

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT CLARENDON COLLEGE FINISHED TODAY SHORTLY AFTERNOON

MOST SUCCESSFUL SESSION IN HISTORY OF LOCAL INSTITUTION CAME TO CLOSE TODAY. HEAVY ATTENDANCE FOR YEAR AND PROMISE OF EVEN GREATER IN 1922. DR. HAYNES OF VERNON DELIVERS GRADUATING ADDRESS.

Clarendon College has witnessed many commencements since its founding but there have been none to compare with the present series of brilliant programs which come to a close today when with the singing of "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," marked the end of the college year of 1920-21.

Beginning last Friday night with a "style show" staged by the first year pupils of the domestic art department under the direction of Miss Fincher, the entire offerings of entertainment has been most enthusiastically received by Clarendon people and many visitors who were here to attend.

Sunday morning at the Methodist Church Dr. F. P. Culver, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Fort Worth delivered the commencement sermon to the forty-five graduates of the institution, together with the eighteen graduates of the Clarendon High School who had been invited to participate.

Dr. Culver's sermon was based upon the theme of "The Power of Thought," and his message is considered one of the most powerful ever delivered in this city. Dr. Culver is reckoned one of the greatest preachers of Southern Methodist and it was a delight to hear him. He proved that thinking was the basis for human conditions. He said that unless the individual was developed in his mind, body and spirit, he could not be well-rounded. If the mind alone was developed, man became a skeptic; if the body alone was developed, man became a brute, if the spirit alone was developed he became a fanatic. He urged strongly upon the young life represented in the graduating classes the necessity for a full growth in the three attributes of the individual.

The Methodist Choir under the direction of Dean Taylor of the music department of the college rendered an anthem, "Arise and Shine." A very large crowd was present, the main auditorium and galleries being taxed to their capacity.

At the evening hour Dr. Culver preached to the undergraduates and to the congregation generally. He followed up his theme of the morning and declared that as necessary as it was for the individual to think it was still more necessary for him to think correctly. Using this as a starting point he took up the present education campaign and urged that the strongest possible local support should be given to a movement that had for its aim the Christianizing of the thought of life of the nation. It was a great message and was well received.

A joint music and literary program rendered by the primary pupils of the college was given at the college auditorium Monday afternoon. This proved to be a most enjoyable affair and established again the skill of Misses Betts and Vaughan as teachers of the little folks.

The grand concert of the year was given at the evening hour by the senior pupils of all departments of music. This program was one of unusual length and brilliance and speaks volumes for the ability of those connected with the school of music at Clarendon College.

The boys declamation contest held Tuesday morning at ten o'clock was a spirited affair and gave the judges a very difficult decision to render. John Thompson was the winner of first honors while Leigh Bone was a close second.

For many years the senior play has been one of the great events of commencement and this year it was "bigger and better than ever." Tuesday night the senior class presented "January the Fifteenth" to a heavily packed house, and the unanimous opinion was that it was by far the best senior play offered in many years. The work of some of the seniors partook of the professional.

Wednesday morning was held the girls' reading contest. This is always one of the most enjoyable occasions of the school year and proved to be fully up to the standard on this occasion. The first honor was given to Miss Ora McDaniel. Wednesday afternoon the public generally inspected the domestic science and art display in the domestic art department of the institution in the basement of the young ladies home. Also there was an exhibit by the art pupils of Miss Mary Gordon, in the same wing of the dormitory. These two exhibits were most excellent and made a showing far above that usually found in a junior college.

Wednesday night the "pep" event of the year was held in the auditorium, when the Pans and Adds tangled up in their annual debate. The subject for discussion was "immigration," stated "Resolved that the United States should prohibit all immigration to this country for the period of four years." The societies and their adherents had reserved sections of seats, decorated with their respective colors, and leather lured rosters under the leadership of efficient yell leaders. An auditor would have been a stoic indeed, could he have witnessed the spectacle and remained unmoved. The speakers for the Pans were E. L. Craig and P. W. Walker; for the Adds were Andrew Smalley and Orron Carter. After the usual nerve racking wait the decision of the judges was rendered in favor of the Pans. Far into the night the winners held high carnival in honor of their victory, while yells of derision from the vanquished answered intermittently.

Thursday morning the graduating exercises were held at the college auditorium with the usual preliminaries. Dr. S. W. Haynes, pastor of the First Methodist church of Vernon delivered the address to the graduating class and made a profound impression here with his logic and convincing style. Dr. Slover and Dean Condon made announcements and statements which were received with applause. General good feeling prevailed when the honors and medals were announced as follows:

High honor in senior graduates was won by Miss Erma Russell of Clarendon; undergraduate medal was won by Miss Mary Gerrett of Claude, Texas. John H. Thompson won in young men's oratorical contest. First honor in young ladies' reading contest was won by Miss Ora McDaniel of San Jon, New Mexico. Messrs. E. L. Craig and P. W. Walker of the Pan society won first honors in the intersociety debate. Mr. Walker also won the gold medal given by the Donley county state bank for having been adjudged the best debator. His home is in Breckenridge, Texas. Mr. Craig won Junior honors. First honors in senior class was won by Arch Hart of Crowell, Texas as which entitles him to a scholarship in S. M. U. of Dallas. Harold Boehning of Canyon won second honors in the same contest. Highest honors in senior class of girls was won by Miss Erma Russell. By reason of having won such honors, she may choose a free scholarship in either T. W. C. of Ft. Worth or S. M. U. of Dallas.

The following received diplomas and certificates:

Windy Valley People ARE VERY PROGRESSIVE

A meeting of the Windy Valley citizens was called during March to discuss the idea of building a community house. The matter was quickly decided and the building put up. Among the many good things to be installed is a pressure canner of a 400 can a day capacity. It is the object of the community to can every available product and supply the needs and then dispose of the remainder in other sections. They have a highly productive country and a progressive people and this is possibly the establishment of a precedent for other communities to follow.

