

CLARENDON SHRINERS HOLD BIG PICNIC AND BARBECUE AT JOHN BLOCKER'S RANCH

MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED RED TOPS AND FAMILIES ATTEND PICNIC, THE FIRST OF THE SORT THAT HAS BEEN STAGED IN DONLEY COUNTY. NOBLES FROM OTHER CITIES ARE IN ATTENDANCE, AND PARTICIPATE IN CEREMONIES

The Shriners barbecue and picnic was held at Noble John Blocker's ranch Wednesday, having been postponed several times; and the Red Caps were determined to have it this time. Despite the cloudy weather and the rainy days of the week past there was a crowd of about 100 present, who enjoyed the hospitality of Blocker's ranch, amid the beautiful scenery and pleasant surroundings.

At ten o'clock the Shriners began to gather in their cars on First street at the Masonic Hall building, those not having conveyance being assigned places in the cars by Noble Harry Warren, who had charge of this feature, and the drive north to the splendid ranch home of Noble and Mrs. Blocker began. Upon arrival at the ranch the Red Top betook themselves to the barn where the sublime and effervescent coffee of the Yellow Dog was conferred upon a number of waiting candidates who withstood the trying ordeal in a most heroic manner, acquitting themselves in a very creditable manner considering the execrating, villainous and diabolical incense through which they were taken.

Noon arriving the mess call was sounded and Shriners, ladies and kiddies gathered in the grove of beautiful trees on the bank of Barton creek to partake of the splendid barbecued meat, which was cooked under the supervision of Harry Ramsey, assisted in various and sundry ways by Nobles Tom Crabtree, Jim Rutherford and Jim Bain, who had been denominated the barbecue committee, while the ladies, aided by various Nobles read out salads, deviled eggs, pies, cakes and other palatable eatables galore and in plenty, with coffee and ice tea for liquid refreshments. One of the special features was a stew which is variously called "county attorney," "son-of-a-gun," "slush," and other enlightening names of like kind, but that barbecue, oh boy! huh! it was fine, the fatted calf donated to the club along with the use of his ranch by Noble Blocker.

After the very sumptuous dining a short bit of speechmaking was indulged in but most of the Nobles were "too full for utterances" and the crowd adjourned to the meadow for the "ball game." This was played between some so called ball players among the Shriners and the boy and girls team, which Homer Mulkey "very kindly" championed and managed, ably assisted by Nobles Ernest Wright, John Hunt and Henry Youngblood, who stood around first base and would not allow the Shriners to get past that base, if they could outrun them. The game ended after some very vicarious itching by the Red Top hurlers, and "excellent" second base playing by Noble Harwood Beville who dodged when Catecher Ernest Pope threw a liner to second to catch a young lady runner. Nobles Frank Whitlock and Bob Wilson were the pitchers for the Fezzers. Joe Goldston, Jim Bain, Bert McCordle played sundry positions.

Mention should be made of the guessing contest game in which much fun was had. The ladies would wrap one of their numbers in a sheet and lead her to the front of the canvass and let the Nobles guess who she was. The first one was Mrs. Homer Mulkey, and Noble Mulkey guessed loudly every one else in the crowd of ladies, but missed his guesses, not knowing his own wife, much to the amusement and hilarity of the Nobles present who good naturedly chafed the Noble brother for his error, and warned not to be such a wild guess in the future.

After the ball game the Nobles and ladies indulged in games of their youthful days, such as drop the handkerchief, and the men organized a game in which a strap was used, edifying to the ladies and children, but painful in a degree to the Nobles. Other games were played, in which the kiddies joined as well as the older folks. Some of the crowd waded in the creek, the kids went swimming and intense enjoyment was the order of the whole day. Late in the afternoon supper was spread, and even then the crowd was unable to get away with the great amount of eatables.

The Clarendon Shrine Club has planned this barbecue and picnic for several months and have had to postpone several times on account of rainy weather, but the boys said they were going through with it this time, rain or no rain, as every time before, although it had been rainy just preceding the time for occasion, on the day set the weather was pretty, and the day this time was all that could be asked for, just pleasant, but with clubs overhead, and had roads the large crowd which would otherwise have been present from other places in the Panhandle were not present, a fact much regretted by local Shriners who had hoped to be able to give the visitors the benefit of the splendid entertainment provided.

The home of Noble and Mrs. Blocker is one of the most beautiful in the country, especially for a country home, it being fitted with the most modern conveniences, like city residents, set in the side of a large hill, facing to the south where noble groves of splendid trees rise majestically toward the sky, and beyond being Barton creek flowing peacefully down the little valley, and is a setting worthy the pen or canvas of an artist to describe, and the hospitality of Noble Blocker and his good wife is that of the old time western kind, open-hearted, genial and kindly, everyone made welcome and made to feel at home.

Noble Blocker furnished the "fatted calf" for the barbecue and the Shrine Club furnished the remnants of the feed, the wives of the Shriners making the pies and cakes in plenty, delicious, savory and appetizing, and some of the Nobles are understood to have said they were unable to get behind their steering wheels after enjoying such a bountiful feed.

Without doubt this is the most generously successful occasion yet had by the Clarendon Shrine Club among the many which they had held, and more gatherings of the same kind are anticipated in the near future.

Noble Geo. P. Tucker, an insurance man of Dallas, a member of Hella Temple there came to Clarendon especially for this picnic and was an honored guest of local Shriners.

Ferguson will preach. All are invited.

A. A. Ledbetter, of this city, who it will be recalled, recently finished the law course at Cumberland University at Lebanon Tennessee, returned Friday evening from Austin where he stood the Texas Bar examination. Mr. Ledbetter made a good record at Cumberland, having finished the prescribed course of study in that institution in the minimum time. He is now awaiting to hear from his recent examination and as soon as he has been licensed he will commence the practice of law somewhere in the Panhandle.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Antrobus of Brooklyn, New York, are here visiting with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Antrobus.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS AT PUEBLO

The following statement was received at the county headquarters today concerning Pueblo, Colorado. You will see that it carries an appeal so urgent that Red Cross officials cannot fail to do their utmost in bringing before the people of their community this great need.

Pueblo in Distress "Five hundred thousand dollars are urgently needed as a bare minimum sum to do most necessary relief and rehabilitation work in the city of Pueblo, according to conservation and careful estimate. On behalf of the stricken citizens of Pueblo the undersigned earnestly appeal to the generosity and sympathy of the nation to assist in meeting the situation which is entirely beyond the resources of the community by sending in their contributions.

The Red Cross on the Job "More than fifteen hundred families already have been listed by the Red Cross census as being in need of help. Many of these have lost all they possess. Those families represent an approximate total of seven thousand persons and the census is not yet complete. Hundreds of dealers large and small have been paralyzed by the flood, which completely wiped out their stock and ruined the buildings in which they were housed. The damage is estimated between fifteen million and twenty-five million, exclusive of loss of municipal highways and railroad property. The flood victims must be helped to regain normal economic existence before the city can return to its position as a self-supporting community.

It Will Continue

"Upon invitation of the Governor of Colorado and the city of Pueblo the American Red Cross has undertaken the task of rehabilitation and is in charge of all relief work. Destitute families are now being taken care of in refugee camps and thousands are being fed daily at field kitchens maintained under Red Cross direction. Initial steps to rehabilitate these unfortunate persons have been started. So that they may again become productive citizens and not continuing objects of charity, homes must be built and productivity restored with the principle always adhered to of making each sufferer help himself as far as he is able. This will necessitate funds being made available immediately. The Red Cross has appropriated one-hundred and five thousand dollars to the relief funds, but general subscriptions reported to date have been light.

If any citizen of Clarendon wishes to aid in this work of rebuilding the hopes of this destroyed city, he might send his contribution to Mr. Swift, at the Farmers' State Bank, County Publicity.

NO MORE SUNDAY BASEBALL FOR CLARENDON THIS YEAR

An agreement was entered into this week whereby those who had here before been playing baseball in this city on Sunday agreed not to play any baseball on that day in the future in return for the use of the Clarendon College athletic field for games on other days of the week. This agreement was gladly entered by all parties; as one prominent citizen who was concerned in the affair said, it was not that the boys wanted to play ball in Clarendon on Sunday, but that they wanted to be sure that their finance for the support of the team was forthcoming. This citizen then showed that he meant what he had been saying when he had opposed Sunday baseball by saying that he would give five dollars per month to the support of the team should the finances be short.

The Sunday baseball has caused much discussion in Clarendon of late and the condemnations were frequent. This is an opportunity for those who have opposed the laying of baseball on the Sabbath to show their interest by getting behind the team and supporting them at all times. A good baseball team, like a good brass band, is always a fine advertisement for a town; and now comes the chance for all parties concerned to manifest their interest in what they consider the best for Clarendon by helping see that this agreement, if they are interested in it, is enforced, that by lending a little kindly assistance.

