Drilling operations on the A-T well near Goldston have been temporarily suspended for the past week while the drillers have been making an attempt to cut off the water with cement.

PORTION CLARENDON COLLEGE PROPERTY MAY BE BOUGHT FOR HI SCHOOL

BOND ISSUE WILL BE VOTED ON SOON TO DETERMINE WHETHER CLARENDON SCHOOL DISTRICT SHALL PURCHASE PORTION OF CLARENDON COLLEGE PROPERTY. TRUSTEES CONSIDER DEAL A BARGAIN.

When the called session of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference in Amarillo last month authorized the liquidation of the property of Clarendon College, the general board of trustees empowered the local board here to sell the physical assets of the school for the purpose of paying off the existing indebtedness.

It having appeared that the local public school district was the only buyer for any of the property at this time, negotiations were entered into with that body to see if some or all the property could be disposed of through that channel.

The proposition in detail is as follows: The Clarendon Independent School District proposes to purchase from Clarendon College, the girl's dormitory and the block on which it is located, the administration building and the heating plant, with the block and a half on which they stand, the two blocks lying along the highway known as the athletic grounds, and the block in front of the administration building, together with all the equipment of said buildings, which means the library, the laboratory, the pianos, and other such equipment.

The total indebtedness of the school is in round figures, $53,000, which means that if the school board carries its proposed bond issue, the local board of Clarendon College will have no trouble selling enough of the property listed above to retire the remaining $9,000.

Another feature of the proposed trade with the school board is that out of the $42,000 the $24,437 raised by subscription from Clarendon citizens will be returned to the donors. This money was raised for the purpose of freeing Clarendon College from debt in 1925, and was given with the understanding that the question of location of the school was forever settled.

The following is the minutes of the local board of trustees of Clarendon College relating to the proposed trade with Clarendon Independent School District:

A LOCAL OPPORTUNITY WORTH-WHILE

In a few weeks the voters of the Clarendon Independent School District will have the opportunity of voting for a bond issue of $42,000 for the purpose of buying five and a half blocks of land, the administration building of Clarendon College, the heating plant and the girls dormitory, with all the equipment of those buildings.

The benefits of this bond issue are readily apparent. First, the local school system comes into possession of all the property for about half what one building would cost and the additional building would be needed within the next year, anyway. We now have over one thousand scholastics in the district and the increase is steady. Secondly, the property acquired in this manner is the result of the liquidation of the assets of Clarendon College in order to pay off the indebtedness on which a number of local citizens are bound, personally. Thirdly, when the $42,000 is paid over to the local board of Clarendon College, they in turn will be able to return to Clarendon citizens the sum of $21,437—the much discussed fund raised by Clarendon people to pay off the indebtedness of the college and to make the location of the school permanent back in 1925.

The misfortune of the college, thus makes a local opportunity for the Clarendon public schools, which the school board and many of our leading citizens consider too great to admit of failure.

There is no absolute in the measure of intelligence, only standards—yours, mine, this community's, that society's, etc. These standards vary and keep varying with time and place. Christopher Columbus could not qualify for a water-tender's rating in the navy of Alfonso XIII. Of the world's hundred geniuses perhaps five could pass any of the contraptions now in vogue to measure intelligence. Of this same hundred, few, if any, were rated "Intelligence A1" by their contemporaries. In fact, some of them were killed by their contemporaries for lack of intelligence. Was that a measure of the intelligence of their contemporaries?—George A. Dorsey.

Editor Gene Howe of the Amarillo News-Globe comes of a distinguished family, and that doesn't mean that Gene isn't distinguished in his own right, for he is. What we were going to say was this—Mrs. Mateel Howe Farnham of New York City is the author of the $10,000 prize novel of the season, and Mrs. Farnham is a sister of Gene Howe of Amarillo. Congratulations are in order, and the new novel "Rebellion" will have this added interest in the Panhandle, where Gene Howe is making a niche for himself.

It is very evident that Senator Earle B. Mayfield is to have opposition for re-election in the coming senatorial election. Those who know the ability of Senator Mayfield as a public servant and as a campaigner do not underestimate the task of unseating him—those who do not know are due for a rude awakening. No man has announced capable of the task, as yet.

