Court Appoints Highway Jury of View

Attractive Premium List for Poultry Show Here Friday

COURT ACTION AIDS HI-WAY PROGRESS

RIGHT-OF-WAY PRICE SCALE SET FOR ROUGH AND FARM LAND

Way is now cleared for rapid progress in the preliminary work necessary to actual construction on Highway No. 5 through Donley County, through the appointment of a Jury-of-View to handle the purchase of right-of-way on location designated by federal and state engineers, and the setting up of a price scale by the Donley County Commissioners Court to be paid for rough and farm lands included in the route of the road.

This action was among the last acts of the retiring administration under Judge J. J. Alexander, and now only the field notes from the state highway department are awaited to begin the purchase of the right-of-way which will be rapid under the plan adopted.

The jury-of-view appointed by the court is composed of Mess. W. T. Hayter, and Tom F. Connally of Clarendon; M. M. Noble of Goldston; A. B. Bynum of Lelia Lake; and T. C. Johnson of Giles. This gives representation to the three precincts interested in the route of Highway 5, and is composed of a very able committee to represent the best interests of the county, being composed of men long familiar with land values in the county.

A price of $10 per acre for rough lands and $30 per acre for farm lands was set by the court as a fair price to be paid for the right-of-way, and any damage view will adjust any damages which may be due land holders along the route.

There will be no delays in

LIONS HEAR ABOUT TEXAS INDUSTRIES

Continuing the series of "Know Texas" programs which are being presented before the local Lions Club, Sam M. Braswell was in charge of the program at the Tuesday luncheon. The program was begun with two piano selections, by Mrs. Simmons Powell, which were greatly appreciated by the Lions. Frank Houston, district manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, was also a very welcome visitor.

In the course of his talk on Texas industries, which was given added interest by the use of charts, Lion Braswell said that Texas, in the past 20 years, had witnessed a steady expansion of its industrial life, bringing about a shift in the proportion of rural to urban population that now stands at about a 50-50 figure—one-half of the total population living in the towns and cities and the other half in the rural communities.

"Yet only 2.1 per cent of the total of manufactured goods of the United States is produced in Texas," said Mr. Braswell, "in spite of the fact that 10 per cent of the total of agricultural products, 7.5 per cent of the mineral production and 4.5 per cent of the livestock production of the U. S. comes out of Texas."

"In 1900, the value of industrial products of Texas totalled $93,000,000. In 1910 the figure had increased to $273,000,000. In 1930 it had reached the amazing total of $1,500,000,000. It can readily be seen that if the industrial production of Texas could

Verlis J. Calcote Was Buried Here Tuesday

Verlis J. Calcote, aged 29 years, 4 months, 9 days, died at his home three miles from Clarendon, Jan. 3, 1933. His death is said to have been caused by hemorrhage of the brain. He was the son of H. L. Calcote and was born at San Augustine, Texas, on Aug. 14, 1903.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Church of Christ, in this city, by Rev. Jas. L. Standridge, of Plainview. Interment was made in the Citizens Cemetery under the direction of Buntin & Son, morticians.

Pallbearers were R. M. Holder, F. L. Bopland, U. J. Boston, Buck Roberts, John Thomas and Adkins Mace.

The deceased is survived by his wife and one daughter, Sula Faye, 9, and one little son, James Glendell, 2 years old; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Calcote, and four brothers, Whit, Clarence, Delmer and Dwain. His parents and brothers all live at Plainview. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. Ed Cates, of Quanah, and Mrs. John Bonds, of Plainview.

SIXTEEN BOYS IN COURT OF HONOR

Sixteen Clarendon boys received "Tenderfoot" badges Friday night at the Court of Honor held at the First Baptist church. The badge is an award made to boys who have met the requirements for initial membership in a Boy Scout troop. The sixteen boys are members of Clarendon Troop No. 37, of which S. L. Tidwell is Scoutmaster.

The badges were awarded by Joe Goldston, S. W. Lowe and W. C. Stewart, members of the Court of Honor.

During the program an impressive and instructive talk on "Scouting and its practical application to life" was made by G. L. Boykin. He demonstrated a few of the knots which every tenderfoot must learn to tie, showing the practical uses to which a knowledge of knot-tying may be put. The very practical nature of First Aid instruction was discussed, including first aid to injuries causing loss of blood, resuscitation of persons who have been drowned or victims of gas, etc.

Each scout is taught to "do a good turn each day." The speaker emphasized the thought that people are not remembered so much for material success as for the unselfish service to others which they may be able to render. As examples, he referred to the lives of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Gen. Pershing, Woodrow Wilson and Jesus Christ, all of whom are honored, not for their financial success but for the great service which they rendered to their countrymen.

He also laid stress on the "reverence for laws of God and man which is taught to Boy Scouts." The boy who takes four years of Boy Scout training is constantly drilled in observance of the laws of God and man, which makes of him a citizen of the highest type. Furthermore, it develops the type of understanding leadership which is the greatest need of our nation.

R. E. Drennan, principal of the Junior High School, talked briefly on the great need of active interest in Scouting among adults, with particular emphasis on parents. "Every parent of a boy of Scout age, or has yet to come to that age, should become schooled in the principles of Scouting, so that he may have a just appreciation of it."

REESE TO ADDRESS ROTARY, AMARILLO

INTERNATIONAL DIRECTOR TO ADDRESS MEMBERS ON FRIDAY NIGHT

David J. Reese, of Ventura, Calif., International Director of Rotary, will address Rotarians of the Panhandle at the Herring Hotel, in Amarillo, at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, Jan. 6, according to advice sent Dr. O. L. Jenkins, President of the Clarendon Rotary Club.

Dr. Jenkins read the letter from the Amarillo club to the local club at its regular luncheon meeting Friday, urging that as many as possible hear Mr. Reese. He is regarded as one of the outstanding figures in Rotary.

The program of the meeting last Friday was in charge of the directors, and interesting talks were made on "What Rotary can do for Our Community," and "What Rotary can do for its members," by F. E. Chamberlain, Dr. B. L. Jenkins and D. R. Davis.

All of the members were present except A. T. Cole and Robert Cope.

Poultry Accrediting Work to Start Jan. 9

Frank White, manager of the Clarendon Hatchery, announces that J. L. Myers, authorized Poultry Flock Accreditor of the State of Texas, will arrive in Clarendon on Jan. 9 to begin accrediting work in this county under the auspices of the hatchery. Mr. Myers will be here until Jan. 19th. He will also do some blood-testing work.

