CLARENDON TO HAVE TWENTY-FOUR HOUR WATER SERVICE WITH COMPLETION OF CITY'S PLANT THIS WEEK

CITY'S FINE NEW BUILDING FOR WATER PLANT IS FINISHED, AND THE MACHINERY IS BEING INSTALLED FAST SO THAT CONTINUOUS WATER SERVICE WILL BE POSSIBLE THE LAST OF THIS WEEK. WILL BE SAVING TO THE CITY.

With the last of the installation of machinery which will be the latter part of this week, Clarendon will, for first time under present operation, enjoy continuous water service. This is made possible by taking over operation of the plant by the city. The boiler has been placed and tested, being capable of furnishing steam for a hundred and twenty-five horse power engine; and the engine is in place operating at this time on steam from the ice plant. The new building is of the most substantial brick type, and is thirty-six by sixty-three feet.

At present the city water is being furnished by the well that has for some time been in operation just to the back of the ice plant. This well is known as the large well, but preparations are being made for pumping a new well a few feet away from this one. The new well was originally dug in the hope of striking artesian water, following the artesian strike in the Bugbee oil well; but the artesian water did not materialize, however, this leaves the city with an excellent well which can be pumped.

With the completion of the inside of the building, the engineer will be at the plant at all hours of the day, and it is in this way that the continuous service will be possible. Bill Funk has been employed by the city as engineer.

The new building has been placed where the old wooden building stood, and is of the type that the city may be proud. The heavy walls are brick on concrete foundation, and the roof is tar and gravel. Mayor McLean ordered ninety tons of coal which has arrived and is in storage. This was at a saving. Besides the big saving to the city which will result from the keeping in the treasury the amount allowed for the operation of the plant, the labor is also a big saving. At the present, time $175 per month is being allowed for the labor for the operation of the water system, while the contract with the city the labor under the new system will cost only $100 per month. The large saving that will thus result will inure to the benefit of other departments of city improvement.

"Other substantial improvements will follow," said Mayor McLean, in commenting on the pumping system that is soon to be in operation. With the completion of the contemplated improvements, Clarendon will have one of the finest municipal service systems in the Panhandle, and the greater improvements will be at no greater cost than the city is put today.

$28,000 PROFIT GROWING POULTRY

TARRANT COUNTY WOMEN DEMONSTRATE WHAT CAN BE DONE GROWING CHICKENS

Twenty-eight thousand dollars is the amount realized by thirty-one members of the Minters Chapel home demonstration club in Tarrant county, according to a Fort Worth dispatch. "The Minters Chapel home demonstration club have proved what a valuable asset chickens are to any farm and have also proved a course whereby rural women may reap a goodly income with very little trouble," said Miss Sallie F. Hill, county home demonstration agent.

"These women owned a total of 4,500 chickens, which produced 93,350 dozen eggs during the fiscal year ending November 1. Forty-three thousand five hundred and seventy dozen eggs were disposed of on the market, netting the women $13,071; 9,300 dozen eggs were consumed in the home and the rest were hatched, netting 5,020 new chickens to the flocks and twice as many more, which were sold on the market, bringing in more than $15,000 to the thirty-one women. The total profit during the year was

BULLDOGS TO MEET BUFFALOES TOMORROW

The Thanksgiving clash for grid honors of the Panhandle will take place tomorrow afternoon at Canyon when the Clarendon College Bulldogs meet the Normal Buffaloes. Greater interest surrounds this game than any other game of the season, as this is the time when Canyon will bend every energy to beat the Bulldogs. These teams met here in the early part of the season, and Clarendon defeated the visitors by a score of 9-0. Last year Clarendon defeated the Normalites both games, and Canyon is bound to come back strong this time.

The Bulldogs left this morning and will arrive there this afternoon, so as to have a complete rest just preceding the game. A large gang of rooters will leave here in the morning, and be there strong to back up the team.

LYCEUM MONDAY EVENING IS AN EXCELLENT ONE

George Mason, world traveler and war correspondent for the Outlook magazine, lectured at the College auditorium Monday evening, fulfilling the third number of the lyceum for this year. Mr. Mason's lecture was filled with food for thought, being a frank study of the far eastern question. Mr. Mason, unhampered by any political strings told the facts as they exist today, and in such fearless manner did he do so that one, whether agreeing with his suggested solution or not, could not help but admire him.

He stated that in the beginning he wanted to approach the East through Europe rather than the Pacific. For more than an hour he related the conditions as they exist both in Europe and in the East; and the only solution, he declared, is for the United States to take the leadership of the world as it should, and help in the solutions of the problems that are to determine whether the Anglo-Saxon civilization is to survive.

The last number of the lyceum, it is announced will appear sometime in February and will be on the order of the grand opera.

CLARENDON MERCANTILE PUBLISHES BUYING GUIDE

This week the News has issued a two page circular for the Clarendon Mercantile Company, one of the leading mercantile establishments of this city. Following the general policy of this concern, this is a winter buying guide rather than a cut price sale; this business has fine buying connections, but has very few so called sales.

This store is one of the subsidiary stations of the Baker-Hanna Company, and Manager E. T. Pope is well pleased with the business that they have enjoyed since they became established here.

Although they have not put on the sales, they have enjoyed a large business on account of the consistent way in which they have kept their goods before the people with liberal amounts of printer's ink. The guide will no doubt furnish a basis for many on which to make their winter purchases.

Mrs. Curtis, of Vernon, was here Friday to see the performance of her son who played with the Abilene Christians.

W. M. Nelson, a farmer of Brice community, was in this city Saturday.

R. T. Wilson had business in Amarillo Monday.

more than $28,000, Miss Hill said. The upkeep of the flocks was practically nothing, as they fed themselves as they ranged over the farms. All flocks were carefully culled, the non-layers being sold on the market and layers added to take their place."

PIONEER OF PANHANDLE PASSES AWAY THURSDAY

ROBERT W. TURNER SUCCEUMS THURSDAY EVENING AFTER A SHORT ILLNESS. WAS WELL KNOWN OVER THE ENTIRE PANHANDLE.

Robert W. Turner passed away Thursday evening at his home in this city after a short illness. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at ten thirty o'clock at the Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. W. H. Foser, and interment took place in the Citizens' Cemetery. Mr. Turner's wife and children were at his bedside at the time of his death. Mrs. Sam Joekel and Wilson having arrived here Monday evening. Mr. Turner was one of the pioneer ranchmen of the Panhandle, having come to this part of the state when there were neither fences nor railroads.

Robert W. Turner was born at Turnersville, Bosque county, Texas February 1, 1859. At that time that part of the state was on the frontier of Texas, and the settlers were kept in constant fear of raids by the Indians.

His father died while he was a small lad, and his mother moved with her six children to Denton county.

He came to the Panhandle of Texas in 1881 soon after reaching his majority. He worked over a great deal of this territory as a cowboy, and was acquainted with almost everyone of the pioneers of this section of state. At this time cattle were driven to Dodge City Kansas to the railroad, and every trip was fraught with dangers from bands of hostile Indians.

He and his brother John started a ranch on the North Fork of Red River, and followed that business there for several years, then they moved into Oklahoma where they lived for five years. In 1901 Mr. Turner bought a ranch in Hall county, and moved back to Texas, making Childress his home. In 1906 he and his family moved to this city for educational purposes, and have since made this their home. In 1897 he was married to Miss

HOME GUARD CO. TO BE MUSTERED IN HERE MONDAY

FIFTY-FOUR RECRUITS HAVE BEEN SECURED TO DATE, AND MAJOR CULBERSON IS TO INSPECT THE COMPANY MONDAY.

Fifty-four recruits have thus far been secured for the Home Guard Company being organized, and the company will be mustered in Monday when Major Culberson, of Wichita Falls, arrived here for that purpose. An effort is being made to bring the number to sixty-five which is the usual number during time of peace. Fifty is the minimum number that can be mustered in.

Captain Nat S. Perrine, will be company commander, while George Taylor, as first lieutenant, and Byron Blevins, as second lieutenant, will be the other commissioned officers of the company.

The work of organizing the companies in the Panhandle is being done by Capt. S. M. Hankins, of Quanah, assisted by Major Adams of Crowell. The company at Hereford is to be mustered in Saturday from there Major Culberson and Captain Hankins will come to Clarendon.

The decision as to where the rifle range and the armory will be situated will be made later. An expenditure of some $6500 will be made for these.

