

DONLEY THE FORTUNATE THEME FOR LUNCHEON

LARGEST ATTENDANCE AT THIS WEEK'S LUNCHEON THAT HAS BEEN ENJOYED FOR SEVERAL WEEKS. IS OPTIMISTIC MEETING.

With the largest attendance in several weeks, the Tuesday luncheon was an optimistic meet from beginning to end.

Secretary McCordell referred to the Red Cross roll call which will start next week taking occasion to speak of the fine work that is being done by that organization, and saying that he hopes that Clarendon will respond in the same hearty manner as to the calls of other worthy organizations.

Rev. J. H. Braswell, of Hico, was then introduced; and he responded in an entirely pleasing manner concerning his impressions of Clarendon. He said that long before he came here, he had heard of Clarendon, and that he had formed the opinion that Clarendon is the type of city that it is.

Rev. Sam J. White, who has recently returned from holding a revival at Commerce, spoke next. He began his remarks by saying that he had seen more evidences of prosperity in Donley county than in any other section of the state that he had visited.

Secretary McCordell then stated that a band for Clarendon is about to be realized.

Rev. J. H. Griswold then spoke a few congratulatory words to the Chamber of Commerce saying that he fully believed that we are in the dawn of the greatest age in the history of the world; and that for our organizations as well as for our young men of today await the greatest opportunities.

Captain Simpson then said that he hoped the Chamber of Commerce would assist with the organization and maintenance of the Home Guard company that is being recruited here.

The facts that appeared in the last issue of the News; stating that the work is being done in conformity with the National Defense Act, with the view of keeping the young men of today in the same fine shape as were the young men of '17.

LOCAL LIGHT PLANT SOLD WITH OTHERS

CLARENDON PLANT WITH TEN OTHERS CHANGED HANDS MONDAY. ADDITIONS ARE CHANGED HANDS MONDAY

To satisfy a judgment against the Texas Gas and Electric Company, the Clarendon light plant operated by the Corporation, with ten others, was recently sold. The purchaser is the Texas Central Power Company.

The big Fairbanks-Morse engine that for many years furnished the motive power has been rehauled throughout, and, as soon as a few minor parts arrive, will be in good shape for use today.

The new corporation comes into existence by virtue of articles of incorporation filed October 21st. The capital stock is one million dollars, and the purpose of the corporation is to supply water to the public for irrigation; power for municipal and domestic purposes; the manufacture and supply of ice to the public; and the generation and supply of gas and electric light and power to the public.

WORK BEGUN ON BRICK BUILDING

STRUCTURE SIMILAR TO PRESENT LITTLE STORE BUILDING BEING PUT UP.

Work was commenced Monday on the structure which T. M. Little is erecting just south of his present building on Kearney Street.

The present stone walls are being worked over and left. The building is 25x115 feet. The show windows will be two feet deeper than the windows in the Little store.

At first it was the plan of Mr. Little to make the building a two story one; but with the slowness of the materials in arriving, he decided to make the structure the same height as that of his store building.

The Irish laddies have a record of not a defeat this year, and they will probably give the Bullpups the fight of the season. Oscar Walker, whose home is Shamrock, will be captain of the Bullpups, and he and Bobbie Long will divide honors at quarter.

PLAN FINISH Y BUILDING

SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE BEING CLOSED OUT WITH MARKED SUCCESS

Plans were laid by the directors of the Y. M. C. A. last week for the closing out of the old subscriptions and thus completing the Y building.

The directors announce that they have met with marked success in the collection of the subscription money.

L. A. Coulter, the state secretary of the Y. M. C. A. met with the directors last week, having arrived here on Thursday.

It is the desire of the directors and everyone else interested in the work to get the Y into operation as soon as possible; and all efforts are being turned this way now.

Miss Eppie Long returned Saturday evening from a visit at Stephenville and Ft. Worth, following her work at the Dallas Fair, during which she attended the Donley county booth.

B. Y. P. U. ENTERTAINED WITH HALLOWEEN PARTY

The members of the B. Y. P. U. were entertained Monday evening with a social never surpassed so far as the amount of fun had. The party was a spook affair, and the Halloween decorations added to the spirit of the occasion.

The guests met at the home of Mrs. I. S. Mullins; as they were masked, numbers were pinned on them, and a leader selected to take them on the parade.

