"1933 Jubilee" To Usher In New Year

Annual C. of C. Banquet Dedicated To Henry Ansley

GENE HOWE WILL DELIVER ADDRESS

COMMUNITY CHORUS TO BE FEATURE OF PROGRAM OF GOOD CHEER

Progress of the plans for the Annual Banquet and Membership Meeting of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce indicates that it will prove one of the most interesting of the long series of excellent programs for which the annual gatherings are noted.

Since it was at the 1932 annual meeting here that he first made his now nationally famous talk, "I Like the Depression," the program committee has decided to dedicate the 1933 program to the memory of Henry Ansley, whose tragic death during the past year cast gloom over the entire Panhandle section, where he was loved and admired as few men are. For more than a decade every annual meeting and banquet of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce was brightened by the presence and flashing wit of Henry Ansley, and the program committee is unanimous in the belief that the people of Clarendon will heartily approve their dedicating the program to his memory.

His co-worker for many years, Gene Howe, editor of the Amarillo News-Globe, better known to the world as Col. Erasmus Tack, the ractless Texan, will be present at the banquet, according to advice received by the committee this week. Clarendon folk know and love Gene Howe and his participation in the Henry Ansley Memorial program seems particularly appropriate to them. The program will be what Henry Ansley would have it be—an expression of that same buoyant, cheerful and optimistic spirit which was typical of the man.

A feature of the program will be a community chorus led by Sam M. Braswell in which the best singers of the city will be enlisted, and in whose singing the entire audience will be asked to join. This feature proved very popular at the banquet a year ago.

The annual banquet will be held at the Antro Hotel and, as is the custom, tickets will be placed on sale about a week in advance. A record-breaking attendance is expected by the committee.

"M" System Grocery Will Move to Corner

Ed Duncan, manager of the "M" System grocery store, announces that the store will be moved on Jan. 15th to the Latson building, occupying the corner soon to be vacated by the Clarendon Furniture Company. The move is prompted by the belief that the corner location will prove more convenient for the customers of the store, particularly from the standpoint of parking space.

As soon as the building is vacated by the furniture store, work will begin on slight alterations for the grocery store. The stairway will be moved from its present location and certain other changes will be made. It will not be possible for the "M" Store to occupy it until Jan. 15th. No announcement has been made as to the occupant of the building which will be vacated by the "M" System store.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Andrews were visitors in Clarendon Saturday with Mrs. Andrews' relatives. Mr. Andrews was formerly on the mechanical staff of The News, and is now one of the owners of the Gainesville Signal.

E. B. Antrobus and his son, Leroy, who have visiting since mid-November with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Antrobus, left Tuesday by auto for their home in New York City.

New Officers Will Assume Duties Jan. 2

Two new district officials and three new county officials will become active members of the courthouse official family Monday, Jan. 2.

John Deaver, of Memphis, will be the new district attorney, succeeding Jas. C. Mahan, of Wellington. Walker Lane succeeds A. H. Baker as district clerk. Among the county officers, S. W. Lowe becomes County Judge, succeeding J. J. Alexander. W. G. Word succeeds Mrs. B. G. Smith as County Clerk. Mrs. Richard Wilkerson will be the new County Treasurer, succeeding Mrs. Linnie Cauthen.

County officials who were re-elected and succeeded themselves in office are: Guy Pierce, Sheriff; M. W. Moseley, Tax Collector; Commissioners, Precinct No. 1, Sid Harris; Precinct 2, Roy Beverly; Precinct 3, Les Hawkins; Precinct 4, G. W. Beck.

THREE DIRECTORS WILL BE ELECTED

MEMBERS OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO NOMINATE SIX FOR VOTING

Members of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce will elect three new directors at the annual meeting and banquet which will be held on the night of January 17. The three members of the board whose terms expire this year are C. J. Douglas, E. R. Andis and J. E. Teer. Mr. Andis has served the organization as its president for the past year, with distinction to himself and credit to those who placed the responsibility upon his shoulders.

Directors who will remain on the Board for the year 1933 as hold-over members are W. W. Taylor, T. D. Nored, Bill Ray and D. R. Davis. They will serve for one more year and the three who are to be elected by the membership on Jan. 17th will serve two years.

Letters were recently mailed to all members of the Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by ballots for the nomination of six names from the membership, three to be elected from the high six on the night of the annual meeting. Officers of the body are elected subsequently by the directors from their own number.

The following list of members of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce were certified as en-

INCREASED RAIL TRAVEL REPORTED

VOLUME IS HEAVIER FOR HOLIDAYS THAN SAME TIME IN 1931

Ticket sales during the holidays were slightly heavier at the Ft. Worth & Denver ticket office this year than in 1931, according to Frank Johnson, cashier. "Some of the increase may be attributed to the prevailing weather, of course," said Mr. Johnson, "but the increase here parallels pretty closely the increase reported all over the country generally."

Reports of ticket sales out of Dallas indicate at least a 20 per cent increase over receipts for 1931. One T. & P. conductor stated that on one run he had the biggest business he had seen in ten years.

Perhaps the most encouraging feature of travel news is that passenger traffic officials state that there is noted an increase in advance reservations for accommodations from Texas points, particularly for points in the North and East.

POULTRY SHOW LOCATION NAMED

EXHIBITION WILL BE HELD IN FORMER "M" SYSTEM BUILDING

The Donley County Poultry Show on Jan. 6-7 will be held in the building formerly occupied by the "M" System grocery store, next to Clifford and Ray grocery, according to announcement made by G. L. Boykin, secretary of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce.

Every breeder of pure-bred poultry should arrange to have an exhibit of his birds in the show. There is no better way to acquaint the people of the section in which the show is held with the quality of birds grown by the exhibitor. If your birds are good enough that you would recommend the purchase of eggs or stock from you, it will pay to put them on exhibition.

Poultry shows not only afford opportunity for accepting orders for hatching eggs or baby chicks for spring delivery, but it often happens that visitors to poultry shows who have not been growing any chickens decidethat they will "take up chickens." Revival of an earlier interest in poultry growing frequently occurs. In this way local exhibitors often reap a direct benefit from showing their birds.

Any who are interested in showing their birds are requested to see G. L. Boykin for further particulars about the show.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bell, of the JA Ranch, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Williams, of Pampa, were holiday visitors in the home of their parents, Judge and Mrs. A. T. Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bentley, of McLean, Mrs. Wynne Collier, of Post, and Miss Verna Latson, of Amarillo, spent the Christmas week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Latson.

Revival Services at Lelia Lake Continue

JAS. L. STANDRIDGE

Evangelist Jas. L. Standridge, of Plainview, Texas, is doing the preaching in the revival which began last Sunday at the Lelia Lake Church of Christ.

Services are held twice daily, at 11:00 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. There will be three services next Sunday and everyone in reach of Lelia Lake is cordially invited to attend. Visitors will be well cared for.

The meeting, it is stated, will continue into the first part of next week.

MOVE LAW OFFICES

The law firm of Cole and Porter, composed of A. T. Cole and J. R. Porter, have moved their office from the Goldston building to a suite of rooms on the second floor of the Antro Hotel.

Office equipment and law libraries were moved Wednesday to the new location, where the members of the firm invite their friends to visit them.

M. and Mrs. R. E. Koiner, of Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Simmons, of Dallas, were holiday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stewart.

COURT OF HONOR ON FRIDAY NIGHT

SIXTEEN BOY SCOUTS ARE CANDIDATES FOR AWARD OF MERIT BADGES

Sixteen Clarendon Boy Scouts, who are applicants for Badges of merit for passing tests of various kinds, will appear before the local Court of Honor for review and awards of Badges Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Court of Honor will be held at the First Baptist church, the members of the Court being Joe Goldston, S. W. Lowe and W. C. Stewart. The court will be assisted by Scoutmaster S. L. Tidwell and Assistant Scoutmaster Lee Vaughan.