Clara E. McKimney, of Eureka Springs, Arkansas. To them were born three children, Dorothy, now Mrs. Sam L. Joekel, Marjorie, and Wilson, all of whom survive their father. Besides these, surviving him are his brothers, Frank of Sabinal, Lewis of Ochiltree, and a sister, Mrs. R. Wamble of Nolita.

In youth Mr. Turner joined the Baptist church with his mother, and he was always allied with every movement for the betterment of his community and state. A long list of friends will unite in expressing to the bereaved loved ones a message of sympathy.

LIVE AT HOME CAMPAIGN IS INAUGURATED HERE

FARMERS AND BANKERS MEET TO LAY PLANS FOR CO-OPERATING WITH THE NATION WIDE DRIVE FOR BETTER AGRICULTURE

A meeting, attended by some sixty farmers and business men, was held at the Y. M. C. A. building Saturday afternoon at two o'clock in the interest of the "live at home" campaign, which is co-operating with the nation wide movement for better agriculture. That day was designated as Texas Live At Home Day, and like meetings were held throughout the state.

The meeting was addressed by D. P. McCallib, of Amarillo, formerly of Dallas. He told of the work that like associations are accomplishing in other counties, and of the values that Donley can realize from such an association. It is the effort of these organizations throughout the United States to keep the cotton crop to the minimum to supply the needs of the country, and to keep the amount of food crops grown to the maximum.

It is significant that the farmers pledged themselves not to plant larger cotton crops than this year, and at the same time to help in every way possible to produce as large food crops as can be grown. With the raising of these food crops was considered also the maintenance of more dairy cows and hogs.

County Agent Roy Hendrix told of the success in Baylor county of the formation of a cotton pool by such an organization.

A. N. McCardell acted as chairman and Roy Hendrix as secretary of the meeting.

Misses Irene and Jewel Morgan left this morning for a visit at their home in Amarillo during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Harry Sitner was an Amarillo visitor Monday.

John Blocker and wife were Amarillo visitors Monday.

CLARENDON WALLOPS A. C. C. FRIDAY AFTERNOON

AGAINST A MUCH HEAVIER TEAM THE BULLDOGS ARE EASILY THE VICTORS BY THEIR RARE TACTICS. SCORE IS 7-0.

On the local gridiron Friday afternoon, the Bulldogs got revenge for their defeat of last year. The game was greatly enjoyed by football fans from over the Panhandle, and as usual, the starring of Jackson made the main features of the game. The visitors outweighted the Bulldogs fifteen pounds, but they were held helpless by the fast tactics of the local boys. The Christians depended on line bucks and high diving, while the Bulldogs played circles around them in open field and aerial work. More than once there was a real thrill when Jackson, in what seemed too close quarters for gain, outgassed his opponents. George Close also showed up with fine form, more than once getting away for long runs. The Clarendon line held the heavy onslaughts of the opponents when a touchdown seemed anything like near.

Clarendon lost on the toss, and started play against the wind. Meads kicked off for Clarendon. The Christians received on their twenty yard line; they returned the ball to their thirty-five yard line. The Christians made two yards over the line by the flying fish method. The next play netted three yards by the same method. A. C. C. made first down. Three yards were made by dive; no gain around right; four yards line back. Clarendon's ball.

Hallmark made three yards over left; C. C. fumbled; a pass was incomplete; Meads made a short punt.

A. C. C. made one yard around left; then three yards over left; no gain was made over line; first down made. Christians thrown for three yard loss when attempting right end run; then three and two yards on line bucks. The Christians punt.

Jackson receives punt and ran five yards before down. C. C. makes two yards on buck; Hallmark is thrown for loss when attempting buck. Close makes first down. Jackson makes short gain around left. Pass is incomplete. Meads punts.

A. C. C. was downed in tracks. Quarter.

The Christians make first down on two bucks and two left end runs. Then they make two yards over left; two yards then over center; the Christians failing to make first down, the ball goes over.

The first play then made by Clarendon was one of the most phenomenal ever seen on this gridiron. Jackson completed a forty-five yard pass and then ran twenty yards making touchdown. The play was made so fast that it was virtually complete before the Christians saw what was happening. Meads made the pass, and it was nicely placed. When Jackson completed the pass he had passed everyone except the deep defense; he stiff-armed that player and made the touchdown. Jackson kicked goal.

Meads kicks off for Clarendon; A. C. C. is downed in tracks. The Christians make first down on bucks. Failing then to make the next first down, A. C. C. punts.

C. C. fumbles, but gains, nevertheless. C. C. is penalized. Pass is incomplete. Meads makes a short punt. A. C. C. received on her thirty-two yard line. A. C. C. makes first down on bucks and one left end run. Hankins, of the Bulldogs, goes in for Mounds. The Christians gain one yard over center. Half.

Between halves, the C. C. rooters execute a snake dance, ending with singing and yells.

A. C. C. kicks off; Jackson received on Clarendon's thirty yard line, and runs ten yards. C. C. is penalized five yards. Close more than made the penalty over left. Hallmark makes one yard. Meads makes five yards on line buck. C. C. makes first down. The Christians are penalized. Jackson makes three yards on right end run. Smally completes pass, and makes first down. Pass is incomplete. Close makes one yard each on successive plays. A. C. C. intercepts

COMMISSIONERS' COURT REFUSES RED CROSS AID

BY A UNANIMOUS VOTE ANY APPROPRIATIONS TO ASSIST THE WORK FOR ANOTHER YEAR ARE REFUSED. OTHER STEPS TO BE TAKEN.

By a unanimous vote, the County Commissioners' Court sitting last week refused to make any appropriations to assist in the Public Health work for the coming year. The county executive committee had asked for the county to bear half of the expenses, and the various chapters in the county were to pay the rest of the expenses which amount to about $2500 per year.

Other matters attended to by the court were regarding the demonstration work, County and Home. After some discussion it was decided to retain both the County and Home Demonstrators for another year. The work of Home Demonstrator is not being done just now, owing to the resignation of the former agent but everyone is highly pleased with the announcement of Miss Bess Edwards, district agent, that a good Home Demonstration Agent will be sent to this county.

Other work of the court was regarding the changing of the arrangement of the District Court room. The judge's desk is being placed at the north side of the room, and this will be a much more efficient arrangement as the rooms in the middle of the building can be used to a much greater advantage. The grand jury room will now be moved upstairs.

REV. MILHOLLAND IN MEETING AT MANGUM

Rev. Thomas Milholland, pastor of the Church of Christ in this city, returned Monday from a week's work on the south plains. Rev. Milholland left the middle of the week for Mangum Oklahoma where he is called to hold another revival. He will not be in the city next Sunday, but the services will be held as heretofore in his absence.

Rev. Milholland is a very successful revivalist and his services in this line are very much in demand.

P. T. A. TO MEET

The Parent-Teachers' Association of the High School will meet next Thursday afternoon at three thirty o'clock. An interesting program has been arranged, and it is especially urged that there be as large an attendance as possible. A social hour will follow.

Hon. H. B. Hill, of Shamrock, state representative for this district, was in this city for a short time Saturday.

GREAT STARS LATELY FOUND

ONE FOUND THAT IS SAID TO BE LARGER THAN BETELGEUSE—PROBABLY OTHERS.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—The existence of greater stars than Betelgeuse, the giant star whose diameter was measured as 30,000,000 miles, was announced by Prof. Albert A. Michelson in an address before the National Academy of Science last night.

Antares, a star in the constellation of Scorpio, was named as one of the super-stars, but its exact size has not yet been determined, he said. Other stars whose magnitude may surpass either of these, are to be measured, he said, by means of the new interferometer developed by Prof. Michelson.

Other speakers before the academy, Prof. Raymond Pearl of Johns Hopkins University and Prof. E. E. Bernard of Yerkes observatory, described the astronomical "milky way."

Prof. Bernard exhibited photographs of the "milky way" made through the great one-hundred inch reflector at Mount Wilson, which demonstrated, he said, that the dark spots in the milky way were not holes or openings, but really dark, non-luminous bodies thrown into relief when projected against the bright background of distant stars.

FIRST PROCLAMATION OF NATIONAL THANKSGIVING DAY ISSUED BY GEO. WASHINGTON

Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor; and

Whereas both Houses of Congress have, by their joint committee, requested me, "to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging, with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness;"

Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being who is the beneficent author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be: that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country previous to their becoming a nation; for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable interpositions of His providence in the course and conclusion of the late war; for the great degree of tranquility, union, and plenty which we have since enjoyed; for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national one now lately instituted; for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed, and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and in general, for all the great and various favors which He has been pleased to confer upon us.