DAIRY EXPERT LECTURES HERE NEXT TUESDAY

H. S. MOBLEY, EXPERT ON THE DAIRY COW LECTURES IN CLARENDON AT PASTIME THEATRE, TUESDAY, MAY 31, 2 O'CLOCK.

And now Mr. Farmer as the Chamber of Commerce is trying to be of assistance to everyone interested in Donley County I wish to say that Diversification is a good thing. In traveling over a good part of the country, starting from Clarendon to Galveston, Texas, New Orleans, Florida, on to Cuba, back to Florida; up the coast to New York, thence to Chicago; up as far north as Green Bay, Wisconsin, to Denver, Colorado, and back again here. In the states of New York and Wisconsin, more cheese is made than any other states in the United States and I wish to say in every state where I found the farmer had Dairy cows and was taking care of them, he had money, whenever there was any around; the Dairy cow is the one asset to a farm, bringing in money most every day in the year; in any business that has a steady income is better than something else, coming in once or twice a year. Now Mr. Farmer and everyone interested in Diversified farming and the Dairy interest, we want you to bring your wife and family to Clarendon, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock in the Pastime Theatre and hear Mr. H. S. Mobley a practical Southern farmer and noted lecturer who will tell you something that will be of interest to you. Don't fail to come, we want that day to be a banner day in Clarendon, take a half holiday do your shopping and see the picture show after the lecture.

DEAN S. H. CONDRON ELECTED HEAD OF STATE ORATORICAL ASSOCIATION

Last week the daily press of Texas carried a news item announcing the election of Dean S. H. Condron of Clarendon College as president of the Texas Oratorical Association of Junior Colleges. This is quite an honor to be extended to any person, and since Dean Condron knew nothing at all of his name being mentioned for the office until his notification of election it comes as a most pleasant surprise and is a source of gratification to the many friends of the recipient.

Heretofore it has been the custom for the junior college state contest to be held at the home institution of the president, which means that if this custom is adhered to the state contest for junior colleges will be held next May in Clarendon. This will be a great advertisement for our city and will bring hundreds of visitors.

In 1920 Clarendon College won the state honors from the other junior college and it is hoped that this will be repeated in 1922. Having the president, the place of meeting and the medal winner, will be a honor worth while in 1922.

FARM BUREAU WILL HELP COUNTY AGENT

San Angelo, Texas. The Farm Bureau organization here has received the sanction of the County Commissioners Court, and depending upon the power of the Farm Bureau among the farmers, the court has decided to get a good county demonstration agent immediately. Heretofore it has been difficult for county agents to obtain the cooperation of the farmers and meetings of the entire farming population of the county to discuss matters of vital interest to all have been practically impossible. With the Farm Bureau, however, it will be possible to draw farmers together and the agent will have an opportunity to present his work to the whole body.

JERICO CLUB WOMEN WILL PLAY BASEBALL

The club women of Jericho have formed a base ball team—yes, two of them and will play a matched game at a time to be announced soon. The game will call for an all day picnic. Other teams will play, including a "fat" and "lean" team match. The lineup is as follows:

Misses Alley McDaniel, Mattie Clark, Lillian Hunt, Bertha Ashmead, Mary Eameigh, Maud Trout, Eva Bural, Jewel Darnell and Mrs. Helm. Mesdames Mariott, Brown, Myles, Lamb, Chitwood, Goldston, Glazner, Latham and Eanschs.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN WILL BEGIN MONDAY

STRENUOUS CAMPAIGN OF CLARENDON CITIZENS WILL ATTEMPT TO OVER SUBSCRIBE QUOTA. WORK IN FULL SWING NEXT WEEK

Having closed the most successful campaign in the history of the school this week, the campaign of securing funds for further improvement of Clarendon college will begin Monday morning. With representative pupils from all over the Panhandle and many other states here this year, those interested in the success of Clarendon college have gone to work with a zeal to see that this noted institution does not take a step backward for a lack of funds. The indebtedness hanging over the school must be raised. The College must have an endowment. These conditions must, can and will be met the coming week when local committee-men start an active campaign to secure the needed funds.

The quota for Clarendon is seventeen thousand dollars. It is the intention of the committee to "go over the top" by securing fifty thousand dollars. This amount will pay off all indebtedness against the College and supply our quota demands as well.

The committee to raise these funds is composed of F. L. Baurland, W. A. SoRelle, Dr. Jenkins, S. H. Condron, Bennett Kerbow, E. F. Bryan, J. T. Patman, L. C. Parker, R. A. Logg, J. E. Russell, Carl Parsons, Joe M. Warren, A. M. Beville, J. L. Bain, Dr. G. S. Slover and Rev. C. N. N. Ferguson.

The amounts pledged may be paid in five annual payments, the first to be paid November 1st of this year. Quite a number will pledge as much as a thousand, some five hundred and the remainder will be made up of smaller contributions or pledges. These pledges must be secured during the week as the campaign closes Saturday night.

The committee will be served at luncheon each evening at the young ladies' dormitory at the College, at which time reports of progress will be made, consultations held and plans for further action outlined.

The committee held a meeting at the "Y" Wednesday afternoon at which time allotted portions of the city were made to the various parties in the work. All plans have been made and the work will be in full swing early Monday morning to last the entire week. Those more deeply interested in the success of the local institution state that a proud citizenship may now voice their appreciation in a substantial manner for the lasting good of the present and all future generations of the Panhandle of Texas.

MONTAGUE SHERIFF VISITS CLARENDON ON BUSINESS

Frank Walker, sheriff of Montague county was here Saturday to return with Roy Estinger, who is charged with a statutory offense, and who had been picked up by sheriff J. H. Rutherford a few days before on instructions from sheriff Walker. The visitor was highly pleased with the people he met while here, liked the country and did some visiting with old friends.

SEC. M'CARDELL INTERVIEWS A BUSINESS MAN

IN WHICH THE PROPER VALUE OF A CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS ESTIMATED AND AN ORDINARY PERSON'S IMPORTANCE EXPOSED

I asked one of our most prominent business men, the other day the question, what do you think of the Chamber of Commerce? Well he said "some times I think we are donating the money; but you know I never saw a city, anywhere that was doing anything in a progressive way that did not have one." Some folks go to church and go to sleep come out and say I cannot see where I have received any benefit, that is just the way it is with each of us if we go to church, come home and have not learned something don't blame it on the minister, say to yourself what was, did I really try to learn something, is it my fault? so with the Chamber of Commerce and don't only pay your dues, but come around and co-operate with us, let say if I am a member of the Chamber of Commerce, and I think I am not receiving any benefit, may be I am partly to blame, if we are doing all we can to make this city grow, a certain well known article was advertised extensively for a long while, a new man thought we would save money for the firm, his first method of economy was to cut down his advertising, for a while he showed a wonderful improvement; sat back and used the old expression I told you so, he was proud of himself, but in a few weeks he began to see a change; people stopped asking for the goods; they thought it was not sold anymore; take any business in this city close the doors for thirty days then come back, and open up try it, and see the result. I venture to say anyone now living here after they are out of town sixty days, few if any people will mention their names, so it is with the Chamber of Commerce. Let us keep it going.

