THE ASSURED HARVEST

Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap.—Galatians 6:7.

A new luminary has appeared on the journalistic horizon of the plains of Texas in the first edition of the Happy Call, mailed from that thriving little plains city, Happy. J. O. Bradenbaugh is the editor and we wish him much success with the Call.

Sam Roberts, editor of the Haskell Free Press, and members of the Sam Club of the Texas Press Association, has formed what is known as the Roberts Printing Company, including two brothers and a gentleman by the name of Pate, and has bought the Chillicothe Valley News from the Hon. Choctaw Garner. The Roberts boys are splendid newspaper men and we predict that the Chillicothe people will have the best paper they have ever enjoyed in another few weeks. Mr. Garner has moved to Edmond, Okla., for better school advantages for his sons.

Panhandle and Plains counties won the first five prizes offered by the State Fair of Texas for agricultural exhibits. Year after year the greater proportion of winning counties have come from this section of Texas and yet there are those in other sections of the state who do not yet believe that this is even a mediocre farming country. Enlightenment must be the program of this section for greater advancement. When people know what we have here there will be an ever increasing influx of home-seekers.

The mail order houses are taking hundreds of dollars out of Clarendon and Donley County every week. It ought not to be. The merchants of Donley County towns provide a market for home products, they donate to all funds for the public good, they pay taxes for the maintenance of government and schools, they are good Samaritans when charity is really needed and they, therefore, deserve all our patronage. Co-operation one with another, universally observed will build the strongest communities and cities ever known. Buy of your home merchant.

Again this year the Texas State Fair has demonstrated that it is the greatest state fair in the world. The 1922 Fair is a wonder in every department and its exhibits are of such magnitude that it appears almost as large as a world's fair. Although a dry year the agricultural exhibits are wonderful and offer another reason why the Panhandle and Plains country of Texas is superior to other portions of the state. The railroads have offered very low rates and the attendance is large, very large considering financial conditions over the state. Texas may well be proud of her state fair and with such a man as Harry Olmstead at its head it is destined to attain still greater success. A trip to the fair is money well spent.

The building of bleachers in the college athletic park by co-operation of town and students was a most timely improvement. As Clarendon College grows her athletic prominence will increase, with a corresponding need for better accommodations for those who enjoy the games and events. It is pleasing that plans for building the first five sections of the seats incorporate the building of still further sections and The News hopes that still further funds may be available, and still more elbow grease secured for the building of several new units before the school year closes. Better accommodations will draw larger attendance at all events.

"A Million Population in 1927" is the slogan of the "Million Inhabitants Club" being organized in the Panhandle of Texas under the auspices of the Panhandle Plains Chamber of Commerce. This section's exhibits and winnings at the State Fair of Texas will prove a mighty impetus in gaining this totally practical goal and every one of us should do his part in inviting friends and relatives to come to the Panhandle to live and make a home. A million inhabitants for this section means quadrupling our citizenship. Think what it means. 12,000 people for Clarendon; 40,000 population for Donley County—a wonderful opportunity for expansion in every line. It means an empire developed under the most favorable natural conditions the Almighty ever vouchsafed for any people.

Another outstanding proof that "it pays to advertise." In the "Confidential Messenger," published at the will and pleasure of Secretary Sam P. Harben, of the Texas Press Association, said Harben made known the fact that his home was roomy and hospitable (and it is) and that he could play host to a number of the fraternity who would attend "Press Day" at the State Fair last Saturday. Now Sam lives at Richardson, a thriving little city in the shadow of the big Magnolia building in Dallas, a pike road runs all the way home; and Sam owns a big super-somewhere and his charming wife knows how to drive it; so after his insinuating "rooms to let" ad, there was little wonder that when Mrs. Harben let in the clutch about midnight Saturday night after all the wonders and entertainment of the day, that there were several others on board besides Sam. There were Pres. Denver Chesnut, past-president Sam Fore, and The Clarendon News editor and family—just seven in all with a combined avoirdupois running near the thousand mark on account of the elephantine form of jolly old Sam Fore. Harben's wonderful home never had a happier party in its spacious rooms and somehow the word had been passed out ahead so that at breakfast there was rhode island red chickens enough to fill the company and to spare, with all the trimmings and biscuits that disappeared as if by magic. Some hosts, some hosts, some welcome in some home and some jollity and we say again that "it pays to advertise," even if Sam Harben never does do it again, which he probably won't.