Members of the Panhandle Press assemble in Amarillo tomorrow for the annual convention of 1927. Two days of instructive sessions will be held, and better than that, two days of fraternal mingling and communion among the whitest bunch of men and women in the whole Southwest.

CLOSING OTHER LOOP-HOLES.

Slowly one by one the loopholes in the prohibition law are being stopped up. Rum runners, under foreign charter, used to stand insolently outside the three-mile limit and figuratively wiggle their noses at the revenue cutters. Then treaties were negotiated with foreign powers giving the United States the right to go beyond the old limits for whisky smugglers.

The rum runners, of course, combatted this. They have never accepted any check to their activities sitting down. They appealed to the courts. The Supreme Court acted the other day.

It held that the treaties gave the United States the power to go beyond the old limits to apprehend persons conspiring to violate an American law, to confiscate their cargoes and to punish the owners and members of the crew if they were within the American court's jurisdiction.

Somewhat apropos of which some propagandist the other day put forth a dignified pronouncement that the consumption of beverage alcohol in this country is tremendously greater than it was in b. p. days. He gave the figures to back up his statement. But scrutiny showed that the figures were only "estimates," as he termed them, or "guesses" as others might term them, and that he was making his estimates to back up his made-in-advance conclusions rather than deducting conclusions from known facts.

But nowhere is there any ocular evidence to indicate that there is more consumption of alcoholic liquors than in the days when there was a saloon on every corner and from a few to many drunken men for every saloon.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

Replying to a direct question as to whether or not his affiliation with the Roman Catholic faith could conflict with his duties as a patriot, Governor Al Smith of New York, this week contributed the most noteworthy development to the campaign for the nomination of a Democratic candidate for the presidency. Governor Smith recited that he had taken the oath of office in his state nineteen separate times and that he had never found the least conflict between his duties as an official of an American commonwealth and his fealty as a Roman Catholic, and further that he could not imagine any occasion that could arise wherein such a conflict would ever occur. It was a clear-cut and concise statement worthy of so vigorous a statesman and must be accepted as the truth as Governor Smith views it. Governor Smith's trouble in Texas and the South is the fact that he has not used the power of his office to bring about enforcement of the constitution of the United States. Millions of Democrats will never lend aid nor support to a candidate for the presidency with such a record.

NEWSPAPER MEN TO BE SIGNALLY HONORED WITH FEED

Wichita Falls, Texas, April 20.—As a signal honor to the newspaper men of West Texas, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce have planned a breakfast for these writers for West Texas. This event will take place Tuesday morning, May 17, the second day of the convention. It is expected that about two hundred of the newspaper men will be in attendance. Governor Dan Moody is also expected to attend this affair.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is indebted to the newspaper men of West Texas," said Manager Homer D. Wade of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in discussing the plans for the breakfast, "and it is well that they be honored with this event. These men have been loyal to West Texas and the growth of this empire within an empire is in a large degree the result of their co-operative spirit and work." Mr. Wade plans to attend the breakfast, which will be held at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday morning in the Wichita Club. Covers will be laid for 200 guests. Only a brief program, but plenty of eats is being planned.

There's Little Consolation In IF

If I had done thus and so I would have been worth—etc. If this had not happened I would have been worth—etc. If I had listened to my friends and saved when I should have saved, then I would not today be making an alibi with IF. The thing to do is to do it now and take advantage of all the remaining time you have. Save, and save regularly and save toward a definite goal and you'll save easier. Then when opportunity comes again you'll be able to open the door and entertain her.

Senior Day

When the Senior class of '27 does a thing they do it well and when we took our day we made a day of it. This day another Senior class of '27 had a Senior day. Memphis came up and entertained us for about thirty minutes; they had a splendid orchestra that gave us something different in the line of music than we have been used to here in our school.

When the entertainment was over we set off for the big Senior picnic.

After circling all the pastures between here and Lelia Lake we found the place the Word ranch.

This was an ideal picnic ground. There was a small lake and a row boat. The lake was surrounded with big shade trees and there was a spring house at the edge of the lake. It was in this small row boat that two of our senior boys made themselves famous, Tom Allison and Marvyn Warren fired up their pipes for a nice smoke and a boat ride, when they were about fifteen feet from the bank the bottom of the boat fell out and the boys had to struggle with the moss to get to the bank.