Miss Nell Crain, a former student of Clarendon College passed through here yesterday enroute to her home at Goodnight. She has attended Baylor-Belton the past year. She greeted her cousin Miss Hurlois Buris and friends.

MAJORITY OF MEMBERS ATTEND ENCAMPMENT

DESPITE UNFAVORABLE WEATHER THE MEETING IS ATTENDED WITH SUCCESS. WILL HOLD ENCAMPMENT NEXT YEAR.

The encampment of the Demonstration Club Boys and Girls on the Jim McMurtry Ranch north of town last Thursday and Friday was the biggest thing of the sort ever attempted in Donley and was a successful as it was large. The various clubs assembled and pitched tents before noon Thursday. The two days were spent as a get-together, and in more thoroughly affiliating and harmonizing the work of the clubs over the various sections of the county. The first day was spent for the most part in playing games. The second day was the day for the big barbecue. The clubs also had the valuable advice on the various phases of the club work by experts representing the A. & M. College. The Chamber of Commerce of this city furnished valuable aid in the transportation of the club members, as well as the favors shown by the various business men of the city.

On the first day the boys' club of Lelia Lake challenged a team that any or all the other boys' clubs for a game of baseball. Nine men were picked from the other clubs, but were unable to show the form of the challengers, and as a result the challengers pulled down a victory to the tune of 10 to 3. The Lelia Lake girls; not to be outdone by their brothers, issued a like challenge; and beat the miscellaneous team opposite them by a score of 13 to 10. They won their victory in the ninth inning when they piled up five scores at the last time to bat.

In the one hundred yard dash, the Windy Valley Club was the winner Bill Gallighugh being the fleetfoot that took that honor. Willie Brandon, of the Goldston Club was a close second. The Windy Valley Club was also the winner in the 440 yard relay, and the Martin Club team was second. The smaller boys were furnished with amusement in the less violent games.

In the three-legged race, Walker Chapman, of Hedley and Adkins Mace of Lelia defeated Rev. Sam J. White and A. N. McCordell of this city; while the girls' three-legged race was won by Rena Rutherford and Ada Benson of this city.

It had been planned to have a story-telling following supper the first evening, but on account of the threatening condition of the weather, the campers hurried to town where they found protection from the elements in the Y building. There was then, as well as the next afternoon that they were the recipients of Homer Mulkey's generosity in entertainment, and enjoyed an evening at the Pastime Theatre.

All of the club members arose in time the next morning to go back to the McMurtry Ranch where they prepared their breakfast over the open fires. The second day was spent in contests and in planning club work for the following year. At the noon hour a feast awaited the campers in the form of the finest kind of barbecue donated by J. W. Kent and prepared by Odos Caraway, George Ryan and Chief Cook Frank Whitlock. Following this Rev. Sam White announced that he had a new game called "the new circle"; when everyone of those who were eager to participate had got in position to play the game, it was learned that it was nothing else than the game that to the soldiers was known as circular rapjack. But, like the inventor of the guillotine, it turned out that Rev. White had the belt applied to him in warm fashion.

The Clarendon Chamber of Commerce furnished much aid in the way of transportation and refreshments, the club members being treated to ice cream the first evening.

Hedley also rendered particular aid to the members in the way of transportation and also in furnishing everything that they were called upon to donate.

Much credit for the success of the encampment is due to the untiring efforts of Roy Hendrix, Donley's live Demonstrator and to his wife; and to Miss Maybelle Hays should praise be given for her assistance in making the encampment worth-

LARGE CROWDS PLANNING TO ATTEND CELEBRATION

The celebration in this city on the Fourth and Fifth of July will be without a parallel. A swift baseball game will be played in the morning of each day; on the second day the big barbecue will take place; the afternoon of each day will be devoted to a rodeo. The entertainment in this field is assured of being the finest ever seen in this county; and the Clarendon Brass Band will furnish all the pep that is needed for the occasion. Already inquiries are arriving from all parts of the Panhandle; and many competitors in roping and horsemanship from this section of the state and from Oklahoma are preparing to be here. Oklahoma's champion rider will be here to perform. The American Legion is in charge of the whole celebration, and this assures entertainment of the highest quality.

No expense has been spared in preparation for the big free barbecue, arrangements having been made to feed ten thousand. The other eats that make the barbecue complete have been provided by the business men and the other citizens of this city, the donations having been most liberal.

The class of playing that the Clarendon baseball team does is too well known to need comment, suffice to say that the city has never had a team more universally successful than the team this season. The players will be seen at their best on those days, and games with lots of pep and thrills, such as the fan likes to see may be looked forward to.

The Clarendon band, although until recently, it had been almost a year since it had played as a unit since the beginning of a series of rehearsals of late, has begun to acquire the old time pep that tickled the ears of the citizens in the past.

The rodeo is beyond a doubt the biggest thing of the sort ever attempted in Donley. For the first time here spectators may see the famous flag race. This is a sport just as dare-devil as is polo; and if it takes less skill than polo, it makes up for this in requiring more nerve. To those who have never seen this flag race, it can only be compared to football, except that it is the more thrilling as it is played on horseback. The rules of the game go to the extent that if an opponent is about to make the goal one is allowed to capture him in any way except to seize the bridle of the opponent's horse. It is both fast and fascinating.

Perhaps no part of the show will surpass the riding of Roy Mayes, Oklahoma's champion rider. Mayes has never been surpassed in his native state in this field, and his fearlessness has often won him laurels. There will be other experts in this part of the performance, among them being Cotton Rhodes, of the J. A. Ranch; Guy Pearce, of J. A. fame; Johnnie Chatman, of McLean and numerous other riders. "Big Boss" Blanton, who is in charge of this feature of the entertainment, has recently secured a number of the Panhandle from Mr. Shelton, of McLean.

Not only may such stunt performances be seen, but a number of other such as wild mule races, steer-riding, and roping have been arranged for.

It is intended that everyone shall go away saying that they have never been to a better picnic and from the way the plans are maturing this is not far from the true estimate of the celebration. Everyone is invited, and remember—"the more, the merrier."

N. N. Martin left this morning for Temple in response to a message stating that his brother was in a very serious condition following an operation.

Dr. Jenkins also favored the clubs with an abundance of ice lemonade.

Out of town visitors were: J. R. Edmunds of the A. & M. College, District Agent for the Panhandle; S. C. Evans of the A. & M. College, Assistant State Superintendent of the Boys' and Girls' Clubs; Miss Helen Higgins, Assistant State Agent; and Miss Boss Edwards, District Home Demonstration Agent.

More than fifty per cent of the club boys and girls of this county attended, despite the busy season. It was unanimously voted to hold the assembly next year, and with the additional members of the clubs that are expected to be enrolled then, the outlook is the brightest for the future of the clubs in this county.

CLARENDON BANKER ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE PANHANDLE BANKERS ASSOCIATION

FRED CHAMBERLAIN IS TO FILL THAT OFFICE FOR THE NEXT YEAR. BANKERS SEE NO CAUSE FOR WORRY AS TO THE FUTURE, AS THEY ARE CONFIDENT THAT THE WORST TIMES HAVE PASSED NEXT YEAR ASSOCIATION GOES TO AMARILLO.

FLOOD CONDITIONS ARE WORST HERE IN YEARS

Following a cloudburst in and around Clarendon Saturday evening, the flood conditions were almost the worst ever seen in this city. On that evening, according to the rain-gauge three and fifteen hundredths inches of rain fell, here and the indications are that the rainfall was even heavier to the southwest of this city. On Monday evening one and seven tenths inches of rain fell. Ingress and egress to and from the city was almost stopped by the condition of the roads, and through service on the railroad was impossible until this morning when the first through trains since Saturday passed. Crop conditions over the county as a whole are good, although in some sections the washouts and hail have made replanting necessary. The heaviest hail seems to have been around Ashtola and also ear Brice, although some hail has been reported from Windy Valley. The country north of the river and the Jericho community, from the reports seems to have suffered more from the washouts than from hail, wherever hail is reported. The McKnight country reports great damage done by the washouts.

In the floods of Saturday evening, about seventeen hundred feet of railway track some two miles south of Lelia Lake was washed away. Saturday evening's southbound Denver was obliged to stay here all night, and return to Amarillo the following morning. Traffic was completely tied up until yesterday when the trains transferred passengers and baggage at the washout. The northbound mails were beginning to arrive here by the way of Amarillo, having been sent by the way of Sweetwater. This morning the first trains to run straight through passed.

As we go to press no estimate of damage to the crops in the county can be made, suffice to say that the total of the damage will not be as high as was at first feared. The reports are arriving from many parts of the county that the farmers will immediately begin the replanting with the late row crops.

The flood conditions in this city were not as bad as they have been in times previous. The water ran down the streets in large volumes, but it ran in only a few buildings, the Post Office. A part of the among them being Dick Allen's garage that is under construction and track the east part was made impassible. The lake north of town is the fullest that it has been for months. Heavy rains have fallen all over the Panhandle, but from most of the places comes the report that the damage is the minimum under the conditions. No rains have fallen here since Tuesday evening.