Poultrymen who are interested in selling their eggs to the hatchery for hatching purposes must have their flocks accredited officially, as the hatchery uses only eggs from accredited flocks. As announced in the Hatchery's advertisement, the cost per bird for accrediting is very low.

That it pays a poultryman to have his flock accredited is proven by Mr. White's remark that during the four years of the Clarendon Hatchery's operation it has paid Donley County poultrymen about $23,000 above the current market prices for their eggs. In the 1932 hatching season 120,000 dozen eggs were purchased from Donley County's accredited flocks, of which there are more than a score.

During the 1933 hatching season the Hatchery expects to buy 100,000 dozen, or more, of

Judge Lowe Urges Wise Economy in County's Business

In his "inaugural address" to the Commissioners' Court at its first session with him Monday afternoon, County Judge S. W. Lowe voiced his conception of the obligation resting on the Court to guard, closely, the expenditure of the taxpayers' money.

The earnest manner in which Judge Lowe approaches his responsibilities, as evidenced by his talk to the members of the court, won the approval of all who heard him, and after adjournment of the court much complimentary comment on his utterances was heard.

In the course of his talk Judge Lowe said, "If it be possible that there can be one time more than any other when the taxpayers' money should be more closely guarded than time is now."

"There have been times when I thought the best interest of our state and perhaps some of our counties was not served because

DEAD

Calvin Coolidge, former president of the United States, was found dead today at noon by his wife, according to a news flash from WFAA, the radio station of the Dallas Morning News. Details as to his death are not available as we go to press.

Soap and Soft Water Makes Baths "Taboo"

Judge A. T. Cole returned Sunday from Washington, D. C., where he visited his friends, Vice-President-Elect John N. Garner, Senator Tom Connally and Congressman Marvin Jones. An injury received while in Washington is responsible, he says, for at least one of his New Year resolutions.

As he stepped into a hotel bath tub for his cold shower, a well-soaped foot and the soft-silk water for which the Capitol city is famous caused an acrobatic stunt that the Judge says has never been equaled in any sawdust ring. "The only thing that kept me from breaking my neck was that I instinctively, I suppose, ducked my head between my knees as I fell into the tub. I know I couldn't do it again on a bet," he said.

He received a badly sprained ligament in the left shoulder, which has made it necessary for him to carry his arm in a sling since his return. "But I have resolved," said Judge Cole, "that bathing is too dangerous, while soap is absolutely taboo."

Clarendon Church of Christ Begins Revival

Evangelist Jas. L. Standridge, of Plainview, Texas is doing the preaching, and Bob McGowan has charge of the song service in the Church of Christ revival which began Tuesday night. Services will be held each evening of this week at 7:30.

There will be three services Sunday: at 11 o'clock in the morning, 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and 7 o'clock in the evening. Standridge comes to Clarendon from Lelia Lake where he was well attended throughout. The public is cordially invited to hear plain gospel preaching, and enjoy the good congregational singing during this meeting.

J. C. C. Dyer, of Fort Worth, arrived Monday for a visit until Friday with the family of his son, A. J. Dyer, manager of Caraway's Cafe and Bakery.

COMMUNITY PARTY IS FOR NEIGHBORS

PROGRAM OUTLINED GIVES GUARANTEE OF NO DULL OR TIRESOME EVENING

"Neighbors, come down to the meetin' place and let's sing a spell and then listen to a little gab, and then sing some more, and some more, with good grub sandwiched in somewhere. Who's gonna be there, y'say? Wy, just a lot o' your neighbors—an", say, didja you ever know better neighbors anywhere than liv in 'n' around Clarendon? Course there'll be a few fellers from other towns around here that've learned to come a-runnin' when they hear the bell rung for one of Clarendon's annual community parties. And we're glad they want to come, too. But the real purpose of this meetin' is just to have a good ol' shoutin'-happy get-together for Clarendon neighbors. You're comin'? Good! Attabooy!"

That's about the way one of the "programmy" committee described

Conoco Dealers At Meeting in Childress

All wholesale and retail dealers in Conoco products in the Clarendon agency area met Tuesday night at Childress with dealers of the entire Childress district. The meeting was presided over by T. H. Lawson, division manager, with headquarters at Ft. Worth, and L. E. Stiles, assistant division manager.

Sales promotion plans and an outline of the 1933 policies of the Continental Oil Company, refiners of petroleum products under the trade name of "Conoco," occupied the full time of the meeting. Dealers were present from each of the agencies of the district, comprised of Paducah, Matador, Turkey, Shamrock, Wellington, Hedley, Memphis, and Clarendon.

In attendance at the meeting from Clarendon were A. L. Chase and M. A. Hahn, of the wholesale agency, and retail dealers as follows: Paul Reeves, Jericho, C. E. Mixon, Goldston; Ben Hill, Brice; W. W. Jones, Lelia Lake; Elmer Palmer, Clarendon; Odus Caraway, Clarendon.

NEW YEAR GREETED WITH GOOD CHEER

LARGEST CROWD PRESENT FOR CEREMONIES IN HISTORY OF CITY

The largest number of people ever seen on the streets of Clarendon on any New Year night joined in the ceremony incident to the "1933 Jubilee." Smiles and good cheer were evident on the faces of the hundreds of people who whirled away the hours before midnight at the Pastime Theatre, which brought its special New Year show to a close just before the death of the Old Year.

Lively band music attracted a large number to the intersection of Kearney and Second streets, where a parade was formed, including marchers on foot and automobiles with honking horns, supplemented by sundry noise-making instruments.

Over on the east of the courthouse a large group was gathered to witness the anvil-shooting. A heavy anvil was inverted over another in which a quantity of blasting powder had been poured. The "shooter," holding a long pole at the end of which was a red-hot iron rod, then touched off the powder, with a result quite satisfying to all who crave noise for New Year's celebration. And over and over the performance was repeated, while the minutes of the dying year ticked off and the New Year waited to take up its task of bringing new hope to a depression-weary world.

The News joins all the merry folks who participated in the Jubilee in the wish that 1933 may bring to all of them a measure of prosperity and happiness surpassing their most sanguine hopes. And it feels that the wish is not an idle one. All the signs of the times point to a better year than the last three years have been. And don't we all hope that the signs point in the right direction? And how!