The eats! There were enough "eats" to feed an army and every one tried to eat more than the other fellow but Miss Abbott and Mrs. Morgan showed the rest of us up.

Soon after the "feed" was over we started on another tour. This time we went down in the neighborhood of Brice. When we were about two miles from the picnic grounds Miss Abbot remembered that she had left her glasses and sent one car of us boys back after them but we were never able to catch up with the trunk altho we did get in sight of them several times.

When we were once more back in the city we made a Senior flag and put up on the school flag pole but at the close of school there was a battalion of Juniors and the two lower classes ready to take it down.

When they got it down, after wiping all the grease off the pole, they burned it and put up a sack with the words, "Seniors '27" on it. This was too much for about ten of the Senior boys who started to take it down and after about forty minutes of friendly scuffling between the four classes the sack was taken down and destroyed. About an hour later another Senior flag was placed on top of the high school and this one stayed there until the Senior boys walked off the hill at six o'clock and left it with the Juniors who took down the Senior flag and put up the Junior colors and claimed the honor of taking down the Senior flag.

Wednesday evening at 8:30 we met at the Japanese Garden at Taylor's Confectionery and enjoyed a real light feed which concluded our day.

The High School Choral and Glee Club went to Amarillo Thursday to broadcast over radio station KGRS. This was the first time that Clarendon High School has been represented by radio, but the group gave a good program and it spoke well for the type of music that we have in our schools. There were about thirty-five of the students in the numbers and not one of them had to have music. They received many telegrams and phone calls of appreciation both from Clarendon and Amarillo.

Some of the boys spent the evening at the ball game between Lincoln, Neb., and Amarillo, while others (like country boys will do) spent the evening riding the elevators in the tall buildings in Amarillo.

Science and Math Club.

As usual the Science and Math Club rendered a very interesting program at its last meeting. The Club is to be complimented as to the interest shown, as most of its members are Freshmen and Sophomores and boys at that, who as a whole are just a little inclined to be nervous and full of fun. The ones on the program brought up their parts well and the occasion was a big success.

LIONS ENTERTAIN AMARILLO GUESTS

INTER CITY RELATIONS COMMITTEE MEETS IN LUNCHEON TUESDAY

The Lions of Clarendon are the busiest men in the city, if their attendance on the weekly luncheons is any index to their interest in the affairs of that club. A number of the Lions were in Amarillo Tuesday of this week at various and sundry conventions and meetings and others of the city were too busy to attend on the meetings. Lion H. L. Wilder as past president of the club presided in the absence of Boss Lion Watson. The visitors to the city took the larger part of the time of the luncheon and they spoke encouragingly of the city of Clarendon. Neal Ainsworth of their party made the principal speech of the day and was well received by the membership. He stated that all the cities of the Panhandle needed was a greater sense of co-operation between the towns to make this the greatest state in the union. The purpose of this delegation to Clarendon was not held as necessary in the least, the visitors not being here for the purpose of selling anything, but rather to get better acquainted with the towns over the Panhandle.

He was followed by N. G. Hill of the Amarillo Board of City Development, who stated that the major part of the business and professional men of Amarillo were as keen in their feeling of disappointment as were the people of Clarendon in the recent loss sustained by the citizens of this city. He explained further that the city of Amarillo was interested in the development of the towns and villages of the Panhandle in the hope that Amarillo might continue to grow and prosper as the other towns of the country were developed.

Other members of the party were called to the floor and were well received in anything they cared to say to the club.

Clyde Cockrell of Dallas, Amarillo and Texas stated that he was much interested in the city of Clarendon and also stated that he hoped to return to Amarillo to make his home at some time in the future. W. C. Stewart, secretary of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that he was making no public speeches since one night last week when he was present at a place where a collection was taken. He started to say he would make a contribution of one dollar and his mouth took the matter from his hands and stated that he would give twenty.

The visitors for the day were: John R. Forkner, T. J. Rosson, N. G. Hill, Neal Ainsworth, Clyde C. Cockrell, G. P. Cunningham, W. L. Blake and W. C. Stewart.