DUKE CONNALLY ARRIVES TUESDAY WITH BRIDE

Wednesday of last week Duke Connally, a prominent young grain man of this city journeyed to Dodsonville, where he was married to Miss Ila Mae Milner, daughter of one of the most prominent and substantial families in that fertile section of the country. The newly weds then made a short honeymoon trip through Oklahoma and returned here Tuesday about noon.

The young men of Clarendon, with whom the groom is very popular, had planned quite an elaborate program of surprise for the young couple and were in ambush along the highway leading into the city, but Mr. Connally had a "hunch" which caused him to enter town by another route, arriving safely at the home of his parents without molestation.

Duke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom F. Connally, long residents of Clarendon, and is a member of the grain firm owned and controlled by his father. The bride is well known here, having been a pupil in Clarendon College up until the spring term of the present year, and their happy marriage is the happy termination of a romance begun here many months ago.

DONLEY COUNTY EX-SERVICE MEN, FALL IN

This is not a call for revile, retreat or drill but a call to render tribute and honor to the memory of our fallen comrades who gave their lives in the service of our country. Put on your uniform, recall your I. D. R. and meet your buddies at the Legion hall in Clarendon on next Sunday afternoon, May 29th. There and at that time the company will be formed and will march from the Legion Hall to the place for holding the memorial service. If you live out of town come and spend the day in Clarendon as our guest. At the Legion hall on Sunday morning next there will be a committee to meet and greet all visiting ex-service men and the Ladies Auxiliary here have arranged to serve dinner in their homes to our ex-service guests on that occasion. Mr. Ex-service Man won't you help us to have the whole gang here and lets tell the world that we have not forgotten our comrades' supreme sacrifice and that we will not break faith with them.

The Executive Committee, Aubyn E. Clark Post No. 126, American Legion, Clarendon, Texas.

MRS. N. DINGLER PASSED AWAY MONDAY AFTERNOON

The death of Mrs. N. Dingler occurred at the family home in this city after a long illness, Monday. A more detailed mention will appear in our next issue.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH LADIES AID

The Ladies Aid of the Christian Church met with Mrs. E. D. Martin Wednesday afternoon. Lesson was read from Galatians third chapter by Mrs. Humphries. Quilting was the main feature of work for the afternoon. It was decided to have a bundle day for the near East relief on Wednesday, June the first. All kinds of war clothing will be sent. At the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Martin and mother to a good number. Mrs. Sam J. White was appointed as lesson leader for the next meeting. It is hoped that as still larger number will be present at the next meeting. The ladies have done a great deal of work since the first of the year and are planning for more to be done. Every one seems to have a mind to work and no task is a great one with such a spirit. Each meeting seems to be the best one.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF HIGH SCHOOL WILL CLOSE WITH ADDRESS FRIDAY NIGHT

EVERY NUMBER ON PROGRAM BRINGS OUT LARGE CROWD INTERESTED IN WORK OF PUPILS. MAY FETE OF SEVENTH GRADE GRAMMAR PUPILS BIGGEST THING EVER UNDERTAKEN AND IS CROWNED WITH SUCCESS

While the public is looking forward to the graduating address of Dr. Standifer Friday night with keen anticipation as the closing number of the commencement exercises of the public schools, every number up to date has attracted a large and appreciative audience. The opening number, "The Magic Bell" presented by the pupils of Miss Myrta Hook Friday night was a winner. The play, "Every Youth" also given under the direction of Miss Hook on Monday evening came up to every expectation. Pupils taking part in each play acquitted themselves with honor and reflect great credit upon their teacher.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF HIGH SCHOOL WILL CLOSE WITH ADDRESS FRIDAY NIGHT

EVERY NUMBER ON PROGRAM BRINGS OUT LARGE CROWD INTERESTED IN WORK OF PUPILS. MAY FETE OF SEVENTH GRADE GRAMMAR PUPILS BIGGEST THING EVER UNDERTAKEN AND IS CROWNED WITH SUCCESS

The medal contest of the beginner's class in expression took place Tuesday. As is usual in any contest, interest was voluntary and reached a high pitch. This class under the direction of Miss Hook has made rapid progress the past season. Emanuel Dubbs, Richard Glass, Renelia Dubbs and Margaret Henson were adjudged as winners of the medals in this contest. Those of the advanced class to receive medals was Marie Stevens.

The biggest thing ever attempted in the way of a school program number in Clarendon was the May fete by the seventh grade graduating class of the Grammar school. This number was staged on the athletic grounds of the high school with a "grand stand" in the center, illuminated by electric lights. Long before the time of opening cars by the dozen lined the grounds and several hundred people were seated around the edge of the "arena" early waiting for the approach of the "Queen's Party."

Promptly at the time advertised "court announcer" took his station and heralded the approach of the "Queen's Party." Miss Dorothy White acted the part of the queen while Master Kelley Chamberlain was designated king. Immediately following the occupancy of the station in the center by "royalty," a grand march was made over the grounds with appropriate music, each pupil keeping step. The queen was next crowned after which beautiful girls gave the "Dance of Lily and Rose," which brought forth another loud applause from the admiring multitude. The sixth grade pupils entered the grounds at this time and immediately handsome young girls attracted attention to the west side in a rendition of the "Spring Dance." Dressed in gay colors and adorned in mimic fashion, the beautiful dancers shimmering in the light took one back to the dreams of fairy land of one's earliest school days. The flower dance by Christeen Chitwood was beautifully executed exhibiting a great deal of skill that caught the fancy of the audience bringing forth the next big applause. The May pole dance proved to be a pleasing number and was followed by a May dance executed by Athlyn Taylor in a most graceful manner meeting with a big applause from the crowd which had shown rapt attention from the very beginning. The "Grand Final" closed the program for the evening and Clarendon's first attempt of the kind was pronounced a huge success by hundreds.

As announced last week, Dr. Standifer, president of Simmons college of Abilene, will be here to deliver the graduating address to the class Friday night. All those who can possibly do so, should hear this gifted orator and educator of national reputation. No man in the south stands higher in the field than he and few are his equal.