They went down through town, paying short visits to such places as the theatre; thence they went back to the church, where they were taken to the back entrance.

The stairway was dark, the only light being a jack-o'-lantern at the top. Thence the party was conducted into the parlors of the church beautifully and appropriately decorated with cats, pumpkins, and jack-o'-lanterns.

When the guests had been seated, each one was made to come to the center of the room while the others guessed as to who he was.

The guessing was rendered all the more difficult by the fact that only one light was left burning. When the identity of each disguised person had been guessed, he had to remove his mask. Mystery was added to the contest due to the fact that it was never guessed who three of the disguised were.

Following this the party was divided into six teams, and a leader for each appointed. Each team had to have some barnyard call. Then they started on a peanut hunt.

Only the captain of each team could pick up the peanuts; and he was summoned by the team call. The Donkeys and the Cats tied on the number of peanuts found, and the rest of the peanuts were divided between them.

There was also a real witch to tell the fortune of each one of the guests.

The amusement grew beyond description in the trip through the desert. The searching party in each instance was in quest of the fountain of youth. The guests were conducted into the barren desert one at a time.

It was not long until each one was completely fatigued by the expedition through the desert, and blindfolded, they approached an oasis to rest.

The resting place was a chair to which there was attached a good sized hot shot battery. It was never stated definitely whether each party found the fountain of youth; but all of the evidence was to that effect, judging by the vigor with which each leaped from the chair and shook off the decrepitude of a moment earlier.

A contest in which blindfolded drew pictures by pinning various parts of pictures on the walls added to the fun. Halloween candies and apples were served, and miniature Halloween witches were given as favors.

More than fifty people were present, and there was a great variety in costumes. The social was given by the B. Y. P. U. but special credit should be given Mmes. Joe Goldston, Homer Mann and Harry Brumley for the excellent decoration that they arranged.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE REPORTS MONTH'S WORK

MISS ELLA YEAGER REPORTS THE WORK THAT SHE DID IN OCTOBER. FUNDS ARE NEEDED TO CARRY ON WORK.

Miss Ella Yeager has submitted the report of her work for the month of October and it gives some insight into the wonderful value of the public health work for this county.

The total number of visits made by her was 297; the number of talks made was 25; while the number of night calls answered amounted to four.

A large part of this work was among the school children, and the total number of children examined amounted to 474.

Miss Yeager has been sustained by the Donley County Chapter of the Red Cross alone. In this work the funds have been used up, and so far no other available aid has appeared.

It remains, then, only for those who have appreciated the public health work to contribute liberally when the roll call is made here commencing Friday of next week.

There are only 1,036 Red Cross Chapters in the United States employing Public Health Nurses and Donley county is so fortunate as to be one of these.

The full statement of the work of the Red Cross in this county and in the United States appears in another column of this issue.

HALLOWEEN CELEBRATION IS SAFE AND SANE

It has been an object of particular comment that never has anyone seemed to have more fun than on Monday evening, Halloween.

Many of the boys and girls found amusement in cleverly disguising themselves; while others found their pleasure in burning up an abundance of fireworks.

But with it all, there was not one bit of damage done. All of the boys had worlds of legitimate fun; but there is no instance of the destruction or impairment of any property.

The citizens of the town have time and again voiced their appreciation of the spirit shown that evening; for they are glad that the boys found pleasure in other pranks than those that endangered life or property.

Accounts appear of serious hurt to persons and damage to property in many other cities, but Clarendon has had a glorious safe and sane Halloween.

RESIDENCE OF DR. FRY BURNS

EXPLOSION OF OIL STOVE STARTS FLAMES TUESDAY MORNING.

The residence of Dr. W. H. Fry was burned almost to complete loss Tuesday morning following the flames started by the explosion of an oil stove.

The old man who does housework for Dr. Fry, had lighted the stove preparatory to getting breakfast. No one else had arisen.

Following the explosion, every effort was made to save as much of the furniture as possible. The piano and a considerable part of the other furniture was saved.

Due to the quick work of the fire company, the building was saved before complete destruction, and the walls are preserved in fair condition.

The building is located a block east of the Pastime Theatre.

McCARDRELL TO ATTEND MEETING OF EXECUTIVES

C. OF C. BAND NOW PROPOSED FOR CLARENDON

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE READY TO PAY FOR INSTRUCTION IF THOSE INTERESTED IN THE BAND ARE READY TO ATTEND REHEARSALS

Following the recent discussion at the Tuesday luncheon, plans are now being made for the organization of a Chamber of Commerce band.

