Real Struggle Comes After Dust Passes On

Half-buried beneath the huge heaps of dust covering the field, this tractor presented a rescue problem to the Wilburton, Kan., farmer shown prepared to dig it free, after the latest dust storm had passed on east. Soil tillers over a half dozen states faced the monumental task of clearing their lands of enormous mounds of dirt, as seven federal agencies came to their aid with a "soil anchoring" program.

FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR SEED LOANS FOR 1935 PLANTING

Loans for seed for spring planting of truck, forage and commercial crops have been made available by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration. The funds made available to the FERA were allotted to meet the emergency created by lack of funds of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration and will be discontinued when, and if, that office makes crop loans.

The following information concerning the loans has been given from the office of Miss Willie King, committee clerk at the Feed and Seed Loan Office, who is taking applications for the loans.

No loans will be made to farmers who are able to obtain credit locally or elsewhere.

The same County Loan Committee will serve this loan that has heretofore functioned for the Crop Loan Office.

The farmer who is on relief receives the necessary funds to finance his crop through Mr. B. Miller, rural supervisor, who has an office at Relief Headquarters.

Crop mortgages, non-disturbance agreements on workstock and crop waivers are necessary in all cases.

This loan is to permit immediate planting of food, seed and commercial crops.

Miss Marsh and representatives from the 47 other States will be honored by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt at a reception at the White House.

BROWNWOOD IN LINE FOR AIRPORT, ARMY OFFICERS INDICATE

Lieutenant R. I. Dugan and Lieutenant C. E. Pierce, from Brooks Field, San Antonio, U. S. Army Aviation Corps, were in Brownwood this week obtaining data of local airport facilities and possible development.

Brownwood is considered a strategic point and an airport here might be used by the government as an emergency landing field. It is only 21 miles off of a direct air route from Fort Sill to Brooks Field.

Lieutenant Dugan's report will be that Brownwood is an ideal location for an airport, not only because of its geographical location but also because of climatic conditions. He will also include the fact that the present airport is not suitable for anything other than small ships during ideal weather.

Local officials say that everything in Brownwood is favorable for location of an airport here and that this city would be in line for mail and commercial aviation service as well as that of the army if a first class airport were located here.

REGIMENTAL TARGET MATCH MAY BE HELD ON NEW RANGE HERE

The rifle team of Service Company of the National Guard is working hard with the object in view of defeating the state champions. They defeated the team of Company D of Stephenville, last year's regimental champions, Sunday with a score of 818 to 815. Another match between these two teams is scheduled for April 7.

As soon as pit excavations are made a large range will be completed at the McClelland ranch to take the place of the present one-target range. The local guard companies are planning to extend an invitation for the Regimental Match to be held here when the new range is completed. This event would bring about 100 riflemen and fans to a two-day match in Brownwood.

Lieutenant T. W. Bynum is team coach for Service Company. The rifle team includes Lieutenant Bynum, Lieutenant Bland Harper, Sergeant R. A. Willeford, Sergeant Hally DeHay and Private William W. Ellis.

Zoologists say the ostrich is a natural ventriloquist because its vocal sounds are made with the mouth tightly closed.

WELFARE HOME TO BE TAKEN OVER SOON BY COMMUNITY COUNCIL

According to an agreement made by the city council this week the city will pay $50 per month for an indefinite period of time for upkeep of the welfare home on Melwood avenue, which is to be operated under the direction of the Community Council. The home has been operated by the county in the past.

Commissioners court has agreed to pay $150 a month on the project. A board of managers which is to include representatives from city council, commissioners court, the Community Council, Junior Service League and other organizations will govern the home. It will be used as a place where needy persons who are ill or who have been operated on may convalesce as well as where aged indigent persons are care for.

If arrangements are completed the Community Council will take over the welfare home Saturday, J. Edward Johnson, president of the Community Council, announced that Mrs. H. G. Lucas and Mrs. M. E. Wakefield would represent that organization on the Board of Managers, while the city council named Mayor Thompson as city representative.