A CORRECTION

Due to an error originating in this office last week, it was stated that everything the big picnic here the 4th and 5th would be free. Such statement is not absolutely true, and we confess our mistake. The American Legion has been at great expense to provide the best rodeo ever staged in this county, and in order to help meet a part of this expense, a nominal admission will be charged to this part of the entertainment. This of course the picnicers will be glad to pay we feel sure, as the expense is beyond the means of the Legion. But the big barbecue is absolutely free.

CLARENDON TO PLAY ESTELLINE BASEBALL

In another part of this paper appears a notice of the game between Clarendon and Estelline tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock. Clarendon's team has been practicing hard, and their form is nothing short of beautiful. Estelline, on the other hand has a fine team; and a dandy game may be expected when these team cross bats.

Allen Beville returned yesterday from Ft. Worth and Dallas where he had been on business.

Fred Chamberlain, vice-president of the Donley County State Bank of this city, was elected president of the Panhandle Bankers' Association which met at Lubbock Tuesday and Wednesday. This is a signal honor to our city as well as to Mr. Chamberlain, and is a just recognition of merit. This association represents all of this portion of the state, extending as far south as the Texas and Pacific and east as far as Childress, and in the territory covered there is some of the finest banking talent in the state.

Mr. Chamberlain has been with the Donley County Bank, nobody knows exactly except him, and he is too modest to tell, and has been in the active management of the bank for the past five or six years; and last fall he was finally elevated to the position of active vice-president of the bank. While he has been there, Mr. Chamberlain, by his universal courteousness and by his continual effort to serve his patrons well, has not only formed friendships that are numbered today actually in the thousands, but he has been very potent in the building up of a patronage that is not only one of the largest in the Panhandle but is universally pleased with the service rendered.

Far from being a man who seeks publicity, Mr. Chamberlain is a retiring man who modestly refuses to speak in personal terms where there is likelihood that he will appear to have sought prominence in any way. It has been this characteristic among others that has made him so well liked; and thus it was at the bankers' convention. When the successful bankers of the Panhandle sought a man whom they would have to mould the policies of the association for the coming year; a man who could deliver the goods, who would do credit to the association and not claim the victories as personal triumphs, they picked Fred Chamberlain.

The association was royally entertained by the people of Lubbock, and that has been one of the most pleasant meeting places of the association in years. Besides transacting much business, the bankers enjoyed addresses by many of the most prominent bankers in Texas, notable among whom was Warren P. Andrews, of Ft. Worth, President of the Texas Bankers' Association.

The Bankers see in the future anything but the hard times that are prophesied by many, many prominent bankers declaring that of late they had many heavy loans, and that in the near future they expect to continue to do so. Co-operation was one of the keynotes of the meeting, this to serve the country best in time of need; and the belief of the bankers is that the time of greatest stress has passed.

The association will meet in Amarillo next year. Clarendon should congratulate herself on the great honor that has come to her, and to the advantage of Clarendon and the Panhandle as well as to Mr. Chamberlain may it be wished that the year be prosperous and that his term of office be the most successful and that much good come of the year's work.

PHOTOGRAPHERS TO MEET HERE 1922

J. R. Bartlett returned Tuesday from Amarillo where he attended the Panhandle District Association of Photographers. Mr. Bartlett says that this was, without a doubt, one of the best meetings that the association has thus far enjoyed. On the ballot for the meeting place of the association in October, Clarendon and Quannah ran a close race, the vote being tied the first ballot; but Quannah won on the second ballot. Clarendon has been promising hard, and their form is nothing short of beautiful. Estelline, on the other hand has a fine team; and a dandy game may be expected when these team cross bats.

Some thirty professional photographers of the Panhandle constitute the membership of this association, and the attendance was very good considering the weather. Many points of use to the photographer were brought out.

COMMON SENSE AT DENVER

The defeat at the Denver convention of the American Federation of Labor of "the one big union" the general strike idea, as well as the whole notion of political interference by labor, is a triumph for common sense and a commendation of the cause of labor in America by which it deserves to profit. The outcome is all the more encouraging when it is remembered to what radical lengths labor has gone in other countries. The letter drafted by the executive council of the Federation and addressed to the secretary of the International Federation of Trades Unions was particularly vigorous in denouncing the socialization of industry and all attempts to bring under the sway of the Soviets the labor movement in America.

Labor appears, in short, to recognize capitalism as essential and capital as a partner in production. On the matter of obtaining its due proportion of production's fruit labor is as much concerned as ever. But on the matter of recognizing capital's right to a legitimate profit, labor is seen to be fundamentally sane. The sanity of it is the more outstanding because of the fact that the working man of late has been going through a time of slack employment and lowering wages. For a time the man with the hammer was the cock of the walk and worked for whom he pleased at pretty much his own terms. That he can step down from such a lane and still carry the spirit of democracy in his heart is a thing fine to see and to reflect upon.

It is a pity that this spirit can not be carried abroad, that labor everywhere might breathe it in and become whole and wholesome again with the inspiration of it. "Bolshevism has lost its punch," declares Matthew Woll, vice president of the Federation, in his account of the convention. It is well. Labor could afford to lose its William Z. Foster and its Big Bill Haywoods. They never earned anything for it but the distrust of the public, which wants nothing but fair play for everybody, including itself.—Dallas News.

COOPERATIVE MARKETING PRONOUNCED SOUND WAY

Dallas, Texas, June 22.—After working out their own marketing plan for the cotton crop of the south, farmers have presented the final draft to bankers and business men all over the state to see if any flaws can be found. To date there has not been a set of these men which has refused to endorse the scheme as being financially sound and practicable. The Texas Bankers' Association gave the ok to the idea and this is probably one of the wisest organizations in the state. Scores of local chambers of commerce and business organizations have examined the plan carefully and have failed to find any weakness.

The latest full endorsement comes from the Texas Chamber of Commerce and recognizes the wisdom of the movement which the farmers themselves are taking to help themselves in the cotton marketing problem. Following is the exact text of the endorsement:

"Recognizing the need for improvement in the processes of marketing and distributing farm products to the end that agriculture may be made more prosperous and the spread between the prices received by farmers and the price paid by consumers be reduced to the lowest point consistent with a fair return for needful service rendered; and

"Recognizing further the earnest efforts of agricultural products to improve their own business through co-operative action in standardizing and marketing farm products.

"Be it Resolved, by the Texas Chamber of Commerce, that we approve the principle of co-operative marketing of farm products and commend its study to the business interests of the State, and

"Be it further resolved, that we recommend to the business men of the State that they co-operate with farmers in working out and applying sound principles of business in the organization and operation of co-operative associations, to the end that we may put into practice our belief that there should be full and free co-operation of all classes of our citizenship in working out a solution of our common problems."

THE FREE CLINIC IS SUCCESS IN EVERY WAY

The Donley County Health Center, Miss E. Yeager in charge, held the first dental and physical examination Saturday afternoon in the Y building from three until five o'clock. At this time eighteen children were given general physical examination; such examination, consisted in weighing, measuring the height, and in examining the tonsils and teeth; correcting any defects, such as in vision wherever possible.

These clinics are proving to be especially valuable to the parents in notifying them of any defects of their children that may exist, and giving advice on dietetics and kindred subjects. The next clinic will be held July 2nd.

The following report of the work done for the past month will serve to show further the usefulness of this bureau.

Number of cases under care first of month 3; new cases 5; total 8. Number of cases dismissed at end of month 5; number remaining 3. Recovered 4; died 1. Discharged 4. Nursing visits 21; infant welfare visits 12; prenatal visits 10; tuberculosis visits 3; child welfare visits

PRIDE IN PRINTING

Every newspaper man is ambitious to turn out a cleanly printed paper, one which shall be a good example of the typographical art, with well thought out make-up and handsome mechanical work. When a paper achieves that form of excellence, it does much to advertise its home city. A poorly printed newspaper is a discredit to the city in which it is published, and that a live place would develop enough business so that a newspaper would present a better appearance. In some cases a poorly printed paper is the result of the publisher's carelessness or stinginess. But as a whole publishers are sensitive on this point. They are ashamed of a slovenly looking sheet as they would be in having their house in a tumble down condition. When a paper is poorly printed, it is commonly due to the lack of business support. When it is well printed, it is commonly a sign that the place is a live one and the business men back up their home journal.—Barkburnett Star.

This is a good point, and one that reflects credit on a publisher but also matters of careful consideration if he would really respect himself. No man can be indifferent to his responsibility to the public, and make a paper all that it should be. Let us make them just as good as we may under the conditions prevailing and then there will be many details wherein our efforts might be improved.—Amarillo News.

COMET DUE HERE JUNE 26TH

The biggest demonstration of nature's own fire works of the season will take place on or about June 26th.

Scientists inform us the Pans-Winnecke comet will pay the Earth a nocturnal visit and will come within 2,000,000 miles of this old world. The Pans-Winnecke, being somewhat of a "high flyer" is touching only the high spots on this tour of the universe, but will be plainly visible regardless of his far-awyness.