A committee consisting of S. M. Braswell, E. A. Simpson and Fred Story, has been appointed for completing the arrangements and hiring an instructor.

The Chamber of Commerce in sponsoring the proposition, wants to make the people some such proposition as to hire the instructor and meet the incidental expenses if the members will individually pay for their instruments.

There are a few of the old Civic League instruments, but they are in most cases so nearly worn out that the purchase of new instruments will be the best plan.

An effort will be made to supply the instruments at cost plus some such small commission as ten percent so as to insure the payment of expenses incurred in the ordering.

Blanks will be found in another part of this paper which it is hoped that all prospects, boys between the ages of fourteen and twenty-two years will sign.

In a few instances boys a few months younger than this age may be admitted. Sign the slip and hand to S. M. Braswell.

REMAINS OF MRS. KENDALL LAID TO REST HERE SUNDAY

The funeral services for Mrs. Roy Kendall were conducted at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon by Rev. J. T. Griswold at three o'clock, following which interment took place in the Citizens' Cemetery.

Mrs. Kendall had passed away at seven thirty o'clock Saturday morning following a three weeks' illness.

Mrs. Kendall was born September 25, 1876. She was married in March 1897 to Roy Kendall. To this union were born three children, Mrs. H. L. Wood, Wilbur and Miss Grace Kendall, all of whom survive the mother.

Mrs. Kendall joined the church in girlhood, and has been a devout Christian.

Besides her husband and children, the deceased is survived by two brothers, B. F. and T. L. Naylor.

A large procession followed the horse to the grave; for Mrs. Kendall was widely known here, having lived in Donley county for thirty-three years.

Besides the relatives here, the following attended the funeral: J. R. Kirkwood and family of Stratford; S. C. Davenport and family, of Vernon; and Mrs. T. M. Smith of Childress.

The host of friends will join with the News in expressing to the bereaved ones a message of sympathy and condolences.

The hall was filled, and besides local Masons, members from the following places were in attendance: M. M. Noble, Wichita Falls; W. A. Cox, Dallas; J. T. Bain, Memphis; O. C. Hill, Hedley; T. N. Reynolds, Hedley; Frank Houston, Memphis; R. T. Wilson, Vernon; R. D. Lupp, Groom; A. L. Smith, Groom; A. McIntire, Groom; P. B. Farley, Groom; Sid Barton, Childress; John H. Hunt, Dalhart; F. O. This fall has been another wonderful exhibition of beautiful open weather. Shout it from the housetops; no section, national or foreign can offer such wonderful climate as the Texas Panhandle!

Occasionally one hears of city officials and county commissioners complaining because of the pilfering of tools and even important parts of machinery belonging to the city or county government. Just why people will assume that city or county property may be appropriated with impunity is hard to understand. Machinery and tools bought with public money ought to be as sacredly guarded by any citizen as his own or his neighbor's property. "Stealing" is an ugly word to call it by, but there is no better term for such unprincipled acts. Often road work and other public improvements are delayed because somesistent demand for street lights. We sincerely trust that the old year will not languish and the new year be ushered in before Clarendon will again speak nightly of her progressive spirit through the eloquent twinkling of LIGHT marshalled along every street and avenue of the city.

Last week's issue of The News carried an advertisement which the older readers will recognize as one of the first great national advertisers but which the younger generation will regard as a new venture. Years ago "Sapolio" built up a wonderful national sale by steady use of advertising, but having attained a phenomenal success, its owners decided that advertising was a needless expense, that "everybody knows us" and that the momentum they had gained through regular publicity would carry their business on indefinitely. But after all these years the manufacturers of Sapolio found themselves with a failing business and several advertised products supplanting them in every section, so they have learned the sad lesson that many a local merchant has learned—that nobody is ever so well advertised and no product has such publicity that it can afford to cut off the advertising appropriation and continue to succeed. It can't be done. Makers of Sapolio found it out and he is said to their praise they recognized the trouble and had brains enough to apply the remedy. It will be interesting now to watch the demand for Sapolio begin a steady growth and again attain a national sale. Are you a grouchy "has been," or will you brighten up your business with Sapolio methods?