During the evening a program will be given, including demonstrations of several tests which Scouts must pass for badge awards. Talks will be made by G. L. Boykin, on "Scouting and its application to life"; by R. E. Drennan, on "The Need of Scouting," and by C. A. Clark, of Pampa, on "The Scout Movement and the Ten-Year Plan." Mr. Clark is Scout Executive of the Adobe Walls Council Area. The local Scout organization is known as Troop No. 37.

The general public, and parents of participating scouts in particular, are urged to attend the Court of Honor. To any who have never attended a Court of Honor, the proceedings will prove very interesting and impressive, and their presence will be encouraging and inspiring to Boy Scouts and their Scout Masters.

Miss Claire Marie Braswell, after spending the Christmas holidays here with her family, will return Friday to Houston, where she is a member of the staff of the Jefferson Davis Municipal hospital. In addition to her work as laboratory technician, Claire Marie is student nurse instructor in bacteriology and chemistry.

Ray Couch To Become Manager Lowe Store

Ray Couch will assume full management of the S. W. Lowe grocery store on Monday, Jan. 2, according to the statement today of Mr. Lowe, who takes up, on the same day, his duties of County Judge in Donley County.

Mr. Couch has been associated with Mr. Lowe for almost nine years, and is thoroughly familiar with every detail of the store's operation. "I expect to give my entire time to the discharge of the duties of county judge," said Mr. Lowe, and Ray will do all the buying and will pass on all credit arrangements. Knowing him as I have come to know him, I have complete faith in his ability to relieve me of all responsibility in the management of the store."

Ray's many friends will be gratified over the responsibilities thus placed on him and will doubtless assist him in every possible way to the achievement of a deserved success.

LIONS MAY HELP SAVE BOY'S EYES

LIFE OF JUDGE DONLEY REVIEWED BY PORTER AT CLUB LUNCHEON

A little Clarendon lad, whose eyes are becoming so badly crossed that blindness is threatening, may become the special charge of the Clarendon Lions Club, following a report of his case to the club at its Tuesday luncheon.

The plight of the boy was related to a member of the club by one of the teachers in the city schools, who brought it to the attention of the club, with the result that the Blind and Crippled Children's committee was instructed to investigate the case and make recommendations to the club.

The program of this week's meeting was in charge of Judge J. R. Porter, who presented his part of the series of "Know Texas" talks which is being heard now by the Lions Club. His subject was "Texas Jurists." After a brief, but very interesting, discussion of present-day court procedure, certain phases of whose "slowness" the speaker defended, Judge Porter read a memoir of Judge Stockton P. Donley, from whom Donley County was named. The memoir

ROTARIANS HEAR TALK BY FERRELL

FORMER SUPT. J. E. NELSON VISITOR AT CLUB LUNCHEON FRIDAY

Observance of Christmas featured the program of the Rotary Club at its regular meeting Friday at the Clarendon Hotel, with President O. L. Jenkins presiding.

The full program period was given to Rotarian W. E. ("Bill") Ferrell, minister of First Christian church, who made an unusually interesting talk on the coming of earth of Christ, whose birthday we celebrate at Christmas.

An interesting illustration of the assumption of the human form by Christ was drawn by the speaker from nature. A group of children, he said, watched their mother disturb an ant-bed by stirring up the soil and pebbles which surround it. The ants appeared very troubled and unhappy. The mother told the children that she would like to tell the ants to quiet down and that no further harm would come to them. "How could I go about

LIONS INVITE ALL TO MIDNIGHT PARTY

"FORGET 1932 WITH A SMILE" IS SLOGAN OF COUNTY WIDE AFFAIR

"Forget 1932 With a smile" and "Greet 1933 with Courage, Enthusiasm and Determination" is the idea behind the Watch Night Party to be staged on the streets of Clarendon here Saturday night December 31st.

Everybody in Clarendon and Donley County are invited to come to Clarendon and assist in letting 1932 slide into history with as little jar as possible, and to greet the new opportunities of 1933 with combined pep and enthusiasm according to T. D. Nored, chairman of the committee of local Lions Club which is sponsoring the affair, and every effort is being put forth to make the party the greatest single event of the old year, and setting up a mark for 1933 to shoot at right from the start.

Regardless of the weather, the gathering will be in the streets at the bank corners, and the hour of assembly is 11:30. A short ceremony will be staged a few minutes before the old year dies, then all will stand quietly and at attention while "Taps" is sounded, then the local band will break into a lively and brilliant march, stepping off up the street followed by everybody who pledges to go into the New Year with a smile and determination to do a better job of living in 1933. The parade will end about 1:15 and 1933 will have been ushered in with the best wishes and greetings of everybody.

There will be old fashioned anvil-shooting and everybody is urged to bring some sort of noise-maker with them. Anything from a mechanical siren to a dishpan and a base-ball bat goes. Whistles, horns, combs, anything with which to do your individual part in adding to the great volume of joyousness in the New Year welcome.

No cars will be allowed in the parade. The streets will be cleared of moving vehicles, and the parade will be individual, on foot. The Lions want the party to be a personal matter with everybody, and the whole big idea is to spread a thick layer of cheerfulness and enthusiasm for the duties and opportunities of the New Year.

Come. Be there by 11:30, to get up next to the stand where Chariman T. D. Nored will preside, and where the instructions for the Jubilee will be announced. Come hear the anvil-shooting as in days of the long-ago. Come bring your own best noise-maker and do your part in making the "33 Jubilee" the peppiest hop-off any New Year ever saw.

Remember—1933 Jubilee, 11:30 o'clock, Saturday night, Dec. 31st, right here on the streets of Clarendon. Everybody invited, everybody welcome, everybody expected.

To The Little Folks

Many of you were greatly disappointed last week when you searched through The News for your letters to Santa Claus. We can not tell you how very sorry the News is that all the letters could not be crowded in. We received at least three columns of letters too late to get them in.

But there's another Christmas coming next year, when you can write your letters earlier and be sure of getting them in The News before Old Santa Claus comes. We hope each of you had a merry, happy Christmas!

Miss Lodie Green, who is attending school in Dallas, is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Greene.

BUSY BREWERIES WANTED?

In the Independence (Mo.) Examiner, Wm. Southern, Jr., tells a story which has not had wide circulation, but which is said actually to have occurred. When the Missouri Press Association met at St. Louis a few weeks ago, the editors and their wives were invited to visit the Anheuser-Busch brewing plant, which covers ten acres of ground. The entertainment was quite pleasant and the visitors were shown the fine machinery, told what a boon to suffering humanity nice, cool, refreshing, healthful beer would be, and given a nice luncheon.

When the resolutions committee reported there was, of course, as there should have been, a paragraph thanking the brewery owners for the entertainment. But there was added a line expressing the hope that it would not be long before the big plant would be busy again. These were not the words, but the meaning of the resolution. Did that line get by? It did not. Obscure as it was, a pleasant gesture only, it seemed for a few minutes that the meeting was in for a hot fight. Cool heads prevailed and a motion was adopted deleting the objectionable lines.

THEIR IDEA OF IMPORTANT BUSINESS

It appears now that the all-important question before the next Congress, in the opinion of its members at least, is, "When do we have our beer?"

Shades of departed statesmen! With a nation submerged in economic despair, our Representatives and Senators apparently think that American citizens think that beer and light wines, made strong and of old-time flavor, are all that the country needs. Misinterpreting utterly the unparalleled vote for the Democratic ticket as a "mandate" on them for the destruction of the 18th Amendment, they fail to see it as a protest vote against "things as they are."

The saving hope of the situation is that a befuddled Congress is going to have difficulty in setting aside that same amendment. Legal beer has a rocky road to travel before it can become a reality.

