the brunt of a seven-foot rise early in the week. Heavy damage also was reported in Menard. A flood wall erected at Brady three years ago failed to stem the raging waters of Brady creek, and the complete inundation of the town has meant damage of thousands of dollars.

More than 1,300 pieces of clothing, including dresses, shirts, overalls and underwear and enough bedding to supply seven flood-stricken Richland Springs families left Brownwood Tuesday morning following an appeal received by the local Red Cross.

With the aid of District Director John C. Burnside, of the San Angelo WPA office, Chester Harrison of the local Red Cross and Chamber of Commerce, secured orders Monday night for use in the flood area of the clothing and bedding on storage in the WPA sewing room and in the Texas Relief Commission warehouse here.

Residents of the areas who had not seen the sun for nine consecutive days began slowly this week the task of rebuilding.

PIERCE, GRIFFIN GO INTO HOME STRETCH IN SUPT ELECTION

There will be only one contest for county office in the August primary, that for County Superintendent between Clive Pierce and Leslie Griffin.

County Judge A. E. Nabors defeated R. L. McGeach, 3328 to 2998. Luther Wilson was defeated by Henry Buck for district clerk, 3475 to 2787.

J. Piner Powell defeated Conner Scott for County Attorney, the vote being: Powell, 3393; Scott 2908.

W. E. Hallmark won a fourth term as sheriff, defeating three opponents. The vote was: Hallmark, 3736; J. J. Alcorn, 2163; Ellis Daugherty, 263; Charles Mandelbaum, 142.

Precinct Races

Two county commissioners were renominated Saturday and two will face a run-off. Ben F. Hunt, precinct 3, was renominated, the vote being Hunt 1,195; Butler Dameron, 418. In Precinct 4, Charles Butler received 843 votes to win over John H. Schulze, 371 and J. H. Browder, 203.

In Precinct 1, Commissioner Ernest Thompson goes into the run-off with Monroe Allen. The vote in that precinct was: Thompson, 657; Allen, 345; A. L. Polk 179; R. L. Wise, 136; Bradley Cannon, 89; C. L. Norman, 58.

In Precinct 2, the run-off will be between Mayfield Gibbs and H. I. Stapp, present commissioner. The vote: Gibbs, 685; Stapp, 421; Jas. W. Phillips, 417.

Other Precinct Races

In the contest for justice of the peace in precinct one the incumbent, E. T. Perkinson, defeated J. M. Bowman. The vote was Perkinson 2,566, Bowman 979.

For constable, precinct one there will be a run-off contest between W. O. Weems, now serving under appointment as successor of his father, and W. B. Kilgore. The vote in this race was: W. C. Brogdon 792, C. D. Elter 420, Weems 1,268, J. E. Murray 285, Kilgore 850.

PRESCOTT TO OPPOSE METCALFE IN SENATE RACE, 25TH DISTRICT

Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo and Ross Prescott of Brownwood, both members of the House of Representatives, will enter the run-off contest for Senator from the 25th senatorial district in August. Senator E. M. Davis of Brownwood was eliminated in the three-way contest Saturday.

Out of 39,571 votes accounted for Thursday, Metcalfe was leading with 16,519 votes. Prescott had 12,205 and Davis, 10,947. McCulloch county's vote, delayed because of the floods, was received Thursday, making the vote complete in most of the larger counties, including Brown, Coleman, Runnels, Tom Green, Comanche and Mills. Some of the smaller counties have not made complete returns, but the votes remaining out are not expected to affect the results materially. Metcalfe's lead over Prescott was cut to 4,314 with the receipt of the McCulloch vote, which was: Prescott, 1093; Metcalfe, 737; Davis 612.

The vote by counties:

Frank Williams Is Drowned Wednesday Night at Spillway

Frank Williams, 31, 102 Booker street, was drowned Wednesday night in the waters of Lake Brownwood just below the spillway. The body had not been recovered Thursday afternoon.

Williams was fishing in the Lake Brownwood spillway and apparently slipped in the swift water. He was swept down the rapids.

Williams' body was last seen just above the falls in the spillway by two other Brownwood men in the fishing party, B. H. Baxter and Robert Herman. About one foot of water was flowing over the spillway.

Firemen, city police, members of the Sheriff's department and volunteers have searched the area in which the victim's body was thought to be. A motorboat patrol was placed in the main channel of the Pecan Bayou below where the spillway empties into the main channel.

Williams is survived by his wife, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Williams, 201 Melwood and three brothers, Gerald, Ralph and Herman, all of Brownwood and four sisters, Mrs. Robert Herman, Mrs. Duke Butler Jr., Mrs. Cecil Thompson, all of Brownwood, and Mrs. Herschel Yazell of Victoria.

Flood Experience

Rev. Bransford Eubanks returned to Brownwood Monday night after being marooned for six days on a ranch twelve miles west of Menard. He was on the Clear Creek Ranch operated by a Mrs. Wilkinson, with about a dozen other persons who were caught by flooded creeks and unable to leave. During the six days, 21.1 inches of rain fell, according to a government gauge. Returning by way of Menard, the Rev. Mr. Eubanks found the town clearing away the debris of last week's overflow with comparatively little damage.

Political Announcements