The 1921 graduates are: Ina Benson, Bessie Alexander, Mittie Cole, Frank White, Clifford Allison, Leila Rorex, McHenry Lane, Willie Ray, Linnie Waldron, Elizabeth Martin, Anne Myra Bennett, Meta Blackwell, Blanche Mann, Jessie Ingram, Evaden Warner, Delta Kemp, Mary Stocking and Ruth Rutherford.

 THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

The Panhandle Herald was printed this week on the new six-column quarto news-press just installed with other modern equipment. Hon. Lee Satterwhite is giving his people a first class newspaper and they are responding to his kind treatment with more business. Panhandle is picking up wonderfully since it got "greasy" over that way and the Herald is giving its home city splendid representation.

The editor of The News is in receipt of an invitation to the opening of the new Star-Telegram building at Fort Worth, which that paper celebrates with a "Housewarming" on the May 30th, 31st and June 1st. The new building represents all that is modern and labor-saving in up-to-the minute newspaper equipment and the entire southwest is to be congratulated on the signal success which this great daily has achieved. Clarendon people are especially interested as the Star-Telegram is far ahead of any other daily paper in circulation in this section.

Every Panhandle editor will find it well worth his time and expense to attend the McAllen meeting of the Texas Press Association the 9-10-11 of June. A special train of pullman cars will be sent to Dallas after the north and central Texas contingent and will deliver its passengers back to that city. Waco, San Antonio and Kingsville will be hosts for luncheons to the membership on the down trip. A program of practical merit has been prepared and every Texas editor ought to see the Magic Valley country, anyway.

Mayor McLean informs The News that an effort is going to be made to put on a sidewalk campaign this summer and fall. Clarendon has many sidewalks now, but there are so many stretches that need joining up, we all ought to get behind the move and make this a summer of great progress along this line. One of the first requisites to free mail delivery is sidewalks and with a little effort and expense it is entirely possible to have our mail delivered to our doors. Clarendon is so near being a city that a succession of good, strong, healthy, shoves will put us over the hill. The city will build street connections for every block of sidewalk built. It is a fair proposition and every progressive citizen ought to be willing to come in for his part of the expense. More sidewalks in the summer of 1921 would be a wonderful advance for Clarendon.

News readers are urged to look over the several articles dealing with the present education campaign soon to be put on by the Methodist Church. As a matter of fact in Clarendon the matter is one of general rather than denominational interest. Out of the great sum to be raised Clarendon College is to receive $200,000, which with its present splendid equipment will put it forever on its feet financially. There never was a time when men of means in this country had any better opportunity of lending a worthy institution needed aid as at the present time. Every donation may be especially directed to Clarendon College, which adds greatly to the prestige of the local school with the general officers of the campaign. Clarendon College is asking that 41,000 be raised in this community, and are given the assurance that the general fund will lay down the balance to make up the $200,000 allotted. Another provision that greatly assists in the subscription is that five years' time is given for the payment of the pledge. Think it over, people.

GAGGED AND BOUND

Just because a person is doing business in a town that isn't classed as a large city shouldn't hinder him from running his business on a metropolitan basis. Your big city competitor and the Mail Order houses are spending 5 per cent to 6 per cent for Business Publicity while you try to get along with one-tenth this amount or none at all. The thing that has you gagged and bound is the hard-shelled idea that advertising may be good for them but not for yourself.

The thing that obstructs your commercial vision is the little old stinkin' dollar that you are afraid to turn loose in payment for space. You work on the scared-to-death policy that you would rather have the one dollar than to invest it in what you call a suspicious operation and get back three times the amount in additional profits.

Fortunes and business superiority were never established on such a dwarfed conservatism and the quicker found out the better. You'll thank us later if you will lay aside the old moss-covered, antiquated ideas you may have entertained in the past about Newspaper Advertising and brighten up your entire business existence by spending three per cent of your gross income on advertising.

A REAL REVIVAL

On Sunday, May 8th, we began a series of meetings at Goodnight, with Rev. L. B. Hankins of Hedley doing the preaching. It seemed that we had more things to overcome in order to have a real revival, than any one ever had.

To begin with, the pastor found that the influenza had not been entirely removed from his system, and for the first four days he was not able to attend. And then, we had a rainy spell of weather to contend with, which is generally considered a great obstacle to overcome in a meeting. But we had prayed a long time for this meeting and the good Lord did not disappoint us. Brother Hankins opened up this series of meetings with some great sermons on the resurrection. No man I have ever heard can handle this all important theme, as he can. The congregation realized from the first that they had a man of rare preaching ability to listen to, and of course they came in large numbers. All of the modern evils, that confront the church as enemies, were bitterly assailed. Bro. Hankins makes no compromise with sin. Last but not greatest of all, he strikes an immortal blow at the D. D.'s of our country who are making an effort to weaken the Bible with their critical methods. Not a sermon was preached, that he did not hold up the cross as the remedy for sin. He is truly a great preacher.

About 40 souls professed faith in Jesus and you did not have to get them to sign a card to find out if they had received the blessing of God. Old grudges were settled, and people that had been guilty of dancing declared they were forever through. Brother Hankins, voices the prophets of old when he says that unless these sins are stopped, we shall reap the harvest that God has said we should reap. I thank the Good Lord that the power of God is still the greatest force there is in this world.

AN INTERESTING SERVICE

There were interesting services at the Christian Church last Lord's Day. The mothers and daughters took charge of all the services of the church except the preaching. Six mothers served at the Lord's Table and two young ladies took up the collection and ushered the crowd. The services were enjoyed by all who attended it seemed, and many spoke in high praise of all who took part. There was special music at the Bible School and at both church services. At the evening hour Rev. Julian, former pastor of the church preached a splendid discourse. He was greeted by many of his old friends and given a warm welcome by both the church and its pastor. Rev. Julian is now pastor at Lubbock and is doing a fine work there. He has asked the pastor of the church here to conduct his revival for him this summer, if it is possible for him to get off to hold it.

SOME POOR BLIND FOLKS HAVE NEVER SEEN A MIRACLE

Here is an important distinction that many people overlook. God made the world; but He does not make your world. He provides the raw materials, and out of them every man selects what he wants and builds an individual world for himself. The fool looks over the wealth of material provided and selects a few plates of him and eggs, a few pairs of trousers, a few dollar bills—and is satisfied.

The wise man builds him a world out of wonderful sunsets, and thrilling experiences, and the song of the stars, and romance and miracles. Nothing wonderful ever happens in the life of a fool.

A primrose by a river's brim
 A yellow primrose is to him,
 And it is nothing more.