THE HORSE'S COMEBACK

A South Dakota newspaper reports on a survey of hitching posts in smaller towns of that State. It finds a startling increase in numbers and deduces therefrom evidence of a renaissance of the horse. The horse is coming back on the farms of South Dakota, says the newspaper, reporting that horse-drawn rigs are even making their appearance in the transport of farm goods and farm families to the towns.

The farmer has an example of what the new term "technocracy" may imply in his own business. He has grain of all sorts that has a slow market at low prices. He has to buy the gasoline and oil to operate automobile, truck or tractor, but the horse will operate on the grain already in the farmer's bin.

It would require a re-direction of all the trends of rural development to bring about a return of the horse to his former place in the farm picture. Such a complete restoration may never come. But the horse has come back to some extent as a farm draft animal, as a result of grain prices below the cost of production.

—Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

THE FEE SYSTEM

The evils for which the fee system in Texas is responsible are by no means limited to the fact that many officials receive therefrom excess remuneration. Much of its malefic influence is due to the incentive which it gives to pile up needless expenses for needless services.

The filing of charges which are practically certain to be dismissed involves fees. The summoning of more witnesses than are needed means fees for somebody. The temptation to officials to sit themselves down and devise schemes for getting money for that which is not worth money ought not to be in the law. But it is there. "White" graft is graft, just the same.

Legislators from Dallas are now studying this question. It is good for them to give it attention carefully and in the light of all the information they can obtain. But merely limiting the gross amount of fees which one man may receive doesn't within itself cut the cost of litigation nor solve all the problems of the system.—Dallas News.

A long time ago One who knew the peculiarities of men said, "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country"—words which have a bearing on the thought that most of us who were inclined to hoot at the business prophets who warned us of stock market crashes and other noises incident to crumbling fortunes, are just as gloomily hooting at the same prophets who are now telling us that the picture looks brighter.

Recently a widely known statistician made public a letter which he said he would write to his clients in January, 1935. In it he called to their attention the fact that in January, 1933, the upturn in business had already started and that signs of improvement were to be seen on every hand, yet the average American could see nothing but gloom nor feel anything but deep despair.

Isn't it a good time to begin to spread the gospel of Good Cheer? Would it not be much more of a tonic to a sick world? Does it help matters to be saying, with woe-begone face, "I don't see any chance for improvement for a long time?" Why can't we recognize the truth that, tough as things have been, they might have been a lot worse, and that having the "blues" never helped anybody?

Fortunes have been built in the past, vast fortunes, by men who knew that a good time to buy is when things are cheap. That there really is a lot of money in the U. S. is shown by the fact that a few days ago 31 million dollars' worth of U. S. securities, bearing the ridiculous interest rate of three-fourths of one per cent, was oversubscribed 16 times. So afraid to buy other cheap, but fundamentally sound, securities that they were willing to buy securities that would require $100,000 worth to earn them an income of $62.50 a month!

The point is that men, everywhere, are waiting for evidence of a return of confidence—that psychological state of mind which the last three years has almost destroyed. Lack of it is paralyzing, to the individual and to a whole nation. No "captain of industry" has ever had anything to command unless he had confidence—first, in his own ability and then in that phase of industry in which he was interested. We of Donley county have come to have confidence in the ability of our soil and climate to produce an amazing succession of good crops. Even in the face of adverse markets for those crops, there is a comforting sense of security in regularity of crops. "Hard times" has taught the brainy how to make the best use of crops which can not be sold to an advantage for cash. If the lessons learned are not forgotten when "good times" come back, they will be worth a lot of money—set up as reserve or used to clear homes and farms of indebtedness, rather than in unwise expansion of business or farming enterprises.

In Nacogdoches county home industries demonstrators have been busy making and selling 51 hooked rugs according to the report of Miss Norma Stokes, home demonstration agent of that county, for which seven demonstrators received $216. Eleven of these rugs were sold at the State Fair at Dallas, while the forty others were sold locally.

WHO'S GOING TO EXPLAIN THIS?

Well, all we got to say about this beer and debt business is that the counties too poor to pay what they owe are the counties that already have their beer.—Dallas News

BUTTER-AND-EGG CROP IS WORTH TWICE AS MUCH AS WHEAT

Few people realize that the annual butter and egg production of the United States is worth more than twice as much as the entire wheat crop. Of even greater importance is the fact that instead of being a seasonal source of revenue, available once a year, it is an all-year-round cash crop. In 1930 the farm value of the wheat crop was $566,000,000; of butter $608,000,000, and of eggs $789,000,000.—Progressive Texans, Inc.

Wheeler county beef cattle feeding demonstrators who sold 461 head in November found they had gotten $11.21 per ton for their grain sorghums fed to these cattle. There are 4272 head still on feed in the county, according to the county agent.

Over 100,000 Texans Dependent On Highway Program for Daily Bread

NEW ORGANIZATION'S SOLE AIM IS CONTINUANCE OF HIGHWAY WORK

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 16.—Following completion of organization of the Texas Good Roads Association here this week, the aim of this new state-wide agency was outlined by Judge W. O. Huggins, president.

The sole aim of the association is to see that highway construction and maintenance in Texas is continued, and the membership will be composed of Texas car owners who, by joining forces in such an organization, can constitute a force they would not have as individuals. Directors form each congressional district in the state will be announced shortly.

The first duty of the association, President Huggins feels, is to give every Texan the true picture of the state's highway situation. At the outset, general tax money was used to pay on county bonds to help pay for state roads. By this tax, the user of the roads paid a sort of toll, or road rent, in proportion to the amount he used the roads.

Out of this gas tax today, which is four cents per gallon, one cent goes to the state school fund, and one cent to the refunding of county bonds issued in earlier years to build state roads. This leaves two cents per gallon from which the entire system of highways must be maintained, and new roads built. The total amount, some $15,000,000, can be made to cover maintenance and a moderate construction program, when combined with available Federal aid.

So the prime purpose of the association is to unite to preserve the two remaining cents of the gas tax to road building and road maintenance purely.

With legislators everywhere seeking new sources of revenue, there is an increasing temptation to seek to divert more of the gas tax money to non-highway purposes.

The association is urging all citizens who grant the value of the good roads in Texas today to impress upon their neighbors and their legislators the need for keeping this money for road purposes only, in order that present roads may be kept up and the system finished.

Present roads must be maintained or the heavy investment in them will be lost. A moderate program of new road-building must be carried on, or millions in Federal aid will be lost.

And in addition to this, with 20,000 men now on the payrolls of the highway department and contractors doing the work, with many thousands more making road materials and with 30,000 more employed in associated lines of endeavor, a total of more than 100,000 men, women and children of Texas are dependent upon the highway program for their daily bread.

The association, Judge Huggins emphasizes, is non-political and thoroughly non-partisan. It endorses or condemns no program or set of officials. It is not interested in what administration spends the money for roads. It merely wants to arouse the entire citizenship of the state to the proposition that Texas' highway system must be maintained and carried forward, and that the only way this can be done is for the remaining two cents of the gas tax to be preserved for roads alone, and not diverted for any other purposes.

In addition to Judge Huggins, who is editor of the Houston Chronicle, and a pioneer worker for adequate roads, the association's officials are Col. Ike Ashburn, General Manager, Houston, and Marshall R. (Dan) Diggs, Financial Secretary, in charge of the Dallas office.

SPORTS

SPORT SPUTERS
BY O. C. WATSON, JR.

The Masons finally met their Waterloo Monday, when the Corsicana Tigers nosed them out to win the state schoolboy championship. There were no scores, but Corsicana won on 20 yard penetrations. Corsicana can say one thing and that is that they certainly got all of the breaks to win the game. From Cy Leland's viewpoint of the game the fans of that part of the state certainly have no consideration for the players as they took entire control of the field.

I see that Pittsburg is favored to win the annual Rose Bowl game and that the West is favored over the East in their annual game.

