

Court Dissolves Highway Injunction

"Army-Navy" Benefit Game Friday To Aid School Activities

COMMISSION TOLD WORK CAN PROCEED

FERGUSON MAKES NEW MOVE TO HALT ROAD CON-TRACTS BY COURT ORDER

James E. Ferguson and others, whose temporary writ of injunction restraining the State Highway Commission from further contract lettings, was dissolved Tuesday by an order of the Third Court of Civil Appeals, moved again Wednesday night to accomplish their purpose by filing an appeal with the supreme court.

Ocie Speer, attorney for the plaintiffs, filed a petition with the clerk of the supreme court, asking for a restraining order to prevent the highway commission from acting on the court of civil appeals Tuesday could be finally determined.

It was said at the clerk's office that chief justice C. M. Cureton had decided to call an informal conference Thursday to decide just what the procedure would be.

Contracts Liberated

Following the dissolution Tuesday of the writ of injunction which had been granted to Ferguson and other plaintiffs by a Travis county district court, Attorney General James E. Allred advised the state highway commission that all legal obstacles to letting of contracts had been removed and that it could proceed with advertised lettings. He advised the commission, however, to satisfy itself by thorough check of its figures that any lettings made would not exceed the appropriations made by the legislature.

The appellate court held that "by no fair process of reasoning" could it be "adduced from the wording of the act or the legislative intent," that the original Highway Department appropriation had been repealed, as was alleged by the plaintiffs. It held that there "is not the slightest intimation" in the highway bond refunding law, passed by the last legislature, which the plaintiffs contended acted to repeal the appropriation passed by the regular session of the Legislature, of "any purpose to affect in any degree the orderly operations of the Highway Department under existing law, practices and policies and to impede the improvement of the state highway system by inhibiting all construction not heretofore constructed."

FRED A. STORY RETURNS HERE

FORMER LOCAL CITIZEN TAKES UP DUTIES WITH NEWS AGAIN THIS WEEK

The ownership of the Clarendon News is pleased to announce that Mr. Fred A. Story has returned to Clarendon and is associated again with this newspaper in an associate executive capacity. Mr. Story is well known in Clarendon having been in business here for a number of years, later connected with the Donley County State Bank and then connected with the Clarendon News, going down here to Childress in 1924 where with the News owner he was partner in the ownership and publication of the Childress Post.

More recently Mr. Story has been editor of the Fairfurnias Facts down below San Antonio, coming from that point last week to pick up his work here with The News again. He will have charge of the advertising and bookkeeping of The News, and will act as editor when the editor-owner is out of town. In a city office his position would be known as "managing editor" and since Clarendon is a city, that is what his title is here and now.

The Story household, consisting of Mrs. Story and her mother, Mrs. Strickland, are also valuable additions to the community life here, and the family is living in rooms at the Braswell home, where they are at home to their friends.

Mr. Story served Clarendon well in other days as president of the Chamber of Commerce, President of the Lions Club, member of the school board, and was Sunday school superintendent of the Methodist Church, and his many friends here are happy to have him a citizen again.

The News bespeaks for Mr. Story the fullest co-operation of the patrons and friends of the Home Town Newspaper.

When police of Spokane, Washington discovered that John Carvene, who had stood for several months in the city's bread line had $7,320 in the bank, he was sentenced to 30 days hard labor and paid a fine of $250.

"LAB" PROCESSES SHOWN TO LIONS

DEAN CLARK STAGES DEM-ONSTRATION WITH CHEM-ISTRY STUDENTS' HELP

That the Chemistry Department of Clarendon Junior College is equipped to give advanced courses of study, equivalent to the Freshman and Sophomore years in Class A colleges, was demonstrated Tuesday afternoon to members of the Lions Club. The club adjourned immediately after its regular luncheon to the laboratories of the Junior College.

The demonstrations were made under the direction of W. A. Clark, Jr., Dean of the college and head of its chemistry department. During the last summer the laboratories were remodelled and a great deal of new equipment added. Work tables, storage shelving and special ventilating system were installed, the latter for the purpose of making work with dangerous gases and fumes entirely safe for the students and teachers. Dean Clark, with the assistance of John Bass, spent most of the summer in the remodeling and equipment work. The visiting Lions first assembled in a lecture room where a number of very interesting demonstrations were made. Among them was an ice-making demonstration, in which a tumbler of water was frozen to a wet block of wood by the simple process of stirring salt in water in the glass, at the same time freezing a test tube of distilled water floating in the brine.

Two liquids with a room temperature of 68 degrees, were mixed in a beaker and almost instantly the temperature rose to 227 degrees, hot enough to boil eggs, the high temperature resulting from a known chemical reaction. Another interesting experiment showed the high temperature resulting when ordinary iron rust

Rotary Club Hears Talk By Dr. Jenkins

Members of the Clarendon Rotary Club were addressed at their regular luncheon Friday at the Clarendon Hotel by Dr. B. L. Jenkins, who reviewed at some length the history of the crippled children's work for which the benefit show was staged here Friday night.

Dr. Jenkins concluded his commendatory remarks by urging the members of the club to lend their support to the benefit show, stating that it was an enterprise which deserved every citizen's support.

Rotarian J. C. Estlack made an announcement on behalf of the Ladies Auxiliary sale, held here last Saturday, requesting the co-operation if club members in making the event successful. The day's program was in charge of C. C. Powell, chairman of the club service committee, who interspersed club songs and round-table discussions of club matters.

"Cigs" Worth $2,000 Tossed From Box Car

Cigarettes of a popular, ready-rolled brand, estimated to be worth about $2,000, were recovered Monday night about 2 o'clock by officers after having been tossed from a boxcar on a moving train between Clarendon and Hedley.

Someone reported to the agent at Hedley Monday night that packages were being tossed from the train along the highway. Sheriff Guy Pierce was notified by C. H. Wisdom, local Denver agent here, and the Hedley agent also notified J. D. Barkley, Special Agent of the Denver road at Childress. Barkley drove to the scene hurriedly and near Hedley found a coupe parked on the highway next to the railroad track, with a man tinkering with his motor.