An ordinance to require mattress makers to sterilize material when mattresses are renovated was passed on first reading. An ordinance regulating transient photographers who come to the city was passed on second reading. The local chapter of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was granted permission to hold regular meetings in the room at Memorial Hall formerly occupied by the Chamber of Commerce office. Council voted to put in a six-inch water line on Mulberry street from Belle Plain avenue to Duke street.

Two policemen, Norman Chaney and Albert DuPree, who were put on the force several months ago as extra men, were hired for regular service.

HOSPITAL HEAD SAYS INVITATIONS HELPED

Buster of Stamford, president of the Northwest Texas Clinic and Hospital Managers' Association, expressed thanks of the organization to the chamber of commerce for cooperation during the convention held in Brownwood last Thursday.

"The splendid cooperation from your organization was very much appreciated and I feel that your invitation sent out assisted materially in the splendid attendance that we had."

Comanche Celebrates Completion Of Road

The completion of Highway 81 between Comanche and DeLeon was celebrated by a gathering of 1,500 people from Comanche, DeLeon and nearby towns Tuesday.

The celebration began in the early afternoon when a motorcade of more than 100 cars drove over the 16-mile route to De Leon where a concert was given by the De Leon and Comanche bands and glee clubs, followed by a short program of speeches. The motorcade, augmented by 100 cars from De Leon, returned to Comanche for a similar celebration.

CCC ENROLLEES WILL CONCENTRATE HERE TO EMBARK FOR ARIZONA

Brownwood next week will be the concentration point for approximately 200 CCC camp enrollees who will be mustered into the service here, quartered over night, and from Brownwood will embark for duty in CCC camps in Arizona.

In addition, 32 enrollees will arrive here for assignment to the local CCC camp at Lake Brownwood. Some of these are replacements to take the place of those whose term of enrollment has expired, while others will increase the present camp strength.

The enrollees for the Brownwood camp will arrive Wednesday, April 3. They will be taken to Camp Chester Harrison immediately, where they will be examined and enrolled, and will begin preliminary training.

On Friday morning, April 5, 92 enrollees destined for Phoenix, Arizona, will arrive in Brownwood. They will be examined and enrolled here, will spend the night here and leave early Saturday morning for Phoenix, for service at Camp No. 851. Saturday morning, April 6, 102 enrollees from Eastland, Comanche, Hamilton, McCulloch, San Saba and Mason counties will arrive in Brownwood, go through the same process and leave Sunday morning for Tucson and Phoenix to enter the service, 29 being assigned to Tucson and 63 to Phoenix.

Captain C. F. O'Brien, commandant of the local CCC camp, will be in charge of the enrollees while here. He will bring his mess equipment from the camp to Brownwood, feed the boys here, and bring in equipment to permit them to sleep in the National Guard quarters in the Municipal Auditorium on the nights they will spend in Brownwood.

ONE TEST SPURRED; ANOTHER PLANNED

Attention of all men was being centered on Brownwood this week with the spudding of a deep test Tuesday morning and plans for a second test to be started soon.

A test to the granite on the M. L. Smith tract, 3 1-2 miles south of Zephyr, was spudded in at around 11 o'clock this morning. The test is being drilled by W. W. McDonald and R. B. Campbell of Dallas with Simpson, Pinkerton and White of Coleman as drilling contractors. Located in a 11,500 acre block, blocked by W. D. Gully of Brownwood and Danciger Oil and Refining Company of Fort Worth, the well will be drilled to 2,500 feet.

Rigging for 4000 Foot Test. Petroleum Oil interests, Inc. of Brownwood is rigging up for a 4,000-foot test on the J. H. McLaughlin tract, H. T. & B. Railway survey, northeast of Brownwood, and will start operations within a week.

The tests are the only ones known to be starting in the state at this time for a test of the Ordovician formation and are the only ones ever started in Brown county.

PIPE LINE HEARING IS UNDER WAY IN COUNTY THIS WEEK

A special hearing being conducted by T. C. Irby, secretary and representative for Judge William H. Atwell, federal judge for this district, was under way this week. The hearing started Tuesday and is for the purpose of taking testimony for the injunction suit in which the Atlantic Pipe Line Company is attempting to restrain Brown county from collecting $5,103.70 taxes.