With school out and football just about over Sport Sutters can hardly find anything to write about. Here's wishing every one a happy and prosperous New Year.

New Mexico came Saturday for a week's visit with her father, Mr. C. H. Ellis.

Mrs. McElvaney and daughters, Jewel and Christol of Amarillo, came Saturday for a several days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Claude Morton.

Miss June Taylor left Wednesday evening to spend the winter with relatives in Houston. She goes to enter school.

Hints for the Household

BY BETTY WEBSTER

COOKING HINTS
Sausage
A pretty platter laden with apples fried in butter and a dash of sugar surrounded with golden brown sausages is an appetizing luncheon dish to serve to intimate friends and it is also a nice family dinner.

To Fry Sausage
Sausages sometimes break while cooking. I find by first rolling them in flour and then frying them that they seldom break and fry a prettier brown.

Batter Proportions
To-day nearly every recipe calls for level measurements. However, there are some old time recipes we all like to use and it is well to have in mind right proportions in order to understand some recipes.

A thin batter equals one measure of flour to one measure of liquid.
A puffin batter equals two measures of flour to one measure of liquid.
A soft dough equals three measures of flour to one measure of liquid. (Can knead.)

Pastry or cookie dough equals four measures of flour to one measure of liquid.

Ham and Cabbage
A ham butt.
Cabbage.
Method: Cook the ham butt for at least 2 hours. About 3/4 of an hour before serving add cabbage which has been cleaned and quartered. Boil together until cabbage is done. Skin ham. Place on platter. Put cabbage around ham. By adding boiled potatoes a good complete meal is made.

Candied Grapefruit
1 quart grapefruit peel.
3/4 pound sugar.
Method: Cut grapefruit rinds in pieces and soak in slightly salt water for a day and a half. Drain off water and put cold water on. Boil rapidly for 10 minutes. Change water and boil in this manner 4 times. Drain off all water and leave rinds perfectly dry. Add most of sugar and stir. Cook slowly over slow fire. Stir well. When it begins to crystallize stir rapidly. Empty on oiled paper and sprinkle well with sugar.

BAKING HINTS
Pineapple Cake
One-third cup butter.
2 egg yolks.
2 cups flour.
Two-thirds cups sugar.
One-half cup pineapple juice.
2 teaspoons of baking powder.
2 egg whites.
Method: Cream butter and sugar. Add beaten egg yolks, flour, baking powder and pineapple juice. Last of all fold in beaten egg whites. Bake in layer tins.

Make a Filling
Two-thirds cup of milk.
1 egg.
1 cup grated pineapple.
2 tablespoons of cornstarch.
3 tablespoons of sugar.
1 tablespoon of lemon juice.
Little salt.
Method: Scald milk. Pour over cornstarch and sugar. Cook 10 minutes. Then add pineapple, egg, and salt. Cook until it thickens. Ice with an icing as follows.
Use 1 teaspoon of lemon juice.
Pineapple juice.
4 times as much sugar as pineapple juice.

Cranberry Pie
1 cup of sugar.
One-half cup cold water.
2 cups of cranberries.
One-half teaspoon of butter.
One-half teaspoon of vanilla.
2 eggs.
Method: Boil sugar and water together. When sugar is dissolved add cranberries. Cook until they all "pop". Cool. Mix yolks of eggs, flour and 3 tablespoons cooked cranberries. Add to cooled berries. Simmer a few minutes until mixture thickens. Add butter and vanilla. Pour into baked pie shell. Cover with meringue and bake.

"A NEW YEAR'S PROGRAM"

Text:—"Let us go on to Perfection." Heb. 6:1
Every year is a fresh beginning. Every January is the world made new. The new year is a new opportunity. Let us resolve to make the most of it. Let us all push on toward perfection.

1. Let us "go on" to more knowledge. Christian knowledge lies at the foundation of Christian Character. "Desire the sincere milk of the word, that we may grow thereby."
2. Let us "go on" to richer experiences. Know and you will feel. Feel and you will pray. Every day of the new year can be made to bring us richer experiences of Christian delights.
3. Let us "go on" to higher attainments. Pray and you will aspire. First principles are important, but there are things still higher and nobler to attain—personal intimacy with Christ, the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, power in prayer, growing sensitiveness to sin—into the mysteries of things like these, the Christian should be stirred with a nobler discontent to enter.

4. Let us "go on" to larger usefulness. Know and you will feel. Feel and you will pray. Pray and you will aspire. Aspire and you will work. Let us work for God as never before during this coming year. God will use us if we are willing. Let us be ambitious to make the most of ourselves, and do the most possible good for God and His Church. The time is short. New Year's Day is a milestone of the way that leads to eternity. We are all heading that way, we have only one life to live, so let us realize its utmost possibilities. 1933 will be carved on the tombstones of many that are now living. While we are yet alive let us "go on" toward perfection, and seek to merit the great reward God has in store for the faithful.
Sunday morning we will bring a message on "New Year Resolutions." There are seven major resolutions that every Christian should make and abide by. At the evening hour, our subject will be: "Sojourners." In this sermon we desire to show that we are all "sojourners" and are bound for a better land.—W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

IN SOCIETY

Miss Lorraine Patrick, Editor

Miss Nettie Sims Is Hostess

Society has donned her gala attire for the yuletide, and the calendar has been filled with numerous parties and dances.

One of the loveliest affairs of the week was given Sunday evening when Miss Nettie Sims entertained with a buffet supper at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sims, Sr.

The house made a pretty setting with the bright green and red rope and Christmas bells. A tall gaily adorned Christmas tree completed the yuletide decorations.

In the dining room Mrs. John Sims, Jr., and Mrs. Lonnie Merrell presided over the charmingly appointed table.

Those attending included: Mr. and Mrs. Meade Haile, Mr. and Mrs. John Sims, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Louie Merrell, Misses Mary Cooke, Lorraine Patrick, Mary Jo Chamberlain and Messrs. Edley Crabtree, Dick Cooke, and Frank Taylor of Dallas.

Berkley Ryan Entertains

On Thursday evening Miss Berkley Ryan entertained with a Yuletide dance for her friends, at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Sella Gentry.

The room was green and fragrant with Christmas evergreens and flowers. Dancing and light refreshments were enjoyed throughout the evening with the Six Merry Makers furnishing the music.

Guests for the evening were: Misses Jo Ella Stewart, Evelyn Murphy, Marjorie White, Louise Adamson, Eleanor Morris, Geraldine Pratt, Vera Noland, Jean Bourland, Carroll Holder, Pauline Shelton, Elizabeth Kemp, Helen Lawler, Pauline Sanford, Dorothy Jo Taylor, Nola Gordon, Travis Dyer.

Messrs. Roy Stargel, Willard Skelton, Lloyd Benson, Lloyd Martin, Mike Stricklin, Byrum Haile, Johnnie Blocker, Kenneth Brown, Alex Cooke, Price and Lawrence Whitlock, Alfred McMurtry, Clayton Powell, Phillips and Benton Smith, Fred Bourland, Dick Nichols, Bill Word, Arthur Chase, Artis Patman, Elery Watson, Hubert Reavis, Hollis Leathers, Carroll Hudson, O. C. Watson, Jr., Paul and Billy Greene, Willis Ready, Ray Roberts, John Bolles, Henry Wilder, and James Smith.

Good Will Club Honor Husbands

Mrs. Lucian Bones was charming hostess to members of the 1930 Good Will Club last Thursday afternoon at her home.

The afternoon was spent in decorating the attractive Christmas tree and house for the party that the club gave that evening honoring their husbands.

When they had finished, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess to: Messrs. Melvin Cook, Don Martin, A. O. Yates, C. R. Gamblin, L. D. Carlisle, Si Johnson, and Will Johnson.

The next meeting will be Jan. 5th, with Mrs. Nash Blasingame as hostess at the home of Mrs. Si Johnson.