Except for the eternal justice of the situation, an observer would be forced to sympathize deeply with the I. & G. N., trainmen who went out on strike according to orders from the union bosses with the understanding that other trainmen on other roads would go out a few days later. The weight of public sentiment was so overwhelmingly against the union attitude that the bosses called off the strike in order to hold their jobs, leaving the poor I. & G. N. men "out on a limb" and out of a job. Late dispatches indicate that the union heads are now demanding that all strikers on the road in question be reinstated without loss in seniority or any other service benefits, but the road officials have filled most of their places, traffic is going ahead without entanglement and it is far from likely that many of the men will get their positions back again—certainly not with former seniority rights. This will be a national lesson to union men and marks again the failing strength of radical unionism. It will be a hard matter to get any union to go out on a strike with the promise that other brotherhoods will follow at later dates. Confidence of the workers has been betrayed and thousands will feel toward the radical blusters who head their organizations just like the public in general has regarded them for the past five years. Unionism is all right as long as it is fair to worker and employer. Unfair to both it becomes a stench in the nostrils of sane men of both classes.

It is a pitiful state of affairs when a city makes public acknowledgment of its march to the rear by cutting off its street lights in the residential district, when other towns are increasing their lighted zones and even villages are contracting for lighted streets. True, during the past year it has been wise for men and corporations to sit steady and not increase their overhead expenses except in special cases, but ordinary sagacity has taught the importance of every man and corporation "holding their own." A well lighted city advertises itself and inspires pride in the breasts of its citizenry, and The News is not at all surprised that one of the leading women's clubs of the city has taken official action in the local situation and is preparing to bring strong pressure to bear on the city administration to re-instate the lights in the residential districts. There is no politics in good citizens of all classes and ranks demanding a lighted city. A city government has no excuse for existence except that it renders service to its citizenship and in this instance, friend foe and neutral are joining in the inco-operation of every individual and business interest of the State for better agricultural conditions and fair prices for the products of this State, which can be more easily obtained by continued diversification.

LIVE AT HOME CAMPAIGN TO START NOVEMBER 19TH

Dallas, Tex., October 31.—The United Campaign for Better Agriculture has designated November 19th as Texas Live At Home Day, according to E. F. Shropshire, Secretary, who states as follows:

"This year of all years, has demonstrated and proven beyond doubt that every interest of our State is much better off financially by the reduction in cotton acreage and increased food and feed production. The present extent of diversification must be maintained and increased. It is our road to permanent prosperity. The cotton acreage must not be increased, for should normal weather and damage by insect pests prevail, an increase in acreage is likely to cause a return of the disastrous conditions of 1920. Every farm must be made self-supporting, so far as soil and climate will permit, by increased food and feed crops, gardens and orchards, and by an increased number of poultry, hogs and livestock, and of better breeds on each farm.

"The farms of Texas are demanding diversification and rotation of crops, and heavy losses by root rot in the black land belt, is evidence of it; the depleted condition of the sandy soil demands it, and the increased damage by boll worm and weevil warn us that our best interests will be safeguarded by it. Now is the opportune time for the co-operation of every individual and business interest of the State for better agricultural conditions and fair prices for the products of this State, which can be more easily obtained by continued diversification.

PRESIDENTS HAVE SAVED FROM SALARIES

Most of the Presidents since Hayes have had money enough or means of earning enough to permit them to live comfortably, says Richard Barry in Leslie's.

Hayes is said to have saved $44,000 a year during his term as President. At that rate, he had at the end of his term some $176,000, which invested at 5 percent would give him an annual income of $8,800.

Garfield was in office only five months before he died, but his successor, Arthur, is believed to have saved $50,000 during his three and a half years in office. Cleveland was a poor man when he went into the White House, but he retired to private life with a comfortable estate, due largely to wise investments of his savings. Harrison is said to have spent but about half of his salary.

McKinley went to the White House in debt, but during his five and a half years in the Presidency he paid his debts and saved enough more to provide adequately for Mrs. McKinley after his death.

Roosevelt saved money while he was in the White House. He received legacies from his father during his lifetime which totaled nearly $200,000, but at his death he left an estate of half a million dollars, more than half of which was saved by him during his term as President, or received by him for his writings.

Taft went to the White House in debt, as did McKinley; in four years he was out of debt and had saved money.