An electric light is simply an electric light; a telephone is only a telephone—nothing unusual at all. But the wise man never ceases to wonder how a tiny speck of seed, apparently dead and buried, can produce a beautiful yellow flower. He never lifts a telephone receiver or switches on an electric light without a certain feeling of awe.

And to think what a miracle it is, this harnessing of electricity to the service of man!

Who, unless his sense of awe had grown blunt through constant familiarity, would believe it?

The sun, the center of our universe, goes down behind the western horizon. I touch a button, and presto! I have called it back—the room is flooded anew with light. The thunder that men once called the voice of God, rolls out its mighty waves of sound, and the sound carries only a few score miles. But I—puny speck upon the face of the earth—I lift a little instrument; and behold, my whisper is heard a thousand miles away.

Prometheus stole fire from the gods and brought it down to earth. For that crime the gods chained him to a lonely rock and sent a huge bird to feed upon his vitals. Each night the wound healed, and each day it was torn open again.

That was the punishment of the 50 good cigarettes for 10c from one sack of GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM TOBACCO

man who dared to wrest away the richest treasure of the gods.

But fire—the treasure of the gods—has almost disappeared out of our daily life; we scorn it.

Do we want heat? We press a button; and lo, heat, invisible, silent, all-pervasive, flows into our homes over a copper wire.

Do we need power? We have but to press another switch, and and giants come to us over the same slender roadway. Clothed in invisible garments, they cleanse our homes, wash our clothes, crank our automobiles—do everything that once taxed the strength of men and hurried man into unlovely old age.

Don't let your life become a prosaic affair; don't let familiarity with the marvels about you breed thoughtlessness and contempt.

Let the fool build his world out of more food and drink and clothes; you fashion yours out of marvelous experience; furnish and decorate it with miracles.

Exercise your mind in the wholesome activity of wonder; train your soul to reverent awe.

If you had stood with Moses on the shore of the Red Sea, and had seen it divide to let the children of Israel pass over, you would have had no difficulty in recognizing that as a miracle.

But every night when the sun goes down, a man stands in a power-house in your city and throws a switch and instantly the city and the country for miles around are flooded with sunshine.

And you say to yourself casually: "Oh, I see the lights as usual." Bruce Barton.

MY CREED

I believe in my town. I believe in her people, in her boys and her girls. I will make myself a committee of one to make of this a good place in which to live and a mighty hard place to leave.

I believe in my town. I believe in her institutions, in her schools, in her churches and in her stores. I believe in the street broom and the street sweeper, and in the paint pot. I believe in 'er an empty can on vacant lot but many a full one in the larder. Never again will I throw waste paper or rubbish in the street or alley.

I believe in my town. I believe in trees. God's first temples; grass instead of ash heaps, and flowers instead of weeds. May God bless the tongue that gives honest praise and commendation, and may He doubly bless the ear that is deaf to scandal and gossip. If I can't not speak good of my neighbor I will hold my peace. When it costs me nothing, at least, I will spend my money here, and by so doing leave a part of the purchase price to circulate in the channels where its equivalent in wealth was originally created, to do good among the folks who are a part of the community of which I am a part, in the place that I call home, sweet home.

I believe in my town.—National Hardware Bulletin.

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, sniffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly. It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

BUSINESS IS MOVING "JOG ON, JEHOSEPHAT!"

To prove the good spirits that now possess the people of this section, one of our leading gentlemen dropped in at The News office Tuesday and left the following little "Pome" with us which correctly expresses the feelings of our far-seeping people who believe in the Clarendon section. Read it, it will do you good:

Jog On, Jehosophat!
 Road gets rougher every mile;
 (Cluck!) jog on, Jehosophat an' show some style.

Mule gone lame an' hens wont lay;
 Corn's way own an' wheat dont pay;
 Hogs no better, steers too cheap;
 Cows quit milkin', meat wont keep;
 Oats are heated, spuds all froze;
 Fruit crop's busted, wind still blows;
 Sheep seem puny, an' I'll be durned
 Rye field's flooded an' the hay stacked burned!

Looks some gloomy, I'll admit—
 (Cluck!) jog on, Jehosophat, we ain't down yet.

Coal's in high an' crops in low;
 Rail rates doubled, got no show;
 Money's tighter, morals loose;
 Bound to git us—what's the use?
 Sun's not shinin as it should;
 Moon aint lightin, as it should;
 Air seems heavy; water punk;
 Tests yer mettle; shows yer spunk;
 No use stoppin' to de-bate—
 (Cluck!) Jog on Jehosophat, its gettin' late.

Wheels all wobble axle's bent;

Dashboards broke; top all rent;
 One shaft splintered; t'other sags;
 Seat's all busted; end-gate drags;
 May hang t'gether—believe it will;
 Careful drivin'll make it still;
 Roads some better, not so rough—
 TROT! Gosh ding yel that the stuff,
 Old trap's movin' right good speed—
 (Cluck!) Jog on, Jehosophat, you're some 'old steed.
 Road's smoothed out till it don't seem true—
 (Cluck!) Jog on, Jehosophat, you pulled us through!

BRUNK'S COMEDIANS HAVE GOOD SHOW

Brunk's Comedians showed to a big crowd at their tent theatre last night and all were quite pleased with the show. The expression was general that it was the best show that has visited Childress in many months.

The actors are talented, and their wardrobes are far above the average. The plays are the kind that most people like to see. The tent is large and the chairs are comfortable.

The tent is located just west of court house. Don't forget that the show will be here all this week and possible all next week.—Childress Index.

CLARENDON SENATE

The Clarendon Senate meets again next Monday night May 30th. It promises to be a stormy session as some business was left over that was very important and that will be brought up on next Monday evening. There are also some very important bills to be introduced at that time and brought back for passage at the same session. One bill is sure to come before the senate on the subject of divorce and also one on the taxing of all old bachelors. Those who want to have some fun as well as hear some good addresses should not fail to be on hand Monday evening. The president of the Senate extends an invitation to every one to be present. The schools will be over and many of the school boys and girls are expected to be on hand at the next session. Don't wait for an invitation just go and you are sure to find a welcome. Remember the hour is 8:15.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ADVERTISE

A nicely-arranged and well lighted show window gets business.

People see inside the show windows, in day time as they pass. But at night they stop and look at what you have to show.