And also that we may then unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of Nations, and beseech him to pardon our national and other transgressions; to enable us all whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually; to render our National Government a blessing to all the people by constantly being a Government of wise, just, and constitutional laws, discreetly and faithfully executed and obeyed; to protect and guide all sovereigns and nations (especially such as have shown kindness to us), and to bless them with good governments, peace, and concord; to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science among them and us; and, generally, to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows to be best.

Given under my hand, at the city of New York, the 3rd day of October, A. D. 1789.

We read an advertisement on efficiency the other day with a caption reading—"No man is big enough to sing a duet." There is much food for thought in that terse statement. Fellows who get the idea that they are the whole show might well remember that the man who can do one thing well is considered a success and that there is still some truth in the old saying that "jack of all trades and good at none."

Last Thursday we were notified by wire of the death of Editor L. G. Waggoner of Miami. His death came suddenly from blood poisoning and will be regarded by the entire fraternity of the Panhandle Press as a great loss. "Wag" as he was affectionately called, was a big-hearted man's man, and one who always stood for the best interests of his town and community. He was a prominent member of the Panhandle and state press associations and held the esteem of his brother publishers isfaction. He retires to enter the practice of law at Dallas and we are certain that from a monetary standpoint that he has done the practical thing, yet the state can ill afford to lose so eminent a jurist and one possessed of such legal acumen as Judge Phillips. The appointment of Attorney General Cureton to the vacant post is hailed with pleasure in most circles for if the post must be vacated by Judge Phillips, it would be difficult to pick a better fitted man than General Cureton. We wish both great success in their new connections.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Texas Press Association held at Houston on Armistice Day, the dates for the 1922 convention of the association at Denton were set for May 11-12-13. These dates were the choice of the Denton people and it was thought wise to hold the convention in May rather than the heat of June. Texas editors will be cared for at C. L. A., where President Bralley is arranging special provisions for the sleeping and feeding of the guests. It is expected that all the young unmarried and old bachelors of the fraternity will be on hand early to inspect the six hundred odd Texas girls in this great state institution, and even the older married members from some parts of the state are said to retain their former admiration of beauty. All in all, the Denton meeting promises to be a great convention and will no doubt draw a heavy attendance from north, central and west Texas.

On Dec. 15th, The Clarendon News will issue a special Old Home Town edition and will print a thousand or more extra copies. It will be the purpose of this edition to carry stories of the town's and county's progress since the early days and to give prominence to many of the doings and customs of twenty years and more ago. We want letters from old residents of this city and county, telling what they remember of the early years in this vicinity, their successes since they have left us and their expressions of good will to those who are left behind. The Christmas season will also be featured and the paper issued ten days before Christmas will afford a medium par excellence for holiday advertising. We will sell the extra copies to those who want them at ten cents each, wrapped and ready for mailing. Those who write us letters will receive a copy free. Every citizen is requested to assist our force in compiling the matter that we will need for this issue and with your co-operation we shall try to issue a special edition that will reflect great credit upon our city and county as well as provide an abundance of instructive and profitable reading. Dec. 15th is the date.

The News has the sincerest wish for the success of the disarmament conference now in session at Washington, and believes if it is conducted along lines unflinching in respect to God, that there is fair prospect for its ultimate success. We here venture an opinion we have held for months regarding the failure of the Versailles Treaty and League of Nations pact. It failed because no session was opened with prayer. It failed because nowhere in its voluminous text did it mention God. It failed because no honor was done His name. As it failed so will this conference fail unless the fatal error is corrected. This late in the twentieth century no document of world-wide import can be made effective and curative with God left out. God won't permit such a travesty on His rightful place in the affairs of the nations of earth and as obstacles in the way of the adoption of the Versailles pact were insurmountable so will be the obstacles in the path of disarmament should they "forget God." So far there is indication that the representatives have a disposition to recognize the Supreme Ruler of the Universe and it is no partisan wish that we express when we hope that the very preamble of any document formulated will render homage to Him in word and in concept.

REMAINS OF MRS. SMITH LAID TO REST THURSDAY

The earthly remains of Mrs. O. L. Smith were laid to rest Thursday afternoon in the Catholic Cemetery with the Catholic burial service. Mrs. Smith had passed away Thursday morning at one o'clock following less than a week's illness with the scarlet fever which she had contracted from one of her small children. She died at her home some ten miles north of this city.

Mrs. Kostka Mary Smith, (nee Harvey), was born October 7, 1891. She was educated at St. Mary's academy in this city, graduating in literary and music in 1908. While teaching music in Panhandle, Mrs. Smith met her future husband, and they were married in 1911. Later they moved to Bovina where they lived for four years, coming to this county three years ago. They have since that time resided on their farm some ten miles north of this city.

Besides the bereaved husband, Mrs. Smith is survived by four little children, two daughters and two sons, her mother, Mrs. Monica Harvey, and four brothers, Robert, Bernard, Wayland and Jesse. None of them except Robert were able to reach here before interment. Wayland living in Nebraska, and Jesse in New Mexico. Robert had just returned Wednesday evening from army service in the Hawaiian Islands. Mrs. Smith was a member of the Catholic Church, having been reared in that faith. She leaves a wide circle of friends who mourn her loss, and who join in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones in their hour of sorrow.

BUSINESS NOT ENOUGH

Charles W. Schwab, great business man and patriotic American as he showed himself to be during the war, forsook such business for the United States as in magnitude and profitableness has never been seen before. This present period of stress and hardship is preparation for what is to come, he says, and he bids us clean up now as cheerfully as we can, with the confidence of an exceeding prosperity to come.

No doubt Mr. Schwab is right. The United States has gone on from one level of prosperity to another higher level for generations. There are troughs of the seas between, but each succeeding wave of welfare lifts us higher.

Two years from now, at the outside, we shall have forgotten our present troubles; they will seem like a bad dream. The country will be thrilling with energy.

But mere prosperity will not be enough. What we Americans call business is the most of life. But it isn't all. There are other essential things which pretty generally we have been neglecting since the civil war. We can no longer do so with impunity.

Owen Johnson touches the matter in his new novel, "The Wasted Generation." An exposition of futility, one might consider this novel. Nor is one required to subscribe to the whole of its import. Things are not as bad as Mr. Johnson states them. But his oratorical may the better get our attention. The tide is enough, "The Wasted Generation."

All the talent, the spirit, of America between 1865 and 1917 went in business. It is as if the civil war had settled every problem, cleaned the fields for business, which as sole runner, facing a straightaway course, let out its heels and gave a marvelous exhibition of speed.

And it had become an article of faith with us that, provided business was good everything else could be counted upon to settle itself. Provided the national economy was operating, the United States could afford to go against any teaching of history whatsoever, and to bestow upon questions of state, problems social and political, scant and cursory attention. Our politics we no longer took so seriously. Do business, and everything will come out in the wash, about expressed our confident belief.

It isn't true. Economy alone will not support a nation. The talent and energy of a people cannot all be absorbed in business. If we persist in such a fallacy, leaving politics to any exploiter who cares to corrupt it; leaving even higher politics to second-rate minds, we shall be startled to discover suddenly some day, as we came near doing between August, 1914, and April, 1917, that our nationality is dissolved or that, while like Belshazzar we feast, the Mede is at the gate, the Persian on the wall.

We have had our warning. Will we heed it? In the crisis America did awaken. Men jumped into the standard, put forth a mighty effort that knocked out the enemy.

But it was an improvisation to suffice in an emergency. Let us not delude ourselves that improvisation will save us again, can be relied upon to do repeatedly. It isn't armaments and material preparation that are advocated. They, indeed, can be largely improvised if the manufacturing plants exist.

What is wanted is patriotic devotion, the every-day sort, to public affairs. A generation of young men and women are required, not to reform the earth or alter human nature, but to take and hold American institutions, to administer them, to discuss and decide American problems of state and to determine American policies, all in the American style and fashion.—Ft. Worth Record.

LITTLE LIFE LINES

"From a man named Anoh"
You say you're feeling blue, lad?
That things are going wrong?
If that's the case for true, lad,
Cheer up, and sing a song.
You'll find, 'twill always pay, lad,
For all—for me and you
To play we are the sunshine
And let the sky be blue.

When skies are big and clear, lad,
The world is at its best;
Whenever you drop a tear, lad,
It saddens all the rest.
Smile on, don't mind the knocks, lad,
Just keep your own heart true—
Play you're the golden sunshine
And let the sky be blue.