Witnesses to be called included members of the commissioners court for 1934, real estate men and other citizens.

Charles I. Francis and Harry Weeks are here representing the pipe line company. Grady Chandler, assistant attorney general of Texas, William Sands and M. E. Lathan are representing the county. Sands and Lathan are also representing the State Tax board.

The testimony gathered here this week will be presented at San Angelo next month when the trial is brought into court.

In its application for the order the company attacked constitutionality of Texas law to levy on intangible assets against pipe line companies, and also valuation of 50 per cent which Brown county had placed upon company's properties. The company contended all other concerns and persons paid on average assessed valuation of 30 per cent.

VOLUNTEER PERIOD EXTENDED BY C OF C

Following a satisfactory Volunteer Day Wednesday of this week, when Brownwood business houses and individuals voluntarily pledged support to the Brownwood chamber of commerce for the coming year, the volunteer period was extended by chamber of commerce officials through Friday.

On Saturday results of the three-day period will be checked and on Monday of next week, teams will start personal canvases of those who have not voluntarily signed their pledges for the year.

Up to noon Thursday, 73 business houses and individuals had signed pledges for the year 1935. Officials of the organization expressed satisfaction over results for the two days, and urged those who have not taken advantage of the volunteer days to do so by Friday.

GOODWILL TRIP TO INDIAN CREEK IS SUCCESSFUL EVENT

The good will trip made by Brownwood citizens, under sponsorship of the Lions club, to Indian Creek Tuesday night was an unqualified success. Eighty-eight Brownwood and Indian Creek men had snapper together in the basement of the Indian Creek Methodist church.

The women of the Indian Creek Home Demonstration Club served the supper. Miss Mayette Malone, county demonstrator, in expressing appreciation of the club's opportunity to do this service, said that the money received for the supper would enable the club to send a representative to the A. & M. Short Course this summer and also would make possible the purchase of needed material for the community bedroom.

W. G. Grady made the speech of welcome which was responded to by H. F. Mayes of Brownwood. Each Indian Creek man introduced himself and his Brownwood visitor, after which talks were made by W. R. Chambers, District Attorney A. O. Newman, Chester Harrison and John Yantis. G. F. McKay was toastmaster. Rev. Sam Freeman, pastor of the Indian Creek Methodist church, offered the invocation and also made a brief talk.

Indian Creek talent furnished musical entertainment. The numbers included guitar music by Miss Edith Hawthorne and Perry Hawthorne, songs by Miss Hawthorne and Misses Veda and Alta Reese, and a piano solo by Miss Maggie Grady.

Projects For New Period At Camp Planned

Fifteen Additional Cabins To Be Built During Next Six Months Period.

Proposed projects for the work program for the new period of the CCC Camp at Lake Brownwood include the construction of a boat pier and boat house, two large fishermen's barracks and 15 additional cabins.

All projects under way at the present time must be completed by that time although the 250-man camp will remain at the camp for another six months period.

A great deal of work toward making the 528-acre park on the shores of Lake Brownwood one of the outstanding beauty spots of the state has been done in the present period. The work has included the building of six native stone cottages, construction of a combined garage and blacksmith shop, building of a service yard wall back of the large native stone club house, construction of several miles of roads, building of a native stone entrance gate, landscaping and general clean-up work.

VALUATOR DESCRIBES FHA SYSTEM OF LOANS AT DISTRICT MEETING

The FHA plan of loans was compared to the old system of mortgages under which many homes in the past were financed, in a speech made by Claude Coates, chief district valuator at a meeting of bankers, building supply dealers and contractors and community FHA chairman held at Hotel Brownwood Monday night. Almost 100 representatives from 15 cities and towns of this section attended the meeting.

Speaking on Title II of the FHA which provides for loans for new construction, Coates said this title "makes it easier and cheaper to make a loan." He compared the FHA plan of loans to the old system of mortgages under which many homes in the past were financed. The loans under the FHA are to be obtained from private lending agencies but the government guarantees the loans 100 per cent. He warned dealers not to forget Title I, which provides for loans for repair and remodeling. He reviewed the procedure by which the loans are secured.