Sliding scale rates make it so you can light your show windows with small cost. The average rate for the first 100 k. w. hours is 17c per k. w. All over 100 k. w. hours is only 13c per k. w. The more you use the less it will cost you per k. w. hour.

PANHANDLER MAKES GOOD IN SOUTH AMERICA

All of the old time residents of the Panhandle will remember J. G. Ramsey, who made his headquarters in Roberts county for several years. We herewith reprint a clipping from the Amarillo Daily News which gives a bit of information of what Mr. Ramsey is doing in the southern hemisphere.

"J. G. Ramsey, former sheriff of Roberts county has returned from an eight years' stay in South America. A peculiar incident of his return was that his wife returned the same day from a trip to Canada and traveled on the same train but neither knew the other was on the train until they arrived at Miami.

Mr. Ramsey left this country in August, 1913, in the employ of the Brazil Land Cattle and Packing Company which was directed by Murdo McKenzie one time president of the Texas Cattle Raisers Association.

The location of the ranch of which Mr. Ramsey has charge is about 1500 miles south of the equator and the temperature in winter is rarely below 70 degrees. During the summer months the thermometer occasionally goes to 98 degrees but never above that however, as there is very little air and much humidity, 98 degrees is said to seem as hot as 120 in this country.

The company for which Mr. Ramsey works owns 3,500,000 acres of land in one body and has about 250,000 head of cattle, many of which are unbranded and are wild. From 400 to 700 persons are employed on the different ranches.

According to Mr. Ramsey land can be purchased in that country for from 32 cents to $12 per acre, the lesser figure being the price on grazing land and the larger for agricultural. All land is purchased from the government.

There is no public school system in the country but the large ranchers conduct private schools teaching both Portuguese and Spanish, says Mr. Ramsey.

Snakes in that country are not as dangerous as they are said to be according to the former Texan. He says that the largest snake he ever saw was 21 feet long and he has its skin with him.

Mr. Ramsey will return to Brazil in July and plans to return to the United States next year to move his entire family to that country. He has purchased a ranch and now owns 108,000 acres of land.

Mr. Ramsey was sheriff of Roberts county six years just previous to his departure for South America and has a wide acquaintance among the old timers of this section."

ENDLESS CHAIN LETTER BOGEY POPS UP AGAIN

Superstition born of ignorance has dogged the footsteps of mankind in every country more or less, being in its ascendancy in the more ignorant tribes of Africa.

Several women of Clarendon have received letters this week written without a signature to add to the mystery. The letter contains the phrase, "God bless our soldiers and sailor boys and keep them in the hollow of thy hand." Some spook? Sure, don't breathe it to a soul even in a dark room under the bed. The letter then goes on to say that the recipient should write one letter of the above quotation each day for seven days. These letters, according to the style of the "chain," must be mailed to married women only. The reward is supposed to be contained in "great joy" on the seventh day. The penalty is recited to be "misfortune" on the seventh day if the receiver of the "missile" does not comply with the demands. The writer also states that the "chain" originated on Flanders field. It did, they should have kept it there. We have already too much foreign stuff here now.

Such letters as referred to above. Such letters as referred to above. Such letters as referred to above. Such letters as referred to above. Such letters as referred to above. Such letters as referred to above. Such letters as referred to above. Such letters as referred to above. Such letters as referred to above. Such letters as referred to above.

The endless chain letter stuff sent out some years ago and worked great harm in some instances. It could do so in a case where the mother lost a son on the field of battle. One who would take advantage of the credulity of the more feeble minded, has very little to do when they get down to the basis of writing nonsensical letters.

GOING AT A SANE SPEED

The Speedometer is an instrument of precision, measuring the speed of the moving vehicle. When we find ourselves jogging along comfortably and smoothly in the big roomy Rolls-Arrow limousine of our friend, we are astonished to find the speedometer reading around 38 miles per hour.

When we climb into our own boat, the same sensation of easy, even motion, so far as it may be approximated at all in our pride of standardized production, comes at a speed, or perhaps we should say a lack of speed of about 22 miles per hour.

To ruminate further; when we come to the open road, and push the old wagon up to 25 miles or so, we feel that we are "going some."

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even sore, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar from any good drugist and use it like cold cream.

On the other hand when we have been bowling along at 35 miles or better on a good road and reduce our speed to 25 miles again, it seems as if we were standing still.

What we are trying to prove is, that the Speedometer is an instrument of precision, and should be trusted above our senses when it comes to a question of speed.

If we had a speedometer on business today we would find ourselves moving along at a sane speed, one capable of pulling us home in good time, fully within the traffic regulations of common sense. The trouble is that we have been rushing along at a wild, dangerous speed, and there is the feeling now that we have slowed down to a point where we are almost standing still. Yet it doesn't take an optimist to know that we are a long way from standing still in this country today.

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD

One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handsomest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

Economy rides on U.S. Tires—

If you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches. Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made.

There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

FEEDING CHICKS

An enormous number of chicks are lost every year on account of bad practice in feeding and caring for them. A common mistake which is responsible for the loss of a great many chicks is the fact that they are fed too much the first week of their life.

They should first be fed when from thirty-six to forty-eight hours old, with a little grit and a small amount of hard boiled egg mixed with rolled oats or bread crumbs and should be given all the milk they wish to drink.

The second day, add to the grain feed, a small amount of some kind of bran mixture. The first week the chicks should be fed often but in small quantities, since the digestive organs are not completely developed before the end of the first week, from this time on the feed should at all times contain 1st muscle producing or protein feeds, such as sour skimmed milk, butter-milk, scraps of meat, shorts, bran, or tankage. 2nd have producing or ash feeds, such as ground bone, milk or wheat bran. 3rd heat energy and fat producing feed or carbohydrates. Carbohydrates may be supplied in such feeds as crushed corn, crushed maize, crushed kafir, or unhulled oats or wheat. After the chicks are half grown the above grains feed not to be crushed.