Lion Patman responded to the talks of the Amarillo men and stated that he was certain that they would be called on for some assistance in the near future.

The application of A. L. Moore, pastor of the Methodist Church, was read to the club and he was unanimously elected to membership in the organization.

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

A special Gasoline

for special Requirements

DOES your motor knock when going up a slight grade? Has it a slow pick-up in traffic? Is it sluggish and generally out of key?

Most motors act that way when choked with carbon or after long, hard service.

But let it alone! Just get a tankful of Conoco Ethyl Gasoline and "step on it."

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline stops the harmful knocks that carbon causes and turns the carbon itself into power.

Get it at the sign of the Continental Soldier—then note the fast pick-up, the smooth, sustained power on the pistons and the absence of all knocking.

COOKING SCHOOL WELL ATTENDED

MRS. ELLA S. COLE GIVING DEMONSTRATIONS AND CONDUCTING CLASSES.

The cooking school which is being conducted by Mrs. Ella S. Cole, expert home economist at the office of the Central Power and Light Company is being attended by a large number of women. Mrs. Cole arrived Monday noon and opened the school at two o'clock with a lesson baking an angel food cake. The following afternoon she demonstrated the cooking of an entire meal in an oven. Wednesday afternoon she gave a demonstration on pastries. Today she is lecturing to the students of the Home Economics Department of the High School, demonstrating the cooking and serving of breakfast before the morning class and the cooking of an oven dinner before the afternoon class. She will give instructions in the making of salads Friday afternoon, and Saturday she will show methods of broiling meats. Mrs. Cole does all cooking on an electric range and the latest and best type and shows the users of these stoves how to get the best results. As she cooks she lectures and gives recipes, many of which are entirely new. Although she endorses the electric range as the most economical and most satisfactory method of cooking, Mrs. Cole is giving helpful suggestions that are practical to all women interested in cooking. In conducting the home economics class this morning she demonstrated the use of the electrical appliances other than the ranges, showing how the entire breakfast might be cooked at the table. Mrs. Cole and local manager Monty Garrison say they are more than pleased with the interest that is being taken in the school, as shown by the excellent attendance and the attitude of the ladies who are present at the meetings. Many visitors call during the morning hours for Mrs. Cole's demonstrations of the stoves, and between twenty-five and thirty-five ladies attend the afternoon session. The attendance has grown with each day. Mrs. Cole will continue her school through Saturday afternoon. As it was stated in previous issues of The News, the school is given free and imposes no obligations upon those who take advantage of it.

He has arranged to have male quartettes at one or two services, and several programs solos by Miss Oddie Hamilton, an accomplished local singer. Reverend McClung reports that both he and Reverend Lewis are well pleased with the results of the meeting and that all leaders of the church feel that the effects will be far reaching.

Dr. R. E. L. Morgan spoke to high school groups at Hereford Thursday evening and at Claude Friday evening. He addressed the District Conference in the session at Sweetwater Saturday, and spoke before the Woman's Missionary Conference in session at Abilene, April 16-17.

CLARENDON ENTRIES PLACE IN CONTESTS IN AMARILLO FESTIVAL

As has been the custom of Clarendon people for the past few years when the Music Festival has held forth in Amarillo, the Clarendon people have entered heartily into the spirit of the thing and have done their best to make the affair a success. A number of entries in all the contests were made by Clarendon students of the High School. The Girl's Chorus contest contained five entries and Clarendon was awarded fourth place. The Boys' Chorus contest had two entries, Amarillo and Clarendon. Clarendon was awarded first place. The mixed chorus was awarded first place in that there was no competition. The High School Band was given second place in a contest against the Hereford Band.

Glenna Blackburn was also given third place in the vocal contest. Marjorie McMillon, entry in the violin contest, did not place. Clarendon folk have been making the trip to Amarillo with much interest this week to hear the artists that have been brought to the Panhandle by the management of the Festival. The largest crowd will probably attend this evening to hear the last number on the program, Don Jose M. Garcia. This artist has appeared in the Panhandle before and he will prove to be the biggest drawing card that has been on the program this year.