When you're feeling blue, lad,
And half inclined to cry,
You're at the job—'tis true, lad—
Intended for the sky.
The sunshine roll sits better
On husky chaps like you—
Then be a human sunbeam;
Let but the sky be blue.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

HENRY WATTERSON

The Clarendon News' Americanization series

It was during the darkest days of our second war for independence. An English army had burned the Capitol; an English fleet was in possession of the Chesapeake Bay and both these forces were preparing to attack Baltimore.

In order to secure the liberation of a friend, who was held a prisoner on the British fleet, Francis Scott Key obtained leave of the President to go to the British admiral under a flag of truce. His mission was successful, but he and his companion were kept under guard during the enemy's advance. Thus it was that the night of the fourteenth of September, 1814, Key witnessed the bombardment of Fort M'Henry, which his song was to render illustrious. He did not quit the deck the long night through. With a single companion, he watched every shell from the moment it was fired until it fell. As soon as day dawned, and before it was light enough to see objects at a distance, their glasses were turned to the fort, uncertain whether they should see there the Stars and Stripes or the flag of the enemy.

During the night the conception of the poem began to form itself in Key's mind. With the early glow of the morning, when the long agony of suspense had been turned into the rapture of exultation, his feeling found expression in completed lines of verse, which he wrote upon the back of a letter he happened to have in his possession.

The poem tells its own story, and never a truer, for every word comes direct from a great heroic soul, powder-stained and dipped, as it were, in sacred blood.

"O, say, can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd the peaks, and I the other. We are to prorate expense of renting auditoriums. This challenge is for prompt acceptance only, so that I may arrange plans for the recess. Grant me this boon.

USE OF ENGLISH IS INCREASING

It locks now as though, before Esperanto, Ro, and any of the other "universal languages" become universal, the good old English tongue will have beaten them to it. Figures have indicated for many years that the English language was forging ahead by leaps and bounds, and the recent announcement that English is to be the official language of the disarmament conference at Washington called renewed attention to its increasing importance. Combining, as it does, the rugged, simple force of the Anglo-Saxon, and the ornamentation of the Norman, the English language is one of rare power and beauty, and is well fitted to become the "universal language."

Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. Stop "dozing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the "rhumatic pain." "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia.

Lumber up! Get a 35 cent bottle of old-time, breast "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pain, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

The two that walked the deck of the cartel boat had waited long. They had counted the hours as they watched the course of the battle. But a deeper anxiety yet is to possess them. The firing has ceased. Whilst cannon roared they knew that the fort held out. Whilst the sky was lit by messengers of death they could see the national colors flying above it.

"the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air," Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there!"

In full glory reflected now shines on the stream."

for there, over the battlements of M'Henry, the Stars and Stripes floats defiant on the breeze, whilst all around evidences multiply that the attack has failed, that the Americans have successfully resisted it, and that the British are withdrawing their forces. For then, and for now, and for all time, come the words of the anthem:

"O, thus be it ever, when freedom shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the power that hath made and preserved us a nation!"

SWEET CLOVER ADAPTED TO PANHANDLE

White flowered sweet clover grows wild in all counties between Ft. Worth and Texline which shows its wide adaptation to varying climatic and soil conditions. These wild growths show that it thrives in hard soil and in waste places; also that it can make its way even when growing among all kinds of weeds and grass. Sweet clover is also resistant to drought else it could not thrive in such places as it is often found.

Many farmers have been watching these wild growths for the last year or two and a few have been experimenting with it in a small way. These observations and experiments have created genuine interest and farmers all along the Denver Road counties are planning to make a seeding of sweet clover this winter. The hardy habit of sweet clover has caused farmers to realize the possibilities of getting it established on rough pasture land or in waste places thus converting much unprofitable land into good grazing that will return a profit.

Sweet clover will probably prove more profitable when used as a pasture crop than when used as a hay crop. However sweet clover hay is almost equal to Alfalfa hay in feeding value, and it is a good feed for many farms where Alfalfa will not grow. Many good stands of sweet clover have resulted from seed being scattered on top of hard ground along road sides. Seed have been blown into pastures from nearby fields and there settled into the ground, germinated and grew. This is mentioned to show that sweet clover seems to thrive on a hard seed bed. On the other hand many farmers have carefully prepared a loose seed bed and had very poor results in getting a good stand. Often times they failed.

So, if one contemplates seeding sweet clover on cultivated land it should be prepared in such a way as to keep the soil as compact as possible or in the case of loose or sandy soil some means should be used to settle the ground as thoroughly as possible. Perhaps disking shallow and rolling would do this best. For pasture land, a shallow disking would be all that is necessary. Then sow when there is plenty of moisture in the soil and cover as lightly as possible. The Seed Bed Must Be Compact. This is Essential.

Sweet clover seed are very hard and do not come up quickly unless they are scarified. Scarified seed are those that have been mechanically scratched so that the seed coat is roughened thus permitting them to absorb moisture which hastens germination. Better stands result from using scarified seed, although they cost more per pound (about 8 to 12 cents). The rate of seeding with scarified seed is about 10 to 12 lbs per acre. Unscarified seed should be sown at the rate of 15 to 20 lbs per acre. These will sell for 1 cent to 2 cents less per lb. Unhulled seed are still cheaper but it will take 18 to 20 pounds of seed per acre. They, of course, are not scarified.

In nature sweet clover seed mature in the summer, fall to the ground, gradually absorb moisture, freeze and thaw then germinate early the next spring. This absorption of moisture and freezing and thawing softens the hard seed coat and causes most of them to germinate the next spring. For this reason winter seeding is better than March or April seedings. Seed should be sown in December or January. On the plains seeding may be postponed until February or even the first part of March.

One man at Memphis, Texas, has already bought seed for forty acres. He has been experimenting with it for two years. In Wise County many farmers are going to plant sweet clover. In Montague County several men will sow from ten to forty acres. Donley County farmers are going to sow same. In Dallam County sweet clover grows so luxuriantly in a wild state that farmers have become interested and some will make a seeding this winter. No doubt sweet clover will become a common crop within two or three years or as soon as it has proven its value as a pasture and hay crop. M. B. Oates, Agricultural Agent, Ft. W. & D.

SAVINGS INCREASING

The last twelve months have been possibly the worst in the nation's history from the standpoint of most business men. Security values have shrunk amazingly. Farmers have frequently been compelled to market their produce at a loss. Mercantile trade has suffered and thousands of factories are shut down. Our normal percentage of unemployed—slightly less than 3 per cent of our population—has nearly doubled. All this sounds discouraging, but in the face of these unquestioned facts, the savings banks of the country show an actual gain in deposits of nearly 7-1/2 per cent. It would be hard to find a more encouraging reality. In the war years and the first years after the war, those who work with their hands found their incomes doubled or tripled, and they spent accordingly, as though altogether sure that the good times were here to stay. That the lesson of the business collapse was not wasted upon all of these workers now becomes apparent. Those who are so fortunate as to have jobs are saving, and their thrift is the greatest single agency working for the return of conditions which the industry and commerce of the nation require. There could be no better evidence of national convalescence.—Gainesville Register.

When representatives of the worlds principal powers, assembled in Washington at the call of our own government, practically agree to a 10 year cessation of preparation for naval warfare—then, indeed, we can well say that a new era has dawned. The principles of the "Prince of Peace" are being recognized as the only ones worth while. Shall we not, then, give thanks to our God, that out of the maelstrom of war, there is emerging this thing we call the brotherhood of man? This season of Thanksgiving has, then, a double significance, and we know that all of you join us in prayer to Him who watches us all, that harmony will prevail throughout that momentous Disarmament Conference.

MOVIES TO BE USED BY YOST FOR COACHING

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21.—Motion pictures are to play an important part in the future coaching of the Michigan varsity football squad. Coach Fielding H. Yost announced following an investigation along this line. Coach Yost discovered the value of motion pictures to a football coach by accident. He asked a local motion picture cameraman to take 1,500 feet of film of the Michigan-Ohio State game. It was Yost's intention to compile a pictorial record of important Michigan games to be shown about the state and at class reunions in the future.

When the pictures were delivered a small room adjoining Yost's office was converted into a projection room and the pictures shown upon a small cardboard, the motion picture machine being focused to show all of the play on the cardboard. Although the figures in the pictures appeared to be but a few inches in height, Coach Yost, by standing close to the cardboard, obtained as good a view of his team in action as though he had been playing in the backfield. The value of motion pictures for training purposes became apparent to the "hurry up" mentor. By turning the machine slowly he found he could obtain the results of a rapid action camera. Yost turned the reel through the machine over and over again, studying the manner in which each of his charges conducted himself in the Ohio State game. He learned which of the men followed the play at all times and which lacked aggressiveness. After the demonstration was over Yost had accurate information concerning the good and bad points of each member of his squad who appeared during the game. "I cannot say that motion pictures will revolutionize coaching but they will aid us considerably in giving us a close-up of the men under fire," Coach Yost said. "The camera records facts that cannot be discerned from the sidelines during a game. A coach knows his men better by having seen them on the screen."