Mrs. L. C. Merchant and children, of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. L. N. George, and son, Byron, of Canyon, were guests in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Smith from Wednesday until Sunday of last week. Mrs. George is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith and has been confined to her bed most of the time for the past two years, following a complete physical breakdown while with the San Francisco Opera Company. Mrs. George states that the curative climatic conditions of Northwest Texas have almost restored her to normal health and she hopes to return to her work within the next year.

WORK IS OUTLINED BY LITTLE THEATRE

COMMITTEES NAMED AND OBJECTIVES FOR YEAR ARE DETERMINED

Keen interest in the coming year of work for the Little Theatre of this city was manifest at the first meeting of the new board of directors and members, held Monday afternoon at the Woman's Club room, with the new president, Miss Katherine Patrick, presiding.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. McHenry Lane, the newly elected secretary, after whose approval a brief but enthusiastic talk was made by the president, who requested the co-operation of board members in making 1933 an outstanding year in Little Theatre work.

The president stated that it was the opinion of all with who she had talked that the effective work of the organization could be greatly increased by the enrollment of a much larger membership. A committee was named to work out plans for increasing the membership, the plans to be submitted at a later meeting.

Miss Patrick announced that William Russell of Amarillo, who is active in Little Theatre work there planned to hold a Panhandle tournament at a date prior to the State tournament, the winner to be entered in the State tournament. "It is not at all impossible that the Clarendon Little Theatre might stage the winning play in the Panhandle tournament," said the president. "Our organization has already discovered a gratifying amount of excellent talent here, but I feel sure that much more can be discovered and developed," she said.

Roger W. Babson, for two or more decades the counsellor of many of the nation's Big Businesses, released last week his opinions on the general outlook for 1933. In the main it was hopeful and optimistic, though cautiously phrased. Seeing fundamental improvement in many lines of business which, as indexes, are used as bases of analysis of current trends, Mr. Babson predicts that there should be, in 1933, an average ten per cent increase in business.

A ten per cent increase sounds small to business men who once would have regarded such a small figure, whether of increase or decrease, as negligible and scarcely worthy of concern. Even now its chief interest lies in the fact that, if business does show a 1933 increase of ten per cent, the effect on the American business mind will be definitely good.

An old man whom we once knew was fond of saying "Blessed is the man who expecteth nothing, for he shall not be disappointed." Blessed, yes, if sweet resignation to anything that happens may be called blessedness. Too much of this insidious kind of resignation afflicts the average man, urban or rural, in these days of depression. It enervates and devitalizes; it destroys initiative and sane planning; it transforms a man who, in times of easy and sure profits, is up and doing, into one who is spineless and already whipped. If a salesman goes to meet a customer with the thought that "That fellow is not going to buy anything," the fellow probably will not.

Mr. Babson unquestionably wrote truth when he said that within a few years men will be saying "What was I doing in 1933?" when they review the opportunities which they had to establish the basis of a comfortable fortune. The trouble with most of us is that we still think in the large amounts of pre-depression days, and can not realize that the investment of the small savings possible to make now could ever grow into worthwhile size. We have lost the ability to value, properly, a small amount of money.

A WORD TO THE PARENTS OF A BOY

Training a boy into the right conception of life and its responsibilities and opportunities is a tremendous task in these times. On every hand influences are at work which combat every effort of the conscientious parent who would rear the boy to be a credit to his parents. Admitted?

It would seem, then, that any parent would welcome assistance of his own efforts. There are, of course, the splendid influences of church and school, both of which can point proudly at the fine men whom their boys have turned out to be.

But there is another powerful agency right here in Clarendon whose sole aim, whose only aim, is the building of character among the boys who come under its influence. It is headed by men who have been specially trained for their work. They are men who have their full quotas of life's responsibilities, but who cheerfully and enthusiastically devote spare time to this unselfish work.

The agency is the American Boy Scout organization. We can hear you reply—"Why, I believe in the Boy Scout work!" Of course you believe in it. If you are a parent of average intelligence you have at least heard enough about Boy Scout work to win your silent approval.

But is silent or passive approval enough? Does your duty to your boy stop there? Every father of a boy of Scout age, 12 to 16 years, ought to welcome every opportunity given him to come into personal contact with the Boy Scout movement in Clarendon. If his boy is not a member of a troop, he ought tactfully to install a desire in the boy to belong to a troop. He ought to meet with them frequently, as invitation is extended by the Scoutmasters. He ought to stand ready to offer his own help at any time.

Is your boy under 12 years old? Remember that he will be 12 almost before you know it. Get Scouting-wise before he comes of Scout age. Be able to talk to him about Boy Scout ideals for months before he becomes a "tender-foot." He will make a much better Scout right from the start.

Do these things and there will open up for you a richness in fatherhood that will otherwise never be yours. It will keep your laughter fresh and youthful; you will enjoy a companionship with your boy that will be priceless. And what is more, your boy will have a far better chance to become a REAL MAN!

FALLING FOR FAKE SCHEMES

Never within the recollection of the present generation have as many fake schemes come to light as within the last two years. Almost every day papers in some part of the country are called upon to expose a new scheme. But, as a rule the expose comes after the faker has gathered in the money and hid himself to other territory, where his game is still unknown. He manages to keep one jump ahead of the denouncers.

This section has come in for its share of schemes and fakers, and its citizens have contributed their share of coin to the schemers. It has never been plain why local citizens will bite at something a home-town citizen couldn't sell them in a hundred years.

Along comes a perfect stranger selling advertising space on a time-card, calendar, cook book or some other fake scheme. He sells his space readily, in a form of advertising that usually isn't worth the paper it is printed on, pockets the money and is on his way. And then, when the advertiser fails to get results—as he does ninety-nine times out of a hundred—he goes around declaring that "advertising doesn't pay." The fact of the matter is such schemes are not legitimate advertising, and that is the only kind that ever did or ever will pay.

There is something funny about human nature when it comes to these false schemes. Nobody can understand why merchants and professional men will "fall for them" when they wouldn't buy a nickle's worth of space if a home-town man was doing the soliciting. But a perfect stranger comes along and they bite—hook, line and sinker. It's a problem no one has so far been able to figure out. —Slaton, Texas, Slatonite.

And there is a reason to look into 1933 with strength renewed and hopes heightened. Such obvious factors as freer spending, rising prices and more activity in the marts of commerce indicate that there is a real and tangible basis for better feeling.

In keeping with the spirit of the season, we "resolve" for 1933 to continue our same high quality of service . . . we pledge ourselves to continue to work for the greatest good of this vast "Land of Opportunity" . . . and we wish for you a happier and more remunerative year. "HAPPY NEW YEAR".