INSURANCE BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

Authentic Statement by ROGER W. BABSON, to Be Quoted Only By THE CLARENDON NEWS

Babson says, "Is Attractive As An Investment Or Occupation." Babson Park, Mass., April 15, 1927—Roger W. Babson this week concludes his ten interviews on "Your Boy's Business" with some very interesting statements regarding the insurance business. Mr. Babson's conclusions are as follows:

For What is Your Son Fitted? Let me again repeat that it is very important for parents and teachers to get boys into the one group of occupations for which they are best fitted. There are only five of these groups and it is usually a simple matter to select the one in which a boy will best succeed. Furthermore, his health, prosperity, and happiness depend upon selecting the right one. These five groups are:

- (1) Professional Group, including law, medicine, journalism, art, education, church, and civic work. (2) Agricultural Group, including farming, forestry, horticulture, etc. (3) Construction Group, including building, contracting, mining, etc. (4) Manufacturing Group, including all kinds of mechanical work. (5) Merchandising Group, including banking, insurance, wholesaling, retailing, advertising, and canvassing.

I have never yet seen a boy who could not succeed in one of these five groups. Boys are far better suited for one group than for another. No boy was ever bright enough to be able to succeed in all of them. Most failures are due to boys getting in the wrong group. A parent can best ascertain for which group his boy has talent by having him work for five summers devoting each summer to a different group. For instance, he could spend the first summer in a hospital or in a newspaper office; the second summer on a farm; the third summer as time keeper on a construction job; the fourth summer in a factory or mill; and the fifth summer canvassing and house-to-house peddling. If the boy starts his summer work when graduating from grammar school, he will have completed the process of elimination when he is through high school.

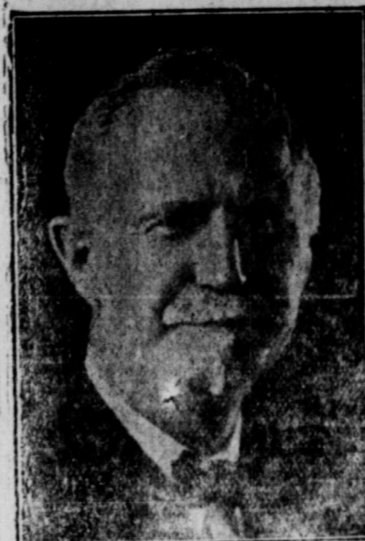

Merchandising Has Great Opportunities

Boys who love to peddle and canvass usually make the greatest success in business. Boys are far better suited to sell tickets, newspapers and books usually develop into very successful business men; while boys who hate such work should enter the Professional Group. To be a real successful farmer, builder or manufacturer, a man must be willing to "sell." In the last analysis the successful man is he who can sell or move the products of the farm or factory and who finds and secures the contracts for construction and other jobs. The woods are full of men who raise or make things after the orders have been secured at a fair price; but the men are few who can get those orders! Hence those latter become the real business leaders and the rest gradually drift into the employ of those who can sell the goods or get the contracts. Hence, the fifth test is not only important of itself but it often shows whether a young man should go into some of the other groups. Certainly it will show whether or not one should go into business for one's self. The boy who hates to sell should always be willing to work for others unless he enters the Professional Group.

The principle involved above is one which investors should remember when buying industrial securities. Companies which only manufacture, and depend upon other concerns to sell their products, are usually not good investments. This explains the difficulty with many New England mills which depend upon "agents" to sell their products. On the other hand, this same principle explains the great profit which has come to holders of chain stove securities. The most successful industrial stocks have been those of purely merchandising companies which manufacture nothing but are always able to buy in the lowest markets. "Woolworth" is a good illustration of such a stock. I, therefore, am very partial to young men who love to sell and to corporations which have strong selling organizations. I would not think of investing in an industrial company which did not have a strong selling organization. Moreover, I often prefer one which merchandises exclusively to one that both manufactures and sells.