Yost will attempt to procure a screen record of the Wisconsin and Minnesota games. The pictorial record will not be confined to football, the mentor said but pictures will be taken of games in all varsity sports.

"ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE"

Shakespeare may have had con- gress in mind when he wrote his line about all the world being a stage, writes the Washington correspondent of the New York Sun. All known forms of drama, including the movies, are set before the astonished eyes of the American taxpayer who gets a seat in the stalls. Everything from the tragic death of a "pork barrel" appropriation bill to the face of hazing a new member is staged during a season on the congressional boards.

Artists in every line and legislative role are there. Senator Jim Reed of Missouri would go big in the heavy leads with his voice husky after a 4-hour speech.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire has an irrespressible fund of Shavian wit, and Blanton of Texas takes the slapstick comedian's role without a struggle. Senator France is so active in making a speech that he might well qualify as a dancing girl, and Senator La Follette of Wisconsin as the contortionist with his trick gestures. Representative Summers of Texas is touted for musical numbers, as he has a voice like a talking machine. Representative Percy Quinn, who performs tricks with a handkerchief during his speeches, is the congressional magician, and Representative Haugen of Iowa, with his scarcely audible voice and frantic gestures, is the pantomimist.

Uncle Joe Cannon is the nester of the troupe, and Senator Lodge the author. Senators Curtis and Gerry, republican and democratic "whips" in the senate and Representatives Knutson and Oldfield, who hold the same positions in the house, all telling the members how to vote, are the prompters. There are plenty of congressmen in the "chorus" on every vote.

The plaudits of the audience are quickly caught by these "players." There are few who can refrain from doing an extra turn when the house is crowded.

Jerome Steeking left this morning for a short visit in Amarillo. He will attend the Thanksgiving game at Canyon tomorrow when Clarendon College meets the Normal.

ROLL CALL ARMISTICE DAY TO THANKSGIVING

Endorsement by the Clergy of America of the Peace-Time Program of the American Red Cross and an earnest plea for active support in this undertaking has come to the Red Cross from two widely different sources. The two American Cardinals, Cardinal O'Connell of Boston and Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia, have written letters to the Catholics in America, urging their support and co-operation in the Roll Call. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of the Free Synagogue in New York, one of the foremost Jewish rabbis in America, sends the same plea to the people of his faith. Following are the three letters:

"The American Red Cross is an organization of which our country is justly proud. It is dedicated to a noble purpose, the alleviation of suffering mankind, and the story of its achievements speaks for itself. In order that this organization may continue faithful service and bring assistance to suffering humanity in the various crises which arise from time to time, it needs constant encouragement and support. It has ever been the just and proud boast of America that she has never written in generosity in any need, and I am confident that American citizens will not fail to respond as they have in the past to help the Red Cross to continue its ministrations to the unfortunate and suffering."

W. Card. O'Connell, President of the United States, having declared by proclamation that the Annual Membership Roll Call of the American Red Cross shall begin on Armistice Day and continue until November 24th, I deem it a duty to exhort all our citizens to enroll themselves in his admirable organization, which, for many years past, and especially during mankind such noble services and benefactions.

In times of peace, it has come to the rescue of the victims of pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other great calamities; and it strives to prevent and carry on measures for relieving the causes of suffering. In war, it has been a medium of communication between the American people and their Army and Navy; and it has cared for the sick and wounded throughout the world, irrespective of race and creed.

I bespeak for it a wide membership. D. Card. Dougherty, Abp. of Phila. "Every American ought to be a member of the American Red Cross. It is America's Community of Service—a patrie which every American may have a part. That is the time to strengthen the Red Cross, that it be enabled adequately to render its present service and be equal to any emergency that may arise.

Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day—hope and memory, pride and gratitude, summon every American to the Annual Roll Call of honor through service.

Stephen S. Wise, Rabbi of the Free Synagogue, New York City."

COLLEGE P. T. A. TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

The Parent-Teachers Association of the College is preparing to present a program Friday evening December 2, advertisements of which program have appeared in the last as well as this issue of the paper. The program will be rendered by students of the Fine Arts departments of Clarendon College, and will consist of musical numbers, readings, and a playlet. A nominal admission will be charged, and the proceeds will go to make many needed improvements about the college.

The association has undertaken the task of putting in sidewalks through the campus and of many other improvements such as refitting the stage in the auditorium. This will not only add much to the campus but will be an advertisement for the town by adding so much to the appearance of the college to the many visitors here during commencement.

As will be seen, the date was changed from December the first to the second, this on account of the examinations.

The money that is received from the sale of tickets will every cent be spent in town, as this association is allied with no other; in fact, so far as is known, this is the first parents-teachers association to be formed in a college in the state of Texas.

CLARENDON DELEGATES ATTEND E. L. INSTITUTE

THIRTY-FIVE REPRESENTATIVES FROM THE LOCAL EPWORTH LEAGUE CHAPTER ARE PRESENT AT MEMPHIS MEETING.

With thirty-five delegates in attendance at the District Institute for the Epworth Leagues held at Memphis, Saturday and Sunday, the Clarendon Epworth League had the largest representation of any of the visitors. The meeting was a very inspirational one, and every chapter represented will have more pep for the future work. The district quota of one thousand dollars was accepted and over subscribed, one hundred dollars of the amount being paid at the business meeting Sunday afternoon. The Clarendon chapter paid fifty dollars of the amount.

The sermon Sunday morning was a wonderful one, being delivered by Rev. H. B. Watts, pastor of Lockney station. In his sermon he compared the Christian life to a river, taking many beautiful illustrations from the Bible and other literature. In a grand climax he pictured the Heaven, toward which the Christian is striving, with such beauty of expression that the audience was enraptured. Following the service, eight young people pledged themselves for life service as missionaries and preachers, and more than fifty pledged themselves for special service.

Saturday evening was stent evening, and after the stunt program was rendered a social was enjoyed. Six different League chapters participated in the stunts, and everyone felt better after the hearty laughter at the many comical performances. The Memphis leaguers made their visitors feel thoroughly welcome and delicious refreshments were served following the social hour.

The many fine Memphis homes were opened for the entertainment of the visitors, and everyone of the one hundred and eighty-five delegates was most hospitably received.

Other excellent addresses were given by Rev. R. N. Hackabee, of Wellington, Miss Elsie Bass of Memphis, Mrs. T. C. Delany of Memphis, Miss Mabel E. Clarendon, Clifford Casey, of Amarillo, Rev. J. R. Rich, of Lela Lake, W. L. Vaughan, of Memphis, and Miss Inez Leach, of Wellington.

Following a song service Sunday afternoon, conducted by William Craig, of Clarendon, a business meeting was held. It was at this time that the various leagues adopted their quotas. After an inspirational service, adjournment took place at four o'clock. Many of the delegates from this place went in cars and trucks, returning home Sunday afternoon.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Ain't it funny? When you're up, you're up, When you're down, you're down (and somebody kicks you further.) But when you're only half way up, You're neither up nor down; (just settin' around.)

And when a man's down, let's a folks will TELL him to get up; others will tell him to "get," while a few folks will help him to get up. And if a man's up, let's o' folks tell him to come down;— so they can get up; others want him to come down, because they can't get up; while a few want him to stay up for his own and other folks good. (All of which "don't mean nothing.")

But it is funny. Our friends are invited to the services of the church on the coming Lord's Day and in the week; to bless God, to commune together, to shake a hand, to warm a heart; to the man next to you might need it.

You saw something you liked the other day. The name of a church, having a half of a city block, 300x600 feet with playgrounds, Boy's club building; Men's Club building and in the center a small but neat and comfortable church building and the name of that church was "The Church by the Side of the Road." It was somewhere else and somebody else did it. And there were only 43 men in the whole church, small church.

You folks in the country might spin that old Ford and the other kinds and come in some more. W. H. Foster.