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Don'ts For Washing Blankets

New blankets are always a joy. There is nothing much softer, prettier or lovelier than new blankets. One always associates this loveliness with the newness and dreads the time the blankets have to be washed. And dry cleaning is never satisfactory for blankets as washing. To be sure in most cases they feel and look very nice, but there is nothing like soap and water to clean any article which comes as near to one as blankets. In order to preserve some of their freshness, here are a few "don'ts" for washing blankets:

1. Don't have suds too hot.
2. Don't put blankets through wringer.
2. Don't hang blankets as this removes some of the nap.
5. Don't hang knitted blankets up. Spread on bath towels to dry.

To Clean Enameled Bath Tubs

Put kerosene on a cloth and rub on tub. This is the best way to clean enameled tubs. However, one can use ammonia. Never use any kind of scouring soap because if used often it will soon wear off the enamel.

COOKING HINTS

Tomato Hints

Tomatoes are an excellent article of diet for old and young. When cooking canned tomatoes add a little sugar. This removes some of the acid and helps the flavor.

BAKING HINTS

Mother's Bran Muffins

- 4 tablespoons of sugar either brown or white.
- 2 cups of milk.
- 2 teaspoons of baking powder.
- One-third teaspoon of salt.
- 1 cup of flour.
- 2 cups of bran.
- 1 tablespoon of butter.

Method: Place butter in muffin tins and let melt while muffin tins are heating in oven. Beat the eggs well. Add sugar, salt, flour, baking powder, bran and milk. Mix well and the last thing add the melted butter. Pour in greased muffin tins and bake.

Food for the Gods

- 1/2 cup flour.
 - 1/2 cup sugar.
 - 3 eggs.
 - 1 teaspoon of baking powder.
 - 1/2 teaspoon of salt.
 - 1 pound seeded dates (cut up).
- Method: Beat sugar, flour, salt and egg yolks together. Add baking powder, then beaten egg white, dates and nuts dredged in a little flour. Bake in a shallow butter tin.

Caramel Icing

- 6 tablespoons of cream.
 - 2 cups of light brown sugar.
 - 4 tablespoons of melted butter.
- Method: Cook very slowly until it forms a soft ball in water. Let cook a bit before spreading on cake.

"ONE THING NEEDFUL"

Luke 10:42

Jesus in his conversation with Martha, the sister of Lazarus, told her: "But one thing is needful." She was interested in the material things of life but her sister Mary was interested in the spiritual.

If we were to write a list of the things we need, or think we need, we would probably have a great array. If we would mark off the things we could get along without, the list would be smaller. And then if the choice was limited ers' estimates on the necessary changes. The space gained by the arrangement will provide more room for the jury, which has been badly needed.

County Superintendent Sloan Baker, newly elected, states that "It is my earnest desire to serve the people of Donley County as their Superintendent of schools in such a manner as will benefit educationally every boy and girl in the county. With your cooperation we can keep Donley County in her position as one of the foremost West Texas counties in school activities. Make yourself at home in my office. You are always welcome."

IN SOCIETY

Miss Lorraine Patrick, Editor

Beaux Arts Reception Popular Social Event

One of the most enjoyable and outstanding social events of the season was the Les Beaux Arts annual reception Monday afternoon at the Episcopal Parish House.

The receiving line was composed of Miss Mary Howren, President; Mrs. L. S. Bagby, Vice-President; and Miss Jean Bourland, President of the Junior Les Beaux Arts.

The rooms were artistically decorated with the Yuletide motif, having a gorgeous Christmas tree brilliant with silver and gold tinsel and cedar wreaths and garlands over every window.

An interesting feature which caused much favorable comment throughout the afternoon was the beautiful exhibit of American pottery, which has been sent the local club by the general federation of clubs and contained an example of every outstanding unit in America.

On the program Miss Pauline Shelton delighted everyone with a piano solo as did Misses Carroll Holder and Jean Bourland with a duet. Miss Anna Moores gave a splendid lecture on the pottery, assisted by Mrs. Charles Trent, who illustrated.

During the afternoon the guests were served tea by several of the club members from a charmingly appointed table. The colors of the club, gold and white, were carried out in the beautiful white lace cloth over gold. In the center of the table a pretty snow scene caught the eye and tea was poured from a gold service.

Approximately one hundred guest were received.

CLASS CONTEST STARTED. FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Two of the Bible Classes of the First Christian Church launched a membership drive and contest last Sunday morning. The Dorcas class, with Mrs. W. T. Hayter as teacher and leader, plans giving the "Come as You Are, Men's Class" a tight race. The losing class is to furnish entertainment and eats for the winners at the close of the contest. The contest is on and every man and woman is invited to take part in this big race. Members of the Men's Class are arranging a class room in the basement of the church this week and expect to have their new quarters ready and cosy by Sunday morning.

Family Home-Coming Home of T. W. Smith

New Year's Day was a joyous event at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Smith, of this city, for it marked the home-coming of their nine children. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are real pioneers of Northwest Texas, having moved to the Panhandle in the early 80's from Ellis County, Texas.

They were residents of Carson county until fifteen years ago, when they moved to Clarendon. They celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary Dec. 18, 1929, at which time only eight of their children were present. Last Sunday was the first time all of the family have been together at the same time in twenty-two years.

At 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon a five-course dinner was served to Mrs. Sam Rorex, T. M. Cleek, Mrs. J. Sid O'Keefe of Panhandle, Mrs. Claudia Jones of Deming, N. M., J. L. Smith of Dalhart, O. L. and Guy Smith of Clarendon, Mrs. L. C. Merchant of Amarillo and Mrs. L. N. George of Canyon, these being the nine sons and daughters. Other guests were Sam Rorex, J. Sid O'Keefe and son, Joe Pat, and L. N. George.

In addition to the nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, there were twenty-two grand-children and seven great grand-children. This family has been more fortunate than the average large family in that the circle has never been broken by a death.

Mrs. Sam Braswell, Jr., and little son, Sam Harben, of Forney, and her sister, Miss Adeline Atterbury, drove over Wednesday from Pampa for a few hours visit with Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Braswell and friends. Mrs. Braswell is on a holiday visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Atterbury.

Judge and Mrs. John O. Maberry of Sayre, Oklahoma, were week end guests in the W. H. Patrick home.

Wilbur C. Hawk Buys Vanities for One Day

A real Broadway revue, with 100 entertainers in the cast and with 55 separate scenes, will blow the lid off the 1933 theatrical season in Amarillo.