When the club members and guests of the 1930 Good Will Club gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Bones Thursday evening, a beautiful tree greeted them and the congenial crowd spent an enjoyable evening.

With one of the club members acting as Santa Claus, gifts were distributed to everyone. Later games that were popular "when mother was a girl" were played to the delight of everyone. During the evening both Miss Cook and little Miss Dorris Bones gave clever readings.

A buffet supper was enjoyed by: Mr. and Mrs. Si Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cook, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gamblin, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin, Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. King, Mrs. Blanche Oden, Mrs. Claudine Ratcliff, Mr. Homer Bones, Mr. Bill Wood, Miss Delphia Bones, and Miss Noya Cook.

Stag Party

G. L. Boykin was genial host to a group of his friends Wednesday evening when he entertained with a stag domino party at his home.

Making it a success were: Geo. Bagby, Joe and Tom Goldston, Seldon Bagby, Bill Patman, Poloh Kerbow, T. H. Ellis, Clyde Douglas, Ira Merchant, Clyde Price, T. R. Brown, Frank Whitlock, and Guy Stricklin.

Batson—King

The marriage on Christmas Eve, 1932, of Miss Wilma King to Mr. Rice Batson was the culmination of a romance that had its budding in the Clarendon College days of the bride, Mr. Batson being connected at the time with the Potts-McGowan barber shop.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. King, of Lelia Lake. Mr. Batson is the youngest son of Mrs. Z. O. Batson of Memphis.

At the twilight hour the marriage rites were impressively read at the Presbyterian manse by Rev. Robert S. McKee. The bride was lovely in powder blue crepe, floor length, with rhinestone ornaments and accessories in black. In company with the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Quinn Aten, the latter a sister of the groom. Immediately after the ceremony a delicious plate lunch was served to the bridal party by Mrs. McKee.

The bride was graduated from Clarendon High School, attended the Junior College and subsequently pursued her studies at Texas Tech. College at Lubbock. She then taught two years at Ashtola and at present is a member of the Lelia Lake faculty, teaching the primary grade.

Mr. Batson operates a barber shop in Lelia Lake, locating there two years ago. After Jan. 1 Mr. and Mrs. Batson will be at home in Lelia Lake.

Informal Dance

An informal dance which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present was given Monday evening by Miss Pauline Shelton at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shelton.

Those attending were: Misses Pauline Sanford, Dorothy Jo Taylor, Jean Bourland, Carroll Holder, Elizabeth Kemp, Travis Dyer, Berkley Ryan, Dorothy Headrick of Amarillo.

Messrs. Carroll Hudson, Johnnie Blocker, Byrum Haile, Benton Smith, Bill Word, Dick Nichols, Clayton Powell, Fred Bourland, and Lawrence Bourland of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Bain—Baskerville

News has been received of the marriage of Mr. Olin Bain of this city to Miss Martha Baskerville of Memphis, Texas, in that city Wednesday evening at six o'clock at the parsonage of the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. Phil Couch of Clarendon and the bride's aunt were the only attendants.

Mrs. Bain has resided in Memphis all of her life and has been a popular member of the younger set of that city. She is a graduate of Memphis High School and attended a Nursing School in Wichita Falls.

The groom is associated with his brothers in the management of the O. K. Cafe and the young couple will make their home here. The News joins with their many friends in wishing them a long and happy life.

Camp Fire Girls Have Christmas Party

Last Thursday night the Now-tompatamin Troop of the Camp Fire Girls were entertained at a Christmas Party given by Oleta Wood. Games were played until a late hour when refreshments were served to Misses Virginia Butler, Elizabeth Sanders, Imogene Pitts, Earline Pitts, Nell Cook, Jene McDonald, Zella Ruth Nored, Fannie Mae Satche, Rebecca Welch, Kathleen Oden and Messrs. George Wayne Estlack, Billy Cooke, Bobby Wilson, Eugene Butler, Joe Montgomery, James Welch, Wesley Powell, Garland Wood, Ralph Grady, Boyd Woods, The guardian, Frances Choate, and hostess, Oleta Wood. After all boys had departed, ten girls remained for a slumber party.

Beaux Arts Exhibit Next Week

An exhibit of all-American pottery will be shown by the Beaux Arts Club at the Parish house the afternoons of Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, Jan. 3, and 4. It will be open from 2 to 5:30 p. m. without charge. No sales will be made as this is a selection sent out by the general federation of clubs. It contains an example of every outstanding pottery unit in America. The club wishes all, not only of the city, but other communities, to visit this exhibit.

Ernest and D. B. Pope spent Christmas Day in Quannah with their father.

Mrs. Chamberlain Is Hostess

Among the truly enjoyable affairs of the past week was the entertaining of the Contract Club by Mrs. Kelly Chamberlain last Thursday afternoon at her lovely home.

The entertaining suite was made more attractive by the unusually pretty Christmas decorations and the sprigs of mistletoe. In the games of contract bridge, Mrs. Ira Merchant was awarded high score and received a lovely prize.

After the conclusion of the games a delectable two course afternoon luncheon was served. Those attending were: Mrs. Earl Alexander, Miss Mary Cooke and Mrs. Charlie Trent, club members.

Mrs. Meade Haile, Mrs. Seldon Bagby, Mrs. Parke Chamberlain, Mrs. Ira Merchant, Mrs. Meredith Gentry, Miss Mary Jo Chamberlain, and Misses Lorraine and Elgin Patrick, guests.

Sims P. T. A. Program In January

On the first Thursday in January, which will be Jan. 5th, the Sims Parent-Teachers Association will hold their first meeting of the new year and they urge all members to attend. At their last meeting they voted to adopt the Junior Band and so this time they will meet in the band room at the old Grammar School Building, at which time the band will give a fifteen minute concert. The remainder of the program will be in charge of Mrs. John M. Bass and is as follows:

Piano Duet—Phoebe Ann Buntin and Zella Ruth Nored; Dialogue—Vivian McGowan and Rosalyn Bass; Piano Solo—Dorothy Ann Kennedy; Harp—Lovie Beavers; Piano duet—Eloise Hill and Ila Deal; and a short talk by Mrs. Bass on "Benefits of Music in the Community and the Schools."

Buffet Supper

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Merchant were charming host and hostess to members of their Night Club when they entertained with a Buffet supper and Christmas tree Tuesday evening.

When the guests had assembled they enjoyed a delicious buffet supper after which the gaily bedecked Christmas tree with its varied gifts, lights and tinsel made every one happy.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Phillips Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. Seldon Bagby, Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Gentry, and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Stegall.

BRAY

Christmas passed off quietly. Santa Claus must have lost most of his pack before he arrived in our part of the country as he was not very heavily loaded when he passed our way.

My but we are glad to see the sun shine again after being snowed in so long.

Those attending the Christmas dinner and family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Robinson were Mr. and Mrs. G. Christenson and children of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. H. Folley and children, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Malone and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Griffin.

African Pygmies are Elephant Hunters

Strange tales about the most unusual tribe of savages in Africa, the Pygmies, are to be related by Carveth Wells, Fellow of the Royal Geographic Society and Continental Oil Company radio entertainer in his regular broadcast Wednesday night, Jan. 4, over N. B. C.

According to Wells, the hunters of this diminutive but very old race, which lives in the great Ituri forest of the Belgian Congo, are as agile as monkeys and can kill an elephant in short order by shooting him full of poisoned arrows. They handle a bow so well that they can have three arrows in the air at the same time and hit a target with each of them. Wells also tells about the little known Semang pygmies who inhabit the Malay peninsula.

The Conoco program may be heard by local listeners who tune in on stations WFAA, KOA or WOAI, Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock.

MELLOWED
YEARS

While brutes grew coats of mail
in OKLAHOMA

MILLIONS of years ago Nature buried in Oklahoma certain priceless complex chemical compounds. Ages went by—long ages which saw the rise and fall of life in strange forms. And little by little, heat and pressure began to have its effect. Cambro-Ordovician crude oil was in the making!