PARENT-TEACHERS APPEAL FOR AID
To the patrons and friends of the Public School:
In selling tickets to the Lyceum course we have not met with the success that we anticipated. The course is the best that has ever been offered here, but the tickets are more reasonable, also there are five numbers. The season ticket being four dollars for adults, and two for school or other children, eighty and forty cents respectively for each performance.
One of the Operas is by the same company who were here last year. It is an extra attraction for towns much larger than this. In fact they were much surprised at a town this size ordering that type of play, and very complimentary of the appreciation shown by the audience, but why not? Are we not the same material as those who live in the larger cities—Americans who like the best? We go to the larger towns and pour our money into their coffers. Those places of amusement were made possible by some one exerting himself—they did not just happen to Dallas, Waco, etc.
We, as the Parent-Teachers are trying to help bring something good here for those majority of us who have to stay at home. Won't you help us by buying tickets? We are not asking donations, yet.

SEES SERIES FREE

James P. Hon, a St. Louis salesman, was given a complete free trip to see the World Series games by Pres. Ban Johnson of the American League. Hon explained how Witt, a Yankee player, was knocked unconscious in a final St. Louis game when in running he stepped on the neck of a pop bottle which flew up, hitting him in the head.

"Forces that Build Cities." We all realize that the young people of 23 will be the older ones of a few years hence, so let them hear what this great scientist and sociologist has to tell them. Perhaps it will make their problems easier for them than ours have been. Perhaps our own Chamber of Commerce may get new life from his address.
III Charles C. Gosst, the bird man. Every child in town should hear this number. He tells about the birds and imitates six hundred songs of birds in such a way he calls them to him. His voice in the Humming Bird's song rises one octave above the highest note on the piano. It is a very instructive number and all of us love the birds that sing.
The late John Burroughs gave enthusiastic indorsement of his work. IV "Cox and Box," "The Long Lost Brothers." Comic opera. It will be well worth your while to hear this number. It will last you a month of hard wintry weather. See circular.

V "Così Fan Tutte" "The School of Love." This number is the cream of the performances. It is the light opera. The music of which was written by the great Mozart. It features Irene Williams the American prima donna. A truly American cast operatic number which has appeared in cities with great success. Read the circulars over town.

JUST ONE MINUTE

You can read this in one minute. By the time you reach the last line, property worth $923 will have been destroyed by fire somewhere in the United States.
Minute after minute, day after day, on the average, this appalling pace keeps up, to a grand yearly total of $485,000,000.
That, at least, was the record in 1921. What the showing will be this year, and in the years to come depends, in large measure, on YOU.
Ninety per cent, of all fires are preventable, for they are due to carelessness.
Take a look in your cellar, your attic, that closet. Clear out the rubbish—the old stuff stored away because "maybe some day we'll find a use for it." Many fires about the house are born in trash piles.
While insurance marks the difference between protection and destitution, every American home has its treasured possessions whose worth cannot be computed in terms of money and can never be replaced.
A minute's thought now may save the patient accumulation of a lifetime from the ravages of fire.
After all, it's chiefly a matter of protecting your own dwelling and those whose presence there makes it HOME.
Isn't it worth a minute to you?

Character in Conservation

The conservative man is not necessarily an unprogressive, cautious or timid man. The conservative man usually is thoughtful and intelligent, refusing to follow will-o'-wisp ideas of foolish or scheming leaders. Summed up, the character of conservatism is caution without timidity and a sincere respect for the world's experiences.

This bank reflects an individuality of conservatism. It is a safe, sane and serviceable institution for you to profit through. Whether it be deposits, checking, investment or loans, you will be glad of making this bank your bank.

We are sure that each patron of the high school has saved the price of a ticket, by the children using the books this association put in the library, and by purchasing a ticket you will help us live to do a better work for the school and be paid in entertainment to.