Earl Corroll's Vanities, ninth edition, which played Broadway all last season, will be presented in two performances here on Saturday, January 21. It will be the biggest and most elaborate musical show ever seen here.

The Vanities were booked by Wilbur C. Hawk for the benefit of the Tri-State Fair. In fact Mr. Hawk bought the show outright for that day, paying $5,000—the only terms under which the producers would bring the company to Amarillo—and both matinee and night performances will be given. It is the first time an Earl Corroll show has been brought here.

"The Vanities is a guaranteed show," Mr. Hawk explained. "It will be presented here just as it was presented in New York—with the same stars and with nothing left out, and it will be just as represented."

The company will come here by special train from Oklahoma only two cities in Texas where the City, Amarillo being one of Vanities will be staged. The show this week is running at the Shubert Theater in Kansas City.

Heading the Vanities cast is Al Trahan, piano-playing master of ceremonies, who gained attention all over the world when the King of England called upon him for a command performance in London. Others in the cast include Frank Mitchell, Jack Durant, Harry Stockwell, Betty Veronica, Youkona Cameron, Claire Curry, Lucille Page, Emily Von Loesen, Ray Sax and Jack Starr. In addition there are dozens of lesser lights including some of Broadway's most beautiful girls.

30 Stage Hands Required

It is reported from Kansas City and other places where the Vanities have shown recently that there is more sparkling comedy in this edition than in a dozen ordinary revues. Although Trahan is the principal comedian, there are others, and all of them are accomplished. The show also boasts some unusually tuneful music. Among the popular songs to be presented are "It's Great to be in Love," "I Guess I'll Have to Change My Plans," "Masquerade," and "My Darling."

Some idea of the magnitude of the show can be gained from the fact that 30 stage hands are required to shift the sets for the 55 scenes, and that a train of 10 coaches—four Pullmans, four baggage cars and two chair cars—is required to transport the company on tour.

$3 Top Here

Although the Vanities are playing in Kansas City at $4.40 top, Mr. Hawk has announced a $3 top here. The prices for the night show will be $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50, and $3.00, plus tax. Matinee prices will be somewhat lower.

Mail orders addressed to Mr. Hawk are being received now, and reservations will be made at The News-Globe office. Judging from last year's experience when crowded houses greeted "Crazy Quilt" and "The Wonder Bar," the choice seats to the Vanities will be taken up early.

False Advertiser Now In Disrepute

More than 20,000 false and misleading advertisements were either discontinued entirely or revised to check fairly with the truth last year as a result of the Federal Trade Commission's campaign against fraudulent advertising, it is estimated in the Commission's annual report for 1932.

While the amount of money saved the public by this branch of the Commission's work runs into large figures, the actual cost of the work for the last fiscal year was only $23,400 or an average of $57.63 a case.

Hundreds of advertisers of fake products have been driven out of business through cooperation of publishers with the Federal Trade Commission in its campaign against fraudulent advertising, and thousands of otherwise honest business men, who had habitually used exaggeration in their advertising assertions, have revised their "copy" and now find that it pays to tell the truth in advertising.

Continuing the Commission says that—

"For years many publishers, without consideration for their subscribers, accepted and published advertisements filled with false and misleading representations and thereby became parties to the deception and fraud perpetrated upon their readers. Later many publishers awoke to the value of reader confidence and barred from their publications such advertisements as were clearly fraudulent."

Regarding the different types of false advertising found, the Commission, in its annual report, says its investigations have disclosed frauds of many kinds. The worst are perpetrated by those who prey on those of their fellows who are willing to try anything to get relief from pain or handicap of illness. Millions of dollars are spent annually for preparations worthless or of doubtful value but advertised as being effective.

Some chemists, some "cosmeticians" and others, who are looking for easy money, sell preparations which will not always stand up under careful scientific analysis. A "wrinkle oil" was found to consist of castor oil with a few drops of perfume, put up in 2-ounce bottles of pleasing shape, with beautiful labels, for $2. For fat people many reducing creams are offered, and numerous vendors advertise magical results, all of which are false and misleading. Some vendors offer the identical cream as a tissue-builder or flesh food to enable skinny folk to will to build up flesh on the neck, the arms, or legs, the back, the bust, or wherever they crave it, yet there is no known cream that will build tissue or feed flesh.

Having perfected the form divine by either reducing rolls of fat or rounding out the graceful curves, perhaps the color of the hair is not quite pleasing, and to remedy this there are tonics galore to remove dandruff and thicken the hair and cause it to grow, and dyes of many kinds to impart a color that might make one appear more youthful, if the lines of the face and the color of the skin did not belie the copper tint that displaced a natural and distinguished gray.

False advertising cases are investigated and developed for the Commission by its Special Board of Investigation which considers all such advertising in newspapers, magazines, and on the radio that are brought to its attention by reference, complaint or otherwise.

ON TEXAS FARMS By W. H. Darrow. Extension Service Editor

Not one cent has been spent for groceries for two months by Mrs. John Rasberry, demonstrator of the New Salem Home Demonstration Club in Falls county. She says most of their groceries are in cans on the pantry shelves, and additional products needed are provided by swapping potatoes for them.

With a garden of 27 varieties, Ruth Cain, Indian Rock 4-H club girl in Upshur county, provided 450 pounds of fresh vegetables for the family and 157 containers of canned food. The garden cost $12.50.

Thrifty McLennan county farmers have built trench silos this year and have found the ensilage the best substitute for grass, the county agent reports. T. C. Westbrook, who built the first concrete silo in the county 20 years ago at a cost of $900, built a trench silo of the same capacity this year at a cost of $17.50.

Raymond Brown in Titus county, Master Farmer, and demonstrator working with the county agent, has doubled the production of his land in the last 5 years by terracing, crop rotation and planting wilt-resistant cotton.

Of the 50 San Saba county 4-H club baby beeves weighed in November, 22 showed average gains of a little more than 2½ pounds per day, made on an average of 12 pounds of grain per day.

Doubling the neighborhood yield of cotton with half a bale per acre on 110 acres, W. R. Young of Longview Community in Bailey county credits most of the increase to terraces erected last winter.

Following a demonstration on how to kill, dress and can chicken for the market a group of Cooke county home demonstration club women tried the method and made a profit of $7.55 from 13 fowls which they sold in cans.