Today the drills of Sinclair oil men have bitten deep into the soil of Oklahoma and tapped this treasure trove. Piped to the great Sinclair refineries and carefully refined and blended, Cambro-Ordovician crude oil becomes Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil, a product resulting from man's exhaustive care and Nature's 80 million years of priceless treatment.

Man's part in producing Opaline is all-important. In order that you shall have full value for your money, Sinclair not only de-waxes Opaline—it goes one step further and removes the non-lubricating petroleum jelly by chilling the oil down to as low as 60° F. below zero. An extra step taken by few refiners besides Sinclair!

Have the nearest Sinclair dealer change your oil to Sinclair Opaline according to the Sinclair Law of Lubrication Index. Notice how quietly your engine runs. Then, at the next draining period examine the used Opaline. Observe how it still holds its rich lubricating body—how little oil has been used up!

REMEMBER: Sinclair offers you your choice—Sinclair Opaline, made from the oldest Mid-continent crudes, or Sinclair Pennsylvania, made from the costliest Pennsylvania grade crude.

New Chevrolets Add Over 85,000 People to Payrolls of Nation

TOP: New 1933 Chevrolet roadster climbing hill at General Motors Proving Ground. LEFT: New Fisher "No-Draft" Ventilation system illustrating how each passenger may have individually-controlled ventilation instead of being subjected to a sweep of air through the car, with resultant discomfort and danger to health. RIGHT: New rear-end of all closed models screening all unsightly underparts of the car.

Chevrolet's public showing of its new 1933 line means a material spurt to national employment and materials consumption, since this company is the largest manufacturer in the largest industry in the world. More than 85,000 people are back at work, 30,000 in the company's twenty domestic factories, 21,000 more in Fisher body plants working exclusively on Chevrolet-Fisher bodies, and more than 30,000 in dealerships throughout the nation. As many more are indirectly benefited by the announcement, through making their livelihood by building parts for the car which Chevrolet buys from independent suppliers. Chevrolet's 1933 volume totals nearly 400,000 cars and trucks with a retail value in excess of $200,000,000. This is said to be one of the greatest contributions made by any company this year to the economic welfare of America. In the new line, now on display at all dealers, is a variety of models featuring longer wheelbase, new Fisher "No-Draft" Ventilation and many other features which the company has designed to retain for it the leadership in the industry it has enjoyed for four years out of the past six. Other features included in the new line are more power and speed in the engine, which is newly cushion-mounted; improved free wheeling, plus Synco-Mesh transmission with Silent Second gear; a new "Starterator" that greatly simplifies starting; such safety elements as shatter-proof glass in the windshield; larger and lower bodies by Fisher, in the new "Air-Stream" model; three fewer controls, with really automatic features in some of those retained; an Oil-Check Selector that insures the highest possible operating efficiency from all grades of gasoline; besides a uniform gasoline cost per mile; dash instruments of airplane type, for instant, easy reading; positive brakes; and still easier steering.

With all these, and many more, the price range continues to be mindful of the buyer's pocketbook. It has been found possible to equip the new Chevrolets with many features that used to be confined to cars selling at several times Chevrolet's base price. Since October first, trained former employees have been going back to work in Chevrolet's widely distributed manufacturing and assembly plants, with welcome additions to the general purchasing power, made possible by more wage money in circulation. Throughout November, the increase in employment continued to a seasonal peak to the middle of December, when concentrated operations incident to prompt dealer stocking were in full swing. More than twenty million dollars worth of the new cars were in dealers' hands when the national introduction was made.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor. From a 6-acre tract of land that produced less than 100 pounds of small native pecans 15 years ago, Harry Kneese in Gillespie county recently sold $200 worth of fine pecans from trees budded to improved varieties 8 years ago.

The largest cotton yield reported by a 4-H club member in Lamar county this year is by a girl, Ruby Lee Crawford of Noble Club. She made 1020 pounds of lint on 2 1/2 acres which gave her $78.20 for her labor and investment.

To put variety into meals and make them healthfully balanced a housewife needs a big open shelf pantry so organized that she can look over the entire store at once, says Mrs. Ben McGregor, pantry demonstrator for the Thrall Home Demonstration Club in Grayson county. CONOCO BUREAU IS AID TO TRAVELERS

OVER 300,000 TRIPS ARE PLANNED IN PAST YEAR BY TRAVEL BUREAU

Making it possible for 300 thousand American motor tourists to travel comfortably along 342 million miles of strange highways may sound like a tremendous feat, but it is not impractical for an oil corporation to undertake.

Furnishing a personalized scenic service to each of these thousands of people free of charge may sound even more unbelievable. Yet that is just what the Conoco Travel Bureau, maintained by Continental Oil Company, has accomplished thus far this year, according to L. H. McAllister, in charge of the huge Conoco Travel Bureau bus which spent a few hours in Clarendon recently. The novel red, green and white bus which is one of the two now touring America in behalf of the Bureau, carries a number of interesting scenic displays and is equipped to broadcast both radio music and speeches to the crowds which gather around to inspect it.

Almost three years ago when the Bureau set up headquarters in Denver in the heart of the Rock Mountain vacation region, many people shook their heads and voiced the opinion that such a large scale undertaking could never be successful. Like the Wright brothers' first airplane and the early day automobile, it was looked upon as a rather dubious experiment.

During the first year the Bureau was in operation, however, it planned more than 26,000 trips for motorists. In 1931 a number of features were added, the service was advertised in newspapers throughout the country and 67,000 motorists called upon the Bureau for assistance. In order to help tourists while they were actually on the road as well as beforehand, Conoco service station salesmen in addition to those of Red Triangle dealers throughout the country were specially trained to render valuable assistance to Conoco Travelers who called upon them. If a motorist wrote the Bureau for information concerning Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, Mt. Rainer National Park in Washington, the 10,000 Lakes country of Minnesota or any other of the thousands of beautiful American outdoor playgrounds, he received a veritable "armload" of interesting literature, specially marked road maps showing all detours, cabin camp and hotel guides and a Conoco Passport by return mail. Thus equipped he and members of his family would set out on their cross-country jaunt, freed from all worry concerning the best and least expensive routes, what they could expect to see and other numerous and distracting details which plague all travelers into strange lands. By stopping at Red Triangle stations in every city or hamlet along their route, they found that they received almost unbelievable additional aid from the men in charge. Conoco men were eager to check their baggage for them while they did some shopping around; saw to it that they missed seeing nothing of interest in each small area, and actually went out of their way to be courteous.

It was such service as this, Mr. McAllister told a Clarendon News reporter, that has caused the Bureau to break all previous records thus far this year. Statistics compiled at the end of September, he said, revealed the fact that nearly 130,000 trips had been planned for applicants since January 1 and that more than 145,000 Conoco Passports had been issued. Assuming that three-fourths, or 97,500 of the trips, were actually taken, and that the distance for each trip averaged 3,500 miles, the total distance traveled approximates 342-Million miles. Assuming also that at least three people took each trip, the total number of Bureau patrons would be nearly 300 thousand.

Despite the fact that the summer vacation period has passed, those in charge of the Bureau predict that thousands of Americans will be routed to winter vacation lands and sport events during the coming months.

"The service extended by the Conoco Travel Bureau is of wide general value, aside from the direct benefit to the motorist," Mr. McAllister pointed out, "in that it encourages motorists to stop and shop throughout the country, and because a large staff of workers has been enlisted from the ranks of the unemployed to handle the work. In the beautiful Conoco Travel Bureau headquarters building in Denver a large number of men and women are kept busy constantly making road maps and supplying innumerable pieces of literature devoted to scenic spots throughout the country."

Anyone who travels by motor car is eligible to call upon the Conoco Travel Bureau for a free trip service, regardless of the distance traveled or the route to be covered.