Believing that the man was connected with the looting of the train, Barkley took him into custody. But, although he had a couple of "black-jacks" and a pair of brass knucks in his car, none of the cases of cigarettes such as were scattered along the right-of-way, were found in his possession. The man professed entire ignorance of the looting of the train.

In the meantime the freight train, backing up the track, had picked up fourteen cases of cigarettes and tobacco. Special Agent Barkley took the man into Clarendon, lodged him in jail, and later Barkley and Sheriff Pierce's department recovered, scattered along about two miles of the track, enough cigarettes and tobacco to bring the total to 38 cases, valued at about $2,000.

A charge of carrying unlawful weapons was entered against the detained man, who claims to be from Amarillo. Tuesday night he made bond, in the sum of $100.00, for appearance at the March term of the County Court on the misdemeanor charge.

FORMER CITIZEN IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

COL. R. S. KIMBERLIN PASSES
ON ONLY 35 DAYS AFTER WIFE'S DEATH

Col. R. S. Kimberlin, known and admired by many of the people of Clarendon, passed away Monday night, Dec. 5, 1932, at his home in Santa Ana, Calif. His wife preceded him only 35 days, her death occurring Oct. 30, 1932. Born in Kentucky 89 years ago last October, Col. Kimberlin lived a part of his life in the state of Missouri, coming to Clarendon in 1905, where he lived until 1920 when he and his family moved to Santa Ana, California.

He was a member of the First Methodist church in Clarendon during his residence here, and donated the beautiful stained glass dome in the main auditorium of the present church building.

Col. Kimberlin was a member of the famous Quantrell's Brigade which so distinguished itself during the Civil War, and for the past two years has been the sole survivor of that gallant band of soldiers. In 1904 or 1905 he held the first and only reunion of survivors of the brigade. It was attended by more than a score of former companions-in-arms, all of whom have now passed away.

Surviving the deceased are three daughters and one son: Mrs. D'Laurel Looney, of Santa Ana, California; Mrs. Geo. W. Archer, of Norwalk, Calif.; Mrs. V. H. Blocker, of Hondo, Texas, and Samuel B. Kimberlin, of Santa Ana, Calif. His son was in Clarendon at the time of his death, looking after his farming interests here since September. Another daughter of Col. Kimberlin, Mrs. A. M. Beville, Sr., died here many years ago.

S. B. Kimberlin left Tuesday night for his home, where the body of his father will be laid to rest in a local cemetery, by the side of his wife.

Pay School Taxes Now—No Penalty

Delinquent taxes due to the Clarendon Independent school district may be paid without interest or penalty, provided payment is made by Dec. 31, according to announcement made by the board of trustees. The cancellation of interest and penalty charges applies to all years for which taxes may be delinquent.

This concession was made by the board in the hope that all who can possibly "strain a point" and pay their taxes will do so. The school board is economizing in every possible way to meet existing conditions, but it is in sore need of the taxes due it. Despite reduced salaries and a reduced teaching force, it takes a great deal of money to pay salaries.

The school board will appreciate very much the co-operation of all taxpayers who, even at some inconvenience to themselves, will pay their taxes NOW and thus take the nice saving offered by cancellation of interest and penalty charges.

FLOSSIE LUCILLE ARNCE DIES MEMPHIS SATURDAY

Flossie Lucille Arnce, aged 11 years, 8 months and 3 days, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Arnce of Antelope Flat, died Friday night at a hospital in Memphis.

Under the direction of King and Estis, Memphis morticians, the body was brought to Clarendon Saturday for interment at 4:00 p. m. in the Citizens Cemetery. Services were held by Rev. Milton Evans, pastor of the Antelope Flat Baptist church. A number of local people, in addition to friends of the family from Antelope Flat, attended the last sad rites for the little girl.

"FROLICS OF 1932" PLEASE AUDIENCE

CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S BENE-FIT STAGED BY LIONS CLUB DRAWS FAIR HOUSE

The "Frolics of 1932," presented to Clarendon in last Friday evening by the Clarendon Lions Club, as a benefit performance for their Crippled Children's Fund, proved highly entertaining to its audience. The attendance was not fully up to expectations, since the auditorium was not packed and jammed, but Lions in charge of the benefit expressed satisfaction over the financial returns which will add a neat sum to the Crippled Children's Fund.

Featuring Mike Hollander's "Texas Blue Bonnets" in attractively costumed routines, the musical comedy review brought two hours of pleasant entertainment to its patrons. It was presented in two acts, staged and produced by Mr. Hollander, of Amarillo, with a large cast of specialty people, supported by more than a score of pretty Amarillo girls.

Dr. T. M. Montgomery, assisted by the "Blue Bonnets," sang "Let's Have a Party," as the opening number. From the opening number things happened rapidly and colorfully. Songs, tap-dancing, a revival of the picturesque "Bowers Clog" by a group of boys and girls, "spirituals" by Mrs. Chas. F. Smith, a burlesque comedy skit called "Oh, Mr. Zilch," and examples of classic dancing by pupils of the Harmon Drama and Dancing Studio of Amarillo, were presented in the first act.

The second act presented the "Melody Maids," a popular Amarillo orchestra of girls, in a new repertoire of new releases, featuring "Pink Elephants," Dr. Montgomery gave a public reading of the latest bits of local scandal, followed by Miss Sidney Del Dees and the "Blue Bonnets," presenting "Oh, Mister Moon Man," written by Mike Hollander and released here for the first time. This number was exceptionally well received, as also were the "Four Smarm Brothers," T. M. Montgomery, Cecil Eaton, Charles Borden and Mike Hollander.

The grand finale, employing most of the entire company in a one-act comedy skit, with several specialties, rang down the curtain and brought to close a very enjoyable evening.

RECORD CROWD IS EXPECTED FRIDAY

BENEFIT FOOTBALL GAME FOR SCHOOL AID FUND
CREATING HIGH INTEREST

Ticket sales have already been begun by the Lions Club for the coming battle between the "Army" and the "Navy" Friday afternoon, Dec. 9, at College Park, where the game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock.