Woodrow Wilson has practically nothing before 1912, but in 1921 he bought a home in Washington for $150,000, paying for it in cash or its equivalent. He is planning to spend a similar amount on a country home, and he casually refused an offer of $150,000 for an article on the Peace Conference. He is evidently much better off than the college professor at Princeton, who, 25 years ago, applied for a Carnegie pension. Mrs. Wilson had a small fortune, but no such amount as the ex-President has today.

Associates of the ex-President estimate that he saved $50,000 a year for eight years. Here is $400,000, which, added to the income from his books, an income greatly accelerated by his increased prominence, should enable him to live well during the rest of his life.

President Harding has manifested a tendency toward personal economy during his few months in the White House, which indicates that he, too, will save something out of his monthly check of $6,250.

PRODUCERS MUST LEARN MORE ABOUT CONDITIONS IF THEY FIX PRICES

"The farmer or the spinner will ultimately fix the price for each year's production of cotton. All other factors entering the various phases of marketing are only temporary and speculative in influence, the law of supply and demand being the final governing factor," says E. F. Shropshire, Secretary-manager of the United Campaign for Better Agriculture.

"That the farmer, the producer; and the spinner, the consumer, are the determining factors of cotton values is evident, both however being governed by the law of supply—the amount produced by the farmer—and demand—the amount that can be consumed by the spinner, plus the surplus produced, or minus the required amount.

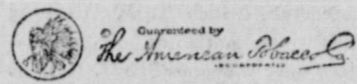

"If the farmer produces just enough cotton to meet requirements, fair prices are obtained, and the history of cotton production is that small crops have always brought the farmer more money than large ones. If more is produced than is needed, the surplus fixes the price of the whole crop; not at a fair value, for what is required by the channels of commerce, but at the cheapest possible price at which the entire crop can be obtained.

"The farmer's greatest opportunity to have a real say in the market value of his cotton is at the time of planting, and the force of his voice is largely governed by the acreage planted in cotton and of other crops to sustain him.

"The spinner's time comes after the crop is produced, and is governed by the amount produced; the demand for cotton products and economic and financial conditions

Notice this delicious flavor when you smoke Lucky Strike—it's sealed in by the toasting process throughout the world.

"The farmer, with rare exceptions, year in and year out, has merely planted and produced, without giving due consideration to factors that control his efforts, being governed more largely by the amount of credit extended by his merchant and banker and the acreage that he and his entire family can cultivate.

"The spinner, on the other hand, has made a most careful study of his industry, by utilizing the best brains that money can obtain; knows the factors governing and will not operate unless a profit is obtained."

This contrast is made for the purpose of showing more forcefully the advantages gained by diversified farming, as practiced this year—1921; the force of the farmer's voice for fair values and the strength of ample food and feed crops to sustain him and the smallest advance by merchants and bankers in years to hinder him.

With these facts before us, the great menace of, and heavy damage done by the boll weevil this year, confronting us, and with the knowledge of a shortage in food and feed production, and that the present acreage in cotton is sufficient, under normal conditions of weather and insect pest, to produce an adequate amount to meet the world's requirements for some time to come, the farmer should be slow to increase his cotton acreage for 1922 and bring a return of the disastrous conditions of 1920.—Exchange.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

seventy-five guests. By Reporter.

Lutheran services will be held next Sunday at the Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The topic for the day will be "Two lessons taught by Christ, saying: Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's," based on Math. 22, 15-22. The first lesson taught is: The difference between church and state; the second: Do your duty to both. It should be of paramount importance to every Christian to know, not only, what his duties towards God are, but also his obligations towards the government, which he must render as a faithful citizen. No, this is not bringing politics into the pulpit—we would not sanction that, but only showing from the Word of God, that we owe a duty as well to the State as to the church. Everybody welcome! We cannot offer you a service wherein you will hear special music, but what we can and do offer you is the plain gospel, humbly proclaimed in an unassuming service. Come! We will be glad to have you.

K. K. K. CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

Last Thursday afternoon, the home of Mrs. W. T. Hayter was the scene of a beautiful reception, when the Kill Kare Klub celebrated its first anniversary. The rooms were tastefully decorated with lovely pot plants and the beautiful needle work which had been accomplished by the members of the club was very artistically displayed. A short program was rendered by Mrs. Edith Cameron, Miss Anna Moores and Mrs. Roy Hendrix. Throughout the afternoon delicious refreshments were served in the dining-room to about

CHEERFUL WORDS

For Many a Clarendon Household To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove helpful to hundreds of Clarendon readers.