On this date the earth will have one of the greatest displays of fire-works that it has ever seen, according to our learned scientists. This will be in the form of a meteor-shower accompanied by light rays of varied colors, unless another planet attracts the comet before it gets near enough to the earth so that the atmospheric gases of each body may have opportunity to combine.

The usual scare reports that the comet, which is of great volume and containing a great deal of solid matter will strike the earth has been discounted by scientific calculation. The comet will be within the influence of both the earth and planet Jupiter at about the same time, and the limit of their magnetic powers to attract the newcomer will result in its wavering between the two until it has proceeded on its way far beyond the influence of either.

SECRETARY OF TREASURY SENDS OUT STATEMENT

A. W. Mellon, Secretary of the United States, had mailed out letters to all banks over the country giving financial information as to the government. Among the interesting facts contained in this letter is a statement of the national debt on May 31, 1921. At that date it amounted to $23,952,741,592.43. At the beginning of the 1921 fiscal year the national debt was $24,299,321,467.07. During this time the treasury has retired $350,000,000 of the debt.

While this amount may seem large yet the foreign governments owe to the United States a large part of the amount covered in the debt.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this means of expressing my sincerest appreciation to everyone of those who so generously helped in every way possible to make the Club Boys and Girls' encampment a success last week. To the Chamber of Commerce, to Judge Link, the Commissioners' Court, to Dr. Jenkins, and Messrs. Kent, Caraway, Whitlock, Ryan and Mulkey I owe gratitude for their liberal donations of time and money in entertaining the boys and girls. To all the business and professional men and the citizens of Clarendon, and to the citizens of Hedley for their aid my gratitude is inexpressible.

DEMONSTRATION AGENTS HOLD THREE MEETINGS

With a view of securing home demonstration agents in Panhandle counties, a party of home demonstration agents held meetings at Panhandle, Pampa, White Deer and Groom, the last part of last week and last night.

Miss Bess Edwards, in charge of home demonstration work in West Texas, Mrs. Ida Chitwood, of Clarendon, demonstration agent for Donley County, and Miss Helen Higgins, assistant state demonstrator, constituted the party. All home demonstration work is under the direction of the A. and M. College.

All three of the demonstrators spoke at Panhandle, Pampa and White Deer, and the meetings were held under the auspices of Parent-Teachers' Associations.
 Miss Higgins conducted the Groom meeting alone, under the auspices of the Community Improvement Clubs. She was the guest there of Lee Satterwhite. She will go to Canyon today, where she will hold a meeting at the state normal school.

Much interest was evidenced at all the meetings. Miss Higgins said here Monday night, and good crowds attended, notwithstanding the rainy weather.—Amarillo News.

ANOTHER CLARENDON CASE

It Proves That There's A Way Out For Many Suffering Clarendon Folks Just another report of a case in Clarendon. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Clarendon with Doan's Kidney Pills.
 L. L. Taylor, proprietor of blacksmith shop, First St., Clarendon, gave the following statement on January 24th, 1911. "I had a lame back and the pain across my kidneys was so bad it was difficult to straighten up. Every time I bent over, sharp twinges would shoot through my back. I had heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, so I went to the drug store and got a box. I can vouch for Doan's because I had not used a whole box before I was at work again. Doan's drove the pain and lameness away."
 NO TROUBLE SINCE
 On April 29th, 1919 Mr. Taylor added: "I have had no further kidney trouble since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me, and I praise them just as much today as when I first endorsed them. The cure Doan's gave me has lasted."

CLARENDON TO BE HOST TO LEAGUE CONFERENCE

Carl Parsons returned Monday morning from Merkel where he attended the Northwest Texas League Conference. While there Carl managed to get the league conference for this city next year. Other cities had larger delegations and used their whole influence to secure the meeting for those places for next year, but Carl out talked them, with the resulting success. He reports that the meeting was one of the peppiest ones that have ever been held in this conference, and that as a result the leagues are better affiliated than ever before.

Carl is the live president of the Epworth League in this city, and under his guidance the league has grown to be one of the strongest leagues in the Panhandle.

LESLIE AND BRICE VISITED BY HAIL

The Leslie and Brice communities were visited by a severe hail storm last Thursday afternoon. The crops were recovering well from the preceding heavy rains, but many crops were destroyed on that afternoon. The hail has not been frequent in Donley county this spring, but these parts had had hail before this storm but nothing like as severe as this. Where the crops have been devastated replanting is following with all possible speed, and the farmers feel that they will be able to grow crops in these portions yet.

CLARENDON BEATS HEDLEY IN ONE-SIDED GAME

The Clarendon nine took a like number from Hedley to a cleaning on the Hedley diamond Friday afternoon, with a score of 4-0. The game was never in doubt; and was featured by the clean hitting of Clarendon, the high point of which was reached when "Cougan" Adams rapped out a home run with one man on the bases.

Hedley took the field and their playing was in no bad form, with the exception of a few costly errors. The interest did not begin until the third inning when Buntin made a clean hit and later came home on Lovell's drive. Winks Adams then followed with a drive to right field, and Lovell came home. The game, although it never lagged was not so interesting again until the sixth inning when Edge was on second base, and he came home followed by Cougan Adams on the latter's home run. Clarendon no longer exerted himself as in the previous innings when the game was not cinched and as a result made her last score in this inning.

Hedley fought hard against these odds, but was unable, with the exception of one time to get a man past second base. Clarendon reached the summit of beautiful defensive playing in the eighth inning when they shut out Hedley with a double play from second to first.

A surprise awaited Clarendon in the way of a pitcher. "Butch" Ainslee had been tried in the field, in fact, for almost every position on the team, and had been pronounced no good, but when he pitched a game allowing only three hits, his rating as a baseball man skyrocketed.

Batteries for Clarendon: Ainslee and Edge; for Hedley Morgan and Richards.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

NEW LAWS NOW IN EFFECT

A total of ninety-nine laws became effective June 11. They were enacted at the regular session of the Thirty-Seventh Legislature. A total of 140 bills were passed by the Legislature and of that number forty-two go into effect at dates different than June 11. In fact, with two or three exceptions, have already gone into effect. While all of these are supposed to be general laws several are entirely local in their effect.

A summary of the more important laws which went into effect on June 11 will be found below:

Postponing until Oct. 15 publication of the delinquent tax lists and reducing the penalty for non-payment from 10 to 5 percent.

Providing for appointments of guardians for persons of unsound minds and habitual drunkards by the court without the necessity of jury trial.

Empowering County Commissioners to fix compensation for County Tax Assessor for assessing levee improvement taxes in cities of over 75,000 population for assessing State and county taxes.

Fees Increased

Increasing the fees of Sheriffs and other peace officers in misdemeanor cases.

Authorizing the Supreme Court to make disposition of costs in various classes reaching that body.

Validating charters of cities of 5,000 inhabitants.

Providing for the organization of road districts of one or more existing districts and other territory.

An honest-advertising law.

Permitting the making of certified copies of records and documents in the University Library.

Allowing inmates of the Confederate Women's Home to be transferred to the Confederate Home where their husbands are in the home and retransfer when the husbands die.

Fixing January 1 as the uniform date for the county and precinct officers to qualify.

Exempting the property of art leagues from taxation.

Designing Nov. 11 as "Victory Day" and proclaiming it a legal holiday.

Enlarging the law providing for the eradication of orchard pests.

Prohibiting betting on any public election with a fine of from $25 to $1,000 and (or) confinement in the county jail from twenty-five to sixty days or both.

Transferring to the general fund oil and gas lease rentals received to the credit of the Game Fish and Oyster Department.

Recognizing substitute purchasers of school land and portions of original purchases and providing for incontestability of such sales.

Oil and Gas Prospecting

Extending for five years the time for oil and gas prospecting on islands and tidewater leases.

"Texas shall be emblazoned on State-owned motor vehicle, followed by the name of the department or institution owning same, and prescribing penalty for use for non-official purpose.

Fixing method whereby towns of less than 5,000 population may invoke the commission form of government.

Making it possible for cities and towns to avail themselves of the services of the County Tax Assessor and Collector in assessing and collecting the municipal taxes.

Requiring bakeries to be conducted in a sanitary manner.

Requiring sanitary conditions in hotels, cafes, restaurants and other eating places.

Requiring entry to be made on tax rolls when taxes are paid and that such entry is prima facie evidence of tax payment.

Attorneys may be suspended for improper practices, regardless of whether crime is committed or they were prosecuted or convicted.

Prosecutions for bigamy may occur in the county where the bigamous marriage occurred or where the parties cohabit.

Fixing a method whereby temporary administrators may be continued as permanent administrators.

Making it unlawful to use any boat or part thereof without the owner's consent.

Forbidding the transaction of business in Texas under an assumed name.

Confederate Pensions

Giving inmates of the Confederate Home and Confederate Women's Home one-half the pension allowance made by the State.