CO-OPERATE TO PUT DONLEY IN THE BIG CLASS

MCCARDLE PUTS FACTS IN A WAY THAT ONE MUST EITHER HELP PUT DONLEY ON THE MAP OR DECLARE HIMSELF OPPOSED THERE TO

This section of the U. S. A. is said to have the largest area of good business. All of the Panhandle look upon this county as one of the best, and it takes more than idle talk to convince people at this time. We must deliver the goods. We have found the Red Cross, the Demonstration work, the County Agent and the Chamber of Commerce to be successful wherever they have had the co-operation of the influential citizen. It also takes to make these successful, money with co-operation.

If we but glance across the southern border and look into Mexico, we can gain an idea of what people are doing when everyone thinks only of his personal gain. Ask anyone who has ever been there, I have talked with many, everyone says the opportunities are unlimited; but results always follow wherever you find co-operation, and Old Mexico will never hold a place until it uses co-operation to the fullest extent.

The year of 1921 is about gone and as I have said before; the Red Cross, Demonstration Work, County Agent and Chamber of Commerce as I see them are needed in this county just the same as we see them in other counties who are endeavoring to hold their place gained by hard work.

This mutual admiration society does not accomplish much; but it takes work and lots of it. Some will say, "Give us your remedy." Well, here it is, in talking with the various secretaries whose work has been successful I find they have the following: First, the County officials take a personal interest in everything helpful to the majority of the citizens; second, the city officials do likewise and give the citizens in their city the same advantages of other places the same size, remembering that every community has the same difficulties to overcome; third, if our bankers will take an active interest with the heads attending the public meetings from time to time and consider carefully the merits of any enterprise putting new money here. As our friend from Wichita Falls who spoke to us a short time ago in telling us of their success; and how was it? The big men as well as the small men, financially speaking, all are co-operating and in that way they have been successful. Let us have one big meeting and get the farmer, the county officials, city officials and everyone interested in Donley County to attend, each one having a voice and by the co-operation of all we will put Donley County and keep it right where it belongs.

We Are Selling Dry Goods For Cash

The day has come when people are looking for values, they owe it to themselves and their families to see that their hard earned money is wisely spent, why do we have people come into our store and make their fall purchases, after having priced around town? We attribute it to the following facts.

We buy merchandise of merit, its value can readily be seen, we do not buy cheap shoddy goods in order to make you a seemingly cheap price, for you cannot wear the price, you must have goods that carry the quality in order to get satisfactory service from your wearables.

And too experience has taught us that by selling for cash we can save the purchaser from ten to twenty-five percent on their goods, on an average, we expect to build an enviable reputation known as the store of better values.

We shall not lower the quality of our merchandise, quality first consideration, style second, and last and most important the price which must be in keeping with the quality and style, in other words the price and quality must meet at our store.

We Are Making Some Specially Low Prices In Order To Reduce Our Stock

Our store will be closed Thanksgiving Day. We wish for you an enjoyable day, may we all on this day give thanks to the one from whom all good and perfect gifts come.

Yours for better values,

requires double the number, from which point the multiplications go forward to the entire inclusion of society. There should be no difficulty in selling the community to the people who live in it, but sometimes that is the most difficult task of all.

None should forget the fact that the tasks of the community address themselves to each and every member of society and not to just a few who are willing to work for the common good. The list must be enlarged until the inclusion is general if the best results would be assured.

ADVERTISING A

BUSINESS MAKER

Many do not realize the effect advertising has in the creation of business. Suppose every business man in the world should quit advertising tomorrow? The price of raw materials of all kinds would drop in price; the farmer could not find a market for his products. In short, commerce would be destroyed and business would cease. That would be hard on everybody, even on the wart who hangs out on the public square with a store and claims the right to your patronage, and who encases himself in his shell, does not advertise, does not contribute to waterworks, public highways, commercial clubs or anything else that aims to benefit the public in general—such a business man would suffer—because the biggest part of his business is created by those establishments in the town which do advertise—Ford County News.

DEMONSTRATION WORK DEVELOPS LOCAL LEADERSHIP

Home demonstration work, carried on by representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture co-operating with the State Agricultural colleges through an organization composed of the people of the community was undoubtedly much better understood at the end of 1920 than it was the year previous. People began to have a greater sense of their responsibilities with regard to the problems of better living. The relation of food to human efficiency, of clothing to health and economy of improved household conditions and conveniences to living standards, appears to have been more clearly appreciated.

The proof of this is the increased number of rural women who acted as local leaders of demonstrations or who lent their support, encouragement, and personal interest to home demonstration work in the counties. Membership in the county extension organization increased in practically every State—in several States as much as 50 per cent. All States in the North and West report work in 1920 in some phase of clothing, nutrition, and home management work. Food preservation was a project in every State, but one, health in all but two, and food production by women, especially poultry improvement, was carried on in practically all the Western and Middle States according to circulars just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The problems of food, clothing, care of children, the comfort of the home, and the general business of housekeeping confront every housekeeper and every group of housekeepers in all parts of the country. The call for guidance in clothing work in 1920 was so compelling that clothing specialists were added to the State extension staffs of the agricultural colleges in a number of States. The circular points out that rural women do much of the family sewing. High prices of fabrics and of ready-made garments increased the amount of home sewing all over the country, and farm women warmly welcomed the assistance of the home demonstration agent or State specialist. The fundamental idea underlying clothing demonstration has been economy of time, effort, money and material.

Various phases of health work have been carried on in every State in co-operation with State boards of health, with county, school and Public Health Service officers, and in many instances with the Red Cross. Home nursing, sanitation and various phases of child care, including nutrition, have been the projects of major importance.

THE SIZE OF TEXAS

We all know of course that Texas is the largest state in the Union, and its size has been described in many different ways; but a Mr. Nelson of Lincoln, Nebraska, described it in an entirely different manner in his speech before the Retail Credit Men's National Association recently held at Houston. He said: "You know I have been hearing so much about Texas since I got down here that I thought I'd have to look this thing up a little. I have found in my short span of life that it is a pretty good idea to accept what they tell unless you can disprove it. When they pour it in pretty strong, the inclination is to try to disprove it. When they began to tell about their distance, it kind of got on my nerves because our own state is 250 miles wide and 600 miles long and celebrated for its grape juice reputation."

So I got a map of the United States, cut out the State of Texas and laid it bottom side up, turned it around, fitted it here and fitted it there to see what it would cover. Believe me it is interesting to move that map around all over the United States and part of Canada and see what you get with it. Do you know that if we place Beaumont on the point where Texahoma is, that that blooming map, with this Beaumont point sticking there on Texahoma will do this:

Lay on the neck of Oklahoma, touch the eastern part of Colorado, covers all of Kansas, half of Nebraska and half of South Dakota, half of Missouri, with its mules, and Brownsville is found to be resting in Fayetteville, Arkansas.

At the same time with this map in the same position, you find this empire state covering all of Iowa, a part of Minnesota, including St. Paul and Minneapolis and El Paso is found to be in Houston, Wisconsin.

Then here is another one: Turn the map over and put Brownsville where Brownsville is, and you will find that this map covers all of Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama and part of Florida, a part of Georgia, Missouri and Kentucky and El Paso is over in the lap of Savannah, this time. Besides we find Texline to be in Big Stone Gap City, West Virginia, and Ochiltree is in Jefferson, Indiana.

What would happen by placing the map upon the northern part of this country? This Texas map will cover a part of Nova Scotia and all of New England, as well as Rhode Island, a part of Connecticut and goes clear over to Utica, New York. Then, on top of that, it goes a way into the province of Quebec, but why go to Canada with Mexico so near at hand.

Then I just tried one more. If we place Newton, Texas, of this upside down map where Paris, Texas, is we discover that Ochiltree is in Omaha, Brownsville is over in Columbus, Mississippi, and El Paso is in Milwaukee."

ORIGIN OF WRITING HAS BEEN SUBJECT FOR SPECULATION

The origin of writing has always been a matter of speculation. Ancient myths ascribe it to Thoth or Cadmus, or, in other words that it was brought from the East. Undoubtedly, the picture of objects was the first step toward writing. Through gradual evolution they came to stand for the sounds of spoken languages. The various systems have at least three sources—the Egyptian, the Assyrian and the Chinese system.

The Egyptians first used pictures entirely in their writing but about 2000 B. C. the hieratic form was introduced, from which the hieroglyphs developed into purely linear forms. From 700 B. C. to A. D. 200 the earlier forms were still further simplified, becoming an alphabetical form known as the Coptic.

The cuneiform writing of the Assyrian empire is so called from the Latin word meaning a "wedge," the various characters being made up of different arrangements of a wedge-shaped figure.

Arrested in an early period of development, the Chinese language still employs a written character for each word as it did thousands of years ago.