Mrs. S. H. Lovell, E. Third St., Clarendon, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills several times with the best of results, and I am only too glad to recommend them. Whenever my back gets weak or my kidneys act irregularly, I use Doan's and they never fail to relieve me. I get Doan's Kidney Pills at McDonald's Drug Store." (Statement given November 29th, 1915.)

On April 21st, 1919 Mrs. Lovell added: "Since I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago, I have not needed a kidney remedy. The cure Doan's made has lasted."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Lovell had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Pat Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dean, returned to his home in this city Sunday evening after having spent some five months at Clovis New Mexico where he ran a tractor during the threshing and the wheat planting seasons.

AMERICAN LIBERTY

Principal, East Side Evening High School for Women

Should you analyze the American ideal you would consider liberty an important ingredient of it, wouldn't you? Our country's heroes from Patrick Henry onward glorified it. It enlivens every patriotic song of ours, it speaks in mottoes of American states and cities, it gives meanings to emblems in coats of arms and decorations, our beautiful allegorical figure is the Goddess of Liberty. There are keen-minded souls, mostly young and often born abroad, interesting members of our classes, who repeat "America is no land of liberty." For a year or more, reports from Russia record that this is spoken of America over and over. I have heard it from street orators here, many a time. Evening-school teachers have asked how to meet it. Would it not be well to ask what the questioner's idea of liberty is? Why not show him that liberty in American history, has, from the beginning, had an American meaning possibly different from the definition he wants to give? American Liberty has meant freedom to worship according to your own religion, freedom from the rule of hereditary monarchs who claim divine right to power, freedom to vote as you choose, to change the national government every four years, the state and municipal governments more frequently; freedom from attainder and entail, from imprisonment for many acts still punishable in other countries, freedom from trial without a right to be heard or without the decision of a jury.

But American liberty has not only always meant freedom of the people to govern themselves by representatives of their own choosing, it has always meant that there shall be government. It has always meant order and respect for the will of the majority. If religious freedom was used as a cloak for polygamy, a practice revolting to the proprieties respected by the majority, religious freedom was restricted. Tell the story of the Mormons. If freedom

Cancer-Prevention Week Nov. 1-7

Do you know that Cancer is the fifth greatest cause of death in the United States? Cancer is causing approximately 90,000 deaths in the United States each year or 13,000 more lives than were lost among our American soldiers during two years of war.

Just think of it, Cancer causes at present:

- 1 out of every 10 deaths in people passed 40 years of age.
- 1 out of every 8 deaths in women
- 1 out of every 13 in men above that age.

95 percent of the deaths from Cancer occur above 35 years of age. Between the ages of 35 and 45, three times as many women as men die of Cancer.

Cancer can be cured in a majority of cases when detected early for it is then a local disease.

Unfortunately Cancer in early stages is frequently not accompanied by pain and is therefore neglected until it becomes inoperable. Medicine which relieves pain does not have any effect upon the disease itself. It simply delays the proper treatment.

Consult your doctor immediately upon the appearance of any unusual growth, persistent sore, bloody discharge or bleeding from internal surfaces.

of speech threatened the peace of the Nation, freedom of speech was curtailed. Tell the story of the pestiferous Citizen Genet and the Alien and Sedition Laws. If freedom of action meant resistance to the law, freedom was refused. Tell the story of Washington, a father of liberty, and what he thought of the Whiskey Rebellion. If the idea of liberty led states to attempt to dissolve the nation, other states prevented it by force. Tell the story of Andrew Jackson and South Carolina, of Lincoln and the great lesson of the civil war. Show that liberty has always been, in America, indissolubly linked with union. "Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable," has been an American watchword for more than half a century.

Absolute, unrestrained liberty was never an American aim. On the contrary the dangers of unorganized liberty, liberty which meant disorder, anarchy, personal selfishness, lack of consideration for the common good, were apprehended immediately after the war of liberation was ended and led the men who had done the most for liberty to set regular and constitutional bounds to it. Show how our original and fundamental instrument, the law of our being, the enactment that made us a Nation, put union first; in order to form a more perfect Union, to establish justice, to insure domestic tranquility, to provide for the common defence, to promote the general welfare and to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to our posterity, we, the people of the United States, do ordain and establish this constitution. Every one of these phrases is worth a heart-to-heart talk to separate nights with every class in school until by persuasion, by reasonableness, by conviction, a teacher leaves no doubt that the soap-box rantings against present-day America are answerable by the history of American political thought.