To get peach and pear trees and grape vines for her fruit plot, Dorothy Lee in San Augustine county traded 10 gallons of ribbon cane syrup. She obtained her berry vines from an old field. She is a fruit plot demonstrator in her home demonstration club.

TEXAS 4-H CALF BECOMES GRAND CHAMPION STEER

"Texas Special", the first Texas calf to be made grand champion steer at America's largest livestock show, was originally a 4-H club calf fed by Marvin Maberry of Fisher county last year. It was a creep fed calf, finished on a recommended A. and M. Collee ration under the direction of C. C. Johnson, county agent of Jones county, points out A. L. Smith, animal husbandman in the Extension Service at Texas A. and M. Collee.

"At four months of age the calf weighed 420 pounds, due to the fact that he was a well bred animal and was well fed during the summer," says Mr. Smith.

"From July 1st until September 19th 1931, Bumpy Lad, as he was known, was kept in a barn in daytime, nursed his mother twice daily, and ran on sudan pasture at night. He learned to eat ground maize, ground wheat, a little cottonseed meal and plenty of hezari roughage during his creep feeding period. From September 19th when Marvin put Bumpy Lad into the feedlot until March 16th 1932, he was fed a daily ration averaging 10 pounds daily of grain consisting mainly of ground threshed milo and wheat, 2 pounds of cottonseed meal, and 8 pounds of hezari and sudan fodder. He also nursed his mother until January 1st, and another nurse cow twice

McLEAN GAS RATE IS REDUCED TO 30 CENTS

The McLean Gas Company announces a reduction in rates for domestic consumption in McLean, applicable to the bills for this month's service.

The new rate will be 30c per 1000 cubic feet of gas used, as compared with the previous rate of 50c.

The rate reduction is a voluntary act on the part of the company as a concession to the present financial situation in McLean and will be in effect until May 1st, next year, and longer if conditions justify.

According to Judge W. H. Penix of Mineral Wells, general attorney for the company, who was in McLean yesterday, this action has been arrived at without reference to the action now in the courts, and without reference to the Humphreys franchise.

The company is operating under the original franchise granted when the first company was organized here and they expect to continue operations under the original franchise.

The city council has made an effort to have officials of the company before them the past month, but so far no conference has been had; however, it is understood that company officials are willing to confer with the council at any time.—McLean News.

daily throughout the remainder of the feeding period. When sold at Lubbock, Bumpy Lad weighed 830 pounds after making average daily gains of 2½ pounds per day.

The possibilities of this calf, bred by D. F. Maberry and fed in a baby beef club contest sponsored by a Hamlin civic organization, were recognized first by John Gist of Odessa and later by C. M. Largent & Son of Merkel who successively acquired Lumpy Lad and fitted him for championship honors", says Mr. Smith.

NEW GRAIN SORGHUM DEVELOPED AT CHILLICOTHE

Texas A. and M. experiment station at Chillicothe has announced a new grain sorghum which will be known as Ajax. Ajax is a hybrid of kafir and feterita, and is the best of the hundreds investigated and grown at the station, according to reports. A report says:

Eleven club boys in Oklahoma County, Oklahoma, obtained an average yield of 2,810 pounds, almost one and one-half tons, of grain to the acre. According to their reports, the crop produced more grain than kafir or milo and yielded more fodder than other grain sorghums. It matures a little later than feterita but the stalks are shorter and more uniform, making the crop easier to gather."

According to reports from the station and from other sources it is expected that several hundred farmers throughout the Lower Panhandle country will be given seed for the purpose of testing under the ordinary conditions of the ordinary farms. If results are good the seed will be placed on sale and encouragement given the farmers in planting the new feed.—Childress News.

QUARTER MILLION CANS OF FOOD IN CARSON COUNTY

Those persons who doubt the value of home demonstration clubs should take a look at the work being done in Carson County. Twelve clubs with a total membership of 244 women and girls have compiled their annual report.

We are informed, for example, that the clubs during the year put up 232,730 cans of foodstuff for winter use. The clubs in Carson County have been in operation only five years and we venture the assertion that five years ago there were not 20,000 cans, or one-tenth this year's output, conserved on the farms of this county. In addition to the number of clubs who made reports on canned foods, a large number of non-club members also have canned a large number of food products and although it is impossible to estimate the number, if figures could be secured we expect the total number would exceed two hundred and fifty thousand cans of food considerably.—Groom News.

Court Appoints

(Continued From Page One) the early completion of the right-of-way under this plan for any contests will be settled by the jury-of-view, although appeal to higher courts is open to individuals, though this will not halt the progress of highway construction.

There remains now very little opposition to the rapid completion of this work. At Ashtola the early difficulties with the J. A. Ranch have been ironed out, and ordinary condemnation proceedings will go forward in the matter of the Fort Worth & Denver stock-pens, unless an immediate satisfactory agreement is offered by the rail executives.

A part of the field notes on the right-of-way will be handed the court and jury-of-view here this week, and the remaining notes will follow in rapid sequence. It is now hoped that contracts for construction through Donley will be included in the February lettings of the department at Austin. Contracts on the unpaved gap in 66 around Jericho will probably be let in the month's lettings, so Donley seems certain of much construction in 1933.

ciation of the help it can give him in training his son into useful and honorable citizenship," said Mr. Drennan. He said further that "It is easy to find parents who say they believe in the value of Boy Scout work, but what the workers need is more parents who are willing to give, not only their assent to the work, but an active participation in it, with some of their own time devoted to its many phases." About twenty adult persons were present to witness the proceedings.

The sixteen boys who received their "tenderfoot" badges were Nicky Stewart, Bobby Boston, Kenneth Sloan, Woodrow Bulls, Wesley Powell, Walter Brady, Aubrey Brady, Linwood Betts, Harold McDaniel, Led Jay, Truitt Holtzclaw, Jesse Cornell, Marvin Mitchell, Marvin Salmon and Wilson Kutch, and Kermit Sloan.

Little Theatre

At the suggestion of T. F. Connally, it was decided that the Little Theatre would next produce a very popular play, "Love in a Mist" and present it free of any admission charge, as a compliment to the patrons of the Little Theatre whose support in the past has made its work possible. It is believed that a great many of the citizens who are not familiar with the work of the organization will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear an excellent play, well presented.

The play has already been cast manuscripts given out, and the production date set is the night of Friday, Jan. 27. It is hoped that the date will be noted by all so that no conflict of dates may occur. The play, "Love in a Mist", should be presented to a packed house.