Sour milk should be kept before them at all times. Feeding pans and troughs should be scalded often Do not spill the milk on the ground, as this is very likely to breed disease, where milk is not available meat scraps may be used, dry ground bones may be kept in a hopper or may be mixed with the feed, allowing a pound of bone for each fifteen pounds of feed. After the chicks are half grown they may be fed in self feeders. It has been found that having these feeders located some distance from the roosting place will cause the chickens to take more exercise. It is important that plenty of range with grass, wheat or oats for grazing is provided.

someness. And it is sometimes rather embarrassing to the young advertising solicitor to contact controversially veteran merchant who has been for twenty or thirty years in the same little store, a daily witness of the conviction that he was saving money by not spending any of it with the newspapers. If the young solicitor hazards the opinion that a habit of advertising might have moved the veteran from the little store to a larger one he runs the risk of being informed that he is a smart Alexander. And if he points to the large stores which have come up through constant and efficient advertising, he is told that the larger stores got big by being conducted dishonestly or unfairly or by big capitalists who could afford big ways of doing things. The small man who does not progress is never quite satisfied that his progressive competitor is entirely honest. Even the obvious fact that most of the big stores came up from little beginnings, that their big capital was at first merely some prudent man's savings, does not have much weight with the type of business man who rigidly believes that all business should be little business.

BRUNK'S COMEDIANS COMING HERE MONDAY

Brnk's Comedians, playing under their own canvas will open a week's engagement in Clarendon on next Monday night. Their tent will be located on the lot opposite the Grammar school building. This company is composed of 30 artists, including a 12-piece band and an 8-piece orchestra.

A different play will be presented each night, with high class vaudeville between each act of the play. The opening play for Monday night will be "The Country Boy," and is said to be full of fun from start to finish, a four-act comedy-drama.

A number of new faces have been added to the cast since their last appearance here, as well as new members of the band and orchestra. The band will give a concert on the streets at 4 p. m. Monday and again at 7:15 at which time the doors will be open and the curtain will rise at 8:15 p. m.

This company is under the personal management of Harley Sadler, said to be one of the best comedians in the entire South. Sadler was formerly with Roy E. Fox, and is well known by the people of Clarendon and this entire section.

The play next Monday night, "The Country Boy," is a rural comedy on the "way down east" order with Harley Sadler as the country boy, who furnishes the comedy and keeps the audience in an uproar of laughter during the entire show, which lasts two hours; vaudeville will be presented between acts which will make a continuous performance without long waits between acts.

The doors will open at 7:15 o'clock and the show will start promptly at 8:15. Popular prices will prevail.

Let us fix that old watch up, we will make it run at a very reasonable cost. Goldston Bros. (21c)

COTTON MARKETING BASIS OF SOCIAL PROBLEM IN SOUTH

The marketing of cotton is the basis of the social problem of the South, according to Carl Williams, Oklahoma editor and agricultural leader, who is making several speeches in Texas in the interest of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association.

"The co-operative marketing of cotton will bring on the time when I can meet a tenant cotton farmer on the road and he will not have in his frightened eye the look of a dog which had been licked and didn't know why. Let us get the hang-dog look of his eye and his wife and children out of the cotton fields. Co-operative marketing will bring him the square economic deal and that in turn will bring good roads, modern schools, revitalized churches, and happy homes to the south. This agreement, to which the co-operative cotton marketing associations of the south are subscribing, is the Magna Charta of the cotton farmer of America. In it is written the expression of the will of the common cotton farmer."

RANCH CONDITIONS MERIT CAREFUL CONSIDERATION

The Panhandle country is still on the map, land, and cattle business thought to be dead still appears, to be very much alive as evidenced by the recent sale of the E. W. Grogan and Sons, ranch 14 miles northwest of Clarendon, on Salt Fork of Red River lying partly in Donley and Armstrong counties.

This ranch was purchased by N. H. Chenault of Wichita Falls a well known and prominent oil producer aggregating in figures some $261,000.00 for the ranch of 12,366 acres and about 645 head of young Hereford steers, yearlings and a part of the cattle being held upon the ranch at the time it was sold to Mr. Chenault. This ranch was probably one of the best known small ranches in the Panhandle and admired by the most of all who have had the pleasure of seeing same. Located as it is between the Denver and Rock Island railroads and from a point of location it is considered second to none in the Panhandle. Other advantages of running water of some seven miles that skirts the South boundary of this ranch, and a large percent of fine tillable farm land adds to its attraction as a most desirable ranch proposition and investment for future sub-dividing and selling out to farmers. This ranch is one among many attractive ranch propositions to be found in the Panhandle that is now attracting oil people means who have made their fortunes in the oil game around Wichita Falls, Ranger, Breckinridge and other points in the Mid-continent Oil Fields.

E. W. Grogan and Sons will continue in the cattle business in Donley county having leased grass adjoining the ranch just south on the east and owned by the Bugbee land and cattle company of which they already had several sections leased for grazing purposes. Mr. Grogan informs us that he cannot call to mind any better section of country than this in the big State of Texas the water, variety of grass and climate into consideration and this is saying a great deal when we come to consider the size of Texas. Mr. Grogan has been almost raised in Northwest Texas, in the Wichita Falls section and is one of the pioneers in the cattle and land business. It is a well known fact that he has owned and sold out to farmers in Clay county before moving to this county some some of the most valuable land in the Red River Valley. Since he has had interest in Donley which dates back to Feb. 1912, he has

ADVERTISERS GROWING WISER

Advertisers are growing wiser each year. Business men of the nation last year spent $200,000,000 for newspaper advertising which was an increase of $50,000,000 over the previous year.

This big increase came too despite higher rates for space, and despite a general business depression. But it is illogical to say that the increase came despite business depression. Good business men know that in times of depression advertising is most necessary. The wise merchant reasons thus:

"I know there is not much money in the country, so it's up to me to get all of the little I can, hence, I will advertise more than usual."

Advertisers know they can not hope to get cheaper rates for a long time, if indeed, rates ever become cheaper.

While material costs in many other lines have gone down during the past two years, print paper, inks and other printing necessities have steadily mounted, while wages of employes have not been reduced as they have in many other vocations employing skilled labor.

These facts do not deter the merchant who is proud of his goods from calling the people's attention to them through the proved and admittedly best medium, newspaper advertising.