A COUPLE OF PALS—JIM AND I

As I sit and ponder o'er the days gone by, It brings a tear-drop to my eye, I didn't think how days would go, In days to come into womanhood grow. I think of Jim, sick but gay, And how his youth hath faded away; How o'er the fields we used to roam, Jim and I, all alone. We used to pause in the shade to rest, And watch the birds build their nest; Pluck wild flowers from their stem, And watch the birds fly from limb to limb. At night I would sit curled up in my chair, Watching the face I loved so dear, As he told me a story or two Of the things he used to do. In olden days when he was a boy; And hoy his life was filled with joy. Oftentimes he would say: "We'll be pals throughout the day." Throughout the years and century, too, We'll be pals this whole life through; You are the joy of my heart, And we, as pals, will never part. There is a home filled with love Waiting for me up above, But this I didn't believe was so, I didn't believe my dear would go. I believed that God would keep him here With me alone our home to share; Then the Lord said unto me, "Death hath come, peace be with the." Behold, I come with wings of gold, And to my bosom your husband fold". I hold in my heart a broken tie, But the love in my heart will never die. Now you have heard the story Of my youth and its glory, But the glory hath faded and fled,

Bits Of WASHINGTON'S Current Comment

Congress is busy with the same old tasks that have been upon its mind since the present session opened. Turning from domestic woes to the troubles of those remote from the capitol, the legislators took a fling at the Philippine independence matter, the Senate passing a bill that is condemned as "pleasing nobody" on the islands. A twelve-year wait for self-government, with a smart tax on imports to the United States in the meantime, coupled with a restriction on immigration like that applied to the Chinese, does not set well. Add to the insular dissatisfaction, the circumstances that a presidential veto seems impending, and one is justified in concluding that Philippine independence is not moving rapidly away from the status quo stage at present.

The President-elect is said to be in favor of an economy plan more rigid than one worked out by the Director of the Budget, Mr. Groves. A fifty million dollar saving in the expenses of the government is not to be sneezed at, but Mr. Roosevelt is of the opinion that the pruning knife might have a sharper edge, and be wielded by a longer arm. Money does not seem to be coming in, and if the cash is lacking, perhaps the proper thing to do is to spend a little more grudgingly the coin that does happen to become available.

Beer continues to have its day of consideration, with promises of something definite in the non-remote future. One hears whispers to the effect that perhaps too much is being expected from the amber beverages as a remedy for all of the ills of the people. Even though it may have some virtue as a thirst-quencher, there are those of a wet tendency who question whether it will really float the ship of state. To the dregs, it remains a denounced abomination.

Throughout the entire eastern seaboard, distress has been relieved temporarily by the employment of men to clear away a heavy snow fall, seventeen thousand receiving a few days wages in New York City alone. It was a plain pick and shovel job. We may yet have to welcome a revolutionary conservatism, including a return to the hand-operated tool. Stranger things have happened.

A correspondent asks whether a motion picture celebrity ever worked in a newspaper office. Try it and see for yourself.

The joke of the week is found in a column reading to the effect that French debt vote is declared "binding" on the new cabinet.

An enterprising Nebraskan rancher sends his herdsmen out in airplanes to look after the stock. It is bad enough that the recipient of the small cowboy suit questions whether it really came from Santa Claus. What will Christmas be worth when he adds: "There ain't no Buffalo Bill."

When things start to improve, times may become so good that there will be jobs even for ex-Presidents.

Nothing but the impropriety of printing advertising matter in the wrong place prevents the giving of due credit to a trade circular which describes the examination of an applicant for citizenship in the Soviet Republic. "If you had a million dollars, would you be willing to give half of it to the state?" "Yes." "If you had two shirts, would you be willing to give one to the state?" "No." "Why?" "Because I have two shirts."

The President's plan to consider disarmament, trade relations and war debts, all in a bunch, has been characterized, even by his political opponents, as his best state paper. It may be that these three matters, each considered a disease in itself, may be but symptoms of some deeper economic malady, the germ of which will be segregated and then destroyed.

The government is searching for some clue to the maker of a counterfeit quarter from which the date is omitted. Sherlock Holmes would have told Dr. Watson to look for a spinster in the late thirties.

A Washington official justifies the purchase of a new car out of public funds, on the ground that the old one was not high enough to accommodate him and his silk hat. The incoming administration little knows the worries and problems that lie before it.

It is said that many students at a large mid-west university are found to be living on crackers and milk, at an outlay of about two dollars a week. A close inquiry into the other fellow's life generally discloses that there is less rah-rah in it than is commonly supposed.

New York election officers announce that Mr. Roosevelt's plurality in that state was six hundred thousand in round numbers. Now that the elation of the Democrats and the gloom of the Republicans have subsided somewhat, neither party is especially interested in figures and statistics. Both had better scan the returns, even though the particular contest of last November was settled definitely before midnight of election day. The Communist organization polled votes enough in the Empire State to secure for it recognition as a political party. Neither the victors nor the vanquished should rest in easy assurance that control lies between them, and that, at the worst, the contrary will survive the government of the other. The issue of the future may be how to suppress the Communist menace. The party that is earliest on the ground with a definite proposal in that respect, may be the one in whom the voters of a few years hence will have the greatest confidence.

Europe is in favor of interest that does not choose to run.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS FOR THE PEDESTRIAN

While this is a good season for the motorist to determine that he will drive more carefully during 1933, it is also a proper time for the pedestrian to resolve that he will avoid those errors which in 1931 killed 14,500 walkers and injured nearly 300,000.

Maxwell Halsey, Traffic Engineer of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, has drawn up a set of resolutions for the man-a-foot. They are:

I will not cross a street when traffic lights are against me, nor will I cross diagonally or between intersections.

I will not cross at intersections where there are no signals without looking to traffic.

I will not come from behind parked cars without observing what is before me.

I will not get on or off a street car without satisfying myself that my way is clear and I will not take it for granted that all motorists always obey all rules.

I will not take a chance any place against a dangerous driver.

I will not forget to walk on left side of road so that I can face on-coming cars.

I will not cross at a sharp curve or just at the brow of a steep hill where I cannot see what is coming.

I will not forget to allow for a swerve of a car on rough roads, giving all vehicles plenty of room.

I will not forget when I drive how I feel when I am walking.

Follow these instructions and be a "safe walker."

CHRISTMAS SEAL ORDERS URGE FIGHT BE KEPT UP

Along with checks, money orders and currency received at the office of the Texas Tuberculosis Association at Austin for the purchase of Christmas seals, there are received annually hundreds of communications of good will and encouragement in the fight against tuberculosis, Miss Pansy Nichols, executive secretary of the association, said recently.

Almost the first one opened for 1932 said, "You have brought unusual pleasure to me again by giving me the opportunity to contribute my small mite to this worthy cause."

A note accompanying a check for $2 said, "Wish this were a thousand."

An unusual number of contributions this year comment upon personal experience with tuberculosis among their family or friends. One check was sent "with many good wishes for the work of stamping out tuberculosis—it took two of my darling children."

A check for $2 was enclosed in a letter which stated in part, "It is a real pleasure to contribute to so worthy a cause. My own beautiful and brilliant daughter—honor graduate of three best colleges in the south—now lies ill at . . . Sanatorium. Thus, you see, I understand."

A contribution was made by the children of a man who recently died of tuberculosis. His daughter wrote, "We are interested in the tuberculosis problem because we know what our father went through."

The vice-president of a large corporation enclosed his check in a letter in which he stated, "My youngest brother died of that terrible disease, and I hope that some day it may be arrested in its entirety. My heart goes out to anyone afflicted with it."

Workers of the tuberculosis association hope that by the time all the returns are in, the sale of seals will equal, if not surpass, that of last year. The need for funds to continue the fight against tuberculosis is greater at this time than ever before, Miss Nichols said.