Insurance is a Good Business Perhaps one of the best merchandising lines is insurance. It serves both as a fine training and as a good business. Like all other good lines it has much competition, but there is little rat-cutting and the best companies win in the end. However, it is said that a man who can sell insurance can sell anything because insurance is such an intangible substance. When one is selling "newspapers," he can show it and the purchaser can touch, lift and see it. With insurance this is impossible. To sell insurance a man must either inspire great confidence in himself or his company, or else he must be able to awaken imagination in his client. Hence, men who successfully pass the test of selling insurance are pretty sure to make good business men in whichever of the above groups they may enter. Had I a boy who wanted to go into business, I should first want him to pass this insurance test. I would not be content to have my boy pass the physical test and "take" insurance, but I should want him to pass the business test and "sell" insurance.

Those who sell insurance or invest in insurance stocks have the inward satisfaction which comes from rendering service. This thought not only gives one a happiness which is impossible to secure in any other way, but it spurs one on to do his best work. Selling is a motivational rather than intellectual. The pro-sale man can take orders but he cannot create business. A real merchandiser actually creates business and when there is no business, if such work is of no real value to those who buy, or what is much worse if it does them harm, then the reaction on the salesman and all connected with the enterprise is most harmful. If, on the other hand, such work, as in the case of insurance, is of great benefit to those who buy, then the salesman and the company prosper. In the end we all profit to the extent that we serve. Because insurance renders such lasting benefits is the reason for the great prosperity of insurance companies today.

Different Kinds of Insurance

Insurance may be divided into three main divisions, namely: (1) Casualty Insurance, which includes fire, hurricane, flood, burglary and earthquake risks; (2) Life and Accident Insurance, which includes all forms of personal insurance; and (3) Liability Insurance which gives protection against damage suits and losses from breaches of contracts and other causes. The great growth during recent years has been in the last two groups. Life insurance has made special strides in connection with the sale of "business insurance;" that is, protecting corporations and firms by issuing to them policies on their important officials and other valuable employees. Liability insurance has increased rapidly owing to the tremendous increase in automobiles. Yet the insurance field is not over-crowded. All the reliable companies are making money. Investors in these companies are well protected. The good salesmen in the employ of these companies are doing well.

Insurance stocks are not listed on the New York Stock Exchange because there is not sufficient trading in any one stock to make such listing worth while. Those owning them want to hold rather than sell them. There are, however, brokers in New York, Boston, Hartford, and other cities who specialize in insurance stocks. These stocks are also constantly being sold in the big auctions such as are weekly operated by Adrian H. Muller & Sons, in New York and R. L. Day & Co. in Boston.

Dr. Hamilton is a regular graduate in medicine and surgery. He visits professionally the more important towns and cities and offers to all who call on this trip his services free of charge.

According to his method of treatment he does not operate for chronic appendicitis, gall stones, ulcers of stomach, goitre, tonsils or adenoids.

He has to his credit many wonderful results in diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels, blood, skin, nerves, heart, kidney, bladder, bed wetting, catarrh, weak lungs, rheumatism, sciatica, leg ulcers, and slow growth in children.

If you have been ailing for any length of time and do not get any better do not fail to call, as improper measures rather than disease are very often the cause of your long standing trouble.

Remember above date and that his services on this trip will be free, making only a charge for medicine in cases which are accepted for treatment.

All that is asked in return for these professional services, is that those treated tell their neighbors as to how they have been benefited.

Address: Dr. Hamilton, Medical Laboratory, Boston Block, Minneapolis, Minn.

ton. Among the most popular stocks are the Traveler's Life, the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, and the Fidelity Casualty. These three companies represent the three different groups above mentioned. Hence, an investor who bought these three stocks would have an interest in every class of insurance business. I mention these companies only as illustrations for there are many other companies which are just as good. Readers, however, should remember that many of the best known companies like the "Equitable Life" are mutual companies and have none or very little stock outstanding.

General Business

Logically, the insurance business should be best when general business is poorest. When one is threatened with a declining business he needs insurance of every kind more than when profits are rolling in. Statistics show, however, that this is a case where the theory does not prove out. People buy insurance, as they do most other things, when they have the money! When times are good wages high and money easy, all kinds of insurance business prospers. This fact has been another reason for the great increase in insurance which has taken place during the past few years. Whether or not the present rate of increase will continue only the future can tell. It rather looks as if insurance men would be obliged to work harder for a sale during the next few years than they have worked in the past.