Judge Walls of Dumas had business here this week and incidentally stayed over for Commencement.

unknown grave and then dug up by her, and for miles none to console her or speak one word of cheer to her. Half starved and half frozen. The war still raging and she could not tell what might happen to her before she reached home, nor what the family was to do after she did reach it. Her heart was almost broken but she had the courage to battle against all odds and at any hour. No one will ever know what thoughts filled her soul as she slowly found her way home. There was snow and rain on the way but the weary march was not to be halted until at home. She had been on many weary marches in the army, but none so sad as this one. She had her only treasure save the little babe at home so young and tender. She prayed for it at night, but all the while resolved to know no defeat until her purpose was accomplished. She was tender hearted yet with a nerve of steel. She passed through towns and villages on her way and the gaze of the stranger was directed at her. Her home could never again be the happy home it had once been, she was thoroughly convinced. As she neared home she grew even more courageous than ever before and she longed to reach the little baby and fold it to her arms once more and rest assured that she had to the very last vow, been true to him whom she had so long loved and cherished. Friends had gathered to welcome her, but she did not reach home so soon as was expected and they were disappointed. But she did arrive in a few days with the body of her dead husband killed at Fredericksburg. It was a sad story to all who listened to it. She fastened to the bedside of her infant babe and found it perfectly well kept by friends. The trip had sorely tried her and she was almost exhausted. It had been harder and more fatiguing than the real battles in the army. There had been a strain mentally and physically and it had racked her nerves to a great extent. The burial took place in a day or so. The body of her husband was in a perfect state of composition and he was natural as when he had charged the enemy and she by his side on the field of carnage. The weather had been so cold it seemed to have preserved the body.

The body was laid to rest in the little cemetery, where many of the family had been placed. There was anguish and sorrow that was not expressed in tears that day. Here ended the eventful career of a noble son of North Carolina, a loving husband, and an affectionate father. Here the flowers that had bloomed from the buds of hope of other years had at last found a place to die and rest from labor. The feet that had so often moved toward the front of battle had now ceased to move at the call of the trumpet or the shout of a general. The ears that had listened so closely for the call to duty was now closed forever to any voice save that shall wake the sleeping nations of earth. The hands which had so often raised the musket, pointing at the enemy had now fallen palsied by the side to be raised no more. To him the war was over and he had now found a rest, to wait until his Master called from the farther shore where there will be no wars nor sorrow. Where the tenting ground will be with the angels and the redeemed of other years. Over that little mound there fell daily tears from the eyes of one who had loved so tenderly and constantly. Many has been the evenings that she sat beside the grave and thought of the days when she was young and had gone to the church or had roamed the hills in search of wild flowers, when they talked of the time when they should be happy together. How time changes all things. It leaves a chill upon all our affections and before it the strongest has to fall and die. Time empties cradles, thrones and pulpits. It steals the roses from the cheek of youth and makes the steps feeble with age. It cannot be stopped or molested in its ravages.

The war was not yet over by a great deal and the family had lost its head. The little farm had gone down and yet the family remaining had to be supported.

There was a greater dread than ever that the South would be overrun by the Northern soldier and all that was near and dear to them would be taken. There was confidence yet among the Southern people but there was still a dread of what might happen. It was not thought probable but it was possible. Battles were fought and the news came as to the victorious side and the blood ran warm in Lucy Matilda Gauss's veins, she could hardly resist going back to the army and offering herself to them for a soldier. She had become hardened to battle and did not now mind the flash of the bayonet nor the roar of the cannon. The winter months went by and the farm was being prepared for the crop that must be planted. The family could not be left to starve and with courage that is befitting a Southern woman Lucy Matilda went to work again as in days of other years and helped to get the ground ready for the crop. The Spring months came on and the seeds were sown and the corn planted. After the work of getting the crop started and everything had been done for the beginning and yet before the crop was large enough to be worked, as it was termed then, Lucy Matilda Gauss, resolved to go to Virginia and see about getting some money that was due her husband. She left home toward the close of April and went to Richmond, where she remained for some days, but got no satisfaction about the money there. She then went to see some friends that she had learned of near Richmond. It was some time before she got to see the proper authorities about the money due her husband, but finally did and received several hundred dollars but not enough to last her very long being now a widow and with no way of support, only till the soil and there were many debts that had been made since she first entered the army and they must be paid. It was during this time that she was on this visit that she saw "Stonewall" Jackson again, but it was not in battle that she saw him for to him the battle was ended. She saw him after he was dead. She wept bitter tears for he was her chieftain whom she had followed when the war tempest had lowered over the earth. That brow was now calm that was so often like a storm cloud. His voice was now stilled that had so often called his men to the thickest of the fight and by his valor and courage had led them to victory. Now he was pale and still in death, no more to sound the trumpet of war, no more to shout on to the front, no more to hear at his appearance, the shout of his men, no more to ride a gallant steed and cheer his men to victory. No more to see victory wrung from the very hands of defeat. He had lately seen forty-five thousand men win victory over ninety thousand and crush them to earth, his keen eye had followed the waving banner of the Southern cause through the smoke of battle until it was planned beyond the lines of the Federals. His very presence had but lately been an inspiration to every Southern soldier. How sad were the men who had followed him in the thickest of the fight. When Robert E. Lee learned that Jackson had lost his left hand said. He is better off than I am for I have lost my right" how true was that sentence, and none more fully realized it than did Robert E. Lee.

THE AMERICAN LEGION'S MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

On Saturday next the American Legion here will stage a drive for new members, and will maintain headquarters in an honest to goodness army tent to be erected on main street. The tent will be in charge of a commissioned officer who will direct the drive and have charge of the exhibit of war relics which the Legion will exhibit on that day. The main work as usual will be done by the "Bucks" in charge of some trusted sergeant or two striper. They will search the streets and by paths like M. P.'s of yore to find ex-service men who are A. W. O. L. from their organization and on finding such men will direct them to report to headquarters for further instructions. We want every ex-service man who is not now a legion member to become one. Pay us a visit on Saturday next and see why you ought to become a member. "There's a Reason."

FORD PRODUCING 4,000 CARS A DAY

PRESENT PRODUCTION GREATER THAN FOR SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR

Ford is building cars at full speed. And, according to an official statement from the factory at Detroit, the demand for Ford cars and trucks still exceeds the output, despite the fact that a new high level of production has been reached. By the first of May the figures representing daily production were in the neighborhood of 4,000 a day, so the May schedule was set at 101,125 cars and trucks, out including the output of the Ford Canadian plant or any of the foreign assembling plants. The output counted daily; May 12th brought forth 4092, the greatest number that have been produced in one day so far this year. Since the month has 25 working days, present indications point to a new high record.

A comparison of Ford production figures for 1920 and 1921 discloses the fact that for April, 1921 the output was greater by 34,514 than for the corresponding month of a year ago. The output for May 1921 will probably overshadow May, 1920 by between fifteen and twenty thousand cars and trucks.

Approximately 43,000 men are at work in Detroit plant of the Ford Motor Company. The factory is operating on full time, six days a week and three shifts a day. "We were ever in a better condition than we are right now," said Henry Ford recently—Advt.