SWEETWATER, Dec. 26.—In 1924 Dorothy Scarborough, Texas writer, seeking a location for her story "The Wind", settled on Sweetwater as being the best spot to portray as a rainless, windswept area, not withstanding the fact that Sweetwater had, up until that time, an average rain fall of 24 inches.

There was much ado and criticism of Miss Scarborough's selection, but the story must have had an effect, for the 3.24 inch rain falling last week has

"Use the Newspaper," Says This Successful Merchant

Read this encouraging sales argument recently sent by the advertising department of the J. C. Penney Company to its Store managers:

"(1) Do you want to be certain of reader interest? Then use the newspapers. Many a circular receives only a casual glance, while the local newspaper with hundreds of general news items is read thoroughly from first to last page.

"(2) Do you want representation in the same 'shopping window' as the other merchants of your town use? Then use the local newspaper. Women, the purchasing agents of the home, read newspaper advertising daily, whereas many a circular is tossed into the waste basket without a glance.

"(3) Do you want fast action? Then use the newspaper. The ad that you run today, if it contains real merchandise news, will bring immediate results tomorrow. You can receive and sell out a consignment of merchandise with newspaper advertising in less time than it takes to prepare a circular.

"(4) Do you want to be recognized as a factor of importance in your community—a real home-town store? If you do, use the newspaper—it undoubtedly is a strong factor in the building of good will and acceptance by the whole town as a good place to trade."

Stronger Than He Was at Twenty

FIFTY-FIVE years old, and still going strong!

Do you want the secret of such vitality? It isn't what you eat, or any tonic you take. It's something anyone can do—something you can start today and see results in a week! All you do is give your vital organs the right stimulant.

A famous doctor discovered the way to stimulate a sluggish system to new energy. It brings fresh vigor to every organ. Being a physician's prescription, it's quite harmless. Tell your druggist you want a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Get the benefit of its fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and that pure pepsin. Get that lazy liver to work, those stagnant bowels into action. Get rid of waste matter that is slow poison so long as it is permitted to remain in the system.

The new energy men and women feel before one bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin has been used up is proof of how much the system needs this help.

Get a bottle of this delicious syrup and let it end that constant worry about the condition of the bowels. Spare the children those bilious days that make them miserable. Save your household from the use of cathartics which lead to chronic constipation. And guard against auto-intoxication as you grow older.

Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin is such a well known preparation you can get it wherever drugs are sold and it isn't expensive.

was taken from "The Bench and Bar of Texas," by Lynch, one of the oldest books relating to Texas jurists.

For its historical value, The News is glad to publish the story of the life of the outstanding jurist from whom our county takes its name, and whose likeness hangs on the walls of the district court room.

Stockton P. Donley

The subject of this memoir was born in Howard County, Missouri, on the 27th of May, 1821. He was educated in Kentucky and was admitted to the bar in that State, from which he removed in 1846 to Texas and began the practice of law at Clarksville, but in 1847 established his office at Rusk and became the partner of James M. Anderson. Mr. Donley was a young man of steady and persevering habits. He rose rapidly in his profession particularly as a criminal lawyer, and early distinguished himself.

In 1835 he was elected over the most formidable rivalry to the office of district attorney of the Sixth Judicial District, and found in this position a field inviting to his genius and congenial to his habits of mind, and he soon developed traits of character which gained him great popularity as well as the reputation of being the most efficient prosecutor in the State.

He possessed a thorough knowledge of the criminal law, and the inquisitive, prompt and resolute manner in which he sought its enforcement caused criminals to flee from his district as from a glance at certain convictions and sure punishment. He was not only skilled in the legal art of fixing crime, but he was familiar with human nature, and an expert in detecting and judging the motives of men and the springs of human action, so that it was almost impossible for the true history and character of any crime to escape his investigation. No web of perjury was ever so artfully woven that he could not unravel its threads and expose in its naked depravity, and the celebrated John Randolph, in his palmist days, never revealed more in the detection of crime or lashed his guilty victims with more success. Yet he possessed a mild and amiable disposition, which but gave additional effect to his powers; and when occasion required he would chastise his victims with an air of gentility that added smart to the exhortations of his lash, until writhing in the agonies of chagrin and conscious guilt they would, if permitted have rushed from the court-room, as did the clergy of Virginia on one occasion to escape the piercing shafts of Patrick Henry. The people hailed him as a purifier of society and a blessing to his district.

In 1860 he removed to Tyler, where he permanently located and entered upon an extensive practice; but when the tocsin of civil war sounded in 1861 he cast his lot with the Confederacy and enlisted as a private soldier in Gregg's Regiment. He was soon promoted to a lieutenantancy and displayed conspicuous gallantry at the siege of Fort Donelson, where he was captured with his entire command. On being exchanged he was, in consequence of failing health, assigned to post duty, and continued in that service until the close of the war, when, without repine at the loss of all his earthly possessions, he vigorously resumed the practice of his profession at Tyler.

In 1866, at the solicitation of his friends, he permitted himself to be placed before the people as a candidate for a seat upon the Supreme bench, and was elected by the largest number of votes that had ever been cast in the State for that office. He filled this position with fidelity, ability and honor until he was removed as an obstructionist by military power in 1868. In then resumed his practice in copartnership with Gov. O. M. Roberts, and subsequently with John L. Henry, the latter being his partner at the time of his death, which occurred at Kaufman, Texas, on the 17th of February 1871.

Judge Donley was a lawyer of fine ability, and as a judge of the Supreme Court, exhibited qualities which belong to the highest judicial character. The same learning, penetration, energy and devotion to duty which distinguished his career at the bar, eminently marked his character upon the bench. Notwithstanding that four years of military life had left a blank in the prime of his professional life, he not only proved himself, though fresh from the distracting scenes of a long war, fully competent for the position of Supreme judge, but his decisions portray an ability that would honor the ermine of any sanctuary of justice.

He was a man of many noble qualities, and as a judge he was upright and conscientious, patient and polite in his audience, and accorded a courteous consideration to all suitors. He was, more-over, of an energetic and enterprising nature, sincere and manly in his bearing, and a general favorite among the members of the bar. He was modest and retiring in his judicial demeanor. He never sought to force his opinions upon others, yet maintained them with the vigor and erudition that often convinced and astonished his associates.

In politics he was devoid of strong prejudices. Though a firm Democrat, he belonged to that conservative school which maintained an abiding faith in the capacity of the American people for self-government.

While he was not an orator, so far as that quality consists of skill in the use of polished phrases and oration of speech, his arguments were always logical and weighty with the pith of sound judgment; and he was always ready to maintain his position with the naked sword of reason.

His domestic life was of an exemplary order. His highest aim was to elevate his family to the highest attainment of virtue and happiness. He was first married in 1854 to Miss Judith M. Evans, of Marshall, and she having died, he was again married in 1867 to Mrs. Emma Slaughter, of Tyler, and this excellent lady still survives him.

Judge Donley was a man of but few faults, and his weakness weighed but little in the scale of his greatness. They were dimmed and obscured by the full blaze of his resplendent virtues, and his life as a lawyer, a judge and a patriot, is worthy of emulation, and deserves a proud niche in the column of Texas eminence.

He was interred at Tyler, and the funeral procession was one of the largest and most imposing ever witnessed at that place, which fitly indicated the love and esteem in which he was held by his people.

doing this?" she asked the children. One of the lads spoke up. "You would have to become an ant yourself, mother, so that they could understand what you wanted to tell them," he said.

J. E. Nelson, of San Antonio, was a visitor at the luncheon. He is a former superintendent of the Clarendon Public Schools and has a great many warm friends here. Mr. Nelson addressed the club briefly, congratulating the city on the fine school system it has. He commended, especially, its freedom from any taint of politics, which he described as one of the greatest handicaps suffered by many large school systems.