Others addressing the meeting were P. S. Luttrell, associate district director; A. C. Kyle, field representative. Smith Bell, county FHA chairman, presided.

A slide picture presenting some of the housing conditions of the country and the aims and accomplishments of the FHA was shown at the opening of the meeting. Following the program a round table discussion was held at which time the officials answered questions and explained matters which had not been clearly understood by those present.

When anyone introduces a new method of arriving at a goal, it attracts some attention. But when the new method provides a better route, an easier way, and one which is much more satisfactory both in procedure and in results to all parties concerned, the attention is changed to admiration.

The Bangs Experiment

Such is the case of Arthur L. Maberry, superintendent of public schools at Bangs, Texas, whose revolutionary changes in class-room procedure have produced such results that they are discussed at length in the current issue of The Literary Digest.

Elsewhere in this issue, The Banner presents the description of the Bangs system, as written by Mr. Maberry and originally published in The Literary Digest. It is well worth your reading.

Of primary interest to parents probably will be that feature of the plan that eliminates home work for students. Elimination of home work in itself is not original, however, and has been practiced with success in many Texas schools. But Mr. Maberry's school proceeds even further along untried and unproven paths, in that the approach to the subject is from an entirely new and apparently satisfactory angle.

Most important, of course, is that the plan is working. Better results have been shown in the Bangs school, which for some time has been a leader among schools in this county. "Failures have almost disappeared from our records," Mr. Maberry writes. "The children are studying contentedly, even happily, because they always understand thoroughly the assignment, and know exactly what they are expected to learn."

Mr. Maberry, his faculty, the Bangs school, and certainly the patrons of the school, are to be congratulated.

There is something fine about the interesting life history of Louis Howe, secretary to President Roosevelt. Newspapers have carried much regarding the secretary during the past few days on account of his serious illness, which, happily, seems now to have passed the crisis, and Mr. Howe is reported on the road to recovery.

An Interesting Life

His life is the story of constant devotion to the interests of his chief. It is no exaggeration to say, according to David Lawrence, that in many respects Roosevelt owes the presidency to the indefatigable efforts of his friend and advisor - his man Friday in everything political and governmental.

Howe first was attracted to the President when Roosevelt was serving as State Senator in New York. He saw the political possibilities of the Senator, and despite his role as political correspondent, he set out on a one-man campaign to make Roosevelt President.

He followed Roosevelt to Washington in 1914, when the latter was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Navy. His skillful handling of Roosevelt's affairs at this time was credited with the favorable impression made upon party leaders which resulted in Roosevelt's nomination for Vice President by the party at San Francisco, and placed him in position for nomination for the presidency two years ago at Chicago.

Because Howe worked in the background, and because he sacrificed his own interests to those of his chief, little of his work had become known to the public, but it is apparent that his life of devotion to the Roosevelt cause was a powerful factor in the President's rise to prominence. Too, his counsel and advice has been of incalculable value during the first two years of the present Administration.

It is given to but few to occupy the places of prominence, but just as important are those who serve in the background, and they, too, should have their hour of recognition.

Someone has laid on the editorial desk a copy of an address by Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, at the annual dinner of the New York Traffic Club, February 22, 1935. There is the notation that property taxes paid in Brown county by the railroads (apparently last year) amounted to $26,802.82, while trucks paid $132.35.

The Case For The Railroads

We quote from Mr. Jones' address the following observations, which seem to present the case for the railroads:

"The railroads are not only necessary, but they employ a great many people, directly or indirectly—more perhaps than any other industry, notwithstanding possible claims to the automotive industry.

"Without arguing this point, nothing would stimulate business quite as much, and re-employ people to the same extent, as an increase in railroad traffic sufficient to give them money to spend for equipment and maintenance and for improving their property generally.

"It should be remembered, too, that railroads pay a very large amount of taxes necessary in the support of the State, county and municipal governments, including our public schools, while exactly the contrary is true of highways, which are built and maintained with tax money."