The Phoenician alphabet included five different branches of graphic representation, the most important of which is the Greek. The latter was the parent of the Roman alphabet which subsequently became the model for all European nations and also for the Western hemisphere.

Capital letters were in use many centuries before the invention of small letters. The oldest manuscripts we have are written entirely with capitals, and with neither marks of punctuation nor spacing between words. Punctuation was unknown to the ancients. Some of the marks now used were introduced by Aristophanes of Alexandria before the Christian era, but it was not until 1500 A. D. that Aldus Manutius, a learned printer of Venice, reduced the art of punctuation to a system. —Amarillo News.

WHEN YOU ARE OLD

What will you be doing in your old age? Will you be sitting on the front porch, stroking your white hair? Or will you be active, powerful and a leader? This latter you may doubt, for most of us have the false notion that old age means inactivity.

If you have an idea of retiring when you are 60, consider these great exploits of old men:

Titian executed his most famous painting when he was 98.

Von Moltke was in full uniform when he was 88.

Cornelius Vanderbilt did not become a great railroad king until he was 70. At 88 he was the most active railroad man of his day.

Socrates began studying music when he was 80.

Pasteur discovered his hydrophobia cure after he was 65.

Columbus, between 60 and 60, made his first voyage of discovery.

Voltaire, Newton, Spencer, Talleyrand and Thomas Jefferson—all were active and in their intellectual prime long after they were 80.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 16.—An average of 3,000 cases monthly in which aid was rendered ex-service men or their families is the record of the American Red Cross Chapter here during the period from Sept. 1, 1920 to Sept. 1, 1921. The Chapter extended its aid to ex-service men in all matters relating to compensation, medical treatment or vocational training and other problems. That the work is increased is manifested by the fact that 1,570 more cases were handled during September this year than during the same month in 1920. This service is maintained at a cost of $75,000 by the New Orleans Chapter. Roll call Armistice Day to Thanksgiving. Donley County Publicity.

ARMISTIC DAY PROGRAM

On Armistic Day the entire chapel period was given over to a special program. A good crowd of students and visitors assembled in the chapel hall at 10:00 o'clock where the following program was rendered:

Song, America—Audience.

Prayer for Peace and Disarmament—Dr. Slover.

American Creed—Sixth and seventh grade students.

Reading of Governor's Proclamation—Dean Condron.

Armistice, America's Part in Winning the War—Hon. Thompson.

Trio "Home Again"—Messrs. Craig, Phillips and Miss Betts.

Disarmament, The Washington Conference—Judge Link.

World Outlook Today—Dr. Slover.

Sing Song—Audience, led by Miss Betts and Mr. Beights.

National Anthem—Orchestra and audience.

This was one of the best programs of its nature ever rendered at the College. All speeches were instructive, inspiring and impressed the student body that we have yet an opportunity to help make history. Also they were concise discussions of world conditions today.

The patriotic spirit in everyone was stirred by these speeches and songs. Such programs are very fitting because they not only honor past heroes, but point others to more patriotic useful lives for their country.

The audience joined in the songs with a zest that showed that the spirit of the day had permeated every soul.

Every Armistice day should be celebrated by a suitable program by the College.

The rest of the day was given as a holiday to the students.

REGULAR ADD MEETING

The Add Society met on the regular meeting night. One of the best programs of the season was rendered. A large portion of the society was present, the participants were greatly inspired in the rendition of the program.

Our regular chaplain was absent and another very competent member was given charge of the devotional service. This resulted in an oddity rarely witnessed, proposing much interest for the assembled congregation. One of the most interesting debates possible to be rendered was listened to by a spell bound audience as the thrilling speakers opened up the fields of knowledge on the subject. Resolved, that the platform yields a more powerful influence than the printed page. The negatives won by a unanimous vote.

Our president, Mr. Bran Garner, has left, and the vice-president Mr. Burnett, took up his work as a president. A new vice president was put in to fill Mr. Burnett's place. This man is one admired by the entire society for his keen sense of wit, lively spirit, and comical state of mind. Mr. Joe Stanton.

A bore is a person who talks so much about himself that you don't get a chance to talk about yourself.

The Pan and Pan-Alethean Literary Societies entertained the faculty, the Adds, the Orthonians and the public last Monday night with an open session. A fuller account will be given next week.

Mrs. Davis of Tohoka came Wednesday night to visit her son, Office and daughter, Ruby Jane.

Since our last issue Messrs. Hubert McCollum and L. W. Fry were visitors at the College. Both men were students here at the first of last year.

The Pan-Aletheans have accepted the challenge of the Orthonians for a public debate on condition that the Orthonians adopt an agreement regulating the debate for this year and all succeeding years. There is no report from the Orthonians yet.

Mrs. H. L. Jamison visited her sister, Miss Gladys Davis this week.

ORTHONIANS DABBLE IN POLITICS

The Add hall was the scene of much electioneering Thursday afternoon, November 10, due to the fact that a grave and serious matter confronted the Orthonians for their decision—they must pick out the best looking boy in the Add Society! What could be more difficult? It is an established fact that the best looking boys in school are Adds, but that fact did not simplify matters; it merely complicated things.

After a long, heated period of nominations, (call any Orthonian to witness), during which one Orthonian, fired by sympathy to her nominee, threatened to become unmanageable, the vote was taken, by secret ballot, that determined the candidate for the "Beauty" contest.

We doubt if the "handsome man," Oscar Walker, feels highly honored with the position in which his sisters have placed him, but at any rate he should, (what about it, Orthonians, didn't we have a time getting him there?)

Any one desiring information concerning the art of lobbying, and like schemes resorted to in the world of politics, should see a certain good looking (blond) Orthonian!

THE PANHANDLE SOCIETY

The Pan members met Thursday night at 7 o'clock with an unusual amount of enthusiasm. The opening exercises were led by Jake English. The president, E. L. Craig, then requested the secretary to read the minutes of the previous meeting, and also the program which followed:

Male quartette, Messrs Thompson, Walker, Phillips and Craig. A number of real funny jokes were given by Gordon Bain. A reading by Leigh Bones. The debate closed the program. It was Resolved, that the laborers are as much responsible for the unemployment situation, as are the capitalists. Add Russell, negatives Harold Turner and Rex Reeves. The decision was given the negative.

The business was then put before the house, and the society elected Miss Ella Mae Lyle to run in the beauty contest between the Adds and Pans.

The other general business was disposed of, also the committee reports made. Then the society adjourned in the best of humor.

PRESS CLUB HAS A CALL MEETING

Owing to the fact that the committee has not yet been able to work out a time for Press Club meeting that does not conflict with classes, the club did not have a regular meeting for the first week of November. However, having important business to transact, the club met in a call session Monday afternoon, November 7 and determined the nature of the "Beauty" contest near at hand and the rules that shall govern it.

See bulletin board for report of committee as to time of next regular meeting.

BULLDOGS DEFEAT WAYLAND BY SCORE OF 34-0.

On Friday last the Bulldogs defeated the Wayland Jackrabbits in a spectacular game. The Bulldogs received the ball on the fifteen yard line and made a touchdown on the first kickoff. This completely took the Wayland team off their feet. However, they continued to play for the victory.

The Bulldogs outplayed and out witted them throughout the game, only once did the Jackrabbits get near their goal, and then they soon lost their position.

Skinny—"What do you think of the Ouija Board?"

Hiram—"I never stayed at that hotel."

Jackson was on the sick list for several days last week. He is now able to be back on the football field helping prepare for more Bulldogs victories.

OLD RESIDENTS SPEAK OF DONLEY'S GLORIES

E. F. MORRIS AND P. A. BUNTIN GIVE INTERVIEWS TO THE STATE PRESS TELLING OF THEIR KNOWLEDGE OF DONLEY

In the past week two of our citizens were sought by representatives of the state press as to their estimates of Donley. Each of them is lavish in his praise for this section and it will be interesting to the local people to know what each of them has to say regarding our section of state.

"I have known this section for 14 years and have owned land all this time, but have been in this section during the previous season every year, and during all of these years have never seen a crop failure. This section will grow any kind of crop adapted to the temperate zone almost to perfection. Cotton will make from one-half to a bale to the acre. With practically 80 percent of the cotton lands in the South ruined by boll weevil, the man who owns a good cotton farm in this section is riding easy. It is impossible to grow cotton in the East under such conditions, and that alone spells prosperity for this section. Until some means is found to destroy the weevil, cotton will continue to bring a high price, but cotton is not the only thing for us.