As announced last week in The News, the game was arranged by T. D. Nored, chairman of the Lions Club's major activities committee, and the athletic coaches of the school, to add to the funds of the club's school aid account, depleted by recent withdrawals from it for various school aid purposes.

The coaches divided the football players from all the classes into two groups, and dubbed them "Army" and "Navy." Likewise the pep squad has divided, the rank and file of rooters has divided, the Lions Club has divided and rivalry between the factions which will be rooting for their respective battlers will be keen and loud.

Players on the "Army" squad are: E. Watson, O. Watson, Garmon, Martin, Easterling, Mann Boles, Nichols, Evans, McCreary, Green, Word, Whitlock, Hudson, Jackson and Boston.

On the "Navy" squad will be: McMahon, Cooke, Greene, Watters, O'Neal, Linders, Wilkerson, Smith, Haile, Behrens, Johnston, Heardy, Rourke, Wood, Benson, Stargel, Bourland, Davis and Barnard. To add to the fun of the football game, it was decided at the Lions Club Tuesday to divide the city into Army and Navy groups. That part of the city east of Kearney street is asked to "root" for the Army team, while those west of Kearney street will root for the Navy.

In the Lions club, boss Lion Ira Merchant and Lion Clyde Douglas chose "sides," Merchant's gang being Army rooters and Douglas' side being all for the Navy. Each group will be divided against itself until the big Army-Navy game is over.

It is believed that Clarendon citizens will get behind this benefit game and turn out a record crowd, not only because a lot of fun is in prospect but because of the fact that the funds raised will be used to assist in financing worthy school activities of their boys and girls.

Tickets will be sold at 10 cents for all school children, of what-

FERGUSON HIGHWAY INJUNCTION DISSOLVED

General satisfaction is felt here over the dissolution of the Ferguson temporary injunction against the State Highway Commission by the Third Court of Civil Appeals. The court acted on an appeal filed before it by Attorney General James V. Allred, its written opinion upholding practically every contention made by Allred, who attacked the affidavits made as not being sufficient as to allegation of facts.

It is indicated that Jim Ferguson and his attorneys will probably file notice of appeal to the Supreme court at once, in which case mandate may not be issued by the Third Court of Civil Appeals. Meanwhile, however, it is expected that the State Highway Commission will proceed with the work of awarding contracts originally scheduled for Nov. 28-29 and held up by the temporary injunction.

Donley County citizens are hopeful that no legal obstacle will get in the way of the plans for construction of its highway as planned by the department. Not only is the highway sorely needed, but the work which can be done by men of the county would do much to relieve unemployment.

WOULD LICENSE AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

A driver's license law will be the major Affiliated Texas AAA clubs at the next session of the Legislature, according to representatives attending the annual meeting Saturday, November 26, at Austin.

Texas is one of the few states in the Union which has never required proof of ability and fitness for driving an automobile. Neither does it penalize a reckless driver by taking from him, for a stated length of time, the right to drive a motor car on its highways.

In the event a driver's license law is passed, it will doubtless carry provisions for suspension of a reckless driver's license, the time dependent on the nature of his offense. Such a law will be approved by practically every person who uses the highways and would unquestionably go far toward reducing the present perils of automobile traffic.

GETTING READY FOR LIGHT WINES?

Folks over in the Muleshoe country, known as the Blackwater Valley for some inexplicable reason (the water is said to be crystal-clear and of fine quality) have already proven that the section is specially adapted to the production of very fine grapes. And now comes the Muleshoe Journal with the news that heavy plantings of grapes are being made, one of the reasons given being that the possible change in the prohibition laws may cause a heavy demand for grape products. Maybe so, but that kind of reasoning falls into the class of counting chickens before they are hatched, according to our way of thinking. A lot of water is going to run under the bridge, and possibly over the Hoover Dam, before existing liquor laws are changed to an extent sufficient to get all grape-excited. Grapes are about as profitable as any other farm commodity right now.

OLD THINGS BEST IN THE HYMNAL FIELD

The commission of thirty-five that accepted the responsibility of selecting the songs for inclusion in the new hymnal that will be used by three Methodist denominations after 1934, has announced that few of the hundreds of new compositions submitted for consideration were found worthy of place in the collection. The old favorites that time has made classic will predominate.

The verdict of the commission was that this is not a hymn-writing age. It was not hastily reached, since the task of making selections has covered a period of four years, and both old and new songs were subjected to the exacting tests of content and effectiveness.

The decision is not surprising. Most of the fine old hymns that have come down through the years were the work of spiritual authors and composers. This age, what-ever else it may be, can hardly be termed spiritual, and certainly not to that degree which would prompt the production of many new hymns that could rival the best of the old in craftsmanship and the deep sincerity that has made them sacred.—Dallas Journal.

ADVERTISING CONTINUES LIFE OF TRADE

Advertising is said to be the life of trade. Intelligent advertising has made more fortunes than any other agency in human activities. The reader is told that the National Industrial Advertisers association, in session in the city of Cincinnati, made public a huge budget survey of 166 companies, showing that advertising was more than holding its own as a factor in industrial marketing, "despite retrenchment methods in many firms." Bear in mind the report made public said the figures were encouraging in that it reflects a general appreciation of the value of industrial advertising. This paragraph is to the point: "It is indeed significant that in these times when every effort is made to reduce overhead, the ratio of advertising expense to sales has been maintained on a basis slightly above the figures for 1928 and 1929." Wise men in the business world of activity know the drawing power of printers ink. They know the immense value of intelligent advertising or rather in placing before the buying public, which is largely the reading public, the bargains that they have to offer on the counters and shelves and warehouses of the mercantile world.—Wichita Falls Record-News.