EPWORTH LEAGUE RE-NEWERS FIRST MISSIONARY PROGRAM SUNDAY

Sunday evening saw the rendition of the first missionary program by the Epworth League since reorganization this year. The program was in charge of Charles Lowry, who is superintendent of the Fourth Department. The talks and the music were of the missionary type, and the program was a very interesting one.

The League has chosen this year to study Africa and the missionary work that is being done there. Consideration was given to the fact that the Protestant churches can not afford to fail in their work there at this stage.

The program was made the more interesting by the reading of a letter from Rev. Ansil Lynn, a former student of Clarendon College, who is now engaged in the missionary work in the Belgian Congo.

Plans are being made for a social hour for the young people each Sunday evening after the evening service; when these arrangements are completed, another interest will be added to the services, and thus help accomplish the desire of Dr. Griswold in keeping the greatest number of young people interested in the evening services.

THE DOGS ARE AGAINST THE PESSIMIST

Don't listen to the pessimist. The long period of business depression gives him an opportunity to croak, and he can't resist. He thinks the country is going straight to the dogs, and is doing his best to help it along. But the pessimist did not make this country, and neither will he destroy it. People who consider both sides of a question, or dig under the surface to find the reasons for undesirable conditions, are not alarmed. They realize that we are simply paying our portion of the penalty of every great war, and that when the debt is paid we will return to activity and prosperity. We have been fortunate. We have suffered less than any other people in the great community of nations. We have wealth and we have food, where millions of others have nothing but hunger. We have hope, while they face the barrenness of despair. True, we have our unemployed, but we also have our national and state governments and civic agencies that are even now devising ways and means of providing work for them. It will be done. Our great armies and navies have been demobilized and officers and men have returned to the marts of trade and commerce. In other countries they are still staggering under the burdens of militarism. These are only a few of the many blessings we enjoy even in our days of business depression. An unbiased contemplation of the facts should convince us that we as a people are favored of the gods and have no reason to complain. Let the pessimist croak, if he must. The dogs may worry him, but they are not looking for the rest of us—Paducah Post.

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, sniffling, sneezing, discharge, headache, dizziness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.

THE KU KLUX KLAN MYSTERY

Is nothing compared to The Curiosity aroused by the following invitation received by twenty young ladies.

"The Goblins will call for you Tuesday evening at six o'clock. Be ready, well wrapped, dressed plain, eat no supper, have a bag containing..... Failure to go will cause disappointment and hunger in Spoon Land.

Hours, six to eight p. m.
Signed Purple and Gold marks."

The fun began as each girl crawled onto the open truck and not one, other than the driver, knew their destination. However, through the expert chauffeur of Miss Mildred Martin the party was conducted safely through the back alleys, filling stations and around sharp curves and corners to the parlors of the First Baptist Church where Mesdames Cricket Taylor and Tom Kennedy furnished the entertainment for the rest of the evening. Before being admitted to the dining room where a table was spookily decorated and heavily laden with crisp bacon, eggs, pickles, onions, bread, butter, jelly, coffee, cocoa, popcorn balls and apples, each young lady, was conducted to the beauty parlor where everything including the electric chair, was furnished free.

Those being honored with the above invitation were: Misses Anna Moores, Grace and Ruth Davis, Temple Harris, Ollie Paul, Hollye Bryan, Smallwood, Cox, Dewey Mitcham, Pat Helgeth, Coor, Mildred Martin, Annie and Mary Bourland, Maena Lamb, May Bennett, Lowe, Harrison and Mrs Edythe Cameron. CARD OF THANKS

We were so overwhelmed with the kindness of our friends and neighbors in the recent sickness and death of our dear wife and mother, that we cannot express to each individual our feelings in the hour of grief. "We thank you" is all too mild an expression but believe us it is the heart's sincere desire. May God, in his mercy, bring friends as true when sorrow and death comes in your homes.

Sincerely,
Roy Kendall,
Wilbur and Grace Kendall,
Mr. and Mrs. Lee Woods.

Mrs. W. Drummond, of Mission, is here visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Handrick.