The farmer can grow more of everything as adapted to this section than the east possibly gather. This is a good stock country, with a high, healthy altitude, especially adapted to growing stock to be fattened for the market on the exceedingly abundant grain crop of this section. As to the human family seems to thrive amazingly, judging by the happy, healthy children we see here.

The people here are good and kind, and give everyone who comes help to develop this wonderful country. The one great need of this section is more houses to take care of the people who wish to come here; in other words, the Panhandle country is a country for general diversification, a country that will grow all crops, a cattle country, both dairy and beef, the finest hog country known, and now we will add and make this a big poultry country, we then cover everything in the word, 'Diversification.' And the more you study that word the more you are impressed with it."

Mr. Buntin says: "Our people are feeling good. Their business has improved wonderfully in the past few weeks, a change that is largely due to the cotton crop for which the producers are receiving a good price. Some of the cotton in Donley County is making more than a half bale per acre, and the people are availing themselves of this delightful weather to gather it.

"Clarendon is in the heart of a rich, fertile and highly productive section of the Panhandle and although neither grain nor livestock represent the money values to which they are entitled, there is comparatively little depression. The people seem to feel that the time is coming when they will have a schedule of prices representing the intrinsic worth of their products, for meats and grain the world must assuredly have in abundance."

The story came out in 1917 when Mr. Balfour came to Texas as head of the British war mission team after the American cowpuncher has had this to do with the development of Mr. Balfour, head of the syndicate in which members of the family were interested to find out why the money returns from the sale of cattle were not coming up to expectations. It was believed that the syndicate was being cheated by those who had the sale of the cattle.

MANY LUNCHEON-ITES PLEDGE TO AID RED CROSS

WORK IN THIS COUNTY IS REVIEWED, AND EVERY SPEAKER DECLARES HIMSELF UNWILLING TO SEE THE WORK GIVEN UP.

With a good attendance of business men and women, the main discussion at the Tuesday Luncheon was in regard to the work of the Public Health Nurse in Donley county. Several speakers related different phases of the work that make it necessary, and everyone declared himself unwilling to see the work go.

Rev. W. H. Foster, of the Red Cross Executive committee, stated that the only way in which the work can be maintained here for another year, is for the support of the Red Cross to be more nearly unanimous than ever. He stated that thus far during the roll call only some three hundred dollars have been turned in, while it takes about $2500 per year to keep the work going. Rev. Foster also explained that the Public Health Nurse only received a salary of $1500 per year. The beauty of the work of the Public Health Nurse is that it is largely preventive.

R. A. Long stated that he would call the Public Health Nurse a hygienic teacher rather than a Red Cross nurse. He declared that he is in favor of keeping Miss Yeager; but, by all means, he said the work should be kept up.

Dr. Wilder then gave instances of the wonderful value of the work as preventive; and he related instances of fine work that has been done among people that are unable to afford the bill of going to a hospital. Dr. Reynolds also expressed his appreciation of the work being done, stressing its preventive value.

As a conclusion Secretary McCarrall urged that everyone get behind the Chamber of Commerce and help put Donley on the map. He declared himself ready to resign, if he was in any way hindering the work of the organization. At the same time he mentioned the fact that often times the most fault finding is done by those who do the least to help the town along.

ORIGIN OF THANKSGIVING DAY

The earliest Thanksgiving did not, as some have fancied, skip down the ages to find its home in America. In one way or another it seems to have always been observed. Throughout Europe, before the Reformation, special days were set apart as day of religious thanksgiving. The American Thanksgiving Day is traced back to the Pilgrims, while searching for a suitable place in which to build their houses, they one day came upon some deserted Indian huts in which they found some baskets filled with corn. From this supply they succeeded in saving enough to plant their first year's crop.

In the spring of 1621, the seed corn was sown and its growing watched anxiously by the people of the little colony. To their great joy, the harvest of the following October was a bountiful one. Governor Bradford ordered a three day's feast in celebration thereof. Wild turkey, geese, ducks and water fowl, corn bread and vegetables no doubt formed the chief components of their feast, but to speak of the fine deer brought in by a tribe of friendly Indians.

This festival supposedly be the first real Thanksgiving Day from which we date our celebration. This celebration, although without doubt the origin of our national Thanksgiving day, may be looked upon as merely a local observance, being held by the Plymouth colony only. They were the forerunners of less local celebrations in Massachusetts and gradually in other colonies, for in 1630 a public Thanksgiving day was observed in Boston by the Bay Colony, and again in 1631.

During the next fifty years there were as many as 22 public Thanksgiving days appointed in Massachusetts, usually in October or November, after the gathering in of the harvests, or to celebrate some public benefit. It did not become a regular holiday until a long time afterwards.

In 1789 Washington issued the famous Thanksgiving proclamation recommending Thursday, November 26, as a national day to be devoted to prayer and Thanksgiving. Washington's example was followed by other Presidents.

In 1863 President Lincoln appointed the fourth Thursday in November as the national Thanksgiving day. Since then the day has been observed annually without interruption.

Mrs. James Trent returned yesterday morning from Ft. Worth and other cities where she has been visiting for the past three weeks.

George Ryan and wife spent Sunday in Amarillo.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 18.—Here's a new member for the most forgetful man's club.

V. E. Bundy, Topeka newspaperman was to be married. He had the girl, the ring and everything.

As he journeyed toward the church where the ceremony was to be performed, he witnessed an automobile accident. He stopped, obtained the details, rushed to the office and started to write the story.

Almost too late, Bundy suddenly departed post-haste in the direction of his church. He reached there just in time for the wedding march.

Clarendon's pass and starts toward goal with clear field. Jackson overtook the runner and downed him on Clarendon's forty yard line. A. C. C. makes two yards over right, then six yards around right end. First down is made. A. C. C. makes three yards over right. Failing to make any gain on buck, the Christian call a conference the backfield men. This was a time when the Christians were seriously threatening a touchdown. Their right end run fails to make the first down and the ball goes over Meads punts. A. C. C. was plowing back toward the goal when the quarter ended.

A. C. C., following the resumption of play, makes two yards over right. No gain is made on fake. Ball goes over.

Clarendon makes three yards over right. Jackson completes the first down with left end run. Hallmark makes five yards over right. Meads makes one yard on line buck. Jackson makes first down over center. Close makes six yards over right. Pass is incomplete; Hallmark makes two yards over left. Meads punts.

A. C. C. makes five yards on high dive. Pass incomplete; A. C. C. punts. Jackson for Clarendon received and runs five yards. Jackson makes a beautiful forty yard run on fake. But the head linesman would not allow the play to stand, saying that the Bulldogs had five men in the backfield. Referee Parcells only enforced the penalty after much argument, as he was of the opinion that such was not the case. Jackson made the first down on the same play, after Clarendon was called back. C. C. fumbled, but Jackson recovered the fumble and made a gain. Time up. Score 7-0.

Parcells was referee, and Crudgington umpire; Sherley of Canyon, was head linesman.

GIVING THANKS

(By Alice Wingate Frary)

All thoughtful parents, I am sure wish their children to have "wide interests and simple pleasures."

Indeed, the two go together, for the further into the activities of others

YOU DON'T HAVE TO DIE TO WIN!!!!
—Government statistics are accurate.
—They indicate that only 10 out of every 100 persons are self-supporting at the age of 65.
—54 out of every hundred persons are entirely dependent on others, or on CHARITY, at age 65.
WHERE WILL YOU BE AT 65? WHERE?

the child's sympathies carry him, keep an idea of balance, and will be the more wholesome pleasures he is richer and happier for the knowledge.
The broader the education of the parents, the more they will have to pass on to their children. Once open your child's eyes to the ways by which he is provided with food, clothing, transportation, heat, light and other comforts, and if he has a normal, eager mind, he will as he grows older find means of supplementing what you have taught him. When you have given him the inestimable advantage of a fair beginning, he will see and understand the evidences of cause and effect in his life. For instances late bedtime is pleasant in the evening, but detrimental to school work; eating vegetables may be a trial, but I have seen four year olds devour them with increasing willingness, in order to have "rosy cheeks and straight, strong legs."
But perhaps the greatest advantage we give our children in showing them the relationship of incidents and circumstances in their lives, is the habit of appreciation. Then naturally follows gratitude to the Heavenly Father. Why should every good thing be taken for granted? Saying "Thank you" is more than an amenity. They will be better members of society for having learned to express gratitude, with the knowledge of a reason for "Giving Thanks," in the understanding gained of "The life of all life
The Light of all light,
The Love of all love,
The Good of all good—Fod."
—Froebel.