NOT SUBSIDIZED

The News was singled out recently for compliment because it was held to be fair to the dry side of the prohibition argument. The human elements in The News as an institution are entirely too human not to feel pleasure at the bouquet, of course. But The News gives prohibition support because it is the law of the land, adopted lawfully, even though somewhat against the position of The News in former times. In other words, The News did hold that prohibition came too soon, but now holds that obedience to law can not be too prompt or too loyal, once the law is declared.

Acknowledging, then, pleasure at kind words intended for The News, it is still not out of place to urge that not all newspapers who oppose prohibition are "subsidized." When a dry speaker says that they are, he means that they are bribed, either commercially or outright. Commercial bribery is in the form of business offered or promised; the uglier form means the buying up of editorial support for cash. The principle is pretty much the same.

The News has been accused of being subsidized on pretty nearly every question. Even some of the wets are quite sure that it has "sold out." Such criticism must be met by every form of independent expression of public opinion. Some partisans are so bitter that they will concede honesty to no antagonist, however worthy he may be. But newspapers do not sell out as freely as the disputatious public is inclined to charge. In the first place the newspaper that sells out its influence disposes thereby of the value of its influence and makes the purchaser of it correspondingly its victim. He has bought something that can not be delivered. In the second place, when the sale takes place it can not be hidden. Not all newspapers are in the hands of angels, but most of them that survive come into the hands of business men who know that good will can not be abused and continue.—Semi-Weekly Farm News.

Yeah, somewhere in Texas you can find almost anything you ever heard about. It's a great state we live in.

Among the numerous Armistice Day weddings this year was that of John D. Rockefeller, III, to Miss Blanchette Hooker in New York. It's all right with us, of course, but it does seem a bit premature to celebrate the armistice before the real fighting starts.

Those who are interested in mathematical curiosities may amuse themselves with the number 142,875. Multiplied by 2, 3, 4, 5, or 6, the answer contains the same digits as the original number, and in the same order, thus: 285,714, 428,571, 571,428, 714,285, 857,142. But multiply it by 7, and we get a totally different but none the less surprising result, 999,999.

Neighbors thought Mrs. Lulu Chamberlain of New York carried the kindness to animals idea too far, and complained that she was harboring 20 stray dogs and several stray cats in her flat. A judge gave her a week to get rid of them.

A belated battle of the Civil War is reported from an Arkansas poor farm, where a 93-year-old Federal and a 90-year-old Confederate fought over the issues of 1861. When the scrap was stopped most of the poor-house dishes were smashed, but neither of the belligerents was seriously damaged.

BLIND AIDS BLIND

It is characteristic of Helen Keller, the deaf and blind genius, that she should give the $5,000 prize recently awarded her for achievement by a national magazine to the American Foundation for the Blind, for which she is raising an endowment fund of two million dollars.

Miss Keller, born in Tuscumbia, Ala., in 1880, became deaf and blind at the age of 19 months as a result of illness. Her education was undertaken by Miss Anne Sullivan, whose skill and patience were rewarded by Miss Keller's graduation from Radcliffe College in 1904. Since that time Miss Keller has become an author of note, a lecturer, and one of the most effective workers for the welfare of others similarly afflicted.

In announcing her gift, she said: "I am going to use the $5,000 to assist other persons like myself, deaf and blind. You who can see have no idea how those live in double darkness the prison of the body which is blindness, and the dungeon of the mind which is silence."

But this "double darkness" has not prevented Helen Keller from becoming one of the world's greatest women, whose splendid intellect is matched by her sympathetic heart.

CHURCHES

"PROGRESSIVENESS"

Divine rules of forgiveness are laid down in the Scriptures. "Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you" (Eph. 4:32). "If thine enemy hunger feed him; if he thirst, give him to drink; for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head. Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." (Rom. 12:20, 21). "If ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses" (Matt. 6:14, 15). So forgiveness may be looked for only by those who observe these rules absolutely. Prayers for pardon reach no higher than the roof unless the petitioner is willing to forgive those who have offended him. Such a prayer, offered by an unforgiving man, is tantamount to a request that the Almighty should take vengeance upon him, and be unrelenting in spite of pleadings for pardon. To refuse to forgive others not only prevents God from forgiving us, but is a sure indication of the utter weakness and impotence of Christian Character. To forgive is to be God-like. He who refuses to forgive shall sink lower than the level of the beast. way to overcome evil is to melt. Alex. Maclaren says: "The true it by fiery coals of gentleness." That is God's way. An iceberg may be crushed to powder, but every fragment is still ice. Only sunshine that melts it will turn it into sweet water. Love is conqueror, and the only conqueror, and its conquest is to transform hate into love.

The world is now one great neighborhood, by observing "Golden Rule Week" and doing unto others as we would have them do unto us.

To help you start the "Golden Rule Week" off right we will preach a sermon on, "The Blind Man's Prayer" next Sunday morning, and at the evening hour our subject will be, "Prisoners of Hope."—W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon.

Book Tea An Elaborate Affair

The Book Club Tea sponsored by members of the 1926 Book Club aroused much interest and there was a good crowd present on Tuesday afternoon to see the children's books, which the club had for sale.

The club room made a lovely background for the guests with decorations of tinsel, cedar, and other suggestions of the Christmas season. On the mantle cleverly arranged was a snow scene with tiny cedars, a log house and animals.

The color scheme of green and red was effectively carried out in the tea table, which was covered with a handsome lace cloth and centered with a cut glass bowl filled with poinsettias while four tall red tapers made a charming glow on the silver tea and coffee services.

A large assortment of books, suitable for children, were displayed on small tables from which one could make their selections. There was such a demand for several of the books that special orders had to be made.

WASHINGTON'S BAPTISM

Among the many stories of George Washington being recounted during this year of his 200th anniversary is that of his baptism by immersion during the Revolutionary War, although he had been sprinkled in the Episcopalian manner as an infant.

Impressed by a wave of evangelism promoted by Methodists and Baptists about that time, Gen. Washington approached Rev. John Gano, chaplain of the Continental Army, so the story goes, and said:

"I have been investigating the scriptures and I believe immersion to be the baptism taught in the word of God, and I demand it at your hands. I do not wish any parade made or the army called out, but simply a quiet demonstration of the ordinance."