We are safe in guaranteeing that this is the last money pledge contract we will ever sign for anything. If all the organizations in town will pledge that we can get them to come on a better basis.

The first number is Oct. 20 and we have such a short time to finish selling our tickets, won't you make an effort to get in touch with us? We are bankrupt if we fail to sell these tickets, and this is our last venture. We have over two hundred members and if each family would take one or two tickets it would pay us out. The adult tickets can be passed among the adults in the family and the child's among the children. Each ticket admits only one to each performance.

Program I. First No. Oct. 20. Edna Swanson, Contralto, Vera Poppi, Cellist, who come with recommendations from New York Herald, New York Evening Telegram, Chicago Evening Post, San Francisco Chronicle and from many large cities and Ft. Worth and Wichita at home.

THE SPEARMAN FARM LANDS

located in Terry, Gaines and Yoakum Counties, South Plains of the Panhandle, Texas, are now being offered at prices and terms, which will enable any industrious farmer to buy and pay for a farm with less money than pay rent. Productive lands, a fine climate, abundance of good pure water, and a country in which one man raises more cotton, more corn and more sweet potatoes and other farm products, than a whole family can gather. No insect pests. We make landlords out of our customers instead of renters. Farmers who are anxious to own their farms, are invited to come to Seagraves, inspect our farm lands, look at the crops, and talk to the men who raise them.

A card to W. A. SoRelle, General Agent, 4 Santa Fe Building, Clarendon, Texas, will bring you a descriptive pamphlet, giving detailed information about these lands and plan of purchase.

A SPLENDID RANCH AND A BEAUTIFUL HERD

Through the courtesy of W. H. Latham, owner, a Texan representative had the pleasure of visiting the HL Ranch in Hartley county, only nine miles from Dalhart, recently, and inspected the extensive improvements and the splendid herd of registered Hereford cattle that he and his son, Clyde, have on the place.

There are a great many ranches yet in the Dalhart country, though some so-called "ranches" are now fast assuming the appearance of farms rather than ranches. Most of the larger ranches that formerly consisted of upwards of fifty thousand acres have been cut up into grass lands and fields of grain, and a more intensive method employed in making the soil yield its utmost in substance—both meat and grain. The HL ranch is one of the smaller ones, consisting, as it does, of only a few sections of land, altho, to the Easterner, it would seem to be of exceedingly large proportions.

The buildings are modern, and represent an expenditure most wisely disposed, as every dollar was made to count in conveniences for man, and comfort and contentment for livestock. The ranch house, replacing one that burned a few years ago, is such as any foreman would be proud of, and, with the numerous shade trees surrounding (a condition not found on every ranch) it at once presents a home-like appearance rarely found in a new country.

The barn, built with a view to housing large quantities of grain and other feed stuff, also affords a comfortable shelter in unfavorable weather for many horses, mules, hogs and cattle. There are ample corrals and sheds to give the best protection in the most disagreeable weather to the high-priced cattle with which the ranch is stocked. This provision is in contrast with the conditions still existing on some of the larger ranches, and which came down from the time when the beef steer was worth no more than fifteen dollars, but represents the very worst judgment on the part of the proprietor of a herd of registered or high-grade Herefords, such as the writer found on the HL Ranch.

Everything on the HL Ranch points towards the development of the best possible specimen of cow, and even the smaller details are worked out with this in view. To be sure, crops are raised, but only such as ultimately tend to this end; for, the dream of the owner is the best herd of registered Herefords in the Panhandle.

The herd itself is headed by such males as Royal Randolph, 873,108, and Texas King, 864,188, both of the Anxiety line, a breed that is recognized the country over as the highest type known to the cattle industry. These two bulls are splendid individuals, and faultless so far as an amateur's judgment can discern. By actual count there are 122 breeding cows, all of which are worthy of their mates. There are 35 coming two's as pretty as an artist's dream, and 32 registered bull calves up to this time that promise to create a sensation when offered for sale. There are 43 heifer calves already registered, besides 15 or 20 that have been dropped in the last month.