Having recently completed payment for a new curtain at the Junior College, the organization hopes to equip the stage with new scenery and some special lighting equipment by the end of 1933.

Mrs. Kelly Chamberlain, on motion, was appointed Custodian of costumes and books of plays for Little Theatre, with "the earnest request that all such supplies be turned over to her for future use or exchange with other Little Theatre groups."

Miss Patrick announced the following standing committees for the coming year: Casting Committee—Mrs. Ira Merchant, chairman, Mmes. F. W. Taylor, Meade Halle, Kelly Chamberlain and Chas. Trent.

Play Selection Committee—Mrs. Fred Rathjen, chairman, Mmes. Fred Story, J. E. Teer, C. G. Stricklin and Miss Ineva Hendrick.

Advertising and Publicity—Fred A. Story and Miss Lorraine Patrick.

Properties Committee—Mrs. Sam M. Braswell, Mrs. Manley Ozier and Mr. Ralph Kerbow.

Officers and members at the meeting were: Miss Katherine Patrick, Mesdames McHenry Lane, J. E. Teer, Fred Rathjen, Kelly Chamberlain, Henry Tomb, Sam M. Braswell, Ira Merchant, Miss Lorraine Patrick, and Messrs. T. F. Connally and Fred A. Story.

Community Party

(Continued From Page One) the annual Community Party to a News reporter. It will be held on the night of January 17, at the Antro Hotel. Tickets will go on sale on January 10—and there's a limit to the number who can be accommodated, unless advance reservations are made.

Henry Ansley Memorial It was at the annual Community Party in Clarendon a year ago that Henry Ansley first made his now nationally famous talk, "I Like the Depression," which was subsequently published in almost every newspaper in the United States. It is particularly fitting, therefore, that tribute should be paid at the Community Party this year to the memory of the Panhandle's Henry Ansley, whose tragic death saddened all who knew him or knew about him.

The program, arranged by T. F. Connally, J. T. Patman and Joe Goldston, will be one which will be enjoyable to all who attend. It will not be one of those tiresome, boring affairs which make one wish he had stayed at home with the family and the radio.

Open Date Requested

"Keep Tuesday, Jan. 17, open for the Community Party," is the special request of the program committee. It will appreciate the co-operation of the citizenship in giving it right-of-way over any other contemplated gathering which might conflict with the Community Party. And it will especially appreciate the early reservation of seats so that the necessary arrangements may be made with a minimum of last-minute confusion.

Let's make it the biggest and happiest Community Party ever held in Clarendon!

eggs for hatching, and will pay 5 cents per dozen above the current market price, or at least $5,000 more than would be received for them if there was no hatchery here.

The hatchery, according to Mr. White, actually pays out for eggs about three times as much as its total sales of baby chicks within the county. A great many of its customers come from over the Panhandle drive to Clarendon to receive their orders of chicks. Where would our prospective teachers go for professional training if the teachers college at Canyon were closed or reduced to junior college standing? The committee's implied answer to this question is: "Go down to the University of Texas, the A. and M. College, or to Denton, or to the Sam Houston Teachers College."

The suggestion that prospective teachers of the Panhandle go to an Educational Department at Texas Tech is a gesture to placate an anticipated indignant public opinion rather than to furnish a constructive program for economy in teacher training.

Lions Hear

(Continued From Page One) be increased to its rightful figure of 10 per cent of the national production, the last mentioned figure would be increased about five times, or to over seven billion dollars in value. The bearing this volume of production would have on the prosperity of the State is apparent, especially when it is remembered that the industrial payroll dollar is estimated to turn over about 30 times per month in retail sales.