Accordingly, it is said, Rev. Gano immersed Washington in the waters of the Patomac in the presence of 42 witnesses. A painting depicting the event was made in 1908, and it now hangs in the John Gano Memorial chapel of William Jewell College, a Baptist institution, at Liberty, Mo.

While the incident of his baptism by immersion seems to give Baptists a certain claim to Washington as one of their number, it is said that he never gave "personal testimony" necessary to membership in that church. He is described as a man of moderation in religion, who attended divine services regularly, but seldom knelt in prayer or partook of communion. In other words, Washington's Christianity was practical rather than pietistic.

"TRUTHFUL LIAR" BEGINS NEW SERIES OF PROGRAMS

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 7, Carveth Wells, well-known explorer and often referred to as the "Truthful Liar" of radioland, inaugurated another series of "Exploring America with Conoco and Carveth Wells" broadcasts over an N. B. C. network of 25 stations.

The Carveth Wells half-hour programs, which are sponsored by Continental Oil Company, will be on the air every Wednesday evening for the next 30 weeks. The first few programs will be devoted to foreign lands which the famous globe-trotter has visited, and the remainder will deal with the tourist attractions of our own nation. The December 7 program, for example, described a 15,000-mile jaunt through northern and eastern Europe during

MERCURY HITS NEW LOW FOR SEASON THURSDAY

Outdoing its record Wednesday night, when the mercury dropped to 17 degrees above zero, it registered a minimum of 13 degrees Thursday night, according to local weather observer Joe Goldston.

"Last winter we had only one night that was colder than Thursday night," said Mr. Goldston. "In fact, we only had a few cold nights during all of last winter." Flipping open his daily record book, he read the News reporter the following lows: Dec. 19, 17 degrees; Dec. 17, 15 degrees; Jan. 13, 18 degrees; March 26, 7 degrees; and March 27, 13 degrees. It will be recalled that the month of February was an unusually warm one.

STUDENTS OF CHEMISTRY DEPARTMENT GIVE EXHIBIT

On Tuesday afternoon the students of the Chemistry Department gave an interesting exhibit in which the practical uses of Chemistry were demonstrated to members of the Lions Club and other visitors.

The first was a demonstration of water and salt made into ice. The next exhibition was of unbreakable beakers used in chemistry. These glass beakers can be heated until they are red hot, and ice water may be poured into them without damaging the glass in any way.

Henry Wilder gave an interesting demonstration of color reaction in fifteen seconds. One of the most interesting exhibits was one of acid which is used in making cakes. This acid will dissolve marble and conduct an electric current. Cakes had been made from the acid and pieces were served to all visitors.

On tables outside of the store room door was an exhibit of products made by chemical processes. One of these showed the different kinds of flour among which was yellow flour, which is bleached by chlorine gas so that people will buy it. Most people have the impression that white flour is much better than yellow

PEP SQUAD PLANS UNIQUE PERFORMANCE

The Pep Squad for the Army-Navy game plans a big day, Friday, Marjorie White will take half of the squad on one side of the field to root for the Army and the other half, who will root for the Navy, will be led by Price Whitlock. Each side is to have a separate stunt during the half. The game Friday will not only be a struggle for the title among the local teams, but also a race between the divisions of the pep squad.

Price declares his squad is by far the best, and Marjorie believes that hers surpasses Price's in every way. Much practice and effort are being put forth by both divisions of the Pep Squad, so the public may expect quite a great exhibition of yelling.

Those boosting for the navy are: Price Whitlock, leader; Berkley Ryan, Jo Ella Stewart, Edna Blair, Rosalie Grady, Faye Hutton Melba Johnston, Dora Lucille Pierce, Dollie Watters, Wilma Dee Smith, Nellie Grady, Hulda Jo Cauthen, Dorothea Watson, Margaret Blackwell, Emma Lee Johnson, Genella Eldridge, Sara Virginia McGowan, Virginia Cluck, Marjorie Shepherd.

The Army Pep Squad consists of Marjorie White, leader; Isabell Wright, Vera Noland, Evelynie Murphy, Louise Adamson, Ruth Lawler, Geraldine Pratt, Rosalind Bass, Helen Louise Greene, Kedron Evans, Louise Smith, Dorothy Powell, Peggy Taylor, Dorothy Jo Ryan, Vivian Taylor, Eloise Hill, Travis Dyer, Jo Veta Jackson, and Eugenia Nolan.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPT.

The second year home economics class prepared two dinners for the school board. Mr. Watson, Mr. Skelton and Mr. Taylor were guests Thursday night while the guests Friday night were Mr. Porter and Mr. Burton. The men seemed to enjoy the dinners very much.

DECORATIONS FOR THE OCCASION WERE AUTUMN LEAVES.

The third year class in home economics prepared two meals last week, both for the average family of five. There were several under and over-weight members of the family and their problems had to be worked out. There was also a grandmother whose meal had to be planned. Miss Morgan made an ideal grandmother and she said that she enjoyed the luncheon; so it must have been all right.

flour, though this is really not the case. Also, there were exhibits of tooth powder, linoleum, knives, baking powder, carbon, paper containers, and of salt and its uses.

Alpha Delta Psi Literary Society

The Alpha Delta Psi Literary Society met Wednesday, November 30, 1932 at 7:15 in their dormitory society room. The program, concerned with France and French Literature was one of the best of the year. Charles Walker discussed the daily lives and customs of the French people. Emily Smith's contribution was an interesting description of the annual Joan of Arc celebration in Northern France. Nova Cook and Katherine Cornell gave a duet. J. R. Cox presented some interesting facts about French folk music. The program was concluded by Pauline Slover, who read Guy de Maupassant's short story, "Moonlight".

The society voted in favor of presenting a play, and the president appointed a play committee composed of Pauline Slover, Lu McClellan, and Claudyne Ratcliff who decided upon the play "Girl Shy" for the 1932-33 society play. More will be said about the play in the near future. Meanwhile the society invites everyone interested in dramatics to attend the society evening at 7:15.