When any kind of business comes hard, the costs of securing new business and the costs of renewing existing business always increase. Judging from the Babsonchart which now stands at 10 percent above normal it looks as if selling insurance would be harder during the next few years than it has been during the past few years. However, this is not a reason which should deter investors from buying the stocks or young men from entering the employ of insurance companies. The insurance business is a good business; it should always be a good business; and lucky are both investors and employes who are connected therewith.

CHECKER TOURNAMENT IS PLANNED FOR LATE JUNE.

The News was informed the fore part of this week of plans in the formative state concerning a checker tournament that will in all probability be played here some time during the last half of June. E. M. Lindsey of Clarendon, the champion of the Panhandle and a part of New Mexico and Oklahoma has received a challenge from D. Waggoner of Wichita Falls and has accepted the challenge to play. Local talent will be used in the training for the bout and much interest is expected to be manifested here in the final outcome of the tourney. Details for the tournament have not been worked out yet, but will be made public as soon as they have been completed. Amarillo players and some from other points in the Panhandle are expected to be in attendance here when the match is played.

THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS.

The homely story of "Old Matt" and "Young Matt," Sammy Lane and the gentle Shepherd of the Hills and all the big-hearted, mountain folks, who were so realistically portrayed in Harold Bell Wright's novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills," live again in the drama, which has been made by the author of this widely read book.

A simple love story, typically American, the scenes are set in the Ozark Mountains of Missouri, to which region comes a world-weary man who finds there a deep sorrow left by his long-lost son. In his endeavor to atone for his son's actions he gains the title of "The Shepherd of the Hills."

This unusual play will be exhibited in a beautiful tent theatre, water-proofed under management of M. E. Bybee, who absolutely guarantees to give you 100 per cent story and 100 per cent entertainment, at Clarendon, April 23.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Sayre have returned from their winter vacation spent in Mineral Wells for the benefit of Mr. Sayre's health. Mr. Sayre is much improved and both of them are glad to be back in Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hartzog had as guests, Easter Sunday, Mrs. Clay Rosser of Shamrock, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Allen of Childress, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott and little daughter of Panhandle.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Carter announce the birth of a girl on April 15th. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

HEMMINGER BUYS MORRIS INTEREST IN GROCERY.

A business deal was consummated the latter part of last week whereby Clark Hemminger became owner of the Morris & Hemminger Grocery of this city. Mr. Hemminger has been in Clarendon for the past several years and has been in the grocery business ever since he came here. Mr. Morris states that the cotton business in Clarendon and Donkey County has reached such proportions that his entire time is taken up with this important business and that he has relinquished the grocery business for this reason alone. He will retain offices in the rear of the grocery as before, but will leave the management and control of the grocery to the new owner, Mr. Hemminger. The same line of groceries and the same general policies of management will be found under the new control as were found when Mr. Morris was connected with the business. Announcement of their change will be found other columns of the paper.

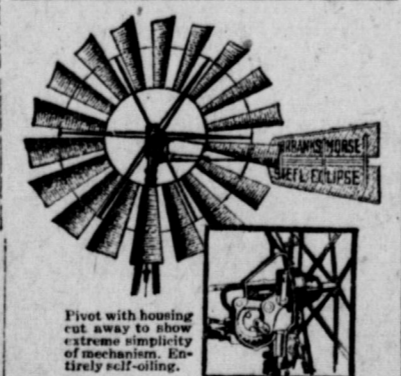

Weldon Jolly, Dick Cooke, and Jack Merchant spent Sunday in Memphis.

Hon. J. R. Porter returned the latter part of last week from Austin, where had been in reference to the schools of the county and with some Highway business connected with Donkey County.

5 reasons why STEEL ECLIPSE WINDMILLS run in lightest breeze

Why does the Steel Eclipse run when other mills are motionless? The answer is, scientific design and fine workmanship. Note these five reasons—(1) Wheel is tilted to take advantage of lightest breeze. (2) All working parts run in oil. (3) All wearing parts are made of the right materials and surfaces are machined. (4) Mill starts on two-thirds load—not full load; quick downstroke and slow upstroke means less effort required on the lift or pumping stroke. (5) All bearing surfaces are in line, reducing internal strain and power loss. Ask us to show you!