Allowing cancellation of medical practitioner's license when convicted of felony "baby farms" or maternity homes.

To incorporate, supervise, regulate and control mutual life insurance companies by the State Insurance Department.

Allowing the son of a Confederate soldier to become superintendent of the Confederate Home.

Requiring barber shops and beauty parlors to be conducted in a sanitary manner.

Deeding tidal land to Port Lavaca for storm protection purpose.

Protecting exclusive dairy trademarks and their milk bottles.

Permitting persons in the military or naval service to prosecute divorce suits.

Making clear the act permitting County Judges to sell the bonds of drainage districts and fixing their compensations therefor.

Allowing business firms and charitable institutions to be beneficiaries in life insurance policies, by permission of the insured.

Relief for Railroads

Granting relief and extension of time to railroads which failed to construct their lines within the required time.

Further defining what constitutes a public weigher.

Authorizing free railroad transportation for certain peace officers.

Directing physicians to place prophylactic drops in the eyes of new born infants to prevent eye disease.

Extending until May 1 the time within which corporations may file their franchise tax statements with the Secretary of State.

Fixing fees in examination for embalmer's license.

County supplies of less than $150 may be purchased without competition bidding under emergency conditions.

Allowing additional deputies to County and District Clerks where proof of need is made.

Permitting free railroad transportation to be issued to the secretary, engineer, auditor and inspector of the Railroad.

Abolishing the plea of assumed risk as a defense to railroad personal injury suits.

Authorizing cities of over 50,000 inhabitants to amend their charters so as to extend corporate limits.

Three years extension given J. J. Kane and associates to build dry dock and marine at Galveston.

Permitting court briefs to be typewritten when filed in the Courts of Civil Appeals.

Enlarging the maximum salaries which may be paid school teachers.

Permitting suits against municipalities for damages because of deaths growing out of personal injuries.

Allowing free passes to be sent to any State pensioner.

Increasing the pay of election judges and clerks.

Providing for absentee voting.

Permitting appeals in quo warranto proceedings.

Exempting ranch laborers from the provisions of the workmen's compensation law.

Providing for appeals in probate cases and protection of the estate involved.

Requiring additional supersedeas bonds in appeals to the higher courts where deemed necessary.

Extending the life of the Commission of Appeals until the last Saturday of June 1923.

Authorizing the incorporation of international trading corporations.

Freedom of Contracts

Permitting employers and employees on public works to contract as to the hours of labor, instead of fixed eight-hour law.

Increasing the pay of jail guards and matrons.

Making effective the constitutional amendment for the conservation of the State's natural resources.

Applying the compulsory school attendance law to blind and deaf and dumb.

Repealing the law requiring school teachers to make affidavits to get their salary check.

Authorizing and regulating insurance on the Lloyd's plan.

Amending the act providing that the same powers be granted the several approved colleges in the matter of granting certificates to teach.

That the separate property of the husband shall not be subject to the torts of the wife and vice versa.

Aid for School

Bill appropriating $3,000,000 to supplement the State school appropriation.

Anti-alien land law, aimed principally at the Japs. Forbids aliens owning and leasing lands in this State.

Appropriating $30,000 as a nucleus for a soldiers' and sailors' monument.

Authorizing the formation and incorporation of holding companies.

Corpus Christi sea wall aid bill.

Amending the law regulating the creation of juvenile boards in certain counties.

An epitome of the laws which have already gone into effect, as enacted by the recent session, are as follows:

Extending oil and gas permits on State land for five years.

Extending eighteen months from June 11 the time within which railroads may construct their lines and save their charters.

Making effective the school tax constitutional amendment authorizing cities and towns to levy school taxes in increased amounts.

Merging the Dairy and Food Department with the State Board of Health.

Perfecting the law governing the organization of irrigation districts.

Giving the State Depository Board discretion in transferring State funds when new depositors are selected.

Inflicting punishment to bribe railroad operative for preferential service in handling freight.

Act appropriating $1,500,000 for an ex-soldiers' tuberculosis sanatorium at Kerrville to accommodate 600.

Elaborate code providing for the organization of co-operative marketing associations.

Making effective the adopted constitutional amendment raising the tax limit for Independent and Common School Districts.

Creating a new method of management for the State railroad.

County Commissioners may issue bonds to build homes for dependent boys and girls.

Legislature to fix the salaries of all employees in the State effective Sept. 1, 1921.

As to Banks

Providing a new method whereby State banks may increase their capital stock.

Increasing by graduation the compensation of State Bank Examiners. (Effective September 1, 1921.)

Empowering cities to designate building zones.

Placing live stock commission merchants under bond and requiring prompt remittances by them. (Effective Sept. 1, 1921.)

Creating the County of Kenedy out of portions of the Counties of Cameron, Willacy, and Hidalgo.

Requiring garnishees in all cases to file answer.

Repeal of the law creating the State Welfare Commission.

Appropriating $1,350,000 for the purchase of 126 acres of land to expand the present campus of the University of Texas.

BUSINESS WILL IMPROVE SOON

The termination of the harvest in this country is expected to bring better business and gradual improvement of financial conditions, according to the semi-annual report recently completed by Archer Wall Douglass, chairman of the committee on statistics of the United States Chamber of Commerce. Another important bearing on the situation here, in the opinion of Mr. Douglas, is the recovery of Europe from its anti-war depression, as that continent is and will be for a long time the best market for the surplus of the United States. There is still money to be spent where bargain prices are in evidence, according to the expert, showing that purchasing power is still high despite many untoward conditions. Further discussion by Mr. Douglas of the situation over the country is as follows:

"There is almost unprecedented reduction of cotton acreage in the South this year, with the plant still struggling against much wet weather and a late start. At the same time wheat promises a larger yield than last year by from thirty to forty million bushels. Corn is not yet all in, but it is significant that the South expects to grow more corn this year than last, and much more feed for live stock. The acreage in rice will be less than the 1920 crop because the large surplus carried over and with scarcely any demand.

"The general condition of live stock is most excellent, save in southern Arizona and southern New Mexico, where the ranges were burned up by drought. The low prices of cattle, hogs and sheep still make them unremunerative to the farmers, while wool is in tremendous supply at exceedingly low prices.

"Most of the early fruit was practically destroyed by freezes in the growing throughout the country this spring. Fortunately there are still some exceptions in scattered portions of Michigan, Pennsylvania,

Ohio, New York, Connecticut, Washington, Idaho, and some of the South Atlantic states. There will be a good crop of strawberries.

"While the dairy industry is growing throughout the country, the reduced prices of butter fat, milk, and other dairy products cause some farmers to think that the bottom is still dropping out of everything. Fortunately there is another side to the livestock dairy interest in the promise of a great harvest of feed at low figures, which may thus more nearly equalize present prices with the reduced cost of production.

"One of the serious conditions, serious because there are immense possibilities of its being much better, is the slow growth of building, due to the continued high cost of production. Until these costs are reduced building will be only such as comes from the impulse of necessity. Lumber naturally sympathizes with the inactivity of building, and despite its low price suffers from lack of demand.

"The railroads are using their utmost thought and endeavor to get their house in order by reduction in the cost of operation and by various economies. All of which inspires the hope on the part of the general public that these things when accomplished—and they now seem under way—will result in reduced cost of transportation. For such costs of transportation are a heavy handicap, too burdensome to be borne by many commodities, notably lumber and numerous farm products.

"So true is this that it is actually curtailing business in these and other lines so affected, thus being a direct loss both to the producer and transportation companies. One of the interesting developments of the time is the growth of the electric trolley car and the auto truck in short hauls, in which they are already formidable competitors of the steam railroad."

W. H. Crawford was a Goodnight visitor Sunday.

CHINA FAMINE STAMP WEEK, JUNE 23RD-30TH

Seven cold, hard facts, in contrast to the cheering report of 6,945,220 starving Chinese saved, are:

1. Thousands of industrious Chinese farmers, women and children are dead in the outlying districts of the vast China Famine zone.

2. Child life has virtually disappeared in some of the worst affected districts.

3. Horrors can not be overestimated according to the American Committee in Peking and missionaries reporting "unspeakable suffering."

In numerous cases limited funds have forced relief workers to feed only those strong enough to recuperate, others—the aged and infirm being turned away.

5. A cablegram to Mr. Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the American Committee, dated Peking May 4, brings the information that the spring harvest in the province of Chihli, covering about twenty percent of the entire famine area, will be an absolute loss because of the continued drought, which will necessitate 2,000,000 destitute persons, now being fed, being carried until the summer crop in August.

6. The Chinese Minister to the United States, Dr. Sao-Ke Alfred Sze, who has just completed a long speaking tour for the American Committee, describes the burden in the country which he represents as too heavy for any nation to bear alone.

7. Ten Foreign Mission Boards and Interdenominational Religious Organizations have appealed to Mr. Lamont and the American Committee to continue their work unabated until August, basing their action upon the fact that much of the good done to date will be lost unless relief is provided from America.