SOUTH WARD ACTIVITIES

In each of the rooms at the South ward, the pupils are working earnestly on their Christmas programs. Mrs. Prewitt's room has been practicing each day, and friends and parents of the children are urged to be present at the programs which are to be presented just before the Christmas holidays.

On Friday afternoon, December 2, the pupils of Miss Waldron's room, together with those of Mrs. Headrick's room, rendered an interesting number on a program for the Mother's Club. The number, a playlette, was entitled "Mrs. Brown's Thanksgiving."

For the past week Miss Stevens' room has been working on a harvest border. The border is composed of leaves, squirrels, and harvest fields. Mrs. Cope's room has been working on posters to encourage the reading of good books. The making of Health Posters is the present project of Miss Aiken's pupils.

BRONCHO CAGERS LOSE TO PAMPA

The Bronchos opened their basketball season with a loss to Pampa Friday night. Clarendon showed the lack of practice, while the Pampa squad hit the basket from every angle. The Bronchos were also handicapped in size, having only one man as tall as any man on the Pampa squad. With a few weeks of practice, the local teams should show up much better in other games to be played this year.

knives, and even bow and arrows; some of the girls who were domestically inclined made Indian dolls, paposes, woven rugs, and wampum belts. The exhibit showed much earnest effort upon the part of the pupils and interest upon the part of the instructor.

In regard to athletics the Southward has its own idea of sports. Although it is not customary for a girls' team to oppose a boy's team of baseball, a game between the fourth grade boys and fifth grade girls was played Friday afternoon. Excitement ran high previous to the game throughout the two grades. The boys won over the girls with a score of 14 to 9. The line up for the fifth grade girls team was as follows:

The outstanding player for the girls was Louise Wood.

The lineup for the fourth grade boys was: Catcher, Coleman Hoffman; pitcher, Weldon Warren; first base, Leon Lusk; second base, Bobby Skelton; third base, Johnny Brady; short stop, Shirley Pitts; right field, Ellis Reid; center field, Ronald Keemer; left field, Ray Harpo; second short, Lavern Johnson.

Weldon Warren was the outstanding player for the boys.

Palo Duro Literary Society

The Paloduro Literary Society met in the society room Wednesday evening, November 30. Mark Twain was the author that had been chosen for study. Fred Bourland and Pauline Sanford gave facts of Mark Twain's life and concerning his writing experiences. An interesting and humorous chapter was read from "Tom Sawyer" by Josephine Murphy. Gertrude Shepherd contributed a piano number to the program. At the conclusion of this interesting hour, Rhodin Chase and Hubert Reavis played several selections.

SOPHOMORES

NEXT PANIC TO BE IN 1947

Reprint from
The Valley Farmer and South Texas Grower
Mercedes, Texas

By JOHN ASHTON

We know that hard times come and go in the history of nations. We know, consequently, that there are such things as "cycles," which refer to prosperous times as well as hard times. We know also that many wise and informed men seem to "get ahead" of the rest of us.

There is no doubt at all that the hardest times in this depression have come and gone. We are on the upgrade, sure enough, but slow's the word for a while, it would seem; although nobody can tell, we think, when the real spurge toward prosperity will set in. It might show itself any day, or it might be retarded for quite a while.

We have read many prognostications of the business barometer of the future, but nothing that we have read lately seems quite so interesting as the following editorial taken from the October number of Citrus Leaves, a California publication. We do not guarantee it as the gospel truth. Do not expect it to be that; but somehow we think that there is much in this forecast that the average man would accept as being likely to correspond to facts of the future, and as such we are publishing it for the benefit of all concerned:

"Back in 1871 a man named Farmer Brenner worked out a business cycle chart. His chart covered the period from 1816 to 1967. According to economists he has hit the nail on the head every time.

"His chart shows that the present depression actually ended at the close of 1931 and that for four years beginning with 1932 business will be up-grade.

"The chart shows 1935 as being the peak of good times, high prices and the time to sell stocks and values of all kinds. From now until then the trend is upward. The next big panic is scheduled for 1947. The year 1942 will be a year of hard times, low prices and a good time to buy stocks, corner lots, et cetera, and hold until boom days and then unload. The year 1931 was of the same character.

"Three business cycles are used in formulating the chart. One shows the cycles for panics to be 16, 20, 18, 20 years apart. The eras of good times occur in cycles of 8, 9, and 10 years. The cycles of hard times run 7, 9 and 11 years.

"According to these cycles the years of good times are to be: 1935, 1945, 1953 and 1962.

"Panics will occur in 1947 and 1967.

"Hard times will come in 1931, 1942, 1951 and 1958.

"These cycles have held true since 1916."

Thus, during the next 35 years there will be three years or periods of hard times, but, thank goodness, only two years of panic. As for the panic year of 1967, according to Farmer Brenner, to most of us the threat will fall flat as our days of usefulness on this planet will be over; in fact the greater number of our adult readers along with the writer will probably be angels by that time! Our children will carry on; let us warn them.

BUSINESS IMPROVEMENT QUESTIONNAIRE

A prominent New York banking house has just received replies to its six queries tending to size up the present and future business situation in the United States. The questionnaire was sent to firms and institutions which promise business improvement.

3. What is the outlook for your business in volume and in profits during the winter and spring months?

4. Are your inventories low in relation to your present volume and what volume do you expect in the near future?

5. What is the likelihood of increasing employment in your business during the next few months and to what extent can you increase your volume without increasing employment?

6. Do you believe that the low point of business depression has been passed?

HIGHWAY MAINTAINANCE

We do not vouch for the correctness of his figures, but a recent writer declares that 100,000 miles of hard surfaced American highways must be reconstructed in the next two or three years, or they will be unfit for use. Some engineers estimate that before 1947, or within 15 years, all our present highways will have to be rebuilt.

Even allowing for some exaggeration of the situation, the prospect is rather discouraging. It appears that most of our highways will be ruined before they are paid for, as many road bond issues still have many years to run before maturity.