The ranch itself is laid out in pastures and crops to the best advantage, and an abundance of water, which is well taken care of in tanks, assures a refreshing draught to the thirsty calf almost anywhere he may wonder.

Upon the whole, it would be difficult to find a more favorable home for the best-blooded line that have been developed in this country—a country that is admittedly nature's paradise for high-grade Herefords.—Dalhart Texan.

FREIGHT RATE CONCESSION IS WON BY P. P. C. C.

The petition for the Oklahoma Corporation Commission will be modified to avoid any disturbance of Texas common point rates. Hamlin Palmer, traffic manager of the Panhandle Plains Chamber of Commerce learned while attending the meeting of the Southwestern Traffic Association at Oklahoma City last week. Mr. Palmer returned to Amarillo Saturday.

The Panhandle Plains traffic director asked that the petition of the Oklahoma Corporation Commission be entirely withdrawn, as he held it would be injurious to interests of the Panhandle. The decision to modify the petition was a concession to Mr. Palmer's contentions.

Some Texas intra-state rates will still be involved by failure to get the petition withdrawn, according to Mr. Palmer, but the trouble in interstate rates is obviated.—Amarillo

INVEST, SAVE, BUILD A HOME

This Association operates throughout the Panhandle on the same sound plan of any local or permanent Building and Loan Association; being additionally strengthened by permanently invested capital of its capital stock, which assures you that none of your money and none of its earnings can ever be called upon to stand any of the expense or possible loss of the Association.

Every dollar invested in this organization by local people goes to build up YOUR City. Every city in our Panhandle needs more homes. Do not attempt to dodge the situation by hoping the home building problem will find its own solution, but DEPOSIT your surplus and a part of your earnings in this Association and then you are co-operating with the forces of finance in a determined effort to provide more homes.

8% Interest paid on Time Deposits. Interest paid on Savings Accounts $10 per month for 78 months earns $1010. 8%

Every permanent resident of Clarendon should be an investor to some extent in this Association, as it not only is a sound investment for them, but helps in the housing problem, the development of your city, and the general welfare of the community. A City of HOME OWNERS is always a prosperous city.

PROF. AND MRS. SILVEY OF PAMPA HAVE FAMILY REUNION

Friends and relatives of Prof. W. R. Silvey gathered at Pampa Wednesday for a family reunion of several days' duration. Mrs. R. S. Thompson of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gwynn and daughter Gladys of Kansas City; Mrs. Calmore Jenkins and daughter, Bess of Elizabethtown, Ky.; and Rev. W. B. Gwynn of Crestwood, a suburb of Louisville, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Silvey's daughter, Mrs. J. B. Martin and Mr. Martin were also present. Elsworth Gwynn, a nephew of the Silveys remembered the occasion and sent a ten-pound box of choicest candies from New York. On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Silvey motored with their guests for a day's mingling with friends in their old home town, Clarendon, where Prof. Silvey was superintendent of the city schools for twenty-three consecutive years prior to his accepting a like position in the Pampa Public Schools. Dinner ordered in advance at the White Hotel, where sixteen guests were served, was an enjoyable event. Clarendon folks made the distinguished visitors feel that "life's worth living."

The out-of-state visitors were guests of Mrs. R. S. Thompson at 1701 Polk Street, prior to their trip to Pampa, and were entertained with a luncheon and breakfast at her home Monday. Mrs. Thompson's friendship with Rev. Gwynn and family date back to the days when she attended Will's Point College, Kentucky, and when Rev. Gwynn was president of that institution. He is a Baptist minister. The Kentuckians were pleased with this section of the country—Amarillo Tribune.

Tells Bankers of Rural Needs.

Eugene Meyer, Jr., manager of the War Finance Corp., told ten thousand national bankers at New York last week that our Federal Reserve system should be built up to properly care for agricultural and live stock needs.

BANKERS TOLD NEED FOR GRADUAL MARKETING OF AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS

New York, Oct. 10.—Bankers of the United States are wide awake to the importance of working out a more liberal platform for agricultural and live-stock financing. Already preliminary steps have been taken and a unity of action assured which experienced economists predict are the foundation stones to an era of unprecedented national prosperity.