The situation leaves only one question to answer: Shall these victims, given hope by America, be abandoned now before they can support themselves, after having been saved through the winter?

HEALTH ACTIVITIES IN TEXAS

Austin, Texas, June 22.—Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, Secretary of the State and Provincial Authorities of North America, has prepared some very interesting statistics on State Departments of Health.

Texas ranks fourth in population, first in area and twenty-fourth in the total amount of money appropriated for public health. Massachusetts appropriates 39.2 cents per capita, while Texas appropriated only 2.1 cents per capita. Only two states appropriate less than Texas per capita; these being North Dakota and Missouri. The amount of health appropriation per square mile is $188.00 for Massachusetts, and thirty seven cents for Texas.

Even though the State Health Department secured the million dollar appropriation that the Texas Medical Association is endorsing, the Lone Star State would be placed on a parity with the average of other states, and would have much climbing to do in order to reach the pinnacle. The salaries paid Texas health employees are less than those paid in other states, and yet staff members hold many important places in this Association and other National associations.

The Texas State program on water supervision is being copied by other states, the Nursing Division ranks second in number of public health nurses, and the co-operative anti-malaria activities exceed those of any other state.

Miss Annie Bourland attended the Bankers' Convention at Lubbock Tuesday and Wednesday.

CITIZENS MILITARY CAMPS WILL OPEN JULY-AUGUST

The War Department is holding this year in each corps area, citizens' military training camps similar to the Plattsburg camps, which became so popular before the war. The camps for the eighth corps area, which includes the states of Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona, will be held at Camp Travis, Texas, July 15th to August 14th and at Fort Logan, Colorado August 1st to 30th.

In the camps held throughout the United States this year, the War Department plans to train approximately ten thousand eight hundred men. In these camps will be brought together young men between the ages of sixteen and thirty-five of all types and nationalities. The only requirements for entrance are average physique, average intelligence, and good moral character, and the approval of the Commanding General of the Eighth Corps Area.

From this meager start for this year it is intended to increase the size and scope of the camps to a one-month's course each year for three years, successful completion of which will qualify the candidate for commission in the officers' reserve corps. It is intended to expand these camps to a capacity of at least a hundred and fifty thousand each year.

The primary purpose of this training is to build up a strong citizen army as a vital asset to the problem of national defense in time of great emergency. As a secondary purpose it is intended to promote the spirit of social and national unity, to teach the duties, privileges and responsibilities of the American citizenship.

Attendance at these camps does not oblige the individual to serve any national emergency other than the obligation of citizens "To support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic," which is the undeniable obligation of every American citizen.

In a recent speech, General Pershing declared that "Upon every able-bodied American citizen there rests an obligation to keep himself fit, and in time of peace prepare to defend his country in time of need." The military duty of American citizens could not be stated more clearly.

Through the medium of the citizens military training camps the Government hopes to retain in the elementary principles of good soldiering a large body of young men, thus building up for this nation a citizen army of artfully trained and physically capable young men. This is the vital purpose of those camps.

In the camps this year in the eighth corps area, the War Department plans to train twelve hundred men, eight hundred of these to be trained at Camp Travis and four hundred at Fort Logan, Colo. They will be taught the elements of close order drill, personal hygiene, physical training, athletics, discipline and morale.

The distinct advantage of the camps over the "Plattsburg camps" is that whereas attendance at the Plattsburg camps was limited to men who were able to pay their own expenses, the citizens' military camps are absolutely free, the government bearing the expense of transportation, clothing, equipment, sustenance and laundry.

The War Department desires that the number of applicants received by the commanding general, eighth corps area, Fort Sam Houston greatly exceed the quota for this area in order that a basis for future appropriations may be obtained.

MISSIS HEADRICK GRADUATE FROM U. OF T.

Miss Orville Headrick returned Wednesday morning from Austin where she attended the University of Texas the last year. Miss Orville took her Bachelor of Arts degree from that institution this year. Previously she had attended Clarendon College and S. M. U. Miss Ineva Headrick is doing work in the summer school at the University this year, and will take her degree this summer. She will be an instructor in the English department of Clarendon College the next year.

Approximately 450 students of the University of Texas comprised the graduating class this year and were awarded degrees at the thirty-eighth annual commencement exercises which were held on Monday.

These students are from widely scattered parts of Texas, and several are from places outside of the state. The awards consisted of 236 Bachelor of Arts, 13 Bachelor of Science, 40 Bachelor of Business Administration, 3 Bachelor of Science in Architecture, 2 Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering, 8 Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering, 3 in Civil Engineering, 66 Bachelor of Laws, 26 Master of Arts, 2 Bachelor of Journalism, and 3 Master of Business Administration.

The commencement address was delivered by Governor Pat M. Neff and was followed by the presentation of diplomas by President E. Vinson.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT FINISHES WORK FRIDAY

The regular session of the Commissioners' Court finished its work Friday. Besides the routine business, a number of matters of interest were disposed of, such as the canvassing the return of the recent school elections, and allowing an addition to the jail, employing an assistant home demonstrator, and tax equalization.

The returns from the school elections held in Districts 11 and 18 were canvassed and the levy of one dollar was declared to have carried in each district. These districts raise the full number of districts in Donley that have voted on this issue to five and the tax raise has carried in every district. This fact is further significant in face of the returns from other counties where the higher tax is failing to pass.

Sheriff Rutherford was given permission to make an addition to the present jail, which room will be used by him during his term of office. When his term of office expires he will be allowed to remove the addition.

An assistant home demonstrator was employed for two months to assist in the busy season. Miss Maybelle Hays, of the A. & M. College has been employed, and she will aid the present home demonstrator Mrs. Ida Chitwood. Miss Hays rendered valuable assistance in the recent encampment of the club boys and girls, and Donley is very fortunate to secure her services with those of Mrs. Chitwood, the efficient demonstrator that has done so much for Donley in this field.

The most of the Court's time was occupied with the equalization of the taxes. In the main the taxes will not be different from those of 1920, it being only in rare instances where there was an inequality that any changes were made.

W. P. Howard was appointed constable for Lella Lake and Earl Ryan for Clarendon.

As will be recalled, a previous session of the court had allowed for the stuccoing of the county jail. This work has already been begun.

The Duty, Dignity and Destiny of the Dollar

Its DUTY is to represent, in the channels of Commerce, so many atoms of human energy expended by some individual. Its DIGNITY comes from what it represents—and not from its own intrinsic value. Its DESTINY is to fulfil the mission for which it was created, i. e., to symbolize to the world at large the brains of brawn, or both, contributed to society by some one. Conserve it by depositing it.

PRISONERS TO HAVE MORE BEAUTIFUL ABODE

By the allowance of a recent session of the Commissioners' Court for Donley county, the county jail is being stuccoed. The work has only recently commenced, but is progressing fast and will be finished before the Fourth of July, so that should there be any inmates on that occasion they need have no fear that they will be jeered at by the passersby as to the house of their abode. A general remodeling is being done, and with the passage of a few more weeks, Donley in her effort to lead in all things, will have the coziest prison in the Panhandle. Sheriff Rutherford is also making private additions to the jail, for his own convenience.

CLARENDON TO HAVE NEXT MEDICAL MEET

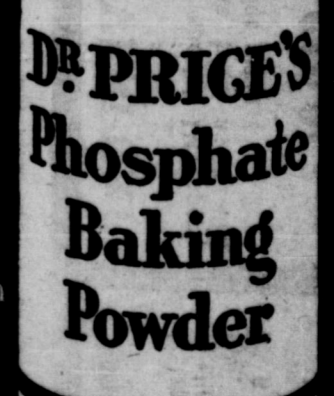

Dr. H. L. Wilder and Miss E. Yeager, of this city, returned Friday from Wellington where they attended the meeting of the Medical Society for four counties of which Donley is one. They report that it is one of the best attended and enthusiastic meetings that the association has enjoyed in some time. The reports from the various counties are altogether favorable. The next meeting will be held in Clarendon the second Friday in July.

W. H. Patrick left Monday for Lubbock where he attended the Panhandle Bankers' Convention which met at that place Tuesday and Wednesday.