There is no doubt that their rapid deterioration is due largely to the damage caused by unreasonably heavy trucks and busses. These destructive vehicles not only break up our roads and weaken our bridges, but are a nuisance and a menace to all other traffic.

No one would object to the use of the roads by trucks of reasonable size and weight, but the enormous ones which now infest the highways should be abolished at the earliest possible moment. Legislation to this end is being adopted in many states, and while the truckmen are protesting they have no one but themselves to blame.

By trying to "hog" the roads and destroy them at the same time they have little cause for complaint if the taxpayers demand protection for the highways they have built at such a burdensome expense.

A column heading reads: "Still Prohibition." The we's are going to have a hard time if the necessary machinery is in revolt.

Long ago, a worthy said: "Westward the course of empire takes its way." The tide may set in an opposite direction, at least so far as a well-known Nevada city is concerned. It is reported from Sumatra that a man under fifty has been freed from the matrimonial bind there in twenty separate instances.

WEST TEXAS RANCHER WITH RARE COURAGE LOSES FIGHT FOR LIFE

Big Spring, Nov. 30.—Prentice Hurt is dead, but the people of this country who knew him will remember him as a man made of the stuff that transformed the rugged mountain country west of the Pecos River into a prosperous ranching empire, although his sheer will and nerve could not keep shattered bone and torn flesh alive.

While alone on his ranch 85 miles north of Van Horn, in the Guadalupe range, the morning of November 10, Hurt fell 30 feet from a windmill to the ground. Retaining consciousness after more than an hour, he crawled to his automobile and drove eight miles to the Guitarr Ranch headquarters, since no one was at his own ranch home near the scene of the accident.

On the way, he drove the car through five wire gates, because he was unable to open them. When he reached the Guitarr place, Mrs. James Wilcox, wife of the ranch manager, heard the horn of the automobile and found Hurt sitting behind the wheel.

"Mrs. Wilcox, I'm all torn up," was all he said. She related afterwards that she nearly swooned when she saw the man with his teeth knocked out, his ankle bone protruding above his shoe, and blood covering the floor of the car.

She drove in her car six miles to get her husband and ranch hands, after making the sufferer as comfortable as possible with pillows. The journey over the rough mountain trail by automobile, 85 miles to Van Horn, was ended at 2 p. m. that day. Doctors found both of Hurt's legs broken, his wrist broken, several ribs fractured.

Narcotics administered did not make him sleep. The doctors finished setting the bones after four hours of work, but could sew up only one ankle. Then they placed him in an ambulance and carried him 90 miles to Pecos to a hospital, for X-ray examination.

Three days later he seemed to have improved so much it was believed he would live and his children left his bedside greatly encouraged. But, after 12 days, Hurt died. His doctors said it was a case of will power fighting physical shock, and the latter won in the end.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

The bureaucratic gem of the month in furtherance of farm relief, or something, is reported by a Washington correspondent: "The extensive research by the Federal government into the possibilities of using gourds for bird houses developed the important information that the size of the gourd also should be in proportion to the size of the bird, for it is useless to invite a larger bird to nest in a small gourd."

Returning to Brookfield, Mass., recently for the first time in 60 years, J. A. Capen was shaved and given a hair cut by the same barber who shaved him regularly before he left town.

SPORTS

SPORT SPUTTERS

BY O. C. WATSON, JR.

The "Army" and "Navy" are practicing behind locked gates this week, for the big classic Friday afternoon, when both powerful teams meet in the Lions charity game. It won't be line against line, or backfield against backfield, but backfield against line. The navy squad will have the entire '32 line with the exception of the wing position. The army will have the Broncho backfield, so you can see what a game this is going to be.

The two teams will be chosen from different classes of high school and college. The navy is to be composed of players from the senior class of high school and the entire college. The army is to be composed of the junior and sophomore classes. Out of all the high school boys playing nine of the boys will play their last high school game tomorrow, namely, Green, Cooke, Watters, Haile, Johnson, Linders, Hendrick, Davis and Goodson.

The basket ball boys of C. H. S. ventured over into the Harvester gym at Pampa Friday night and took a 51-19 beating from the Harvesters. This does not sound much like a winning team but maybe the bronchos met up with some real competition. We must forget basketball this week, and turn our eyes toward football; after this big game, go back to basketball and get down to business. Odds were against the Bronchos at Pampa because they had only one week in which to prepare for the game.

All right, fans, here is the big surprise, Sport Sputters "All Sectional Team".

ORIGIN OF FOOTBALL

What is said to be the earliest written mention of football in America is contained in a book on Virginia published about 1609, only two years after the first permanent settlement at Jamestown. In that day boys played a crude game by kicking an inflated bladder over the field.

But the real origin of football goes back to ancient times in Greece and Rome, where a game called "harpastum" or "harpastum" was played. It is likely that the game was introduced into the British Isles by the Romans about the beginning of the Christian era. Varieties of the game have been found in many other parts of the world. Native Polynesians played with a ball made of bamboo fibers; Eskimos made a ball of moss with a skin cover.

Could Your Car Pass a "Cold Test" like this?

Through deep snow drifts that blanketed Wolf Creek Pass, 10,800 feet above sea level in Colorado's Rockies, a great V-type snow plow doggedly pushed its way. A whirring rotary plow spouted clouds of snow, clearing the roadway. And soon, despite temperatures daily below zero, workers of Liberty Truck & Parts Co., of Denver, had opened the 15-mile road.

"We used Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and Conoco Gasoline exclusively in our Cletrac Tractors with wonderful results," wrote a Liberty official. "We had no difficulty starting our motors in the mornings."

There's a "cold test" to guide you in buying motor oil!

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is thoroughly dewaxed and circulates freely below zero. It makes winter-starting easier. More important still, it saves your motor from terrific punishment during the starting period, when half of all motor wear occurs! Other oils drain away overnight. A "Hidden Quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Oil stays up in your motor and lubricates before your motor starts.