The Saturday Evening Post brings out an interesting point in commenting on the time-worn argument of politicians that there is no more "free land" to be had from the government; hence vast sums of money must be appropriated to provide "social services" for the people. While the Post comments largely - as seems to be its main purpose in life just now - to embarrass the Administration, the periodical has hit a vital spot this time.

Free Land?

The Post points out that the "free land" story is misleading - that a man had to have courage, perseverance and great initiative to cross the deserts, mountains and forests for thousands of miles to gain the "free land." He generally paid a tremendous price in suffering, privation, endless labor and often death in order to acquire the "free land."

Social service schemes, at public expense, do not develop the type of citizens who crossed the plains and took up land to build a new empire in the West.

Great opportunities are here today, but the individual is not encouraged to find them by paternalistic governmental policies which crush initiative and private enterprise.

Official experiments in North Carolina showed farm land damaged by soil erosion could be terraced at a cost of $1 an acre.

"Since childhood, I have been afraid of darkness. It is a fear which embodies nothing definite; but complete darkness terrifies me. Consequently I always leave a dim light burning in the dressing room which opens from my bedroom," said Joan Crawford.

"A short time ago I had an amazing experience. One night at eleven o'clock this lamp flickered fitfully, almost going out completely, and then burning again. I paid little attention to it, thinking that something was wrong with the current. When the same thing happened the next night, at the same hours, eleven and twelve, I called in an electrician to test the wiring at the house, and of the lamp. Nothing wrong was found.

"On the third night we stayed home just to watch the lights. We turned them on all over the house, at eleven o'clock, but that in the dressing room behaved in the same peculiar fashion. I did not want to go out to dance or sing. On the fourth night, I moved from my room to one of the guest rooms, but because of my silly fear of the dark, which I know psychologists would say I should have overcome in my childhood, I left a light burning in the hall outside my room. At eleven o'clock that light began to flicker and a few minutes before twelve, it went out entirely. We were completely mystified.

"The next morning I received a wire from New York telling me that one of my oldest friends, a woman who had been very kind to me in the early days of my career, had died at midnight the night before.

"The telegram stated that four nights before my friends had been taken to the hospital for an emergency operation, that she had been operated on approximately at eleven o'clock, and that she had hovered between life and death during the period when I had trouble with my dressing room lamp.

"My lights went back to their usual steady behavior after that fourth night. I can't explain it. Perhaps there was something defective in the current—perhaps not."

DENTAL HEALTH WEEK

(Houston Post)

Dentistry is a science that has advanced far during the past few decades. It has kept step with surgery and medicine in new discoveries and in its contribution to the prolongation of life and the improvement of health.

The first dental college in the world was established in the United States in 1822 and this country leads the world in dental health. Although we have the best dentists, the finest schools for training them and the lowest average of ailments of the teeth among the people, millions of Americans still neglect their teeth at the risk of their general health and well-being.

That is why Dental Health Week which will be observed throughout the United States March 24-30, was established. It is a period when the message of America's dentists will be placed before the people thru many mediums of publicity, when they will be urged to take proper care of their teeth and to avail themselves of a science which has reached its highest perfection in this country.

Back in the days when men gnawed their meat from bones, there was no need for dentistry or dentists. Nature made teeth strong and immune to the maladies which attack them today. But in these days of soft food, sweet desserts and dainty eating habits, the teeth are subject to many dangers. It is necessary to protect them and to treat quickly all evidences of decay and disease.

The important relationship between general health and dental health will be explained this week as part of the nation-wide observance. The necessity for regular dental inspections will be stressed along with simple rules for protecting and caring for the teeth.

It is a message of great importance which should be given an enthusiastic and attentive reception.

Dallas—By digging a trench 15 inches deep around a four foot cedar elm tree leaving a ball of dirt the size of a big water bucket, Hilda Achromm, yard improvement demonstrator for the Estelle 4-H club in Dallas county, has made preparation for adding another shade tree to her yard this fall. In digging the trench, the big roots were cut in two and the ball of dirt will fill with small roots during the spring and summer. At the time of transplanting in November, Hilda will clean the trench out, fasten a sack around the ball, cut the tap root and transplant the tree into the yard of her home.