She will later be joined by her husband, who is in charge of the Clarendon College Summer school, and they will spend a few weeks vacation in the Rockies. Charles Ferguson returned Friday from Dallas where he was a student in S. M. U. the past year. Charles has a fine year's work to his credit in the institution that he has attended and his friends will be glad to learn that he will spend this summer in Clarendon. Rodney Baldwin, who is now holding down a claim in the northern part of New Mexico, in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin of this city, says that that part of New Mexico has not been slighted during this rainy season, but that crops are in good condition. Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Quattlebaum returned yesterday morning from Amarillo where they were called to the bedside of their daughter Mrs. Elvin McLean, who underwent an operation for appendicitis Friday last. Their friends will be glad to learn that Mrs. McLean is recovering nicely. A. M. King, the efficient pharmacist with Stocking Drug Company, returned Saturday morning from a two weeks' vacation spent for the most part with his brother on the latter's ranch near Groom. Mr. King had intended to visit other points but was water bound and was unable to do so. W. E. Westmorland, of Dallas was here from Saturday until Tuesday. His wife is here visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Tom Connally. Mr. Westmorland departed Tuesday morning for St. Louis where he has important business engagements. Mrs. Westmorland will continue her visit. The many friends of Mrs. Ida Chitwood will be glad to learn that Mrs. Chitwood has sufficiently recovered from her unfortunate auto accident of last week to be again at her home. She was not as seriously injured as was feared at first, and was able to be discharged from the hospital the first of the week. MARTIN NEWS (By Special Correspondence) The community was visited with another big rain Saturday and again Monday night, which will keep the farmers out of their crops another week. Sunday school was at the regular hour. The Sunday school went over to Mr. W. X. Hodges to sing, they were served with ice cream and cake. Cannon. Mae McFarling of Clarendon visited Ruby Mosley from Saturday until Tuesday. Minnie Pool and Ruth Talley visited Josie Cannon Monday afternoon. Several of the boys are leaving for the harvest. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Sibley and daughter Anita and Miss Thelma Sibley visited relatives at Hedley Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sloan, of Amarillo, visited with J. F. Cannon's family last Thursday and Thursday night. OH! MY BACK! The Expression of Many a Kidney Sufferer in Clarendon A stubborn backache is cause to suspect kidney trouble. When the kidneys are inflamed and swollen, stooping brings a sharp twing in the small of the back, that almost takes the breath away. Doan's Kidney Pills revive sluggish kidneys—relieve aching backs. Here's Clarendon proof: Mrs. L. L. Moore, E. 6th St., says: "Sometimes ago my kidneys and back caused me a lot of trouble. My back was so lame and sore I could hardly stoop over. It ached all the time and mornings was so stiff and lame I could hardly get straightened up. I had such dizzy spells, I would almost be blinded. Severe headaches followed these attacks. My kidneys were weak, too. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me excellent relief." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Moore had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. POSTED The public is hereby warned that hunting and wood hauling is forbidden in the R. O. pasture. All trespassers will be vigorously prosecuted. W. J. Lewis. (tf) NOTICE Every member of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion is asked to be present at the Opera House Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Important business.

CATTLEMEN WILL GET LOAN FROM EASTERN CAPITALISTS IS PLAN. CURRENT RATE IN FORCE. Washington, June 15.—Details of the credit relief measures of live stock raisers so far worked out, treasury officials explained, call for a pool of $50,000,000 raised and distributed through private channels instead of the proposal for a like sum of Federal funds made available through the War Finance Corporation. The eastern capital, it was said, would come from New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other cities, though in what proportion has not yet been decided. A committee of the eastern bankers will meet with a committee from the western banks in Chicago, Wednesday and it is expected arrangements will be completed then for providing for the other half of the loan funds. The $50,000,000 pool is to be administered from Chicago according to present plans, by way of advances to banks in the stock raising sections or cattle loan companies. Interest charges to the stockmen would be at current rates with maturities of six months on the date. While about two years are required for the turnover on the live stock it was said that the loans would be subject to review and renewal at maturity which would make the pair eligible for rediscount by federal reserve banks. Credit needs of sheep raisers as well as cattle growers are to be taken care of under the Chicago pool, officials added. NOTICE MILK During June, July and August milk will be 7-1-2 cts per qt., 12-1-2 cts per qt., and 20 cts per half gal. Jersey Dairy, R. A. Summers, (19tp) Prop.

PICNICKERS ENJOY RISE OF RIVER A number of the summer students of Clarendon College enjoyed an unusual outing on Saturday when they went to the river for a picnic. They had scarcely arrived at the river when the threatening condition of the sky drove them to look for shelter that would possibly be needed. So sudden was the change in the weather, that they had scarcely arrived at the river bridge when the downpour began; and so torrential was this downpour that, before the passage of half an hour, the river was rising fast and they were forced to seek the highlands. Those who were hailed with this grand reception were: Misses Orone Hudgins, Helen Martin, Lelia Burrell, Katherine Patrick, Erma Lewis, Dorothy Smith and Messrs. Charles Ferguson, Cecil Peoples, Johnny Jenkins and Joe Gordon. They were chaperoned by Miss Mamie McLean. DR. AND MRS. STRICKLIN ENTERTAIN WITH PICNIC Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Stricklin entertained Tuesday evening honoring their houseguests Miss Ruth Pittman of Quanah and Misses Stella Jean Dugan and Vera Harrington of Greenville, with a picnic and swimming party. After the guests had assembled, the party proceeded to the Country Club lake where the evening was as delightfully spent as if the imaginary beach were real. Swimming was all the more difficult due to the fact that the party was liberally provided with the best of eats. Those present besides the hostes and houseguests were: Messrs. Tom Connally Jr., Bill Clifford and Parks Chamberlain. WANT—Home in Clarendon in exchange for 320 acres plains land. Cleveland Hayter. (25pd)

Getting Back To Normal

We are beginning, these days, to consider other things besides prices. For a time we had money but prices were so abnormally high that we could scarcely afford to buy. Then deflation came and we had no cash with which to buy, though prices of merchandise declined.

Now we are coming to adjust ourselves to the new levels; we are commencing again to consider QUALITY as well as first cost.

During the war period we were forced not only to accept but to seek substitutes for many of the articles we desired. To a very considerable extent, necessarily, we lost sight of quality. We did not call for a particular brand of flour but took our allotment of any brand and were thankful for that. So with hats and shoes, with women's wear and automobiles.

Now the makers of standardized lines of goods—goods of known quality, advertised and sold under the brand or trademark of the manufacturers—are coming into their own again. It is not sufficient these days for a dealer to say that he has suits at reduced prices—he must specify the quality, give the names of the makers, if he attracts the attention of the buying public. The buyer is not satisfied now to look at the price tag on an auto tire; he wants to know whose tire he is going to get.

Live dealers who carry standard lines of merchandise, goods of established quality, tell the public through their advertising.

It is to your advantage to read the advertisements.

READ THEM EACH WEEK.

MISS RHODES ENTERTAINS

Miss Norma Rhodes assisted by her mother Mrs. Eva Rhodes at her beautiful home in southeast Clarendon, entertained on Friday evening in honor of Miss Ruth Pittman of Quosah, and Misses Stella Jean Dugan and Vera Harrington, of Greenville, houseguests of Mrs. Guy Stricklin. Miss Rhodes entertained with a five hundred party until a delicious course of refreshments were served, and then the rest of the evening was enjoyably spent dancing. Those present were: Misses Stella Dugan, Vera Harrington, Ruth Pittman, Jennie Dale Powell, Opal Pyle, Fay Bennett, Velma Sue Green, Cassandra Sims, Gertrude Morris, Ola Grogan, Muffet Sims, and the Hostess Miss Rhodes; Mesdames Guy Stricklin, Odos Caraway, Allen Beville, and Oscar Jenkins, Messrs Guy Stricklin, Oscar Jenkins, Charlie Bell Collis Stocking, George Clifford, Bill Clifford, Tom Connally, Cap Weatherly, John Sims, Jim Morris, Forrest Sawyer Odos Caraway, Carroll Baldwin, Horace Tucker and Lee Pope.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH SERVICE

Judge W. E. Gee of Amarillo will occupy the pulpit at the Christian Church next Sunday in the absence of the pastor, who will speak at Amarillo at both services. Judge Gee is an able speaker and one that always interests his audience. He is a prominent attorney and also prominent in church work. He is frequently sent out by the church at Amarillo to other churches to help in the missionary work. Judge Gee was here last February at the district convention and all who heard him are sure to want to hear him next Lord's Day. He has a great message for all who will hear him. The morning service will be held at 10:50 a. m., and at 7:45 p. m. The service will be held early in the evening on account of Judge Gee having to leave on the North bound train.

FEDERAL BANK CUT SHOWS MONEY IS NOT SCARCE

New York, June 30.—Reduction of the Federal Reserve Bank rate to 6 or 7 per cent—the second cut within two months—came this week as expected. It served to make very clear that, whatever else is the matter with the business and financial situation, restriction of credit is no longer a factor.

The lowering of the rate on commercial discounts is, on the one hand, proof that the banking authorities are satisfied with the progress made during the last six months in deflating loans and new securities and, on the other hand, it is a notification to the business community that the credit strain has passed and that it is safe to let down the bars which were raised against loan extension a year ago.

That this assurance has had so little effect either upon the trade movement or upon the situation in Wall Street simply goes to show that the part which the credit tension has been playing in the great decline of the last eight months has been a good deal overrated. Raising of the Federal Reserve discount caused the wild speculation in securities and in commodities a year and a half ago and the difficulties placed in the way of commercial borrowers accelerated the business decline.

But the credit troubles were not the supreme influence in the market of 1920-21 that they were in the crisis of 1907. The banking difficulties were of subordinate importance to the commercial difficulties. The foremost problem was to restore the inflated industrial price level and an inflated production to a normal peace basis without involving a crash.