Only Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil can offer you this vital protection, for it is the only oil that penetrates and combines with metal surfaces. Let it protect your motor this winter.

The annual banquet of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday night, Jan. 17, according to announcement made this week by the program committee named by the board of directors.

Plans are being made for a program which will feature local talent. The same plan was followed last year, when a varied program of charyuses, quartets, double quartets and instrumental music was interspersed with talks by local speakers on matters of current interest.

Slim Clue Uncovers Ashtola Burglars

The chance remark of a farmer boy set in motion a chain of events that resulted in the arrest and lodgement in jail here Tuesday of Bennie Honeycut, of Amarillo, on a charge of burglarizing the depot at Ashtola about a month ago.

Sheriff Guy Pierce learned recently that a farmer boy had mentioned to a friend that he had bought two pairs of work pants for a dollar in Amarillo, which he thought must have been stolen by someone. After several repetitions, the story reached the sheriff and he started the investigation that resulted in one of the burglars agreeing to testify for the state, and the capture of Honeycut at San Antonio this week.

Mrs. Berl Huffman Dies At Lubbock

Friends and acquaintances of the family of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McDowell were inexpressibly saddened when news reached this city Thursday night, Dec. 1, that their daughter, Mrs. Berl Huffman, and her twin daughters had died the same night at nine o'clock. Mrs. Huffman was formerly Miss Clifffe D. McDowell.

Born May 31, 1906, Mrs. Huffman was 25 years and 6 months of age at the time of her death. A graduate of Clarendon College and of Southern Methodist University, she married Mr. Berl Huffman in 1929. The first year of their wedded life was spent at White Deer, where Mr. Huffman was teacher and coach. In 1930 they went to Lubbock, where Mr. Huffman has since been teacher and assistant coach in Lubbock High School, and where the couple endeared themselves to a large circle of friends.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the C. D. McDowell residence, under the direction of Bunton and Son's Mortuary, by Rev. J. O. Haynes, pastor of First Methodist Church at Lubbock and close friend of the stricken family. He was assisted by Rev. E. B. Bowen, pastor of First Methodist church, Clarendon.

The pallbearers were friends of Mr. Huffman who are coaches at Lubbock and nearby towns.

chases made now will be made at a lower figure than will be possible for many years to come. Not in many years has there been a time when one could "spend and spend wisely" as surely as can be done now.

Clarendon merchants' Trades Day events offer excellent opportunity to make spending profitable. The merchants invite you to come into their stores, look through the merchandise offered and buy if convinced. No Clarendon merchants will feel offended if you "look around" and do not buy. They know, quite as well as you do, that you want your funds to go as far as possible.

Come to Clarendon on Trades Day. Meet your friends here. Make it a profitable day and a pleasant day. Next Saturday is the day!

Road Work Proceed

Donley county over the outcome of the litigation instituted by Ferguson and others, because of the direct effect it may have on improvement of its principal highway.

Engineers of the highway department, under Division Engineer R. J. Van London, completed last week the survey of the proposed road through Armstrong county and southward into Donley county as far as Kearney street in Clarendon.

Mr. Van London advises that his office is proceeding with all dispatch in the preparation of the field notes of the survey, which will probably be completed this week. No action can be taken by the committee named by the Commissioners' Court to purchase the necessary right-of-way until the field notes are in their possession. The committee is standing by, ready to begin its work as quickly as possible.

From the standpoint of public necessity, it will be a severe blow to the hopes of many unemployed men of Donley county if the Ferguson efforts to tie the hands of the highway commission are successful. The expenditure which the highway work would necessitate would go far toward relieving men with families who want to work, and it is the earnest hope of the citizenship that the Ferguson litigation will come to an early and unsuccessful conclusion.

Lions Visit Lab

and aluminum were melted by burning magnesium, the melted metal reaching approximately 5,000 degrees Fahrenheit and remaining hot enough when dropped into cold water to burn its way through a sheet of ordinary tin immersed in the water.

Of especial interest was the process of making dry ice, one of the strangest and most promising developments of chemical science. Capable of developing a temperature 100 degrees below zero, it is already being used in commercial shipment of perishable meats, vegetables and ice cream.

The dry ice produced in the demonstration was made by releasing in a woolen bag a quantity of carbon dioxide gas, found in crude oil, stored under a pressure of 2000 pounds per square inch. When released from this high pressure in which it is in a liquid state, it becomes gaseous under the normal atmospheric pressure of about 14 pounds per square inch and turns into snow-like and dry white powder, which can be compressed into cakes.

To demonstrate the extreme cold of the dry ice, a ring-shaped groove in a block of wood was filled with mercury, such as is used in thermometers. A cake of dry ice was placed over the mercury and pure ether (which, by the way, is made in the "lab" for experimental work) was poured over the dry ice. In a few minutes, the mercury was frozen solid. Dropped into a glass of ice-water, the water began to boil and presently the mercury began to melt, returning in a few minutes to its normal liquid state.

Going into another room, the Lions were shown demonstrations by other students of many very interesting and practical kinds, at the conclusion of which they were served with cake and Coca-Cola by the young ladies of the chemistry classes.

Dean Clark stated that the laboratory provides ample facilities for 32 chemistry students and that 64 students could be provided for by a slight readjustment of schedules and equipment. "We are now prepared," he said, "to give our chemistry students instruction and laboratory work as good as may be had at any place."

Deserving Men With Families Given Work

Unemployed men with families are receiving first consideration by the local committee handling the R. F. C. Relief funds. The limited amount of funds makes this course absolutely imperative and the funds are being spread as much as possible in order to give aid to as many needy families as the funds will permit.

Employment has thus far been given to about 125 men. They are being used in general clean-up work and in street improvement. The committeemen are serving without pay of any kind and are giving freely of their time in oversight of the work being done and in investigation of applications for work.

The local committee is composed of Odos Caraway, chairman, Clyde J. Douglas, secretary-treasurer, and H. T. Burton. Homer Mulkey also advises with the committee as a representative of the local Red Cross chapter. The committee also advises with the city commission and the Goodfellows.