Beeville—For her family of three, Vera Ray, farm food supply demonstrator of the Clareville Home Demonstration club in Bee county, canned 1010 containers of 52 varieties of food during 1934, according to Miss Lorena Yates, home demonstration agent. The value of her pantry was approximately $200, and it cost only $28.25. This included the purchase of lumber for building pantry shelves, tin cans, jars, bottles, fruit, tomatoes, labels, sugar, vinegar, and spices.

Plains—"My new clothes closet cost me only 15 cents" for tacks, nails and corner locks," Mrs. E. L. Elliston, wardrobe demonstrator in the West Ward Home Demonstration Club in Yoakum county, told Miss Lillith Boyd, home demonstration agent. "I made the frame out of a stove grate and covered it with cardboard boxes. The hinges for the door off of an old cabinet and the paper to cover it inside and out was given to me."

The closet is 25 inches wide, 50 inches long and extends to the ceiling. Five shelves on one side are convenient for storing folded materials and one shelf extending the full length of the closet above the rod is used for hats.

Memphis—"It pays to plant standard varieties of grain sorghum," Bob Ewen, Hall county 4-H club boy, told James A. Jackson, county agricultural agent, after comparing the yield and net return from two acres planted to Standard dwarf milo maize with that of two other acres. Young Ewen harvested one and one-half tons of heads from the two acres of milo maize and 1954 pounds of heads from the other two acres. The milo maize gave a net return per acre of $18.72 while the net return from the other was only $8.14 per acre.

Crystal City—Supplementing oats that were frozen off during a recent cold spell, H. L. Harker, Zavala county cattleman, has built four large self feeders on skids and is filling them once a week with hegari run through a hammer mill, according to Fred LeCron, county agricultural agent. The mill is portable and easily moved from feeder to feeder. Cows and calves are doing nicely, the agent reports, and the feeding will be discontinued with the exception of crop feeding the calves after the oats pasture recovers from its setback.

Sulphur Springs—A gain by his Hereford calf of two and two-thirds pounds per day during the last feeding period has been reported by J. T. Massey, 14, Hopkins county club boy, according to S. L. Neal, county agricultural agent. Young Massey is feeding ground corn, cotton seed meal and bran, and running the calf on wheat pasture. Two acres of grain sorghum as another demonstration in club work will be planted this spring.

Spearman—Sixteen contracts for the laying of concrete sub-irrigation tile in Hansford county gardens were signed by farmers of the county during February, according to G. L. Boykin, county agricultural agent. These gardens will be tiled through a cooperative agreement whereby the relief board furnishes the labor for making and installing the tile and the farmer furnishes the material. In addition to these 16 farmers, 10 others have installed tile. These either made for Texas Ladies a New Day was Created

 MY DEAR! YOU LOOK YEARS YOUNGER - WHAT HAVE YOU BEEN DOING
 THIS NEW DAY came as a gift to Texas Ladies . . . a gift of leisure . . . a release from drudgery. It came with transmission line electric service which blazed the way to freedom from ancient household tasks. It erased the lines of toil and care from faces that, all too soon, were showing the ravages of unkind years.
 It transformed homes. It gave them light and color and charm. It made them new. It made them modern. So that visitors who had seen them in their years of indifference exclaimed at their beauty and fitness. So that families enjoyed life in them as they had not known it before.
 Transmission line electric service . . . produced and distributed by the Texas Power & Light Company for the first time in Texas . . . created this New Day for Texas Ladies of more than 300 Texas communities. One hundred and ninety-seven of these communities had no electric service until this Company extended its transmission lines to serve them.
 Because of the initiative of this Company this New Deal was wrought many ago when it was needed most . . . and to those whom it would serve best! And as an indication of its desire and ability properly to serve the people, this Company has voluntarily reduced its lighting rates more than 35% during the past 10 years. No other commodity serves the people so well. No other cost of living has shown a like reduction during this same period. A New Day for Texas Ladies . . . at lower cost.

of wasted effort and energy. "Relaxation from the intensive study is offered each period by means of a lively discussion of the information accumulated by the various pupils. These discussions always are interesting, because every pupil eagerly and intelligently makes his contribution.