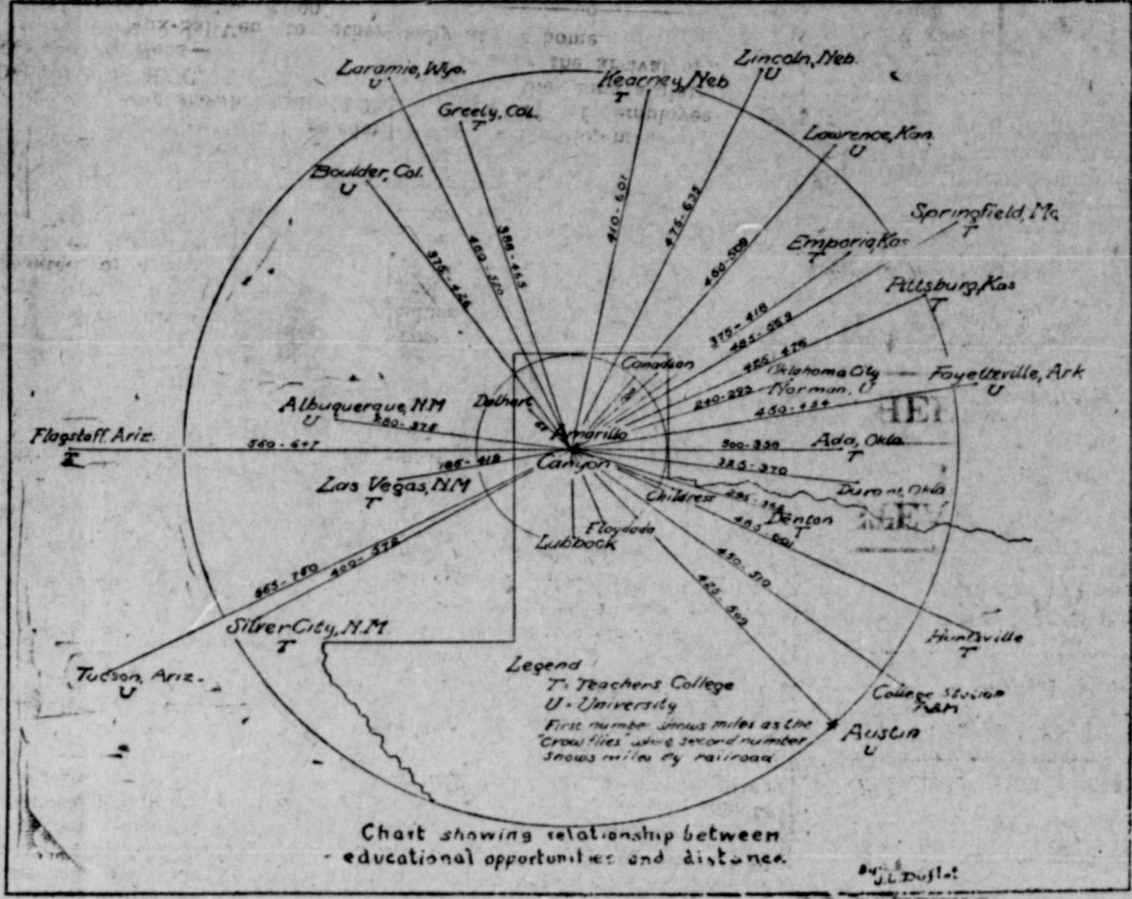

"Texas is first in the nation in the production of cotton, petroleum, natural gas, sulphur, wool, mohair and farm products," declared Mr. Braswell. "But the fact remains that a vast portion of our production of raw materials leaves the state to be manufactured into finished products and be sold back to us at a large difference in cost. For instance, we produce an enormous amount of hides, but buy back from shoe factories each year about $55,000,000 worth of shoes. And, in proportion, the same thing is true of many other manufactured lines for which we supply the raw materials. The future prosperity of Texas is closely related to the expansion and development of industrial plants in Texas, using the raw materials which Texas produces in such abundance."

After Closing Teachers College at Canyon, Then What?

By J. L. DUFLOT

The above chart reveals what would happen to teacher training in the Panhandle of Texas should the recommendations of the Joint Committee on Economy be adopted by the incoming legislature. Where would our prospective teachers go for professional training if the teachers college at Canyon were closed or reduced to junior college standing? The committee's implied answer to this question is: "Go down to the University of Texas, the A. and M. College, or to Denton, or to the Sam Houston Teachers College."

Suppose the legislature should seriously consider the proposals of this committee and virtually tell the people of the Panhandle to send their prospective teachers to one of the universities located, for example, at Tuscon, Arizona, Laramie, Wyoming, Boulder, Colorado, Lincoln, Nebraska, Lawrence, Kansas, or Fayetteville, Arkansas, all of which lie approximately in the same radius as Austin with Amarillo as the center, as indicated on the chart, the uprising in the Panhandle would be so violent that a division of the state would probably be demanded. This is exactly what the Joint Committee recommends when its actions are considered in terms of distances.

Teacher training institutions in Texas have as their objective the professionalization of the classroom teacher in the elementary and high schools. Liberal arts colleges which also include courses in Education are concerned primarily with the teaching of subject matter for its cultural value alone. The teachers college is no less diligent in emphasizing this ideal, but in addition, it has other specialized functions to perform, namely: those of developing a professional technique in classroom instruction, of familiarizing the student with a practical understanding of the variations of human nature manifested in childhood and adolescent behavior, and of acquainting him with the best principles and practices underlying educational organization and administration.

teachers go to secure instruction should the committee's recommendation be enacted into law? Probably it would suggest "Go down to Denton or Huntsville, Texas," as though these places were only a short distance from the Panhandle. If it had suggested that our prospective teachers go to such distances as Silver City, New Mexico, Flagstaff, Arizona, Greeley, Colorado, Kearney, Nebraska, Emporia or Pittsburg, Kansas, Durant, Oklahoma, or Springfield, Missouri, for this specialized training, the people of West Texas would treat the idea as a huge joke. But the Denton and Huntsville schools lie approximately in the same radius as the teacher training institutions in the cities just named.

A passing comment is in order on the committee's recommendations to convert the Denton and Huntsville teachers colleges into liberal arts colleges with departments of education as adjuncts to the curricula. This is a bold subterfuge to establish eventually only two teachers' colleges in Texas. Teachers' colleges in the United States have become as much a part of our educational system as the elementary and secondary schools. Texas is not going to be the only state in the Union having a recognized educational system and without teachers' colleges. The suggestion that the Denton and Huntsville teachers' colleges maintain four year college courses in the guise of liberal arts, and the other teachers' colleges be reduced to junior colleges is a very ingenious announcement to the people of Texas that only two teachers' colleges are to be provided for the future.

After the Canyon Teachers' College is closed, then what? One of two things will occur. Either the efficiency of the classroom teacher in the Panhandle area will eventually be lowered to what it was fifteen years ago, or, if the present standards are maintained, the positions will be filled by men and women from South Central Texas or from other states where teacher training facilities are provided. This college, like most others, draws seventy-five percent of its patronage from a radius of one hundred miles. Practically all of this number are financially unable to attend college at a greater distance. A glance at the small circle on the chart described about the Panhandle of Texas suggests clearly that the Joint Committee gave little consideration to the problem of developing educational leadership from the ranks of youth living in this area of the state.

It is reported that this committee received a sum of approximately $50,000.00 to make this survey in the interest of a money economy. If it had received a sum of $100,000.00 it might have strained the economy program to the point of recommending the abolition of all state institutions with the exception of the University of Texas and A. and M. This program would confine the opportunities of higher education to the people of Central Texas, leaving the people of West Texas the glorious privilege of paying taxes for the support of higher education without sharing its benefits.

"Did you see me come in?" "Yes." "Have you ever seen me before?" "No." "Well, how did you know it was me?"

TALKIES ARE MADE IN NEW TEXAS CAVE

CAVE NEAR BURNET WILL BE PICTURED IN SOUND BY PARAMOUNT CO.

(By Special Correspondent) Burnet, Texas, Jan. 3.—News of the recent development and opening of the gigantic Longhorn Cavern, located on State property between this city and Marble Falls, has aroused so much interest over the entire country that Paramount Pictures last week ordered a complete sound unit to the cavern from the East for the sole purpose of making sound movies amid the spectacular scenery in various sections of the labyrinth, according to Dr. Frank E. Nicholson, Speleologist for the Cavern, who made the announcement here today.

The Paramount pictures sound unit, in charge of Director Bill Hermann, arrived at the Cavern Friday morning, after several weeks preparation. Friday afternoon, night, Saturday and Sunday are required for making sufficient scenes for the Paramount release, Dr. Nicholson said.

Some of the scenes are being made in remote sections which Dr. Nicholson has just completed exploring. Atmospheric shots are being made in the Cathedral Room and in other large chambers now open to the public, utilizing the cavern's 18 cowboy guides, and several hundred local people. A number of the cowboys will ride horses down into the Grand Foyer, several hundred feet underground, for scenes to be taken there. The Friday night dance in the Subterranean Ballroom will also be photographed in sound.

In excess of eight miles of Subterranean territory within Longhorn Cavern has been explored, mapped and charted, under Dr. Nicholson's direction. The Cave is open every day to visitors.