Not being the prime factor in the situation, the passing of the money stringency has not availed to turn the tide in business affairs or to stop the break in stocks. Money during the last few days, literally has gone begging in Wall Street. It is a reminder that very low call money rates are more often than not an accompaniment of slack trade.

For instance, during the acute depression in the steel market of 1903—a situation somewhat like the present one—all funds were offered on the Stock Exchange at 2 per cent and were pressed upon borrowers at this figure while stocks were tumbling precipitately.

There has been several times this year when it has looked as if the worst had happened or could happen or could be discounted by the enormous shrinkage in security prices. Those who ventured an assertion to this effect have not been wrong simply because the stock market has kept on going down. What we are seeing now is not a reasonable process of readjusting securities to the strained business conditions. The movement of the last few weeks has been unreasonable and largely artificial.

It has been market over discounting trade depression in precisely the same manner and to precisely the same extent that exaggerated the prosperity of two years ago. Short selling has been conducted with the same recklessness that characterized the speculative buying of October, 1919. The sequel cannot be doubted, although nobody is able to tell just when the turn will come.

Whether or not the activities of bear traders will be able to make a further impression, there is no hesitation in calling the present price level very low; in saying that it has, in many instances, over measured the reduction in company profits and the lowering and passing of dividends, and brought stocks below their intrinsic values.

One of the remarkable features of the situation is that investment boards should have reposed so little in the rise in the purchasing power of the dollar and to the decline in money interests. Other things being equal, these changes ought to lower the income return from securities or fixed rates; that is, raise their cost to the investor. Ultimately, this must be the consequence of deflation in commodity prices and the falling up of a money surplus.

But, at the moment, these forces are counter balanced by the flood of new securities which has been pressing upon the market during the last year, representing the needs of foreign governments and home corporations to raise money which they could not do while war loans had the call. These demands have been so urgent that, so far from the borrower getting better terms, he has had to make more and more concessions to the investor.

Still, there is no suggestion that the investment resources of the country have been unduly taxed. A most encouraging incident of the week is the heavy oversubscription to the $500,000,000 joint note and certificate issue of the Government. The Treasury Department has found that it readily can sell three-year notes and, if this demand continues in the same way for subsequent offerings, the problem of distributing and postponing settlement of the $7,500,000,000 floating obligations maturing in 1922-23 will have been solved. This feature was quite as vexing as that of the new revenue bill.

ACT FORBIDDING THE TRANSACTION OF BUSINESS UNDER ASSUMED NAME

Section 1. No person or persons shall hereafter carry on or conduct or transact business in this state under any assumed name or under any designation, name, style, corporate or otherwise, other than the real name or names of the individual or individuals conducting or transacting such business unless such person or persons shall file in the office of the clerk of the county or counties in which such person or persons conduct or transact or intend to conduct or transact such business, a certificate setting forth the name under which such business is to be conducted or transacted, and the true or real full name or names of the persons or persons conducting or transacting the same, with the postoffice address or the address of such person or persons. Said certificate shall be executed and duly acknowledged by the person or persons so conducting or intending to conduct said business in the manner now providing for acknowledgment of conveyance of Real Estate.

Sec. 2. Persons now owning or conducting such business under an assumed name or under any designation referred to in Section one, shall file such certificate as here in before prescribed, within thirty days after this act shall take effect, and persons herein after owning, transacting or conducting business aforesaid shall before commencing said business file such certificate in the manner hereinbefore prescribed.

Sec. 3. Whenever there is a change in the ownership of any business operated under any such name as set out in Section one hereof, the person or persons, withdrawing from said business or disposing of their interest therein, shall file in the office of the clerk of the county or counties in which such business is conducted and has a place or places of business, a certificate setting forth the fact of such withdrawal from or disposition of interest in such business; and until he has filed such certificate he shall remain liable for all debts incurred in the operation of said business, which certificate shall be executed and duly acknowledged by the person or persons so withdrawing from or selling their interest in said business in the manner now provided for acknowledgment of conveyance of real estate.

Sec. 4. The several county clerks of this state shall keep an alphabetical index of all persons filing certificates provided for herein, and for all the indexing and filing of such certificates they shall receive a fee of one dollar. A copy of such certificate duly certified to by the county clerk in whose office the same shall be filed shall be presumptive evidence in all courts of law in this state of the facts therein contained.

Sec. 5. This section shall in no way affect or apply to any corporation duly organized under the laws of this state or to any corporation organized under the laws of any other state and lawfully doing business in this state.

Sec. 6. Any person or persons owning, carrying on or conducting or transacting business aforesaid, who shall fail to comply with the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, and each day any person or persons shall violate any provisions of this act shall be deemed a separate offense.

Sec. 7. The fact that there is no law providing for the registration of the names of persons doing business under assumed or fictitious names, and that the absence of such impairs the stability of credits in the State, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity requiring

BURROUGHS SAYS ADVERTISING TO BE KEPT HEAVY

D. M. Carr, of the Burroughs Adding Machine company of this city, made an interesting statement recently in regard to business conditions. He states company he represents believes that the condition of business today does not warrant drastic curtailment of selling expenses, advertising and the purchase of needed equipment.

Mr. Carr's words carry weight because his company is in close contact with every line of business in the country.

He believes that the recent stagnation in business is largely the result of a mental attitude and that as soon as business men generally begin to place orders for things needed in their business, they will begin to get more orders for the merchandise they have to sell.

"We are spending our money in newspapers today," said Mr. Carr, "to advertise our belief in this, and the more who follow this example the better it will be for everybody's business."

"When I hear a man say that business is 'bad'—'rotten'—'dead'—things are down and no prospect of getting better in sight—I wonder if that man knows how much it costs him in cold cash to make such statements."

"If a man thinks business conditions are as bad as that and spreads his opinion broadcast, it is bound to react against his own business in particular and to a certain extent on business in general."

"I don't mean that business men should hide their heads in the sand like ostriches or try to juggle the figures on their books to fool themselves, but I mean that in many instances the man does not know whether it is possible to transact more business in his line because he has not tried hard enough."

"We have met of us been so spoiled by the high waves of prosperity in the last two or three years that we have forgotten how we used to work to get orders in the years that we considered normal. We have no right to complain that the public won't buy if we make no real effort to sell and at the same time discourage the public with talk of hard times."

"Of course, the boom times have passed and whether they were really good or bad years depends on the net result of business after all the 'boom' has dried up. But looking back over a period of ten to twenty years and comparing the buying power of the average citizens today, with the money he had in his pocket or in the bank at any time during the period, who will say that the opportunity to do business today is less than it was five or ten years ago?"

"Of course there are some people out of work but even some of these are good business prospects today. The fact is that most of the people in this country have more money and more property today than they ever had before, and there are enough of them who want to spend it to make good business for all of us if we will make it attractive for them to buy what they need."

"Just to illustrate this point: A friend of mine has about made up his mind to buy a new automobile. He knows what he wants and has the money to pay for it but he is not yet quite willing to walk into the agent's office and lay down his check. Now if a good salesman for that particular car should get hold of my friend and take him into the office and show some interest in putting the sale across, that car would be sold tomorrow."

"Another man says his wife is going to buy a washing machine. He is willing to pay for it but isn't interested enough to shop around and look into the merits of the different makes himself. If somebody would send all of the things up to his house and show his wife how to run it, the chances are ten to one she would keep it."

"People are eating three meals a day just the same as ever. They are wearing just as many clothes. The movies are crowded, the best hotels are full, the roads on Sundays and holidays are jammed with automobiles all over the country. Many retail stores have so many customers that you can't get waited on promptly if you wanted to buy anything. Does that look like hard times? I say not."

"Lots of people have more money than they ever had before. Don't forget that."

"There are just two things we all need to bust this business gloom. First step talking poor business and talk better business."

"Second, do everything in your power to start the normal flow of money through business channels."

RUMORED THAT WELLINGTON MEN PLAN A LINE TO CHILDRESS

A representative of this paper was informed Saturday that some leading citizens and land owners of Wellington are planning to incorporate an electric railway between their city and Childress. Wellington people only are said to be at the head of the project.

An electric road between Childress and Wellington would be a paying proposition and if extended into Wheeler county would be a still greater producer. The power-house could also be of such capacity as to supply Childress, Wellington, Shamrock and all the intervening territory with power and lights.

So far as this paper has learned no visits have been made to Childress to solicit local capital to take part in the organization. There is no doubt but that several thousand dollars worth of stock could be sold here and in the north part of the county a good town could be built and the land owners could contribute close to a hundred thousand dollars.

It is much cheaper to build an electric road than a steam road. The roadbed does not need to be so heavy and the cost of equipment is much less. Light steel can also be used to better advantage.

As it is now the people of Wellington feel that Texas is almost separated and apart from them. The Index hopes there is something to this rumor and believes that Childress people will do their part to make it a success.—Childress Index.