"It is surprising how much more interest the students take in a discussion when they have something to say, rather than have to say something.

"The teaching, guiding, discussing, and learning continues until all of the pupils have completed the minimum requirements of the unit. The pupils who have worked more rapidly have by this time done much extra project-work on the unit; such as sketching, drawing, modeling, painting, carving, working up reports and themes on topics of particular interest to them, and any other original work that they may like to do.

"When all of the pupils have finished the minimum requirements of the unit, and a thorough review has been completed, a test is given. Those who have failed to master the required minimum are retaken those things that they failed to learn during the first teaching.

"Several months of extraordinarily successful work have been completed since this new deal for pupils went into effect in Bangs Public Schools.

"Failures have almost disappeared from our records. The children are studying contentedly, even happily, because they always understand thoroughly the assignments and know exactly what they are expected to learn.

"Even tho there are numerous improvements yet to be made on the plan, it is very popular with parents, pupils and teachers.

"The children are truly emancipated from a serious labor evil; they are free to spend each evening with their parents in whatever recreation they may choose."

Veda—More than 3000 acres of land in Oldham county were terraced during the past winter in an effort to prevent wind erosion, according to J. F. Ford, county agricultural agent. Other methods of control consist of listing, drilling and plowing. Continued crop destruction by wind erosion constitutes one of the major problems of agricultural interests in this section of Texas. In many instances this year's wheat crops which are underlaid by sufficient moisture to carry the crops for weeks are being destroyed by scouring top soil, the county agricultural agent reports.

Austin—"I am so pleased with the convenience of my new wardrobe that I would not sell it for $50, although it cost only $25 plus the labor," Mrs. E. C. Nauert of the Richland Home Demonstration Club in Travis county told Miss Thelma Casey, home demonstration agent.

"The closet is 81 inches high, 48 inches wide and 26 inches deep, and is portable. On one side are shelves for storing folded garments and on the other is a rod for hanging dresses and coats. The closet was built by my husband from refrigerator boxes and a few pieces of lumber for the frame. The outside is varnished a light oak and the inside is painted cream," Mrs. Nauert added.

Gable And Bennett In Lyric Picture

Clark Gable and Constance Bennett in "After Office Hours"

A new and brilliant romantic team is born in "After Office Hours," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture which plays at the Lyric Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Clark Gable and Constance Bennett, two of the screen's most important stars, are teamed for the first time in a production which warrants the launching of so important a film event.

Gable and Miss Bennett have in common the same brand of comedy needed to put this sparkling society thriller over with a bang, as well as romantic appeal which undoubtedly will win them many new fans.

Directed by Robert Z. Leonard, "After Office Hours" is fast-paced and exciting. It deals with an admixture of Park Avenue and Park Row, which have for their common ground a baffling murder mystery, solved by Gable in the role of a hardboiled newspaper editor.

MRS. VIRGINIA WISE HAS 92ND BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Virginia Wise, 201 West Adams Street, Brownwood, Thursday was observing her 92nd birthday, having been born March 28, 1843, at New Hope, Lincoln county, Missouri.

Mrs. Wise was married at New Hope, October 15, 1868, and with her husband, the late S. P. Wise, came to Brownwood in February, 1886. She since has made her home here, where she reared her family of four children, and has played a prominent part in the affairs of the community.

It is interesting to note that Mr. and Mrs. Wise were passengers on the first train to enter Brownwood, this city then being the terminus of the Santa Fe which had just been built into Brownwood.

Mrs. Wise has many interesting memories of early days in Brownwood, which she has seen develop from almost an outpost settlement to the modern city it is today. Despite her advanced age, she is in perfect health and has an alert mind. Only recently she returned from an automobile trip to California, where she spent some seven months, making the trip with her son, Wm. P. Wise, and daughter, Miss Hallie Wise, with whom she makes her home here. Another son, Ralph Wise, lives in Florida. The editor of The Banner is one of four grandchildren.