Summed up, the American farmer played a stellar role in the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association held here this year and attended by 10,000 of its members. First, Eugene Meyer, Jr., Managing Director of the War Finance Corporation, put the issue squarely up to the bankers in his address, "Financing Agriculture." Then followed the principle fight of the convention over the branch bank issue. Here again agriculture came to the fore, as it was the small town banker, the farmer's banker, opposed to the branch bank idea of the city bankers.

Farmers and the stock raisers may expect to see these developments.

Longer term financing will permit a gradual marketing of crops. In other words, loans which can be rediscouted or extended to permit holding of crops until a favorable market is offered.

A supervision of live stock loan companies in line with that exercised over States and National Banks. Must Market Our Products Slowly The need for a more gradual marketing of agricultural products through longer term financing as presented to the National Bankers' Association by Eugene Meyer, Jr., received their closest attention.

"Unquestionably," said Mr. Meyer, "it would have been advantageous, even under pre-war conditions, to market our products more gradually. Under present conditions it is more than a matter of advantage—it is an absolute necessity.

"Paper, based upon the security of non-perishable commodities," Mr. Meyer stated, "should be made eligible for rediscout for the length of time necessary to market a season's product before the next harvest. The view seems to prevail in some quarters that paper, in order to be liquid, must have a maturity of sixty to ninety days. But a sharp distinction should be drawn between short-time bank paper and the questions of the liquidity of the security that underlies bank paper, long or short.

"Long-time paper may be more liquid as to security than short-time paper. During the past year it was clearly shown that commercial paper depends for its liquidity on the orderly buying of the manufactured goods, and that this orderly buying, in turn, depends largely upon a purchasing power based upon the orderly marketing of our basic agricultural products."

Crop Loans Most Desirable "Indeed, if our late experience established any definite differentiation between the liquidity of commercial paper and of paper based upon staple, non-perishable agricultural commodities, properly warehoused, it established that fact that the latter is decidedly more liquid under adverse conditions than the former. At no time were such commodities so entirely unmarketable as were certain lines of manufactured products upon which the so-called liquid commercial paper was based.

"While it is important," continued Mr. Meyer, "to safeguard the Federal Reserve System by proper restrictions regarding eligible paper, it is equally important to safeguard business and agriculture by avoiding discrimination against paper which may properly be considered as eligible."

Branch Banks Weaken Farm Loans

The strongest point scored by the state bankers as opposed to the National branch bank idea, was the claim that branch banks, if extended to small towns and agricultural districts, would be manned by outsiders unfamiliar with local conditions, thus making loans in many instances unsound and weakening our whole financial structure. The Branch Bank idea was voted down as detrimental to the best interests of the nation.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY for 1922

If industry is to be revived, we need the alien mob to work the mines, and do the rest of the toil that must be done. Therefore we should let the aliens in. "If we want the wheels of prosperity to turn, we should keep the American workman free from competition from Europe. Therefore we should keep aliens out." "If business is to come to the land we must seek an educated citizenship. Therefore we should have a strict educational act for the alien." "If we want peace on earth, we should safeguard our shore against intrusion from cunning agitators found among these highly educated but destitute foreigners. Therefore we should admit only workers who are able to work." Try these recipes for political speeches from your cart talk. Try one of them will get a round applause. You can always fool the fellow who knows only "We, Us & Company" and never thinks of You.

Poem by UNCLE JOHN

The dreamy eyes that used to haunt me, have ceased to thrill my time-worn heart; no optic artist now can daunt me, no matter how she acts the part. I've lost the keen appreciation that lurks within the youthful breast; I still have spells of palpitation, but that's because I don't digest. . . I hate to own that I'm a cynic,—that I have old and crusty grown, but I can pass the eye-brow clinic, the same as if I'd turned to stone. There's nothing to the pensive languish that Maude turns on at sweet sixteen,—and still, it used to cause me anguish when I was callow, fresh, and green. . . I've reached the age of sere and yellow; I've grown to be a sort of crank. You know the years will gird a fellow like iron hoops around a tank. I envy not the mushy youngster that flounders in romantic stage. I'd rather be a whiskered songster, and smear my dope on printed page.
